Some facts which were learned yesterday by a JOURNAL representative may give some light as to the reason for the store's losing money, as well as a cause for the suicide. Stumpf made made many trips about the surrounding country, taking orders for goods. One of his routes was through Ware, where he stopped from one to three days, making his headquarters at the home of J. E. Priest, who kept a few boarders. Stumpf began stopping there some time ago, and soon became well acquainted with the family. He did not do much business in the evening, and would play games with whoever happened to be about the house. Gradually a change came over him, however, and those who saw him often remarked that he was not always sober. The change commenced about four months ago, and though gradual at first, grew rapidly until it was apparent to all. Sometimes he would to Mr. Priest's sober, then going out after supper and returning so drunk that he could hardly get up stairs. Again he would be so intoxicated on his arrival that he could hardly care for his horse. On one occasion he failed to come in again after supper, and was gone all night; the next morning it was found that a friend had found him helplessly drunk on the street and taken him to his home. At another time one of Mr. Priest's employes had to help him to his room. Ware has been no license during the year, and there were rumors that Stumpf was selling intoxicants on the sly, and the police had him under surveillance for a time, but the report was apparently unfounded. As the weeks ran along Stumpf lost interest in the checkers and whist which he at first enjoyed with the others at Mr. Priest's, and talked considerably about a "quiet little game" down town; in addition to which he kept "full" pretty much all the time he was in Ware. Matters at last became so disagreeable and Stumpf made himself so obnoxious that it was decided to write him that his presence at Mr. Priest's was no longer desired; but that night the papers announced his death. This would seem to indicate pretty conclusively that Stumpf led one life in Palmer and another while away from his home, and the "quiet little game," together with his constant condition while in Ware, may account for some of the money which the business was not making, or explain where some which it did make went to.

ATTEMPTED MURDER AT MONSON.

Italians Import a Man to Do Up a Quarrelsome Fellow-Countryman.

What is thought to have been an attempted murder took place at Monson Sunday night, and the attempt came very near being successful. The victim was Michael Smith, an Italian who lives on the old Bates place, and who is well know in and about Monson. Michael's history need not be gone into, as all know that he has been in trouble of some kind most of the time since he has lived in Monson. Frequent quarrels which he has been concerned in have aroused a feeling of antagonism against him among his compatriots at the quarry, and it is thought that at least one of his assailants was brought to Monson for the express purpose of giving Michael his quietus.

The exact story of the quarrel will probably never be known to the authorities, but what has been discovered is as follows: Sunday evening Dr. Jackson was called to attend Michael at his home, and upon his arrival there found him in such a serious condition that he sent at once to Palmer for Deputy Sheriff Studley and Medical Examiner Holbrook. The latter was unable to answer the call on account of illness, and Dr. Hendee went in his stead. Arriving at the house Mike was found upon the kitchen floor, saturated with blood and bleeding freely from wounds in his neck and head. One long gash had been cut from the top of his head down the side of his face to a point beneath the chin, splitting the left ear in such a manner that it barely hung, and had to be snipped off. Over the right eye was another severe cut, and there were several on top of the head. All except the cut which had taken off the ear seemed to be stabs, and it was judged that two weapons had been used. Michael was cared for by the doctors, and his story was obtained by Deputy Sheriff Studley and his assistants, Michael Dawson and Louis Musanti. Michael and his wife told practically the same story. They said that about 8 o'clock they had received a call from Michael and Dominick Comfort, Michael Angelo, and two other Italians known as "Tony" and Michelany, all the men living at the quarry. The two latter were not employed there, but had been hanging around for some time, stopping with friends. The men entered the house and a dispute arose about a board bill which one of the men was said to owe Smith. One of the visitors drew a knife, but was prevented by his friends from using it. Michael then secured his shot gun and ordered the party to leave the house. They did so, first inviting Mike to come outside. With his usual willingness to participate in a fight Mike complied, and in the yard the quarrel was resumed. Mrs. Smith ran out of the house and took the gun from her husband, and as she reëntered the house the entire party attacked Smith, four of them holding him and the other inflicting the gash which took off the ear. The weapon used is described by Mike as a 12-inch stiletto with a double edge. Mike broke from his captors and passed the men with the knife, throwing him back against the wall. He was so weakened from loss of blood that he could not hold the would-be assassin, and in the mean time the others were keeping up the assault. Michael finally broke away and staggered to the house, his assailants running down the road. Mrs. Smith heard one of them ask if Smith was dead, another replied that he was pretty near it, to which the first replied that it was too bad they had not finished him. Mr. Studley went to the quarry and made a search for the men but found none of them. Later, on Monday morning, he returned and captured the Comforts and Angelo, the two strangers having escaped. A steady search for them have been made, but no traces of them has been found and probably never will be. The three men arrested were brought before the court and held without bail to await the result of Smith's injuries. Smith is doing well and it is thought he will recover. His wounds are serious, but it is expected that his strong constitution will pull him through.

MONSON TOWN MEETING

An Unusually Quiet One. The Officers Elected and Appropriations Voted.

The annual town meeting on Monday was less exciting this year than usual, and at no time during the day was any business transacted which created more than ordinary interest. The tax payers showed the usual inclination to keep the appropriations down to as low a figure as was consistent with the needs of the town, but the appropriations are believed to be ample. The town voted to raise $1000 for an engine house, which will probably be erected this year, and is badly needed. Near the close of the meeting the question was brought up as to whether or not the town would raise money to pay its first water bond Sept. 1st, and to pay interest on the bonds. It was estimated that about $4000 would be needed, but action was postponed until the adjourned meeting which is to be held a week from next Monday at 1.30 p. m. The voters seemed to object to referring the matter of appropriations to a committee, as has been done in the past. A vote was taken on this question, but it was decided to return to the old method, and all had an opportunity to ask for appropriations. The vote was somewhat smaller than last year, and the majority for no-license was as good as was expected. The expectation that the town would vote for license, which many had, was not realized. The officers elected, and the appropriations made, are: Moderator, A. D. Norcross; clerk, C. M. Gage; treasurer, E. D. Cushman; selectmen and overseers of the poor, W. H. Bugbee, G. H. Foskit and A. D. Norcross; assessors, L. C. Flynt, G. H. Foskit and C. C. Keep; school committee, for 2 years, Horace Squires; for three years, A. M. Beebe and M. F. Moore; auditors, R. P. Cushman, W. J. Ricketts; constables, G. W. Adams, Samuel Closson, E. R. Newton, H. D. Osborne and J. H. Thompson; tax collector, Ralph Clifford; cemetery commissioner, G. E. Fuller. Appropriations: Schools, $10,268; library, 300; paupers, 2000; highways, 4000; sidewalks, 500; fire department, 2000; firemen, 150; engine house, 1000; road on Park avenue, 200; cemeteries, 700; discount on taxes, 1300; suppresion of illegal liquor sales, 200; street lights, 1575; Memorial Day, 100; miscellaneous, 3000; total, 21,493. Liquor license: Yes, 255; no, 276.

WILBRAHAM.

Mr. and Mrs. Lurin Potter were given an informal reception at their home on North Main street last Friday evening by their friends in the First Congregational church. They were presented with a purse of money as a token of the appreciation of their services as choristers in the church and Sunday school.

The annual town meeting was held Monday with the following results: Moderator, Francis E. Clark; clerk and treasurer, Chas. E. Stacy; selectmen, Earl M. Scott, J. L. Wright and H. Clark; assessors, Frank A. Gurney, B. F. Green and W. F. Morgan; school committee for three years, Horace G. Webber; auditor, F. E. Clark; constables, E. M. Scott, C. G. Robbins, F. R. Rindge, J. Farr and W. J. Bergman. These appropriations were made for the ensuing year: Schools, $3500; library, $147; paupers, $1100; highways and bridges, $2350; sidewalks, $200; street lights, $200; Memorial Day, $75; miscellaneous, $700; total, $7272. Liquor license: Yes, 5; no, 27.

The J[illegible]

FRIDAY EVENI[illegible]

PALMER NEWS.

Big Trotting Purses for the Cattle Show.

The directors of the Eastern Hampden Agricultural Society met last Friday afternoon to discuss the matter of races for the annual fair next September, and received a proposition from G. C. Flynt of Monson, representing the manufacturers of that town. This was to the effect that the manufacturers of Monson would guarantee a purse of $500 for one race, a free-for-all, on the second day of the fair. In addition to this Mr. Flynt thought two other purses—a merchants' and a farmers and citizens'—could be arranged for. It is also proposed to call the second day of the fair "Monson Day," and an attempt will be made to have all the factories and schools close that day, and also the stores, and make a gala day of it for the town. It was suggested that possibly one or more purses might be arranged for among the horsemen or merchants of Palmer, and a committee was appointed to investigate the matter and report at an adjourned meeting next Friday. In this connection an effort will be made to have the schools of Palmer close at least one half day, and the stores one or both days of the fair, as in the experience of one of the oldest merchants of the place there is practically no business between 11 in the morning and 5 in the afternoon. An effort will also be made to have the mills in the other villages of the town close one day. By offering large purses for the races more and better horses will be attracted, and consequently larger crowds to see the contests. Good racing is assured for next fall, as the society will be a member of the National Trotting Association, with all powers.

Mr. Minard Accepts the Call to the Baptist Church.

The following letter from Rev. C. R. Minard was read in the Baptist church last Sunday morning:

TO THE SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH, PALMER, MASS.

Dear Brethren and Sisters:—Believing that the relation of a pastor and people is one of the divinely appointed and therefore sacred relations of life, it is with subdued and solemn joy that I now answer your call of March 11th. I have waited for the Spirit's guidance, and now can say that your invitation is accepted through the mercy of Jesus Christ. I come to you believing that from you I may receive many graces, and earnestly desiring that some new gifts may be your possession through my coming, and that we together may be a city set on a hill always making for righteousness.

I come with the earnest purpose to make my preaching the power of God unto salvation. That can be efficiently done only as you unite with me in your prayers, your labor, your sacrifice and your love for all the saints who are among you, and for those who are without.

May God's smile and richest benediction rest upon us all in our new relationship.

Yours in Christian love,

C. R. MINARD.

Newton Centre, Mass., March 28th, 1895.

Mr. Minard was born at Corneallis, N. S., and obtained his preparatory education at Horton Collegiate Academy and Acadia University, graduating from the latter in 1890. Soon after this he entered upon a successful pastorate at Clementsvale, N. S., where he was ordained, resigning after a short pastorate to continue his studies at Newton Theological Seminary, where he will receive a diploma next month.

Probate Court.

At a session of the probate court held in Springfield Wednesday, the following was among the business transacted: Administration granted in the estates of—Nancy T. Bates, late of Monson, Edwin A. Bates administrator; Ella M. Seaver, late of Wilbraham, Allyn M. Seaver administrator; Chas. P. Carpenter, late of Palmer, Everett W. Carpenter administrator; Mary Livermore, late of Brimfield, Edward L. Foskit administrator. Wills approved of — Andre Fontaine, late of Ludlow, Vitoline C. Fontaine executrix; Levi C. Bates, late of Monson, Edwin R. Bates executor; Jeduthan C. Eaton, late of Monson, Alvarado Howard executor; Frank R. Newton, late of Brimfield, Mary A. Newton executrix. Administrators' account rendered—By Arthur L. Stebbins in the estate of Jason Stebbins, late of Wilbraham. Guardians appointed — H. A. McFarland of Betsey Luther of Wales, insane; Oscar F. Benedict of Cassius and James L. Seaver of Wilbraham, minors. William W. Leach is appointed trustee of the estate of Willard H. Stowe, late of Palmer. Sarah A. Marcy of Holland, widow of Elisha W. Marcy, was allowed a widow's allowance during the settlement of her late husband's estate.

Frank S. Keith is riding a '95 Warwick wheel.

Arthur Holbrook is home from the military school at Worcester.

J. H. Kenerson is moving his family to Brightwood this week.

Leonard Aldrich of Three Rivers has gone to Putman, Ct., to live.

David Dillon is home from Tufts College for the Easter vacation.

Misses Bertha and Della Hastings are visiting friends in Springfield.

Mrs. Anna Barlow of Worcester is visiting her mother, Mrs. Susan Hunt.

C. D. Holbrook's business block on Main street is receiving a coat of paint.

The assessors have organized with H. T. Bishop of Thorndike as chairman.

Mr. and Mr. Benjamin of Milford, Ct., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Ellithorpe.

Miss Sophia G. Bond of Warren is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. H. Keith, on Park street.

The notices of the applications for licenses will be found in another column of this issue.

Mrs. Frank Bearse of Jamaica Plains has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. W. Converse.

Oliver LaSalle has bought of C. E. Dewey a building lot at the head of Central street.

Thomas lodge of Masons will hold a regular communication next Monday evening at 7.30.

E. B. Peck, who has been employed as a clerk in Bodfish's store, has left that position.

The overseers of the poor have appointed Dr. Hendee town physician for the coming year.

D. G. Buskey has moved from the corner of Park and Pearl streets to the house on Converse avenue formerly occupied by C. H. Atkins.

The ladies of the Baptist church are arranging to serve a pink tea on the evening of the 16th.

Mrs. William Whitcomb has gone to New Hampshire for a couple of weeks of rest and recreation.

Two new cases of scarlet fever have been reported, one at Three Rivers and one at Thorndike.

G. A. Moore, the jeweler, has presented the Palmer Bicycle Club with a fine clock for its club rooms.

Regular monthly business meeting of the Palmer Business and Social club this evening at 8 o'clock.

Joseph Brown of Easthampton, formerly of Palmer, has been spending the week with Louis K. Cross.

Misses Clara and Ruth Willis of Boston have been the guests of Mrs. W. E. Stone a part of the week.

E. W. French has secured space in W. R. Milligan's store for the exhibition of his sewing machines.

J. Arthur Wells has left the employ of Robinson & Taylor and taken a position with a Springfield grocer.

The overseers of the poor met Tuesday and organized with William Merriam of Palmer as chairman.

The ladies of the Congregational society will give a social in the church parlors next Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Albert Loomis and Miss Mary Loomis have returned from New Haven, where they have spent the winter.

Misses Cathie and Eliza Leary of Naugatuck, Ct., have been the guests of their sister, Mrs. P. E. Bard.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Flynt entertained a small party at whist at their home on Central street Tuesday evening.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting in the parlors of the Congregational church next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Woolrich entertained a party of young people at their home on Thorndike street Tuesday evening.

D. E. Morrill opened a writing school last evening in the room in Eager's block recently vacated by the Palmer Bicycle Club.

C. P. Tryon has moved from the Cross block to the house recently purchased by him on the corner of Park and Pearl streets.

The residences of Dr. L. L. Hendee at Palmer and Dr. J. C. Boulay at Three Rivers are connected with the telephone exchange.

Mrs. H. L. Burr has moved from the corner of Thorndike street and Foster avenue to one of the Kerigan tenements on Park street.

Rev. H. F. Moulton has been invited to give a Lenten sermon in the First Universalist church at Worcester the Wednesday of Passion Week.

Alvah Thayer, who recently sold his farm near Foskett's Mills, will move next week to South Hyannis, where he will make his home in the future.

The Boston and Albany road is to raise a part of the stone work of the bridge across the Quaboag river five feet, and will probably put on a new bridge.

Mrs. Abbie C. Morrow of New York, editor of the "Sunday School Lesson Illustrator," will preach in the People's church next Sunday, morning and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Thayer and Miss Cook left Wednesday to spend their vacation in Blackstone, Boston, and other points in the eastern part of the state.

R. J. Henry, formerly of Palmer, has bought of Mrs. Lilla Stumpf the stock of the Palmer Cash Tea Store, and opened the place for business again yesterday.

Mrs. E. M. Blanchard celebrated her birthday last evening with a gathering of friends at her home on Park street. Among the guests were several from Springfield.

H. W. Smith has moved the stock of the Smith Tea Co. into one of the Converse stores on the north side of Main street, and will conduct the business under his own name.

Miss Alice Johnson of Manchester, Ct., who appeared as the reader with the Harvard Quartet Wednesday evening, spent a part of the week with the Misses Effie and Anna Shaw.

The Baptist society held its annual meeting Monday evening and made choice of these officers: Clerk and treasurer, C. B. Fiske; assessors, C. E Fuller, E. G. Buss and G. H. Justin.

The librarian of the public library will be pleased to receive suggestions from all who are interested in the institution as to any desirable books which they may wish to have added to the library.

George Hastings has taken a position with the Boston and Albany road as gardener, and will have charge of the lawns, shrubbery, etc., at Palmer, Warren, North Wilbraham and Indian Orchard.

A. W. Lloyd is to move his harness shop to the store in the Commercial block just vacated by the Smith Tea Co., and R. J. Henry will move his tea business to the store vacated by Mr. Lloyd.

The members of the Palmer Natural History Society are requested to meet in the library rooms next Monday evening at 7.30 sharp, to transact important business; every member should be present.

Every seat in the Universalist church was filled Sunday evening to hear the lecture on the Passion Play, which was extremely interesting; the views shown by the stereopticon were unusually good.

The annual fire district meeting will be held in the district court room next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Nothing out of the ordinary is called for by the warrant, and the meeting will probably be an unusually quiet one.

The Palmer Business and Social Club will give a ladies' night next Tuesday evening, when lady friends of members will be welcome at the club rooms. Music will be furnished for dancing, and light refreshments will be served.

At the meeting of the Quaboag Literary Circle last Friday evening H. C. Strong, O. P. Allen and W. A. Lowson, as a committee of the Circle, reported resolutions upon the death of Dr. W. H. Stowe, who was a member of the Circle.

Dr. G. L. Perrin of Boston will give an illustrated lecture on Japan in the Universalist church on the evening of the 16th. Dr. Perrin was for five years at the head of the Universalist missionary movement at Tokio, and left there only about a year ago.

A large number of persons interested in the high school attended the prize speaking last Friday forenoon, and were highly entertained by the contestants. The prizes, two-dollar-and-a-half gold pieces, were won by Miss Blanche Hollyar and Gilbert Forte.

Users of the weed among those who rent boxes at the post office found something besides the customary bill for box rent in the boxes Tuesday, Postmaster Royce having "set up" the cigars in celebration of his appointment and inauguration into office.

Although many of the fishermen have been out after trout this week the reported catches have been small, the water being too cold and in many instances too low for good fishing. The best string reported thus far was caught Monday by Rufus Flynt and H. Ferry, and numbered 56.

Mrs. F. A. Warner of Jacksonville, Fla., sends the JOURNAL some seeds of a new and fine variety of melon, the original seed having been secured by the agricultural department of that state from the South Sea Islands. Mrs. Warner offers to send any reader of the JOURNAL a few of the seeds on receipt of a two-cent stamp to pay the postage.

There were 23 deaths in Palmer during March. Of these four were under one year of age, and seven were between one and five; between 5 and 10, two; 20 and 30, one; 30 and 40, two; 50 and 60, three; 60 and 70, two; 70 and 80, one; 80 and 90, one. There were seven deaths from pneumonia and three from scarlet fever, the other thirteen being from as many different causes.

The new board of selectmen held its first meeting Monday afternoon. These night police were appointed: John Murphy at Palmer, J. F. Luman at Thorndike and Michael Collins at Bondsville. Close students of the matter at Three Rivers thought that village did not need police, and so none were appointed for the present. The question of who shall serve as the board of health was left unsettled.

The firemen were called out at 3.38 Sunday afternoon by an alarm from Box 63 on South Main street, for a fire which was burning over grass land between the residence of L. A. Conant and the river, having approached within about 100 feet of Mr. Conant's barn when the alarm was rung in. Several persons were fighting the fire, among them C. E. Fuller, one of the engineers of the fire department, but instead of asking his advice the alarm was pulled in by other parties.

For some time some of the members of the Palmer Bicycle Club have been dissatisfied with the manner in which the club affairs were being conducted, and on Tuesday evening a new organization was formed with the aid of other wheelmen, to be known as the Tockwotton Cycle Club, which will have rooms in Clark & Hastings's block. These officers were elected: President, G. C. Stanchfield; vice president, Charles M. Kempton; secretary, Charles L. Johnson; treasurer, J. Ezra Kempton; directors, Charles Thomas, W. S. Allen, Louis Wells, C. M. Kempton, G. C. Stanchfield, M. S. French, J. E. Kempton and C. L. Johnson.

Murphy Brothers have opened a bicycle repair and machine shop in the rear of LaSalle's barber shop on Main street, where they are prepared to do all kinds of bicycle and other repairs, and light machine work, having fitted up their shop with a small engine and a lathe. One of the brothers has been employed for two years and a half in the machine shop of the Lamb Knitting Mfg. Co. at Chicopee Falls, where the Spaulding wheels are made, and the other is at present working in the armory at Springfield. They have several improvements on bicycles which they propose to put upon the market, and will probably begin the manufacture of a wheel of their own another year. They will this season handle the Ames and the Spaulding wheels.

The Lenten services at St. Paul's Universalist church next week will be as follows: Sunday at 10.45 a. m., preaching, "Who is a Christian?" a Palm Sunday sermon; 3.15 p. m., conference of church members, "What are we doing to increase our church membership?" Tuesday at 7.30 p. m., preaching, "Our Duty Toward the Church," Rev. J. Harry Holden of Amherst; Wednesday at 7.30 p. m., preaching, "Reasons Why," Rev. M. L. Walsh (Unitarian) of Brookfield; Thursday at 7.30 p. m., communion; Friday at 7.30 p. m., Good Friday service; Saturday at 8.30 p. m., home hour for private meditation and prayer. The Lenten services at the church have been well attended this week; there will be a preaching service in the chapel this evening, to which are all invited.

Two little waifs of 9 and 11, John and Dennis Moriarty, were brought before Judge Robinson Tuesday morning to settle the question of what should be done with them. They were committed two years ago from Monson to the custody of the state board of charities, which about two months ago gave them into the care of an aunt, Mrs. Fay, at Thorndike. She has recently decided that she cannot care for them longer, and they were thrown on the town of Palmer, being taken to the poor farm. Their parents are dead, but it is rumored that the children own real estate in Monson valued at $1500. The court thought they should be recommitted to the care of the state board, but its agent thought the town of Monson should care for them, and the matter was continued until the 9th.

The trial of Messrs. Williams and Stebbins for violations of the law regarding diseased cattle did not come off last Saturday, as was expected. A telegram was received Friday night from Boston stating that one of the principal witnesses for the commonwealth was sick and unable to be present, so the case had to be postponed for two weeks. It has since been learned that the witness has rheumatic fever. The intense interest manifested in the trial was shown by the large number of farmers present, many coming long distances. There has been some comment that the case would not come to trial, the commonwealth being afraid to force the issue of its rights in such cases, but there is little to fear on this score. Messrs. Williams and Stebbins simply brought on the question a little sooner than expected, for the cattle commissioners were arranging for a friendly test case on this very ground when the above men by their action saved the commissioners the trouble.

The firemen met at the engine house Monday evening and nominated the following for the meeting of the fire district next Monday: Prudential committee, W. E. Stone, F. F. Marcy, L. E. Moore; chief engineer, W. H. Hitchcock; first assistant, C. E. Fuller; second assistant, A. E. Fitch; clerk and treasurer, F. D. Barton. For some time the property owners of the fire district have thought they were entitled to have a choice as to who should be candidates for various offices, and a meeting was held in the assembly hall of the Palmer club rooms last evening, when the following ticket was nominated: Prudential committee, W. E. Stone, F. F. Marcy, G. E. Buck; chief engineer, W. H. Hitchcock; first assistant, C. E. Fuller; second assistant, Henry McGilp; clerk and treasurer, S. H. Hellyar. It was also the sense of the voters that the board of engineers should have the choice of the firemen and the appointment of the officers of the company.

State Primary School Notes.

George Woods is treating the new barn to a second coat of paint.

Rev. G. Wakeman Andrews of Dalton spoke to the children last Sunday.

S. S. Nichols has resigned his position and leased the Plumley farm.

A 'bus load of officers attended the entertainment given by the Harvard Quartette Wednesday evening.

E. E. Walker has resigned his position as boss farmer, and is succeeded by Charles L. Lane.

Mrs. Mary Royce spent yesterday with friends in Brimfield. Mrs. Royce yesterday completed three years of service as housekeeper.

The mumps have been prevailing at the school during the past week, preventing the children from accepting an invitation from the Palmer high school to attend the concert Wednesday evening.

Miss N. J. Rice, formerly a teacher at the school, spent the Sabbath with Miss E. M. Fullington.

Miss Rice has resigned her position as matron at Hammond Hall, Monson, and has returned to her home in Westfield.

BONDSVILLE.

The W. C. T. U. will meet next Thursday afternoon with Mrs. F. J. Hale.

Mrs. F. J. Hale and children are visiting Mrs. Hale's parents in Randolph.

Mrs. Albert Squier of Amherst is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ryther.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crouch of West Warren were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Fuller last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gaboury and child spent the first of the week with Mrs. Gaboury's parents in Millbury.

Mrs. William Bishop and children of Gilbertville spent two days last week with Mrs. Bishop's sister, Mrs. Richard Russell.

Miss Ora Parent of Smith College is spending her vacation with her parents, accompanied by her friend, Miss Mattie Smith.

Mr. Stevens of Lowell, who has been engaged as master mechanic in the mill here, has moved his family to the house vacated by H. D. Shaw.

Miss Abbie Moynahan returned last Saturday from the hospital in Boston, where she went with her brother, Simon, who has been having his ankle operated upon.

Mr. Hall of Lowell, who has been engaged to fill the superintendency in the Boston Duck Company's mill left vacant by the resignation of John Gegenheimer, commenced his duties Monday.

G. W. Canterbury, who has been employed by the Boston Duck Company as master mechanic for the past eight years, severed his connection there last Saturday night. He was presented with a gold watch by the employes of the mill as a token of the esteem in which he was held. He also received a gold chain with a Masonic charm from his many friends and acquaintances, who called at his home Monday night.

THORNDIKE.

Miss Genevra Clark is home from Smith College.

Henry Osgood of Oswego, N. Y., is visiting in town.

R. K. Houston's family has moved to Springfield.

Miss Beulah Thayer is visiting friends in Valley Falls, R. I.

Miss Jillson is enjoying her vacation of ten days at her home in Orange.

John F. Roche is visiting his uncle, Dr. M. W. Kelliher, in Pawtucket, R. I.

John Griffin of Worcester, formerly of this place, spent Sunday in town.

The King's Daughters will meet to-morrow afternoon with Miss Maud Murdock.

Mrs. James Clark has recovered so far from her recent illness as to be about once more.

Mrs. E. B. Blanchard is expected home to-day from a visit with her sister in New York.

Patrick Fleming has accepted a position in the Overman wheel shop at Chicopee Falls.

Vreeland's minstrels were greeted with a full house Monday evening, and gave a good performance.

The Y. P. S. C. E. held a social and business meeting Tuesday evening in the Congregational church.

Frank Foster, who has been working in the west for some time, was in town this week visiting friends.

Mr. Williams of South Hadley, a former resident, was in town this week as the guest of his son, A. E. Williams.

Mrs. E. M. Shields and the Misses Fleming will hold their millinery openings to-night, and also to-morrow evening.

Several from this place went to Holyoke last Saturday to attend the funeral of Mr. Kelley, who was killed by the cars at Westfield one day last week.

A lodge of the Patriotic Catholic Americans is being organized in town. The order is incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts and is a beneficial one, paying $100 at the death of a member, and $3 per week during sickness.

The prospects for a base ball club to represent this village are being talked up, and the present outlook is favorable. A league to consist of the villages in the town, together with Warren, Gilbertville and North Wilbraham, is among the probabilities.

At the second primary school the following have been perfect in attendance during the term just closed: Annie D. Brosnan, Nellie O'Keefe, Emma St. Jacques, Cassie Sullivan, George Young, John Connor, Arthur St. Jacques, Harold Rich, Annie M. Brosnan, Kitty Holden, Kate McKenzie, Malcom McKenzie and Florence O'Leary.

THREE RIVERS.

Miss Sargant of Brookfield is the guest of Miss Jennie Kendrick.

P. A. Forte spent a part of this week in Boston, visiting his brother.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Butler are recuperating at Clifford Springs, N. Y.

Miss Etta Ruggles is home from Northfield Seminary for the spring vacation.

Miss Fanny Barnes and Willie Squier spent this week in Ware, visiting friends.

Rev. Mr. Ross of Springfield will preach in the Union church next Sunday morning.

Miss Lizzie Robinson of Springfield spent a few days in town this week, among friends.

Mrs. Needham and daughter Fanny anticipate a trip to England in the early part of the summer.

John F. Twiss has purchased a handsome pair of black horses, which arrived from Stafford this week.

Miss Jennie Herren's friends will be glad to know that she has returned from New York much improved in health.

Charles Hough has resigned his position in the machine shop at the mill, and will leave town some time next week.

Mr. Allen, who is farming Joseph Geer's property, is plowing, and expects to commence planting peas and beans soon.

Rev. E. C. Weeks has received about 50 orders in this village for the late Dr. Gordon's book, "The Ministry of the Spirit."

Miss Lizzie Needham, who has been spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs. James Needham, has gone to her home in Watertown.

Miss Lizzie Tedford, who is ill with consumption, has gone to her sister's home in Rockford, Ct., where she will reside for the present.

The water supply on East Main street is at present very low, and many think that before the dry weather sets in the water system ought to have a general overhauling.

H. N. Cross, formerly principal of the grammar school here, has been admitted to the Hampden county bar this week, and his many friends in this place are well pleased at his success.

Miss Lewis, one of the teachers in the public schools, has resigned and intends to take a course at Smith college. Miss Lewis made many friends while here, who much regret her departure from the community.

There will be no Easter concert at the Union church this season, owing to so much sickness among the children of the Sunday school, but there will be special Scripture reading and other exercises appropriate for the observance of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph James have moved into the house recently purchased from Charles Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Smith intend to leave town some time soon, which will cause deep regret to the numerous friends they have made during their many years of residence in this place.

"The Practical Doctrine of the Lord's Coming" will be the subject for the sermon at the Baptist church next Sunday morning, and in the evening the pastor will begin a series of lectures on "Dispensational Truth," to be illustrated by a large historical chart, 6 by 15 feet, and great efforts will be made to make those addresses interesting and instructive.

The annual meeting of the Baptist church society was held Wednesday evening, and the following officers were unanimously elected: Executive committee, Walter Trickett, James Sharp, William Talmadge and Thomas Cole; clerk, Henry C. Burr; treasurer, Jerome Calkins; auditing committee, Mrs. C. P. Haynes. The treasurer's report showed a large increase in receipts over the previous year, and the church is also free from debt and has encouraging prospects for the current year.

DIED.

At Greenwich Village, 15th ult., Mrs. Charlotte Brooks, 81 y, 5 m, widow of the late Benjamin Brooks.

Springfield papers please copy.

At Denver, Col., 30th ult., Mrs. John W. Foster, 80, daughter of the late Marquis Converse of Brimfield.

WANTED.—Plain sewing to do at home. MRS. H. B. WALKER, with Mrs. C. E. Fuller, Palmer. 1*1

EGGS FOR HATCHING.—From pure bred barred out Plymouth Rocks and Buff Cochins. tf-1 C. RALPH LEGRO, Palmer, Mass.

LOST.—A mouse colored hound, 4 white feet and white breast, name on collar Sid; $5 reward for return. H. E. GRANT, Brookfield. 1-1

MANURE FOR SALE.—Lots of good ripe manure for sale. Address, DR. DESMARAIS, 1*1 Three Rivers, Mass.

THOMAS LODGE, F. & A. M. Regular communication Monday evening, April 8th, at 7.30 o'clock. By order of the W. M. 1em H. W. McGREGORY, Sec.

COLUMBIA BICYCLE for sale. '94 pattern, used but little, good as new; cheap for cash, or will be sold on installments. L. E. CHANDLER, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

FOR SALE.—Two good building lots, corner of Pine and Squier streets. This is the most desirable location in the village available at the present time, and just the site for a nice dwelling. 3-1 E. GOODES, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—One pair driving or farm horses, 6 years old, good drivers and workers. Will sell cheap, separate, or the pair. Inquire of FISK G. ROGERS, tf-1 Monson, Mass.

NOTICE.—Whereas my wife, Sarah J. Miller, has left my bed and board without any just provocation or cause, I hereby notify all persons that I shall pay no bills of her contracting after this date. LEWIS MILLER. Monson, Mass., March 21st, 1895. 3-51

E. W. French, agent for the New Singer Mfg. Co., has opened an office in Palmer, with headquarters at the Weeks House, and is showing their latest productions for 1895 sewing machines, with three different machines for family use. tf-52 THE SINGER MFG. CO.

FOR SALE.—The store of the late E. G. Murdock in Thorndike, Mass., also dwelling corner of Commercial and High streets, and one on School street in said Thorndike. Must be sold to close estate. C. L. GARDNER, Adm. Jan. 21st, 1895. tf-43

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the subscriber has been duly appointed administratrix of the estate of Elisha W. Marcy, late of Holland, in the County of Hampden, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to SARAH A. MARCY, Administratrix. Holland, Mass., March 11th, 1895. 3*52

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.

Money deposited on or before WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10th, 1895, will commence interest from April 1st. 3-51 H. W. McGREGORY, Treasurer.

AS I wish to close out 50 cor.ls of well seasoned Hard Wood of the very best quality in my yard by May 1st, will sell at the following prices: In four foot lengths $4.50, sawed $5.50, sawed and split $6 per cord delivered. J. A. PALMER, Palmer, Mass. March 20th, 1895. 3-51

FIRE DISTRICT MEETING. COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. HAMPDEN SS.

To the qualified voters of Fire District No. 1 in Palmer.

You are hereby notified to meet at the Eastern Hampden District Court Room in said Palmer on Tuesday, the ninth day of April next, at two o'clock in the afternoon, to act on the following articles, viz:

ARTICLE 1. To choose a Moderator to preside at said meeting.

ART. 2. To choose a Clerk, Treasurer, Prudential Committee, board of Engineers, and all other officers and committees that may be necessary for the coming year, and give them instructions.

ART. 3. To hear the report of the Treasurer, Prudential Committee and board of Engineers, and act on the same.

ART. 4. To raise and appropriate such sums of money as may be necessary to pay the expenses of the Fire Department and annual rental of the Palmer Water Co.

ART. 5. To see if the district will authorize the collector to add interest to taxes paid after Sept. 1st of the ensuing year.

ART. 6. To see what action the district will take toward paying the board of Engineers, Firemen and Treasurer for the ensuing year, and raise and appropriate such sums of money as may be necessary.

ART. 7. To hear the report of committees and act thereon.

ART. 8. To see what action the district will take in regard to the purchase of hose for the use of the Fire Department, and raise and appropriate money for the same.

ART. 9. To see if the district will authorize its Treasurer to borrow money in anticipation of the taxes for the ensuing year, the same to be paid from said taxes.

Given under my hand this twenty-eighth day of March, 1895. FRANCIS D. BARTON, 2-52 Clerk of the Fire District.

CALL AND GET A FRAGRANT SOUVENIR FREE AT THE . . . JEWELRY STORE OF . . . G. A. MOORE, Holden's Block, - Palmer, Mass.

MAPLE SUGAR.

I have made arrangements to furnish my customers with Maple Sugar, first make of the season, from a Vermont man who took first premium at the World's Fair. Leave your orders now if you want to get the best and at lowest prices.

ALLEN'S CLIMAX COUGH CURE will help that hacking cough of yours.

FLORIDENA BALM will cure chapped hands and rough skin, pimples on the face, and burns as if by magic. Once used you will never be without it. Call and buy a bottle for this March weather at

Allen's New Drug Store, Holden's Block, Palmer.

FRESH Milk and Cream. MAPLE LAWN MILK FARM. O. D. WELLS, Proprietor.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that LeGro & Lynde have applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as druggists of the sixth class, in the Nassowanno House block, in the room on the ground floor next to post office. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that E. R. Pierce and W. A. Fitzpatrick, under the firm name of E. R. Pierce & Company, have applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as wholesale dealers of the fourth class, in the Converse House, so called, situate at the corner of Main and Walnut streets, in the Depot Village of said Palmer, the bar to be located in the brick basement of said building. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that E. R. Pierce and W. A. Fitzpatrick, under the firm name of E. R. Pierce & Company, have applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as innholders of the first class, in the Converse House, so called, situate at the corner of Main and Walnut streets, in the Depot village of said Palmer, the bar to be located in the brick basement of said building. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that L. W. Caryl and E. W. Burns, under the firm name of L. W. Caryl & Company, have applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as wholesale dealers of the fourth class, in the basement of Caryl's Block, so called, situate at the corner of Main and Commercial streets, in the Depot Village, the entrance to said premises being from Commercial street. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that L. W. Caryl and E. W. Burns, under the firm name of L. W. Caryl & Company, have applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as common victualers of the first class, in the basement of Caryl's Block, so called, situate at the corner of Main and Commercial streets, in the Depot Village, the entrance to said premises being from Commercial street. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that Daniel J. Shiel has applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as a wholesale dealer of the fourth class, in the first story of the two-story frame building situate on Commercial street in Thorndike village, being the one next southerly from the dwelling occupied by John F. Loftus, there being two entrances to said premises, one from Commercial street and one from side of said building. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that Daniel J. Shiel has applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as a common victualer of the first class, in the first story of the two-story frame building situate on Commercial street in Thorndike village, being the one next southerly from the dwelling occupied by John F. Loftus, there being two entrances to said premises, one from Commercial street and one from the side of said building. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that Wm. Lawton has applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as a wholesale dealer of the fourth class, on the first floor of the frame building situate on the easterly side of Commercial street in Thorndike village, and to be known as Thorndike House. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that Wm. Lawton has applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as an innholder of the first class, on the first floor of the frame building situate on the easterly side of Commercial street in Thorndike village, and to be known as Thorndike House. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that Maurice Moriarty and Morris J. Moriarty, under the firm name of M. Moriarty & Company, have applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as common victualers of the first class, in the first story of frame building situate on the westerly side of Prospect street in the village of Bondsville, being the building next northerly from the dwelling house of said Maurice Moriarty. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that Maurice Moriarty and Morris J. Moriarty, under the firm name of M. Moriarty & Company, have applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as wholesale dealers of the fourth class, in the first story of the frame building situate on the westerly side of Prospect street, in the village of Bondsville, being the building next northerly from the dwelling house of said Maurice Moriarty. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that M. D. Sullivan and Charles McManamy, under the firm name of M. D. Sullivan & Company, have applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as wholesale dealers of the fourth class, in the Nassowanno Hotel, so called, situate at the corner of Main and Walnut streets in the Depot Village, the bar to be located at Number 3 on said Walnut street. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that M. D. Sullivan and Charles McManamy, under the firm name of M. D. Sullivan & Company, have applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as innholders of the first class, in the Nassowanno Hotel, so called, situate at the corner of Main and Walnut streets in the Depot Village, the bar to be located at Number 3 on said Walnut street. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that O. P. Allen has applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as a druggist of the sixth class at his drug store, situated in the westerly corner store of Holden's block in the village of Palmer. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that Michael Roche and Cornelius J. Roche under the firm name of Michael Roche & Co., have applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as wholesale dealers of the first class in the room heretofore used as a saloon on the first floor of the ell part of the dwelling house of said Michael Roche, situate on Commercial street in Thorndike street. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that John F. Hartnett and Daniel J. Hartnett under the firm name of John F. Hartnett & Co., have applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as wholesale dealers of the fourth class, in the front room on the ground floor of frame building, situate on the southerly side of Main street, in the village of Three Rivers, between the grain store of one Fillmore on the west and the dwelling of J. F. Hartnett on the east. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

NOTICE is hereby given under chapter 100 of the Public Statutes that John F. Hartnett and Daniel J. Hartnett, under the firm name of John F. Hartnett & Company, have applied for a license to sell intoxicating liquors as common victualers of the first class, in the front room on the ground floor of frame building situate on the southerly side of Main street in the village of Three Rivers, between the grain store of one Fillmore on the west and the dwelling of J. F. Hartnett on the east. JOHN F. TWISS, Chairman of Selectmen.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN, SS. PROBATE COURT.—To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of David J. Anderson, late of Monson, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said Court for probate by Mary H. Anderson, of said Monson, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Springfield, in said county of Hampden, on the first day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in Palmer, in said County, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this third day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five. 3-1 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

COFFEE. Why do you pay 38c to 40c for your Coffee when you can get better for 35c of SMITH, the COFFEE MAN. Colton's Vanilla - 25c SMITH ◆ TEA ◆ CO., PALMER, MASS.

HOW ABOUT YOUR COFFEE?

Eminent authorities in this country and in Europe agree that coffee, when pure, is one of the most healthful of beverages, but it must be pure. When mixed with chicory it is most injurious to the system, causing many disorders of the stomach, etc. We have been most successful in our efforts to encourage the use of pure coffee. Our sales of 38c pure dry roast and 40c Java and Mocha have reached an enormous amount. We have no hesitation in recommending them as the best values in coffee offered in Palmer.

In Canned Goods We Offer

Canned Dandelion, (W. K. Lewis pack)	20c
Canned Clam Chowder, (W. K. Lewis pack)	20c
Canned Corn, (equal to any 10c can) 4 cans	25c
Canned Tomatoes,	8c
Golden Drip Syrup, with Jug, 43c gal.
Olives in bulk,	35c a quart

J. F. FOLEY, PALMER.

Did you know the law is off on Trout Monday, April 1st, and that you can buy RODS, LINES, FLIES, HOOKS, REELS, FLY BOOKS, ETC., At right prices and get a good assortment at the DRUG STORE OF LeGRO & LYNDE, Next to Post Office, Palmer, - - Mass.

PALMER CASH TEA STORE. THE PLACE TO BUY YOUR Tea, Coffee, Spices and Crockery Is at the Old Stand in the Cross

Noble, in behalf of their friends, presented Mr. and Mrs. Moulton with a set of silver and glass ware as a token of their regard. At a late hour the guests took their departure, with pleasant memories of the evening.

A concert and ball will be given in Memorial HallEaster Monday night, April 15th, under the auspices of the Windsor club. Music will be furnished by the First Regiment band of Brattleboro, Vt., 12 pieces, with Prof. E. Wales as prompter. The committee of arrangements is: F. L. Shaw, S. H. Newton, L. C. Flynt, Ralph Clifford, C. W. King; general floor director, F. L. Shaw, assisted by C. W. King and F. H. Bacon; aids, S. H. Newton, A. P. Holdridge, C. S. Thayer, George H. Seymour, E. R. Cook, Frank Severy, A. S. Anderson, F. G. Thayer, F. Williams, T. Spur, A. F. Johnson; reception committee, Julius Heimann, S. E. Cushman, Jr., H. M. Bacon, George C. Flynt, W. H. Gifford and Henry Wenthworth. Tickets for concert and ball are on sale at G. L. Keeney's drug store.

WARREN.

The Misses Conroy, formerly of West Warren, have opened millinery and dressmaking rooms on Main street.

The Ladies' Home Missionary Society celebrated its 50th anniversary Wednesday afternoon with special exercises at the home of Mrs. Mary G. Hitchcock on Maple street. A large number were present, including Mrs. E. L. Jagger of West Hartford, Mrs. G. H. Norcross of Monson, and two of the original members, Mrs. Charles E. Gleason and Mrs. Charles Burbank. A review of the 50 years' work was given and a report of the treasurer read, showed that the contributions had amounted to $60.51. Letters were also read from many former members.

The directors of the Board of Trade have organized for the year with these officers and committees: President, William B. Ramsdell; vice president, Marcus Burroughs; secretary, Emory C. Sawyer; treasurer, Frank L. Harwood; membership committee, John E. Walsh, Dwight E. Graves and E. J. Buck; manufactures and trade, J. W. Brown, J. W. Chadsey, Edward L. Foskit, E. J. Buck and D. O. Clark; town requirements, Joseph W. Hastings, Charles O. Walker, Andrew Martin, A. H. Converse, W. H. Fairbanks, Chas. B. Blair and Edward Fairbanks; statistics, Frank L. Harwood, Charles H. Walker and George A. Shumway; transportation and communication, George E. Tarbell, Joseph G. Hastings and William L. Curtis.

HAMPDEN.

Mrs. N. D. Parsons, who has been quite sick with the grippe, is improving.

The spring term of the schools will begin next Monday. The few scholars in Nos. 3 and 4 will be carried to No. 1 school.

About twenty of the friends of Ariel Spaulding from the Baptist church surprised him at his home Monday evening, it being the occasion of his 81st birthday. Refreshments were served, and all report a very enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Orvill Pease, a former resident of this place and mother of Selectman Mortimer Pease, suffered a paralytic shock last Friday. Her death is expected on account of her advanced age. For many years she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Burt of Longmeadow.

Monday was town meeting day, and the following is a list of the appropriations, officers and committees for the ensuing year: [illegible]erator, William R. Sessions; clerk and [illegible]surer, John Q. Adams; selectmen and [illegible]seers of the poor, Summer Smith, Nelson [illegible]arew and Mortimer Pease; assessor, C. [illegible]urleigh; school committee, Patrick E [illegible]l; auditor, D. L. McCray; constables, W. [illegible]unt, E. F. Lyons and W. A. Chapin. [illegible]ropriations: School books and supplies, [illegible]; permanent repairs, 150; schools, 1400; [illegible]ol superintendent, 125; library, 75; pau[illegible]600; highways, 750; street lights, 60; [illegible]est, 50; Memorial Day, 50; contingent [illegible]nt, 600; total, 3960. The vote on the [illegible]r question was: Yes, 31; no, 74.

WEST WARREN.

[illegible]orge C. Rodman is visiting friends in [illegible]on.

[illegible]n Jacque of Quaboag left for Canada [illegible]esday noon.

[illegible]ster A. Bemis is out again after an [illegible] of tonsilitis.

[illegible]ie Tongue is on the gain after having [illegible]lsions last Sunday.

[illegible] Lizzie J. Rodman is in Springfield, [illegible] she expects to locate.

[illegible] scarlet fever patients are on the gain, [illegible]e scare is nearly over.

[illegible]. Rycroft has taken a position in the [illegible]f the Warren cotton mills.

[illegible] Mrs. John J. Shaw spent Sunday [illegible]e[illegible]ith their son, John H. Shaw.

[illegible] and sale given by the women [illegible]odist church last week netted

[illegible]is [illegible]aley, overseer in No. 1 mill, [illegible]rk with the company last

[illegible]who has been boss painter [illegible]otton mills for the past ten [illegible]ed and will move to North[illegible]on.

[illegible]e preaching in the M. E [illegible]ere will [illegible]day, it being Conference [illegible]ch next S[illegible] League prayer meeting [illegible]day. Epworth clock.

[illegible]e evening at [illegible] cornet band has been [illegible]e West Warren[illegible]field Memorial Day. [illegible]ged to play at [illegible] great progress with [illegible] band has [illegible]er. Mr. King, the bass [illegible]y Abbott as l[illegible]eave town, and Mr. [illegible]mer, will soo[illegible] [illegible]y will take his pla[illegible]

WALE[illegible]re elected at the following officers [illegible]Savings Bank: [illegible]l meeting of the Wale[illegible] presidents, [illegible]tent, N. S. Hubbard; v[illegible]A. A. Hub[illegible]Webber, Isaiah Hiscock[illegible] H. A. [illegible]; secretary and treasure[illegible], G. S. [illegible]uland; directors, E. D. Sh[illegible], [illegible]rs, E. C. Sherman, L. A[illegible], Mood[illegible]er, A. A. Hubbard, [illegible] committee, [illegible] Royce, LeRoy So[illegible] [illegible] Needham, A. A. C[illegible] [illegible]tment, W. L. W[illegible] [illegible] Rogers. H. A[illegible] [illegible]sday. [illegible] the an[illegible]wn-meeting [illegible]which a [illegible]tes[illegible]schools was one w[illegible] [illegible]Zon [illegible]ction was given. It was [illegible]l of a [illegible] must either build a [illegible]hat the town must either build a [illegible]ol house or an addition to the old [illegible] a committee was chosen to act with [illegible]ol committee in the matter and [illegible] a special town-meeting to be called [illegible]he following is a list of the officers, [illegible]opriations for the ensuing year: [illegible]r, F. S. Gardner; clerk, O. P. [illegible]reasurer, W. A. Lyon; selectmen [illegible]eers of the poor, O. P. Royce, W. A. [illegible] W. E. Needham; assessors, O. P. [illegible] M. Gale and F. L. Needham; con[illegible]. W. Eager, W. M. Peck and T. J. [illegible]ppropriations: Town officers, $200; [illegible]50; paupers, 600; highways and [illegible]00; fire department, 50; suppression [illegible] liquor selling, 270; discount on [illegible]; miscellaneous, 200; total, 3055. [illegible]n the liquor question was 62 to 39, [illegible] no-license. It was also voted to [illegible]l on one ballot hereafter.

[illegible] to extend our sincere thanks [illegible]d friends, also to the Odd Fel[illegible]o the Amity Lodge, Agawam [illegible]nerican Mechanics, and the [illegible]ingfield.

MR. AND MRS. RAMSDEN.

[illegible]rch 28th, 1895.

[illegible]s Hygienic Coffee, don't make it too str[illegible]. [illegible]ocers sell it.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 52-25

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength. —Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO.,

106 Wall St., N. Y.

SALESMEN WANTED

To Solicit orders for Nursery Stock, Salary or Commission. Cash advanced for expenses, and outfit free. Experience not essential. Active, [illegible]d-working men can make good pay. The best reference required.

THE R. G. CHASE CO.,

Malden, Mass.

FORBES & WALLACE'S,
SPRINGFIELD.

The Easter Hat.

We shall be crowded with orders by the end of the week. The earlier we have the order the better.

Main floor of Pynchon street building.

The New Capes.

You've no notion of how winning a cape you can get for $10 or thereabouts if you haven't been here to see. Hardly fair to the capes to ask you to take these for descriptions, but they'll give you an idea; then you'll come to see:

At $9.50—Figured taffeta silk cape, trimmed with silk lace, collar of satin ribbon and passementerie, silk lined throughout.

At $10—Gros grain silk cape, paneled with passementerie, guimpure lace collar, lined with silk.

At $11—Figured taffeta silk cape, fringed with 5 inch lace, lace collar, lined throughout.

At $12.50—Faille silk cape, yoke of 10 inch lace, trimmed with satin ribbon, plaited satin ribbon collar, nile green silk lining.

At $13.50—Fine grosgrain silk cape, jetter vandyke point about collar, lace ruche collar, black satin ribbon streamers, lined throughout.

At $13 50—Crepe silk cape, yoke of 10 inch black silk lace, trimmed with vandyke point lace, black satin ribbon collar, lavender silk lining.

Main floor of Pynchon street building.

Bicycles.

Catalogs are ready. You can get one at the store or we will send a copy. Everybody that contemplates riding this year should know of our bicycles and the way we sell them.

The SWAN — men's and women's models are thoroughly up to date. Makers have improved every point of the last year's SWAN. And this year we shall sell them at $49.

The same wheels with the manufacturer's name plate on sells for $75.

The LENOX Model B for men, and the LENOX Model H for women we shall sell at—$59.

The manufacturers put names of their own on these and sell them for $75 each.

The LENOX Model A for men and the LENOX Model G for ladies are strictly high grade bicycles. We shall sell them at —$69.

Old bicycle makers who know, say these are as good as any bicycles made. We have their say so. At any rate, the manufacturers think enough of them to sell them under a name of their own for $100.

Basement.

FORBES & WALLACE.
Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

FURNITURE.

Over eighty thousand square feet of floor space devoted to this department, and every inch occupied.

It's probably more furniture is handled by [illegible]han by all the other houses of [illegible]ingfield combined; moreover, its a [illegible]nd that can be guaranteed the lowest [illegible]riced as well as the most costly.

Our patronage is not confined to this immediate vicinity but comes from all over New England, a fact that convinces us that people appreciate the prices that our large buying direct from the makers and for spot cash, enables us to place on our goods. Then there's a novelty about the styles we show, they are controlled by us, making it a double pleasure to select here.

We invite you to spend as much time as you like in this department; whether you purchase or not we will be glad to show you. One visit will lead to another.

Take elevator.

CARPETS.

HARTFORD AND LOWELL INGRAINS.

Not a few short rolls that we're anxious to close out, but full rolls of this season's productions. Some of the best patterns ever shown, and no one thinks of questioning the quality or durability of these makes.

Look at the line now on sale at 45 cents, 50 cents and 55 cents a yard. All who are judges of carpet values will be here to improve this offer.

First floor

Meekins, Packard & Co.

Springfield, Mass.

COAL.
BALED HAY.
STRAW.

Lehigh Chestnut Coal	$6.00
" Stove "	6.00
" Egg "	5.50
Half ton lot of Stove and Chestnut Coal	3.15
Lackawanna Stove Coal	5.75
Half ton " "	5.00
Lackawanna Egg Coal	5.40

No. 1 Baled Hay,	15.00 per ton
Stock Hay,	13.00 " "
Baled Straw,	14.00 " "

☞ SPECIAL PRICES ON CAR LOAD LOTS.

RALPH [illegible]IFFORD,

Rear of Monson H[illegible] - Monson, Mass.

W. E. STONE.

HOUSEKEEPING DEPARTMENT.

Agate Iron Ware.

Most durable of any, consequently the cheapest.

PRICES AGAIN REDUCED.

Agate Iron Teapots,	3 sizes.
Coffee Pots,	3 "
Preserve Kettles,	4 "
Sauce Pans,	6 "

Nickled Tea Kettles, best quality, full size only	$1.
" Tea Pots,	3 sizes.
" Coffee Pots,	3 "
Tin and Copper Wash Boilers,	all "

Wash Boards, Wash Tubs, Pails, Clothes Pins, Clothes Lines, Clothes Baskets, Mop Sticks and Brooms.

Yellow Mixing Bowls,	9 sizes.
" Nappies,	6 "
Rockingham Tea Pots,	4 "

Our 5 cent List

Now includes many articles that were formerly 10 cents.

Tin Wash Basins, 11½ inch—a rattler,	5c
Tea Strainers,	5c
Bowl " 5 in.,	5c
Bread and Biscuit Pans,	5c
Vegetable Sifters,	5c
Meat Forks,	5c
Iron Spoons, wood handles,	5c
Pudding Pans,	5c
Embossed Mugs,	5c
Kettle Covers,	5c
Toasters,	5c
Doughnut Cutters,	5c
Salt and Pepper Shakes,	5c
Glass Mugs,	5c
Goblets,	5c
Tumblers,	5c
Tooth Pick Holders,	5c
Cream Pitchers,	6c
Jelly Dish, fan pattern,	6c
Sugar Bowl, with cover,	9c
Butter Dish, " "	9c
Syrup Cup,	10c
Vinegar Cruets,	10c
Stew Pan and Cover,	10c
Tea and Coffee Pots,	10c
Cuspidores,	10c
Large Dippers,	9 and 10c
Cake Tins,	10c
Flour Sifters,	13c
Tea Kettles,	19c
Dish Drainers,	23c
Carpet Beaters,	10c
Dish Pans, large,	10c
Rinsing Pans, large,	23c
Tea and Coffee Pots, copper bottoms,	25 and 30c
Round Dinner Pails,	25c
Square " "	50c
Soap Savers,	10c
Egg Beaters,	15c
Chopping Knives,	15 and 33c

GROCERY DEPARTMENT.

Our Tea, Coffee and Spice Dep't.

Is one we give a great deal of attention. Its a trade plaster, i e—it draws.

Our Teas are very carefully selected from samples submitted by the largest importers.

We carry a large assortment, ranging from 25c to $1 per pound. We will undertake to please the most fastidious in the Tea and Coffee question.

Something New for this section is a CEYLON TEA, of very delicate color, aroma and flavor, $1.00 the pound. Requires less than half the quantity of other teas. This tea is grown on the Island of Ceylon, the land of big elephants. Try a quarter of a pound. You will find it an agreeable change.

Our "Paul Revere" brand of Coffee (red bags) is gaining many friends. 38c a pound. You will need to call here for it.

We have a pure Coffee at 25c a pound that gives good satisfaction.

We sell SLADE'S SPICES—They are absolutely pure and packages full weight.

Lively Things in the Grocery Dep't.

Kibbe's Mixed Candies,	2 pounds for 25c
" Peppermint Drops,	2 " " "
" Chocolate "	2 " " "

Dunham's Shredded Cocoanut, ¼, ½ and 1 pound packages.
Sugar Drip Syrup, 1 gallon, including jug, 40c, without jug, 25c.
Beardsley's Shredded Cod.
Plymouth Rock Gelatine, white and pink.
B. M. C. Best Flour. If you want cheap flour don't ask for this. Yet it is cheap, for you get many more loaves from a barrel of this than from the cheaper grades. So called cheap flour is usually dear in the end.
California Navel Oranges, 176 size, 35c a dozen.
Parlor Matches, Peacock Brand.
Acme Soap.
Large Prunes, 10c a pound.
Evaporated Apricots.
Oak Leaf Soap. See the handsome pictures in our window given away for wrappers. Call for premium list.

CARPET AND RENTING DEPARTMENTS.

From the importers we expect to receive this week a few rolls of very fine Straw Mattings. These mattings have a cotton warp, are desirable and handsome. Prices are way under city prices.

Oil Cloth Carpets.
Ingrain "
Hemp "
Carpet Linings.

Wool Fringes for Rugs.
Lace Curtains.
Extension Rods for Sash Curtains.
Drapery Poles.

We have the following Instruments to rent:
One new Upright Piano
One second-hand Upright.
One second-hand Organ.

W. E. STONE

Lawrence Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

QUALITY CONSIDERED

Our prices are the lowest.

Why?

We sell for CASH only.

No bad debts to worry about. Try us ONCE and you become our regular customer.

CHAS N. BLAKE & CO.,

BOOTS, SHOES and RUBBERS.

HOLDEN'S BLOCK.

A. B. COWAN, Manager.

LAZELLE, DAWES & ESTEY,

MILLINERY ROOMS,

358 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Latest Styles
—IN—
Spring and Summer Millinery.

All Novelties of the Season at Very Low Prices.

CALL : AND : EXAMINE.

W. N. FLYNT & SONS'

SPRING STYLES IN MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING

HAVE ARRIVED. GIVE THEM A CALL AND RECEIVE BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY THAN EVER BEFORE. BE SURE YOU GET A TRILBY. LATEST IN HATS AND CAPS FOR MEN AND BOYS AT

W. N. FLYNT & SONS,

MONSON, MASS.

◆◆ MILLINERY ◆◆

We offer the most attractive MILLINERY anywhere around here. Only the Newest and Latest. Our increased business from season to season shows the appreciation of the public that we for them—the best for the least—its not so easy to do, but we do it for all purchasers of Millinery. Visitors welcome. You will profit by looking around.

SAVE MONEY

Wholesale and Retail Millinery.

S. LEVISON,

350 Main St., Springfield, Mass.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS IN THIS VICINITY FOR

TRUSSES.

WE CARRY A LARGE ASSORTMENT IN ALL THE SIZES OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF

Steel Spring Trusses,
Hard Rubber Trusses,
New York Elastic Trusses.

WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.

AT LEGRO & LYNDE'S.

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

WANTED.

Smart and reliable men to solicit orders for an extensive variety of Hardy Nursery Stock. Also a few energetic women for Shrubs, Roses, etc.

S. T. CANNON,
AUGUSTA, ME.

6*51

It Does Not Matter How Much or How Little You Know About Merchandising,

HAYNES & COMPANY'S

Reputation is behind every garment in their Great Spring Stock. When we buy right, you can't make mistakes. We have been learning to buy for 40 years, and we know some important things about the Clothing business that cannot be learned by hearing people talk.

It is the knowledge due to such experience that justifies the people in their firmly established confidence in Haynes & Co.

They know that when Haynes & Co. say a thing is good, it is good. They know that when Haynes & Co. announce extraordinary values, they are giving extraordinary values. And so the announcement of

NEW SPRING GOODS

Has the real interest of plain truth-telling and honest dealing, rather than the half-humorous amazement of romance.

SPRING SUITS.

They are extremely slick, soft and sensible; the choicest foreign and domestic goods. Made up with great thoroughness and care. It is easy to make a considerable saving by cheapening the details of make-up, but that is just the thing that our experience has taught us to look out for and avoid. See for yourself about this. The suits are ready. From $7.50 to $30 each.

FANCY SCOTCH SUITS.

There is no class of suits that equal the Scotches in their own field of service. How well they look! How well they wear! How well they hold their shape! With all their Scotch ruggedness, these gentile, dressy Mixtures are immensely popular, and the medium prices on them prove a genuine business-promoting feature. $12 to $16.

BLACK CLAY WORSTEDS.

No line serves its wearers with greater ease or satisfaction. Black Clay Worsteds are as staple as the gold standard ought to be, and our line is made up of artistic, medium cut, dovetail effects, that are most desirable.

SPRING OVERCOATS.

The styles are elegant. The fabrics and colors tasteful. We can please every taste, and FIT EVERY FORM. That is saying much for little,—perhaps enough for one day.

HAYNES & COMPANY.,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.,

CLOTHIERS, TAILORS, HATTERS, and FURNISHERS.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

BICYCLES FOR 1895.

STEARNS "Yellow Fellow." Ladies' and Gents' $100.

WARWICK "Crimson Rims." $80, $85, $100.

CRESCENTS $90, $75, $50, $40.

WINNEWOOD & TEMPLES $60.

We have full size in Ladies' and Gents' Wheels for $50, fully warranted.

BICYCLE REPAIRING.

We have secured the services of Alfred H. Stokes to take charge of this department. Mr. Stokes comes to us from the KEATING WHEEL CO. where he has had entire charge of their Repair Department.

He can save you money in repairs and suit you. Any kind of wheel repaired.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

SEEDS.

Garden Seeds, Grass Seeds, Flower Seeds, Seed Potatoes. We take great pains to suit you on this line. We think poor seeds are worthless at any price. See us before you buy.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Belcher & Taylor's Plows and Cultivators. Rough and Ready Wrought Iron Beam Plows. Planet, Jr. Horse Hoes and Cultivators. John Doud Wheel Harrows. Steel Road Scrapers. Spring Tooth Harrows. Lawn Mowers.

We shall carry a good line and solicit your trade.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

FISHING TACKLE.

TROUT fishing will soon be here. We are getting Rods, Lines, Reels, Baskets, etc., ready for the rush. Nice assortment. Fair prices.

E. A. Buc[illegible] Palmer.

JUST OPENED.
A Large Assortment of

J. B. SHAW

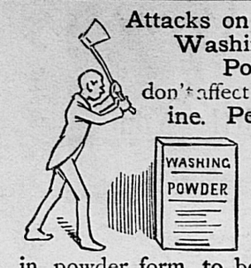
LACES, HAMBURGS, TRIMMING BRAIDS, VEILINGS, GRASS CLOTH, FIBRIC CHAMOIS, SILESIAS, HAIR CLOTH and CAMBRICS.
DRESS GINGHAMS, TEAZLE DOWN, WHITE GOODS, BLEACHED and BROWN COTTONS

AT THE... LOWEST : PRICES EVER MADE.

PALMER

ALL OUR HOODS, SCARFS AND CARDIGANS
AT HALF PRICE TO CLOSE THE SEASON.

WE HAVE MANY NEW THINGS IN
Fancy Groceries and Canned Goods,
Of the Best Quality as well as the Cheaper Grades, and Prices Guaranteed to be Right.



Attacks on Washing-Powders don't affect Pearline. Pearline is a washing compound in powder form, to be sure, but quite a different thing.

It's made so that it acts upon dirt as nothing else will, but can't possibly do any harm to substance, hands or fabric. Soap-makers are advertising against washing-powders, claiming that they ruin the clothes. They're more than half right. But chemical analysis and the experience of millions of women prove that Pearline hasn't the power to harm clothes that soap has.

Beware of imitations. 396 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

We can Collar and Cuff any man in America and do it too in a way that he will like. Every man that wears collars and cuffs should know about the "CELLULOID" Interlined. A linen collar or cuff covered with waterproof "CELLULOID." They are the only Interlined Collars and Cuffs made.

They are the top notch of comfort, neatness and economy. They will go through the day with you in good shape, no matter how hot or how busy you get. You can clean one yourself in a minute, without dependence on busy wives, unskillful hired girls or uncertain and distant laundries. Simply wipe them off.

Every piece is marked as follows:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

You must insist upon goods so marked and take nothing else if you expect satisfaction.

If your dealer should not have them, we will send you a sample postpaid on receipt of price. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair. Give size, and specify stand-up or turned-down collar as wanted.

THE CELLULOID COMPANY,
427-29 Broadway, NEW YORK.

Actual or Corrected?—Elsie—"She says she is twenty-two." Ethel—"Then she must have deducted her time allowance."—Puck.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth Co., Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me, he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. 50 cent bottles.

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds. SIMS BROS., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles.

It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In many instances the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. 25 and 50 cent bottles.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

GOOD BLOOD

Is essential to Good Health.

Good Blood Means Strong Nerves,

Good Digestion, Robust Health.

The best way to have good Blood is to take Blood Wine, because it will quickly expel all impurities from the blood, and make it rich, pure and healthy.

BLOOD WINE

[Trade Mark Registered.]

is the one medicine that will create a good appetite, and at the same time enable the digestive organs to do their work properly. In this way it wards off threatened attacks of disease, and keeps the whole system in a healthy condition. Be sure you get BLOOD WINE.

...The ...Best

Blood Purifier.

DENTAL

Operations are usually painful; but at my office we excavate and Fill all Cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN.
Also, we do Crown and Bridge Work and make Artificial Teeth that are Satisfactory.
First Class Work at Reasonable Prices is our motto. Lady Attendant. Take Elevator.
DR. WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.
Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield, Mass.

A NICE NEW LINE OF SAMPLES OF FOLDERS.
FOR DANCE PROGRAMS, INVITATIONS, MENUS, ETC.
Just recei[ve]

Our Faith.

Read by Dr. N. W. Rand, at the banquet of the Homoeopathic Medical Society of Western Massachusetts, Springfield, March 20, 1895.

As comrades of a scattered band,
At war against disease and death,
We meet to grasp the friendly hand
And reaffirm our common faith.

We reaffirm, but not abuse,
The sacred rights for which we stand—
The right to take, the right to use,
The best our wisdom can command.

We bow unto no man the knee;
We brook no ancient, iron creed;
Our attitude is—Loyalty
To Truth wherever she may lead.

Whate'er of worth the fathers wrought
We humbly, gratefully confess;
Nor prize we less the latest thought
That comes humanity to bless.

We honor age, we honor youth,
We honor every class, or clan,
That bravely battles for the truth
And for the betterment of man.

Nor care we what the means, or whence,
In which restoring power we find—
From matter, or the more intense
And subtle potencies of mind,—

From earth, or air, or sun, or seas,
Or from the lightning's lurid breath,—
We care not, so they heal disease
And stay the awful hand of death.

If this be "dogma," "narrow," "blind,"
With dear old Whittier we say:
"Pray for us, that our feet may find
Some broader, surer, better way."

Albeit this our faith holds fast—
The kindlier method, known as ours,
Above the crudeness of the past,
Like Calvary over Sinai towers!

The long-used lancet lies at rest:
The leech bides in his native flood:
And ne'er again at man's behest
Shall they regale on human blood.

The cruel thirst of time ago
Is lost in crystal waters quaffed;
For Hahnemann has lived—and lo!
The fevered lip hath cooling draught!

All honor to that gracious name!
Nail it aloft before our sight,
Among the noblest sons of fame,
In characters of living light!

But Heaven forbid that we should boast
Over our bit of knowledge gained,
It seems so swallowed up and lost
Beside the boundless unattained.

The unattained! Stupendous word!
What visions in its face we see!
And in its syllables are heard
What whisperings from futurity!

It points us to a golden day,
Wherein man shall so comprehend
Great Nature's laws,—and so obey,—
That all disease shall have an end;

A day when gladness grief shall drown,
And dirge to delectation rise,
And Prophylaxis win the crown
From Therapeutics' envious eyes;

A day when time, exempt from fears,
Shall sit so lightly on the brow
That man shall round an hundred years
As gracefully as sixty now.

Perchance he may on earth remain
So long as he prefers to stay,
Then take some through, aerial train,
And, like Elijah, whirl away!

Indeed we cannot apprehend
The wonders we may yet behold,
When blood of horse and man shall blend
As in the centaurs, famed of old;

When wicked germs no more shall dare
To stifle babies at the breast;
And all the microbes of the air
Have been forever laid at rest;

When people, of whatever "school,"
Shall cease to "dose"—(if cease they can)—
And learn that Nature, as a rule,
If not abused is true to man.

'Tis coming! Yes, we dare to hope,
Though doubt doth every point beset,
The culture tube and microscope
Will solve the mighty problem yet.

'Tis coming—the protecting light
Of higher knowledge yet to be—
As sure as stars come out at night,
Or rivers reach the roaring sea!

'Tis coming! Expectation thrills
At thought of triumphs pressing on!—
Look! Even now the eastern hills
Are bannered with the flags of dawn!

"What will the doctors do?" Ah me!
The fact is I had quite forgot
About them. Well, now let us see
What can be done by such a lot.

They can not live on treasured spoils;
For, if they were to cast around,
The sole results of many toils
They'd find—low buried in the ground!

I hardly think they'll try to preach,
Though that is easy, so they say;
And they're too modest far to teach—
(For any wage committees pay!)

And should they e'er become so bold
As to incline the law to try,
They'd fail; because, like George of old,
They could not tell—another lie!

Perhaps they may take up the pen;
Though hard it is to understand
How such meek, unobtrusive men
Could meet the newspapers' demand.

They might prevert the public taste
By serving up past social sins
In language covert, coy, and chaste,
And "catchy," like "The Heavenly Twins."

Indeed they'd only need announce
A plan to publish half they know,
When every scamp would square accounts.
And beg them not expose him so!

And cash would come like leaves of spring:
For thousands, who had failed to "call,"
Would tremble like the ancient king,
At sight of writings on the wall.

"The doctors?" They'll be let alone—
Allowed to sleep the whole night through,
And live like monarchs on a throne,
Without a single thing to do!

HIS SUDDEN FAINTNESS.

"Yes, dear," said Mrs. Goodhart, as she handed her husband a cup of coffee across the breakfast table. "I realize that we simply must economize, and I'm willing to do my part. I've thought of one way of economizing already.

"How is that?" asked Mr. Goodhart.

"Well, I'll tell you. I have a good sewing machine and plenty of time, and if you'll select the cloth, I'll cut and make you that pair of new trousers you want my own self and save— why, Henry Goodhart, what is the matter with you? The man is going into a fit. Here. Jane, bring some water! Go for the doctor, somebody! Help me to support him and keep him from falling out of his chair. What can the matter be? It looks like apoplexy. There! He breathes easier and has opened his eyes. Now, Henry dear, what is it?"

"Nothing, my dear, nothing: only a sudden faintness. I'll get over it in a few minutes, and I—I was just joking when I said that we had to begin economizing somewhere—only joking, my dear."—Detroit Free Press.

He—"My views on bringing up a family—" She—"Never mind your views. I'll bring up the family. You go and bring up the coal."—Yonkers Stateman.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment; Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Ware, Mass.

He Had Hip Disease

Seven Running Sores—Three Months in the Hospital

Took Hood's Sarsaparilla—Gave Up His Crutches—Perfectly Well.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
"Dear Sirs:—I gladly state what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for our boy. About six years ago he fell down the cellar stairs. He did not seem to be much hurt at the time, but two or three weeks after, he began to have pains in his right knee so badly that we called a doctor and he

Termed the Trouble Rheumatism,

but his treatment did not seem to do the boy any good. He kept complaining more and we had several doctors treat him, but they did him no good, and his trouble continued to grow worse. He became so lame that he could not walk. A prominent physician in Boston was consulted and he termed the affliction contraction of the muscles. His treatment also failed. As his leg began to cramp up besides paining him severely in his knee, we took the boy to New York where he was examined by two physicians, and they pronounced it

A Case of Hip Disease.

We had a brace made to keep the leg from cramping, and upon the doctor's advice we again took him to Boston, this time to the Children's Hospital. He was there three months during which time they made an operation on his leg and did all they could for him, but they did not effect a cure. When we brought him home had seven running sores on his leg. He could not put his foot on the ground. At last

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

we were advised to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. This was about a year ago. The boy seemed to gain after the first bottle and today he can walk, run and play as lively as any boy, the sores having all healed up, and he is

The Picture of Health.

He goes to school daily without the aid of crutches. I hope Hood's Sarsaparilla may be of as much benefit to others." JOHN C. BOYLE, 45 Water St., Ware, Mass.

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c.

"If men would enthuse as easily in religion as they do in politics, how quick the devil would begin to run."—Ram's Horn.

HEART DISEASE!

Fluttering, No Appetite, Could Not Sleep, Wind on Stomach.

"For a long time I had a terrible pain at my heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought that every minute would be my last. There was a feelling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath. I could not sweep a room without resting. My husband induced me to try and am happy to say it has cured me. I now have a splendid appetite and sleep well. Its effect was truly marvelous."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

MRS. HARRY E. STARR, Pottsville, Pa.

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

NOTHING LIKE IT.

Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy Makes Another Remarkable Cure.

Four years ago Mrs. Markham, who resides on First Street, corner of North Swan, noticed a sensitive spot on her left limb. It was apparently nothing serious, but soon developed into a sore, and before long the limb was a mass of ulcers. Mrs. Markham employed some of our best physicians, but obtained no relief. In fact, was told that nothing could be done for her, so for four years she suffered with these dreadful ulcers, which had eaten their way to the bone.

A little less than a year ago an acquaintance told her about Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and that he believed she would find relief in using it. Mrs. Markham's four years of suffering had made her skeptical, the more so as she had obtained no relief from any of the physicians who had attended her.

The friend offered to send her a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy if she would try it. He did so, and there was such a decided improvement that she concluded to give the remedy a fair test. To-day, not quite a year after taking the first dose, the ulcers have disappeared, all that is left to show what she has suffered is a swelling on the ankle of the left limb, which is fast disappearing.

Mrs. Markham is naturally strong in her praises of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and feels that but for it she would now be a helpless cripple, if not a corpse.

Such a straightforward endorsement needs no comment, Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cures diseases when taken according to directions, it acts directly upon the kidneys, liver and blood. In cases of nervousness, dyspepsia, rheumatism, ulcers, old sores, blood poisoning and Bright's disease, it has made pronounced cures, after all other treatments have failed.—From the Times Union, Albany, N. Y. 52

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY
AND MACHINE SHOP.
At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.
MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL JOBBING DONE
At short notice and reasonable prices.
52-35 R. B. FRANCIS.

HELLYAR'S BARGAIN STORE,

Caryl's Block, On the Corner.

ANOTHER DROP IN PRICES.

1c buys two good lead pencils or a card of darning cotton.
2c one yard of elastic or a cake of soap.
3c one spool of black silk or one paper of tacks.
4c one yard of gingham or one spool best thread.
5c one yard best cambric or one dress braid.
6c two papers good pins or two doughnut cutters.
7c two Chinese lanterns or one stove mitten.
8c two napkin rings or two boxes of tooth picks.
9c one China basket or one bottle French shoe dressing.
10c one wheelbarrow or one Dover egg beater.
11c one yard of rug fringe or two yards of shelf oil cloth.
12c one yard of canvas or one yard best silicia.
13c two pairs dress shields or three Turkish wash cloths.
14c three yards toweling or two yards heavy 40-inch cotton.
15c two balls woolen yarn or one pair woolen hose.
16c two skeins Saxony yarn or two rolls crepe paper.
17c two pairs men's cotton socks or two pairs sleeve buttons.
18c one pound superfine writing paper or one 25c bottle perfume.
19c curtain pole and trimmings or five yards carpet paper.
20c six sauce dishes or 100 baronial envelopes.
21c three yards outing flannel or three yards cross bar cambric.
22c one yard table oil cloth or one gallon oil can.
23c one yard floor oil cloth or one Holland curtain.
24c one kitchen broom or one large dish pan.
25c one chamber pail or one large dinner pail.
$4.50 portier curtains at $3.25 per pair.
50c window shades at 36c each.
25c corn popper at 15c.
Best live geese feathers 55c per lb.
Brass extension sash rods 15c each.
Copper bottom coffee pots 15c each.
Extraordinary bargains in towels, table linens, stamped linens, crashes, sheeting and pillow case cottons, which we received this week.

Money saved on every purchase at our store.

Yours Truly,

S. H. Hellyar & Co.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.
Hours from 9 a. m. to 12m., 1 to 4 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.

Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOOERS, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.

Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.

Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.

Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Mooers, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory

Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.

Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

F. M. EAGER.
Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.
REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.
Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.
Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.
F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.
SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO SEPT. 30, 1894.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:
GOING EAST
FOR Boston—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58, p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook —6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
GOING WEST
FOR Bondsville, Pansy Park, South Amherst and Hadley—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
FOR Belchertown, Amherst and Northampton—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6 39, p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY, Gen'l Mgr.

C. H. HOBBY,
PIANO TUNER.
Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

Weak Nerves Epidemic.

Weak Nerves Will Surely Break You Down.

Nerves Are the Very Foundation of Strength and Endurance.

If Your Nerves Are Weak, Lose no Time in Getting Them Strong.

You are growing older every day, and if you do not wish the unpitying years as they roll on their relentless way to rob you of your hopes and joys, your pleasures, your ambitions, your very strength and energies, keep your nerves strong and vigorous.

It is the nerves which soonest wear out. You thoughtlessly use them up in work, pleasure or dissipation, and suddenly wake to find yourself broken down—that only your body remains, bereft of strength, energy and power, a mere wreck of what you were and with only dreariness, pain, weakness, and discontent your future portion. Then you realize the immeasurable depth of bitterness in Longfellow's lines:

"Oh, sudden thrills of fire and frost!
The world is bright while ye remain,
And dark and dead when ye are lost."

Health, hope, happiness—everything is dependent upon strong and vigorous nerves. It is weak nerves which give to the young fits, convulsions, hysteria, St. Vitus' dance, and the myriad nervous affections of youth. It is weak nerves which make women constantly tired, irritable, nervous, dispirited, dragged out and miserable. It is weak nerves which conquer men in their struggle for mastery in the world, which render them nerveless, powerless, with dull-feeling head, shaking, shattered and unsteady nerves, without appetite or good digestion, enfeebled from sleepless nights and wretched and discouraged from trying days. It is weak nerves which make age a curse instead of a blessing—a body, a casket from which every power and energy has fled, leaving only weakness, despair and utter weariness.

If there is any advice, which above another should sink into the heart, it is the admonition to keep your nerves strong. Hence, the words of Mrs. Eliza E. Clements, of 126 Bright street, Indianapolis, Ind., should have weight with everyone.

"I was afflicted for six years with nervous debility. I could not sleep nights, and I was in a terrible condition. I had heart trouble, and it beat so hard I thought I should die. I was in constant misery and could do no work.

"I had heard much talk about the wonders of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and now made up my mind to take it. I had given myself up for lost, but began to improve immediately under the use of this marvelous medicine.

MRS. ELIZA E. CLEMENTS.

"It has made me sound and well. I can work all day and not get tired. My heart disease is entirely cured, and my nerves are strong and under perfect control.

"I feel it my duty to tell suffering humanity what Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has done for me, and what it will surely do for them. I am thankful that Dr. Greene has given such a valuable medicine to a suffering world."

If you would be well and strong, with vigorous nerves full of the vim and energy of youth, use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. At this season of the year you should take it, by all means, as it is the best spring tonic and invigorator you can possibly use.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that this medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by any one at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

AYER'S Hygienic Coffee.

A Health Drink, Nerve and Brain Food.

A vegetable and cereal compound; contains all the elements one's system requires.
Prepared by M. S. AYER, of Boston. A vegetarian of many years.

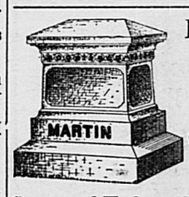
PRICE, 20 CENTS PER POUND.

Directions: Prepare the same as Coffee, using not more than two-thirds as much for the same amount of water, or one tablespoonful to a pint.

For sale by principal wholesale and retail grocers. Send 2c stamp for book on "Diet Reform."
M. S. AYER. 211 STATE ST., BOSTON.



DO YOU WANT A MONUMENT? CORRECT DESIGNS.
Guaranteed Workmanship. Prices Lowest.
WILLIAM F. COOK,
182, 184 STATE STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Tuition and Board Free

WHILE LEARNING TO BE A SAILOR.

The State of Massachusetts educates and boards CADETS at the MASSACHUSETTS NAUTICAL TRAINING SCHOOL on board the U. S. S. Enterprise. Examination for entrance April 26th, before starting on the SUMMER CRUISE. For pamphlet with full information, address COMMISSIONERS NAUTICAL TRAINING SCHOOL, STATE HOUSE, BOSTON. 3-1

YOUNG MEN'S LIBRARY ASSOCIATION,
Palmer, Mass.

Classified Finding-List.

A finding-list of fiction in the library has been printed by the Library Association. This list of other books is published for the convenience of readers who cannot consult the complete card catalogue at the library. Cut out each list as published and paste in a scrap book, leaving space after each class for future additions, and when finished you will, with the fiction finding list, have a complete list of the books in the library.

500 Science.

500B First steps in scientific knowledge. Bert
500F22 Story book of science. Farmer
500K Cosmos. Humboldt. 5v.
500P Light science for leisure hours. Proctor
500St Eyes right. Stwin
R503R Dictionary of science. Rodwell
504A1 Common sense science. Allen
504B Fairyland of science. Buckley
504Ew World a workshop. Ewbank
504G Gleanings of sacred philosophy from natural history.
504P Pleasant ways in science. Proctor
505An Annual of scientific discovery. 1860
505P81 Popular science monthly. v. 1–15, 17–36
505P811 Popular science monthly. Suppliment. v. 1–3
506K Annual report Smithsonian Institution. 3v. 1886–88
508.3T Voyage of the Challenger. Thomson 2v.
509W History of the inductive sciences. Whewell. 2v.

520 Astronomy.

520G Peter Parley's illustrations of astronomy. Goodrich
520N Popular astronomy. Newcomb
520P Myths and marvels of astronomy. Proctor
523B Starland. Ball
523F Stories of infinity. Flammarion
523M Planetary and stellar worlds. Mitchel
523P Other worlds than ours. Proctor

530 Physics.

530A1 Philosophy of the mechanics of nature. Allen
530C Conversations on chemistry. Comstock
531St Conservation of energy. Stewart
531T Farm implements. Thomas
534B Theory of sound in its relation to music. Blaserna
535L81 Studies in spectrum analysis. Lockyer
535L83 Nature of light. Lammel
535R Modern chromatics. Rood
537M Century of electricity. Mendenhall

540 Chemistry.

540C New chemistry. Cooke
540M Real fairy folks. Meyer
542P Artist's guide. Pilkington
542T Entertainments in chemistry. Tyler

550 Geology.

550Ag Geological sketches. Agassiz
550C Story of creation. Campbell
550D Geological story. Dana
550G Chips from the earth's crust. Gibson
550L Student's elements of geology. Lyell
550W Sketches of creation. Winchell
550Ww Walks and talks in the geological field. Winchell
551D1 Corals and coral islands. Dana
551D3 Story of the earth and man. Dawson
551D7 Ragnarok. Donnelly
551I Old ocean. Ingersol
551K Underground world. Knox
551Sh Aspects of the earth. Shaler
551T Forms of water. Tyndall
551Un Annual report U. S. signal office. v. 1
551V Water world. Van Derwoort
R557.3Un Report U. S. geological survey. 1881
560M Testimony of the rocks. Miller
569M Mastodon, mammoth and man. MacLean

570 Biology.

571C Childhood of the world. Clodd
571D Early man in Britain. Dawkins
571M Past in the present. Mitchell
571W2 Paradise found. Warren
571W7 Preadamites. Winchell
572M Aryan race. Morris
R572Sm Annual report bureau of ethnology, Smithsonian institute. v. 1
R572Un Contributions to North American ethnology, U. S. geological survey. v. 5
572W Uncivilized races of men. Wood
573M Manual of the antiquity of man. MacLean
575D2 Descent of man. Darwin
575D20 Origin of species. Darwin
575H History of creation. Hackel. 2 v.
575Sch Doctrine of descent and Darwinism. Schmidt
575W Doctrine of evolution. Winchell
578W Through a microscope. Wells, Treat & Sargeant

580 Botany.

580G How plants grow. Gray.
580H Chapters on plant life. Herrick
580P Fairy land of flowers. Pratt
581G Lessons in botany. Gray
581.9N Trees of Northeastern America. Newhall
589C Fungi. Cooke

590 Zoology.

590Ab Upland and meadow. Abbott
590Ag Principles of zoology. Agassiz and Gould
R590Ar Living world. Arnold. 2 v.
590B My land and water friends. Bamford
590D Ocean wonders. Damon
590G Science gleanings in animal life. Gibson

An Afternoon Call.

A Voice From Inside—"I wish to goodness you'd come at the proper time and not just as the servant's out and I'm dressing!"

The latest case of absent-mindedness is reported by the Dexter (Me.) Gazette, that of a Guilford man who took his pipe from its case and placed in his mouth, returning the case to his pocket, then cut his tobacco and again drew out the case and opened it, being very much surprised to find it empty. After considerable search, he opened his mouth to exclaim "wh—" but just there the pipe fell out and his question was answered before it was quarter asked.

Abraham—"Did yo' git enny pullet las' night, Mose?"

Mose—"Nope; but I come mighty nigh it—I got er bullet."—Judge.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Knights of the Maccabees.

The State Commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedies fail." Signed F. W. Stevens, State Commander.—Why not give this great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free at LeGro & Lynde's, Palmer; G. L. Keeney's, Monson; F. A. Spencer's; Ware.

It May Do as Much For You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called Kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Ritters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all liver and kidney troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c for large bottle. At LeGro & Lynde's, Palmer; G. L. Keeney's, Monson, F. A. Spencer's, W[are]

Hundreds of People are too apt to treat with indifference a common cough. "It's a little cold," they say, "and will soon wear off." Fatal mistake! Too often it is the first approach of the destroyer. Neglected it leads, sometimes rapidly, again slowly, to Consumption. How important then to attend to every cough, to check the progress of every common cold! This can be accomplished quickly and radically by

Ozomulsion

TRADE MARK.

a purely scientific compound of Ozone, Cod Liver Oil and Guaiacol. It checks the cough and prevents serious complications. If disease has got hold of you, it stops waste, kills the germs of disease, and rapidly builds up the system. It is easy to take; does not nauseate; produces no eructation. It is a food as well as a medicine. It is

THE KIND PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, the after effects of Pneumonia and La Grippe and all Pulmonary Complaints; Scrofula, General Debility, Loss of Flesh, Anæmia and all Wasting Diseases.

All Druggists or T. A. Slocum Co. [illegible] NEW YORK.

For Sale by O. P. ALLEN, Druggist, Palmer, [illegible] Mass.

DRINK LIPTON

Direct From The [illegible] Te
Fragrant! Ric[h]

AWARDED HIGHEST HONORS AT [illegible]

Genuine only when suppl[ied] tight Canisters bearing grower[s]

LIPTON, TEA PLA[NTER]

These delicious Teas are [illegible] in the Old Country. Lipton's [illegible] clared to be The Finest Tea [illegible]

SOLI[D]

J. B. SHAW, Palmer.
J. B. BROWN & CO., Three Rivers.

RICHMOND STR[AIGHT] N[o.]

Metho[dist] Worship at [illegible] Sunday

[illegible] spent [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] in west

R[ichmond]

ON[E]

PU[RITAN]

BEWARE of imitation trade marks and labels.

s the about

ARM AND [illegible]

in Packages. Costs flour[illegible]

Only by CHURCH & CO[.]

Write for Arm and Ham[mer]

BARNES' IN[STITUTE]
[illegible] & CO., 56 E. [illegible]

CHAUTAUQUA NURSERY

Offer Liberal Terms [illegible]
Salary and expenses or commission [illegible] stock at low prices. New specialties [illegible] etc.

MEN WANTED, [illegible] in every town. Steady work. [illegible]
H. B. WILLIAMS, SEC'Y, Pier. [illegible]

VEGETABLE, PULMONARY, BALSAM.

The old [illegible] "Beson and [illegible] Wo[rm]es [illegible]

Originated by Lowe & [illegible]
CUTLER BROS. & CO., [illegible]

GERMEA For Bre[akfast] Californ[ia] licious. [illegible] sell it. The John T. Cutting Co[.]

The Humane Di[sh]
TREAT THE FAMILY [illegible]

ROBT. BONN[ER] you will use [illegible] ALL KINDS o[f] control the m[ost] without punis[hment]
Extra fine sa[w], nickel jointed or stiff [illegible] Tested and Warranted. Sent for $1.
HUMANE BIT CO, Dept. F, NEW[ARK], N. J.

WANTED—A Few More Book Agents in this and adjoining Counties, for
Our Journey Around the World,
A bran new book by Francis E. Clark, Pres't. of the United Soc. of Christian Endeavor. The best chance to make money ever offered to all who want profitable work. A good agent in this vicinity can earn $100 a month. Distance no hindrance, for We Pay Freight. Give Credit, Premium Copies, Free Outfit, and Exclusive Territory. For particulars, write to
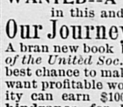
A. D. WORTHINGTON & CO., Hartford, Ct.



PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

CONSUMPTIVE
Use Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cures the worst Cough, Weak Lungs, Debility, Indigestion, Pain, Take in time. 50 cts.
HINDERCORNS. The only sure cure for Corns. Stops all pain. 15c. at Druggists, or HISCOX & Co., N. Y.

CALIFORNIA, OREGON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO,
AND ALL WESTERN POINTS.
Select Excursions from Chicago Every Day,
Via Chicago, Union Pacific, and Northwestern Line.
SHORTEST ROUTE. LOWEST RATES.
For handsome illustrated folder and detailed information address W. MASSEY, N. E. Pass. Agt., or J. S. SMITH, Trav. Pass. Agt., Union Pacific Ry., 220 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed. The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office WEDDING CARDS.

YOU WILL REALIZE
WELL WHO L[OOKS]
IF Y[OU]

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 12, 1895. NUMBER 2.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 30 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R. R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BOND, A. M., Manufacturer and Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, Tinware, Hardware, etc.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's.

WARE.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

TROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counselor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

PALMER LODGE, No. 190, I. O. O. F. Meets every Wednesday evening in Commercial Block, Main street.
M. M. THOMAS, N. G. G. H. BRAY, Rec. Sec.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in Grange Hall, Day's Block, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

POSTAL
Telegraph and Cable Co.
Office in Strong's Block
PALMER, : : : : MASS
Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the
UNITED STATES
PROMPT SERVICE,
REASONABLE RATES
ALL BUSINESS
STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

S. H. HELLYAR'S
Fire Insurance Agency,
CARYL'S BLOCK,
PALMER, - - MASS.

I represent some of the largest companies, both stock and mutual, doing business in this state, and should be pleased to reckon you as one of my customers.
Will guarantee you security, promptness, economy, and a correctly written policy.
Thanking you for past favors, I am
Yours respectfully,
S. H. HELLYAR.

FISH BAIT FOR SALE,
CHARLES S. RUGGLES,
Three Rivers, - Mass.

THE BOSTON STORE.
Did You Know About Our Easter Offerings?
THEY ARE ABSOLUTELY THE GREATEST VALUES
Monson Ladies have been ever asked to examine or to buy. The entire list of last week is strengthened by the addition of these several numbers—received since our first announcement of our 29c BARGAINS.
PERFUME DEPARTMENT.
AS AN EASTER OFFERING
We will give away FREE, with 1 ounce of our Perfume, a FINE TWISTED GLASS ATOMIZER with Metal "Sprayer."
Our Fine Perfume needs no printer's ink to recommend it, as it's both delicate and lasting.
35 cents per Ounce.
ODORS.
WHITE ROSE, APPLE BLOSSOM, LILLY OF THE VALLEY, HELIOTROPE, STEPHANOTIS.
BARGAINS IN SHOPPING BAGS.
Leather Shopping Bags, Alligator designs with Sateen tops. Regular 39c.
Easter price only 29c.
GREAT GLOVE BARGAIN.
Ladies 5-hook Glove in Tans only,
Easter price 89c per pair.
Special Dress Goods Bargain.
36 in. Tailors' Check Cheviots in all the leading shades and colorings.
Easter Price 15c a yard.
SPECIAL HANDK'F. BARGAIN.
Children's Handkerchiefs, 1c each.
Ladies' Fine Lawn Handkerchiefs with plain and fancy borders,
Easter Price, 6 for 29c.
Easter Offerings in Wrappers.
A variety of different styles in Calicoes and Sateens.
Easter Price, 79c to $2.98.
Easter Offerings in Ladies' Waists.
In all the leading patterns, stripes and checks, short and long Waists.
Easter Price, 69c and 98c.
Easter Ties for Ladies and Children.
In Plaids, Stripes and Figured Silk—all colors.
For Easter 29c
EASTER LACE COLLARS.
In the newest Pointed Venice patterns, fine styles.
For Easter, 59c.
The Boston Store,
T. H. TODD,
Monson, = = Mass.

If you are going to use any
WALL PAPER
this spring it will
PAY YOU
to look at our line and get
OUR PRICES.
We have our NEW STOCK all in and know we are very bottom on prices.
WE WILL UNDERSELL
any city in the state of Massachusetts.
LeGRO & LYNDE,
DRUGGISTS,
Next Door to Post Office, Palmer.

THE D. F. HOLDEN AGENCY,
PALMER, MASS.,
OFFERS FOR SALE,
FARMS
In Palmer, Monson, Wales, Holland, Brimfield, Hampden, Oakham, Leverett, Belchertown, Ware and Enfield, Mass., Mansfield, Ct. and Fitzwilliam, N. H., including hen farms of 3 to 5 acres, farms for cattle raising, dairy farms and stock farms for horses.
HOTELS
In Chatham, N. Y., Monson, Mass., Bridgeport, Ct., and Dover, N. H.
BUILDING LOTS
On Main, Park, Pond, Central, Knox and Walnut streets, Palmer, Mass., Main, Bourn, Ruggles and Pleasant streets, Three Rivers.
HOUSES
On Main, Park, Walnut, Central, South Main, Knox, Church and Pleasant streets, Fox and Converse avenues, Palmer, Mass.
In Three Rivers, Thorndike, Bondsville, Monson, West Warren, Wales, East Brookfield and Springfield, Mass.
BUSINESS CHANCES.
Grocery, Boot and Shoe and Drug Stores, Hotels, Grist and Saw Mills.
Business Transactions
Confidential.
Should you have anything to dispose of call upon me, my terms are reasonable and I will use you right. Should you want to buy, you can do so through me and your offers will be entertained.
D. F. HOLDEN, PALMER, MASS.

Engraved Address Cards. Plate engraved and 100 cards printed, only $1.50. Styles change often—your old cards may be out of style, probably are—better have some new ones, with correct size of card and style of lettering. At the JOURNAL Office.

SMITH & MURRAY.
A SILK OCCASION.
We mean to make this week memorable in Silk values.
We've the goods to do it—we've the nerve to do it.
If you know Silk values a glance will tell you how astonishing these are.
At 59 Cents a yard.
24-inch Black India Silk, made by the Japs, dyed in Lyons, France, very heavy fine weave. Would be extra value at 75c.
At 69 Cents a yard.
23-inch Black India Brocade Silk, very desirable for waists or skirts, large variety of patterns. Positive value $1.00 a yard.
At 49 Cents a yard.
Fancy Taffetas, big line of checks, stripes and figures. Real value 75 cents.
Court Square entrance.
Cotton Dress Stuffs.
Daintily pretty creation—woven beauties; printed beauties, and filmy beauties that look as though the makers had laid them over beds of flowers and let the sun coax them through. You've made it necessary for us to gather more than ever; and we've made the bigger gathering brighter than you've known.
The prices are as winsome as the goods.
We'll Mention a Few:
Jaconet Duchesse Muslin, 12½c a yard.
India Dimities, plain and figured, 25c a yard.
Pique, figured and striped, 12½c a yard.
Plisse Royal, a novelty in Cotton Dress Fabric, 15c a yard.
Drap de Vienne Crepe, a good imitation of silk Crepe, beautiful colorings and designs, 12½c a yard.
American Satines, handsome designs, 12½c a yard.
Finest French Satines, newest color effects, 25c a yard.
Silver Silk Satine, a new fabric, 37½c a yard.
Swivel Silk, newest creations of American art in weaving and dying, 37½c a yard.
SMITH & MURRAY.

COAL.
BALED HAY.
STRAW.
Lehigh Chestnut Coal - - - - $6.00
" Stove " - - - - - 6.00
" Egg " - - - - - 5.50
Half ton lot of Stove and Chestnut Coal - 3.15
Lackawanna Stove Coal - - - - 5.75
Half ton " - - - - - 3.00
Lackawanna Egg Coal - - - - 5.40
No. 1 Baled Hay, - - - - - - - 15.00 per ton
Stock Hay, - - - - - - - 13.00 " "
Baled Straw, - - - - - - - 14.00 " "
SPECIAL PRICES ON CAR LOAD LOTS.
RALPH CLIFFORD,
Rear of Monson House, - Monson, Mass.

CHARLES E. LYNCH.
SPRING STYLES.
Overcoats.
Fine Materials.
Spring Suits.
Splendidly Made.

The Waldorf, $22 to $30.
Regent Frock, $18 to $25.
Cutaway Sack, Leader $8, $10, $12. Finer Grades $15 to $25.
English Walking Suit, $18 to $25.
English Top Coat, $15, $16, $18.
CHARLES E. LYNCH'S SPRING STYLES ARE READY.
They include the Latest, Finest, Most Stylish Fabrics, made in Perfect Style.
Lynch's Fine Goods are truly equal to Fine Custom Garments.
Spring Overcoats, $8 to $30. Spring Suits, $8 to $25.
Spring Hats, $1.50, $2, $2.50, $3 and $3.50.
CHARLES E. LYNCH,
Promoter of Fashionable Clothing.
367 Main. SPRINGFIELD. 369 Main.

C. W. CROSS,
DENTIST.
OFFICE HOURS: 8 to 12 A. M., and 1.30 to 4.30 P. M.
CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK.

Wall Papers!
This is How the Prices Range:
40c. Embossed Gilts for.....25c | 20c. Gilt Papers for.....12½c
30c. Embossed Gilts for.....20c | 15c. Paper for.....8c
25c. Gilt Papers for.....15c | 10c. Paper for.....4½c
Mouldings, Picture Hooks, Paper Hung on walls and ceilings to please the most fastidious.
L. A. CONANT, Converse House Block, Palmer.

CONANT. | All New Goods!

E. S. BRYANT, D. M. D.
DENTIST.
LYNDE'S BLOCK, - PALMER

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

LUDLOW.

The annual meeting of the Ludlow Savings Bank was held Monday afternoon and the following officers elected: President, George D. Greene; vice president, Dr. J. W. Hannum, O. A. LaRiviere, M. H. Lyons; clerk, George A. Birnie; board of investment, George D. Greene, E. E. Fuller, M. D. L. Towne, W. S Colwell and M. H. Lyons; auditors, A. S. Packard, W. S. Colwell, B. F. Burr and A. H. Bartlett. The present amount of deposits is over $38,000, the net increase for the year being $8000.

BELCHERTOWN.

Mrs. William Chamberlain suffered a slight shock a few days since, and is very low. Her daughter from Springfield and son from Athol were summoned home.

Miss Elizabeth Montague sustained a paralytic shock Sunday. Miss Montague is 88 years old, but it is expected that she will recover from the attack.

John Stadler, while crossing a vacant lot an the H. C. West farm Wednesday night, came in contact with the wire fence, which cut his throat quite badly.

The water committee of the Legislature was in town Monday, looking over Jabish brook, of far-famed notoriety, and dinner was served at the Belcher House. They have reported a bill in favor of Belchertown.

Charles Holland was taken suddenly ill while out on his meat cart Wednesday, but succeeded in reaching home. A doctor was called and pronounced the trouble pleurisy in an acute form.

WALES.

Bert Sizer has moved his family to Thompson avenue.

Easter services will be held at the Baptist church next Sunday.

C. G. Needham has commenced painting G. S. Rogers's house.

Miss Kinsman of Fitchburg is visiting her brother, H. Kinsman.

Frank and Harry Dimmick of Boylston are visiting their parents here.

Mrs. Elma Rider has bought the Joseph Hiscock place and moved there.

Mrs. A. E. Shaw and son are visiting Mr. Shaw's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eden D. Shaw.

W. A. Lyon, who has been confined to his house most of the winter, is able to be out a little.

Mrs. Allen of Westfield has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown on Main street.

Harry Medzker has returned to Mt. Hermon school, where he is taking a Biblical course.

The grammar school was closed all last week on account of the sickness of the teacher.

Meat men have advanced the price of meat two cents per pound, on account of the rise in the wholesale market.

Maildriver Pease has hired a house and barn and set up housekeeping. If there is anything in signs he is not intending to do his housework much longer alone.

Mrs. Brown has gone to New York to attend to packing her household goods, which she will ship to Wales and will set up housekeeping with her husband in the upper tenement of Ernest Needham's house.

Mack and Ritter's comedians and athletes will give an entertainment in Royce's hall next Friday evening. After the entertainment a social dance will be given.

David Frazer is home from college to spend a week with his parents. He will graduate in about six weeks, when he will take a pastorate as a Congregational minister.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

George S. Gates has accepted a position as traveling salesman for Handy & Co. of Springfield.

The Sunday School of Grace church will have an Easter concert next Sunday afternoon at 4.45 o'clock.

The selectmen have organized with Jesse Rice as chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cutler returned from their Southern trip Monday.

Ernest D. Tufts will visit friends in East Providence, R. I., Easter Sunday.

Local cyclists are elated over the prospect of having better roads for wheeling the coming summer, the town at its annual meeting having voted to harden the roads in various places.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Oliver of East Providence, R. I., formerly of this place, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Richard Winthrop Oliver.

The spring meeting of the Hampden County conference of churches will be held at Grace church Wednesday, April 24th. The following is the order of services. Theme, "Fellowship of the Churches:"

MORNING SESSION.

10.00. Devotional Service. Rev. W. J. Tate.
10.15. Reports from the Churches, by the scribe, Rev. L. F. Giroux.
10.40. "Reasons for Fellowship," Rev. C. G. Burnham.
11.30. Sermon: "Why are the Churches Losing the Workingmen?" Rev. L. H. Blake.
12.30. Recess and collation.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

2.00. Praise service, conducted by Mrs. A. M. Spangler.
2.20. Discussions. "Fellowship." 1. What it has accomplished in the past. Rev. M. S. Howard, Rev. J. H. Lockwood. 2. Relation of the Large Church to the Small Church. Bro. D. B. Montague. 3. What can and ought to be accomplished. Rev. Walter Rice.
3.20. Work of the Massachusetts Board of Ministerial Supply; Rev. C. B. Rice, D. D., of Boston.
4.00. Sketch of Missionary work in the South. Rev. F. E. Jenkins.

It is expected that each church in the county will be represented by its pastor, Sunday school superintendent, and two lay delegates, but all members and friends of the churches are cordially invited to attend the conference. Arrangements have been made with the Boston and Albany officials so that the train leaving Springfield at 9.15 a. m., known as the "Governor's train," will stop at North Wilbraham on the day of the conference.

BRIMFIELD.

J. T. Brown of Maynard is in town for a few days.

Frank Hitchcock is in the employe of H. L. Converse.

Thomas Blashfield is building Fred Parker's new barn.

Fred Parker is raising the new barn at the rear of his house.

The assessors have organized and elected William A. Janes chairman.

Silas Parker, who has been sick for the past two months, is convalescent.

Mrs. George Chamberlain entertained the Ladies' Whist Club Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Stuart of North Brookfield have been making a short visit in town.

Miss Julia Hitchcock, who was so severely burned about two months ago, is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart of North Brookfield spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. C. O. Brown.

Miss Jennie Livermore returned to her school in Chicopee this week, after a week's stay at her home.

Miss Florence Charles Bliss comes home this week from Bridgewater Normal School for a week's vacation.

George Whitehouse and Miss Whitehouse have returned from Boston, where they have spent the past four months.

Mrs. Frank Newton will build a house on the site purchased of Mrs. Alberta, known as the George Sherman farm.

David W. Janes has exchanged his farm on Janes's hill in East Brimfield for a place in Worcester, where he will live.

George Whitehouse and daughter, who have been spending the winter in Boston, have arrived at their home here for the summer.

The Y. P. S. C. E. gave a sociable in the First church parlor last Friday evening. Coffee and cake were served by the young people.

The Center schools opened their spring term Monday with John W. Brown of this place and Miss Cora Morse of Belchertown as teachers.

The Hitchcock Free High School will be represented in the interscholastic prize speaking contest at Westfield next month by Paul R. Atherton, '95, one of the prize winners in the contest held at the close of the winter term.

WARREN.

The public library has a number of new books.

Rev. A. R. Nichols takes the place of Rev. Mr. King.

Mrs. J. W. Hastings is visiting friends in New York.

Marcus Barroughs is to have the care of the cemetery this season.

Miss Mary Rooney died yesterday morning after a lingering illness from phthisis.

The Farmers' Club had a chicken pie supper at West Brookfield Wednesday night.

The Slater Co. has a force of men from Worcester, who will be employed as night hands.

A delegation from the G. A. R. post went to Southbridge Tuesday night to attend a camp-fire.

Fred Sylvester is to have charge of the roads this season. He gave good satisfaction last year.

Wilson Fairbanks and wife have been spending a few weeks in New York and Washington.

The Father Matthew society will present the drama, "Arthur Eustace, or Mother's Love," next Thursday evening.

The choir at the Congregational church will be the same as last year, but under a new leader, Mr. Anderson of Ware.

John Avery has sold his farm on the Southbridge road to Louis LaPlant, taking in exchange the latter's house and lot on Washington street.

The athletic association of the Center school will give an exhibition in the town hall soon, the proceeds of which will be used for the gymnasium.

Mr. Leach, who has been in Boston for the past year, has returned and taken a position in the Knowles pump works. He has always been popular in the shop, and will receive a hearty welcome from the employes.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church has elected the following officers: President, Mrs. W. S. Tisdale; vice president, Mrs. B. F. Tourtelotte; secretary, Mrs. E. E. Clark; treasurer, Mrs. P. T. Martin; managers, Mrs. B. F. Dillaber, Mrs. H. B. Smith and Mrs. M. Perry.

The town officers have organized as follows: Selectmen, chairman, W. E. Patrick, clerk, F. E. Gleason; overseers of the poor, chairman, S. N. Cutler, clerk, George Bliss; board of health, chairman, Dr. J. W. Hastings, clerk, Dr. C. A. Deland; school committee, chairman, F. E. Gleason, clerk, J. G. Hastings.

The Rural Improvement Association held its annual meeting Tuesday evening in library hall and elected the following officers: President, Joseph W. Hastings; vice-presidents, Miss Mary S. Hitchcock and Miss Edith Chadsey; secretary, D. G. Hitchcock; treasurer, E. F. Wood; executive committee, C. D. Keyes, G. A. Shumway, E. F. Wood, J. G. Hastings, C. A. Shepard, Mrs. M. D. Bliss, Mrs. H. A. Tidd, Mrs D. G. Hitchcock and Miss Mary C. Burbank.

WILBRAHAM.

Mr. N. Bailey is a guest at the Congregational parsonage this week.

Miss Mary Seavey of Milford has been the guest of Miss Fannie Merrick the past week.

Easter services, with a concert in the evening, will be observed at the Congregational church next Sunday.

Miss Mary Beebe, who has been spending the past three months at Toledo, Ohio, returned home last week.

Edward C. Howard is home for a week's vacation from Westpoint, where he has been teaching the past year.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society of the South church held a social at C. H. Hubbard's last Thursday evening.

Charles Sands has sold his place, occupied by the late Mrs. Dane, to Springfield parties, who will take possession the first of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Beebe gave a very enjoyable whist party to a large number of their friends last Friday evening. C. H. Church took the first prize for the gentlemen, and Mrs. Church the prize for the ladies. Consolation prizes were won by Mrs. Lurin Potter and Erving Wetherbee, after which refreshments was served and the party broke up at a late hour, leaving their best wishes for the host and hostess.

The Chautauquan Club will meet with Mr. and Mrs T. Livingstone on Faculty street to-night, with the following programme: Roll-call, answered by quotations from Browning; love story of Elizabeth and Robert Browning, with passages from their writings refering to it, Mrs. Austin; table talk, "Is not the general charge of obscurity made against Browning's works an exaggerated one?" to be opened by Miss Lillie Phelps; Queen Victoria and her children, Miss Carrie Farnham; "The Circlet," Mrs. D. Bosworth; great tunnels of the world, Mrs. T. Livingstone; question box; debate, "Resolved, That the annexation of Canada to the U. S. would not be for the best interests of both countries", affirmative, Miss Grace Atkins and Mr. T. Livingstone; negative, Miss Dora Merrick and Mr. W. McGuire.

The will of Betsy A. Leonard, late of Wilbraham, has been filed for probate. Thomas H. Baker is bequeathed $5000, which he is to invest for the support of Emma, daughter of the late Mrs. Leonard. To Sarah, another daughter, is left $1000, and to a sister, Hannah, $100 and certain real estate in Monson. The income of a tract of land in Stafford, Ct., is given to the Baptist church. Should this church fail to sustain regular preaching for a longer time than six months in succession, the said land or the proceeds thereof shall be given to the American Baptist Home Mission society, to be invested by the society, towards securing a scholarship in the female department of the Shaw Collegiate Institute of Raleigh, N. C. The society is also bequeathed $400 and sixty-four acres of land in Stafford, Ct., to be invested for the same purpose. In a codicil dated April 4, 1877, the gifts to the American Baptist Home Mission society are revoked, the late Mrs. Leonard having bequeathed $1000 towards the medical department of Shaw Institute since making the will.

LEGISLATIVE MATTERS.

BOSTON, April 10, 1895.

There has been a great excitement in the House over the bill for the repeal of the act which permits the construction of the subway in Boston. Early in the session Mr. McCarthy of Boston put in a repeal bill, and the committee on metropolitan affairs reported that it ought not to pass. Then pressure began to be felt from the people of Boston, and Mr. McCarthy so worked upon the House that he was able to defeat the committee by a vote of 59 to 115 on the question of rejecting his bill. This gives the bill a standing, and he promises that before the matter can come up on its next stage Faneuil Hall will be rocked as it was never rocked before by the indignant people demanding the repeal of the act.

President Butler of the Senate has been speaking about the pending constitutional amendment for the popular election of legislative presiding officers, and he is more favorably inclined than might have been expected, considering that this is the first time that the proposition has been presented. He does not yet say that he is in favor of the change, but he does say that there is merit in the plan proposed, and that it is worthy of serious consideration. It is evident that this matter needs only some ventilation to attract the attention of the people to the enormous powers in the present system of presiding orders, to the great dangers of corruption which inhere in it, and to lead them to suggest some measure of practical reform. There is a great deal of inwardness to some things at the state house which the people do not always suspect.

It is possible that the trip to Bellport, Baltimore and Washington by the street railway committee may result in benefit to the people who live on the lines of electric cars and are liable to be run over at any time by the new creature which neither turns out of the way nor stops when a person is on the track. One of the committee says that the system of fender and wheelguards which is in use in Baltimore is so efficient that for two years not a person has been injured there by the electrics. It is said to be just the thing for picking a person in or out of danger, and that it ought by all means to be made compulsory upon the street railways in Massachusetts.

The Senate and House are agreed in supporting the bill to forbid the sale of liquor upon Washington's Birthday and the Fourth of July, and the arguments against it were too ridiculous for the consideration of any member who was not trying to save a liquor-selling constituent. It was said that nothing would be gained by shutting up the saloons, and it was argued that men ought to have the right to take some fireworks inside on the glorious Fourth. But, fortunately, the large majority of the Legislature were too sensible to be influenced by such twaddle as that.

The House had very little respect for the Senate bill to permit the killing of dogs for worrying hens. The value of a hen was considered with that of a 50-cent hen, and the House laughed the bill out of sight so effectively that none of the committee on agriculture who reported the bill, some of whom were present, offered to say a word in its defense.

The report of the insurance committee on the child insurance matter by no means settles the contest, for there are four dissenters, and they are men who are pretty sure to have a great deal to say before they sit down and acknowledge themselves whipped. The case is of great pecuniary importance to the three insurance companies which are doing this child insurance business,—the John Hancock of Massachusetts and the Metropolitan and the Prudential of New York. Many thousand dollars will be lost to them every year, if the bill should pass forbidding insurance of the lives of any children under the age of ten years. Yet it is clear that this style of insurance is wholly different in motive from that which is at the basis of insuring the life of the head of the family and its chief financial support. The petitioners for the prohibitive legislation, while they may not have proved the charge of actual murder of children in order that the insurance on their lives might be secured, yet did prove that the neglect of the children and the deprivation of proper food and clothing which they suffered in order that the premiums on the policies might be paid had resulted in the death of those who were insured. The best talkers of the committee, Messrs. Bates of Boston and Young of Springfield, are with the majority of the committee and are well able to defend it on the floor of the House.

Another matter for the protection of children which has attracted the attention of many people at the state house is the movement to put the child wards of the state under the protection of a children's bureau. It had been decided that, in any event, the state primary school at Monson would be abandoned, for the situation has changed greatly from what it was when the school was established. Not nearly as many children as formerly are sent to the school, and the building in which it is held has been condemned. A member of the committee on public charitable institutions, who has visited the place in his official capacity, tells me that the building at Monson is so far gone that it cannot be used safely for any purpose, and must be taken down. The plan which is proposed by the committee is not to establish a bureau, as was asked for by the petitioners, but to put the children under the care of the trustees of the Lyman school and see if their condition cannot be improved. In so far as the committee reports a plan for a change, it gives support to the charges that there ought to be some other system than that under the management of the board of state charities.

There has just been reported to the House a bill from the public charities committee appropriating $200,000 more for the completion of the Medfield asylum for the insane. The money is to be raised by the issue of 4 per cent bonds for 30 years. But this will bring up the cost of the asylum much above the proposed original cost, as has been known before in similar cases.

There is no further doubt about the passage of the bill to prevent the immoral theater performances in Boston on Sunday evenings. It has been vigorously opposed. Efforts have been made to kill it by amendments, but there was too much of a dead earnestness in the movement for the bill to make it safe for the members to disregard it. This was felt, and all pretence of regard for the Jews and Seventh Day Baptists which was made for the sake of defeating the bill had no material effect. It must have the concurrence of the Senate in one amendment, and that will doubtless be given in order that the law may become operative as soon as possible. There was some pretty rank talk in favor of the present indecency, but it amounted to nothing but to the discredit of the men who uttered it, and probably it helped the bill more than it hurt it. Such talk is very likely to react upon the speaker.

Gov. Greenhalge is strengthing himself with the people by his vetoes of salary bills. He does not deny the merits of the officers whose salaries it is sought to raise, but he takes the simple ground that this is not a good year for raising salaries, and stands upon that alone. In this he has the support of the large majority of the House, though they approved the passage of the bills in the first place. On the bill which was returned to the House Tuesday with the governor's objections there were only 13 yeas to 161 nays for passing it over the veto. This would seem to settle the fate of other pending salary bills.

The report of the committee on mercantile affairs was made to the Senate Wednesday afternoon. It contains many figures to show the relative standing of New England and the South regarding the development of cotton manufacture. The largest total is that which shows that in the last fourteen years the South has increased its investment in cotton mills 400 per cent. while Massachusetts has increased but 75 per cent. While the tendency is thus unquestionably toward the South, the committee finds that it is for the coarser grades of goods, and that the southern coast of Massachusetts, by reason of the humidity of its climate, has an advantage which the South can never expect to enjoy. Then, too, all that is claimed for the South is not without drawback. There is trouble in some places with the water; in others, it is expensive to bring the coal; in others, the cotton is not of good quality. The committee has no fear that the enterprise which has brought Massachusetts to the front will desert her now, but expect to see a great development during the coming ten years in the value of our mill product and in the amount of capital invested.

The committee on cities has reported a bill which gives the mayor of Boston a three years' term, and establishes single-headed commissions. Another abolishes the aldermen and common council and substitutes a board of 27 councillors, to be elected in groups of nine for three years each, no voter to vote for more than five candidates. They are to have $3000 salary, and the city is not to pay for their refreshments or carriages.

LANDON.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 12, 1895.

PALMER NEWS.

Easter at the Churches.

Easter services at St. Thomas's Catholic church began yesterday with a high mass at 8 a. m., followed by the procession of the blessed sacrament to the repository, which was constructed especially for the occasion and beautifully decorated with flowers. This morning at 8 there was the procession of the blessed sacrament from the repository to the main altar, where was celebrated the mass of the presanctified. This evening at 7.30 will occur the regular weekly Lenten service. To-morrow morning at 8 there will be a high mass, followed by the blessing of the paschal candle. Sunday morning there will be mass at 8, and high mass at 10.30, with the following music:

Kyrie.....Stearns
Gloria.....Stearns
Credo.....Stearns
Sanctus.....Stearns
Agnus Dei.....Stearns

Sunday School will be at 3 p. m. and vespers at 7, with this music:

Vespers.....Fiske
Ave Maria.....
Regina Coeli.....
O Salutaris.....
Tantum Ergo.....Rossi

At the Baptist church Rev. C. R. Minard, the pastor-elect, will preach, and the choir will render this special music:

"Christ the Lord is Risen To-day".....Wilson
"Christ is Risen Indeed".....Danks
"The Magdalene".....Wm. Warren

In the evening the Sunday school will give a concert, the subject being "The Broken Seal."

At the Congregational church in the morning the pastor will preach on "Spiritual Resurrection," and the choir will render the following special music:

Prelude. Offertoire in E flat.....Wely
"Hallelujah! Christ is Risen".....Morgan
Soprano solo.
Easter Anthem.....Schnecker
Alto, bass and tenor solos.
"On the First Day".....Lynes
Postlude.....Rinck

In the evening the subject will be "The Passion and Resurrection," illustrated by the stereopticon. The choir will render

Prelude. Elevation in E.....Saint Saens
"Te Deum".....Marsh
"He was Despised and Rejected'.....Handel
Alto solo.
Postlude. Processional March.....Reed

At St. Paul's Universalist church in the morning Rev. Mr. Moulton will take for his subject, "The Resurrection, Its Meaning to Us." A short sermon will be followed by church fellowship and consecration, and that by communion. This music has been prepared by the choir:

Prelude.....Batiste
Anthem. "Welcome Happy Morning".Schnecker
Soprano, tenor and bass solos.
Anthem. "Angels Roll the Rock Away"Schnecker
Tenor solo.
Soprano solo. "Ave Maria".....Lizzi

In the evening the children of the Sunday school will give a concert, and the choir will sing Rowley's "Easter Day" anthem, with soprano solo.

Fire District Meeting.

The annual meeting of the fire district Tuesday afternoon resulted in the election of the following officers: Prudential committee, W. E. Stone, F. F. Marcy, L. E. Moore; chief engineer, G. A. Bills; first assistant, C. E. Fuller; second assistant, A. E. Fitch. The dropping of Mr. Hitchcock from the office of chief engineer, a position which he has held to the entire satisfaction of the community for seven years, was due to a combination of circumstances which began with the caucus of the firemen, when Mr. Hitchcock objected to certain names which the firemen proposed to place on their ticket. A meeting of citizens was held later for the discussion of certain matters pertaining to the welfare of the fire district and the fire department, and while not called for the purpose of nominating a ticket the meeting finally drifted around to that, and one was placed in the field minus the names objected to by the chief. The firemen then set out to defeat Mr. Hitchcock and succeeded in doing so. The expenses of the district the past year have been $2231. These appropriations were made: Palmer Water Co., $1000; firemen, $400; contingencies, $200; new hose, $150; chief engineer, $150; janitor, $96; engineer of steamer, $50; coal, $40; clerk and treasurer, $25; first assistant engineer, $25; second assistant, $20; stoker of steamer, $20; total, $2176. The tax collector was authorized to add interest at the rate of six per cent per annum on all taxes not paid September 1st.

The schools commence again next Monday.

W. P. Kinnevan of Brookfield spent Sunday with his parents.

Miss Effie Shaw is spending a few days with friends in Boston.

Mrs. Thomas Blanchard has been spending the week in Huntington.

J. E. Breckenridge has been home from Yale for a short vacation.

F. D. Thompson is painting his house on the corner of Central and Park streets.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Kenerson have returned from their winter spent in Arkansas.

Miss Anna Shaw attended the reception to the governor at Westfield Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Thayer have returned from their vacation in the eastern part of the state.

Mrs. H. D. Converse has been spending a part of the week in Boston, attending the opera.

Mrs. Maria Lawrence entertained a party of young girls at her home on Main street Monday evening.

The selectmen will serve as the board of health this year, and C. T. Brainerd will be chairman of the board.

A large flock of wild geese, numbering about 40, passed over the village last Sunday afternoon, flying very low.

D. F. Holden has sold L. W. Blodgett's place in the town of Monson to James E. Murphy of South Monson.

The interior of the store of J. B. Shaw is being much improved by having the ceiling sheathed, and the whole woodwork painted.

Miss Ola Northrop is to represent the Palmer high school in the interscholastic prize speaking contest at Westfield June 17th.

The directors of the Eastern Hampden Agricultural Society met this afternoon to finish up the matter of the purses to be offered at the fair next September.

J. A. Hawkes, who has been a clerk in Goodes's shoe store during the winter, has left that position, and will work at painting during the summer months.

D. L. Bodfish has a couple of attractive window displays for Easter, and G. A. Moore exhibits an attractive window of jewelry and seasonable novelties.

Several new members were admitted to the Palmer club at its meeting last Friday evening. The dues for non-resident members were reduced from $12 yearly to $6.

The Quaboag Literary Circle will hold a meeting in the library rooms to-morrow evening, when Rev. F. E. Jenkins will read a paper on the Elizabethian period in English history.

D. F. Holden has withdrawn his colt stake races, advertised to take place next September, the entries not being sufficient to warrant the carrying out of the programme as contemplated.

The overseers of the poor and the selectmen met at the town farm this afternoon to look over the premises and decide what was needed in the way of additional room, repairs, and heating apparatus.

The ladies of the Baptist church will give a pink tea in the church parlors next Tuesday evening, at which lobster salad, cold, meats, etc., will be served. There will be a sale of aprons and home-made candy.

James Fenton and M. D. Sullivan went to Providence yesterday to attend the funeral of W. H. Robertson, formerly a clerk in the grocery store of Holden Brothers and later for G. C. Ellis, and well known in Palmer.

Commencing with the first of May the post office will close on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, on which the business places close at 6.30, at 7.30, and on other evenings at 8 o'clock, as the last mail leaves the office at 8. On Tuesday and Thursday evenings this mail will close at 7.30.

The Palmer Business and Social Club gave an open night to lady friends of the members Tuesday evening, and about 40 ladies were present. The floors were waxed for dancing, and an orchestra furnished music. Light refreshments were served and a general good time was enjoyed by all present.

A barn belonging to the estate of the late Charles E. Walker at Glendale was burned Wednesday morning with three tons of hay, the loss being about $800. The property was insured through the A. E. Fitch agency of Palmer, which settled the loss the same afternoon, a record for promptness which is seldom equalled.

The Natural History Society met Monday evening and voted to donate its property to the Young Men's Library Association and disband. The property consists of a number of books, a case in the reading room intended for stuffed bird specimens, a few specimens and a case of bird's eggs, the whole being valued at nearly $100.

Spring seemed to come upon us all at once Tuesday, the atmosphere being so warm that doors and windows were open all day, while the frogs in the meadows announced the fact of the arrival of spring from the ponds and river bank. Wednesday was a decidedly cold day, however, and settled warm weather is evidently not yet at hand.

The trial of W. H. Williams and Sherman Stebbins for violations of the law relating to diseased animals is expected to come off in the district court room to-morrow forenoon at 11 o'clock, and will attract owners of cattle from far and near, who will wish to learn what kind of a case the state puts up. Next week's JOURNAL will give a full account of the trial.

The ladies of the Congregational church are making active preparations for the annual May breakfast and dinner. The kitchen will be in charge of Mrs. Joseph King, while Mrs. John Sedgwick and Mrs. J. C. Wing will look after the dining room. The fancy tables will be in the care of the working committee of the Lend-a-Hand club of the church.

The W. C. T. U. will serve a maple sugar eat in the vestry of the Congregational church next Friday evening. Hot maple syrup, hot biscuits, doughnuts and coffee and other good things will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock, the price being 25 cents. As the proceeds are to go toward supporting the water tank on Main street, the ladies are hoping for a generous patronage.

The illustrated lecture on Japan and the Japanese, at the Universalist church next Tuesday evening by Rev. G. L. Perin, D. D., of Boston, will have a peculiar attraction by reason of the fact that the speaker has only recently left the scene of his lecture, and can speak on his subject with personal experience. His remarks will without doubt be interesting and profitable. Tickets for reserved seats can be had at LeGro & Lynde's.

Rufus Flynt's well-known enthusiasm as a sportsman with both rod and gun finds small satisfaction these days, with trout scarce and hardly anything to shoot, so he has set up an incubator in the cellar of his house and employs his time twice a day in turning over 200 eggs, from which he expects great results in a couple of weeks more. What the breed is he doesn't state, but his friends are looking for game suppers in the near future.

The Massachusetts Association of Relief Officers, an organization composed of one member from each board of overseers of the the poor in the state, which holds monthly meetings for the general good and information of its members, will hold its May meeting in Palmer on the 8th, and the Palmer Club has voted to give the association the use of its rooms for the meeting Mr. Merriam, chairman of the Palmer board, attended the meeting in Boston Wednesday.

Patrick Dewire, well known in Palmer, where he has been employed in caring for horses a great deal, was brought to the hospital in Worcester Sunday with a deep stab in his neck, and is in a precarious condition. With others Dewire had been on a spree Sunday, and while returning a row ensued and he was stabbed and thrown from the carriage. His sister has been to see him, but he refuses to "go back" on his companions and nothing further regarding the matter can be learned.

D. Bodfish, father of D. L. Bodfish, went to the homeopathic hospital at Boston last week to have a toe amputated. The operation was successfully performed and he is doing well, expecting to return to his home here next week. Mr. Bodfish has a troublesome corn on his foot, and attempted to cure it by applying a corn cure warranted to take the offending corn off in one night. It did not do so, however, and he tried another kind, with the result that he so poisoned the flesh as to necessitate having the toe amputated.

The Palmer Bicycle Club dedicated its new rooms in Lynde's block last evening by a "ladies' night," and entertained about 70 of its friends. Coffee and light refreshments were served, and card playing indulged in. The club has very pleasant quarters, which include a parlor, card and pool rooms. The club had received a sanction from the L. A. W. for its Fourth of July race meet, and will endeavor to draw some of the fastest riders by giving valuable prizes. It will also hold a ball in the new opera house as soon as it has been dedicated.

D. F. Holden and Thomas Blanchard traded ponies last Saturday, and traded back and then traded again, and it is a question which the laugh is on. Mr. Blanchard made the offer and was taken up, but after the animals were exchanged Mr. Holden's family made so much objection that he returned the new animal and got his again. Then when he was accused of wanting to back out agreed to stand by the original terms of the trade, and though at that stage of the proceedings Mr. Blanchard wasn't particularly anxious about it, he had to do as he first offered, and each has a new pony now.

A call for help was sent to the fire department from Monson Wednesday night about 11.30, and the selectmen sent W. H. Hitchcock with the steamer, but before the special train could get there the need of the apparatus had passed. Considerable criticism was heard on the street yesterday morning regarding the matter, but the facts are not generally known. When Mr. Hitchcock was chief engineer of the fire district he received from the selectmen an appointment as engineer for the town, as the town owns the steamer, to continue during his term of office in the fire district. He of course ceased to hold this position when he failed of reelection in the fire district, and as the selectmen have made no appointment there is no engineer for the town. The telephone message for help was sent to Mr. Hitchcock, who replied that he had nothing to do with the matter, but he was requested to see the selectmen regarding the sending of the steamer, and on doing so was requested to go with it.

District Court.

At the civil term of the district court last Saturday there was a hearing in the two suits brought by Carlos O. Moore of Ludlow against Emma F. Whitney of the same place, the decision being reserved until to-morrow. These new cases were entered: Joseph Belanger of Three Rivers against C. H. Clark of Ludlow, action of contract; Hattie E. Bartlett of Monson against Allen Coffin and trustee of Nantucket, action of tort; W. N. Flynt Granite Co. of Monson against Martin Joyce of Monson, action of contract.

In the criminal court last Saturday Ferdinando Romeo, Michael Breccio and Joseph Angelo, Italians of Monson, for threatening bodily harm to the wife of Michael Smith, the Italian who was so badly cut last week, paid costs of $9 and recognized in the sum of $300 each to keep the peace. William Andrews of Monson paid a fine of $5 for an assault. Lewis P. Whipple of Providence paid $5 for having been drunk.

On Monday was heard the case of Nelson Lanphear of Monson, charged with drunkness; he paid a fine of $10. Andrew Levine of Hadley, en route with his household to Brimfield, paid a fine of $5 for drunkenness.

Perry Bradway and Mrs. Charity Lanphear of Monson, charged with adultery, were bound over to the May term of the superior court, and furnished bail in the sum of $500 each. The two Moriarty boys, John and Dennis, who had been turned over to the town by their aunt, were committed to the custody of the state board of charities.

On Tuesday Dr. S. H. Ellery was charged with bastardy by Minnie S. Pease of Monson, the case being continued until next Monday.

On Wednesday Dr. S. H. Ellery was tried for abusing a horse which he had been driving. The case was continued until yesterday, when he was found guilty and fined $10, but appealed. John Konelsick of Three Rivers, for an assault paid $5, and agreed to make good the damage to the bicycle which his victim was riding at the time. Martin Crossman and Lottie S. Austin, for adultery, were bound over to the May term of the superior court in the sum of $600 each and furnished bail. Crossman is employed as farmer on the King farm near West Brimfield, while Mrs. Austin is the wife of the owner, an engineer on the elevated roads in New York, who is only in Palmer to look after his property occasionally, leaving it in the care of his wife and a daughter by a former marriage.

A Few Pertinent Observations.

People of Palmer:—Won't you give ear a moment to our appeal, (for I believe I voice the feelings of all my fellow merchants) when we ask you not only in our own interests but for the benefit of the town generally, to call on us before going out of town to purchase the necessaries and (to those who can afford them) the luxuries of life. A great deal has been said, and truthfully too, in this paper from time to time about the natural advantages which Palmer possesses. We are very pleasantly located here among the New England hills, which afford us ample scenery and good air, and we ask for a hearty cooperation in the matter of trade to make our town more prosperous. We believe this one thing will do a vast deal toward building up the town. Now a word in regard to your reasons for trading elsewhere. There may be some fault on both sides, probably there is, but our stores compare favorably with those in towns of like size, and we aim to please as far as possible. With the amount of competition now existing you must feel that we are selling goods as low as we can possibly afford to. Do you always know our prices on the different lines? We are glad to quote them to you at any time. Merchants in other places must make a profit on their goods the same as we do in order to live; you do not get them at cost anywhere. Then it is almost impossible to carry the exact quality of goods in your mind; very few can do so. We will be only too glad to carry such goods as are called for in sufficient quantities to warrant us, and any specialties which we would not be expected to keep we will get for you willingly. That helps us out and you get what you want. The ladies like to go to the city at times to see and get the new styles; well and good; but while you are looking do not forget home interests and deprive the merchant in your own town of the little profit which he might make on the articles needed if purchased through him. It seems as though it is for the interest of all societies and organizations in town to favor the home merchant through their members. The merchant is expected (and is very willing) to contribute liberally toward the support of whatever organizations he belongs to, and whenever it becomes necessary or advisable to circulate a subscription paper in the interest of any good cause the merchant is the first man to be approached, and if through your patronage you make it possible for him, he is glad to contribute liberally. Help the home merchant and he will help you. Leave your money in town and we shall have it to use in the interests of whatever improvements are needed; taxes will be lower, a better feeling will prevail, and we shall all be benefited.

MERCHANT.

PALMER CENTER.

The Oracle and Echo society will hold the final meeting of the season April 19, which will be the annual business meeting, to elect new officers for the coming season.

BONDSVILLE.

The schools will begin Monday with all the old teachers.

Mrs. Joseph Castlemam is slowly recovering from a severe sickness.

Mrs. S. P. Weld is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles White, in Amherst.

Charles Fuller is spending his vacation in Ludlow, as the guest of Frank Towne.

Mrs. Sarah Rood of Charlton was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Fuller, this week.

Miss Katie Thomas is spending a few weeks with her brother, J. Thomas, in Springfield.

F. H. Carroll, who has worked for the Boston Duck Co. the last 23 years, has resigned his position and accepted one as traveling salesman for the Bay State Tea Co. of Springfield.

THREE RIVERS.

Gustave Eckart has been quite ill with heart disease this week.

A number of French families have arrived from Canada this week.

Mr. Desorie has taken a position as general man in Lawrence & Co's. store.

Willie Squire's new sail boat is attracting considerable attention towards the river this week.

Arrangements are being made to hold a series of revival meetings in the Union church.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Newell are expected to return from Clifton Springs, N. Y., about the first of next week.

Arthur Crosby had the misfortune to cut his foot quite badly while chopping cord wood one day this week.

Mrs. C. Alden and sons, Ralph and Ray, are visiting relatives in Worcester, and intend to be absent two weeks.

Miss Emma Bengle, who has been spending the winter with Mr. and Mrs J. Barber, has returned to her home in Waterloo, Canada.

Heman Fish, Herbert Sholes, P. C. Story and Walter Russell have all purchased bicycles, and are entertaining the village people by intricate gymnastics.

The young men of St. Anne's church are talking about organizing a minstrel troupe, under the direction of Charles Hamilton, and if the same should materalize a series of entertainments will be given in the near future.

Rev. and Mrs. G. S. Butler will not return from Clifton Springs, N. Y., for about two weeks, and Rev. W. R. Newhall of Wilbraham will occupy the pulpit in the Union church for the next two Sundays.

The man who was on the Palmer road one evening this week breaking in, or rather up, his new bicycle, did not express himself in euphemism in regard to his new mode of locomotion after he took a somersault in the mire which necessitated his making a change of apparel.

A number of tenement owners on East Main street are considering the advisability of forming a joint stock company and purchasing the water system owned by F. A. Ruggles. Water is rather scarce on East Main street at present, and this fact is causing some anxiety to the property owners, who favor the movement. Among those who are interested are Rev. Joseph Marchand, Shaw Bros., Arthur Grise, Joseph Belanger, O. A. Lariviere and several outsiders.

The plan, if carried out, is to so thoroughly overhaul the present system that a sufficient supply of water will be obtainable at all times. A meeting of those interested will be held at an early date, to take decisive steps in regard to the movement.

THORNDIKE.

Granger F. Clark is home from Providence, R. I.

Miss Annie Bishop is visiting friends in Franklin.

Charles F. Mooers is acting as juryman at Springfield.

John W. Fay's family is moving to Wilkinsonville this week.

Mrs. E. B. Williams has returned from her visit to Rhode Island.

Frank Foss of Boston is visiting F. E. Walker for a few days.

Miss Abbie T. Nichols has left town and moved to South Hyannis.

Miss May Fortune is visiting friends for a few days in West Gardner.

Mrs. William Smith, Sr., is slowly recovering from her recent illness.

Miss Alice Fallman of New York state is visiting Mrs. W. H. Smith, Jr.

It is said that the Thorndike Co. is to build a new engine house at No. 2 mill.

Frank Leary has purchased another horse, which he will use in his business.

An Easter concert will be held at the Congregational church on Sunday evening.

The work of tearing down the old brick chimney at No. 2 mill is nearly completed.

The spring millinery openings on Friday and Saturday evenings were well attended.

Mrs. George K. Ball of Hartford, Ct., has been the guest of her sister during the past week.

Miss Emma Bennett of West Warren is the guest of Miss Lizzie Hartnett of Main street.

The "Merry Six," a new organization in town, held its second meeting on Tuesday evening.

Miss Rose O'Neil has taken a position at Northampton in a silk mill, and left here on Thursday.

There is talk of forming a bicycle club in this place, to be known as the Thorndike Bicycle Club.

H. E. W. Clark, who has been ill at his home on Commercial street for several days, is much better.

Miss Annie Garvey of South Deerfield is visiting friends in town, and will remain until Saturday.

The friends of Miss Maggie Longtine are pleased to learn that she is recovering from her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lawton of Commercial street are both confined to their home by sickness.

Miss Josie Flynn of Northampton is visiting here with her aunt, Mrs. John Crimmings, for a few days.

Miss Arlington, a pupil of the Springfield Training School, was the guest of Miss Lucy Talmage over Sunday.

Mrs. C. McAuliffe and daughter Lizzie are soon to move to Clevland, Ohio, where two of her children now reside.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dullihan are receiving congratulations, the occasion being the birth of a daughter on the 5th.

Mass will be celebrated at 8 and 11 o'clock on Sunday next at the Catholic church, with vespers and benediction at 3 p. m.

The ladies of the Congregational church held a sewing circle on Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. A. M. Bond's, and in the evening a social was held.

Nellie, oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan of High street, who has been ill with scarlet fever, is improving and will be recovered in a few days.

Rumor has it that George Williams, who has been the employ of the Thorndike Co. here for several years, is to accept a position in Millbury as master-mechanic. While his many friends are pleased to learn of his good success, they will greatly miss him, especially the members of the Columbian Band, of which he was a member.

The bank in front of the Congregational parsonage has been put into shape once more, and it is hoped that it will not be torn down again by parties who go to listen to the band practice, as it was last summer. A word to the wise is sufficient, as someone may be brought into court to answer to the charge of trespassing.

The Foresters' concert and dance, which takes place next Thursday evening, promises to be well attended and a most enjoyable affair. The following will be the concert programme:

Overture, Martha.....Flowtow
Welcome To-night.....Temple Quartette
Piano Solo, Der. Friesntze.....Prof. Buhl
Solo, While the dance goes on...Mr. D. F. Lynch
Reading, "The Convict's Soliloquy..Mr. J. J. Shea
Solo, "Philis Gray".....Mr. Harry Donahue
Selections.....Temple Quartette
Trombone Solo, Firtation.....Mr. W. G. Dodge
Descriptive Duet, "The Lost Ship," Messrs. Lynch and Flynn.
Selection, Faust.....Orchestra
Selections.....Temple Quartette

BORN.

At Thorndike, 5th, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. James Dullihan.

At Wales, 10th, a daughter to Joseph Hill.

MARRIED.

At Ware, 10th, by Rev. B. V. Stevenson, Louis Morgan and Mrs. Laura E. Foster, both of Barre.

STOCK HAY.—$11 to $12.
1-2 C. W. JOHNSON, Palmer.

WANTED.—Plain sewing to do at home.
MRS. H. B. WALKER, with Mrs. C. E. Fuller, Palmer. 2*1

COLUMBIA BICYCLE for sale. '94 pattern, used but little, good as new; cheap for cash, or will be sold on installments.
L. E. CHANDLER, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

LOST.—Thursday night, April 11, a gray Angora cat. A suitable reward will be paid for its return. ANNA L. FISHERDICK, 1*2 School street, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—Two good building lots, corner of Pine and Squier streets. This is the most desirable location in the village available at the present time, and just the site for a nice dwelling. E. GOODES, Palmer. 5-1

E. W. French, agent for the New Singer Mfg. Co., has opened an office in Palmer, with headquarters at the Weeks House, and is showing their latest productions for 1895 sewing machines, with three different machines for family use. tf-52 THE SINGER MFG. CO.

FOR SALE.—The store of the late E. G. Murdock in Thorndike, Mass., also dwelling corner of Commercial and High streets, and one on School street in said Thorndike. Must be sold to close estate. C. L. GARDNER, Adm. Jan. 21st, 1895. tf-43

WE WANT AN AGENT IN PALMER TO SELL OUR GOODS.
Fine opportunity for man or woman. It will require $15 to $50 capital.
Address LARIAT MFG. CO.,
1-2 405 ATLANTIC AVE., BOSTON, MASS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the subscriber has been duly appointed administratrix of the estate of Elisha W. Marcy, late of Holland, in the County of Hampden, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to
SARAH A. MARCY, Administratrix.
Holland, Mass., March 11th, 1895. 3*82

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—
HAMPDEN SS. PROBATE COURT.
To the heirs at law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Mary E. Tyler, late of Palmer, in said County, deceased, intestate:
Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Emma A. Gunn of Palmer, in said county of Hampden, without giving a surety on her bond:
You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court, to be held at Springfield, in said county of Hampden, on the first day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said court.
Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fifth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.
3-2 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—
HAMPDEN, SS. PROBATE COURT.—To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of David J. Anderson, late of Monson, in said County, deceased.
Whereas, a certain instrument, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said Court for probate by Mary H. Anderson, of said Monson, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.
You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Springfield, in said county of Hampden, on the first day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in Palmer, in said County, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this third day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.
3-1 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—
HAMPDEN SS. PROBATE COURT.
To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Charlotte C. Bourn, late of Palmer, in said county, deceased:
Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said court, for probate, by H. Newton Sedgwick of said Palmer, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond:
You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Springfield, in said County of Hampden, on the first day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said court, this eighth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.
SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.
3-2

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—
HAMPDEN, SS. PROBATE COURT.
To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Susan E. Thrall, late of Monson, in said County, deceased.
Whereas, certain instruments purporting to be the last will and testament—and codicil—of said deceased have been presented to said Court, for probate, by Charles S. Jewett and Omer E. Bradway, both of said Monson, who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executors therein named, without giving a surety on their official bond:
You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Springfield, in said county of Hampden, on the first day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in Palmer in said County, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing, post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said court, this eleventh day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.
3-2 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—
HAMPDEN SS. PROBATE COURT.—To the heirs at law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Mary H. Bradway, late of Monson, in said County, deceased.
Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Mary H. Bradway, of said Monson, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.
You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Springfield, in said county of Hampden, on the first day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said court, this eighth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.
SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.
3-2

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—
HAMPDEN, SS. PROBATE COURT.
To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Elisha W. Marcy, late of Holland, in the County of Hampden, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to
SARAH A. MARCY, Administratrix.
Holland, Mass., March 11th, 1895. 3*82

DENTISTRY.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PALMER AND VICINITY:
Having thoroughly equipped my new office with the most modern inventions and methods pertaining to dentistry, I am now prepared to meet the demands of the public in all the branches of the art. I have associated with me DR. O. P. ROLLER, a graduate in dental surgery, who has made a specialty of crown and bridge work, all gold, porcelain, combination crown, etc. Gold, aluminum and artificial dentures of every description. The best of workmanship guaranteed. 4-2
DR. C. W. CROSS, PALMER, MASS.

....GO TO THE....
Palmer Bicycle Works
TO GET YOUR
WHEELS REPAIRED AND YOUR SPECIAL HANDLE BARS MADE.
LAWN MOWERS REPAIRED.
REMEMBER, FINE MACHINE WORK A SPECIALTY.
SPALDING and AMES WHEELS FOR SALE.
MURPHY BROS.,
CARYL'S BLOCK, - PALMER, MASS.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,
VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.
Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.
Residence, Nassowanno House.
Office and stable, Central street
PALMER, MASS.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.
Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Dr. Thayer, of Boston, says Ayer's Hygienic Coffee is an admirable beverage, possessing none of the pernicious effects of coffee. Grocers sell it.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

BABY CARRIAGES.
Heywood's and Wakefield's—couldn't ask for better or more reliable makes. 65 styles to choose from.
Basement.

CARPETS.
Nothing like the Ingrains we are selling; 37½c, 42c, 45c and 50c a yard has been seen in the city before.
Velvets, too at 85 cents a yard give wonderful returns for the money.
First floor.

JAPANESE RUGS.
Seven bales of these popular rugs just received. Every wanted size in stock. Patterns better than ever.
First floor.

STRAW MATTINGS.
Plain and fancy Chinese Mattings at 10c, 12½c and 15c a yard. A hard matter to find their equals elsewhere.
Basement.

DINING ROOM FURNITURE.
The kind that we can guarantee.
Solid oak Sideboards at $12.50, $15, $18, $20, $21, $22.50.
Solid oak extension Dining Tables from $4 upward.
Dining Chairs from $1. Special values at $1.50, $1.75 and $2.00, in solid oak.
Second floor.

FANCY ROCKERS.
Polished oak and mahogany finish, upholstered seats from $2.75 upward.
Twenty-five patterns in Arm Rockers, from $3 upward. Rattan Arm Rockers at $1.50, $3.50, $4.95 and $6. One-third less than usually asked.
Furniture Department.

LACE CURTAINS.
Five hundred pairs of Irish Point Curtains bought from a prominent New York importer at 25 per cent less than the cost to land.
He wanted the money and we grasped the opportunity to give our patrons an extra bargain. They are now on sale at prices correspondingly low.
Drapery Department.

Meekins, Packard & Co.
Springfield, Mass.

NEW CASH STORE.
..H. W. SMITH, GROCER..
59 Main Street, Palmer.

WANTED.
Smart and reliable men to solicit orders for an extensive variety of Hardy Nursery Stock. Also a few energetic women for Shrubs, Roses, etc.
S. T. CANNON,
6*51 AUGUSTA, ME.

ALLEN'S BEEF, WINE and IRON
Is one of the best spring tonics you can buy. Try it. Pint bottles for only 50 cents.
ALLEN'S CLIMAX COUGH CURE is just the article to have handy when you have a sudden cough these damp days of spring.
ALLEN'S FLORIDENA BALM is the best article ever invented for chapped hands, rough skin and pimples on the face and for burns. It is good for eczema, and will relieve the burning and irritating feeling at once which attends that affliction.
But with all your buying, don't forget to take home for household use THE ANTALGICA. It is good for so many things that you cannot afford to be without it.
Allen's New Drug Store,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

HOW ABOUT YOUR COFFEE?
Eminent authorities in this country and in Europe agree that coffee, when pure, is one of the most healthful of beverages, but it must be pure. When mixed with chicory it is most injurious to the system, causing many disorders of the stomach, etc. We have been most successful in our efforts to encourage the use of pure coffee. Our sales of 38c pure dry roast and 40c Java and Mocha have reached an enormous amount. We have no hesitation in recommending them as the best values in coffee offered in Palmer.

In Canned Goods We Offer

Canned Dandelion, (W. K. Lewis pack) - - - 20c
Canned Clam Chowder, (W. K. Lewis pack) - - - 20c
Canned Corn, (equal to any 10c can) 4 cans - - - 25c
Canned Tomatoes, - - - - 8c
Golden Drip Syrup, with Jug, 43c gal.
Olives in bulk, - - 35c a quart

J. F. FOLEY, PALMER.

Did you know the law is off on Trout Monday, April 1st, and that you can buy
RODS, LINES, FLIES, HOOKS, REELS, FLY BOOKS, ETC.,
At right prices and get a good assortment at the
DRUG STORE OF
LeGRO & LYNDE,
Next to Post Office,
Palmer, - - Mass.

PALMER CASH TEA STORE.
THE PLACE TO BUY YOUR
Tea, Coffee, Spices and Crockery
Is at the Old Stand in the Cross Block. Bring in all your checks. Will deal square with all.
R. J. HENRY, CROSS BLOCK,
PALMER, MASS.

SPRING CLOTHING!
NEW SPRING STYLES, Latest Colorings —AND— Novelties.
Extra large samples to select from. The most complete assortment, the finest, newest and most extensive in novelties and colorings. Fine Clay, English Wagners and Schinable's best makes, Ramuckburn Scotch goods in best patterns, fine French in newest makes and colors.
Prices $20, 22, 24, 26, 27, 28, 30, 32, 33, 35 to 40. All goods and trimmings the very best ever offered in town for the money, and warranted.
Terms Strictly Cash.
D. MULVIHILL, - Eager's Block.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L.N. Railroads—west of Depot.

Riding Cheaper than Walking.
JUST think of BICYCLES at $5.00 and up. Of course they are "second hand," but in many of them there is a world of wear. New bargains every day. Don't fail to write or see
G. M. Hendee, Springfield, Mass.
8-1

COAL. COAL. COAL.

Lehigh Stove,	one ton or more,	$6.00.	One-half ton, $3.15.
" Chestnut,	" " "	6.00.	" " 3.15.
" Egg,	" " "	5.50.
Lackawanna Stove,	" " "	5.75.	" " 3.00.
" Egg,	" " "	5.40.
" Grate,	" " "	5.40.

Reserving the right to advance prices at any time. Good men furnished to house and bin same, charging for their time only. All coal screened thoroughly. Any orders by mail or left at our office will receive prompt attention.
R. M. & THEO. REYNOLDS.
Monson, Mass., February 13, 1895.

Sp

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 12, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.
A $20,000 FIRE.

Two Business Blocks and Two Dwellings Burned. Man Supposed to Have Perished In the Flames.

Monson was visited Wednesday night by a fire which promised for a while to destroy every building from the Academy north to the Cushman House, and only by most desperate efforts on the part of the firemen and citizens was this calamity prevented. As it was the flames destroyed $20,000 worth of property before they were under control.

The fire was first discovered about 11 o'clock in the front part of Gray & Lambert's store in Green's block by F. Q. Ball as he was returning from Dr. Soule's house, where he had been spending the evening. An alarm was immediately given and the fire department responded promptly, but the flames had gained such headway that they were beyond the puny efforts of two small chemical engines to subdue them. A strong wind was blowing and so fanned the flames that in 30 minutes Green's block was burned to the ground. The houses and barn in the rear and to the south followed next, and only by almost superhuman efforts on the part of the firemen was their progress toward the south stayed at this point. Meanwhile Day's block to the north had caught and was burning furiously, threatening to sweep away Grout's and Flynt's stores adjoining. At this juncture some one suggested the felling of a large elm tree, which stood between the burning building and those threatened, in such a way as to fall upon the wall of the burning building and push it away from the structures to the north. This was done and proved successful, as in its fall it tore down the burning walls and the worst danger was over. At this point the help which had been summoned from Palmer arrived, but was too late to be of any use, and the engine which had been brought down by special train was not unloaded. Too much credit cannot be given to the members of the Monson fire department for the work done by them.

Shortly after the fire was discovered in Green's block it was found that Charles Stone, a roomer in the building, had not gotten out, and a ladder was run up for his use in descending from a window. The ladder proved too short, and in jumping the four or five feet intervening between the window and ladder he fell to the ground and was severely if not seriously injured about the back. His recovery is yet doubtful. Another roomer in the building, Albert Dean, is thought to have perished in the flames, as nothing has been seen of him since he left the barber shop of A. Fountain at 10.40 o'clock, about 20 minutes before the fire was discovered. At that time he was considerably intoxicated, and it is supposed that he retired and was too much under the influence of liquor to help himself, and no one thought of him during the few minutes that elapsed before the building was completely enveloped in flames.

Greene's block, where the fire was first discovered, is owned by a Mr. Davis of Longmeadow. It was formerly the Congregational church, built early in the century, had been remodeled into stores, tenements and a hall, and removed from the hill to its present site. It was occupied by F. E. Howe's meat-market, Gray & Lambert's furniture store, and A. A. Fountain's barber shop. The contents of both stores are a total loss, along with the buildings. Day's block, owned by B. A. Day, was occupied by Henry N. Butler, baker, Adolph Miller, tailor, and Grange Hall. Most of the movable contents of the building was gotten out. It was also occupied by the families of Jeremiah Carter, L. R. Robertson, Mrs. Elizabeth Barr and S. S. Fitzgerald. The Barton house in the rear was occupied by Florence Sullivan, Timothy Donohue and Emmanuel Fuzzy. Only a part of its contents were saved. The Hamilton white house on the south was occupied by Patrick Duffy and Mrs. Maggie O'Keefe. The contents of this building were removed.

The loss on Greene's block will be about $3000, on Day's block $4000, on the Hamilton White house and barn $3500, and on the Barton house $1000. Gray & Lambert carried $3100 insurance.

The are many theories afloat as to the origin of the fire, but nothing certain can be ascertained. Mr. Fountain did not leave the building until 10.40, twenty minutes before the alarm was given, and says everything was all right at that time. That the fire was of incendiary origin seems quite probable, although as yet nothing of a different nature can be stated. Never was the helplessness of the town in the face of a big fire more apparent, and never was the need of water better demonstrated. The new system of water works will be in operation by the first of May, and Monson will probably never again be called upon to fight a fire against such odds.

The losses are: Green's block, $5000; house in rear, 1000; Day's block, 4000; F. E. Howe's house, 3500; barn in rear, 500; Gray & Lambert's furniture store, 1500; F. E. Howe's meat market, 1000; Butler's bakery, 500. Insurance: Gray & Lambert's stock, Greenwich of New York, $1300, Manchester of England 1300, London, Liverpool and Globe 2500. Sarah J. Howe, dwelling and barn, Manchester of England 1250, American of New York 1250. F. E. Howe, stock, 400, Home of New York, furniture, 400, Phœnix of New York. Hamilton White, dwelling and barn, 1050, Manchester of England; 1050, Connecticut of Hartford. George E. Grout, dwelling and store, Phœnix of New York 1000, Niagara of New York 1500; furniture, Home of New York 800; stock, National of Hartford 1200. B. A. Day's block, Phœnix of New York 1000, Home of New York 1000. Patrick Duffy, furniture, National of Hartford 1000. Henry M. Butler, stock, Fire association of Philadelphia 400. A. Miller, furniture fixtures and stock, Continental of New York 500.

Death of Mrs. Susan E. Thrall.

The community was shocked on Tuesday morning to learn of the death of Mrs. Susan E. Thrall, widow of Edwin A. Thrall, at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. M. Jennie Bradway. Mrs. Thrall had been a sufferer from heart trouble a number of years, and her death was due to this cause. Mrs. Thrall was born June 14, 1846, on the Daniel Moulton farm on Moulton Hill, and was the daughter of J. Dwight Bradway, who now lives on East Hill. She married July 17, 1867, Mr. Thrall, who served in the late war in Co. B, 11th Connecticut Volunteers. The first nine years of their married life were spent in Staffordville, Ct., after which they came to Monson, their first residence being the boarding house next to Heimann & Lichten's shop. Later they lived in William A. Charles's house on Green street. During this time Mr. Thrall was employed in the straw works. Subsequently Mrs. Thrall opened a millinery store at the stand now occupied by O'Brien Bros.; this she carried on about five years. Mr. Thrall's death occurred nine years ago, a little while before she sold out the business. She leaves, besides her father and step-mother, a half sister, Mrs. Charles L. Jewett, and a half brother, Omar E. Bradway. Mrs. Thrall was a prominent member of the Methodist church, a member of the Ladies' Benevolent Society, a member of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, president of the Marcus Keep Woman's Relief Corps, treasurer of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, and a teacher in the Sunday school. She was a woman of much force of character and firm Christian principles, and of much executive ability, a woman who will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends, indeed by the town. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at the Methodist church, Rev. W. H. Marble officiating. Marcus Keep Post, G. A. R., Marcus Keep Woman's Relief Corps, the King's Daughters and the Sunday school class of which she was the teacher were in attendance, also members of L. L. Merrick Woman's Relief Corps of Palmer. The floral offerings from the various bodies were very beautiful.

Academy Notes.

The Philo society held a meeting this afternoon for the election of officers.

The class of '96 elect officers next Thursday.

The senior class will give the drama, "Enlisted for the War, or the Home Guard," at Stafford Springs next Tuesday night.

The burial of James Barry took place last Saturday.

The Academy spring term opened Monday morning.

W. H. Gifford is having his house wired for electric lights.

The Whist club met with Arthur Anderson last Friday evening.

Miss Carrie L. Chapin returned Tuesday afternoon from a visit in Boston and vicinity.

The Duncan farm, situated in the Pease district, will be sold at auction the 20th.

Monson grange will meet next Wednesday evening at the residence of Charles C. Keep.

Rev. F. E. Jenkins of Palmer preached in the Congregational church last Tuesday evening.

G. L. Fuller is making an exceedingly attractive display of shoes in his store windows.

Unclaimed letters at the post office: Mrs. D. S. Chickering, N. S. Ellis, Peter Willetts, Mrs. S. A. Shaw.

Frank G. Nelson of New York, well known here, is the guest of his mother, Mrs. Harriet Nelson, for a few days.

The school committee organized Friday afternoon with Dr. N. W. Rand chairman and Dr. C. W. Jackson clerk.

The Monson Historical Society will meet next Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the selectmen's room in Memorial Hall.

The subject of Rev. Harry Blackford's sermon Sunday is "The Resurrection." Easter concert in the evening.

The subject of Rev. W. H. Marble's sermon Sunday is "Paul's Challenge." There will be an Easter concert in the evening.

Rev. W. H. Marble returned Wednesday from the conference at Salem, to begin his fourth year as pastor of the Methodist church.

Recent births in town are: A son March 31st to Mr. and Mrs. S. Fred Cushman, Jr.; a son April 6th to John J. and Ellen J. McAviney; a daughter April 7th to Thomas and Mary Corish.

While John Borgerson of Hampden avenue was chopping last Friday afternoon his axe came in contact with the clothesline, with the result that Mr. Borgerson is minus a small piece of his skull.

Passion week has been observed at the Congregational church as has been the custom for the past six years. The subject for the meeting this morning is "Suffering," for the meeting to-morrow afternoon, "Silence."

Recent donations to the Flynt Park Museum are a bound volume of the "Minerva Papers," published in New York, for the year 1825, and a series of "Marriage Publishments" dating back to 1812; Mrs. J. H. Martin, donor.

The ball of the Windsor Club next Monday evening will no doubt attract many lovers of dancing. The programmes are to be the finest ever seen in town, a handsome embossed cover with four colors of paper on the inside, printed in eight colors of ink.

Dr. George E. Fuller was called to Hampden Saturday afternoon to attend Ned Thresher, who had been kicked in the face by his colt. Mr. Thresher was rendered senseless by the blow, and a gash was made which it was necessary to close with several stitches.

At the close of the very interesting lecture on "Spring Flowers," by Miss Sarah E. Brasill, supervisor of science in the Cambridge and Quincy schools, last Friday afternoon Miss Cantwell, teacher of music in the public schools, gave a talk to the district teachers.

The Monson and Brimfield school committees met last Friday afternoon, and unanimously reelected Miss Clara A. Wood superintendent of schools. Miss Wood has successfully filled the position three years, and the people of both towns are much pleased to have her remain.

The Flynt Granite Co. has secured the contract to furnish the Boston and Albany Railroad Co. with a large quantity of bridge stone and rubble granite for the bridge and improvements at West Springfield, also to furnish the same company with some cut and rubble stone for Worcester.

St. Patrick's cemetery is undergoing improvements. The sand hill is being levelled, and the sand is being used for filling where needed. The white cross which has for so many years marked the burial ground has been removed. The work will probably not be completed for several months.

A Band of Mercy has been formed in No. 1 grammar school. The band consists of thirty-four members, with the following officers: President, Bertie Mumford; vice president, Mary Moriarty; secretary, Winnie Thayer; treasurer, Willie Crowley. The name chosen for band was "Clover Band."

Holy week at the Catholic church is observed in much the usual manner. The services opened Sunday with the blessing and distribution of the palms. Mass was celebrated yesterday morning, and the exposition of the holy sacrament took place in the chapel. This evening there will be preached the passion sermon.

A parish meeting of the Universalist church was held last evening, and these officers elected: Parish committee, A. D. Ellis, W. J. Ricketts, George A. Harvey, A. B. Babbitt, E. S. Howlett; treasurer, G. W. Farrington; music committee, W. J. Ricketts and Mrs. Lillian L. Chapin. The pews are to be disposed of next Tuesday evening at 7.45.

The annual meeting of the Congregational parish was held Monday evening, and the following officers were elected: Prudential committee, Dr. George E. Fuller, Harrison Howe, Fred D. Rogers; music committee, Lyman C. Flynt, Wilson M. Tucker, Dr. N. W. Rand; treasurer, Frank E. Morris; auditor, Dr. P. W. Soule; for the salary of the pastor $1600 was appropriated, and $750 for music. The general expenses were left to the prudential committee.

The following will be the music programme at the Congregational church next Sunday morning:

Organ Voluntary, Concerts in C. maj.....Thayer
Anthem, "As it began to dawn".....Coombs
Hymn, "Christ the Lord Has Risen Today".....Mozart
Response, A song for Easter".....N. H. Allen
Offertory, Selected.....
Hymn, "Rise, Glorious Conquerer, Rise"
Anthem, "They have taken away my Lord" Stainer.....
Organ Postlude.....Back

The Sunday school will give a concert in the evening.

WARE.

J. C. Dexter has given up the agency of the Estey organs and pianos, and has accepted a situation with a photo-engraving establishment in New Haven. He is not expecting to move there at present.

The musical event of the season will be the cantata of "David, the Shepherd Boy," at the Town Hall, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week. The best musical talent has been secured for the leading parts. Elegant costumes, and excellent singing by a large chorus, all under the direction of the incomparable conductor, Herr Buecher, of Boston.

The fire department was called out last Friday afternoon to a fire in the house on South street owned by R. D. Newton and occupied by Laurence H. Love. The fire is supposed to have caught from a defective chimney running up through the partitions, and although the firemen were prompt, as they always are, considerable damage was done. The house was insured for $1850, and the furniture for $1200.

Rev. V. E. Southworth, who closed his labors as pastor of the Unitarian church in Ware last February, has accepted a call to All Souls Unitarian church at Janesville, Wisconsin. He says he thinks he has found a field compatible with his progressive ideas, and that there is a large opportunity for labor that will result in much good. His wife and children, who are still in Ware, will join him at his new field of labor at once.

The committee appointed by the town to look after the purchase of a new town farm, at a meeting on Tuesday organized with F. D. Gilmore chairman, and James E. Clark secretary. On Wednesday they visited the old farm to look it over. It is understood that quite a sum is needed to repair the old place, should it be deemed advisable to continue to care for the poor there. The committee will have a business meeting next Tuesday.

There are seventeen applications for liquor licenses, as follows: W. J. Volk and Co., Nos. 8, 10 and 12 North street, with entrance at 97 Main street; Alphonse T. Chagnon Aspen street; F. F. Gilmore, Mansion House; Arthur R. Kane & Co., Water street; Hennessey & Reilly, Water street; D. A. Jennison, east middle store in the Hampshire House block; John D. Smith, druggist; Owen F. McMahon and William Charbonneau, McMahon's block, Main street; M. J. McArdle & Co., Pine street; John Malboeuf & Co., Water street; James Neville, Water street; Demond & Dubois, Music Hall block; Felix Bombard, Parker street; Michael Smith & Co., Water street; Eloi Lapierre, Sorrel Block, North street; Frank A. Spencer, druggist; John Yale, druggist.

CARD.—We wish to express our sincere thanks to the neighbors and friends who so materially assisted us in saving our property on the night of the fire, and the many kindnesses shown us.

MR. AND MRS. G. E. GROUT.

Monson, April 12th, 1895.

New Shoes For Easter

ARE ALMOST A NECESSITY.

If this space would permit we would tell you all about the

NEW SPRING SHOES

and slippers we have added to our stock. They are so far ahead of last season's shoes that we almost have to give them away. But the new goods are what we sell, and we call special attention to our

$1.50, $2, $2.50 and $3 SHOES.

Children like new shoes, we thought of them when buying our new shoes.

GEO. L. FULLER,

Distributer of Fine Fitting Shoes.

MONSON, - - MASS.

A Good Thing and Nothing To Pay.

Just see what Dr. Greene offers to do for all weak and suffering people. He is the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. His unparalleled offer to consult with anyone, free of charge, by letter correspondence, is doing wonderful good. If you have any complaint which you would like cured, write the Doctor a letter stating just how you feel and what symptoms trouble you. He will answer it, giving a complete description of your case, explaining the meaning of every symptom, and telling how you can surely get well and strong. He gives most careful attention to each letter, and explains your case so thoroughly that you understand exactly what ails you. All this costs you nothing, you have no doctor's fees to pay, and you don't have to leave your home. The Doctor makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence, and they nearly always get well. He is the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy. Write to him at his office, 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., and you will undoubtedly be made strong and well.

Need Clear Heads.

Working people need clear heads, sound sleep and good digestion; for if sickness comes, what then? It is cheaper to keep well. That "queer feeling" springs from indigestion. First you "pooh, pooh!" Then you grow alarmed and send for the doctor. No need of that. A box of Ripans Tabules will set you right and keep you right; so you can eat, sleep and work. Ask the druggist for them.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 52-25

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength. —Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO.,

106 Wall St., N. Y.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS IN THIS VICINITY FOR

TRUSSES.

WE CARRY A LARGE ASSORTMENT IN ALL THE SIZES OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF

Steel Spring Trusses,
Hard Rubber Trusses,
New York Elastic Trusses.

WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.

AT LEGRO & LYNDE'S.

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

FORBES & WALLACE'S,
SPRINGFIELD.

TRIMMED HATS.

Hundreds. Many that are only here; many with very few of a pattern. All have the touch of Parisian grace about them. Some direct from Virot, Mme. Charlier and other famous milliners of Paris; the others are creations caught by our own milliners direct from Paris styles.

Choose when you like next week and there will be a plenty;

Main floor of Pynchon street building.

CAPES.

It would be strange indeed, if we couldn't satisfy everybody from such an assortment of garments as we have. Many distinguished things among 'em from Paris and Berlin makers. Styles from $4.98 to $80. Some very choice things between $5 and $15 a garment.

Main floor of Pynchon street building.

EASTER NECKWEAR FOR MEN.

Never had such pretty things to show before. Just a step inside the main door, to the furnishing department, gentlemen; and there's a saving on every article you buy.

Main store, front.

MATTINGS.

A new importation of Japanese and Chinese mattings just put on the floors. Direct to us from Japan to San Francisco by steamer, and over land from there by rail to Springfield.

Such mattings! Such patterns! Only fresh cut and well selected grasses used, and the manufacturers have brought the weaving and making to a higher art than ever. Weave as tight and firm as a piece of canvas almost in some of them; patterns that you'd expect to find only in cloth or carpets.

But perhaps the Japanese jointless matting at 10 cents a yard will occasion the most surprise. Actually you've paid as high as 20 cents a yard last season for the same quality.

And the better qualities up to 50 cents a yard are just as astonishing.

Second floor of Pynchon street building.

FORBES & WALLACE.

Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

W. E. STONE.

HOUSEKEEPING DEPARTMENT.

Agate Iron Ware.

Most durable of any, consequently the cheapest.

PRICES AGAIN REDUCED.

Agate Iron Teapots,	3 sizes.
Coffee Pots,	3 "
Preserve Kettles,	4 "
Sauce Pans,	6 "
Nickled Tea Kettles, best quality, full size only	$1.
" Tea Pots,	3 sizes.
" Coffee Pots,	3 "
Tin and Copper Wash Boilers,	all "
Wash Boards, Wash Tubs, Pails, Clothes Pins, Clothes Lines, Clothes Baskets, Mop Sticks and Brooms.
Yellow Mixing Bowls,	9 sizes.
" Nappies,	6 "
Rockingham Tea Pots,	4 "

Our 5 cent List

Now includes many articles that were formerly 10 cents.

Tin Wash Basins, 11½ inch—a rattler,	5c
Tea Strainers,	5c
Bowl " 5 in.,	5c
Bread and Biscuit Pans,	5c
Vegetable Sifters,	5c
Meat Forks,	5c
Iron Spoons, wood handles,	5c
Pudding Pans,	5c
Embossed Mugs,	5c
Kettle Covers,	5c
Toasters,	5c
Doughnut Cutters,	5c
Salt and Pepper Shakes,	5c
Glass Mugs,	5c
Goblets,	5c
Tumblers,	5c
Tooth Pick Holders,	5c
Cream Pitchers,	6c
Jelly Dish, fan pattern,	6c
Sugar Bowl, with cover,	9c
Butter Dish, " "	9c
Syrup Cup,	10c
Vinegar Cruets,	10c
Stew Pan and Cover,	10c
Tea and Coffee Pots,	10c
Cuspidores,	10c
Large Dippers,	9 and 10c
Cake Tins,	10c
Flour Sifters,	15c
Tea Kettles,	19c
Dish Drainers,	23c
Carpet Beaters,	10c
Dish Pans, large,	10c
Rinsing Pans, large,	23c
Tea and Coffee Pots, copper bottoms,	25 and 30c
Round Dinner Pails,	25c
Spiders "	50c
Soap Savers,	10c
Egg Beaters,	15c
Chopping Knives,	15 and 35c

GROCERY DEPARTMENT.

Our Tea, Coffee and Spice Dep't.

Is one we give a great deal of attention. Its a trade plaster, i e—it draws.

Our Teas are very carefully selected from samples submitted by the largest importers. We carry a large assortment, ranging from 25c to $1 per pound. We will undertake to please the most fastidious in the Tea and Coffee question.

Something New for this section is a CEYLON TEA, of very delicate color, aroma and flavor, at $1.00 per pound. Requires less than half the quantity of other teas. This tea is grown on the Island of Ceylon, the land of big elephants. Try a quarter of a pound. You will find it an agreeable change.

Our "Paul Revere" brand of Coffee (red bags) is gaining many friends. 38c a pound. You will need to call here for it.

We have a pure Coffee at 25c a pound that gives good satisfaction.

We sell SLADE'S SPICES—They are absolutely pure and packages full weight.

Lively Things in the Grocery Dpe't.

Kibbe's Mixed Candies,	2 pounds for 25c
" Peppermint Drops,	2 " " "
" Chocolate "	2 " " "
Dunham's Shredded Cocoanut, ¼, ½ and 1 pound packages.
Sugar Drip Syrup, 1 gallon, including jug,	40c,
Without jug,	25c.
Beardsley's Shredded Cod.
Plymouth Rock Gelatine, white and pink.
B. M. C. Best Flour. If you want cheap flour don't ask for this. Yet it is cheap, for you get many more loaves from a barrel of this than from the cheaper grades. So called cheap flour is usually dear in the end.
California Navel Oranges, 176 size, 35c a dozen.
Parlor Matches, Peacock Brand.
Acme Soap.
Large Prunes, 10c a pound.
Evaporated Apricots.
Oak Leaf Soap. See the handsome pictures in our window given away for wrappers. Call for premium list.

CARPET AND RENTING DEPARTMENTS.

From the importers we expect to receive this week a few rolls of very fine Straw Mattings. These mattings have a cotton warp, are desirable and handsome. Prices are way under city prices.

Oil Cloth Carpets.
Ingrain "
Hemp "
Carpet Linings.

Wool Fringes for Rugs.
Lace Curtains.
Extension Rods for Sash Curtains.
Drapery Poles.

We have the following Instruments to rent:
One new Upright Piano
One second-hand Upright.
One second-hand Organ.

W. E. STONE

Lawrence Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

QUALITY CONSIDERED

Our prices are the lowest.

Why?

We sell for CASH only.

No bad debts to worry about. Try us ONCE and you become our regular customer.

CHAS. N. BLAKE & CO.,

BOOTS, SHOES and RUBBERS.

HOLDEN'S BLOCK.

A. B. COWAN, Manager.

Wall Papers!

"Now is the winter of our discontent made glorious Springtime by this April Sun."

THE OLD CORNER WALL PAPER CO.

OF

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.,

Now offer you good Kitchen, Bedroom and Hallway papers at

5 cents per roll.

Good designs in floral papers, Vine patterns and scrolls in soft colors at 10 cents per roll.

Excellent gilt papers in dainty colors, pretty styles and choice white and blue, white and yellow and white and green colorings at 15 cents to 25 cents per roll.

Our immense price is marked at 1895 prices this year. That is at the bottom notch and must go up next year.

Send for samples (enclose 4 cents in stamps) or call at our enlarged show room at the old corner of State and Main Streets, AND LOOK!

The Old Corner Wall Paper Co.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY AND MACHINE SHOP.

At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.

MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL JOBBING DONE

At short notice and reasonable prices.

52-35 R. B. FRANCIS.

SALESMEN WANTED

To Solicit orders for Nursery Stock, Salary or Commission. Cash advanced for expenses, and outfit free. Experience not essential. Active, hard-working men can make good pay. The best of reference required.

THE R. G. CHASE CO.,

8-50 Malden, Mass.

THE BOOM OF THE SPRING SEASON NOW ON AT

HAYNES & COMPANY'S

The best productions of the dozen leading New York and Rochester manufacturers are represented in Haynes & Co's. GREAT SPRING STOCK. Not one make, two makes, three makes, but the pick of the best from the dozen best, and thus the cream of them all. That's the way we do it. It's the best way. If there was a better we'd adopt it. But there ain't.

A STOCK WORTH READING ABOUT.

BLACK GOODS.

The volume of trade we have in Black Clay Worsteds is surprising. A surprise to us. A surprise to manufacturers. But their popularity is not so much a matter of surprise. What kind of Suit is cleaner cut, more handsome, better in Sack Suit or Cutaway, than the Black Clay Worsted? What fabric, indeed, has a more refined and flexible texture. When too old for meetin', can be worn to mill. The qualities vary with price, but you're certain to get what you want. $12, $14, $15, $16, $18 and $20.

CHEVIOT SUITS.

It's a toss-up which we sell the more of, Black Clays or Cheviots. The latter are more popular for business. Cheviots have a character and quality distinctively their own. There's a ruggedness about Cheviots. Like our genuine New England folks. And they're handsome, too. Made up in black, blue and brown. The browns are taking people's eyes. Not literally. People's eyes are really taking the browns. We confess a liking for them ourselves. They are so natty, nobby, neat. The new styles are striking enough. The make-up handsome and fine. $8, $10, $12.

BETTER GET A SPRING OVERCOAT.

Winter Coats are uncomfortable most of the time. The sun isn't warm yet when it shines. The Spring Overcoat meets a demand for comfort when comfort is needed. The demand was never so great as now. It amounts to a genuine rush. If you see what we have you will buy one. Kerseys and Cheviots. All shades. All styles. Neatly made up. Handsome coats. $8, $10, $12. In elegant Worsteds, Beavers and Venetian cloths, silk-lined or silk-faced. $15, $16, $18, $20.

HAVE YE A SCOTCH SUIT?

A bonny, bonny Scotch Suit. Not a year before so popular the Scotch. Not a year before so stylish the Scotches. These mixtures are famous wearers. Their style is all fastidiousness could wish. And the effects, you know, are English. Most desirable to some. But you can't make a mistake buying a Scotch Suit. No, not if you buy three or four Scotch Suits. From $8 to $25.

SPRING TROUSERS.

New light Spring Trousers are an important and conspicuous feature of the annual Easter bloom. With the ladies it is millinery, with the men it is trousers. Can't see any objection to blossoming out at Easter either in fine millinery or fine Trousers. If there's morality in millinery, it's pretty certain that a neat pair of Trousers is conducive to self-respect. "The Duchess," "The Brummer," "The Paragon," "The King," "The McMillan," all here.

BUT DON'T FORGET THE CHILDREN.

Easter, akin to Christmas, is a peculiarly happy time for children. They must be neatly dressed for the Easter celebrations. Haynes & Co. are best equipped to assist you in dressing the little fellows for the occasion. And all occasions for that matter. The progress made in providing for the children's wants has been fully as great as that made in providing for men. That progress is demonstrated accurately and as nowhere else at Haynes & Co's. "The Eaton," "The Fauntleroy," "Little Captain," "The Governor," "The Sandow," are examples of progress, which are an interesting study, especially to mothers. We are glad to welcome you here. You are assured of our utmost consideration.

HAYNES & COMPANY.,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.,

CLOTHIERS, TAILORS, HATTERS and FURNISHERS.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,

OPTICIAN.

331 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial Eyes Furnished.
Oculists' Prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 26-51

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!

PAPER HANGINGS.

Browns, White Blanks, Flats, Satins, Bronzes, Gilts, Borders, Friezes, etc.

PLAIN AND DECORATIVE PAPER HANGING, PAINTING, ETC.

All orders filled in a thorough and workmanlike manner. F. S. MASON, Commercial Block.

W. N. FLYNT & SONS'

SPRING STYLES IN MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING

HAVE ARRIVED. GIVE THEM A CALL AND RECEIVE BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY THAN EVER BEFORE. BE SURE YOU GET A TRILBY HAT.

LATEST IN HATS AND CAPS FOR MEN AND BOYS AT

W. N. FLYNT & SONS,

MONSON, MASS.

JUST OPENED.

A Large Assortment of

J. B. SHAW

LACES, HAMBURGS, TRIMMING BRAIDS, VEILINGS, GRASS CLOTH, FIBRIC CHAMOIS, SILESIAS, HAIR CLOTH and CAMBRICS.

DRESS GINGHAMS, TEAZLE DOWN, WHITE GOODS, BLEACHED and BROWN COTTONS

AT THE... LOWEST : PRICES EVER MADE.

PALMER

ALL OUR HOODS, SCARFS AND CARDIGANS

AT HALF PRICE TO CLOSE THE SEASON.

WE HAVE MANY NEW THINGS IN

Fancy Groceries and Canned Goods,

Of the Best Quality as well as the Cheaper Grades, and Prices Guaranteed to be Right.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

BICYCLES FOR 1895.

STEARNS "Yellow Fellow." Ladies' and Gents' $100.

WARWICK "Crimson Rims." $80, $85, $100.

CRESCENTS $90, $75, $50, $40.

WINNEWOOD & TEMPLES $60.

We have full size in Ladies' and Gents' Wheels for $50, fully warranted.

BICYCLE REPAIRING.

We have secured the services of Alfred H. Stokes to take charge of this department. Mr. Stokes comes to us from the KEATING WHEEL CO. where he has had entire charge of their Repair Department.

He can save you money in repairs and suit you. Any kind of wheel repaired.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

SEEDS.

Garden Seeds, Grass Seeds, Flower Seeds, Seed Potatoes. We take great pains to suit you on this line. We think poor seeds are worthless at any price. See us before you buy.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Belcher & Taylor's Plows and Cultivators. Rough and Ready Wrought Iron Beam Plows. Planet, Jr. Horse Hoes and Cultivators. John Doud Wheel Harrows. Steel Road Scrapers. Spring Tooth Harrows. Lawn Mowers.

We shall carry a good line and solicit your trade.

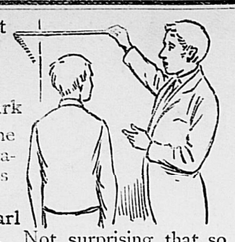
E. A. BUCK & CO.

FISHING TACKLE.

TROUT fishing will soon be here. We are getting Rods, Lines, Reels, Baskets, etc., ready for the rush. Nice assortment. Fair prices.

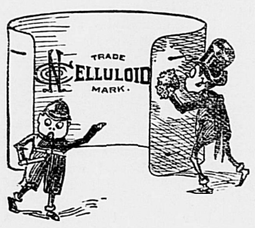
E. A. Buck & Co., Palmer.

Not Up to the Mark



—the imitations of Pearline. Not surprising that so great a household help should be so largely imitated; not surprising that these imitations fail; and not surprising that they make still more popular the article on which the fraud is attempted. The merits of Pearline alone make its sales increase, and the claims of peddlers and unscrupulous grocers that they have "the same as" or "as good as" Pearline—have placed Pearline on the top notch.

Beware of imitations. 352 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.



Waterproof collars and cuffs that you can clean yourself by simply wiping off with a wet sponge. The genuine look exactly like linen and every piece is marked this way:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK

They are made by covering a linen collar or cuff with "celluloid," and are the only waterproof goods made with an interlining, and the only goods that can stand the wear and give perfect satisfaction. Never wilt and not effected by moisture. Try them and you will never regret it. Ask for those with above trade mark and refuse any imitations. If your dealer does not have them we will mail you a sample direct on receipt of price. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair. State whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

The Celluloid Company,
427-429 Broadway, New York.

Bimby—"I hear that the Newlyweds have had a row."

Jimby—"Yes. Mrs. Newlywed got angry because her husband refused to sew a button on her bloomers."—Town Topics.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth Co., Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me, he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. 50 cent bottles.

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds. SIMS BROS., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles.

It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In many instances the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. 25 and 50 cent bottles.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

BAD BLOOD

Shows itself by Blotches, Pimples, Boils and all kinds of skin diseases. The spring months are the best months in which to thoroughly

Cleanse the Blood

You should commence at once, drive all the impurities out of the BLOOD, and make it RICH and HEALTHY.

BLOOD WINE

[Trade Mark Registered.]

is the only medicine that will do it thoroughly and quickly, and at the same time bring back your strength, increase your appetite, and make you well again.

Now is the time to take

BLOOD WINE

DENTAL

Operations are usually painful; but at my office we excavate and Fill all Cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN.
Also, we do Crown and Bridge Work and make Artificial Teeth that are Satisfactory.
First Class Work at Reasonable Prices is our motto. Lady Attendant. Take Elevator.
DR. WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.
Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield, Mass.

A NICE NEW LINE OF SAMPLES OF FOLDERS.
FOR DANCE PROGRAMS, INVITATIONS, MENUS, ETC.
Just received at the JOURNAL Office.

The Modern Painter.

I gaze with rapture and with awe
On the eternal hills,
And lo, upon the rocks I read,
"Take Harker's liver pills!"
I turn to where the setting sun
Sinks grandly in the west,
His dying beams fall full upon
"Jenk's Gladux are the best!"
Mark yonder frowning precipice,
Adown its dizzy steeps
A mountain stream in foam and spray
A dazzling vision leaps.
Alack! the advertising fiend
Has climbed the giddy hight,
And painted on the topmost crag,
"Go, buy your boots of Wright!"

Nestles in yonder lovely vale,
Amid its orchards green,
A farm-house white, with bursting barns,
In truth a peaceful scene.
A poet here might hope to dwell
Safe from the rude world's strife;
The biggest barn is covered with
"Mortal, insure your life!"

You meet him in the frigid zone,
On India's coral strand,
And where the Sphinx, with eyes of stone,
Looks out o'er Egypt's sand.
Alike in desert solitude
And in the city's rush,
Where'er the foot of man has stood,
He journeys with his brush.

—Mrs. M. P. Handy, in Harper's Magazine for April.

HIS FIRST CLIENT.

"Now, sir," said G. DeLancy Wolverton, a young lawyer, who was "growing up" with the mighty West, and who was about to experience the joy of having a first client, "just tell me frankly and fully the nature of the case."

"Well, it's like this," said the long-looked and hoped-for client; "I'm havin' a leetle trouble that calls fer legal talent more'n it does fer a shotgun or I wouldn't trouble ye. In the first place, I want to fight a divorce case my first wife has went and stirred up, 'cause she says the divorce I got over in Dakoty ain't legal. Then I want to git divorce papers out agin my second wife fer runnin' away two weeks ago with a map peddler. Then I want ye to see what ye can do to keep my boy Jim out o' the pen fer fastenin' on to a bunch o' cattle that didn't belong to 'im. I want ye also to fight a promissory note case brung agin me and to hustle 'round an' git bail fer me if a feller I cracked over the head with a club a week ago shouldn't get well. I may have some trouble 'bout a piece o' prop'ty I sold that didn't happen to b'long to me, an' if I'm run in fer keepin' a little saloon without a license I'd want ye pull me through all right. Then I want ye to knock an 'tachment off my personal prop'ty an' cl'ar me of a charge of stealin' a horse, an' I'd like to borrow $50 jist ter kind o' tide me over until—what? Ye ain't time to take my case? Blamed if I b'lieve you've sense enough to handle a little trouble like mine if ye had time. I guess I'll hustle 'round an' find a lawyer that knows his bizness."—Detroit Free Press.

STOMACH'S TELEPHONY.

The beneficent uses of the telephone are not as yet fully understood. The other night young Smythe awoke about 3 a. m. with an excruciating pain in his stomach. The more he squirmed the worse he grew. Finally the terrible thought flashed upon him that he had been poisoned. In a moment he dashed out of bed, down stairs to the telephone, and demanded to be switched on to his physcian's number without delay. "For heaven's sake, doctor, come at once! I'm poisoned!"

The M. D., who had also crawled out of bed to answer the summons, growled back, "What makes you think so?"

"Frightful pain—awful cramps—inside on fire—hurry up, or I'm a dead man!"

"Humph! Does—er—does your stomach make any noise?"

"Yes; kinder growls—must be arsenic or something."

"Growls, eh? Just put the 'phone against the pit of your stomach. Ah! I thought so—you've been to the French Hospital fete this evening, haven't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"Exactly. You're suffering from a general fermentation of lemonade, crab salad, fruit cake, pickled oysters and Roman punch. You're all right. Just take a little peppermint and ginger; then go to bed and grin it through."

GETTING TO SLEEP.

Suppose you are lying in bed, with your mind so tired that it begs to go to sleep, but the body won't go along. It has not been exercised enough during the day to get fatigued, and it sees no reason why it should join the procession of dreams.

How to induce it to do so? Tire it out, answers Will Carleton's "Everywhere." Instead of giving it the easiest, softest place in the house, let it have a hard time. If you are situated so that you can rise and take a walk, do so. If you cannot walk, and can engage in some moderately arduous exercise in-doors, that will not disturb the rest of the house, do that.

If you can do none of these, protect yourself sufficiently from cold, and then sit bolt upright in bed, with nothing to lean against. Do not work with the mind, except to imaine that you are in a large crowd, with nothing but the hard end of a dry goods box to sit upon, and very little of that.

Or rise and dress and stand in the middle of the room. You will soon find that the body is perfectly willing to creep back into bed, behave itself in a manner worthy of the sweet and restful night, stop nagging the mind, and enter into a profitable deal with Morpheus.

FACING THE WORLD AGAIN.—The pale-faced passenger looked out of the car windows with exceeding interest. Finally he turned to his seat mate. "You must think I never rode on the cars before," he said, "but the fact is, pardner, I jist got out of the pen this mornin' an' it does me good to look around. It is goin' to be mighty tough, though, facin' my old-time friends. I spose, though, you ain't much idea how a man feels in a case like that?"

"Perhaps I have a better idea of your feelings than you think," said the other gentleman with a sad smile. "I am just getting home from Congress."—Indianapolis Journal.

Once upon a time some wheat undulated in the wind.

"You are not as dear as you were once," remarked the wind.

"Oh," rejoined the wheat, "I can still command a dollar a bushel, but I have to make a hog of myself to do it."

This fable teaches, among other things, that diversified farming is the thing, after all. —Detroit Tribune.

SAFE RULE.—"I don't know whether you'll like this. It's a peculiar mixture of mine—half English breakfast and half Oolong."

"It certainly ought to be right. One of the first rules I learned in school was that we should always cross our teas."—Harper's Magazine for April.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment; Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.

The Only

Great and thoroughly reliable building-up medicine, nerve tonic, vitalizer and

Blood Purifier

Before the people today, and which stands preeminently above all other medicines, is

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

It has won its hold upon the hearts of the people by its own absolute intrinsic merit. It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does that tells the story:—

Hood's Cures

Even when all other preparations and prescriptions fail.

"We have used Hood's Sarsaparilla as a strengthener and general tonic and it has done us good. We have found it beneficial in cleansing the blood and building up the system. It enables us to sleep well nights and to rise refreshed in the morning." C. A. CARTER, 7 Second St., Leominster, Mass.

Get HOOD'S

Hood's Pills are tasteless, mild, effective. All druggists. 25c.

"I conclude that's a fly," said the young trout. "You are quite right, my dear," answered its mother; "but you mustn't jump at conclusions. It is a fly, but I doubt if God made it."—Gray & Co's. Illustrated Monthly.

Right Arm Paralyzed!

Saved from St. Vitus Dance.

"Our daughter, Blanche, now fifteen years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. We feared St. Vitus dance, and tried the best physicians, with no benefit. She has taken three bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine and has gained 31 pounds. Her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid."
MRS. R. R. BULLOCK, Brighton, N. Y.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cures.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

REV. I. W. HILL,

Pastor Methodist Church, Accord, N. Y., Says Cancerous Diseases Can be Cured.

ACCORD, N. Y.—Under the old school method it was believed that any disease of cancerous growth could never be cured. The surgeon's knife was resorted to, but the old trouble was sure to break out again.

Since the discovery of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, all this has been changed—the action of Favorite Remedy upon the system leaves no trace of poison in the blood, the seeds of disease are expelled and lost health restored. A notable case of the efficacy of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is that of the Rev. I. W. Hill of this town. Some years ago he was suffering with a cancer of long standing, on his lip, and finally concluded to have it removed. In speaking of his case Pastor Hill said: "About three weeks previous to having the operation performed, I purchased Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and continued taking it for some time after the cancer was removed. Ten long years have passed since then and no trace of the ugly thing has returned. I speak with knowledge in the highest terms of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy as being able to cure the troubles for which it is prepared."

One of our local physcians said, in explaining the demand for Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy: "It acts as a nerve and blood food, and to my knowledge it has made many permanent cures of Nervous Debility, Sleeplessness, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism and of the sickness peculiar to women, where other treatments have failed. For headaches, constipation and the run down condition one often suffers with, there is nothing else so good."

AYER'S Hygienic Coffee.

A Health Drink, Nerve and Brain Food.

A vegetable and cereal compound; contains all the elements one's system requires.
Prepared by M. S. AYER, of Boston.
A vegetarian of many years.

PRICE, 20 CENTS PER POUND.

Directions: Prepare the same as Coffee, using not more than two-thirds as much for the same amount of water, or one tablespoonful to a pint.

For sale by principal wholesale and retail grocers. Send 2c stamp for book on "Diet Reform."
M. S. AYER, 211 STATE ST., BOSTON.

C. H. HOBBY,
PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, C[illegible]

HELLYAR'S BARGAIN STORE,

Caryl's Block, On the Corner.

ANOTHER DROP IN PRICES.

1c buys two good lead pencils or a card of darning cotton.
2c one yard of elastic or a cake of soap.
3c one spool of black silk or one paper of tacks.
4c one yard of gingham or one spool best thread.
5c one yard best cambric or one dress braid.
6c two papers good pins or two doughnut cutters.
7c two Chinese lanterns or one stove mitten.
8c two napkin rings or two boxes of tooth picks.
9c one China basket or one bottle French shoe dressing.
10c one wheelbarrow or one Dover egg beater.
11c one yard of rug fringe or two yards of shelf oil cloth.
12c one yard of canvas or one yard best silicia.
13c two pairs dress shields or three Turkish wash cloths.
14c three yards toweling or two yards heavy 40-inch cotton.
15c two balls woolen yarn or one pair woolen hose.
16c two skeins Saxony yarn or two rolls crepe paper.
17c two pairs men's cotton socks or two pairs sleeve buttons.
18c one pound superfine writing paper or one 25c bottle perfume.
19c curtain pole and trimmings or five yards carpet paper.
20c six sauce dishes or 100 baronial envelopes.
21c three yards outing flannel or three yards cross bar cambric.
22c one yard table oil cloth or one gallon oil can.
23c one yard floor oil cloth or one Holland curtain.
24c one kitchen broom or one large dish pan.
25c one chamber pail or one large dinner pail.
$4.50 portier curtains at $3.25 per pair.
50c window shades at 36c each.
25c corn popper at 15c.
Best live geese feathers 55c per lb.
Brass extension sash rods 15c each.
Copper bottom coffee pots 15c each.
Extraordinary bargains in towels, table linens, stamped linens, crashes, sheeting and pillow case cottons, which we received this week.

Money saved on every purchase at our store.

Yours Truly,

S. H. Hellyar & Co.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 12m., 1 to 4 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.

Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.

Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.

Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.

Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Moores, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory

Board of Investment,
Geo. Moores, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.

Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO SEPT. 30, 1894.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58, p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Pansy Park, South Amherst and Hadley—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
FOR Belchertown, Amherst and Northampton—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39, p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY, Gen'l Mgr.

Lessons on the Violin or Piano.

Given by—
MISSES JULIA and LILY ALLEN.
4-22ks Cor. Church and Pleasant Sts., Palmer.

Tuition and Board Free

WHILE LEARNING TO BE A SAILOR.

The State of Massachusetts educates and boards CADETS at the MASSACHUSETTS NAUTICAL TRAINING SCHOOL on board the U. S. S. Enterprise. Examination for entrance April 26th, before starting on the SUMMER CRUISE. For pamphlet with full information, address COMMISSIONERS NAUTICAL TRAINING SCHOOL, STATE HOUSE, BOSTON. 3-1

NO NEED OF IT.

Homes are Filled With Weak and Nervous.

NO NEED TO FEEL SO WEAK, TIRED AND NERVOUS.

Eminent Physicians Give Assurance of This Fact.

And Tell How to Overcome the Terrible Weakness.

Now is the Best Time to Get Strong and Well.

That there is no need whatever for a person to be weak, tired and nervous—the three great curses of our people—seem now a certain fact.

Eminent physicians affirm the truth of this welcome news, and ample proof demonstrate the reliability of the information we are able so gladly to give.

It is certainly a godsend to those of our people who have weak nerves and tired bodies, who feel exhausted in strength and vitality, who cannot eat or sleep well, and who are run down and debilitated, to know positively that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is a sure invigorator and strength giver, and will invariably make a person strong and well. Particularly is it a blessing at this time of year, for in the spring almost everybody feels languid, nervous and out of order and needs this best of all spring medicines.

Doctors are enthusiastic in their approval and endorsement of this remedy. They heartily recommend and advise its use, and many of our best known physicians are loud in their praise of its wonderful curative powers.

Dr. B. D. Bickford, of Wolcott, Vt., one of Vermont's eminent physicians, states:

"I have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy for some time, first trying it on myself, and I found it did me so much good that I now recommend it to my patients. The fact that I have used it in my own case shows that I know what I am talking about. As a tonic and invigorant it is the best of all to build up a person."

Dr. Robert W. Lance, of So. Woodbury, Vt., than whom there is no more eminent physician in the State of Vermont, says:

"I have known about Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and the good results in case, as a tonic, after hard sickness and the cure of nervous females. They have received great good from its use. I do not hesitate to recommend it."

Dr. Willard H. Morse, F. B. S. Sc. of Westfield, N. J., the great expert on medicines, says of this grand discovery of Dr. Greene:

"The true remedy for nervous diseases is Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It acts by affecting the organs of nutrition, and entering into the formation of new nerve tissue, which generates nerve force. This means the making of new nerves. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the American nerve tonic."

The well-known Dr. Emil Neumer, superintending physician of the N. Y. Lodge and Association Hospital, states:

"We are using Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy at this Hospital for our patients, with good success."

This enthusiastic endorsement by physicians, stamps this remarkable medical discovery as the greatest tonic and restorative. Druggists tell you everywhere that it cures more cases than any other known remedy. In fact it makes all who take it strong and well.

One reason which gives the people so much confidence in it is the fact that it is the discovery and prescription of Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., the well-known and probably most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and to the further fact that he can be consulted free of charge by anyone, personally or by letter.

ESTABLISHED 1322.
651
FIRST PRIZE.
To S. H. Hellyar
For Rose Culture
$5

WE DOUBLE IT.

We will duplicate all first premiums offered in 1895 by any Horticultural or Agricultural Society in the United States, that may be secured with the produce of seeds or bulbs purchased of us. We will pay the amount on presentation of the certificate of the society's award, accompanied by a statement that the seeds from which the prize winners were grown, were BRECK'S SEEDS.

(THIS OFFER COPYRIGHTED.)

Full particulars of this offer on application. Ask for our 1895 illustrated catalogue. Mailed free. Replete with news about novelties, standard varieties of flower and vegetable seeds, the most approved agricultural and horticultural implements, and particulars of "Everything for Farm, Garden and Lawn."

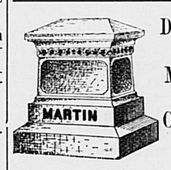
Joseph Breck & Sons,
BOSTON, MASS.

FRESH

Milk and Cream.

MAPLE
LAWN
MILK
FARM.

O. D. WELLS, Proprietor.



DO YOU WANT A MONUMENT? CORRECT DESIGNS.

Guaranteed Workmanship. Prices Lowest.

WILLIAM F. COOK,
182, 184 STATE STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

MORE INVESTMENT FOR UNIMPROVED CAPITAL.

I.

"How lonely it is here!" sighed a farmer's daughter, as she leaned over the front gate and looked up and down the country road, unheeding the glorious view of hill and dale, which a beautiful sunset was transfiguring before her eyes.

"Only one wagon has passed this whole livelong day. How stupid it is in this big, quiet farmhouse since Nellie and Jane married and went away,

. . . . . .

Down in the slums of a neighboring city, on the curbstone of a narrow, crowded street over which thundered the elevated trains, sat a poor woman with a baby in her arms trying to get a breath of fresh air. The thermometer was ninety-five degrees in the shade, and it was a question whether the pent-up, noisy street was more refreshing than the close tenement room inside. The baby's face was white and wan, but not a breath of air seemed stirring to put new life into it or its mother.

At that very hour, a brisk evening breeze was springing up on the airy hill-top where lay the quiet farmhouse. It wafted the scent of the honeysuckle vine into the window of the empty bedroom where Nellie and Jane used to sleep.

II.

In the pleasant conservatory of a pretty surburban home James, the gardener, stood before his mistress with a basket full of clippings from geraniums and bright foliage plants.

"We have already potted more than the shelves will hold," said she, "so you can throw away those in the basket."

. . . . . .

An old woman looked anxiously at a solitary plant in an old tomato can on the window-sill of her dark little garret room.

"It is dead!" she said. "The cold and the blight have killed it. How I shall miss the bright red flowers! And never a penny to spend on another!"

At that very time James was burying the contents of the basket in a corner of the garden.

III.

In a beautiful church of a college town sat an elderly man at one end of a long and otherwise empty pew. His thoughts were less of the sermon and the fine music than of the three tall sons who used to sit beside him, but were now one dead and the others living far away.

. . . . . .

Within a few rods of the church was a students' lodging house. In an upper room that same Sunday morning sat two students playing cards. As the church bells rang, an uneasy look came over the face of one. "I suppose mother would rather have me go to church than do this," he said to his chum, "but there's no room for us in the chapel, and I don't like sitting in the gallery of the South church, so it's really easier to stay at home."

It so chanced that he had dined at the home of the elderly man the very night before, but he had never thought of asking the young man to sit with him in church. Yet to the father's eyes the pew never looked so empty as on that bright December morning.

IV.

The Friday Morning Club was discussing the beauties of the architecture at the World's Fair. A great scrap book of pictures cut from illustrated magazines was passed around, and after that scores of beautiful photographs. "What an endless lot of photographs you have, Amy!" said one, as her hostess drew out another thick pile of them from a great chest of drawers.

"Yes, there are more than a thousand in those drawers," she replied, "but they are hardly ever opened from one year's end to another."

. . . . . .

A half mile away a lonely, nervous invalid sat in his wheeled-chair, doomed never to leave that little room until one day he should be carried out once and for all. The glow of pleasure which had rested for a moment on his drawn face when he opened the illustrated paper just brought him by the postman had faded away. The pictures were coarsely printed and an offense to the keenly artistic taste of a man who, before poverty and illness had darkened his life, had, by his profession, continually trained his eye and taste to a keen appreciation of the beautiful. But poverty and friendlessness cut off all chance of enjoyment which had cheered many a weary hour of his lonely life.

Just then Amy was putting away her photographs, and it was all she could do to push the drawer back into its place, it was so full. "There! good-bye, for a year at least," sang she, as she hurried off to get ready for the Friday Morning club.—Delia Lyman Porter in Congregationalist.

A P. S.

The Lady—"Come along, ducky. He ain't no gent, that he ain't."

The Ducky—"'Is blessin' an not a bloomin' copper. (Indignantly). May the blessin' ov God follow ye, an—niver overtake ye!"

General (when bullet proof uniforms become common)—"What have you learned?" Aide-de-Camp—"Victory will soon perch upon our banners. We have filled the enemy's clothes so full of lead that they can't move another step without undressing." —Tid-Bits.

"Which do you think is correct," asked the studious young woman, "'I would rather go home,' or 'I had rather go home?'" "Neither," replied Cholly Nairgo. "I'd rather stay here."—Washington Star.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Knights of the Maccabees.

The State Commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedies fail." Signed F. W. Stevens, State Commander.—Why not give this great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free at LeGro & Lynde's, Palmer; G. L. Keeney's, Monson; F. A. Spencer's; Ware.

It May Do as Much For You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called Kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all live[illegible] and kidney troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c for large bottles. At LeGro & Lynde's, Palmer; G. L. Keeney's, Monson, F. A. Spencer's, Ware.

"I WOULD RATHER DIE!"

On the third floor of an ordinary lodging house in the City of Brooklyn was found the body of a lodger, with a revolver by his side and a bullet in his head. In his pocket was found a book in which was written:

"I am tired of life because I am suffering from consumption. I would try to work but it is useless while I have no hope of getting better."

What a commentary on our boasted civilization! A poor wretch, suffering from what he supposed was an incurable disease, snuffs out his flickering life with a bullet. Where did he get the idea that his disease was incurable? From an old-time theory which modern investigation has exploded. Many diseases may be considered incurable, but that does not make them so. During the past few years scientists have discovered, in the tuberculosis germs, the cause of consumption. Their investigations have found a cure for the malady, in Ozone and Guaiacol. These agents destroy the germs which produce the disease. Compounded with pure Cod Liver Oil, they form Ozomulsion, which is sold by all Druggists. This remedy cures consumption and all lung troubles. It first destroys the cause of disease—the poisonous germs which produce it—and then restores the patient to perfect health. The Ozone and Guaiacol kill the germs. The Cod Liver Oil provides the flesh and strength. That is the principle on which this medicine works. It is both rational and reasonable; and it is doing more for the cure of lung troubles than any other preparation.

For Sale by O. P. ALLEN, Druggist,
Palmer, - - Mass.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE

IS THE BEST. FIT FOR A KING.

$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF.
$4 $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO.
$3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES.
$2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S. EXTRA FINE.
$2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES.
LADIES'
$3. $2.50 $2. $1.75
BEST DONGOLA.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE.
W. L. DOUGLAS,
BROCKTON, MASS.

Over One Million People wear the
W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes
All our shoes are equally satisfactory
They give the best value for the money.
They equal custom shoes in style and fit.
Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed.
The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole
From $1 to $3 saved over other makes.
If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by

ED. GOODES, PALMER. 21 40

ELECTRIC TELEPHONE

Sold outright, no rent, no royalty. Adapted to City, Village or Country. Needed in every home, shop, store and office. Greatest convenience and best seller on earth.

Agents make from $5 to $50 per day. One in a residence means a sale to all the neighbors. Fine instruments, no toys, works anywhere, any distance. Complete, ready for use when shipped. Can be put up by any one, never out of order, no repairing, lasts a life time. Warranted. A money maker. Write W. P. Harrison & Co., Clerk 10, Columbus, O

DRINK LIPTON'S TEAS

Direct From The Tea Gardens.
Fragrant! Rich! Delicious!

AWARDED HIGHEST HONORS AT THE WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO.

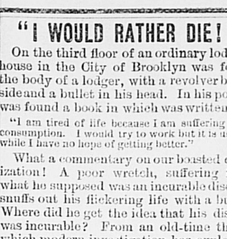
Genuine only when supplied in "Original" Patent Air-tight Canisters bearing grower's name:

LIPTON, TEA PLANTER, CEYLON.

These delicious Teas are used in almost every home in the Old Country. Lipton's "No. 1" is unanimously declared to be The Finest Tea The World Can Produce.

SOLD BY
J. E. SHAW, Palmer. W. N. FLYNT & SONS, Monson.
J. E. BROWN & CO., Three Rivers. C. L. HOLDEN, Bondsville.

RICHMOND STRAIGHT CUT No. 1 CIGARETTES



MADE FROM
THE BRIGHTEST, MOST DELICATELY FLAVORED AND HIGHEST COST GOLD LEAF GROWN IN VIRGINIA.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Who are willing to pay a little more than the price charged for ordinary trade cigarettes, will find this brand superior to all others.

ALLEN & GINTER, RICHMOND, VA.
THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., Successor.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

USE BARNES' INK
A. S. BARNES & CO., 56 E. 10th St., N. Y.

CHAUTAUQUA NURSERY CO.

Offer Liberal Terms to Agents.
Salary and expenses or commission. High grade stock at low prices. New specialties. Seed Potatoes, etc.

MEN WANTED
in every town. Steady work. Pay weekly. Address
H. B. WILLIAMS, SEC'Y, PORTLAND, N. Y.

VEGETABLE, PULMONARY, BALSAM. The old, well known cure, —for— "Best in the World." Coughs, Colds and Consumption.
Originated by Lowe & Reed, 1826.
CUTLER BROS. & CO., Boston. 50c., $1.00.

GERMEA For Breakfast, prepared from California White Wheat. Delicious. Economical. Grocers sell it. The John T. Cutting Co., 153 Duane St., N. Y.

The Humane Driving Bit.
TREAT THE FAMILY PET TO ONE

ROBT. BONNER says if you try it you will use no other bit, FOR ALL KINDS of horses. It will control the most vicious horse without punishment.
Extra fine sample, solid nickel jointed or stiff mouth. Tested and Warranted. Sent for $1.
HUMANE BIT CO, Dept. F, NEWARK, N. J.

WANTED—A Few More Book Agents in this and adjoining Counties for
Our Journey Around the World,
A brand new book by Francis E. Clark, Pres't of the United Soc. of Christian Endeavor. The best chance to make money ever offered to all who want profitable work. A good agent in this vicinity can earn $100 a month. No hindrance, for We Pay Freight, Give Credit, Premium Copies, Free Outfit, and Exclusive Territory. For particulars, write to
A. D. WORTHINGTON & CO., Hartford, Ct.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

ARE U CONSUMPTIVE
Use Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cures the worst Cough, Weak Lungs, Debility, Indigestion, Pain, Take in time. 50 cts.
HINDERCORNS. The only sure cure for Corns. Stops all pain. 15c. at Druggists, or HISCOX & Co., N. Y.

CALIFORNIA, OREGON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO, AND ALL WESTERN POINTS.
Select Excursions from Chicago Every Day,
Via Chicago, Union Pacific, and Northwestern Line.
SHORTEST ROUTE. LOWEST RATES.
For handsome illustrated folder and detailed information address W. MASSEY, N. E. Pass. Agt., or J. S. SMITH, Trav. Pass

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 19, 1895. NUMBER 3.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 30 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counselor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B.&A.R.R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BOND, A. M., Manufacturer and Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, Tinware, Hardware, etc.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's.

WARE.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counselor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

PALMER LODGE, No. 190, I. O. O. F.
Meets every Wednesday evening in Commercial Block, Main street.
M. M. THOMAS, N. G. G. H. BRAY, Rec. Sec.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W.
Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in Grange Hall, Day's Block, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

POSTAL
Telegraph and Cable Co.
Office in Strong's Block,
PALMER, : : : : MASS.
Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the
UNITED STATES.
PROMPT SERVICE,
REASONABLE RATES,
ALL BUSINESS
STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

FINEST GROWN

FISH BAIT FOR SALE,
CHARLES S. RUGGLES,
Three Rivers, - Mass.

THE BOSTON STORE.
Did You Know About Our Easter Offerings?
THEY ARE ABSOLUTELY THE GREATEST VALUES
Monson Ladies have been ever asked to examine or to buy. The entire list of last week is strengthened by the addition of these several numbers—received since our first announcement of our 29c BARGAINS.

PERFUME DEPARTMENT.
AS AN EASTER OFFERING
We will give away FREE, with 1 ounce of our Perfume, a FINE TWISTED GLASS ATOMIZER with Metal "Sprayer."
Our Fine Perfume needs no printer's ink to recommend it, as it's both delicate and lasting.
35 cents per Ounce.
ODORS.
WHITE ROSE, APPLE BLOSSOM, LILLY OF THE VALLEY, HELIOTROPE, STEPHANOTIS.

BARGAINS IN SHOPPING BAGS.
Leather Shopping Bags, Alligator designs with Sateen tops. Regular 39c.
Easter price only 29c.

GRAET GLOVE BARGAIN.
Ladies 5-hook Glove in Tans only,
Easter price 89c per pair.

Special Dress Goods Bargain.
36 in. Tailors' Check Cheviots in all the leading shades and colorings.
Easter price 15c a yard.

SPECIAL HANDK'F. BARGAIN.
Children's Handkerchiefs, 1c each.
Ladies' Fine Lawn Handkerchiefs with plain and fancy borders,
Easter price, 6 for 29c.

Easter Offerings in Wrappers.
A variety of different styles in Calicoes and Sateens.
Easter price, 79c to $2.98.

Easter Offerings in Ladies' Waists.
In all the leading patterns, stripes and checks, short and long Waists.
Easter price, 69c and 98c

Easter Ties for Ladies and Children.
In Plaids, Stripes and Figured Silk—all colors.
For Easter 29c

EASTER LACE COLLARS.
In the newest Pointed Venice patterns, fine styles.
For Easter, 59c

The Boston Store,
T. H. TODD,
Monson, = = Mass.

HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS.
A FULL LINE OF
STABLE AND . . .
STREET BLANKETS
—AT—
WHOLESALE PRICES.
D. W. FOSKETT,
FOSKET'S MILLS.

PALMER
CASH TEA STORE.
THE PLACE TO BUY YOUR
Tea, Coffee, Spices and Crockery
Is at the Old Stand in the Cross Block. Bring in all your checks. Will deal square with all.
R. J. HENRY, CROSS BLOCK,
PALMER, MASS.

C. W. CROSS,
DENTIST.
OFFICE HOURS: 8 to 12 A. M., and 1.30 to 4.30 P. M.
CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK.

If you are going to use any
WALL PAPER
this spring it will
PAY YOU
to look at our line and get
OUR PRICES.
We have our NEW STOCK all in and know we are very bottom on prices.
WE WILL UNDERSELL
any city in the state of Massachusetts.
LeGRO & LYNDE,
DRUGGISTS,
Next Doo to Post Office, Palmer.

THE D. F. HOLDEN AGENCY,
PALMER, MASS.,
OFFERS FOR SALE,
FARMS
In Palmer, Monson, Wales, Holland, Brimfield, Hampden, Oakham, Leverett, Belchertown, Ware and Enfield, Mass., Mansfield, Ct. and Fitzwilliam, N. H., including hen farms of 3 to 5 acres, farms for cattle raising, dairy farms and stock farms for horses.
HOTELS
In Chatham, N. Y., Monson, Mass., Bridgeport, Ct., and Dover, N. H.
BUILDING LOTS
On Main, Park, Pond, Central, Knox and Walnut streets, Palmer, Mass., Main, Bourn, Ruggles and Pleasant streets, Three Rivers.
HOUSES
On Main, Park, Walnut, Central, South Main, Knox, Church and Pleasant streets, Fox and Converse avenues, Palmer, Mass.
In Three Rivers, Thorndike, Bondsville, Monson, West, Warren, Wales, East Brookfield and Springfield, Mass.
BUSINESS CHANCES.
Grocery, Boot and Shoe and Drug Stores, Hotels, Grist and Saw Mills.
Business Transactions
Confidential.
Should you have anything to dispose of call upon me, my terms are reasonable and I will use you right. Should you want to buy, you can do so through me and your offers will be entertained.
D. F. HOLDEN, PALMER, MASS.

Engraved Address Cards. Plate engraved and 100 cards printed, only $1.50. Styles change often—your old cards may be out of style, probably are—better have some new ones, with correct size of card and style of lettering. At the JOURNAL Office.

SMITH & MURRAY.
We want to apologize for an error in our Saturday's advertisement, viz.: Chocolate Almonds at the candy department, 10 cents a lb., should have been Cocoanut Almonds, 10 cents a lb.
SILKS.
Not a day but we're selling twice over as many silks as a year ago. Such a thing doesn't come by chance.
These must be deserving or there wouldn't be such persistent response.
It's a good deal to have quality, styles and prices right.
Here's for To-day's Trade. Quite a lot of fine Taffetas, mostly checks, Chine and figures that have been favorites at a dollar a yard—but we have many at a dollar—and we are short of seventy-five-cent quality, so we will sell this entire lot to-day at 75 cents a yard.
It's as good a dollar's worth as has been sold this season at a dollar.
Mail orders had better be in to day to get these.
Court Square entrance.
Spring Cloakings.
If you are looking for cloth to make sleeves, or new garments for the little ones, you're most likely to find it here.
Diagonal Cloakings in Navy, Brown and Black, 52 inch, $1.37½ a yard.
Fancy Mixed Cloakings, 50 inches wide, 75 cents a yard.
Finer grade 54 inch, $1 a yard.
Center store, left.
Boys' Clothing.
It's wonderful how fast the people are knowing where to get their boy's clothes.
Many a mother is proud of her boy in the suit bought here last week.
And there will be others.
SMITH & MURRAY.

COAL, BALED HAY, STRAW.
Lehigh Chestnut Coal - - - - $6.00
" Stove " - - - - - 6.00
" Egg " - - - - - 5.50
Half ton lot of Stove and Chestnut Coal - 3.15
Lackawanna Stove Coal - - - - - 5.75
Half ton " " - - - - 3.00
Lackawanna Egg Coal - - - - 5.40
No. 1 Baled Hay, - - - - - - - 15.00 per ton
Stock Hay, - - - - - - - 13.00 " "
Baled Hay, - - - - - - - 14.00 " "
SPECIAL PRICES ON CAR LOAD LOTS.
RALPH CLIFFORD,
Rear of Monson House, - Monson, Mass.

CHARLES E. LYNCH.
THE BATTLE OF THE CLOTHIERS.
Of all the battles of the year, from croquet to football,
The tournament of the clothiers is the one that beats them all.
The battle comes each season now, with tremendous whoop and ring,
And like the birds and bock signs is a harbinger of spring.
The first engagement's over, the result each schoolboy knows:—
The day was won by CHARLES E. LYNCH, with the famous STEIN-BLOCH Clothes.
The ground was well contested though, the stubborn fight was hot,—
And among the old contestants, there were new ones on the spot.
Old "Bankrupt Stock" and "Ten Per Cent" kept closely to the wall,—
And some who plumed themselves last year, could not be seen at all.
Old "Own Our Stock" had changed his name, and put on some disguise,
But the burden of his "Forty Years" was plain to people's eyes.
His shield it bore a strange device, some thought it quite a hoodoo,
"Whate'er we do, we do, we do:—whate'er we do, we do do!"
New-comers they were welcomed, though they whisper'd soft and nice,—
And hinted on the quiet only they were "cutting ice."
With sheepskin targes, stick claymores, and unskilled hands to wield,
They dreamed to cope with Lynch's blade and STEIN-BLOCH graven shield.
Great "Twenty-Seven Stores" was there, limped badly when he walked;—
And underneath his heavy load the poor old fellow balked.
The champion had the same proud steed he rode a year ago.
With modest mein he strode the field, with stately step and slow.
The crowd set up a mighty shout, and swore 'twere sight to see
So young and noble man and steed display such dignity.
The day was cold and rainy,—the crowd it couldn't wait;—
So without preliminaries the knights went at it straight,
There was ripping, there was nipping, booming, skipping, bang! bang! bang!
Rushing, crushing, munching, crunching, sudden bunching of the gang.
Last year the fight was furious, "and the mud and feathers flew,
And the steam from off the horses hid the gory scene from view."
But it "wa'nt a patch on this year,"—for they fought o'er vale and ridge,
And the sweat from off the horses raised the river to the bridge.
The sudden inundation caused a panic, and 'twas found
That the audience and fighters had to move to higher ground.
And they fought way up past Holyoke, fought thro' storm and fought thro' calm,
And LYNCH was crowned the victor on the hights of Old Mt. Tom.
"How is it that this youngster LYNCH so grandly wins the day
And lays the others in the dust?" the hosts were wont to say.
Then spake a sage philosopher, a man of great renown:—
"Know all ye that this youngster keeps the best clothes in the town.
He's wide awake, alert,—for style he's always "up to date";—
Takes off his coat, goes in to win, while others stand and wait.
His clothes are models for the rest, of wondrous fit and grace,
And his courtesy in dealing makes his store a famous place.
And the children mothers brought last year have grown another inch,
But they buy their clothes and furnishings of stylish CHARLES E. LYNCH."

CHARLES E. LYNCH,
Promoter of Fashionable Clothing.
367 Main. SPRINGFIELD. 369 Main.
Your Money Refunded in Case of Any Dissatisfaction Whatever.

Lessons on the Violin or Piano.
Given by—
MISSES JULIA and LILY ALLEN.
4-32ks Cor. Church and Pleasant Sts., Palmer.

Riding Cheaper than Walking.
JUST think of BICYCLES at $5.00 and up. Of course they are "second hand," but in many of them there is a world of wear. New bargains every day. Don't fail to write or see
G. M. Hendee,
8-1 Springfield, Mass.

E. S. BRYANT, D. M. D.
DENTIST.
LYNDE'S BLOCK, - - PALMER.

THE CATTLE CASES TRIED.

Heavy Penalties Imposed for Violating the Quarantine Laws.

The district court room was crowded to its utmost capacity last Saturday morning by farmers from all parts of Eastern Hampden who were interested in the trial of Walter A. Williams and Merrill A. Stebbins of Monson for violations of the laws concerning diseased cattle. W. O. Underwood of Boston appeared for the commonwealth, and W. W. Leach of Palmer for the defense. There were ten counts against Williams, in substance as follows:

Knowingly selling for food the carcass of a black and white cow, knowing it to be diseased.

Knowingly selling the meat of a cow for food, knowing the same to be diseased.

Preventing, obstructing and interfering with a duly appointed and qualified inspector of animals in the discharge of his duty, by preventing him from entering a stable for the purpose of examining a cow.

Preventing, obstructing and interfering with an agent of the State Board of Cattle Commissioners, by preventing him from taking possession of and killing a cow as ordered to do by the board, the cow being affected with tuberculosis.

Knowingly breaking a quarantine lawfully imposed by a duly appointed and qualified inspector by slaughtering a red and white cow.

* Knowingly removing from the stable a red and white cow lawfully quarantined by an inspector.

* Disobeying the lawful order of an inspector by removing a red and white cow contrary to the orders of said inspector.

Knowingly breaking a quarantine lawfully established by slaughtering a black cow.

† Knowingly removing from a barn a black cow duly quarantined.

† Disobeying the lawful order of an inspector by removing from a stable a black cow, contrary to the order of an inspector.

* Different descriptions of the same act.
† Different descriptions of the same act.

Against Stebbins there were five counts:

Knowingly selling a cow, knowing and having reasonable cause to believe said cow to be affected with a contagious disease known as tuberculosis.

Knowingly concealing a cow, knowing and having reasonable cause to believe said cow to be affected with a contagious disease known as tuberculosis.

* Knowingly removing a cow lawfully quarantined by an inspector.

* Disobeying a lawful order of an inspector by removing a cow contrary to the order of said inspector.

Knowingly cause and authorize to be removed from his premises a cow, knowing and having reasonable cause to believe that said cow was affected with a contagious disease known as tuberculosis.

* Different descriptions of the same act.

The first witness was C. M. Gage, town clerk of Monson, who testified to the appointment of Fred D. Rogers as an inspector of animals and provisions, and that Mr. Rogers had qualified.

Mr. Rogers then testified to having examined, Jan. 11th, the cattle of Merrill H. Stebbins, and quarantining a red cow with white belly and a hole in its right ear, the animal being affected with tuberculosis. The animal was quarantined in the north stanchion of the stable with the other cattle. A notice was given Stebbins that day, and on the 15th a notice was sent the board of cattle commissioners; the board of health were also notified. He was next in the barn Feb. 25, when he went there with Dr. Milton H. Williams, sent by the state board to test the animal with tuberculin. Stebbins met them and objected to having the cow tested, as he claimed she was about to calve, but the inspector said the cow quarantined by him showed no indication of such a condition. On entering the barn the cow was not to be found, but in the stanchion next to where the cow should be was another cow similar in color, and Stebbins remarked "I moved her one place because she was about to calve," but he was told that this was not the cow which had been quarantined, and did not deny it. Inspector Rogers and Dr. Williams then went to the barn of Walter H. Williams, and there found the cow which should have been in Stebbins's barn. While there Stebbins came in, and on being told by Rogers that the cow there was the one quarantined in his (Stebbins's) barn, admitted that it was, and admitted having sold it to Williams.

On cross examination counsel for the defense commenced to question as to the witness's knowledge of tuberculosis, but counsel for the commonwealth contended that this was immaterial to the point at issue, which was, "had a legal quarantine been established and had it been broken?" and he was upheld by the court. It was brought out that after the cow had been quarantined Stebbins went to the house of the inspector and asked him to release the animal, but was told that the matter was out of his (the inspector's) power.

Dr. Milton H. Williams of Boston testified to being an agent of the state board of cattle commissioners, employed to test cows with tuberculin, kill those condemned and conduct post mortem examinations on those killed. He went to the barn of Mr. Stebbins on Feb. 25th under orders to test with tuberculin a red cow with a white belly and a hole in her right ear. The animal was not to be found. He then went to Williams's barn and found the cow which the description on his orders called for. Mr. Stebbins was there, and when he was told that was the cow wanted remarked: "I sold that cow to Williams and warranted her all right."

Mr. Williams was put on the stand, but couldn't say whether in the last two months he had owned a cow of the above description or not; didn't think he had, but he had not examined his stock all closely; had at present about 30 cows; was buying and selling all the time, and had bought so many cows of Stebbins that he couldn't remember all of their distinguishing marks. Had never bought of Stebbins a red cow with a white belly and a hole in the right ear; never pointed out such a cow in his barn and said he got her of Stebbins. A man on one of the seats was asked to stand up and Williams was asked if he ever told this man he had bought such a cow and she was in his stable sound and all right; he denied that he had ever done so. He had in his stable a roan cow which he had been told had been quarantined; he didn't buy her of Stebbins, but traded with him for her.

This ended the case of the commonwealth, and the defense also rested its case. After a recess of 30 minutes for dinner the cases against Williams were taken up.

Inspector Rogers testified to having visited Williams's place on the 7th of last December and quarantining three cows, a black, a red, and a light red and mixed, notices being delivered to Williams, to the cattle commissioners and the board of health. He also went there later when the animals were tested with tuberculin. On February 25th went there again with Dr. Williams to kill the cows, but could find only the red cow, the other two being gone. Williams was asked where they were, and replied that he had killed one and sold it, and had killed and eaten the other. Went to the barn again March 13th with Agent Waters of the state board to kill the red cow, which was still in the barn. Sheriff Studley of Palmer accompanied them. After a consultation with Mr. Williams three appraisers were chosen and taken to Palmer to be sworn in; when they returned the barn was found locked, and on the demand of Sheriff Studley to open it Williams refused.

Dr. Williams testified that he went to Williams's barn by order of the cattle commissioners with warrants calling for the killing of three cows. First looked for the black cow, but could not find it; asked Williams what had become of it, and he replied that he had killed and sold it. The red and mixed cow could not be found, and Williams stated that he had killed and sold it. The red cow was there, and Dr. Williams stated that he was there to kill it if its value could be agreed upon. The owner thought it was worth $30, but Dr. Wilkins thought $25 would be a fair price far it. Williams refused to have the cow killed, saying that "No one shall take that animal from my barn unless he is a bigger man than I am, unless I get cash in my fist."

W. A. Waters of Boston, an agent of the state board, was sent to Williams's barn with a warrant to kill a red cow. He got Inspector Rogers and Sheriff Studley and went to the barn, where he found the cow. Mr. Williams was not at home, but was found by the officer. He was told that the agent would be back in the afternoon to kill the cow. Williams said he wouldn't have the cow killed unless he had the money for her first. After dinner Waters returned, and after consultation with Williams each chose one appraiser, the two choosing the third. They went to Palmer to be sworn in. When they returned and went to go into the barn it was found locked. Waters then directed the officer to demand an entrance of Williams, which he did and it was refused. Waters then dropped the matter and left the place.

Sheriff Studley of Palmer was called and told the same story as Waters regarding the visit to the barn and the subsequent proceedings.

Lawrence S. Ryan, an employe of the Pinkerton detective agency, stated that he had visited Williams on the Monday preceding the trial, asking if he was the celebrated Mr. Williams who was concerned in the celebrated cow case, and received an affirmative reply. Ryan pretended to be a newspaper correspondent, and won William's confidence. He asked Williams if his grievance was against the law or the agents, and Williams said the agents. Asked Williams if it was true he had prevented agents of the cattle commission from killing his cow, and he said yes. Asked if he had stumbled into the case or if it was premeditated, and he replied that it was premeditated, having been carefully considered. Asked him if he had killed two cows which had been quarantined, and he replied yes. One he had sold to his customers, and they had made no complaint about the meat; the other had been eaten by his family. He took this course because he didn't consider Inspector Rogers competent. On being asked if he still had the cow which had been ordered killed, replied that he had, and would bet $100 that she was sound and all right. Williams then took Ryan into the barn and pointing out an animal said: "That's the cow." Ryan was the man who was asked to stand up where Williams could see him, Williams denying that he had ever told him he had bought a quarantined cow.

This was the end of the government's case, and the defense offered no witnesses. Both cases were argued together.

For the defense W. W. Leach began by ridiculing the amount of stir being made over tuberculosis, characterizing it as a scheme kept alive by a lot of hangers-on for the salaries they get out of the state in connection with the matter, and predicting that the present hue and cry would soon be dropped for something new. The whole matter was simply a soft snap for a lot of state officials to go about condemning and killing the farmers' cattle, without regard to their fitness as judges, and utterly ignoring the opinions of men who have had a lifetime of experience with animals of this class. After quoting the article of the constitution regarding the rights of persons to their personal property, and declaring the law unconstitutional, he claimed that no valid quarantine had been established in the Stebbins case, as by the order of quarantine the animal had not been isolated from the others, but had been ordered confined with them. But if a valid quarantine had been established, it was made ineffective and inoperative because of the delay in sending notice to the cattle commissioners, Inspector Rogers having testified that he quarantined the animal on the 11th, and sent his notice to the cattle commissioners the 15th, whereas the law says "immediate" notice shall be sent, by virtue of which fact the defendant was not bound by the order of quarantine.

For the commonwealth Mr. Underwood said he did not propose to go into the question of the constitutionality of the law, as the court in which these cases were being tried was not called upon to pass upon that matter. The law was on the statute books, and all this court had to do was to decide whether or not it had been violated. It made no difference whether the animals quarantined had or had not tuberculosis in fact; the fact that they were quarantined was proof that they were suspected, and so became in the eyes of the law diseased. It was for the court to determine whether or not a legal quarantine had been established, and if established had it been broken? He claimed that one had been established and broken, and asked for a conviction and sentence of fine on the counts covering this part of the complaint in each case. The matter of selling a diseased animal he held to be of much greater gravity, as in the passage of such an animal along the highways, the mingling of it with other cows and the liability to use its milk with that of others was a menace to the public health. The selling of the meat of a diseased animal was a still greater offense. It was the policy of the commonwealth to stamp out contagious diseases; tuberculosis in animals was the same as consumption in human beings; it was a contagious disease, and the danger to the public health from tuberculous milk and beef was great. In the Williams case the defendant admitted having killed and sold an animal which had been condemned by the state board as having tuberculosis, and having killed and eaten another; the law expressly forbid the killing of such animals or the use of their product or flesh for food, and provided for the punishment of violations with a fine not exceeding $500, or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both. In view of the gravity of the matter he asked for a conviction and sentence of both fine and imprisonment on the counts relating to the killing and sale of the diseased animals.

Judge Robinson held that by the evidence it had been clearly shown that Rogers was a duly qualified inspector of animals in the employ of the town as provided by the statutes; that in quarantining the various animals he had followed the usual custom. As to any carelessness resulting in a discrepancy in the date of the copy sent the cattle commissioners in the Stebbins case, that was for the commissioners to settle. He found that the animals had been all duly placed in quarantine, which the defendants broke knowingly; also that they had violated the other provisions of the act as charged, and found them guilty, but reserved the sentence until 11 a. m. of Tuesday.

When the men appeared for sentence Tuesday Judge Robinson stated that he had taken into consideration the interests of the cattle owners, and the larger interest of the public as a whole, the latter affecting every individual in the community. If the defendants had pleaded ignorance of the law, or a lack of knowledge of the magnitude of the danger involved by the sale of diseased animals, then a light sentence might have been imposed. The evidence showed in the case of Stebbins that he had asked the inspector to release his cow, but was informed that it was out of the inspector's power, the inspector then getting the statute and reading it to Stebbins, so that he knew what the law was. In the case of Williams the evidence did not disclose where he obtained his knowledge of the law, but he admitted that the knew what he was about and what the law was. So in the imposition of the penalty Judge Robinson took into account the fact that the defendants knew they were violating the law when the acts were committed.

In the case of Stebbins, on the count charging him with disobeying the order of the inspector by releasing a duly quarantined cow, he was fined $20; on the count charging him with selling a diseased cow he was fined $75 and sentenced to ten days in the house of correction.

In the case of Williams, on the count charging him with preventing Inspector Waters from killing a condemned cow, he was fined $20; on the count charging him with selling the meat of a diseased cow he was fined $100 and sentenced to thirty days in the house of correction.

An appeal was taken, and Stebbins's bail was fixed at $400, which was furnished by Sherman M. Stebbins of Monson and Dennis B Sullivan of Belchertown. Williams's bail was made $600, and was furnished by S. S. Nichols of Monson and M. D. Sullivan of Palmer.

It is claimed by many that tuberculosis is not such a terrible disease after all, that there is very little of it, and that no danger of contracting it from diseased animals arises. To such the following, sent to the daily papers from Providence, R. I., under date of the 16th, may prove interesting:

William H. Hayden, for 20 years connected with the local newspapers as reporter, and at one time engaged on the Worcester Telegram, is reported dying of tuberculosis, at the home of his sister, in the village of Natick. Dr. Fecteau was summoned Saturday, and since that time a consultation has resulted in the conclusion that the disease is an awfully developed case of cow tuberculosis, which had its origin in diseasd milk or meat. Mr. Hayden has a daughter and other relatives in Lowell.

HAMPDEN.

The fourteenth Demorest contest was held in the Congregational church Monday evening, Ethel Kellogg winning the prize. No more contests will be held until fall, when a gold medal contest will open the work of the season.

M. H. Warren's chimney took fire Tuesday morning and the house barely escaped being destroyed. Mr. and Mrs. Warren were at breakfast when the alarm was given. Only by the early discovery was the house saved, as it was found to be on fire, taking from the flue.

WALES.

Charles C. Smith is very ill. A council of physicians has been held, and it is said that he cannot recover.

Miss Kinsman, who is visiting her brother, Doctor H. Kinsman, taught school Tuesday for Miss Colburn, who was indisposed.

The body of Mrs. Lois Moulton, a former resident here, was carried through town Wednesday for interment in Brimfield.

A. P. Pepper and wife, George Dimmick and wife and William Flynt and wife were summoned Thursday to Brimfield to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Haly.

Owing to rise in meat eggs have gone up three cents per dozen and now sell at eighteen cents. They got down to fifteen cents, when the hens went on a strike and merchants were unable to get any; they have compromised at 28 cents, and they have gone to laying again.

Rev. G. W. Davis and O. C. Switzer, delegates of the Baptist church, visited Charles Stone, who was seriously injured at the Monson fire, Tuesday and found him slowly improving. Mr. Stone is a member of the church here, and will be somewhat assisted from the fund left the church for the benefit of its worthy poor, as everything he had was burned. He escaped by jumping from a window, and was very seriously injured.

PALMER NEWS.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Seed potatoes, Maine stock. Fresh dandelions, lettuce, radishes, new maple sugar and syrup, direct from Vermont. All at Thompson's market.

Who Get The Licenses.

The selectmen held a meeting Monday evening and granted these licenses, all being first and fourth classes, the price being the same as last year, $1700: E. R. Pierce & Co., Converse House, Palmer; M. D. Sullivan & Co., Nassowanno House, Palmer; L. W. Caryl & Co., Palmer; T. J. Clifford & Co., Clinton House, Thorndike; J. F. Hartnett & Co., Three Rivers; M. Moriarty & Co., Bondsville. These are the ones who are now holding them. O. P. Allen and LeGro & Lynde of Palmer were granted druggists' licenses. C. E. Shumway was appointed a special police at Bondsville.

W. E. Breckenridge is home from Philadelphia for the Easter vacation.

E. Albion Barton of Uxbridge spent Sunday as the guest of E. E. Brooks.

S. W. Smith is painting his Main street house occupied by Oliver LaSalle.

A. L. Hills spent the latter part of last week and the first few days of this in Boston.

Horace Paine has been drawn as juror for the coming term of the supreme judicial court.

L. B. Fish is building an addition to his recently-purchased house on Thorndike street.

Enos Calkins and wife are spending a couple of weeks in Cambridge and New Haven.

Henry Loomis of New Haven spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Albert Loomis of Pleasant street.

O. P. Allen attended the annual meeting of the American Sons of the Revolution today at Lexington.

Dr. William Holbrook is able to be out once more, after an illness of about a week with a severe cold.

Mr. and Mrs. James McLaughlin of Stafford Springs were guests over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cross of Boston spent Sunday with Mrs. Cross's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Eastman.

Judge Robinson attended the institution of the new Masonic lodge at Springfield Wednesday evening.

G. A. Bills, chief engineer of the fire district, has been appointed by the selectmen fire warden of the town.

E. C. Sexton left Monday for Concord, where he has a position in the reformatory. Mrs. Sexton will leave next Monday.

H. McGilp, who has been confined to the house several weeks with a severe injury to one leg, is able to be out on crutches.

The telephone which the town furnishes the fire warden has been moved from the residence of W. H. Hitchcock to that of G. A. Bills.

Dr. A. C. McGregory, professor of physics and astronomy in Colgate University at Hamilton, Pa., is visiting his brother, H. W. McGregory.

On account of the small attendance at church last Sunday because of the storm, the choir of the Universalist church will repeat the Easter music next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Knox and daughter Gertrude of Providence, R. I., formerly of Palmer, are spending the week in town, the guests of Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Wilkins.

C. W. Johnson has bought of the estate of Dr. Stowe the piece of mowing land between the Rogers-Osgood hat shop and the river, containing about three and a half acres.

There was a large attendence at the pink tea given Tuesday evening by the ladies of the Baptist church. A splendid supper was served, and a neat sum was cleared by the ladies.

Porter Plympton hired the King farm near West Brimfield last Saturday for one year, and on Tuesday leased it to A. E. Carter of Springfield, who will take possession immediately.

About $20 was cleared by the lecture on Japan in the Universalist church Tuesday evening by Rev. Dr. Perin of Boston. The lecture was extremely interesting, but the audience was not large.

By an oversight the name of F. D. Barton was omitted from the list of the fire district officers elected last week. Mr. Barton was elected clerk and treasurer by a handsome majority over his competitor.

Chin Sing, the proprietor of the Chinese laundry on Main street, has adopted a new price list, making some reduction in his charges, and calls attention to the fact in an advertisement in another column.

Sarah Orcutt died at the town farm early Tuesday morning at the age of 73, having been an inmate of the farm for over 60 years. She was born near Whipple's Crossing, and went to the town farm when about 10 years old.

J. A. Ferguson, who has been employed for some time in the jewelry store of E. S. Brooks, has left and gone into business for himself in Hartford. He is succeeded by J. E. Miller, who was formerly with Mr. Brooks.

The firm of Downey & McBride, barbers on Central street, has been dissolved, John McBride continuing the business. The shop has heretofore been open only evenings, but F. M. Mason has been engaged, and hereafter the shop will be open all day as well.

The Boston and Albany road is to place a new iron bridge over the Quaboag river, just west of the Palmer station. It will consist of two spans of about 65 feet each, and will be stronger than the present bridge. The cost will be about $8000, and R. F. Hawkins of Springfield has the contract.

The Easter offering for the choir of St. Paul's church Sunday amounted to about $60. Some time ago the children of the Sunday school were given five cents each, to increase in four ways, the results to be announced last Sunday, and about $45 was received; the greatest increase was $7.

Edward St. John, who has been wanted by Southbridge officers for about two years, was captured in Thorndike Monday forenoon by Deputy Sheriff Studley and turned over to the Southbridge authorities. He had been in Thorndike only about three days when Mr. Studley nabbed him.

Charles E. Dewey and J. Stever Knox have been appointed census enumerators for the town of Palmer. Mr. Dewey will have that section of the town north of the Ware River railroad and the village of Thorndike, Mr. Knox having the remainder. The work must be done in 20 days from the first of May, nine hours being a day's work, for which $3 is paid.

The test stroke of the fire alarm bell, which has heretofore been struck about 9 in the evening, will, after next Monday, be struck between five and six. By this change, if the bell should fail to respond by reason of any break in the wire or fault in the apparatus, there would be time to look up the error and repair it before night, while the linemen could see to work.

Selectman Atkins takes exceptions to the statement made last week that he requested Mr. Hitchcock to go to Monson with the steamer when that town called for help. What he did tell Mr. Hitchcock was that the best way to do would be to ring in an alarm, thus calling out the department at once and getting the apparatus under way the quickest. The steamer went to Monson under the care of G. A. Bills, the newly-elected chief engineer of the fire district.

The overseers of the poor and the selectmen met at the town farm last Saturday and decided on the improvements to be made. An addition 26 by 32 feet, two stories and basement, will be built for the inmates; it will have six sleeping rooms on the lower floor and three on the upper, the remaining space, which can be made into three more rooms at any time when necessary, being left for a ward. The basement will have a cement floor and will contain the heating apparatus, which will probably be steam.

The retail price of beef has gone up two cents a pound, occasioned by the alleged scarcity of cattle in the west, where it is claimed the drought of last summer and the extreme cold of last winter has cut off the supply of live animals 30 per cent. There are claims however that the scarcity is occasioned by a combine on the part of the packing houses in the west, and the ag

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 19, 1895.

PALMER NEWS.

More Trouble in the Cattle Cases.

After the sentence of Messrs. Stebbins and Williams in the cattle cases Tuesday, Williams consented to have the cow killed which he had previously prevented Agent Waters from killing, agreed upon the value of the animal and signed the necessary papers. After dinner Mr. Waters, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Studley, went to Williams's barn and asked him to lead out the cow; but when he brought out the animal Mr. Waters claimed it was not the one described in his killing warrant, and refused to kill it. The cow was described in his papers as a red cow with a small star in its forehead. Mr. Waters had particularly noted this star when he was at the barn on the 13th of March, and the animal brought to him Tuesday had no such star. Mr. Williams was positive that the animal was the same one which had been quarantined, tested with tuberculin and condemned, but Waters was not satisfied and sent for Inspector Rogers of Monson, who quarantined the animal. He was also positive that this was not the one he had quarantined, and Mr. Waters returned to Boston. It looked very much as though an attempt had been made to have the inspectors kill a healthy animal, in which case those who are opposing the work of the state would seemingly have gained a point in their line of action.

Main street is getting decidedly dry, and the watering cart is needed.

James Duffy has completed the course at Childs's Business College in Springfield.

Mrs. E. E. Hill of Red Wing, Minn., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Chilson.

The telephone company is replacing its poles east of this village with new and heavier ones.

The Fireman's Relief Association will hold its adjourned annual meeting next Monday evening.

Fred Landers, for a long time employed in the iron foundry, has moved his family to Greenfield.

Miss Addie Rogers of Albany, a former teacher in the grammar school here, is visiting friends in town.

Rev. A. F. Bailey, pastor of the Unitarian church at Barre, will preach in St. Paul's Universalist church next Sunday.

Mass at St. Thomas's Catholic church will be at 9 next Sunday morning, with Sunday school at 3 p. m. and vespers at 7.30.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational church sent five delegates to the annual county convention at Chicopee to-day.

Mrs. Rufus Flynt has resigned as director of music at the Congregational church, to take effect as soon as her successor is engaged.

W. A. Weld has sold his boot and shoe business to W. R. Milligan, who has moved from the Nassowanno block to the store in the Converse House block.

At the Congregational church next Sunday morning Rev. Mr. Jenkins will take for his subject "Revivals," and in the evening will speak on "David's Problem."

Dr. Schneider, now engaged with the hospital in Springfield as house physician, is to leave there the first of May and will locate in Palmer, with an office in Eager's block.

The monthly meeting of the Western Massachusetts Association of Universalist Ministers was held in St. Paul's church Monday. Dinner was served at the Converse House.

Some young boys who had been admitted to the state primary school took it into their heads to run away last week, but were captured near Blanchardville. They said they were going to Boston.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will give a maple sugar supper in the vestry of the Congregational church this evening, the proceeds to go toward supporting the water tank on Main street the coming summer.

The majority of the stores in the place closed at noon to-day, by reason of an agreement made early in the weak, on account of this being "Patriot's Day." The schools and banks were also closed, and no freights were run on the Boston and Albany road.

The Ladies' Social Union of the Universalist church will give a "Seven" party next Tuesday evening, when everything will go by sevens. The admission will be seven cents, ice cream seven cents, seven numbers on the entertainment programme, etc.

The last entertainment in the high school course will be given in the Congregational church next Friday evening by the scholars of the school, and will consist of vocal and instrumental music, readings, etc. Tickets will go on sale next Tuesday at 9 a. m. at LeGro & Lynde's, the price being 35 cents.

While F. U. Wetmore of the state primary school was riding a bicycle to Palmer last evening he had the misfortune to come in contact with a rut in the road, and as he was riding at a good rate of speed was precipitated to the ground, and after gaining his feet it was seen that he was somewhat worse for the fall.

A Three Rivers horse which became frightened on Main street Wednesday afternoon indulged in a short but lively run, finally colliding with H. W. Smith's buggy in front of his store, springing one of the axles of the buggy and smashing a wheel of the road cart to which the runaway horse was hitched. No one was hurt.

N. L. Cleveland died at his home Monday morning. Last October he was injured in the yard of the New London Northern road by falling between the cars while pulling a coupling pin when the cars were in motion, and was badly crushed and bruised, never recovering from the effects. He leaves a widow and four small children.

Michael and Dominick Comfort and Michael Angelo, the Italians who so murderously assulted Michael Smith of Monson a few weeks ago, and who had been held without bail pending the result of Smith's injuries, were brought into court last Friday afternoon and placed under bonds of $500 each. Smith was unable to be in court, but is considered out of danger by his physician.

The case of Harry Lombard of Brimfield against the town of Palmer came up in the superior court at Springfield this week, but the plaintiff failed to appear and the case was non-suited. Lombard tied his horse to an electric light pole on Main street about a year ago; the pole had been wound with wire to prevent horses gnawing it, and in some way became charged with electricity sufficiently to give the horse quite a shock, which caused him to run away.

The Central Massachusetts Electric Company held its annual meeting last Friday and elected these officers: President, Charles E. Fish; vice-president, Rufus Flynt; clerk, W. W. Leach; treasurer, Charles B. Fiske; directors, Rufus Flynt, C. E. Fish, C. B. Fiske, W. W. Leach of Palmer, A. M. Young, N. D. Grannis, G. G. Blakeslee of Waterbury, Ct., W. H. Fairbanks, Edward Fairbanks of Warren and George C. Flynt of Monson.

Business has been light in the district court this week. Judgment was rendered last Saturday in the two civil suits of Carlos O. Moore of Ludlow against Emma F. Whitney of the same place, the finding being for the plaintiff in both suits, $10 and costs being awarded in one and $1 and costs in the other. Judgment was also rendered for the plaintiff in the suit of Sarah Mason of Palmer against Welsey A. Squier, administrator of the estate of the late Arba Squier, with damages of $25 and costs of $7.12. One new suit was entered, William H. Underwood against Ralph Clifford, both of Monson, an action of contract. In the criminal court Monday, John Todd of Monson paid $10 for having been drunk and disturbing the peace.

[For other Palmer news see 1st page.]

BONDSVILLE.

Mr. R. Richmond is quite sick with pneumonia.

Mrs. Aria Fuller is laid up with an attack of rheumatism.

G. W. Canterbury is building a refrigerator for Morris Moriarty.

G. W. Canterbury has resumed his former business as architect.

Miss Ora Parent returned to her studies at Smith College yesterday.

Austin Bond and bride are boarding at the Company's boarding house.

Richie Russell, Jr., is visiting friends in Whitinsville and Pontiac, R. I.

Mrs. Edward Holt of Seattle is visiting her brother, Charles Armstrong.

George Lee attended the gathering of Vermonters in Springfield Friday night.

James Breen, who has been seriously sick with pneumonia, is slowly on the gain.

Mrs. John Hobson of Ludlow was the guest of Mrs. Henry Hobson last week.

Quite a number of the Epworth League attended the convention at Monson to-day.

Mrs. Mary McKenney of Indian Orchard was the guest of Mrs. Thomas Bruce last week.

Edith Childs, who spent her vacation with her grandparents in Lowell, has returned home.

James Mellen of Lowell has taken the position as second-hand for his father in the bleachery.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Holt attended the Sons and Daughters of Vermont supper Friday evening.

Rev. F. J. Hale gave an interesting talk on the late war Sunday, it being the anniversary of President Lincoln's death.

Mrs. E. J. Fuller and son Phillip returned Saturday from Charlton, where they have been visiting Mrs. Fuller's parents.

The Boston Duck Co. is making general repairs in the house vacated by Supt. Gegenheimer, and it will be occupied by Supt. Hall.

N. S. Hubbard and daughter, Mrs. Mary Ormes, and granddaughter, Miss Ethel Ormes, of Brimfield, are guests of Mrs. James Fuller.

The Boston Duck Co. changed their time Monday morning, going in at half past 6 o'clock and out at 6 at night, and not working Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fuller celebrated the 55th anniversary of their marriage Tuesday. Their numerous friends wish them many happy returns of the day.

Alphons Recico has resigned his position as clerk for O. A. Parent, and will move his family to Canada, his former home. Arthur Bates of Monson takes his place.

John Moriarty, who has been watchman for the Boston Duck Co. a number of years, has resigned his position and has rented the old Minor farm, which is located about two miles from Ware village, and will occupy it immediately.

THREE RIVERS.

Mrs. Fred Henrichon is convalescent.

Mr. Mason is struggling with the grippe.

Miss Nellie Twiss has an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Butler has returned from Clifton Springs, N. Y.

Mrs. Gauthier has recovered from a severe attack of neuralgia.

Steven Dupond of Jewett City, Ct., is visiting relatives here.

Michael Murphy takes the position which S. McWhorter formerly held.

Miss Green has been able to attend to her duties in the mill office this week.

LaRiviere's store has an addition in the shape of a large and attractive sign.

Miss Alleetta Mills of Cottage City is the new principal of the grammar school.

Miss Martin has been spending these last five weeks visiting relatives in Boston.

The family of Mr. Rogers, who lives on the Palmer road, are shut up with diphtheria.

Charles Haynes received a fine specimen of horse flesh from Stafford Springs this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Page intend to begin keeping house in the near future in one of Mr. Paine's tenements.

R. C. Newell returned much benefitted in health Tuesday from his visit at Clifton Springs, N. Y.

Miss Lizzie Tetford, who went to Rockville, Ct., last week, has sent for her sister, as she has been taken ill.

Mrs. Freak and children are getting along very well now, and the contagious disease sign will soon be taken from the door.

Rev. W. R. Newhall of Wilbraham preached a very entertaining and instructive sermon last Sunday in the Union church.

Mrs. Wilson's brother, Mr. McKay, from Western Pennsylvania, has been spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson.

There was a small fire in the woods near the Burleigh bridge yesterday afternoon, probably caused by sparks from an engine.

W. H. Porter, after spending about three months at Webster, is back again and occupies the position he formerly held in C. E. Mason's drug store.

There has been some talk lately of forming a bicycle club here. As there are about fifty wheelman and the number keeps increasing, it would not be a bad idea to have a club.

A minstrel entertainment will be given by some of the young men of this place in the vestry of St. Anne's church next Tuesday evening. The proceeds are to go toward the purchase of a new pipe organ for the church.

Last Monday a goodly number of pupils resumed their tasks in fumigated rooms. Supt. Small sent up many new books and school supplies Thursday, as a number of the old books and much rubbish had been given to the flames.

One of our bicycle enthusiasts, while out luxuriating on his wheel the other evening, met with a serious accident. It seems that a "live pole" refused to listen to the warning bell—as a result he suddenly left terra firma, and the unfortunate rider's wheel had to be carried home for repairs.

Last Sunday night a large congregation filled the vestry of the Baptist church to hear the second lecture on "Dispensational Truth." The third lecture next Sunday night will be on the "Times of the Gentiles," commencing with the world's four great empires, represented by the great image in the second chapter of the book of Daniel. These lectures are illustrated by a large chart. In order to make it more comfortable for those who attend the services will be held in the auditorium in the future. Pastor Weeks will take for his subject, Sunday morning "Lazarus at the Gate."

THORNDIKE.

John Lyons and family moved this week to Northampton.

Charles McCarthy, Jr., is about again after several days' illness.

George Williams left on Monday for his new position in Millbury.

Dennis Crowley of Worcester is visiting his mother for a few days.

James Loftus and William Lawton are both building additions to their property on Commercial street.

W. F. Dutton and J. C. McWaters of Cleveland, Ohio, spent part of the week in town as the guests of Mrs. G. A. Murdock.

The Columbian Band gave its first concert of the season last Saturday evening, and showed marked improvment in its playing.

The Easter concert given at the Congregational church on Sunday evening was well attended, and a success in every particular.

Money is to be raised by subscription this week to purchase new uniforms for the base ball club which will represent this village this season.

The Misses Flynn, who have been visiting in town with their aunt, Mrs. John Crimmins, returned to their home in Northampton this week.

Michael Roche and son, M. J. Roche, attended the graduating exercises of the '95 class of the Baltimore (Md.) College of Medicine this week Wednesday.

Henry Osborne was presented this week with a mail bag by his neighbors, for which he wishes to express his thanks, assuring them of faithfullness in the future as in the past.

The managers of the Western Massachusetts Base Ball League will hold a meeting at the Mansion House, Ware, next Monday evening, to arrange a schedule and complete matters concerning the by-laws, etc., of the league.

Thomas Lines, an old and much-respected resident, died at his home on Harvey avenue yesterday morning of pneumonia, having been ill only three days. The funeral will be to-morrow morning at 9, from St. Mary's church.

Michael W. Roche, son of Michael and Mary Roche and grandson of the late Cornelius Kelliher, was graduated Wednesday from the Baltimore (Md.) University of Medicine with high honors, being chosen by his class as valedictorian.

Mrs. Edna Bedford gave a party to her young friends on Saturday afternoon, the occasion being her 15th birthday. Those present left several tokens of remembrance and esteem. Refreshments were served, and a good time in general prevailed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan of High street have the sympathy of many friends in the death of their five-years-old son, who died this week of scarlet fever, having been ill only about 24 hours with the disease. Another child died Wednesday night, and another is just recovering.

The Foresters' concert and ball last evening was a decided success, about 110 couples attending. The grand march was led by E. J. Longtine and Miss Lillie Murphy. Many handsome gowns were worn by the ladies, and a general good time prevailed. The Temple Quartet gave good satisfaction, and the dance music by Knowlton & Allen's orchestra of Natick was the best ever heard in town.

Great preparations are being made by the ladies of the Congregational church for their annual May dinner, which will take place next month. The circle met at Mrs. A. J. Parker's on Wednesday; Mrs. E. B. Williams, Mrs. A. Talmage and Mrs. E. B. Blanchard entertained. They will meet with Mrs. B. F. Clark next Wednesday, when Mrs. George D. Moores, Mrs. L. E. Bixby and Mrs. S. E. Stearns will entertain.

MARRIED.

At Monson, 17th, by Rev. J. S. Nelligan, William H. Anderson and Mary A. Hanley.

DIED.

At Palmer, 16th, Sarah Orcutt, 73.
At Palmer, 15th, N. L. Cleveland, 29.
At Brimfield, 13th, Hattie M. Watson, 19 y, 6 m, 5 d.
At Brimfield, 14th, Mrs. Mary Dunham, 68 y, 7 m, 1 d.
At Brimfield, 15th, Mrs. Chandler Healy, 75 y, 8 m.
At Brimfield, 14th, Mrs. Mary Dunham, 68.
At East Brimfield, 17th, Henry Clarke, 78. Burial at Chester, Ct.
At Warren, 15th, A. Allen Burbank, 75.
At Belchertown, 12th, Mrs. Jane Montague, 64, widow of Harvey Montague.
At Stafford, Ct., 15th, Mrs. Lois P. Moulton, 71. Burial at Brimfield.

BICYCLE FOR SALE.—'94 pattern Waverly, in A No. 1 condition. Cost $85, will sell for $50 cash. SCOTT FRENCH, Palmer. 1-3

TO RENT.—Pleasant furnished front room. Enquire of Mrs. N. S. INGRAM, 1-3ks Park street.

EUGENE SHAW is prepared to clean wheels and repair tires at reasonable prices. 1*3 Cushman street, Monson, Mass.

LOST.—Between Three Rivers and Jerre Dutton's, a four-quart rubber hot water bottle. Please return to Mr. Dutton on finding, as it is very much needed. 1-3

COLUMBIA BICYCLE for sale. '94 pattern, used but little, good as new; cheap for cash, or will be sold on installments.
L. E. CHANDLER, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

EGGS FOR SALE, from choice strains of White Wyandottes, Light Brahmas, S. C. White Leghorns, and Pekin Ducks.
BEAVER BROOK POULTRY FARM, 5*3 Belchertown.

FOR SALE.—One Beebe speeding cart, has only been used a few times. Also one road cart, one good Phaeton, and one good cook stove.
GEORGE P. BELL, M. D., tf-3 Three Rivers, Mass.

FOR SALE.—Two good building lots, corner of Pine and Squier streets. This is the most desirable location in the village available at the present time, and just the site for a nice dwelling. 3-1 E. GOODES, Palmer.

E. W. French, agent for the New Singer Mfg. Co., has opened an office in Palmer, with headquarters at the Weeks House, and is showing their latest productions for 1895 sewing machines, with three different machines for family use. tf-52 THE SINGER MFG. CO.

FOR SALE.—The store of the late E. G. Murdock in Thorndike, Mass., also dwelling corner of Commercial and High streets, and one on School street in said Thorndike. Must be sold to close estate. C. L. GARDNER, Adm. Jan. 21st, 1895. tf-43

FOR SALE.—Must be sold before May 1st, my house with barn and ice house, Pleasant street, Palmer, Mass. House has 9 rooms with bath room, and hot and cold water on both floors. It is well built as I built for my own use not expecting to leave it. Barn has 4 stalls, and room for 4 wagons, and is supplied with water. Terms easy. Keys with C. L. Gardner, and C. W. Johnson. F. C. HATCH, 71 and 71 Lyman St., 1-3ks Springfield, Mass.

APPLICATION has been made to the selectmen by Miland D. Paige for a druggist's license of the sixth class, for the sale of intoxicating liquors, in Mrs. Hanor Dennis's frame building, situate on the southerly side of East Main street, in the village of Three Rivers, between the dwelling house of said Mrs. Dunn and tenement occupied by one Pariseau.
JOHN F. TWISS,
Chairman of Selectmen.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN, ss. PROBATE COURT.
To the heirs at law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Mary E. Tyler, late of Palmer, in said County, deceased, intestate:
Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Emma A. Gunn of Palmer, in said county of Hampden, without giving a surety on her bond:
You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court, to be held at Springfield, in said county of Hampden, on the first day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said court.
Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fifth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.
3-2 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN, ss. PROBATE COURT.—To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of David J. Anderson, late of Monson, in said County, deceased.
Whereas, a certain instrument, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said Court for probate by Mary H. Anderson, of said Monson, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.
You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Springfield, in said county of Hampden, on the first day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in Palmer, in said County, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this third day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.
3-1 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN ss. PROBATE COURT.
To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Charlotte C. Bourn, late of Palmer, in said county, deceased:
Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said court, for probate, by H. Newton Sedgwick of said Palmer, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond:
You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Springfield, in said County of Hampden, on the first day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three sucessive weeks in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said court.
Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said court, this eighth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.
3-2 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN, ss. PROBATE COURT.
To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Susan E. Thrall, late of Monson, in said County, deceased.
Whereas, certain instruments purporting to be the last will and testament—and codicil—of said deceased have been presented to said Court, for probate, by Charles S. Jewett and Omer E. Bradway, both of said Monson, who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executors therein named, without giving a surety on their official bond:
You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Springfield, in said county of Hampden, on the first day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in Palmer in said County, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing, post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said court, this eleventh day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.
3-2 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN, ss. April 10, A. D. 1895.
By virtue of an execution, which, issued upon a judgment recovered in the District Court of Eastern Hampden on the second day of March, A. D. 1895, in favor of W. F. Fillmore and Charles Laney, both of said Palmer, formerly copartners under the firm name of Fillmore & Laney of Palmer, in said County, against Margaret Sullivan of Palmer, in said County, I have this day seized and taken all the right, title and interest in and to, and all the right in equity which the said Margaret Sullivan has in and to certain mortgaged real estate, situate in said Palmer, and bounded and described as follows, to wit:
A certain parcel of land situate in said Palmer, with the buildings thereon, and beginning at the westerly side of the road leading from Thorndike to Bondsvillage, so called, at a stake near a marked chestnut tree, thence running westerly by land of one Shearer, formerly owned by Louis Bume, about 16 rods to a stone set in the ground; thence northerly about ten rods by land of one Leonard and one Sikes to a stone set in the ground; thence easterly by land of said Leonard and Sikes about sixteen rods to a stone set in the ground; thence southerly by the road about ten rods to a place of beginning; containing one acre more or less. Also another tract of land situate in said Palmer, and beginning at the westerly side of the road leading from Thorndike to Bondsvillage, so called, at a stake near a marked chestnut tree; thence north 89° 30′ W. by land supposed to belong now or formerly to Louis Bume 101¼ rods to a stake on the easterly line of land now or formerly of George Moore; thence by said land now or formerly of said Moore north 3° 25′ W. 68¾ rods; thence on said land of said Moore north 81° 15′ to 37 rods to within three rods of the road leading from Bondsvillage to Three Rivers, so called; thence southerly by said road 174 rods to the place of beginning; containing by admeasurement 44 acres of land more or less, and being the same premises conveyed to said Margaret Sullivan by Arthur E. Fitch by deed dated October 18, 1890, and recorded in Hampden County Registery of Deeds, Book 472, Page 234.
And on Wednesday, the fifteenth day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, in front of the Court House at Palmer, I shall offer for sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, said right, in equity of redemption to satisfy said execution and all fees and charges of sale.
ORRILUS W. STUDLEY,
3-3 Deputy Sheriff.

ALLEN'S BEEF, WINE and IRON

Is one of the best spring tonics you can buy. Try it. Pint bottles for only 50 cents.

ALLEN'S CLIMAX COUGH CURE is just the article to have handy when you have a sudden cough these damp days of spring.

ALLEN'S FLORIDENA BALM is the best article ever invented for chapped hands, rough skin and pimples on the face and for burns. It is good for eczema, and will relieve the burning and irritating feeling at once which attends that affliction.

But with all your buying, don't forget to take home for household use THE ANTALGICA. It is good for so many things that you cannot afford to be without it.

Allen's New Drug Store,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

To the Inhabitants and other Persons liable to pay Taxes in the Town of Palmer for the Year 1895:

The Assessors of the Town of Palmer hereby give notice to the inhabitants of said town, and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein, that they will receive at the Town House on Wednesday, the first day of May next, the valuation of estates, and all persons liable to be taxed in said town are hereby notified to bring in to us true and perfect lists of all Polls (males twenty years old and upwards), and schedules and estimates of the Personal and Real Estates for which they are liable to pay taxes in said town, possessed by them on the first day of May next.

MORTGAGED REAL ESTATE.

Any Mortgagor or Mortgagee of Real Estate situated within this town may bring in to the undersigned Assessors, within the time above specified, a statement under oath, of the amount due on each separate lot or parcel of such Real Estate, and the name and residence of every holder of an interest as a Mortgagor or Mortgagee therein. When only a part of the property described in any mortgage is situated within this town, an estimate of the amount of the Mortgagee's interest in such part; or when a recorded mortgage includes for one sum two or more estates or parts of an estate, an estimate of the amount of the Mortgagee's interest in each estate or part of an estate shall be given in such statement.—Chapter 175 of the Acts of 1882.

CHAPTER ELEVEN OF THE PUBLIC STATUTES.

SECTION 14. "When any person has a interest in taxable real estate, as holder of a duly recorded mortgage, given to secure the payment of money, the amount of which is fixed and certain, the amount of his interest as Mortgagee shall be assessed as Real Estate in the place where the land lies; and the Mortgagor shall be assessed only for the value of said Real Estate after deducting the assessed value of all such Mortgagee's interests therein. When such property is situated in two or more places, the amount of the Mortgagee's interest to be assessed in each place shall be proportioned to the assessed value in the respective places of the mortgaged Real Estate, deducting therefrom the taxable amount of prior mortgages, if any, therein."

SECTION 15. "If any holder of such a mortgage fails to file in the Assessor's office a statement under oath of all his estate liable to taxation under the preceding section, including a statement of the full amount remaining unpaid upon such mortgage and of his interest therein, the amount stated in the mortgage shall be conclusive as to the extent of such interest; but the Mortgagee's interest in such real estate shall not be assessed at a greater sum than the fair cash valuation of the land and structures thereon or affixed thereto; and the amount of a mortgage interest in an estate that has been divided after the creation of such mortgage shall not be required to be apportioned upon the several parts of such estate, except as provided in sections eighty-one to eighty-three inclusively."

SECTION 16. "Mortgagors and Mortgagees referred to in the two preceding sections shall, for the purpose of taxation, be deemed joint owners until the Mortgagee takes possession; and until such possession is taken by the first Mortgagee, the Assessors or the Collector of Taxes, upon application to any one of them, shall give to any such Mortgagee or Mortgagor a tax bill showing the whole tax on the mortgaged estate and the amount included in the valuation thereof as the interest of each Mortgagee and of the Mortgagor respectively. If the first mortgagee is in possession he shall be deemed sole owner; and any other mortgagee in possession shall be deemed joint owner with prior mortgagees."

When a statement in conformity to the law above quoted is brought in, the Real Estate therein returned will be assessed under sections 14, 15 and 16 of Chapter Eleven of Public Statutes. But in cases where the Mortgagor of the Real Estate has agreed in writing to pay all taxes assessed thereon, no statement or return is required from either Mortgagee or Mortgagor, unless requested by the Assessors in writing.

H. T. BISHOP,
G. W. LYMAN,
O. W. STUDLEY, } Assessors of Palmer.
Palmer, Mass., April 16th, 1895. 2-3

COLLECTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE FOR NON-PAYMENT OF TAXES.

The owners and occupants of the following described parcels of real estate situated in the town of Brimfield, county of Hampden and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the public are hereby notified that the taxes and assessments thereon severally assessed for the year hereinafter specified, according to the list committed to me as collector of taxes for said town by the Assessors of taxes and the legally constituted authorities remain unpaid, and that said parcels of real estate will be sold at public auction in front of the post office in said town of Brimfield, on Saturday, the eleventh day of May, 1895, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the payment of said taxes and assessments and all incidental charges and expenses unless the same shall have been previously paid.

JOHN A. ELLIOTT.

A tract of land containing about 160 acres, with the building thereon, situated on the the Holland road, so called, bounded north by land of D. W. Foskett and one Lombard, east by land formerly owned by Green and Parker, south by land of Peter Moore, west by land of Thomas Harwood.
Taxes for 1894, - - - - $8.88.

ANDREW STONE.

A tract of land containing about 115 acres, with the buildings thereon, situate on the main road leading from Brimfield to Brookfield, bounded east by land of Thomas Morgan, south by land of William B'ashfield, and west by land of Elisha C. Marsh.
Taxes for 1894, - - - - $17.75.

JOSEPH St. GEORGE.

A tract of land containing about ninety acres, with the buildings thereon, situated on the road leading to Warren, bounded west by land of Thomas Haley, north by land of Walter Putnam, east by land of Samuel Adams.
Taxes for 1894, - - - - $33.73.

AMOS B. MERRILL.

A tract of land containing about 141 acres, with the buildings thereon, situated on the main road leading from Palmer to West Brookfield, bounded north by land of A. W. Crossman, east by land of one Blodgett, and west by Chicopee river.
Taxes for 1894, - - - - $85.20.

Brimfield, Mass, April 13th, 1895.
3-3 W. J. EASTER, Collector.

CHIN SING,
CHINESE LAUNDRY,
Main St., - Palmer.

LIST OF PRICES:

Shirts,	10c
Cuffs,	4c per pair
Collars,	2c
Shirts Ironed,	8c

And other things in the same proportion. See my full price list.

MOTHER'S INDIAN BLOOD PURIFIER.

For this purpose no better or safer medicine can be selected to purify, enrich and warm the blood, and tone up the system generally. It will speedily restore the system to health and vigor. It is composed of leaves, barks and roots, being one of the mildest and safest tonics known. Also agent for the National Remedy Co., and their wonderful Japanese Oil, known all over the world. Fresh roots and herbs can be found at the house at any time, Sold by
H. S. McCOMBER, STATE AVE., MONSON, MASS.
P. O. Box 174 Palmer. 3*3ks

DENTISTRY.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PALMER AND VICINITY:

Having thoroughly equipped my new office with the most modern inventions and methods pertaining to dentistry, I am now prepared to meet the demands of the public in all the branches of the art. I have associated with me DR. O. P. ROLLER, a graduate in dental surgery, who has made a specialty of crown and bridge work, all gold, porcelain, combination crown, etc. Gold, aluminum and artificial dentures of every description. The best of workmanship guaranteed. 4-2
DR. C. W. CROSS, PALMER, MASS.

GO TO THE
Palmer Bicycle Works
TO GET YOUR
WHEELS REPAIRED AND YOUR SPECIAL HANDLE BARS MADE.

LAWN MOWERS REPAIRED.

REMEMBER, FINE MACHINE WORK A SPECIALTY.

SPALDING and AMES WHEELS FOR SALE.

MURPHY BROS.,
CARYL'S BLOCK, - PALMER, MASS.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads—west of Depot.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.
Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m

Did you know the law is off on Trout Monday, April 1st, and that you can buy
RODS, LINES, FLIES, HOOKS, REELS, FLY BOOKS, ETC.,
At right prices and get a good assortment at the
DRUG STORE OF
LeGRO & LYNDE,
Next to Post Office,
Palmer, - - Mass.

HOW ABOUT YOUR COFFEE?

Eminent authorities in this country and in Europe agree that coffee, when pure, is one of the most healthful of beverages, but it must be pure. When mixed with chicory it is most injurious to the system, causing many disorders of the stomach, etc. We have been most successful in our efforts to encourage the use of pure coffee. Our sales of 38c pure dry roast and 40c Java and Mocha have reached an enormous amount. We have no hesitation in recommending them as the best values in coffee offered in Palmer.

In Canned Goods We Offer

Canned Dandelion, (W. K. Lewis pack)	20c
Canned Clam Chowder, (W. K. Lewis pack)	20c
Canned Corn, (equal to any 10c can) 4 cans	25c
Canned Tomatoes,	8c
Golden Drip Syrup, with Jug,	43c gal.
Olives in bulk,	35c a quart

J. F. FOLEY, PALMER.

FRESH
Milk and Cream.
MAPLE LAWN MILK FARM.
O. D. WELLS, Proprietor.

BICYCLES

RAMBLERS,	$100.00
ENVOY,	75.00
FLEETWING (ladies)	75 00
STORMER,	60.00
CRAWFORD,	50.00

All warranted fully. Sweaters and bicycle sundries for sale. Also have good wheels to rent.
ERNEST D. TUFTS,
Holden's Block, - Palmer, Mass.

SPRING CLOTHING!
NEW SPRING STYLES, Latest Colorings —AND— Novelties.
Extra large samples to select from. The most complete assortment, the finest, newest and most extensive in novelties and colorings. Fine Clay, English Wagners and Schmable's best makes, Bannuckburn Scotch goods in best patterns, fine French in newest makes and colors. Prices $20, 22, 24, 26, 27, 28, 30, 32, 33, 35 to 40. All goods and trimmings the very best ever offered in town for the money, and warranted. Terms Strictly Cash.
D. MULVIHILL, - Eager's Block.

NEW CASH STORE.
..H. W. SMITH, GROCER..
59 Main Street, Palmer.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed. The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office. WEDDING CARDS.

Wall Papers!

"Now is the winter of our discontent made glorious Springtime by this April Sun."

THE OLD CORNER WALL PAPER CO.
OF
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.,

Now offer you good Kitchen, Bedroom and Hallway papers at
5 cents per roll.

Good designs in floral papers, Vine patterns and scrolls in soft colors at 10 cents per roll.

Excellent gilt papers in dainty colors, pretty styles and choice white and blue, white and yellow and white and green colorings at 15 cents to 25 cents per roll.

Our immense price is marked at 1895 prices this year. That is at the bottom notch and must go up next year.

Send for samples (enclose 4 cents in stamps) or call at our enlarged show room at the old corner of State and Main Streets, AND LOOK!

The Old Corner Wall Paper Co.
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

QUALITY CONSIDERED

Our prices are the lowest.

Why?

We sell for CASH only.

No bad debts to worry about. Try us ONCE and you become our regular customer.

CHAS. N. BLAKE & CO.,
CROSS BLOCK,
BOOTS, SHOES and RUBBERS.
HOLDEN'S BLOCK.
A. B. COWAN, Manager.

TO COLT OWNERS.

I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.
tf-3 Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

S. H. HELLYAR'S
Fire Insurance Agency,
CARYL'S BLOCK,
PALMER, - - MASS.
I represent some of the largest companies, both stock and mutual, doing business in this state, and should be pleased to reckon you as one of my customers.
Will guarantee you security, promptness, economy, and a correctly written policy.
Thanking you for past favors, I am
Yours respectfully,
S. H. HELLYAR.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.
Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.
President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.
Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Moores, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. E. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory
Board of Investment,
Geo. Moores, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY AND MACHINE SHOP.
At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.
MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL J

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 19, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

The Windsor Club Ball.

The annual Easter ball given by the Windsor Club Monday evening was one of the great successes of the season. The First Regiment Band of Brattleboro furnished music, the fineness of which none could gainsay. The concert programme included seven selections, and there were twenty-five dances. The grand march was led by Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Shaw, followed by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clifford. There were a great many out-of-town people present, including Mr. and Mrs. Fernando Strong of Williamantic, Misses Mary and Josie Brennan of Stafford Springs, Miss Belle Colgrove, Miss Lillian Huntington and many others of Palmer. Some of the costumes worn: Miss Lillian Huntington, brocaded light b'ue silk bodice, black crepon skirt, pinks; Mrs. W. E. Fay, plaid silk; Miss Mary Barry, dark blue wool; Mrs. Frank L. Shaw, fawn colored silk, lilies of the valley; Mrs. Ralph Clifford, black silk; Miss Maggie Barry, myrtle green serge; Miss Mollie Lewis, cream white cashmere, pearl passementerie trimmings, La France roses; Miss Winnie Bacon, pink silk; Miss Mary Anderson, cream colored serge, brocade trimming; Miss Idella M. Anderson, baby blue India silk waist, fancy gray skirt; Miss Annie Lewis, pink and white silk waist, black skirt; Miss Julia Keefe, white India silk; Miss Mamie Corcoran, light blue nun's veiling; Miss Collins, white cashmere, chiffon yoke; Miss Julia Gallivan, heliotrope surah; Miss Annie Gallivan, sea green India silk waist, black skirt; Miss Maggie Moriarty, dark red henrietta; Miss Nellie McKenna, copper colored skirt; Mrs. Julia Ketcham, corn colored silk; Mrs. William F. Crew, white silk; Miss Ethel Rood, blue silk; Mrs. Belle Griswold, black silk; Miss Grady, white mull; Miss Kate Grady, pink India silk; Miss Rachel Babbett, mastic wool, silk trimmings; Miss Mary Cuddihy, pink silk waist, black skirt; Mrs Hughes, pink silk waist, black skirt; Miss Maggie Gavin, black net waist, black moire skirt, cerise sash; Miss Delia Gavin, white cashmere; Miss Nellie Mixter, tan-colored checked wool; Miss Alice Crossman, white silk; Miss Nellie O'Brien, mode cheviot; Miss Mary Murphy, white henrietta; Miss Alice Parke, green changeable silk bodice; black camel's hair skirt; Miss Lottie Hobbs, black satin; Miss Belle Colgrove, blue and white muslin; Miss Felton, black silk; Miss Lewis, pink waist, black skirt; Miss Kennedy, white silk waist, black skirt; Miss Lillian Tanner, white cashmere; Miss Mary Coleman, pink silk; Miss Grace Tanner, pink crepon; Miss Florence Chaffee, light olive cheviot; Mary Murphy, white silk; Mrs. Arthur F. Johnson, light challie; Miss Mary Brennan, navy blue henrietta; Miss Josie Brennan, black serge; Miss Annie Brennan, black cashmere; Miss Delia Brannick, white muslin; Miss Emily Lewis, white silk; Miss Annie King, white serge; black velvet trimmings; Miss Mabelle Flynt, blue faille waist, black skirt; Miss Bridget Moriarty, navy blue cheviot; Miss Grace Cushman, rose colored silk waist, black skirt; Miss Ella Dalton, cardinal cashmere; Miss White of Amherst, figured challie; Miss Minnie Gilligan, pink silk. The Woman's Relief Corps furnished supper in Grand Army hall.

A Lively Row.

Palmer fire-water has a most demoralizing influence on the "stranger within our gates," for at altogether too semi occasional intervals Monson is the scene of a drunken row which ends in serious injuries to the participant, or as in the case last Saturday night, the life of a citizen is threatened; and still there are only a small majority of voters who wish to keep down the sale of like poison in Monson. In fact some of these men who vote license are of the opinion that there is more or less of it sold here now. One of them tells the following story: A drummer leaving town one morning told one of the citizens that the "scairtest" man he ever saw was the one under whose roof he stayed the night before. He said that the "scairt" man, deathly pale and trembling in every limb entered the room where several men were seated and hustled them unceremoniously out of the house, at the same time giving orders to "get that stuff up stairs" and to extinguish the lights double-quick. He explained to the drummer that he had seen a selectman behind a tree opposite the house, and was afraid that something was going to drop, and if it did, he was a ruined man. Be this true or not, there was a lively time at the Monson House Saturday between 5 and 6 o'clock. John Todd and Jack Derode, both employed on the water works, had spent the day at Palmer and the former, at least, had partaken so freely of the ardent that he was crazed, and wanted to pick a row with all who came in his way. He wished to have one of Mr. Clifford's teams take him to his quarters at the well, and as his wishes were not complied with he became very ugly, threatening to kill somebody, and after one or two scraps with others about the premises he ran down the street to Keeney's, where he tried to buy first a revolver, then a razor. Not being successful, he continued down the street after a shotgun. Being foiled in the attempt he rushed back to the Monson House, where he was refused admittance. He then ran to the stable, where he was about to attack Mr. Clifford when an officer appeared, who put an end to his performances by taking him to the lockup. On Monday he was fined $10 at the court in Palmer. The liquor which Todd and Derode brought to town that day caused a terrible fight at the Italian quarters on Sunday, in which three men were more or less injured.

Dean's Body Found.

The body of Albert Dean, who perished in the burning of Green's block last week, was discovered in the ruins of the block in which he roomed. The long continued and intense heat had reduced the body nearly to ashes, but enough remained to show what it had once been. The location of the body when discovered indicated that he had been overcome in an effort to escape from the burning building. The room which he occupied was on the north side of the building, while the body when found was on the south side, showing that he had attempted to make his way to the windows, and was overcome before reaching them. Persons who had previously accused Dean of incendiarism reiterated when the blackened remains of what was once a human form were found. The opinion had been frequently expressed that he would some day turn up alive, none the worse for wear, also that he had been seen several times subsequent to the fire, but by his death all suspicion has been removed. A. B. Spencer, aid of the state fire marshal, has been in town investigating the cause of the fire. His examination of witnesses however has been made secretly and behind closed doors, and nothing has been made public. According to the statement of D. B. Needham, chief of the fire department, he developed the fact that A. A. Fountain, the barber having rooms in the rear of Gray & Lambert's furniture store, whom it was reported held strong suspicions as to the origin of the fire, knew a great deal less than was reported. His suspicions were strong, but his absolute knowledge correspondingly small, and nothing as to the origin of the fire has been developed.

Anderson—Hanley.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the parochial residence at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when William H. Anderson and Miss Mary A. Hanley, daughter of Patrick Hanley, were united in marriage, Rev. J. S. Nelligan officiating. George Anderson of Plymouth, brother of the groom, was best man, and Mrs. J. M. Nowell, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Only the immediate friends of the bride and groom were present. Every precaution had been taken to keep the affair as quiet as possible, and it was not known where the ceremony was to be performed. It was generally thought, however, to be at the church, and a large number had gathered there awaiting the arrival of the contracting parties. In the meantime the couple were driven to the parochial residence, where the ceremony was performed, and the large circle of friends were obliged to be contented with a mere glimpse of the couple as they were driven to their home. They left on the 7.25 train for New York, going by the way of New London. They will be gone about ten days.

Charles Merrick is wiring his store for electric lights.

Rev. F. S. Hatch will preach at Silver Street Sunday afternoon.

Charles L. Darling will move his family to Bondsville about May 1st.

Harry Treadway of Westboro spent Monday and Tuesday in town.

James Murphy spent Sunday and Monday with friends in Hartford, Ct.

Fred Thayer has rented the late Levi C. Bates property on Main street.

The assessors will be in the town hall May 1 and 2, to receive valuation lists.

Several cases of scarlet fever are reported in town, also one case of diphtheria.

Harry A. Merchant is home for the summer from the Albany Medical College.

Arthur T. Robinson of the Albany medical college has returned for the summer vacation.

The Central Mass. Electric Co. has bought the A. N. Chaffee homestead on Green street.

Herbert M. Noble has been running a new 'bus between Palmer and Monson this week.

Mrs. Julia A. Nelson and daughter, Florence spent Sunday with relatives in Hartford.

Mrs. G. C. Flynt has returned from Brooklyn, N. Y., where she has been visiting her mother.

John Murphy, who has been spending the winter in Florida, has returned to his home in town.

Miss Alice E. Darling has been confined to the house this week by illness, but is now improving.

Mrs. Edith J. Brainard has rented the basement of Mrs. Harriet M. Flynt's home on Main street.

George H. Stone of the Albany medical school has returned to his home in town for the summer vacation.

The Central Massachusetts Electric Co. is wiring the house and stable of Arthur Ellis for incandescent lights.

G. L. Keeney was called to Vernon, Ct., the early part of the week owing to the serious illness of his father.

Solomon F. Cushman, Miss Hattie F. and Robert Cushman returned Monday from a six-weeks California trip.

Mrs. George G. Flynt will entertain a whist party at her home on North Main street to-morrow afternoon.

James Fitzpatrick and bride returned to Monson the fore part of last week, and are the guests of William J. Stone.

Henry A. King and W. A. Lincoln of Springfield, with their sons, Stanley and Flynt, are visiting W. N. Flynt, having made the trip on their wheels.

Thomas J. Sault has been engaged as a janitor of Memorial Hall for the coming year. He will also have charge of the Green street and State street school houses, his labors to begin May 1st.

The Park Avenue Association has sold two building lots to William Cavanaugh for $450. Out of the 19 or 20 building lots put on the market last fall by the association, but two now remain unsold.

The senior class of the Academy has elected these classday officers: Poet, William S. Moulton; historian, J. W. Chism; class prophet, Miss Gertrude Gage; ivy essayist, Miss Katherine Smith.

Mrs. Charles Allen of Fiskdale, whose husband was killed a few months ago by falling from a rafter in the barn, has sold her property, and is now making her home with Elliott H. Brown on South Main street.

The marriage of Irving L. Jefts of Monson and Miss Georgia E. Lull of East Longmeadow took place at the bride's home Wednesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Jefts will make their home in the Holbrook house on Main street.

C. A. Bradway reports sales of Columbia and Hartford bicycles weekly, and advises the placing of orders now for immediate or future delivery, to save a possible delay, owing to the increased demand during the next two months.

A. Miller, the tailor, who was burned out in the recent fire at Day's block, has opened rooms in the dwelling known as the Whitney house, opposite the Cushman House. F. E. Howe has opened temporary quarters in the basement of his house.

Monson's sportsman's club, which has been recently formed, has elected these officers: President, E. L. Wales; secretary, Henry Wentworth. The first shoot took place to-day on the grounds which the club have hired near Sullivan's park.

Thomas Burke of Ware has been engaged to take charge of the service pipe laying of the Monson water system. An opportunity will now be given those wishing to connect their dwellings with the water system, either for private or lawn use, to do so.

Rev. S. S. Cummings, for 26 years the missionary agent of the Boston Home for Little Wanderers, will spend next Sunday in Monson. He will preach in the Congregational church in the morning, and in the Methodist church in the evening. Four children accompany him, and will sing at these services.

The Athletic Association of the Academy established a training table in the dining-room at Hammond Hall, and has begun regular practice for the June meet. They have prepared an excellant entertainment of house talent to be given in the chapel next Friday raise money to defray the necessary expenses.

Prof. F. H. Treadway gave the last dancing lesson for the season last evening, and the closing reception takes place next Thursday evening. The Westboro orchestra will furnish music, dancing from 8 to 12. All are invited. Gallery tickets will be on sale at Chapin's drug store next Tuesday noon. Prof. Treadway has given three series of dancing lessons this season, and has proved an excellent teacher. Not only has he taught his pupils to dance, but to observe the rules of ball room etiquette as well. He will doubtless be successful in forming a class next season if he desires to do so.

The workmen employed in the water works have been busily engaged the past week trying to flush out the pipes next to the reservoir. The pipe laying in that section was exceedingly difficult, owing to the depth of the ditch and amount of water to contend with. The pipes in being laid had become stopped up to such an extent that it is now next to impossible to remove the obstruction. Powerful pumps have been used for the purpose, being placed at either end of the pipe, and an attempt made to force the obstruction through. As yet only a small stream has been gotten through the pipe, and it is feared that a portion of the pipe will have to be dug up.

WARE.

Dr. D. M. Ryan has been reappointed town physician.

The Gilbert property on Prospect street has been bought by Abraham Langevin.

George F. Brown is to sell his house on Clinton street at auction to-morrow afternoon.

The Bee Hive store is to close Saturday night, that the store may be ready for the new business.

The Sunday school of the French congregation gave a pleasing Easter entertainment last Sunday evening.

The "Bee Hive" store is advertising goods at your own price, as the store must be vacated in a few days.

Hugh Kennedy has been appointed weigher of coal at the depot, in place of Willard Gage, resigned.

Mrs. J. E. Carpenter of Bedford has been appointed teacher of grade six school, North street, commencing on Monday.

The women of Trinity Episcopal church are to hold their annual Easter sale in the church parlors next Tuesday, and will also serve a salad supper.

George K. Thornton, the retiring road-master on the Central, was presented with a fine gold watch by his friends on Monday. He is succeded by C. A. Stowell of Boston.

A. S. Jaquith has sold his farm at Ware Center to Clarence Allen of West Brookfield. Mr. Jaquith is to move to Leominster and go into the business of comb making.

The East Congregational Sunday school concert, the first under the direction of the new superintendent, Dea. Nelson Dwight, was an interesting one and largely attended.

The Ware Driving Association held its annual meeting Monday evening and elected the following officers: Directors, Henry M. Clark, Felix Bombard, F. F. Gilmore, Henry C. Davis, W. J. Volk, George E. Utley and R. C. Snow; treasurer, F. F. Gilmore; clerk, F. A. Volk.

The finishing up of the outside of the new bank building has been progressing this week in the putting on of the iron work over the windows and laying the new concrete sidewalk. The sign is in keeping with the building, different from anything in town; the letters are made of metal and put directly on the brick of the building.

Some of those who joined the Blue Ribbon League are inquiring when and where the rooms of the League are to be opened. The committee has not yet been able to secure just such a place as would be desirable for a permanent home of the League, but it is earnestly hoped they may do so in the near future. We already begin to hear the remark in a sneering tone that "the temperance work is over for another year." God grant that this may not be true, for there are many who need the help that a loving, sympathetic hand may give.

Williams H. Weeks, a well-known and respected citizen, died about one o'clock Sunday morning at his home on Church street. He was sick but about two weeks, being about until ten days before his death. Mr. Weeks was born at Hardwick in 1823, and came to Ware with his parents when 16 years old. For several years he was overseer of the carding department for the Otis Company; afterwards he engaged in the grocery business in the stone block, in the store now occupied by Henry M. Clark. For over 30 years he has been in the livery business at the barn in the rear of his residence, and being of a genial, accommodating disposition he had a good business. He was a member of Eden Lodge of Masons, and an Odd Fellow. In politics he was an out and out Democrat all his life. A widow, one son, Charles P. Weeks of New York, a daughter, Mrs. H. O. Robinson, two sisters, Mrs. H. M. Richards and Miss S. Eliza Weeks of Ware, and one brother, J. W. Weeks of Springfield, survive him. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon and was largely attended, the services being conducted by Rev. A. B. Bassett. The burial was under the direction of Eden Lodge of Masons, who were present in a body. The floral tributes were some of the finest that have been seen in Ware for a long time.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes. 53-3

It Is Merely Good Health.

That beautiful complexion is health, preserved by Ripans Tabules.

Ripans Tabules purify the blood, clear the skin of blemishes and make life more worth living.

Dr. G. Howard Jones, of Boston, says that Ayer's Hygienic Coffee will fill a long felt want to persons who cannot use coffee on account of the effect it produces on the liver. Principal grocers sell it.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 52-25

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength. —Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO.,

106 Wall St., N. Y.

Central Massachusetts

ELECTRIC COMPANY,

PALMER, MASS.

All kinds of Electrical Work

DONE AT REASONABLE TERMS.

Please write for rates for electric lighting.

tf-31

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.

CORRECTED TO NOVEMBER 11, 1894.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a m and 4.25 p m for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R R, at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R R, and at Palmer with B & A R R for Worcester, Boston, Springfield.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a m, 12.13 and 5.57 p m.
Leave Palmer, 8.40 a m, 1.55 and 7.15 p m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.25, 10.17 a m. 2.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.25 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.37 p m.
The 5.25 and 7.40 a m and 2.30 p m run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a m and 5.27 p m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.22, 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m, the 11.00 a m and 7.15 p m connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.22 and 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.
S W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A., St. Albans.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO SEPT. 30, 1894.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58, p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook -6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Pansy Park, South Amherst and Hadley—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
FOR Belchertown, Amherst and Northampton—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39, p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY, Gen'l Mgr.

SALESMEN WANTED

To Solicit orders for Nursery Stock, Salary or Commission. Cash advanced for expenses, and outfit free. Experience not essential. Active, hard-working men can make good pay. The best of reference required.

THE R. G. CHASE CO.,
8-50 Malden, Mass.

WANTED.

Smart and reliable men to solicit orders for an extensive variety of Hardy Nursery Stock. Also a few energetic women for Shrubs, Roses, etc.

S. T. CANNON,
6*51 AUGUSTA, ME.

NOTICE TO SAVINGS BANK DEPOSITORS:

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—ACT OF 1888. An act requiring Savings Banks and Institutions for savings to call in their books of deposit at stated intervals.

"During the year 1889 and every third year thereafter Savings Banks and Institutions for Savings shall call in the books of deposit of their depositors for verification in such manner as their respective boards of trustees may elect."

In accordance with the above law, depositors in the Monson Savings Banks are requested to present their pass books for inspection.

Books received by mail will be returned without delay. BY ORDER OF THE TRUSTEES.
FRANK E. MORRIS, Treas.

CHAIR BARGAINS.

Rattan Rockers, $3.28. Elegant goods, finished to the "Queen's Taste." Little better grade, $4.12

FINE LINE OF BABY CARRIAGES.
A HUNDRED DIFFERENT STYLES.

WE HAVE THIS WEEK A CARLOAD OF REFRIGERATORS.

KITCHEN DEPT. FULL OF BARGAINS. TERMS EASY.

We mention a few of our goods and prices. These we quote only as an index to the thousands of Bargains on hand:

An exceptionally prettily decorated Dinner Set, 112 pieces,	$7.86
Handsomely decorated Toilet Sets,	1.98
Novelty or Universal Wringer,	2.00
Copper Clad Wash Boiler,	.89
Nickle Tea Kettle,	.71
Nickle Alarm Clock,	.79
Coal Hod,	.16

Draperies, Carpets and Matting. | CREDIT GIVEN IF DESIRED. | Repairing and Upholstering.

E. LUTHER & CO.,

Main Street. SPRINGFIELD. Opp. Court Sq.

W. D. KINSMAN.

SEE AND BE CONVINCED.

KID GLOVES.

The freshness and newness of our stock, variety and beauty of shades, the fineness and elasticity of skins, the quality and the fit are elements which create demand for our Kid Gloves.

Our 4-button Glace at 87c, $1.00, $1.38 and $1.50 are the finest Kid Gloves ever offered at those prices. We have them in the popular Champagne color, Canary, Tans, Modes, Grays, Beaver shades, Brown, Black, White and Pearl.

BLACK and WHITE OSTRICH COLLARS and BOAS.

CHILDREN'S REEFERS.

Sizes 2, 3 and 4 years. Colors Navy, Red, New Blue and Tan.

LADIES' FAST BLACK SATEEN SKIRTS.

One lot 50 cents—the best skirt by all odds shown at this price. Equally good values in the finer grades.

LINING DEPT.

New and very desirable things in Dress Linings have just been opened.

Striped Crinolines, Linen Check Muslin, "Sterling" Rustly Canvas, Light weight Haircloth Canvas, New Spring colors in Canvas, Chocolate, Straw, Tans and French Gray.

Sterling Moire Silkaline—much used for petticoats.

FIBRE CHAMOIS.

This new interlining has no equal. It comes in three weights. Its advantages can be better explained at our lining counter than in an advertisement.

We show a full line of imported Haircloth in Black, White and Gray.

In purchasing linings quality should be considered as well as the price.

HOSIERY.

A very large business is the result of the wonderful bargains in fine grades of goods which we are distributing.

Our Fast Black Cotton Hose are of the celebrated Hermisdorff Dye, absolutely stainless.

Some of the good points of our Hosiery are: High Spliced Heels, Double Soles, Extra Elastic Tops, Ribbed Tops, Peg Tops, Full Lengths. Outside Sizes. Some people prefer them with white feet, we have a complete line of them.

Never were such values of 10c, 25c, 38c, 45c and 50c.

WOMEN'S TAN COTTON HOSE.

Women's Lisle Thread Hose, Black, Tans and other colors. A large assortment.

Great bargains in Men's Cotton Hosiery.

CHILDRENS FAST BLACK COTTON HOSE.

One lot 15c, former prices 25c to 33c.
One lot 25c, former prices 38c to 50c.
One lot 38c, former prices 50c to 75c.

CHILDRENS RIBBED SILK HOSE.

Black and Tans. Handsome line just opened.

WOMEN'S JERSEY UNDERWEAR

In Spring Weights—extra values, 25c, 38c, 50c.

Women's Ribbed Silk Vests 50c. You find this quality higher price in other stores.

THE BEST GOODS and RIGHT PRICES. W. D. KINSMAN. CORNER OF MAIN AND BRIDGE STREETS, SPRINGFIELD.

FORBES & WALLACE'S, SPRINGFIELD.

DRESS GOODS.

Twenty more new mixtures of 37½ cent quality, of all wool, silk and wool, and cotton and wool dress stuffs to sell for 25 cents a yard.

We'll send samples if you're quick.

Left aisle.

BLACK CLOTHS for CAPES.

As big an assortment as you'll find anywhere, perhaps:

Diagonals,
Ladies' Cloth,
Plain Cheviot,
Rough Cheviot,
Clay Diagonals,

50 to 58 inches wide. 75 cents to $4 a yard.

Right aisle.

SILK UNDERSKIRTS.

Changeable satin de chene skirts at $4.98. Six colors, and both the ordinary and umbrella styles. We think remarkably good at the price; and customers are of the same mind, evidently.

Black moreen skirts made full in either the umbrella or regular styles for as little as $1.75. Better qualities between to $4.

South store.

WOMEN'S MEDIUM UNDERWEAR.

Egyptian cotton vests and pants that we've always had to sell for 39 cents; came this time low enough to go at 25 cents.

FURNITURE.

Just now we are selling a great many chamber sets. Ought to sell a great many more. Will, too, when everybody knows what is going on.

We begin at $12 for a hard-wood set—ash. As good a set perhaps, as you've been paying $15 for. Not much more can be said of it.

At $15—we have a good set of ash; the same that was popular at $15 last fall, only better stuff and carvings.

At $20—a very good oak set, finely polished, 24x30 bevel plate mirror in dresser.

And so on, up much higher.

Third floor of Pynchon street building.

FORBES & WALLACE.

Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,

OPTICIAN.

331 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial Eyes Furnished.
Occulists' Prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 26-51

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!

PAPER HANGINGS.

Browns, White Blanks, Flats, Satins, Bronzes, Gilts, Borders, Friezes, etc.

PLAIN AND DECORATIVE PAPER HANGING, PAINTING, ETC.

All orders filled in a thorough and workmanlike manner. F. S. MASON, Commercial Block.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS IN THIS VICINITY FOR

TRUSSES.

WE CARRY A LARGE ASSORTMENT IN ALL THE SIZES OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF

Steel Spring Trusses,
Hard Rubber Trusses,
New York Elastic Trusses.

WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.

AT LEGRO & LYNDE'S.

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

As For 40 Years

So this spring. Haynes & Co. are in the van of the Clothing business and exhibit a stock of

Men's, Young Men's and Youth's Clothing and Furnishings

that can't be equalled in Western Massachusetts. Goods that look as well at your home as in our store; goods that wear as we promise; goods for less money than you ever paid before.

Remember,

You can't get a misfit or a poor suit here. We won't sell an inferior suit. If we can't fit you we'll tell you so, We won't be advertised by ill-fitting clothing.

"What we say we do, we do do."

HAYNES & CO SPRINGFIELD

Your Money Back Quick

If we promise more than we can fulfill. No "bankrupt" or "job lots" here, but fresh goods every time. If there is a suit made worth wearing, we've got it. The best of foreign and domestic goods. Fine qualities, thoroughly made, handsomely finished—the acme of the tailor's art.

Spring Suits.

An immense line from $7.50 to $30.

Fancy Scotch Suits, rugged but dressy, are universally popular,

$12 to $16.

Black Clay Worsteds—always in style—always in demand.

Nobby Spring Overcoats.

This line will delight you. Quality, beauty and style combined.

Don't wait till the spring is two-thirds gone. That's false economy.

Pick them now—we'll fit you whether you're tall, short, slender or a long ways 'round—It's all the same to us, but a good fit means much to you.

"What we say we do, we do do."

W. N. FLYNT & SONS'

SPRING STYLES IN MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING

HAVE ARRIVED. GIVE THEM A CALL AND RECEIVE BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY THAN EVER BEFORE. BE SURE YOU GET A TRILBY HAT.

LATEST IN HATS AND CAPS FOR MEN AND BOYS AT

W. N. FLYNT & SONS,

MONSON, MASS.

JUST OPENED.

A Large Assortment of

LACES, HAMBURGS, TRIMMING BRAIDS, VEILINGS, GRASS CLOTH, FIBRIC CHAMOIS, SILESIAS, HAIR CLOTH and CAMBRICS.

DRESS GINGHAMS, TEAZLE DOWN, WHITE GOODS, BLEACHED and BROWN COTTONS

J. B. SHAW

AT THE... LOWEST : PRICES EVER MADE.

PALMER

ALL OUR HOODS, SCARFS AND CARDIGANS AT HALF PRICE TO CLOSE THE SEASON.

WE HAVE MANY NEW THINGS IN

Fancy Groceries and Canned Goods,

Of the Best Quality as well as the Cheaper Grades, and Prices Guaranteed to be Right.

A 19 CENT SALE At Hellyar's Bargain Store,

Caryl's Block, - On the Corner.

4 yards of Lining Cambric.
1¼ yards of best Silicia.
2 yards of imitation Hair Cloth.
2 yards of Crinoline.
1½ yards of Canvas.
3 yards of Cross Bar Cambric.
5 yards of Apron Check Gingham.
2 yards of Dress Goods.
3 yards of Outing Flannel.
1½ yards Colored Canton Flannel.
1¼ yards best Feather Ticking.
4 yards Lace Scrim.
¼ yard Silk Plush (all colors.)
4 doz. Dress Buttons.
8 doz. Hooks and Eyes (Kant Open.)
7 spools Black Silk.
4 spools Best Thread.
5 spools, 500 yards, Basting Thread.
1 bottle 25c Perfumery.
1 bottle Mitchell's Rose Cutilave.
13 yards Tom Thumb Ribbon.
4 yards Morai, Picot Edge Ribbon.
2 yards Wide Lace.
3 pair Dress Shields (warranted.)
2 pair Hose, ladies or children.
2 fine Huckabuck Towels.
4 yards Toweling, bleached or unbleached.
4 bunches of Envelopes, all sizes.
4 quires best Writing Paper.
1 White Apron.
1 black Shopping Bag.
2 Shoulder Shawls.
3 pair Gent's Hose.
10 yards Narrow Hamburg.
1½ skeins Germantown.
1 earthen Tea Pot.
1 large Yellow Bowl.
1 Drapery Pole and Trimmings.
10 papers of Pins.
4 doz. Lead Pencils.
2 Rope Halters.
1 Curry Comb and Brush.
2 Cuspidores.
5 bunches of Tacks.
4 bunches Toilet Paper.
1 Bean Pot.
2 yards Rug Fringe.
1 Wire Rat Trap.
4 yards Carpet Lining.

Any of the above ONLY 19 CENTS. This is the store for the economical buyers.

Best live Geese Feathers only 55c per lb.
White Bed Spreads 67 cents.
Laundered White or Colored Shirts, 47 cents.
Floor Oils Cloths, 23 cents per yard.
Slop Pails 25 cents.
Lanterns, 42 cents.
Curtains 23c, 31c, 36c, 37c, 50c each.
2 pair Men's Suspenders, 25c.
Custom Suits from $11 to $25.

REMEMBER THE PLACE,

HELLYAR'S BARGAIN STORE,

Caryl's Block, on the Corner,

PALMER, - MASS.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

CARPETS.

Hartford Ingrains in new patterns at 45 cents and 50 cents a yard.

The greatest carpet values ever offered. A big stock to select from. Closing out old patterns of same make at 37½ cents a yard.

Axminster at $1 a yard, splendid designs, rich colorings. Durability unequalled.

First floor.

PARLOR SUITS.

None shown on the market to surpass our five piece over stuffed suits at $50, covered in silk brocatelles.

Regular 65 patterns, solid and imitation mahogany frame suits in silk damask. Exclusive patterns from $22.50.

Third floor.

FANCY ROCKERS.

New styles just received. A big variety from $2.75 upward. The popular saddle seat and cobbler leather seat Arm Rockers, from $3 upward.

Third floor.

CHAMBER SETS.

The kind we can guarantee — the lowest priced as well as the higher.

From $12.50 to $50 we show immense line of excellent designs in all wanted goods.

Fourth floor.

BABY CARRIAGES.

Inspect our stock, compare styles and prices with any found elsewhere. Doubtless if you find any better suited to your taste or purse.

Basement.

WINDOW DRAPERIES.

Have you a Lace Curtain Want? You'll be surprised at the values in Irish Point Curtains we are showing. Ruffled Muslin Curtains at $1.50 a pair. With Lace edge at $1.75 a pair.

Drapery Department.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

Springfield, Mass.

WAGONS!

Having a new lot of

TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY. CALL AND SEE US.

ALLEN AND ELLERY,

PALMER, tf-3 MASS.

RUSSET SHOES HAVE COME TO STAY.

Every pair brings comfort to the wearer, as they do not draw the sun to sweat the feet like black shoes. They are

VERY SOFT AND EASY TO THE FEET.

Easy to clean and care for, and can be bought at any price you wish to pay for Shoes. We have them in Men's Shoes for

$2, $2.50, $3, $3.50 and $4.

Just glance at our windows as you pass and see the

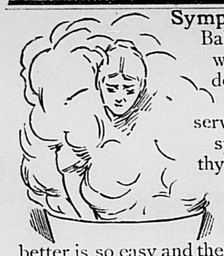
New Things in Shoes for 1895.

If you do not see just what you wish just step inside. We are always glad to help you keep posted on shoes.

GEO. L. FULLER,

Distributer of Fine Fitting Shoes.

1 MONSON, - - MASS.



Sympa

Bah! A woman doesn't deserve any sympathy, when the knowing better is so easy and the doing better is so cheap. Think of inhaling the steam and odors from a tub of dirty clothing, perhaps from the sick room, perhaps much soiled from honest labor. Think of the weak lungs, and throat, the germs of disease, etc., etc. It's all so unnecessary and so ineffective. The clothes are not as clean (surely not as pure) as they ought to be, when the work is done. Boil your clothes in Pearline and water—directions on each package—every grocer has it.

Beware of imitations. 334 JAMES PYLE.

Did you ever see one of the famous waterproof Interlined Collars or Cuffs? It's very easy to tell, for they are all marked this way

TRADE ELLULOID MARK.

They are the only Interlined Collars and Cuffs, and are made of linen, covered with waterproof "CELLULOID." They'll stand right by you day in and day out, and they are all marked this way

TRADE ELLULOID MARK.

The first cost is the only cost, for they keep clean a long time, and when soiled you can clean them in a minute by simply wiping off with a wet cloth—that is the kind marked this way

TRADE ELLULOID MARK.

These collars and cuffs will outlast six linen ones. The wearer escapes laundry trials and laundry bills—no chafed neck and no wilting down if you get a collar marked this way

TRADE ELLULOID MARK.

Ask your dealer first, and take nothing that has not above trade mark, if you desire perfect satisfaction. All others are imitations absolutely.

If you can't find collars or cuffs marked this way, we will send you a sample postpaid on receipt of price. Collars, 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50 cts. pair. Give your size and say whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

THE CELLULOID COMPANY,
427-429 Broadway, NEW YORK.

There isn't as much love in an engagement as in a marriage, for the reason that the parties tell how much they love when they are engaged, and after marriage they have to show it.—Atchison Globe.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth Co., Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me, he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. 50 cent bottles.

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds. SIMS BROS., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles.

It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In many instances the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. 25 and 50 cent bottles.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

The Best Spring Medicine.

Everybody is looking after a medicine this spring that will do what it claims. They have tried all the Sarsaparillas, Nervines and Bitters that have been advertised, but have failed to get what they pay for; now Blood Wine will do all we claim for it, and more, too.

We are not afraid to have people try our goods before buying them, and we authorize Druggists all over the country to give you a free sample of

BLOOD WINE

[Trade Mark Registered.]

so that people can see what it will do for them. No medicine on the face of the earth will cleanse your blood so quickly and thoroughly as BLOOD WINE. It cures all forms of Nervous troubles, and at the same time aids digestion, and by doing so makes Pure Blood.

DENTAL

Operations are usually painful; but at my office we excavate and Fill all Cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN. Also, we do Crown and Bridge Work and make Artificial Teeth that are Satisfactory. First Class Work at Reasonable Prices is our motto. Lady Attendant. Take Elevator.

DR. WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.
Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield, Mass.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

WARREN.

Lucier's Minstrels gave an entertainment in the town hall Tuesday evening.

The ladies of the Universalist church gave a salad supper in Brigham's hall Wednesday evening.

Landlord George E. Clark of Hotel Ramsdell is to be married May 1st to Miss Magdelena Howe in Westville, Ct.

Sayles & Jenks are planning to erect six new tenements on Bridge street near the old soap factory, and E. L. Foskit has the contract for the carpenter work.

The athletic association of the Center school will give an entertainment in the town hall this evening, with an exhibition of tumbling and other gymnastics.

Allen Burbank, one of Warren's best known citizens, died Monday at the age of 75. He was born in town and had always lived on the Burbank place until a few years ago, when he sold the place and built a house on East Main street, where he lived at the time of his death. He leaves a wife and two daughters.

WILBRAHAM.

Miss May Merrick spent Easter with friends in Springfield.

The Epworth League Social met at W. H. Maguire's Wednesday evening.

The W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. N. S. Howard Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Clark of Poultney, Vt., was the guest of Miss Gregg a few days last week.

The juniors of the Academy held a reception in Fisk Hall last Saturday evening.

The students of the Academy were given a reception by the faculty in Fisk hall Monday evening. The following musical selections were given during the evening: Violoncello solo, R. Lood; piano solo, Robert Maloney; cornet solo, F. Armstrong; vocal solo, James Davies. The mandolin club also rendered some very pleasing selections.

The athletic association of the Academy has elected the following officers: President, Herbert Hannah; vice president, Burt Gildersleeve; secretary and treasurer, E. R. Johnson; manager of track and field athletics, F. P. Webber; assistant, W. T. Knowlton; manager of football team, A. S. Smith; assistant, Harry I. Eggleston.

Robert Wright and Miss E. Wright, who have been spending the winter in New York, returned last week from their trip.

BELCHERTOWN.

Miss Lizzie King is visiting friends in Ware.

Marie West returned to her school at Agawam Monday.

Mrs. Adams of South Belchertown has applied for a license.

Mrs. Montague, who died of cancer, was taken Monday morning to South Coventry for burial.

Rev. E. O. Taylor has been holding revival meetings at the Baptist church every evening this week.

L. W. Dillon's aution sale of horses came off last Saturday, but, the day being rainy, only a few buyers were out.

A lecture for the benefit of the high school will be given in the town hall Wednesday evening. Subject, "Heroes in the Battle Field."

Mrs. Jane Montague, 64, widow of Harvey Montague, died at her home on South Main street last Friday evening after a long and painful illness. She leaves six children.

The many friends of Eddie Walker, adopted son of Myron P. Walker, will be sorry to learn of his critical illness from blood poison, caused by the removal of a mole from his neck.

WEST WARREN.

Mills No. 2 and 3 are shut down for an indefinite period.

Mrs. G. A. Barton left for her home in Millbury Thursday.

Mr. Demorest of Millbury has started a meat market on Water street.

Mr. Thompson of Lewiston, Me., is the new boss weaver in No. 1 mill.

A large number attended the Epworth League convention at Monson to-day.

The M. E. church was handsomely decorated with potted plants Easter Sunday.

Mrs. George Crouch and family have moved to Holyoke. Charles Crough will carry on the farm.

Miss Florence Gilbert and Misses Ruth and Nellie Trowbridge have gone to South Hadley to work.

Milton Dixon has moved from the Allen house on Main street to the Crossman house on Palmer road avenue.

Dennis J. Healey has moved from the Company's tenement on Main street to his father's house on the Brimfield road.

The farm known as the John Sherburne place, owned by the Gilbert Manufacturing Company of Ware, was sold at auction Monday to B. Sullivan for $1900.

The annual meeting of the Congregational society was held Tuesday night. J. W. Lawrence was chosen moderator, and the following officers were elected: Clerk, Milton Dickson; prudential committee, J. W. Lawrence, Milton Dickson, Amory Crossman; collector and treasurer, George Bliss. The articles in the warrant to decide whether the society would sell its property and turn the proceeds over to the Home Missionary Society were passed over.

BRIMFIELD.

F. Lincoln Peirce is home for Arbor Day.

Miss Sena Webber has been home for a few days.

Amos Munroe, who has been quite sick, is improving.

Miss Margaret Morgan has returned from Ware, after being absent two months.

Mrs. Newton S. Hubbard has returned, after several weeks in Boston and vicinity.

Mrs. Walter Prickette of Springfield is spending a few days with her father, Postmaster Pierson.

Miss Marion Wild and Miss Florence Bliss are home from the normal school at Bridgewater for a vacation.

Frank G. Hitchcock has a position in the store of H. L. Converse, and has rented a tenement of James T. Brown.

Prof. Haynes of Worcester Technical School, a graduate of the Hitchcock Free High School in the class of '83, has presented the school library with Fiske's "Discovery of America".

Frank G. Hitchcock, whose store and house were recently burned, is moving into the house owned by James T. Brown. Mr. Hitchcock is still undecided about rebuilding; for the present he is employed in H. L. Converse's store.

The body of Mrs. Lois P. Moulton was brought to town from Stafford Wednesday for burial. Although born in Hubbardston she had lived here for many years and was well known. Her death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Rice in Stafford, the 15th.

Mrs. Oscar F. Brown gave a tea party Monday at her home for Miss Mehitable Sumner, the occasion being her 87th birthday. Miss Sumner was a sister of the late William Sumner of Worcester, and has always been an ardent lover of music; even now her voice is remarkably clear and strong, and during the afternoon she sang for her friends. Hardly a day passes that she doesn't enjoy a little music by herself at her piano.

Mrs. Mary Dunham, widow of the late Roswell Dunham, a woman well and favorably known in this vicinity throughout her whole life, died of heart disease at an early hour Sunday morning at her residence, aged 68 years and 7 months. She had been ill only two days, after returning from a visit to her sister in West Warren. Mrs. Dunham will be greatly missed by the whole community. She had served in nearly every family in town as an excellent nurse, was quiet and unassuming, with tastes thoroughly domestic, and secured for herself a large circle of friends and acquaintances. She leaves two sons and two daughters to mourn a kind and loving mother, who was always interested in the welfare of her children. The funeral services were held in the First Congregational church, of which the deceased was an active member, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. Mr. Kyle paying a fitting tribute to the virtues of the deceased. The floral offerings were very handsome. Interment was in Brimfield cemetery in the family lot, beside her late husband. Mrs. Dunham was the eighteenth of twenty-three children of Ephraim Crouch.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment; Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

That Tired Feeling

Means danger. It is a serious condition and will lead to disastrous results if it is not overcome at once. It is a sure sign that the blood is impoverished and impure. The best remedy is

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

Which makes rich, healthy blood, and thus gives strength and elasticity to the muscles, vigor to the brain and health and vitality to every part of the body. Hood's Sarsaparilla positively

Makes the Weak Strong

"I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla last April, and it has improved my health very much. I had heart trouble but Hood's Sarsaparilla relieved me and has also cured that tired feeling with which I suffered and I highly recommend it." JENNIE CREWS, 4 Ashland Place, Boston, Mass.

Hood's and Only Hood's

Hood's Pills easy to buy, easy to take, easy in effect. 25c.

"You must let the baby have one cow's milk to drink every day," said the doctor. "Very well, if you say so, doctor," said the perplexed young mother; "but I really don't see how he is going to hold it all."—Ram's Horn.

Heart Disease 30 Yrs!

Short Breath, Palpitation.

Mr. G. W. McKinsey, postmaster of Kokomo, Ind., and a brave ex-soldier, says: "I had been severely troubled with heart disease ever since leaving the army at the close of the late war. I was troubled with palpitation and shortness of breath. I could not sleep on my left side, and had pain around my heart. I became so ill that I was much alarmed, and fortunately my attention was called to

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

I decided to try it. The first bottle made a decided improvement in my condition, and five bottles have completely cured me."

G. W. McKINSEY, P. M., Kokomo, Ind

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

REV. I. W. HILL,

Pastor Methodist Church, Accord, N. Y., Says Cancerous Diseases Can be Cured.

ACCORD, N. Y.—Under the old school method it was believed that any disease of cancerous growth could never be cured. The surgeon's knife was resorted to, but the old trouble was sure to break out again.

Since the discovery of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, all this has been changed—the action of Favorite Remedy upon the system leaves no trace of poison in the blood, the seeds of disease are expelled and lost health restored. A notable case of the efficacy of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is that of the Rev. I. W. Hill of this town. Some years ago he was suffering with a cancer of long standing, on his lip, and finally concluded to have it removed. In speaking of his case Pastor Hill said: "About three weeks previous to having the operation performed, I purchased Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and continued taking it for some time after the cancer was removed. Ten long years have passed since then and no trace of the ugly thing has returned. I speak with knowledge in the highest terms of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy as being able to cure the troubles for which it is prepared."

One of our local physcians said, in explaining the demand for Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy: "It acts as a nerve and blood food, and to my knowledge it has made many permanent cures of Nervous Debility, Sleeplessness, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism and of the sickness peculiar to women, where other treatments have failed. For headaches, constipation and the run down condition one often suffers with, there is nothing else so good."

AYER'S Hygienic Coffee.

A Health Drink, Nerve and Brain Food.

A vegetable and cereal compound; contains all the elements one's system requires.

Prepared by M. S. AYER, of Boston. A vegetarian of many years.

PRICE, 20 CENTS PER POUND.

Directions: Prepare the same as Coffee, using not more than two-thirds as much for the same amount of water, or one tablespoonful to a pint.

For sale by principal wholesale and retail grocers. Send 2c stamp for book on "Diet Reform."

M. S. AYER, 211 STATE ST., BOSTON.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, C.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

BICYCLES FOR 1895.

STEARNS "Yellow Fellow." Ladies' and Gents' $100.

WARWICK "Crimson Rims." $80, $85, $100.

CRESCENTS $90, $75, $50, $40.

WINNEWOOD & TEMPLES $60.

We have full size in Ladies' and Gents' Wheels for $50, fully warranted.

BICYCLE REPAIRING.

We have secured the services of Alfred H. Stokes to take charge of this department. Mr. Stokes comes to us from the KEATING WHEEL CO. where he has had entire charge of their Repair Department.

He can save you money in repairs and suit you. Any kind of wheel repaired.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

SEEDS.

Garden Seeds, Grass Seeds, Flower Seeds, Seed Potatoes. We take great pains to suit you on this line. We think poor seeds are worthless at any price. See us before you buy.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Belcher & Taylor's Plows and Cultivators. Rough and Ready Wrought Iron Beam Plows. Planet, Jr. Horse Hoes and Cultivators. John Doud Wheel Harrows. Steel Road Scrapers. Spring Tooth Harrows. Lawn Mowers.

We shall carry a good line and solicit your trade.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

FISHING TACKLE.

TROUT FISHING SEASON is here, and we are prepared for it. Rods, Lines, Reels, Baskets, etc. Nice assortment. Fair prices.

E. A. Buck & Co., Palmer.

W. E. STONE.

HOUSEKEEPING DEPARTMENT.

Agate Iron Ware.

Most durable of any, consequently the cheapest.

PRICES AGAIN REDUCED.

Agate Iron Teapots,	3 sizes.
Coffee Pots,	3 "
Preserve Kettles,	4 "
Sauce Pans,	6 "
Nickled Tea Kettles, best quality, full size	only $1.
" Tea Pots,	3 sizes.
" Coffee Pots,	3 "
Tin and Copper Wash Boilers,	all "
Wash Boards, Wash Tubs, Pails, Clothes Pins, Clothes Lines, Clothes Baskets, Mop Sticks and Brooms.
Yellow Mixing Bowls,	9 sizes.
" Nappies,	6 "
Rockingham Tea Pots,	4 "

Our 5 cent List

Now includes many articles that were formerly 10 cents.

Tin Wash Basins, 11½ inch—a rattler,	5c
Tea Strainers,	5c
Bowl " 5 in.,	5c
Bread and Biscuit Pans,	5c
Vegetable Sifters,	5c
Meat Forks,	5c
Iron Spoons, wood handles,	5c
Pudding Pans,	5c
Embossed Mugs,	5c
Kettle Covers,	5c
Toasters,	5c
Doughnut Cutters,	5c
Salt and Pepper Shakes,	5c
Glass Mugs,	5c
Goblets,	5c
Tumblers,	5c
Tooth Pick Holders,	5c
Cream Pitchers,	6c
Jelly Dish, fan pattern,	6c
Sugar Bowl, with cover,	9c
Butter Dish, " "	9c
Syrup Cup,	10c
Vinegar Cruets,	10c
Stew Pan and Cover,	10c
Tea and Coffee Pots,	10c
Cuspidores,	10c
Large Dippers,	9 and 10c
Cake Tins,	10c
Flour Sifters,	13c
Tea Kettles,	19c
Dish Drainers,	23c
Carpet Beaters,	10c
Dish Pans, large,	10c
Rinsing Pans, large,	23c
Tea and Coffee Pots, copper bottoms, 25 and	39c
Round Dinner Pails,	25c
Square " "	50c
Soap Savers,	10c
Egg Beaters,	15c
Chopping Knives,	15 and 33c

GROCERY DEPARTMENT.

Our Tea, Coffee and Spice Dep't.

Is one we give a great deal of attention. Its a trade plaster, i e—it draws.

Our Teas are very carefully selected from samples submitted by the largest importers.

We carry a large assortment, ranging from 25c to $1 per pound. We will undertake to please the most fastidious in the Tea and Coffee question.

Something New for this section is a CEYLON TEA, of very delicate color, aroma and flavor, at $1.00 the pound. Requires less than half the quantity of other teas. This tea is grown on the Island of Ceylon, the land of big elephants. Try a quarter of a pound. You will find it an agreeable change.

Our "Paul Revere" brand of Coffee (red bags) is gaining many friends. 38c a pound. You will need to call here for it.

We have a pure Coffee at 25c a pound that gives good satisfaction.

We sell SLADE'S SPICES—They are absolutely pure and packages full weight.

Lively Things in the Grocery Dep't.

Kibbe's Mixed Candies,	2 pounds for 27c
" Peppermint Drops,	2 " " "
" Chocolate	20c a pound

Dunham's Shredded Cocoanut, ¼, ½ and 1 pound packages.

Sugar Drip Syrup, 1 gallon, including jug, 40c, without jug, 25c.

Beardsley's Shredded Cod.

Plymouth Rock Gelatine, white and pink.

B. M. C. Best Flour. If you want cheap flour don't ask for this. Yet it is cheap, for you get many more loaves from a barrel of this than from the cheaper grades. So called cheap flour is usually dear in the end.

California Navel Oranges, 176 size, 35c a dozen.

Parlor Matches, Peacock Brand.

Acme Soap.

Large Prunes, 10c a pound.

Evaporated Apricots.

Oak Leaf Soap. See the handsome pictures in our window given away for wrappers. Call for premium list.

CARPET AND RENTING DEPARTMENTS.

From the importers we expect to receive this week a few rolls of very fine Straw Mattings. These mattings have a cotton warp, are desirable and handsome. Prices are way under city prices.

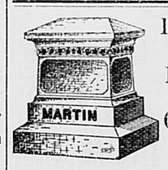
Oil Cloth Carpets.
Ingrain "
Hemp "
Carpet Linings.

Wool Fringes for Rugs.
Lace Curtains.
Extension Rods for Sash Curtains.
Drapery Poles.

We have the following Instruments to rent:
One new Upright Piano.
One second-hand Upright.
One second-hand Organ.

W. E. STONE,

Lawrence Block, - - Palmer, Mass.



DO YOU WANT A MONUMENT? CORRECT DESIGNS.

Guaranteed Workmanship. Prices Lowest.

WILLIAM F. COOK,

182, 184 STATE STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,

VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.

Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.

Residence, Nassowanno House. Office and stable, Central street.

PALMER, MASS.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

Plantation Song.

"I'd rudder be er niggah
Dan ter be er whi' man,
Dough the whi' man considdah
He se'f biggah;
But ef yo' mus' be white, w'y be hones' ef yo' can,
An' ac' es much es possible like er niggah!

"Do colah ob yo' skin
Hit don't constertoot no sin,
An' yo' fambly ain't er-
Cuttin' any higgah;
Min' w'at yo's er-doin', an' do de bes' yo' kin,
An' ac' es much es poss'ble like er niggah!"

—From "The Balance of Power," a Story, in Harper's Magazine for April.

THE WISH OF A DYING MAN.

"Here was a battle going on," said an old soldier; "nothing very heroic about it nor anything very tremendous, except that more or less men were getting killed and wounded all the time. Patches of woods with open spaces intervening, the line stretched along the edge of the woods and across the open spaces. Along in front an open space and on the other side of that the Confederates, in woods like ourselves, where there were woods, but in light earthworks and rifle pits between. That was their position, and we advanced towards it as a part of some general movement, and our business was to stay there and keep the troops in front engaged.

Veteran troops, ours were, except for such recruits as were scattered among us and except for a few enthusiastic men that liked to shout, using ammunition sparingly and not shooting much unless they thought they had some sort of chance for hitting something. Thoughtless, sometimes, about themselves, but pretty careful generally, and protecting themselves as much as they could. But even with that, and with the fighting slow, we managed in the course of the day to lose a pretty good lot of men.

Here now, was a man in my regiment shot through the body. He crawled away toward the rear. I don't know why he wasn't picked up by the hospital men, but he wasn't. Just back of that part of the line where our regiment was stationed was a little farmhouse. In the front of the house was a sort of open yard or space in which there was one tree; it wasn't a very big tree, and I don't remember what kind of a tree it was, but I remember that two of its roots ran away from its trunk a little above the ground for four or five feet, and between these roots there was a little hollow, just a little sort of a depression in the ground. The front yard was maybe eight or ten rods back from the line; that is, it might have been that much back to the tree. The man crawled along slowly until he came to the tree, and he crept partly into that little depression; I suppose it looked sort of inviting; it was a place; it wasn't just out of doors, but was sort of a place by itself, and the tree gave it sort of companionship, too. He crept partly into the little hollow and then stopped and raised himself up so that he was half sitting up, propped up on one arm and hand, and he sat up in that way and looked at the brigade commander, who was standing in the yard. The brigade commander had been the colonel of the wounded man's regiment, and he knew every man in it; he knew this man; and of course, every man in the regiment knew the colonel—the general he was now—and from knowing him so long and so well the men had all come to rely on him and look to him.

Red was creeping out around the wounded man, and staining the little hollow as he sat there, propped up on his arm looking at the general. There was a sort of wistful look on his face, as though he thought the general could help him, and the general looked down on him very soberly; in fact, with a very great pity. Just a few feet away, more or less, men were being killed and wounded all the time, but that was going on in an orderly business fashion. This man was just dying, just simply dying by himself, and you could see his life fade as you looked at him, and you could see the red stain spreading in the little hollow, and making scallops here and there where it had ran up into little shallow gulfs and bays making off from the main depression.

He was getting weaker and weaker, and was going fast, but all the time looking up at the general with that look on his face."

"If I could only have one more shot!" he said. You see, he wasn't thinking of home or friends. He was thinking of the battle; his last wish was for one more shot; and a second later he collapsed and fell dead.—Chicago Tribune.

UNCLE JIM'S SHARP SCHEME.

Uncle Jim Hendricks, a Rockland county hermit, paid his first visit to the metropolis a few weeks ago as a witness in an important lawsuit. The parties who summoned him looked carefully after his welfare, and secured him rooms in one of the finest hotels. Though for years a recluse, the excitement induced by Uncle Jim's adventures was so great that he was persuaded to stop in at the village store on his way home and narrate them. Being asked what was the most wonderful thing he had seen, he said:—

"Waal, I don't know 'bout its bein' the most wonderful, but the curiosest thing I seen wuz a darn thing they put in my room to light it. Yer see, them fellers thot they'd play a smart trick on yer uncle, and what d'yer think they gave me to light my room with?

"Haw! Haw! 'Twarn't nuthin' more'n a leetle glass bottle tied on to the end of a string. Wall, inside of that 'ere leetle bottle wuz a couple of wires that looked ez though they were red hot, tho' the bottle didn't het up a bit. How the wires ever got het up so I give it up. They didn't cool off all the evening, and when I cum to go to bed I jest says I'll pour some water out of that ere pitcher on 'em so I kin go to sleep.

"But, b'gosh! Couldn't find no hole in that ere bottle nowhere. Says to m'self, 'Guess I'll hev to smash the tarnal thing,' and wuz a-lookin' in the bed for a bed slat to do it with, when I says to myself, 'Guess I know a trick wuth two er that, I'll jest show them fellers they can't fool yer Uncle Jim.'

"So I jest takes the dressin' case and pushes it up under that ere thing and I takes that ere bottle and puts it inside one uv the drawers and shets the drawer up. 'No flies to speak uv on yer Uncle Jim,' says I. Then I goes to bed. When I opens the drawer in the mornin' the darned thing hed burned out."—New York Herald.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

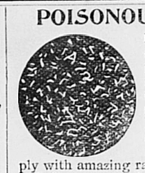
Knights of the Maccabees.

The State Commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedies fail." Signed F. W. Stevens, State Commander.—Why not give this great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free at LeGro & Lynde's, Palmer; G. L. Keeney's, Monson; F. A. Spencer's; Ware.

It May Do as Much For You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called Kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Ritters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all liver and kidney troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c for large bottle. At LeGro & Lynde's, Palmer; G. L. Keeney's, Monson, F. A. Spencer's, Ware.

POISONOUS GERMS



like these shown here are found in the expectoration of consumptives. They are minute, living organisms, which have just begun to grow and feed upon the lungs. They multiply with amazing rapidity in the tissues and air passages where they find warmth and moisture. These parasites are the direct cause of Consumption. To cure the disease, these germs must be destroyed.

Ozomulsion

TRADE MARK.

does this. It contains Ozone and Guaiacol, which are certain death to germ life. It also contains the purest Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. This supplies the required nutrition. The appetite is stimulated by the Guaiacol, the Ozone re-invigorates the system. It is a rich, liquid food. It makes the sick well; it keeps the well from getting sick. It is for Colds, Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all Pulmonary Complaints; Scrofula, General Debility, Loss of Flesh, Anæmia, and all Wasting Diseases.

THE KIND PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE

All Druggists or T. A. Slocum Co., New York

For Sale by O. P. ALLEN, Druggist, Palmer, - - Mass.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE IS THE BEST.

FIT FOR A KING.

$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF.
$4. $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO.
$3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES.
$2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S. EXTRA FINE.
$2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES.
LADIES.
$3. $2.50 $2. $1.75
BEST DONGOLA.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE. W. L. DOUGLAS. BROCKTON, MASS.

Over One Million People wear the W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes

All our shoes are equally satisfactory

They give the best value for the money.
They equal custom shoes in style and fit.
Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed.
The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole
From $1 to $3 saved over other makes.

If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by

ED. GOODES, PALMER. 21-40

General or local Agents. $75 a week. Exclusive territory. The Rapid Dish Washer. Washes all the dishes for a family in one minute. Washes, rinses and dries them without wetting the hands. You push the button, the machine does the rest. Bright, polished dishes, and cheerful wives. No scalded fingers, no soiled hands or clothing. No broken dishes, no mess. Cheap, durable, warranted. Circulars free.

W. P. HARRISON & CO., Clerk No. 12, Columbus, O.

DRINK LIPTON'S TEAS

Direct From The Tea Gardens. Fragrant! Rich! Delicious!

AWARDED HIGHEST HONORS AT THE WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO.

Genuine only when supplied in "Original" Patent Air-tight Canisters bearing grower's name:

LIPTON, TEA PLANTER, CEYLON.

These delicious Teas are used in almost every home in the Old Country. Lipton's "No. 1" is unanimously declared to be The Finest Tea The World Can Produce.

SOLD BY

J. B. SHAW, Palmer. W. N. FLYNT & SONS, Monson.
J. B. BROWN & CO., Three Rivers. C. L. HOLDEN, Bondsville.

RICHMOND STRAIGHT CUT No. 1 CIGARETTES

MADE FROM THE BRIGHTEST, MOST DELICATELY FLAVORED AND HIGHEST COST GOLD LEAF GROWN IN VIRGINIA.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Who are willing to pay a little more than the price charged for ordinary trade cigarettes, will find this brand superior to all others.

ALLEN & GINTER, RICHMOND, VA.
THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., Successor.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

Insist on ARM AND HAMMER SODA in packages

BEWARE of imitation trade marks and labels.

Costs no more than inferior package soda—never spoils the flour, keeps soft, and is universally acknowledged purest in the world.

Made only by CHURCH & CO., New York.
Sold by grocers everywhere.
Write for Arm and Hammer Book of valuable Recipes—FREE.

USE BARNES' INK

A. S. BARNES & CO., 56 E. 10th St., N. Y.

THE HARDWARE DEALER.

A MAGAZINE brim full of practical ideas from hardware men. The cream of 1000 brains. 116 pages. Only $1.00 a year. Send 10c for copy.
D. T. MALLET, Pub., 78 Reade St., New York.

CHAUTAUQUA NURSERY CO.

Offer Liberal Terms to Agents.

Salary and expenses or commission. High grade stock at low prices. New specialties. Seed Potatoes, etc.

MEN WANTED

in every town. Steady work. Pay weekly. Address H. B. WILLIAMS, SEC'Y., PORTLAND, N. Y.

VEGETABLE, PULMONARY, BALSAM.

The old, well known cure, —for— "Best in the World." Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

Originated by Lowe & Reed, 1826.

CUTLER BROS. & CO., Boston. 50c., $1.00.

GERMEA

For Breakfast, prepared from California White Wheat. Delicious. Economical. Grocers sell it. The John T. Cutting Co., 153 Duane St., N. Y.

The Humane Driving Bit.

TREAT THE FAMILY PET TO ONE

ROBT. BONNER says if you try it you will use no other bit, FOR ALL KINDS of horses. It will control the most vicious horse without punishment. Extra fine sample, solid nickel jointed or stiff mouth. Tested and Warranted. Sent for $1.

HUMANE BIT CO, Dept. F, NEWARK, N. J.

WANTED—A Few More Book Agents in this and adjoining Counties for

Our Journey Around the World,

A brand new book by Francis E. Clark, Pres't. of the United Soc. of Christian Endeavor. The best chance to make money ever offered to all who want profitable work. A good agent in this vicinity can earn $100 a month. Distance no hindrance, for We Pay Freight, Give Credit, Premium Copies, Free Outfit, and Exclusive Territory. For particulars, write to

A. D. WORTHINGTON & CO., Hartford, Ct.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE

Use Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cures the worst Cough, Weak Lungs, Debility, Indigestion, Pain, Take in

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 26, 1895.—SIX PAGES. NUMBER 4.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 30 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R. R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BOND, A. M., Manufacturer and Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, Tinware, Hardware, etc.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's.

WARE.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counselor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

PALMER LODGE, No. 190, I. O. O. F. Meets every Wednesday evening in Commercial Block, Main street.
M. M. THOMAS, N. G. G. H. BRAY, Rec. Sec.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in Grange Hall, Day's Block, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

If you are going to use any

WALL PAPER

this spring it will

PAY YOU

to look at our line and get

OUR PRICES.

We have our NEW STOCK all in and know we are very bottom on prices.

WE WILL UNDERSELL

any city in the state of Massachusetts.

LeGRO & LYNDE,

DRUGGISTS,

Next Door to Post Office, Palmer.

FINEST GROWN

FOR ALL KINDS OF JOB PRINTING CALL AT THE JOURNAL OFFICE.

"HOUSE CLEANING."

One of the Great Objects of Mankind is to Satisfy the Everlasting Want. One of the Chief Ends of the

MONSON BOSTON STORE

Is to Supply Practical Home Needs AT INSIDE FIGURES.

Do You Need Window Shades? Well, we can supply them. Fittings, four screws complete, At 25c each, Best Quality at 29c.

Do You need a New Table Oil Cloth? Our price for THE BEST QUALITY (no seconds) 22c a yd. Shelf Oil Cloth 6 1-2c yd.

MADE-UP SHEETS In Heavy Cotton, 2¼ yards by 2½ yards long, 3 in. hem, 50c each.

"INDIAN STRAW MATTING" In all the new patterns and colorings. Wear guaranteed, At 25c, 29c, 35c, 45c yard.

OUR GOODS ARE SELECTED TO MEET THE EVERY DAY NEEDS OF THE PEOPLE "AND SELL WITHOUT ARGUMENT."

SMALL TABLES. Just the thing for corner of room. Special price for "House Cleaners," ONLY 39 CENTS. Regular price 50c.

SPONGES. Useful for washing windows, etc., Extra Large Size, 29c.

HOUSEKEEPERS. Study These Bargains on Our ECONOMY COUNTER, . . . For 5 Cents. . . .

FLOWER AND VEGETABLE SEEDS, 5 CTS. PACKAGE. SPECIAL PRICE BY THE DOZEN.

FIVE CENTS.
Jack Hammer.
Jack Claw.
Door Stopper.
2 Packs Carpet Tacks.
3 Dozen Camphor Balls.
Door Bolt.
A Good Scrubbing Brush.
Sink Cleaner.
Large Size Wash Basin.
Pie Plates All Sizes.
Extra Large Bottle Machine Oil.
Loaf Rising Pans.
Pot Cleaners.
1 Cake Best Butter Milk Soap.
1 Cake Turkish Bath Soap.
Stove Lifters.
Asbestos Stove Lids.
Mouse Traps.
CROWDED OUT FOR LACK OF ROOM.

OUR DIME MUSEUM Is not a Freak, BUT GENUINE BARGAINS. 10c Buys the Following:

SPECIAL. 60 FOOT CLOTHES ROPE. Large WOVEN Carpet Beater. LARGE BOTTLE AMMONIA.

TEN CENTS.
1 Bottle Best Glue.
1 Bottle Witch Hazel.
1 Bottle Glycerine.
Large Nail Hammer.
Revolving Sifter.
Dish Drainer.
Whisk Broom.
Hat Rack.
Full Size Cuspidor.
Strong Spring Lock and Key.
Retinned Preserve Kettles.
Large Goose Feather Duster.
Drip Pans, All Sizes.
New Style Egg Beaters.
Lemon Squeezers.
Hair Paint Brush.
Good Hair Brush.
THE DOLLAR OF OUR GRANDFATHERS IS INDEED THE DIME OF TO-DAY.

T. H. TODD,

Boston Bargain Store,

Monson, = Mass.

CHARLES E. LYNCH.

LYNCH'S STYLES.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating," is an old saying. If you see nowadays a particularly good-fitting, artistic, well-made SPRING SUIT or OVERCOAT, worn by a Springfield merchant, lawyer, banker, clerk or mechanic, you'll find it came from LYNCH'S.

Or ask anyone well versed in the art of CORRECT DRESSING where to go in Springfield for stylish, elegant, handsome Clothes to-day—"To LYNCH'S," will be the prompt reply.

Take a trip to Springfield. Drop in at LYNCH'S—mention this—and—look through LYNCH'S STYLES.

The patterns—gentility itself. You'll admit it. The materials, soft and flexible, as only fine goods are. Try on a garment. Size yourself up from head to foot. Maybe it's a trifle this or that. One of LYNCH'S tailors will quickly fix all that. When finished---look again! You smile---you're pleased. We know it. Never in your life were you better fitted---better dressed. You'll acknowledge it. More---you'll understand why well-dressed Springfield are having their Spring clothing made to order or getting them at LYNCH'S! There's a difference though. It's this---LYNCH'S goods cost about one-half, just about one-half! It's worth saving, if nothing more

Spring Overcoats, $8 to $30. Spring Suits, $8 to $25.
Dress Trousers, $3.50 to $7.50. Stylish Hats, $1 to $3.50.

CHARLES E. LYNCH,

Promoter of Fashionable Clothing.

367 Main. SPRINGFIELD. 369 Main.

Your Money Refunded in Case of Any Dissatisfaction Whatever.

C. W. CROSS,

DENTIST.

OFFICE HOURS: 8 to 12 A. M., and 1.30 to 4.30 P. M.

CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK.

Riding Cheaper than Walking.

JUST think of BICYCLES at $5.00 and up. Of course they are "second hand," but in many of them there is a world of wear. New bargains every day. Don't fail to write or see

G. M. Hendee,
Springfield, Mass.
8-1

E. S. BRYANT, D. M. D.

DENTIST.

LYNDE'S BLOCK, - - PALMER.

SMITH & MURRAY.

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR

Time was when ready-made Underwear was skimpy, ill-shapen and mean—and that time holds on in most stores.

But we long ago changed that—and thousands of women in this section are depending on us for their entire supply—and their number is increasing all the time.

Prove the easier-priced sorts by those we mention:

Corset Covers.

25 cents. Good Muslin with V neck of neat Hamburg edging.
At 37½ cents. Corset Covers of good cloth. V or square neck of Hamburg edging.

Drawers.

25 cents. Made of good cloth and neatly trimmed with Hamburg and Lace.
At 59 cents. Good quality Cambric Drawers, trimmed with a variety of Hamburg edging.

Night Gowns.

At 50 cents. Good quality of Cotton Cloth, nothing skimpy or mean about it, full length. All sizes.
At 75 cents. Night gown made of extra heavy Cotton with Hamburg and cluster of three tucks on yoke.
At $1.00. Night gown of fine Muslin, two rows of insertion and fine tucked yoke, extra full sleeves.

At 98 cents.

We have a complete line of Gowns, Drawers and Umbrella Skirts, trimmed with the new English Embroideries.
Finer grades at $1.25 and $1.50.
The foregoing lots are special, and if you are interested, to-day and the next few days will be the time to secure them.

North store.

Infants' Department.

Reefers in sizes 1, 2, 3 and 4 years, $1, $1.50, $2, $2.50, $3, $5 and $7.50. Colors, Navy, Red, Tan and mixtures.
Infants' Long and Short Dresses,
25 cents each,
37½ cents each,
50 cents each.
Finer ones at a dollar and upward.
There's no economy in home work when you see these goods.

North store, rear.

SMITH & MURRAY.

....BICYCLES....

Keating, - - $100

Winnewood, $80, $60, $50, $40

A FIRST CLASS WHEEL FOR LITTLE MONEY.

A. E. FITCH,

BANK BLOCK, - - PALMER.

Lessons on the Violin or Piano.

Given by—

MISSES JULIA and LILY ALLEN.

4-32ks Cor. Church and Pleasant Sts., Palmer.

To Herbert Spencer.

BY GRANT ALLEN.

Deepest and mightest of our later seers,
Spencer, whose piercing glance descried afar
Down fathomless rifts of dead unnumbered years
The effulgent waste drift into sun and star,
And through vast wilds of elemental strife
Tracked out the first faint steps of yet unconscious life:

Thy hand has led us through the pathless maze,
Chaotic sights and sounds that throng the brain,
Traced every strand along its tangled ways,
And woven anew the many-colored skein;
Linked fact to fact in adamantine laws,
And shown through minds and worlds the unity of cause.

Ere thou hadst read the universal plan
Our life was unto us a thing alone;
On this side nature stood, on that side man,
Irreconcilable, as twain, not one;
Thy voice first told us man was nature's child,
And in one common law proclaimed them reconciled.

No partial system could suffice for thee,
Whose eye had scanned the glittering fields of space,
Gazed through the aeons on the fiery sea,
And caught faint gleams of that ineffable face
Which, clad with earth and heaven and souls of men,
Hides its mysterious shape forever from our ken.

As insect masons in some coral shoal,
Piling the future mountain toward the sky,
Frame each his cell, unconscious of the whole,
Live each his little life, and toil, and die;
So we, thy lesser workers in thy field,
Pile each the tiny heap our narrower range can yield.

But like some mighty architect, thy mind
Works up the rock those lesser builders frame,
With conscious end and purpose clear defined,
In arch and column, toward a single aim,
Till joining part to part thy broader soul
Rears high a stately fane, a grand harmonious whole.

Not without honor is the prophet's name,
Save with his country and his kin in time;
But after years shall noise abroad thy fame,
Above all other fame in prose or rhyme;
For praise is his who builds for his own age,
But he who builds for Time must look to Time for wage.

Yet though thy purer spirit scorns to heed
The vulgar guerdon of a brief renown,
Some little meed, at least, some little meed,
Our age may add to thy more lasting crown.
Accept an unknown singer's thanks for light
Cast on the dim abyss that bounds our narrow sight.

TWO DAYS WITH BUTTONS.

He came out from Boston by express, with a tag in his buttonhole. He was not "Buttons" then, only Ned Poor from the Orphan Asylum. He was not wanted or desired. Mrs. Oakland had had "enough of boys." Before she was married she had had her theories, but now she had experience plus her theories. The first boy had a gentle face with a blue eye. He said, "Yes, ma'am," with great deference, but the next morning before breakfast she saw her pet Angora cat with arched back up in the tulip tree, while near her big black collie dog below stood the mild faced boy, saying shrilly between his teeth, "S-s-s-t." This same gentle boy broke her best Dresden salad-bowl, chipped the china viciously, and poured boiling water into a cut glass pitcher. The second boy seemed promising, but he soon had an epileptic fit, and was sent to the hospital. The third boy was very fond of animals. The dogs was kept at the stables, and Joe spent his spare time there. One morning Joe was missing.

"He had the two dogs fighting last night, and Rex is badly torn," said Martha, the chambermaid. "The coachman said he would report him to the master. Joe was paid in the morning, ma'am, and he knew he would be discharged, so he left last night. He was worse than the other boy, who clipped the china and starved the birds. He was vicious."

"All the more pity we could not have made something good out of him," said Mrs. Ferdinand to herself, just as William, the gardener's son, brought in a basket of dewy roses and a big bowl of luscious strawberries in time for Mr. Oakland's early breakfast.

"I am in trouble about Joe," she said to her husband, as he came in, breezy and hungry from his drive over to the farm with his head gardener, having just fifteen minutes left before driving to the station.

"What could you expect? I will give him another trial of good hard work, where he will be watched. He was too poor material for your theories to work on," said Mr. Oakland.

"I haven't a theory left. I want nothing more to do with boys," said Mrs. Oakland dolefully, while pouring her husband's coffee. "They are careless, heedless, and reckless, when they are not brutal or vicious. Maria's little sister can come for a while. I did want a good boy badly, but it is no use. There ain't any. And why should I see valuable things ruined and dumb creatures abused?"

"Joe was a brute. When I saw Rex this morning, I longed to give the boy a sound thrashing. Who picked these strawberries—William? One boy with sense, and we will find another yet. It is only a matter of selection and we are equal to it. I have a dim memory of being a boy once myself," said Mr. Oakland, as he finished his comfortable breakfast and hurried away. Later, on his return from town, Mr. Ferdinand Oakland said to his head gardener, who knew more about the place than he did himself, and who was also his wise adviser and friend: "Can't you find a boy for my wife, Mr. Cummings, a sort of 'Buttons,' you know, to feed the parrots and dogs and help Ray a little? We have had poor material thus far. Your judgment is good on growing things."

"All right," answered Mr. Cummings. "Seedings and boys are uncertain. You can only look at the stock and the breeding. I will see what can be done about it when I go to town." Then they talked of orchids and peach trees, and drove on and looked at the Holstein cows in the upper pasture, and Mr. Oakland forgot about the order till this boy came down by express. He was a white-faced, skinny little thing, in a pepper and salt jacket, and trousers which had grown dingy with use and short with the increasing length of the boy.

"He looks like the spring chicken I saw hanging in the storeroom this morning," said Mrs. Ferdinand, as she glanced at him from her low rocking-chair on the terrace. "I shall call him 'Chicken Little,' she said, turning to her brother Alexis, as the boy followed Ray into the house. "Did you notice his big head and poor thin little legs and long arms and neck. Air him and feed him, and let me dress him, and he will be another creature in a week or two."

"How will you dress your new doll, dear?" said Mr. Oakland.

"Don't be sarcastic, Ferdinand. It is not becoming. The boy shall have a blue suit, with cord down the sides of the trousers and silver buttons on his jacket. He will make a lovely 'Buttons.' If you make Ray brush your coats, and keep your bureau-drawers in order, and run your errands, then some one must help him in his other duties. Besides, the boy shall feed the parrots and dogs. My Angora cat I choose to feed myself."

"In other words," said Mr. Alexis, "he is the gentleman's gentleman's gentleman."

"Nonsense, Alex. The boy will be very helpful and useful. I shall go at once and see Martha, and give orders that he must be in bed every night by nine o'clock."

"She is aching for an excuse to talk with the boy," said Mr. Oakland, as his wife went into the house.

Mrs. Ferdinand passed through the stately dining-room, with its sideboard heavy with silver and cut-glass, on through the cosy breakfast-room, and then into the butler's pantry. Here was Mr. Ray in his shirt sleeves, without his black dress-coat and white gloves. He was taking out the china and silver for luncheon.

"He will have to watch me and learn the ways of things at first, ma'am," said Mr. Ray, looking round and nodding toward the boy.

"Of course, Ray. Did Martha give the boy a glass of milk and some bread and butter, as I ordered, when he first came?"

"She gave him a plenty, and he ate it hearty," answered Ray. "He sees things and is quick. I think he will do very well—better than the others," continued Ray in a lower tone to Mrs. Oakland. She turned and laid her hand on the boy's shoulder.

"You will like it here with us, I hope. Mr. Ray will tell you what you are to do in the pantry. After luncheon I will show you how to feed the birds. You have not told me your name. What shall I call you?" said Mrs. Oakland, looking into the boy's face.

"The boys at the 'sylum all called me 'Ned.' Ned Poor is my name. My mother used to call me 'Edwin,'" said the boy, looking up out of the two great brown eyes shaded with long black lashes.

"Edwin is a prettier name than Ned. I shall call 'you Edwin, like your mother. Now, Mr. Ray, remember, the boy is Edwin, not Ned, here. And, Edwin, I shall tell Martha to see that your room is in order and you are to be in bed every night by nine o'clock. Send him up by a quarter-to-nine, Ray. I think that is all now." Mrs. Oakland went back to her husband and brother on the terrace.

Mrs. Ferdinand's piazza was not a piazza, but a terrace. It had a low stone wall around it, with vast pots of waving palms here and there. There was a great red rug, and soft-cushioned chairs, and a long bamboo lounge full of big down pillows covered with cool-looking blue-and-white Japanese crape. Great jars of heavy-headed blue hydrangeas stood in rows on each side the steps. The shades were pulled down on the sunny side, and Mrs. Oakland looked cool and dainty, sitting in the low rocking-chair, in her pale green gown.

"I have lost my heart," said Mrs. Oakland, "lost it utterly. It has been stolen by a pair of brown eyes with long lashes."

"I did not notice the color of the boy's eyes," said Mr. Oakland. "I only saw he looked me straight in the face, as I like a boy to do when I speak to him. Do you know where Cummings found him? He went to the Horticultural Society rooms, and got him through Brooks, our best city florist. He got him as he would a new plant. The boy, he says, is a son of one of his old gardeners, and has been well brought up. He has no near relatives, and since his father's death has been in an orphan asylum. Did you notice how he stopped and looked at the flowers as he came up the steps?"

After luncheon Mrs. Oakland took Edwin down to the little pond, full of lotus plants and blue and pink water-lilies, beside which stood the perches for the birds; and they fed the parrots. The great, glorious red bird, with its long blue tail and gold band on its throat, stepped off its tall perch on to the outstretched white hand of the lady, and walked slowly up the green sleeve of her gown till he rubbed his heavy beak against her cheek.

"Pretty bird! Pretty bird! You say I must feed him just this way every day?" said Ned in a happy voice.

"Oh, yes, and give them both water. This blue-and-yellow bird on the other side of the pond is not as gentle. We have not had him as long, and you must be watchful, for he is cross sometimes. If you feed them, they will learn to be fond of you.

When he had finished feeding the birds, the boy went back into the house and helped Ray clear the table. Mr. and Mrs. Oakland were sitting in the library opening a new package of books, when Edwin came to the door, saying: "There is a gentlemen to see you, sir."

"Coming, directly," answered Mr. Oakland, lingering and looking over his wife's shoulder at the open book.

"Oh, Edwin," called Mrs. Oakland, looking up from her book, "I forgot to feed my cat. Will you ask Martha to pour some cream from the blue pitcher into her saucer, and you can bring it out on the terrace. I will come and feed her myself."

When Mrs. Oakland put down her book and went out the front door to the terrace, she saw Edwin waiting with the saucer of cream, while her pet cat was sleeping serenely among the down pillows.

"Come here, dear," called Mr. Oakland, who was standing near a man with a bright brass cylinder in his hand. "This is the latest new fire-extinguisher. I think we had better have it. It is the very latest scientific dodge. A boy could manage it." Edwin still held the saucer, and the cat slept on. "I want you to understand it, dear. It is very simple. Pull this lever away from the cross-bar on top. Now turn the cross-bar sharply to the right or left. That breaks the bottle inside. Wait long enough to count twenty; then pull the lever back as far as it will go, and lift up the extinguisher and send the stream into the fire. They have just tested it in town—put out two big fires of tar-barrels with one extinguisher. It generates nitrogen gas, in which fire cannot live," said Mr. Oakland learnedly.

"I hope I shall never have occasion to use it," answered his wife.

"Here, Ray," called Mr. Oakland, "I want you to understand this. It requires no strength, you see, only to keep your head and remember what to do. This will be put up in the back hall this afternoon, and I want all of you to know how to use it."

Mrs. Oakland fed her cat; then came and held the new machine a moment in her hand.

"Why you could lift it, Edwin," she said. The boy raised it lightly, and looked at the fastenings carefully, going through the same motions as the others. The new machine was hung in the back hall before night. Mr. and Mrs. Oakland went back to the library and their books. Mr. Ray was in his shirt sleeves in the pantry with Edwin, who had taken off his jacket and looked thinner than ever as he helped wash the dishes. Mr. Ray was quite another looking man in his dress-coat at the late dinner table. A great bowl of rhododendrons stood on a crimson plush covering in the middle of the table. At the four corners of the table stood cut-glass dishes of nuts, fruit and sweets. These were wreathed with pale green leaves and roses, while roses rested beside each decorated Dresden plate. Mr. Ray served everything with silence and decorum. Edwin stood in the pantry and admired it all, and especially Mr. Ray.

The family lingered in the hall after dinner. It was chilly, and there was a bright fire in the big fire-place. The firelight shone on the portraits in the hall, lighting up the faces till they seemed to smile. The candles in the sconces were all lighted. The great hall was full of light and color. Mr. Oakland sat in the big leather-covered easy-chair, and looked up at the portrait of his mother.

"It is a success, dear, I think. I know I would not part with it for twice the price I paid for it, and Sargent's work is worth something. What is that new piece of drapery near the door? I see. It is the thing you were embroidering, your new book-case curtain." "I finished it to-day, and threw it over there for a little while, for color. It somehow brings out the high lights in the picture."

Mr. Oakland sat for a while looking at the portrait.

"How a man can do work like that is a marvel to me," Mr. Oakland said, as he sprang from his chair and walked up and down the hall. His mother had died six months before. Mrs. Oakland left her seat and moved quickly to the piano, and began playing, while her husband walked up and down the hall, and her brother read the evening paper. After a while the tall clock on the stairs rang the nine o'clock chime. Mr. Oakland stopped, counted the strokes, and in a few moments went up stairs. He walked through the upper hall, and started to open the door that led towards the servants' rooms. He did not open it wholly, but stood with his hand on the door. Little "Buttons'" room was just the other side of that door. And Mr. Oakland saw the boy in his slim, little white night-dress saying his prayers outside his bed.

"The poor, lonesome little beggar," he said to himself, and opened the door after the boy had crept comfortably into bed.

"How goes it, Ned? My wife calls you Edwin, but I shall call you Ned, when we are by ourselves, you know, just like the other boys. Are you all right, Ned?"

"Oh, yes, sir," the boy answered eagerly. "Mrs. Oakland is beautiful. I think she is just jolly. I like it here."

"I am something of the same opinion myself. Oh, I forgot to say Mrs. Oakland's brother goes on the early train to-morrow morning, and you had better be down early and help Ray. He will tell you what to do. Now good-night. You are all right, Ned?"

"All right, sir." answered the boy. He turned his face over and was soon sound asleep.

Mr. Oakland went down into his study and wrote several letters. Mrs. Oakland had left the piano long before and sat with her brother by the fire in the great fireplace till there was only a small heap of coals left. Then one after the other walked up the broad staircase to their rooms, and left Mr. Oakland alone in the study. It was very late when Ray came in to put out the lights and lock up the house. Mr. Oakland sprang from his desk and threw a pile of letters on the hall table. "See that those are sent in the morning. Good night, Ray." And Mr. Oakland left Ray to fasten up the house and put out the lights, and soon the great hall was dark except for the glow from the heap of coals in the fireplace, and the house grew still.

It was far on toward morning when Mr. Oakland was aroused from a sound sleep by hearing a clear, high, childish voice calling out: "Mr. Ray. Is that you? Is it time for me to come down now?"

Mr. Oakland sprang out of bed, flung a brown velveteen coat over his blue and white pajamas, and went out into the hall to find Mr. Ray in his trousers and night-shirt, with no coat at all.

"It is that new boy, Mr. Oakland. I'll fix him."

"Wait, Ray. Let me see what it is," and he opened the door to the servant's hall to see the small boy in his white night-shirt, holding a candle and looking down the back stairs.

"I saw the light once, and I am sure I heard Mr. Ray in the breakfast room," called out the boy shrilly. "You told me to get up when he did."

"All right, my boy. Go back to bed. It is not morning yet." Mr. Oakland touched a button, and the hall light was lighted downstairs. He stepped into his room and come back with a revolver.

"We will go down now, Ray. If any one was at the safe in the breakfast-room, the boy has frightened him off." When they opened the door, a puff of cold air told them that the window was open, and turning on the light, they saw a cold chisel on the floor near the safe.

"They are well away—frightened off just in time. The boy's ears were good," said Mr. Oakland. "You stay here and mind the house. They will not come back. As soon as I telephone the police, I will go around the place with James. Keep the house quiet."

Mr. Oakland rang for James, ran upstairs and quieted his wife, telephoned, dressed, and was ready for James when he came down from the stable. The two went off together, while Ray slept uncomfortably on the settle in the dining-room.

Later, Mr. Alexis had his early breakfast, and Mr. Oakland also went to the city. Mrs. Oakland drove off early to Camden and spent the day with her mother. She came home before dinner.

It had been a hot day in town, and the night was deliciously cool.

"Here is your shawl, dear; we will go up to the summer-house," said Mr. Oakland to his wife, after dinner, when the lights in the hall made the house look warm, while the starlight outside seemed refreshingly cool after the glare and dust of the city.

The two sauntered off toward the summer-house on the hill.

"We will have one little half-hour to ourselves," said Mr. Ferninand to his wife. "Anything new to-day?"

"I spent the day at mother's. Oh, yes, I want to tell you this," his wife answered. "I went down to the store-room to see to things before I drove off this morning. When Martha opened the ice chest, I saw a glass of roses put away carefully. 'What is this?' I asked. 'Oh, Edwin put them there, ma'am,' she answered. 'Mr. Ray told him to clear away the flowers from the dinner-table last night, and he said they were too good to throw away; they ought to go to the Children's Hospital, and he asked if he might not save them and put them in the ice-box, as his father used to keep flowers.'"

"Good for the boy," said Mr. Oakland. "What will be his next exploit, I wonder. He seems to have some sense in his head. Look here dear. What is that!" Mr. Oakland sprang from his seat in the summer-house, gave one hard look on beyond the path, then, without a word, left his wife and dashed across the lawn in a straight line for the house. Mrs. Oakland looked, and saw a flash of bright light in the great open door of the hall, which was soon followed by darkness and then a puff of smoke. She followed her husband, running like a deer, and the two reached the hall door almost together.

There stood the small boy upon a chair, with his thin little arm a full third way out of his small jacket, standing on his tiptoes and holding the great new brass fire-extinguisher straight up toward the new portrait, while a blackened mass of burned drapery was still hanging on the wall near it. His face looked whiter and thinner than ever, but his eyes were shining like two coals of fire.

"I had to do it, sir," he said, in a troubled tone. "I called Mr. Ray, and he did not come."

"Of course not," thought Mr. Oakland, though he did not say it aloud. "I saw him smoking down near the stables with James."

"I called Martha, but she did not hear," continued Ned.

"I was opening the beds, ma'am," answered Martha.

"You were doing the right thing, Martha," said Mrs. Oakland encouragingly.

"You said one had only to keep his head and remember, and I remembered," continued Ned.

"That is more than some of us do sometimes," said Mr. Oakland softly, and he lifted the boy down gently and took the extinguisher from his hand.

"It was nothing to do, and was out in a minute," said Ned simply. "The fire was going right up toward the picture and the curtain, and it seemed too bad. I had to do it, sir. The man said it would not hurt anything. Is anything hurt, sir?"

"No apology necessary, Edwin," said Mr. Oakland dryly. "Martha, it is time this boy went to bed. Take him up, Martha, and look after him. We won't go out again to-night."

Mr. Oakland reached up and pulled down the burnt bit of drapery. "It blew into the candles when we left the door open, I fancy," he said quietly. Then he sat down slowly in the chair opposite the picture. Mrs. Oakland shivered and began to wipe her eyes gently.

"Now don't, dear. There is no harm done; hardly a big scare. But he will do, I fancy, and I think on the whole I had better order the new suit for the boy to-morrow."

"Blue," said Mrs. Oakland, "with cord down the sides and silver buttons. Gold would be none too good for him."—By Hetta Lord Hayes Ward, in Romance.

A Voice From Florida.

"Hi! Somebody come here quick! There's a bee got in this hammock, and I can't get out!"—Life.

A NEWSBOY WITH A HEART.

He stood at the corner of Vine and Sixth streets—not one's ideal of a philanthropist. In fact, Jim was not a very good boy, even as newsboys go.

The mud and the rain had made free with his old ragged clothes, and underneath the grime on his pinched face was the blue look which comes from hunger and cold.

"Here's yer mornin' papers—all about the accident!"

"Meouw, meouw!"

"Here's yer——"

"Meouw, meouw, meouw!!"

"Hello, pard; tryin' ter yell louder'n me?"

It was such a wretched mite of a kitten, wet and shivering and starving. As it clawed and scratched at his tattered trousers, the grimy face softened, as no one had ever seen it soften before.

"Pore little cuss; I ain't got nothin' fer yer. Tune up at one of them swell coves."

With a shake of the leg that the kitten had taken possession of, he began again to cry his papers, on which he depended for his miserable crust of bread and still more miserable lodging.

"Here's yer mornin'——"

"Meouw, meouw!"

He stooped down to pat the wretched little creature; then, suddenly lifting it up, with a suspicion of moisture in his eyes—though it might have been only the rain dashing in his face—he said:

"I'm richer'n you be, pore little cuss. I've got some bread for my dinner, and you're a-goin' ter have some, too; and if ther' be a dry rag on me, it'll warm ye up a bit."

The coat was searched, but the pockets were bottomless; so he tenderly placed it on his breast, wrapped the torn coat about it, gave it a generous share of his dinner; and with bright face and cheery voice, which made passers-by, who were hurrying to get out of the drenching rain, turn to look at him, and then to buy—he began again:

"Here's yer mornin' papers."—Cincinnati Tribune.

FATHER AND SON.

Down at the depot one day the heavy snow had chilled the veins of traffic, and the engines could not move. Those that were due had telegraphed their troubles from a hundred miles away. Those that should leave were waiting in the yards, their doors locked, their fires low, their crews uncertain.

About in the great sheds outside the gates the crowds were waiting, restless, impatient, and yet cheerful, with that fortitude which combined misfortune always brings. Prominent among them was a strong young man. I had noticed him. There was a bundle from the market on his arm. Then he had a family. There was a pair of child's shoes. Then he had a society charm on his watch chain. He displayed it when he compared notes with the depot clock. Then he was an agreeable fellow. There was a strong, hearty note in his voice when he spoke, a music when he laughed. Then he was a manly man; too big, too broad, too full of strength and grace to cavil at the weather or frown at the little trials of home.

I honored him. I was glad he was in the troubled crowd with me.

An old man, gray but upright, came deeply muffled to the gate and asked the watchman—as all newcomers did—something about the train. The servitor was surly. But before the crabbed answer could reach the old man's ears that splendid stranger friend of mine called out:

"All right, father. You are not late."

All right father! How proud a sire to have so good a son. I would walk on needles all my days to hear the voice of such a boy call out in such a crowd those royal words, "All right, father," and lay down my burdens with a thankful sigh that life held so much for me.

That made a volume I haven't finished reading yet.—Chicago Herald.

TRUE HISTORY OF POCAHONTAS.—"Yes," said the Chief Powhatan to his beautiful daughter. Pocahontas, "you rush out and fall on his neck just when I go to hit him with my club. I want you to get him, you know, but I don't want to have to cough up any $2,000,000 unless it is absolutely necessary.

As is well known, the bluff went. Smith was dead tickled to escape with his life, and the subject of marriage settlement never was mentioned.—Detroit Tribune.

THE NEW WOMAN'S TRAINING.—"But," observed the visitor, politely, "I wish a practical education for my daughter."

The preceptress smiled and turned to her school.

"Class in domestic economy, attend," she said. "Ready for revolt of hired girl—half-Nelson—grapevine strangle—angle of jaw—duck—land—out. Practical? Yes."

The terms would be $500 a year in advance.—Detroit Tribune.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 26, 1895.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Seed potatoes from Maine, at Thompson's Market.

Special Reduction in Prices at E. A. Buck & Co's.

Best pure White Lead, Union Jewetts, Red Seal, Forest River, Missouri and Eagle Brand $5.50. Galvanized Barbed Fence Wire, $2.25. Other low prices to follow next week.

Don't forget that W. R. Milligan, the boot and shoe dealer, has bought out W. A. Weld and is again located in the Converse House block, where he will continue as in former years to sell boots and shoes at the lowest living prices. Many are the bargains that have gone from this store, and many there are to follow. We are at present closing out a lot of children's shoes at 25 cents a pair. See them at Milligan's SHOE STORE, Converse House block.

PALMER NEWS.

PROBABLY A SWINDLE SOMEWHERE.

Some 20 Joiners of a Catholic Insurance Order Would Like to Know Where Their Money Went.

The people in Palmer who have joined the new fraternal order, the Patriotic Catholic Americans, have about made up their minds that they have been victimized. Whether or not such an organization exists, there has been crooked work in forming the Palmer lodge, which is called the "Sheridan Congress." Reports from other places indicate that they have been visited by the same people who worked this town. The party consisted of two men and a woman, who registered about two weeks ago at the Nassowanno house as Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Flaherty and C. J. Leahy of Boston. The men seem to have been the most active, working chiefly among women. They claimed to be representatives of an order called the Patriotic Catholic Americans, and said they were travelling about organizing new branches of the order. The benefits of the order purported to be a life insurance of $100 and free medical attendance in case of sickness. The initiation fee was $2, and the dues were to be correspondingly small. No medical examination was necessary to become a member, and about 20 members were secured in Palmer. After securing the memberships a meeting was called at the hotel, and the local congress was duly organized. The charter and other publications were to be sent later, and officers were duly elected. A committee was also chosen to engage meeting rooms. The organizers claimed that of the money received for initation fees only 5 cents was to be taken by them. The balance was to remain in the local treasury. They neglected to leave any of the money, however, and took away about $40 from the members.

An amount of money which cannot be definitely stated was also taken from local merchants. The men showed a newspaper which they claimed was the organ of their society, and by representing that it would have a large local circulation, secured a number of advertisements, which were paid for in advance. Having thoroughly worked the town the party went away promising to return. Soon after their departure it was learned that they had made many misrepresentations. They claimed that the society had the approval of Father Hart, but when asked about it the latter at once denied any knowledge of the society, and explained that he had not been visited by the men. This aroused suspicion, and a little inquiry developted the fact that the men had made other false statements. It was also learned that one of the men had used two names, his alias being Hunt. Being satisfied that the whole thing was a swindle, some of the members entered a complaint in the district court. The men, however, were not to be found. Some of the members think there may be such an order as the Patriotic Catholic Americans, and that it may be all right. If this is the case however, it is evident that the society has dishonest agents, or clear that the parties who worked Palmer were not agents of any society at all.

As to Street Sprinkling.

"Where is the street sprinkler?" is a question that has been in many mouths and more minds during some of the late windy days, when the village has been enveloped in a cloud of dust, and housewives have been in despair over the the thick layer of dirt with which everything was covered. The answer to the question is easily given, the sprinkler still being in its winter quarters, and if Mr. Converse, its owner, continues in his present state of mind it is likely to remain there right along. He says that the subscriptions for street sprinkling have come slower and harder every season of late, until there is not money enough pledged to reimburse him for the expense involved, and he therefore proposes to do nothing about it this year.

After enjoying the comfort of sprinkled streets for several years it hardly seems as though the merchants and residents on the streets which have been benefitted would settle down quietly without a vigorous effort to have the work continued in some way. There is no use in attempting to have the fire district undertake the work, as has been sometimes talked, unless a much larger portion of the district is sprinkled than has been attempted yet. It would be much better to adopt the plan in vogue in Westfield, for instance, where the business men and residents in a certain portion of the village club together and buy a sprinkler, and then hire a man and horses to run it in that section at a stated price per hour. Here is an opportunity for the business committee of our new club to take hold and do a good thing by pertecting some plan of this sort.

Changes at the Post Office.

The advertising clock which has so long failed to give any information as to the time except twice a day, has been removed from the wall in the corridor of the post office. The advertisements which have adorned the walls have also been removed, and the walls freshly painted. A place for the posting of legal notices, lists of voters, applications for naturalization papers, etc., has been provided, but beyond such documents no advertising will hereafter be allowed in the room, this being strictly against the laws of the post office department. Postmaster Royce will next week issue a card giving the time of the opening and closing of all the mails handled at the post office, and every person renting a box in the office will receive one. Others can secure one by application to Mr. Royce. The cards will be ready Wednesday morning. Commencing next Thursday the post office will close on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7.30, and other evenings at 8, a half hour earlier than has been the custom. The last mail leaves the office at eight, but on Tuesday and Thursday evenings this mail will close at 7.30, a fact which business men will do well to remember.

An Old Relic.

Mr. E. B. Gates has left in the custody of O. P. Allen an old saw which has a history of 145 years at least. It was brought to Palmer in 1751 by Ephraim Gates, a carpenter, and was used by him when he was employed to make repairs on the original church at the Old Center in 1760. From him it passed to his son Ephraim, in 1794, then to Nathan Durant in 1812, and then to its present owner, E. B. Gates, in 1841. With proper care it can be made to do a little service now and then for ages to come, but for constant use one would prefer a saw of more modern style.

Arbor Day to-morrow.

Miss Mary Cowles of Boston is the guest of Miss Mary Sedgwick.

Charles Kempton has finished his work in the post office.

Dr. Holbrook is painting his tenement house at the Point of Rocks.

Mrs. Charles Atkins is moving to Pittsfield.

H. P. Holden has sold a yearling colt to New York parties for $300.

A new sign is displayed on the front of the Smith Grocery Co's. store.

The assessors and the census enumerator will be with us next Wednesday.

A. S. Aiken and son of Springfield spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. N. Aiken.

The school committee will hold its annual monthly meeting to-morrow afternoon.

The exterior of Clark & Hastings's block has received a coat of paint this week.

Miss Sarah Byrne of Holyoke spent Sunday in town, the guest of Miss Molloy.

Mrs. C. L. Gardner and son, C. G. Gardner, left Wednesday for a stay at Clifton Springs, N. Y.

Mrs. J. R. Lawton of Ware has been spending a part of the week with her son, F. R. Lawton.

The interior of J. B. Shaw's store is greatly improved by its new ceiling, fresh paint and electric lights.

W. H. Hitchcock has the contract to place a new tin roof on the parochial residence of St. Thomas's church.

F. C. Hatch's house on Pleasant street is receiving a coat of paint, as is also the house of Mrs. Capen on Park street.

G. W. Lyman has sold his house on Pond street to G. A. Keith for about $3500. Mr. Keith will take possession soon.

R. J. Henry has moved his tea store from Cross block to the store recently vacated by A. W. Lloyd, the harness maker.

Miss Vira May Brooks of Monson has opened dress making rooms in the eastern end of Holden's block on Main street, up stairs.

Mrs. M. E. Bradley and Miss Ella Foster of Springfield, with Clarence Reupert of New York, spent part of the week with Mrs. E. N. Fay and family.

The pupils of Mrs. Helen Auger will give a piano recital, assisted by a vocalist from Springfield, May 8th under the auspices of the Eaton Club of St. Paul's church.

The Converse House will change hands again the first of May, and it is understood that E. R. Pierce, a former proprietor, will be once more connected with the house.

J. F. Dawson has left his position in the barber shop of H. P. Letters, and taken one in the shop of Oliver LaSalle, made vacant by the resignation of William LaValley.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will preach in St. Paul's Universalist church next Sunday morning on "Universalism, its Meaning to Us Concerning the Unreal and Real Bible."

The Postal Telegraph Co. and the Central Mass. Electric Co. have moved from Strong's block to more commodious apartments in the east end of Holden's block, on the second floor.

A horse attached to a meat cart of F. D. Thompson's became frightened at West Brimfield Wednesday and succeeded in badly demoralizing the cart before he could be controled.

George Ennis had the fingers of his felt hand badly crushed Monday evening while coupling cars in the yard of the New London Northern road, but the injury was not severe enough to necessitate amputation.

Yesterday was a decidedly springlike day, the mercury rising to 85° in the shade. About half past two in the afternoon there was a smart thunder shower, the first real one of the kind this season.

The horses attached to the Wales stage took a lively spin through Main street Tuesday afternoon, becoming frightened at something, but were stopped near Commercial street with no greater damage than a few breaks in the harness.

The Palmer Business and Social Club has ordered awnings for the windows at the club rooms, as they are all on the south and west sides, where the glare of the sun is pretty strong afternoons. Screens for all the windows will also be put in.

Mrs. W. H. Small has resigned as organist at the Congregational church, and Mrs. W. A. Weld has been engaged for the remainder of the year. There will be congregational singing next Sunday morning, with Wilbur F. Miller of Ludlow as leader.

The many friends of John A. King, formerly of Palmer Center, who has just completed his junior course at Gross medical college, will be pleased to learn that he has received an appointment as sanitary inspector in the city of Denver, Col.

Next Sunday is the second Sunday after Easter, and the Feast of St. Paul of the Cross at St. Thomas's Catholic church. Mass will be at 10.30 a. m., with Sunday school at 3 p. m. and vespers at 7.30. During the month of May services will be held every morning at 7.30.

Rev. F. S. Hatch of Monson will preach in the Congregational church next Sunday morning in exchange with the pastor. By request he will give a special sermon preparatory to the coming evangelistic services. In the evening the pastor will preach on "Solomen's Problem."

The law requires that returns of all deaths shall be made to the board of health, which shall issue burial permits, but as the chairman of the board, Mr. Brainerd, lives so far from the center of the village the board has arranged to have such permits issued by the town clerk, Mr. Shaw.

The meeting of the Quaboag Literary Circle has been changed from Friday evening of this week to Monday evening of next week, when Mrs. Helen Warren Auger will read an essay on the "Roundheads and Cavaliers." Miss Idelar Holbrook will have charge of the Round Table.

A sound-proof booth has been built in the telephone exchange, a thing which has long been needed and which will be greatly appreciated by patrons of the wires. Another reduction in the rates for rentals of telephones went into effect the first April, which with the previous reduction makes about $12 a year.

T. J. Sullivan, formerly a shoe dealer in this place, but more recently of Pittsfield, died at his home near the Flynt quarry in Monson Sunday morning. Mr. Sullivan was at one time a member of Quaboag council of the Royal Arcanum, but some time ago had his certificate transferred to the Pittsfield council.

At the last meeting of the Natural History Society it was voted that a life-sized portrait of the late Dr. Stowe be procured with the balance of the funds in the treasury, to be placed in the public library. The portrait has arrived, and has been hung in the reading room. It is a fine likeness, and will be a pleasing memento of him.

The firemen held their annual meeting Wednesday night for the election of officers, and made choice of these: Foreman, Charles McManamy; first assistant, M. J. Dawson; second assistant, George Burdick; clerk and treasurer, T. J. Conroy. The new chief of the fire district, G. A. Bills, met the men and arranged for a practice meeting to-morrow afternoon.

Arbutus has made its appearance in small quantities, and a little warm weather will bring out large bunches of this handsome flower. It has nearly disappeared however from places where it once grew in abundance, mainly because those who gathered it were careless and pulled the plants up by the roots instead of being content to simply gather the blossoms.

G. M. Atkins & Co. were the lowest bidders by $277 in a $30,000 job of dam building for the water works at Woonsocket, R. I., but by some fault of the mail their bid did not reach the committee in time to be considered. The bids were to be opened one day, and the bid of Atkins & Co. was mailed from Palmer on the 3.14 p. m. mail the day before, but did not get there in time.

Chief Engineer Bills of the fire district and Selectman Brainerd spent yesterday afternoon in flushing out some of the sewers which had become somewhat offensive to olfactory nerves. The one on the east side of Central street at the corner of Main was particularly disagreeable, and the manhole was found to be pretty well filled with matter which had no business to be there, and where it came from was the question which could not be answered.

A large number attended the "Seven" party at the Universalist church Tuesday evening. The church was prettily decorated, and after supper there was an entertainment consisting of vocal and instrumental music, readings, recitations, etc. The doors opened at 7 o'clock, the admission was seven cents, as was also ice cream and cake, there were seven numbers on the programme, and the purchaser of every seventh ticket received a souvenir.

Two men who were standing on the cross walk at the foot of Walnut street Sunday night about 11 had a narrow escape from injury. A team was coming down Walnut street and another was approaching from the east on Main street. The men did not see the latter, and in moving out of the way of the Walnut street team both were struck by the other as it turned the corner up Walnut street and were thrown down, but fortunately were not much hurt.

C. T. Brainerd will have the care of the highways of the town this year, and has commenced work on them. It is the policy of the selectmen this year to get along with as little work on the highways as possible and still keep them in a passable condition, and then toward the close of the year put all the unused money into permanent road building, a course which will commend itself to all owners and drivers of horses, who will doubtless be willing to put up with poorer pieces of road than might be in some places if thereby there is some prospect that the past foolish course of the town may be changed and some permanent improvements made. The streets in this village are receiving attention this week; Thorndike street from the high school to the top of the hill has been graded, and a quantity of the loose soil on Main street scraped up and removed.

The annual May breakfast and dinner will be given by the ladies of the Congregational church next Wednesday, and the usual array of good things may be looked for. Useful and fancy articles will be on sale at 7 o'clock by the ladies of the Lend-a-hand club. The menus for the breakfast and dinner are:

BREAKFAST.
Oranges.
Broiled Shad.
Sirloin Steak, Ham, Veal Steak.
Boiled, Fried and Scrambled Eggs.
Fried Potatoes, Baked, Creamed.
Hot Rolls, Brown Bread, Corn Cakes, Doughnuts.
Tea, - - - Coffee.

DINNER.
Tomato Soup.
Baked Shad. Lobster.
Salad.
Roast Beef. Veal.
Roast Lamb.
Mashed Potatoes. Tomatoes. Corn.
Lettuce.
Mince, Apple, Squash and Lemon Pie.
English Plum Pudding.
Spanish Cream. Tapioca Cream.
Coffee Jelly.
Fruit. Nuts. Tea. Coffee.

The bridge across the Swift river at Duckville, which the town voted to build in conjunction with the town of Belchertown, will not be put up at present. The Boston Duck Company, across whose land a right of way must be secured in order to get the bridge in the proposed location, declines to grant a right of way, as it will probably wish to build there soon, and the approach to the bridge would be in the way. A location can be had about 150 feet higher up the stream, but new abutments must be built there, and the towns appropriated only money enough to build a bridge on the present abutments in the old location, so the matter will probably go over until another town meeting. An evidence of the "hustle" which is being made for business in all directions is shown by the number of bridge builders who wished to figure on this job, which would only amount to about $300, there being seven in the field for the work.

The last entertainment in the high school course will take place this evening in the Congregational church, and as the scholars themselves furnish the larger part of the entertainment they will no doubt be greeted by a large audience. The programme will be:

Piano Duet. Sonate.....C. W. Weber
Misses Lizzie Clifford and Nellie Finnerty.
Chorus. "Gloria."....From Bordese's Mass in F.
High School.
Recitation. "Fishing Excursion of Mr. and Mrs. Bowser."....Anon
Blanche E. Hellyar.
Flute Solo. "Serenade Russe."....Guill Popp
Albert D. Shaw.
Declamation. "Scene at Niagara Falls".C. Tarson
Gilbert L. Forte.
Chorus. "Their Native Land."....arr F. Masini
Misses Bruce, Dillon, B. Hastings, Converse, Buck, Armstrong, Fish, Forte.
Messrs. Gegenheimer, LeGro, Sisk, Squier, Hobson, Millen, Parent, Shaw.
Piano Solo. Mazurka.....C. Bohm
Phebe D. Hastings.
Reading of the High School Blotter.
Editor-in-chief, Victor D. Murdock.
Banjo Solo. "Invincible Guard March.".Shattuck
Carrie J. Fish.
Recitation. "Whistling Regiment,"..J. C. Harvey
Ola Mae Northrop.
Chorus. a. "Pretty Village Maiden." arr by E. F. Rimbault.
b. "Hark! the Vesper Hymn." Sir J. Stephenson
High School.
Declamation. "The Convict's Soliloquy, the Night Before Execution."....E. H. Trofton
Walter H. Brown.
Trio. "Good Night."....Abt
Misses Armstrong, Bruce and Fish.

Evangelistic Services.

The Congregational church has made arrangements to hold evangelistic services beginning Sunday, May 5th. While this church takes the responsibility for the movement, it is not for sectarian purposes. It is hoped that it may issue in such solid results that the whole town and all the churches in it will be benefitted and given a lasting moral and spiritual uplift. To this end we cordially and earnestly invite all Christians to cooperate with us, and not only seek good from these meetings but also to join with us at this time in positive efforts to extend the kingdom of our common Master.

Rev. A. M. Hills of Oberlin, O., who is coming to help us, is a strong preacher and a wise and successful evangelist. Will not everyone who believes in the gospel and desires its more thorough establishment in our midst so plan his work and recreations as to be present at as many of the special services as possible? Yours for the needed work, FRANK E. JENKINS.

PALMER CENTER.

Mr. Goodman of West Springfield is the guest of D. J. Mahoney.

William Thornhill, who has been very sick, is improving slowly.

John Newman is making some extensive improvements around his house.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kendall are rejoicing in the birth of a son, born Tuesday.

The annual meeting of the Oracle and Echo society last Friday evening resulted in the election of officers for the coming season, which will open September 6. The society has made its first investment in the Palmer Savings Bank.

BONDSVILLE.

George Whiting has hired the Luther Collis place.

Agent Childs has purchased a high stepper this week.

James Brien, who has been on the sick list, is out again.

Fred Collis has moved into his new house on the old Duncan place.

Mrs. Sibley of Ware has moved into the Boston Duck Co's. boarding house.

Mrs. Mary Ormes and daughter Ethel of Brimfield are visiting Mrs. E. J. Fuller this week.

Mrs. Annie Crouch and son Leon of West Warren visited Mrs. Crouch's parents last week.

The friends of John Gegenheimer will be pleased to know that his ankle, which he sprained soon after leaving here, is improving.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Holden are congratulating them on the advent of a son, which came to them last week Thursday.

Rev. Mr. Dockham and Joseph Davis of West Warren were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Fuller last week, having made the trip on their wheels.

THREE RIVERS.

Lewis Percy is now working in Ware.

Miss Catherine Twiss is on the sick list.

James Vient has left here for Auburn, Me.

Leon Henrichon is on a business trip in Canada.

Harry Newell was home from Amherst Sunday.

Peter McBird of Adams is the guest of Alphonse Grise.

Mrs. N. K. Story is suffering from a severe attack of diabetes.

Thomas Fenton and Charles Holden are riding new wheels.

There is another case of diphtheria in the family of Mr. Rogers.

Gustave Echart, who has been very ill for the last month, is again able to be out.

Mr. Crossman and family of Springfield are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick.

Miss Cora Morse of Belchertown spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Percy.

Mrs. Wesley Provost, Miss Anna Avery and Miss Alice Lupin are riding new wheels.

F. L. White spent a few days last week visiting relatives and friends in Worcester.

The many friends of Miss Clara Greene symphathize with her in the death of her mother.

O. A. LaRiviere now has a large and commodious refrigerator in the rear of his meat market.

Miss Lizzie Tetford, who has beenill for a long time, was buried last Saturday at Rockville, Ct.

Miss Hattie Kendrick of Springfield spent last Friday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick.

George Hillman and Henry Smith of Northampton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hillman.

Deacon Graves had the misfortune this week to stick a rusty nail into his hand, making a serious wound.

Mr. Obre, who has been away for about six months, is now stopping with his son-in-law, Christopher McGee.

Mrs. Frank Lavene has returned from Centreville, R. I., where she has been visiting friends for two weeks.

Rev. G. S. Butler, after spending about three week at Clifton Springs, N. Y., is back attending to his duties here.

The lumber for the new horse sheds in the rear of the Union church has been drawn, and work was commenced this week.

Last Friday and Saturday two of Mr. Rogers' little girls, aged respectively two and a half and eight years, died of diphtheria.

The lecture at the Baptist church next Sunday evening will be on the "Roman Empire as Seen from a Prophetic Standpoint."

On account of the sickness among the children, Sunday was the first time for a month that the Junior Christian Endeavorers have met.

The many friends which Miss Lewis made during her short stay here will be glad to know that she is teaching in the high school at South Deerfield.

Rev. W. R. Newhall took for his text last Sunday, "The Silent Christ," and every one went away much benefitted. Mr. Newhall is an able and powerful speaker.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Palmer Four Corners Cemetery Association will be held at the house of M. M. Thomas in Thorndike, to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Quite a number of those interested in base ball matters took advantage of the holiday last Friday to go to Amherst to see the game between the Amhersts and the Springfields.

The minstrel show at St. Anne's church Tuesday night was a financial success, and the managers have decided to give the people of Wales and Thorndike an opportunity of seeing the same performance in the near future.

Francis X. Messier, a respected citizen of this place, aged 66 years, died at his home on East Main street Sunday. During his stay of a year here he was engaged in his son's drug store, but during that short time made many friends who mourn his departure from among them.

One of our promising young men, while out trying to break in his new wheel last Sunday, came near breaking all the ties that hold him to this earth. While riding down Springfield street he struck a rock, which sent him and his wheel in different directions. When he was able to resume a natural position he saw to his mortification that he was not the only one who knew why his clothes were so dusty.

THORNDIKE.

Camile Paro's only child died the past week of diphtheria.

Mrs. A. J. Ronan is ill at her home on Pleasant street.

There is some talk of reopening the rink for skating this week.

John Gay, Jr., is confined to his home on Gay avenue by sickness.

John Dailey, on the farm, is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

Daniel Hartnett of Wallingford, Ct., is visiting his parents in town.

Fred Edwards has gone to work for Mr. Hawkes at Palmer, painting.

Mr. Come has leased the Dutton farm for one year, and has moved there.

Dentist Flynn of Pittsfield was in town during the week for a short stay.

Mrs. John K. Wing of Connecticut is visiting here a few days with her sister.

Miss Etta Bradley of Athol is visiting friends in this place for a few days.

H. E. W. Clark is still confined to his home by illness, although somewhat better.

Mrs. James Williamson of Canton, Ohio, was in town this week visiting friends.

Miss Lena Page returned this week from a 15 days' vacation in New Britan, Ct.

The King's Daughters will meet with Miss Marion Andrews next Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Foster are rejoicing over the birth of a son, which came Tuesday.

Miss Clara Hale returned on Tuesday evening from her visit with friends in Ware.

The ladies of the Congregational church met on Wednesday with Mrs. B. F. Clark.

George Williams spent Sunday in town, returning to Millbury on Sunday evening.

Mrs. George D. Mooers is visiting her sister, Mrs. Gibbs, in Orange, for a week or so.

George Wilson, a former resident, now of Lowell, was in town on Friday for a short stay.

The Merry Six will give another pleasant evening to a few of their friends to-morrow evening.

Miss Sarah Page returned from Boston this week, where she bad been to attend the funeral of a relative.

John Foster and Mrs. V. L. Bushley, both of this place, were united in marriage on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Kaiting of West Warren spent Sunday in town as the guest of her son, John Kaiting of Commercial street.

The summer schedule of working hours in the mills went into effect on Monday, giving the help the usual Saturday half-holiday.

Paymaster Charles A. Tabor returned on Wednesday from Slatersville, R. I., having been called there by the illness of his father.

William Dutton and J. C. McWaters of Cleveland, O., who have been visiting in town for a few days, returned home on Friday.

Until further notice the post office will close at 8 o'clock each evening except Friday and Saturday, when it will close at 9 o'clock.

Corneilus Healey, one of the oldest Irish residents of the town, and in fact one of the oldest persons in the town, is ill at his home on the Palmer road.

The Social Club held its farewell banquet on Saturday evening at their rooms on Commercial street, and a jolly good time was enjoyed by all present.

The Thorndike Co. received this week two small cars which will hold a ton of coal each, and they will be used to carry coal from the coal shed to the No. 2 boiler room.

Urbin Pare, who met with an accident at the B. and A. station here last September, and who brought suit against the company, has settled his claim outside the court.

Victor Murdock has taken the agency for a new wheel, the "Hull and Dutton," a Western wheel which sells for $45 and is equal to any $95 wheel in the market.

The property of the late Miss Hester Hitchcock on Commercial street was apprised on Wednesday by Messrs. Hitchcock of Springfield and A. P. Adams of this place.

The subscription list presented to the citizens for the purpose of raising funds with which to purchase new uniforms for the ball club, has been liberally signed, and the desired amount is assured.

It is reported that more cases of scarlet fever are in town, and for the benefit of the health of others it is suggested that a close quarantine be kept on the people and places where the disease is located, for fear of an epidemic.

Prof. Sullivan, teacher of music in the public schools in Chicopee, has decided upon Wednesday evening, May 29th, for his musical and social, and tickets will soon go on sale. Pupils from Thorndike, Warren, Springfield, Chicopee, Three Rivers and Bondsville will take part.

Manager Farrill has signed the following players, who will represent this place in the Western Mass. base ball league: Longtine, c; Blanchfield, p; Kelliher, 1b; Murdock, 2b; Sugrue, 3b; Chapman, ss; Gay, cf; Longtine, lf; Roche, rf; Murphy, substitute; J. Donovan, umpire; P. McKelligett, scorer.

The members of the committee in charge of the concert and ball given last week by Court Hampden, Order of Foresters, are receiving compliments from all for the manner in which they conducted the affair. The society has always aimed to give the public the very best attractions that could be secured, and the public in return has shown its appreciation by giving generous patronage. The society will clear about $20.

The funeral of Thomas Lines, who died last week Thursday, was held from St. Mary's Catholic church on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, when a mass of requiem was offered for the soul of the deceased. Mr. Lines was well known in town as a kind and agreeable neighbor and a good husband, and had a large circle of friends who deeply mourn his death. The interment took place in the cemetery on the hill, and was largely attended, many coming from Southbridge and other places.

The ladies of the Congregational church will give their May dinner in the vestry of the church next Wednesday, consisting of hot roasts, fish, with all the accessories which go to make up a first-class dinner. Dinner will be served from 12 until 2. In the evening a short entertainment will be given, at which cake and ice cream will be served. The ladies of the church have worked hard and earnestly in making preprations, and they should be rewarded by a large attendance. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

At the meeting of the Western Massachusetts Base Ball League at Ware on Monday John Moran of Thorndike was chosen temporary chairman, and G. T. McCarthy of Gilbertville was elected secretary. The following clubs were represented: Bondsville by Messrs. Kee and Sullivan, Thorndike by Messrs. Moran and Farrell, Ware by Messrs. O'Conner and Moriarty, Warren by McGendoon, Gilbertville by McCarthy, Palmer by William Fitzpatrick. The indications point to a successful league. The meeting adjourned until next Monday, when the schedule and umpires will be acted upon.

BORN.

At Palmer, 19th, a son to Charles F. Johnson.
At Palmer, 23d, a son to Frank Kendall.
At Bondsville, 18th, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Holden.

MARRIED.

At Palmer, 4th, by Rev. H. F. Moulton, Frank A. Bond and Cornelia B. Griffin, both of Bondsville.

At Springfield, 20th, Dr. Charles J. Buck of Warren, and Isabella Maud, youngest daughter of Thomas Holt of Quebec.

DIED.

At Three Rivers, 20th, Eva, 8, daughter of George Rodgers.

At Three Rivers, 21st, Xavier Messier, 66.

At Brimfield, 24th, Laura C., 65, wife of William H. Green.

At Belchertown, 25th, Addison Burnett, 24, only son of Mason L. Burnett.

At Fiskdale, 19th, George Norval Bacon, 59, formerly of Brimfield.

PIGS.—Eight very nice pigs now ready to be taken. Inquire at E. A. BUCK & CO'S. Hardware Store. 1-4

BICYCLE FOR SALE.—'94 pattern Waverly, in A No. 1 condition. Cost $85, will sell for $50 cash. SCOTT FRENCH, Palmer. 1-3

COLUMBIA BICYCLE for sale. '94 pattern, used but little, good as new; cheap for cash, or will be sold on installments. L. E. CHANDLER, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

EGGS FOR SALE, from choice strains of White Wyandottes, Light Brahmas, S. C. White Leghorns, and Pekin Ducks. BEAVER BROOK POULTRY FARM, Belchertown. 5*3

TO THE LADIES OF PALMER AND VICINITY.

Miss Vira May Brooks has opened dressmaking rooms in Holden's new block on Main street, and would be pleased to obtain a share of your patronage. Reasonable prices and good work guaranteed. 1-4

MOTHER'S INDIAN BLOOD PURIFIER.

For this purpose no better or safer medicine can be selected to purify, enrich and warm the blood, and tone up the system generally. It will speedily restore the system to health and vigor. It is composed of leaves, barks and roots, being one of the mildest and safest tonics known. Also agent for the National Remedy Co., and their wonderful Japanese Oil, known all over the world. Fresh roots and herbs can be found at the house at any time, Sold by H. S. McCOMBER, STATE AVE., MONSON, MASS. P. O. Box 174 Palmer. 3*3ks

FOR SALE.—One Beebe speeding cart, has only been used a few times. Also one road cart, one good Phaeton, and one good cook stove. GEORGE P. BELL, M. D., tf-3 Three Rivers, Mass.

E. W. French, agent for the New Singer Mfg. Co., has opened an office in Palmer, with headquarters at the Weeks House, and is showing their latest productions for 1895 sewing machines, with three different machines for family use. tf-52 THE SINGER MFG. CO.

FOR SALE.—The store of the late E. G. Murdock in Thorndike, Mass., also dwelling corner of Commercial and High streets, and one on School street in said Thorndike. Must be sold to close estate. C. L. GARDNER, Adm. Jan. 21st, 1895. tf-43

ADOLPH MILLER, the tailor, whose store was burned in the recent fire in Monson, has established a new shop on Main street just bel w the Cushman Hotel. I have a new set of samples, and can make a handsome business suit from $18 to $20 and upwards. Good work and fine fit guaranteed. I also do repairing. ADOLPH MILLER, 3*4 Monson Mass.

SPRING CLOTHING!

NEW SPRING .:. STYLES, Latest Colorings —AND— Novelties.

Extra large samples to select from. The most complete assortment, the finest, newest and most extensive in novelties and colorings. Fine Clay, English Wagners and Schnable's best makes, Bannuckburn Scotch goods in best patterns, fine French in newest makes and colors. Prices $20, 22, 24, 26, 27, 28, 30, 32, 33, 35 to 40. All goods and trimmings the very best ever offered in town for the money, and warranted. Terms Strictly Cash.

D. MULVIHILL, - Eager's Block.

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!

PAPER HANGINGS.

Browns, White Blanks, Flats, Satins, Bronzes, Gilts, Borders, Friezes, etc.

PLAIN AND DECORATIVE PAPER HANGING, PAINTING, ETC.

All orders filled in a thorough and workmanlike manner. F. S. MASON, Commercial Block.

D. L. BODFISH,..... Dry Goods and Clothing, Cross Block, Palmer.....

Is it your fault that you have not visited our store? We surely do not want it to be ours, for we desire all to inspect our goods and become our customers if price and attention will make them so.

DRESS GOODS. This department is filled with a great variety of beautiful serges, henriettas, novelties and plaids. These are good values for a little money.

CLOTHING. Are you suited? If not you ought to be when you can buy a suit as low as we are selling them. Clay worsteds, cheviots, cassimere frocks and sacks. All stylish and desirable.

WASH GOODS. All the latest novelties in cotton dress fabrics. Cordele, plisse, crepon, gingham and percale, dainty patterns for Spring wear at bottom prices.

HAT DEP'T. Every man can stand under his own hat and that a good one without a large expenditure. If you doubt this see our line. We have an exceptionally fine assortment of yacht caps direct from the manufacturers, well made and cheap.

SILKS. Delicate shades for waists, that make one look so cool and so comfortable. Also darker shades, at all prices.

FURNISHINGS. We are always in search of the latest novelties in this department, and have some excellent values in light wool and balbriggan underwear.

SHIRT WAISTS. Do we carry shirt waists? Yes, we try to, but the quality and style sell them about as fast as we can fill up our stock.

CARPET DEP'T. We ought to give more space to this line of goods especiallyat this season. We have some rare bargains in wool and union carpets that are as cheap as the cheapest.

UNDERWEAR, HOSIERY, GLOVES. The latest patterns in summer underwear and hosiery, be sure you see them. How about those gloves? Don't you need a new pair? We have some beauties, just arrived.

LACE CURTAINS, MATTINGS, RUGS. A new invoice of mattings just received in both China and Japan seamless goods. Lace curtains, rugs and opaque shades always in stock.

Our customers testify that our values are equal to those obtained at any of the large city stores. Come and see them.

D. L. BODFISH, = CROSS BLOCK.

W. E. STONE.

HOUSEKEEPING DEPARTMENT.

Agate Iron Ware.

Most durable of any, consequently the cheapest.

PRICES AGAIN REDUCED.

Agate Iron Teapots,	3 sizes.
Coffee Pots,	3 "
Preserve Kettles,	4 "
Sauce Pans,	6 "

Nickled Tea Kettles, best quality, full size only $1.

" Tea Pots,	3 sizes.
" Coffee Pots,	3 "
Tin and Copper Wash Boilers,	all "

Wash Boards, Wash Tubs, Pails, Clothes Pins, Clothes Lines, Clothes Baskets, Mop Sticks and Brooms.

Yellow Mixing Bowls,	9 sizes.
" Nappies,	6 "
Rockingham Tea Pots,	4 "

Our 5 cent List

Now includes many articles that were formerly 10 cents.

Tin Wash Basins, 11½ inch—a rattler,	5c
Tea Strainers,	5c
Bowl " 5 in.,	5c
Bread and Biscuit Pans,	5c
Vegetable Sifters,	5c
Meat Forks,	5c
Iron Spoons, wood handles,	5c
Pudding Pans,	5c
Embossed Mugs,	5c
Kettle Covers,	5c
Toasters,	5c
Doughnut Cutters,	5c
Salt and Pepper Shakes,	5c
Glass Mugs,	5c
Goblets,	5c
Tumblers,	5c
Tooth Pick Holders,	5c
Cream Pitchers,	6c
Jelly Dish, fan pattern,	6c
Sugar Bowl, with cover,	9c
Butter Dish, " "	9c
Syrup Cup,	10c
Vinegar Cruets,	10c
Stew Pan and Cover,	10c
Tea and Coffee Pots,	10c
Cuspidores,	10c
Large Dippers,	9 and 10c
Cake Tins,	10c
Flour Sifters,	13c
Tea Kettles,	19c
Dish Pitchers,	23c
Carpet Beaters,	10c
Dish Pans, large,	10c
Rinsing Pans, large,	23c
Tea and Coffee Pots, copper bottoms, 25 and	30c
Round Dinner Pails,	25c
Square " "	50c
Soap Savers,	10c
Egg Beaters,	15c
Chopping Knives,	15 and 33c

GROCERY DEPARTMENT.

Our Tea, Coffee and Spice Dep't.

Is one we give a great deal of attention. Its a trade plaster, i e—it draws.

Our Teas are very carefully selected from samples submitted by the largest importers.

We carry a large assortment, ranging from 25c to $1 per pound. We will undertake to please the most fastidious in the Tea and Coffee question.

Something New for this section is a CEYLON TEA, of very delicate color, aroma and flavor, at $1 00 the pound. Requires less than half the quantity of other teas. This tea is grown on the Island of Ceylon, the land of big elephants. Try a quarter of a pound. You will find it an agreeable change.

Our "Paul Revere" brand of Coffee (red bags) is gaining many friends. 38c a pound. You will need to call here for it.

We have a pure Coffee at 25c a pound that gives good satisfaction.

We sell SLADE'S SPICES—They are absolutely pure and packages full weight.

Lively Things in the Grocery Dep't.

Kibbe's Mixed Candies,	2 pounds for 25c
" Peppermint Drops,	2 " " "
" Chocolate "	20c a pound

Dunham's Shredded Cocoanut, ¼, ½ and 1 pound packages.

Sugar Syrup, 1 gallon, including jug, 40c, without jug, 25c.

Beardsley's Shredded Cod.

Plymouth Rock Gelatine, white and pink.

B. M. C. Best Fleur. If you want cheap flour don't ask for this. Yet it is cheap, for you get many more loaves from a barrel of this than from the cheaper grades. So called cheap flour is usually dear in the end.

California Navel Oranges, 176 size, 35c a dozen.

Parlor Matches, Peacock Brand.

Acme Soap.

Large Prunes, 10c a pound.

Evaporated Apricots.

Oak Leaf Soap. See the handsome pictures in our window given away for wrappers. Call for premium list.

CARPET AND RENTING DEPARTMENTS.

From the importers we expect to receive this week a few rolls of very fine Straw Mattings. These mattings have a cotton warp, are desirable and handsome. Prices are way under city prices.

Oil Cloth Carpets.
Ingrain "
Hemp "
Carpet Linings.

Wool Fringes for Rugs.
Lace Curtains.
Extension Rods for Sash Curtains.
Drapery Poles.

We have the following Instruments to rent:

One new Upright Piano
One second-hand Upright.
One second-hand Organ.

W. E. STONE

Lawrence Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

CHAIR BARGAINS.

Rattan Rockers, $3.28. Elegant goods, finished to the "Queen's Taste." Little better grade, $4.12

FINE LINE OF BABY CARRIAGES.
A HUNDRED DIFFERENT STYLES.

WE HAVE THIS WEEK A CARLOAD OF REFRIGERATORS.

KITCHEN DEPT. FULL OF BARGAINS. TERMS EASY.

We mention a few of our goods and prices. These we quote only as an index to the thousands of Bargains on hand:

An exceptionally prettily decorated Dinner Set, 112 pieces, -	$7.86
Handsomely decorated Toilet Sets, - - - - - -	1.98
Novelty or Universal Wringer, - - - - - - -	2.00
Copper Clad Wash Boiler, - - - - - - - -	.89
Nickle Tea Kettle, - - - - - - - - -	.71
Nickle Alarm Clock, - - - - - - - - -	.79
Coal Hod, - - - - - - - - - - -	.16

Draperies, Carpets and Matting. | CREDIT GIVEN IF DESIRED. | Repairing and Upholstering.

E. LUTHER & CO.,

Main Street. SPRINGFIELD. Opp. Court Sq.

W. D. KINSMAN.

SEE AND BE CONVINCED.

KID GLOVES.

The freshness and newness of our stock, variety and beauty of shades, the fineness and elasticity of skins, the quality and the fit are elements which create demand for our Kid Gloves.

Our 4-button Glace at 87c, $1.00, $1.38 and $1.50 are the finest Kid Gloves ever offered at those prices. We have them in the popular Champagne color, Canary, Tans, Modes, Grays, Beaver shades, Brown, Black, White and Pearl.

BLACK and WHITE OSTRICH COLLARS and BOAS.

CHILDREN'S REEFERS.

Sizes 2, 3 and 4 years. Colors Navy, Red, New Blue and Tan.

LADIES' FAST BLACK SATEEN SKIRTS.

One lot 50 cents—the best skirt by all odds shown at this price. Equally good values in the finer grades.

LINING DEPT.

New and very desirable things in Dress Linings have just been opened.

Striped Crinolines, Linen Check Muslin, "Sterling" Rustly Canvas, Light weight Haircloth Canvas, New Spring colors in Canvas, Chocolate, Straw, Tans and French Gray.

Sterling Moire Silkaline—much used for petticoats.

FIBRE CHAMOIS.

This new interlining has no equal. It comes in three weights. Its advantages can be better explained at our lining counter than in an advertisement.

We show a full line of imported Haircloth in Black, White and Gray.

In purchasing linings quality should be considered as well as the price.

HOSIERY.

A very large business is the result of the wonderful bargains in fine grades of goods which we are distributing.

Our Fast Black Cotton Hose are of the celebrated Hermisdorff Dye, absolutely stainless.

Some of the good points of our Hosiery are: High Spliced Heels, Double Soles, Extra Elastic Tops, Ribbed Tops, Peg Tops, Full Lengths. Outside Sizes. Some people prefer them with white feet, we have a complete line of them.

Never were such values of 10c, 25c, 38c, 45c and 50c.

WOMEN'S TAN COTTON HOSE.

Women's Lisle Thread Hose, Black, Tans and other colors. A large assortment.

Great bargains in Men's Cotton Hosiery.

CHILDRENS FAST BLACK COTTON HOSE.

One lot 15c, former prices 25c to 33c.
One lot 25c, former prices 38c to 50c.
One lot 39c, former prices 50c to 75c.

CHILDRENS RIBBED SILK HOSE.

Black and Tans. Handsome line just opened.

WOMEN'S JERSEY UNDERWEAR

In Spring Weights—extra values, 25c, 38c, 50c.

Women's Ribbed Silk Vests 50c. You find this quality higher price in other stores.

THE BEST GOODS and RIGHT PRICES. W. D. KINSMAN. CORNER OF MAIN AND BRIDGE STREETS, SPRINGFIELD.

COAL. COAL. COAL.

Lehigh Stove,	one ton or more,	$6.00.	One-half ton,	$3.15.
" Chestnut,	" " "	6.00.	" "	3.15.
" Egg,	" " "	5.50.
Lackawanna Stove,	" " "	5.75.	" "	3.00.
" Egg,	" " "	5.40.
" Grate,	" " "	5.40.

Reserving the right to advance prices at any time. Good men furnished to house and bin same, charging for their time only. All coal screened thoroughly. Any orders by mail or left at our office will receive prompt attention.

R. M. & THEO. REYNOLDS.

Monson, Mass., February 13, 1895.

HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS.

A FULL LINE OF

STABLE AND . . .

STREET BLANKETS

—AT—

WHOLESALE PRICES.

D. W. FOSKETT,

FOSKET'S MILLS.

Central Massachusetts

ELECTRIC COMPANY,

PALMER, MASS.

All kinds of Electrical Work

DONE AT REASONABLE TERMS.

Please write for rates for electric lighting.

tf-31

POSTAL.

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.

CORRECTED TO NOVEMBER 11, 1894

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a m and 4.25 p m for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R R, at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R R, and at Palmer with B & A R R for Worcester, Boston, Springfield.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a m, 12.13 and 5.57 p m.
Leave Palmer, 8.40 a m, 1.55 and 7.15 p m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.25, 10.17 a m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.25 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.27 p m.
The 5.25 and 7.40 a m and 2.30 p m run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a m and 5.27 p m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.22, 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m, the 11.00 a m and 7.15 p m connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.22 and 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A.
New London, Ct.
S. W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A., St. Albans.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS.
CORRECTED TO SEPT. 30, 1894.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58, p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Pansy Park, South Amherst and Hadley—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
FOR Belchertown, Amherst and Northampton—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28. 6 39. p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY, Gen'l Mgr.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN ss. PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs at law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Mary E Tyler, late of Palmer, in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Emma A. Gunn of Palmer, in said county of Hampden, without giving a surety on her bond:

You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court, to be held at Springfield, in said county of Hampden, on the first day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fifth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

3-2 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Manne Weinveleh of New York City to Charles E. Dewey, dated April 4th, 1894, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Hampden, libro 517, folio 30, and by said Dewey duly assigned to me, will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on Saturday the eighteenth day of May, 1895, at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:—The house, barn, and lot of land situate on the southeasterly side of Central street in said Palmer, and bounded northwesterly about 100 feet by said street; northeasterly about 137 feet by the Memorial Hall lot; southeasterly about 100 feet by land of Clara B. Holbrook, and southwesterly partly by land of H. P. Holden and partly by land of Palmer Masonic Hall Association, in all about 137 feet, subject to right of adjoining owners in a passageway 10 feet wide over the southwesterly side of the premises, and to any and all aqueduct rights. And also subject to a mortgage of four thousand dollars and accrued interest due the Barre Savings Bank. $300 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale.

MARY A. HOLDEN, Assignee of Mortgage.
By GARDNER & GARDNER, her Attorneys.
Palmer, Mass., April 20th, 1895. 3-4

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

To the Inhabitants and other Persons liable to pay Taxes in the Town of Palmer for the Year 1895:

The Assessors of the Town of Palmer hereby give notice to the inhabitants of said town, and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein, that they will receive at the Town House on Wednesday, the first day of May next, the valuation of estates, and all persons liable to be taxed in said town are hereby notified to bring in to us true and perfect lists of all Polls (males twenty years old and upwards), and schedules and estimates of the Personal and Real Estates for which they are liable to pay taxes in said town, possessed by them on the first day of May next.

MORTGAGED REAL ESTATE.

Any Mortgagor or Mortgagee of Real Estate situated within this town may bring in to the undersigned Assessors, within the time above specified, a statement under oath, of the amount due on each separate lot or parcel of such Real Estate, and the name and residence of every holder of an interest as a Mortgagee or Mortgagee therein. When only a part of the property described in any mortgage is situated within this town, an estimate of the amount of the Mortgagee's interest in such part; or when a recorded mortgage includes for one sum two or more estates or parts of an estate, an estimate of the amount of the Mortgagee's interest in each estate or part of an estate shall be given in such statement.—Chapter 175 of the Acts of 1882.

CHAPTER ELEVEN OF THE PUBLIC STATUTES.

SECTION 14. "When any person has a interest in taxable real estate, as holder of a duly recorded mortgage, given to secure the payment of money, the amount of which is fixed and certain, the amount of his interest as Mortgagee shall be assessed as Real Estate in the place where the land lies; and the Mortgagor shall be assessed only for the value of said Real Estate after deducting the assessed value of all such Mortgagee's interests therein. When such property is situated in two or more places, the amount of the Mortgagee's interest to be assessed in each place shall be proportioned to the assessed value in the respective places of the mortgaged Real Estate, deducting therefrom the taxable amount of prior mortgages, if any, therein."

SECTION 15. "If any holder of such a mortgage fails to file in the Assessor's office a statement under oath of all his estate liable to taxation under the preceding section, including a statement of the full amount remaining unpaid upon such mortgage and of his interest therein, the amount stated in the mortgagee shall be conclusive as to the extent of such interest; but the Mortgagee's interest in such real estate shall not be assessed at a greater sum than the fair cash valuation of the land and structures thereon or affixed thereto; and the amount of a mortgage interest in an estate that has been divided after the creation of such mortgage shall not be required to be apportioned upon the several parts of such estate, except as provided in sections eighty-one to eighty-three inclusively."

SECTION 16. "Mortgagors and Mortgagees referred to in the two preceding sections shall, for the purpose of taxation, be deemed joint owners until the Mortgagee takes possession; and until such possession is taken by the first Mortgagee, the Assessors or Collector of Taxes, upon application to any one of them, shall give to any such Mortgagee or Mortgagor a tax bill showing the whole tax on the mortgaged estate and the amount included in the valuation thereof as the interest of each Mortgagee and of the Mortgagor respectively. If the first mortgagee is in possession he shall be deemed sole owner; and any other mortgagee in possession shall be deemed joint owner with prior mortgagees."

When a statement in conformity to the law above quoted is brought in, the Real Estate therein returned will be assessed under sections 14, 15 and 16 of Chapter Eleven of Public Statutes. But in cases where the Mortgagor of the Real Estate has agreed in writing to pay all taxes assessed thereon, no statement or return is required from either Mortgagee or Mortgagor, unless requested by the Assessors in writing.

H. T. BISHOP,
G. W. LYMAN,
O. W. STUDLEY,
} Assessors of Palmer.

Palmer, Mass., April 16th, 1895. 2-3

COLLECTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE FOR NON-PAYMENT OF TAXES.

The owners and occupants of the following described parcels of real estate situated in the town of Brimfield, county of Hampden and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the public are hereby notified that the taxes and assessments thereon severally assessed for the year hereinafter specified, according to the list committed to me as collector of taxes for said town by the Assessors of taxes and the legally constituted authorities remain unpaid, and that said parcels of real estate will be sold at public auction in front of the post office in said town of Brimfield, on Saturday, the eleventh day of May, 1895, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the payment of said taxes and assessments and all incidental charges and expenses unless the same shall have been previously paid.

JOHN A. ELLIOTT.

A tract of land containing about 160 acres, with the building thereon, situated on the Holland road, so called, bounded north by land of D. W. Foskett and one Lombard, east by land formerly owned by Green and Parker, south by land of Peter Moore, west by land of Thomas Harwood.

Taxes for 1894, - - - - $8.88.

ANDREW STONE.

A tract of land containing about 115 acres, with the buildings thereon, situate on the main road leading from Brimfield to Brookfield, bounded east by land of Thomas Morgan, south by land of William B Ashfield, and west by land of Elisha C. Marsh.

Taxes for 1894, - - - - $17.75.

JOSEPH ST. GEORGE.

A tract of land containing about ninety acres, with the buildings thereon, situated on the road leading to Warren, bounded west by land of Thomas Haley, north by land of Walter Putnam, east by land of Samuel Adams.

Taxes for 1894, - - - - $33.73.

AMOS B. MERRILL.

A tract of land containing about 141 acres, with the buildings thereon, situated on the main road leading from Palmer to West Brookfield, bounded north by land of A. W. Crossman, east by land of one Blodgett, and west by Chicopee river.

Taxes for 1894, - - - - $85.20.

Brimfield, Mass., April 15th, 1895.
3-3 W. J. EASTER, Collector.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS—HAMPDEN, ss. April 10, A. D. 1895.

By virtue of an execution, which, issued upon a judgment recovered in the District Court of Eastern Hampden on the second day of March, A. D. 1895, in favor of W. F. Fillmore and Charles Lamey, both of said Palmer, formerly copartners under the firm name of Fillmore & Lamey of Palmer, in said County, against Margaret Sullivan of Palmer, in said County, I have this day seized and taken all the right, title and interest in and to, and all the right in equity which the said Margaret Sullivan has in and to certain mortgaged real estate, situate in said Palmer, and bounded and described as follows, to wit:

A certain parcel of land situate in said Palmer, with the buildings thereon, and beginning at the westerly side of the road leading from Thorndike to Bondsvillage, so called, at a stake near a marked chestnut tree; thence north 89° 30' W. by land supposed to belong now or formerly to Louis Bume 101¼ rods to a stake on the easterly line of land now or formerly of George Moore; thence by said land now or formerly of said Moore north 3° 25' W. 68¾ rods; thence on said land of said Moore north 81° 15' to 37 rods to within three rods of the road leading from Bondsvillage to Three Rivers, so called; thence on a line which passes through a pine stump north 21° 45' east to a stake and stone in the southerly line of the road leading from Thorndike to Barrets Junction, so called, and distant 82 feet easterly from the easterly line of the road leading from Bondsvillage to Toree Rivers, so called; thence southerly by said road 174 rods to the place of beginning; containing by admeasurement 44 acres of land more or less, and being the same premises conveyed to said Margaret Sullivan by Arthur E. Fitch by deed dated October 18, 1886, and recorded in Hampden County Registery of Deeds, Book 472, Page 234.

And on Wednesday, the fifteenth day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, in front of the Court House at Palmer, I shall offer for sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, said right, in equity of redemption to satisfy said execution and all fees and charges of sale

ORRILUS W. STUDLEY,
Deputy Sheriff.
3-3

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN ss. PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Charlotte C. Bourn, late of Palmer, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said court, for probate, by H. Newton Sedgwick of said Palmer, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond:

You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Springfield, in said County of Hampden, on the first day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said court.

Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said court, this eighth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

3-2 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN, ss. PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Susan E. Thrall, late of Monson, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, certain instruments purporting to be the last will and testament—and codicil—of said deceased have been presented to said Court, for probate, by Charles S. Jewett and Omer E. Munson, both of said Monson, who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executors therein named, without giving a surety on their official bond:

You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Springfield, in said county of Hampden, on the first day of May, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in Palmer in said County, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing, post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said court, this eleventh day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

3-2 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

MEMORIES.

Yes, I remember every note
That brought me pain or sadness
And each sweet letter that she wrote
To fill my heart with gladness.
I call to mind the many days
Our sky remained unclouded,
When every thought of sorrow's ways
In mystery was shrouded.

The pretty flowers she kindly sent
I still can fondly treasure
In memory of acts that lent
Their quota to my pleasure.
But when the love she freely gave
Was taken from my keeping
A life was filled with nothing save
Vain bitterness and weeping.

Yet sometimes, when my lonely soul
With grief grows tired and weary
And listen's to the thunder's roll
Till all seems dark and dreary,
I wonder if the storms of life
Make dim her coming morrow.
If so, I'd gladly bear the strife
To give her less of sorrow.
—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A HEADACHE.

I had a headache. I don't see any especial reason why a young man of good moral character and temperate habits, who takes eight hours' sleep seven nights in a week, should have a headache, but I did. It was one of that popping kind of headaches that make one feel as if his lungs had gone to his head and they were trying to expand there about four diameters at intervals of a minute. I believe they call them nervous headaches, but I fancy they wouldn't be any more agreeable by any other name. Then my heart was as heavy as lead, and once or twice as I walked along I really feared it was going to pull loose from its fastenings and drop. Possibly it was the heavy heart that gave me the headache. But no. I recall now that I was going to see Kitty, the one girl in the whole world that made it any kind of a world for me, and we had had a slight misunderstanding. It wasn't the head that gave me the heartache; it was the heart that gave me the headache. I believe I said that I took eight hours' sleep seven nights in the week. At this point I wish to modify that statement. In the week past I had done so only six nights, for the night before the day on which I was on my way to see Kitty we had disagreed with each other. I don't think I slept at all.

I was going now to see the young woman and settle the matter finally, and though I was a promising young lawyer, ready to make a case for anybody else, I had no papers in this case and was going empty handed. I didn't even have so much as my brief with me.

At the door Mrs. Miltby—Mrs. Miltby is Kitty's mother, and a most exemplary and motherly soul—met me and on the instant started back in amazement.

"Why, John"—she always called me John, for she had known me since I was a mere baby—"why, John," she exclaimed, "whatever is the matter with you? You look like you were going to have a bad spell."

"Oh, that will be all right in a day or so," I replied evasively. "I have a severe headache. Is your daughter at home?"

"You mean Kitty?" she asked in surprise.

"Of course," said I. "You haven't any other daughter, have you?" and I made believe to smile.

"Oh, I didn't know," she stammered.

"Didn't know what?" and I tried to smile again. "Didn't know whether you had another daughter or not?"

"Why, to be—certainly I know that. Why, how queer you do talk!" she rattled on half hysterically, and laughing one of that creepy kind of laughs one dreams of when he hasn't eaten the right thing for supper. "Are—are—you quite sure, John, she broke out excitedly, "that that headache hasn't gone to your head?"

It was cruel to tease her, and with a supreme effort I talked rationally to her for a few minutes—they seemed like hours to me, and then she said she would go and tell Kitty.

As for myself, I went into the little parlor and waited. How sweet and pretty it looked, and how like a sandstone on a gold setting I felt! Everything was as I had seen it so often, the picture of her grandpa over the cottage piano, the frame in which my picture had been for so many months, but empty now, on the corner of the mantel; the large photograph of St. Cecilia looked heavenward, as we had often told each other we always felt when we were together; the two big friendly chairs inviting each other to come nearer, which we always sat in when I first came in the evening, and the snug little sofa in the corner that was always my point of departure when I bade her good night and went my way back to my own cheerless apartments in a homeless boarding house. I looked at them all, and as the drowning man sees all his sins before him so did I see all these things twice over and multiplied by a thousand as the greatest blessings of my life. Then I shut my eyes. I couldn't help it. My head felt as if a dozen sets of lungs had got into it and were doing expansion turns for a prize.

I opened my eyes suddenly at the sound of a voice.

"Mother told me you wished to see me" it said as chilly as if it had been left out over night in the frost.

"Oh, Ki"—I began, as I stood up before her. "I beg your pardon," I continued; "your mother was quite right. I did wish to see you."

"I can scarcely understand why," she went on, "after what occurred last night. Still, you may be able to explain, and I am willing to listen, at least for a few minutes, as I have an engagement," she added, with the faintest kind of a smile.

It was such a miserably mean little smile, I thought, that it was ashamed to show itself openly.

"Oh, don't let me detain you," I tried to say, with biting sarcasm, but I only bit my tongue in saying it.

"I shall not," she replied. "When I am ready to go, I will let you know. Pray, be seated," and she waved me to my chair again, taking one of our—"our," think of that—big chairs and nestling down into it so cozily that I wanted to throw a book at her. I really wanted to throw myself at her, but I had never dared do that, and this was scarcely an appropriate time to begin.

"I presume," I said, "your engagement is with Mr. Kilmer and my presence here is an intrusion?"

Kilmer had been the cause of the trouble the night before, and Kilmer was such a good fellow generally that I couldn't help but wish that he had died several years before with the cholera or some of the other epidemics which visit our shores and carry away so many excellent people.

"Oh, no," she said, "no intrusion at all. At least not yet. He was here this morning and told me he would not be around again until 4 o'clock."

She looked up at the pretty brass clock I had given her. Both her hands were clasping the figure 3. Three-quarters of an hour and a whole lifetime thereafter!

"Isn't it enough that you should have killed me," I said, "without being so eager to cut me up?"

"I was merely defending a friend," she retorted.

"And you claim Kilmer as a friend?"

"I certainly do. Isn't he a friend of yours?"

"Not at all. If he were, he would not have interfered with my happiness as he has done."

"I beg your pardon," she said. "I didn't know he had."

"Didn't I tell you last night he was a scoundrel, intent only upon separating us?" I asked hotly.

"And didn't I tell you that I would permit no friend of mine to be called a scoundrel by any one without resenting it to the utmost?" she replied.

"But I did call him that," I insisted.

"Yes, and what good did it do you?" she said, stepping to the mantel and holding out the empty frame in which my picture had formerly been the attraction.

"His will take the place of the former occupant?" I said scornfully.

"His, or another's," she responded, and actually giggled.

A giggle from a girl is dreadful enough under any circumstances, but at this time it was positively galling.

"Great Scott!" I exclaimed, staggering to my feet, "am I then a twofold dupe? Are the returns all in? Have the back counties been heard from, Miss Miltby?" and I buried my face in my hands.

I could hear the click of the frame as she set it back on the mantel and a mild sort of a dull thud as she dropped into the big chair.

"Mr. Kilmer is, at least, enough of a gentleman, scoundrel though you say he is," she said, "not to talk to a lady as you do."

"Oh, Ki—I beg your pardon, Miss Miltby," I apologized, "I hope you will forget that I spoke so rudely. Indeed I did not mean it."

"I don't see what reason you have for objecting to Mr. Kilmer paying me any attention he sees fit to pay," she told me for answer. "I have known him for a long time, and he is held in the highest esteem by every one except you."

"But I have known you quite as long as he has," I contended.

"Which is hardly a reason for acting as you are now acting," she said.

"Does he love you?" I asked, and I could feel a thousand pulses in my head at once.

"I presume not," she replied, smiling. "If he does, he has been too modest to say so."

"Do you love him?"

"That is my own affair," she answered freezingly.

I threw my hand quickly to my side, for as I live I thought that instant that my heart would certainly break loose and drop down. I think if I could have stepped on a scale that moment with it in my bosom I would have weighed a ton.

"It is not altogether yours," I said, with a gasp.

"No?" and the interrogation point ran up into her eyebrows and arched them sharply like a spear point, it seemed to me.

"No, and I want you to understand it." I was growing desperate. "I have some rights which I propose to see are respected, and I shall not stand like a post and be dumb as one."

"And what rights have you, pray, that I should respect them?" she asked so sarcastically that it felt as if I had stepped across the path of a cutting hailstorm.

"The right of having my claim heard before it is disallowed and thrown out of court," I responded, dropping into shop talk without knowing it.

"Have you ever presented your claim?" she inquired, with judicial dignity.

Had I? That was the question. Had I? For years I had known Kitty Miltby. We had grown up from children together. We had gone to school together. For months I had loved her. By day she was ever in my thoughts, and by night her spirit filled my dreams with music. I had given her my heart without the asking, but I had never asked for hers. It didn't seem necessary. I thought, of course, she knew I wanted it. Now I was brought face to face with the facts. Had I ever presented my claim? Well, I had not—at least not with the formality which my training as a lawyer demanded that I should.

"Oh, Kitty, Kitty," and I almost cried from the reaction, "I love you more than all the world, and I want you as much as I want the world, for you are the world to me. Now, will you say that my claim has not been presented?"

It doesn't make any difference what she said, or how she said it, or whether my arms were on the mantelpiece, or where they were, and it is nobody's business how much that man Kilmer had to do with bringing me to a realizing sense of my situation, or why he and Kitty smiled when I told him it was all right.

I think Kilmer is the best fellow in the world, and so does Kitty, with one exception.

When I left the house, Mrs. Miltby met me in the hall.

"Here's a sovereign remedy for the headache, John," she said, handing me a bag of herbs, "I've used it for 40 years, and it never fails."

"Oh, that's all right, moth—Mrs. Miltby," said I. "I guess I'm cured of that kind of headache forever." And if she hadn't stood in the door as I went down the walk I'm sure I should have jumped clean over the gate and acted in a manner utterly unworthy of my dignity as a rising young lawyer.

It was 6 p. m., and Kitty had not missed her engagement at 4, because by that time it was permanently settled.—W. J. Lampton in Free Press.

The Great Danubian Catfish.

One species alone has managed to take up its abode in Europe. This is the wels of the Germans, the true silurus, from which the family as a whole derives its name of siluroids. It occurs in the Danube and other eastern rivers, but has never made its way into the Rhine or any streams to the west of it. Except the sturgeon, the wels is the biggest—and, I will venture to add, the ugliest—of European fresh water fishes. Its huge, gaping mouth, its soft, slimy skin, its six big barbels and its murderous expression all combine to render it peculiarly hideous. Some specimens reach the length of 16 feet and turn the scale at 400 pounds, but these figures, being fisherman's weight, may be accepted by the wise cum grano salis. I do not guarantee them. According to Yarrel, a Prussian specimen of silurus had the entire body of a baby in its stomach, but a noble Hungarian catfish goes this story one better, for it is said to have contained "the body of a young woman with a wedding ring on her finger and a purse full of money hanging at her girdle." I can swallow the lady, but I decline to accept the wedding ring and the florins.—Cornhill Magazine.

In the Grocery.

"The care which the average corner grocer has of his wares," said a woman a day or two ago, "was exemplified to me very significantly at the shop where I deal. At one side are always displayed two or three tiers of cracker boxes, the oblong wooden sort, each filled with a different variety of these much used little biscuits. I have been in the habit of buying crackers there freely, rather liking the easy choice afforded by this open display, but one evening I halted at the store after dinner and found the clerk sweeping. There was a cloud of dust, and the smells which were arising from bits of decayed vegetables and the like unearthed by the broom were not pleasant, but what really horrified me was to see that the long array of cracker boxes was uncovered. I have never ordered crackers there since, and I am careful now to study what is covered and uncovered in any grocer's shop before I make a choice. Of course, vegetables and fruit can and should always be washed after reaching the kitchen, but crackers, sugar and various other things are not washable, and these I buy from covered receptacles."

Rabbit or Rarebit?

"Apropos of the peculiarly American tendency to explain things," he was saying, "there occurs to my mind the attempt sometimes made to account for the derivation of the compound word welsh-rabbit. I regret to notice that Webster falls into the common error of considering the word rabbit a corruption of rarebit. Now, as shown by lexicographers who have had the advantage of a technical acquaintance with facts relating to the origin of the word, welsh rabbit is merely a slang term and not a corruption at all. It never was anything but welsh rabbit, and in its genesis it was essentially a slang term, yet by reason of its long habitude in the language it has lost or outgrown what might be called the coarseness of its origin and is now entitled to a place in the accepted vocabulary without any apology or fanciful explanation. In proof of this I may cite other examples, notably"—

"Wendell," interrupted the mother of the little Boston boy, "you weary the lady with your chatter! Run out now and play awhile."—Chicago Tribune.

Humors of the Telephone.

The telephone is still a thing of humor and a joke forever. It is common enough to hear one say, "So-and-so wants to see you at the telephone," but yesterday I witnessed a funnier thing yet. A man was "roasting" another man by wire and was emphasizing his remarks with vigorous gestures. Doubtless they produced a convincing effect upon the man at the other phone.

Again, during the Brooklyn city hall fire, a reporter was phoning a "rush story" to a reporter in New York. Suddenly the latter interrupted with, "Hold on—I've broken my pencil." "Here—take mine!" shouted the man in Brooklyn, and the "rush story" was delayed, while everybody stopped to laugh.—New York World

GOD'S LIGHTHOUSE.

The little head, with busy fancies filled,
Leaned thoughtfully upon my breast at night
While faint and fainter grew the western light
And one by one the sounds of day were stilled.

The weary little feet, now tired of play,
Had danced for hours upon the sandy beach,
Chasing the waves or flying from their reach,
Lightsome and care free as the tossing spray.

As the dear child lay nestling in my arm
There darted through the dusk a sudden ray
Flashed from the dimming shore across the bay,
Where the tall lighthouse warned the ships from harm.

And as we watched it shining o'er the deep
Another beam fell sl

Wall Papers!

"Now is the winter of our discontent made glorious Springtime by this April Sun."

THE OLD CORNER WALL PAPER CO.

OF

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.,

Now offer you good Kitchen, Bedroom and Hallway papers at

5 cents per roll.

Good designs in floral papers, Vine patterns and scrolls in soft colors at 10 cents per roll.

Excellent gilt papers in dainty colors, pretty styles and choice white and blue, white and yellow and white and green colorings at 15 cents to 25 cents per roll.

Our immense price is marked at 1895 prices this year. That is at the bottom notch and must go up next year.

Send for samples (enclose 4 cents in stamps) or call at our enlarged show room at the old corner of State and Main Streets, AND LOOK!

The Old Corner Wall Paper Co.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.

Vice Presidents.
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.

Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.

Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.

Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Moores, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory

Board of Investment,
Geo. Moores, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.

Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach. A. L. Hills.

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY

AND MACHINE SHOP.

At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.

MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL JOBBING DONE

At short notice and reasonable prices.

52-35 R. B. FRANCIS.

The Pick of the Best From the Dozen Best. That's

HAYNES & CO'S. WAY.

Had to go to market in a hurry. Big sales Easter week caused that. You will be glad we went. For our good buying is your good fortune.

Fine Cheviots and English Scotch Mixtures are in the after-Easter selections. Essentially Young Men's Suits. Bought with special reference to Young Men's tastes. Every desirable shade represented. $15, $16, $18, $20, $22 and $25.

Never sold so many Black Clay Worsteds. They suit all occasions. That's one reason. Here's another. They cost less. Sacks, Cutaways, medium lengths, and Regents. Regents are long, swell coats. Clergymen wear the Prince Alberts. $12 buys a good Suit, and there's a graduated scale of quality and prices: $14, $15, $16—up to $25.

Don't lose sight of our lines of $8, $10 and $12 Sack and Cutaway Suits in regulars, slims and stouts They're a feature.

For $10—Strong Suits, all wool, well made, handsome cloth, in all the popular mixtures. Will give you a year's wear with reasonable usage.

HAYNES & COMPANY,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.,

CLOTHIERS, TAILORS, HATTERS AND FURNISHERS.

Spring and Summer Shoes

Now in stock and receiving others daily.

The largest and best selected stock of Boots and Shoes for the money that can be found in Western Massachusetts.

Tan Shoes, all shades, low and high, for Ladies and Boys and Youths, Misses and Children.

Can fit the smallest baby or the largest man.

FULL STOCK OF PATENT LEATHER SHOES.

Hall's Shoe House, 294 Main St., next to P. O., Springfield, Mass. . . . . .

THE D. F. HOLDEN AGENCY,

PALMER, MASS.,

OFFERS FOR SALE,

FARMS

In Palmer, Monson, Wales, Holland, Brimfield, Hampden, Oakham, Leverett, Belchertown, Ware and Enfield, Mass., Mansfield, Ct. and Fitzwilliam, N. H., including hen farms of 3 to 5 acres, farms for cattle raising, dairy farms and stock farms for horses.

HOTELS

In Chatham, N. Y., Monson, Mass., Bridgeport, Ct., and Dover, N. H.

BUILDING LOTS

On Main, Park, Pond, Central, Knox and Walnut streets, Palmer, Mass., Main, Bourn, Ruggles and Pleasant streets, Three Rivers.

HOUSES

On Main, Park, Walnut, Central, South Main, Knox, Church and Pleasant streets, Fox and Converse avenues, Palmer, Mass.

In Three Rivers, Thorndike, Bondsville, Monson, West Warren, Wales, East Brookfield and Springfield, Mass.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

Grocery, Boot and Shoe and Drug Stores, Hotels, Grist and Saw Mills.

Business Transactions Confidential.

Should you have anything to dispose of call upon me, my terms are reasonable and I will use you right. Should you want to buy, you can do so through me and your offers will be entertained.

D. F. HOLDEN, PALMER, MASS.

JUST ARRIVED.

A Full Line of

Grass Seed,

Seed Oats,

Seed Barley,

Seed Peas.

Ground Plaster.

BRADLEY'S X L Phosphate, Potato Manure and English Lawn Dressing.

Low Prices.

C. D. HOLBROOK.

SALESMEN WANTED

To Solicit orders for Nursery Stock, Salary or Commission. Cash advanced for expenses, and outfit free. Experience not essential. Active, hard-working men can make good pay. The best of reference required.

THE R. G. CHASE CO.,

8-50 Malden, Mass.

WANTED.

Smart and reliable men to solicit orders for an extensive variety of Hardy Nursery Stock. Also a few energetic women for Shrubs, Roses, etc.

S. T. CANNON,

6*51 AUGUSTA, ME.

COAL,

BALED HAY,

STRAW.

Lehigh Chestnut Coal	$6.00
" Stove "	6.00
" Egg "	5.50
Half ton lot of Stove and Chestnut Coal	3.15
Lackawanna Stove Coal	5.75
Half ton " "	3.00
Lackawanna Egg Coal	5.40

No. 1 Baled Hay,	15.00 per ton
Stock Hay,	13.00 " "
Baled Hay,	14.00 " "

☞ SPECIAL PRICES ON CAR LOAD LOTS.

RALPH CLIFFORD,

Rear of Monson House, - Monson, Mass.

CARRIAGES ! ! !

I have in stock a complete line of fine and medium grade Carriages.

Leather Top Carriages, for $60, 75, 100, 150, 300.

Open Buggies, for $40, 60, 75, 125, 150.

Second-Hand Carriages, $5, 10, 20, 40, 75.

Harnesses, $7.50, 9, 12, 15, 20.

DELIVERY WAGONS OF ALL KINDS.

W. H. SMITH,

2 PARK STREET, SPRINGFIELD.

BICYCLES

RAMBLER,	$100.00
ENVOY,	75.00
FLEETWING (ladies)	75 00
STORMER,	60.00
CRAWFORD,	50.00

All warranted fully. Sweaters and bicycle sundries for sale. Also have good wheels to rent.

ERNEST D. TUFTS,

Holden's Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

WAGONS!

Having a new lot of

TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY, CALL AND SEE US.

ALLEN AND ELLERY,

PALMER, tf-3 MASS.

Engraved Address Cards. Plate engraved and 100 cards printed, only $1.50. Styles change often—your old cards may be out of style, probably are—better have some new ones, with correct size of card and style of lettering. At the JOURNAL Office.

A 19 CENT SALE

At Hellyar's

Bargain Store,

Caryl's Block, - On the Corner.

4 yards of Lining Cambric.
1¼ yards of best Silicia.
2 yards of imitation Hair Cloth.
2 yards of Crinoline.
1½ yards of Canvas.
3 yards of Cross Bar Cambric.
5 yards of Apron Check Gingham.
2 yards of Dress Goods.
3 yards of Outing Flannel.
1½ yards Colored Canton Flannel.
1¼ yards best Feather Ticking.
4 yards Lace Scrim.
¼ yard Silk Plush (all colors.)
4 doz. Dress Buttons.
8 doz. Hooks and Eyes (Kant Open.)
7 spools Black Silk.
4 spools Best Thread.
5 spools, 500 yards, Basting Thread.
1 bottle 25c Perfumery.
1 bottle Mitchell's Rose Cutilave.
13 yards Tom Thumb Ribbon.
4 yards Morai, Picot Edge Ribbon.
2 yards Wide Lace.
3 pair Dress Shields (warranted.)
2 pair Hose, ladies or children.
2 fine Huckabuck Towels.
4 yards Toweling, bleached or unbleached.
4 bunches of Envelopes, all sizes.
4 quires best Writing Paper.
1 White Apron.
1 black Shopping Bag.
2 Shoulder Shawls.
3 pair Gent's Hose.
10 yards Narrow Hamburg.
1½ skeins Germantown.
1 earthen Tea Pot.
1 large Yellow Bowl.
1 Drapery Pole and Trimmings.
10 papers of Pins.
4 doz. Lead Pencils.
2 Rope Halters.
1 Curry Comb and Brush.
2 Cuspidores.
5 bunches of Tacks.
4 bunches Toilet Paper.
1 Bean Pot.
2 yards Rug Fringe.
1 Wire Rat Trap.
4 yards Carpet Lining.

Any of the above ONLY 19 CENTS. This is the store for the economical buyers.

Best live Geese Feathers only 55c per lb.

White Bed Spreads 67 cents.

Laundered White or Colored Shirts, 47 cents.

Floor Oils Cloths, 23 cents per yard.

Slop Pails 25 cents.

Lanterns, 42 cents.

Curtains 23c, 31c, 36c, 37c, 50c each.

2 pair Men's Suspenders, 25c.

Custom Suits from $11 to $25.

REMEMBER THE PLACE,

HELLYAR'S BARGAIN STORE,

Caryl's Block, on the Corner,

PALMER, - MASS.

DENTISTRY.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PALMER AND VICINITY:

Having thoroughly equipped my new office with the most modern inventions and methods pertaining to dentistry, I am now prepared to meet the demands of the public in all the branches of the art. I have associated with me DR. O. P. ROLLER, a graduate in dental surgery, who has made a specialty of crown and bridge work, all gold, porcelain, combination crown, etc. Gold, aluminum and artificial dentures of every description. The best of workmanship guaranteed. 4-2

DR. C. W. CROSS, PALMER, MASS.

PUPILS OF THE GUARD.

Napoleon Enters Them In the Service of His Baby Son.

And one day in the Place of the Carrousel, the great open square in front of the palace of the Tuileries, where the emperor held his weekly reviews of the Imperial guard, there came a new surprise.

It was a beautiful August day. The splendid palace, outlined against the clear Parisian sky, made a grand background for the mass of moving color, as battalion after battalion wheeled and circled and charged and maneuvered. Cavalry and infantry marched and counter marched, helmets glittered, bands played, display was everywhere.

Then, while the regiments stood at rest, the gay strains of other military bands were heard, and into the square, beneath the triumphal arch crowned by the great bronze horses of St. Mark's, Venice, came rank upon rank, in soldierly array, spick and span in their new uniforms of green and gold, 8,000 little foot soldiers, not one of whom was yet in his teens.

As steadily as veterans, as solid as the Old Guard itself, every boy doing his best, every eye "front," every hand shouldering a toy musket or carrying a dwarf sword, the Lilliputian battalions halted and faced the smiling veterans.

The emperor appeared. The boys went through their maneuvers with precision and ease. And when the review was over the emperor, standing midway between his veterans and his boy brigade, pointed to the little soldiers and said to his grenadiers:

"Soldiers of my guard, behold your children! These are the pupils of the guard, the sons of those who have fallen in battle for France, the defenders upon whose valor the future of my empire must rest. To them I confide the guarding of my son, as I have confided myself to you. For them I require, from you, friendship and protection."

Then, facing the boyish brigade, he said: "My children, in attaching you to my guard I give you a difficult duty. But I shall trust in you. I know that some day it will be said of you, 'These children are worthy of their fathers. Pupils of the guard, from this day you are in the service of the king of Rome.'"—From "A Boy of the First Empire," by Elbridge S. Brooks, in St. Nicholas.

FEEDING A QUEEN.

How the Bees Nourish the Royal Jelly Till It Develops.

"Do you know how they train a queen?" asked a bonneted old country woman as she changed the position of her snuff stick from one side of the mouth to the other. "You know that they have a woman ruler and won't allow no other?" she continued. I nodded my affirmative, making a mental note of the fact to give to the woman suffragists.

"Well," she continued, "the throne doesn't come down from mother to daughter, as in kingdoms, but the working bees elect their own queen."

"They are very democratic, then—like we are," I put in, "and have their say as to who shall govern them."

"That's so," she responded, "but they don't go about it in the same way. You see, when this hive gets too full, the working bees know that's time to look about for another queen. They must have a new hive, so I put one up for them. They understand and go about training a queen that shall be royal enough to rule them."

"So they make a robe of honey ermine and put it on tthe shoulders of the prettiest girl bee who receives the popular vote?" I suggested.

"They don't do any such thing," with a gesture of disgust. "They pick out a larvæ and begin to feed it with the queerest food you ever saw. They get it from certain flowers and never use it in the making of honeycomb. Only once do they seek such sweetness, and then 'tis on an occasion like this. They put the little living germ off to itself and nourish it on this food. We bee tenders call it 'the royal jelly.' Whenever we see this performance going on we know that very soon the old queen will be the dowager, and that the new hive is to be occupied. As soon as the larvæ reaches its proper strength it is carried by the bees to their new home as ruler, and the throne and scepter are given her. This royal 'jelly' never makes its appearance again until a like occasion calls for it. We call this 'feeding a queen.'"—New York Press.

Natural Gas.

Investigations made in Ohio show that the weight of 100 cubic feet of natural gas may be set down at 4,287 pounds. It is composed of 1,072 pounds of hydrogen and 3,215 pounds of carbon, requires for its perfect combustion 969 3-10 cubic feet of air, weighing 74,561 pounds; it makes in burning 9,648 pounds of steam and 11,788 pounds of carbonic acid, equal to 100, and produces 94,593 heat units when the steam is not condensed, the total products of combustion being, therefore, steam, 9,648; carbonic acid, 11,788; nitrogen, 57,412, or a total of 78,848 pounds. It is stated that if these products of combustion escape at a temperature of 600 degrees they carry off with them 12,712 heat units, or about 14 per cent, of all the heat produced by the fire, or if they escape at 300 degrees they carry off less than 7 per cent. If, however, for any reason twice as much air as is necessary to combustion passes through the fire and escapes up the chimney along with these products of combustion, there would then at a temperature of 600 degrees be a loss of heat units equal to about 266 per cent of all the heat produced by the fire.

Glory All Around.

Uncle Gideon Goodwin 50 years ago was one of the "characters" of the town. At that time the Methodists used to gather at the houses to hold their prayer meetings, and as Gideon was a devout worshiper of that creed he was a regular attendant. One night this meeting was held at the house of Harlow Harden, and Gideon was there. In those days excitement ran high, and just as the enthusiasm of the assemblage was wrought to the highest pitch "Uncle Harden," as he was always called, arose to his feet, and lifting up his hands shouted in a voice full of fervor:

"Glory to Gideon!"

Hardly had the chorus of amens which the utterances called forth died away when Goodwin, who thought that the praise was meant for him and was bound to return the compliment, jumped up and said:

"Glory to you, too, Uncle Harden!"—Gardiner Reporter-Journal.

ARE THESE SENSES IDENTICAL?

It Is Said the Capacity to Smell and Taste Has the Same Origin.

The man who smoked in the dark one night and discovered that when he couldn't see the smoke all the pleasure of burning tobacco was lost is not more remarkable than the individual who has now discovered that the senses of taste and of smell are identical. This gentleman advances the theory that the sense of taste depends upon the number of minute tentacles which constitute the surface of the tongue, and he says that some men have three times as many of these as others. The latter never become gormands, and their sense of smell is, says this observer, deficient.

In proof of these assertions it is said that when you have a bad cold you almost lose both these senses; that you can neither detect delicate odors, like that of perfume, otherwise so noticeable, nor identify the flavors of different kinds of foods and drinks. The smoker who has a severe cold finds that his cigar or cigarette yields but little pleasure, and he finds that his glass of claret or champagne at dinner is almost as flat to the taste as so much water.

Brillat-Savarin, who lifted cooking from the kitchen to the library and made gastronomy a fine art, said that of all the senses in their natural state taste procures us the greatest number of enjoyments. For this he gives six reasons, as follows:

Because the pleasure of eating, taken in moderation, is the only one that is not followed by fatigue

Because it is common to every age, time and condition

Because it must return once at least every day and may during that space of time be easily repeated two or three times.

Because it can combine with all our other pleasures, and even console us for their absence.

Because its sensations are at once more lasting than others and more subject to our will.

Because we have a certain special but indefinable satisfaction, arising from the instinctive knowledge that, by the very act of eating, we are making good our losses and prolonging our existence.

These are the reasons advanced by this eminent writer to prove that taste is the most important of the senses. He was also one of the first to suspect the identity of the senses of taste and smell, and he said that of two guests seated at the same banquet one may have delicious sensations while the other seems to eat only because compelled, the reason being that the latter has tongue and nostrils only poorly furnished for enjoyment. It is thus that the empire of taste has its blind men and its deaf.—New York World.

The Barometer.

The barometer was invented by Torricelli, a pupil of Galilei, in 1643. In attempting to pump water from a very deep well near Florence he found that in spite of all his efforts the liquid would not rise higher in the pump stock than 32 feet. This set the young scientist to thinking, and as he could not account for the phenomenon in any other way he was not slow in attributing it to atmospheric pressure. He argued that water would rise in a vacuum only to such a height as would render the downward pressure or weight of the column of water just equal to the atmospheric pressure, and further that should a heavier fluid be used the height of the column could be much reduced. To prove this he selected a glass tube four feet long, and after sealing one end filled it with mercury and then inverted it in a basin containing a quantity of the same peculiar liquid. The column in the tube quickly fell to a height of nearly 30 inches above the mercury in the basin, leaving in the top of the tube a vacuum, which is the most perfect that has ever been obtained, and which is to this day called the Torricelli vacuum in honor of its discoverer. The name of the instrument means "air measure," and its fundamental principles cannot be better illustrated than by the above described experiment.—St. Louis Republic.

Jerusalem.

Jerusalem has no clubs, no barrooms, no beer gardens, no concert halls, no theaters, no lecture rooms, no places of amusement of any kind, no street bands, no wandering minstrels, no wealthy or upper classes, no mayor, no aldermen, no newspapers, no printing presses, no book stores—except one outside the walls for the sale of Bibles—no cheerfulness, no life. No one sings, no one dances, no one laughs in Jerusalem. Even the children do not play. So writes a traveler who visited the Holy City recently.

Thomas Jefferson, it is said, spoke like a professor lecturing to his class. He used few gestures and always delivered his speeches in a moderate tone of voice, with little appearance of interest or enthusiasm.

The muffler was originally called the muzzler, because it went over the muzzle or mouth.

LADY AND GRIZZLIES.

THE CHIEF OF MOUNTAIN HUNTERS FINDS A HERMITESS.

She Likes the Lower Animals as Companions and Has a Theory Which Culminates In the Millennium—The Old Story, With Romantic Variations.

Among the daring hunters who for years have tramped the fastnesses of the Cascade and Rocky mountains Dave Solberg is acknowledged chief. He is of modest demeanor and no boaster, and yet he has killed in his solitary wanderings more cougars, California lions, wolves and grizzly bears than would suffice to stock all the menageries in the United States. Unlike his fellows, he is a college bred man, is a versatile talker and tells a good story.

To a correspondent who recently met Solberg in Spokane Falls the hunter told the following queer story:

"It was early in September that I started out to fill a Chicago order for a lot of cougar, black lynx and cinnamon bear skins. I directed my course toward the upper Salmon river, my objective point being 200 miles southeast of Pierce City. Besides Ben, a stout Lapwaj half breed, my faithful hired man of all work, caterer, tent keeper, etc., my outfit consisted of two Indian ponies for packing service, three old hounds, camp fixtures, two rifles, a shotgun, revolvers and plenty of provisions and ammunition.

"Monday, Sept. 24, will always be a memorable day in my experience. Leaving Ben and one dog in camp, I started early in the morning for an all day trip, directing my steps toward the headwaters of the little stream near which we were camped. We had gone about two miles from camp when Tige and Fan struck a scent and bounded off through the dense thicket. I quickened my pace in the direction the dogs had taken and soon came upon the tracks of what I knew must be a large grizzly bear. Presently, as I anticipated, the hounds brought the bear to bay a few hundred yards ahead. This was clearly evident from the altered tone of their cries. When I came up with the dogs, there, sure enough, was a big grizzly sitting on his haunches and compliacently taking in the situation.

"I poised my rifle and was about to fire, when, to my utter surprise, I saw a stout leather strap about the bear's chubby neck, while from the brass ring under his throat dangled a rosette and tassel made of red, white and blue ribbons. Besides the animal's coat was as sleek and clean as if he had just come from a tub of soap and water.

"Was the brute an escape from some menagerie? Was he a household pet, or was I dreaming? None of these, surely! We were in the heart of a mountain wilderness, more than 30 miles from the nearest border settlement and 200 miles from the nearest town ever visited by circus or menagerie. Besides family pets are not made of grizzly bears weighing half a ton.

"I called off the dogs and put them in leashes. Strangely enough, the huge beast plunged instanter into the thicket and shambled off up the creek, while I followed as fast as I could lead the hounds. I could hear the crackling of dry twigs under the bear's feet, and quieting the dogs in order to catch his course I heard a human voice, the shrill, treble cry of a woman.

"'Ho, Dio, Dio, Dio-o!' it came.

'Once more I was dazed. All the fairy stories of bears and wolves I had ever heard or read came back to me, and I was beginning to distrust the reliability of my senses when the cry came again, a good deal nearer and louder: 'Dio, Dio. Ho, Di-o-o!'

"Chaining the hounds to a sapling, I plunged forward. I soon overtook the bear, which paid no attention to me whatever, but lazily walked along as if his business was his own and nobody else's, halting now and then to munch a few berries from the bushes. As bruin and I emerged from the thicket into a partially open space, what was my amazement to suddenly meet face to face a woman—a real, live woman! The apparition was clad in buckskin frock and leggings, with high brogans buckled over her feet, and her head covered with a brown slouch hat, from beneath which streamed her long hair. She was a blond of the most perfect type. She snapped her thumb and finger, and the bear walked to her side, reared up on his hind feet and licked her cheek while she stroked his shaggy coat.

"'Now, sir,' said the woman, 'will you walk home with me and see where I live with Dio and his family?'

"A 20 minutes' walk on a well beaten trail brought us to a limestone cliff a few rods from the stream. This cliff was nearly perpendicular, 40 or 50 feet high, and in its face on a level with the bank of the creek there was a broad opening, or cave, perhaps 10 feet high and 30 or 40 feet deep. Just within was a snugly built log cabin, its front gable end extending outside far enough to catch the sunlight and permit the escape of the smoke from a stick and clay chimney. This retreat was the home of the woman, while a family of bears occupied the farther end of the cave.

"Upon our arrival Mrs. Grizzly Bruin and two half grown cubs made their appearance, all exhibiting the same docile characteristics as the great Dio. A big Newfoundland dog also bounded forth to greet us. The cabin contained three airy and well lighted rooms, a studio, or parlor; a bedroom and kitchen. While we sat at luncheon she told me her history, and I assure you it was only the old story, with romantic variations and practical illustrations. The gist of the whole matter was a love sorrow caused by the interference of unwise parents and resulting in the abandonment of a comfortable home for the precarious life of a recluse. Only two or three trusted friends know the secret of her whereabouts and mode of living.

"Backwoodsmen built her the cabin five years ago, and about that time she bought a pair of grizzly cubs from the Indians and reared them on condensed milk. To this simple diet and the kindest treatment the philosophical lady attributes the wonderful docility of her grizzly pets. Frontiersmen hired for the purpose make monthly visits to the cabin, bringing upon pack animals every comfort and many luxuries.

"The hermitess maintains that mercy between man and man and kindness to the lower animals must constitute the great panacea which is to redeem animated nature, bring back the golden age and hasten the millennium."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Violet For Mourning.

It was not by accident that violet was chosen by many nations as the exclusive color for mourning, and by us also for half mourning. Painters suffering from hysteria and neurasthenia will be inclined to cover their pictures uniformly with the color most in accordance with their condition of lassitude and exhaustion. Thus originate the violet pictures of Manet and his school, which spring from no actually observable aspect of nature, but from a subjective view due to conditions of the nerves. When the entire surface of walls in salons and art exhibitions of the day appears veiled in uniform half mourning, this predilection for violet is simply an expression of the nervous debility of the painter.—Condensed From Nordau's "Degeneration."

Louis the Great's Size.

Louis the Great had even and tolerably regular features, without any strongly marked characteristics. By all his contemporaries he is spoken of as a tall man, but he had a way of raising his head, surmounted by the monstrous wig he wore, and of swelling his chest, that created the impression of height, for when the sepulchers of the kings were violated by the convention and his body was dragged out of his coffin it was measured and found a trifle over 5 feet 6 inches.

Getting Out of a Scrape.

First Chemist's Assistant—By Jingo, I've quite forgotten to make up the prescription for Frau Schmidt! She will be in a fine frenzy, for she has been sitting outside waiting for three-quarters of an hour.

Second Ditto—That's very simple. Charge her three times the usual price, and she will think it was extra difficult to make up.—Unterhaltungsblatt.

Siberia had its name from the city Siber, the royal residence of Kuts, a Tartar prince who established a wide dominion in the northern districts of Asia.

SCRAPS AT THE AQUARIUM.

A Sparring Match Between Two Burgalls and the Blackfish's Idea of It.

Fish appear to play and fight something as birds do. Two burgalls in a tank at the New York aquarium the other day spent half an hour in downright skylarking, which was at times a little rough. They would loaf about at some distance apart and then spring around and make a rush for each other, meeting or perhaps halting just before, and balancing in the water, waving their fins as though sparring for an opening. They would look at each other, noses close together, but not touching, and then perhaps one would back off, the other following until the first was pretty near to his corner. Then the one following would halt and go back to his own place.

Pretty soon the one that had backed off would come up again, and the other was prompt to meet him. This time perhaps they would meet—not tip to tip of their noses, for the end of the fish's nose is extremely sensitive, and he never runs it against anything if he can help it—their noses side to side, and then each would push for all he knew how. They would push until their heads overlapped about one-third of their length back from their noses. Then all of a sudden they would flash apart as though one or the other had hit the other a heavy blow and the referee had called time at the same moment.

One fish seemed to win almost every round, but the other didn't seem to care much for that. He came to the scratch again every time. Sometimes they skirmished a little, and sometimes they closed at once. The contest was at a point in the water to the left of the center of the tank. The fish that generally won staid in that corner, so that he hadn't far to go after the rounds. He just loafed about until the other fish came up again. But the other fish went farther and farther away after each round, until finally he took a little more time between the rounds, and after each round went over into the right hand corner of the tank as far as he could go.

Over on the right hand side of the tank, close against the side and lying partly under a leaf of sea lettuce, was a staid blackfish. He had lain there soberly all through the skylarking and never moved. But once, when the burgall that was getting the worst of it was lounging back to his corner, he got out of his course a little and swung around near the blackfish. The blackfish made a jump at the burgall instantly, saying as plainly as anybody could:

"None o' your nonsense around here!"

The burgall jumped out of the angry blackfish's way, and the blackfish backed down under the sea lettuce again.

But the burgall wasn't disturbed by the cranky old blackfish. He swung around up in his corner, drew a long breath and took a little rest. A minute later he was down in the opposite corner again, nose to nose with the other burgall.—New York Sun.

THE CEREMONIOUS DINNER.

A Brief Besant Essay Holding One or Two New Points.

Dinner above everything illustrates the conquest of the savage. But dinner as served 60 or 70 years ago presented points in which the conquest was incomplete. Thus men had to carve the food on the table. This led to shame and misery and the exposure of incompetence. Besides it left the door wide open for talking about food. Moreover, though men no longer ate as much as they could, they still drank as much as they could.

In illustration of this history, can any one tell me, asks Walter Besant in the London Queen, first, when the custom of putting the wine glasses, reversed, in water glasses was abolished? Some one, I take it, was struck with the uselessness and the cumbrousness of the custom and boldly swept it away. Second, when were people first paired off? Formerly the host took the principal lady, and the rest followed as they chose. Third, when were the names of the guests written on cards in their places? Fourth, when was dinner first carved off the table? It was some time in the sixties. The dinner so served was called, if I remember rightly, dinner a la Russe, and there was a great deal of opposition to it. But common sense and handiness prevailed.

My correspondent informs me—a thing which I did not know—that when dinner was all put on the table at once there used to be a set number of dishes, according to the number of guests—e. g., 8 to 12 guests; hence the expression, "Covers were laid for so many." The "covers" were the covered dishes. And, she adds, when we speak of ladies taking four glasses after dinner we must remember that the glasses were very tiny. Big glasses, she thinks, came in with the temperance movement, so that a man could declare honestly that he had taken only three glasses. Perhaps—the temperance movement has much to answer for. I am reminded of a certain undergraduate in ancient days. He was in training for the boat races. Like the rest of the crew, he was put on an allowance of one glass of port a day. The day before the race it was discovered that he had craftily caused to be made a wine glass which held a pint and a half. And to this single glass he rigidly confined himself.

How Druggists Even Up.

In a West Philadelphia pharmacy a visitor, who is on terms of familiarity with the proprietor, remarked chaffingly to the latter, "I presume you cleared 90 per cent profit on that prescription that just went out."

"Better than that," replied the druggist, "That prescription called for three grains of powdered alum in two ounces of water. I buy the alum for about a cent a pound and draw the aqua from the spigot yonder. The actual cost of the mixture was so infinitesimal that it could scarcely be expressed in fractions of a cent. Yet I charged 35 cents for it, and my conscience doesn't reproach me the least bit. Had I given it to him the probability is that the patient wouldn't have used it at all, and in any event its efficaciousness would have been impaired by the knowledge that its commercial value was next to nothing. And there's another side. I compounded a prescription this morning the rare ingredients of which actually cost me nearly $3. I charged $1 for it, and the customer gave me a look which said as plainly as words, 'You're a swindler.'"—Philadelphia Record.

The Cherry Stone.

It is a suggestive fact that not the orator, nor the artist, nor the poet, but the musician, who is both player and composer, calls out the most exaggerated expressions of hero worship from women. Liszt's feminine pupils treasured a hair picked from his coat collar and made a fetich of anything he had handled.

Perhaps the emotional nature of music gives such intense pleasure to women that they cannot help making too much of the musician. An amusing illustration of this sort of hero worship is associated with Charles Gounod, the composer of "Faust."

One day a lady, an intense admirer of the composer, paid him a visit in his large, handsome study. On the mantelpiece she noticed a cherry stone, which she took and had it set as a brooch, surrounded by diamonds and pearls.

Several weeks later the lady again visited Gounod, and calling his attention to the brooch told him what she had done.

"But, madam," said the musician, "I never eat cherries. The stone you found on the mantelpiece was from a cherry eaten by my servant Jean."—Youth's Companion.

Not Shopong, but Kopeen.

Professor Meyer, the pianist, at a musicale given at a private residence, before sitting down to play the "Polonaise" by Chopin made an interesting statement to the guests. While in Leipsic, he said, he heard his cousin pronounce the name of Chopin "Kopeen." He laughed at her for it, but some years afterward in Brooklyn, while relating the incident to a Russian scholar, he was surprised to be laughed at in turn for pronouncing it "Shopong."

"Your cousin was right," said the Russian. "The Polish pronounciation is Kopeen."

With this explanation Chopin suddenly acquires new interest.—Washington Post.

Keep your troubles to yourself. When you tell them, you are taking up the time of the man who is waiting to tell his.

OFFICERS IN INDIA.

THEY HAVE GREAT SPORT HUNTING THE NATIVE WILD CATTLE.

Set Up Large Parties and Have Plenty of Fun—The Nylghau Is Not Ferocious, but It Runs Well—How One of Them Sold Three English Officers.

English officers hail with delight being ordered on service to India, where the duties are less, the pay is increased, there is gayety no end and life is generally made one of luxury and enjoyment, besides which India is par excellence the very country for all kinds of sport from the noble tiger to the quail. During the hot season one is pretty much a slave to the weather, so far as outdoor exercise is concerned, and all who can take advantage of this time to get their two months' leave and rush up to such charmingly cool places as Nyne Tal and Simla, in the Himalayas where from the heights one can look down on the burning plains and pity those who are compelled to remain doing duty.

At most Indian stations, more especially those in the vicinity of rivers, the nylghau, or wild cow, light brown, the male called blue bull, owing to the bluish slate color, is to be found. They love to roam over the rougher plains adjacent to rivers, where in many parts the growth of rank grass often reaches eight feet, affording thick and excellent cover for them, but through which the huntsmen can ride slowly in line, acting as their own beaters. Previous to doing so, however, some of the party are placed on the flanks and ahead to signal in case of any break. Occasionally the animal may be found grazing or lying down out in the open.

The hunt is advertised and the "meet" takes place at an early hour at one of the officers' messhouses. Coolies are sent on to the ground at daybreak to assist if so required in the beating and to skin, cut up and carry home for the men's mess the animals killed during the day's sport. This delicate attention is highly appreciated by the men. After a hunt breakfast spears are looked to, and all is excitement and bustle to mount and be off. Syces (the native grooms) follow the horses. They keep up easily with a horse's steady trot for a considerable time. Frequently it happens that a river has either to be forded or crossed by ferry. In either case this creates considerable delay in the day's proceedings and ofttimes great merriment, for if fording is attempted when the river is high or rising the current is apt to sweep the horse or horses off their feet, and they have to swim for it, making them nervous and difficult to manage, the riders getting most uncomfortably wet and having to stand the chaffing sure to be made by the more fortunate ones as to their drowned rat appearance.

When all have successfully crossed, bar the horse or horses who may have gone off on a swim down the river on their own account, with laughing and chaffing, horses are remounted and the work of the day commenced. Some huntsmen go out to take a binocular sweep of the plain. Should nothing be in view the long grass covers are carefully drawn, and pretty soon a good blue bull is tallyhoed away, when every one does his level best to get to the front for the honor of the first spear. The length of the run of course varies, so much is depending on circumstances and surroundings, but runs are generally long and exciting, although not as a rule dangerous for the bull does not particularly care to turn and charge a body of horsemen, although he will, when pressed by one or two, turn nasty and show defiance. At the finish all dismount and discuss the run over pipes and lunch, then leisurely remount and signal to the Syces and coolies, who have been following in the line taken, and leaving a couple of coolies to skin and cut up the beast a fresh beat is made and another as good run looked for. At the close of the day's sport, at or about 6 o'clock, three or four animals have been killed. These are left for the coolies to skin, cut up and bring into cantonments.

Sometimes one or two sporting characters will occasionally take a bye day and go out after the nylghau with spear or pistol. The dash or danger in it makes it all the more exciting, and many are the grand runs I have had on a good cape horse, sometimes with spear and sometimes with pistol.

I cannot refrain from giving an account of a most laughable circumstance that occurred to me one day when quartered at Faizabad in Oudh. One day after breakfast it was proposed by a couple of my brother officers that we should go out quail shooting. We accordingly ordered our tats (the Indian ponies), got our guns ready, not forgetting to take with us a few bullets in case of seeing larger game, such as deer or nylghau, and off we started at a gentle trot, accompanied by our syces and a cooly each to carry guns and ammunition, the rule in India being never to do anything in the shape of labor or fatigue that you can get done for you. The river was soon reached and successfully crossed without a hitch, the tats being like old soldiers accustomed to it and not caring to cause "bobbery" (disturbance).

On landing we decided to take our guns and walk on, letting the coolies, syces and tats follow in the rear. We followed the banks of the river, watching the huge crocodiles and alligators as they lazily crawled into the water on our approach. All of a sudden, to my right in among the tall and dense grass cover, I heard a strange rustling noise, like some heavy animal pushing through. Feeling sure that my companions were following on behind me, it did not occur to me to look, but as quick as a flash, although only loaded with snipe shot, I raised my Westly Richards 12 bore gun to my shoulder and fired in the direction of the moving grass. Simultaneously with the report I heard a heavy thud. I looked around to tell my comrades. Oh, horror, they were absent! In a twinkling I nervously rushed through the long grass, calling them by name. No response. Suddenly, however, I stumbled upon the body, not of either of my friends, but of a nylghau—my first. My friends soon came on the scene, and after I had pitched into them for leaving their places without apprising me of the fact we had a hearty laugh over the circumstance. We made an examination of the beast, but could not see any wound to cause death. As we stood talking the matter over one of my friends, sitting down on the animal, lit his pipe, when all of a sudden we became impressed with the fact that the creature was simply stunned, showing visible signs of coming to. The suddenness of it quite took me aback, and before I had time to load with ball the beast was up and off, and although I took a hurried shot at him as he disappeared through the grass he lived to be able to tell his tribe how he had thoroughly sold three English officers. Had we taken our horses out instead of tats the sell would not have occurred.

Weighing Coin In the Bank of England.

All the sovereigns and half sovereigns received here immediately undergo, in a large room adjoining, the ordeal of the weighers or separators. These are small brass boxes, perhaps a cubic foot in size, with glass sides. In the center of the brass top is a small round hole, a little larger than the sovereign, which is filled by the round plate of a delicate balance. Upon this balance the sovereigns or half sovereigns, according to the machine, slide, one at a time, by their own weight from an inclined half tube, in which they are placed by the handful, forming a long inclined cylinder of gold coins. As each coin weights the balance the latter sinks. If the coin be of standard weight, the balance sinks far enough for a tiny steel finger, moving to the left, to tilt the coin off down a tube into a receptacle below. If the coin be light in weight, the balance does not sink so far, and the coin is caught by a second finger, moving in the opposite direction, which tilts it into a receptacle

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 26, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Mrs. Adolph Miller will wash blankets, comfortables and bed spreads, and guarantees satisfaction. Corner of North Main street and Harrison avenue.

The Light has reached Monson and they all say it is good. The bicycle which is winning the admiration of everybody is one called "The Light." It reflects a good many points admired by those who understand something about bicycles. All that need be said about the wheel is that it can be appreciated only by inspection. Call and see it before buying elsewhere, and I will consider it a favor to show the same.

Yours truly,
A. N. GAOUETTE.

The school committee will meet this evening.

The annual spring road cleaning was begun this week.

Howard Buffington visited friends in Springfield last week.

The Current Events Club met Wednesday with Mrs. F. W. Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. William Young have a son, born last week Thursday.

John L. Bacon, Jr., of Brimfield is visiting his sister, Mrs. H. C. Norcross.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Guilford give a whist party to-morrow evening.

George W. Wells has been engaged as bookkeeper at the Flynt quarry.

Rev. Harry Blackford has been spending the week in Boston and vicinity.

C. A. Bradway has sold a Columbia wheel to A. L. Bell of North Wilbraham.

Mrs. David Letter of Webster, formerly of Monson, spent Wednesday in town.

John Pendergast has a new Hartford wheel, purchased of C. A. Bradway.

The Lino and Philo societies of the Academy held their meetings last evening.

Miss Mary Kennedy spent Friday and Saturday of last week with friends in Springfield.

A neighborhood prayer meeting was held Wednesday evening at the house of William Lewis.

A special meeting of Mt. Ella Lodge, A. O. U.W., was held at stone cutter's hall Monday evening.

Eighteen members of the Congregational Y. P. S. C. E. attended the convention held at Chicopee.

W. N. Flynt & Sons are having a special sale of percales, ginghams, white goods and outing flannels.

Eugene Willis of Springfield, a former resident of this town, spent Wednesday with acquaintances here.

The first official board meeting of the conference year was held Monday evening at the Methodist church.

A neighborhood prayer meeting was held Wednesday at the home of Wilbur M. Fay on Washington street.

Mrs. Carlos L. Peck and Mrs. Rufus Fay returned last Friday night from a visit with friends in Hartford, Ct.

Elliot Brown expects to take a two months' western trip, starting about June 1. He will go as far west as Salt Lake City.

H. N. Butler has put up a temporary building in which he has an oven, and will in the course of a few days begin baking again.

Mrs. Rufus Leach of Somerville and Mrs. Harry Perkins of Westfield are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Day.

Flynt Park is taking on its summer garb, and visitors have begun to come; 60 registered last Friday and over 100 registered Sunday.

Mrs. William Dewey and two daughters, Eudosia and Dorothy, are spending a few days with Mrs. Dewey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Flynt.

The Ladies' Circle of the Universalist church will hold a social and apron sale next week Wednesday evening. Ice cream and cake will also be on sale.

Dr. J. P. Rand of Worcester, formerly of Monson, has been appointed a member of the consulting board of physicians and surgeons to the Worcester insane hospital.

Rev. F. S. Hatch, Rev. James Tufts, and Deacons A. H. White and E. F. Morris attended the county conference of Congregational churches at Wilbraham Wednesday.

Dr. G. E. Fuller has been confined to the house for a few days and Dr. Arthur Robinson, who graduated last week from the Albany Medical College, has had charge of his practice.

The entertainment and dance in Memorial Hall by the St. Vincent de Paul Society of St. Patrick's church drew out a large crowd Tuesday evening. The proceeds go to the poor of the parish.

There has been considerable sickness among the children in the north part of the village during the past week in the way of throat and lung troubles, but the cases are nearly all on the mend.

Heimann & Lichten are to erect a two-story block between their old boarding house and the bank block. The lower floor will be occupied by Henry N. Butler, baker, and the upper floor will be fitted as a hall, which will be rented by Mt. Ella Lodge, A. O. U. W.

Mrs. A. M. Foley, mother of William Foley, landlord of the Monson House, died Tuesday morning after a long illness. The funeral was held at St. Patrick's church at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The burial took place at Westfield. Mrs. Foley was a most estimable woman.

Thomas Sullivan died early last Sunday morning at his home at the Quarry, after an illness of more than a year. The funeral was held at St. Patrick's church Tuesday morning and the burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery. Mr. Sullivan leaves a widow and three children.

The following pupils of No. 1 primary school have not been absent or tardy during the month ending last Friday: Leda Chouivard, Blanche Chouivard, Florence Crocker, Nellie Kennedy, Mary Purcell, Angeline Chouivard, Clinton Grout, Raymond McPherson, Everett Maguire, George Reynolds, James Reynolds.

The convention of the Epworth League, Group 6, was held at the Methodist church all day last Friday with a good attendance at all sessions. The convention was spoken of as having been the most successful one held for some time. Out of fourteen towns included in the group, eight were represented. Bondsville sent the largest delegation and bore off the banner.

An alarm of fire was given at about 11 o'clock last Saturday morning. The cause was a brush fire in the rear of E. P. Keep's house, which spread quite rapidly in the direction of Flynt's Park, and it was feared by some that the menagerie and buildings might be in danger. A large number of men promptly responded to the alarm and the fire was soon under control.

The following pupils of No. 8 primary school have been neither absent nor tardy during the past four weeks: Ernest Aldrich, Harold Andrews, Mary Barry, Nellie Cunningham, Ella Doyle, Willie Donahue, Eva Fahy, Lizzie Finnegan, George Handy, Robert Hayes, Richard Mooney, Mary McKenna, Bruno Krause, Howard Page, Jerry Scannell, Alice Tobey, Viola Williams and Joe Whalen.

There will be a millinery opening given by the King's Sons in the vestry of the M. E. church next Friday evening, with a social by the South Circle of King's Daughters and Sons. A ten-cent supper will be served, also ice cream and cake. Afterwards there will be an entertainment consisting of readings, vocal and instrumental music, closing with a prize contest in hat-trimming by the King's Sons. Two prizes will be awarded.

The A. N. Chaffee homestead, which was sold last week to the Central Massachusetts Electric Company, has been purchased by Bishop Beaven to complete the St. Patrick's parish property; not for present use, however, but for the purpose of controlling it and preventing the erection of buildings. The house will probably remain as it is for years, but the plan is, to remove it sometime and build in its place a parish house containing hall, and rooms for societies, etc.

The reception by Prof. T. H. Treadway's dancing class, to close the school for the season, was given last evening in Memorial Hall, with music by the Westboro orchestra. Although the weather was very warm the dancers entered heartily into the affair, and the party was a merry one. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Crew, Mrs. Julia Ketcham, Miss Mary Bliss, Miss Alice Bliss, F. W. Moulton, Harry Miller, Morton Miller, Dr. Andrew Coleman, Miss Crossman, Miss Maggie Gavin, Miss Delia Gavin, Richard Hughes, Mr. James, Miss Mary Murphy, Miss Nellie Murphy, Miss Mamie Murphy, Miss Nancy Murphy, Miss Annie King, Miss Alice Clark, Prof. T. H. and Mrs. Treadway of Westboro, John L. Bacon, Jr., of Brimfield, Miss Annie Brennan, Fiske Bacon, Allen Buffington, Milton Brown, Misses Emily and Annie Lewis, Miss Louise Kelley, Merrill Carew, Arthur Orcutt, Misses Lena, Musa and Rachel Babbitt, Joseph Chandler, Miss Bernice Oakes, Clarence King, Miss Anderson, Miss Webber, Miss Parke, John Sault, Mr. Niebuler, George Seymour, Will Burdick, George Hobbs, Lyman Miller, Miss Fannie Blanchard, Charles Howard and Fred Flynt.

Business was suspended quite generally in the town on Patriot's Day, and the weather being so fine many spent the day out of doors. A base ball game on Flynt Park between the Academy and Quarry nines was brought to an end in the beginning of the third inning by an accident to Thomas Purcell, catcher for the Quarry nine. His mask was struck by the ball and broken, cutting a deep gash in his face. The score stood 4 to 3 in favor of the Academy nine. The Monson Athletic Club met on the club grounds and practiced football, and staked out the bicycle track. Although the curves will be sharper than is desirable the track will be much better than none. The Sportsmen's Club held its first shoot on the club grounds. President E. L. Wales made the most points.

These pupils in the Green street primary school have been perfect in attendance during the past month: Nellie Beckwith, Isabelle Bogan, Mamie Bogan, Bertha Cantwell, Lizzie Connell, Mabel Fuller, Lucy Horton, Greta Merrick, Annie Moriarty, Alice Noble, Florence O'Brien, Blanche Ritter, Grace Thayer, Roscoe Adams, Willie Babbitt, John Cantwell, Mortimer Duggan, Willie Hanson, Herbert Howe, Peter Kearns, Eddie Lambert, Clifford Miller, Carl Rand, Raymond Shannon.

Academy Notes.

Gaouette has been engaged by the senior class as photographer.

Mr. Durand of the Y. M. C. A. training school in Springfield has been hired to train the Academy athletic team.

There will be an entertainment in the chapel this evening for the benefit of the Academy athletic team. A social will be held after the entertainment.

WEST-WARREN.

Mark LaSonde and family have gone to Canada.

Frank LaSonde spent Patriot's Day in Boylston.

Mrs. L. J. Rodman has moved her family to Springfield.

Miss Bell Cooley of Springfield is visiting her uncle, Amory Crossman.

Some of our young people spent Patriot's Day fishing for trout and searching for arbutus.

Walter Shaw and family of Monson spent Sunday with Mr. Shaw's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw.

Policeman Willard Dawson is soon to resign his duty in this village, to be succeeded by Milton Dixon.

John McPherson of Conwell, Canada, called on his old friends here Tuesday. Mr. McPherson lived in town many years.

Mrs. Ethan T. Hall and two children of West Brookfield spent Sunday with Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bemis.

BELCHERTOWN.

Enoch Burnett of Springfield is visiting his brother, William Burnett.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Foskit entertained a large party of friends Monday evening.

Harry D. Sanford, oldest son of George Sanford, is quite ill with rheumatic fever.

Mrs. Walter Burnett of Mouson made a a brief visit to her father, F. G. Shaw this week.

D. P. Clapp of Brooklyn, N. Y., returned to town Tuesday, and will remain during the season.

D. F. Morrill will commence a course of penmanship at the high school room Wednesday evening.

Addison Sanford of Boston is critically ill at the home of his father, Mason Sanford, with quick consumption.

At the Congregational parish meeting held Monday afternoon the following officers were elected: Treasurer, H. A. Hopkins; collector and clerk, F. L. Stebbins: prudential committee, A. D. Randall, A. C. Shaw and M. W. Bardwell; music committee, F. S. Williams, C. B. Southick and L. A. Smith. Rev. V. C. Harrington's salary for the year is to be $1000. It was voted to retain the envelope system, and $100 was appropriated for music. It was also voted to allow the high school to use the church for graduating exercises.

WARREN.

Mrs. Harris Hale is spending the week in Salem.

Mary S. Hitchcock has been spending a few days in Palmer.

Dr. J. W. Hastings and wife have returned from their visit in New York.

Miss Lamprey of Boston has been visiting at Barker Ramsdell's this week.

Limon Mundell fell from his team last Sunday, breaking his leg. He was carried to the town farm.

Miss Emma Ramsdell and Joseph Hastings attended the wedding of a friend in New Britian, Ct., Wednesday.

Mrs. Kenzman and daughter returned Saturday night from their trip to Florida, and will spend part of the summer in town.

Miss Mary A. Fairbanks was given a pleasant surprise at the resident of her son, William Fairbanks, Monday afternoon. The event was the anniversary of her birthday, and many floral offerings were left as a pleasant reminder. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant time was passed.

Charles Chapin of Springfield has been the guest of Mrs. Mary A. Fairbanks this week. The Woman's Suffrage League held its annual business meeting Monday evening with Mrs. J. S. Upham. After the meeting a reception was given in honor of Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, the speaker of the evening.

WALES.

O. P. Royce has been appointed to take the census.

G. S. Rogers is again confined to his home by illness.

Rev. B. P. Capshaw has been appointed pastor of the M. E. church.

The ladies of the M. E. church gave a supper in the vestry of the church Wednesday evening.

The Baptist Sunday school celebrated "Founding Day" under the auspices of the B. Y. P. M.

Elijah Shaw has returned from Raleigh, N. C., where he has been confined all winter with a broken leg. He is able to walk now on crutches.

The Methodist Sunday school gave a very interesting Easter concert last Sunday night. It consisted of reading, speaking and singing and was much enjoyed by all.

Charles C. Smith, 67, son of Dr. John Smith, died at his home Monday evening after an extended illness. His sickness began with grippe and terminated in consumption and heart failure. A greater part of his life had been spent in town. He was married twice, the second marriage taking place about a year ago. A wife and one daughter, Mrs. Fred. Wadsworth of Springfield, survive him. The funeral was held at his home Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. He was much respected by all who knew him, and will be much missed.

WILBRAHAM.

Mrs. Myron Brewer, who has been spending a month with friends in Lewiston, Ct., has returned home.

The Chautauqua Circle will meet with Mr. and Mrs Livingston this evening on Faculty street.

Miss May Merrick has been spending a few days with friends in Monson.

Mrs. Smith of New York is the guest of Miss Emily Wright this week.

Charles Merrick of Worcester spent a few days during the past week with his father, James Merrick.

E. Munsell has recently removed the fence in front of his house, thereby greatly improving his lawn.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society of the South church held a social at Mrs. C. C. Beebe's last evening.

Miss Fannie Merrick gave a very enjoyable whist party to quite a number of her friends last Friday evening.

Rev. T. S. Nichols of Warren and Mr. and Mrs. Bonsee of Boston were guests of the Methodist parsonage recently.

Mr. Waters and family of Springfield have taken possession of the place recently purchased of Charles Sorell on South Main street.

Mr. Bullard of Pomfret, Ct., has bought out the store of Royce and Grignor, and has moved his family into Prof. Gill's house on Main street.

Mrs. Bunt and children of Longmeadow and Mrs. Frank Learned of Agawam were guests of their mother, Mrs. Louisa Warner, over Sunday.

Dr. Lansing was at the Academy Thursday, and in the evening gave a brief talk to the students. Dr. Lansing is a Wilbraham graduate, class of '88.

Fales Newhall, a young son of Principal Newhall, had the misfortune to break his arm by a fall from a bicycle recently. Dr. Bell Pratt of Springfield was called to attend the fracture.

The Young Women's Athletic Association of the Academy elected the following officers: President, Miss Haigh; vice president, Miss Townsend; treasurer, Miss Hyde; secretary, Miss Holden.

A delegation of nineteen attended the Epworth League convention at Monson last Friday, and the C. E. society of the Congregational church was represented at the county convention in Chicopee the same day by delegates.

BRIMFIELD.

Miss Annie Cutler will return to town for the summer the first of May.

Misses Sarah and Festina Kenney of Warren have been visiting relatives in town.

J. L. Bacon, Jr., is home from the Philadelphia Medical College, having finished his first year.

Mrs. Austin Andrews, 75, died at her home last Friday. She had been a sufferer for several years. Her funeral was attended Sunday by Rev. Mr. Ricketts of Wales, to which town she was taken for burial.

An ice cream sociable was given by the ladies of the Second church at George M. Hitchcock's last Friday evening, the house being well filled. A pleasant feature of the evening was a reading by Miss Edith Snell of Fiskdale. Songs were given by F. Lincoln Pierce of Tufts College and Miss Hitchcock.

Native of Brimfield Dead.

George Norval Bacon died in Fiskdale last Friday morning of tuberculosis after a painful illness of six weeks. Mr. Bacon was the son of the late George Bacon of Brimfield, and was born in that town July 29, 1835. For the past 36 years he had lived in Fiskdale, where he was much respected by all and where he held many important offices. He was first employed as clerk for Emory L. Bates and later became a partner in the firm of Bacon & Bates. About six years ago he bought out Mr. Bates and since then has been sole proprietor. He was postmaster for many years and also town treasurer. He was much interested in educational matters and was one of the trustees of the Hitchcock Free High School. He was prominent in all town affairs, having been chosen to represent his district in the Legislature. He leaves a widow, daughter of the late Solomon Monroe of Fiskdale, also a brother and two sisters, Albert S. Bacon and Mary F., wife of S. W. Smith of Springfield, and Alice M. Bacon of Brimfield. The funeral was held Monday in the Baptist church in Fiskdale. Rev. Mr. Penniman spoke of his willingness to work for others even beyond his strength, his devoted Christian life and cheerful disposition, a man who would be deeply mourned and whose place in the hearts of the people could not be filled. The church was beautifully decorated with plants and cut flowers, and a quartette of Masons, of which the deceased was a member, rendered two selections. The stores of the town were closed during the service. The burial was in Brimfield.

LEGISLATIVE MATTERS.

BOSTON, April 24, 1895.

The Legislature this year has felt the consequences of the agitation last year against the American Bell Telephone Company, but it does not appear that any act will be the outcome of it. Mr. Bliss of West Springfield has done what he could for his bill to tax the Bell company on the stock which it holds in subcompanies in other states and which is taxed in these states, but the House was against the bill by a large majority. It was brought out during the debate that the Bell company paid $175,000 in taxes in Massachusetts last year, and that if Mr. Bliss's bill passed, which would raise the tax to over $500,000 a year, the company would go out of the state. It is known that the company discussed seriously the question of leaving the state last year, when it failed to get the desired bill for increase of capital stock, and very likely the Bell people do not feel that Massachusetts is friendly to them. The bill for the establishment of a telephone commission found no favor at all with the House, and was rejected without debate.

The agitation over the hours of labor of railroad employes has come to an end this year, for, in view of the remonstrances by employes against the bill to limit their hours to 10 in a consecutive 11, both sides have agreed to substitute for it a resolve for an investigation of the question by the labor bureau, report to be made to the next Legislature at not over $2000 expense.

There is no doubt that the new charter for Boston, which was reported in the Senate, extending the term of the mayor to three years and making other material modifications of the present system, will be passed by the Legislature. The political conditions are favorable, for the administration of Boston is Republican for the first time in years, while the state administration is strongly Republican in both branches of the Legislature and in the executive chamber. Hence it is very natural that the Republicans should make the most of their unusual opportunity and pass the bill. Of course, if this is done, it will stimulate the Democrats to harder work than ever to carry Boston at the coming city election, for if they should be shut out now, it would mean that they would be kept out of the executive chamber for at least four years. As Mayor Curtis was elected by Democratic votes in consequence of a quarrel among the Democrats, and as even he himself has admitted that he would probably be mayor for only one term, the practical effect of the bill which the Republicans are pressing is to strengthen the Democratic hold upon the city. Of course, if a law like that which is proposed had been in operation last year and the Democratic quarrel had not happened to coincide with the end of the term of the mayor, the split in the Democracy would have been without any benefit to the Republicans. From a political point of view it is not clear that the Republicans are gaining.

The election of ex-Senator Shaw of Newburyport to be state treasurer in place of Col. Henry M. Phillips of Springfield was decided at the Republican caucus in the old House of Representatives Tuesday noon, at which President Butler presided and Representative Kellogg of Fitchburg acted as secretary. The expectation, aside from the Shaw men, had been that Representative Hibbard of Boston would be the nominee. He led on the first vote, while Shaw was at the foot of the list, having 64 to 65 for Senator Bradford of Springfield. Five formal votes, after one informal, were necessary for a choice, and then Mr. Shaw had just 104 necessary to secure the nomination. His nomination was due to the course of the Bradford men in going to him rather than to Hibbard, where it had been expected they would go. The large vote which Bradford had at first makes it quite probable that he would have been nominated had he entered the lists as soon as Mr. Hibbard, who was very early to take the field. Mr. Shaw has been in the House for four years and in the Senate two years, all comparatively recently, so that he is quite familiar with state legislation and knows much about the public finances. He is largely interested in street railways, and owns stock in several companies in this and other states.

It was useless, of course, for the Democrats to put up any one for more than mere compliment. They held their caucus Wednesday noon, at which Mr. James H. Mellen of Worcester presided. Mr. W. F. Donovan of Boston nominated Hon. James H. Grinnell of Greenfield, who has been on the state ticket so many times in one capacity or another that it does not look familiar with his name off. Senator Gilbride of Suffolk seconded the nomination, and it was carried by acclamation without any speech-making.

The great taxation contest of the year is over, and the two sides are in exactly the same position as they were when the session began. The Senate has defeated by the large vote of 20 to 12 the bill to compel returns of personal property to be made for the sake of taxation. It was felt that it was altogether too stiff a measure, which the people would not endure and which would not add materially to the revenues of the state, while it would be pretty sure to drive out a great deal of property and some people, as has been the case already in some instances. This bill was in the interest of the real estate owners, as was supposed, and was supported by Mr. Bliss of West Springfield, who is the leader in the House on this side of the taxation question. It is also supported by the state Grange and by the Equal Taxation League. But they could not carry the Senate and have apparently not made as strong an impression upon the Legislature as they did last year.

But the other side in the contest has had even worse luck. The Anti-Double Taxation League organized last fall for the sake of carrying through the Legislature bills to exempt from double taxation stocks in trade for which money is owed, municipal bonds, stocks of foreign corporations, and incomes derived from property already paying taxes. The one petition of the league covered these four points, and the committee reported leave to withdraw on the petition, which of course carried the four measures with it. The chairman of the committee, Mr. Utley of Brookline, one of the dissenters, moved to substitute, in part, for the adverse report the bill to exempt stocks of goods in trade for which money is owed. He wanted to have all the four bills substituted in turn, without debate, and then have each measure debated on its merits when it came up separately. But the opposition would by no means consent to this. They insisted that the discussion should come on the question of substitution. As often happens, after the House has had all the talk it wants, the previous question was moved and carried, which brings the vote at once upon the main question. This was ruled to cover all four of the matters, as well as the one bill which was offered as a substitute. So that three of the measures were not debated at all and the other was but discussed at all on the favorable side. But the House was against it by 59 to 131, and on Wednesday refused reconsideration. So the matter is ended for this year.

The gypsy moth appropriation is going through the Legislature up to its full size of $150,000, in spite of strong opposition by some of the senators. Messrs. Bill of Worcester and Malone of Franklin were decidedly against the bill, the latter holding that it would be impossible to exterminate the moth. But the same ground was taken in the House and overridden there, just as it was in the Senate, by the positive assertions of men who are supposed to know about such matters, that the moth could be absolutely exterminated. At any rate, the Senate and House have both adopted that belief and the money is pretty sure to come out of the state treasury. This is an immense sum to pay for work which does not produce anything, but is only a protective measure. But, according to the best special information which the state can get, unless the money is appropriated liberally, there will be much larger bills to pay for the damage caused by the moth. It seems a heavy burden to put on the taxpayers, but it is expected to save a heavier one.

The House has voted by 86 to 43 for the board of police bill for the city of Woburn, by which a commission of three is established to oversee a police force of six men. It would seem as if the people of Woburn must be very negligent of their political duties when matters have come to this pass. It is quite a different case from Boston, but the principle of state intervention has been applied in the same way.

LANDON.

CARD.—We desire to extend our sincere thanks to the many kind friends and neighbors, to Marcus Keep Post, G. A. R., to the Woman's Relief Corps in Palmer, to her Sunday school class and to all organizations of which our daughter and sister, Mrs. S. E. Thrall, was a member, for their kindness in our affliction.

MR. AND MRS. J. D. BRADWAY.
MRS. M. J. BRADWAY.

Monson, Mass.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

Physicians universally recommend Ayer's Hygienic Coffee. Grocers sell it.

Charles E. Lynch, the enterprising young clothier of Springfield, is giving a good nickle watch and chain to cash purchasers of boys' $5 suits. It has created quite a stir among the young lads of Springfield.

We're past the first notes of the blue bird, and gathered that fragrant harbinger of spring, the arbutus, and for these many days you could have seen if you'd happened into Broadhurst Brothers Shoe Store, Springfield, the busiest of busy shoe buying, city, town, country, all combined to swell their exchequer.

Worse Than Rum.

Indigestion spoils more lives than rum. But you think you have "malaria" or "grip," or something worse. The trouble is all in the digestive tract. Ripans Tabules bring a sort of Millennium with them. One gives relief, and their habitual use keeps the whole system in tone. Get them of your druggist.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 52-25

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength. —Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO.,

106 Wall St., N. Y.

BE SURE YOU SEE THE
MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS
BEFORE PURCHASING ANY OTHER.
Illustrated Catalog Sent on Application.
J. M. Bruce, Agent for Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties.
394 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

TO COLT OWNERS.

I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.

1f-3 Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

NEW CASH STORE.
..H. W. SMITH, GROCER..
59 Main Street, Palmer.

Monson Savings Bank,
MONSON, MASS.
The Annual Meeting of this Corporation will be holden at its Banking Rooms,
WEDNESDAY, MAY 1st, 1895,
AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M.
1-4 FRANK E. MORRIS, Treas.

FORBES & WALLACE'S,
SPRINGFIELD.

THE "LENOX" BICYCLE

Which of the so-called high grade $100 bicycles is the best? All claim the superiority. Our LENOX Model A at $69 is a thorough high grade bicycle, perhaps as good as any bicycle made. At any rate the manufacturers think enough of it to sell it under their own name for $100.

Be your own judge and jury. Take your bicycle—wise friend to our basement and examine our wheels thoroughly.

We warrant them all for one year.

UPHOLSTERING.

Busier than ever before at this time of year, and yet we can do more. Let our man sketch and submit designs for your approval—not a penny to pay for his services.

The cleansing and refinishing of lace curtains is an art in itself and should be attended to carefully by men who know about lace—lace finishers. We've such men at command and their work costs but little more than sending to laundry, and there's a saving in the end.

Second floor of Vernon street building.

MATTINGS.

People are talking about the qualities and patterns we are showing and the prices we are selling them at. They're worthy of all the interest they're creating; and your seeing them is worth more than a page full of words.

Second floor of Pynchon street building.

WOMEN'S BICYCLE LEGGINS.

A new lot just come, made to fit snugly and button above the knee, and every unnecessary cent clipped off the prices. Sizes 1 to 6.

Black canvas leggins, lined, eight buttons and strap, 45 cents.
Black and blue corduroy, eight buttons and strap, $1.
Black cravenette, easily cleaned when soiled, eight buttons and strap, lined, $1.25.

Main floor of Pynchon street building.

FORBES & WALLACE.
Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

PALMER
CASH TEA STORE.

THE PLACE TO BUY YOUR

Tea, Coffee, Spices and Crockery

Is at the Old Stand in the Cross Block. Bring in all your checks. Will deal square with all.

R. J. HENRY, CROSS BLOCK,
PALMER, MASS.

ALLEN'S BEEF, WINE and IRON

Is one of the best spring tonics you can buy. Try it. Pint bottles for only 50 cents.

ALLEN'S CLIMAX COUGH CURE is just the article to have handy when you have a sudden cough these damp days of spring.

ALLEN'S FLORIDENA BALM is the best article ever invented for chapped hands, rough skin and pimples on the face and for burns. It is good for eczema, and will relieve the burning and irritating feeling at once which attends that affliction.

But with all your buying, don't forget to take home for household use THE ANTALGICA. It is good for so many things that you cannot afford to be without it.

Allen's New Drug Store,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

40 PENNSYLVANIA HORSES 40
AT AUCTION,
THURSDAY, MAY 2d, 1895, at 10 A. M.
At Patch's Stable, Harrison Ave.,
SPRINGFIELD, - MASS.

Will sell 40 well broken Pennsylvania Horses, weighing 9 to 15 hundred, suitable for farm, livery and general purposes.

These horses are all broken, single and double, and ready for business at time of sale. This will be a rare chance to purchase a first-class young horse at your own price.

They will positively be sold regardless of cost or value with usual warrant "if not sound return and get your money."

All warrants expire the following Saturday at 3 p. m. They arrive at the stable 3 days before sale. Call, ride after, and inspect them.

L. T. MAYNARD, Auctioneer.
FULLER & McINTIRE, Proprietors.

Springfield Industrial Institute.
Institution of Science and Industry.

TRADE SCHOOL DEP'T. Courses 4 months to 1 year in length. Day instruction in Pattern Making, Cabinet Making, Sign and Carriage Painting, Plumbing, Brick Laying, Plastering, Stone Cutting and Machine Shop practice.
INDUSTRIAL HIGH SCHOOL DEP'T. (3 years' course.) Choice in trades in connection with thorough instruction in Mathematics, Science, Drawing, Essential English Branches and Shop Work.
ENGINEERING DEP'T. A two years' course in Higher Mathematics, Science Engineering Subjects, Drawing and Shop Work.
NORMAL MANUAL TRAINING DEP'T.
NORMAL KINDERGARTEN DEP'T.

For particulars address L. P. STRONG, Director,
26-4 SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

.... J. M. BRUCE, ...
AGENT FOR THE
TROWBRIDGE UPRIGHT PIANOS.
Trowbridge Pianos for Tone.
Trowbridge Pianos for Action.
Trowbridge Pianos for Fine Cases.
PIANOS TUNED, REGULATED and REPAIRED.
Office, Room 25, Main St. P. O. Box 166.
SPRINGFIELD, - MASS.

QUALITY CONSIDERED

Our prices are the lowest.

Why?

We sell for CASH only.

No bad debts to worry about. Try us ONCE and you become our regular customer.

CHAS. N. BLAKE & CO.,
BOOTS, SHOES and RUBBERS.
HOLDEN'S BLOCK.
A. B. COWAN, Manager.

GO TO THE
Palmer Bicycle Works
TO GET YOUR
WHEELS REPAIRED AND YOUR SPECIAL HANDLE BARS MADE.

LAWN MOWERS REPAIRED.
REMEMBER, FINE MACHINE WORK A SPECIALTY.

SPALDING and AMES WHEELS FOR SALE.

MURPHY BROS.,
CARYL'S BLOCK, - PALMER, MASS.

Did you know the law is off on Trout Monday, April 1st, and that you can buy

RODS,
LINES,
FLIES,
HOOKS,
REELS,
FLY BOOKS, ETC.,

At right prices and get a good assortment at the

DRUG STORE OF
LeGRO & LYNDE,
Next to Post Office,
Palmer, - - Mass.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

INGRAIN CARPETS.

The crowds are after them. Hartford Ingrains in new patterns are not often obtainable at 45 cents and 50 cents a yard. Make the most of this opportunity. Remember last season's patterns are going fast at 37½ cents.

First floor.

VELVETS and AXMINISTERS.

For service, richness of designs, and luxurious floor covering, at a moderate price, our Velvets at 85 cents and $1 and Axministers at $1 are not to be surpassed. It will pay you to inspect them.

First floor.

STRAW MATTINGS.

Their popularity as a Summer carpet is unquestioned. Our stock embraces all wanted qualities in Chinese and Japanese Mattings and the variety of unique designs is unlimited. Special bargains at 10c, 12½c and 15c a yard.

Basement.

LACE CURTAINS.

Let us laundry them for you. We guarantee satisfaction. All hand work.

It will pay you to consider our values in Irish Point Curtains from $3 a pair upward. Saxony Curtains in white and ecru; excellent designs, exact imitations of fine Brussels. Big bargains from $3 to $6. Hardly necessary to mention Muslin and Fish nets. We're doing a big business in both.

Drapery Department.

FURNITURE COVERINGS.

Now is the time for having old furniture repaired and re-upholstered. A full line of the most desirable Furniture Coverings is here. 50 inch goods at 50c, 75c and $1 a yard. Corduroys and Belgian Plushes, both figured and plain.

Drapery Department.

Meekins, Packard & Co.
Springfield, Mass.

J. B. SHAW,
DRY GOODS,
PALMER, - MASS.

We are all through house cleaning, and with a store bright with paint and varnish, and filled with goods suited to the season, we respectfully ask for inspection and comparison of goods and prices.

It is almost marvelous what pretty Dress Goods a little money will purchase. In Wash Goods the the assortment is much the largest ever shown by us.

In Groceries we have a full line of Staple and Fancy Articles, with specialties each week.

J. B. SHAW,
GROCERIES,
PALMER, - MASS.

SPRING STYLES IN GENTLEMEN'S HEADWEAR.

ALL THE LATEST CORRECT SHAPES NOW IN.

Dunlap,
Youman,
Harrington,
Lamson & Hubbard,
Any make you like.

EASTER NECKWEAR

Was never finer than this year. All the newest conceptions ready for inspection. . . .

C. K. GAMWELL, = = PALMER.

The Glow Night Lamp

Is a miniature gas-house, gasometer and gas burner combined, automatically making and consuming its own gas, producing a perfect light, with absolutely no smoke or smell. For the sick room or nursery it has no equal. Most perfect and inexpensive. Endorsed by the leading physicians.

CAN BE FOUND AT ROBINSON & TAYLOR'S.

ROBINSON & TAYLOR,
CASH STORE.

3 pounds large California Prunes - 25c
A 2 pound package of Rolled Oats - 10c
Remember our TEAS and COFFEES always excel.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS IN THIS VICINITY FOR
TRUSSES.

WE CARRY A LARGE ASSORTMENT IN ALL THE SIZES OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF

Steel Spring Trusses,
Hard Rubber Trusses,
New York Elastic Trusses.

WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.

AT LeGRO & LYNDE'S.
Next Door to Post Office,
Palmer, - - Mass.

FRESH
Milk and Cream.

MAPLE LAWN MILK FARM.
O. D. WELLS, Proprietor.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,
OPTICIAN.
331 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.
Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial Eyes Furnished.
Oculists' Prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 26-51

HOW ABOUT YOUR COFFEE?

Eminent authorities in this country and in Europe agree that coffee, when pure, is one of the most healthful of beverages, but it must be pure. When mixed with chicory it is most injurious to the system, causing many disorders of the stomach, etc. We have been most successful in our efforts to encourage the use of pure coffee. Our sales of 38c pure dry roast and 40c Java and Mocha have reached an enormous amount. We have no hesitation in recommending them as the best values in coffee offered in Palmer.

In Canned Goods We Offer

Canned Dandelion, (W. K. Lewis pack) - - - 20c
Canned Clam Chowder, (W. K. Lewis pack) - - - 20c
Canned Corn, (equal to any 10c can) 4 cans - - - 25c
Canned Tomatoes, - - - 8c
Golden Dairy Syrup, with Jug, 43c gal.
Olives in bulk, - - 35c a quart

J. F. FOLEY, PALMER.

CALL AND GET A FRAGRANT SOUVENIR FREE AT THE . . . JEWELRY STORE OF . . .
G. A. MOORE,
Holden's Block, - Palmer, Mass.

RUSSET SHOES HAVE COME TO STAY.

Every pair brings comfort to the wearer, as they do not draw the sun to sweat the feet like black shoes. They are

VERY SOFT AND EASY TO THE FEET.

Easy to clean and care for, and can be bought at any price you wish to pay for Shoes. We have them in Men's Shoes for

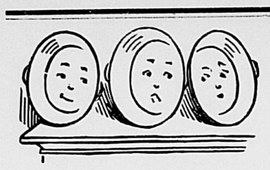
$2, $2.50, $3, $3.50 and $4.

Just glance at our windows as you pass and see the

New Things in Shoes for 1895.

If you do not see just what you wish just step inside. We are always glad to help you keep posted on shoes.

GEO. L. FULLER,
Distributer of Fine Fitting Shoes.
MONSON, - - MASS.



Milk Pans,

and pails, and cans, and bottles (even baby's)—or anything that you want particularly clean, ought to be washed with Pearline. You'll save work in doing it, and it's a great deal more thoroughly done. Dairies and dealers use Pearline extensively. Just try it once, on your milk-ware or butter-ware—and then say if it isn't the most satisfactory way of cleaning. Pearline is the most economical thing you can use, too. You get so much more out of it. 395 JAMES PYLE, N.Y.

The Railroad Man,
The Clergyman,
The Business Man,

and all other men who have to look neat while at work, should know about "CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS. They look exactly like linen, wear well and being waterproof do not wilt down with heat and moisture. They do not soil easily and can be cleaned in a moment by simply wiping off with a wet sponge or cloth. Do not confuse these in your mind with composition goods. Every piece of the genuine is stamped like this:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

Ask for these and refuse anything else if you wish satisfaction. Remember that goods so marked are the only waterproof goods made by coating a linen collar with waterproof "Celluloid," thus giving strength and durability. If your dealer should not have the "Celluloid" send amount direct to us and we will mail you sample post-paid. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs, 50c. pair. State size and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

THE CELLULOID COMPANY,
427-29 Broadway, New York.

First Clubby—"Why does a man so love to look into the future, I wonder?"

Second Ditto—"It is the only way a fellow can look nowadays without seeing a creditor."—New York World.

Those who never read the advertisements in their newspapers miss more than they presume. Jonathan Kenison, of Bolan, Worth Co., Iowa, who had been troubled with rheumatism in his back, arms and shoulders read an item in his paper about how a prominent German citizen of Ft. Madison had been cured. He procured the same medicine, and to use his own words: "It cured me right up." He also says: "A neighbor and his wife were both in bed with rheumatism. Their boy was over to my house and said they were so bad he had to do the cooking. I told him of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and how it had cured me, he got a bottle and it cured them up in a week. 50 cent bottles.

Our better halves say they could not keep house without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is used in more than half the homes in Leeds. SIMS BROS., Leeds, Iowa. This shows the esteem in which that remedy is held where it has been sold for years and is well known. Mothers have learned that there is nothing so good for colds, croup and whooping cough, that it cures these ailments quickly and permanently, and that it is pleasant and safe for children to take. 25 and 50 cent bottles.

It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In many instances the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. 25 and 50 cent bottles.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

GOOD BLOOD

Is essential to Good Health.

Good Blood Means Strong Nerves,

Good Digestion, Robust Health.

The best way to have good Blood is to take Blood Wine, because it will quickly expel all impurities from the blood, and make it rich, pure and healthy.

BLOOD WINE

is the one medicine that will create a good appetite, and at the same time enable the digestive organs to do their work properly. In this way it wards off threatened attacks of disease, and keeps the whole system in a healthy condition. Be sure you get BLOOD WINE.

...The
...Best

Blood Purifier.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES

Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.

Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.

Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L.N. Railroads—west of Depot.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.

Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

YOUNG MEN'S LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.
Palmer, Mass.

Classified Finding-List.

A finding-list of fiction in the library has been printed by the Library Association. This list of other books is published for the convenience of readers who cannot consult the complete card catalogue at the library. Cut out each list as published and paste in a scrap book, leaving space after each class for future additions, and when finished you will, with the fiction finding list, have a complete list of the books in the library.

590GG Tales of animals. Goodrich
590H Marvels of animal life. Holder
590In Country cousins. Ingersoll
590In4 Friends worth knowing. Ingersoll
590In4h Habits of animals. Ingersoll
R590K Riverside natural history. Kingsley, ed. 6v.
590M Little folks in feathers and fur. Miller
590T By-ways and bird notes. Thompson
590W Homes without hands. Wood
590W1 Illustrated natural history. Wood
591M Animal mechanism. Marey
591M5 Intelligence. Menaut
591P Animal locomotion. Pettigrew
591V Animal parasites and messmates. Van Beneden
595D Transformations of insects. Duncan
595H2 Treatise on insects injurious to vegetation. Harris
595H9 Crayfish. Huxley
595J Life of North American insects. Jager
595M Natural history of the agricultural ant of Texas. McCook
595M1 Tenants of an old farm. McCook
595W Insects at home. Wood
596G Parley's book of quadrupeds. Goodrich
598H Field, wood and meadow rambles. Harris
598K Beautiful birds in far off lands. Kirby & Kirby
598T Sylvan secrets. Thompson
598T7 Home studies in nature. Treat
599H Ivory king. Holder
599Q Human species. Quatrefages
599.8H Anthropoid apes. Hartman

600 Useful Arts.

R603qK7 American mechanical dictionary. Knight 3v.
R603qK74 New mechanical dictionary. Knight
605A American machinist. v. 12
605fS Scientific American.v. 46-51, 59-62, 69-70
605fSc Scientific American, Supplement. v. 13, 14
606G Official catalogue of German exhibit at Chicago exposition
606In Centennial exposition described. Ingram
606E Eighty years' progress of the U. S.

610 Medicine.

611C Anatomy and physiology. Cutter
612B Our bodies and how we live. Blaisdell
613A1 Tea and coffee. Alcott
613Alt Teacher of health. Alcott
613F First help in accidents
613F55 Six lectures on the lungs. Fitch
613G7 How to make the best of life. Granville 613G7s Sleep and Sleeplessness. Granville
613H2 Eve's daughters. Harland
613H6 Dyspepsia forestalled and resisted. Hitchcock
613L Our digestion. Lewis
613Sm Foods. Smith
613T Experimental researches on food. Thomson
613.7B How to get strong and how to stay so. Blaikie
613.7Bs Sound bodies for our boys and girls. Blaikie
613. 7P Strength. Proctor
614M3 Report of Mass. commission to consider drainage
614M33e Examinations of water supplies. Mass. board of health. 2v.
614M33h Annual report Mass. board of health. v. 21
614T Essays on the floating matter of the air. Tyndall
615B Baunscheidtism. Baunscheidt

620 Engineering.

621L9 Amongst machines. Lukin
621L9b Boy engineers. Lukin
621L9y Young mechanic. Lukin
621R Complete practical machinist. Rose
621.1B Steam; its generation and use. Babcock & Wilcox Co.
621.1T History of the steam engine. Thurston
622G Coal and the coal mines. Greene
622Un Report of Director U. S. Mint on production of precious metals in U. S.
625M Report of Mass. highway commission
628P Women plumbers and doctors. Plunkett

630 Agriculture.

630A1 American farm book. Allen
630B3 Plain talk about fruits, flowers and farming. Beecher
630B8 Farmer's companion. Buel
630C Country life. Copeland
630Em Ameridan farmer's encyclopedia. Emerson
630F Complete farmer and rural economist. Fessenden
630M31 Annual report of secretary of Mass. board of agriculture. v. 7, 10-16, 18-19, 21-22, 25, 27, 31-41
630M31 Index to Mass. agricultural reports. 1837-1892
630M6 My farm of Edgewood. Mitchell
630N Elements of scientific agriculture. Norton
630St Farmer's guide to agriculture. Stephens and Norton. 2v.
630Ou Our farm of four acres
630T3 Principles of practical agriculture. Thaer
630T5 Young farmer's manual. Todd
630Un3 Report U. S. commissioner of agriculture. 1862, '64, '66, '71, '75-'88.
630Un31 Report of U. S. secretary of agriculture. 1890
630Un36 Report U. S. patent commissioner. 1852, '54-'55, '57-'58, '61.
630W14 Soil culture. Walden
630W23 Elements of agriculture. Waring
631B Rural economy. Boussingault
631B8 Field book of manures. Browne
631D Muck manual for farmers. Dana
631F Farm drainage. French
631J Applications of chemistry and geology to agriculture. Johnston
631L6 Complete works on chemistry. Liebig
631L61 Letters on agriculture. Liebig
631M Practical land drainer. Munn
631St Chemical field lectures. Stockhardt
633F Grasses and forage plants. Flynt
633K Wheat plant. Klippart
633O1 Sorgho and imphee. Olcott
634A1 Culture of the grape vine. Allen
634B Fruit garden. Barry
634C4 American grape grower's guide. Chorlton
634C6 American fruit-book. Cole
634D Fruits and fruit trees of America. Downing 634Ea Cultivation of the cranberry. Eastwood
634El Western fruit book. Elliott
634F4 Pear culture. Field
634F9 Practical forestry. Fuller
634P Cultivation of the strawberry. Pardee
634R Vine dresser's manual. Reemelin
634T American fruit culturist. Thomas
636G Treatise on milch cows. Guenon
R636M Illustrated stock doctor. Manning
636Q Soiling of cattle. Quincy
636Un3 Contagious diseases of domesticated animals. U. S. Dept of agriculture
636Un31 Investigation of diseases of swine. U. S. Dept. of agriculture
636Un33 Annual report U. S. bureau of animal industry. v. 1-2
636.3Y Sheep. Youatt
636.4Y Hog. Youatt and Martin
636.5B History of the hen fever. Burnham
636.5D Ornamental and domestic poultry. Dixon
636.7B Breeding of dogs. Butler
636.7M Dogs and their doings. Morris
637F Milch cows and dairy farming Flint
637M How to choose a good milch cow. Magne
638A1 Blessed bees. Allen
638Q Mysteries of bee keeping explained. Quinby
639G18 Artificial propagation of fish. Garlick
639G35 Camp life and the tricks of trapping. Gibson
639J Gamekeeper at home. R. J.
639Un3 Bulletin of U. S. fisheries commission. v. 1-2
639Un3r Rebort of U. S. fisheries commission. Pt. 7-8

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment; Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
☞ Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Mrs. B. F. Nash
West Duxbury, Mass.

Honest Gratitude

FOR

What Hood's Sarsaparilla Did.

"It is with pleasure and grateful heart that I write these few lines. I am very sorry that I cannot tell all I feel in regard to Hood's Sarsaparilla, Hood's Ointment and Hood's Pills. They have done so

Much Good in My Family

I cannot do without any of them. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla after the grip when I was so weak and good for nothing that it tired me to see any one move. It made me well and strong as ever. My little daughter 18 months old had a bad swelling

On Each Side of Her Throat.

I began giving her Hood's Sarsaparilla and rubbing the swelling with Hood's Olive Ointment. In a short time one swelling broke and discharged and both healed and disappeared. I am no story writer so I hope you will take this as honest gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. B. F. NASH, Duxbury, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c.

Facetious friend—"Well, have you and your wife settled as to who is to be the speaker of the house?" Young Husband—"Not yet. We usually occupy the chair together."—Pearson's Weekly.

Chronic Nervousness

Could Not Sleep, Nervous Headaches.

Gentlemen:—I have been taking your Restorative Nervine for the past three months and I cannot say enough in its praise. It has

Saved My Life,

for I had almost given up hope of ever being well again. I was a chronic sufferer from nervousness and could not sleep. I was also troubled with nervous headache, and had tried doctors in vain, until I used your Nervine. MRS. M. WOOD, Ringwood, Ill.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cures.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles' Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

VALUED ENDORSEMENT.

SCHAGHTICOKE, N. Y.—It is ignorance rather than anything else that makes life miserable, but ignorance of the value of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy does not exist in Schaghticoke to-day; as a blood medicine and nerve tonic it stands supreme. One of the principal reasons for its popularity comes from the great benefit our fellow townsman, Andrew Sipperley, derived from it use. Mr. Sipperley has suffered for years past with a chronic kidney trouble, frequent bilious attacks, and at intervals with violent neuralgia in the head and face. Up to last fall he rarely knew a well day. At that time his wife, who had learned of the good Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy had accomplished, determined to have him use it. In writing about his sickness Mr. Sipperley said:

"For several years I was subject to attacks of kidney trouble and gravel, which was attended with most excruciating pain, but since I began the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy I have had no serious trouble, and my general health is greatly improved. I know of a great many people about here who have used Favorite Remedy, and in every instance benefit has followed." One of the officers of the Albany N. Y. Hospital recently said, in speaking of Favorite Remedy: "I know of its great medical value, and to my knowledge it cures the disease for which it is prepared."

The great value of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy lies in the fact that it dissolves the excess of uric acid in the blood. Such ailments as rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness, and the sickness peculiar to women all come from this one cause. Favorite Remedy dissolves this acid, thus curing the disease. In case of scrofula, diabetes and Bright's disease, it has cured where other treatments have failed.

AYER'S Hygienic Coffee.

A Health Drink, Nerve and Brain Food.

A vegetable and cereal compound; contains all the elements one's system requires.
Prepared by M. S. AYER, of Boston.
A vegetarian of many years.

PRICE, 20 CENTS PER POUND.

Directions: Prepare the same as Coffee, using not more than two-thirds as much for the same amount of water, or one tablespoonful to a pint.

For sale by principal wholesale and retail grocers. Send 2c stamp for book on "Diet Reform."
M. S. AYER, 211 STATE ST., BOSTON.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.
Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, C.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

BICYCLES FOR 1895.

STEARNS "Yellow Fellow." Ladies' and Gents' $100.

WARWICK "Crimson Rims." $80, $85, $100.

CRESCENTS $90, $75, $50, $40.

WINNEWOOD & TEMPLES $60.

We have full size in Ladies' and Gents' Wheels for $50, fully warranted.

BICYCLE REPAIRING.

We have secured the services of Alfred H. Stokes to take charge of this department. Mr. Stokes comes to us from the KEATING WHEEL CO. where he has had entire charge of their Repair Department.

He can save you money in repairs and suit you. Any kind of wheel repaired.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

SEEDS.

Garden Seeds, Grass Seeds, Flower Seeds, Seed Potatoes. We take great pains to suit you on this line. We think poor seeds are worthless at any price. See us before you buy.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Belcher & Taylor's Plows and Cultivators. Rough and Ready Wrought Iron Beam Plows. Planet, Jr. Horse Hoes and Cultivators. John Doud Wheel Harrows. Steel Road Scrapers. Spring Tooth Harrows. Lawn Mowers.

We shall carry a good line and solicit your trade.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

FISHING TACKLE.

TROUT FISHING SEASON is here, and we are prepared for it. Rods, Lines, Reels, Baskets, etc. Nice assortment. Fair prices.

E. A. Buck & Co., Palmer.

W. N. FLYNT & SONS'

SPRING STYLES IN

MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING

HAVE ARRIVED. GIVE THEM A CALL AND RECEIVE BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY THAN EVER BEFORE. BE SURE YOU GET A TRILBY HAT.

LATEST IN HATS AND CAPS FOR MEN AND BOYS AT

W. N. FLYNT & SONS,
MONSON, MASS.

DENTAL

Operations are usually painful; but at my office we excavate and Fill all Cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN.
Also, we do Crown and Bridge Work and make Artificial Teeth that are Satisfactory.
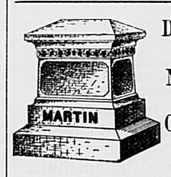
First Class Work at Reasonable Prices is our motto. Lady Attendant. Take Elevator.
DR. WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.
Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield, Mass.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,
VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.
Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.
Residence, Nassowanno House.
Office and stable, Central street.
PALMER, MASS.



DO YOU WANT A MONUMENT?
CORRECT DESIGNS.
Guaranteed Workmanship. Prices Lowest.
WILLIAM F. COOK,
182, 184 STATE STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

CHIN SING, CHINESE LAUNDRY,

Main St., - Palmer.

LIST OF PRICES:

Shirts,	10c
Cuffs,	4c per pair
Collars,	2c
Shirts Ironed,	8c

And other things in the same proportion. See my full price list.

S. H. HELLYAR'S Fire Insurance Agency,

CARYL'S BLOCK,
PALMER, - - MASS.

I represent some of the largest companies, both stock and mutual, doing business in this state, and should be pleased to reckon you as one of my customers.
Will guarantee you security, promptness, economy, and a correctly written policy.
Thanking you for past favors, I am
Yours respectfully,
S. H. HELLYAR.

F. M. EAGER.
Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.
REPAIRING NEATLY DONEAT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.
Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.
F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

FISH BAIT FOR SALE,
CHARLES S. RUGGLES,
Three Rivers, - Mass.

A Monopolist's Want.

My wants are few, I sit serene
Upon contentment's highlands;
If I can have earth's continents,
I care not for its islands.
I would not climb upon a throne
Through seas of bloody slaughter,
If I can call all lands my own,
Why, you can have the water.

Give me but these, they are enough
To suit my humble notion,
And you can have for all your own
The land beneath the ocean.
And 'tis a generous slice of earth,
And doubtless quite prolific,
If you can only drain it once—
The bed of the Pacific.

And all I ask is just this earth,
To regulate and man it,
And I surrender all my claims
To every other planet.
And so you see I cut my cloth
On a contracted pattern;
Give me the earth, 'tis all I claim
To Uranus and Saturn.

Little I need, my wants are few,
Nor would I have them greater,
I only want the lands between
The poles and the equator.
Give me the earth, 'tis all I ask,
For me and my wife, Sarah,
Then I'll give all my fellow men
A house lot in Sahara,

The earth is very, very small,
And not in good repair;
Compared with Sirius, it is
A very small affair.
And I just want it while I live,
And death, I'll not resist him,
For after death I hope to get
The whole great solar system.

—Sam. Walter Foss.

Declined With Thanks.

Mr. Chrome—"I'm so glad you like the painting, Miss Ethel!"

She—"Oh, its perfectly lovely! But you must let me return the frame, as mamma does not allow me to accept valuable presents from gentlemen."—Life.

THE ARMY OF TRAMPS.

In a recent lecture on "The pathological aspect of the tramp prospect," in New Haven Prof. J. J. McCook stated that he had made as exhaustive a study of the problem as seemed possible, as it is a pioneer subject, and information on it difficult to obtain. He declared that he had written to the mayors of over 40 cities in this country asking for information on tramp statistics, and had received replies from 14, giving statistics upon about 300 tramps. Prof. McCook has also obtained statistics from the Whitechapel district, London, and from Germany, and bases his statements about tramps on all the answers from these countries.

Prof. McCook said: "A recent writer asserts that there are about 60,000 tramps in the United States. This number is a trifle large, although it is safe to state that there are over 40,000. This is larger than the army of Wellington at Waterloo.

"We look on tramps as human wrecks and driftwood, and yet the majority of them are in the prime of life and in better than the average health. Only 8½ per cent of the tramps from whom my statistics were gleaned claimed, in the dead of winter, while the grippe was raging, that they were in bad health. They are robust, and will fill you with envy, malice, and other jealous feelings when you hear them snoring at midnight.

"From this we may easily say that neither age nor health is a bar to their working. Most of them have been out of work for months, and a majority of them took the road at once after leaving their last job.

"Eighty-one per cent of the tramps declare that they took to the road because they were out of a job, and only one man because machinery took his place. Over 60 per cent of the English tramps are given as taking the road because of vagrant habits.

"To question: 'When are you going to work again?' 60 per cent of them replied: 'When we get a job.'

"In the South the tramp is comparatively unknown, only one state being represented in the list.

"The majority of our tramps are of American birth, 65 per cent or 1342 being of American parentage and 272 Irish, who come next. Fourteen nationalities are represented.

"Over 1000 out of 1378 tramps could read and write, and they all spend money on the daily newspaper.

"More than half of this list of tramps had never voted, and most of the rest had voted in half a dozen states.

"A Worcester tramp has voted in Maine and California, and they confessed that they generally vote for revenue only.

"Out of 1389 only 70 are married, 57 are widowers and 84 have children.

"Some one has called the family the bond a person gives for his good behavior, and when this bond is broken flight ensues.

"Thirty-eight per cent say that they work for their food, 24 per cent that they beg for it, and 56 per cent that they steal it.

"Over 400 sleep at cheap lodging houses and nearly 300 in police headquarters. About 100 sleep in boxes.

Thirty of the 1300 were total abstainers, or else were too drunk to understand the question, and declared that they never drank."

A BUMP FOR LOCALITY.

A small boy from Lansing was in Detroit not long ago with his mother, for the first time. It was also her first visit to the city and she was almost as much interested in the sights and as confused by the bigness as the boy was. They had been out with the head of the family and had returned to their hotel, and the boy was looking out of the window with unabated delight.

"Say, mamma," he said after some time, "if I should go down this street seven squares and out the next one six squares then go ahead five squares, where would I be?"

"Really, Frank," she replied; "It's more than I can tell you. You'd better ask your father."

"I don't have to," said the boy proudly. "I know."

"Oh, I guess you don't," she smiled.

"But I know I do," he persisted.

She was a little curious to learn if the boy had picked up any idea of the city, and so she hunted him.

"Where would you be?" she inquired.

"I'd be lost," and she believed him thoroughly.—Detroit Free Press.

Buckien's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Knights of the Maccabees.

The State Commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedies fail." Signed F. W. Stevens, State Commander.—Why not give this great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free at LeGro & Lynde's, Palmer; G. L. Keeney's, Monson; F. A. Spencer's; Ware.

It May Do as Much For You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called Kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Ritters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all liver and kidney troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c for large bottle. At LeGro & Lynde's, Palmer; G. L. Keeney's, Monson, F. A. Spencer's, Ware.

CLIMATE ALONE

will not cure Consumption. It will help; but the disease must have systematic treatment. The germs which produce it must be destroyed. The havoc wrought in the lungs must be repaired; their injured surfaces healed. Change of climate will not do this. It will simply increase the supply of oxygen, and leave nature to struggle on for years with the disease.

Ozomulsion

TRADE MARK.

does better than this. It cures quickly and permanently. It is made of Ozone, Cod Liver Oil and Guaiacol. The Ozone supplies the needed oxygen, and with the Guaiacol destroys the poisonous germs which cause the disease. The Cod Liver Oil is for the purpose of nutrition only. It doesn't kill germs. It doesn't make appetite—in fact, it unmakes it. It is simply a flesh-maker, a tissue-builder. That's the truth—my physician will tell you so.

OZOMULSION is for
Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, the after affects of Pneumonia and La Grippe and all Pulmonary Complaints; Scrofula, General Debility, Loss of Flesh, Anæmia, and all Wasting Diseases.

All Druggists or T. A. Slocum Co., NEW YORK.

For Sale by O. P. ALLEN, Druggist,
Palmer, - - Mass.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE IS THE BEST.

$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF.
$4. $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO.
$3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES.
$2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S. EXTRA FINE.
$2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES.
LADIES.
$3. $2.50 $2. $1.75
BEST DONGOLA.
SEND FOR CATALOGUE.
W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

Over One Million People wear the W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes

All our shoes are equally satisfactory
They give the best value for the money.
They equal custom shoes in style and fit.
Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed.
The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole
From $1 to $3 saved over other makes.
If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by

ED. GOODES, PALMER. 21-40

ELECTRIC TELEPHONE

Sold outright, no rent, no royalty. Adapted to City, Village or Country. Needed in every home, shop, store and office. Greatest convenience and best seller on earth.
Agents make from $5 to $50 per day.
One in a residence means a sale to all the neighbors. Fine instruments, no toys, works anywhere, any distance. Complete, ready for use when shipped. Can be put up by any one, never out of order, no repairing, lasts a life time. Warranted. A money maker. Write
W. P. Harrison & Co., Clerk 10, Columbus, O

DRINK LIPTON'S TEAS

Direct From The Tea Gardens.
Fragrant! Rich! Delicious!

AWARDED HIGHEST HONORS AT THE WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO.

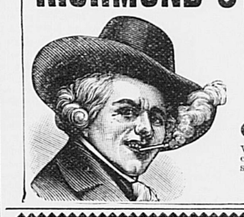
Genuine only when supplied in "Original" Patent Air-tight Canisters bearing grower's name:

LIPTON, TEA PLANTER, CEYLON.

These delicious Teas are used in almost every home in the Old Country. Lipton's "No. 1" is unanimously declared to be The Finest Tea The World Can Produce.

SOLD BY
J. B. SHAW, Palmer. W. N. FLYNT & SONS, Monson.
J. B. BROWN & CO., Three Rivers. C. L. HOLDEN, Bondsville.

RICHMOND STRAIGHT CUT No. 1 CIGARETTES



MADE FROM
THE BRIGHTEST, MOST DELICATELY FLAVORED AND HIGHEST COST GOLD LEAF GROWN IN VIRGINIA.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Who are willing to pay a little more than the price charged for ordinary trade cigarettes, will find this brand superior to all others.

ALLEN & GINTER, RICHMOND, VA.
THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., Successor.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

ESTABLISHED 1822.

Our Lawn Seed is composed of many kinds of grasses collected from the four quarters of the globe. It is the result of years of experience and

ENSURES A BEAUTIFUL LAWN.

1 qt., enough for 200 square feet lawn ....$ .25
1 lb., enough for 2,400 square feet lawn ... 1.25
1 bu., enough for 10,000 square feet lawn ... 4.00
Delivered anywhere on receipt of price.

Our 1895 illustrated catalogue mailed free. Replete with news about novelties, standard varieties of flower and vegetable seeds, and the most approved agricultural and horticultural implements. It contains particulars of our unique offer to duplicate first prizes offered by all Agricultural or Horticultural Societies in the United States.

"Everything for Farm, Garden and Lawn."

Joseph Breck & Sons,
BOSTON, MASS.

We mail free to purchasers who name this paper, a 25c. package of wild garden seeds.

USE BARNES' INK

A. S. BARNES & CO., 56 E. 10th St., N. Y.

THE HARDWARE DEALER.

A MAGAZINE brim full of practical ideas from hardware men. The cream of 1000 brains. 116 pages. Only $1.00 a year. Send 10c for copy.
D. T. MALLET, Pub., 78 Reade St., New York.

CHAUTAUQUA NURSERY CO.

Offer Liberal Terms to Agents.

Salary and expenses or commission. High grade stock at low prices. New specialties. Seed Potatoes, etc.

MEN WANTED
in every town. Steady work. Pay weekly. Address
H. B. WILLIAMS, SEC'Y., PORTLAND, N. Y.

VEGETABLE, PULMONARY, BALSAM. The old, well known cure, —for— "Best in the World." Coughs, Colds and Consumption.
Originated by Lowe & Reed, 1826.
CUTLER BROS. & CO., Boston. 50c., $1.00.

GERMEA For Breakfast, prepared from California White Wheat. Delicious. Economical. Grocers sell it. The John T. Cutting Co., 153 Duane St., N. Y.

The Humane Driving Bit.

TREAT THE FAMILY PET TO ONE

ROBT. BONNER says if you try it you will use no other bit, FOR ALL KINDS of horses. It will control the most vicious horse without punishment.
Extra fine sample, solid nickel jointed or stiff mouth. Tested and Warranted. Sent for $1.
HUMANE BIT CO, Dept. F, NEWARK, N. J.

WANTED--A Few More Book Agents in this and adjoining Counties for

Our Journey Around the World,

A bran new book by Francis E. Clark, Pres't. of the United Soc. of Christian Endeavor. The best chance to make money ever offered to all who want profitable work. A good agent in this vicinity can earn $100 a month. ☞ Distance no hindrance, for We Pay Freight, Give Credit, Premium Copies, Free Outfit, and Exclusive Territory. For particulars, write to
A. D. WORTHINGTON & CO., Hartford, Ct.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE
Use Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cures the worst Cough, Weak Lungs, Debility, Indigestion, Pain, Take in time. 50 cts.

HINDERCORNS. The only sure cure for Corns. Stops all pain. 15c. at Druggists, or HISCOX & Co., N. Y.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed. The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office. WEDDING CARDS.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

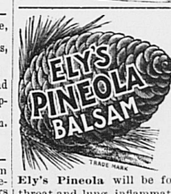
Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address
MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

DID YOU GET YOURS?

There were 3,134,934 Packages of HIRES' ROOTBEER sold in 1894, which made 15,675,735 gallons, or 313,494,700 glasses, sufficient to give every man, woman and child in the United States, five glasses each—did you get your share? Be sure and get some this year.

A 25 cent package makes 5 gallons. Sold everywhere.

HIRES' Rootbeer
THE CHAS. E. HIRES CO., Phila.



For Coughs, Colds, Asthma and Pulmonary Diseases.

A True Balsam.

Ely's Pineola will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. The annoying tickling and nervous irritation in the throat, producing hacking coughs is quickly relieved by it. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from the use of Pineola Balsam, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. The Pineola Balsam is pleasant to the taste, is soothing to the inflamed surface.

More lives are sacrificed by the neglect of "slight coughs" than can be estimated.

Price of Pineola Balsam, 25c per bottle. All druggists. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., New York.

MUNICIPAL BONDS.

The securities offered by this Company are selected with great care, and are first-class investments for individual buyers, legatees, trustees, banks and savings banks. More than

FIFTY CLASSES OF BONDS

have been sold by us in the last three years.

NO DEFAULT OF PRINCIPAL OR INTEREST

has ever occurred in a security sold by this Company. Send for our list of bonds, and make use of our experience.

German-American Investment Co.,
52 WALL STREET, NEW YORK.

CALIFORNIA, CRECON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO,
AND ALL WESTERN POINTS.
Select Excursions from Chicago Every Day.
Via Chicago, Union Pacific, and Northwestern Line.
SHORTEST ROUTE. LOWEST RATES
For handsome illustrated folder and detailed information address W. MASSEY, N. E. Pass. Agt., or J. S. SMITH, Trav. Pass. Agt., Union Pacific Ry., 290 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

YOU WILL REALIZE THAT "THEY LIVE WELL WHO LIVE CLEANLY," IF YOU USE

SAPOLIO

4-1

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 3, 1895. NUMBER 5.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one-half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 30 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, MRS. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R. R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BOND, A. M., Manufacturer and Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, Tinware, Hardware, etc.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's.

WARE.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

PALMER LODGE, No. 190, I. O. O. F.
Meets every Wednesday evening in Commercial Block, Main street.
M. M. THOMAS, N. G. G. H. BRAY, Rec. Sec.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W.
Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in Grange Hall, Day's Block, Monson.
ISAK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

GO TO THE

Palmer Bicycle Works

TO GET YOUR

WHEELS REPAIRED AND YOUR SPECIAL HANDLE BARS MADE.

LAWN MOWERS REPAIRED.

REMEMBER, FINE MACHINE WORK A SPECIALTY.

SPALDING and AMES WHEELS FOR SALE.

MURPHY BROS.,

CARYL'S BLOCK, - PALMER, MASS.

FOR ALL KINDS OF JOB PRINTING CALL AT THE JOURNAL OFFICE.

"HOUSE CLEANING."

One of the Great Objects of Mankind is to Satisfy the Everlasting Want. One of the Chief Ends of the

MONSON BOSTON STORE

Is to Supply Practical Home Needs AT INSIDE FIGURES.

Do You Need Window Shades? Well, we can supply them. Fittings, with screws complete, At 25c each, Best Quality at 29c.

Do You need a New Table Oil Cloth? Our price for THE BEST QUALITY (no seconds) 22c a yd. Shelf Oil Cloth 6 1-2c yd.

MADE-UP SHEETS In Heavy Cotton, 2¼ yards by 2½ yards long, 3 in. hem, 50c each.

"INDIAN STRAW MATTING" In all the new patterns and colorings. Wear guaranteed, At 25c, 29c, 35c, 45c yard.

OUR GOODS ARE SELECTED TO MEET THE EVERY DAY NEEDS OF THE PEOPLE "AND SELL WITHOUT ARGUMENT."

SMALL TABLES. Just the thing for corner of room. Special price for "House Cleaners," ONLY 39 CENTS. Regular price 50c.

SPONGES. Useful for washing windows, etc., Extra Large Size, 29c.

HOUSEKEEPERS. Study These Bargains on Our ECONOMY COUNTER, . . . For 5 Cents. . . .

OUR DIME MUSEUM Is not a Freak, BUT GENUINE BARGAINS. 10c Buys the Following:

FLOWER AND VEGETABLE SEEDS, 5 CTS. PACKAGE. SPECIAL PRICE BY THE DOZEN.

SPECIAL. 60 FOOT CLOTHES ROPE. Large WOVEN Carpet Beater. LARGE BOTTLE AMMONIA.

FIVE CENTS.
Tack Hammer.
Tack Claw.
Door Stopper.
2 Packs Carpet Tacks.
3 Dozen Camphor Balls.
Door Bolt.
A Good Scrubbing Brush.
Sink Cleaner.
Large Size Wash Basin.
Pie Plates All Sizes.
Extra Large Bottle Machine Oil.
Loaf Rising Pans.
Pot Cleaners.
1 Cake Best Butter Milk Soap.
1 Cake Turkish Bath Soap.
Stove Lifters.
Asbestos Stove Lids.
Mouse Traps.
CROWDED OUT FOR LACK OF ROOM.

TEN CENTS.
1 Bottle Best Glue.
1 Bottle Witch Hazel.
1 Bottle Glycerine.
Large Nail Hammer.
Revolving Sifter.
Dish Drainer.
Whisk Broom.
Hat Rack.
Full Size Cuspidor.
Strong Spring Lock and Key.
Retinned Preserve Kettles.
Large Goose Feather Duster.
Drip Pans, All Sizes.
New Style Egg Beaters.
Lemon Squeezers.
Hair Paint Brush.
Good Hair Brush.
THE DOLLAR OF OUR GRANDFATHERS IS INDEED THE DIME OF TO-DAY.

T. H. TODD,
Boston Bargain Store,
Monson, = Mass.

If you are going to use any
WALL PAPER
this spring it will
PAY YOU
to look at our line and get
OUR PRICES.
We have our NEW STOCK all in and know we are very bottom on prices.
WE WILL UNDERSELL
any city in the state of Massachusetts.
LeGRO & LYNDE,
DRUGGISTS,
Next Door to Post Office, Palmer.

JUST ARRIVED.
A Full Line of
Grass Seed,
Seed Oats,
Seed Barley,
Seed Peas.
Ground Plaster.
BRADLEY'S X L Phosphate, Potato Manure and English Lawn Dressing.
Low Prices.
C. D. HOLBROOK.

....BICYCLES....
Keating, - - $100
Winnewood, $80, $60, $50, $40
A FIRST CLASS WHEEL FOR LITTLE MONEY.
A. E. FITCH,
BANK BLOCK, - - PALMER.

TO COLT OWNERS.
I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.
tf-3 Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

SMITH & MURRAY.

GLOVES. We have just received another lot of Dent's Celebrated Kid Gloves in all the new shades, slates, tan, beaver and buttercup. These are the very latest colors. These gloves are made of the very best French Kid, and would be hard to match for less than $2 a pair. Our price is $1.59.

SILKS. We are showing a large variety of 18-inch Taffetas and 22-inch printed India Silks, 49c. Usual price 75c.

SHAUNTAUG PONGEES. No more to be had of these popular goods.
10 pieces (19 and 20 yards) $3.25.
10 " " " $3.75.
Rear of main store.

WASH GOODS. Warmer weather makes you think of lighter dresses. A visit to the Wash Goods counter will interest you. Come and see.

Fine satines, Reduced from 17c.	12½c
Fine India Dimities,	25c
Swivel Silk Ginghams,	37½c
Dimities and Jaconet Muslins,	12½c
Pique Suitings,	12½c
French Satines,	25c
Wool Challies,	37½c

Rear of main store.

LINENS. Our linen stock is large and representative. The prices will make you reflect.
Fringed Sets, all white, blue, red, salmon and gold borders:
2 yards by 2 yards, $2.50, worth $4.00
2 " " 2½ yards, 2.95, " 4.50
2 " " 3 yards, 3.50, " 5.00
One dozen doylies to match goes with each table cloth.
Main store.

HOSIERY. Men's Seamless Cotton Half-Hose, assorted tans, sizes 9½ to 11½, at 12½ cents, or 63 cents a box (6 pair.)
Men's Cotton Hose, Hermsdorf Dye, double heels and toes, sizes 9½ to 11½, 15 cents, two pair for 25 cents.
Men's Unbleached Cotton Hose, double heels and toes, same sizes, 15 cents, two pair for 25 cents.
Main store.

CARPETS. The time has been when carpets were considered a luxury, but now they are within the reach of all. A glance at the few prices will show you how cheap they really are.

Ingrains,	25c
" all wool,	42c
" " "	50c
Tapestry Brussels,	45c
Velvets,	85c
Straw Matting,	$3.50 per roll

Fourth floor, take elevator.

SMITH & MURRAY.

COAL, BALED HAY, STRAW.

Lehigh Chestnut Coal	$6.00
" Stove "	6.00
" Egg "	5.50
Half ton lot of Stove and Chestnut Coal	3.15
Lackawanna Stove Coal	5.75
Half ton " "	3.00
Lackawanna Egg Coal	5.40

No. 1 Baled Hay,	15.00 per ton
Stock Hay,	13.00 " "
Baled Hay,	14.00 " "

☞ SPECIAL PRICES ON CAR LOAD LOTS.

RALPH CLIFFORD,
Rear of Monson House, - Monson, Mass.

Wall Papers!

"Now is the winter of our discontent made glorious Springtime by this April Sun."

THE OLD CORNER WALL PAPER CO.
OF
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.,

Now offer you good Kitchen, Bedroom and Hallway papers at 5 cents per roll.

Good designs in floral papers, Vine patterns and scrolls in soft colors at 10 cents per roll.

Excellent gilt papers in dainty colors, pretty styles and choice white and blue, white and yellow and white and green colorings at 15 cents to 25 cents per roll.

Our immense price is marked at 1895 prices this year. That is at the bottom notch and must go up next year.

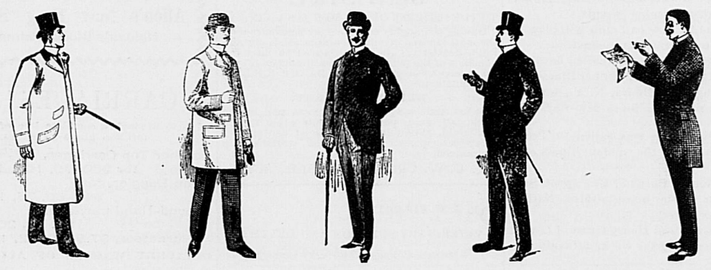
Send for samples (enclose 4 cents in stamps) or call at our enlarged show room at the old corner of State and Main Streets, AND LOOK!

The Old Corner Wall Paper Co.
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

POSTAL
Telegraph and Cable Co.
Office in Strong's Block,
PALMER, : : : : MASS.
Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the
UNITED STATES.
PROMPT SERVICE,
REASONABLE RATES,
ALL BUSINESS
STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

Springfield Industrial Institute.
Institution of Science and Industry.
TRADE SCHOOL DEP'T. Courses 4 months to 1 year in length. Day instruction in Pattern Making, Cabinet Making, Sign and Carriage Painting, Plumbing, Brick Laying, Plastering, Stone Cutting and Machine Shop practice.
INDUSTRIAL HIGH SCHOOL DEP'T. (3 years' course.) Choice in trades in connection with thorough instruction in Mathematics, Science, Drawing, Essential English Branches and Shop Work.
ENGINEERING DEP'T. A two years' course in Higher Mathematics, Science Engineering Subjects, Drawing and Shop Work.
NORMAL MANUAL TRAINING DEP'T.
NORMAL KINDERGARTEN DEP'T.
For particulars address L. P. STRONG, Director, 26-4 SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

CHARLES E. LYNCH.



Nobody ever hears or reads of poor clothing nowadays. To judge by the papers there isn't such a thing, and yet—and yet—. Oh, the tons of poor stuff that are annually scattered broadcast! You know it, and so do others. They were clothiers. They are so no longer. Poor clothes killed them. They'll kill everyone who traffics in them.

Everybody knows that CHARLES E. LYNCH sells good clothes. Everybody says so. That's the secret of LYNCH'S phenominal success. LYNCH'S clothes fit, are shapely, and wear well. LYNCH'S clothes are not ultra. They won't make you singular. They will assuredly stamp you through as a well-dressed, perfectly attired gentleman. That's the peculiar property of LYNCH'S GOOD CLOTHES.

One of the particularly strong points of LYNCH'S GOOD CLOTHES is the attention given to details, the unseen little things. The shade of the material, the color and size of the buttons, the width of the seams, the turn of the lapels, every button-hole—everything must be just so. They're hardly noticed, it's true. They give tone to the whole, though. They make LYNCH'S CLOTHES what they are—the most nearly perfect clothes to be had anywhere.

Spring Overcoats, $8 to $30. Boy's Suits, $1.98, $2.48, $3.48, $4.98.
Spring Suits, $8 to $25. Boy's Long Pant Suits, $5 to $10.
Spring Trowsers, $3.50 to $7.50. Men's Hats, $1.50 to $3.50.
Working Pants, $1.50 to $3.00. Boy's Caps from 25 cents.

CHARLES E. LYNCH,
Promoter of Fashionable Clothing.
367 Main. SPRINGFIELD. 369 Main.
Your money refunded in case of any dissatisfaction whatever.

E. S. BRYANT, D. M. D.
DENTIST.
LYNDE'S BLOCK. - - PALMER.
Office Hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

Lessons on the Violin or Piano.
Given by—
MISSES JULIA and LILY ALLEN.
3 42ks Cor. Church and Pleasant Sts., Palmer.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads—west of Depot.

Beulah Land.

We're getting on in years, Jane, we two who started out
So bravely on life's journey, when the world was blithe and gay;
I can hardly tell, my darling, how the thing has come about,
But I find myself beginning to live in yesterday.

There's a bald spot on my head, Jane, and the frost is sifting down,
White as drifting snow of winter on the fringe above my brow,
And your bonny locks are silver, that were once a golden brown,
Yet you never were so queenly, Jane, so beautiful as now.

But, "Hurry up, old lady!" the car conductors say—
"Step lively, please, old gentlemen!"—and young folks offer seats,
And we discover in our elves, when treated in this way,
A cold and haughty anger, or quick, resentful heats.

Then, we've learned to love a corner by the chimney's blaze at night;
We are not always ready for the sleighing or the ice
That used to call us often forth, our faces smiling bright,
When mirth and frolic made for youth the flavor and the spice.

And we've caught the trick of looking with a half-respectful awe
At the judges and the doctors, whom we used to know in kilts;
And we blush at the admission, but our youngest's word is law—
She has but to nod her meaning, and our own opinion wilts.

Then the small grandchildren rule us; pray, do not deny it, Jane;
We would spoil them with indulgence if they lived beneath our roof.
When the question is of saying no, the little ones to train,
We, once so stern and resolute, just weakly stand aloof.

Yes, we're getting on in years, Jane, but I like it very well,
This broad and pleasant upland, to which our steps have climbed;
'Tis a restful Beulah country, where delightful people dwell,
And the hour of arrival has been very sweetly timed.

Here we taste the fr its we p anted in the morning's bustling haste;
Here we sit awhile at leisure, and make friends with young and old;
Here we read and talk and ponder, by no fiend of worry chased,
And behind us lies the dusty road, before us evening's gold.—Harper's Bazar.

AUNT JANE'S BUREAU.

Jack Thornton believed he had the best little wife in the world. He has been married about six months, and, as he told his "old bach" friends, the honeymoon had never ceased. And this was the more remarkable because soon after they were married Jack struck a streak of bad luck which culminated about a week before the Thanksgiving festival of the year 1889. You remember the old proverb, "When poverty comes in at the door, love flies out at the window." Well, this was one of the true love matches which proved that this, like many of those old chestnuts, is a sad libel on the fair sex.

"I have bad news for my little woman tonight," said Jack as Alice was clearing away the supper things and tidying up the little sitting room, while Jack got out his pipe and she produced the tobacco jar preparatory to the post prandialsmoke.

Alice took the lid off the jar, and with her own fingers filled up the meerschaum bowl, for Jack, the sybarite, always declared that made his pipe taste sweeter.

"Light up, dear Jack," she remarked, as if in somber mood, "and when Brown Bess is going full speed you can tell me all about it."

Thereupon Mrs. Thornton brought a neat workbasket filled to the brim with all sorts of things in white muslin and flannel, the beginnings of garments intended for a small person indeed. As she sat under the lamplight busily plying her needle, the brown curls falling over her brow, she made a very charming picture. At any rate, Jack Thornton must have thought so, for he said, when Brown Bess had got under such good headway that a thick, blue cloud was settling around the ceiling:

"I feel as if I had done a very cruel thing in taking you away from a comfortable home to share the bad luck of a second rate fiddler in a third rate theater."

"Jack Thornton, I'm ashamed of you, replied Alice, with energy. "What was it the parson made me say after him—'for richer, for poorer,'—"

"Yes, dear," said Jack, "but you have got all 'the poorer' and so far none of 'the richer' of the bargain."

"That will come in good time," she answered cheerily, and as a seal of the augury she arose from her chair, threw one arm around his neck and kissed him.

Thus encouraged, Jack poured out his latest misfortune. The prevalent hard times had struck the Odeon, and the manager was obliged to dispense with three or four members of the orchestra of that "third rate theater," as Jack had termed it. Of course the first to be released was the latest addition, and that was the hero of the story. It was true that Mr. Mabley had promised to give Thornton a call as soon as times grew better; "but," said Jack:

"With the winter coming right fast and coal not in yet, the prospect, you must admit, little wife, is blue."

Alice, stubborn creature that she was, would not admit that there was anything unusual about this condition of things, and declared that it might have been worse.

"And I've been thinking, dear, that there are one or two things we might sell so as to buy coal enough to last us till the Odeon man wants you again."

"What things, for instance," asked Jack, "would you sell?"

"Well, there's my watch. You know I never even wind it up, and I'm sure I should never miss it."

"No," Jack said decidedly. "The watch is out of the question. What would your Uncle William say if he should find out that you had sold the only present he ever gave you?"

"It will serve him right for being so mean to us since we have been married," replied Alice, "as never to have called to ask how we were getting on. But," after a pause, "suppose we sell that old bureau, which was the only present my other rich relative gave me for a wedding gift?"

Jack Thornton pondered and blew a prodigious cloud before he replied. "If we have to part with anything," he said, "I suppose we can better do without that lumbering article of furniture."

This, after some further deliberation, the young couple decided to do, and as Thursday was Thanksgiving they further decided to consummate the sale of the old bureau the very next day.

Thereupon Jack laid down Brown Bess and brought the old violin, his next best friend, to provide, as it had often done, consolation in their trouble:

He sways them with harmony merry and loud,
He fills with his power their hearts to the brim,
Was aught ever heard like his fiddle and him?

Next morning bright and early Jack fell to polishing Aunt Jane's bureau. With a soft rag, a little oil and a fair share of "elbow grease" the old walnut sides of the relic fairly shone. Over the breakfast table Jack began speculating how much they were likely to get for the bureau.

"Not less than $12," was hopeful Alice's opinion, "and while you are gone after old Mr. Myers, who is the most honest of the secondhand furniture dealers, Jack, I will take out and dust the drawers so that whoever buys my aunt's present will find it clean inside as well as out."

"I was thinking, my dear," said Jack as he put on his well worn overcoat, "that perhaps poor Werner, the trombone player, will have no place to go to for his Thanksgiving, and it would be nice if we could manage to entertain him to-morrow."

"Just like you, you old darling!" was the little woman's comment, and she added: "Why, of course, we can have poor Werner and will enjoy his company. You might drop round and see him after you have called on Mr. Myers."

With a goodby kiss Jack Thornton went on his way, his errands of business and sociability being important enough to occupy his mind and to cause him to forget the gloom of the immediate future. Alice was not given to repining, and yet as she began to take out the drawers of the old bureau she could not refrain from a few tears, not, you must understand, at parting with that piece of furniture, but at the dire necessity which prompted the act.

As she removed the first drawer her thoughts went back to the old farmhouse not many miles north of Cincinnati, where she had passed her childhood and received what share of Aunt Jane's love was not given to her chicken farm, which occupied the first place in her affections.

As the second drawer was taken out and carefully dusted the little woman thought of the first meeting with Jack. He had come from the city in answer to Uncle William's advertisement for boarders for the summer. It was a case of love at first sight. Her guardians had offered no objection to the match. Indeed Aunt Jane had seemed glad to be relieved of the charge of the orphan child.

Then, as she pulled out the third drawer, Alice recalled the memorable event of the wedding, when Jack's Odeon friends had come out to Elmville and the orchestra had given a concert in the farmyard, to the delight of the entire neighborhood and the consternation of Aunt Jane's feathered community. The Odeon people all brought presents, and Alice was richer that day than she had ever expected to be.

The fourth drawer stuck, and after a few hard pulls at the brass knobs the busy housewife was about to give it up until Jack returned when she suddenly remembered that on the wedding day she had been so vividly recalling her aunt had at the dinner, which was given in the barn, made the one speech of her life, an effort which, by the way, had much amused and edified the Odeon folk.

"You have received so many fine presents from your husband's friends, and a gold watch and chain from your uncle, that my gift must be something of use in housekeeping. The walnut bureau that stands in the parlor shall be my gift, and here is the key which opens all the drawers." So saying, she handed the bride a small brass key and resumed her seat, not a little flustered with having made what she afterwards declared was the greatest speech of her life.

Where was this key? Surely in the lower part of the eight day clock. In a minute Alice had recovered the brass key and had unlocked the last drawer, which she pulled out with no little effort, for it was heavy, while the other three had been light. Another curious thing was that it was covered with a thin panel of polished walnut, which bore the inscription in Uncle William's handwriting:

AUNT JANE'S WEDDING GIFT TO HER NIECE ALICE.

This panel was divided in the center and secured by a sliding bolt. As she opened it an astonishing sight met Alice's gaze. The entire drawer was divided into sections like a cashier's drawer, and each compartment was comfortably filled with money. On the top of a neat bundle of $100 bills was a card addressed to Mrs. Jack Thornton.

"Dear Alice," it ran, "in this drawer you will find the sum of $2853 43, which is one-half of the chicken farm for the last five years. As you earned this by your work in taking care of the chickens during the years since you left school, you may feel that this is justly yours. Take good care of it and of your Aunt Jane's old bureau."

"There's the bureau, Mr. Myers," Jack said as he entered the room on Elm street which the young folks had made their home for several months.

"What is the best you can do for it?"

The furniture dealer looked the relic carefully over and slowly drew out a canvas bag and counted out $6.

"Six dollars is the best I can do for that old article, Mr. Thornton, and it is a good price too."

"It isn't enough, Mr. Myers," Alice said. "I will not sell my aunt's wedding gift for less than $50."

"Good morning, ma'am," the dealer said, with a smile. "I see you don't want to sell the bureau."

When he had gone, Jack turned with an inquiring look to his wife:

"You funny little woman, what is the meaning of this?"

For answer she gave him a volley of kisses, which she fired off with the rapidity of a saluting battery with electric attachment. Then, first carefully locking the door, she unlocked the drawer and showed Jack her treasure trove.

What looked suspiciously like tears twinkled in his eyes as he clasped "the best wife in the world" in a loving embrace, and then as a relief to his over-charged feelings he filled Brown Bess to the brim and smoked placidly for an hour, thinking much, but saying little.

What a Thanksgiving that was! Wenner came and was astonished at the bountiful spread. Jack's violin never discoursed sweeter music, and as he played he drew glad smiles and tears from his little wife as she thought of the happiness that had come to them with Aunt Jane's old bureau.

Family Portraits.

"More family portraits, eh?"

"Yes, Uncle Silas. You know our family came from way back."

"Waal, I come from pretty fur back myself, but durned if I ever seen sich clothes."—Scribner's Magazine.

Clara—"Those toilet things I ordered haven't come." Maude—"Then I don't suppose you'll have the face to go to the ball to-night."

THE "UNITED STATES" AND "MACEDONIAN."

In October of the year 1812 the frigate United States was one of a small squadron that was cruising not far from the island of Madeira. On the twelfth day of the month she parted with the President, forty-four, and later with the sixteen-gun brig Argus, both of which had sailed with her from the port of Boston, all well officered, well manned, and eager to meet the enemy. Bearing away southward into the paths of the British West-Indiamen, Decatur, in the United States, hoped to intercept a rich prize or two, or, better, if possible, to fall in with one of his Majesty's vessels, which were constantly hovering in that neighborhood. Sharp lookouts were kept at the mast-head at all hours, and the crew were spoiling for action.

Sunday morning, the 25th, dawned bright and clear. There was a stiff breeze blowing, and the frigate was under easy canvas, steering a course southeast by east. An observation showed her to be in the latitude 29°, longitude 29° 30' west. As soon as daylight was fairly broad, off to windward, close to the horizon, the lookout descried a sail, and in a few minutes it was discovered that the stranger was an English ship-of-war carrying all but her lighter canvas. Quickly the United States blossomed out from the topgallant-yard to her main-course; and although the breeze was strong, studding-sails were set, and tossing the heavy sea to left and right, she was soon hard upon the chase. The United States was a good sailer—all of our ships were in those days—and long before seven o'clock it was seen that she was overhauling the enemy rapidly. So great was the enthusiasm of her officers and men that the cheers they gave were borne by the wind to the Englishman before a single gun of the action had been fired. Through the glass it could be seen that the enemy were at quarters. At nine in the morning Decatur luffed a little, took in his lighter sails, and fired his gun-deck battery; but the balls fell short. Both vessels were now on the same tack, close on the wind, and Decatur found that it was impossible for the United States to gain the weather-gauge. Broadsides were exchanged as the distance was lessened, and for half an hour the commanders continued firing, doing no vital damage. Suddenly the enemy changed his course, squared his yards, and crossed Decatur's bows, letting drive his forward battery. Still, the United States held on; and here the Englishman made a fatal error. It is given by some authorities that Captain John Carden, the commander of the Macedonian, supposed his opponent to be the Essex, which only mounted carronades, therefore he commenced action at long range. It did not take long, however, to apprise him that he was out in his reckoning, for although the distance was so great that carronades and muskets were of no avail, almost every shot from the heavy metal of the American struck its mark, despite the pitching cross-sea. Finding it was too late to run, Captain Carden bravely bore down upon the United States to engage her at close quarters, as at the distance at which the action had commenced he was being literally chopped to pieces. It was reported that during the engagement, which then began in earnest, so incessant were the broadsides of the American vessel, the Englishmen supposed her to be on fire, and three or four times cheered in their turn as the news ran through the ship; but they were soon undeceived. The splendid gunnery of the Americans was apparent as the vessels neared. The rigging and spars of the Macedonian were riddled and cut, many of her guns were dismounted, and in a few minutes her mizzen-mast went by the board. Pitching to and fro, shrouded in the smoke which blew toward her from the enemy's guns, the United States kept up her destructive fire. For an instant the smoke cleared away, and there hung the main-yard-arm of the English frigate in two pieces; her mainstopmast was gone, her foretopmast was tottering, and no colors were seen floating above her deck; her bowsprit was swaying two and fro, held only by the jib-forestay, and sailing was impossible. She ceased to gather headway, lurching and yawing to one side and the other helplessly.

Strange to say, the United States remained almost unhurt. Decatur ceased his fire as he saw the enemy's plight, furled his mizzen-topsail (the mizzen-topmast being badly wounded), drew away, tacked, and came under the lee of the English ship. She gave him a feeble broadside, and Decatur luffed ag in across her bows. As he did so, Carden, perceiving further resistance to be vain, hauled down his colors, which had again been hoisted on a spar at the stump of the mizzen-mast.

Decatur, his face flushed with victory, hailed in person; "What ship is that?"

"His Majesty's frigate Macedonian, thirty-eight, John S. Carden," was the response.

Immediately a boat was lowered, and an officer was sent on board. In the two hours of the engagement she had suffered terribly. Not less than one hundred round shot were counted in her hull, many of them between wind and water. She had nothing standing but her mainmast and fore-yard. Her boats were useless, with exception of one small quarter-boat, and out of the officers and crew, three hundred in number, thirty-six were killed and sixty-eight were wounded. The American loss was five killed and six wounded.—Harper's Weekly.

HE WAS THERE IN THE FIVE MINUTES.

A certain kind of man has cumbered the earth from the beginning, observes Kate Field's Washington, without being materially affected by the moral advancement of his race. One of this sort entered a Fifth Avenue stage in New York the other day and seeing a tall, brilliant-looking girl seated in the far corner, he took the vacant place next her, accosting her exactly as if he were an aquaintance. To his surprise she answered politely, and for a couple of blocks they affably discussed the weather. Then she signaled the driver to stop, and got out, followed by the inwardly astonished masher, who had expected only to be repulsed with the cold stare cultivated by the average town-bred young women for use in such emergencies. When they reached the curbstone she gave him a second surprise. "I have stopped on the beat of the largest policeman on the Avenue," she said in a voice he would not have recognized as that of his companion in the 'bus, "and if you are not a block away in five minutes I will have you arrested. I spoke to you because I knew two women on the opposite side of that stage; and I wasn't going to have it get around that I had been spoken to by a man I didn't know."

FIGS AND THISTLES.—A fool carries his name in his mouth.

Sin always carries a knife under its cloak.

The devil never throws any stones at a man on the fence.

Every tree in God's vineyard is not only expected to bear fruit, but good fruit.

When God prunes us he does it with a sharp knife.

In Heaven's arithmetic nothing counts but love.

Men are bound in the devil's ropes because they didn't think it worth while to break his threads.

You can't tell anything about what a man will do in a horse trade by the noise he makes in church.

The reason why so many children trained up in the way they should go, go the other way, is because the parents go that way.—Ram's Horn.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 3, 1895.

PALMER NEWS.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Special Reduction in Prices at E. A. Buck & Co's.

Best pure White Lead, Union Jewetts, Red Seal, Forest River, Missouri and Eagle Brands, $5.50. Galvanized Barbed Fence Wire, $2.25. Other low prices to follow next week.

WAR VETERAN'S TROUBLES.

Overworked and Underfed, with no Home or Friends to go to.

The overseers of the poor were notified last week that Frank Swears, an old veteran of 60, living in the family of John Wright, near the wire mill, was being neglected and abused, and should be attended to immediately. The overseers at once said that they could do nothing for the man unless he made a personal application, and were told by the complainants that Swears was not allowed to leave the premises. The overseers then suggested a plan which was carried out. The neighbors drew up an application for aid, and watching their opportunity, gave it to Swears, who signed it. The application was presented Monday, and the overseers called upon Swears soon after and brought him to the village. Here he told his story, and asked to be taken to the almshouse, which was done. Swears said that he had been terribly abused, and the stories of the neighbors confirm him. He says he came to live with the Wrights about four years ago, at that time having work which enabled him to pay his board. About two years ago he lost his job, and having no place to go, remained at the home of the Wrights. They gave him work to do about the place, and he made application for a pension. Soon, he says, they commenced ill treating him. He was forced to work early and late, many tasks being found for him to do just to keep him busy. Many times his work was destroyed by Mrs. Wright, who compelled him to do it over. He says she frequently thrashed him when she was displeased with the manner in which he did his work, and that in addition to this ill usage he had scarcely enough to eat. Speaking of the food provided for him Swears said there was usually enough of it, but complained of the quality. He said that he was seldom allowed to eat at the table, but that cornmeal mush was provided for him. This was cooked in a pot, and at meal time he was told to go to it and help himself. He says that he never had sufficient clothing, and that he could not get enough bed clothing to keep him warm. Mrs. Wright, he says, has frequently aroused him after he had retired, to make him do some sort of work, apparently for no reason except to annoy him.

When asked why he did not leave the Wrights, Swears said he had tried to do so but had failed. At first he did not know where to go, and waited in hopes he would get a pension. As time passed on and his treatment grew worse, Mrs. Wright refused to allow him to leave. She told him, he says, that he must remain until he received his pension and back pay, when he must pay her for his board. He says she watched him closely, and when he tried on two occasions to escape he was promptly caught and given a terrible beating. When Mrs. Wright left the house she was in the habit of locking him up in the barn or house.

The neighbors tell very much the same story that was told by Swears, but declare the matter was worse than he seems to have made it. Some of them have seen Mrs. Wright strike Swears with a club, and one of them saw her knock him down with a shovel not long ago. They also know of his lack of proper food and clothing. It is said that all last summer Swears worked in the fields wearing a heavy overcoat. Being asked why he wore such a garment it was learned that he had no shirt, and no other coat. They declare that Swears has much more than earned his board, and that his treatment has been simply inhuman.

Mrs. Wright says the stories told by Swears and the neighbors are not true. She says she has cared for Swears to the best of her ability, and has had much to contend with from him. She says he has done absolutely nothing for more than two years, and has refused to leave. She says she advised him long ago to apply to the town for aid, but he refused, saying that he would pay her well for her tender care of him when he got his pension. The pension was granted a few days ago she says, and she and her husband learned from Swears's letters that about $250 back pay was due him. They decided, although their board bill was $400, to take $200 of his money, give Swears the remainder for clothes and car fare, and send him back to his home in Pennsylvania. She says Swears is not in his right mind, and that he has ugly fits, when he is very destructive. At these times he has destroyed some very valuable household effects and some of her clothing.

When Swears arrived at the almshouse he was in a terrible condition. His clothes were filthy beyond description, and he was so thinly clad that he suffered from the cold. He wore no drawers, and his trousers were light overalls which came very little below the knees. He had tied them down around the bottom to keep out the cold. Keeper Lent washed and trimmed him up, and dressed him in clean and warm clothing. Swears was very grateful, and said he never was happier in his life. He begged not to be taken back to the home of the Wrights, and said he had made up his mind that he would not live much longer if compelled to stay there. His condition shows that he has been at least seriously neglected. He is emaciated to a pitiable degree, and seems very feeble. His mind seems clear, but he is easily confused, and says he thinks his treatment has nearly driven him crazy. He says Mrs. Wright told him he owed her over $400, and he supposes he will have to pay it as far as his back pay will do so. He does not seem to have an idea that he can oppose the Wrights in anything they wish to do. The neighbors say that they do not want to see Swears pay the Wrights any of his back pay. They are willing to swear that he has more than earned his board, and think it would be disgraceful to allow him to pay anything for it. The overseers of the poor will try to see that he has his rights, and if it appears the board bill is unjust, they will oppose his paying it. In the meantime, Swears will be allowed to remain at the almshouse until he can get his money, when he will be allowed his choice of staying there or going to Pennsylvania, where he originally came from. He says he has no friends or relatives living.

Bradley—Murphy.

Night Officer John Murphy is taking a wedding trip this week, having been married Tuesday morning in St. Thomas's church to Miss Mary A. Bradley of this place. The ceremony was performed with a ring in the presence of the many friends of the young people. M. E. Murphy, a brother of the groom, was best man, and Miss Nellie V. Bradley, a niece of the bride, was bridesmaid. Mrs. John Hennesey of Springfield gave the wedding cake. The following were among the presents received: Dinner set and picture, Mrs. John Bradley of Palmer; banquet lamp, W. J. Bradley of New York; two parlor chairs and silver spoons, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bradley of Palmer; silver water pitcher, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fitzpatrick of Palmer; silver salt and pepper server, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Northrop of Palmer; sofa pillow, H. N. Sager of Palmer; silver tea set, John Manning of Palmer; parlor lamp, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sugrue of Thorndike; picture, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Charles of Monson; one-half dozen Canton china plates, two china bon-bon dishes and table linen, Mrs. John Hennessey of Springfield; marble clock, J. B. Dawson of Palmer; silver butter dish, M. E. Murphy of Palmer; dining table, Mr. and Mrs. William Murphy of Palmer; picture, Miss Mary Murphy of Palmer; dining set, M. D. Sullivan of Palmer; silver nut picks, Mrs. Joseph King of Palmer; silver berry spoon, Miss Annie Hopkins of Palmer; parlor clock and table linen, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Murphy of Palmer; silver knives and forks, Miss Mary Sugrue of Thorndike; silver berry spoon, Miss Ida Duplessis of Windsor, Vt., umbrella stand and picture, Miss N. V. Bradley of Palmer; willow rocker, Mr. Mulvihill and family and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Foley of Palmer; silver butter knife and sugar spoon, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver LaSalle of Palmer; silver spoons, Miss Nellie Leary of Thorndike; silver pie knife, Miss Annie Sullivan of Palmer; table linen, Miss Lizzie Dockery of Palmer; slippers, E. Goodes of Palmer; broom, Mrs. Duplessis of Palmer; table linen and tidies, Mrs. H. E. Lynes of Monson; silver spoon holder, Miss Lizzie McManamy and brothers of Palmer; bed spread, Mrs. Joseph Locke of Monson; linen towels, Miss Nellie Dowd of Palmer; silver gravy ladle, Miss Kate McDonald of Palmer; linen towels, Mrs. William Nelson of Palmer.

Communion at the churches next Sunday.

There will be service as usual at the chapel on Park street next Sunday.

Mrs. F. N. Carpenter is visiting friends in in Warren.

May 29th will be observed as Parent's Day in all the schools of the town.

The school committee has re-elected W. H. Small superintendent of schools.

The selectmen have appointed O. W. Marcy a registrar of voters for three years.

J. K. Knox began Wednesday taking the of census of the school children of the town.

Thomas lodge of Masons will hold a regular communication next Monday evening.

Mrs. Baker of Boston has been the guest of Mrs. O. F. Benedict of Glendale for a week.

Mrs. U. G. Stowe, mother of the late Dr. Stowe, has returned to her home in Morrisville, N. H.

Miss Lelah Sharpe of LaClede, Mo., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Chapman.

Mrs. Cutting of New York is in town for the summer, and has rooms at G. H. Hastings's.

D. F. Holden has sold the Adelbert Maxwell place in Monson to M. L. Comstock of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Chandler leave next Tuesday for a visit of a month in Rockford and Chicago, Ill.

W. E. Macdonald is having his house wired for electric lights.

The high school will clear about $120 from its course of entertainments, which will go toward a school library.

The firemen were called out at 11 20 this forenoon for a fire in the woods near the farm of Judge Robinson, east of the village.

A fine crayon portrait of Rev. H. W. Pope, a former pastor of the church, has been hung in the vestry of the Congregational church.

The employes in the JOURNAL office have been feasting this week on some fine russet apples, thanks to O. F. Benedict of Glendale.

The number of books drawn from the public library last month was 1013, a daily average of 41. Of the total number 799 were fiction.

G. B. Kenerson is again confined to the house with his old enemy, rheumatism, and Mrs. Kenerson is suffering severely with the grippe.

B. C. Sumner will move his family to Northfield next week, where he will have charge of the farm of D. B. Wesson of Springfield.

At a meeting of the town and district superintendents to-day in Springfield, W. H. Small of Palmer opened the discussion on "Departmental Teaching."

A meeting of the teachers in grades 1 to 4 and the district teachers was held in Thorndike yesterday afternoon. The subject discussed was "Reading."

The regular monthly meeting of the Palmer Business and Social Club will be held this evening, when several applications for membership will be acted upon.

George Warner, conductor on the Ware River road, has bought Jacob Lacouline's house on Park street, and will move his family here from Barre soon.

Mrs. J. B. Shaw entertained the teachers in the primary department of the Congregational Sunday school at her home on West Main street Monday afternoon.

The high school graduation this year will be similar to those of the last two years; no essays by the graduates, but an address to them by some well known educator.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will preach in St Paul's Universalist church next Sunday, morning on "Universalism, its Message to Us Concerning the Value of the Holy Scripture."

Dr. Schneider, house physician of the Springfield hospital, who was to locate in Palmer this week, will not come until the 15th, as his successor at the hospital will not arrive until that date.

A ball game between the Palmer and Ware high school nine was to have been played on the park ground last Saturday afternoon, but was postponed until to-morrow on account of the rain.

Additional improvements have been made at the post office this week in the shape of fresh paper on the ceiling of the lobby, more paint, and a coat of varnish on the woodwork of the lock boxes.

Miss Lena Warriner was tendered a reception last evening upon her return from a vacation trip to Nashua, N. H. Music and whist were indulged in, and all present spent a very enjoyable evening.

New windows with large glass have been placed this week in the fronts of Provost's barber shop and the store of James B. Shaw. The interior of Mr. Shaw's store has been newly painted, and is now illuminated by electric lights.

Mrs. Joseph King left yesterday for Westerly, R. I., where she will reside in the future. Mrs. King's children are the sixth generation of the descendants of Col. King, one of the early settlers of Palmer, and their removal from town takes away the last of the King family.

Conductor Warner of the Ware River road had his hand pinched while coupling cars in the yard last Saturday afternoon, and a bad gash cut between his fingers, though the wound was not a serious one and he took his train north at night as usual.

At the annual meeting of the grand council of the Massachusetts Royal Arcanum in Boston last week Judge Robinson was re-elected delegate for two years to the supreme council, which meets this year at St. Louis the 15th of this month, and he expects now to attend.

A Palmer Center correspondent writes that robbing hen roosts may be an innocent amusement, but when the debris is used to defile drinking water and cast suspicion on a person four score and ten, deaf and nearly blind, it looks as if someone needed steady employment to keep them out of Satan's clutches.

Rufus Flynt's stable of Shetland ponies was increased by one Tuesday, a handsome brown filly being born in the morning. The animal is only 27 inches high, but is a lively little one, and excites the admiration of many visitors. Mr. Flynt is also caring for a lot of chickens which have been hatched in an incubator.

The school committee and the selectmen will meet the 11th to elect a member of the school committee to take the place of Mr. Deming, who has ceased to be a member of the board by reason of his failure to attend a meeting in a certain length of time prescribed by statute. As Mr. Deming was elected from Thorndike the new member will be chosen from that village.

The annual church meeting of the Universalist church was held last evening with a good attendance. The regular order of business was transacted, and George Robinson elected clerk. A letter of invitation to join in the evangelistic services to be held in the Congregational church was read. It was voted to hold regular meetings of the church the Thursday evening preceding each communion day.

A piano recital, given by Mrs. Auger and a portion of her pupils, will be held under the auspices of the Eaton Club in St. Paul's church next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Besides piano solos and duets there will be a trio of ladies' voices, a trio for flute, 'cello and piano, and songs by Miss Louise Dietrich, who sung with such success at the recent German concert in Springfield. Miss Dietrich is a pupil of Mrs. Severn, and contralto of the First Congregational church at Northampton.

At the meeting of the Quaboag Literary Circle Monday evening Miss Pierce read the Round Table, which had been prepared by Miss Holbrook, and Mrs. Auger read a well-digested essay on the "Roundheads and Cavaliers," bringing out in a remarkably clear manner the salient points of that interesting period of English history. At the close of the meeting the circle voted to adjourn until the first Friday in October, owing to the pressing engagements of many of its members in other lines during the summer months.

The annual May breakfast and dinner by the ladies of the Congregational church Wednesday was, as usual, a decided success, both in the way of good things to eat and in the financial results. The Lend-a-hand club enjoyed a large sale of its fancy and useful articles, and the net results of both the dining room and the fancy tables will be about $260. The ladies of the society published a cook book in connection with the breakfast, containing a large number of tried recipes contributed by the ladies of the town; not all of the books were sold, and copies can be obtained at the store of D. L. Bodfish.

The Massachusetts Association of Relief Officers will hold its May meeting in Palmer next Wednesday. The Palmer club has offered the association the use of its rooms, and after a dinner in the parlors of St. Paul's church, served by the Ladies' Society, the business session will be held in the club rooms at 1.30 in the afternoon. One of the designs of the organization is to require a thorough and uniform method of administration of public relief, and members are expected to present questions for discussion, and the one for this meeting is the following:

Julia Trumbull had a settlement in Charlestown in 1857. Married Francis J. Wright in 1857 who had a settlement in Marlboro. 1859 Wright went to sea, and returned to New Bedford 1875 a short while and then to Clinton, Mass., about 1875. Continued to reside there to death. Sept. 16, 1893, and taxes paid each year. Wright in 1884 married Susie Wilson in Worcester. Mrs. Susie Wright now in Clinton. Julia Trumbull Wright not hearing from her husband and supposing him dead married Leonard F. Hodgkiss in Charlestown in 1887. Continued to reside in Charlestown and Boston with husband, who has a settlement in Boston, going to Stoughton in 1892. Neither party secured a divorce before the second marriage. Where is Julia's settlement?

The prospect for some good horse racing at the fair of the agricultural society next September is excellent, and probably some of the best horses in the state will be seen on the local track then. Monson people have guaranteed two purses of $400 and $600, for 2.23 and free-for-all classes, and it is thought another of $600 for a 2.26 class can be assured. Palmer people have guaranteed a purse of $500 for a 2.19 class, and an attempt is also being made to have them guarantee $100 on a 2.45 class and $100 for colts three years old and under who have never made better time than 2.50, the agricultural society guaranteeing an amount for each of these classes. The large purses will of course attract a larger number of entries than Palmer has ever had before, and with the additional entries there will be little prospect of the guarantors being called on to make up any deficiency, as if ten horses are entered in any class the entrance fees pay the purse. As Palmer merchants will not like to be outdone by their Monson brethren, there is a strong likelihood that the society will be enabled to advertise $2500 in purses as the big attraction of its September fair.

Rev. A. M. Hills of Oberlin, O., will commence a series of evangelistic meetings in the Congregational church next Sunday evening. Mr. Hills is said to be a speaker of power, and is well indorsed by those who have been acquainted with his work. Among other things said of him are the following:

"So far as the sermons of Mr. Hills are concerned, I do not hesitate to say that they are equally powerful, if not more weighty and impressive than those of any evangelist I have heard. They are direct, simple, Biblical, pungent, profusely illustrated, and delivered with great earnestness without a scrap of paper."

James Brand.

"The Rev. A. M. Hills, who for some years has been giving a part of his time to evangelistic work, has now by the advice of many friends devoted himself entirely to that kind of service. We, the undersigned, desire to state that Mr. Hills has preached for nearly three weeks in connection with the Congregational churches of Oberlin, with marked success. His power as a preacher compares favorably with that of any evangelist we have heard; his sermons are direct, simple, Biblical, and presented with great power of persuasion; he is thoroughly educated, is a man of good judgment and unobjectional methods, is intensely evangelical, thoroughly consecrated to the work, and profoundly in earnest. Churches desiring an evangelist will do well to secure him."

Hon. James Mourse,
Prof. E. S. Bosworth,
Prof. A. H. Currier,
Henry M. Temey,
James Brand.

Mansfield, O., Dec. 20th, 1894.

"Rev. A. M. Hills has just closed a very successful series of evangelistic meetings in the Mayflower Congregational church, Mansfield, O. About 70 have professed conversion, 49 of whom have expressed a desire to unite with the Mayflower church, and a number more expect to unite with other churches in the city. My deacons, with myself, wish to express our high appreciation of Mr. Hills's work. He gave us a series of revival sermons which, for logic and forcible presentation of gospel truth, we have never heard surpassed, and we have listened to some of the ablest evangelists of the day."

R. H. Edmonds, Pastor.

The special meetings at Fremont, O., under Evangelist A. M. Hills, have been of marked interest and power.—The Advance.

It is expected that Mr. Charles L. Lowis, a singer of great power, will accompany Mr. Hills in his work in Palmer.

State Primary School Notes.

Miss Fannie Pearson of Springfield spent Tuesday with Miss F. J. Dyer.

Mrs. Evans and Dr. Drinkwater, members of the state board, spent Wednesday night at the school.

Dr. Prentiss of Boston, inspector of institutions, visited the school yesterday.

J. N. Lacey and wife of the Danvers hospital, made a visit to the school yesterday.

BONDSVILLE.

Harry Ryther has taken a position in the Boston Duck Co's. office.

Mrs. Will Watson of New Haven is visiting Mrs. Emma C. Russell.

W. S. Whiting has given up housekeeping, and will board with his sister.

N. S. Hubbard of Brimfield was the guest of his sister, Mrs. J. Fuller, Saturday.

Richie Russell of Indian Orchard has been visiting his father and mother this week.

Byron Thayer of Gilbertville has moved into the house vacated by W. S Whiting.

Two cases of scarlet fever in the Fitzpatrick family have been reported this week.

Junior League and Loyal Leigon had a social at the M. E. church Wednesday evening.

Mrs. E. J. Fuller was the guest of her brother, F. K. Rood, of Springfield, Thursday.

Patrick Moynahan is having an addition built on his house; R L. Bond is doing the work.

Lewis R. Holden has bought the Butler Sedgwick house, and will move there in two or three weeks.

Mrs. Mary Ormes and daughter Ethel, who have been visiting friends here, returned to their home in Brimfield Saturday.

Mrs. Richard Russell and her friend, Mrs. Watson, are spending a few days this week with Prof. J. B. Paige and wife of Amherst.

Charles Holden is home from the commercial college at Albany, and has his diploma. He will be clerk for his father, C. L. Holden.

The friends of Simon Moynahan will be pleased to hear that he is so far recovered that he will be at home in a few weeks from the hospital in Boston.

Court Bondsville, A. O. F. of A., have been holding a fair in Liberty Hall, commencing last Friday night, with an entertainment and dancing each evening. The fair will conclude to-morrow evening.

THREE RIVERS.

Tar walks are being laid about Mr. Newell's house.

Mrs. Hutchins of Somerville is visiting Rev. and Mrs. Butler.

R. C. Newell's house has been adorned with a new coat of paint.

Miss Louise Craiger was in Springfield visiting friends this week.

Miss Esther Tetford now claims Rockville, Ct., as her place of residence.

Miss Alice Sikes of Springfield was with her parents here over Sunday.

The third case of diphtheria in this village is in the family of Nelson Matte.

William Kuss has been laid up this week with a severe case of appendicitis.

Mrs. Belle Hawkins of Meriden, Ct., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Philo Talbert.

Miss Mary E. Cole is spending a two weeks' vacation with friends in Dover, N. H.

Mr. Casey will no longer come from Springfield to give instruction on the violin.

A large number from here took in the good time at Thorndike, Wednesday evening.

Loyal Percy of Bradford, N. H., is spending a few weeks with Rev. and Mrs Butler.

William Prairie attended the funeral of his mother at West Warren yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Desmarais, who is taking a course in New York, is stopping a few days with Dr. Bell.

About 25 from this place went to the high school entertainment at Palmer last Friday night.

Francis Roy, the barber, who came here a short time ago, has moved his family to Lowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Page have been spending the week in Southhampton, N. H., visiting relatives and friends.

Miss Jennie Roberts, who has been ill for a long while, went for treatment this week to a hospital in New York.

Mrs. Dalrymple and Mrs. Orrin Powell were baptized in the river back of Mr. Calkins's house last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. F. R. Burlingame and her two sons, of Springfield, spent a part of the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Story.

Complaints have been made by the inmates of the boarding house in regard to the stealing of their clothes hung out on the lines.

Mr. Michon, who has been in Newmarket, N. H., for about three months, was attending to some business in the village last Saturday.

Mr. Boissy's family is afflicted with diphtheria. One of the children died of pneumonia Wednesday; the one who has the diphtheria is improving.

Several young men of this place are investing in boats. No one doubts but what they are getting ready for those beautiful moonlight nights which are coming soon.

Emile Wylie, who went across the ocean last November to visit his relatives and friends in Paris and other parts of France, returned Tuesday evening from a pleasant journey.

Next Sunday morning there will be a union meeting in the Baptist church, when Rev. Mr. Hills will preach. This is the first of a series of revival meetings which are to be held here during the next few weeks.

One of Mr. Fillmore's horses made a reputation for himself yesterday morning by giving the villagers an opportunity of seeing a lively runaway. The rapidity with which he traversed the ground and the way he scattered the rising generation was a caution. No damage, except a broken wheel.

THORNDIKE.

William Gerald is away on a week's vacation.

Mrs. George D. Mooers has returned from her visit in Orange.

John Gay, Sr., who has been quite ill, is now able to be about again.

The King's Daughters will meet with Miss Marion Andrews this evening.

Miss Annie Ross of Northfield is visiting her aunt in town for a few days.

Dr. M. W. Roche of Baltimore, Md., is visiting in town with his parents.

The Thorndike base ball club will play at Wilbraham to-morrow afternoon.

Miss Maggie Longtine is able to be about again, having recovered from her illness.

H. A. Ringes of Elmira, N. Y., was the guest of friends here for a few days this week.

William McKenzie was called to Providence this week by the sudden illness of a relative.

Mrs. Newton of Putnam, Ct., spent Sunday in town as the guest of Mrs. Nathan Talmage.

James Entwell and Henry Gross of Lowell were in town during the week, returning on Tuesday.

Daniel Hartnett has returned to his home in Wallingford, Ct., after spending several days in town.

Cyril Lord, the well-known hunter and trapper, left here this week for Canada, where he is to remain.

The Columbian band has been engaged to furnish music for the Grand Army post of Palmer on Memorial Day.

The latest addition to the bicycle ranks are Miss Katie Murphy, Mrs. F. Furkey, D. Roberts, William Murphy.

The entertainment given by the Merry Six on Saturday evening was a decided success, and enjoyed by all present.

Albert Belaire and Miss Josephine Oulett were married on Sunday at St. Anne's church by Rev. Fr. Marchand.

Don't forget that the post office closes every evening at 8 o'clock excepting Friday and Saturday evenings, when it will remain open until 9.

Thomas Longtine and family are moving from Pine avenue to Church street, and will occupy the tenement recently occupied by John W. Fay.

The Columbian Orchestra will furnish music for the social hop after the musical on the 29th at Union Hall. Mr. Linnehan of Chicopee will prompt.

The scarlet fever and diphtheria which was prevalent in this place about a week ago has been nearly subdued, there being no new cases, and those now affected are on the road to recovery.

About a dozen persons in town who paid $2 each to organizers of the "Patriotic Catholic Americans" are wondering where their money has gone, and also if they will ever see the parties who were coming to organize a branch here.

Thomas J. Moran, who has been in the employ of the Metropolitan Insurance Co. for some time, has accepted a position as traveling salesman for the Springfield Brewing Company, and will commence work as soon as his insurance business is closed up, about the first June.

The May dinner and entertainment given by the ladies of the Congregational church was well patronized on Wednesday, and those who attended speak in the highest terms of the bountiful dinner which was served. The entertainment in the evening was well attended and much enjoyed.

The uniforms for the base ball club are to be made by S. B. Call of Springfield, and will be light gray with garnet trimmings, with the word "Thorndike" on the shield of the shirt. The league will open on the 18th between the Thorndikes and Palmers at the latter place, Ware at Warren, Bondsville at Gilbertville.

Mrs. John Barber, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Smith, on the Ware road, gave an enjoyable party to her friends and neighbors the other evening. Mrs. Barber, who is 78 years old, prepared the good things which were served for supper, and those present enjoyed a most pleasant time. Mrs. Barber has just completed a quilt which contains about 900 pieces, during the work in a manner which is beyond criticism for one of her years.

Death of an Old Resident.

Cornelius John Healey, the oldest Irish resident of this town, passed away at his home on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, at the ripe old age of 94, after being confined to his bed only about a week or so. Mr. Healey was born in Rothmore, County Kerry, Ireland, in 1801; he came to this country in 1860, and has lived here ever since. He was a descendant of Mr. C. Healey of Sheffield, Eng., a wealthy land owner, and told many interesting stories of war times in the "ould dart." Mr. Healey has enjoyed good health and has been able to work about his home until just before his illness. His eyesight and memory were excellent, and remained with him until the last. He had been employed by the Thorndike Co. several years ago as a gardener, at which he was considered an expert. His funeral took place on Tuesday morning from St. Mary's church, where a mass of requiem was offered for the deceased. The bearers were Cornelius Healey of Ware, John Healey of Boston, Cornelius Healey, John Timothy and Daniel Cummings of Thorndike. The funeral was largely attended.

MARRIED.

At Three Rivers, 28th ult., by Rev. Fr. Marchand, Albert Belare and Josephine Oulett, both of Thorndike.

DIED.

At Thorndike, 28th ult., Cornelius John Healey, 94.

At Monson, 4th ult., Lorana B., 75, wife of Andrew J. Robbins.

At Ludlow, 29th ult., Charles Greenhalge, 62.

At Holland, 5th ult., Mrs. Sarah A. Baker, 61, widow of Washington Marcy.

TO RENT.—House on Pleasant street. Carriages for sale. 5-1 MRS. H. W. MUNGER.

WANTED.—A girl for general housework. MRS. A. D. NORCROSS. Monson, Mass., May 2, 1895. 5-1

PIGS.—Seven very nice pigs now ready to be taken. Inquire at E. A. BUCK & CO'S. Hardware Store. 1-4

FOR SALE.—Second-hand ladies' and gent's bicycles. Some extra good bargains. KEENEY'S CYCLE AGENCY, Monson, Mass.

COLUMBIA BICYCLE for sale. '94 pattern, used but little, good as new; cheap for cash, or will be sold on installments. L. E. CHANDLER, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

BECAUSE of my contemplated removal to Springfield, I offer to rent the tenement occupied by me on School street. Also have for sale a good second-hand organ and cook stove, and new oil stoves. tf-4 E. J. WOOD, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—One Beebe speeding cart, has only been used a few times. Also one road cart, one good Phaeton, and one good cook stove. GEORGE P. BELL, M. D., tf-3 Three Rivers, Mass.

EGGS FOR SALE, from choice strains of White Wyandottes, Light Brahmas, S. C. White Leghorns, and Pekin Ducks. BEAVER BROOK POULTRY FARM, J. H. THAYER & SON, 5*3 Ware.

E. W. French, agent for the New Singer Mfg. Co., has opened an office in Palmer, with headquarters at the Weeks House, and is showing their latest productions for 1895 sewing machines, with three different machines for family use. tf-52 THE SINGER MFG. CO.

FOR SALE.—The store of the late E. G. Murdock in Thorndike, Mass., also dwelling corner of Commercial and High streets, and one on School street in said Thorndike. Must be sold to close estate. C. L. GARDNER, Adm. Jan. 21st, 1895. tf-43

ADOLPH MILLER, the tailor, whose store was burned in the recent fire in Monson, has established a new shop on Main street just below the Cushman Hotel. I have a new set of samples, and can make a handsome business suit from $18 to $20 and upwards. Good work and fine fit guaranteed. I also do repairing. ADOLPH MILLER, 3*4 Monson Mass.

MOTHER'S INDIAN BLOOD PURIFIER. For this purpose no better or safer medicine can be selected to purify, enrich and warm the blood, and tone up the system generally. It will speedily restore the system to health and vigor. It is composed of leaves, barks and roots, being one of the mildest and safest tonics known. Also agent for the National Remedy Co., and their wonderful Japanese Oil, known all over the world. Fresh roots and herbs can be found at the house at any time, Sold by H. S. McCOMBER, STATE AVE., P. O. Box 174 Palmer. MONSON, MASS. 3*3ks

DENTISTRY.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PALMER AND VICINITY: Having thoroughly equipped my new office with the most modern inventions and methods pertaining to dentistry, I am now prepared to meet the demands of the public in all the branches of the art. I have associated with me DR. O. P. ROLLER, a graduate in DENTAL SURGERY, who has made a specialty of crown and bridge work, all gold, porcelain, combination crown, etc. Gold, aluminum and artificial dentures of every description. The best of workmanship guaranteed. tf-2 DR. C. W. CROSS, PALMER, MASS.

DR. S. H. ELLERY, VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST. Graduate Chicago Veterinary College. Residence, Nassowanno House. Office and stable, Central street PALMER, MASS.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Manne Weinreich of New York City to Charles E. Dewey, dated April 4th, 1894, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Hampden, libro 517, folio 39, and by said Dewey duly assigned to me, will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on Saturday the eighteenth day of May, 1895, at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:—The house, barn, and lot of land situate on the southeasterly side of Central street in said Palmer, and bounded northwesterly about 100 feet by said street; northeasterly about 137 feet by the Memorial Hall lot; southeasterly about 100 feet by land of Clara B. Holbrook, and southwesterly partly by land of H. P. Holden and partly by land of Palmer Masonic Hall Association, in all about 137 feet, subject to right of adjoining owners in a passageway 10 feet wide over the southwesterly side of the premises, and to any and all aqueduct rights. And also subject to a mortgage of four thousand dollars and accrued interest due the Barre Savings Bank. $300 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale.

MARY A. HOLDEN, Assignee of Mortgage. By GARDNER & GARDNER, her Attorneys. Palmer, Mass., April 20th, 1895. 3-4

COLLECTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE FOR NON-PAYMENT OF TAXES.

The owners and occupants of the following described parcels of real estate situated in the town of Brimfield, county of Hampden and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the public are hereby notified that the taxes and assessments thereon severally assessed for the year hereinafter specified, according to the list committed to me as collector of taxes for said town by the Assessors of taxes and the legally constituted authorities remain unpaid, and that said parcels of real estate will be sold at public auction in front of the post office in said town of Brimfield, on Saturday, the eleventh day of May, 1895, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the payment of said taxes and assessments and all incidental charges and expenses unless the same shall have been previously paid.

JOHN A. ELLIOTT.

A tract of land containing about 160 acres, with the building thereon, situated on the Holland road, so called, bounded north by land of D. W. Foskett and one Lombard, east by land formerly owned by Green and Parker, south by land of Peter Moore, west by land of Thomas Harwood.
Taxes for 1894, - - - - $8.88.

ANDREW STONE.

A tract of land containing about 115 acres, with the buildings thereon, situate on the main road leading from Brimfield to Brookfield, bounded east by land of Thomas Morgan, south by land of William B'ashfield, and west by land of Elisha C. Marsh.
Taxes for 1894, - - - - $17.75.

JOSEPH ST. GEORGE.

A tract of land containing about ninety acres, with the buildings thereon, situated on the road leading to Warren, bounded west by land of Thomas Haley, north by land of Walter Putnam, east by land of Samuel Adams.
Taxes for 1894, - - - - $33.73.

AMOS B. MERRILL.

A tract of land containing about 141 acres, with the buildings thereon, situated on the main road leading from Palmer to West Brookfield, bounded north by land of A. W. Crossman, east by land of one Blodgett, and west by Chicopee river.
Taxes for 1894, - - - - $85.20.

Brimfield, Mass., April 13th, 1895.
3-3 W. J. EASTER, Collector.

Did you know the law is off on Trout Monday, April 1st, and that you can buy

RODS, LINES, FLIES, HOOKS, REELS, FLY BOOKS, ETC.,

At right prices and get a good assortment at the

DRUG STORE OF

LeGRO & LYNDE,

Next to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

BICYCLES

RAMBLERS, . .	$100.00
ENVOY, ...	75.00
FLEETWING (ladies) .	75 00
STORMER, . . .	60.00
CRAWFORD, . . .	50.00

All warranted fully. Sweaters and bicycle sundries for sale. Also have good wheels to rent.

ERNEST D. TUFTS,

Holden's Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

CHIN SING, CHINESE LAUNDRY, Main St., - Palmer.

LIST OF PRICES:

Shirts, - - - - -	10c
Cuffs, - - - - -	4c per pair
Collars, - - - - -	2c
Shirts Ironed, - - - -	8c

And other things in the same proportion. See my full price list.

SPRING CLOTHING!

NEW SPRING STYLES, Latest Colorings —AND— Novelties.

Extra large samples to select from. The most complete assortment, the finest, newest and most extensive in novelties and colorings. Fine Clay, English Wagners and Schnable's best makes, Bannuckburn Scotch goods in best patterns, fine French in newest makes and colors. Prices $20, 22, 24, 26, 27, 28, 30, 32, 33, 35 to 40. All goods and trimmings the very best ever offered in town for the money, and warranted. Terms Strictly Cash.

D. MULVIHILL, - Eager's Block.

ALLEN'S BEEF, WINE and IRON

Is one of the best spring tonics you can buy. Try it. Pint bottles for only 50 cents.

ALLEN'S CLIMAX COUGH CURE is just the article to have handy when you have a sudden cough these damp days of spring.

ALLEN'S FLORIDENA BALM is the best article ever invented for chapped hands, rough skin and pimples on the face and for burns. It is good for eczema, and will relieve the burning and irritating feeling at once which attends that affliction.

But with all your buying, don't forget to take home for household use THE ANTALGICA. It is good for so many things that you cannot afford to be without it.

Allen's New Drug Store, Holden's Block, Palmer.

CARRIAGES!!!

I have in stock a complete line of fine and medium grade Carriages.

Leather Top Carriages, for $60, 75, 100, 150, 300.
Open Buggies, for $40, 60, 75, 125, 150.
Second-Hand Carriages, $5, 10, 20, 40, 75.
Harnesses, $7.50, 9, 12, 15, 20.
DELIVERY WAGONS OF ALL KINDS.

W. H. SMITH, 2 PARK STREET, SPRINGFIELD.

NEW CASH STORE.

..H. W. SMITH, GROCER..

59 Main Street, Palmer.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS—HAMPDEN, ss. April 10, A. D. 1895.

By virtue of an execution, which, issued upon a judgment recovered in the District Court of Eastern Hampden on the second day of March, A. D. 1895, in favor of W. F. Fillmore and Charles Lamey, both of said Palmer, formerly copartners under the firm name of Fillmore & Lamey of Palmer, in said County, against Margaret Sullivan of Palmer, in said County, I have this day seized and taken all the right, title and interest in and to, and all the right in equity which the said Margaret Sullivan has in and to certain mortgaged real estate, situate in said Palmer, and bounded and described as follows, to wit:

A certain parcel of land situate in said Palmer, with the buildings thereon, and beginning at the westerly side of the road leading from Thorndike to Bondsvillage, so called, at a stake near a marked chestnut tree, thence running westerly by land of one Shearer, formerly owned by Louis Bume, about 16 rods to a stone set in the ground; thence northerly about ten rods by land of one Leonard and one Sikes to a stone set in the ground; thence easterly by land of said Leonard and Sikes about sixteen rods to a stone set in the ground; thence southerly by the road about ten rods to a place of beginning; containing one acre more or less. Also another tract of land situate in said Palmer, and beginning at the westerly side of the road leading from Thorndike to Bondsvillage, so called, at a stake near a marked chestnut tree; thence north 89° 30' W. by land supposed to belong now or formerly to Louis Bume 101¼ rods to a stake on the easterly line of land now or formerly of George Moore; thence by said land now or formerly of said Moore north 3° 25' W. 68¾ rods; thence on said land of said Moore north 81° 15' to 37 rods to within three rods of the road leading from Bondsvillage to Three Rivers, so called

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 3, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Miss Cannie B. Gates will be pleased to take orders for any kind of shopping in the city, for Tuesdays and Fridays. A book for orders will be at Miss Gavin's millinery rooms for the convenience of ladies in the south part of the town.

WATER WORKS COMPLETED.

The New System Tested Yesterday. Nine Miles of Pipe and a Fine Supply of Water.

Yesterday was a proud day for those who have worked so faithfully to bring about for Monson a system of water works which would be an adequate protection to the town in case of fire, and also supply the people with good water for all domestic purposes. And to the committee who worked out the scheme and procured the charter the board of, water commissioners, the superintendent and his able assistants, the contractor and his men is due all possible credit for the very satisfactory results which were witnessed yesterday when trial exhibitions were made. It was expected the first part of last week that this would come before that week passed, as everything was in readiness, but there was found to be so much gravel in the water that it was deemed unadvisable to do so until the water ran clear. The work of testing the hydrauts and the filling out of main pipes was done Wednesday and yesterday morning. Only two small leaks were found and one of those was due to a cracked pipe. The first exhibition was given at Cushman's mill at about 2 o'clock yesterday. It was not generally known that it was to happen, so only about a baker's dozen were present, including the JOURNAL'S representative. Chief Engineer David B. Needham was assisted by Thomas J. Sault, Joseph M. Fagan and Edward Donovan. Although there was considerable air in the pipe, and an inch and an eighth spray nozzle at the end of one hundred feet of hose was used, a stream of water was sent into the air higher than the mill, which is about 60 feet, and a stream was thrown straight ahead, nearly across the pond at its widest point. Later an exhibition was given at Memorial Hall, where Mr. Needham was assisted by Mr. Sault and R. Clifford Millar. There the stream of water reached the top of the tower. The firemen propose to have a parade on Memorial Day. They held a meeting for reorganization last evening and the following officers were chosen: Chemical No. 1.—Foreman, R. Clifford Miller; first assistant, Thomas Curley; second assistant, Fred Lull; clerk, George Seymour; Arthur Orcutt, John Crowley, Fred J. Flynt. Chemical No. 2—Foreman, David D. Meany; first assistant, George Phillips; second assistant, William A. Needham; clerk, Arthur Anderson; William Meacham, Jr., Patrick Duffey, George C. Flynt, James Hobart. Hook and ladder No. 1—Foreman, Herbert C. Norcross; first assistant, John Lyons; second assistant, Arthur D. Rood; clerk, Frank C. Clark: George L. Fuller, Cyrus B. Patrell, Bruno Ritter, Edward Murphy. Hose No. 1—Foreman, Eugene S. Howlett; first assistant, Charles Lyons; second assistant, John A. Sault; clerk, Thomas J. Sault; George W. Adams, Jerry Lyons, James McQuade, Edward J. Donovan. Hose No. 2—Foreman, Joseph M. Fagan; first assistant, Frank A. Bills; second assistant, Nelson A. Bugbee; clerk, Charles C. Keep; Charles H. Bruce, William H. Pease, Herbert M. Bacon, T. H. Keefe. Hose No. 3—Foreman, Hiram A. Fenton; first assistant, William L. Ricketts; second assistant, William Cantwell; clerk, Frank Entwistle; treasurer, Milton Brow; C. H. Needham, F. E. Wright, Charles Entwistle.

The burning of Central Block late in 1893 aroused the people of Monson to a knowledge that the town was utterly powerless in the face of a conflagration, and water works, which had been spoken of probably at every town meeting for a decade, were admitted by nearly all to be a necessity. Accordingly at a meeting held Feb. 10, 1894, a committee was chosen to consider the advisability, and the ways and means, and find a suitable location for a water supply. The committee consisted of the following influential public-spirited men, who have always been zealous in behalf of the town's welfare: R. Munn Reynolds, William N. Flynt, Edward F. Morris, Arthur D. Ellis, Edward E. Cushman, George H. Newton, Dr. George E. Fuller, Alvin A. Gage, Arthur D. Norcross and John Leahy. The committee engaged the services of Frank L. Fuller of Wellesley Hills, a well-known civil engineer, and after considerable prospecting decided upon the Callahan meadow, situated on the northerly side of the Sand-hill road, as the best location in town for a supply, as there was every reason to believe that there would be found an unlimited amount of most excellent water, a sample of which had been analyzed by the state board of health and pronounced unusually good. A charter was secured under Chapter 290, Acts of 1894, and a special town meeting was called May 17th, and there were about 400 present. After the committee had made its report, and speeches had been made by several other prominent men, a vote was taken to see if the town would accept the charter, the result being 348 for and 42 against. The committee chosen to look after the financial part, E. F. Morris, George H. Newton and Arthur D. Norcross, reported in favor of issuing bonds, and it was voted to do so. May 31st a board of water commissioners was chosen: R. M. Reynolds, one year; Edward F. Morris, two years; Arthur D. Norcross, three years. They organized with Arthur D. Norcross chairman and Edward F. Morris clerk. Mr. Fuller was retained as engineer to superintend the construction of the works; he has been assisted by Mr. Wilcox and Mr. C. N. Taylor; the latter has been in town since the first of September and will remain until every thing is full running order.

The commissioners purchased the Callahan meadow for $450. The contract for the pipes was given to the Warren Foundry and Machine Company of Phillipston, N. J. The contract for hauling from the cars and laying pipes and setting hydrants, gates, relief valves and other special castings, and the construction of the collecting well was given to E. E. Eglee of New York City; the contract for special castings to the Builder's Iron Foundry; service and valve boxes to Bingham & Taylor, and hydrants and valves to the Ludlow Valve Manufacturing Co. The labor has been performed almost exclusively by Italians, whose departure from our midst will not occasion particularly deep sorrow. Their quarters on the Wales road were visited frequently by the curious last summer. A frame building was constructed for their accommodation by the contractor. It had a door at either end opening into a space through the center On each side were two tiers of bunks. This was used nights, but besides this about twenty rude huts were built, the foundation being white birch saplings, with a covering of sod. Much of their cooking was done out of doors.

Work on the collecting well began about the middle of August, 1894, and was completed April 1. The well, circular in shape, is twenty-three feet deep, seventy-three feet in diameter at the top, sixty-eight feet at the bottom, and has a capacity of over 600 000 gallons. The wall is six feet thick at the bottom, two and one-half feet thick at the top, and is of stone surmounted by a cement rim two feet in height. Pipe laying was begun September 1st, and completed Jan. 1st. The pipes are of cast iron varying from 6 to 12 inches in diameter, capable of sustaining 300 pounds pressure to the square inch, and are covered with a coal pitch varnish. They are laid at a depth of 4 feet 9 inches from the top of the pipe to the surface of the ground. The seventy-seven hydrants are placed at regular intervals through the village on large stones, and the space around the base filled with small stones to give drainage. The pipe points are filled with lead and in some cases clamped and strapped together and varnished. There are seven relief valves, two blow-offs and forty-two gates.

The water as it leaves the well is carried by a 12-inch pipe through Conant's brook until it reaches Wales street; from there it follows the street to Main street and through Main street to the soldiers monument, where it is taken by a 10-inch pipe for a distance up North Main street, and up High street as far as Pleasant street. Bliss street is also supplied as far as Elm street by a 10-inch pipe, making about 15,950 feet of 12-inch pipe and 4500 feet of 10-inch. The streets supplied by an 8-inch pipe are Bridge, Elm, Mill, Green, Lincoln, Cushman, State, Washington, a part of North Main, High from Pleasant to Margaret, Mechanic, Chestnut, Cemetery from Margaret to Mechanic, Pleasant and Granite, and Flynt avenue, making a total of about 16,300 feet of that diameter. The streets supplied by a 6-inch pipe are Main from the Wales road south to branch road, Oak, Bliss from Elm, Hampden, East State, Pearl, Bank, Main from the turnout north, High from Margaret to Cemetery, Cemetery from Margaret west, and Hampden, Pease and Squier avenues, making about 10,450 feet of 6-inch pipe, in all about nine miles of pipe.

H. C. Norcross and Seth C. Bradway have been drawn as jurors.

The Current Events Club met with Mrs. W. E. Morse Wednesday.

The football team has a meeting in Memorial Hall this evening.

Wesley Grout has been very sick with heart trouble, but is now much better.

The Athletic Association of the Academy netted about $20 from their entertainment.

Owing to the prevalence of scarlet fever, Dr. George E. Fuller has given up his Southern trip.

There will be an important business meeting of the Methodist Y. P. S. C. E. one week from Monday night in the church vestry.

Miss Clara A. Wood, superintendent of schools, spoke at the superintendents' meeting in Springfield to-day on "Vertical Writing."

Marcus Keep post, G. A. R., meets Monday evening; Day Spring Lodge, F. and A. M., Tuesday evening, and Marcus Keep W. R. C. Wednesday evening next week.

Mrs. George Darling has presented to the Flynt Park museum fine specimens of loon and California quail, and Mrs. William Charles has presented a rare teapot of white china, with delicate green figures upon it.

At the annual meeting of the Monson Savings Bank Wednesday these officers were elected: President, Edward F. Morris; vice presidents, R. M. Reynolds and D. G. Potter; clerk, F. E. Morris; trustees, S. F. Cushman, R. M. Reynolds, E. F. Morris, D. G. Potter, F. E. Morris, A. D. Norcross, L. C. Flynt, G. W. Farrington, G. H. Foskit, P. W. Soule, F. W. Ellis, E. D. Cushman and C. M. Gage.

The Monson Sportmen's Club hold triweekly shoots, and some excellent scores are being made, eight and nine out of a possible ten. The pigeons used are the blue rock, the trap being screened, and the shooter, who stands 16 feet away, cannot tell in which direction the target will be thrown, as it is so arranged that it may go at any angle. The extreme height to which it may go is about 12 feet.

There was considerable excitement Tuesday afternoon on the part of those who saw the little son of William Bradway fall from a tree on the south boundary line of Edward D. Cushman's yard into the brook. The poor little fellow's head struck a stone and a deep gash was cut. He was carried senseless into the Monson House, and Dr. C. W. Jackson summoned. Fortunately, beyond the wound mentioned he was not hurt, and soon recovered sufficiently to walk home.

The commencement appointments in the graduating class at the Academy have been announced, as follows: Yaledictorian, Rosie G. Squier, who has the unusually high average of 97.34; salutatorian, Mabel F. Tucker, 96.92; James W. Chism of Westford, Ct., 95.73; Annie L. Rathbun, 95 61; Carl M. Blair of Warren, Constantine D. Stephanoff of Bulgaria, Elsie E. Bradway, Bridget T. McQuaid and George W. Brown of South Boston. The first three were chosen by rank, the second three were chosen by the class, and the last three by the faculty. The class numbers twenty-three, the largest for many years. Graduation occurs June 18.

WEST WARREN.

Miss Belle Cooley is stopping with friends in Ware.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Davis spent last Friday in Holyoke.

Mrs. Jennie Strickland of West Brookfield spent a few days here this week.

Miss Stella B. Watts of New London has recovered from a severe attack of the mumps and slow fever.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rycroft celebrate their silver wedding this evening. Friends are expected from abroad.

Cornelius Mahoney has moved from Warren, and will occupy the house on Main street, known as the George Allen cottage.

Policeman Willard Dawson finished his work for the public the first of May, and John T. O'Connor is expected to take his place.

LEGISLATIVE MATTERS.

BOSTON, May 1, 1895.

The House is going to stand by the old soldiers, but not by any means to the extent which was asked for by the petitioners for the so called veterans' preference bill. They wanted the soldiers given appointments without examination in preference to all others, no matter how competent they might be who passed examinations, no matter, also, how lacking the veterans might be in the qualifications. They also wanted it provided that no veteran should be liable to removal without a public hearing, and that no one should be transferred from one department of service to another. But the debate in the House showed that the common sense of the members would not indorse a proposition to give a compulsory appointment to a veteran who had not passed an examination (but had merely applied for the place) in preference to a competent applicant. The bill will apparently pass in some form, but so as to have some regard for the public as well as for the veterans. The singular thing about the debate, which had so much high and deserved praise for the men who sacrificed much and risked their lives for the country, was that it did not seem to recognize that there is any country now to which men owe service just as truly as they did in the days of the war. The observer could not help noticing that thoughts of patriotism in the present were wholly lost sight of in eulogy of the patriots of the past.

It is settled that the Holyoke police commission bill will become law, unless something very unexpected happens, but it has been amended so that the present commission shall not remain in office, unless Gov. Greenhalge reappoints them. This bill and that for Woburn having been passed this year, the question comes what city's turn will come next to be taken from the hands of its own people and put under the control of the state. Mr. Myers of Cambridge brought out the point that down to 1850 there was a state force to enforce state laws, and that constables had only limited powers. He regarded these bills as returning to pure democracy, that is, the enforcement of state laws by state officials. Landon

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

Ayer's Hygienic Coffee is the only drink that contains all the elements one's system requires. Grocers sell it.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A Cream of Tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength. —Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO.,

106 Wall St., N. Y.

TRILBY

If the name of one of our new Ladies' Low Shoes. Our assortment of Ladies' Low Shoes and Slippers is larger than ever, and this season we shall try to

OUTDO ALL OTHERS

by giving you a larger assortment to select from and having our prices so low no one can sell the same goods cheaper. Here are our prices for Low Shoes this season:

80c, $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2, $2.50.

We have a good assortment at all of these prices. Which will you buy? We are at your service.

GEO. L. FULLER,

Distributer of Fine Fitting Shoes.

MONSON, - - MASS.

Abjust Family Differences.

Bad temper is often merely bad digestion.

Many quarrels attributed to perverse dispositions are due to disordered livers.

Ripans Tabules adjusted family differences, and would prevent them, which is better, if taken in time.

Ripans Tabules, taken after meals, morning and evening, for a while, regulates the system and sweeten the temper.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 52-25

NOTICE is hereby given that the Board of Selectmen and School Committee will meet in the school committee room, high school building, Saturday, May 11th, at 1.30 p. m., to elect a member of the school committee to fill the vacancy existing.

Palmer, May 3d, 1895. 2-5

FORBES & WALLACE'S, SPRINGFIELD.

MIGHT AS WELL SAY IT!

We've bought too many high-priced imported capes; reckoned that more people would buy these topmost stylish things, than did.

Two ways open to us: Keep up the prices, sell as many as we can this season and carry the balance over, trusting to get cost for them next spring---that's the old way. The other---our way: Strip off the profits---cut the prices to the very narrow and let them all go at once.

And so you shall have capes made in the highest styles of the season.

At $20, imported to sell for $35.
At $25, imported to sell for $40.
At $33, imported to sell for $55.
At $35, imported to sell for $60.
At $42, imported to sell for $70.
At $50, imported to sell for $80.

A finer lot of garments to be sold so you couldn't imagine---but we needn't say even that. You wouldn't think of buying without seeing, and seeing is an easy matter.

Some of the capes:

At $20—Black ladies' cloth cape, inlaid with black satin, cut jet trimming, standing collar with turn down points.

At $20—Black ladies' cloth cape, with open work applique, brown and gold changeable lining showing through, silk ruching collar.

At $25—Black silk velvet cape, overcape of open work, applique vandyke pointed ladies' cloth, chiffon and velvet collar.

At $25—Black crepe silk cape, trimmed with cut jet, collar of chiffon and plaited satin ribbon, streamer of satin ribbon.

At $33—Black crepe chiffon cape, shirred stripe, cerise silk lining, making handsome effect, bows, collar and streamer of satin ribbon.

At $35—Fitted cape of black satin with lavender silk cape sleeves, topped with deep silk lace, trimmed with vandyke pointed cut jet, and silk lace.

At $42—Handsome cape—a rhapsody in black satin, silk lace, cardinal silk velvet and cut jet.

At $50—Fitted cape of fine English cloth with inlaid satin back and silk lace, trimmed with cut jet and handsome lace.

Those who read and act quickly shall be the winners. They deserve to be.

The sale will begin to-day.

FORBES & WALLACE.
Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

CHAMBER SETS.

The leading sets of the country. Nothing hereabouts to equal them. A car-load just placed on our floors.

See those at $15 and $16. At $21 and $25 we are selling regular $30 and $35 sets, in oak and curly birch—every set warranted. A grand opportunity to purchase.

Fourth floor.

FANCY ROCKERS.

Special bargain in this line that will interest you.

At $2.50
Solid Oak Arm Rocker, large and roomy.

At $2.75
Mahogany finish rocker, upholstered seats of silk brocatelles and tapestries.

At $3.00 and $3.50
Antique oak and mahogany finish arm rocker with saddle seat. Without arms in mahogany finish with silk brocatelle and tapestry seat.

At $3.75 $3.98 and $4.50
Oak curly birch and mahogany finish arm rockers, with cobble leather and saddle seat.

At $5.00
Highly polished oak rocker, with cobbler leather seat

At $5.75
Oak, curly birch, and mahogany finish rockers with cobbler and saddle seats.

At $7.50
Arm rockers in mahogany finish, upholstered seat of silk damask and wool tapestries.

Third floor.

STRAW MATTINGS

Going with a rush and new ones coming in constantly to supply the great demand—see those at 10c, 12½ and 15c a yard if you would secure the best on the market for the money.

Basement.

FANCY PILLOWS.

Twenty inches square covered in fancy sateens finished with five-inch double ruffle. Nine colorings. Price 50 cents.

Drapery Department.

Meekins, Packard & Co.
Springfield, Mass.

J. B. SHAW,
DRY GOODS,
PALMER, - MASS.

We are all through house cleaning, and with a store bright with paint and varnish, and filled with goods suited to the season, we respectfully ask for inspection and comparison of goods and prices.

It is almost marvelous what pretty Dress Goods a little money will purchase. In Wash Goods the the assortment is much the largest ever shown by us.

In Groceries we have a full line of Staple and Fancy Articles, with specialties each week.

J. B. SHAW,
GROCERIES,
PALMER, - MASS.

CHAIR BARGAINS.

Rattan Rockers, $3.28. Elegant goods, finished to the "Queen's Taste." Little better grade, $4.12

FINE LINE OF BABY CARRIAGES.
A HUNDRED DIFFERENT STYLES.

WE HAVE THIS WEEK A CARLOAD OF REFRIGERATORS.

KITCHEN DEPT. FULL OF BARGAINS. TERMS EASY.

We mention a few of our goods and prices. These we quote only as an index to the thousands of Bargains on hand:

An exceptionally prettily decorated Dinner Set, 112 pieces,	$7.86
Handsomely decorated Toilet Sets,	1.98
Novelty or Universal Wringer,	2.00
Copper Clad Wash Boiler,	.89
Nickle Tea Kettle,	.71
Nickle Alarm Clock,	.79
Coal Hod,	.16

Draperies, Carpets and Matting. | CREDIT GIVEN IF DESIRED. | Repairing and Upholstering.

E. LUTHER & CO.,
Main Street. SPRINGFIELD. Opp. Court Sq.

THE TIDE IS RISING.

The financial freeze-up of the past three years is thawed out by the pleasant smiles of those who buy to-day. Low prices and wonderful stocks of rich and stylish goods are having a splendid effect in bringing out the purse.

It is just this way we are creating a great stir in the trade, and in turn our customers are making the present season a busy one for us.

YOU WOULD NOT WONDER IF YOU COULD SEE OUR

VELVETS.

Black 27-inch velvets for capes—the two grades selling at $1.90 and $3.00 are special bargains.

In connection with velvet we offer a 40-inch black silk lining for capes.

Also changeable silk serge lining.

Black trimming velvets in all qualities from $1.00 to $4 38 per yard.

A complete assortment of colored velvets, black velveteens, colored velveteens.

WAISTS.

Ladies' shirt waists in percales, lawn, chambray, and Dimity with extra large sleeves laundered collar and cuffs—a large assortment of stripes, checks, figures and plain colors, all from the best manufacturers only. Shapes and styles correct, and prices, too. 75c, 87c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.38, $1.50 up to $3.50.

LINING DEPARTMENT.

Fast black cambrics. 5 cents per yard.
"Sterling" fast black cambric, 6 cents per yard.
Best kid finish cambrics, all shades, 4 cents a yard.
Colored silesias—and extra quality, at 15 cents per yard.
Black canvas 15 cents—a quality usually sold at 20 cents.
Black and white barred crinolines, 10 cents.
New spring colors in canvas—chocolates, straw, tans, and French gray, linen, check muslin, striped crinolines.
Light weight haircloth canvas.
"Sterling" rustly cambric.
Sterling moire silkalines, much used for petticoats.
"Po'ka Sorrento"—a new thing in black, and navy blue at 25 cents per yard.

FIBER CHAMOIS.

Black Silks,
Black Taffeta Silks,
Black Surah Silks,
Black Satin Duchesse,
Black Peau de Soie.

UMBRELLAS AND PARASOLS.

Selected, Natural and Dresden Ball Handles.

FIGURED DIMITIES.

Stock just replenished by another large lot of neat and dainty things.

We guarantee everything as represented.

W. D. KINSMAN, CORNER OF MAIN AND BRIDGE STREETS,
SPRINGFIELD, - - - MASS.

CALL

AND GET

A FRAGRANT SOUVENIR

FREE AT THE

. . . JEWELRY STORE OF . . .

G. A. MOORE,

Holden's Block, - Palmer, Mass.

FRESH

Milk and Cream.

MAPLE
LAWN
MILK
FARM.

O. D. WELLS, Proprietor.

THOMAS LODGE, F. AND A. M.

Regular communications of Thomas Lodge Monday evening, May 6th, at 7.30 o'clock.

BY ORDER OF THE W. M.

5-1 H. W. McGREGORY, Secretary.

DO YOU WANT A BICYCLE?

Take advantage of our wonderful offer. We are selling second-hand bicycles for $5 and up. Our store is attracting hosts of wide awake buyers. Where the crowd goes, that's the people's store. You can order by mail and feel secure.

G. M. Hendee, Springfield, Mass.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS IN THIS VICINITY FOR

TRUSSES.

WE CARRY A LARGE ASSORTMENT IN ALL THE SIZES OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF

Steel Spring Trusses,
Hard Rubber Trusses,
New York Elastic Trusses.

WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.

AT LEGRO & LYNDE'S.

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

PALMER
CASH TEA STORE.

THE PLACE TO BUY YOUR

Tea, Coffee, Spices and Crockery

Is at the Old Stand in the Cross Block. Bring in all your checks. Will deal square with all.

R. J. HENRY, CROSS BLOCK,
PALMER, MASS.

These bright, balmy days all long to get outdoors. You'll feel 50 per cent better in one of Haynes & Co's.

NEW SPRING SUITS.

They are slick, soft and stylish. Made with thoroughness and care. In harmony with the beauty of Spring.

FANCY SCOTCH SUITS.

It is difficult to talk about the Scotches without talking big. Don't like to shout too loud. But if there ever was excuse for noise, that same excuse is found in Haynes & Co's. Fancy Scotch Suits. They have every strong point a merchant is looking for for his trade—handsome, nobby, stylish, durable. And the styles are, above all, sensible and business-like. These please the young men to a T. The effects are English, you know. $12 to $16 does wonders. Young men find clever things quickly.

AND THE CHEVIOTS.

These rough-faced English Cheviot Sack Suits. These standard blues and blacks. Where'er they most abound you will observe men's taste most excellent. They're made and trimmed as well as custom clothing. The lining silk. The texture falls with favor on your eye. The prices are in favor with your purse. We do not need to win your trade with speech, or set a fustian eloquence on tongue. These goods speak for us, if you will but look. The best $18 and $20. Good ones $10.

NOW LET US LOOK TO THE CHILDREN.

A peep into the Children's Department delights the Mother and delights the Boy. Here's rough Suits, smooth Suits, Suits for rough usuage and Sunday school Suits. Suits of three pieces and two-piece Suits. And every suit taken we warrant to suit. If it doesn't, your money back and no questions. Two-piece Suits, $2 to $4. Three-piece Suits, $2.50 to $5. Combination Suits, $3.50 to $5. Odd Short Pants, 50c to $2.

Long Pant Suits $5 to $20. Odd Long Pants, $1.25 to $5.

Of Spring Topcoats a word. They are wonderfully neat. The short Covert Cloth Coats have made a hit. They're mighty neat, and stylish to a fad. And we never sold so many.

HAYNES & COMPANY,
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.,
CLOTHIERS, TAILORS, HATTERS AND FURNISHERS.

A 19 CENT SALE
At Hellyar's Bargain Store,
Caryl's Block, - On the Corner.

4 yards of Lining Cambric.
1½ yards of best Silicia.
2 yards of imitation Hair Cloth.
2 yards of Crinoline.
1½ yards of Canvas.
3 yards of Cross Bar Cambric.
5 yards of Apron Check Gingham.
2 yards of Dress Goods.
3 yards of Outing Flannel.
1½ yards Colored Canton Flannel.
1½ yards best Feather Ticking.
4 yards Lace Scrim.
¼ yard Silk Plush (all colors.)
4 doz. Dress Buttons.
8 doz. Hooks and Eyes (Kant Open.)
7 spools Black Silk.
4 spools Best Thread.
5 spools, 500 yards, Basting Thread.
1 bottle 25c Perfumery.
1 bottle Mitchell's Rose Cutilave.
13 yards Tom Thumb Ribbon.
4 yards Morai, Picot Edge Ribbon.
2 yards Wide Lace.
3 pair Dress Shields (warranted.)
2 pair Hose, ladies or children.
2 fine Huckabuck Towels.
4 yards Toweling, bleached or unbleached.
4 bunches of Envelopes, all sizes.
4 quires best Writing Paper.
1 White Apron.
1 black Shopping Bag.
2 Shoulder Shawls.
3 pair Gent's Hose.
10 yards Narrow Hamburg.
1½ skeins Germantown.
1 earthen Tea Pot.
1 large Yellow Bowl.
1 Drapery Pole and Trimmings.
10 papers of Pins.
4 doz. Lead Pencils.
2 Rope Halters.
1 Curry Comb and Brush.
2 Cuspidores.
5 bunches of Tacks.
4 bunches Toilet Paper.
1 Bean Pot.
2 yards Rug Fringe.
1 Wire Rat Trap.
4 yards Carpet Lining.

Any of the above ONLY 19 CENTS. This is the store for the economical buyers.

Best live Geese Feathers only 55c per lb.
White Bed Spreads 67 cents.
Laundered White or Colored Shirts, 47 cents.
Floor Oils Cloths, 23 cents per yard.
Slop Pails 25 cents.
Lanterns, 42 cents.
Curtains 23c, 31c, 36c, 37c, 50c each.
2 pair Men's Suspenders, 25c.
Custom Suits from $11 to $25.

REMEMBER THE PLACE,

HELLYAR'S BARGAIN STORE,
Caryl's Block, on the Corner,
PALMER, - MASS.

SALESMEN WANTED

To Solicit orders for Nursery Stock, Salary or Commission. Cash advanced for expenses, and outfit free. Experience not essential. Active, hard-working men can make good pay. The best of reference required.

THE R. G. CHASE CO.,
8-50 Malden, Mass.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,
OPTICIAN,
331 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial Eyes Furnished.
Occulists' Prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 26-51

W. E. STONE.

HOUSEKEEPING DEPARTMENT.

Agate Iron Ware.

Most durable of any, consequently the cheapest.

PRICES AGAIN REDUCED.

Agate Iron Teapots,	3 sizes.
Coffee Pots,	3 "
Preserve Kettles,	4 "
Sauce Pans,	6 "
Nickled Tea Kettles, best quality, full size only	$1.
" Tea Pots,	3 sizes.
" Coffee Pots,	3 "
Tin and Copper Wash Boilers,	all "
Wash Boards, Wash Tubs, Pails, Clothes Pins, Clothes Lines, Clothes Baskets, Mop Sticks and Brooms.
Yellow Mixing Bowls,	9 sizes.
" Nappies,	6 "
Rockingham Tea Pots,	4 "

Our 5 cent List
Now includes many articles that were formerly 10 cents.

Tin Wash Basins, 11½ inch—a rattler,	5c
Tea Strainers,	5c
Bowl " 5 in.,	5c
Bread and Biscuit Pans,	5c
Vegetable Sifters,	5c
Meat Forks,	5c
Iron Spoons, wood handles,	5c
Pudding Pans,	5c
Embossed Mugs,	5c
Kettle Covers,	5c
Toasters,	5c
Doughnut Cutters,	5c
Salt and Pepper Shakes,	5c
Glass Mugs,	5c
Goblets,	5c
Tumblers,	5c
Tooth Pick Holders,	5c
Cream Pitchers,	6c
Jelly Dish, fan pattern,	6c
Sugar Bowl, with cover,	9c
Butter Dish, " "	9c
Syrup Cup,	10c
Vinegar Cruets,	10c
Stew Pan and Cover,	10c
Tea and Coffee Pots,	10c
Cuspidores,	10c
Large Dippers,	9 and 10c
Cake Tins,	10c
Flour Sifters,	12c
Tea Kettles,	19c
Dish Drainers,	23c
Carpet Beaters,	10c
Dish Pans, large,	10c
Rinsing Pans, large,	23c
Tea and Coffee Pots, copper bottoms, 25 and	30c
Round Dinner Pails,	25c
Square " "	90c
Soap Savers,	10c
Egg Beaters,	15c
Chopping Knives,	15 and 33c

GROCERY DEPARTMENT.

Our Tea, Coffee and Spice Dep't.

Is one we give a great deal of attention. Its a trade plaster, i e—it draws.

Our Teas are very carefully selected from samples submitted by the largest importers. We carry a large assortment, ranging from 25c to $1 per pound. We will undertake to please the most fastidious in the Tea and Coffee question.

Something New for this section is a CEYLON TEA, of very delicate color, aroma and flavor, at $1.00 the pound. Requires less than half the quantity of other teas. This tea is grown on the Island of Ceylon, the land of big elephants. Try a quarter of a pound. You will find it an agreeable change.

Our "Paul Revere" brand of Coffee (red bags) is gaining many friends. 38c a pound. You will need to call here for it.

We have a pure Coffee at 25c a pound that gives good satisfaction.

We sell SLADE'S SPICES—They are absolutely pure and packages full weight.

Lively Things in the Grocery Dep't.

Kibbe's Mixed Candies, 2 pounds for 25c
" Peppermint Drops, 2 " " "
" Chocolate " 20c a pound

Dunham's Shredded Cocoanut, ¼, ½ and 1 pound packages.

Sugar Drip Syrup, 1 gallon, including jug, 40c, without jug, 25c.

Beardsley's Shredded Cod.

Plymouth Rock Gelatine, white and pink.

B. M. C. Best Flour. If you want cheap flour don't ask for this. Yet it is cheap, for you get many more loaves from a barrel of this than from the cheaper grades. So called cheap flour is usually dear in the end.

California Navel Oranges, 176 size, 35c a dozen.

Parlor Matches, Peacock Brand.

Acme Soap.

Large Prunes, 10c a pound.

Evaporated Apricots.

Oak Leaf Soap. See the handsome pictures in our window given away for wrappers. Call for premium list.

CARPET AND RENTING DEPARTMENTS.

From the importers we expect to receive this week a few rolls of very fine Straw Mattings. These mattings have a cotton warp, are desirable and handsome. Prices are way under city prices.

Oil Cloth Carpets.
Ingrain "
Hemp "
Carpet Linings.
Wool Fringes for Rugs.
Lace Curtains.
Extension Rods for Sash Curtains.
Drapery Poles.

We have the following Instruments to rent:
One new Upright Piano
One second-hand Upright.
One second-hand Organ.

W. E. STONE

Lawrence Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

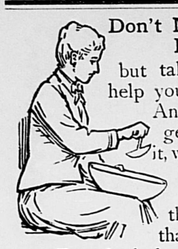
COAL. COAL. COAL.

Lehigh Stove,	one ton or more,	$6.00.	One-half ton, $3.15.
" Chestnut,	" " "	6.00.	" " 3.15.
" Egg,	" " "	5.50.
Lackawanna Stove,	" " "	5.75.	" " 3.00.
" Egg,	" " "	5.40.
" Grate,	" " "	5.40.

Reserving the right to advance prices at any time. Good men furnished to house and bin same, charging for their time only. All coal screened thoroughly. Any orders by mail or left at our office will receive prompt attention.

R. M. & THEO. REYNOLDS.

Monson, Mass., February 13, 1895.



Don't Mince Matters, but take all the help you can get. And you can get more of it, with Pearl-ine, than with anything else that's safe to use. Everybody knows about Pearline for washing clothes.

We talk more about that because of all the wear and tear and labor it saves, by doing away with that ruinous rub, rub, rub. But don't let its help stop there. With anything that will wash at all, Pearline will save you something in the washing. Dishes, paint, woodwork, marble, windows, carpets (without taking up), milk cans, silver, jewelry, etc.—these are only some of the things that are washed best with Pearline.

Beware of imitations. 356 JAMES PYLE, N.Y.

THAT'S QUEER!

You say a collar and cuff that are waterproof?

Yes.

And perspiration will not affect them?

Yes.

And when dirty you need only wipe them off with a wet cloth or sponge?

Yes.

Wonderful! How are they made?

A linen collar covered on both sides with waterproof "CELLULOID." Looks exactly like a linen collar.

Is it the only waterproof collar and cuff made?

No, but it is the only one made with the linen interlining and consequently the only one that can give entire satisfaction, because it is the best.

How can I know that I get the right kind?

Because every piece is stamped as follows:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

Inquire for that and refuse anything else, or you will be disappointed.

Suppose my dealer does not have them?

He probably has, but if not, send direct to us, enclosing amount. Collars 25c., Cuffs 50c. State size, and whether collar wanted is stand-up or turned-down.

THE CELLULOID COMPANY,
427-29 Broadway, NEW YORK.

A big bore is not invariably stupid. Notice, for instance, the arch expression which the Hoosac tunnel always wears. — Lowell Courier.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle.

Agreeably Surprised.

"I had a very severe cold on my lungs that caused much soreness and gave me considerable uneasiness in regard to the result," says Mr. T. E. Smith, of Billerica, Mass. "A local druggist called my attention to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and on his recommendation I gave the remedy a careful trial. The result surprised me; I recovered entirely in three days." 25 and 50 cent bottles.

It Did The Business.

Mr. J. H. Cobb, publisher of the Mirror, at Brockton, N. Y., says: "For nearly two years the Mirror has been publishing the advertisements of Chamberlain's Remedies. A few days ago the writer was suffering from a bowel trouble and resorted to an old remedy which did not prove efficacious; finally he tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and two doses did the business, checking it completely.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

From the Groton, Connecticut, Review.

David Lewis, who has been afflicted all winter by rheumatism, is out again and all due to one of the medicines advertised in our columns. After trying everything possible, he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which has relieved him of all pain, from which he was a constant sufferer and promises to make him fit for duty soon. We know David has been a great sufferer and are glad to see him around again.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

HORSE BLANKETS,

HORSE BLANKETS,

HORSE BLANKETS.

A FULL LINE OF

STABLE AND . . .

STREET BLANKETS

—AT—

WHOLESALE PRICES.

D. W. FOSKETT,

FOSKET'S MILLS.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.

Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

The Undertow.

You hadn't ought to blame a man fer things he hasn't done,
For books he hasn't written or fer fights he hasn't won;
The waters may look placid on the surface all aroun',
And yet there may be an undertow a-keeping of him down.

Since the days of Eve and Adam, when the fight of life began,
It ain't been safe, my bretheren, fer to lightly judge a man;
He may be tryin' faithful fer to make his life a go,
And yet his feet get tangled in the treacherous undertow.

He may not lack in learnin' and he may not want fer brains;
He may be always workin' with the patientest of pains,
And yet may go unrewarded, an', my friends, how can we know
What hights he might climbed up to but fer the undertow?

You've heard the Yankee story of the hen's nest with a hole,
An' how the hen kept layin' eggs with all her might an' soul,
Yet never got a settin', not a single egg, I trow;
That hen was simply kickin' 'gainst a hidden undertow.

There's holes in lots of hen's nests, an' you've got to peep below
To see the eggs a-rollin' where they hadn't ought to go.
Don't blame a man fer failin' to achieve a laurel crown
Until you're sure the undertow ain't draggin' of him down.

—Carrie Blake Morgan, in Eastport Sentinel.

Bunions' Pilgrim's Progress.

—Truth.

THEY MISSED THE CARS.

A cable train was moving east in Monroe street, Chicago, according to the usually truthful Record, and just before it reached Clark street a horse car, south-bound, crossed in front of it.

When the cable train stopped, a man with a valise jumped off and started on a run for the horse car, which by that time was about seventy-five feet away. Almost at the same moment a man without a valise jumped off a north bound horse car in Clark street, started on a run for the cable train, which had begun to move.

The two men ran wildly. One turned to the right and the other to the left, and they collided.

"Look out!" shouted one.

"Le' me past!' said the other.

Then one man dropped the valise and said: "Well, I'll swan."

The other had his mouth open and his eyes seemed to bulge out, but he extended his hand and then said with an effort: "Well, of—all—people."

They were cousins and hadn't seen each other for fifteen years, and neither knew that the other was in Chicago on the day of this meeting.

Both of them forgot all about the cars that had to be caught. They locked arms and went to a cigar-store together, and there the man with the valise told the story.

CONTINUED NEXT SUNDAY.

There is a young lady living out in the west end who teaches a class as a mission Sunday school in the suburbs. Each Sunday she encourages the children to be present on the following Sunday by giving them a hint in glowing terms of what the next lesson will be.

Last Sunday she told them that next Sunday's lesson would be about Lot's wife; how she was told to fly and not look behind her; how she disobeyed and looked over her shoulder, and how she was turned into a pillar of salt.

While the rest of the class was revolving the wonderful story in their minds in open-mouthed astonishment, there were two soiled fingers shaking violently over the heads of the balance, and when the young lady asked for the question the owner of the fingers exclaimed:

"Teacher, did they eat the salt?"

The young lady's forethought is the better part of her wisdom. She was puzzled only for a moment. She smiled upon the tot who had given her such a close call, and answered:

"Oh, you must come next Sunday and hear."—Cincinnati Tribune.

Day—"Marc Antony was a brave man to address the mob as 'friends, Romans, countrymen.'" Weeks—"Why so?" Day—"Pretty skittish business calling an angry mob 'countryman.'"—Kate Field's Washington.

"I've got an idea that my boy will be President some day."

"What makes you think so?"

"Why, when he ain't fishin', he's shootin' ducks!"—Atlanta Constitution.

FOR SPRING DEBILITY

there is no better remedy than Blood Wine. Nature and this great French Hospital remedy work together and cleanses the system of all the impurities which have been stored in the sluggish blood of winter. Starts one right at this season of the year and is absolute insurance against the many diseases which attacks the weakened constitution in the Spring of the year. Letters from over 2000 grateful New England people have been received at our office in one week. We know no other medicine has accomplished so much good in so short a time as this remedy.

TAKE BLOOD WINE.

Ware, Mass.

He Had Hip Disease

Seven Running Sores—Three Months in the Hospital

Took Hood's Sarsaparilla—Gave Up His Crutches—Perfectly Well.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I gladly state what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for our boy. About six years ago he fell down the cellar stairs. He did not seem to be much hurt at the time, but two or three weeks after, he began to have pains in his right knee so badly that we called a doctor and he

Termed the Trouble Rheumatism,

but his treatment did not seem to do the boy any good. He kept complaining more and we had several doctors treat him, but they did him no good, and his trouble continued to grow worse. He became so lame that he could not walk. A prominent physician in Boston was consulted and he termed the affliction contraction of the muscles. His treatment also failed. As his leg began to cramp up besides paining him severely in his knee, we took the boy to New York where he was examined by two physicians, and they pronounced it

A Case of Hip Disease.

We had a brace made to keep the leg from cramping, and upon the doctor's advice we again took him to Boston, this time to the Children's Hospital. He was there three months during which time they made an operation on his leg and did all they could for him, but they did not effect a cure. When we brought him home had seven running sores on his leg. He could not put his foot on the ground. At last we were advised to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. This was about a year ago. The boy seemed to gain after the first bottle and today he can walk, run and play as lively as any boy, the sores having all healed up, and he is

The Picture of Health.

He goes to school daily without the aid of crutches. I hope Hood's Sarsaparilla may be of as much benefit to others." JOHN C. BOYLE, 45 Water St., Ware, Mass.

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Mrs. Banks—"How do you manage to keep your cook?" Mrs. Brooks—"We keep the kerosene can hid."—Life.

Palpitation of the Heart

Shortness of Breath, Swelling of Legs and Feet.

"For about four years I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath and swelling of the legs and feet. At times I would faint. I was treated by the best physicians in Savannah, Ga., with no relief. I then tried various Springs without benefit. Finally, I tried also his Nerve and Liver Pills. After beginning to take them I felt better! I continued taking them and I am now in better health than for many years. Since my recovery I have gained fifty pounds in weight. I hope this statement may be of value to some poor sufferer."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

E. B. SUTTON, Ways Station, Ga.

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

VALUED ENDORSEMENT.

SCHAGHTICOKE, N. Y.—It is ignorance rather than anything else that makes life miserable, but ignorance of the value of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy does not exist in Schaghticoke to-day; as a blood medicine and nerve tonic it stands supreme. One of the principal reasons for its popularity comes from the great benefit our fellow townsman, Andrew Sipperley, derived from it use. Mr. Sipperley has suffered for years past with a chronic kidney trouble, frequent bilious attacks, and at intervals with violent neuralgia in the head and face. Up to last fall he rarely knew a well day. At that time his wife, who had learned of the good Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy had accomplished, determined to have him use it. In writing about his sickness Mr. Sipperley said:

"For several years I was subject to attacks of kidney trouble and gravel, which was attended with most excruciating pain, but since I began the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy I have had no serious trouble, and my general health is greatly improved. I know of a great many people about here who have used Favorite Remedy, and in every instance benefit has followed." One of the officers of the Albany N. Y. Hospital recently said, in speaking of Favorite Remedy: "I know of its great medical value, and to my knowledge it cures the disease for which it is prepared."

The great value of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy lies in the fact that it dissolves the excess of uric acid in the blood. Such ailments as rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness, and the sickness peculiar to women all come from this one cause. Favorite Remedy dissolves this acid, thus curing the disease. In case of scrofula, diabetes and Bright's disease, it has cured where other treatments have failed.

BE SURE YOU SEE THE

MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS

BEFORE PURCHASING ANY OTHER.

Illustrated Catalog Sent on Application,

J. M. Bruce, Agent for Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties.

394 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, C-

E. A. BUCK & CO.

BICYCLES FOR 1895.

STEARNS "Yellow Fellow." Ladies' and Gents' $100.

WARWICK "Crimson Rims." $80, $85, $100.

CRESCENTS $90, $75, $50, $40.

WINNEWOOD & TEMPLES $60.

We have full size in Ladies' and Gents' Wheels for $50, fully warranted.

BICYCLE REPAIRING.

We have secured the services of Alfred H. Stokes to take charge of this department. Mr. Stokes comes to us from the KEATING WHEEL CO. where he has had entire charge of their Repair Department.

He can save you money in repairs and suit you. Any kind of wheel repaired.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

SEEDS.

Garden Seeds, Grass Seeds, Flower Seeds, Seed Potatoes. We take great pains to suit you on this line. We think poor seeds are worthless at any price. See us before you buy.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Belcher & Taylor's Plows and Cultivators. Rough and Ready Wrought Iron Beam Plows. Planet, Jr. Horse Hoes and Cultivators. John Doud Wheel Harrows. Steel Road Scrapers. Spring Tooth Harrows. Lawn Mowers.

We shall carry a good line and solicit your trade.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

FISHING TACKLE.

TROUT FISHING SEASON is here, and we are prepared for it. Rods, Lines, Reels, Baskets, etc. Nice assortment. Fair prices.

E. A. Buck & Co., Palmer.

W. N. FLYNT & SONS'

SPRING STYLES IN

MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING

HAVE ARRIVED. GIVE THEM A CALL AND RECEIVE BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY THAN EVER BEFORE. BE SURE YOU GET A TRILBY HAT.

LATEST IN HATS AND CAPS FOR MEN AND BOYS AT

W. N. FLYNT & SONS,

MONSON, MASS.

AYER'S Hygienic Coffee.

A Health Drink, Nerve and Brain Food.

A vegetable and cereal compound; contains all the elements one's system requires.

Prepared by M. S. AYER, of Boston. A vegetarian of many years.

PRICE, 20 CENTS PER POUND.

Directions: Prepare the same as Coffee, using not more than two-thirds as much for the same amount of water, or one tablespoonful to a pint.

For sale by principal wholesale and retail grocers. Send 2c stamp for book on "Diet Reform."

M. S. AYER, 211 STATE ST., BOSTON.

DENTAL

Operations are usually painful; but at my office we excavate and Fill all Cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN.

Also, we do Crown and Bridge Work and make Artificial Teeth that are Satisfactory.

First Class Work at Reasonable Prices is our motto. Lady Attendant. Take Elevator.

DR. WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.
Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield, Mass.

THAT JOB OF PRINTING. There's no better place at which to get it done than the JOURNAL Office. Experienced workmen, skilled in every branch of the art.

S. H. HELLYAR'S

Fire Insurance Agency,

CARYL'S BLOCK,

PALMER, - - MASS.

I represent some of the largest companies, both stock and mutual, doing business in this state, and should be pleased to reckon you as one of my customers.

Will guarantee you security, promptness, economy, and a correctly written policy.

Thanking you for past favors, I am

Yours respectfully,

S. H. HELLYAR.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONEAT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

FISH BAIT FOR SALE,

CHARLES S. RUGGLES,

Three Rivers, - Mass.

The Land of "Pretty Soon."

I know of a land where the streets are paved
With the things which we meant to achieve.
It is walled with the money we meant to have saved,
And the pleasures for which we grieve.
The kind words unspoken, the promises broken,
And many a coveted boon
Are stowed away there in that land somewhere—
The land of "Pretty Soon."

There are uncut jewels of possible fame
Lying about in the dust,
And many a noble and lofty aim
Covered with mold and rust.
And oh! this place, while it seems so near,
Is farther away than the moon,
Though our purpose is fair, yet we never get there—
The land of "Pretty Soon."

The road that leads to that mystic land
Is strewn with pitiful wrecks,
And the ships that have sailed for its shining strand
Bear skeletons on their decks.
It is farther at noon than it was at dawn;
And farther at night than at noon;
O! let us beware of that land down there—
The land of "Pretty Soon."

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox in Health and Beauty.

In the Social Circle.

—Truth.

WHY HE REFUSED A PENSION.

There was in the city yesterday a stalwart old Vermonter who served through the war for the Union. He entered the ranks of a volunteer regiment in 1861, became a captain before the close of the first year of his service, fought in many battles, was wounded time and again, was thrice promoted for gallantry on the field, and was the colonel of his regiment when it was disbanded at the end of the war. Soon afterwards he went into business, made an unexpected success in it through his energy and perseverance, raised and trained a family, enjoyed life as the years passed, accumulated a fortune before he was 60, and has at last come to the conclusion that he will take things easy as the nurse of three lads so long as he lives.

"Do you draw a pension, colonel?" he was asked yesterday by one of the friends of his boyhood, whom he met in the city.

"A pension!" he replied, promptly. "No, sir, I wouldn't take it. The pension ought to be on the other side in my case, and I'd like to give a pension to the government, to which I owe everything, from my scars to my self-assertion. You know what a raw, timid, shambling, careless, useless weakling I was when I was a youngster, 40 years ago, up in the Green Mountain state. I was good for nothing, couldn't learn the tarde at which I was put, got only $2 a week with my board, which was mostly mush and maple molasses, and would have kept on in that way all my life. At Lincoln's first call for troops I got excited and joined the regiment, which was made up of Green Mountaineers. We wore the uniform and drilled and shouldered arms and fired our guns and waited for the rebles. I had to straighten up and keep step, and keep my eyes and ears open, and go through the drill, and obey orders, and live on rations, and sleep in a wooden barrack, and salute the colonel, besides lots of other things. In three months I had become a different Vermonter. I was quick as a flash and orderly as a martinet; I could shoot at a mark and hit it; our company was better drilled than any other in the regiment, and I was one of the best men in it. I had become a soldier, eager to fight for Vermont and the American Union. We were sent to the front. I marched like Napoleon Bonaparte or Ethan Allen, and was not afraid of old Jeff Davis or any other rebel in Dixie. We were sent to the front; we soon had a skirmish, in which I got that scar on my face, but I was out of the hospital in three days fuller of fight than ever. That made me a corporal, and I can tell you that I knew I was one. We had bigger battles after a while, and I had a hand in two of them. I had found out what war was. Before the end of the first year of service I was made captain of a company in place of a captain who had been shot. There was one scrap after another in one state or the other. There were hard duties, rough fare, long tramps, short encounters, dangerous raids, gruesome scenes, and all kinds of experiences in camp and field. I began to feel like a veteran of the Moscow campaign. I was hardened and bronzed, and held several bullets under the skin, two of which I carry in my pocket. It would be a long story, but I became colonel of the regiment and you wouldn't have known the trifling, shambling youngster who was your friend up in Vermont, when we were there together. After four years, when the enemy had been laid low, we were all mustered out of service, and I took hold of the first business that came to hand and had good luck in it, with vicissitudes.

"Take a pension from Uncle Sam for making a man of me! I wouldn't draw it. I owe our uncle of the starry flag everything I have in the world, and I'd like to pay him a pension. He drilled me and trained me, and put me in the way of evolution, and made me practical, and taught me the need of order, and gave me vigor, and gave me my keep while he was doing it, besides fair pay after I got up. If it hadn't been for him I might have been getting $6 a week by this time, in Vermont, with milk and maple molasses; but our old friend Tom, who didn't enter the army, is still scratching gravel for less than that. As for the disabled men of our regiment who need a pension from Uncle Sam, I am glad they got it."—New York Sun.

First Puritan—"They're going to burn a saint at the stake to-day" Second Puritan—"Holy smoke."—Syracuse Post.

The woman who is proud of her back hair does not require much urging to play on the piano.—Boston Transcript.

A chicken-hearted man never lays for his enemies.—Buffalo Courier.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY. }

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

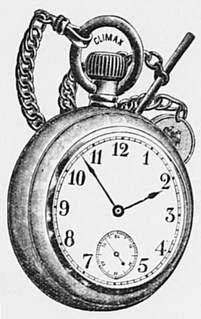
{SEAL} A. W. GLEASON
Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

CHARLES E. LYNCH.



FINE

Boys' Suit

WITH

Watch and Chain,

FOR

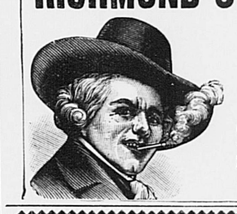
Five Dollars.

CHARLES E. LYNCH,

Promoter of Fashionable Clothing.

367 Main. SPRINGFIELD. 369 Main.

RICHMOND STRAIGHT CUT No. 1 CIGARETTES



MADE FROM THE BRIGHTEST, MOST DELICATELY FLAVORED AND HIGHEST COST GOLD LEAF GROWN IN VIRGINIA.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Who are willing to pay a little more than the price charged for ordinary trade cigarettes, will find this brand superior to all others.

ALLEN & GINTER, RICHMOND, VA.
THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., Successor.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

PURE

ARM AND HAMMER

BEWARE of imitation trade marks and labels.

is the whole story about

ARM AND HAMMER SODA

in packages. Costs no more than other package soda—never spoils flour—universally acknowledged purest in the world.

Made only by CHURCH & CO., New York. Sold by grocers everywhere.

Write for Arm and Hammer Book of valuable Recipes—FREE.

No Default of Principal or Interest

has ever occurred in a security sold by this company

MUNICIPAL BONDS.

The securities offered by this Company are selected with great care, and are first class investments for individual buyers, legatees, trustees, banks and savings banks. More than [redacted] FIFTY CLASSES OF BONDS have been sold by us in the last three years. Send for our list of bonds and make use of our experience.

German-American Investment Co.,
52 Wall Street, New York.

For Coughs, Colds, Asthma and Pulmonary Diseases.

A True Balsam.

Ely's Pineola will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. The annoying tickling and nervous irritation in the throat, producing hacking coughs is quickly relieved by it. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from the use of Pineola Balsam, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. The Pineola Balsam is pleasant to the taste, is soothing to the inflamed surface.

More lives are sacrificed by the neglect of "slight coughs" than can be estimated.

Price of Pineola Balsam, 25c per bottle. All druggists. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., New York.

USE BARNES' INK
A. S. BARNES & CO., 56 E. 10th St., N. Y.

DEAFNESS & HEAD NOISES CURED. My Tubular Cushions help when all else fails, as glasses help eyes. Whispers heard. No pain. Invisible. F. Hiscox, 853 B'way New York, sole depot. Send for book and proofs FREE.

THE HARDWARE DEALER.
A MAGAZINE brim full of practical ideas from hardware men. The cream of 1000 brains. 116 pages. Only $1.00 a year. Sample copy free. D. T. MALLET, Pub., 78 Reade St., New York.

VEGETABLE, PULMONARY, BALSAM. The old, well known cure, —for— Coughs, Colds and Consumption. "Best in the World." Originated by Lowe & Reed, 1826. CUTLER BROS. & CO., Boston. 50c., $1.00.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

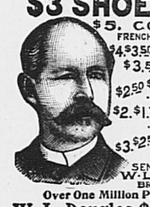
ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE
Use Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cures the worst Cough, Weak Lungs, Debility, Indigestion, Pain, Take in time. 50 cts.

HINDERCORNS. The only sure cure for Corns. Stops all pain. 15c. at Druggists, or HISCOX & Co., N. Y.

CALIFORNIA, OREGON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO, AND ALL WESTERN POINTS.
Select Excursions from Chicago Every Day,
Via Chicago, Union Pacific, and Northwestern Line.
SHORTEST ROUTE. LOWEST RATES.
For handsome illustrated folder and detailed information address W. MASSEY, N. E. Pass. Agt., or J. S. SMITH, Tray. Pass. Agt., Union Pacific Ry., 250 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

FOR ALL KINDS OF JOB PRINTING, CALL AT THE JOURNAL OFFICE.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE IS THE BEST.



$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF.
$4, $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO.
$3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES.
$2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S. EXTRA FINE.
$2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES.
LADIES. $3. $2.50 $2. $1.75
BEST DONGOLA.
SEND FOR CATALOGUE W. L. DOUGLAS. BROCKTON, MASS.

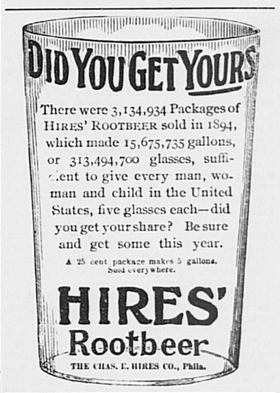
Over One Million People wear the

W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes

All our shoes are equally satisfactory

They give the best value for the money.
They equal custom shoes in style and fit.
Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed.
The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole
From $1 to $3 saved over other makes.
If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by

ED. GOODES, PALMER. 21-40



There were 3,134,934 Packages of HIRES' ROOTBEER sold in 1894, which made 15,675,735 gallons, or 313,494,700 glasses, sufficient to give every man, woman and child in the United States, five glasses each—did you get your share? Be sure and get some this year.

A 25 cent package makes 5 gallons. Sold everywhere.

HIRES' Rootbeer

THE CHAS. E. HIRES CO., Phila.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOOERS, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.
Trustees,

James B. Shaw,	E. G. Hastings,	C. H. Hobbs,
George Mooers,	R. C. Newell,	Geo. E. Buck,
H. G. Loomis,	F. E. Marcy,	A. L. Hills,
T. D. Potter,	H. Waid,	Wm. Holbrook,
H. P. Holden,	Wm. W. Leach,	C. F. Grosvenor,
Jas. S. Loomis,	C. L. Gardner,	H. W. McGregory

Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach. A. L. Hills.

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY AND MACHINE SHOP.

At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.

MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL JOBBING DONE

At short notice and reasonable prices.

52-35 R. B. FRANCIS.

"HE THAT WORKS EASILY WORKS SUCCESSFULLY." 'TIS VERY EASY TO CLEAN HOUSE WITH

SAPOLIO

45

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 10, 1895. NUMBER 6.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one-half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 30 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R. R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BOND, A. M., Manufacturer and Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, Tinware, Hardware, etc.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's.

WARE.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

PALMER LODGE, No. 190, I. O. O. F.
Meets every Wednesday evening in Commercial Block, Main street.
M. M. THOMAS, N. G. G. H. BRAY, Rec. Sec.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W.
Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in Grange Hall, Day's Block, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

GO TO THE

Palmer Bicycle Works

TO GET YOUR

WHEELS REPAIRED AND YOUR SPECIAL HANDLE BARS MADE.

LAWN MOWERS REPAIRED.

REMEMBER, FINE MACHINE WORK A SPECIALTY.

SPALDING and AMES WHEELS FOR SALE.

MURPHY BROS.,

CARYL'S BLOCK, - PALMER, MASS.

FINEST GROWN

FOR ALL KINDS OF JOB PRINTING CALL AT THE JOURNAL OFFICE.

Beyond the Shadow of all Doubt

THE GRANDEST BARGAINS

Ever Shown in Monson will be Offered To-night and Next Week

...AT THE... BOSTON STORE.

LADIES:

Our Waists have become TOWN TALK. Our second delivery is expected to Monson SATURDAY. Don't miss the full assortment this time.

LADIES' TIES.

Endless variety, - - At 25 cents.
Black and White Bows, - 10 cents Each.

Ladies' Ribbed Summer Vests,
Special in White and Cream, Two for 25 cents.

OUR 50 CENT CORSET HAS NO EQUAL.
DRAB. WHITE. GOLD. BLACK.

FOUR EXCEPTIONAL BARGAINS FOR MEN.

1st. Light Weight Summer Shirts, Yoke Back, - - 50c
2d. Men's Balbriggan Shirts and Drawers, good quality. Special price this week, - - - - 39c
3d. Men's Laundered Shirts with collar, - - 69c
4th. Our 25c Elastic Web Suspender, - - - 19c

T. H. TODD.

We have purchased a lot of Lackawanna Coal which we will have to take possibly the last of this month, and can make a very low price on it. Cannot duplicate less than twenty-five cents a ton higher. We offer it as follows if it can be delivered from the cars on arrival:

Lackawanna Chestnut, - - $4.80
" Stove, - - - 4.80
" Egg, - - - 4.60

Cannot offer Lehigh, above sizes, as low by forty cents a ton. All coal to be screened and delivered within a reasonable distance from either railroad, but coal must be ordered and delivered from cars at above prices. This is a bargain. Send in orders at once to secure it. Can get no more at these prices.

R. M. & THEO. REYNOLDS,
MONSON, - - MASS.

BE SURE YOU SEE THE
MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS
BEFORE PURCHASING ANY OTHER.
Illustrated Catalog Sent on Application.
J. M. Bruce, Agent for Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties.
394 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Lessons on the Violin or Piano.
Given by—
MISSES JULIA and LILY ALLEN.
3-42ks Cor. Church and Pleasant Sts., Palmer.

Wall Papers!

"Now is the winter of our discontent made glorious Springtime by this April Sun."

THE OLD CORNER WALL PAPER CO.
OF
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.,

Now offer you good Kitchen, Bedroom and Hallway papers at
5 cents per roll.

Good designs in floral papers, Vine patterns and scrolls in soft colors at 10 cents per roll.

Excellent gilt papers in dainty colors, pretty styles and choice white and blue, white and yellow and white and green colorings at 15 cents to 25 cents per roll.

Our immense price is marked at 1895 prices this year. That is at the bottom notch and must go up next year.

Send for samples (enclose 4 cents in stamps) or call at our enlarged show room at the old corner of State and Main Streets, AND LOOK!

The Old Corner Wall Paper Co.
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

POSTAL
Telegraph and Cable Co.
Office in Strong's Block,
PALMER, : : : : MASS.
Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the
UNITED STATES.
PROMPT SERVICE,
REASONABLE RATES,
ALL BUSINESS
STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads—west of Depot.

E. S. BRYANT, D. M. D.
DENTIST.
LYNDE'S BLOCK, - - PALMER.
Office Hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

If you are going to use any
WALL PAPER
this spring it will
PAY YOU
to look at our line and get
OUR PRICES.
We have our NEW STOCK all in and know we are very bottom on prices.
WE WILL UNDERSELL
any city in the state of Massachusetts.
LeGRO & LYNDE,
DRUGGISTS,
Next Door to Post Office, Palmer.

JUST ARRIVED.
A Full Line of
Grass Seed,
Seed Oats,
Seed Barley,
Seed Peas,
Ground Plaster.
BRADLEY'S X L Phosphate, Potato Manure and English Lawn Dressing.
Low Prices.
C. D. HOLBROOK.

....BICYCLES....
Keating, - - $100
Winnewood, $80, $60, $50, $40
A FIRST CLASS WHEEL FOR LITTLE MONEY.
A. E. FITCH,
BANK BLOCK, - - PALMER.

TO COLT OWNERS.

I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.

tf-3 Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Some of Cheney's Silks remain for to-day's trading.

Printed India Silks, 24-inch, black and light grounds, printed in stripes and figures, value 75c a yard,
Sale Price 37 1-2c a Yard.

Cheney's best grade Printed Indias that sell for a dollar,
Now 59c a Yard.
Court Square entrance.

Some bargains in Women's Dresses and Capes, from New York.

CARPETS.

Unprecedented business in this department keeps us hustling; carpet salesmen, carpet sewers and carpet layers are working as hard as they know how to fill orders. Compared with the present successful season, other years dwindle into significance. We are doing everything except the impossible to satisfy our customers, and our resources are not yet exhausted.

We can do your Carpet work for you, and do it to your satisfaction.
Fourth floor, take elevator.

DESIRABLE DRESS STUFFS.

Nothing escapes the price-changes—that are keeping the goods on a constant move.

Every piece this season's product—but now its time they ought to be cut into dresses.

These prices will help to that end:

40-inch All-Wool Novelty Suitings, 15 choice and desirable colorings, a bargain at 75c. Our price 50c.

38-inch Figured Mohair, 6 new and stylish designs, At 39c.

Exceptional value in a 35 inch All-Wool Serge, 20 desirable colors, At 25c.

46-inch Fancy Checks, 5 stylish patterns, At 75c.
Rear of main store.

SMITH & MURRAY.

COAL, BALED HAY, STRAW.

Lehigh Chestnut Coal	$6.00
" Stove "	6.00
" Egg "	5.50
Half ton lot of Stove and Chestnut Coal	3.15
Lackawanna Stove Coal	5.75
Half ton " "	3.00
Lackawanna Egg Coal	5.40

No. 1 Baled Hay,	15.00 per ton
Stock Hay,	13.00 " "
Baled Hay,	14.00 " "

SPECIAL PRICES ON CAR LOAD LOTS.

RALPH CLIFFORD,
Rear of Monson House, - Monson, Mass.

CHARLES E. LYNCH.

LYNCH'S SPRING SUITS.

These warm days have started LYNCH'S Suits "humping," as the boys say. We thought we did big things last year. It's nothing to what we're doing this year, to what we're going to do. We have the slickest, most sightly Suits ever seen in and around Springfield. We know it. More than that. They're made to fit and to be shapely, and they are. Better clothing is not made. Handsomer Suits cannot be seen anywhere.

The leader is $8. None of your trash in Satinette or what not. An all-wool Suit, guaranteed fast color. There's no profit in leaders. There never is. There's a lot of service and wear for the wearer, though. LYNCH'S leader will wear better and longer than any leaders hereabouts.

Then there's the $10 grade. A fine line of Cheviots, Serges, Worsteds in plain and fancy colors. Good Suits, as good as $15 Suits used to be.

At $12. An excellent Clay Suit—well and strongly made. Everybody knows what a Clay is. The new tariff has made this possible. It's a great value.

At $15 is an assortment of elegant stripes, hair lines, mixtures and fancy effects. They'd sell for $18 and $20 just as well as for $15. It's a pleasure, though, to surprise our patrons, and please them too. These suits are bound to do that.

At $18 to $25. A magnificent variety of fine Suitings in choice imported fabrics. Suits that fit as if you were poured into them. They're slick about the collar, snug across the chest, symmetrical in the skirts. They stay in shape whether they are buttoned or unbuttoned. There isn't a point of excellence you can wish for that you will not find in them. Ask a tailor what they will cost to make. If he tells you $30 or $40, don't be surprised, only don't expect such a Suit, though. You won't get it.

The ENGLISH WALKING SUIT is an artistic creation in a Spring Suit. It is made in mixtures and fancies. It's a Suit that a banker, lawyer, physician or journalist should wear. It ranges in price from $18 to $25. No $45 or $50 Custom Suit can compare with it. It's most gentlemanly and fashionable, too.

CHARLES E. LYNCH,
Promoter of Fashionable Clothing.
367 Main. SPRINGFIELD. 369 Main.
Your money refunded in case of any dissatisfaction whatever.

My Childhood's Sunday.

My great-great-great-great-grandfather,
Whose heart through mine is beating,
Believed—good Puritan!—'twas sin
Of sins to stay from meeting.
On each Lord's day they gathered twice,
A patient congregation,
And heard two long discourses through
As food for meditation.
But oh, what rest from Saturday,
How brisk a start for Monday,
Those old Pilgrim fathers had
With their old-fashioned Sunday!

"A vanished day," you say; and yet
Fond memory's tears bedew it,
For in my old New England home,
A child, how well I knew it!
It colored all my early thoughts,
My life was built upon it;
I always said "my Sunday gown,"
"My go-to-meeting bonnet."
Mere common, bustling work days
Were Saturday and Monday;
But oh, my very best belonged
To that old-fashioned Sunday.

Once more the great, green, box-like pew
Its high wall round me closes;
I sit, a nosegay on my breast—
How sweet the damask roses!
I softly wave my painted fan,
And, by my side, my mother
Meets mine with look, half smile, half prayer,
More sweet than any other.
I loved the strolls of Sunday,
The merry romps of Monday;
But oh, I felt the holy charm
Of that old-fashioned Sunday.

They haunt me still, the many texts
And hymns I then committed,
And never knew in learning them
That I was to be pitied.
Time changes all; yet we would trust
Through change the world grows better;
But oh, to the remembered past
How much I feel a debtor!
And oh, how hopeless Saturday,
And wearisome were Monday,
Without the quiet rest between
Of my old-fashioned Sunday!

—Marion Douglas, in the Independent.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS.

When Saturday was over and Mr. and Mrs. Vranklin were alone by themselves in the clean kitchen, sitting beside the stove, Mrs. Vranklin arose, went into her bedroom and brought out a bundle of clothes.

"I want you to look at these things, Jeremiah," she said mildly.

"What are they?" said he.

She spread them out on the floor.

"That is my best dress," she said. "Those are my best shoes. That is the only bonnet I've got in the world but my calico sun-bonnet, and that is my Sunday shawl."

She uttered the words quietly and waited.

"Well," said Mr. Vranklin, still smoking.

"Well?" she answered.

He said nothing. She gathered up the garments with a look of disdain and piled them on a chair.

"You're a rich man," she said. "Rich, for a farmer. You are 60 and I 50 years old. Our boys are married. I haven't had any money to spend for five years. I'm a sight to behold. If I were a servant I should get wages and not have to beg. No, I do'nt beg, Jeremiah. Since you don't offer it yourself, I'm going to tell you that I want money. I want $100 to buy some new clothes to feel decent and comfortable in. I'm destitute. Why, I'm out of flannels! My calico gowns are patched at the elbow. My shoe heels are twisted. I can't go to church any more, for I've turned my black silk twice and the back breadths upside down. I've washed my bonnet ribbons. Well, I've done all I could rather than ask for what you didn't offer, and there's no need. You're well to do. I want to be decent and take a little comfort while I can. I must. There now! It's my right!"

She had spoken her mind and Mr. Vranklin had felt that a climax had arrived. He had "laid by" a large sum. He was growing old, and had no need to pinch, but the awful demand for $100 all in a lump was too much for him.

He had become used to Eva Maria's quiet way of mending her own clothes and asking for no money, and it had never occurred to him that she would come down upon him like this at some time.

He stared silently and puffed across the stove the smoke of the cheap tobacco he burnt in a common corn-cob pipe. The old rag-carpet was clean. The old chairs were mended with carpet bottoms. It was all tidy but nothing was new. Nothing pretty but the scarlet geraniums in their big pots on the window-sill. He had given his wife very little in their 30 years of married life; for all the furniture was his mother's, and she had helped him make his fortune, selling butter and eggs and pot-cheese and flower-root, feeding the hands cheaply and well, weeding vegetables and even riding the mowing machine, now and then—though not very lately. Conscience told him that he ought to pull from his vest pocket the crisp $100 note he had received that morning for some hay at the landing, and say: "Here, Eva Maria, why didn't you speak before?" But when greed takes possession of the heart of man it holds on like a leech. All he said, after the silence had remained unbroken for some minutes, was:—

"Well, Eva Maria, I'll think it over."

To some women there is no agony like asking a husband for money.

While some are always crying:—"Give! Give!" never content, never reasonable, others will go with ragged shoes until the masculine eyes discover the fact.

They want a love gift, not alms. Generally they have to ask at last.

The happy wife feels no such tribulations. "All that is mine is thine," has been said to her by word and deed, too often, but where doubt of love lies the heart grows proud.

Eva Maria had nerved herself at last in the misery of her shabbiness to make the speech above recorded, but it seemed a fearful thing to do. She little guessed that she had frightened Jeremiah almost out of his senses.

"A hundred dollars," he said to himself. "She must know what I have about me. She must mean to have it. Fifty now, I'd give. But a hundred! I'll get the money changed and give her fifty."

He opened the door of the passage, crossed it and went into the parlor. It was a cold, neat place, kept sacred for great occasions. It had a grate in it, but it was doubtful if a fire would be lighted there that winter. It had been inconvenient to take it down that summer, so fringed, pink paper had been arranged between the polished bars and the rug drawn across the hearth. Photographs of several members of the family hung by red cords from the wall, dotted muslin curtains with neatly fluted ruffles covered the green paper blinds. A dish of wax fruit, covered by a glass shade, ornamented the center-table, and the horse hair furniture had been so little used in two generations that it looked almost new. The vases on the mantel were old-fashioned blue ware, for which a china worshiper would have paid a great price. They had been brought from Canton by a sailor grand-uncle, long since dead, though he lived to see 99 years. Between the windows was a "column" looking-glass in which Mr. Vranklin's grandmother had seen her girlish face in an immense white silk poke-bonnet, still preserved in a "band-box" up garret.

A little moonlight stole through the lower panes of the room and made all things quite plain to the owner's accustomed eyes. He tried to think in a hurry, and being a slow man, grew very much confused.

Eva Maria should have $50, but she had said she had a right to a hundred. If he gave her the bill in his pocket, she would spend it. It was Saturday evening, he could not get it changed that evening—no, not until Monday. If he locked it up, she would know and take it out, perhaps, and do as she pleased with it. She had declared her "right" to it. Eva Maria, humblest of the humble, meekest of the meek, had spoken so! Could it be?

"This comes of these here strong-minded meetings," said Mr. Vranklin.

This was not logical, for Mrs. Vranklin had not attended one.

"Women used to be bidable. They are kicking over the traces now. Nobody—" soliloquized Mr. Vranklin, growing more and more ungrammatical with his wrath—"nobody ain't goin' to ride over me, 'specially a wife of mine. I must hide the money until I can change it. She might look into my pockets. She said she had a right to it, and she looked determined."

At this moment he heard a movement in the kitchen. He believed it to be his wife, about to come in search of him, and tried to think faster.

The vases! Should he hide the note there! No; there were still some asters in the garden, and Eva Maria might fill the vases with bouquets, as she sometimes did on Sunday afternoon, setting them for the nonce on the kitchen mantel. No, the vases would not do. The ingrain carpet was tacked down tight, the—surely there was a step in the passage! The grate! There under the hanged paper, it might lay safely all night.

He drew his pocket book from his bosom and stuffed it between two loose bricks at the back of the grate. The pink fringes of the paper concealed it. All was safe. He creaked across the passage into the kitchen with a consciousness of great meanness in his heart. Mrs. Vranklin, having executed her terrible intention, had taken flight to her bedroom, where she sat in the cold with a little shawl over her shoulders, trembling. He said something aloud about seeing Jones about those pigs and fled the house, and the two held no more conversation until breakfast time. Then Mr. Vranklin, with unusual piety went to church, while his wife stayed at home to cook the dinner, no one else being at hand to do it.

Just as the beef was so far done that she could open the oven door, there came a knock upon the door, and opening it she saw upon the porch her Cousin Brown and the minister. Church was out, and Cousin Brown had brought the reverend gentleman to his friends to dine. Mrs. Vranklin received both hospitably, and hastened to usher them into the parlor. The yellow artemisias shone bravely in the big blue vases. Mr. Vranklin had been wise not to hide his money there, but it was cold—very cold.

"I'll light a fire," said the good woman. "It won't take a minute. It's the first fire of the season, or I'd have the grate fixed."

She tucked the paper down into the grate, the easiest way to be rid of it, piled on the wood and placed the scuttle ready. As she struck the match, she gave a little cry, and repressed it instantly. The flames blazed up merrily and roared behind the blower.

When Mr. Vranklin returned, the blower was down, and the two men were warming their feet at a compact mass of red coal.

He looked at his Eva Maria. Her cold, composed, New England face, with its high nose and close-shut mouth betrayed no emotion.

"She don't know what she has done," he said to himself, but he did.

The ghost of that hundred dollars stared at him from the embers. He could not compose himself. Cousin Brown opined he was not well. The minister remarked "that in the midst of life we are in death," and seemed to prophesy his funeral. It was not a gay dinner, but then it was Sunday. That night Mrs. Vranklin missed her spouse from his bed. She went to look for him and found him poking in the ashes of the dead fire with the tongs. He looked up with a very red face.

"I don't think these here coals kin be good," he said confusedly.

"Did you get up in the night to look at them?" she asked.

He made no answer and returned to bed.

Next morning his wife again attacked him.

"Have you thought that matter over?" she asked.

Indeed he had, and it had occurred to him Providence had prepared a special judgment for him in destroying that money. He felt that his wife had spoken the truth. She had a right to decent clothes. She who had served him so well for so many years.

"I've thought it over, Eva Maria," he said, and arose and went to his desk, a queer old-fashioned one built in the house wall. When he returned, he brought with him a blank check.

"Get what you like, my dear," he said, "and get it nice. Fill the check up just as you please."

He had not called her "my dear" for years. She smiled up at him very gently; tears were near her eyes.

However, she used the check to dress herself comfortably. It was the first time for many years that she had indulged in the luxury of shopping freely.

At night, he met her at the depot, loaded with parcels, tired, but smiling. He had not seen her so bright for many a day.

After tea that night they sat together beside the stove as before, and she looked at him in a peculiar way.

"You didn't seem to feel cheerful Sunday afternoon, Jeremiah," she remarked. "What ailed you?"

"I don't want to tell you," he answered.

"But I'll tell you," she said. "You thought I burned the pocket-book you hid in the grate. I didn't."

She put her hand into her work-basket and drew it out intact, with the money in it.

"I was just in time," she said. "But I understood at once when I saw it sticking between the bricks. If you hadn't given me the check, I should have spent the money. There's a confession for you, Jeremiah."

He looked at her, half angry, half astonished. She arose and came to him and put her hand on his shoulders.

"But I should never have enjoyed wearing them," she said. "I should have hated them, I think. These that I bought to-day, with your free gift, I shall love while there's a rag of them left."

The man looked at her with a feeling that a strange revelation of feminine human nature had been made to him, but all he said was:—

"Why, Eva Maria, I want to know!" and he drew her down upon his knee and kissed her.—Mary Kyle Dallas, in New York Ledger.

THE MINISTER'S DESIRE.—"And now, brethren and sisters," said Rev. Mr. Wilgus at the close of his sermon on fads, "we have had so violent attacks of the Trilby fad and the Napoleon fad, that I have hopes before I die of yet seeing a Bible fad started in this congregation."

And with a sigh the good man sat down, while the choir rendered the latest adaptation from Wagner.—Indianapolis Journal.

"Do you know what a straddle is, Miss Bloomer?" said young Margin, who was explaining the slang of the stock market.

"I should smile," said the young lady. "I ride a bicycle," and Margin collapsed.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Gone Before.

One sweet flower has drooped and faded,
One sweet infant voice has fled,
One fair brow the grave has shaded,
One dear baby now is dead.

He has gone to Heaven before us,
But he turns and waves his hand,
Pointing to the glories o'er us
In that happy spirit land.

But we feel no thought of sadness,
For our baby's happy now;
He has knelt in heartfelt gladness
Where the happy angels bow.

COSTS IN A CASE.

An amusing scene was recently enacted in a court-room in a small country town. The magistrate, a high pompous official, with a voice like a trombone, took it upon himself to examine a witness—a little, withered old man, whose face was as red and wrinkled as a smoked herring.

"What is your name!" asked the justice.

"Why, squire," said the astonished witness, "you know my name as well as I know your'n."

"Never you mind what I know or what I don't know," was the caution given with magisterial severity. "I ask you the question in my official capacity, and you're bound to answer it under oath."

With a contemptuous snort, the witness gave his name, and the questions proceeded.

"Where do you live?"

"Well, I declare!" ejaculated the old man. "Why," he continued, appealing to the laughing listeners, "I've lived in this town all my life, and so's he," pointing to the justice, "and to hear him go on you'd think——"

"Silence!" thundered the irate magistrate. "Answer my question, or I'll fine you for contempt of court."

Alarmed by the threat, the witness named his place of residence, and the examination went on.

"What is your occupation?"

"Huh?"

"What do you do for a living?"

"Oh, get out, squire. Just as if you didn't know that I tend gardens in the summer season, an' sell coals in the winter!"

"As a private citizen I know it, but as the court I know nothing about you!" exclaimed the perspiring justice.

"Well, squire," remarked the puzzled witness, "if you know somethin' outside of the room, an' don't know nothin' in it, you'd better get out, an' let somebody try this case that's got some sense."

The advice may have been well meant, but it cost the witness ten dollars.—The Advance.

JES' WANTED T' KNOW.

A white-eyed black woman went into a Griffin dry goods store and asked:—

"Got any yarn knittin' thread?;

"Yes; step this way, please."

"Wait a moment, honey," said the old woman, grabbing the floor walker by the coat tails, much to the amusement of all idle clerks, who began to gather around to see the fun. "I ain't ax you yit. Got any pins an' cotton stripes an' silk dresses an' par'sols an' bleached termestic an' blue ribbon an' piliar cases an' underskirts an' sewin' machines an' bustles an' crimpin' pin, an' table clothes an'—an'—"

"Step this way and I will show you what we have," interposed the floor walker, thinking she was about to break down, but she had only paused for breath.

"What meck you won't lemme ax you what I wants?" she went on. "Got any cookin' stoves an' lace curtains an' lamp chimblies an' carpets an' chany cups an' hairth brooms an' pitcker frames an' writin' paper an' Bal'mals an' kid gloves an' head hankchers an'—"

"Step this way."

"Wait jes' a minute, chile, tell the ole 'oman git th'ough, can't you? I'd want to look at nothin' tal to-day. What I ax you is you got 'em?"

"Yes."

"Well, now dat's what I want to get at. Whyncher say so at fust, den I wouldn't be here pesterin' you so long. You see, it's disser way. De ole man came home tother night an' fotch me a speckle pullet, an' when spring 'gins to open dat pullet jes' natchely gwine start to lay, ain't she? Well, dat's huccome I came axin' here you what you got so's I'll know what to spect fur dem aigs when I fetch 'em to town, dat's al."—Griffin [Ga.] News.

Didn't Dare.

Mrs. McAstor—"I see yez have yer Billy tied up close to yer windy this marnin', Mrs. O'Ginty."

Mrs. O'Ginty—"Its mistaken yez are, Mrs. McAstor. Its me closeline an' all me wash that's inside av the brute."

Mrs. McAstor—"An' for the love of the howly saints why don't yez cut the line?"

Mrs. O'Ginty—"No, indade! If I set him free ivery wan in Harlem would be after plunderin' his contents."—Truth.

A PATENT LAWYER.

A lawyer who makes a specialty of patent business, no matter just where his office is located, was called to the further west in a case involving a mortgage on a farm. The preliminary hearing was before an old-fashioned justice of the peace, who had no high regard for the ways of men from the city. At some point in the case, the magistrate put in a few remarks and the visiting lawyer collided with him. The discussion grew warm and at last the magistrate, forgetting his dignity and his position, became personal.

"Who are you, anyway?" he blurted out.

"Well," replied the lawyer, "I'm an attorney."

"P'raps you are, but I never heard one talk like you do. What kind of a one are you?"

"I'm a patent attorney."

The magistrate rubbed his chin for thought.

"Well, all I've got to say is," he said slowly, "that when the patent expires, I don't believe you can ever get it renewed again."

"This thermometer appears to be stationary," remarked the man who kicks.

"To be sure," replied his wife; "I bought it in a stationery store,"
—Washington Star.

"John, dear, we must take up some kind of reform this year. Now, if I take up dress reform, what will you take?"

"Chloroform."—Life.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY, 10 1895.

PALMER NEWS.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Potted plants for sale at Royce's Greenhouse, Maple street.

Bound to do business at Milligan's shoe store. We have bid adieu to the past, in a business sense, and are starting anew. Ladies, can you wear a number 2½ or 3 shoe? If so, here is your chance. We will close out a lot of French kid boots, sizes 2½ and 3 only, the former price of which was $4 00, $4.50 and $5.00, at the ridiculous low price of $1.00 a pair. If you want a bargain of a life time buy at once a pair of these boots at Milligan's shoe store.

Mr. A. B. Cowan has purchased the boot and shoe stock of Messrs. Chas. N. Blake & Co. in Holden's NEW BLOCK, and will conduct a first-class shoe store. I have an entirely new stock of Ladie's, Gent's, Misses', Youth,s and Children's shoes, Oxfords, etc., in narrow, medium and wide widths in both russet and black, all up to date styles. Having secured the service of Mr. Thomas Cook, all repairing will be neatly and promptly done at reasonable prices. I earnestly solicit a share of your patronage, and shall endeavor to please all who appreciate fine foot wear at reasonable prices. Give me a trial. A. B. Cowan,

Successor to Chas. N. Blake & Co.

Holden's New Block, Palmer, Mass.

The Street Sprinkling Question.

The cry for the starting of the street sprinkler has ended in a wail of despair, and many of the business people are watering Main street in front of their stores with hose. The indications at present are that the sprinkler will not be run this season, although there is a possibility that some arrangements for its running may yet be made. Mr. Converse, although a great lover of his fellow-men, declines to run the sprinkler at a loss. This, he says, would result if he should start the sprinkler with the subscription he has so far been able to obtain, and further says he would rather sell the business than conduct it himself, but has not as yet received a satisfactory offer. Many of the tax payers of the fire district feel that the district is paying enough for water so that it should be furnished for sprinkling without extra charge. This would enable whoever runs the sprinkler to save about $75 a year, and would make it possible to run the cart with a smaller subscription. The merchants not only deplore the present condition on account of the inconvenience to themselves, but because it gives the town a one-horse reputation.

The Palmer Bicycle Club.

The Palmer Bicycle club is growing at a rate which promises to place it well in the van among similar organizations in this section. At the last meeting, which was held Tuesday evening, 17 candidates were admitted to membership, and applications are continually coming in. The club elected a committee on advertising, which will have charge of that work for the Fourth of July tournament. The arrangements for the tournament have been only partially made. The park has been hired, but the list of races and prizes has not been made up. The club proposes, however, to present some strong attractions. A road race is to be run June 1st, and a committee of arrangements in this matter was also appointed. The club's dance will be given as soon as the opera house is completed, but the date cannot as yet be announced.

C. H. Keith is painting his house on Park street.

The bakery buildings are receiving a new coat of paint.

E. A. Buck & Co. have placed an awning in front of their store this week.

The selectmen have granted A. P. Adams of Thorndike a druggist's license.

Walter Chilson spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Chilson.

F. F. Marcy has had his lumber yard connected with the telephone exchange.

Mrs. L. Duplisses spent a few days in Springfield this week, visiting friends.

A. B. Cowan has purchased the shoe business of C. N. Blake & Co. in Holden's block.

R. J. Henry has moved into George B. Kenerson's tenement house on Park street.

Paul Ricker of Falmouth, Me., spent a part of the week as the guest of Guy Stanchfield.

Herbert Carpenter of Warren spent a part of the week with his brother, F. N. Carpenter.

A. H. Bogue has moved into the house recently vacated by Mrs. King on Converse avenue.

Miss Edith Hobson, of the Springfield Training School, spent Sunday with Miss Bessie Moore.

The district court sent up to the supreme court this term 10 grand jury cases and 5 appealed cases.

A great improvement has been made this week by laying a new sidewalk in front of Holden's new block.

Jacob Laconline has moved his household goods to Springfield, where he has been employed for some time past.

Miss Mary Stowell, a student at the Northfield school, was the guest of her uncle, George W. Camp, over Sunday.

The class of '95, Palmer high school, expects to hold its graduation exercises and reception in the Odd Fellows' hall.

Miss Claire Silverthorne, teacher of art in Moody's school for girls at Northfield, spent Sunday with Mrs. L. E. Chandler.

Miss Lizzie O'Neil of Broadbrook, Ct., visited friends at the Nassowanno House during the early part of this week.

Clarence A. Brown, who has been confined to his home nearly all winter with rheumatism, has been out a little this week.

Miss Carrie Hawkes, who lives with Mrs. S. C. Hunt on Pine street, has gone to Hartford, Ct., for a stay of about a month.

C. B. Fiske and daughters May and Ruth start for New York this evening, to spend Sunday with friends in Elizabeth, N. J.

Miss Alice Ricker of Falmouth, Me., who is attending school at Smith College, was the guest of Miss Lizzie Wassum over Sunday.

Albert Marsh has left the employe of Holden & Fuller, and is now working for J. A. Hamilton, the grain and coal dealer.

G. W. Lyman has rented the south tenement of S. R. Lawrence's house on Park street, where he will reside for the present.

J. W. Shanks of St. Albans, Vt., a former resident, and now general road master of the Central Vermont railroad, was in town Thursday.

H. D. Converse's left arm was somewhat injured the first of the week in a set-to with a threshing machine. The injury is painful, but not serious.

Mrs. Spaulding of Bridgewater, Vt., is the new cook at the depot restaurant, and a Miss Foley of Chicopee has also taken a position at the same place.

Rev. A. W. Weeks of Worcester is to occupy his old pulpit in the Baptist church in this place next Sunday, in exchange with Rev. Mr. MacDonald.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will preach next Sunday morning in St. Paul's Universalist church on "The Universalist Attitude Toward Revivals of Religions."

A burst in the pipes of the Palmer Water Company on Park street, between School and Pearl streets, last Sunday, required the shutting off of the water for about an hour.

Miss B. A. Fiske, postal telegraph operator in this place, starts to-morrow on a two-weeks' visit to her home in Stafford. Miss Marion A. Estes supplies during her absence.

The officers of the cemetery association met the selectmen by invitation at their rooms Monday afternoon to discuss the proposed addition to the cemetery in this village.

Rev. E. A. Perry, formerly a pastor of St. Paul's Universalist church of Palmer, recently located at Fort Plain, N. Y., has left that place and taken charge of the Universalist church in Cooperstown, N. Y.

Dr. Amerige has opened an office in Springfield in connection with his offices in Palmer and Worcester. Dr. Donner, who has been associated with Dr. Amerige for some time, has also taken an office in Springfield.

A horse hitched in front of Smith's store took fright Saturday afternoon and plunged about, overturning the wagon and throwing the occupant to the ground. The horse did not get away, however, and little damage was done.

The musical given in St. Paul's church Wednesday evening was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed. The pupils of Mrs. Auger showed careful training and a musical knowledge which speaks well for their instructor.

A large bill board has been erected on the Converse lot in the rear of the high school building for the show bills of Scribner & Smith's circus, and another on the vacant lot on Central street near the Odd Fellows' new building.

The Central Massachusetts base ball league will open the season a week from to-morrow. Games will be played between the Thorndikes and Palmers at Palmer, Bondsvilles and Gilbertvilles at Gilbertville and Warrens and Wares at Ware.

Owing to an error on the part of the bookbinders, a few of the pages in a portion of the May breakfast cook books were duplicated. Those having imperfect copies can exchange them by calling on Mrs. H. W. McGregory, or at the store of D. L. Bodfish.

The town seems to be overrun with small flies and minute red bugs. The insects do not sting or bite, but crawl over everything, giving great annoyance. Where they come from seems to be a mystery, as they have never been noticed in town until this season.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting in the parlors of the Congregational church next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The meeting is called for 4 o'clock instead of 3, the usual hour, on account of the meetings that are being held in the vestry every afternoon.

Joseph McIntyre of Thorndike has the honor of being the only one in Palmer who was a member of the third army corps which fought under Gen. Sickles. He reports having had an enjoyable time at the reunion with the boys at Northampton and Hadley this week.

The Universalist ministers of the Western Massachusetts Association will hold their monthly meeting in the ladies' parlor of the Universalist church Monday forenoon at 10.45. Rev. G. W. Penniman of Southbridge has been invited to give an essay for discussion.

Mrs. G. F. Lord, formerly of the Converse House, visited Palmer friends early this week, and sent away the remainder of her furniture. The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lord will be glad to learn that they are located in Winchendon, where they have purchased the American House.

Judge Robinson will start Monday for St. Louis, where he will go as a delegate to the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum from the grand council of Massachusetts. He will be away two weeks, and his place in the district court will be filled by Special Justices Shaw and Newton.

About fifteen of the young lady and gentlemen friends of Miss Blanche T. Lyman made her a surprise visit Monday evening, at her home on Pond street. The evening was passed in music and games, lunch was served, and Miss Lyman received two pictures and a bon bon dish.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Palmer and Monson Electric Company will be held at the banking rooms of the Palmer National Bank, on Saturday, May 18th, at eleven o'clock, to see if they will vote to sell the recently purchased A. N. Chaffee property, situated on Green street, Monson.

The Central Vermont railroad has just issued its annual tourists' book, entitled "Summer Homes," which contains valuable information for any and all who intend to take an outing during the heated term. The book can be had on application to S. W. Cummings, general passenger agent, St. Albans, Vt.

Guy Johnstone, of Flushing, N. Y., has left town. He came about a week ago and secured work as compositor in the JOURNAL office, where his conduct was all that could be desired. Wednesday night Johnstone hired a bicycle at Buck's agency and has not been seen since. Officer Studley is working on the case.

John B. Dawson has been incapacitated a part of the week by a swollen wrist, which has caused him intense pain. The injury is supposed to have been caused by the bite of some insect, just what is not known. The arm has swollen to an enormous size and blood poisoning was feared. Dr. Holbrook attended the case and Mr. Dawson is now improving.

James Dumford came before the court Saturday for drunkenness and paid a fine of $5. Monday George J. Woodard for the same offence was sent to the house of correction for 3 months. This morning Lorenzo Pierce of Monson was fined $8 for drunkenness and his case continued for performance of sentence until the first Saturday in June. John Connors for the same offence paid $5.

A very pleasant social event was the reception given last evening by H. T. Huntington in Nassowanno hall. The company gathered was just large enough to insure everybody a good time, without the usual jam in so small a hall. The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Huntington and daughter, and there was dancing from 8 to 12 o'clock. Music was furnished by Munger's orchestra.

By order of the Boston and Albany Railroad Co., adopted May 1st, station agents, depot masters, passenger conductors, train baggagemen, brakemen, station baggagemen, checkmen and baggage porters, are required while on duty to wear a uniform prescribed for their respective grades of service. The uniforms must be made from cloth of standards adopted by the company, and be worn buttoned when on duty.

The machine-like regularity with which business is conducted in the post office is very pleasing to the business people, all of whom have apparently taken note of it. Mr. Royce has made improvements until it seems that there is little more to do. Still there are kickers, among them those who object to having a portion of their mail put in other people's boxes. This slight defect in the working system will no doubt be removed in time.

The Converse House office is to be improved by the addition of new paper, paint, and a new floor. The Nassowanno House block has been made fresh by a liberal application of paint to the outside wood work. Both houses are monuments to the enterprise of the owners, who have had the Walnut street sides tastefully decorated with circus posters. There are not many pieces of business property in town which can be rented both inside and out.

There are many horses in the village which are in the habit of starting for the Main street watering tub if left standing a moment. Several collisions have been caused in this way, one of them only last Saturday. Sooner or later this carelessness will result in a runaway and a grand smashup, when some one will have heavy damages to pay. A little more care about leaving horses unhitched and unguarded should be exercised.

The friends of Rufus Stimson will be pleased to learn that he is one of the twelve Harvard students selected to compete in the "Boylston Price Speaking" contest which came off yesterday at Sander's Theatre, Cambridge. The contest is open to members of the junior and senior classes, numbering eight hundred men, and there were forty on the list for the preliminary trial, which occurred last Saturday. The competition is always sharp, and the honor of being selected as one of the speakers is no light one. It was reported this morning that Mr. Stimson received second prize.

The People's church of Christ has disbanded. For some time there has been a feeling among a portion of the congregation that the attendance was not large enough to warrant going on, but nothing was done until the lease of the chapel expired, when a meeting was called. It was voted after some argument to disband, as the members did not deem it advisable to renew the lease. It is said that in the future the Adventists will hold meetings in the chapel, and some of the former members of the People's church will join this society. The others will, for the present, attend some of the other churches.

A session of the probate court was held in the district court room Wednesday, Judge Shurtleff presiding, and the following business was transacted:

Administration granted in the estates of Sarah C. Sessions, late of West Springfield, George R. Sessions administrator; Emmanuel Crowl, late of Springfield, Walter L. Crowl administrator; Thomas J. Sullivan, late of Monson, Ellen C. Sullivan administratrix; wills proven of Sharon P. Chapin, late of Springfield, Leila A. Wilcox executrix; Florelia Billings, late of East Longmeadow, Prescott Billings executor. Ellen C. Sullivan was appointed guardian of Thomas J., Frederick and Grace A. Sullivan of Monson, minors. Administrator's accounts rendered by Ira G. Potter in the estate of Thomas Jewett, late of Monson, and in the estate of Elias F. Keyes, late of Longmeadow.

The evangelistic services in the Congregational church this week have aroused considerable interest. All the Protestant churches in the town have been invited through their pastors to cooperate as far as they can in promoting the object of the meetings. Mr. Hills's sermons are clear, logical and well illustrated, and are delivered with great earnestness. No one who listens can fail to understand what he means, as he deals with the great truths of the gospel. He preaches two sermons, at 3 and 7.30 p. m., each weekday except Saturday. He will speak both morning and evening in the Congregational church next Sunday.

The base ball season will be opened in Palmer a week from to-morrow, when the Palmers and Thorndikes will play their first game on the Palmer park. The Palmers have secured as a battery, Hart of Mount Holly, N. J., and Coghlin of Brookfield, both men being recommended highly. It is the purpose of the management to have the games played in Palmer such that all lovers of the game will wish to attend. The club is unusually strong this year, and an effort will be made to secure the championship of the Central Massachusetts base ball league. To do this the game must be well played, as the other nines in the league are said to be strong.

Allen Atkins, the fifteen-years-old son of George M. Atkins, had a narrow escape from a serious accident last Saturday afternoon. He was watching a base ball game on the park, and saw a rifle belonging to one of the players lying on the grass. Atkins "didn't know it was loaded," and picked it up. He stood leaning upon it with his hands over the muzzle, kicking the stock with his foot. In this way he discharged the rifle, the ball passing through the fleshy part of his left hand. When his hand was dressed it was found that no bones were injured, and the wound is healing rapidly. It was by the merest chance that the ball did not enter Atkins' head.

The Boston and Albany railroad is selling excursion tickets to Philadelphia on account of the meeting of the Supreme Lodge, I. O. O. F., at $7.05 for the round trip. Tickets good going May 17th to 19th, and good for return until May 26th. The round trip excursion rate to the Baptist Anniversary meetings at Saratoga will cost $4.45 from Palmer, tickets on sale May 29th to June 3d, and good for return until June 30th. Passenger fares on the Connecticut River division of the Boston and Maine have been reduced. The new rate to Chicopee is 41 cents, formerly 46; Holyoke 51, formerly 56; Northampton 69 cents, formerly 76; Greenfield $1.19, formerly $1.26. The Raymond excursions are now being run over the Boston and Albany instead of the Fitchburg road as formerly.

The monthly meeting of the firemen was held Monday night, and $10 was turned over to the organization as its share of the money subscribed by Mr. Lawrence last summer for help in hunting Fields, the negro who assaulted him. The firemen voted to place the money in the treasury as a relief fund for members, having no connection with the firemen's relief association. There has been some complaint that members and other citizens have been unable to distinguish between duty calls and the calls to firemen's meetings. There have been times when members who had forgotten that a meeting was to be held have driven to the engine house in great haste upon hearing the bell. To avoid these mistakes in future the call for meetings will be one stroke of the bell repeated at intervals of one-half minute.

Scribner & Smith's circus is billed to show in Palmer Friday, May 24th, and the proprietors make a special effort to provide entertainment for the children, at the same time recognizing the fact that what amuses and educates children has an equal attraction for parents and guardians. It so happens that among the hundred and one wonderful sights are scores upon scores of those which are really of benefit to the little folks. Special acts and features are secured for the avowed purpose of delighting children of all ages, and the smallest child will be sure to find some curious or elegant object to amply repay the parents for the visit. Children's numbers are arranged on the program in the circus especially for this object, and embrace sights and feats easily comprehended and understood by their youthful minds. Elephants, tiny ponies and other creatures are taught to execute tricks similar to those read about in story books, and for three hours they may possibly remain in the show, the children are really revelling in what their youthful fancies imagine is a veritable fairy-land of wonders. Such attractions as the menagerie affords them an excellent idea of the beasts, birds and reptiles living in the world. The wonderful feats of the trained animals show the little ones what can be done by man in the way of making the brute creation subject to his power and the same may be said of the four trained cages of wild beasts, while it is no doubt, both amusing and instructive for them to watch all the performances in the ring, or the stages where old-timed and modern clowns are continually seen in their ridiculous actions and absurd capers.

The Palmer Natural History Society.

Now that this society has ceased its work for the present, at least, it may be well to recount something of the results of its labor. The society was organized May 28, 1892, for the purpose of cultivating a knowledge of Natural History in its various branches. The society soon numbered sixty members. Meetings were held each week and a carefully prepared essay on some branch of natural history was read and discussed. The first year was mostly devoted to the study of ornithology, which included the identification of our native birds, and their habits This necessitated frequent visits to their haunts, where they soon became known by their songs, as well as their plumage. They were studied in their coming and going, their mating and nesting, and many stirring anecdotes in bird life were brought to light, to the delectation of the younger members, which they will long remember with pleasure. The second year was devoted to the study of the botany of Palmer, and it may be said with truth, that the nooks and corners of our town were never before searched with such interested and scrutinizing eyes as during the year 1893. It is wonderful what numbers of floral treasures were gathered from glade, glen and riverside within the borders of our beautiful town as the season sped by from April to November. The members vied with each other in adding to the list each week, and flowers were found and identified which no one had dreamed had their home in our midst. The work collected, identified and classified 400 specimens of the wild flowers of Palmer, besides nearly fifty specimens of the native trees and shrubs of our town, which were unfortunately lost in the burning of Holden's block, but the locality of these flowers is remembered, and doubtless will be sought for again.

Now, what did the society accomplish? First, the published essays of its members, nearly all written from personal observation, would fill a good sized volume; then it interested many outside of the society in its work, and gave support to a better sentiment in the community regarding our insect-feeding birds. It formed habits of observation among its members which will be of lasting benefit.

During the two years of its activity the society raised $123 by the contributions of its members and by sociables; of this sum about $31 was devoted to the distribution of prizes to different members for effective work, and the balance of some $93 was used in the purchase of the following items for the benefit of the society, and which by vote of the same April 8, 1895, were donated to the Young Men's Library Association, as follows: Natural history case, $38; cases of birds' eggs, $6 25; table for same, $3.50; pair ducks mounted, $3; blue jay mounted, 75 cents; hooded owl mounted, $2 50; American sparrow hawk mounted, $1; framed portrait of Dr. Stowe, $9.75; volume of the Birds of North America, $20; Gray's Botany, Dane's "How to Know the Wild Flowers," Newhall's "Shrubs of North America," Newhall's "Trees of North America," From a New England Hillside, The Friendship of Nature; total value, $93.87. The closing act of the society was a graceful tribute of respect to its honored president, Dr. W. H. Stowe, in the procuring of a life-size portrait of him to be placed on the walls of the library building, for which he had done so much. It may be asked why has the society discontinued its work? This question is easily answered. The death of its president, the removal from town of one-third of its members, and the pressing demands of other engagements upon the balance of its active workers, seems to demand the closing of its work for the present, with the hope that some day it may be renewed with enlarged scope and renewed prosperity; for nature study has come to be recognized as one of the most interesting and useful side accomplishments to which the student can devote his leisure time, the growing interest in which is evinced by the great number of recent authors whose works are devoted to this subject, and which are eagerly read by an appreciative public.

O. P. ALLEN.

BONDSVILLE.

C. L. Holden went to Boston for his stock of summer goods last week.

Frank Moulton has moved into the tenement vacated by Charles Russell.

Jerry Carmody, box maker in the Boston Duck Co.'s mills, has resigned his position.

Bert Sedgwick of New Haven has been the guest of his father, Butler Sedgwick, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hayden of Holyoke spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fuller.

Mrs. Nettie Fuller, who has been visiting her brother, F. K. Rood of Springfield, returned home this week.

Mrs. William Watson of New Haven, Ct., who has been visiting Mrs. Richard Russell, has returned to her home.

One of the Fitzpatrick children died last week of scarlet fever. The other child, who has also had the disease, is improving.

Edward Landers, who has been boss painter for the Boston Duck Company several years, has resigned, and Byron Thayer will take his place.

Miss Edith Hobson of the training school in Springfield, who has been spending a week's vacation with her parents here, returned to her studies this week.

THORNDIKE.

Miss Nellie Murphy of Boston is visiting in town for a few days.

Mrs. Julia Lynch is visiting friends in New York for a few days.

Mrs. Elvira G. Hooker of Chicopee is visiting with friends in town.

M. F. Keeney of Providence, R. I., is visiting his aunt for a few days.

T. J. Clifford returned this week from a visit to his parents in Millbury.

A Polish wedding party will dance in Union Hall to-morrow evening.

Fred Bishop returned this week from a visit with his brother in Millbury.

The Merry Six are preparing for a ten-days' outing at "Monds," New Hampshire.

Mrs. McAuliff and daughter Lizzie, left Monday for their new home in Cleveland, O.

Mrs. James F. Loftus returned this week from a visit with her parents in South Hadley.

Mrs. Jillson of Orange was the guest of her daughter, Miss Minnie Jillson, this week.

The band gave a concert on the band stand Thursday evening which was thoroughly enjoyed.

The Christian Endeavor Society held a nut sociable in the Congregational church vestry Tuesday evening.

The post office will remain open this and to-morrow evenings until 9 o'clock. On other evenings it closes at 8 o'clock sharp.

A new case of scarlet fever has made its appearance in Mr. Sargent's family. There are several mild cases of chicken pox in the village.

The engagement of Dentist M. W. Flynn, formerly of this place, now of Pittsfield, to Miss Helen Buckley of the latter place, is announced.

Safrona, 3, youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Daniels, died on Tuesday of diphtheria. At this writing another child is very ill with scarlet fever.

Michael Sullivan, who has been second-hand in the weaving room at No. 2 mill, has accepted a position as overseer in a mill at Putnam, Ct., and has severed his connection with the Thorndike Company.

M. J. Sullivan will in connection with his musical and dance, get out an advertising sheet, and the merchants in town will be given a liberal chance to advertise their goods for a small sum. The circulars will be distributed in all parts of the town and in Warren.

The base ball club went to North Wilbraham last Saturday to play the local club, but did not finish the game, there being some difference of opinion as to whether the Thorndike catcher, while trying to put a man out at the plate, used undue violence in touching him while he was trying to score. The score was in favor of the Thorndikes. The North Wilbraham team did not give the guarantee money. This is the second time they have refused to pay the Thorndike base ball club the guarantee they should receive for traveling expenses.

THREE RIVERS.

Lewis Percy was at his home over Sunday.

Mrs. Hamilton is suffering very much with dropsy.

Miss Eva Pariseau has taken a position as clerk in J. B. Brown's store.

Needed repairs have been made on the Main street bridge this week.

Eugene and Alfred Pariseau of Amherst spent Sunday with their brother.

Miss Alice Allen of Belchertown visited Miss Annie Murdock a few days last week.

Mahlon Foskit has accepted a position in the machine shop at the Palmer Mills.

Charles Russell received a pair of fine bay mares from Canada yesterday afternoon.

P. C. Johnson of Monson began working this week in Joseph Boulanger's blacksmith shop.

Miss Etta Ruggles has gone to New York, where she is to be a nurse in one of the hospital.

Mr. Putnam and sister of Springfield were guests of Fred and Miss Bertha Paine last Sunday.

Dr. Bliss' residence is to be connected Monday by telephone with the Palmer exchange.

A large and beautiful wooden cross has been erected lately in the French Catholic cemetery.

Nine persons were admitted last Sunday afternoon as members of the Union Evangelical church.

Aneton Jarvis died last Saturday night at his home on Main street. He leaves a widow and five sons.

Henry Newell is home from Amherst this week tending to a wonderful inflammation of his parotid glands.

Miss Anna LaRivée, the ten-year-old daughter of Mrs. Frank LaRivée, died of diphtheria last Friday.

Charles Russell took a 'bus load to the recital given by Mrs. Auger's pupils at Palmer Wednesday night.

A. Grise's little girl is ill with the scarlet fever, and Thomas Bothwell's child is the latest victim to the disease.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bothwell are bewailing the loss of their three-year-old daughter, who died of scarlet fever Tuesday.

Every Saturday afternoon and evening many who can get any enjoyment out of a pair of roller skates go to Thorndike and exercise in the rink.

Charles Ruggles has the contract for giving Joseph Boulanger's block a generous overhauling. New stairs, floors, etc., will be the improvements made.

Miss Clara Greene, for several years stenographer at the Palmer Mill office, has resigned her position, to the sorrow of her many friends and left yesterday for her home in Brimfield.

Dr. Desmarais was in town yesterday attending to some business. He is now taking a special course in the Post Graduate Hospital at New York, and is assistant to Dr. Jackson of that institution.

About twenty who desired to form a bicycle club met last Monday evening in the rooms over the mill office, and elected the following officers: President, Walter H. Trickett; vice president, Charles Alden; secretary, P. C. Story; treasurer, Henry Ferrill.

While a prayer meeting was being held in the Baptist church Wednesday night, some boys threw a few stone through the open door. Several in the congregation immediately pursued the evil-doers, and thanks to the efforts of one, about fifteen names are known to the present authorities. If the offence is repeated they will fare worse.

W. Coleman's many friends sympathize with him in the loss of a good deal of epidermis from his lower extremities. But Mr. Coleman is improving rapidly, and in about a week will be on the track again. This is the second time that some one has spoiled him in the races, nevertheless we all expect to see a few more prize wheels taken from the train here.

This village seems to have its share of contagious diseases lately, for during the last three weeks about eight deaths are due to their cause and nearly as many more are at present afflicted with them. Diphtheria seems to have the most victims, as five of the eight deaths are attributed to it. If this state of affairs holds out much longer money will have to be raised for a hospital.

The New London Northern depot was broken into last Saturday night, presumably by local amateurs, with pecuniary intentions. Having gained entrance by smashing a four-foot pane of glass, they began operations on the money drawer, in which part of a knife blade was found Sunday morning. Being unsuccessful on the money drawer they took only two tickets, and after having demolished things in general they left. There are no clews.

BORN.

At Palmer, 4th, a son to Jesse A. and Grace Rogers.

At Palmer, 30th, a daughter to J. J. Conway.

At Boston, 9th, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Mark Sherwin, formerly of Ware.

MARRIED.

At Ludlow, 4th, by Rev. A. J. Quick, Henry O. Tellmosse and Emily Graves.

DIED.

At Monson, 5th, Joseph, 7, son of James Whalen.

At Wilbraham, 4th, Mrs. Caroline M. Lyman, 90y, and 3 m.

At Columbus, O., R. T. Wilson, 20, formerly of Hampden, Mass.

FOR SALE.—Freeman potatoes.
6-1 H. A. RINDGE, Monson, Mass.

FOR SALE CHEAP.—A barber's chair. Enquire at Central street barber shop.
6-1 J. M. McBRIDE.

FOR SALE.—Second-hand ladies' and gent's bicycles. Some extra good bargains.
KEENEY'S CYCLE AGENCY,
6-1 Monson, Mass.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

FOR SALE.—Two horses $50 and $60; two buggies $15 and $25; one single harness $6; one shifting pole $6; one skeleton wagon $20; cultivator $2; a one-horse harrow $2; piano $60.
tf-6 D. F. HOLDEN, Palmer, Mass.

BECAUSE of my contemplated removal to Springfield, I offer to rent the tenement occupied by me on School street. Also have for sale a good second-hand organ and cook stove, and new oil stoves. tf-4 E. J. WOOD, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—One Beebe speeding cart, has only been used a few times. Also one road cart, one good Phaeton, and one good cook stove.
GEORGE P. BELL, M. D.,
tf-3 Three Rivers, Mass.

EGGS FOR SALE, from choice strains of White Wyandottes, Light Brahmas, S. C. White Leghorns, and Pekin Ducks.
BEAVER BROOK POULTRY FARM,
J. H. THAYER & SON,
3t5 Ware.

E. W. French, agent for the New Singer Mfg. Co., has opened an office in Palmer, with headquarters at the Weeks House, and is showing their latest productions for 1895 sewing machines, with three different machines for family use.
tf-52 THE SINGER MFG. CO.

FOR SALE.—The store of the late E. G. Murdock in Thorndike, Mass., also dwelling corner of Commercial and High streets, and one on School street in said Thorndike. Must be sold to close estate. C. L. GARDNER, Adm.
Jan. 21st, 1895. tf-43

DR. S. H. ELLERY,

VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.

Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.

Residence, Nassowanno House.
Office and stable, Central street.

PALMER, MASS.

PROPOSALS will be received by the building committee until May 27th, 1895, for building addition to the almshouse on town farm. Plans and specifications can be seen at the residence of William Merriam. The committee reserves the right to reject any and all bids.
PER ORDER BUILDING COMMITTEE.
Palmer, Mass., May 10, 1895. 6-2

DENTISTRY.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PALMER AND VICINITY:

Having thoroughly equipped my new office with the most modern inventions and methods pertaining to dentistry, I am now prepared to meet the demands of the public in all the branches of the art. I have associated with me DR. O. P. ROLLER, a graduate in

DENTAL SURGERY,

who has made a specialty of crown and bridge work, all gold, porcelain, combination crown, etc. Gold, aluminum and artificial dentures of every description. The best of workmanship guaranteed. tf-2

DR. C. W. CROSS, PALMER, MASS.

A NICE NEW LINE OF

Belt Pins,
Hair Pins,
Shirt waist Sets,
Silver Belt Buckles,
Souvenir Spoons,
Coffee Spoons,
Olive Spoons,
Bon Bon Spoons,
Sugar Spoons,
Orange Spoons, Cream Ladles,

IN SOLID SILVER.

ALSO SILVER NOVELTIES, WITH THE USUAL LINE OF

Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silver Ware, Spectacles and Eyeglasses,

At the Store of G. A. MOORE, The Jeweler,

Holden's Block, Palmer, Mass.

WHAT?

HAVE YOU SEEN THEM?

THE LATEST STYLES IN

Ladies', Misses and Children's

RUSSETS and

BLACK OXFORDS.

A fresh consignment just in.

See Our Ladies' Russet Odfords in the Philadelphia, Opera, and Needle Toes,

AT $1, $1.25 and $1.50.

THESE ARE THE LATEST.

SURE TO PLEASE YOU.

HERE YOU WILL FIND THEM

A. B. COWAN,

Successor to Chas. N. Blake & Co.

Holden's New Block, Main Street,

PALMER, MASS.

N. B. Repairing neatly and promptly done.

. . . . THE . . . .

Teachers' Convention

IN JULY.

CHEAPEST RATES OUT OF NEW ENGLAND TO ALL POINTS WEST, VIA. THE

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY,

Niagara Falls, and The Great St. Clair Tunnel,

Also via. MONTREAL, following the shores of the famous ST. LAWRENCE RIVER for three hundred miles.

FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATIONS, UNEQUALLED SERVICE.

Teachers returning will complete the enjoyment of their trip by taking a sail through the Thousand Islands and the Rapids of the St. Lawrence from Kingston to Montreal.

For further particulars as to this route, apply to

N. J. Grace, D. P. A., G. T. Ry., Boston, Mass.
G. T. Bell, A. G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal. P. Q.
N. J. Power, G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal, P. Q.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Manne Weinveich of New York City to Charles E. Dewey, dated April 4th, 1894, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Hampden, libro 517, folio 30, and by said Dewey duly assigned to me, will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on Saturday the eighteenth day of May, 1895, at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:—The house, barn, and lot of land situate on the southeasterly side of Central street in said Palmer, and bounded northwesterly about 100 feet by said street; northeasterly about 137 feet by the Memorial Hall lot; southeasterly about 100 feet by land of Clara B. Holbrook, and southwesterly partly by land of H. P. Holden and partly by land of Palmer Masonic Hall Association, in all about 137 feet, subject to right of adjoining owners in a passageway 10 feet wide over the southwesterly side of the premises, and to any and all aqueduct rights. And also subject to a mortgage of four thousand dollars and accrued interest due the Barre Savings Bank. $300 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale.

MARY A. HOLDEN, Assignee of Mortgage.
By GARDNER & GARDNER, her Attorneys.
Palmer, Mass., April 20th, 1895. 3-4

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS IN THIS VICINITY FOR

TRUSSES.

WE CARRY A LARGE ASSORTMENT IN ALL THE SIZES OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF

Steel Spring Trusses,
Hard Rubber Trusses,
New York Elastic Trusses.

WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.

AT LeGRO & LYNDE'S.

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

FISH BAIT FOR SALE,

CHARLES S. RUGGLES,

Three Rivers, - Mass.

Did you know the law is off on Trout Monday, April 1st, and that you can buy

RODS,
LINES,
FLIES,
HOOKS,
REELS,
FLY BOOKS, ETC.,

At right prices and get a good assortment at the

DRUG STORE OF

LeGRO & LYNDE,

Next to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

BICYCLES

RAMBLERS, . .	$100.00
ENVOY, ...	75.00
FLEETWING (ladies) .	75 00
STORMER, . . .	60.00
CRAWFORD, . . .	50.00

All warranted fully. Sweaters and bicycle sundries for sale. Also have good wheels to rent.

ERNEST D. TUFTS,

Holden's Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

CHIN SING,

CHINESE LAUNDRY,

Main St., - Palmer.

LIST OF PRICES:

Shirts,	10c
Cuffs,	4c per pair
Collars,	2c
Shirts Ironed,	8c

And other things in the same proportion. See my full price list.

SPRING CLOTHING!

NEW SPRING .:. STYLES, Latest Colorings —AND— Novelties.

Extra large samples to select from. The most complete assortment, the finest, newest and most extensive in novelties and colorings. Fine Clay, English Wagners and Schnable's best makes, Bannockburn Scotch goods in best patterns, fine French in newest makes and colors. Prices $20, 22, 24, 26, 27, 28, 30, 32, 33, 35 to 40. All goods and trimmings the very best ever offered in town for the money, and warranted. Terms Strictly Cash.

D. MULVIHILL, - Eager's Block.

ALLEN'S BEEF, WINE and IRON

Is one of the best spring tonics you can buy. Try it. Pint bottles for only 50 cents.

ALLEN'S CLIMAX COUGH CURE is just the article to have handy when you have a sudden cough these damp days of spring.

ALLEN'S FLORIDENA BALM is the best article ever invented for chapped hands, rough skin and pimples on the face and for burns. It is good for eczema, and will relieve the burning and irritating feeling at once which attends that affection.

But with all your buying, don't forget to take home for household use THE ANTALGICA. It is good for so many things that you cannot afford to be without it.

Allen's New Drug Store,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

CARRIAGES!!!

I have in stock a complete line of fine and medium grade Carriages.

Leather Top Carriages, for $60, 75, 100, 150, 300.
Open Buggies, for $40, 60, 75, 125, 150.
Second-Hand Carriages, $5, 10, 20, 40, 75.
Harnesses, $7.50, 9, 12, 15, 20.
DELIVERY WAGONS OF ALL KINDS.

W. H. SMITH,

2 PARK STREET, SPRINGFIELD.

DO NOT GO WEST

WITHOUT FIRST INQUIRING ALL ABOUT THE . . . .

CHEAP EXCURSIONS

Via Grand Trunk Railway,

To California, Colorado, New Mexico, Oregon, Washington,

AND ALL WESTERN POINTS.

Trains With Through Tourist Sleeper

Leave BOSTON	-	7 30 p. m. Thursday.
" MONTREAL	-	9.10 a. m. Friday.
" TORONTO	-	10.30 p. m. "
" HAMILTON	-	11 58 p. m. "
" LONDON	-	2.20 a. m. Saturday.
Arrive PORT HURON		(via St. Clair Tunnel) 2.20 a. m. Saturday.
Arrive CHICAGO	-	1 50 p. m. "

ROUTE:

Boston and Maine, Concord and Montreal, Central Vermont, Grand Trunk, Chicago and Grand Trunk to Ch

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 10, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

The Scarlet Fever Scare.

The school committee and board of health held a meeting last Friday evening, when it was voted to close the No. 8 school for the coming week at least, and await the development of the scarlet fever cases. Cases previous to this had been reported at intervals for a number of weeks, but no special alarm had been felt, and the danger signals had not been displayed until Tuesday morning of this week. The cases previous to this week had all been of a mild form, until Monday evening, when Joseph, the seven-year-old son of James Whalen, residing in the south part of the town, succumbed to the disease. It is supposed that the mild form the disease was taking accounts for there not being more uneasiness in the matter. The townspeople have, however, already awoke to the fact that more precaution ought to be taken, and considerable comment is being made because more stringent measures have not previously been adopted. Although three out of four school houses in the center have been allowed to remain open, they have been poorly attended, only about one-half of the original number in some cases being present, thus showing the anxiety felt by some parents. It is also alleged that some cases have not been promptly reported to the authorities. No. 8 schoolhouse, where most of the cases have developed, has been fumigated, and it was hoped that this would eventually check the progress of the disease. Notwithstanding this precaution, the cases have been steadily increasing, and three new ones in one family were reported yesterday morning, all of whom were pupils at the Green street school. The primary schools in the village have all been closed to-day to allow the teachers to visit schools in Palmer and Springfield. No action has been taken as to whether they will be reopened next week or not. It may be found expedient to close them, owing to fewness of numbers, and as an extra precautionary method. Whether it is absolutely necessary to close all the schools may be a question, but it certainly is the opinion of a great many that they ought not be kept open. To close the schools for a few weeks at least would certainly be the safer course to pursue and would put an end to considerable criticism, either just or unjust. If they are kept open, every precaution should be taken to make them safe for pupils.

The Town Now Prepared to Fight Fire.

A. H. Danforth has completed the plans for the new engine house, which is now being figured upon by several contractors. It is to be a one-story building, 20 by 30 feet, having a French roof, and a tower 50 feet high. There will be two rooms on the ground floor, one for the hook and ladder truck, hose cart and chemical engine, and the other for the meetings of the fire company. The building is to be erected in the rear of Miss Sarah Bradford's property on Main street. The company has placed an order with the Gutta Percha and Rubber Co. of New York for 1000 feet of hose, which is expected to be here this week. The department is devided into six different companies of eight men each. Three hose carts are to be provided and distributed in various parts of the town, one near the store of Flynt & Sons, one near the mill of D. W. Ellis & Son, and the other near the center. The work of testing the water pipes has been carried on by C. W. Taylor, and a pressure of 200 pounds to the square inch has been successfully resisted. Three standards have been erected for filling the watering cart, one near the home of Joel H. Thompson at the head of Hampden avenue, one at the corner of Main and Washington streets and one on Academy hill, from which the cart can be filled in about a minute and a half. An exhibition of the pressure attained was witnessed by a number of people the first of the week. The driver in attempting to drive in under one of the standards ran into the upper part of it, which had been placed too low, and broke it off. A solid stream of water, two inches in diameter, shot about 60 feet into the air, through which the sun shining made a very pretty spectacle. It was about 20 minutes before the gate could be closed and the water shut off.

Charles Merrick's store is very brilliantly lighted by electric lights.

Lorin L. Squier has returned from a winter's stay in Florida.

F. W. King and wife of Chicago are spending the week with friends in town.

The residences of F. E. Howe and E. D. Cushman are receiving a new coat of paint.

Mrs. M. J. Bradway spent Sunday with her son, F. P. Bradway, at Willimantic, Ct.

G. W. Farrington has been confined to the house on account of illness a part of the week.

C. L. Ricketts of Tufts college spent a few days at his home in town the first of the week.

Druggist George L. Keeney attended the pharmaceutical fair held at Boston the first of the week.

Fiske Rogers is now located at Westt Dummerston, Vt., in charge of the Geo. E. Lyons Granite Co.

Mrs. Mary H. Anderson has been appointed executrix of the will of her late husband, David Anderson.

Horace Squier has been appointed census enumerator, and is busily engaged canvassing the town.

Dr. George E. Fuller has purchased the two remaining building lots of the Park Avenue Association.

Myron E. Wright, clerk for G. L. Keeney, has resigned his position, and Dennis Murphy will succeed him.

W. E. Shaw has had his house on Highland avenue newly painted this week, Elmer E. Thompson doing the work.

Edwin G. Bradway, clerk for Rogers & Co., spent Sunday with his brother, Frank P. Bradway, at Willimatic, Ct.

John S. Bogan has sold the Thompson pasture, near the Daniel Carpenter farm, to William H. Underwood for $260.

Miss Carrie E. Groves, who has been the guest of Mrs. William A. Charles, has returned to her home in Warren.

Attention is called to the advertisement of R. M. & Theo. Reynolds on the first page. They are offering some bargains in coal.

R. T. Wilson, 20, formerly a resident of Hampden, died at his home in Columbus, O., of consumption, the fore part of the week.

H. T. Chapin, who has been spending a few days at his home in town, has returned to resume his studies at the State School of Pharmacy at Boston.

John J. McAviney has resigned his position as barber for William H. Anderson, and accepted a position at Hazardville, Ct., where he will move soon.

To those wishing cheap wheels, C. A. Bradway reports two second-hand wheels in excellent condition, one a gent's wheel and the other a lady's Columbia.

S. F. Cushman, Jr., is having granite curbing and posts put in front of his residence on Main street, which adds much to the beauty of the place. James Hale is doing the work.

George C. Flynt will sell his horses at auction at Hampden Park, Springfield, May 23d. His black mare, "Nellie N.," with a record of 2.25½, is an exceptionally fine mare.

At the social of the South Circle of King's Daughters in the Methodist church last Friday evening, William C. Moulton received first prize for trimming a ladies' hat in the most artistic manner, and Hiram Felton took second for showing the least tasty design.

Monson people are taking great pains this spring with their lawns. Many fences are being removed. Selectman Norcross started the ball rolling by setting out trees on the highway. All hope he will continue the good work; 100 trees are needed through our principal streets.

DID YOU SEE

THE CROWD OF MEN AND LADIES BUYING SHOES AT FULLER'S LAST SATURDAY NIGHT?

Monson people know a good thing when they see it. . . . . .

Fuller Has the New Things in Shoes.

Anyone that we were unable to wait on last Saturday night we will be pleased to have call and examine our stock of shoes when we are not so busy.

Three New Lines for Saturday,

Ladies' Cloth Top patent tip, $1.75
Men's Sneakers or Tennis, only 50c
Boy's " " " " 40c

GEO. L. FULLER,

Distributer of Fine Fitting Shoes.

MONSON, - - MASS.

Fred Ayers, an employe of R. M. & Theo. Reynolds, has resigned his position and will move his family to South Coventry, where he has purchased a farm. His fellow workmen made him a present of a purse of money with which to purchase a cow towards stocking the farm.

The officers and chairmen of committees of the Silver Street Y. P. S. C. E. are as follows: President, George C. Darling; vice president, Louis Frietag; secretary, M. Esther Keep; treasurer, E. T. Warriner; chairman of lookout committee, C. S. Wood; prayer meeting committee, E. T. Warriner; visiting and social committee, Mrs. George Darling; music committee, M. Esther Keep.

Charles Reynolds, an employe of the W. N. Flynt Granite Company, met with a painful accident while at work at the quarry last Friday afternoon. A heavy stone had been lowered and had just reached the ground when it tipped over, striking Reynolds on the right leg just below the knee, gouging out a piece of flesh about four inches long and clear to the bone. Fortunately no bones were broken. Dr. Fuller dressed the wound.

BRIMFIELD.

Mrs. Charles Crosier of Springfield spent a few days with friends recently.

H. L. Converse has fitted up the old post office room and is ready to sell soda water, root beer and other summer drinks.

Miss Fanny E. Warren of Worcester is opening the Warren summer house, preparatory to the arrival of the remainder of the family.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Harry C. Ellis will visit his home in Brookline to-morrow and Sunday.

The North Wilbraham ball team netted $23.50 at their ball in Lane's Hall last Friday evening.

The local nine will play the Homesteads of Springfield at 4:30 to-morrow afternoon on Grassy Hollow grounds.

News was received Tuesday of the death at Holyoke of Mrs. John Woodbury, who formerly resided in this village.

Miss Lilla Mae Forbes returned to her home in Boston last Saturday, after a two-weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. N. Van der Pyl.

The Thorndikes played the home team last Saturday afternoon on Grassy Hollow, but when James Murphy's ear was split open by the ball in the hands of one of the opposing nine, the North Wilbrahams thought it time to quit. It was an interesting game up to this point, and the above-mentioned occurrence came near provoking a free fight; had it not been for the coolness of the manager and several others there would no doubt have been shadows on several eyes.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

For Well People.

Most medicines are for sick. Some can be used with good effects by persons apparently well. Occasional resort to Ripans Tabules prevents attacks that result from disorders of the stomach and liver.

To preserve is better and cheaper than to repair.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 52-25

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

FORBES & WALLACE'S,
SPRINGFIELD.

CAPES AND JACKETS.

The richest capes from the best makers of Paris, Berlin and America at about half prices, two lots of jackets at a quarter and a third of what they were made to sell for—it's worth the while to come.

Main floor of Pynchon Street Building.

BLACK SILKS.

Strange that here in Springfield we should sell the same silks so much lower than the stores in New York or Boston. These are the newest things:—

Black satin, surprising weight and texture, 27 inches wide, $1.75 a yard.

Black silk crepon, 26 inches wide, $1.50 a yard.

Black Ottoman Faille, extra heavy, $1.50 a yard.

Black gros grain with shadow stripes, $1.25 a yard.

Black Indias, 37½ to 75 cents.

Black Japanese, 28 inches, $1 and $1.25—surprising silks. Pull and twist the fabric and there's no giving, no starting of the threads.

Left aisle.

CARPETS AND MATTINGS.

We have made such prices in carpets and mattings that we ought to do two weeks business this week.

All the 10-cent mattings in stock shall be marked at 8 this morning.

The quality of Japanese jointless matting that we sold at 42 cents last season is going now at 25 cents—all new fresh mattings.

We have several ends of the 65 cent all wool ingrains—enough for a room---you shall have them at 37½ cents a yard.

Several patterns of 75 cent tapestries shall go at 65 cents a yard.

Every pattern of the regular $1.65 Bigelow Axminister in stock at $1.10 a yard; and the assortment is rich in choice things.

Second floor of Pynchon Street Building.

FORBES & WALLACE

Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

Dr. Fowler of Boston, says: "I am satisfied that the use of coffee is the cause of much illness in many ways, while Ayer's Hygienic Coffee is beneficial." Grocers sell it.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

A SPECIAL BENEFIT SALE OF FINE FURNITURE during the MONTH OF MAY.

We propose making this month memorable by instituting one of the LARGEST FURNITURE SALES IN OUR HISTORY.

In consequence of an overstocked market we have been enabled to fill our show rooms and storehouses with goods at Practically Our Own Prices and to offer our customers a line of Furniture unsurpassed in quality and lower in prices than ever before known in the annals of the business. Within the last four weeks, fully twenty-seven carloads have been received, making the Largest and Grandest Display of Furniture ever seen in this section of the country. Remember, seven floors, each one hundred feet square, hold an immense stock. There are bargains to attract every buyer whether for Private House, Summer Cottage, Hotel, Public Building or Club.

We invite an inspection of the stock. A genuine surprise awaits you both as to the quality of the goods and prices asked for same.

CARPET DEP'T.

500 ROLLS OF AXMINISTER AND BRUSSELS CARPETS.

1500 RUGS.

500 ROLLS OF STRAW MATTINGS.

Just received making the Largest Carpet Stock ever brought to our city.

By this last deal we are enabled to sell $1.65 Axminsters at $1.25 a yard.

Another line of the same goods, pattern going out of the looms at $1 a yard. And our regular $1.10 Axminsters at 85c a yard.

A big line of Best Brussels made go on sale at 85c and $1 a yard.

RUGS.

Great values in Smyrna and Japanese Rugs and Ingrain Art Squares. Full line of sizes and lowest prices.

STRAW MATTINGS.

With 500 rolls just off the ship, our stock is ahead of any in this vicinity in variety, qualities and prices.

Basement.

Meekins, Packard & Co.
Springfield, Mass.

THE BATTLE of BULL RUN

Is a thing of the past, but the battle of life is ever present, and it is the duty of everyone to secure their family supplies where they will be certain to get satisfactory returns for their money. To be sure of this, when you want

FINE GROCERIES, EGGS and BUTTER FRESH and PRIME, AND SWEET NUTS for SUNDAY TIME, FRUIT, FLOUR and GOODS, go directly to the store of

H. W. SMITH,

59 Main Street, Palmer.

They sell no adulterated trash, but give you the most and BEST for CASH.

PALMER CASH TEA STORE.

THE PLACE TO BUY YOUR

Tea, Coffee, Spices and Crockery

Is at the Old Stand in the Cross Block. Bring in all your checks. Will deal square with all.

R. J. HENRY, CROSS BLOCK, PALMER, MASS.

AUCTION!

Hampdem Park, Springfield, THURSDAY, MAY 23, AT ONE O'CLOCK P. M.

Twenty-five head of finely bred, fast trotters and gentlemen's driers. G. C. Flynt of Monson, consigns Nellie K., 2.25¼, sound, kind and handsome. Also colts from 2 to 4 years old that are very promising.

"El Palo Farm" sells Richard Lambert, took a record last year 2.25¼, third trial .14½. Also Aldine, record .18¼ last season. These horses are large and handsome.

Ralph Clifford of Monson is to dispose of his trotters. The Vermont Bay, his fast pacer that has many friends in Monson.

John A. Barri of Bridgeport, Ct., owner of the great Elfwood by Nutwood, sells eight of his get. They are trotters and will show for themselves.

Catalogs ready middle of May.

George C. Flynt, Monson, Mass.

FRESH

Milk and Cream.

MAPLE LAWN MILK FARM.

O. D. WELLS, Proprietor.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Board of Selectmen and School Committee will meet in the school committee room, high school building, Saturday, May 11th, at 1.30 p. m., to elect a member of the school committee to fill the vacancy existing.

Palmer, May 3d, 1895. 2-5

J. B. SHAW,

DRY GOODS, PALMER, - MASS.

We are all through house cleaning, and with a store bright with paint and varnish, and filled with goods suited to the season, we respectfully ask for inspection and comparison of goods and prices.

It is almost marvelous what pretty Dress Goods a little money will purchase. In Wash Goods the the assortment is much the largest ever shown by us.

In Groceries we have a full line of Staple and Fancy Articles, with specialties each week.

J. B. SHAW,

GROCERIES, PALMER, - MASS.

CHAIR BARGAINS.

Rattan Rockers, $3.28. Elegant goods, finished to the "Queen's Taste." Little better grade, $4.12

FINE LINE OF BABY CARRIAGES.

A HUNDRED DIFFERENT STYLES.

WE HAVE THIS WEEK A CARLOAD OF REFRIGERATORS.

KITCHEN DEPT. FULL OF BARGAINS. TERMS EASY.

We mention a few of our goods and prices. These we quote only as an index to the thousands of Bargains on hand:

An exceptionally prettily decorated Dinner Set, 112 pieces,	$7.86
Handsomely decorated Toilet Sets,	1.98
Novelty or Universal Wringer,	2.00
Copper Clad Wash Boiler,	.89
Nickle Tea Kettle,	.71
Nickle Alarm Clock,	.79
Coal Hod,	.16

Draperies, Carpets and Matting. | CREDIT GIVEN IF DESIRED. | Repairing and Upholstering.

E. LUTHER & CO.,

Main Street. SPRINGFIELD. Opp. Court Sq.

W. N. FLYNT & SONS'

SPRING STYLES IN MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING

HAVE ARRIVED. GIVE THEM A CALL AND RECEIVE BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY THAN EVER BEFORE. BE SURE YOU GET A TRILBY HAT.

LATEST IN HATS AND CAPS FOR MEN AND BOYS AT

W. N. FLYNT & SONS,

MONSON, MASS.

THE TIDE IS RISING.

The financial freeze-up of the past three years is thawed out by the pleasant smiles of those who buy to-day. Low prices and wonderful stocks of rich and stylish goods are having a splendid effect in bringing out the purse.

It is just this way we are creating a great stir in the trade, and in turn our customers are making the present season a busy one for us.

YOU WOULD NOT WONDER IF YOU COULD SEE OUR

VELVETS.

Black 27-inch velvets for capes—the two grades selling at $1.90 and $3.00 are special bargains.

In connection with velvet we offer a 40 inch black silk lining for capes.

Also changeable silk serge lining.

Black trimming velvets in all qualities from $1.00 to $4.38 per yard.

A complete assortment of colored velvets, black velveteens, colored velveteens.

WAISTS.

Ladies' shirt waists in percales, lawn, chambray, and Dimity with extra large sleeves laundered collar and cuffs—a large assortment of stripes, checks, figures and plain colors, all from the best manufacturers only. Shapes and styles correct, and prices, too. 75c, 87c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.38, $1.50 up to $3.50.

LINING DEPARTMENT.

Fast black cambrics 5 cents per yard.
"Sterling" fast black cambric, 6 cents per yard.
Best kid finish cambrics, all shades, 4 cents a yard.
Colored silesias—and extra quality, at 15 cents per yard.
Black canvas 15 cents—a quality usually sold at 20 cents.
Black and white barred crinolines, 10 cents.
New spring colors in canvas—chocolates, straw, tans, and French gray, linen, check muslin, striped crinolines.
Light weight haircloth canvas.
"Sterling" rustly cambric.
Sterling moire silkalines, much used for petticoats.
"Po'ka Sorrento"—a new thing in black, and navy blue at 25 cents per yard.

FIBER CHAMOIS.

Black Silks,
Black Taffeta Silks,
Black Surah Silks,
Black Satin Duchesse,
Black Peau de Soie.

UMBRELLAS AND PARASOLS.

Selected, Natural and Dresden Ball Handles.

FIGURED DIMITIES.

Stock just replenished by another large lot of neat and dainty things.

We guarantee everything as represented.

W. D. KINSMAN, CORNER OF MAIN AND BRIDGE STREETS,

SPRINGFIELD, - - - MASS.

Springfield Industrial Institute.

Institution of Science and Industry.

TRADE SCHOOL DEP'T. Courses 4 months to 1 year in length. Day instruction in Pattern Making, Cabinet Making, Sign and Carriage Painting, Plumbing, Brick Laying, Plastering, Stone Cutting and Machine Shop practice.

INDUSTRIAL HIGH SCHOOL DEP'T. (3 years' course.) Choice in trades in connection with thorough instruction in Mathematics, Science, Drawing, Essential English Branches and Shop Work.

ENGINEERING DEP'T. A two years' course in Higher Mathematics, Science Engineering Subjects, Drawing and Shop Work.

NORMAL MANUAL TRAINING DEP'T.

NORMAL KINDERGARTEN DEP'T.

For particulars address L. P. STRONG, Director, 26-4 SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

CARRIAGES

What one? I have one of the largest stocks in this city. Am overstocked now; have 3 car loads to come, and no room for them. I will give bargains in any kind of vehicles. It costs nothing to look over my stock and you will be used well even if you don't buy. I want to see you. Let's get acquainted. I will guarantee my prices with any dealer that pays for his goods.

HARNESSES,

heavy and light, all grades at lowest prices. You will buy if you look at them. I sell as low as the lowest. My expenses are not one-fourth that of other dealers who sell as much as I. That's your advantage in buying here.

D. W. BUTTERWORTH,

60 Dwight St., Springfield.

THE PLACE TO GO. If a Dollar's Worth Saving,

It's worth going after. Every day hundreds of people from all about Western Massachusetts, Connecticut and Vermont go to Haynes & Co's. Why? Because there they find an almost unlimited stock of clothing and Furnishings to select from, and because they believe that a dollar's worth saving. If you must have a suit within an hour, go to the nearest clothing establishment; but if you have a little time, go to Haynes & Co. It means money in your pocket. We couldn't make a living at the prices we get if we did not draw patronage from three states. Then

WHEN YOU ARE OUT

At the elbows and knees, or out of anything in our line, or simply out "looking around," drop in at Haynes & Co's. and "look around." If you can't leave home, write us. We do a big business in our mailing department. Everything in the store is new, selected by buyers of experience, at prices that instant cash demands, and sold at figures that make quick sales and keep the stock fresh. That's the way we do business. How does it strike you? Men's, Young Men's and Youth's Suits, Overcoats, Hats, Caps, Shirts, Neckties, Gloves, Etc. Our 40 years' reputation for reliability back of every sale. Satisfaction or no sale, and your money back if you want it.

HAYNES & CO., SPRINGFIELD.

A 19 CENT SALE At Hellyar's Bargain Store,

Caryl's Block, - On the Corner.

4 yards of Lining Cambric.
1¼ yards of best Silicia.
2 yards of imitation Hair Cloth.
2 yards of Crinoline.
1½ yards of Canvas.
3 yards of Cross Bar Cambric.
5 yards of Apron Check Gingham.
2 yards of Dress Goods.
3 yards of Outing Flannel.
1½ yards Colored Canton Flannel.
1½ yards best Feather Ticking.
4 yards Lace Scrim.
¼ yard Silk Plush (all colors.)
4 doz. Dress Buttons.
8 doz. Hooks and Eyes (Kant Open.)
7 spools Black Silk.
4 spools Best Thread.
5 spools, 500 yards, Basting Thread.
1 bottle 25c Perfumery.
1 bottle Mitchell's Rose Cutilave.
13 yards Tom Thumb Ribbon.
4 yards Morai, Picot Edge Ribbon.
2 yards Wide Lace.
3 pair Dress Shields (warranted.)
2 pair Hose, ladies or children.
2 fine Huckaback Towels.
4 yards Toweling, bleached or unbleached.
4 bunches of Envelopes, all sizes.
4 quires best Writing Paper.
1 White Apron.
1 black Shopping Bag.
2 Shoulder Shawls.
3 pair Gent's Hose.
10 yards Narrow Hamburg.
1½ skeins Germantown.
1 earthen Tea Pot.
1 large Yellow Bowl.
1 Drapery Pole and Trimmings.
10 papers of Pins.
4 doz. Lead Pencils.
2 Rope Halters.
1 Curry Comb and Brush.
2 Cuspidores.
5 bunches of Tacks.
4 bunches Toilet Paper.
1 Bean Pot.
2 yards Rug Fringe.
1 Wire Rat Trap.
4 yards Carpet Lining.

Any of the above ONLY 19 CENTS. This is the store for the economical buyers.

Best live Geese Feathers only 55c per lb.
White Bed Spreads 67 cents.
Laundered White or Colored Shirts, 47 cents.
Floor Oils Cloths, 23 cents per yard.
Slop Pails 25 cents.
Lanterns, 42 cents.
Curtains 23c, 31c, 36c, 37c, 50c each.
2 pair Men's Suspenders, 25c.
Custom Suits from $11 to $25.

REMEMBER THE PLACE,

HELLYAR'S BARGAIN STORE,

Caryl's Block, on the Corner,

PALMER, - MASS.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,

OPTICIAN.

331 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial Eyes Furnished.
Oculists' Prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 26-51

ADOLPH MILLER, the tailor, whose store was burned in the recent fire in Monson, has established a new shop on Main street just below the Cushman Hotel. I have a new set of samples, and can make a handsome business suit from $18 to $20 and upwards. Good work and fine fit guaranteed. I also do repairing.

ADOLPH MILLER, 3*4 Monson Mass.

W. E. STONE.

HOUSEKEEPING DEPARTMENT.

Agate Iron Ware.

Most durable of any, consequently the cheapest.

PRICES AGAIN REDUCED.

Agate Iron Teapots,	3 sizes.
Coffee Pots,	3 "
Preserve Kettles,	4 "
Sauce Pans,	6 "
Nickled Tea Kettles, best quality, full size	only $1.
" Tea Pots,	3 sizes.
" Coffee Pots,	3 "
Tin and Copper Wash Boilers,	all "
Wash Boards, Wash Tubs, Pails, Clothes Pins, Clothes Lines, Clothes Baskets, Mop Sticks and Brooms.
Yellow Mixing Bowls,	9 sizes.
" Nappies,	6 "
Rockingham Tea Pots,	4 "

Our 5 cent List

Now includes many articles that were formerly 10 cents.

Tin Wash Basins, 11½ inch—a rattler,	5c
Tea Strainers,	5c
Bowl " 5 in.,	5c
Bread and Biscuit Pans,	5c
Vegetable Sifters,	5c
Meat Forks,	5c
Iron Spoons, wood handles,	5c
Pudding Pans,	5c
Embossed Mugs,	5c
Kettle Covers,	5c
Toasters,	5c
Doughnut Cutters,	5c
Salt and Pepper Shakes,	5c
Glass Mugs,	5c
Goblets,	5c
Tumblers,	5c
Tooth Pick Holders,	5c
Cream Pitchers,	6c
Jelly Dish, fan pattern,	6c
Sugar Bowl, with cover,	9c
Butter Dish, " "	9c
Syrup Cup,	10c
Vinegar Cruets,	10c
Stew Pan and Cover,	10c
Tea and Coffee Pots,	10c
Cuspidores,	10c
Large Dippers,	9 and 10c
Cake Tins,	10c
Flour Sifters,	13c
Tea Kettles,	19c
Dish Drainers,	25c
Carpet Beaters,	10c
Dish Pans, large,	10c
Rinsing Pans, large,	25c
Tea and Coffee Pots, copper bottoms,	25 and 29c
Round Dinner Pails,	25c
Square " "	50c
Soap Savers,	10c
Egg Beaters,	15c
Chopping Knives,	15 and 33c

GROCERY DEPARTMENT.

Our Tea, Coffee and Spice Dep't.

Is one we give a great deal of attention. Its a trade plaster, i e—it draws.

Our Teas are very carefully selected from samples submitted by the largest importers.

We carry a large assortment, ranging from 25c to $1 per pound. We will undertake to please the most fastidious in the Tea and Coffee question.

Something New for this section is a CEYLON TEA, of very delicate color, aroma and flavor, at $1.00 the pound. Requires less than half the quantity of other teas. This tea is grown on the Island of Ceylon, the land of big elephants. Try a quarter of a pound. You will find it an agreeable change.

Our "Paul Revere" brand of Coffee (red bags) is gaining many friends. 38c a pound. You will need to call here for it.

We have a pure Coffee at 25c a pound that gives good satisfaction.

We sell SLADE'S SPICES—They are absolutely pure and packages full weight.

Lively Things in the Grocery Dep't.

Kibbe's Mixed Candies,	2 pounds for 25c
" Peppermint Drops,	25c "
" Chocolate "	20c a pound

Dunham's Shredded Cocoanut, ¼, ½ and 1 pound packages.

Sugar Drip Syrup, 1 gallon, including jug, 40c, without jug, 25c.

Beardsley's Shredded Cod.

Plymouth Rock Gelatine, white and pink.

B. M. C. Best Flour. If you want cheap flour don't ask for this. Yet it is cheap, for you get many more loaves from a barrel of this than from the cheaper grades. So called cheap flour is usually dear in the end.

California Navel Oranges, 176 size, 25c a dozen.

Parlor Matches, Peacock Brand.

Acme Soap.

Large Prunes, 10c a pound.

Evaporated Apricots.

Oak Leaf Soap. See the handsome pictures in our window given away for wrappers. Call for premium list.

CARPET AND RENTING DEPARTMENTS.

From the importers we expect to receive this week a few rolls of very fine Straw Mattings. These mattings have a cotton warp, are desirable and handsome. Prices are way under city prices.

Oil Cloth Carpets.
Ingrain "
Hemp "
Carpet Linings.
Wool Fringes for Rugs.
Lace Curtains.
Extension Rods for Sash Curtains.
Drapery Poles.

We have the following Instruments to rent:
One new Upright Piano
One second-hand Upright.
One second-hand Organ.

W. E. STONE

Lawrence Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

Spring and Summer Shoes

Now in stock and receiving others daily.

The largest and best selected stock of Boots and Shoes for the money that can be found in Western Massachusetts.

Tan Shoes, all shades, low and high, for Ladies and Boys and Youths, Misses and Children.

Can fit the smallest baby or the largest man.

FULL STOCK OF PATENT LEATHER SHOES.

Hall's Shoe House, 294 Main St., next to P. O., Springfield, Mass. . . . . .

DENTAL

Operations are usually painful; but at my office we excavate and Fill all Cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN.

Also, we do Crown and Bridge Work and make Artificial Teeth that are Satisfactory.

First Class Work at Reasonable Prices is our motto. Lady Attendant. Take Elevator.

DR. WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, DENTIST. Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield, Mass.

DO YOU WANT A BICYCLE?

Take advantage of our wonderful offer. We are selling second-hand bicycles for $5 and up. Our store is attracting hosts of wide awake buyers. Where the crowd goes, that's the people's store. You can order by mail and feel secure.

G. M. Hendee, Springfield, Mass.

Ask Some Questions about Pearline, of any woman who uses it. Ask her what she thinks of it, and whether it's quite safe to use, and if washing and cleaning is any easier with it. Ask her how the clothes look and last, when they're not rubbed over the washboard. Ask her how it would seem to go back to that eternal rub, rub, rub, now that she has got rid of it. If she has used Pearline faithfully, and just as directed on every package, she'll probably have one question to ask you: "How in the world do you manage to get along without it."

Beware of imitations. 537 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

COLLARS AND CUFFS that are waterproof. Never wilt and not effected by moisture. Clean, neat and durable. When soiled simply wipe off with a wet cloth. The genuine are made by covering a linen collar or cuff on both sides with "celluloid" and as they are the only waterproof goods made with such an interlining, it follows that they are the only collars and cuffs that will stand the wear and give satisfaction. Every piece is stamped as follows:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

If anything else is offered you it is an imitation. Refuse any but the genuine, and if your dealer does not have what you want send direct to us, enclosing amount and stating size and whether a stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair.

The Celluloid Company,
427-429 Broadway, New York.

"Suppose," said little Mable, the other day, "that our pug should try to follow his nose; would he run down his throat, or just turn a back somersault?"—Puck.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Baim he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle.

Agreeably Surprised.

"I had a very severe cold on my lungs that caused much soreness and gave me considerable uneasiness in regard to the result," says Mr. T. E. Smith, of Billerica, Mass. "A local druggist called my attention to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and on his recommendation I gave the remedy a careful trial. The result surprised me; I recovered entirely in three days." 25 and 50 cent bottles.

It Did The Business.

Mr. J. H. Cobb, publisher of the Mirror, at Brockton, N. Y., says: "For nearly two years the Mirror has been publishing the advertisements of Chamberlain's Remedies. A few days ago the writer was suffering from a bowel trouble and resorted to an old remedy which did not prove efficacious; finally he tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Pemedy and two doses did the business, checking it completely.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

From the Groton, Connecticut, Review.

David Lewis, who has been afflicted all winter by rheumatism, is out again and all due to one of the medicines advertised in our columns. After trying everything possible, he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which has relieved him of all pain, from which he was a constant sufferer and promises to make him fit for duty soon. We know David has been a great sufferer and are glad to see him around again.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

HORSE BLANKETS,

HORSE BLANKETS,

HORSE BLANKETS.

A FULL LINE OF

STABLE AND . . .

STREET BLANKETS

—AT—

WHOLESALE PRICES.

D. W. FOSKETT,

FOSKET'S MILLS.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.

Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

MET ABROAD.

Forty people sat at the table d'hote one evening at Hotel des Anglais in Nice; we were the only Americans. Every one was conversing in well-bred undertone when our attention was attracted to the main door which opened into the salon. There stood a stout man perhaps sixty years of age. He wore a Prince Albert coat of black broadcloth with trousers to match; a long white beard swept his shirt bosom, no mostache graced his upper lip and the white of his beard was intensified by a scarlet face. I knew he was an American as soon as I looked at him. He was accompanied by a boy of fourteen. As all eyes were centered on him he snapped his fingers at the head waiter and thundered, "Where are you goin' to put me and the boy?"

There were two seats unoccupied next to me and I was sure that I was destined to have them, with the boy, seated there—and I was right. Two courses had already been served to us, but soup was brought to them, and as the old man covered his waistcoat as high as he could with his napkin, tucking the upper ends into the sleeve opening of his waistcoat armholes, the amazement of the two English ladies opposite us, who witnessed this performance, was making me rather uneasy. After successfully securing the napkin so it would not slip, he proceeded to shovel the soup into his mouth with his spoon while with his left hand he pressed his long white beard against his breast so that he should not soil it in case any soup escaped his mouth.

The older of the two English ladies opposite, thinking I was annoyed and wishing to hear my new neighbor speak, said to me "Mr. Blake, when did you leave New York?"

"On September third," I answered, wondering if he would hear our conversation.

"You an American?" he blurted out loudly so everyone heard him, still continuing his greedy handling of the soup.

"Yes."

"So am I, thank God," he shouted. "What is there to see down here; anything besides picture galleries and palaces?"

"Oh, yes," I replied; "Monte Carlo is only fourteen miles away."

"What's that?" he asked.

"Monte Carlo! why, its the greatest gambling place in the world."

"It is, is it? Well, if there is anything I enjoy it is a little game of draw poker."

A smile passed over the faces of those nearest us and I did not attempt to continue the conversation. We tried to avoid him after this. At Pisa, Genoa and Florence, we were destined to meet at the hotels and a simple recognition was all that passed between us.

Just before Christmas we left Naples to go back to Paris so as to be there on Christmas day. When we reached Modena at midnight my companion was ill and I transferred him into the train for Paris. All baggage had to be examined by Italian officers before we could have it stamped for Paris, and in searching for the key of my steamer trunk I found, much to my dismay, that I had lost it. My peace of mind was not lessened as I thought of certain antiques in the trunk which had been given me by one of the officials of the Naples Museum from his private collection—antiques which, without a certificate, were forbidden to be taken out of Italy. I thought of how they would break open my trunk, as they certainly would be suspicious when I should plead that I had lost my keys.

A long bench or raised platform held all the trunks in line, and when I found mine I stood beside it awaiting my doom. The next minute a hand was placed on my shoulder, and looking around I gazed into the face of the American with the long, white beard.

"Hello, Blake"! he cried; "what's the matter with you?"

"I've lost the key to my trunk, and they'll break it open. What am I to do!" I replied.

"That's all right. Don't you worry. Take your trunk and put it next to my five small trunks. Here they are," placing his hands on some trunks just ahead of mine.

I shouldered my trunk and put it next to his just as the official called for the owner of his first trunk.

"Open this trunk," said the official.

The white-bearded man drew his keys from his pocket, chose a certain key and handed it to him, and in his brusque voice said—

"Open it yourself."

I gazed at the trunk as the lid was opened, and on the top of the tray covering it entirely was a silk American flag. The two officials stood erect and lifted their hats as one of them said, "Americano."

The owner of trunk slapped his hand down on all his trunks and mine, too, saying with each slap, "Americano too, Americano too."

They did not disturb the flag, but marked each trunk with chalk, and made us a courteous bow as they passed back the keys. We turned and walked down the platform, and as the man with the white beard took my arm, he said—"They've got more darned respect for our flag over here than we have."

I tried to express to him how deeply indebted I was to him for his kindness, when he interrupted me, saying—"I know you tried to avoid me when we met in Italy, and I know that I am common,but my heart's all right."—G. B. D. in Boston Transcript.

A small boy was at a table where his mother was not near to take care of him, and a lady next to him volunteered her services. "Let me cut your steak for you," she said; "if I can cut it the way you like it," she added with some degree of doubt. "Thank you," the boy responded, accepting her courtesy; "I shall like it the way you cut it, even if you do not cut it the way I like it."—Detroit Free Press.

To be Well This Spring

Take the Great French Hospital Remedy, which, by its thousands of cures, has set the entire medical world to talking.

It cures all Spring Debility, quickens the laggard pulse, sends new, rich blood flowing through the veins, searches out all impurities and diseases, and quickly eradicates them from the system. Contains no wines or opiates, and is the only remedy in the world that will permanently cure you.

Take Blood Wine.

The Only

Great and thoroughly reliable building-up medicine, nerve tonic, vitalizer and

Blood Purifier

Before the people today, and which stands preeminently above all other medicines, is

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

It has won its hold upon the hearts of the people by its own absolute intrinsic merit. It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does that tells the story:—

Hood's Cures

Even when all other preparations and prescriptions fail.

"We have used Hood's Sarsaparilla as a strengthener and general tonic and it has done us good. We have found it beneficial in cleansing the blood and building up the system. It enables us to sleep well nights and to rise refreshed in the morning." C. A. CARTER, 7 Second St., Leominster, Mass.

Get HOOD'S

Hood's Pills are tasteless, mild, effective. All druggists. 25c.

Editor—"What can you do on a newspaper?"

Applicant—"I am a war correspondent and a football understudy."—New York World.

Tired, Weak, Nervous Could Not Sleep.

Prof. L. D. Edwards, of Preston, Idaho, says: "I was all run down, weak, nervous and irritable through overwork. I suffered from brain fatigue, mental depression, etc. I became so weak and nervous that I could not sleep, I would arise tired, discouraged and blue. I began taking and now everything is changed. I sleep soundly, I feel bright, active and ambitious. I can do more in one day now than I used to do in a week. For this great good I give Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine the sole credit.

Dr. Miles' Nervine

It Cures."

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

A SYRACUSE LADY

Suffered From Heart Trouble, Liver Complaint and Rheumatism, and was Cured.

From Syracuse (N. Y.) Herald.

The efficacy of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was substantially proven—in the case of Mrs. C. S. Abell, of this city.

Mrs. Abell lives at No. 114 Roberts avenue, where she was seen by a reporter. She talked freely of her case, and said: "For a number of years I have been troubled with liver complaint and rheumatism, that made me almost helpless. I became so ill I could scarcely walk across the floor. One of our home physicians informed me that I had heart trouble, and began treating me for that. His treatment did me no good. One day I read of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which I purchased and began taking, and improved greatly. I have now taken six bottles, and was never so well in my life. I can say nothing but kind words for Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, to which I owe so much, I know of another case in which Favorite Remedy restored to health a friend, who was thought incurable."

Mrs. Abell also said she would be glad to describe her case to any sufferer. The family are quite as profuse in their praise of Favorite Remedy.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is a never failing specific in diseases of the skin and blood. It restores the disordered liver to a healthy condition and corrects constipation. It is a certain cure for the diseases peculiar to women. It cures scrofula, salt rheum, erysipelas, nervousness, loss of sleep, or that worn out feeling. In cases of rheumatism, dyspepsia, Bright's disease, gravel, diabetes and bladder troubles, it has cured where all else failed. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is sold by all dealers in medicine at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.

AYER'S Hygienic Coffee.

A Health Drink, Nerve and Brain Food.

A vegetable and cereal compound; contains all the elements one's system requires.

Prepared by M. S. AYER, of Boston. A vegetarian of many years.

PRICE, 20 CENTS PER POUND.

Directions: Prepare the same as Coffee, using not more than two-thirds as much for the same amount of water, or one tablespoonful to a pint.

For sale by principal wholesale and retail grocers. Send 2c stamp for book on "Diet Reform."

M. S. AYER. 211 STATE ST., BOSTON.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, C.

WAIT FOR THE

ONLY BIG SHOW COMING.

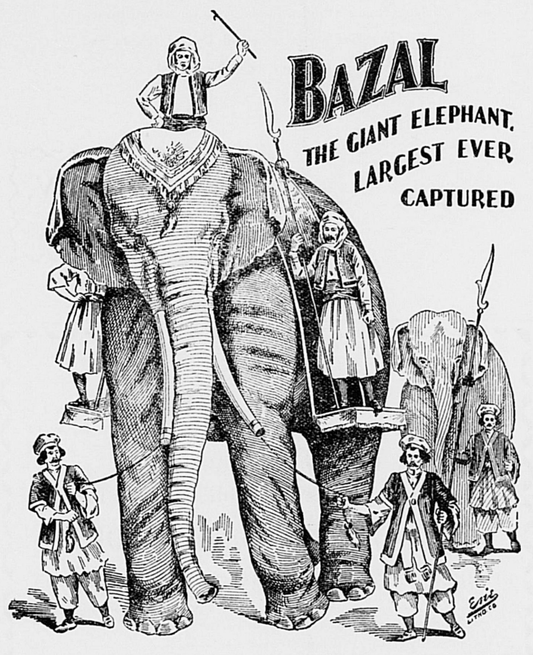
A GRAND TRIUMPH IN THE HISTORY OF AMUSEMENT.

SCRIBNER & SMITH'S ENORMOUS UNITED SHOWS,

Circus, Museum, Menagerie, Japanese Troupe, Arab Athletics, and

. . . $15,000 FREE HORSE FAIR. . . .

AT PALMER, FRIDAY, MAY 24.



300 Men and Women 300
8 Big Tents 8
60 Elegant Acts 60
15 Gilded Cages 15

100 Thoroughbred Horses 100
3 Bands of Music 3
3 Golden Tableaux Cars 3
3 Open Dens 3

THE GREATEST 25 CENT SHOW EVER ORGANIZED!

Magnificent Attractions, Wonderful Acts, Glorious Feats, and Marvelous Performances.

BAZAL, THE GIANT ELEPHANT.

Lordly Lions, Terrific Tiger, Deadly Jaguars, Monster Pythons, and Wierd Monsters of the Forest and Jungle.

Grand Free Street Parade at 12 o'clock, Noon.

A Kingly Procession of Mounted Knights and Ladies, Golden Tableau Cars, Open Dens of Wild Animals, Comic Clowns, Male and Female Jockeys, etc.

ONE 25 CENT TICKET ADMITS TO ALL.

Two Grand and Novel Performances Each Day.

Doors Open at 7 and 1 o'clock. Tournament at 2 and 8 o'clock.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

BICYCLES FOR 1895.

STEARNS "Yellow Fellow." Ladies' and Gents' $100.

WARWICK "Crimson Rims." $80, $85, $100.

CRESCENTS $90, $75, $50, $40.

WINNEWOOD & TEMPLES $60.

We have full size in Ladies' and Gents' Wheels for $50, fully warranted.

BICYCLE REPAIRING.

We have secured the services of Alfred H. Stokes to take charge of this department. Mr. Stokes comes to us from the KEATING WHEEL CO. where he has had entire charge of their Repair Department.

He can save you money in repairs and suit you. Any kind of wheel repaired.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

SEEDS.

Garden Seeds, Grass Seeds, Flower Seeds, Seed Potatoes. We take great pains to suit you on this line. We think poor seeds are worthless at any price. See us before you buy.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Belcher & Taylor's Plows and Cultivators. Rough and Ready Wrought Iron Beam Plows. Planet, Jr. Horse Hoes and Cultivators. John Doud Wheel Harrows. Steel Road Scrapers. Spring Tooth Harrows. Lawn Mowers.

We shall carry a good line and solicit your trade.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

FISHING TACKLE.

TROUT FISHING SEASON is here, and we are prepared for it. Rods, Lines, Reels, Baskets, etc. Nice assortment. Fair prices.

E. A. Buck & Co., Palmer.

YOUNG MEN'S LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.
Palmer, Mass.

Classified Finding-List.

A finding-list of fiction in the library has been printed by the Library Association. This list of other books is published for the convenience of readers who cannot consult the complete card catalogue at the library. Cut out each list as published and paste in a scrap book, leaving space after each class for future additions, and when finished you will, with the fiction finding list, have a complete list of the books in the library.

640 Domestic Economy.
640H Housewife's Library
640St House and home papers. Stowe
650 Communication and Commerce.
650G Peter Parley's illustrations of commerce. Goodrich
653An Phonographic reader. Andrews and Boyle
653Sc Shorthand. Scovil
660 Chemical Technology.
663B Chocolate-plant and its products. Baker
663S On fermentation. Schutzenberger
670 Manufactures.
670B Wonderstories of Science. Beach and others
670C Stories of industry. Chase and Clow
670G Great industries of U. S. Greeley and others
670M Annual statistics of manufactures. Mass. labor bureau. 1889
670R Illustrated catalogue wood working machinery. Richardson Merriam & Co
690 Building.
690H Carpenter's and joiner's handbook. Holly
700 Fine Arts.
700W Making of pictures. Whitman
701R Two paths. Ruskin
701T Christian art and symbolism. Tyrwhitt.
705qH Illustrated exhibitor and magazine of arts. v. 1
705qM Magazine of art
709LS Outline history of the fine arts. Lossing
709Lq Outlines of the history of art Lubke. 2v
709R89s Stones of Venice. Ruskin. 3v in2
710 Landscape Gardening.
710D Treatise on landscape gardening. Downing
710Eg Villages and village life. Egleston
710Sc Art of beautifying suburban home grounds. Scott
711M Metropolitan report Mass. park commissioners. 1893
722St Rambles in wonderland. Stanley
715W Hedges and evergreens. Warder
716R Flowers for the parlor and garden. Rand
720 Architecture.
720R89 Seven lamps of architecture. Ruskin
720V Story of a house. Viollet-le-duc
728Al Rural architecture. Allen
728C Village and farm cottages. Cleaveland, Backus & Backus
728H Farmer's and Mechanic's practical architect. Hammond
730 Sculpture.
R737C Early coins of America. Crosby
738T Manual of pottery and porcelain. Treadwell
740 Drawing.
740R Elements of drawing. Ruskin
749L Plea for art in the house. Loftie
750 Painting.
750R8 Modern painters. Ruskin 5v. in 4
760 Engravings.
760R Ariadne Florentina. Ruskin
770 Photography.
770V Chemistry of light and photography. Vogel
780 Music.
781M Musician; or, self instructor. Monk
790 Amusements.
790G Boys' useful pastimes. Griffith
792L Theatre. Leeds
793M What shall we do to-night. Mayne
796A Athletic sports for boys
796Or Athletics and manly sports. O'Reilly
796P Athletic sports in America, England and Australia. Palmer and others
798W Whip and spur. Waring
799K Hunting in the jungle. Kellog
799M Adventures on the great hunting grounds of the world. Meunier
799Or Fishing with the fly. Orvis and Cheney
800 Literature.
803K Ten thousand wonderful thing King
803P Library of wonders and curiosities. Platt
804P Highways of literature. Pryde
808D Concordance to the principal poets. Durfee
808K Half hours with the best authors. Knight 4v.
808.1Sh On poetic interpretation of nature. Shairp
808.5M Oratory and orators. Mathews
808.8B Familiar quotations. Bartlett
808.8L Classic essays. Lamb and others
809H Miracle plays and sacred dramas. Hase
809Q Illustrated history of ancient literature. Quackenbos
809Sch Lectures on the history of literature. Schlegel
810 American Literature.
R810qD Cyclopaedia of American literature. Duyckinck and Duyckinck 2v.
810G Female poets of America. Griswold
810T History of American literature, 1607-1765. Tyler 2v. in 1

More Binding.

"The best thing to seal a proposal is a kiss, is it not?"

"No, dear, a witness."

Complimented.—She had married a young naval officer and was so pleased over it that she had gone with him into a little house on a side street and was running it herself.

"Have you any beans?" she inquired of the grocer's clerk during the first week of her incumbency.

"Do you wish navy beans?" he asked politely.

"Oh, certainly," she twittered. "How clever of you to guess we weren't army people."

And the clerk almost choked on the ball of twine he stuck in his mouth to control his emotions.

A Discredited Proverb.—"It is the empty wagon that makes the most noise," said the man who delights to talk in aphorisms.

"Well, what of that?" retorted the other man. "It's just the other way with a man. He makes most noise when he is full."—Indianapolis Journal.

Miss—"Will I see you at the Thornborne's masquerade to-morrow?"

Mr. Beaconstreet—"Yes. I shall go as a monk."

"Oh, how lovely! And will a hurdy-gurdy man have you on a string?"—Indianapolis Journal.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

{SEAL} A. W. GLEASON
Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

☞Sold by Druggists, 75c.

A GREAT OFFER

Nickel Watch and Chain Given Away.

Charles E. Lynch's Magnificent Gift for the Boys.

The enterprising Young Clothier, CHARLES E. LYNCH of Springfield, doesn't do anything by halves. His aim is to sell good clothing. It is an admitted fact that he does.

With a view to pleasing the boys, MR. LYNCH is now giving a Stemwinding Nickel Watch and Chain to cash purchasers of Boys' Five Dollar Suits. The movement is of Fine American make, with nickel case. It is a regular Waltham Standard pocket size. It has heavy beveled glass crystal. It keeps as good time as watches costing thirty or forty dollars. It's a capital idea and characteristic of MR. LYNCH'S enterprise. Every boy in and around Springfield ought to take advantage of MR. LYNCH'S unprecedented offer.

S. & W. Wind Engines For Pumping and Power.

Do not be deceived by misleading advertisements. If you or your friends are in need of anything in the following lines, send for our new and handsome catalogue of 175 pages now ready for mailing.

Hot Air Engines, Steam Engines and Boilers, Tanks, Pumps, Pipe-fittings, Steam or Hot Water House Heating Boilers, &c.

SMITH & WINCHESTER CO.,
19 to 37 Wendell St., BOSTON. 141 Centre St., NEW YORK.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONEAT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

Granite and Marble Monuments.

FINEST WORKMANSHIP AND LOWEST PRICES. NEW DESIGNS ARE BEING ADDED TO MY STOCK CONSTANTLY.

WILLIAM F. COOK,

182 and 184 State St., Springfield, Mass.

S. H. HELLYAR'S

Fire Insurance Agency,

CARYL'S BLOCK,

PALMER, - - MASS.

I represent some of the largest companies, both stock and mutual, doing business in this state, and should be pleased to reckon you as one of my customers.

Will guarantee you security, promptness, economy, and a correctly written policy.

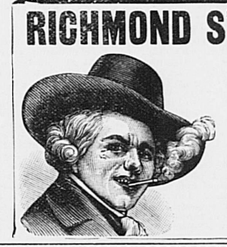
Thanking you for past favors, I am

Yours respectfully,

S. H. HELLYAR.

THAT JOB OF PRINTING. There's no better place at which to get it done than the JOURNAL Office. Experienced workmen, skilled in every branch of the art.

RICHMOND STRAIGHT CUT No. 1 CIGARETTES



MADE FROM THE BRIGHTEST, MOST DELICATELY FLAVORED AND HIGHEST COST GOLD LEAF GROWN IN VIRGINIA.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Who are willing to pay a little more than the price charged for ordinary trade cigarettes, will find this brand superior to all others.

ALLEN & GINTER, RICHMOND, VA.
THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., Successor.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

No Default of Principal or Interest

has ever occurred in a security sold by this company

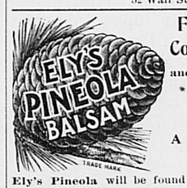
MUNICIPAL BONDS.

The securities offered by this Company are selected with great care, and are first class investments for individual buyers, legatees, trustees, banks and savings banks. More than

FIFTY CLASSES OF BONDS

have been sold by us in the last three years. Send for our list of bonds and make use of our experience.

German-American Investment Co.,
52 Wall Street, New York.



For Coughs, Colds, Asthma and Pulmonary Diseases.

A True Balsam.

Ely's Pineola will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. The annoying tickling and nervous irritation in the throat, producing hacking coughs is quickly relieved by it. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from the use of Pineola Balsam, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. The Pincola Balsam is pleasant to the taste, is soothing to the inflamed surface.

More lives are sacrificed by the neglect of "slight coughs" than can be estimated.

Price of Pineola Balsam, 25c per bottle. All druggists. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., New York.

USE BARNES' INK
A. S. BARNES & CO., 56 E. 10th St., N. Y.

DEAFNESS & HEAD NOISES CURED. My Tubular Cushions help when all else fails, as glasses help eyes. Whispers heard. No pain. Invisible. F. Hiscox, 853 B'way New York, sole depot. Send for book and proofs FREE.

THE HARDWARE DEALER.
A MAGAZINE brim full of practical ideas from hardware men. The cream of 1000 brains. 116 pages. Only $1.00 a year. Sample copy free.
D. T. MALLET, Pub., 78 Reade St., New York.

VEGETABLE, PULMONARY, BALSAM.

The old, well known cure, —for— "Best in the Coughs, Colds and World." Consumption.

Originated by Lowe & Reed, 1826.
CUTLER BROS. & CO., Boston. 50c., $1.00.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE
Use Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cures the worst Cough, Weak Lungs, Debility, Indigestion, Pain, Take in time. 50 cts.

HINDERCORNS. The only sure cure for Corns. Gives all pain. 15c. at Druggists, or HISCOX & Co., N. Y.

CALIFORNIA, OREGON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO,
AND ALL WESTERN POINTS.
Select Excursions from Chicago Every Day.
Via Chicago, Union Pacific, and Northwestern Line.
SHORTEST ROUTE. LOWEST RATES
For handsome illustrated folder and detailed information address W. MASSEY, N. E. Pass. Agt., or J. S. SMITH, Trav. Pass. Agt., Union Pacific Ry., 290 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

FOR ALL KINDS OF JOB PRINTING, CALL AT THE JOURNAL OFFICE.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE IS THE BEST.
FIT FOR A KING.

$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF.
$4. $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO.
$3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES.
$2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S. EXTRA FINE.
$2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES.
LADIES.
$3. $2.50 $2. $1.75 BEST DONGOLA.
SEND FOR CATALOGUE.
W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

Over One Million People wear the W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes
All our shoes are equally satisfactory
They give the best value for the money.
They equal custom shoes in style and fit.
Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed.
The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole
From $1 to $3 saved over other makes.
If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by

ED. GOODES, PALMER. 21-40

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.
Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Moores, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Wald, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H.W. McGregory
Board of Investment,
Geo. Moores, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY AND MACHINE SHOP.

At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.

MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL JOBBING DONE

At short notice and reasonable prices.

52-35 R. B. FRANCIS.

"HE THAT WORKS EASILY WORKS SUCCESSFULLY." 'TIS VERY EASY TO CLEAN HOUSE WITH

SAPOLIO

45

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 17, 1895.—SIX PAGES. NUMBER 7.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one-half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 50 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, E. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R.R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BOND, A. M., Manufacturer and Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, Tinware, Hardware, etc.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's.

WARE.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

PALMER LODGE, No. 190, I. O. O. F.
Meets every Wednesday evening in Commercial Block, Main street.
M. M. THOMAS, N. G. G. H. BRAY, Rec. Sec.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W.
Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in Grange Hall, Day's Block, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

If you are going to use any

WALL PAPER

this spring it will

PAY YOU

to look at our line and get

OUR PRICES.

We have our NEW STOCK all in and know we are very bottom on prices.

WE WILL UNDERSELL

any city in the state of Massachusetts.

LeGRO & LYNDE,

DRUGGISTS,

Next Door to Post Office, Palmer.

FINEST GROWN

FOR ALL KINDS OF JOB PRINTING CALL AT THE JOURNAL OFFICE.

How to Make a Big Day's Wages Easy.

If "A Dollar Saved is a Dollar Gained," (as the old proverb says) then here is the way to make several dollars when investing in a MACKINTOSH Coat.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY.

A handsome Blue Cashmere Sleeveless Mackintosh, Double Texture, with fancy Plaid Lining. Regular price, $7.00.

The price will be reduced 25 cents each working day until it is sold. If not sold upon the 30th day the first lady asking for it can have it FREE.

OUR SUMMER CORSET

Is a leader among 50 cent Corsets. Made of handsome Coutille Net, two side steels, extra long waisted,

50 CENTS A PAIR.

LADIES' SHIRT WAISTS.

New Designs, New Patterns, New Styles, Endless Variety. Sizes, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, at prices

FROM 50 CENTS UPWARD.

T. H. TODD.

Boston Store, Monson, Mass.

.... THE ....

Teachers' Convention

IN JULY.

CHEAPEST RATES OUT OF NEW ENGLAND TO ALL POINTS WEST, VIA. THE

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY,

Niagara Falls, and The Great St. Clair Tunnel,

Also via. MONTREAL, following the shores of the famous ST. LAWRENCE RIVER for three hundred miles.

FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATIONS, UNEQUALLED SERVICE.

Teachers returning will complete the enjoyment of their trip by taking a sail through the Thousand Islands and the Rapids of the St. Lawrence from Kingston to Montreal.

For further particulars as to this route, apply to

N. J. Grace, D. P. A., G. T. Ry., Boston, Mass.
G. T. Bell, A. G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal, P. Q.
N. J. Power, G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal, P. Q.

....BICYCLES....

Keating, - - $100

Winnewood, $80, $60, $50, $40

A FIRST CLASS WHEEL FOR LITTLE MONEY.

A. E. FITCH,

BANK BLOCK, - - PALMER.

FRESH

Milk and Cream.

MAPLE LAWN MILK FARM.

O. D. WELLS, Proprietor.

CHARLES E. LYNCH.

SUMMER SUGGESTIONS.

"What will it cost," is oftentimes asked, "to get a 'good' Suit?"

By a "good" suit is meant good materials, correct style, neat trimmings, graceful bearing, above all, perfect fit and sightly shape—a suit that will mold so exquisitely to your form and figure, that it will be a part of yourself—just as if, in a word, it was "made for you.

Summer Suits are sold by CHARLES E. LYNCH for $8, $10 up to $25. LYNCH'S $8, $10, $12 Suits are splendid, serviceable Suits, be assured. Too much, in fact, cannot be said of LYNCH'S SERGE SUITS at $10 and over. They are in every sense of the word excellent and desirable. Just the suit for Spring and Summer wear—emphatically "Good Suits."

There's more real money's worth, though, for you in the Suits at and above $15. A really "good" Suit will cost $15 to $25, and, we say it advisedly—there isn't a house in and around Springfield to-day that has or is selling the grade of Suits that CHARLES E. LYNCH is selling at these figures. They are "good" Suits. There are no better, for better Suits are not, in fact, cannot be made.

CHARLES E. LYNCH,

Promoter of Fashionable Clothing.

367 Main. SPRINGFIELD. 369 Main.

Your money refunded in case of any dissatisfaction whatever.

E. S. BRYANT, D. M. D.

DENTIST.

LYNDE'S BLOCK. - - PALMER.

Office Hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY AND MACHINE SHOP.

At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.

MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL JOBBING DONE

At short notice and reasonable prices.

52-35 R. B. FRANCIS.

DENTAL

Operations are usually painful; but at my office we excavate and Fill all Cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN.
Also, we do Crown and Bridge Work and make Artificial Teeth that are Satisfactory.
First Class Work at Reasonable Prices is our motto. Lady Attendant. Take Elevator.
DR. WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.
Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield, Mass.

SMITH & MURRAY.

The Muslin Underwear Sale Saturday was the biggest May day on record in the sales of Muslin Underwear.

You do like the elaborateness and style that is getable; you do like the economy; you do appreciate the bigger and bigger liberality of the selling as the growing output helps us to do this best Underwear business.

GOWNS 59 CENTS EACH.

Made of Fine Cotton, with two rows of insertion and deep Cambric Ruffle, full width and length. Actual value 75c.

AT 75c.

Gown of Fine Cambric with two rows of Valenciennes Lace Insertion and edge.

Also another style, same price, V neck, fine Hamburg insertion and edge.

AT $1.

Gown of fine Cambric, trimmed with fine Hamburg edgings.

DRAWERS 25 CENTS.

Made of good Cotton with deep hem and cluster of tucks.

Also another style with Hamburg and Lace edge.

AT 50c.

Drawers made of fine Cambric prettily trimmed.

A complete line of the new Umbrella Drawers at 75c and a dollar

New style Umbrella Skirts made of fine Cambric daintily trimmed with lace. Prices 75c to $3.50 each.

TABLE CLOTHS.

2 yds. x 2 yds.,	$1.25,	usual price	$1.75
2 yds. x 2 yds.,	1.50,	" "	2.25
2 yds. x 2 yds.,	2.75,	" "	3.75
2 yds. x 2½ yds.,	1.50,	" "	2.25
2 yds. x 2½ yds.,	1.90,	" "	3.00
2 yds. x 3 yds.,	1.95,	" "	3.00
2 yds. x 2½ yds.,	2.90,	" "	4.00
2 yds. x 3 yds.,	2.95,	" "	4.50
2 yds. x 3 yds.,	3.50,	" "	5.00
2 yds. x 3½ yds.,	4.00,	" "	5.75
2½ yds. x 2½ yds.,	2.75,	" "	4.00
2½ yds. x 3 yds.,	2.95,	" "	4.50
2½ yds. x 2½ yds.,	3.25,	" "	4.75
2½ yds. x 3 yds.,	3.95,	" "	5.50
2½ yds. x 2½ yds.,	4.50,	" "	6.50
2½ yds. x 4 yds.,	5.00,	" "	7.50

Main entrance, front.

SMITH & MURRAY.

=: Coal Notice. :=

After getting through a long hard winter and having a few dollars left, I bought early in the season some good coal of different sizes which I will sell at the following low prices, for May delivery. All coal screened, and if desired put in bin:

Lackawanna Stove,	-	-	$4 80 per ton
" Nut,	-	-	$4.80 " "
" Egg,	-	-	$4.60 " "
Lehigh Stove,	-	-	$5.20 " "
" Nut,	-	-	$5.20 " "
" Egg,	-	-	$5.00 " "

These prices are for coal delivered a reasonable distance from station, if taken from cars on arrival. I shall be here twelve months in the year to look after the business and solicit a share of the trade. Special prices on large lots.

Yours Very Respectfully,

RALPH CLIFFORD,

Monson, Mass., May 15th, 1895.

In Memoriam.

Read by N. W. Rand at the Memorial Service of Dr. D. B. Whittier, Worcester, May 8, 1895.

This hour is sacred time.
From devious ways we gather here
To lay our garlands on the bier
Of one we love; and drop the tear
Of sympathy with all who hold him dear,—
'Tis sacred time.

O Death! Mysterious Death!
Thy legions liveried in white
Elude all stress of mortal sight;
We cannot trace the spirit's flight,
Nor guess what visions may beset the night,
Mysterious Death!

O Death! Revengeful Death!
Methinks it was that thou didst see
Our friend a fearless enemy,
Who oft, so oft, had baffled thee
That now his fall thou gloatest o'er with glee,
Revengeful Death!

But, Death, thy work is done.
Thou canst not mar his spotless name,
Nor seize his meed of honest fame,
Nor track the soul's immortal flame
Back to the Sun Eternal, whence it came,—
Thy work is done.

And yet, perchance, 'twas kind;
For it hath set him free to share
Immunity from every care,
And pain, and loss which mortals bear—
Free, like the stars, in God's supernal air—
Perchance 'twas kind.

But, Friend, we miss thee here.
The years will circle on apace,
But one inspiring voice, and face
Bright with benignity and grace,
Greet us no more in this familiar place:
We miss thee here.

Nor shall we soon forget.
There was so much of the Divine
Commingled with this dust of thine
That e'en its resting place benign
Doth now become Faith's well-befitting shrine;
We'll not forget.

O strong, O loyal heart!
That championed with brave delight,
However weak in human sight,
The cause of truth, the cause of right;
Nor unto baseness ever lent its might,—
O loyal heart,—

Live on, ay! ever on!
Thy friends will never let thee die
While Love retaineth memory;
Virtue is heir to earth and sky,
And lo! she pledgeth immortality;
Brave soul, live on!

And we shall meet again.
Silently journeying, one by one,
After the labors of day are done,
We'll meet thee at the setting sun.
Be there, O Friend, as wide its gates are flung,—
We'll meet again!

REVIVALS.

A Sermon Preached By Rev. H. F. Moulton, Sunday, May 12, 1895.

"I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God which is in thee."—II TIMOTHY I:6.

If a revival of religion had a voice to speak to us in articulated words, doubtless its message would be in substance as expressed in this statement of St. Paul's to Timothy, "I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God which is in thee." The great apostle spent most of his time in going to places throughout the Roman Empire "stirring up" the religous gift of God in people. This was the chief object of his three leading missionary tours which are without parallels in the history of the Christian church. All great movements have begun by a "stirring up" process. History sustains this truth. Look at the greatest events in the life of Israel, namely, the Israelites' return from captivity. How did it commence? How was it carried forward to a successful issue? You remember that the Lord "stirred up" Emperor Cyrus to send forth a proclamation. This "stirred up" the chief of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and they "stirred up" the people to return and rebuild the Temple. And it was done through struggles and sacrifice, in glory and splendor for the worship of God. We find this "stirring up" process, first by the Lord, and then by God, "stirred" men in the inauguration, progress and culmination of all the noteworthy movements which have sweept over us within the past few centuries, arousing to a new and larger life.

Recall in detail, if you can, some of those moral and religious revivals in thought and action like the Reformation in Europe led by the God-"stirred" Luther, and the Great Awakenings in England and America, led by the God-"stirred" Wesleys and Whitefield. These great revival movements have been natural, needful and beneficial. They have been the "stirring up" of the intellectual, moral and religious gifts of God which were in men and women. Such examples of revival movements as these suggest at least that we may still expect seasons of inspirations and times when it becomes seemingly easier to carry on the Lord's work, a work that is intellectual, moral and religious.

Men and women sometimes object to revivals of religion. Doubtless this is true of some Universalists. Their objection is not to a revival, an awakening of the religious gifts of God within each of us, rather to the methods and appeals used to "stir up" this gift of God. Universalists have been misunderstood as regards their attitude toward revivals. This is nothing exceptional. Even Jesus was misunderstood. Let us then define, as we may be able, "The Universalist Attitude Toward Religious Revivals."

First of all it should be said we do not approve of religious revivals that employ irrational methods and appeals. Not long ago when some of us were in one of our New England cities we saw many advertisements throughout the city saying something like this: "Come and hear the Cyclone Evangelist." Some of us did go and found him speaking on the slang phrase "get there." Speaking for myself, and saying the least possible, his address was not very edifying to me. A recent issue of one of the papers which comes to my study table gave a report of a ministers club at Chautauqua, which "Recently discussed the evangelist, and there was a strong sentiment against employing professional Evangelists to get up revivals. Presiding Elder Humason said he had received a letter from one Evangilist offering to get up a revival and accept $1 per head for the converts as his compensation." We as Universalists cannot fellowship with extreme sensationalism, nor commercial self-interestedness in revival methods and appeals. "Oh what a mockery it all is," says a Methodist writer in a recent magazine. "All that is wanted now is some sensational evangelist, a new hymn book with catchy tunes and sentimental poetry; a great excitement that will crowd the church for a time, and then a report that will fill one or two columns of the newspapers. * * God forbid," continues this Methodist Doctor of Divinity of Brooklyn, N. Y., "that any word of mine should be so construed as to reflect in any wise upon a gracious and heaven-sent revival. * * * But * * it is impossible at times not to feel that we crucify the Son of God afresh and put Him to an open shame." A writer in a March number of the Congregationalist, after speaking of several evangelists, one of whom was an unworthy person who had visited his town within five years says: "Can we afford to cheapen things high and holy by committing them to hands and mouths of men like this bevy of evangelists?"

Beloved, do not misunderstand me. All evangelists are not sensational, nor self-interested nor unworthy. Some of the most honorable, self-sacrificing and rational of men and women are in the evangelistic work. Thus not all revivals are objectionable in their methods and appeals.

Secondly, let us turn from these irrational and harmful revivals in many of their results to revivals that are natural and helpful. Those that a Universalist can support and approve, as well as a Congregationalist, or Baptist, or Methodist. A revival of religion that employs rational methods and appeals is one of the most natural and needful things in the world. Its cause, its root, lies deeper than advertising placards, or an evangelist, or catchy music, or personal effects,—rather the cause, the root of such a revival is found in man's need of religion. It is neccessary oftentimes to use legitimate means like printed announcements of special religious services, preaching by one or more ambassadors of Christ, familiar gospel songs and consecrated personal work, that man's religious need may be supplied, nourished and strengthened.

Our spiritual nature is something very real. It hungers and thirsts for things religious. Man cannot live by bread alone. There is a life, a gift of God within him that must and will be fed.

Perhaps some of you are saying, "All of this is true, but why not do this feeding in the regular work of the church, rather than by special work like the occasional holding of revival meetings?" If my observations of the working of man's spiritual nature is correct, it has need of both the special and regular work of the church; need of the special wok to "stir up," awaken and revive; need of the regular work to care for, encourage and save. Do you know this? Most of the members of the Methodist church—the largest Protestant denomination in America—have come into her communion through the doorway of revivals. "One out of every twelve of the population of the United States is a member of the Methodist Church." What is true of this church is undoubtedly true of all the so-called evangelical churches—most of their communicants have come to them through revivals. Our own denomination was started and established by the revivals of God, "stirred" men like John Murray, Hosea Ballou. True, these revivals were of a somewhat different character than those which were held by "Orthodox" churches in these early days of our church, yet hundreds flocked to hear the words of our first preachers. Some were moved to renounce their belief in a tyrannical God, for faith in a God of love; others repented of their sins and went away resolving to live a Christian life. Our Universalist church had its seeds of life sown in these revivals of truth and religion.

We should not be surprised at revivals of religion, nor question their usefulness if they are natural and rational. For, think a moment of the mighty mass of human lives around us, with their burdensome cares, their pleasures which do not half satisfy, their sins, their wavering thought of faith, then think for a moment that under all these experiences of human life there are minds, hearts, consciences, souls, gifts of God. Speaking of natural revivals, James Freeman Clarke, a Unitarian says: "Let us welcome all such revivals. They are full of the voice of God saying to us all 'come up high.' They may have their faults and follies and mistakes and these let us avoid. But of allblessed hours in life the most blessed are those in which God sends a new breath of faith, hope, love, insight, action. I welcome them all."

My friends, we as Universalists have been with a "high appreciation" of our "Christian character and spirit" invited to cooperate in a revival of religion now in progress in this village. Shall we stand back and cry "unclean, unclean?" We may not fully agree with all that is said and done. There may be methods used to which some of us are not accustomed; there may be doctrines preached which we disbelieve (like the absurd doctrines of a personal devil, total depravity and an everlasting hell,) yet these things are in the minority thus far. The larger majority, of methods used and doctrines preached are those which would be used and preached in a revival of the religious life in any Christian church. Dr. Gunnison in his notable sermon on "Heaven without Christ," preached in the First Universalist church during the process of a late revival in Worcester, wisely said, "In the great essentials of Christian life and thought, in detestation of sin, in emphatic emphasis of character, in reverence for God, obedience to the works and life of Christ, in regard for the sanctions of duty and the obligations of conscience, there is complete unity in all the churches."

Let us as "liberal" believers be glad of and encourage every rational effort to make men and women religious. We are assured that this revival is—'attempting no sectarian effort." "The outcome of this work," says our invitation, "if it takes hold * * will be recruits for all the churches, yours included, and * * a moral and spiritual uplift in the whole town." No more fraternal and cordial words of invitation could be penned than those which we have received from the pastor of the Congregational church of this village.

Revivals in this age have their discouragements, therefore it is our duty to encourage without being misunderstood. It is not easy in these days to get the unchurched into religious services. "We pipe unto them but they do not dance." Once the burden of the appeal to the unconverted was, escape from the awfulness of a hell; now it is largely to duty, do justly, love mercy, work humbly with thy God and Jesus Christ, His blessed Son, who is able to import faith, save from sin and give an abundance of life. Often when the meetings are closed the number of converts is not large. The new appeals of duty do not win as many as did the old appeals to fear. Then, too, some have been known to return, after a time, to their old, if not worse, ways of living.

It is written of Tennyson by his successor to the Laureate, "He has uttered nothing base;" so we as Universalists should aspire to the fame during this revival season in our village, of having "uttered nothing blue." Revivals may have their discouraging features to those who pray and work in them; yet rational revivals always have many encouraging signs. Persons moved to live better lives, recruits for the Christian church, and a more wholesome religious atmosphere in the communities where they are held. "Religion should be to every man," says Rev. James Stalker, D. D., "(1) not merely a creed, but an experience; (2) not a restraint, but an inspiration."

Yes, "religion should be to every man" not so much a philosophy of life or death as an every day "programme" of belief and action. "This is the life eternal that they should know thee, the only true God, and him whom thou did'st send even Jesus Christ." "Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

"Religion is the chief concern
Of mortal here below;
May I its great importance learn
Its sovereign virtue know."

A SIGNAL FROM MARS.

Professor Drey's astronomy class met that evening at the home of Mrs. Riching; and, as might be expected, where the hostess possessed such an abundance of all the good things on the earth, there was full abundance.

Mrs. Riching, one of the wealthiest widows of Gotham, and her only child, Miss Amelia, occupied a palatial mansion upon the upper portion of one of the most fashionable avenues of Gotham, where they entertain extensively; for, when Mrs. Riching sold her home on lower Fifth avenue, and moved uptown, it was, she said to have plenty of lawn space, and a house large enough to satisfy the utmost demands of hospitality.

And so it was that Miss Amelia, although not yet out in society, was by no means quiet, nor confined to the limits of the nursery and schoolroom. Scarcely an evening passed by when a dancing class, chaperoned by Mrs. Riching, or a lecture, suggested by her, or a reading gotten up by the same lady, did not claim the attention of the young people of the set in which Miss Amelia moved.

On this night the astronomy class numbered twenty members; and when Professor Drey entered Mrs. Riching's great drawing room it was to see twenty handsome and vivacious young people seated around a velvet-covered table, while in front of them were globes, charts, and all the solar, lunar, and stellar instruments that could be needed to illustrate the learned professor's discourse.

In the large bay window at one side of the drawing room sat Mrs. Riching, placidly pulling threads through a bit of tapestry embroidery, and, if now and then her eyes wandered from her work to rest with pride upon the young people, and particularly upon her own well-bred and pretty daughter, it was not to be wondered at in the least. On this particular evening Miss Amelia shared her chart with young Percy Mathews, whose father owned the fine estate adjoining that of Mrs. Riching, and this fact may have had something to do with the expression of extra complacency which Mrs. Riching's face bore.

Professor Drey's topic that evening was the signaling of the planet Mars—his favorite subject.

"I tell you, young ladies and gentlemen," said the professor, immediately warming up to his pet topic, "I tell you zat it is not an impossible thing to signal Mars! Herr Edison hass proposed a goot thing, but it is not complete. Herr Edison says zat all zee lights shall be turned out and zen lighted again, three times in quick succession, all over the world. But I, Professor Drey, of Leipsic, say zat zere must be color and sound as well.

"Now, ladies and gentlemen, my plan is ziss. When all zee light are turned out let zere be a great waving of white flags, like zee sails on a ship's mast, and let all zee governments in the interests of science order zee firing of cannon. Zis—ziss would be sure to attract zee attention of our great neighboring planet."

When the professor began his talk the young people had laid aside their books and charts, prepared to listen patiently through his discourse; for well they knew that their professor, once launched upon Mars, would continue to talk for at least an hour. But to-night the professor waxed unusually eloquent, and gradually they found themselves listening to him, so that the lesson hour passed very quickly. And when Professor Drey folded up his notes and bowed a good evening to his pupils, all were surprised at the shortness of the hour, while Mrs. Riching came forth from the exclusion of her window and thanked him for his very rational explanation of planetory signals.

Supper followed this instructive evening and very enjoyable it was; and when the young people departed it was with many laughing reminders to Mrs. Riching that she had made them overstay their time limits. Percy Mathews lingered a little longer than the rest, chatting with Amelia and her mother. "I am going to get Professor Drey to establish a series of signals for us next summer," he said, as he went away; "such near neighbors as we should have a way of telegraphing to each other."

"Mamma," said Amelia, as she and her mother sat, a few minutes later, in front of the brightly glowing fire in the dining-room at the rear of the drawing-room, "I was very much interested in Professor Drey's talk to-night. And if we were immensely wealthy, like Croesus, maybe, I should arrange just such signals all over the world—the lights, the waving of flags, and the firing of cannon, and I should do this every evening until Mars responded."

"You would be doing it to the day of your death, Amelia," laughed Mrs. Riching. "I fear we shall have to wait for the airships—"

As she spoke a slight grating noise in the deep bay window near by interrupted her. "Amelia, did you hear anything?" asked Mrs. Riching, turning her head quickly in the direction of the sound.

It came again. This time very distinct, and Mrs. Riching sprang to her feet, while Amelia uttered a little shriek.

Before either had time to move, there stepped into the room through the window a powerfully-built man, carrying a wicked looking revolver, while behind him out of the window stepped three more men, all heavily armed. One of them covered Mrs. Riching with his weapon, while the others carefully drew the heavy curtains close.

"You might as well keep still, madam," said the first one, in a rough voice that paralyzed Mrs. Riching, "there isn't any one within hearing. The servants are sound asleep in the wing over the billiard room; and you may be sure we know enough to put that pane back in the window, so you can't be heard from the street."

"Come, come, don't do so much talkin'," said another of the men. "All we want of you, ma'am, is to go with us through the house and show us where ye keep your diamonds and laces and all that fine silver ye had spread out hear an hour ago, and which your butler put away so carefuly. No use tryin' to hide any of it. We saw it through the winders."

Mrs. Riching shrank back against the wall pale and gasping, with Amelia clinging to her, too frightened to utter a sound. Amelia was the first to recover and grasp the situation. "We'd better go with them quietly, mamma," she wispered, "for even Felice has gone to her room and no one can hear us if we scream. They will not hurt us you know. They only want the jewels. But oh, mamma!"—losing her self-control as one of the ruffians seized her by the right arm.

"Hurry up," said the first fellow, motioning to the others in the shadow. "You," motioning to Mrs. Riching, 'you go ahead and we will follow. You, Jim, look after the girl and I'll take care of the woman, and the others can keep a lookout for surprises. Now we'll go to where the gold and silver spoons is first and all that gold plate we've heard so much about."

If Mrs. Riching had any idea of deceiving her midnight guests as to the extent of her valuables, this was immediately frustrated, for as she turned to go into the butler's pantry, where stood a small silver safe, one of the men placed himself in her way. "Not in there," he said warningly, "what we want is the solid gold ones—those that just came home from Tiffany's from being cleaned. Then we'll look for the others."

As he spoke he carelessly investigated the barrels of his pistol, and Mrs. Riching, white as her own lace curtains, turned toward the massive oak sideboard that filled the space between the rear windows. "I—I haven't the keys," she faltered, with a gleam of hope.

"Oh, never mind that," gruffly, "we've got everything for opening locks. But we don't know which one to tackle unless you save us the trouble—"

A grimy hand again raised the pistol, and Mrs. Riching's trembling hand pointed to a large shallow drawer in the lower paneling of the sideboard—a drawer that would have escaped attention.

To get into the panel drawer was no easy task. There was neither knob nor lock on the outside, and an invisible patent lock secured it from a locked drawer above. It would be necessary to pry off the front panel.

"Where's the key?" asked one of the men, after vainly struggling with the substantial drawer.

"James, my steward, has it—in the wing," moaned Mrs. Riching, faintly.

"Never mind going up for it, boys. We'll get through sometime."

Little by little the drawer began to yield. A small steel instrument pried on the front; and, after a tiny saw had gone through the bar that locked the drawer on the inside, the whole suddenly gave way and out slipped the little secret apartment, revealing the valuable contents below. There were cases and cases of spoons, and gold dinner plates carefully put away in their coverings of tissue paper and chamois.

"Oh, Amelia!" groaned Mrs. Riching, turning faint again, as she saw her treasures fast disappearing in a great bag. "Oh, Amelia!"

There was a slight rustling sound as Mrs. Riching spoke, and the man who was packing the treasure turned quickly around, while the one who had been told to keep a lookout uttered an exclamation. All turned just in time to see Amelia's light form dash out of the room and along the hallway leading to the stairs. With a curse the leader sprang after her, just missing her skirts by an inch.

Up, up the stairs she sped, like the wind, keeping ahead of him all the time. Once he was so close to her that she felt his coarse breath upon her. And then—she never knew how she did it—she turned at the top, and, giving him a push backward, flew along the hallway to her own room in the west wing. In another instant she had slammed the door and locked it.

Click, click! went the pretty silver bolts at top and bottom; and how glad she was that they had been put there for ornament.

But there now were the steps of men outside the door, and she could hear their hurried whispers: "We can't leave her in there," she overheard one of the voices say, "fur there's no telling but she'd give alarm before we get half the stuff." And then, before she could realize how quickly they could act, there came a tiny saw through the crack, and a slow but steady grating told her that the lock would soon yield.

Running to the front window, Amelia looked out. Not a soul was in sight, and well she knew that in this quiet neighborhood it might be half an hour before a pedestrian would go by. It was too high to jump. Ah, what could she do? First she thought of crying loudly for help. But at the first sound the thieves would escape with all their plunder. Slowly, steadily, burr-r-r, burr-r-r! the little saw went on. And then there came a rasping sound and a sadden crack, that told her the lock had given way. The tiny silver bolts would not last more than a minute before that persistent saw.

A perfect frenzy of fear seized her. Rushing to the side window she was on the point of leaping to the lawn below, when an idea flashed across her. Straight ahead out of the window there shown a dim light. She knew it was in Percy's room; and though 100 yards away, not a tree intervened to shut out the view. Oh, could—would—Percy be in his room at this hour? And by any possibility happen to glance her way?

With a heart beating so fast it choked her, she ran to the small chandelier that hung like a crystal cluster in the center of the room, and with a quick turn of the wrist she put out the electric light. The room was in total darkness. Another quick turn lighted it again. And another sent it out. "Professor Drey said to repeat three times for a signal," she murmured.

Then she waited a few seconds, but an age to her. Again she gave the brilliant trisignal. "Now for the flags," she thought, flying back to the window and tearing down a lace curtain. "Oh, oh, what is that?"

The saw had stopped with a sudden snap, and the workers outside were adjusting it to the other bolt. Once she saw it yield slightly as they pressed against it from the outside. Only a second more remained. "There must be a sound like the firing of cannon," she murmured, quoting from the lecture; and hardly knowing what she did, she dragged a great jardiniere from its place against the wall. "I will throw this out of the window. Oh, can he hear it—surely not so far away?"

The saw stopped its grating. There was a sound of voices; and before Amelia could turn from the window a heavy hand was upon her. And then she fainted—fainted and fell at the feet of the men.

Meanwhile Percy Matthews had gone home, and, not feeling sleepy, had seated himself by the window for a quiet smoke. The rest of the family had retired and Percy was the only wakeful one. "What a charming night," he said, as he looked from his window over the first-touched lawn. "And how exquisitely the moonlight brings out the outlines of the house."

Percy drew a few meditative puffs. "That is Amelia's room," said he "where the light shines so brightly. Now it is going out and the house is in darkness. Oh, what is that?" as Amelia's light flashed up again and again died out. "She is trying Professor Drey's signals. Surely! Yes! And she has them right. Three successive bright lights—darkness!

"What the deuce is that?" exclaimed Percy, as Amelia's lights flashed up again, "and what is she doing? She is wild. Why, she has torn the lace curtain down from above, and is waving it out of the window. Can anything be wrong? The light is bright again. How very singular."

Percy had flung his cigar away and was focusing a pair of field-glasses upon Amelia's window. "She is dragging something to the window; and, God! there are men bursting in. Amelia! Amelia! I am coming!"

How long Amelia lay fainting she never knew. But she heard a ransacking of bureau drawers and a hurrying of feet down the stairs. She tried to rise but fell back again. And then a queer thing happened. There were loud voices below and a pistol shot; and when she came fully to her senses it was to find herself sitting up, with her mother bathing her forehead and crying over her, while Percy Matthews, bent over. The elder Mr. Matthews, with James, the old butler, and Percy's brother, made part of an excited group in the hall.

"I saw your signal to Mars, Amelia," said Percy, telling the story of the rescue the next day, and I called father and brother. Coming out, we ran into the policeman on the beat, who went for help to the precinct, a block away. It was all done quicker than I can tell it, and we caught them, every one—five of them, as desperate characters as you ever saw."

Amelia's gratitude to Percy was very great, and Mrs. Riching, still weak and hysterical, expressed over and over again her thanks; also to Professor Drey for his very rational set of planetary signals.—Augusta Prescott, in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY, 17 1895.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Go to M. J. Sullivan's musicale and dance at Thorndike, May 29th.

Five pounds milk crackers, 25 cents at Smith's. Root beer extracts, 19 cents at Smith's.

Here we go again. This time it is a lot of baby's shoes, sizes 1 and 2. We offer them at 19 cents a pair. The former price was 50, 75 and 90 cents. Milligan's shoe store.

Finer than silk are those gasoline oil stoves. Prices run $7, $9, $17, $20, $22. Glad to show them, or will deliver anywhere in Thorndike, Three Rivers, Bondsville or Palmer, set up and put in good running order. E. A. Buck & Co.

PALMER NEWS.

A Complicated Case.

An interesting assault case was tried before Judge Newton Monday evening. The defendants were Mrs. Elizabeth Squiers, George Darling and Lewis W. Kibbe of Silver Street. The complaint was made by W. N. Barrows who, claimed that he had met with very severe treatment at the hands of the defendants. Barrows said he had been in the employ of Mrs. Squiers for seven years, and that he came to Palmer Friday evening. He was on his way home about 11 o'clock, and as he was crossing the bridge at Maxwell's crossing he heard groans on the railroad blow. Calling and getting no reply he went down to the track, where he found a friend, whose name is Beach. Beach, he said, was drunk, and one foot had been somewhat smashed, it is supposed by a passing train. He removed Beach from the track just in time to escape another train, and going to Mr. Crosby's house near by got help and took Beach to Dr. Hendee's office. There the wounded man was attended to, and all started to return. Beach and Barrows arrived at the Squiers house about 4 a. m., and went to the barn. Darling and Kibbe came out, and the whole party went into the house. Mrs. Squiers and Barrows had hot words, and finally Darling and Kibbe attacked Barrows and gave him a sound beating. Mrs. Squiers also kicked him, he says. The defendants tell a different story. Mrs. Squiers says she was aroused about 4 o'clock Saturday morning by noises in the yard. She arose and saw two men entering the barn. She called Kibbe and Darling and sent them out to see who they were. The boys say that on arriving at the barn they found Beach asleep in the hay and Barrows outside. Both men were drunk. Kibbe and Darling returned to the house and the two men followed. Here they had a talk with Mrs. Squiers, which ended in Barrows losing his temper. He threw a tin dipper, then a pail of water and finally a whisky bottle at the party, then returned to the yard, where he shot off a revolver. Returning to the house he threatened to thrash the whole party.

Mrs. Squiers told Kibbe and Darling to secure Barrows' revolver, and they started to do so. In the scuffle Barrows fell to the floor, but no unnecessary force was used. Mrs. Squiers then told him to leave the house, and he went to his room and secured his valise. He then left the house, but set down the valise and attacked Kibbe, who was standing near the door. The latter defended himself as best he could and beat Barrows off. The latter then started off yelling murder at the top of his voice. He went to the residence of Mr. Bliss, who lives near by, where he was given shelter. Mr. Bilss testified that the man was sober. Kibbe, Darling and Mrs. Squiers all denied that the latter kicked Barrows or took any part in the conflict. Barrows denied that he had been drinking, or that he had a revolver. Judge Newton continued the case to consider the evidence until Saturday morning, when Lawyer Fitch, for the defense, will make his plea. The defendants each gave $100 bail.

Sunday School Convention.

A Sunday school convention will be held in the Congregational church in this village next Friday. Below will be found the programme. It will be noted that the convention is especially fortunate in the speakers it has secured:

MORNING SESSION.

10.00, Devotional Services in charge of Rev. F. J. Hale, Bondsville
10.15, Address, Welcome, S. S. Supt. L. H. Gager, Palmer
Response.....President, F. E. Jenkins
10.30, "Attendance".....Mr. W. A. Breckenridge
"Attention".....Mrs. Parkhurst
10.50, Discussion
11.00, "The Home Department" Mr. H. K. Hyde, Ware
11.15, Discussion
11.25, "Conversion of Sunday School Children, Rev. A. N. Hills, Oberlin, Ohio
12.00, "Greeting from State Association" J. N. Dummer, Boston, State Secretary
12.00, Collation

AFTERNOON SESSION.

1.30, Devotional Service, in charge of Rev. A. R. Nichols, Warren
1.40, "To the Front".....Secretary Dummer
2.00, Superintendent's Symposium
"Preparation". ...C. C. Warner, Gilbertville
"Order".....J. W. Chadsey, Warren
"Library".....Rev. E. C. Weeks, Three Rivers
2.30, Address.....Dr. E. R. Thorndike, Springfield
3.00, Reports from District Sunday Schools...
3.30, "That Irrepressible Boy." Dr. T. C. Watkins, Springfield
4.15, Children's Hour, Miss Bertha F. Vella, State Primary Superintendent

EVENING SESSION.

7.00, Devotional Service, in charge of Rev. A. N. Hills.
7.30, "The Equipment of the Teacher," Dr. John E. Tuttle, Amherst
8.15, Address.....Miss Bertha F. Vella

This convention includes evangelical Sunday schools in Barre, Oakham, New Braintree, Hardwick, Greenwich, Gilbertville, Ware, Enfield, Belchertown, North Brookfield, East Brookfield, West Brookfield, Brookfield, West Warren, Warren, Brimfield, Wales, Monson, Three Rivers, Thorndike, Bondsville and Palmer.

Memorial Day Programme.

The programme arranged for Memorial Day by the Grand Army post is as follows: The post will leave Memorial Hall at 8 a. m. and will first visit the cemetery in Three Rivers, where the graves of comrades will be decorated. The Four Corners cemetery will be visited next, after which the graves in the Catholic cemetery will be decorated. Proceeding to Palmer the cemetery in this village will be attended to, the graves in other spots being visited by delegates. In all 92 graves will be decorated, which is supposed to be the entire number in town. The Columbian Band of Thorndike will lead the procession, and a quartette of male voices has been secured to render vocal music at the graves. The Woman's Relief corps has made its usual arrangements, and will serve a collation in the hall at noon, to which the members of the post will invite their friends. The memorial service will be held in the post rooms at 2 o'clock, and the public is invited to attend. The address will be given by Colonel Chamberlain, of Barre. Rev. Mr. Weeks of the Baptist church in Three Rivers will preach a memorial sermon May 26, to which the post and corps have been invited. Donations of flowers will be thankfully received, and should be left at the post rooms as early as Wednesday forenoon preceding Memorial Day.

Where are the Cattle Cases?

There will no doubt be an anxiety on the part of most people in this section to know the outcome of the cattle cases against Merrill A. Stebbins and Walter H. Williams, which were to have been tried before the present term of the superior court. There seems to be a difficulty in determining just what will become of the cases, but they cannot be tried at this session. In each case there were two warrants, each containing several counts. Sentence was passed on some counts and continued on others in each warrant, and the cases were appealed. The cases cannot properly come before the superior court, it is said, until they have been disposed of here. On the other hand the cases have been appealed and sent up from the Palmer court, so that they cannot be reopened here. Many lawyers are puzzling their heads to determine just where the cases are at present, as they do not seem to be in any court. Until the matter is settled, the cases will be continued.

Miss Lela Fuller spent Sunday with friends in Springfield.

Mrs. C. A. Royce is visiting her parents at Chesham, N. H.

Preaching at the Park street chapel at the usual hour Sunday.

Dr. C. W. Cross is unable to resume business, but is slowly improving.

A. O. Allen has been spending a vacation with friends in New York state.

Miss Mabel Smith is confined to her home on Thorndike street with a slow fever.

Mrs. Andrew F. Ross of Newburyport is the guest of Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Moulton.

John Manning of the Converse house spent Tuesday in Boston, on a business trip.

Fred E. Coleman has returned from Lynn, where he has been employed for some time past.

The offices of the Thorndike Co. and Boston Duck Co. have been provided with long distance telephones.

The Daughters of Rebekah served a collation to the members after their business meeting Tuesday evening.

Mrs. A. M. Smith and Mrs. H. F. Moulton expect to sail for Europe May 31st, and will remain abroad about three months.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will take for his text next Sunday, "Universalism—Is a religion good enough to live by, good enough to die by."

A water pipe in Northrop's cider mill burst this morning when the water was turned on, and upon examination it was found that it was frozen.

Miss Ola Northrop will take part in the interscholastic prize speaking contest to be held at Westfield this evening, representing the Palmer high school.

Mrs. A. E. Fitch spent Wednesday in West Springfield, where she attended the fifth annual basket convention of the Baptist home missionary society.

Awnings have been placed this week over all the windows of the Palmer Business Club and the offices of the Central Massachusetts Electric Co. and Postal Telegraph Co.

A party of doctors have been advertising Indian remedies in town during the past week, and have given fair entertainments evenings on Converse's lot near Park street.

Several members of Revere Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, attended the meeting of the grand council in Marlboro Tuesday, leaving Palmer in the morning and returning the same evening.

The school committee and selectmen met in the rooms of the latter Saturday, and elected C. H. Hobbs of Thorndike a member of the school committee in place of A. B. C. Deming, resigned.

The regular monthly meeting of the association of Universalist ministers of Western Massachusetts was held in St. Paul's church Monday forenoon. Dinner was served at the Converse house.

John A. King, formerly of Palmer, has received a further promotion to a young physician's place as assistant to the Denver city bacteriologist, Dr. Thorpe, a late assistant to Prof. Koch of Germany.

At a session of the probate court held at Westfield Wednesday wills were approved of—Michael Dwyer, late of Palmer, William W. Leach executor; Julia M. Stetson, late of Brimfield, William H. Kelley executor.

Wednesday, May 29th, will be observed as parents' day in the schools of the town. Memorial exercises will be held in the afternoon. The parents and friends of the scholars are invited to attend the exercises.

W. F. Whitcomb has sold his Central street restaurant to Thomas Harwood, who has taken possession. Mr. Whitcomb is going to the Massachusetts General Hospital and his wife will for the present visit friends.

The contract for making the screens for the windows of the Palmer Business Club rooms has been awarded to the lowest bidder, F. F. Marcy. The screens will be made to match the finish of the rooms in which they are to be placed.

Judge Robinson is in St. Louis this week attending the meeting of the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum. He will return the last of next week, and during his absence the bench in the district court is occupied by Special Justices Newton and Shaw.

H. T. Dobson of Boston and C. E. Fuller of this town brought in a string of trout one day this week which is said to have exceeded all previous catches. It is said that there were about 40 fish in the catch, which averaged a weight of about four ounces.

A new catch basin has been put in this week to connect with the sewer in front of Sager's store in the Nassowanno House block. The two basins just below are not sufficient to carry off the surface water, which has been flowing into cellars.

J. B. Longwill has leased A. S. Campbell's blacksmith shop on South Main street. Mr. Campbell has been in Ware this week, assisting in a series of revivals services being held there. His plans for the future have not as yet been perfected.

W. H. Hitchcock has beautified his premises on Squier street by putting in new concrete walks. F. D. Barton has also added concrete walks, graded his lawn and otherwise improved the appearance of his property, corner of Squier street and Highland avenue.

The pony which D. F. Holden traded to Thomas Blanchard a short time ago died recently. The animal was in a pasture on the hill west of the village, and word was brought to Mr. Blanchard Sunday morning that it was dead. The cause of death is not known.

Dr. J. P. Schneider of Springfield, will locate permanently in Palmer, next Monday. Dr. Schneider will occupy the office of the late Dr. W. H. Stowe, and will board in the family of F. N. Carpenter. He is spoken of in Springfield as a first-class physician and surgeon.

William S. Clark, district deputy grand master of the 17th Masonic district, and suite, will exemplify the work of the three degrees at the rooms of Thomas lodge, F. and A. M., next Wednesday afternoon and evening. All Masons are cordially invited to be present.

The Congregational society has secured the services of Wilbur F. Miller of Ludlow as precentor for the coming year. Mr. Miller has been leading the Congregational singing since the quartette disbanded, and the new arrangement has been giving general satisfaction.

Wednesday's circus was not an entire success. The company met with some delay on its way to Palmer, and arrived so late that no afternoon preformance could be given. The evening entertainment, it is said, was very good, and the attendance was about as usual at such shows.

Dr. Donner has severed his connection with Dr. Amerige and will hereafter attend to his own practice. The item in last week's JOURNAL led some to think the doctor intended leaving town to locate in Springfield, but such is not the case. He has opened a branch office in that city, but will continue to make his residence in this town.

Several crosswalks in Palmer are in such a state of dilapidation that it seems necessary to have them repaired. As the town has made no appropriation for this purpose, one of our public-spirited merchants took the matter in hand yesterday. The Main street crosswalks at Walnut and Central streets are the worst, and subscriptions enough were secured to pay for their being rebuilt.

The firemen were called out Saturday afternoon to extinguish a forest fire near the carpet mill, which they did without much trouble. At the same time a large brush fire was running in the bushes across the river from the electric light station, but as this was in Monson, the Palmer department had nothing to do with it. For some time it looked as if this fire might cause serious damage, but it burned out about dusk, the loss being comparatively slight.

The bicycle club has made its arrangements for the park for the Fourth of July tournament, and will have the exclusive use of the track for a week before the races. This means that the track will be in good condition, and the racers are correspondingly happy. The program will soon be announced, and every possible effort will be made to make it attractive. It is proposed this year to exceed all previous tournaments, and a valuable list of prizes will be given.

The evangelistic services at the Congregational church continue to grow in interest and power. Thirty-five have signed consideration cards. Mr. Hills preaches at 3 p. m. especially to Christians, and at 7:30 p. m. to those not professing Christians. His sermons are chains of logic, beautifully and clearly illustrated. He will give a second sermon this evening on "Why Will Ye Die?" His subject Sunday morning will be "Grieving the Holy Spirit," Sunday evening he will speak on "Indecision."

The Palmers and Thorndikes will play their first game of ball in the Central Massachusetts league to-morrow afternoon on the park, and it is hoped there will be a good attendance, thereby giving the boys a good send-off. New uniforms, maroon in color, have been purchased this week, and will be worn for the first time to-morrow. A paper is being circulated to form a stock company and it is being very generously signed by the people of the village. An effort is being made to secure the Columbian Band of Thorndike for the opening game to-morrow.

The frost of Monday night and Tuesday morning caused damage in Palmer and vicinity which it is impossible at the present time to estimate. Many gardens were damaged, but they can be replanted and the loss made comparatively small. The damage to the fruit crop, however, is more serious, and cannot be repaired. Delicate fruits, such as peaches, pears, plums and grapes, were in many places entirely blighted, and apples were seriously injured. The abundant blossoming of all fruit trees had given promise of an unusually good harvest, but these hopes are not likely to be realized. Many hope the apple crop will not be seriously affected, and the other crops are not heavy anyway.

On the arrival of the 7:43 train from Boston last evening it was learned that Mrs. Ella Clark McMahon, a passenger on the train, had expired when the train was near West Brookfield. Mrs. McMahon has been living in St. Augustine, Fla., and had joined her son, M. J. McMahon, in Worcester. She was suffering from a cancer and had started for a sanitarium in Holyoke. She was very weak when placed on the train, but it was thought she would bear the journey. An attempt was made to telegraph to Palmer for the medical examiner, but the telegraph office was closed. Upon the arrival of the train here the doctor's office was also closed, and the body was taken on to Springfield.

Workmen are busy on the old Wellman homestead, making ready for Rufus Flynt's trout preserve. Mr. Flynt has decided to go into this business quite extensively, but more as a pastime than for profit. A pond is being built, which will have a capacity of about 1,000,000 gallons, and above this there is about one-fourth of a mile of open brook. Mr. Flynt owns the woodland where the brook has its source, so there will be no danger of the supply of water failing from the timber being cut off. He also owns the land from that point to some distance below his pond. As soon as the pond is completed it will be stocked and arrangements made to prevent poaching. Mr. Flynt expects to show first results next year.

The sudden death of Mrs. William Clee of Lowell was announced Monday, and was a great shock to her many Palmer friends. Mrs. Clee was the daughter of Truman Griswold, whose wife's death so grieved her host of friends a few weeks ago. Mrs. Clee's death was due to heart disease, and was very sudden. She had been troubled with asthma, and instead of retiring Saturday night, rested in a chair. Early Sunday morning her husband awoke, and hearing sounds of distress arose to go to his wife's assistance. He found her still seated in her chair, but unconscious, and her death occurred a few minutes later. The body was brought to Palmer for burial, and the funeral was held in St. Paul's church Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Griswold has the sympathy of all in his double affliction.

Scribner & Smith's twenty-five-cent circus will visit Palmer next week Friday and exhibit on the Converse lot above the cemetery on Thorndike street. There are many new attractions added to the show this year. Bazal, the giant elephant, is retained as one of the many features; William Lowanda, for many years the principal bareback rider for Barnum, will be another, and several new cages of rare animals have been secured. In speaking of the elephant, Bazal, the New York Clipper of March 7th says:—

"J. D. Harrison, a former New York newspaper man, but now connected with Scribner & Smith's circus, is in the city. After endeavoring for two years, Harrison has succeeded in obtaining possession for his firm of the largest elephant in the world, Bazal. The beast was bought by Scribner & Smith's foreign agent from a Hindoo trader two years ago at Tassisudon, Bhotan, India, but the authorities there would not allow the animal to be removed. After almost endless red tape, Harrison succeeded in winning the Maharajah's favor and that dignitary ordered the authorities not to interfere with the elephant's removal, and the brute is now with this big show."

The following taken, from the Worcester Gazette of last Saturday, will be of interest to the many Palmer friends of the Messrs. Wright:—

The United States Court of Appeals at Boston, Judges Colt, Aldrich and Nelson, decided, May 10th, the case of the Wright & Colton Wire Cloth Co. of Worcester, defendant, appellant, vs. the Clinton Wire Cloth Co. of Clinton, complainant, appellee, that the two patents, invented by George F. Wright and sold to the Clinton Wire Cloth Co., while in their employ some 15 years ago, were not infringed upon by the Wright & Colton Wire Cloth Co., George F. Wright President. This reverses the decision of the Circuit Court, reached some months ago at Providence, before Justice Carpenter, which was then in favor of the Clinton Co. The case was remanded to the Circuit Court, with directions to dismiss the bill in equity with costs. This suit was brought some years ago against the Wright Company. The two patents which the Clinton Company alleged infringement on were on a "shuttle" and "Art of Weaving." The Wright & Colton Company are owners of many patents pertaining to the weaving of wire cloth, netting and fencing, and among them a patent on a shuttle for weaving, which they have used since starting their business some 10 years ago.

State Primary School Notes.

The present number in the school is about 65.

Rev. F. E. Jenkins spoke to the children last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Prentiss returned Tuesday from a week's vacation.

Miss Fanny L. Richardson and mother of Gilbertville made a visit to the school last week.

Dr. S. J. Williams started Wednesday night for New York, where she will spend a week with her parents.

E. G. Ward, supervisor, has purchased a bicycle, and may be seen evenings near dusk trying to master the animal. Although he finds it hard work, he hopes he may be able to get the better of it.

Forest Lake Garden.

The senior class of Wesleyan Academy will take their class ride to the Lake, Monday, May 27th.

John K. Snow of Chicopee and Martin Collity of Palmer have secured work at the Lake.

The junior class of Wesleyan Academy have their class ride next Monday, and will be provided with a hot turkey dinner. There will be about 35 present.

Miss M. A. Oliver of Worcester is in charge of affairs at the Garden, and is making all the necessary arrangements for the opening Memorial Day. C. A. Royce will have the management this year as usual.

Forest Lake Garden will be opened to the public Memorial Day, and the management will use every means to preserve its former reputation as a summer resort. There will be dancing that day, afternoon and evening, with music by the Fiskdale Orchestra.

BONDSVILLE.

Go to M. J. Sullivan's musicale and dance at Thorndike, May 29th.

Miss Abbie Moynahan visited her brother in Boston last week.

Garvin Bruce has taken a position as office boy for the Boston Duck Co.

Miss Ora Parent of Smith College spent Sunday with her parents here.

Miss Mabel Ryther spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. A. L. Squier, of Amherst.

Miss Alice Thompson of Palmer has a position in the office of the Boston Duck Co.

Frank Lamb, who has been employed for the past two years by R. L. Bond, has gone to Hull.

Misses Maggie Thomas and Mary Sullivan were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas over Sunday.

Mrs. F. H. Carroll and Franklin Carroll were guests of Mrs. J. B. Belcher of Chicopee Falls last week.

Mrs. William Bishop and children of Gilbertville were guests of Mrs. Richard Russell last week.

John Thomas and family of Springfield are visiting Mr. Thomas's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thomas.

Charles Jones of the Jones Brothers bakery has left the firm and has bought out a trucking stand in Hull.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church held a business meeting in the church Wednesday afternoon.

O. A. Parent is moving his family into the tenement in the old Murdock store, recently vacated by Ed. Marsten.

Simon Moynahan, who has been in the hospital in Boston under treatment for some time, has returned home much improved.

Rev. B. McKeaney rector of St. Bartholomew's Catholic church, who is now abroad, sends us the following short note from Damascus, under date of April 20th:

We left Jerusalem on the 10th instant for this city of Damascus. When in Jerusalem we saw people from every nation, the same as in the days of our Saviour, who came there to celebrate the Easter time. Jerusalem is truly a Holy City. On leaving Jerusalem we came, after four hours' ride, to Bethel, where Abraham once dwelt and where Jacob saw the angels descending and ascending on the ladder from heaven to earth. Then we reached Shechem of scripture, now called Nablous. Thence we proceeded through Galilee to Nazareth, the beautiful Nazareth, where we spent Easter Sunday. Galilee is the most beautiful and fertile province in all Syria. From Nazareth we went to Iiberias, on the coast of Galilee, where we passed the night. Then we proceeded on our journey to the waters of Meron, on which we also spent a night. Next day we commenced our ascent of Mount Hermon, with its head still white with the winter's snow. It took two days to cross the mountain. One more day found us in Damascus, which was founded by Uz, the grandson of Shem, and which is said to be the oldest city in the world. I do not attempt to give you a detailed account of this part of our tour, because I am so tired from riding the last ten days that I can scarcely write even these few words.

THREE RIVERS.

Go to M. J. Sullivan's musicale and dance at Thorndike, May 29th.

Dr. Bliss is having much trouble with his throat lately.

R. C. Newell is to return to Clifton Springs, N. Y., next week.

Fred Freak of St. Albans, Vt., is with his family this week.

Louis Hodgerny is having a hard time with tonsilitis this week.

Charles Scerry is kept at his home in Warren with pneumonia.

Special services are being held in Saint Anne's church this week.

William Bell went to his home in East Chatham, N. Y., this week.

Miss Emma Graves has accepted a position as bookkeeper in Shaw Bros' store.

Twelve from this place attended a special revival service at Ware Monday evening.

Mrs. Arthur W. Warriner has been kept in doors this week by an attack of pleurisy.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitz, formerly of this place, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Sunday.

Miss Alice Barton is spending a few weeks visiting relatives and friends in Belchertown.

Philo Talbert has resigned his position as overseer of the mill yard. Mr. Avery occupies the place.

Rev. Charles T. Holt of East Brookfield will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church Sunday morning.

The latest out in the ladies' bicycle department are the Misses Susie and Nellie Twiss and Mrs. S. B. Barnes.

For about three hours last Saturday afternoon quite a large fire was raging in the woods near Burleigh's bridge.

Miss Mary Cole will not return from Dover, N. H., as she intended, having a more lucrative position than she held here.

Prosper Howard sustained a severe nervous shock this week. He nearly lost the power of speech and had one side paralyzed.

There are four new cases of scarlet fever reported in the village this week. Charles McGarret, Thomas Gauthier and Charles Wood's families are infected with it.

Miss Anna Murdock and Mrs. Charles Haynes took a carriage drive yesterday to East Longmeadow, where they called on Mr. and Mrs. Hitchcock, formerly of Baptist Hill.

Last Saturday afternoon the beaming room and the cloth room nines indulged in a game of base ball on the old grounds. On account of a disagreement only five innings were played. The beamers were victorious.

Quite a number of complaints have been made in regard to the cruel way in which several of the boys treat the birds. It would not be a bad plan to report such offences to the officers of the society that is interested in such matters.

Samuel McWhorter, who left here three weeks ago for Springfield, where he is taking a course at Childs' Business College, was in town last Saturday and Sunday. During his six years residence here Mr. McWhorter has always been a leader in literary circles, and his departure is regretted by many friends.

THORNDIKE.

Everett E. Kendall is again confined to his home by sickness.

Michael Coffey is spending a vacation with friends in Easthampton.

James F. Loftus has just finished fitting up his new ice cream rooms.

Noe Laplant had his hand caught in the machinery in No. 1 mill a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Keith of Gardner are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Adams.

The King's Daughters will meet this evening with Miss Maude Murdock on Main street.

Tickets for M. J. Sullivan's musicale and dance will be on sale at the usual place next week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Lawlor are happy over the arrival of a baby boy, which was born the 7th.

Patrick Fleming spent Sunday with his parents in town, returning to Chicopee on Monday.

Wm. Hutchinson of New York spent part of last week with his father here, returning on Monday.

Miss Nolan of Ware was the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. McCormick, this week.

Mr. Adams has an egg which was layed by one of his hens this week which measures 6 by 7½ inches.

A few from this place went to Palmer, Wednesday afternoon and evening, to attend the circus.

Samuel Place of Norwich, Ct., made a flying visit to his sister, Mrs. Henry Osborne, during the week.

The Polish wedding party which occupied Union Hall Saturday evening was one of the largest of the season.

Deacon Freeman Foster returned this week from a visit with friends in East Hartford and Putman, Ct.

St. Mary's Temperance society, which was organized several years ago, disbanded on Sunday for lack of interest.

Dr. M. W. Roche left here on Tuesday for Pawtucket, R. I., and expects to enter a hospital in Providence.

Fred Edwards hurt his left foot quite badly one day this week while at work, by accidentally letting a heavy weight fall upon it.

The telephone company are to put in a pay station in the drug store of Mr. Adams, which will be connected with the long distance line.

The contagious diseases which have prevailed for some time are almost stamped out, there being only one case of scarlet fever and the patient has nearly recovered.

A piece of property, consisting of a house and about 40 acres of land, owned by Margaret Sullivan of Bondsville, was sold Wednesday on an execution in favor of Fillmore & Lamy of Three Rivers, to A. E. Fitch for $104. Mr. Fitch will either rent or sell the property.

The ball game at Bondsville last Saturday between the home team and the Thorndike's was in Thorndikes favor until the last half of the ninth inning, when the home team by some good hitting and plenty of wild throwing on the part of the visitors, gave the Bondsvilles the game, with a score of 10 to 9. The Thorndikes will play the Gilbertvilles here the 25th. The team plays at Southbridge June 1st, and will probably play two games with Bondsville on Memorial Day, one game in each village.

These pupils in grade 1 have been perfect in attendance during the month ending May 10: Flora Adams, Mary E. Bean, Breneaux Belaire, Joseph Chabot, William Chabot, Perlin M. Emery, Mary Grigware, Celia Griffin, W. Gordon Miller, George Richmond, John Sullivan, Francis Sullivan, Arthur Bouthilier, Anna Bouthilier, Mary Brosnan, Frank Connors, Cornelius Connors, James Holden, Agnes Keefe, Flossie Morse, George Reilly, Frank Reilly, Rosanna St. Jacque, Phardina Young, Malvena Chandonnais, Alfred Chandonnais. Those perfect in attendance in the second primary for month ending May 10 are: Ruth Bishop, Etta Bond, Rosanna Cadorette, Peter Cahill, Nellie O'Keefe, Cassie Sullivan, George Young, John Connor, Arthur Bond, Sadie O'Keefe, Harold Rich, Delia Smith, Mary Holden, John Crean, Kitty Holden, Mabel Keith, Malcolm McKenzie, Florence O'Leary, Arthur St. Jacques, Felicite Woisard, Joseph Manny, Emma St. Jacques.

BORN.

At Thorndike, 7th, a son to Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Lawlor.

DIED.

At Warren, 11th, Henry J. Prine, 82
At Belchertown, 13th, Dexter R. Bruce, 70.
At Belchertown, 13th, Cephas Hyde, 83.
At Warren, 12th, Mary Elizabeth Lydon, 24.
At Wales, 13th, J. W. Adams, 72.
At Tewksbury, 14th, James M. Neville, 30 formerly of Warren.

FOR SALE.—A second-hand barber's chair. 7-tf J. McBRIDE, Palmer.

TO RENT.—Tenement on Pleasant street. 7-tf G. H. WILKINS, Palmer.

WANTED.—Good plain cook. Reference required. MRS. J. F. CONVESE, Brimfield.

FOR SALE.—Two thoroughbred Jersey cows, both new milch. 7-2 H. C. NORCROSS, Monson.

PASTURAGE.—Cattle or horses. Low rates and good keeping. A. D. NORCROSS. Monson, May 16, 1895. 7-1

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. 4-tf

FOR SALE.—Two horses $50 and $60; two buggies $15 and $25; one single harness $6; one shifting pole $6; one skeleton wagon $20; cultivator $2; a one-horse harrow $2; piano $60. 6-tf D. F. HOLDEN, Palmer, Mass.

BECAUSE of my contemplated removal to Springfield, I offer to rent the tenemedt occupied by me on School street. Also have for sale a good second-hand organ and cook stove, and new oil stoves. 4-tf E. J. WOOD, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—One Beebe speeding cart, has only been used a few times. Also one road cart, one good Phaeton, and one good cook stove. 3-tf GEORGE F. BELL, M. D., Three Rivers, Mass.

COTTAGE AT BLOCK ISLAND TO RENT—for the months of July and September, all furnished. Nine rooms, good spring and cistern water, with barn. Apply to ISAAC KENERSON, Engineer Ware River Road, Palmer. 7*5

EGGS FOR SALE, from choice strains of White Wyandottes, Light Brahmas, S. C. White Leghorns, and Pekin Ducks. BEAVER BROOK POULTRY FARM, J. H. THAYER & SON, 3*5 Ware.

E. W. French, agent for the New Singer Mfg. Co., has opened an office in Palmer, with headquarters at the Weeks House, and is showing their latest productions for 1895 sewing machines, with three different machines for family use. 52-tf THE SINGER MFG. CO.

FOR SALE.—The store of the late E. G. Murdock in Thorndike, Mass., also dwelling corner of Commercial and High streets, and one on School street in said Thorndike. Must be sold to close estate. C. L. GARDNER, Adm. Jan. 21st, 1895. 43-tf

PROPOSALS will be received by the building committee until May 27th, 1895, for building addition to the almshouse on town farm. Plans and specifications can be seen at the residence of William Merriam. The committee reserves the right to reject any and all bids. PER ORDER BUILDING COMMITTEE. Palmer, Mass., May 10, 1895. 6-2

MR J. B. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty. 7-tf SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.

HEADQUARTERS L. L. MERRICK, POST, NO. 10, G. A. R.
GENERAL ORDERS NO. 1.
Since last we stood beside the graves of our departed comrades, a whole division has fallen in life's battle. We who remain must close up the ranks as in the old days, and once more decorate our fallen comrades' graves.
Members of the Post, soldiers and sailors, are requested to meet at Memorial Hall, May 30, at 8 o'clock a. m., to form a line of march to the different cemeteries. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend services in Memorial Hall at 2 o'clock p. m.
J. H. DAVIS, Com.
H. H. PAINE, Adjt. (pro tem.) 7-2

NOTICE TO SAVINGS BANK DEPOSITORS: COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—ACT OF 1888. An act requiring Savings Banks and Institutions for Savings to call in their books of deposit at stated intervals.
"During the year 1889 and every third year thereafter Savings Banks and Institutions for Savings shall call in the books of deposit of their depositors for verification in such manner as their respective boards of trustees may elect."
In accordance with the above law, depositors in the Monson Savings Banks are requested to present their pass books for inspection.
Books received by mail will be returned without delay. BY ORDER OF THE TRUSTEES.
FRANK E. MORRIS, TREAS.

DENTISTRY.
TO THE CITIZENS OF PALMER AND VICINITY:
Having thoroughly equipped my new office with the most modern inventions and methods pertaining to dentistry, I am now prepared to meet the demands of the public in all the branches of the art. I have associated with me DR. O. P. ROLLER, a graduate in DENTAL SURGERY, who has made a specialty of crown and bridge work, all gold, porcelain, combination crown, etc. Gold, aluminum and artificial dentures of every description. The best of workmanship guaranteed. 2-tf
DR. C. W. CROSS, PALMER, MASS.

BE SURE YOU SEE THE
MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS
BEFORE PURCHASING ANY OTHER.
Illustrated Catalog Sent on Application.
J. M. Bruce, Agent for Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties.
3?4 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Lessons on the Violin or Piano.
Given by—
MISSES JULIA and LILY ALLEN.
3-42ks Cor. Church and Pleasant Sts., Palmer.

Did you know the law is off on Trout Monday, April 1st, and that you can buy
RODS, LINES, FLIES, HOOKS, REELS, FLY BOOKS, ETC.,
At right prices and get a good assortment at the
DRUG STORE OF
LeGRO & LYNDE,
Next to Post Office,
Palmer, - - Mass.

WHAT?
THE LATEST STYLES IN
Ladies', Misses and Children's
RUSSETS and BLACK OXFORDS.
A fresh consignment just in.
See Our Ladies' Russet Odfords in the Philadelphia, Opera, and Needle Toes,
AT $1, $1.25 and $1.50.
THESE ARE THE LATEST.
SURE TO PLEASE YOU.
HAVE YOU SEEN THEM? HERE YOU WILL FIND THEM
A. B. COWAN,
Successor to Chas. N. Blake & Co.
Holden's New Block, Main Street,
PALMER, MASS.
N. B. Repairing neatly and promptly done.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE PALMER NATIONAL BANK, at Palmer, in the State of Mass., at the close of business, May 7, 1895.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$223,304.63
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		1,324.54
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation		25,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		2,800.00
Stocks, securities, etc.		9,964.55
Banking house, furniture and fixtures		4,500.00
Due from approved reserve agents		24,197.58
Checks and other cash items		125.00
Notes of other National banks		797.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents		269.39
LAWFUL MONEY RESERVE IN BANK, VIZ:
Specie	$10,274.00
Legal-tender notes	1,500.00	11,774.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)		1,125.00
TOTAL		$304,981.69

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$100,000.00
Surplus fund	20,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	22,492.30
National bank notes outstanding	22,500.00
Dividends unpaid	212.00
Individual deposits subject to check	131,552.49
Demand certificates of deposit	8,212.90
Cashier's checks outstanding	12.00
TOTAL	$304,981.69

State of Mass., County of Hampden, ss:
I, Chas. B. Fiske, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
CHAS. B. FISKE, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 14th day of May, 1895.
{SEAL.} WILLIAM W. LEACH, Justice of the Peace.
Correct—Attest:
JAS. B. SHAW,
C. D. HOLBROOK, } Directors.
G. H. WILKINS,

SPRING CLOTHING!
NEW SPRING STYLES, Latest Colorings —AND— Novelties.
D. MULVIHILL, - Eager's Block.

ALLEN'S BEEF, WINE and IRON
Is one of the best spring tonics you can buy. Try it. Pint bottles for only 50 cents.
ALLEN'S CLIMAX COUGH CURE is just the article to have handy when you have a sudden cough these damp days of spring.
ALLEN'S FLORIDENA BALM is the best article ever invented for chapped hands, rough skin and pimples on the face and for burns. It is good for eczema, and will relieve the burning and irritating feeling at once which attends that affliction.
But with all your buying, don't forget to take home for household use THE ANTALGICA. It is good for so many things that you cannot afford to be without it.
Allen's New Drug Store, Holden's Block, Palmer.

GRANDMOTHER'S INDIAN BLOOD PURIFIER.
For this purpose no better or safer medicine can be selected to purify, enrich and warm the blood, and tone up the system generally. It will speedily restore the system to health and vigor. It is composed of leaves, barks and roots, being one of the mildest and safest tonics known. Also agent for the National Remedy Co., and their wonderful Japanese Oil, known all over the world. Fresh roots and herbs can be found at the house at any time. At home Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Hair work done to order.
H. S. McCOMBER, AT PERFECT VIEW HOMESTEAD, STATE AVE., MONSON, MASS.
P. O. Box 174 Palmer. 6-10

RIDE OR WALK?
You can best afford to ride if you will examine our second-hand BICYCLES from $5.00 upward. Each day brings fresh arrivals. You get them at about your prices.
G. M. Hendee, Springfield, M

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 17, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Go to M. J. Sullivan's musicale and dance at Thorndike, May 29th.

Carl Stewart has a Waverly wheel.

Miss Kate Connell has a new wheel.

Ralph Clifford is advertising some rare bargains in coal.

Landlord Foley has purchased the gray trotter, "Glammiss," 2.22¾.

William Crosby of Mansfield, formerly of this town, spent Sunday here.

Miss Mamie Leary has a Falcon wheel, purchased of C. R. Buffington.

Raymond Richards has been sick with German measles for the past week.

Robert Murphy has sold his house on State street to Ellen C. Sullivan for $1200.

The frost of Monday night did a great deal of damage to fruit trees in this section.

Dr. George E Fuller has put water into Chapin's and Merrick's stores this week.

Rev. W. H. Marble takes for his subject Sunday morning, "The Stranger at the Door."

Mrs. Lorenzo Hutchinson spent Tuesday and Wednesday with friends in Springfield.

The meetings of the Junior Epworth League are omitted while scarlet fever prevails.

Joseph Chandler expects to go to Chicago the first of August to fit himself for teaching dancing.

Mrs. E. B. Maynard of Springfield is the guest of Miss Clara A. Wood, superintendent of schools.

E. J. Haynes, who is building two houses on Park avenue, has the brick and lumber for one on Grand avenue.

Sherman Converse and wife of Westboro spent Wednesday in town, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carpenter.

The catalogue of Monson Academy will probably be issued this month, as it is now in the hands of the printer.

Rev. Harry Blackford will exchange Sunday with Rev. W. F. Walsh, pastor of the Unitarian church, Brookfield.

Rev. F. S. Hatch of the Congregational church will preach Sunday morning upon certain issues of local importance.

John McAviney, who has been employed at Anderson's barber shop, has gone to Haydenville to work in a grocery store.

The 30 head of horses that are to be sold at Hampden Park next Thursday are a good lot and should demand good prices.

John S. Bogan has sold the Gideon Moore farm to John Cantwell, and the Eli Rogers heirs have sold their farm to Fred D. Rogers.

John McAuliffe will sell a quantity of household furniture, farming tools and other things at his house north of Flynt's Quarry next Friday.

Some of the Green street grammar school boys took an enforced vacation Tuesday. They are liable to sing the next time they are requested to.

Mrs. Henry E. Bugbee has a very beautiful wistaria, on which she estimates there are one thousand blossoms. It is attracting much admiration.

Dr. George E. Fuller has bought of Charles Hanson his lot on Park avenue for $250, and will erect a two-tenement house on that and the adjoining lot.

Mrs. William King Flynt has issued invitations to an "at home" for Tuesday evening in honor of her brother, Fred. W. King, and his wife, of Chicago.

Mrs. G.C.Flynt and son have returned from Brooklyn, where they have been spending the past ten days with Mrs. Flynt's mother, Mrs. H. M. Needham.

Mrs. Thompson, wife of our genial depot agent, who has been so very ill the past winter, has so far recovered that she is able to be wheeled out of doors the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. King of Chicago, who are making Monson their stopping place for a few weeks, are spending several days at Stafford Springs with Mr. King's sister, Mrs. Squier.

Presiding Elder Thorndike will hold the second quarterly conference in the Methodist church next Tuesday evening, and will preach at the Sunday evening service. He will go to Wales in the afternoon.

Summer vacation trips are in order. Two went from here the latter part of last week for a few days' stay at Watch Hill. After remaining over Sunday they concluded Monson was good enough for them

Charles Webber will send his fast pacer, "Robert E.," to Boston for the summer campaign next week. Last year, as a four-year-old, he showed at 2.12½ gait, and barring accidents should go in 2.10 this season.

What is the matter with the town clock? The Congregational church clock is nearly eight minutes fast and still gaining. When accurate time can be so easily obtained at the depot there is no excuse for such errors.

All the elm trees which were set out on the park by the association are living, and if any one wishes to perpetuate his name in a substantial manner and add to the attractiveness of the park, he can do so by erecting a fountain.

James Neville, formerly of Monson, died Wednesday at Tewksbury, and the body was taken to Stafford Springs Thursday for burial. Mrs. Neville and her son are residing with her father, Mr. Hanley of this place.

C. N. Taylor, assistant superintendent of the construction of the water works, finished work here and with Mrs. Taylor left town last Thursday for Natick, where Mr. Taylor has a similar position in the construction of the city sewers.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Methodist church held a business meeting Monday evening, at which the subject of changing the society into the Epworth League was considered, and the change will probably be made at the next business meeting.

Rev. F. S. Hatch and Charles C. Keep are deligates to the state association of Congregational churches which holds its annual meeting in Lynn next week. Rev. James Tufts will represent the county association at the same gathering.

Alfred N. Gaouette is to erect a two-story house on his lot, corner of State and Washington streets. The lower floor will be occupied as family living rooms, with a reception room for patrons. The upper floor will have his photograph gallery.

Mrs. E. B. Maynard gave a talk before the Current Events Club and their friends at Mrs. Edward D. Cushman's Wednesday afternoon upon "Egyptian Ornament," which was listened to with much interest. After the talk, refreshments were served.

The Cushman fountain is undergoing repairs. The supply pipes were frozen up in the winter and the water has not flowed freely since. As this fountain is most patronized by man and beast, the small amount of water has been a source of much inconvenience.

It was decided Monday morning not to open the Green street primary school until all danger of scarlet fever had passed. The school houses where the disease has found victims have been fumigated. Several cases have been reported this week, but all are of a mild type.

The Philomathean Society of the Academy will give a "May party" in the chapel this evening. The farce, "Six Cups of Chocolate," will be played, and refreshments served afterwards. The entertainment will commence at 7.45, and an admission fee of 15 cents will be charged.

The Ladie's Benevolent society of the Methodist church has reorganized with the following officers: President, Mrs. William H. Marble; vice presidents, Mrs. Walter E. Morse and Mrs. Henry G. Rogers; secretary and treasurer, Miss Mary L. Ward; committee to revise the constitution, Mrs. Marble, Mrs. Morse and Mrs. Rogers.

Flynt Park has had a very valuable addition this week. E. Barney, whose magnificent grounds join Forest Park, Springfield, has presented Mr. Flynt with over a hundred pond lilies of rare varieties. Many improvements have already been made at the park this spring, a gallery has been placed in the museum, ponds laid out, etc.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Congregational church elected the following officers last Sunday evening: President, Fred D Rogers; vice president, Grace S. Cushman; secretary, Gertrude B. Gage; corresponding secretary, Louise Morris; treasurer, James E. Closson; superintendent of the Junior society, Mabelle L. Anderson.

Citizens here, especially the farmers, are delighted to think that the Monson members of the Eastern Hampden Agricultural Society are to have a hand in the management this fall. There are fully as many members here as in any of the other towns connected with the society, and the farmers are by far the largest contributors. Let them make a good showing this year and secure the premiums that are to be increased in nearly all the departments. Good weather and good attendance will be all that is necessary to make the fair a success. Those that are taking a hand in the show this season know what Monson people want, and doubtless it will be given.

The water works now about completed fully satisfy our townspeople in regard to the volume, force and probable supply, as well as in the fact that the water is pure and of the best quality. There are but few towns in the commonwealth that have as good a plant as we have, and that two at about one half the cost of average towns. The town is well supplied with hydrants, there being 77 for use in case of fires, which at the usual cost of $40 each, will bring in quite a revenue, as also the water taken by the woolen and other mills, besides the many families that have been anticipating the advent of plenty of water for family use as well as for other purposes. The minimum price at which water will be furnished, including use of meter, will be $8 per annum. This will allow 2000 cubic feet or 15,000 gallons, and water takers using more will be charged for the excess at the rate of 20 cents per 1000 gallons.

Rev. Harry Blackford of the Universalist church will preach the Memorial sermon to Marcus Keep post a week from Sunday at Memorial Hall. Charles F. Orcutt has been invited to take charge of the singing. The service will be a union one, and will begin at 3 p. m. The Memorial Day plans are complete and are as follows: 9 a. m., delegation from Marcus Keep post will visit St. Patrick's cemetery and decorate the graves of all soldiers buried there; 11 a. m., a delegation will visit Moulton Hill, and decorate the fourteen soldiers graves there; 1.30 p. m., memorial services at Memorial Hall. There will be singing by W. F. Miller's quartet of Ludlow, and by the school children under the direction of Miss J. V. Cantwell. Address by Colonel H. C. Dwight of Hartford. At the close the post and children will proceed to No. 1 cemetery, escorted by Lanphear's fife and drum corps, and decorate the fifty soldiers graves there. Upon their return to the hall the post will be served refreshments by the Marcus Keep Woman's Relief Corps.

WEST WARREN.

Miss Myra Day has gone to Wisconsin for the summer.

Miss Dockham is visiting her brother, Rev. W. H. Dockham.

Census Enumerator Dickson commenced his work last week.

Miss Rose Johnson of Worcester spent a few days at her home last week.

The West Warren cornet band is practicing for Memorial Day. They expect to play in Enfield and Greenwich.

The Epworth League of the M. E. church celebrated its sixth anniversary last Sunday by a very interesting service. The morning service was especially for the older people and the evening for the young people.

WILBRAHAM.

Charles Warner and daughter Gladys of Boston have been the guests of Mrs. Laura Warner this week.

The ladies of the Congregational church held a social at the home of Mrs. Stebbins Foskit last evening.

Miss Mary L. Poland, superintendent of schools, attended the superintendents' meeting in Springfield last Friday.

Charles Church has removed the fence in front of his residence on Main street, thereby greatly improving the premises.

The Wesleyan Academy base ball nine played the Willistons last Saturday on the campus, and were victors by a score of 15 to 8. The game to be played with the Amherst Aggies Monday was postponed, owing to the death of Ex-President Seeley.

The Chautauqua Circle met with Misses May and Dora Merrick last Friday evening. The following programme was carried out: Roll call, response by quotations on spring; report of last meeting; History and Description of St. Peter's in Rome, Miss Dora Merrick; Current Events of the week, W.H. McGuire; discussion of the first five questions in membership book, Club; The Circlet, Mrs. T. Livingston; An Optimistic View of the World's Moral Progress, W. H. Robbins; A Catskill Railroad, T. Livingston. The following officers were chosen: President, Miss Dora Merrick; vice president, W. H. McGuire; secretary, Mrs. Cora Livingston.

BELCHERTOWN.

Harold E. Barton, assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Lowell, was in town Sunday.

William A. Snow has opened a harness and repair shop in the building occupied by the late B. B. Snow as a harness shop.

Miss Nettie Shaw has been chosen to represent the Belchertown high school at the interscholastic prize speaking contest to be held in Westfield to-day.

Memorial Day exercises will be held quite general in the schools this year. The Center grammar and high schools will unite in rendering an interesting programme of music and recitations on the afternoon preceding Memorial Day. The other schools will also have some special exercises.

Cephas Hyde, an old citizen of this place, died Monday at his home on North Main street. He was 83 years old and had been sick a long time. Mr. Hyde was formerly a resident of East Randolph, Vt., but for nearly 60 years was a resident of this place. The funeral was held Tuesday, Rev. S. A. Bragg officiating.

Dexter R. Bruce, 70, died at his home near the village Monday morning after an illness of about a week. Mr. Bruce had been an active member of the Congregational church for 35 years. He was an influential citizen, and was much respected by all with whom he was associated, both in his home and in public life. Besides a wife, he leaves two sons, Rev. Charles Bruce, who is a minister in Iowa, and George H. Bruce, who lived with his parents. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the house.

BRIMFIELD.

Miss Anna Cutler has opened her summer house.

Mrs. Oscar F. Brown has been visiting in Amherst.

Miss Augusta E. Sherman is in town for a short time.

Rev. Mr. Haywood of Globe Village exchanged pulpits with Rev. Mr. Kyle of the First church last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall S. Allen of Worcester made a flying visit to town on their bicycles recently.

The death of Dr. Harland P. Allen of Columbus, Ohio, which occurred May 2, was a cause of sadness to many people of this place. Dr. Allen was a native of Brimfield and was the son of the late Edwin B. Allen. He was born Nov. 11, 1855. After completing the course at the high school here, he began the study of the eye and ear in New York, studying these branches in Germany later. He located in Columbus as an oculist, where he had a successful practice. He had been sick a long time, and his death was due to lung trouble. He leaves a wife.

The Ladies' Union of the Second church held its annual meeting at Mrs. J. W. Morgan's last Tuesday. The officers of the preceding year were reelected, and are as follows: President, Mrs. G. F. Chamberlain; vice presidents, Mrs. W. K. Peirce and Mrs. J. H. Noyes; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Morgan; directors, Mrs. Edward Hitchcock, Mrs. George M. Hitchcock, Miss R. M. Lincoln and Miss Georgiana Whitehouse; entertainment committee, Misses Lydia B. Hitchcock, Margaret Dunsmere, M. Anna Tarbell and Clara Goodhue.

WARREN.

John Mae is seriously ill with a fever.

The frost Monday night seriously injured the apple trees

Mrs. Ada Kingman and daughter expect to sail for Europe in June.

Professor Hinks of Andover exchanged pulpits with Rev. Mr. Hale last Sunday.

The Rural Improvement society seems to be in earnest this spring. A large number have joined and great results are expected. It is hoped that many needed improvements will be made.

Miss Mary E. Lydon, 24, died at the home of her father, Bartholomew Lydon, on the Ware road last Sunday morning, after a lingering illness of lung trouble. A father, mother and three brothers survive her.

Henry J. Prince, a resident of this town, died at his home on Quaboag street last Saturday from old age, complicated with heart disease. He was 82 years old, and leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters, one being Mrs. John Lycett of this town. The funeral was held Monday.

James M. Neville, 30, died quite suddenly Tuesday at Tewksbury of consumption. He was taken there about two weeks ago, as he was ill and had applied to the town for help. He formerly lived in Ware, but became incapacitated for work by hard drinking.

Rev. Daniel F. McGillicuddy, who has been in charge of St. Athanasus's church since December, 1893, has been transferred to St. Stephen's church in Worcester. He was very much liked by all and his departure is regretted by friends both in and out of the church. He will begin his new duties next Sunday.

WALES.

Ralph Squier has moved his goods to Stafford, Ct.

Harry Royce has taken a position as salesman with Homer Foot & Co. of Springfield.

Charles Thompson has been confined to his home about a week with grippe and rheumatism.

H. A. McFarland has been appointed administrator of the estate of Charles C. Smith, late of Wales.

Bert Sizer had one hand badly scalded this week. The injury will render him unfit for work for several days.

W. E. Needham has been appointed road commissioner and has commenced work on the highways of the town.

Mr. Willis, who put a meat cart on the road here last fall, has quit the business and returned to his home in Connecticut.

Mrs. Rosa V. Cook has laid out her front yard very beautifully for a flower garden. She has many choice plants in the ground.

S. P. Smith has traded his meat market business with Mr. Hall of Warren. Both parties have taken possession of their new quarters.

Very much satisfaction is enjoyed in the promptness of Mail Driver Pease in leaving and returning on time with mail, and his gentlemanly treatment of his patrons on the road.

The frost Monday night was very severe. Ice was formed one-eighth of an inch thick, and blossoms on the fruit trees looked as though they had been singed with fire. At 3 o'clock Tuesday morning the thermometer stood 29 degrees above zero.

A terrible craze for bicycles has struck Wales. Vernon Arnold, Mrs. S. S. Hubbard and Willie Jones have made their appearance on new wheels, and several others are considering the question and will probably invest in wheels in the near future.

The Baptist Sunday school will hold its first annual May festival next Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The school will be assisted Wednesday evening by Milton H. Brown, violinist. They will be assisted by the Mandolin-Guitar Club of Springfield and Miss Edith Snell, reader. An effort has been made to secure superior talent for this event, and a very enjoyable affair is anticipated.

LETTER FROM UPPER EGYPT.

ASSOUAN, March 17, 1895.

Editor of the Journal:—After crossing the Atlantic in the great storm which passed over your states in the beginning of February we reached Gibraltar, then touched at Algiers, and on the 15th of the same month landed at Naples, Italy. Staying a few days there we moved southward to Brinidisi, and thence to Alexandria, Egypt, the celebrated and historic land of the Pharaohs. We spent a day in the city visiting the few places of interest. But we could not find where the tomb of Alexander the Great, the founder of the city, once stood. We were equally unsuccessful in discovering the site of the palaces of the Ptolemies. We hurried on by rail to the city of Cairo, the same evening. This is the great city of Egypt, with its old and its new civilization We went around to see its strange places and various objects of interest—the great and mysterious pyramids—the sphinx—the museum where the mummied kings of Egypt calmy repose after sleeping three thousand years in their native mountain rock tombs. The Virgin's well and the Virgin's Grotto were pointed out to us, as also the tree under which the Virgin the infant Jesus and Saint Joseph reposed in the flight into Egypt. All these places are in old Cairo, or the metropolis of scripture. It was a priest of this city who gave his daughter, the fair Aneseth, in marriage to Joseph the son of Jacob. All these things are explained by the natives to the doubting strangers with evident feelings of pleasure and delight.

On March 5th our Nile trip commended, during which we visited the vacant tombs of the ancient Egyptians. All these tombs are cut out of the solid rock to a depth in some places of 200 feet. Their temples next claimed our attention and excited our admiration, for they indicated to us the deep and strong faith of these ancient people and the skill and patience which they showed in the construction of these wonderful works of art and labor.

Persons can read at home as much as they please about this strange land, and then they will have no knowledge of what it really is. This you can perceive when I tell you that along the 600 miles of country which we have traversed between Cairo and Assanan we have not seen a wagon or carriage in all that distance.

In the matter of food and clothing these people show a decided tendency to go back to the conditions of their first parents—their habitations are equally primitive in their construction and appointments. They consist of mud huts and in some places without roofs. Again in the country you can discover these poor people living beside great rocks or in the open fields without any protection whatever—still they appear to be happy and contented.

REV. B. MCKEANEY.

LEGISLATIVE MATTERS.

BOSTON, May 15, 1895.

On the first stage of the Boston charter bill in the House it was amended materially from its form as it came from the Senate. The term of the mayor was shortened to two years, instead of being left at three, and he was made eligible for re-election, instead of being ineligible, as the Senate left it. By the close vote of 98 to 91 the House also restored the confirming power to the aldermen, which had been removed by the Senate. It is possible that the House will change this on the next stage, but it was the sober judgment of the House that the proposed changes were too radical.

The tuberculin bill has now passed the House and Senate and there seems to be no doubt of its becoming a law. It is acceptable to the farmers, according to the undisputed representations which have been made during the debate, and its main features are that it provides for payment of full beef or milk value for cattle which have been killed by order of the cattle commissioners, even though they were found to be diseased, and it forbids the use of tuberculin as a diagnostic agent without the written consent of the owner of the cattle. This protects the farmers as intended they ask, and it is very displeasing to the scientists of the cattle commission and the others who have been working at the problem from a scientific point of view. Tuberculin does not seem to be in as high favor as it was a few months ago, hence the weakening of that side of the case.

The House has agreed to the revision of the caucus act as it came from the Senate, and it is sure that it will become law. The country members have kicked vigorously against the provision that the polls must be open for at least 30 minutes. With their honest ways of conducting caucuses, they are not familiar with the snap practices which are sometimes found among practical politicians by which the caucus can be called to order and everything be done in five minutes, before the opponents of the little game which is being put through have arrived. They believe that 30 minutes is altogether longer than is necessary for the polls to be open, and they want an opportunity to act as they please, no matter what happens in the cities. But the majority of the House was against them and the country caucuses must be open at least 30 minutes, if the governor approves the bill. The bill also provides for two sets of caucuses, instead of having one, as was the case as the law was construed last year.

The state house construction commissioners say that an additional appropriation of $356,000 is necessary for completing the plans for the state house extension. Of this, $31,000 is wanted for strengthening the walls of the old Bulfinch part on the north, which were supposed to be strong enough to carry any weight which would be put upon them. The governor recommends prompt action.

The time in the session has come when the public ought to keep a sharp watch upon the House. Petitioners for legislative favors, or those who are to be affected adversely by pending legislation, should keep their eyes open. The members are now getting into that common but dangerous condition when they think more of getting home than of the quality of the legislation which they produce. Their feeling is both foolish and useless, for with all their haste they can cut off but a very few days from the end of the session, and very likely they will not cut any, while the quality of their acts will justly expose them to the public censure. If they are looking for the approval of their constituents they ought to remember that work well done and prorogation reached decently and in order will bring far more honor upon them and upon the commonwealth than a day or two less in the length of the session. With work well done, without bungling and without scandal, the report of it goes across the country and is recognized that in Massachusetts, at least, even if not in other states, the Legislature is a credit to the people and is to be trusted with the great interests of the public. But with work badly done, the report goes equally over the country, public criticism reenforces the criticism upon other legislatures and the distrust of popular government is increased. The only safe way for the members is to stick steadily to their business, work days and rest nights, make no assignments and go home when the business has been well done.

Speaker Meyer is clearly at fault for the present unsteady condition of the legislative mind. He is pushing business to the utmost. It seems as if his chief ambition were to make a record for a short session. But the first consideration is the public good. The very talk about going home, about "the last days of the session," and the efforts to hold night sessions hurt far more than they can possibly help. If not a word were said about going home till the very end were reached, if the members stuck to business as if there were no end near at hand, close up to the disposal of the last bill and then sent word to the governor that they were ready to be prorogued, they would do much better work and would doubtless finish sooner. It is is not likely that there is nearly as much of a popular demand for early prorogation as the members fancy from the appeals in the press. What the petitioners for legislation want and what the public want is that the work be done so well that it will not need to be done over again, and so honestly and skilfully done that no question will arise concerning the ways and methods of its passage. There is need of stimulating the public sense to demand better work from the Legislature. It can be given and it ought to be given. It will be given if the people demand it. So the responsibility rests upon the people as well as upon the members.

An effort has been made to revive the old law of 1891, repealed in 1893, by which persons arrested for the first offense of drunkenness could be released at the discretion of the court without being brought to trial. It was urged with some warmth by two of the Democratic members from Boston, but the House accepted the assurances of the committee and of other members of the House that the old law was a conspicuous failure and the adverse report on the bill was accepted by a large majority. It is safe to say that the plan will not be tried again as long as the recollection of the late unsuccessful experiment survives.

The House has passed to be engrossed and sent to the Senate the bill which extends the weekly payments law to persons and firms engaged in manufacturing who employ at least 25 persons. It was given one stage in the House without debate, but was strongly opposed upon its engrossing stage. It would not be strange if it were killed in the Senate. The interesting fact in connection with the debate in the House was that one of the strong defenders of the bill was Mr. Dow of Lawrence, of the class in this manufacturing city who would surely have been found, years ago, when the weekly payments law was enacted, upon the opposing side. But the large mills in Lawrence have tried this system of weekly payments for years, and the testimony which Mr. Dow gave regarding its successful operation was very encouraging. The condition of the working classes has positively improved, probably in consequence of the law. They have been more saving, have been less liable to lose the money which they may have put into mortgages of the houses they have tried to buy, and stand better financially all around. The vote of the House was very largely in favor of the bill.

Quite a street railway contest this week in the House has ended, on the first stage, in a victory for the public and the small companies, against the large companies, by permitting the small companies to enter upon the tracks of the large ones with their cars, the motive power to be supplied by the large company. That is, when a small company in the outskirts of a large city, wants to get admission to the main streets of the city, it can do so under the authority of this act, the large company supplying the electricity. This bill is only an extension to the electric companies of a principle which is applied now to the steam roads, but the large companies have made a strenuous fight against it, and it is not certain that it will ever get to the Senate. If it does, it is not then certain of becoming a law.

The rapid transit situation in Boston has become much cleared, for the construction of the subway is sure to go ahead and the House, and doubtless the Senate, will consent to the amendment of last year's act, so that enough of the common can be taken to make the underground passages of the most convenient form.

LANDON.

CARD.—We wish to extend our thanks to the many friends who so kindly assisted us in our recent bereavement by their contributions of flowers, and for the kind words; also to the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Universalist church.

WILLIAM CLEF,
TRUMAN GRISWOLD.

Palmer, May 16, 1895.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

Wouldn't a Salary Come Handy?
See advertisement of a "Chance to earn money," in another column, if you want a position.

Avoid all diseases of the liver, kidneys and stomach by drinking Ayer's Higienic Coffee. Grocers sell it.

Not So Convenient.
Physicians indorse Ripans Tabules by prescribing the remedies they contain, but in form not so convenient, inexpensive and accurate as in Ripans Tabules.

$1000 For You.
The Boston Globe has made another of the mammoth offers to the public for which it is famous. One thousand dollars in cash will be paid the Globe reader who gives the most correct forecast of the last chapter of the thrilling detective story, "By Whose Hand; or the Mystery of Judge Noble's Death," by Scott Campbell. The first installment of this story was given in last Saturday and Sunday's Globe, and will run daily for four weeks. Order it of your dealer to-day.

For Over Fifty Years
MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 52-25

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.
ABSOLUTELY PURE.
A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO.,
106 Wall Street, New York.

FORBES & WALLACE'S,
SPRINGFIELD.

SHIRT WAISTS.
Customers were evidently of one mind Saturday regarding the goodness of our shirt waist assortment. The "selling" was simply the matter of wrapping up what was chosen from the dozen of styles—no need of a word spoken hardly.
Main floor of Pynchon street building.

WASH STUFFS.
Such bargains as these crowded the counters last week, ought to again this week---such bargains are rare.
At 5 cents a yard—Ginghams, Prints, Chambrays, Challies—hundreds of patterns.
At 6¼ cents a yard—Plisse Suiting—the regular 15 cent quality of Plisse, but only four patterns—that's why the price is 6¼ cents.
At 8 cents a yard—the usual 12½ cent gingham—checks, stripes, combinations, etc.
At 6¼ cents a yard—lace stripe ginghams that you'd never expect to get less than 12½ cents—almost fifty different patterns.
At 25 cents a yard—the 37½ cent quality of swivel silks—fifty pieces.
At 25 cents a yard—basket weave Scotch plaid ginghams.
Right aisle.

JAPANESE RUGS.
Our New York organization took all there was from the importer, helped him over a tight place, and as a consequence the rugs came for so little that we can let them go like this:
Size 27x60 inches, 97 cents.
Size 3x6 feet, $1.49.
Size 4x7 feet, $2.32.
Size 6x9 feet, $4.48.
Size 7½x10½ feet, $7.35.
Size 9x12 feet, $9.96.
Hang the rugs up or lay them on the floor, stand off a bit and actually it would take an expert to know them from an Oriental.
Can't say how much longer they'll last---come to-day or to-morrow to be sure of getting some of them.
Second floor of Vernon street building.

YOUR EYESIGHT.
Have you a doubt about it, the least little suspicion of a doubt? No trouble at all to satisfy yourself. We've a competent optician who will examine your eyes and give honest advice about them, and not a cent to pay for his services.
Main store, front.

FORBES & WALLACE
Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets,
Springfield, Mass.

A NICE NEW LINE OF Belt Pins,
Hair Pins,
Shirt waist Sets,
Silver Belt Buckles,
Souvenir Spoons,
Coffee Spoons,
Olive Spoons,
Bon Bon Spoons,
Sugar Spoons,
Orange Spoons, Cream Ladles,
IN SOLID SILVER.
ALSO SILVER NOVELTIES, WITH THE USUAL LINE OF
Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silver Ware, Spectacles and Eyeglasses,
At the Store of G. A. MOORE, The Jeweler,
Holden's Block, Palmer, Mass.

CARRIAGES!!!
I have in stock a complete line of fine and medium grade Carriages.
Leather Top Carriages, for $60, 75, 100, 150, 300.
Open Buggies, for $40, 60, 75, 125, 150.
Second-Hand Carriages, $5, 10, 20, 40, 75.
Harnesses, $7.50, 9, 12, 15, 20.
DELIVERY WAGONS OF ALL KINDS.
W. H. SMITH,
2 PARK STREET, SPRINGFIELD.

FISH BAIT FOR SALE,
CHARLES S. RUGGLES,
Three Rivers, - Mass.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

ART SQUARES.
Of the best quality, all wool. Our prices lower than you'll find elsewhere. That accounts for the large business.
These sizes:
2 yds. x 3 yds.
2½ yds. x 3 yds.
3 yds. x 3 yds.
3 yds. x 3½ yds.
3 yds. x 4 yds.
3½ yds. x 4 yds.
4 yds. x 5 yds.
First floor.

CARPETS.
Continued rush in our Carpet department. We are doing our best to fill orders promptly. Never before have we sent out so many carpets in one season as during the last month. There are bargains in all grades that every carpet buyer will want to see.
Boston and Worcester people wonder why they have to pay $1.25 for the same qualities and patterns that we sell at $1 a yard.
First floor.

REMNANT ROOM.
Here is where all our remnants and short lengths of carpets are closed out at half price. From a rug length to enough for hall or small room. Bring in your measures, we can help you.
Basement.

PIAZZA FURNISHINGS.
More attention is given to furnishing the veranda nowadays. Probably you won't find a better appointed stock nor a lower priced one to select from than ours.
Every piece thoroughly constructed to stand hard usage.
Rockers. Divans.
Arm Rockers. Couches.
Side Chairs.
Basement.

SUMMER DRAPERIES.
Unless you have examined our stock within a week you probably have no conception of the variety of summer draperies we are showing. It's not always the most costly that makes the most attractive room. We employ those who know how to arrange them to the best advantage.
See our ruffled muslin curtains, plain, dotted, from $1.50 a pair upward. Silk cross stripe curtains in all colors from $2 upward. Fancy striped scrims at 15 cents a yard.
Drapery department.

Meekins, Packard & Co.
Springfield, Mass.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS IN THIS VICINITY FOR
TRUSSES.
WE CARRY A LARGE ASSORTMENT IN ALL THE SIZES OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF Steel Spring Trusses,
Hard Rubber Trusses,
New York Elastic Trusses.
WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.
AT LEGRO & LYNDE'S.
Next Door to Post Office,
Palmer, - - Mass.

PALMER
CASH TEA STORE.
THE PLACE TO BUY YOUR
Tea, Coffee, Spices and Crockery
Is at the Old Stand in the Cross Block.
Bring in all your checks. Will deal square with all.

R. J. HENRY, CROSS BLOCK,
PALMER, MASS.

THE BATTLE of BULL RUN
Is a thing of the past, but the battle of life is ever present, and it is the duty of everyone to secure their family supplies where they will be certain to get satisfactory returns for their money. To be sure of this, when you want
FINE GROCERIES,
EGGS and BUTTER FRESH and PRIME, AND SWEET NUTS for SUNDAY TIME, FRUIT, FLOUR and GOODS, go directly to the store of
H. W. SMITH,
59 Main Street, Palmer.
They sell no adulterated trash, but give you the most and BEST for CASH.

AUCTION!
Hampdem Park, Springfield,
THURSDAY, MAY 23,
AT ONE O'CLOCK P. M.
Thirty head of finely bred, fast trotters and gentlemen's drivers. G. C. Flynt of Monson, consigns Nellie K., 2.25¼, sound, kind and handsome. Also colts from 2 to 4 years old that are very promising.
"El Palo Farm" sells Richard Lambert, took a record last year 2.25¾, third trial .14½. Also Aldine, record .18½ last season. These horses are large and handsome.
Ralph Clifford of Monson is to dispose of his trotters. The Vermont Bay, his fast pacer that has many friends in Monson.
John A. Barri of Bridgeport, Ct., owner of the great Elfwood by Nutwood, sells eight of his get. They are trotters and will show for themselves.
Catalogs ready middle of May.
George C. Flynt, Monson, Mass.

W. E. STONE.
HOT WARE. MERCHANDISE.
THE BRUNSWICK SWING, FOR LAWN OR PIAZZA, $6.75.
Croquet Sets, $1.00. Mexican Hammocks, $1.00.
Large palm leaf fans, ... 3c, two for 5c.
Tanglefoot (sticky) fly paper, 3c, double sheet, two for 5c.
Williams' Root Beer Extract, 19c
Hires' " " " "
Knapp's " " " "
Bryant's " " " 10c, makes 5 gallons
Hops, malt, yeast, and cheap molasses for making beer.
Men's wide straw hats.
Children's " " "
Summer corsets, "O, so cool," "Lake-like," 50c
Summer underwear for men, women and children.
Ladies' chamois gloves, ..90c and $1.00, will wash.
Ladies' kid gloves, Foster lace, black, colors, $1.00
Mosquito netting, white, black, blue, pink, green.
New line of dainty dimities, challies, prints, India lawns, nainsooks, shirt waists, and calico wrappers, Windsor ties all colors, 5c to 25c each.
See our straw mattings at 12½c per yard.
Window screens, ... 25c and 30c
Oil stoves, three sizes.
Lace curtains, ... 50c apair and up
Scrims, ... 5c a yard and up.
Silkolines, dot muslin, fish net for draperies.
Extension rods for draperies, ... 15c each.
All the best varieties of garden seeds.
Bradley's fertilizers. Coe's fertilizers.
Potatoes, Bermuda onions, California oranges, lemons, bananas, evaporated apricots, prunes, and evaporated apples.
6 pounds raisins, ... 25c
6 boxes American sardines, ... 50c
Northfield creamery butter.
Bargains in every department. Each and every article warranted to your satisfaction. Goods delivered promptly.

W. E. STONE
GENERAL STORES.
Lawrence Block, Palmer. Hollister's Block, North Wilbraham.

J. B. SHAW,
DRY GOODS,
PALMER, - MASS.

We are all through house cleaning, and with a store bright with paint and varnish, and filled with goods suited to the season, we respectfully ask for inspection and comparison of goods and prices.
It is almost marvelous what pretty Dress Goods a little money will purchase. In Wash Goods the the assortment is much the largest ever shown by us.
In Groceries we have a full line of Staple and Fancy Articles, with specialties each week.

J. B. SHAW,
GROCERIES,
PALMER, - MASS.

W. N. FLYNT & SONS'
SPRING STYLES IN MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING
HAVE ARRIVED. GIVE THEM A CALL AND RECEIVE BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY THAN EVER BEFORE. BE SURE YOU GET A TRILBY HAT.
LATEST IN HATS AND CAPS FOR MEN AND BOYS AT
W. N. FLYNT & SONS,
MONSON, MASS.

We have purchased a lot of Lackawanna Coal which we will have to take possibly the last of this month, and can make a very low price on it. Cannot duplicate less than twenty-five cents a ton higher. We offer it as follows if it can be delivered from the cars on arrival:
Lackawanna Chestnut, - - $4.80
" Stove, - - - 4.80
" Egg, - - - 4.60
Cannot offer Lehigh, above sizes, as low by forty cents a ton. All coal to be screened and delivered within a reasonable distance from either railroad, but coal must be ordered and delivered from cars at above prices. This is a bargain. Send in orders at once to secure it. Can get no more at these prices.
R. M. & THEO. REYNOLDS,
MONSON, - - MASS.

BICYCLES
RAMBLERS, . . $100.00
ENVOY, ... 75.00
FLEETWING (ladies) . 75.00
STORMER, . . . 60.00
CRAWFORD, . . . 50.00
All warranted fully. Sweaters and bicycle sundries for sale. Also have good wheels to rent.
ERNEST D. TUFTS,
Holden's Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

WAGONS!
Having a new lot of
TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY, CALL AND SEE US.
ALLEN AND ELLERY,
PALMER, 3-tf MASS.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,
OPTICIAN.
331 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.
Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial Eyes Furnished.
Oculists' Prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 51-26

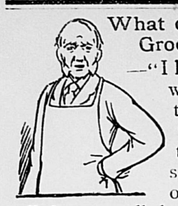
Where are you going my pretty maid?
I'm going to Fuller's, sir, she said.
What do you want there my pretty maid?
Late style Oxfords, sir, she said.

LATE STYLE OXFORDS!!!

You will have no trouble in finding the VERY LATEST in his stock of LOW SHOES and SLIPPERS which is larger than ever this spring. The prices right, too.

He invites you to come and see for yourself.

FULLER,
THE SHOEIST,
MONSON, MASS.



What one Grocer says.

—"I hire clerks who can sell the goods that I tell them to sell—and of course I tell them to sell the goods on which I make the most money. If they can't do it, I won't have them. That's what I hire them for." This is an actual fact related by a grocer to our salesman—and it's a common fact; we have it daily. So, when they tell you that some washing-powder is "the same as" or "as good as" Pearline, it's because it pays a larger profit. Too large, altogether, if clerks can be hired to make people take things they don't want and know nothing of, instead of a tried and proved article like Pearline. 391

After THREE MONTHS of Daily Wear

This Collar

Is Still in Good Condition.

That's because it's the "CELLULOID" Collar. Its original cost was 25 cts. and it cost the wearer nothing afterwards to keep it clean. When soiled, simply wipe off with sponge or wet cloth.

These collars and cuffs are waterproof, and are the only waterproof goods made with an interlining of linen; therefore the only ones that can last and give absolute satisfaction. Every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

Refuse anything that is not so marked, and if your dealer has not got the right kind send direct to us, enclosing amount, and we will mail you a sample postpaid. Collars 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50 cts. pair. Give size, and state whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

THE CELLULOID COMPANY, 427-429 Broadway, NEW YORK.

Flora—"I don't always do unto others as I'de have others do unto me."

Clara—"Of course not. It isn't a girls place to propose to a man."—Syracuse Post.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle.

Agreeably Surprised.

"I had a very severe cold on my lungs that caused much soreness and gave me considerable uneasiness in regard to the result," says Mr. T. E. Smith, of Billerica, Mass. "A local druggist called my attention to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and on his recommendation I gave the remedy a careful trial. The result surprised me; I recovered entirely in three days." 25 and 50 cent bottles.

It Did The Business.

Mr. J. H. Cobb, publisher of the Mirror, at Brockton, N. Y., says: "For nearly two years the Mirror has been publishing the advertisements of Chamberlain's Remedies. A few days ago the writer was suffering from a bowel trouble and resorted to an old remedy which did not prove efficacious; finally he tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Pemedy and two doses did the business, checking it completely.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

From the Groton, Connecticut, Review.

David Lewis, who has been afflicted all winter by rheumatism, is out again and all due to one of the medicines advertised in our columns. After trying everything possible, he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which has relieved him of all pain, from which he was a constant sufferer and promises to make him fit for duty soon. We know David has been a great sufferer and are glad to see him around again.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; C. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

FOR SPRING DEBILITY

there is no better remedy than Blood Wine. Nature and this great French Hospital remedy work together and cleanses the system of all the impurities which have been stored in the sluggish blood of winter. Starts one right at this season of the year and is absolute insurance against the many diseases which attacks the weakened constitution in the Spring of the year. Letters from over 2000 grateful New England people have been received at our office in one week. We know no other medicine has accomplished so much good in so short a time as this remedy.

TAKE BLOOD WINE.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.

Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

The Wedding March.

The wedding march from Lohengrin the organ loudly plays,
The groom and his supports greet the gathered public's gaze,
The swelling music trembles as are touched the polished keys,
But the tremble isn't in it with the shake in Freddy's knees.

Down the aisle the blushing maids proceed with stately tread,
And each regrets the day is not the day for her to wed,
But there's a silver lining to the cloud that hovers o'er—
They know they never looked so sweet in all their lives before.

And now the organ thunders forth a welcome loud and clear,
A hundred heads are turned to see the blushing bride appear,
Her father, who supports her down the long and dizzy aisle,
Will support her and her husband, too, in just a little while.

—Truth.

A NEWSBOY'S CHRISTMAS.

One Christmas night an old-time newspaper writer stepped into a cheap restaurant in Park Row. He had enjoyed a hearty dinner, but as the air was raw and cold he wanted a cup of hot coffee. As he took his seat at one of the small tables a ragged little boy planted himself on the stool opposite him. If ever there was gnawing hunger depicted on a human face it was on that boy's, and there was a wolfish glare in his eyes as he fumbled a nickel and said "A plate of beans."

The waiter also took the other's order. As the writer sipped his coffee he watched the boy ravenously devour the beans. Whispering to the waiter, he told him to bring a plate of corned beef, some bread and butter and a bowl of coffee for the boy. The little fellow stared for a moment, then sweetened his coffee, and, seizing a knife and fork, began his meal. In a few minutes the beef, beans, bread, and coffee had disappeared, yet the boy's appetite was not satisfied.

"What kind of pie do you like?" asked the writer.

"Most enny kind; they's all good," replied the boy.

"Bring him some mince and pumpkin pie," said the writer to the waiter.

The boy gazed at the two plates of pie in wonderment, then looked up shyly and pushed his nickle towards the writer.

"What's that for?" asked the man.

"To pay for de spread; it's all I've got."

Taking a quarter from his pocket, the writer laid it on the boy's coin and pushed them a cross the table.

"Is that for me?" said the boy, with his mouth full of pie. "Am I to have all that?"

"Yes; this is Christmas night, you know."

"Yes: I remember; but I had no money fer me lodging, so I didn't get any of the dinner down at the newsboys' lodging house. Tank you, mister. Youse is good ter me."

Leaving the boy to finish his supper, the man passed out into the street, feeling happy over the incident. Months passed and he had almost forgotten it, when one day a boy stopped him near the Brooklyn bridge. "Saay, mister," said he, "I owes yer a quarter. Here it is."

Recognizing his Christmas guest, the writer gently refused the money, telling him that he had better keep it," he persisted. "That supper and de quarter you gave me brought me luck and I've not bin so hungry since. Youse was good dat night and I wants yer ter take de quarter now, so as youse can give some odder boy a Christmas supper."

The writer took the coin and many a poor newsboy has had a good dinner with it since. —New York Recorder.

A Mighty Bad Fix.

—Truth.

AN ACCIDENT CARD.

I want to describe what ought to be in every home, especially where there are children.

It was a large white card, about three feet long by two wide, to be hung on the wall like a map. At the top was printed in large letters: "What to do and how to do it." Just below was the name and address of the doctor to be called in case of an accident or sudden illness, also of a substitute if the services of the first could not be secured. Below followed a list of accidents and suddenly developing diseases most common to children and what to do for them.

The first on the list, "bites," was plainly printed in large letters to the left of the card. Below this, and to the right, was written, in a plain large hand, the remedies. Then followed the other things, written in the same way, so that the list of ailments and accidents stood out clear and plain, and could be taken in at a glance.

Among them were broken limbs, bruises, burns, convulsions, croups, cuts, drowning, fainting, falls, fits, nose-bleeding, poisons, scalds, sprains, stings, substances in the eye, ear, or nose, swallowing coins, buttons, etc., and wounds.

Before making your card, it would be well to consult your family physician as to what to do in all the above cases.

Beside this card was a box fastened to the wall containing all the remedies needed, bandages, linen thread, cord, needle and thread, pins, court-plaster, absorbent and lint.

The idea is admirable, for many times when an accident occurs a mother becomes so frightened that she cannot recollect the remedies, which, at other times, she knows perfectly well.

In the mother's absence, even the most ignorant or inexperienced cannot fail to do the proper thing, and perhaps save a life, or at least help until a doctor can be summoned.—Clara Sensibaugh Everts.

YOUTHFUL CURIOSITY.

A good story concerning James Russell Lowell comes to us. Prof. Royce of Harvard college has a son, Theodore, who has all the "hall marks" of genius. Theodore is not yet old enough to have made known whether he will be a genius or not, but the peculiarities of that tribe are his. One day the boy, who was then about eight years old, was watering the lawn in front of his father's house in Cambridge just as James Russell Lowell happened to pass by on his way to Prof. Norton's, a little further along. The boy turned the hose on Mr. Lowell, and, despite his expostulations, drenched him from head to foot, so that he had to go to Prof. James' house near by and get an entire change of clothing. When Prof. Royce heard of this he was naturally very indignant, and took Theodore severely to task. "I don't see how you could have done it, Theodore. What reason was there in doing such a thing as that?" he said.

Theodore looked gravely at his father and said, "There was every reason in the world. I was extremely desirous of knowing how the poet would behave under such circumstances."—New York Commercial Advertizer.

Ada—"Bring lots of money, dear, and come around to my house to-morrow afternoon. We're going to have a poker party, just like the men."

Scottie—"How much shall I bring?"

Ada—"Oh, bring lots! Bring two dollars and a half!"—Puck

That Tired Feeling

Means danger. It is a serious condition and will lead to disastrous results if it is not overcome at once. It is a sure sign that the blood is impoverished and impure. The best remedy is

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

Which makes rich, healthy blood, and thus gives strength and elasticity to the muscles, vigor to the brain and health and vitality to every part of the body. Hood's Sarsaparilla positively

Makes the Weak Strong

"I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla last April, and it has improved my health very much. I had heart trouble but Hood's Sarsaparilla relieved me and has also cured that tired feeling with which I suffered and I highly recommend it." JENNIE CREWS, 4 Ashland Place, Boston, Mass.

Hood's and Only Hood's

Hood's Pills easy to buy, easy to take, easy in effect. 25c.

An Irish invalid returning form a health-journey, remarked that he had come back another man altogether, and was quite himself again.—New York Observer.

HEART DISEASE!

Fluttering, No Appetite, Could Not Sleep, Wind on Stomach.

"For a long time I had a terrible pain at my heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought that every minute would be my last. There was a feelling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath. I could not sweep a room without resting. My husband induced me to try and am happy to say it has cured me. I now have a splendid appetite and sleep well. Its effect was truly marvelous."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

MRS. HARRY E. STARR, Pottsville, Pa.

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

A SYRACUSE LADY

Suffered From Heart Trouble, Liver Complaint and Rheumatism, and was Cured.

From Syracuse (N. Y.) Herald.

The efficacy of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was substantially proven—in the case of Mrs. C. S. Abell, of this city.

Mrs. Abell lives at No. 114 Roberts avenue, where she was seen by a reporter. She talked freely of her case, and said: "For a number of years I have been troubled with liver complaint and rheumatism, that made me almost helpless. I became so ill I could scarcely walk across the floor. One of our home physicians informed me that I had heart trouble, and began treating me for that. His treatment did me no good. One day I read of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which I purchased and began taking, and improved greatly. I have now taken six bottles, and was never so well in my life. I can say nothing but kind words for Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, to which I owe so much, I know of another case in which Favorite Remedy restored to health a friend, who was thought incurable."

Mrs. Abell also said she would be glad to describe her case to any sufferer. The family are quite as profuse in their praise of Favorite Remedy.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is a never failing specific in diseases of the skin and blood. It restores the disordered liver to a healthy condition and corrects constipation. It is a certain cure for the diseases peculiar to women. It cures scrofula, salt rheum, erysipelas, nervousness, loss of sleep, or that worn out feeling. In cases of rheumatism, dyspepsia, Bright's disease, gravel, diabetes and bladder troubles, it has cured where all else failed. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is sold by all dealers in medicine at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.

AYER'S Hygienic Coffee.

A Health Drink, Nerve and Brain Food.

A vegetable and cereal compound; contains all the elements one's system requires.

Prepared by M. S. AYER, of Boston. A vegetarian of many years.

PRICE, 20 CENTS PER POUND.

Directions: Prepare the same as Coffee, using not more than two-thirds as much for the same amount of water, or one tablespoonful to a pint.

For sale by principal wholesale and retail grocers. Send 2c stamp for book on "Diet Reform."

M. S. AYER, 211 STATE ST., BOSTON.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, C.

The Costume She Wore.

She had five or six trunks of remarkable size
And a tiny valise.
The trunks she appeared very highly to prize,
But not the valise.
The custom house officer siezed up the pile,
And thought that the woman must travel in style,
But he didn't believe it was really worth while
To touch the valise.
He opened the trunks to see what was there,
But "passed" the valise.
But she was a dancer, a star on the stage,
And the trunks held her, "notices," page after page;
But the costumes she wore that made her the rage
Were in the valise.

Home and Country.

THE ENGLISH OF IT.

Many cook books and bills of fare at hotels contain terms not generally understood. Here are some of the most common of them, with their meaning:—

Au bleu.—Fish dressed so as to have a blue tint.

A la créme.—With a rich cream sauce.

A la créole.—With tomatoes or a tomato sauce.

A la ducheese.—Used in cook books in all languages, and at present having no distinct significance. Its original meaning as applied to any particular dish, we do not know.

Aspic.—A meat jelly for covering game pies, served with boned turkey, etc.

Au jus.—In the natural juice or gravy.

A la Julienne.—Applied to a soup made by one Julien, a proprietor of a once popular restaurant in Boston.

A la maitre d'hotel.—Master or chef of a hotel.

A la poulette.—With a white sauce thickened with eggs.

Au court bouillion.—Originally fish boiled in sea water, but now applied to fish boiled in salt water with acids, spices, or herbs.

Au gratin.—Cooked with crumbs and a sauce.

Bechamel.—A sauce made from meats, onions, and sweet herbs.

Bain-Marie.—A saucepan for boiling water into which a small pan fits.

Braise.—A manner of stewing meat.

Blanquette.—A preparation of white meal.

Bouilli.—Beef stewed slowly and served with sauce.

Boullion.—French soup or broth.

Bisque.—A shell-fish soup.

Civet.—Wild foul or game hash.

Compote.—Something applied to fruit stewed in syrup, and sometimes to pigeon and small game.

Consommé.—A strong gravy used for enriching other gravies and soups.

Caramel.—Sugar boiled until the moisture is evaporated and then used for ornamental dishes.

Crouton.—A cube of fried bread.

Deviled.—Highly seasoned.

Entrée.—Side dish for the first course.

Gateau.—A cake.

Hollandaise.—A sauce similar to Mayonnaise.

Jardiniére.—A mode of stewing vegetables in their own sauce.

Maigre.—Dishes made without meat.

Meringue.—Pastry made of sugar and white of an egg beaten to snow.

Miroton.—Meats warmed over and served in circular form with a potato border.

Nougat.—A mixture of almonds and sugar.

Paté.—A small pie of oysters or meat.

Pot-au-feu.—The common bouillion of the French peasants.

Quenelles.—Force meat balls.

Raux.—Thickening for sauces.

Sauté.—To mix or unite all the parts of a ragout by shaking while frying.

Salmis.—Game hashed when half roasted.

Piece de Resistance.—The principal joint of the dinner.

Sauce Soubise.—Called after Prince Soubise, inventor of the sauce.

Serviette, a la.—Served on a napkin.

Sorbet.—A sherbet.

Soufflé.—A very light pudding.

Veloute.—White sauce.

Vol au vent.—Light puff tarts filled with meat.

TALES FROM THE GREEK.

A man was seen standing in front of the tub of Diogenes talking earnestly with the philosopher and very shortly went away. A half hour later a friend met Diogenes some distance from his tub.

"Ah," he said, "good morning. You seem to be going somewhere?"

"I am," responded the philosopher curtly.

"But you haven't your lantern with you?"

"No. There's no use taking it along on this trip."

"Where are you going?'

"Down to see the people in the gas office. They've sent a man up with a bill for $4.75 for the last month, and I want to find out when they put a meter on my lantern."

On another occasion a friend met Diogenes going toward the Capitol with only a staff in his hand.

"Ah, old man," he said to the philosopher, "where's your lantern to-day?"

"Locked in my tub," responded the philosopher,

"Why haven't you got it with you?"

"Oh, I'm going up to pay a visit to Congress and I don't wan't to lose that lantern yet awhile," and the philosopher smiled serenely and trotted along.

A Roman lawyer on a business trip to Athens for the first time met Diogenes on the street.

"My good friend," he said accosting him, "may I inquire why you are wandering around in the day time with a lantern?"

"I am looking for an honest man," replied the cynic, eyeing him sharply.

"Well, I like that," laughed the lawyer.

"Like what?" inquired Diogenes.

"Like to see an old party like you poking around a big town with a lantern looking for an honest man."

"Well, you don't have to," retorted the old fellow, "you notice that I don't blow out the light and stop searching when I meet you, sir."

Thus did the rare old cynic sometimes get even.—Detroit Free Press.

THE FIELD OF JOURNALISM.

The ambitious young girl sees the newspapers glittering with the names of women writers and dreams of joining the brilliant throng. That is the career in which she is sure she can, as success is often measured. Yet, in all friendliness, we beg her to think twice before she adopts this profession.

It has different grades of workers, but none of its paths are easy, nor are its emoluments magnificent, excepting those which go to the proprietors. Envies, jealousies, and hatreds swarm where men and women dish up the gossip of the whole world.

The first thing the young girl who wants to do newspaper work needs is a chance. Of course she may write something, and if it is timely or newsy, and bright in style, it may be accepted and paid for, but she will never be a full fledged newspaper woman until she goes right into an office and works just as men do.

Then she must not be contented with writing something and phasing it over for some man editor to edit—that is, to put appropriate headliness on it and make it in every respect entirely ready for the printer's hands.

She must have health, good sense, a quick instinct for that which the public want to know about, and be able to tell it in the best and most captivating way.

The art of expression is one which she must cultivate always. It goes without saying she must have education, the broader the better, for it will come in her way to write of dozens of things she never thought of before. When she has to explain them to the public, she will learn that the same sources of information are open to her that are open to others, and she can inform herself.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

WAIT FOR THE

ONLY BIG SHOW COMING.

A GRAND TRIUMPH IN THE HISTORY OF AMUSEMENT.

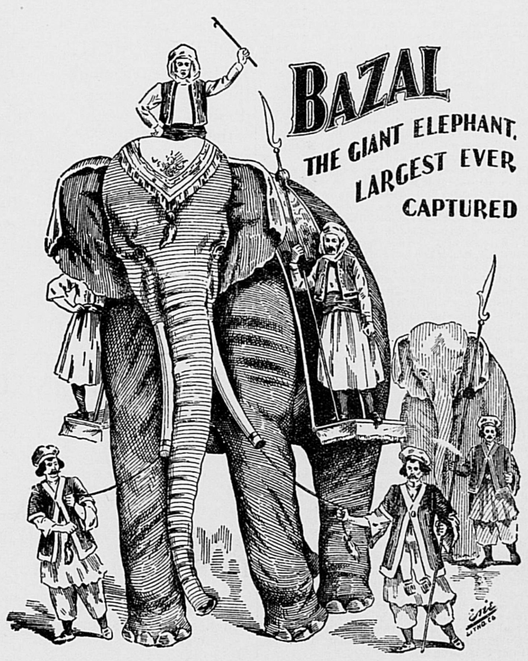
SCRIBNER & SMITH'S

ENORMOUS UNITED SHOWS,

Circus, Museum, Menagerie, Japanese Troupe, Arab Athletics, and

. . . $15,000 FREE HORSE FAIR. . . .

AT PALMER, FRIDAY, MAY 24.



300 Men and Women 300
8 Big Tents 8
60 Elegant Acts 60
15 Gilded Cages 15

100 Thoroughbred Horses 100
3 Bands of Music 3
3 Golden Tableaux Cars 3
3 Open Dens 3

THE GREATEST 25 CENT SHOW EVER ORGANIZED!

Magnificent Attractions, Wonderful Acts, Glorious Feats, and Marvelous Performances.

BAZAL, THE GIANT ELEPHANT.

Lordly Lions, Terrific Tiger, Deadly Jaguars, Monster Pythons, and Wierd Monsters of the Forest and Jungle.

Grand Free Street Parade at 12 o'clock, Noon.

A Kingly Procession of Mounted Knights and Ladies, Golden Tableau Cars, Open Dens of Wild Animals, Comic Clowns, Male and Female Jockeys, etc.

ONE 25 CENT TICKET ADMITS TO ALL.

Two Grand and Novel Performances Each Day.

Doors Open at 7 and 1 o'clock. Tournament at 2 and 8 o'clock.

TAKE GOOD IF NOT COSTLY.

The high price of hothouse and Southern vegetables suggest to the economical buyer the stores of winter roots and other supplies kept over from the autumn. At this season these vegetables have a rather sickly look, and their appearance forcibly recalls the old fairy story wherein Rubezahl, the mountain dwarf, turned garden roots into court ladies and gentlemen to console the solitude of his beloved Emma. Alas! that somewat frivolous lady only sneered at him for his pains, for when spring came the inevitable tendencies of nature which no sorcery could overcome asserted themselves, and in spite of enchantment the onion gentlemen sprouted and the carrot and turnip ladies shrivelled up until they became most unhappy specimens of decayed gentry.

There seems to be no possible means of preserving the juices of winter vegetables beyond a certain season. Whether buried in the sand or kept in a dirt cellar, they finally become dry and tough. After January all root vegetables require special treatment, for even then they have begun to lose their juices. Potatoes, beets, carrots, onions and roots of all kinds should be soaked in cold water for at least six hours before they are cooked, and they should also be boiled in clear, cold water and salted when they are half-done. Oyster plants, which can be bought usually for 10 to 15 cents a bunch, when properly cooked at this season, are most delicious, quite different from the repulsive black stew which is so often served under its name. Moreover, it is an excellent Lenten vegetable, being an admirable accompaniment to a dish of fish.

Soak the roots well. Scrape each one carefully and plunge it as soon as scraped into a quart of water that has been acidulated with half a cup of vinegar. At the end of ten minutes cut the roots into bits two inches long. Mix two tablespoonfuls of vinegar with two of flour in a bright, porcelain-lined saucepan, and toss the pieces of oyster plant in this batter to coat them as well as possible. Cover them with plenty of cold water, add a tablespoonful of salt, put a tight cover on the saucepan and let the oyster plant come to the boiling point. Then let it simmer for forty-five minutes. At the end of this time drain it, toss in a heaping tablespoonful of fresh butter, a saltspoonful of pepper, a tablespoonful of lemon-juice and a teaspoonful of minced pars'ey. Serve it in a hot covered dish.

Oyster plant is also delicious if cooked in exactly the same way, but served in a cream sauce, made with a tablespoonful of butter, an even tablespoonful of flour, and a cup and a half of boiling milk. Add six whole peppers, a spray of thyme, half a bayleaf and a spray of parsley. Simmer all these ingredients together for ten minutes, then add half a cup of hot cream. Oyster plant is an excellent vegetable to accompany veal. Make a poullette sauce in that case like the cream sauce just described, substituting white stock for the milk and omitting the cream. Add instead the juice of half a lemon, a tablespoonful of fresh butter and a teaspoonful of parsley. In serving oyster plant remember that it must be served very hot; it must not be exposed during any process of the cooking to the atmosphere, but keep continually covered while it is boiling and masked with the sauce when it is served. Otherwise, it is likely to turn black.

The only vegetable root at this season that is not likely to require special treatment and will be found fresh and juicy in flavor as it was when it ripened in the fall is the winter parsnip. The fall parsnip is but a poor vegetable compared with the winter parsnip that has been left in the ground to go through the successive stages of frost and thaw and acquire a nutty sweetness that nothing else will give it. These parsnips require no soaking in water. They need simply to be scraped, cut in half, put into cold water and allowed to simmer for thirty minutes, or until they are tender enough to be pierced with a straw. They should be served either with cream or the poulette sauce mentioned for oyster plant.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY. }

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

{SEAL} A. W. GLEASON
Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

YOUNG MEN'S LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

Palmer, Mass.

Classified Finding-List.

A finding-list of fiction in the library has been printed by the Library Association. This list of other books is published for the convenience of readers who cannot consult the complete card catalogue at the library. Cut out each list as published and paste in a scrap book, leaving space after each class for future additions, and when finished you will, with the fiction finding list, have a complete list of the books in the library.

811 American Poetry.

811A1 Poems. Aldrich
811B8 Poetical works. Bryant
811C1 City ballads. Carleton
811C1f Farm ballads. Carleton
811C1fa Farm festivals. Carleton
811C1far Farm legends. Carleton
811C25 Poems. Cary
811G Geraldine.
811G6 Feast of the virgins. Gordon
811G8 Idyls of freedom. Greene
811G8s Stanza and sequel. Greene
811G9 Meg. Gustafson.
811H15 Poetical writings. Halleck
811H28 League of the Iroquois. Hathaway
811H71 Garnered sheaves. Holland
811H71m Mistress of the manse. Holland
811H73 Poetical works. Holmes
811L86 Divine tragedy. Longfellow
811L86p Poetical works. Longfellow
811L95 Poetical works. Lowell
811N51 Monte Rosa. Nichols
811N79 Calumet of the Coteau. Norris
811R Poetical works. Read. 3v.
811Sa Poems. Saxe
811Si Poems. Sigourney
811Sp Poetical and prose writings. Sprague
811St Poetical works. Stedman
811St6 Poems. Stoddard
811T21 Poetical works. Taylor
811T77 McFingall. Trumbull
811T79 Poems. Tuckerman
811W Poetical works. Whittier
811W64 Maurine. Wilcox
811W67 Poems. Willis
811W9 Brook and other poems. Wright

812 American Drama.

812B Königsmark and poems. Baker
812H35 Saul. Heavysege
812H51 Antonius. Heywood
812H51h Herodias. Heywood
812H51s Salome. Heywood
812J23 Daisy Miller. James
812J62 Mouth of gold. Johnson

814 American Essays.

814B3 Eyes and no eyes. Beecher
814B8 Bachelor Bluff. Bunce
814B94b Birds and poets. Burroughs
814B941 Locusts and wild honey. Burroughs
814B94p Pepacton. Burroughs
814B94s Signs and seasons. Burroughs
814B94w Wake-robin. Burroughs
814B94wi Winter sunshine. Burroughs
814C George Eliot's poetry and other studies. Cleveland
814Em Conduct of life. Emerson
814Emc Essays. Emerson. 2v.
814F Art, literature and drama. Fuller
814Fl Life without and life within. Fuller
814H1 Stumbling blocks. Hamilton
814H7 Goldfoil. Holland
814H71 Lessons in life. Holland
814H71e Letters to young people. Holland
814H8 Out-door papers. Higginson
814L My garden acquaintance. Lowell
814M Great conversers. Mathews
814P Biographical and critical miscellanies. Prescott
814Sa3 Salad for the solitary
814Sa4 Sketches and reminiscences of the Radical club. Sargent
814Sa9 Hits at American whims and hints for home use. Sawyer
814Tg Birds in the bush. Torrey
814Tof Footpath way. Torrey
814W5 Character and characteristic men. Whipple
814W5l Literature and life. Whipple
814W5s Success and its conditions. Whipple

Insist on ARM AND HAMMER SODA in packages

BEWARE of imitation trade marks and labels.

Costs no more than inferior package soda—never spoils the flour, keeps soft, and is universally acknowledged purest in the world.

Made only by CHURCH & CO., New York.

Sold by grocers everywhere.

Write for Arm and Hammer Book of valuable Recipes—FREE.

RICHMOND STRAIGHT CUT No. 1 CIGARETTES

MADE FROM THE BRIGHTEST, MOST DELICATELY FLAVORED AND HIGHEST COST GOLD LEAF GROWN IN VIRGINIA.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Who are willing to pay a little more than the price charged for ordinary trade cigarettes, will find this brand superior to all others.

ALLEN & GINTER, RICHMOND, VA.

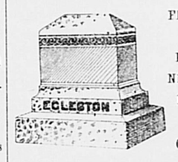
THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., Successor.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

Granite and Marble Monuments.



FINEST WORKMANSHIP AND LOWEST PRICES. NEW DESIGNS ARE BEING ADDED TO MY STOCK CONSTANTLY.

WILLIAM F. COOK,

182 and 184 State St., Springfield, Mass.

Salary and expenses paid weekly from start. Permanent position. Good chance for advancement. Exclusive territory. Largest growers of nursery stock. Clean, hardy stock, true to name. Fair treatment guaranteed. No substitution in our orders. Liberal commission. We can interest any one to local part-time agents. one can earn $75 per month and expenses. Don't hesitate because of previous failures in this or other lines. Outfit free. Address, BROWN BROS. CO., Continental Nurseries, Rochester, N. Y. (This house is reliable. Name this paper.—Ed.)

CANVASSER

No Default of Principal or Interest

has ever occurred in a security sold by this company

MUNICIPAL BONDS.

The securities offered by this Company are selected with great care, and are first class investments for individual buyers, legatees, trustees, banks and savings banks. More than have been sold by us in the last three years. Send for our list of bonds and make use of our experience.

FIFTY CLASSES OF BONDS

German-American Investment Co., 52 Wall Street, New York.

For Coughs, Colds, Asthma and Pulmonary Diseases.

A True Balsam.

Ely's Pineola will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. The annoying tickling and nervous irritation in the throat, producing hacking coughs is quickly relieved by it. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from the use of Pineola Balsam, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. The Pineola Balsam is pleasant to the taste, is soothing to the inflamed surface.

More lives are sacrificed by the neglect of "slight coughs" than can be estimated.

Price of Pineola Balsam, 25c per bottle. All druggists. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., New York.

A CHANCE TO EARN MONEY! Salary and Expenses paid, or Commission if preferred. Salesmen wanted everywhere. No experience needed. Address, stating age, The C. L. Van Dusen Nursery Co., Box D, Geneva, N. Y.

USE BARNES' INK A. S. BARNES & CO., 56 E. 10th St., N. Y.

DEAFNESS & HEAD NOISES CURED. My Tubular Cushions help when all else fails, as glasses help eyes. Whispers heard. No pain. Invisible. F. Hiscox, 853 B'way New York, sole depot. Send for book and proofs FREE.

THE HARDWARE DEALER. A MAGAZINE brim full of practical ideas from hardware men. The cream of 1000 brains. 116 pages. Only $1.00 a year. Sample copy free. D. T. MALLET, Pub., 78 Reade St., New York.

VEGETABLE, PULMONARY, BALSAM. The old, well known cure, —for— "Best in the World." Coughs, Colds and Consumption. Originated by Lowe & Reed, 1826. CUTLER BROS. & CO., Boston. 50c., $1.00.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

IF YOU HAVE CONSUMPTIVE Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cures the worst Cough, Weak Lungs, Debility, Indigestion, Pain, Take in time. 50 cts.

HINDERCORNS. The only sure cure for Corns. Stops all pain. 15c. at Druggists, or HISCOX & CO., N. Y.

CALIFORNIA, OREGON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO, AND ALL WESTERN POINTS. Select Excursions from Chicago Every Day, Via Chicago, Union Pacific, and Northwestern Line. SHORTEST ROUTE. LOWEST RATES For handsome illustrated folder and detailed information address W. MASSEY, N. E. Pass. Agt., or J. S. SMITH, Trav. Pass. Agt., Union Pacific Ry., 290 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed. The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office. WEDDING CARDS.

S. H. HELLYAR'S

Fire Insurance Agency,

CARYL'S BLOCK,

PALMER, - - MASS.

I represent some of the largest companies, both stock and mutual, doing business in this state, and should be pleased to reckon you as one of my customers.

Will guarantee you security, promptness, economy, and a correctly written policy.

Thanking you for past favors, I am

Yours respectfully,

S. H. HELLYAR.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

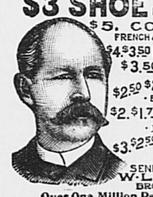
REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE IS THE BEST. FIT FOR A KING.



$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF. $4. $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO. $3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES. $2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S EXTRA FINE. $2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES. LADIES $3. $2.50 $2. $1.75 BEST DONGOLA. W. L. DOUGLAS BROCKTON, MASS. SEND FOR CATALOGUE

Over One Million People wear the W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes

All our shoes are equally satisfactory

They give the best value for the money. They equal custom shoes in style and fit. Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed. The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole From $1 to $3 saved over other makers. If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by

ED. GOODES, PALMER. 21-40

Get a Glass! Quick!

There's lots of snap and vim in this HIRES' ROOTBEER. There's lots of pleasure and good health in it, too. A delicious drink, a temperance drink, a home-made drink, a drink that delights the old and young. Be sure and get the genuine

HIRES' Rootbeer

A 25 cent package makes 5 gallons. Sold everywhere.

THE CHAS. E. HIRES COMPANY, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

S. & W. Wind Engines

For Pumping and Power.

Do not be deceived by misleading advertisements. If you or your friends are in need of anything in the following lines, send for our new and handsome catalogue of 175 pages now ready for mailing.

Hot Air Engines, Steam Engines and Boilers, Tanks, Pumps, Pipe-fittings, Steam or Hot Water House Heating Boilers, &c.

SMITH & WINCHESTER CO.,

19 to 37 Wendell St., BOSTON 141 Centre St., NEW YORK.

"HE THAT WORKS EASILY WORKS SUCCESSFULLY." 'TIS VERY EASY TO CLEAN HOUSE WITH

SAPOLIO

5 4

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 24, 1895. NUMBER 8.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one-half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 30 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R. R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BOND, A. M., Manufacturer and Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, Tinware, Hardware, etc.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's.

WARE.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

PALMER LODGE, No. 190, I. O. O. F.
Meets every Wednesday evening in Commercial Block, Main street.
M. M. THOMAS, N. G. G. H. BRAY, Rec. Sec.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W.
Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in Grange Hall, Day's Block, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

BICYCLES

RAMBLERS, . .	$100.00
ENVOY, ...	75.00
FLEETWING (ladies) .	75 00
STORMER, . . .	60.00
CRAWFORD, . . .	50.00

All warranted fully. Sweaters and bicycle sundries for sale. Also have good wheels to rent.

ERNEST D. TUFTS,
Holden's Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

FINE STATIONERY.

Many ladies are troubled to find just the size, shade or weight of correspondence paper which they would like. With something like

200 VARIETIES

To select from we ought to be able to please you. Any style of paper in any size or shape, and you may have 100 sheets or 1000, as you prefer. We'd be pleased to show you samples at the JOURNAL Office. Your monogram or initials embossed in color if desired.

How to Make a
Big Day's Wages Easy.

If "A Dollar Saved is a Dollar Gained," (as the old proverb says) then here is the way to make several dollars when investing in a MACKINTOSH Coat.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY.

A handsome Blue Cashmere Sleeveless Mackintosh, Double Texture, with fancy Plaid Lining. Regular price, $7.00.

The price will be reduced 25 cents each working day until it is sold. If not sold upon the 30th day the first lady asking for it can have it FREE.

OUR SUMMER CORSET

Is a leader among 50 cent Corsets. Made of handsome Coutille Net, two side steels, extra long waisted,

50 CENTS A PAIR.

LADIES' SHIRT WAISTS.

New Designs, New Patterns, New Styles, Endless Variety. Sizes, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, at prices

FROM 50 CENTS UPWARD.

T. H. TODD.
Boston Store, Monson, Mass.

W. D. KINSMAN.
GLAD WE ARE UNDERSTOOD.

The reliability of our stock is so well known that when we say:

"THE BEST GOODS AT PRICES BELOW THOSE OFFERED BY ANY COMPETITOR,"

buyers at once crowd our store for bargains. You can surely depend upon the quality of our goods. Seasonable goods well selected, offered at low prices turns the season into a busy one for us.

Are you interested in the following?

For graduating and commencement dresses we offer.

WHITE JAPANESE SILKS,

20 inches wide, 38 cents per yard.
23 " " 50 " " "
26 " " 58 " " "
27 " " 68 " " "
30-inch Twill, 87 " " "

These are very much under regular prices, as every lady will readily admit who sees them.

White and cream silk mulls, white and cream chiffons, Persians lawns, India linens, French nainsooks, French organdies, dimities, plain and dotted Swisses, and all the needful and appropriate things for trimmings, including eyelet and button hole chiffons, embroideries and laces.

LACES.

We doubt if you find anywhere else in this region such a line to select from—an assortment of so large a range of styles and qualities and such extraordinary good values. All the newest and brightest things are here.

WHITE PARASOLS.

China Silk, Surah Silk, Chiffon. Some of them have choice Dresden Ball Handles. New goods arriving daily. Seasonable and of the latest designs.

WAISTS.

Another large invoice opened yesterday helped to fill the gaps made by the big selling of last week, and brightens up the line most beautifully. No job lots among our shirt waists—but all fresh, new goods, and prices right—ranging from 75 cents to $3.50.

KID GLOVES

The highest grade. One dollar real kid glove. It combines more forms of goodness than any other with fineness and elasticity of skin, shape, fit, and beauty of shades.

We have them both in self-color, and black pointing, those with black points having black welts.

FEATHER BOAS.

Real Ostrich feather boas, 45 and 54 inches long, from $7.50 to $19.75.

FEATHER COLLARS.

Real Ostrich feather collars from $2.75 to $7.50.

W. D. KINSMAN, CORNER OF MAIN AND BRIDGE STREETS,
SPRINGFIELD, - - - MASS.

HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS.

A FULL LINE OF

STABLE AND . . .
STREET BLANKETS

—AT—

WHOLESALE PRICES.

D. W. FOSKETT,
FOSKET'S MILLS.

FRESH
Milk and Cream.

MAPLE
LAWN
MILK
FARM.

O. D. WELLS, Proprietor.

TRADE SCHOOL DEPARTMENT
OF THE
Springfield Industrial Institute,
Springfield, Mass.

DAY INSTRUCTION in Pattern Making, Cabinet Making, Plumbing, Brick Laying and Plastering, Stone Cutting, Sign and Carriage Painting, Machine Shop Practice.

COURSES 4 months to 1 year in length. Finely equipped shops. Skilled mechanics for instructors.

FOUR OTHER DEPARTMENTS: Industrial High School, Engineering, Normal Manual Training, Normal Kindergarten.

For particulars address
4-26 L. P. STRONG, Director.

If you are going to use any
WALL PAPER
this spring it will
PAY YOU
to look at our line and get
OUR PRICES.

We have our NEW STOCK all in and know we are very bottom on prices.

WE WILL UNDERSELL

any city in the state of Massachusetts.

LeGRO & LYNDE,
DRUGGISTS,
Next Door to Post Office, Palmer.

. . . . THE . . . .
Teachers' Convention
IN JULY.

CHEAPEST RATES OUT OF NEW ENGLAND TO ALL POINTS WEST, VIA. THE

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY,

Niagara Falls, and The Great St. Clair Tunnel,

Also via. MONTREAL, following the shores of the famous ST. LAWRENCE RIVER for three hundred miles.

FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATIONS,
UNEQUALLED SERVICE.

Teachers returning will complete the enjoyment of their trip by taking a sail through the Thousand Islands and the Rapids of the St. Lawrence from Kingston to Montreal.

For further particulars as to this route, apply to

N. J. Grace, D. P. A., G. T. Ry., Boston, Mass.
G. T. Bell, A. G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal, P. Q.
N. J. Power, G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal, P. Q.

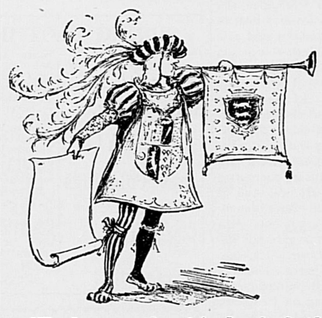
....BICYCLES....

Keating, - - $100
Winnewood, $80, $60, $50, $40

A FIRST CLASS WHEEL FOR LITTLE MONEY.

A. E. FITCH,
BANK BLOCK, - - PALMER.

CHARLES E. LYNCH.



WORDS won't make high-grade goods of low-grade things. If we could hoodwink you into buying inferior qualities we'd be the losers in the end. You'd find it out in time, and have no further use for us. We are here to serve you not for a day, but for always.

We know the kind of clothing we have. If better could be had, we'd have it. The best is none too good for us—none too good for you. Better clothing cannot be had or made.

There are hundreds of gentlemen to-day wearing LYNCH'S clothes, who never dreamed they would ever wear any but clothes "made to order."

There are custom tailors in the larger cities who sell those very same goods as their own.

There are thousands who buy them in the fashionable stores of New York city as "misfits," misfits, forsooth, of the toniest of tony tailors.

Do these facts go for anything?

They speak volumes. They establish our claim. They tell that the goods made for and sold by LYNCH are of a character that cannot be distinguished from the finest custom goods in the land.

Spring Overcoats, $8 to $30.
Spring Suits, $8 to $25.
Spring Trousers, $3.50 to $7.50.

CHARLES E. LYNCH,
Promoter of Fashionable Clothing.
367 Main. SPRINGFIELD. 369 Main.
Your money refunded in case of any dissatisfaction whatever.

E. S. BRYANT, D. M. D.
DENTIST.
LYNDE'S BLOCK, - - PALMER.
Office Hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY
AND MACHINE SHOP.
At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.
MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL JOBBING DONE
At short notice and reasonable prices.
52-35 R. B. FRANCIS.

DENTAL

Operations are usually painful; but at my office we excavate and Fill all Cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN.
Also, we do Crown and Bridge Work and make Artificial Teeth that are Satisfactory.
First Class Work at Reasonable Prices is our motto. Lady Attendant. Take Elevator.
DR. WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.
Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield, Mass.

SMITH & MURRAY.

SILK DEPARTMENT.

The attractions in this department are stronger and more varied than ever. There are special values here which we can recommend.

Two special numbers in Black Satin Duchesse, 23 inches wide (actual measurement), extra heavy and with rich luster, $1.00 a yard.

Many would consider this value good for $1.25.

Here is a better one: Black Satin Duchesse, 27 inches wide, very desirable for capes and skirts, actual value $1.75; our price for to-day, $1.25 a yard.

Rear of main store.

WASH GOODS.

Among the many items of interest at the Wash Goods counter we invite your attention to Plain Black Brocaded Satine, 19c. We are closing out our remnants of Wash Goods of all kinds At half price.

Rear of main store.

HOSIERY.

Men's imported all wool Bicycle Hose in Black, Navy Blue, Heather Mixture, and Scotch Gray, sizes 9½ to 11, At $1.00.

Men's Fast Black Cotton Hose, Hermsdorf Dye, 9½ to 11, 19c, 6 pair for $1.00.

Men's Fast Black Cotton Hose, Hermsdorf Dye, high spliced heels and toes, and double soles, 25c. Tan shades at the same price.

Ladies' Fast Black Cotton Hose, Hermsdorf Dye, double heels and toes, 15c.
Same in 40-gauge, 19c.

Ladies' Fast Black Cotton Hose, drop stitch, double heels and toes, 19c.
Three styles in a better quality, 25c.

Ladies' Tan Hose, assorted styles, in drop stitch and double heels and toes, 35c, three pair for $1.00.

Ladies' Black Bathing Tights, From 75c to $1.50 a pair.

Main store, left.

STRAW MATTINGS.

We have made the hit of the season on Mattings. Our early purchase of a large quantity has enabled us to sell them lower than anyone else. You must have noticed the run on these fancy Mattings at $3.50 per roll—40 yards. Not more than 25 rolls left, and no more to be had of that particular quality.

Fancy Mattings, $4.50 per roll.
Fancy Mattings, seamless, $5.50 per roll.
Fancy Mattings, special, $6.98 a roll.
Best inlaid Japanese, 25c and 30c a yard.

Customers can divide a roll between them, thereby effecting a considerable saving.

Fourth floor, take elevator.

SMITH & MURRAY.

=: Coal Notice. :=

After getting through a long hard winter and having a few dollars left, I bought early in the season some good coal of diffierent sizes which I will sell at the following low prices, for May delivery. All coal screened, and if desired put in bin:

Lackawanna Stove,	-	-	$4.80 per ton
" Nut,	-	-	$4.80 " "
" Egg,	-	-	$4.60 " "
Lehigh Stove,	-	-	$4.95 " "
" Nut,	-	-	$4.95 " "
" Egg,	-	-	$4.80 " "

These prices are for coal delivered a reasonable distance from station, if taken from cars on arrival. I shall be here twelve months in the year to look after the business and solicit a share of the trade. Special prices on large lots.

Yours Very Respectfully,
RALPH CLIFFORD,
Monson, Mass., May 15th, 1895.

The Day's Work.

Do the day's work, my dear.
Though fast and dark the clouds are drifting near,
Though time has little left for hope and very much for fear.
Do the day's work, though now
The hand must falter and the head must bow.
And far above the falling foot shows the bold mountain brow.
Yet there is left for us,
Who on the valley's verge stand trembling thus,
A light that lies far in the west—soft, faint, but luminous.
We can give kindly speeches
And ready, helping hand to all and each,
And patience to the young around by smiling silence teach.
We can give gentle thought,
And charity, by life's long lessons taught,
And wisdom, from all faults lived down, by toil and failure wrought.
We can give love, unmarred
By selfish snatches of happiness, unjarred
By the keen aims of power or joy that makes youth cold and hard.
And, if gay hearts reject
The gift we hold, would fain fare on unchecked
On the bright roads that scarcely yield all that young eyes expect,
Why, do thy day's work still.
The calm, deep founts of love are slow to chill;
And heaven may yet the harvest yield, the work-worn hands to fill.—All the Year Round.

PALMER HISTORY GLEANINGS.

BY O. P. ALLEN.

[NOTE.—This series of papers will be supplementary to the valuable history of our town published in 1889, and will contain facts which the writer has gleaned from various sources since the appearance of that work. They are published with the view of preserving many incidents and data connected with the past life of our town, which otherwise might be forgotten, as they have been obtained from sources which are fast fading out. This first paper was read before the Ladies' Benevolent Society several years ago.]

I.

Old Times and Customs in Palmer.

In these days when the appliances of electricity have annihilated time and space and brought the ends of the earth to our doors at our bidding, and the mind is constantly tossed on the wave of interest, it is well to pause, now and then, and catch our breath.

For this purpose let us throw off the cares of the present, and take a look backward. Let the reader's mind wander back with me 175 years to the birthday of Palmer's history. It is springtime in the Quaboag valley; the declining sun is already hiding his rays behind Chicopee Cliff as a man on foot, with his wife and child on horseback, with a few effects, is seen slowly following the sinuous course of the Bay Path. There is scarcely a sound to break the silence, save now and then a bird note here and there from the tree tops. No human beings are here to greet the new comers, as they seek what shelter they may for the night. The open space which the red man had burned over and cleared long years before, where our village now stands, has attracted the pioneer, and he seriously thinks of making this spot in the wilderness his future home.

It is John King, with his wife and child, whom we introduce to you. The next day he sets about throwing up a rude shanty near the Bay Path, not far from where Lawrence Block now stands, where the first settlers of Palmer soon have a home and commence life in the wilderness. This is the rude beginning of our town. But I will not here recall what I have already said in a former paper of their years of privation and of success, but will hasten on to greet later comers as the years slowly roll by, for come they did, these stern Scotch Presbyterians from Londonderry, N. H., and elsewhere, in time filling up the valleys and settling down upon the hills, till the primeval forests began to tremble for their existence, as the swift stroke of the woodman felled the old-time monarchs. It was a slow and grievous warfare which our pioneers waged against nature here on our rugged hills, but they conquered a home at last. Log houses were built at first, which served their purpose for a time, until the saw mill at Forest Lake, then known as Pattaquattuck Pond, began to furnish boards for enclosing and for ceilings and doors. These homes no doubt seemed cozy then, bare and bereft of all that we now deem necessary for comfort. The pioneers of Palmer were men of small means, and here they met with many discouragements, burdened as they were with taxes and other adverse circumstances. There were no rich men among them. It is stated that in 1776 there were but 727 inhabitants, and in 1790 the total valuation of the town was only $5,134.82. How they managed to live, clear their farms, raise large families, pay their taxes, etc., is a mystery to us; but they were satisfied with few or no luxuries, and the clothing was all homespun for many years. The women continued to fabricate enough linen for home use, and send some to the river towns for sale; in time these linens of Palmer became noted and had a ready sale far and near. Those times meant work for all; there was no place for dudes or drones. Nearly everything the people used was produced at home or within the town. There were in Palmer a century ago tanneries for dressing leather, when it required a year for preparing a hide for use, wheelwrights, coopers, shoemakers, carders of wool, makers of rude woolen cloth on a small scale, locksmiths, and makers of other articles needed for home use. They were all rude, but they supplied the wants of the people of those days, for they were obliged by their poverty to live largely within themselves. The flax from the field and the wool from the backs of the few sheep furnished the good housewife with the crude material from which were spun and wove the clothes worn by the household. Spinning and weaving was then considered a necessary accomplishment of every young woman, so that it was the boast of the blushing maiden that she had spun so many knots of yarn or linen in a week, when her bashful beau chanced to call, instead of how many lessons on the piano the young lady of to-day speaks of having taken. The conditions of their environment deprived them of the opportunity of courting the graces of culture, but it developed traits of industry and strength of character which have not been lost on posterity.

There was also another industry in town, namely, the "Still", as it was called then, which turned out spirits made from cider and grain also. We do not learn that our people ever became excessively addicted to the use of intoxicating drinks, although every household had a supply with which to treat the caller; even the minister must be asked to take some of the warming beverage in winter, and cooling drink in summer, and he did not refuse. This state of things continued till less than 75 years ago, when a healthier sentiment was inaugurated by the Washingtonian movement. It is said that one of our Palmer men having "stilled" a hogshead of whisky started with it on an ox sled for Boston one winter to exchange it for needed goods, but he had not gone far when by some means the precious load was overturned and the spirits spilled. It is whispered that if one has a delicate sense of smell that the odor of that lost whisky can still be detected when the weather is favorable.

For more than fifty years after the settlement of our town there was no resident physician. The method of treating those who were ill was of the most primitive character. Every household gathered a fresh supply of native herbs each season, such as pennyroyal, thoroughwort, catmint, Indian turnip, goldthread, and many others easily obtained; with these remedies they managed to get along with ordinary cases with home nursing; if the case required more skill, there was always one more experienced than others whose services would be called in. It was only in extreme cases that the distant out-of-town physician was sent for, and even his materia medica was primitive and meagre enough. Calomel, aloes, rhubarb and opium comprised about all he had; with these few essentials, and the inevitable lancet, he essayed to treat all cases which came under his care, so that it is no wonder so many in those days joined the great majority.

The church was an early institution in town. No sooner had the scattered log houses arisen amid the clearings than the sturdy Scotch settlers began to cast about for the means to erect a meeting house for Sunday worship. A building for that purpose, 30 by 36, was erected in 1735, after the site had been determined by the casting of the lot by the minister. There in that severely plain structure the people of Palmer worshiped for 65 years. There was a sort of gallery even in this small house where the choir sat and where the younger portion of the audience gathered, but it required several sedate men, gray haired and stern, to sit there also, to preserve the proprieties of the occasion, even on Sunday, for youthful human nature was pretty much the same then as now. This little meeting house was for many years the nucleus around which revolved the interests, both civil and religious, of the entire town; for there each Sunday nearly all the families were represented, and no doubt the service was enjoyed with a zest unknown to later days. Before and after service, mutual thoughts were exchanged, and any one who had news from the outer world was listened to with an interest of which we have little conception in these days of daily papers and the telegraph.

The observance of Sunday was then most strict. The Sabbath commenced at sundown Saturday and ended at the same time on Sunday. The children were not allowed to enjoy any semblence of play, and if they transgressed in the least they were forthwith brought in and placed in one corner of the great fire place, where they had to sit like sphinxes, silent and dumb, for a specified time as a punishment. No traveling was allowed on the Sabbath excepting to and from church, unless it was of utmost importance. Sometimes those appointed to enforce the law exceeded the letter of their instructions, as for instance, when the Rev. Moses Baldwin started on Sunday to preach in Ware he was stopped by the inflated Sunday officer and sternly commanded not to proceed farther; when it was explained to him that it was for preaching he was abroad, the officer said "I don't care, it is Sabbath day and no traveling is allowed on the Sabbath day." But the reverend was bent on going to fill his appointment, and proceeded to the disgust of the baffled officer. There were no carriages in those days, and if there had been they could not have been used, for the roads were just passable for saddle horses in summer and ox sleds in winter. Riding on horseback was the chief method of locomotion for church going people, and having no other means for traveling they were doubtless content with that.

The early church of Palmer was not always happy in its selection of ministers, so some of them did not long remain. At last Rev. Moses Baldwin was settled, who for 50 years ministered to the people in an acceptable manner. He had a salary of $250 per annum, which meant that the remainder of his living expenses must be eked out on his farm. It is said that some of the ministers of these days preached more spirited sermons in the afternoon than in the morning, mostly due to the proximity of Thompson's tavern at noontime. But that was in the last century, and we must not criticise them too severely, for such indulgences were allowable in those days; so we will drop a tear of regret over their short comings.

THE TOWN MEETING

was also an institution of much importance, when matters of church and state were stoutly discussed and settled. Sometimes these meetings were not altogether harmonious, for we find many matters were "passed in the negative," as the records express it. Another striking feature was the frequent adjournment for 15 minutes to Thompson's tavern. Possibly his hot flip was needed in the cold winter sessions to give spirit to the settling of knotty questions of the day. Those incidents passed unchallenged then. Yet these same men who indulged in Landlord Thompson's mixtures looked sharply after the expenses of the town, allowing no needless outlay.

THE SCHOOL HOUSE

was slower in coming than the church, for the people in their poverty could not for a time meet the expense, so the children were instructed at home, or found it at the homes of neighbors. But the log school houses came at last, located in the four quarters of the town, with one teacher for all, teaching in rotation, the younger children attending in summer and the older boys and girls in winter—young men and women we should call them now, for they were often of the age of 20 years. They were taught only the ruder elements of knowledge, limited to reading, spelling, writing and ciphering. Grammar and geography came years later. The teacher of those days was always of the male persuasion, and it required no small tack on his part to manage his school, and it sometimes happened that the teacher who had incurred the ill will of any considerable number of his pupils would find himself suddenly outside of the schoolhouse, with an enforced warning not to return; but these were the exceptions, not the rule. It is whispered between the lines of the accounts of those times that the larger boys and girls learned some things not in the spelling book, namely the old, old story of matchmaking, and so the old time years went slowly by. The first comers grew old, and the boys and girls who had no place to court at home, but got acquainted at school and on the way home from church, took the places of the elders.

THE PASTIMES

of our pioneer community were of a nature consistent with their circumstances. For years the only recreations of the young men were the bees at log rolling, in the literal sense, when huge piles of logs were rolled together to be burned, in order to more quickly clear the land, followed by the husking bees in autumn, when the lads and maidens came together for an evening's frolic; also apple pearing bees, when doughnuts and cider were freely passed about for refreshment. The habits and amusements of the people were of the simplest kind, and limited in variety by stern necessity. In later years, when the houses of logs had given place to those of larger proportions, the roomy kitchen, with its huge and cheerful fire place, afforded an inviting place for the young people to congregate and enjoy the old-time games then in vogue. It is stated on good authority that a party of young people while on their way to one of these home gatherings, came to the river near where Hastings bridge is now located, when it became a vexing question how to get the young ladies across the stream. Finally it was decided that each gallant should take his lady upon his back and wade the stream, and all reached the other side in safety save one unlucky wight, who slipped in mid stream and precipitated himself and dulcinea in the yielding tide. It is said that he was never forgiven by his sweetheart, who transferred her preference to some more favored one.

The sociability of our people a century ago was even more hearty then now. After comfortable homes had been established and passable roads constructed, many a party was made up in the afternoon of a pleasant winter day, when perchance several ox sled loads of neighbors would call at some farm house and spend the remainder of the day and evening, a visit which all enjoyed most heartily. Then it was that the huge spare rib was roasted before the open fire place, constantly turned on the suspended hook by some younger member of the family, while in the large kettle hung on the crane were cooked an ample quantity of vegetables. When these were done to perfection and placed on the long table, forth from the stone oven would be brought the mince and pumpkin pies, brown bread and Indian pudding baked to a nicety, and as a relish some apple sauce or plum preserves would be added, until the table groaned under its freight of good things to which all did ample justice, the children keeping as quiet in the corner as circumstances would allow till the repast of their elders was over, when it would be their turn to discuss the remainder of the feast. Then after supper would come story-telling, in which witches, fights with Indians and kindred topics would find abundant illustration, much to the terror of the younger portion of the household, who with frightened looks would seek their sleeping rooms when commanded at the latest possible moment, With hearty good byes and earnest invitations all around for a return of the visit, the evening would end. So the winter would pass while all had visited or had a visit. Who shall say that there was not enjoyment for all in these homely old times, even if there was less of culture than now, but more of genuine sympathy and neighborly feeling than sometimes exist at present.

THE SUPERSTITIONS

of the age retained a foothold in Palmer as elsewhere. The belief in witchcraft, haunted houses and kindred matters was indulged in by nearly all who discussed these subjects as an established fact which admitted of no doubt. But to the credit of our former townsmen there never was any resort to violence to rid the town of these suspected of being in league with the evil one. In order to more fully illustrate this point in our sketch, we will introduce a few special cases of

PALMER WITCH STORIES.

Noah Thompson married in 1763 and settled on a part of the farm now owned by Deacon Foster. It is related that one of the neighbors was plowing one day when the chain became mysteriously detached from the plow several times in succession. As a last resort he gave the chain a severe pounding with a club, after which he had no further trouble. The next day he met Mrs. Thompson, who walked like a cripple. She said she felt as though she had been pounded nearly to death. The honest farmer forthwith jumped at the conclusion that she was a witch and had received her lameness from the pounding which he gave the chain.

The wife of Moses McDowell, who resided in the north part of the town, was thought to be a witch from the following circumstances: A Mrs. Shaw, one of her neighbors, had trouble one day with her cheese press; the weights which held down the press continually fell off, do what she would to retain them in position; at last in sheer desperation she tossed the half pressed cheese into the fire of the old fireplace. The next day she chanced to meet Mrs. McDowell, who said she had not slept a wink all night for she felt as though she had been toasted in the fire. This was enough, and long after the poor women bore the awful name.

Humphrey Gardner, who settled in town about 1733, on the farm now known as the Elbridge Hastings place, claimed to be so troubled with witches that he could not endure it, so he sold out and removed to Brimfield, where it is hoped he lived in peace.

The wife of Noah Shaw, who married in 1786, also had the reputation of being a witch. She gained that notoriety on the following account: One day Mr. Shaw's oxen were unable to draw a load of rye into the barn. After several vain attempts to accomplish the object Mrs. Shaw came out and said if they would allow her to lift at the wheel she knew the load would start, and sure enough it did with her assistance, so her successful effort was attributed to the strength received from the powers of darkness. These few incidents illustrate the fact that the old-world superstition still retained a place in the thoughts of the people at the time of which we write. We are left to rejoice that there were no tragedies connected with these uncanny beliefs.

Turning from the subject of witches, we will pause to narrate an amusing incident which happened in old Palmer days. Benjamin Thompson, who was married in 1764 and resided on Thompson hill, corrected one of his boys one day. The lad did not relish the punishment, so he harbored the thought of revenge. One morning, while his father was at prayer near the trap door which led down cellar, the bell weather of the flock, which had a great propensity for butting on the least provocation, chanced to pass by an open door; the angered boy saw his opportunity, and pointing his finger at his father the sheep sprang for him and knocked him into the depths of the cellar in a twinkling, when the facetious boy called out, "Say dad, hadn't you better bring up a mug of cider seeing you are down cellar?" It is not reasonable to suppose that the parent complied with the request.

In this hasty sketch we have endeavored to picture Palmer as it existed in the last century, although much more might be said if space permitted. But enough has been said to show that life was then a serious thing to all,—that they were an earnest, industrious, frugal people. They lived and delved when life was no pastime, and succeeded in their undertaking, and success is the measure of any people. The founders of Palmer were made of material of which the hero is composed. They had come out into the wilderness to be free men, and when it seemed that the shackles of oppression were to be forged anew they were among the first in New England to boldly assert their rights in a declaration of independence second only in spirit to that immortal document which created a nation. All through the Revolutionary period our people contributed their full share of men and means to carry on the war. With all the drawbacks which surrounded them, they succeeded, and they deserved what they obtained. But who shall say that the founders of Palmer, deprived as they were of much of what we to-day enjoy, did not have their compensations. They enjoyed their extending clearings and growing crops, their increasing herds and slow growing evidences of prosperity. Possibly these were all the compensations they required to be content. It is not always they who live most, who enjoy most the material things of earth, for as the poet has well said,

"We live in deeds, not years, in thoughts, not breaths;
In feelings, not figures on a dial,
We should count time by heart throbs, he lives most,
Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best."

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 24, 1895.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Root beer extracts, 17 cents, at Smith's.

Go to M. J. Sullivan's musicale and dance at Thorndike, May 29th.

PALMER NEWS.

C. L. Alexander has moved with his family to Vermont.

P. E. Bard and son have returned from a visit to Adams.

O. E. Crawford, a former resident, was in town this week.

W. R. Milligan has taken out an auctioneer's license.

A. E. Park of Brattleboro, Vt., made a flying visit to town this week.

Mr. Tefft of Westfield will preach in the Park street chapel next Sunday.

Miss Ola Northrop will give a reading in St. Paul's church in Springfield this evening.

Miss Mabel Smith has so far recovered from her recent illness as to be able to be out.

The medicine men, who have been holding forth on the Converse lot off Park street, have left town.

Thursday, Mary Fitzgerald was adjudged insane and committed to the asylum at Northampton.

Mrs. Joseph Provost has removed from Holden's block to her father's house on South Main street.

John Priest has leased the Freeman Hatch house on Pleasant street, and will occupy it with his family at once.

The junior class of Wesleyan Academy passed through this village Monday, on their class ride to Forest Lake.

Mrs. M. W. Hellyar and Mrs. Jennie E. Hellyar of Warren have been guests of Mr. and Mrs S. H. Hellyar this week.

Mrs. A. E. Barlow and daughter of Worcester are visiting Mrs. Barlow's mother, Mrs. S. C. Hunt, on Pine street.

A convention of the Congregational Sunday schools in this section is being held in the Congregational church to-day.

Murphy Bros. have closed their bicycle repair shop in this village, and gone to Chicopee Falls to accept more lucrative positions.

Yesterday being Ascension day, or Holy Thursday, masses were celebrated in St. Thomas' Catholic church at 5:30 and 8 a. m.

A party of Palmer people attended the dance in Lane's grove, North Wilbraham, last evening, making the trip in Allen's bus.

The ladies of the Baptist church will serve a baked bean supper in the vestry of the church next Tuesday evening at 6:30. Supper 10 cents.

The banks, schools, mills and JOURNAL office will close all day Thursday, in commemoration of Memorial Day. The stores will close at noon.

The annual report of the Mass. State Board of Agriculture has been received by O. P. Allen, of whom copies may be obtained by those who desire them.

The Palmer National Bank will close at noon Saturday, on and after June 1st, in compliance with the new state law, which goes into effect at that time.

Mrs. F. N. Aiken and daughter Mattie of New Haven, Ct., are visiting the family of W. A. Barnes on Pleasant street. Mr. Aiken is expected to spend the Sabbath.

J. J. Conway, who has for some time past been agent for a laundry in Amherst, has given it up and taken the agency for the Ware co-operative steam laundry.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will preach in the Universalist church Sunday morning on the theme—"The Bible's Message about Morality, or Can a Moral Man Go to Heaven?"

The Central Massachusetts Electric Co. has increased the depth of its pond two feet. The company intends to prevent a repetition of last season's trouble from low water.

Miss Tillie Lacouline, telegraph operator in the New London railroad office at the union station, is away on her vacation, and Miss B. A. Fiske is taking her place during her absence.

The body of Nellie, the 15-year-old daughter of Marshall Lanson of West Gardner, formerly of Thorndike, was buried in the cemetery at the latter place yesterday forenoon.

The Palmer bicycle club has issued entry blanks for its road race, to be run a week from next Thursday. The prizes have not yet been decided upon, but it is understood the first prize will be well worth striving for.

Parents' day will be observed in the schools of the town next Wednesday, memorial exercises being held in the afternoon. A cordial invitation is extended to the parents and friends of the scholars to attend these exercises.

C. W. Johnson has purchased of G. W. Ely, agent, the well-known stallion "Independence Day." Mr. Johnson has a colt, born last Sunday, by Dexter chimes, dam Guess by Independence Day, which is particularly bright.

John Foley, who has been for some time employed on the section on the Boston and Albany railroad, has given up his position and taken one as section boss on the Boston and Maine. He will be located in New Hampshire.

Those who have occasion to journey between the carpet mill and the village are justly indignant because the loose stones have been raked on to the path on the side of the road, thereby making the walking anything but pleasant.

The governor's train on the Boston and Albany road has been changed, and now now Palmer at 10 a. m. The run from Palmer to Boston will be made in two hours, the quickest run ever made over this section of the road.

A number of concrete walks have been built in the village this week, none of which is a greater improvement than that which runs from St. Thomas' church to Pine street. The walk was built by St. Thomas' parish and J. H. Woolrich.

The occupants of Holden's block have made arrangements for watering the street in front of that building. A meter and hose have been purchased, and the tenants will do their own sprinkling. It is thought that others will follow suit where possible.

John Carlin, in sprinkling the street in front of the Converse House this morning, accidentally frightened a horse belonging to Henry Graves, which was hitched in front of the hotel. The horse broke the tie line, but was stopped before he could get away.

Changes have been made in the Converse House office this week which have brightened it up greatly. The walls have been papered, and the office has been re-wired for electric lights. The wood work is to be varnished, and the room newly furnished.

Rev. Mr. McDonald will finish his work at the Baptist church next Sunday, and will be greatly missed by the members of the congregation, to whom he has made himself dear. Rev. Mr. Minard will not commence his pastorate until the first of July, but the pulpit will be supplied during the month of June.

Overlook Farm, west of the village, recently occupied by G. W. Ely and owned by A. W. Lincoln of Warren, has been purchased by Rev. R. W. Graham of Washington, D. C. The sale was made through the agency of Geo. W. Doane & Co. of Springfield, who have a branch office in this village.

The Masons had a very pleasant meeting Wednesday afternoon and evening, delegates being present from Belchertown, Warren, Ware and Monson. In the afternoon Thomas lodge of Palmer exemplified the work of the second degree, and Eden lodge of Ware lectured on the first degree. In the evening Quaboag lodge of Warren exemplified the work of the third degree

The supplementary auditor's report regarding the damages arising from the change of grade at the Blanchard, Tenney and Breckridge crossings in this town has been filed. The total damage amounted to $6570, and Palmer should receive from the Boston and Albany road $4271; from the commonwealth $2300; Palmer owes the commonwealth, $657. D. J. Marsh of Springfield was the auditor.

R. B. Francis met with a peculiar accident Sunday morning. He was driving from Monson to Palmer, and on the road met a cow. He supposed the animal would turn out, and therefore did not do so himself. The cow, however, continued serenely on her way, and she and the horse collided. Both were thrown off their feet, and one of the shafts of the carriage was broken. Neither the cow nor the horse were seriously injured and Mr. Francis was not much hurt.

The ladies of the Relief Corps will be at Memorial Hall, Tuesday afternoon, arranging the evergreens for the decoration of the graves of the soldiers, and contributions of flowers will be gratefully received any time Wednesday, as some of the members will be there all day to receive them. Owing to the backwardness of the season, and as a natural consequence the scarcity of flowers, it is hoped the people will make an extra effort to give the corps a generous supply, so that there may be a sufficient quantity to decorate all the graves.

A rumor was circulated Tuesday morning that a suicide had been found hanging in a tree near the railroad in the vicinity of Barrett's Junction. The tale was started by a woman passenger on the south bound train on the New London railroad Monday evening, who claimed to have seen the man as the train passed. Quite an interest was aroused, and a party was sent out from the Junction to look for the body. None could be found, but a scare-crow, in imitation of a man, was found hanging in a tree, and it is supposed that this is what the woman saw.

The first number of a series of articles by O. P. Allen on the supplementary history of the town of Palmer will be found on the first page. Mr. Allen would be grateful for any information on the subject which has not yet been published, and any items from our oldest citizens concerning the schools and the teachers of former days will be especially acceptable to him; also matters connected with the oldest houses now in town. These articles will be found to be very interesting reading, and will contain much information not contained in the recently published history of the town.

The programme arranged by the Grand Army post for the observance of Memorial Day will be carried out as given in last week's JOURNAL. The quartette secured to render the vocal music is as follows: Tenors, E. B. Taylor, W. A. Weld; basses, F. O. Royce, C. F. Orcutt. Preceding the address of Col. Chamberlain in the post rooms in the afternoon, recitations appropriate to the day will be given by some of the young people of the town. Members of post and Relief corps will leave the post rooms at 6 o'clock next Sunday evening to attend the memorial services at Three Rivers.

Mrs. Elizabeth Squiers, George Darling and Lewis W. Kibbe came before the court Saturday to receive sentence for an assault. Mrs. Squiers was discharged, and the young men paid $5 each. John Russell came up Tuesday for drunkenness and was fined $10; Richard Mulstay was fined $3, and Charles Ryan was sent to the house of correction for one month. These civil entries were made Saturday: Wesley A. Squier, et al, against Reuben Wing; Mary A. Lane against F. E. Fisk; Martin Crossman against Jesse L. Austin. John Russell came before the court this morning for drunkenness, and was sent to the house of correction for 3 months.

Thomas Lyons of North Wilbraham, about 50, made a determined attempt at suicide yesterday and may die. Lyons worked in the paper mill, and has recently been working nights. He left his house to work in his garden yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, and about an hour later his wife called him. Receiving no reply she went to the garden and found her husband lying under a tree. By his side was a razor, and it was evident that Lyons had attempted to take his own life. Mrs. Lyons called for help, and Drs. Webber and Damon at once responded. Lyons condition was found to be very critical, and it is feared he will not recover. His family consists of his wife and one daughter.

A young woman employed as a domestic in a Palmer family met with some difficulty a few nights ago in getting into the house. She persevered, however, and met with success after a long struggle. The young woman had been told that if she was not in the house nigh's by a certain hour she would be locked out. On the night in question she had over-stayed her time, and on going home found it impossible to get any of the family to open the door. She finally crawled in through a cellar window, but found the door connecting the cellar with the house locked. Returning to the yard, she secured a trellis, which she placed on a box, and used as a ladder. In this way she reached the window of her room, and managed to draw herself up and enter the house.

James Conley, a 15-year-old boy living below Blanchardville on the Palmer Town road, met with a peculiar and serious accident Monday night. He had been fishing Monday, and wishing to give a friend near Palmer Town a string of trout, started in the evening to do so. He was returning about 10 o'clock, and when near the Wellman farm was chased by a dog. The boy ran, and stumbled and fell, breaking his thigh. His cries met with no response, and he commenced dragging himself toward the Studley farm, about half a mile away. He accomplished his journey in about two hours, getting near enough to the house to make himself heard about midnight. Mr. Studley's hired man took the boy to his house and summoned Dr. Wilkins, who attended him. The doctor reports the boy as quite comfortable, and says his injury will not result in permanent lameness.

These articles from the late Dr. W. H. Stowe's collection have been presented to the Young Men's library through Mrs. F. N Carpenter: Record of the first church in Palmer; account book of Marble K. Ferrell; a nearly complete list of Palmer town reports; a nearly complete list of Eastern Hampden agricultural reports; Palmer illustrated; Wilson's historical address, with portraits of those who participated in the celebration; battlefields of the revolution; the Captain Kidd books; sermon on death of W. C. Child of Palmer; first manual of the First Congregational church in Palmer; first manual of the Second Congregational church in Palmer; picture of the old Frink tavern; Palmer's first tax under the state government; New Year's address to the citizens of Palmer, 1858, framed; scrap book of references to the library; scrap book of Palmer history; collection of old papers relating to the town.

Editor Journal:—It is quite probable that a special town meeting will soon be called to see if the town will vote to rescind the vote taken at the annual meeting whereby the selectmen were instructed to buy land for an addition to the cemetery in this village. There is a feeling that the town acted hastily and unwisely in the matter and that it would be a move ever to be regretted if carried out. It is looked upon as unfortunate that the cemetery is located on one of the principal resident streets of the village, but it does not necessarily follow that it should be extended to Thorndike. It is concluded that a cemetery is a damage to surrounding property, and the voters of the town can little afford to antagonize the public spirited citizens who will be affected if the present plan is carried out. A more serious matter has not come up for consideration for years, and it should be disposed of in a most thoughtful manner. A prominent town official gives it as his opinion that by abolishing a number of driveways in the cemetery no enlargement would be necessary for a number of years, the driveways running parallel with Thorndike street alone containing land enough for twenty-five lots of good size. It is also said that the land proposed as an addition is not suited for cemetery use, being too wet. Let there be a general waking up in the matter, and if no enlargement of the cemetery is needed let us as a town hold up for a while and when it does become necessary, buy a tract of land in a suitable spot sufficient in size for all time. CITIZEN.

Base Ball.

The Ware and Warren base ball nines have withdrawn from the Central Massachusetts league, and nines in Wilbraham and West Brookfield will be invited to take their places.

The Palmers and Bondsvilles will meet for their first championship game on the driving park to-morrow afternoon, and both teams being in good condition a good game may be expected. Larkin and Dart will be Palmer's battery, and it is presumed the visiting team will be strong in these points. The price of admission has been raised to 25 cents, ladies being admitted free, as usual.

PALMER, 13. THORNDIKE, 8.

The first of the base ball games in the Central Massachusetts league were played Saturday in Palmer and Ware. Palmer played the Thorndikes, and in spite of the number of young players on the home team it found an easy victory. Thorndike kept up its reputation for kicking, but not altogether without cause, as some of the decisions of the umpire were decidedly rank. It was evident, however, that the umpire was honest in his decisions, as our nine was not favored more than the other. Nelson of the Palmers played a particularly good game, and Dart made a record for throwing to second seldom surpassed. The pitcher also did good work for so young a man, and his work promises well for the future. The score:—

PALMER.	R	B	PO	A	E	TH'NDIKE.	R	B	PO	A	E
Roche, 2b,	1	1	8	1	0	Stibley, 3b,	0	2	2	1	3
Rooney, rf,	1	0	0	1	0	Gay, cf,	2	1	0	0	0
Doyle, 1b,	1	1	2	0	1	Chapman, ss,	1	2	0	0	1
Nelson, 3b,	2	2	3	1	1	Kelliher, 1b,	1	2	3	1	3
Murphy, ss,	4	3	1	1	2	Shugrue, p,	1	1	3	11	0
Larkin, p,	2	1	0	14	0	Longtine, c,	1	0	12	1	0
Gaffney, lf,	0	0	0	1	0	Murdock, 2b,	0	0	2	2	1
Taylor, cf,	1	2	1	1	1	Roche, lf,	0	1	2	1	1
Dart, c,	1	1	12	3	1	Bordoro, rf,	2	2	0	0	0
Total,	13	11	27	23	6	Total,	8	11	24	17	9

Palmer, 0 2 5 0 1 5 0 0 —13
Thorndike, 0 0 2 0 1 0 0 5 — 8

Times at bat, Palmer, 38. Thorndike, 37. Earned runs, Palmer 2, Thorndike 3. Total bases, Palmer 15, Thorndike 16. Sacrifice hits, Doyle, Dart. Stolen bases, Stibley 2, Chapman 2, Longtine 2, Murdock, Nelson 2, Murphy 2, Taylor. Two base hits, Shugrue 1, Bordoro 1, Murphy 1. Taylor 1. Home run, Chapman. First base on balls, Gay 2, Longtine 1, Nelson 2, Murphy 1, Gaffney 1. First base on errors, Thorndike 4, Palmer 6. Left on bases, Thorndike 6, Palmer 5. Struck out, Stibley 2, Gay 1, Chapman 1, Murdock 2, Shugrue 1, Roche 3, Bordoro 1, Doyle 2, Larkin 1, Gaffney 2, Taylor 1, Dart 1. Batter hit, Gaffney, Rooney. Double play, Taylor and Roche. Passed balls, Dart 2, Longtime 1. Wild pitch, Shugrue. Time, 1h 50m. Umpire, Robert Armour.

State Primary School Notes.

Rev. L. J. Hall spoke to the children last Sunday.

The present number at the school is about fifty-five.

Miss May P. Royce is spending a few days' vacation with friends in Brimfield.

Miss Mabel G. Moore has resigned her position as assistant matron, and leaves Monday for her home.

Mrs. Mary A. Royce returned Wednesday, after spending a few days with friends in Brimfield and Wales.

Miss Maggie Bunkell, head nurse at the hospital, has resigned her position, and left yesterday for Springfield.

THORNDIKE.

Miss Agnes McFarlane is home from New York.

Miss Nellie Riley is visiting friends in Worcester for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. James Flynn of Hartford, Ct., were in town Sunday.

William Gerald returned on Saturday from his two-weeks' vacation.

Work on the foundation for the new engine house at No. 2 mill has commenced.

Everet Kendall has recovered so far from his illness as to be able to be out occasionally.

John Bainko was injured one day this week by falling down stairs and hurting his shoulder badly.

H. M. Dean, formerly of this place, now of Webster, paid a short visit to friends in town during the week.

Matthew McKenzie caught his hand in the machinery in the dye house a few days ago and is now off duty.

Rev. N. Vander Pyl of North Wilbraham will preach in the Congregational church next Sunday morning.

John, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hayden, who died the past week, was buried Sunday afternoon.

A. B. C. Deming, formerly paymaster here in the mills, has been appointed assistant bookkeeper in the state treasurer's office.

The Ladies' Benevolent society of the Congregational church were entertained by Mrs. Charles Page Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Stewart, mother of Mrs. F. Johnson, who has been in town for several weeks, returned to her home in Saco, Me., on Thursday.

Another case of scarlet fever is reported in the family of Henry Descoteau, whose little six-year-old daughter is ill with the disease.

Indications point toward a crowded house for the musicale to be given here next Wednesday evening at Union Hall, by the pupils of M. J. Sullivan.

Miss Nellie Linson of West Gardner, formerly of this village, died at the former place on Tuesday. Her remains were brought here on the 10 a. m. train Thursday for burial.

John F. Moynihan has removed his blacksmith business to John Keefe's shop on the Bondsville road, opposite the old Packard place, where he will be pleased to see his customers.

The Thorndikes were defeated at Palmer on Saturday last. They will play the Gilbertvilles here to-morrow. This being the first game on the home grounds, a large number should turn out and give the boys a good send-off.

Prof. M. J. Sullivan's Musicale.

The following programme will be given next Wednesday evening in Union Hall by the pupils of M. J. Sullivan:

"Who Knows What the Bells Say?".....Smith
Cecelia Quartette.

Piano Solo. "Gondelied".....Oesten
Miss Elizabeth O'Connor.

Song. "Afterwards".....Mullen
Miss Jennie Twiss.

Piano Solo. "Faust Fantasia".....Gounod
Miss Bridget Collins.

Song. "Answer".....Rolyn
Mr. T. I. Kennedy.

Piano Solo. "Selections from Aida".....Verdi
Miss Fannie Travers.

Song. "Night Birds Cooing".....Kolling
Miss Jennie Barbeau.

Song. "The Ship I Love".....Glous
Mr. E. M. Sullivan.

Piano Solo. "The Lyon's Hunt".....Kolling
Miss May Sullivan

Alto Solo. "Only the Sound of a Voice"..Watson
Miss K. G. Wilson.

Vocal Duet. "When the Wind Blows in from the Sea".....
Misses May and Agnes Sullivan.

Piano Duet. "Overture to Martha".....Flowton
Misses May and Agnes Sullivan.

Piano Solo. "Fantasia on Irish Airs".....Kobe
Miss May Sullivan.

Cecelia Quartette. "Trust Her Not".....
Soprano, Miss May F. Sullivan; alto, Miss Agnes M. Sullivan; tenor, Mr. J. J. Kennedy; bass, Mr. E. M. Sullivan.

The entertainment will be followed by dancing from 10 till 3.

BONDSVILLE.

Go to M. J. Sullivan's musicale and dance at Thornnike, May 29th.

The W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. Richard Russell Thursday.

Lewis Holden moved his family into his new house this week.

Edward Landers has taken a position in Springfield, and has moved his family there.

Mrs. O. A. Parent was the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. O. Walker, of West Warren last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Green were called to Greenwich last Sunday to attend the funeral of Mr. Green's uncle.

Mrs. C. W. Carroll and Frankie Carroll visited Mrs. Carroll's brother, Vincent O'Regan, in Ware this week.

Miss Alice Sedgwick, who has been housekeeper for her brother, Butler Sedgwick, has gone to live with her sister, Mrs. Green.

Two new cases of scarlet fever are reported in town. One in the family of Thomas Carmody and the other in that of Thomas Waterhouse.

THREE RIVERS.

Go to M. J. Sullivan's musicale and dance at Thorndike, May 29th.

Philo Talbert has accepted a position in Ware.

Nathan Johnsen is the owner of a new wheel.

Nectaire Gravel is building an addition to his house.

Leon Henrichon is beautifying his house with a new coat of paint.

Steve Gauthier is having a cellar dug on his lot on Pleasant street.

Mr. Rogers is building a large piazza on the east end of his block.

Mrs. R. W. Vantassel has gone on a six-weeks' visit in New York.

George LeFere's family is the last reported on the scarlet fever list.

Miss Alice Sikes of Springfield was at her home here a few days this week.

R. W. Vantassel attended the funeral of his mother in New York last week.

The family of Mark LeFortune, who lives near O. P. Sikes, have the scarlet fever.

Arthur Parsons of Springfield was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shaw Sunday.

John Wilson has embellished his premises by leveling the walk in front of his stores.

Mrs. Samuel Murray and daughter of Greenville, N. H., visited friends here this week.

The Otis Company will build an addition to the residence of Dr. Bliss to be used as an office.

Several East Main street people are complaining about the scarcity of water in their district.

Twenty-six members of the Three Rivers Bicycle Club took a spin to Palmer last Saturday evening.

John Wilson has commenced building a large tenement house on his lot near Mrs. Hartnett's place.

On account of a severe sore throat, William Campbell has not been able to attend to his duties this week.

Mrs. L. G. Renand and children have left for Wardsboro, Vt., where they are to spend a few weeks with relatives.

J. H. Blades has resigned his position as second-hand in the weaving room in the mill and will soon go to Vermont.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Grise's many friends mourn with them the loss of their little daughter, Eva, who died of scarlet fever Monday.

Ernest Thayer and James Thorp, of the Whitin Manufacturing Works, finished their work on the cards in the Palmer mill Wednesday.

One of the most important services to humanity in this fever-stricken village was the laying of some sewer pipe on the Palmer road last week.

W. Cheney purchased a pair of handsome bay horses last week, and when they are harnessed to his carriage he will surely have quite a turnout.

Zena, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ven, is seriously ill with a spinal trouble, and the chances of her recovery are doubtful.

In accordance with the times, C. Consigny has partitioned off a place in his harness shop, where he will in the future tend to men's wornout soles.

Many of the farmers who live on Lamarine's hill were glad to see this week that new guards have been put up along a very dangerous part of the road.

This has been a great week] for smashups. Monday night one gentleman's wheel had to be sent for a long vacation in the repair shop, and Tuesday two were simply annihilated.

Samuel Murray, who for a few years has been working for James O'Grady of Springfield, has resigned his position there and accepted one in the beaming department of the Palmer mill.

Daniel Horrigan's sportsmen friends lament with him the death of his famous rabbit dog. Mr. Horrigan thinks that his dog was poisoned by some one, as she was in excellent spirits to within a few minutes of her death.

It is rumored that two of our new bicyclists, F. L. White and W. Provost, are to have a trial of speed Memorial day. As the riders are equally matched, and as they have both gone into training, much interest will be taken in the race.

The members of the A. O. U. W. are to give a strawberry festival in their rooms over the mill office next Tuesday night. After supper there will be an entertainment and a social time, and the families of the members have been invited.

At the semi-annual business meeting of the Christian Endeavor society for the election of officers Tuesday night the following were elected: President, Thomas A. McWhorter; vice president, J. H. Trickett; corresponding secretary, A. S. Geer; recording secretary, W. Squiers; treasurer, Miss Grace Holt.

Rev. E. E. Weeks will preach the annual memorial sermon to L. L. Merrick post, G. A. R., in the Baptist church Sunday evening, services to begin at 6:30 o'clock. Great effort will be made to make the service very interesting and profitable. The church will be decorated especially for the occasion. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Although it is rather late, our base ball enthusiasts and our well known veteran players have arrived at the conclusion that we need a nine this year. Several good players have already been secured, and as there are many more in the village, there is no reason why Three Rivers cannot keep up the reputation that she has made in that line.

The following pupils in the different schools have been perfect in attendance for the month ending May 24th: First primary—Sarah Barber, Lila Barber, Rosanna Fayette, Ludora Camerlin, Leo Fay, Blanche Gauthier, Gertrude Gauthier, Dora Gauthier, Lizzie Hartnett, Virginia Gibouleau, Lizzie Jones, Rachel Shaw, Jerry Barbare, Puymirol Belanger, Howard Collins, Henry Gibouleau, George Horan, Felix Mongeon, Raymond Russell, George Taylor, Ralph Willis, Henry Bytan, Roch Bytan, John Magee, Arthur Bytan, Albert Flarduo. Second primary—Rose Anderson, Maggie Chambers, Mabel Collins, Lillie Fenton, Lila Fish, Vina Freak, Nora Gokey, Delia Grigware, Katie Hartnett, Lillie Hebert, Albina Lussier, Mary Marsalais, Rachael Senecal, Mary Twiss, Belle Twiss, Cornelia Venn, Maud Wilson, Celas Camerlain, Clinton Frame, Joseph Gokey, Thomas Jones, Wilfred Lussier, Dalmer Marien, Glenon Paine, Irving Shaw, William Shorkey, Joseph Sirard, Leon Twogood. Third primary and first intermediate—Enos Hebert, Theodore Masse, William Jones, John O'Connor, Ralph Senecal, Charles Weeks, Charles Tracy, Thimmie Doyle, Maggie Chambers, Cora Ives, Lillie Ives, Belle Herran, Bertha Barton, Sadie Holt. Second intermediate—Mabel Russell, Henry Gauthier, Charles Barber, Eva Dunn, Clidore Bazens. Those perfect in attendance during the first month of the spring term in the grammar school are: Clayton Barnes, Robert Barton, Omer Camerlin, Frank Fleury, Eva Gauthier, May Harrington, Grace Holt, Matilda Magee, Fanny Needham, Eva Pariseau, Nellie Ruggles, Nettie Trickett, Ida White.

LEGISLATIVE MATTERS.

BOSTON, May 22, 1895.

The Senate's action on Thursday in voting for a recess committee to sit during the recess and investigate the condition of affairs in Boston, after the manner of the Lexow committee in New York, was a surprise when it was taken, for the order, offered by Senator Hutchinson of Suffolk, one of the leading politicians in the Senate, has been on the table in the Senate for nearly the whole of the session. The departments to be investigated are the police, street, fire, water and architect's. It is possible that the committee will be useful for a political purpose in furnishing ammunition for the Republicans against the Democrats in the coming state campaign. If it could be shown that the Democrats in Boston have been anywhere near as corrupt as Tammany Hall in New York, of course it would tend further to the discredit of the democracy before the public and they have no prestige to spare as it is.

The House has acted favorably on the Senate bill to make more easy of enforcement the laws against gaming. It broadens the existing provisions, permits the introduction of implements and apparatus of gaming as evidence prima facie, and takes other steps in advance so as to make it much easier to convict them than now. Praise is given to Gen. Martin, chairman of the Boston board of police, and this bill is drawn by ex-Attorney General Pillsbury to meet his wishes. It is believed that with it he can practically drive gambling out of Boston.

The House stands by the Senate bill to prevent false impersonation of voters in Boston, and it will doubtless become a law. This is an outcome of the investigation last year into the frauds in Ward 17, one of the methods in which these frauds were perpetrated being the voting by men on the names of others. Repeated instances were found during the investigation in which voters came to the polls only to find that their names had been voted upon already. This bill requires the names of voters to be arranged in alphabetical order under the precincts, with a blank space opposite the name of every voter. In case a voter is suspected by one of the election officers of claiming to be some man whom he is not, he can be requested to write his name in this blank space. Then he must procure from the registrars of voters his certificate showing that he is entitled to vote. There is thus a means of identifying him. The possibility that his imposture will be detected will act as a check, and it is expected that this precaution will put a stop to this kind of fraud. The bill applies to Boston only. An effort was made to have it apply to other cities, and the reasons which apply in Boston certainly apply in other parts of the state. But the answer was that no other city wanted it, and that the election officers were so well acquainted with the voters in all other cities that this kind of fraud would not be likely to occur,—an answer which probably stretched the truth.

The exciting events just now in legislative circles are the vetoes of the Holyoke and the Woburn police board bills. The latter was sent to the House late Wednesday afternoon and some of its language seems to show that his excellency did not put much confidence in the representations made in favor of the bill at the special hearing which he granted on Tuesday. He says in the veto message: "There is no evidence that the laws are not fairly well enforced or that the affairs of the municipality are not reasonably well administered." He praises the police as being diligent and free from corrupting influences, says the finances have been well administered and believes that the liquor license commission is doing as well as could be expected with a difficult subject. He continues: "The mayor and aldermen with other local authorities merit the trust and confidence of the community in securing a just and equal administration of the law. It does not seem necessary, either for the protection of the right of citizens in person or property, or for the maintenance of the laws, that this enterprising young city should be placed under the special guardianship of the Commonwealth. It is fully able to take care of itself." There is much division in the Legislature over these vetoes and he will suffer, as well as gain, from having felt compelled to write them. It has taken backbone to do it.

The death of Congressman Cogswell has been appropriately recognized by the Legislature already, and there will doubless be resolutions of honor adopted after the funeral. Gov. Greenhalge sent to the House and Senate Wednesday a message informing them of the death of the congressman and suggesting the propriety, since Congress is not in session, of sending a committee of the Legislature to Washington to escort the remains home. This message was acted upon and the committee was appointed, being so constituted as to recognize the district, those who were particularly near to Gen. Cogswell in political affairs, and also the veterans of the army. While this action seems fitting and the only right thing to do, the sense of fitness is blunted by the fact that, while he did not die until Wednesday morning, yet some thoughtful and considerate friends arranged on Monday for this committee. When Gen. Cogswell was in the Legislature he was a recognized power. He was the chairman of the judiciary committee in both House and Senate. He was one of the most forcible speakers in either branch. He threw himself into his arguments with an abandon which went far to give him the majority of the body in his favor. He commanded the respect of both parties, and was elected by not only the full Republican vote of his district when running for Congress, but he had also many hundred Democratic votes. So he always was returned, even in the Democratic years of 1890 and 1892.

The Senate has given Gov. Greenhalge another opportunity for a veto by passing the bill to raise the salary of the insurance commissioner from $3,500 to $5,000. It is remarkable to see what a prodigious influence has been brought to bear for the passage of this bill. It has been stoutly opposed. Committees in the Senate and House have reported against it, but yet the influences behind it have been able to carry it through, in spite of all the opposition. It would seem to be impossible for the governor to sign the bill consistently with the stand that he has taken that the salary bill for small officials shall not be signed. He has said that it is not a good year for raising salaries, yet he signed the bill to raise the pay of Sergeant-at-Arms Adams on the ground that he is a special servant of the Legislature and on a different standing from other officials. It is true, also, that the salary of the the insurance commissioner is paid by the insurance companies and does not come out of the public treasury, but it would not seem as if that would be sufficient difference to enable him to sign the bill.

The Senate has killed, with no mercy and by 4 to 25, the House bill to enable one electric road to use the tracks and motive power of another with which it might be connected. The bill would have been of immense value to small concerns, if it had passed, but the large roads carried their point. LANDON.

BORN.

At Warren, 10th, a son (12½ pounds) to Mr. and Mrs. James Sheridan.

At Ware, 16th, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rushmore.

DIED.

At Warren, 22d, Samuel Edward Blair, 73.

At Wales, Harry Clark, 14, oldest son of E. A. Clark.

TO RENT.—Tenement on Pleasant street. 7-tf G. H. WILKINS, Palmer.

GOOD pasturage for cows. CHAS. B. FISKE, Palmer, Mass.

LOST.—A watch charm. 8-tf Return to OSCAR TRYON, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—100 pigs and shoats. 8-2 STATE PRIMARY SCHOOL.

FOR SALE.—Two thoroughbred Jersey cows, both new milch. 7-2 H. C. NORCROSS, Monson.

FOR SALE.—The store of the late E. G. Murdock in Thorndike, Mass., also dwelling corner of Commercial and High streets, and one on School street in said Thorndike. Must be sold to close estate. C. L. GARDNER, Adm. Jan. 21st, 1895. 43-tf

ALL persons having bills against the State Primary School are requested to present the same before June 15th. 8-2 WALTER A. WHEELER, Supt.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. 4-tf

BECAUSE of my contemplated removal to Springfield, I offer to rent the tenement occupied by me on School street. Also have for sale a good second-hand organ and cook stove, and new oil stoves. 4-tf E. J. WOOD, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—One Beebe speeding cart, has only been used a few times. Also one road cart, one good Phaeton, and one good cook stove. GEORGE P. BELL, M. D., 3-tf Three Rivers, Mass.

COTTAGE AT BLOCK ISLAND TO RENT for the months of July and September, all furnished. Nine rooms, good spring and cistern water, with barn. Apply to ISAAC KENERSON, Engineer Ware River Road, Palmer. 7t5

E. W. French, agent for the New Singer Mfg. Co., has opened an office in Palmer, with headquarters at the Weeks House, and is showing their latest productions for 1895 sewing machines, with three different machines for family use. 52-tf THE SINGER MFG. CO.

MR. J. B. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty. 7-tf SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.

HEADQUARTERS L. L. MERRICK, POST, NO. 10, G. A. R.
GENERAL ORDERS NO. 1.

Since last we stood beside the graves of our departed comrades, a whole division has fallen in life's battle. We who remain must close up the ranks as in the o'd days, and once more decorate our fallen comrades' graves.

Members of the Post, soldiers and sailors, are requested to meet at Memorial Hall, May 30, at 8 o'clock a. m., to form a line of march to the different cemeteries. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend services in Memorial Hall at 2 o'clock p. m.

J. H. DAVIS, Com.
H. H. PAINE, Adjt. (pro tem.) 7-2

Did you know
the law is off on
Trout Monday, April 1st,
and that you can buy

RODS,
LINES,
FLIES,
HOOKS,
REELS,
FLY BOOKS, ETC.,

At right prices
and get a good assortment at the

DRUG STORE OF

LeGRO & LYNDE,

Next to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

DENTISTRY.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PALMER AND VICINITY:

Having thoroughly equipped my new office with the most modern inventions and methods pertaining to dentistry, I am now prepared to meet the demands of the public in all the branches of the art. I have associated with me DR. O. P. ROLLER, a graduate in

DENTAL SURGERY,

who has made a specialty of crown and bridge work, all gold, porcelain, combination crown, etc. Gold, aluminum and artificial dentures of every description. The best of workmanship guaranteed. 2-tf

DR. C. W. CROSS, PALMER, MASS.

A NICE NEW LINE OF

Belt Pins,
Hair Pins,
Shirt waist Sets,
Silver Belt Buckles,
Souvenir Spoons,
Coffee Spoons,
Olive Spoons,
Bon Bon Spoons,
Sugar Spoons,
Orange Spoons, Cream Ladles,

IN SOLID SILVER.

ALSO SILVER NOVELTIES, WITH THE USUAL LINE OF

Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silver Ware, Spectacles and Eyeglasses,

At the Store of G. A. MOORE, The Jeweler,

Holden's Block, Palmer, Mass.

SPRING CLOTHING!

NEW SPRING .:. .:. STYLES, Latest Colorings —AND— Novelties.

Extra large samples to select from. The most complete assortment, the finest, newest and most extensive in novelties and colorings. Fine Clay, English Wagners and Schnable's best makes, Bannockburn Scotch goods in best patterns, fine French in newest makes and colors. Prices $20, 22, 24, 26, 27, 28, 30, 32, 33, 35 to 40. All goods and trimmings the very best ever offered in town for the money, and warranted. Terms Strictly Cash.

D. MULVIHILL, - Eager's Block.

ALLEN'S BEEF, WINE and IRON

Is one of the best spring tonics you can buy. Try it. Pint bottles for only 50 cents.

ALLEN'S CLIMAX COUGH CURE is just the article to have handy when you have a sudden cough these damp days of spring.

ALLEN'S FLORIDENA BALM is the best article ever invented for chapped hands, rough skin and pimples on the face and for burns. It is good for eczema, and will relieve the burning and irritating feeling at once which attends that affliction.

But with all your buying, don't forget to take home for household use THE ANTALGICA. It is good for so many things that you cannot afford to be without it.

Allen's New Drug Store,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

RIDE OR WALK?

You can best afford to ride if you will examine our second-hand BICYCLES from $5.00 upward. Each day brings fresh arrivals. You get them at about your prices.

G. M. Hendee, Springfield, Mass.

BE SURE YOU SEE THE

MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS

BEFORE PURCHASING ANY OTHER.

Illustrated Catalog Sent on Application.

J. M. Bruce, Agent for Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties.

334 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 24, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Go to M. J. Sullivan's musicale and dance at Thorndike, May 29th.

Miss C. B. Gates goes to Boston Thursday and will do shopping for the ladies.

Miss Maggie Gavin spent Sunday in Providence.

M. F. Moore is wiring his house for electric lights.

David B. Needham is enlarging the piazza on his house.

Henry G. Rogers is putting town water into his house.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Barlow spent Sunday in Hardwick.

Eight gangs of men have been at work this week on the various town roads.

The body of Lucina Wallace was brought to town from Springfield Wednesday.

Arthur Fosket is putting running water into the Mumford house on East Lake avenue.

Mrs. William Gordon of Michigan City is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Frank M. Fenton.

Mrs. Charlotte Peck had a cataract removed from her eye yesterday afternoon by Dr. F. W. Ellis.

T. H. Todd has moved into the tenement recently made vacant by the death of Mrs. Susan E. Thrall.

The members of Marcus Keep post are requested to meet at Grand Army hall Sunday afternoon at 2 30.

William Beattie, of the Monson Granite Company, has been in Brockton setting up a drinking fountain.

Miss Anna and George Beardow of Taftville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Buffington.

The pulpit of the Congregational church will be occupied next Sunday by a distinguished Boston clergyman.

The house on Washington street recently purchased by the Misses Eaton is undergoing extensive interior repairs.

The three hose carriages arrived yesterday, and members of the hose companies drew them to their quarters last evening.

The alumni dinner, which follows the graduating exercises of the Academy, will be in Academy hall, and Barr will cater.

Miss Addie J. Davis returned last week from New York, and has opened dressmaking rooms at her home on Main street.

O. M. Graves, living on the quarry road, has made his annual purchase of selected cattle. They are well worth looking at.

Pease street has been re-christened, and now bears the name of Gates street, in honor of one of the first owners of the property.

Charles Merrick is doing quite a bcycle business in Brimfield and Warren. He has sold fourteen wheels in the last two weeks.

The following letters are unclaimed at the post office: F. C. Croy, Will B. Gould, H. B. Harding, J. Leary, P. C. Rutnam, Mrs. Lizzie Rider.

Rev. William H. Marble, pastor of the Methodist church, will preach at West Springfield Sunday morning and at Mittineague in the evening.

Presiding Elder Thorndike will hold the second quarterly conference of the year at the Methodist church to-morrow evening and will preach Sunday morning.

Postmaster G. W. Farrington, who has been ill for about two weeks, was operated upon for appendicitis yesterday afternoon by Dr. Seeley of Springfield, assisted by local physicians. He was very comfortable this morning.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church met with Miss Augusta E. Fay Monday evening. There were nine ladies present. A literary entertainment was given.

There will be an auction of farming impiements and household goods at the house of Mrs. Sumner Fairfield on Crow Hill next Wednesday, which will probably be attended by a number from this village.

The firemen have decided to give up the parade which they planned to have on Memorial Day, as the G. A. R. post expressed a desire to have nothing going on that day except the memorial exercises.

Marcus Keep Woman's Relief corps held a meeting Wednesday evening, at which committees were appointed for decorating the hall on Memorial Day. The corps will present a flag to the post on that day.

The Ladies' Circle will give the last sociable of the season in the Universalist church next Tuesday evening. The entertainment will include the rendering of the farce entitled, "The Grecian Bend," by several young ladies. The special feature of the supper will be salads and devilled eggs.

Green street school, which was closed last week, was opened Monday, but closed after that day on account of the scarlet fever. Probably it will not be opened again this term. A committee meeting is to be held this evening, and the matter will be decided. The attendance is small in the village schools, owing to the fear people have of the disease. Many children who are kept from school, however, are allowed to play with other children, and attend sociables and church.

The system of water works has been formally accepted by the commissioners and the contractor settled with. Judge George H. Newton, Edwin R. Bates, Mrs. Thomas Parker and Mrs. Nancy Jefts have connected their houses with the system. Dr. P. W. Soule's was the first house service to be completed. A six-inch line is to be laid on Park avenue, with a hydrant near the park. Park avenue is also to be connected with Hampden avenue at once. Residents of Highland avenue have petitioned for the town water.

Mrs. William King Flynt gave an "at home" Tuesday evening in honor of her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. King of Chicago, which was one of the most delightful social events of the season. Robert H. Cushman presented the guests, of whom there were about sixty. The dining room, where refreshments were served, was very tastefully decorated with flowers, the color scheme of white and green being carried out in every detail. A banquet lamp, surmounted by a green and white shade, stood in the center of the table, and was surrounded by a mass of lilies of the valley; bunches of white lilacs were also upon the table, and the sideboard and cabinet were banked with the same. This room was presided over by Mrs. Flynt's elder daughter, Miss Mabelle, being assisted by Miss Helen Tucker, Miss Helen Pease and Miss Hattie Flynt. The company were favored with a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Norcross.

WEST WARREN.

Miss Alice Rycroft is visiting her uncle in Boylston.

Mrs. Rufus Baker is visiting her daughter, Mrs. William Rhodes, of Palmer.

Dr. E. A. Thorndike of Springfield held first quarterly conference in the M. E. church last Wednesday night.

Mrs. F. A. McRea is expected home from Milltown, N. B., on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Joseph Davis.

John and Walter Shaw of Palmer with their families spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw.

The ladies of the M. E. church held a strawberry festival in the vestry last night. Music was furnished by the orchestra. An entertainment consisting of reading and singing was given.

WARREN.

Miss Alice Buck has completed her course at the school of oratory in Boston.

Mrs. E. F. Strickland is dangerously ill at the home of her son in Springfield.

Joseph Kingman and family of Minneapolis will spend a few days with friends in town soon.

Suicide Of A Former Resident.

News has been received of the death of John P. Foley, formerly of this place, which occurred at Cincinnati, O. The following is taken from a Cincinnati special: "John P. Foley, a traveling salesman, committed suicide at the St. Nicholas hotel by shooting himself through the heart. He had been drinking quite heavily." Foley was employed at different times as salesman for the Knowles' steam pump works of this town, the Dean pump works of Holyoke, and also a house in New York. He was a member of the Quaboag lodge of Masons here, and will be buried in Cincinnati with Masonic honors by the Masons of that city. He leaves a widow and one child.

WILBRAHAM.

Mrs. Lyman Fiske is visiting her nephew in Rochester, N. Y.

Miss Beatty of Toronto, Canada, is the guest of Miss Lillie Phelps.

Dexter Phelps of Meriden, Ct., has been spending a few days at his father's home.

Two tally-ho loads of Academy juniors went to Forest Lake Monday on the class ride.

B. Frank Delano of Boston was in town for a short time this week, calling on old friends.

Mrs. Rodolphus Homer and Miss Helen Beebe are quite ill at their home on the mountain.

Miss Carrie Lyman has returned from Springfield, where she has been spending several months, and will occupy her former rooms in the house of Elijah Munsell.

Mrs. Thomas Livingstone is at her parents' home in Somerville, where she has gone to attend the marriage of her sister, Miss M. A. Knowlton, to Dr. Frank F. Carr of Concord.

Miss Mary L. Poland, superintendent of schools, held a teachers' meeting Wednesday afternoon, at which Mr. Hall of Dana was present and addressed the teachers on "Drawing."

The teachers and students of Wesleyan Academy who were under Dr. G. M. Steele's administration from 1880 to 1893, will hold a reunion in Fisk Hall Wednesday evening, June 19th, and will present the Academy with a portrait of Dr. Steele.

WALES.

S. P. Smith and son of Warren spent Sunday in town.

H. A. McFarland has been on a ten-days' business trip in Vermont.

No new cases of scarlet rever have been reported, and the old cases are doing well.

The Wales base ball team defeated a team from Palmer last Saturday, by a score of 9 to 4.

Road Commissioner W. E. Needham is doing some very commendable work on the highways.

W. I. Whitlock is preparing to move to Turners Falls, where he will carry on an extensive blacksmith business.

Isaac Simpson, who has been boss spinner at the Berkley mills, will move his family to Spencer, where he has a position.

Miss Millie Dimmick is receiving private instruction in her studies from Miss Laura Nelson, formerly principal of a high school in Philadelphia.

Superintendent Baldwin of the Berkley mill has a new bicycle, also Mrs. Carrie Hubbard and two of the Lynch boys. Several more have ordered wheels.

Robbie Sizer of Holland was returning home from Wales Monday night about 12 o'clock, when he discovered a large fire in the wood lot of H. A. McFarland, where a considerable quantity of wood was piled, about one mile from the village. He returned and gave the alarm, and fortunately the fire was extinguished before much damage was done. The originis unknown.

Harry Clark, 14, oldest son of E. A. Clark, died Tuesday night quite suddenly. He was attending the Hitchcock Free High School in Brimfield, and came home Monday night sick with what seemed to be a hard cold. It turned out to be croup, however, and he died Tuesday night. He was a very bright scholar and an estimable boy, and was much loved by his m ttes.

BRIMFIELD.

The Park Improvements.

It is the intention of the selectmen this year to give more attention to the park, which needs some improvements and which, if kept up, will continue to be one of the finest village park, in New England. On account of the scarcity of help at this season of the year, some of the women, authorized by the selectmen, made arrangements with the grammar school boys to rake off the leaves, with the assistance of Charles E. Bacon, who volunteered to direct the work and handle a rake with the rest. Some of the young men of the Hitchcock Free High School also gave gratuitous aid, and a great improvement was made in a short time. This beautiful part of the town represents a large expenditure of labor and money on the part of a generation now nearly all passed away. Before 1852 the "common" was an unsightly spot, treeless, cut up by cart paths and serving as a temporary pasture for cows on their way to the more distant ones. In that year a park association was formed; all the citizens became interested and a large sum of money was raised to grade and fence the plot, plant shade trees and lay out walks. John W. Foster, the geologist, who then lived in town, made the plans for the improvements. It is a good thing for the young people to take an active part in village improvement and, as they grow up, to share with the older inhabitants the feeling of responsibility for the care of what has been provided for them by past generations. An attractive feature of the yard of the grammar and primary schools is the new flower bed which surrounds the flag staff. The cultivation of tast, of habits of observation, and an interest in the tidy appearance of surroundings, is an important part of education. With improvements in sidewalks and in some of the roadsides the village would present a model appearance.

BELCHERTOWN.

There will be an auction sale of horses tomorrow at the Belcher House.

William Snow has opened a harness shop where B. B. Snow was formerly.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Davis of Stoughton are visiting Mrs. Davis's mother, Mrs. Susan Porter.

Rev. W. F. Lawford of Danvers, formerly pastor of the Methodist church here, visited in town this week.

Rev. W. F. Sanford of Danvers is making a short visit in town. He was formerly pastor of the Methodist church.

McGibney's "Family Stars" will give a concert in the town hall next Monday evening for the benefit of the Guild.

Miss Elizabeth Montague fell Monday morning and broke her hip. At her advanced age her case seems critical.

Thomas Allen of this place has taken second honors in the graduating class of Colgate Academy at Hamilton, N. Y.

The grading for the sidewalk on Main street is nearly finished. It is expected that the concreting will be begun next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Bridgman of Worcester were in town over Sunday, visiting Mr. Bridgman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bridgman.

Mr. and Mrs. Roblee and daughter of New York have taken posession of their summer residence in town, recently purchased of H. Rice.

Miss Elizabeth Montague fell Monday morning and broke her hip. On account of her age it is doubtful if she will be able to walk again.

E. C. Scott lost a valuable pet dog a few days ago. It is thought that the dog was poisoned, but as it was not vicious or given to wandering they cannot see any motive for the deed.

The following delegates were chosen from the Congregational Sunday school to attend the Sunday school convention at Palmer today: Mrs. A. L. Kendall Misses Mabel E. Kendall, Delia Stacy, Luella Hawks and Joanna Ferry, Deacon A. H. Bartlett, Superintendent Blackmere and the pastor.

WARE.

Michael Fitzgerald, formerly of this town, died of erysipelas at Dubuque, Iowa, the 18th. The remains were brought here, the funeral services being held at All Saints' church on Wednesday.

There has been a series of revival meetings at the Methodist vestry the past two weeks, with praying bands from Bondsville and Three Rivers, and Bible readings by A. S. Campbell of Palmer.

There is to be a big attraction at the trotting park Memorial Day. Beside the horse trotting there will be a 5-mile bicycle race, a 1-mile race, and one for boys. The management promises a continuous entertainment from 1.30 to dark.

Frank E. Spaulding, Ph. D, has received the appointment of superintendent of schools in Ware. Mr. Spaalding is a native of Dublin, N. H., and graduated from Amherst College in 1889. He has been a teacher in the Louisville Military Academy and at the Amherst grammar school of languages. He went to Germany in 1894 and took the degree of Ph. D. at the University at Leipsic. Mr. Spaulding is a bright, active young man of pleasing address, who will devote his whole time to the interest of the schools, and it is expected that much good will result from his labors.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS MATTERS.

Halifax, N. S., was visited by a $300,000 fire last Saturday.

The Dayville woolen company of Dayville, Ct., has been reorganized, and it is stated will soon resume operations.

The new Odd Fellows' temple at Philadelphia, costing $1,000,000, was dedicated Tuesday with imposing cermonies.

Soreno Gaylord, 83, one of Chicopee's venerable and respected citizens, died early Monday morning of heart failure.

A mine explosion in West Virginia Tuesday morning caused the death of four men and the injuring of many others.

The United States supreme court has decided that the income tax law is unconstitutional and void, by a vote of five to four.

Dana Belden of Westfield, foreman of Bryant's printing office at Florence, was drowned in the Connecitut river at Hatfield, Friday afternoon.

Two children playing with matches Sunday morning at St. Albans, Vt., started a blaze that destroyed property valued at $500,000, and rendered a hundred families homeless.

Robert Tyler Jones, grandson of President Tyler, and the only male child ever born in the White House, died at Washington Sunday. He leaves an invalid widow and an infant child.

George W. Cobb, chaplain of the Bethel mission chapel of St. Louis, offers a lunch of sandwiches and coffee to all poor people who will attend an hour's religious service each Sunday evening.

Capt. William Mitchell, United States army, retired, fell dead from apoplexy at 9.45 o'clock Tuesday morning in the Saratoga casino, Saratoga, N.Y., where he was trying to learn to ride a bicycle.

Hugh B. Smith, a Roxbury harness maker, shot John Hewitt, a blacksmith, Tuesday morning, inflicting a wound which may cause his death, because he refused to furnish him some money. Smith then killed himself.

Frank C. Hunt, who is serving a 20-years sentence in state prison for killing Henry E. Crosby at Merrimac, was sentenced to 12 years additional Tuesday for housebreaking in the night time while armed with a dangerous weapon.

The mail carriers of Connecticut are to hold a convention in New Haven the 31st for the purpose of forming a state organization. An organization of letter carriers in this state collapsed about two years ago because of lack of interest in it.

Mrs. Henry Dumas of Mansfield, Ct., who has showed symptoms of insanity for some time, made a desperate attempt Saturday to commit suicide by chopping the top of her head with a heavy axe. Forty blows were struck before she was discovered, requiring thirty stitches in dressing the wounds.

Congressman William Coggswell, 57, of Massachusetts, died at Washington early Wednesday morning, after having been incapacitated for congressional work for about six months. He served with distinction in the late war, rising from captain to brevet brigadier general, United States Volunteers.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

Dr. William A. Alcott says: "I have been led to the conclusion by more than forty years of close observation that a disturbance of the action of the heart and sudden death therefrom is the one supreme evil resulting from the use of coffee."

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

Wouldn't a Salary Come Handy?

See advertisement of a "Chance to earn money," in ano'her column, if you want a position.

You Think It Is Something Else.

The "why" of the bad feeling is what puzzles you. It is easy to imagine so many causes, when the real one is indigestion. You think it is something else. The cure is Ripans Tabules. A single one gives rel ef. Ask your druggist.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 52-25

THE BATTLE of BULL RUN

Is a thing of the past, but the battle of life is ever present, and it is the duty of everyone to secure their family supplies where they will be certain to get satisfactory returns for their money. To be sure of this, when you want

FINE GROCERIES,

EGGS and BUTTER FRESH and PRIME, AND SWEET NUTS for SUNDAY TIME, FRUIT, FLOUR and GOODS, go directly to the store of

H. W. SMITH,

59 Main Street, Palmer.

They sell no adulterated trash, but give you the most and BEST for CASH.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.

CORRECTED TO NOVEMBER 11, 1894.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a m and 4.25 p m for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R R, at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R R, and at Palmer with B & A R R for Worcester, Boston, Springfield.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a m, 12.13 and 5.57 p m.
Leave Palmer, 8.40 a m, 1.55 and 7.15 p m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.25, 10.17 a m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.25 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.27 p m.
The 5.25 and 7.40 a m and 2.30 p m run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a m and 5.57 p m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.22, 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m, the 11.00 a m and 7.15 p m connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.22 and 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. New London, Ct.
J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. St. Albans.
S W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO SEPT. 30, 1894.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58, p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook -6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Pansy Park, South Amherst and Hadley—7.29, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
FOR Belchertown, Amherst and Northampton—7.29, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28. 6 39, p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY, Gen'l Mgr.

Charles Beach has entered the employ of the Cutler Co.

A 19 CENT SALE

At Hellyar's Bargain Store,

Caryl's Block, - On the Corner.

4 yards of Lining Cambric.
1¼ yards of best Silicia.
2 yards of imitation Hair Cloth.
2 yards of Crinoline.
1½ yards of Canvas.
3 yards of Cross Bar Cambric.
5 yards of Apron Check Gingham.
2 yards of Dress Goods.
3 yards of Outing Flannel.
1½ yards Colored Canton Flannel.
1¼ yards best Feather Ticking.
4 yards Lace Scrim.
¼ yard Silk Plush (all colors.)
4 doz. Dress Buttons.
8 doz. Hooks and Eyes (Kant Open.)
7 spools Black Silk.
4 spools Best Thread.
5 spools, 500 yards, Basting Thread.
1 bottle 25c Perfumery.
1 bottle Mitchell's Rose Cutilave.
13 yards Tom Thumb Ribbon.
4 yards Morai, Picot Edge Ribbon.
2 yards Wide Lace.
3 pair Dress Shields (warranted.)
2 pair Hose, ladies or children.
2 fine Huckabuck Towels.
4 yards Toweling, bleached or unbleached.
4 bunches of Envelopes, all sizes.
4 quires best Writing Paper.
1 White Apron.
1 black Shopping Bag.
2 Shoulder Shawls.
3 pair Gent's Hose.
10 yards Narrow Hamburg.
1½ skeins Germantown.
1 earthen Tea Pot.
1 large Yellow Bowl.
1 Drapery Pole and Trimmings.
10 papers of Pins.
4 doz. Lead Pencils.
2 Rope Halters.
1 Curry Comb and Brush.
2 Cuspidores.
5 bunches of Tacks.
4 bunches Toilet Paper.
1 Bean Pot.
2 yards Rug Fringe.
1 Wire Rat Trap.
4 yards Carpet Lining.

Any of the above ONLY 19 CENTS. This is the store for the economical buyers.

Best live Geese Feathers only 55c per lb.
White Bed Spreads 67 cents.
Laundered White or Colored Shirts, 47 cents.
Floor Oils Cloths, 23 cents per yard.
Slop Pails 25 cents.
Lanterns, 42 cents.
Curtains 23c, 31c, 36c, 37c, 50c each.
2 pair Men's Suspenders, 25c.
Custom Suits from $11 to $25.

REMEMBER THE PLACE,

HELLYAR'S BARGAIN STORE,

Caryl's Block, on the Corner,

PALMER, - MASS.

Forbes & Wallace's.

SPRINGFIELD, MAY, 1895.

WE'VE SUCH CARPET NEWS---

to tell to-day as will cause a ripple of excitement everywhere around.

We have been doing some great bargain buying. A big carpet manufacturer—one of the biggest in the business—recently sacrificed the balance of his Spring stock to get room and money to start his looms agoing on Fall goods. Only the largest firms had a chance of getting anything at this sale, and our syndicate organization—one of the very largest—secured some of the choicest plums.

From this sale we have—some of the choicest ten-wire tapestry carpets—the 85-cent quality to sell for 65 cents a yard.

—Some of the prettiest patterns of moquette carpets—the $1 quality—to sell for 75 cents a yard.

In addition to this we have marked down nearly every carpet in stock---and not a bad pattern---a stick---among them.

At 65 cents a yard---the price we've made on the new Tapestry---we shall put in every pattern of the 75-cent quality Tapestry in stock.

At 75 cents a yard---we shall put in every pattern---about twenty in all---of the $1 a yard Brussels that we have in stock.

At $1 a yard---we shall put in the $1.10 quality of Brussels.

At 50 cents a yard---we shall put in every pattern---about seventy-five pieces in all---of our 65-cent quality of Ingrain carpets.

At 50 cents a yard---we shall put in every pattern of our 65-cent quality of Tapestry.

At 39 cents a yard---we shall put in every pattern of the quality of Tapestry that we sold at 50 cents a yard.

At 32½ cents a yard---we shall put in every Ingrain pattern that was formerly 50 cents a yard.

At 20 cents a yard---everything in Ingrains that has been 25 cents a yard.

No mistake now---let us be perfectly understood. We shall sell---

25-cent Ingrains at 20 cents a yard.
50-cent Ingrains at 32 1-2 cents a yard.
65-cent Ingrains at 50 cents a yard.
50-cent Tapestries at 39 cents a yard.
65-cent Tapestries at 50 cents a yard.
75 and 85-cent Tapestries at 65 cents a yard.
$1 Brussels at 75 cents a yard.
$1.10 Brussels at a $1 a yard.
$1 Moquettes at 75 cents a yard.

No need to say more. Springfield people never heard the like of this sale before, and carpets are always sold cheaper in Springfield than elsewhere---New York or Boston not excepted.

You wouldn't think of buying without looking, and the looking will be easy, but let it be early---the early lookers will be the best satisfied.

Second floor of Pynchon street building.

FORBES & WALLACE.

Springfield, Mass.

OXFORDS.

NEVER was there such a call for Ladies' Oxfords as there has been this season.

WILL YOU HAVE A PAIR?

You can have your pick from about fifty different kinds at Fuller's, ranging in price from 80 cents to $2.50.

The demand is great, our stock is large. The prices are right. Just examine our stock of

OXFORDS.

GEO. L. FULLER,

Distributer of Fine Fitting Shoes.

MONSON, - - MASS.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS IN THIS VICINITY FOR

TRUSSES.

WE CARRY A LARGE ASSORTMENT IN ALL THE SIZES OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF

Steel Spring Trusses,
Hard Rubber Trusses,
New York Elastic Trusses.

WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.

AT LEGRO & LYNDE'S.

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

The People of Palmer and Vicinity

Will find it no longer necessary to go to the surrounding cities for the latest styles in fine footwear. Here you will find the "up-to-date" novelties as well as staple goods.

Ladies and children with slender feet will find a good assortment in all styles of SHOES and OXFORDS, in narrow widths, at medium prices. I am showing a nice line of MISSES' TAN LACE SHOES, SPRING HEEL.

Nothing daintier for Commencement Exercises than those WHITE KID SLIPPERS and WHITE CANVAS OXFORDS AT $1.50.

TAN BOYS' and YOUTHS' BAL. just the thing for the summer vacation.

Gent's fancy PATENT LEATHER DRESS SHOES are the proper thing this season. I have some beauties.

A. B. COWAN,

Successor to Chas. N. Blake & Co.

Holden's New Block, Main Street,

PALMER, MASS.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

BEDDING.

The good, reliable sorts and all at a saving.

45-pound Mattresses, two parts, mixed hair, A. C. A. ticking.

The $11 kind for $7.50.

40-pound Mattress, two parts, all hair, extra quality, fancy ticking. The $17 kind for $12.50.

3½-pound Feather Pillows at 62½ cents each.

Woven Wire Spring Beds, the $2.50 kind for $1.75.

Basement.

FURNITURE COVERINGS.

A clearing-up sale of this season's Furniture Coverings. Short lengths, enough for chair seat, arm chair or perhaps a sofa. Included are:

Jute.
Petit Point.
All Wool Tapestries.
Plushes, plain, figured and crushed.
Corduroys—plain and figured.

Prices ranging from 37½ cents, 50 cents, 62½ cents, 67 cents, 75 cents and $1 a yard upward.

Bargains here.

Drapery department.

PIAZZA FURNISHINGS.

No end of buyers in this department, couldn't be otherwise with our stock and prices.

Every desirable style in Arm and Side Chairs, Rockers and Divans.

Another lot of those popular Rattan Rockers at $1.50, $3.50, $4.95 and $6.

Basement.

REFRIGERATORS.

Remember, the "Lapland" is made only in Solid Oak, is Zinc lined, has galvanized iron ice rack, improved insulation and perfect dry air circulation. In short, it is absolutely the best and most economical Refrigerator on the market. All sizes and our prices right.

Basement.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

Springfield, Mass.

.... J. M. BRUCE, ...

AGENT FOR THE

TROWBRIDGE UPRIGHT PIANOS.

Trowbridge Pianos for Tone.
Trowbridge Pianos for Action.
Trowbridge Pianos for Fine Cases.

PIANOS TUNED, REGULATED and REPAIRED.

Office, Room 25, Main St. P. O. Box 166.

SPRINGFIELD, - MASS.

FISH BAIT FOR SALE,

CHARLES S. RUGGLES,

Three Rivers, - Mass.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

BICYCLES FOR 1895.

STEARNS "Yellow Fellow." Ladies' and Gents' $100.

WARWICK "Crimson Rims." $80, $85, $100.

CRESCENTS $90, $75, $50, $40.

WINNEWOOD & TEMPLES $60.

We have full size in Ladies' and Gents' Wheels for $50, fully warranted.

BICYCLE REPAIRING.

We have secured the services of Alfred H. Stokes to take charge of this department. Mr. Stokes comes to us from the KEATING WHEEL CO. where he has had entire charge of their Repair Department.

He can save you money in repairs and suit you. Any kind of wheel repaired.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

SEEDS.

Garden Seeds, Grass Seeds, Flower Seeds, Seed Potatoes. We take great pains to suit you on this line. We think poor seeds are worthless at any price. See us before you buy.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Belcher & Taylor's Plows and Cultivators. Rough and Ready Wrought Iron Beam Plows. Planet, Jr. Horse Hoes and Cultivators. John Doud Wheel Harrows. Steel Road Scrapers. Spring Tooth Harrows. Lawn Mowers.

We shall carry a good line and solicit your trade.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

FISHING TACKLE.

TROUT FISHING SEASON is here, and we are prepared for it. Rods, Lines, Reels, Baskets, etc. Nice assortment. Fair prices.

E. A. Buck & Co., Palmer.

J. B. SHAW,

DRY GOODS,

PALMER, - MASS.

We are all through house cleaning, and with a store bright with paint and varnish, and filled with goods suited to the season, we respectfully ask for inspection and comparison of goods and prices.

It is almost marvelous what pretty Dress Goods a little money will purchase. In Wash Goods the the assortment is much the largest ever shown by us.

In Groceries we have a full line of Staple and Fancy Articles, with specialties each week.

J. B. SHAW,

GROCERIES,

PALMER, - MASS.

Spring and Summer Shoes

Now in stock and receiving others daily.

The largest and best selected stock of Boots and Shoes for the money that can be found in Western Massachusetts.

Tan Shoes, all shades, low and high, for Ladies and Boys and Youths, Misses and Children.

Can fit the smallest baby or the largest man.

FULL STOCK OF PATENT LEATHER SHOES.

Hall's Shoe House, 294 Main St., next to P. O., Springfield, Mass. . . . . .

TO COLT OWNERS.

I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.

3-tf Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!

PAPER HANGINGS.

Browns, White Blanks, Flats, Satins, Bronzes, Gilts, Borders, Friezes, etc.

PLAIN AND DECORATIVE PAPER HANGING, PAINTING, ETC.

All orders filled in a thorough and workmanlike manner. F. S. MASON, Commercial Block.

WAGONS!

Having a new lot of

TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY, CALL AND SEE US.

ALLEN AND ELLERY,

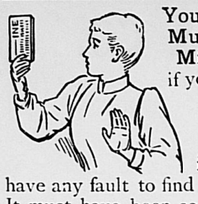
PALMER, 3-tf MASS

A. H. HITCHCOCK,

OPTICIAN.

331 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial Eyes Furnished.
Occulists' Prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 51-26

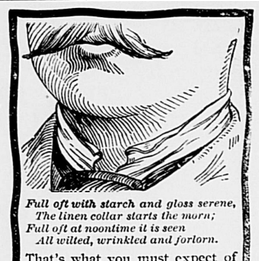


You Must Be Mistaken if you think you've used Pearline and have any fault to find with it. It must have been something else. That sometimes happens. Because Pearline is so well known and so popular, it has become a household name. People say "Pearline" when they mean anything that may claim to help in washing.

Perhaps you haven't noticed — and that's just where the trouble is. If you've been using the worthless or dangerous imitations, no wonder you're out of patience.

But don't make Pearline suffer for it. Don't give up the good, because your disgusted with the poor.

Beware of imitations. 358 JAMES PYLE, N. Y



Full oft with starch and gloss serene,
The linen collar starts the morn;
Full oft at noontime it is seen
All wilted, wrinkled and forlorn.

That's what you must expect of such a collar; it's the linen of it. The stand-up collars won't stand up, and the turn-down collars will wilt down. The easy, cheap, and pleasant way out of this is to wear "CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS. These goods are made by covering linen collars or cuffs on both sides with "CELLULOID," thus making them strong and durable, and waterproof, not affected by heat or moisture. There are no other waterproof goods made this way, consequently none that can wear so well. When soiled simply wipe them off with a wet cloth. Every piece of the genuine is stamped like this:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

Insist upon goods so marked if you expect full satisfaction, and if your dealer does not keep them, send direct to us enclosing amount and we will mail sample. State size and whether a stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair.

The CELLULOID COMPANY
427-29 Broadway, NewYork.

Barber—"Shall I go over the chin once more, sir?" Customer—"No; I'd heard it all before you told me."—Harper's Weekly.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle.

Agreeably Surprised.

"I had a very severe cold on my lungs that caused much soreness and gave me considerable uneasiness in regard to the result," says Mr. T. E. Smith, of Billerica, Mass. "A local druggist called my attention to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and on his recommendation I gave the remedy a careful trial. The result surprised me; I recovered entirely in three days." 25 and 50 cent bottles.

It Did The Business.

Mr. J. H. Cobb, publisher of the Mirror, at Brockton, N. Y., says: "For nearly two years the Mirror has been publishing the advertisements of Chamberlain's Remedies. A few days ago the writer was suffering from a bowel trouble and resorted to an old remedy which did not prove efficacious; finally he tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Pemedy and two doses did the business, checking it completely.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

From the Groton, Connecticut, Review.

David Lewis, who has been afflicted all winter by rheumatism, is out again and all due to one of the medicines advertised in our columns. After trying everything possible, he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which has relieved him of all pain, from which he was a constant sufferer and promises to make him fit for duty soon. We know David has been a great sufferer and are glad to see him around again.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D Smith, Ware.

To be Well This Spring

Take the Great French Hospital Remedy, which, by its thousands of cures, has set the entire medical world to talking.

It cures all Spring Debility, quickens the laggard pulse, sends new, rich blood flowing through the veins, searches out all impurities and diseases, and quickly eradicates them from the system. Contains no wines or opiates, and is the only remedy in the world that will permanently cure you.

Take Blood Wine.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.
Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

AMONG THE PARAGRAPHERS.

When o'er and o'er he said "good night"—
'Twas one of Cupid's larks—
She murmured, "Willie, dear, you might Save time with ditto marks."
—Washington Star.

Binks—"Did I understand you to say that Swillem rushed the growler at Old Soak's funeral?" Winks—"Not at all." I remarked that he helped to carry the bier.—Life.

"Yes," remarked the telephone girl, as she gazed out at the waves and wondered what their number was, "I am connected with the best families in our city."—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Tom—"I'd give a good deal if I had such a sister as yours." Jack—"You'd have to. Did you see her kiss me just now?" Tom—"I did." Jack—"Well, it cost me a V."—Judge.

Benevolent old man—"Here's a quarter. So you were sent to Yale when quite young?" Ragson Tatters—"Did I say that? I meant jail; I can't pronounce de 'j'."—Philadelphia Record.

Lillie:—"Why did you speak to that horrid fellow in the car? Weren't you afraid it would affect your standing?" Millie:—"Not a bit. He never offered a girl a seat in his life."—The Sketch.

She—"You say the chicken soup isn't good? Why, I told the cook how to make it. Perhaps she didn't catch the idea." He—"No; I think it was the chicken she didn't catch."—London Tit-Bits.

"Now, here is a furnace that we guarantee to be simple enough for the average servant to run." "Um! What you need is one that will run in spite of the average servant."—Smith, Gray & Co.'s Monthly.

Professor(to medical student)—"Mr. Doselets; will you please name the bones of the skull?" Student(perplexed)—"I've got them all in my head, professor; but the names don't strike me at this moment."—Truth.

Lillian—"If you will let me have those roses, I will give a kiss for each of them—but why do you run away, cousin, Lealand? How rude of you." Lealand—"One moment; I am going for more roses."—Dolfbavbier.

The preacher was indulging in rhapsodies over the glories of the New Jerusalem. Little Johnny listened for quite a while. He then whispered to his mother. "Mamma, is he an advance agent?"—Boston Transcript.

Lawyer(to a client)—"I defended you once before—let me see, was it not a case of swindling?" Client (warmly)—"Of course it was! I paid you thirty marks, and got six weeks notwithstanding."—Lustige Blaetter.

Chesney—"Women would never be able to vote seriously." Radbourn—"Why not?" Chesney—"Because they would want to go round and get samples of the candidates before making up their minds."—Brooklyn Life.

Saidso—"Cholly always takes his man with him when he goes down on the 'L' train." Heardso—"What is that for?" Saidso—"When a pretty girl comes along, the man gets up and gives her his seat."—Puck.

Mrs. Gilhooly—"An iz yure man well an' hearty?" Mrs. Duffy—"Devil a wan ov me knows. He's drivin' a wagon in the strate an' the list ov trolley accidents havint been posted fur the last hour."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"Did you study hard for the prize at school Tommy?" "Yes'm; I spent a whole hour findin' out what kind o' candy Jimmie Jones likes best, an' then he had toothache an' couldn't recite, an' I got the prize."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Pushalong—"This is the second five you've asked me for in a week. That's pretty quick work; quicker than lightning." Thespicus—"How do you mean?" Pushalong—"Lightning never strikes twice in the same place."—Harlem Life.

Sammy came home from an afternoon at the Natural History museum. "Where have you been?" said his grandpa, who saw that he was in uncommonly good spirits. "Oh, we've had a splendid time. We've been to a dead circus."—Queenslander.

Master(to his page boy)—"If anybody calls you can say that I shall be back at twelve." Page—"Yes, sir." Master(returning at half-past eleven)—"Has anybody called?" Page—"Yes, sir; six beggars. They will look in again at twelve."—Kikeriki.

Bridget—"The new neighbors next door wants to cut their grass, and they say would ye be so kind as to lend them your sickle." Purita nical Mistress—"Lend my sickle to cut grass on the Sabbath! Tell them, Bridget, that we haven't any."—Inter-Urban.

Newcomer—"Say, I don't like to show my ignorance, but am not above taking a little advice. Is it best to plant your eggs in a hill or sow them in a row?" Farmer—"What in thunder do you expect to rase?" Newcomer—"Spring chickens."—Judge.

Big Injun(admiringly)—"Me like pictur'." College Man(proudly)—"I thought you would." Big Injun—"Heap pretty squaw." College Man(wrathfully)—"You old heathen that's a portrait of me when I belonged to the football team."—New York Weekly.

Passtor—"What are you going to name your new twin brothers, Willy?" Willy—"Thunder and Lightning." Pastor—"Why, Willy, you must be mistaken!" Willy—"Well, anyhow, that's what Pop called 'em, when the nurse brought 'em in!"—Puck.

"It is plain," said the Justice, "that you stole the hog, and I shall send you up for 12 months." —"Jedge, kin you gimme 'bout one hour 'fo' I goes?" —"What for?" —"Well, sub, pork won't keep in dis weather, en' I wants ter go home en' salt dat hog down!"—Atlantic Constitution.

The postmaster's boy and the professor's boy were playing together. A question of precedence arose, and the professor's boy exclaimed, "You ought to let me go first! My father's an a. m." Huh! replied his companion. "That's nothing. My father's a p. m."—Harper's Young People.

"Baker must be a great lover of reading. He tells me that he often stays in his library all night." "Yes, that's so. But did he tell that the only library he has is a folding bed fixed up to look like a bookcase?" "Why—er—no."—Indianapolis Journal.

The Hibernian gift for courteous speech was seldom better displayed than by a certain Irish boarder. His landlady a "pleasant spoken" body, had poured him a cup of tea and presently inquired if it was all right. "It is jist to my taste, Mrs. Hallahan," said the boarder—"wake and cowld, jist as I loike it."—Youth's Companion.

Guide in the Alps—"Yonder is where the celebrated Marquis d'Uri lost his life by falling into the chasm." English tourist (who is accompanied by his daughter)—"Why, no; the scene of that accident is two hours' journey from here." Guide—"Right you are, sir; but I thought it was too far for your daughter to travel."—Le Petit Journal.

They sat in the twilight and talked of the past. "Hiram," she was saying, "just twenty years ago to-night I first became aware that you had kindled a flame in my heart." "Yes, Anastasia." "That," she mused reflectively, "was about the last kindling I know of your doing, Hiram." He did not speak for a long time. When he did it was concerning something else.—Detroit Tribune.

"Can you love another?" she asked, nestling closer to his bosom. Earnestly he gazed into her deep, blue eyes. "I think not," he said. "I'm buying flowers and theater suppers for six now, and with you I guess I've about reached my limit." At that moment a one-man band exploded right in front of the house, and when he had done the conversation drifted naturally and easily into other channels.

Could Not Walk

Rheumatism in Hips and Back

Eyesight Affected but Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures All.

"I was troubled with pains in my back and hips. My eyes swelled so that I could not see for two or three days at a time. I became so I could not walk at times. The rheumatism had such a hold on me I never expected to get well. At last I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The first bottle helped my appetite and before the second was all gone my back was a great deal better and the pains had left my hips. I have now taken over five bottles and I am as well and as

Mrs. Marion A. Burns
West Gardner, Mass.

Free From Rheumatism

as if I had never been afflicted with it. I shall continue to use Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

for I believe I owe my life to its use." MRS. M. A. BURNS, West Gardner, Mass.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. Insist upon Hood's.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, jaundice, indigestion, sick headache. 25c.

"You can't tell anything about what a man will do in a horse trade by the noise he makes in church."—Ram's Horn.

Right Arm Paralyzed!

Saved from St. Vitus Dance.

"Our daughter, Blanche, now fifteen years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. We feared St. Vitus dance, and tried the best physicians, with no benefit. She has taken three bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine and has gained 31 pounds. Her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid."
MRS. R. R. BULLOCK, Brighton, N. Y.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cures.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1.6 bottles for $5. or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

To the World of Women.

Weak, nervous, delicate, overworked women need a strength builder, a tonic for their nerves, and a cure for that awful internal trouble that is wearing out their lives. Thousands of women have found such in Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Mrs. Christiana Beal, of Jonesport, Me., writes that her daughter has been a great sufferer from female trouble, and after repeated trials of doctor's prescriptions and other so-called cures, all of which gave no relief, she used Favorite Remedy and it permanently cured her.

If you have headache, uterine catarrh, irregular menstruation, leucorrhœa or irregular monthly periods, sickness incidental to change of life, or any of the attending evils that are present in female complaints, use Favorite Remedy; it will build up quickly the run down constitution, dispel those tired looks and feelings, restore the nervous system and permanently cure you. Our daughters grow up weak and delicate; mothers can avoid such conditions by giving them Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

AYER'S Hygienic Coffee.

A Health Drink, Nerve and Brain Food.

A vegetable and cereal compound; contains all the elements one's system requires.
Prepared by M. S. AYER, of Boston. A vegetarian of many years.

PRICE, 20 CENTS PER POUND.

Directions: Prepare the same as Coffee, using not more than two-thirds as much for the same amount of water, or one tablespoonful to a pint.

For sale by principal wholesale and retail grocers. Send 2c stamp for book on "Diet Reform."
M. S. AYER. 211 STATE ST., BOSTON.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONEAT SHORT NOTICE.

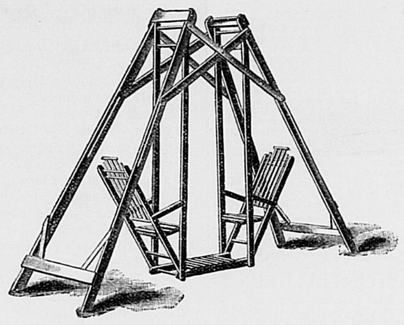
Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

W. E. STONE.

HOT WAVE MERCHANDISE.



THE BRUNSWICK SWING, FOR LAWN OR PIAZZA, $6.75.

Croquet Sets, $1.00. Mexican Hammocks, $1.00.

Large palm leaf fans,.....3c, two for 5c.
Tanglefoot (sticky) fly paper, 3c, double sheet, two for 5c.
Williams' Root Beer Extract, 19c
Hires' " " " "
Knapp's " " " "
Bryant's " " " 10c, makes 5 gallons
Hops, malt, yeast, and cheap molasses for making beer.
Men's wide straw hats.
Children's " " "
Summer corsets, "O, so cool," "Lakeside,".....50c
Summer underwear for men, women and children.
Ladies' chamois gloves,...90c and $1.00, will wash.
Ladies' kid gloves, Foster lace, black, colors, $1.00
Mosquito netting, white, black, blue, pink, green.
New line of dainty dimities, challies, prints, India lawns, nainsooks, shirt waists, and calico wrappers, Windsor ties all colors, 5c to 25c each.
See our straw mattings at 12½c per yard.
Window screens,.....25c and 39c
Oil stoves, three sizes.
Lace curtains,.....50c apair and up.
Scrims,.....5c a yard and up.
Silkolines, dot muslin, fish net for draperies.
Extension rods for draperies,.....15c each.

All the best varieties of garden seeds.
Bradley's fertilizers. Coe's fertilizers.
Potatoes, Bermuda onions, California oranges, lemons, bananas, evaporated apricots, prunes, and evaporated apples.
6 pounds raisins,.....25c
6 boxes American sardines,.....25c
Northfield creamery butter.

Bargains in every department. Each and every article warranted to your satisfaction. Goods delivered promptly.

W. E. STONE

GENERAL STORES.

Lawrence Block, Palmer. Hollister's Block, North Wilbraham.

W. N. FLYNT & SONS'

SPRING STYLES IN MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING

HAVE ARRIVED. GIVE THEM A CALL AND RECEIVE BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY THAN EVER BEFORE. BE SURE YOU GET A TRILBY HAT.

LATEST IN HATS AND CAPS FOR MEN AND BOYS AT

W. N. FLYNT & SONS,
MONSON, MASS.

Argument is Unnecessary.

With a good stock, right prices and right business methods, business won't lag. Who ever found our stock short, immense as is our variety. No one can underbuy us and they shan't undersell us. In methods we cannot be excelled. Cash buys low. If you ain't fixed so cash is convenient, we help you out by giving you credit.

Five Floors and a Basement Filled with Furniture, Carpets, . . . Crockery, Glass Ware, and Kitchen Ware. . . .

Each stock so large and varied in their line as to astonish all.

THIS SPRING

Is the time above all others for buying CARPETS. The tariff assists us in offering you the LOWEST PRICES ever known in these goods. Don't let this opportunity go by, but come at once and inspect our stock.

JUST RECEIVED A CARLOAD OF REFRIGERATORS AND LOW PPICES SHALL MOVE THEM.

BABY CARRIAGES.

Hundreds of styles at rock bottom prices. Visit this great house furnishing establishment.

CREDIT GIVEN IF DESIRED.

E. LUTHER & CO.,
Main Street. SPRINGFIELD. Opp. Court Sq.

JUST ARRIVED.

A Full Line of
Grass Seed,
Seed Oats,
Seed Barley,
Seed Peas,
Ground Plaster.

BRADLEY'S X L Phosphate, Potato Manure and English Lawn Dressing.

Low Prices.

C. D. HOLBROOK.

••••CARRIAGES••••

What one? I have one of the largest stocks in this city. Am overstocked now; have 3 car loads to come, and no room for them. I will give bargains in any kind of vehicles. It costs nothing to look over my stock and you will be used well even if you don't buy. I want to see you. Let's get acquainted. I will guarantee my prices with any dealer that pays for his goods.

HARNESSES,

heavy and light, all grades at lowest prices. You will buy if you look at them. I sell as low as the lowest. My expenses are not one-fourth that of other dealers who sell as much as I. That's your advantage in buying here.

D. W. BUTTERWORTH,
60 Dwight St., Springfield.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.
Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Mooers, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory
Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

CARRIAGES!!!

I have in stock a complete line of fine and medium grade Carriages.

Leather Top Carriages, for $60, 75, 100, 150, 300.
Open Buggies, for $40, 60, 75, 125, 150.
Second-Hand Carriages, $5, 10, 20, 40, 75.
Harnesses, $7.50, 9, 12, 15, 20.

DELIVERY WAGONS OF ALL KINDS.

W. H. SMITH,
2 PARK STREET, SPRINGFIELD.

To the Memory of Mrs. Susan E. Thrall.

A dear friend from our midst has gone;
A voice we loved is still;
Where can we find another one
Her vacant place to fill?

Not from the gay and giddy throng
Can we repair our loss,
Nor even from those noble souls
Who daily bear the cross.

She trained her hands to useful toil,
Her willing feet to tread
The rough and ruggged ways of life
To give the hungry bread.

She sought the poor man's cottage door
And bade the children play,
Put shoes upon their naked feet,
And wiped their tears away.

Her hands have cooled the fevered brow
Like showers of summer rain;
Her heart was full of sympathy
For all who suffer pain.

She found her way to lowly homes
With flowers of early spring;
And did it all as "In His Name,"—
This "Daughter of a King."

Now strew her grave with lilies white,
Bring roses fresh and sweet;
Go lay the laurel at her head,
The violets at her feet.

Monson, May 11, 1895. JENNIE S. GRANT.

A BURGLAR ALARM.

"One night late," said the retired burglar, "I went into a house in a village in western Connecticut, entering by a cellar window, as I usually did when I was late, so as not to disturb the folks. I looked around the cellar and located the stairs and started up. About three-quarters of the way up they made a sharp turn to the left. I had my jimmy in my right hand and my lamp in my left, so as to be all ready, expecting to set my lamp down on the top step and gently pry the door open, and I was going along comfortably enough when, just as I was stepping up at the turn, a rope stretched across caught me under the chin and toppled me over down stairs. There was only the stone wall of the cellar on one side and no rail on the other, so there was nothing to grab to, and I just tumbled down. As I bumped along something scattered along down the steps over me and under me and around me, chasing me all the way down, and when I finally got to the cellar bottom that thing was lying across my chest. It was the coal shovel, which had evidently been stood up against the rope, and which I had jarred loose.

"But the worst thing of all was that my lamp was broke. I lost my jimmy on the way down, but I hung on to my lamp, but now the light was out, and the glass was broke and the slide was jammed around in front, and I could not turn it. I felt around till I found my jimmy, and then I waited to see if I'd woke anybody up. I didn't hear anybody, and so I started again, and this time I felt my way up the stairs carefully to the door. I found it unlocked, and I had got it open about an inch, I should think, when I heard a little bit of scraping on the other side, and the next instant the dreadfulest racket that anybody ever heard, the falling of a dishpan that must have been hanging on the other side of the door knob or the key, and at the same time what I imagine must have been the potato masher—I don't know because I didn't look for it—dropped from the top of the door upon my head.

"This door to the cellar opened from a little square hall, or entry way, that had, as I learned by feeling, a door to the left, to the kitchen, I suppose, and one to the right, I guessed, into the front hall. I waited again, but no sound from up stairs, so I turned to the right and opened that door and stumbled the first thing over a chair close by in the hall and almost broke my shins. I felt along and found a row of chairs standing close together from that door clean to the front door. I sat down in one of them and nursed my shins and waited. Still no sound, and I tried again and got along all right this time and turned off to the left and into the parlor and back from that into the dining room, for a wonder without falling over anything, and I began to feel encouraged. But in the dining room there was nothing but plated spoons and forks, which, of course, I could tell by the touch just as well as though I had an electric light. If they had any silver, they had carried it up stairs, as some people do at night.

"I turned back into the hall and groped my way through that row of chairs to the foot of the stairs. To make sure of the first step in the dark I stepped high and stepped into a pan of water on the bottom step. That made me mad, but I didn't make any noise, and I stepped out of it and started on up. At about the third step my leg struck a string that was strung across these stairs and set a bell a-ringing that was hanging on it, and kicking that string started down on me from above—loosened, I suppose, by another string tied to the one I had kicked—a shower of tin pie plates, and I had got my leg tangled up in some way in the string across the stairs, and as I struggled to get free the bell kept on ringing and the pie plates rattling, and presently I fell over a wash boiler that had been set on the stairs a step or two up and brought that down on me.

"As I was floundering round in this tinware and strings and bells and things I heard children's voices up stairs, and a minute later I heard steps in the hall above, and I could see in the blackness up there the white of a nightgown at the head of the stairs. Then something came slamming against the banisters, hitting me as it rattled down, and finally landing, with a great bang on the floor among the chairs in the hall. The minute he threw it, whoever he was, he ran, and I began to think it was about time for me to go too. I had freed myself from the bellcord by this time, and I got down the stairs and into the hall again, and there this time I stepped on a base ball bat—that was what had come banging down at me from above—that rolled out from under me and upset me once more among those chairs.

"I got up and opened the front door—it wasn't locked—and got out on the piazza. Before I had got to the top front step I heard a horn blowing from an up stairs window on the side of the house, and an instant later a shot from a revolver and a big bell ringing. There was a late moon just rising and a little light now, and as I went away I looked back and saw three children, all in white, all leaning out of one window on the second story. On one side there was a boy of about 14, as I should guess by that light, firing a pistol. He was the boy, no doubt, that had thrown the baseball bat. On the other side was his younger brother, with a good pair of lungs, blowing a fish horn about as long as a bean pole, and in the middle was their little sister, swinging a big bell with both hands, and, take 'em altogether they were making a great deal of noise.

"I didn't wait to inquire about it, but it was just as simple as rolling off a log. The children's parents had had to go away somewhere overnight—sickness or something—and had left the children alone. The young folks had forgotten to lock the doors, but there really wasn't any necessity of locking 'em, with such a burglar alarm system as that."

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

{SEAL} A. W. GLEASON
Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.

L. A. W. Bicycle Club Uniform.

Have you seen our '95 catalogue with prices and samples. Send 2-cent stamp.

G. W. SIMMONS & CO.,
OAK HALL, BOSTON.
Sporting Goods, Firemen's Uniforms, Military Outfitters.

POSTAL Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads—west of Depot.

RICHMOND STRAIGHT CUT No. 1 CIGARETTES

MADE FROM THE BRIGHTEST, MOST DELICATELY FLAVORED AND HIGHEST COST GOLD LEAF GROWN IN VIRGINIA.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Who are willing to pay a little more than the price charged for ordinary trade cigarettes, will find this brand superior to all others.

ALLEN & GINTER, RICHMOND, VA.
THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., Successor.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

S. H. HELLYAR'S
Fire Insurance Agency,

CARYL'S BLOCK,
PALMER, - - MASS.

I represent some of the largest companies, both stock and mutual, doing business in this state, and should be pleased to reckon you as one of my customers.

Will guarantee you security, promptness, economy, and a correctly written policy.

Thanking you for past favors, I am
Yours respectfully,
S. H. HELLYAR.

Salary and expenses paid weekly from start. Permanent position. Good chance for advancement. Exclusive territory. Largest growers of Nursery stock. Clean, hardy stock, true to name. Fair treatment guaranteed. No substitution in our orders. Liberal commission to local part-time agents. We can interest any one not earning $75 per month and expenses. Don't hesitate because of previous failures in this or other lines. Outfit free. Address, BROWN BROS. CO. Continental Nurseries, Rochester, N.Y. (This house is reliable. Name this paper.—Ed.)

CANVASSER

No Default of Principal or Interest

has ever occurred in a security sold by this company

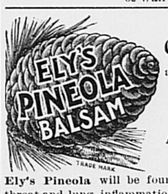
MUNICIPAL BONDS.

The securities offered by this Company are selected with great care, and are first class investments for individual buyers, legatees, trustees, banks and savings banks. More than

FIFTY CLASSES OF BONDS

have been sold by us in the last three years. Send for our list of bonds and make use of our experience.

German-American Investment Co.,
52 Wall Street, New York.



For Coughs, Colds, Asthma and Pulmonary Diseases.

A True Balsam.

Ely's Pineola will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. The annoying tickling and nervous irritation in the throat, producing hacking coughs is quickly relieved by it. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from the use of Pineola Balsam, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. The Pineola Balsam is pleasant to the taste, is soothing to the inflamed surface.

More lives are sacrificed by the neglect of "slight coughs" than can be estimated.

Price of Pineola Balsam, 25c per bottle. All druggists. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., New York.

A CHANCE TO EARN MONEY! Salary and Expenses paid, or Commission if preferred. Salesmen wanted everywhere. No experience needed. Address, stating age, The C. L. Van Dusen Nursery Co., Box D, Geneva, N. Y.

USE BARNES' INK A. S. BARNES & CO., 56 E. 10th St., N. Y.

DEAFNESS & HEAD NOISES CURED. My Tubular Cushions help when all else fails, as glasses help eyes. Whispers heard. No pain. Invisible. F. Hiscox, 853 B'way New York, sole dept. Send for book and proofs FREE.

THE HARDWARE DEALER. A MAGAZINE brim full of practical ideas from hardware men. The cream of 1000 brains. 116 pages. Only $1.00 a year. Sample copy free. D. T. MALLET, Pub., 78 Reade St., New York.

VEGETABLE, PULMONARY, BALSAM. The old, well known cure, —for— Coughs, Colds and Consumption. "Best in the World."

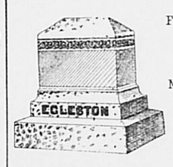
Originated by Lowe & Reed, 1826.
CUTLER BROS. & CO., Boston. 50c., $1.00.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE
Use Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cures the worst Cough, Weak Lungs, Debility, Indigestion, Pain, Take in time. 50 cts.
HINDERCORNS. The only sure cure for Corns. Stops all pain. 15c. at Druggists, or HISCOX & Co., N. Y.

CALIFORNIA, CREGON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO; AND ALL WESTERN POINTS.
Select Excursions from Chicago Every Day,
Via Chicago, Union Pacific, and Northwestern Line.
SHORTEST ROUTE. LOWEST RATES
For handsome illustrated folder and detailed information address W. MASSEY, N. E. Pass. Agt., or J. S. SMITH, Trav. Pass. Agt., Union Pacific Ry., 250 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Granite and Marble Monuments.



FINEST WORKMANSHIP AND LOWEST PRICES. NEW DESIGNS ARE BEING ADDED TO MY STOCK CONSTANTLY.

WILLIAM F. COOK,
182 and 184 State St., Springfield, Mass.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

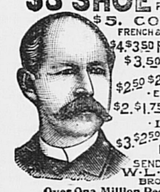
CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE IS THE BEST.

$5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELLED CALF.
$4 $3.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO.
$3.50 POLICE, 3 SOLES.
$2.50 $2. WORKINGMEN'S.
EXTRA FINE.
$2. $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES.
LADIES.
$3. $2.50 $2. $1.75
BEST DONGOLA.



SEND FOR CATALOGUE
W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

Over One Million People wear the W. L. Douglas $3 & $4 Shoes

All our shoes are equally satisfactory

They give the best value for the money. They equal custom shoes in style and fit. Their wearing qualities are unsurpassed. The prices are uniform,—stamped on sole From $1 to $3 saved over other makes. If your dealer cannot supply you we can. Sold by

ED. GOODES, PALMER. 21-40

Get a Glass! Quick!

There's lots of snap and vim in this HIRES' ROOTBEER. There's lots of pleasure and good health in it, too. A delicious drink, a temperance drink, a home-made drink, a drink that delights the old and young. Be sure and get the genuine

HIRES' Rootbeer

25 cent package makes 5 gallons. Sold everywhere.
THE CHAS. E. HIRES COMPANY,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

S. & W. Wind Engines

For Pumping and Power.

Do not be deceived by misleading advertisements. If you or your friends are in need of anything in the following lines, send for our new and handsome catalogue of 175 pages now ready for mailing.

Hot Air Engines, Steam Engines and Boilers, Tanks, Pumps, Pipe-fittings, Steam or Hot Water House Heating Boilers, &c.

SMITH & WINCHESTER CO.,
19 to 37 Wendell St., BOSTON 141 Centre St., NEW YORK.

"HE THAT WORKS EASILY WORKS SUCCESSFULLY." 'TIS VERY EASY TO CLEAN HOUSE WITH 54

SAPOLIO

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 31, 1895. NUMBER 9.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one-half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 30 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODIES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LeGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R.R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BOND, A. M., Manufacturer and Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, Tinware, Hardware, etc.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Coal. AgtWhite Star and Anchor SS Co's.

WARE.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. E. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

PALMER LODGE, No. 190, I. O. O. F.
Meets every Wednesday evening in Commercial Block, Main street.
M. M. THOMAS, N. G. G. H. BRAY, Rec. Sec.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W.
Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in Grange Hall, Day's Block, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

BICYCLES

RAMBLERS, . .	$100.00
ENVOY, ...	75.00
FLEETWING (ladies) .	75 00
STORMER, . . .	60.00
CRAWFORD, . . .	50.00

All warranted fully. Sweaters and bicycle sundries for sale. Also have good wheels to rent.

ERNEST D. TUFTS,
Holden's Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

FINEST GROWN

FINE STATIONERY.

Many ladies are troubled to find just the size, shade or weight of correspondence paper which they would like. With something like

200 VARIETIES

To select from we ought to be able to please you. Any style of paper in any size or shape, and you may have 100 sheets or 1000, as you prefer. We'd be pleased to show you samples at the JOURNAL Office. Your monogram or initials embossed in color if desired.

How to Make a Big Day's Wages Easy.

If "A Dollar Saved is a Dollar Gained," (as the old proverb says) then here is the way to make several dollars when investing in a MACKINTOSH Coat.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY.

A handsome Blue Cashmere Sleeveless Mackintosh, Double Texture, with fancy Plaid Lining. Regular price, $7.00.

The price will be reduced 25 cents each working day until it is sold. If not sold upon the 30th day the first lady asking for it can have it FREE.

OUR SUMMER CORSET

Is a leader among 50 cent Corsets. Made of handsome Coutille Net, two side steels, extra long waisted,

50 CENTS A PAIR.

LADIES' SHIRT WAISTS.

New Designs, New Patterns, New Styles, Endless Variety. Sizes, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, at prices

FROM 50 CENTS UPWARD.

T. H. TODD.
Boston Store, Monson, Mass.

W. D. KINSMAN.

GLAD WE ARE UNDERSTOOD.

The reliability of our stock is so well known that when we say:

"THE BEST GOODS AT PRICES BELOW THOSE OFFERED BY ANY COMPETITOR,"

buyers at once crowd our store for bargains. You can surely depend upon the quality of our goods. Seasonable goods well selected, offered at low prices turns the season into a busy one for us.

Are you interested in the following?

For graduating and commencement dresses we offer.

WHITE JAPANESE SILKS,

20	inches wide,	38	cents	per	yard.
23	" "	50	"	"
26	" "	58	"	"
27	" "	68	"	"
30-inch Twill,		87	"	"

These are very much under regular prices, as every lady will readily admit who sees them.

White and cream silk mulls, white and cream chiffons, Persians lawns, India linens, French nainsooks, French organdies, dimities, plain and dotted Swisses, and all the needful and appropriate things for trimmings, including eyelet and button hole chiffons, embroideries and laces.

LACES.

We doubt if you find anywhere else in this region such a line to select from—an assortment of so large a range of styles and qualities and such extraordinary good values. All the newest and brightest things are here.

WHITE PARASOLS.

China Silk, Surah Silk, Chiffon. Some of them have choice Dresden Ball Handles. New goods arriving daily. Seasonable and of the latest designs.

WAISTS.

Another large invoice opened yesterday helped to fill the gaps made by the big selling of last week, and brightens up the line most beautifully. No job lots among our shirt waists—but all fresh, new goods, and prices right—ranging from 75 cents to $3.50.

KID GLOVES

The highest grade. One dollar real kid glove. It combines more forms of goodness than any other with fineness and elasticity of skin, shape, fit, and beauty of shades.

We have them both in self-color, and black pointing, those with black points having black welts.

FEATHER BOAS.

Real Ostrich feather boas, 45 and 54 inches long, from $7.50 to $19.75.

FEATHER COLLARS.

Real Ostrich feather collars from $2.75 to $7.50.

W. D. KINSMAN, CORNER OF MAIN AND BRIDGE STREETS,
SPRINGFIELD, - - - MASS.

If you are going to use any

WALL PAPER

this spring it will

PAY YOU

to look at our line and get

OUR PRICES.

We have our NEW STOCK all in and know we are very bottom on prices.

WE WILL UNDERSELL

any city in the state of Massachusetts.

LeGRO & LYNDE,
DRUGGISTS,
Next Door to Post Office, Palmer.

. . . . THE . . . .
Teachers' Convention
IN JULY.

CHEAPEST RATES OUT OF NEW ENGLAND TO ALL POINTS WEST, VIA. THE

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY,

Niagara Falls, and The Great St. Clair Tunnel,

Also via. MONTREAL, following the shores of the famous ST. LAWRENCE RIVER for three hundred miles.

FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATIONS, UNEQUALLED SERVICE.

Teachers returning will complete the enjoyment of their trip by taking a sail through the Thousand Islands and the Rapids of the St. Lawrence from Kingston to Montreal.

For further particulars as to this route, apply to

N. J. Grace, D. P. A., G. T. Ry., Boston, Mass.
G. T. Bell, A. G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal, P. Q.
N. J. Power, G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal, P. Q.

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY
AND MACHINE SHOP.
At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.
MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL JOBBING DONE
At short notice and reasonable prices.
52-35 R. B. FRANCIS.

E. S. BRYANT, D. M. D.
DENTIST.
LYNDE'S BLOCK. - PALMER.
Office Hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

SMITH & MURRAY.

STRAW MATTINGS.

More mattings have been sold this season than any year since they came into use. In the first place low-price floor coverings have been in demand, and a Straw Matting covers more space for the money than anything else you can buy. They also wear well—where you buy a good one—they are easily taken care of, and keep bright and clean.

The demand for our Mattings has been such that several grades have been closed out, and we have put on sale a number of higher grades at the price of the lower.

Thus our popular 12½c. Matting is now 10c., the 15c. kind 12½c., and the 19c. kind 15c.

Fine inlaid Japanese Mattings, cotton warp, 25c.

JAPANESE RUGS.

Nothing better than these for matting-covered floors. Prices are cut in two.

BYZANTINE RUGS.

A new purchase of these popular rugs; heavy and double-faced.

21 x 45	$ .75
26 x 54	1.00
39 x 60	1.25
36 x 72	1 69

Fourth floor, take elevator.

WASH GOODS.

Just received about 100 new patterns in a 36-inch Percale, best quality, 12½c. Silk Ginghams, 50c. quality for 37½c. 37½c. quality for 25c. Plisse Royal 25c. quality for 15c. Zephyr Laine, a good imitation of challie, 8c. a yard, worth 12½c.

Rear of center store.

MEN'S UNDERWEAR.

Men's Egyptian and Lisle Thread Yarn Ribbed Shirts and Drawers, 44c. Usually sold for 75c.

Men's White Ribbed Shirts and Drawers, 25c., worth 39c.

A full line of Men's Negligee Shirts at 49c., 75c. and $1.

Main store, left.

GLOVES.

Special value in Men's Lisle Thread Gloves, 15c. You have paid 50c. for Gloves no better than these.

Ladies' Silk Mitts, 18c.

Ladies' Taffeta Gloves, 19c.

Center store

SMITH & MURRAY.

-: Coal Notice. :-

After getting through a long hard winter and having a few dollars left, I bought early in the season some good coal of diffierent sizes which I will sell at the following low prices, for May delivery. All coal screened, and if desired put in bin:

Lackawanna Stove,	-	-	$4.80 per ton
" Nut,	-	-	$4.80 " "
" Egg,	-	-	$4.60 " "
Lehigh Stove,	-	-	$4.95 " "
" Nut,	-	-	$4.95 " "
" Egg,	-	-	$4.80 " "

These prices are for coal delivered a reasonable distance from station, if taken from cars on arrival. I shall be here twelve months in the year to look after the business and solicit a share of the trade. Special prices on large lots.

Yours Very Respectfully,

RALPH CLIFFORD,
Monson, Mass., May 15th, 1895.

New Every Morning.

Every day is a fresh beginning;
Every morn is the world made new.
You who are weary of sorrow and sinning,
Here is a beautiful hope for you,
A hope for me and a hope for you.

All the past things are past and over.
The tasks are done, and the tears are shed.
Yesterday's errors let yesterday cover;
Yesterday's wounds, which smarted and bled,
Are healed with the healing which might has shed.

Yesterday now is a part of forever.
Bound up in a sheaf, which God holds tight,
With glad days, and sad days, and bad days which never Shall visit us more with their bloom and their blight,
Their fullness of sunshine or sorrowful night.

Let them go since we cannot recall them,
Cannot undo and cannot atone.
God in his mercy receive, forgive them!
Only the new days are our own.
To-day is ours, and to-day alone.

Here are the skies all burnished brightly;
Here is the spent earth all reborn;
Here are the tired limbs springing lightly
To face the sun and to share with the morn
In the chrism of dew and the cool of dawn.

Every day is a fresh beginning,
Listen, my soul, to the glad refrain,
And, spite of old sorrow and older sinning,
And puzzles forecasted, and possible pain,
Take heart with the day and begin again!

—Susan Coolidge.

LIMPY JIM.

The Leadville stage pulled out of Webster station one evening after supper with 12 "pilgrims" for the city in the clouds. Webster was the end of the track, and the route from there to the carbonate camp lay over the summit of Kenosha mountain, through the northern end of the South park and across the famous Red hill, a doubly significant title by reason of the color of the soil and the bloody murders committed there by the Mexican bandits, the Espinosos. From Red hill the road again enters the South park, and passes through the old town of Fairplay, once boisterous with the gayety of pioneer gold diggers.

Red hill was the danger point on the first division of the road. Near the summit is a little basin, where the road is completely hidden from view on all sides. Little gulches lead up to this spot from the South park, affording every opportunity for road agents to reach the place unseen and to likewise make their escape. "Pilgrims" for Leadville usually were supplied with money, and a great deal of wealth originally intended for investment in the carbonate camp was turned over to gentlemanly persons who encountered the stage in the little basin on Red hill.

The individual who sat on the dusty old Concord coach and pulled the ribbons over six bronchos between Webster and Fairplay was known as Jim. I made his acquaintance while we were at dinner in the rough board "eating house" at Webster. He was a tall, slim, muscular man, with a swarthy complexion, dark eyes and a heavy mustache, black as jet from the copious use of dye. He wore high topped boots, with extremely high heels, and his feet were small and delicately shaped. His trousers were of gorgeous plaid material, but the bottoms were worn inside his boot tops. A wide brimmed, white slouch hat was cocked rakishly on the side of his head. Some garish jewelry adorned the front of his waistcoat. There was a jaunty air about him which was less pronounced by reason of the stiff and awkward way he carried his arms. I attributed this to the natural effect of driving six spirited horses for years over a mountain road.

He had formerly been a gentleman of fortune, and at one time in his career had amassed a considerable sum of money in the game of chance known as draw poker. When he was at the height of his prosperity, another gentleman of fortune, late of Texas, drifted unostentatiously into camp and caused the report to be circulated that he was aching for a game. Jim undertook to relieve the gentleman of the pain he was suffering on that account, and they met in the back room of Uncle Billy Coleman's Palace of Fashion, on Main street.

There was a slight controversy in the early part of the game, caused by a remark of Jim's to the effect that "people from Texas seemed to have more luck than a Chinaman."

The gentleman from Texas demurred at this and said there was no such thing as luck in draw poker. The chance features of the game, he said, had all been elimated by the application of skill and science. He then proceeded to demonstrate his assertion, which he did to perfection. At the end of six hours Jim's earthly possessions consisted of the suit of clothes he was wearing. Everything else he had owned in the world had passed into the hands of the skillful and scientific gentleman from Texas.

The Fairplay gambler arose from the table and relieved himself of some choice profanity, most of which was directed against himself. He declared that he was "better qualified to drive a stage than to pose as a gentleman of fortune." The superintendent of the stage line, who was present, jocosely offered Jim a job, and the penniless gambler in a spirit of bravado accepted it and declared then and there that he would never touch the "pasteboards" again as long as he lived.

The gentleman from Texas took his departure as unostentatiously as he had come, but leaving behind him in his room at the hotel a peculiar wire and elastic contrivance which puzzled the brain of the landlord to determine its use. Several persons to whom he exhibited it declared they had never seen anything like it before, but Jim at once recognized it as a contrivance known as a holdout, by means of which a player retained cards in his possession, secreted in his sleeve which should be in the deck. The phenomenal "hands" held by the gentleman from Texas were no longer a mystery to Jim. He now understood that it was not "Chinaman's luck" that had beaten him, but this little contrivance worn under the clothing, by the operation of which all elements of chance were eliminated from draw poker and the game reduced to a "dead moral certainty." It was true, as the gentleman from Texas had remarked, that luck cut no figure in the play. It was a question of skill and science.

As Jim was the only person in Fairplay who had anything like an intimate acquaintance with the scientist from Texas, the landlord presented him with the little implement that had worked the former's financial ruin. Jim's first impulse was to secrete the holdout upon his person and seek revenge upon the unsuspecting miners in the gulch, but he remembered that he had hired himself to the stage company and forsworn gambling. He was a man of his word, and a stage driver he became. It was a monotonous life until the road agents began to pay frequent visits to the line, and Jim liked it. The only thing that disturbed his serenity was the recollection of the gentleman from Texas. If he could but once meet that scientist face to face, life would take on new charms for him.

I had a seat beside Jim on the Leadville coach, and as the horses crawled slowly up the grade of Kenosha mountain preparatory to a wild dash down the other side into the South park, I remarked to him that it was going to be a pleasant night. He replied that you never could tell much about nights in that country until the next day; he had seen nights just as promising as this one turn out real bad before daybreak. The very best of meteorological predictions were likely to fail in a country so thickly infested with gentlemen of the road.

I expressed a desire to have a view of Red hill as we crossed that famous elevation and wondered if the moon would be down before we got there. Jim vouchsafed the information that the moon would be up, but added that he had known of people's appetite for scenery being permanently destroyed by gazing on Red hill by moonlight.

I was sound asleep with my head on Jim's shoulder when he nudged me and said:

"We're going up Red hill now. Help yourself to scenery, and if you've got any valuables about you you'd better hide them. We're liable to see more things than scenery."

Then the horses came to a sudden stop, and Jim and I were looking down the muzzle of a revolver in the steady hand of a horseman beside the wheelers.

"Will you step down for a moment, driver?" asked the gentlemen on horseback.

Jim replied that he was just thinking of getting down, as he was tired of sitting. I followed him and took my place beside him in time to see the other passengers descend one by one from the inside of the coach with their hands above their heads and take a place in line beside us.

There were but two of the road agents. While one of them relieved the passengers of their weapons and articles of value the other was in the front boot of the stage securing the treasure box.

When the first robber came opposite to Jim, he drew back in surprise, exclaiming, "Well, I'll be hanged!,'

For a second only he was off his guard, but that brief space of time was a fatal one. A pistol cracked, and he fell shot through the head.

"Bang, crack!" went two more shots. Both took effect. The second road agent reeled and fell from the boot of the stage, and Jim was lying beside the first robber. It was the big six shooter of the man on the stage that had answered Jim's first shot, and it was the crack of the derringer that had terminated the brief battle.

Jim was wounded in the leg. A young doctor in the party stanched the flow of blood, and we proceeded on our way with the bodies of the two bandits thrown into the hind boot.

The shooting was shrouded in mystery so far as the passengers were concerned. They had seen Jim's six shooter taken from his bolster by the bandits, after which a careful search had been made to see that he had no other weapon, but when we picked him up a derringer was clasped in either hand. The question was, how had he managed to conceal them and bring them into use at such an opportune time? The mystery was solved when his clothing was removed at the hotel in Fairplay. Under his waistcoat was the wire and elastic poker holdout formerly belonging to the gentleman from Texas. The nippers for holding the cards had been removed, and a circular clasp large enough to securely hold the handle of a derringer had been attached in their place. The gentleman to whom the contrivance originally belonged was in the hind boot. His surprise upon recognizing Jim accounted for his presence there.

Jim's leg was broken, and the doctor informed him that when he recovered that leg would be shorter than the other; that he would always limp when he walked.

"It's all my fault," said Jim.

"I don't see how you can make that out."

"Well, it was this way: When I let the derringers down into my hands, I calculated to shoot the man on the boot with the gun in my right hand and take the nighest feller with my left, but just then I recognized him as the gent I was mostly seekin after, a gent from Texas who skinned me out o' my pile with this yere hold out, an, doc, the temptation was too great. I give it to him with my right, an it took me too long to get a bead on the other one. But, say, doc, this science is a great thing."—Chicago Times.

NOTHING LIKE PRESENCE OF MIND.

A gossiper in the Washington Post tells a story on Col. William R. Morrison. The colonel believes thoroughly in the efficacy of discipline. He has spent a great part of his eventful career in hotels, and one of his theories has always been that the mind can be so trained that the biggest sort of a hotel fire is powerless to side-track the reasoning faculties on occasions when presence of mind is needed. He impressed his theory very strongly upon Mrs. Morrison by conjuring up a variety of critical exigencies and instructing her how to act in given cases.

Fate would have it that the colonel should be put to the test. He and his wife were aroused from their slumbers one night by an alarm of fire. The hotel in which they had their rooms was afire, and great confusion and tumult ensued among the guests. "Now is the time to put into practice what I have always preached to you, my dear," said the colonel. "Don't get excited. Put on all your indispensable apparel and take your time. Don't lose your head. Just watch me."

He calmed Mrs. Morrison's anxiety, handed her the various articles necessary to her toilet, put on his collar and cuffs, took his watch from under his pillow and placed it in his vest pocket, put on his hat, packed a valise of valuables, and taking his cane, walked with Mrs. Morrison out of the burning building into the street.

"Now, my dear," he said, when they were safe, "don't you see what a grand thing it is to keep cool and act with a deliberate purpose in an emergency like this? Here you are completely dressed, as though you were going out for a walk, and over yonder are several ladies in complete dishabille."

Just then Mrs. Morrison for the first time glanced at her husband. "You are right, William," she said, "it is a grand thing to keep cool and act deliberately, but if I had been you I would have stayed in the room long enough to put on my trousers."

A SAD CASE.

There is an Illinois Congressman who is a trifle absent minded. His friends tell a story about him which exasperates him so that he has threatened to kill the very next person who repeats it. That only proves that it is true, you know. However, this is the story. The Congressman was walking along a Chicago street one day with a friend, when he was stopped by a beggar, who bore the sign, "Help the dumb."

The Congressman—you know how tender-hearted Congressmen are—went down into his pocket. He looked at the beggar sympathetically as he handed him a half dollar.

"How long have you been dumb?" he asked.

"Twenty years," said the beggar.

"Dear me! dear me!" murmured the Congressman as he walked on. "Isn't that dreadful! Dumb 20 years."

And the point dawned on him.—Washington Post.

Difficult Question.—He—"You girls seemed to have been discussing something very earnestly as I came up."

She—"Yes. We were discussing whether it were better to marry a poor young man who could abide pug dogs or a rich old man who couldn't."—Indianapolis Journal.

PALMER HISTORY GLEANINGS.

BY O. P. ALLEN.

II.

The Methodist Chapel at Blanchardville.

During the first century of our town's history there had been but one place of worship, and as all know, that place was located at the Old Center, when from the earliest days of our town life each Sabbath had found some member at least of all the families present, for church going was then considered a paramount duty. But in 1836, just after the organization of the Baptist and Methodist churches at Three Rivers, and some years after the Blanchards had inaugurated their industry on the banks of the Quaboag a mile east of our present village, quite a number of the workmen and others who styled themselves Methodists, desiring to hold meetings suited to their ways of thinking, took measures to provide a place of worship. To this end they bought the ell part of the William Upham house, where Mr. William Bennett now resides, at Blanchardville, and moved it to the site now occupied by the house of Daniel Haley. This building was converted into a chapel of modest proportion, being about 20x25 feet, without adornment of any kind, but it served the purpose of those most interested, who doubtless believed that zeal would make up for lack of ostentation. John Dadmun, a scythe temperer in the Blanchard factory, was the class leader, and there are a few now living in town who remember with what unction he sang the stirring songs of those days, such as "Canaan, Bright Canaan," etc. His son, William Dadmun, who had just entered the Methodist ministry, supplied the desk a portion of the time, as did Rev. Moses Palmer, another young preacher, who died in this town in 1850 at the age of 35. In 1841 the celebrated William Miller preached in this chapel several times, drawing a crowd which could not be accommodated inside, so he stood near an open window that all might hear his message.

Meetings were continued in this chapel until about 1846, when owing to the death and removal of some of the members, the house was abandoned and sold to Mr. Palmer, who moved it to form the ell part of his new house at Tenneyville, now the residence of William Thompson near the school house. John Dadmun lived in an old house on the Bay Path just in the rear of Mr. Franklin Blanchard. His wife died in 1847 and he removed from town.

HAMILTON'S THIRTEEN TREES.

Over a century ago, on the upper west side, at a spot known as Fort George, but now a part of Harlem, Alexander Hamilton, whose breath was stopped by Aaron Burr's bullet, planted 13 trees within a radius of 13 square feet. Now they are sturdy oaks, and a splendid object lesson in forestry. Although planted on the knoll of an obscure hill, this bunch of timber attracts the attention of all who pass that way, whether they know its history or not. Like Hamilton was, these trees are now—namely, eccentric. One may face them from any angle, or any range of vision, and count them, but by some hocus pocus one is sure to miscalculate their number, invariably falling short at least one tree, a round dozen alone being visible.

In order to accurately count the trees in this big trunked maze one must scale the dilapidated fence surrounding the oaks and count them one by one, marking them in order to avoid a second error. You will then find that the unlucky number is there. Harlemites, who are acquainted with the mystery, frequently lay wagers with the uninitiated. After arousing a stranger's curiosity they eagerly bet him the beer, or something stronger, that he cannot count the Hamilton oaks correctly. They always win, of course. Then they take pride in telling the loser how to play the game on others and get even. Any native up that way will tell you that this little story isn't a romance.—New York Letter in Pittsburg Dispatch.

THE VERDICT.

In a certain country in Kentucky lived, just outside the county seat, a farmer who had plenty of money, and was active in politics, but he had no ambition for office.

He was a very popular man, and the time came at last when his friends said it was his duty to save his party by coming out as a candidate for the legislature. He wouldn't listen to it, but they were so persitent, that for his own peace of mind, he finally agreed to run, but assured them he would make no effort to be elected, and they would have to do all the work. Having full confidence in the potency of his name, they put it at the head of their ticket and went into the campaign with vigor. During its continuance he showed little interest, but on election day he went early to town and stayed there till the polls closed. By 10 o'clock that night the returns were in and a hasty count showed that he had been overwhelmingly defeated. Then he filled up and went home.

"Susan, Susan," he whooped, when he got into the house, "I'm acquitted. Hooray. Ain't you glad?"

"Why, George,' she exclaimed, "what do you mean?"

"Why, Susan, I'm acquitted—acquitted, don't you understand? The jury was out all day and they returned a verdict to-night of not guilty, and Susan I won't have to go to the legislature. Whoop! Hoory!"

LIGHTING A PIPE IN THE WIND.

"Paddling up Sebec lake last summer in a birch-bark canoe," said a New York sportsman, "the breeze blew so hard and constantly that, try as I might, I could not keep a match ablaze long enough to light my pipe. After a half dozen matches had flared out in the lighting of them, I made some forcible remarks apropos of my failure.

"'Let me show you how to do it,' said my companion, an old Californian, who was handling the bow paddle. 'Hand me a bit of that newspaper sticking out of your pocket.'

"He took the piece of paper and crumpled it up into a wad, which he retained in the palm of his hand. Then striking a match, he closed both hands about it to shield it from the wind, after the traditional manner of the railroad navvy in lighting his pipe The flame instantly set the paper smouldering on top without its breaking into a blaze. He passed the burning wad to me, and it served as a pipe lighter equal to a live coal, the high breeze fanning, instead of extinguishing it. It was the simple invention of a practical mind, which served my turn then and afterward, and I commend the device to sportsmen needing tinder for a pipe light or to start a camp fire."

"Books that have helped me?" said an eminent citizen. "Books that have helped me? I guess that Webster's dictionary contributed as much to my elevation as any. I used to sit on it regularly at my meals when I was a small boy."—Indianapolis Journal.

Suffragist—"I tell you the women are advancing right along."

Gayboy—"Yes, the married ones; single ones never get beyond a certain stage."—Boston Courier.

Applicant—"Please, mum, the lady wot washes the steps for that women which lives opposite ses as you wants a girl."—Pall Mall Budget.

HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS.

A FULL LINE OF

STABLE AND . . .

STREET BLANKETS

—AT—

WHOLESALE PRICES.

D. W. FOSKETT,
FOSKET'S MILLS.

FRESH
Milk and Cream.

MAPLE
LAWN
MILK
FARM.

O. D. WELLS, Proprietor.

TRADE SCHOOL DEPARTMENT
OF THE
Springfield Industrial Institute,
Springfield, Mass.

DAY INSTRUCTION in Pattern Making, Cabinet Making, Plumbing, Brick Laying and Plastering, Stone Cutting, Sign and Carriage Painting, Machine Shop Practice.

COURSES 4 months to 1 year in length. Finely equipped shops. Skilled mechanics for instructors.

FOUR OTHER DEPARTMENTS: Industrial High School, Engineering, Normal Manual Training, Normal Kindergarten.

For particulars address
4-26 L. P. STRONG, Director.

CHARLES E. LYNCH.

There's a pile of humbug in the clothing business, perhaps more than in any other. Everything under the sun is done to cover up, to cloak the plain and naked truth. Cotton fabrics have fancy names. Cotton with a smattering of wool is sometimes "Union," sometimes "Satinette." Anything to make it seem fine, sound fine. Certain grades of wool are even so poor, so flimsy, so almost worthless as to be a grotesque mockery of the genuine article.

Is there any wear to such stuff? Hardly. Any style? If there is, so much the worse. It's only aggravating the evil. It's throwing good money after bad. It's increasing the cost, and always—at your expense. There isn't an ounce of wear in a ton of such stuff. Why buy it? Why wear it?

"Good Clothes" are the clothes to buy, the clothes to wear. "Good Clothes" are all wool, absolutely all wool, good, clean, long fibre wool---wool that'll wear like iron. "Good Clothes" won't change color---only the very best dyes are used for good clothes. They'll stand it. They'll be all the better for it Like the setting of a precious stone, the more elaborate the style the finer the goods. It serves to enhance and heighten the sterling qualities of truly "Good Clothes."

CHARLES E. LYNCH of SPRINGFIELD sells only "Good Clothes," has always sold good clothes, never has, won't sell any other. The people of Western Massachusetts are coming to know, to understand this. "Good Clothes," absolutely "Good Clothes," and nothing else, are the solid foundation of LYNCH'S fast growing and magnificent business to-day.

If you want good clothes nowadays the place to get them is at LYNCH'S in SPRINGFIELD.

CHARLES E. LYNCH sells absolutely nothing else but good clothes---clothes that people admire because they're fine, that people talk about because there's nothing like them anywhere.

"Good" all wool Suit in Fancy Mixtures, $8.
"Good" all wool Serge Suit that won't change color, $10.
"Good" Clay Suit, substantial and durable, $12 and $15.
"Good" tailor-made custom Suits, $18, $20 and $22.

CHARLES E. LYNCH,
Promoter of Fashionable Clothing.
367 Main. SPRINGFIELD. 369 Main.
Your money refunded in case of any dissatisfaction whatever.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 31, 1895.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Here we go, money at less than face value. The first twenty-five persons, each bringing 49 cents to Milligan's shoe store to-morrow (Saturday) will be given in exchange for same a Columbian half-dollar. Many people have paid one dollar each for these coins. Don't forget that Milligan also sells summer shoes and slippers at less than sole value.

PALMER NEWS.

Memorial Day Exercises.

The Memorial Day exercises were much the same this year that they ordinarily are, perhaps rather more than usual interest being shown. The procession started from Grand Army hall at 8 a. m., headed by the Columbian band of Thorndike, and proceeded to the various cemeteries. The usual order was followed, Three Rivers, Four Corners Thorndike and Palmer, making quite an extended line of march. The women of the Relief Corps had prepared beautiful baskets and floral pieces for each grave, the departed members of the corps not being forgotten, special pieces being prepared for the unknown dead, the army nurses, and the corps' honorary member of the state department, Adjutant Gen. J. F. Meach. At the graves a male quartette, composed of [E. B. Taylor, W. A. Weld, F. O. Royce and C. F. Orcutt, furnished music, the selections being unusually sweet. The graves in the old cemetery at Palmer Center were not visited by the entire procession, a delegation being sent with decorations. On the return of the procession to the hall a dinner was provided by the women of the Relief Corps. At 2 p. m., Col. Chamberlain of Barre gave an address, which closed the exercises of the day. The warm, pleasant weather drew crowds of people from the outskirts, and the merchants did not forget to decorate their stores tastefully with flags. The mills and the banks were closed all day, and the stores closed at noon. Although the day was one of tender recollections, the people were in a cheerful mood and many made it a day of recreation. The Tockwotton bicycle club entertained its members in a very pleasant manner. They were taken in the morning for a coach ride to Belchertown, where the day was spent. In the evening there was a dance at the Belcher House, and the party returned late last night by moonlight. Good order prevailed throughout the day. An effort has been made to have the graves of Revolutionary heroes included in the decorations, but nothing was done about the matter this year. The friends of the movement hope to see it adopted next year.

H. A. Northrop is driving a new ice wagon.

Miss Ida Smith spent Sunday in South Coventry, Ct.

Fred Hovey and family of Springfield are visiting friends in town.

The water tank near the post office has been painted this week.

Herbert E. Rhodes has taken a position in E. A. Buck & Co's. store.

F. D. Barton and family spent Sunday with friends in North Brookfield.

Rev. J. J. Baker of Stouffville, Ont., spent Sunday with A. E. Fitch and family.

The committees of St. Paul's church met in a pastoral conference Tuesday evening.

Mrs. E. H. Hitchcock of Warren has been the guest of Mrs. John Foster this week.

John Ronan, recently of Boston, is now employed in Joseph Provost's barber shop.

Two members were received into the Baptist church last Sunday evening by baptism.

H. L. Holden of New York arrived home Wednesday evening for a two-weeks' vacation.

Miss Carrie Burdick, formerly of Monson, is visiting her brother's family on Pearl street.

Miss Mary Cowles of Boston is the guest of her aunt, Miss M. E. Sedgwick on Pleasant street.

The next regular communication of Thomas Lodge will be held Monday evening, at 7.30 o'clock.

Mrs. E. C. Washburn has returned from a visit with her brother, Guy McIlvain, at Willimantic, Ct.

Miss Lelia Fuller and Rufus Parkhurst were baptised at the Baptist church last Sunday evening.

D. W. Taft and daughter, Miss Anna, of Boston, were in town this week, renewing old acquaintances.

Quite a number of the lovers of horses in this village attended the Wild West show in Springfield Monday.

Samuel W. Crocker, 73, died at his home in Palmer Center Monday of heart disease. He leaves two daughters.

Wallace Knowlton of Bondsville is employed as assistant in the bicycle department of E. A. Buck & Co's. store.

There was a social and bean supper at the Baptist church Tuesday evening, the attendance being very satisfactory.

G. L. Hitchcock of Keene, N. H., a former Palmer resident and business man, spent the day yesterday with old friends.

The New London Northern branch of the Central Vermont railroad sold tickets to all points at reduced prices yesterday.

The graduating class of Monson Academy was entertained Saturday afternoon by Miss Ada Wing, at her home on North Main street.

Master Allen Atkins, trick rider, has been presented with a new wheel, the Rambler, by the manufacturers, Gormully & Jeffrey of Chicago.

A complaint was made in the district court Tuesday against Ezekiel Dimmick of Wales, for failing to provide proper schooling for his daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Aiken and daughter of New Haven, formerly of Palmer, who have been visiting the family of W. A. Barnes, returned to their home Monday.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will take for his theme next Sunday morning: "God would have all men to be saved but cannot save them; does this inability limit His power?"

At the Congregational church Sunday morning the pastor will preach on "A Gospel Church." In the evening the sermon will be on "The Real Reason for Rejecting Christ."

Two ladies were passing D. L. Bodfish's store one day this week, when one of them remarked, "That is a pretty show window," and the other smilingly answered, "Of corset is!"

It has been decided to close the Baptist church the last two weeks in June for repairs. A carpet will be laid in the audience room, and the building will be thoroughly renovated.

Judge Robinson has returned from his Western trip, and has been greatly benefitted by the journey. The injury received from being kicked by a horse has almost ceased to trouble him.

Fred Adams and C. L. Jewett of Monson went trout fishing yesterday. They returned last night with a brook trout weighing 2 lbs. 4 oz., and will have a spread at the depot restaurant in honor of the event.

The contracts for building the addition to the almshouse have been awarded to C. S. Ruggles of Three Rivers and S. W. Stanchfield of Palmer. The prices were, for the woodwork, $1095; brick work, $137.35.

The teachers of this village will give a teachers' afternoon from 4 to 7, to-morrow, and have been offered the use of the rooms Palmer Business and Social club. All the teachers of the town will be entertained.

The electric light company complain of boys throwing stones at the globes of the street lights, and in many instances breaking them. They have secured the names of two of the miscreants, and if the practice is continued they will be made an example of.

The flag of L. L. Merrick post, G. A. R., was displayed at half-mast Wednesday as a mark of respect to the late Secretary Gresham, whose funeral occurred that day; the flag on the high school building was also at half-mast.

The following pupils have been perfect in attendance for the last month in the wire mill school: Dorance Crosby, Analda Smart, Sarah Huggard, Rufus Crosby, Nellie Hecox, Louisa Tracy, George Dane, Thomas Huggard, Delia Smith.

The Ladies' Social Union of St. Paul's church will hold its annual strawberry festival next Tuesday evening. Supper at 6 o'clock. An entertainment will be given at 7.30 free to all. Ice cream and cake will be served. Supper 25 cents. All are invited.

G. M. Atkins & Co. have been awarded the contract for building a bridge across the Merrimac river at Hooksett, N. H., for the Concord and Montreal railroad. The same firm is now engaged in building a dam across the Ware river at Gilbertville, for the Gilbert Manufacturing Co.

Several from the Universalist church will attend the annual meeting of the Union Association to be held in Spencer next Wednesday. Rev. J. F. Albion, a former pastor in this village is to give one of the addresses. George Robinson is the president, and Rev. H. F. Moulton secretary of the association.

It is not often that you can get money for less than its face value, but the first twenty-five persons who call at W. R. Milligan's shoe store to-morrow morning will receive a Columbian half dollar for 49 cents. This piece is valuable as a souvenir, and it will be remembered sold at a premium when it was first issued.

Philip, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fitzpatrick, was bitten by a dog Monday morning. The child was playing in the yard, and the dog, it is said, bit him without any provocation. The dog was at once killed. Dr. William Holbrook attended the boy, and found the right arm below the elbow somewhat lacerated. The wound is healing rapidly, and no serious consequences are anticipated.

The school teachers in the depot village will give a teachers' afternoon to-morrow from 4 to 7 o'clock. All the teachers of the town will be entertained, and the assembly room of the Palmer Business and Social Club will be used for the purpose. The club members should understand that their privileges are not to be interfered with in any way, as only the assembly room is to be occupied.

New concrete walks seem to be the order of the day, and the concreters are doing a rushing business. Rev. W. H. Hart and J. H. Woolrich have extended their walks across the street at Pine street, and S. H. Hellyar and L. B. Fish have laid new walks in front of their residences, thus making a continuous concrete walk from Main street to and including St. Thomas's church. A new top dressing has been laid on the cross-walk at Foster avenue, and Mrs. John Blanchard has new concrete walks from her house to the sidewalk on Park street.

The Palmer bicycle club's road race will come off next Thursday, and the course has been decided upon as follows: Start from the club rooms in Palmer, to Church street, through School and Park streets to Tenneyville, thence direct to Monson post office by way of Academy hill. Returning by way of Washington street to Main street, thence direct to starting point. Riders from Ware, Warren, West Warren, Monson, Wilbraham, Thorndike, Three Rivers, Bondsville, and Palmer will be eligible. About 15 prizes have been received, among them a suit of clothes, a bicycle suit etc., and more are expected. There is great interest felt in this race, and members of the Palmer club hope to keep the record made in the local club.

Mrs. A. M. Smith and Mrs. H. F. Moulton left on the 1.17 train to-day for Brooklyn, N. Y., where they will be the guests over night of Rev. and Mrs. M. A. Crosley, formerly of Springfield. To-morrow at 11 o'clock they will embark on the Cunard steamer "Campania," for Liverpool. Mrs. Smith will visit her old home in Duesbury, Yorkshire County, and vicinity, a few weeks, then they will join Mrs. Crosley's party in London and take a tour of two months through England, Holland, Belgium, Germany and the Black Forest, Switzerland, Italy, Bavaria, France, Scotland and Ireland. This is the eighth select European party which Mrs. Crosley has planned and conducted. She is well known by several in this village.

Rev. J. H. MacDonald, who has been supplying the pulpit in the Baptist church for some time, preached his last sermon Sunday. Saturday night Mr. MacDonald was given a very pleasant surprise at the home of Mrs. Charles Capen. Mr. MacDonald was taking an evening stroll with a friend, who proposed that they call upon Mrs. Capen. They did so and were ushered into a darkened room. When lights were brought Mr. MacDonald found himself surrounded by about 100 of his friends. The evening was passed very pleasantly and C. B. Fiske, after a brief address, presented him with a small purse, containing $25 in gold, on behalf of the company. Mr. MacDonald left Monday, followed by the good wishes of many Palmer friends.

It is queer that people will be so thoughtless as to drive a horse up to a tree instead of a hitching post, as many do. This simple act has led many men to use language very unbecoming, but perhaps with some justification, and the custom will doubtless be followed until men and horses are no more. This week it is Ed. Goodes who has cause to complain, a horse hitched to a maple tree at his residence on Pine street tearing off a strip of bark about three feet long and four inches wide, permanently spoiling the looks of the tree. Mr. Goodes has been to considerable pains to get his trees started, on account of the lightness of the soil in his neighborhood, and as they are now in a flourishing condition, is naturally anxious to keep them so.

A union picnic of the Universalist Sunday schools, in Springfield, Monson, Warren and Ware (Unitarian), will be held at Forest Lake, Tuesday July 2. St. Paul's Universalist Sunday school of this village will entertain. Committees were appointed last Sunday, as follows: Transportation, C. E. Fish, G. F. Sedgwick; arrangements, Rev. H. F. Moulton, Mrs. J. F. Holbrook, Mrs. W. W. Leach, Mrs. E. L. Davis; entertainment, Messrs. Edwin Brooks, Walter Brown, Frank Keith, Walter Goodes, Joseph Page, Guy Stanchfield, Brigham Ball, and Misses Bessie Royce, Carrie Fish, Pearl Lawton, Bertha Royce, Ola Northrop, Ethel Ely, Lizzie Wassum, Helen Robinson, Hattie Paine, Eloise Stone, May Robinson and Fannie Blanchard.

The guests of the Converse House were considerably annoyed a few evenings ago by being ordered to take their chairs from the sidewalk in front of the building into the office. Officer Murphy gave the order having been instructed to do so by the selectmen. The selectmen have done much this year which the citizens of the town appreciate, and most of the latter hope the officers will not exceed their authority in matters which are likely to arouse a feeling of resentment. It is said the owners of property on the east side of Main street can control the land several feet into the street. When the street was laid out a survey was made establishing the proper lines. The property owners filed papers which prevented their rights being taken from them after the lapse of time, and it is said these papers still hold. If they do, occupants of Main street property have a right to blockade the sidewalks as much as they see fit. Even if the matter becomes a nuisance it is found the selectmen have no power to abate it.

State Primary School Notes.

Rev. Mr. MacDonald spoke to the children last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Buss start to-day for a ten-days' vacation.

Miss May Royce returned Monday from a short vacation in Brimfield.

Mr. Crane and daughter of Hanover spent Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Prentiss.

Clifford Wheeler rode to his home in Rutland Wednesday on his wheel, covering the distance in 2⅞ hours.

A large number of the boys, under the supervision of F. U. Wetmore, instructor in physical culture, escorted the grand army to the different cemeteries yesterday.

Base Ball.

THORNDIKE AND BONDSVILLE.

The Bondsvilles and Thorndikes played ball in the latter village yesterday forenoon, and Bondsville won. The game broke up in the seventh inning, and there seemed to be a good chance that if it had been continued the result would have been different. In the seventh iuning Bondsville made a kick on a perfectly proper decision of the umpire. There was no dispute about the play, but Bondsville was not satisfied with the rules, and went home. The score by innings:

Bondsville,	5	2	0	2	4	0	0	—	13
Thorndike,	1	0	0	0	2	4	2	—	9

BONDSVILLE, 6—PALMER, 5.

The Palmers met with a defeat on the diamond last Saturday, after a hard fought battle with the Bondsvilles. The game started in Bondsville's favor, 3 runs being scored in the first inning on some miserable plays on the part of the Palmers. In the third inning Palmer met with another setback. Nelson batted in Grace's turn, making a two-base hit, and bringing in a man. The error was discovered through Grace's making a kick, and Nelson was put out for batting out of turn. This making three out, the run brought in by Nelson did not count. Key of Bondsville made a ridiculous exhibition as often as he could find anything to kick about and was jeered by the crowd as often as there was an opportunity. The score:

BONDSVILLE.	R	B	PO	A	E	PALMER.	R	B	PO	A	E
Moakler, 3b,	1	0	1	3	2	Roche, 2b,	0	0	3	4	1
Tobin, c,	0	1	15	0	2	Murphy, ss,	0	1	0	1	1
Ryan, 1b,	3	1	5	0	0	Grace, c,	1	0	10	1	0
Key, 2b,	2	1	3	1	2	Nelson, 3b,	0	0	2	0	1
Sullivan, rf,	0	2	1	2	1	Larkin, p,	2	4	1	14	2
Donovan, ss,	0	0	0	1	1	Tryon, rf,	0	0	0	0	0
Scanlane, cf,	0	0	0	0	0	Doyle, 1b,	1	0	7	1	0
Moriarty, lf,	0	2	0	0	0	Gaffney, lf,	1	2	1	0	0
Shean, p,	0	0	1	16	0	Dart, rf,	0	1	1	1	0
						Rooney, rf,	0	0	2	0	0
Total,	7	7*	26	23	8	Total,	5	8	27	22	5

Bondsville,	3	0	2	0	0	0	1	0	0	—6
Palmer,	0	0	1	2	1	0	0	1	0	—5

Times at bat, Bondsville 38, Palmer 37. Total bases, Bondsville 8, Palmer 11. Sacrifice hits, Ryan, Key, Murphy, Gaffney. Stolen bases, Moakler, Donovan, Grace. Two-base hits, Sullivan, Larkin. Three-base hit, Gaffney. First base on balls, Ryan, Murphy, Nelson. First base on errors, Bondsville 3, Palmer 4. Left on bases, Bondsville 6, Palmer 7. Struck out, Moakler, Key 2, Donovan, Scanlane 3, Moriarty, Shean 2, Roach 4, Murphy 2, Tryon 3, Doyle 3, Dart, Rooney. Batters hit, Moakler, Chandler, Key, arms. Double play, Moakler and Ryan. Passed ball, Grace. Time 2h 40m. Umpire, Robert Armour. *Nelson out for batting out of turn.

THORNDIKE 36. PALMER 29.

A disgusting exhibition of poor ball playing took place on the Palmer park yesterday afternoon between the Thorndikes and the local team. Both sides pounded the ball without effort, and the base lines were kept hot by runners. Apparently neither nine made any effort to play ball, and the managers as well as the spectators were thoroughly out of patience. Little more can be said about the game, although one or two players on each side did good work as the scores will show. The score:

TH'NDIKE.	R	B	PO	A	E	PALMER.	R	B	PO	A	E
Chapm'n, 2b,	4	4	5	0	5	Murphy, ss,	5	5	0	2	4
Bordoro, cf,	5	4	0	1	1	Nelson, 3b,	3	3	2	1	0
O'Brien, 2b,	5	4	2	5	0	Larkin, p,	2	3	0	9	2
Gay, ss,	3	3	0	2	3	Roach, 2b,	2	4	3	2	4
Longtine, c,	5	3	7	2	0	Gaffney, lf,	0	0	2	0	0
Shugrue, p,	4	2	1	10	2	Doyle, 1b,	4	5	8	0	3
Kelliher, 1b,	3	5	10	0	2	Dart, c,	3	2	9	2	4
Murphy, rf,	4	3	1	0	1	Taylor, cf,	3	2	1	0	1
Roche, lf,	3	2	1	0	1	Co'hlin, rf, lf,	3	3	1	0	3
						Tryon, rf,	4	3	1	1	0
Total,	36	30	27	20	15	Total,	29	30	27	17	21

Thorndike,	0	0	3	3	11	6	5	4	4—36
Palmer,	1	2	0	7	5	1	4	6	3—29

Times at bat, Thorndike 67, Palmer 62. Earned runs, Thorndike 2, Palmer 2. Total bases, Thorndike 41, Palmer 35. Sacrifice hits, Palmer 2. Stolen bases, Murphy, William Murphy 2, Doyle, Dart 2, Taylor. Two base hits, Chapman, Bordoro, O'Brien Gay 2, Longtine, Sugrue, Kelliher, Murphy. William Murphy, Larkin, Roach 2, Dart. Three base hits, Longtine. First base on balls, Chapman, Gay, Dart, Taylor, Gaffney. First base on errors, Thorndike 12, Palmer 9. Left on bases, Thorndike 4, Palmer 8. Struck out, Chapman 3, Sugrue, Kelliher, Roche 2, Larkin 2, Doyle, Dart 2. Batters hit, Nelson, Gay. Double play, Murphy, Roache and Doyle. Wild pitches, Larkin 3. Time, 2h 45m. Umpire, James J. Manning.

BONDSVILLE.

G. W. Canterbury is building a house for John Sullivan.

Miss Fox of Brattleboro is the guest of Mrs. Charles Armstrong.

Tommy Russell has taken a position in the Jones domestic bakery.

One case of scarlet fever is reported in the family of Lisom Arkwright.

Mrs. O. A. Parent is visiting her sister, Mrs. Towne, in Ludlow this week.

Miss Mabel Fletcher of Ware was the guest of Miss Bernice O'Regan over Sunday.

Mrs. Boucher of Lowell is visiting Superintendent Hall and wife of the Boston Duck Co.

Miss Annie O'Regan is visiting friends in Chicopee Falls and Springfield for a week or two.

Miss Edith Hobson of the Springfield training school spent Sunday with her parents.

Luther Collis, who has been sick the last five or six months with cancer, is slowly failing.

Mr. and Mrs. James Faller were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crouch of West Warren last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Bowen and child of Springfield, formerly of this place, visited friends here last week.

Misses Mabel Ryther and Maggie Bruce attended the reception of the juniors of Amherst College Wednesday night as guests of Prof. J. B. Paige and wife.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. John Hayes Thursday evening. Every third meeting will be held in the evening, so as to give those who cannot attend in the day time a chance to go.

The friends of Simon Moynahan will be sorry to hear that he has been obliged to go to the hospital in Boston again to have his foot treated. The doctors are in hopes to save his foot.

John Dunn again left his home last Friday night and has not been heard of since. This is the third time he has been away, but as he always put in an appearance again not much anxiety is felt.

The sudden death of Dennis Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan, which occured Monday night, was a shock to his many friends. He was getting ready to plow and was hitching the horses to a harrow. As he was stooping down behind the horses one of them kicked him in the head. He lived only a short time. Young Sullivan was 21 years old. The funeral was held Wednesday.

About 25 friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgan called on them Monday night, it being the 25th anniversary of their wedding. Quite a number were present from out of town. The house was prettily decorated with potted plants and flowers and refreshments were served. They were the recipients of quite a number of presents, among which were a silver pie knife, pickle dish, cake basket, fruit dish, berry spoon, sugar shells and a sum of money.

THORNDIKE.

A dance will be held in Union Hall to-morrow evening.

E. E. Kendall has resigned his position with Clark & Hastings.

Another case of scarlet fever is reported in Samuel Sargent's family.

Nellie Murphy of Springfield spent Sunday with her parents in town.

Miss Nellie Riley has returned from a visit with friends in Worcester.

The King's Daughters will be entertained this evening at the home of Mrs. Emma Mooers.

Mrs. Malcomb McKenzie, who has been visiting in Pawtucket, R. I., is expected home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kendall are enjoying themselves at the the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fuller at Forest Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Curtis of Hartford, Ct., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. Murphy of Church street over Sunday.

George Hutchinson and William Andrews have purchased two new wheels from the V. D. Murdock agency in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Howard returned this week after spending a few days with Miss Nellie Foster on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. C. Deming spent part of the week in town, the guest of their daughter, Mrs. Charles Mooers.

Mrs. Thomas McCormick of Worcester, a former resident, with her son, was in town this week for a few days, visiting friends.

Officers made two raids on William Connelley at his pool-room Saturday night and Sunday, but did not find any of the ardent.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hastings and family of Spencer spent part of the week with Mr. Hastings's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hastings.

Rev. E. B. Blanchard of the Congregational church exchanged pulpits with Rev. N. Van der Pyl of North Wilbraham last Sunday.

Parents' day was observed in the different schools in the village Wednesday in an appropriate manner. A program, consisting of songs, recitations, etc., was given by the scholars.

Joseph Dion and Thomas Samson were wrestling Saturday night in front of the Clinton House, when Dion fell with one limb under him and Samson on top, breaking the left leg just above the ankle. Dion was taken to his home and Dr. Hendee called, who set the broken limb, and the patient is doing as well as can be expected. Much sympathy is expressed for Dion, as he has a wife and family who are dependent upon him for their support.

A Very Sudden and Sad Death.

The announcement made Sunday morning of the death of John Bedford, 38, was like a shock to the community, as he was not considered dangerously ill. Mr. Bedford, who was overseer in the weaving department at No. 2 Mill, was taken suddenly ill one day last week. A physician was called, who pronounced it a fever, and nothing more was thought of his illness until Saturday, when his disease was pronounced scarlet fever, from which he suffered greatly Saturday night and died Sunday morning. The family, who have been ill more or less for some time past, could not realize what had happened, and the people in general seemed to think the story was false, as they did not expect his death. Mr. Bedford was well known in town and had many friends, and was a member of the Columbian Band. He was a kind husband and a loving father. The family of the deceased have the sympathy of the entire community in their deep sorrow. The interment took place at Four Corners Sunday afternoon, the band, mill overseers and people in general being present.

Base Ball Notes.

Thorndike play at Gilbertville on Saturday next.

Hurley's catch of a long fly was one of the features of the Saturday's game.

The railroad is still a roost for those who like to see a game of ball, but who will not pay to see one.

What we want is some good coaching. Foolish base running on Saturday prevented several scores.

Sugrue done great work in the box on Saturday, and Longtine gave him good support behind the bat.

Pretty good crowd Saturday for the first home game of the season, and with good ball playing it will increase.

The game at Palmer in the afternoon was something you read about—36 to 29, in favor of the Thorndikes. The score will give you an idea of the game.

The Bondsvilles on Memorial Day showed how much they know about a game. Not being governed by the umpire's decision lost them the game, 9 to 0.

The batting of Murphy, Bordeau and Sugrue saved the game for Thorndike Saturday and gave them a lead which the visitors could not reach, and was done in the nick of time.

THREE RIVERS.

John Proctor's little son has the scarlet fever.

Harry Newell was home from Amherst Wednesday.

F. A. Upham has purchased a beautiful Mehlin piano.

Mrs. Canterbury of Bondsville has been visiting Heman Fish.

Mrs. David Milliken of Lowell is stopping with Mrs. C. H. Murdock.

The Palmer Mill is putting a tar-roof over the carding room this week.

Samuel McWhorter of Springfield was in town on business Saturday.

Walter Ritchie and Peter Chartier entered the bicycle ranks this week.

William Bell and Mrs. George P. Bell took a carriage drive to Holyoke Sunday.

Miss Albina Bessett is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Camerlin.

Barak Willson of Holyoke was with his friend, Dr. Bell, a few days last week.

J. W. Cheney and a select party took a carriage drive to Springfield Thursday.

Charles Ruggles has the contract for building an addition to the poor farm building.

Mrs. Ward of the State Primary School is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruggles.

W. F. Fillmore has added to the looks of his house by giving it a fresh coat of paint.

Mrs. Heman Fish entertained her Sunday school class at her home last Friday evening.

William Bell returned last Friday from a week's sojourn at his home in East Chatham, N. Y.

David McDougal of Barre was the guest of his friend, Thomas Fenton, a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kendrick of Turners Falls paid Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick a visit last Sunday.

Fred Gravel and A. LaSonde of Worcester spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Nectaire Gravel.

Mr. and Mrs. LaDuke of Holyoke visited Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Provo last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Contant of Montreal, while returning from a trip to New York, visited relatives and friends in this place Wednesday.

Charles Ruggles intends to put another tank in his tower soon, in order that he may have a greater supply of water during the summer months.

As Miss Alleetta Mills has a new wheel, she may be seen, generally in the evening, trying to attain the art of gracefully getting on and off her fiery steed.

As is customary, a large number attended the memorial exercises at the school building Wednesday afternoon. A long programme showed careful training by the teachers.

Rev. Mr. Hills is giving a series of revival meetings this week. Besides the afternoon sessions, Mr. Hills preaches every night in the M. E. and Baptist churches alternately.

The mill company has been giving much attention this week to its water system, and as the water is sometimes shut off for a day much inconvenience was caused to the tenants.

Miss Roberts, who has been an inmate of a New York hospital for the last month, was with her parents a few days this week, but she has returned to have a dangerous operation performed.

Charles Ruggles has bought the East Main street water system, and as Mr. Ruggles is to make many improvements in it, such as putting in more and larger pipes, he thinks that he will stop the complaints about the scarcity of water in that section.

The supper which the A. O. U. W. gave Tuesday evening was a decided success. After the party had partaken of a bountiful repast they adjourned to the parlor, where Miss Goshen, Mr. Needham and Mr. Gauthier entertained them with a few solos. W. O. Twogood and H. Fish gave a few statistics.

Eight of our singers came together the other evening and formed a double male quartette. The following officers were elected: President, F. A. Upham; vice president, F. E. Hillman; treasurer, William Bell; secretary, Willie Squier; business manager, J. H. Trickett; music director, Arthur Warriner.

About 40 members of L. L. Merrick post of the G. A. R., and the Woman's Relief Corps, came from Palmer last Sunday night to listen to Rev. Mr. Weeks's interesting sermon. Mr. Hodgerny and M. K. Story deserve much credit for the tasteful way in which they decorated the church, two or three large flags and many smaller ones having been used to good advantage.

While some children were playing behind Mr. Smart's barn Sunday afternoon they accidently picked up a few pieces of a coffin. They left the place in a hurry, for doubtless they had heard of Captain Kidd, and spread wonderful stories throughout the village. John Twiss and several others made a thorough investigation with their shovels Monday, but only three handles and a few other ornaments belonging to a child's coffin of a somewhat antique style were brought to light.

Last Saturday night as F. L. White was riding to Palmer, he met with a serious misfortune. While he was going past the embankment near Burleigh's bridge he suddenly left his wheel and alighted on the railing beside the road, but not content with this short journey he proceeded to roll down the ten-foot hill. When he had collected himself and climbed the steep bank, he found the fence was as shaky as himself and that he would have to invest in a new saddle.

BORN.

At Ludlow, 26th, a son to James B. and Annie M. Haviland.

MARRIED.

At Ware, 26th, by Rev. J. F. Sheehan, Arthur Dupre and Angelina Cariveau.

At Ware, 23d, by Rev. James Boyle, John Reilly and Carrie Clifford.

At Ware, 26th, by Rev. J. D. Sheehan, Narcisse Lapierre, Jr., and Cedulic Decelle.

DIED.

At Thorndike, 26th, John Bedford, 38.

At Monson, 20th, Almon S. Colton, 81 yrs. and 9 m.

At Ware, 29th, Miss Mary Bennett, 20.

TO RENT.—Tenement on Pleasant street. 7-tf G. H. WILKINS, Palmer.

LOST.—A watch charm. 9-1 Return to OSCAR TRYON, Palmer.

GOOD pasturage for cows. CHAS. B. FISKE, Palmer, Mass.

FOR SALE.—100 pigs and shoats. 8-2 STATE PRIMARY SCHOOL.

WANTED.—Six or eight good milch cows. 9-2 W. N. FLYNT GRANITE CO., Monson.

PASTURAGE.—Cattle or horses. Low rates and good keeping. A. D. NORCROSS. Monson, May 31, 1895. 9-1

TO RENT.—Pleasant up-stairs tenement on Fox Avenue. 9-tf Apply to L. A. CONANT, Palmer.

ALL persons having bills against the State Primary School are requested to present the same before June 15th. 8-2 WALTER A. WHEELER, Supt.

J. P. SCHNEIDER, M. D.
No. 4 Thorndike Street.
Office hours till 9 a. m., 12 to 2 p. m. and 6 to 8 p. m.

FOR SALE.—The store of the late E. G. Murdock in Thorndike, Mass., also dwelling corner of Commercial and High streets, and one on School street in said Thorndike. Must be sold to close estate. C. L. GARDNER, Adm. Jan. 21st, 1895. 43-tf

THOMAS LODE, F. & A. M.

Regular communication Thomas Lodge, Monday evening, June 3d, at 7.30 o'clock.

BY ORDER OF THE W. M.
H. W. McGREGORY, Secretary.

S. H. HELLYAR'S
Fire Insurance Agency,
CARYL'S BLOCK,
PALMER, - - MASS.

I represent some of the largest companies, both stock and mutual, doing business in this state, and should be pleased to reckon you as one of my customers.
Will guarantee you security, promptness, economy, and a correctly written policy.
Thanking you for past favors, I am
Yours respectfully,
S. H. HELLYAR.

JUST ARRIVED.
A Full Line of
Grass Seed,
Seed Oats,
Seed Barley,
Seed Peas,
Ground Plaster.
BRADLEY'S X L Phosphate, Potato Manure and English Lawn Dressing.
Low Prices.
C. D. HOLBROOK.

CARRIAGES
What one? I have one of the largest stocks in this city. Am overstocked now; have 3 car loads to come, and no room for them. I will give bargains in any kind of vehicles. It costs nothing to look over my stock and you will be used well even if you don't buy. I want to see you. Let's get acquainted. I will guarantee my prices with any dealer that pays for his goods.
HARNESSES,
heavy and light, all grades at lowest prices. You will buy if you look at them. I sell as low as the lowest. My expenses are not one-fourth that of other dealers who sell as much as I. That's your advantage in buying here.
D. W. BUTTERWORTH,
60 Dwight St., Springfield.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.
Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.
President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOOERS, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.
Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Mooers, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory
Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

BE SURE YOU SEE THE
MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS
BEFORE PURCHASING ANY OTHER.
Illustrated Catalog Sent on Application.
J. M. Bruce, Agent for Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties.
304 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. 4-tf

BECAUSE of my contemplated removal to Springfield, I offer to rent the tenemedt occupied by me on School street. Also have for sale a good second-hand organ and cook stove, and new oil stoves. 4-tf E. J. WOOD, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—One Beebe speeding cart, has only been used a few times. Also one road cart, one good Phaeton, and one good cook stove. GEORGE P. BELL, M. D., 3-tf Three Rivers, Mass.

COTTAGE AT BLOCK ISLAND TO RENT—for the months of July and September, all furnished. Nine rooms, good spring and cistern water, with barn. Apply to ISAAC KENERSON, Engineer Ware River Road, Palmer. 7*5

E. W. French, agent for the New Singer Mfg. Co., has opened an office in Palmer, with headquarters at the Weeks House, and is showing their latest productions for 1895 sewing machines, with three different machines for family use. 52-tf THE SINGER MFG. CO.

MR. J. B. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty. 7-tf SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.

Did you know
the law is off on
Trout Monday, April 1st,
and that you can buy
RODS,
LINES,
FLIES,
HOOKS,
REELS,
FLY BOOKS, ETC.,
At right prices
and get a good assortment at the
DRUG
STORE OF
LeGRO & LYNDE,
Next to Post Office,
Palmer, - - Mass.

DENTISTRY.
TO THE CITIZENS OF PALMER AND VICINITY:
Having thoroughly equipped my new office with the most modern inventions and methods pertaining to dentistry, I am now prepared to meet the demands of the public in all the branches of the art. I have associated with me DR. O. P. ROLLER, a graduate in
DENTAL SURGERY,
who has made a specialty of crown and bridge work, all gold, porcelain, combination crown, etc. Gold, aluminum and artificial dentures of every description. The best of workmanship guaranteed. 2-tf
DR. C. W. CROSS, PALMER, MASS.

A NICE NEW LINE OF Belt Pins,
Hair Pins,
Shirt waist Sets,
Silver Belt Buckles,
Souvenir Spoons,
Coffee Spoons,
Olive Spoons,
Bon Bon Spoons,
Sugar Spoons,
Orange Spoons, Cream Ladles,
IN SOLID SILVER.
ALSO SILVER NOVELTIES, WITH THE USUAL LINE OF
Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silver Ware, Spectacles and Eyeglasses,
At the Store of G. A. MOORE, The Jeweler,
Holden's Block, Palmer, Mass.

A 19 CENT SALE
At Hellyar's Bargain Store,
Caryl's Block, - On the Corner.
4 yards of Lining C

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 31, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

Memorial Day Services.

The Memorial Day programme was carried out as given in the JOURNAL. At 9 a. m., a delegation from Marcus Keep post visited St. Patrick's cemetery and decorated the graves of the two soldiers who are buried there; at 11 a. m., a delegation from the post held a memorial service at Moulton Hill cemetery and decorated the graves of the fourteen soldiers and that of the member of the relief corps buried there. Rev. W. H. Marble conducted the religious service and spoke very feelingly. At 1.30 p. m., the exercises began at Memorial Hall, at which there were present fifty veterans. After the customary opening by the commander, Dr. George E. Fuller, and the music by the school children, and prayer by Rev. Harry Blackford, Gen. H. C. Dwight, of Hartford, Ct., who went out with the 27th Mass. regiment, gave a stirring address on "The Boys of '61 and '65.

After music, Mrs. John C. Aldrich, in behalf of the corps, presented to the post two flags, the national and the state, closing her remarks with the words of Mrs. Annie Wittemyer:

"Above the flags of all nations,
Our beautiful banner floats high,
Its stars like the stars of Heaven,
Its blue like the blue of the sky.
Long may it wave in its beauty,
Symbol of justice and right,
Not a star be lost from its azure,
Not a blot stain its spotless white.

Dr. Fuller responded in behalf of the post. The colors were saluted by the post, and the quartette sang the "Star Spangled Banner." Lanphear's fife and drum corps led the march to No. 1 cemetery. At the soldiers' monument there was singing and several floral pieces were left there. Rev. F. S. Hatch made a brief address at the cemetery, and the graves of the fifty soldiers were decorated; also the graves of the four members of the relief corps. The school children who sang were from Misses Collis', Cantwell's and Converse's schools, and deserve much praise for their admirable work, and for the enthusiasm which they have manifested. They were very carefully trained by Miss Cantwell.

Bentley L. Rice and assistants, piano tuners, are expected to visit the town next week.

Mrs. W. A. Lincoln and son Howard of Springfield are the guests of her father W. N. Flynt.

They are busy at work on the Thompson extention, and the improvement is already greatly marked.

Lavater S. Munn of Springfield has been in town this week, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alanson N. Chaffee.

The automatic sprinklers which were put in the various manufactories last fall have been tested within a few days and were all right.

The cemetery commissioners have the No. 1 cemetery in fine condition this summer. The roads and walks are neatly trimed, the grass cut, and in fact everything connected with the grounds quite complete.

The up-town hose company was out for practice Wednesday night and tested several of the hydrants. They succeeded in watering the mill on the spire of the Congregational church. This is the most satisfactory test yet.

The annual Fourth of July picnic of St. Patrick's society will be held at Evergreen Park, and committees have been appointed to look after the arrangements. There will be games in great variety and attractions numerous.

R. M. Reynolds has presented to Flynt Park a very valuable set of flags representing all the nations. They are very instructive as will as ornamental. Mr. Flynt has them in his meseum, where they make a fine display.

We have no occasion to complain as to the price we pay for coal. We have live men the business, and they are willing to sell at a small profit, as they are not dependent on that branch for their living. There is not a town in Massachusetts of its size that enjoys such low prices. May the competition continue.

The hose carriages are found to be very heavy and hard to draw, and the companies which are now composed of eight men each, will probably be reinforced. Hose company No. 3 was out for practice last Friday night, and No. 1 was out Tuesday night. R. M. and T. Reynolds's employees at the old mill were also out Tuesday night. No. 1 men were stationed between Rogers's store and the bridge, and the mill men in the front and rear of the mill. Four streams were sent over the building from the different directions. The town has 1050 feet of hose now, which will be nearly doubled before the year closes. The manufactories are well equipped. The engine house, which was to have been located on Miss Sarah Bradford's land will probably be built elsewhere, and several sites are under consideration.

The statues for St. Patrick's church have arrived and will be placed Sunday afternoon. They are very beautiful, both in coloring and design, and are of terra cotta, made in France, and are life size. They will occupy the windows at either side of the sanctuary, and each will be suitably lighted by four electric lights. The statues are Our Lady of the Sign of the Cross, and St. Joseph, the former being after the model of Gustave Dore. Our Lady holds the standing Babe, whose arms are outstretched, these formiug the sign of the Cross. Our Lady wears a robe of pale blue, while the drapery of the Babe is of white and gold. St. Joseph's robe is of pearl, cream and gold. In his hand is the lily, symbol of purity, in gold and silver. The dedicatory services will be held Sunday evening at 7.30. There will be solemn vespers, blessing of the statuary and a sermon by Rev. E. S. Fitzgerald, secretary to Bishop Beaven of Springfield.

A meeting of the school committee was held last Friday evening, and was attended by all except two members. No. 8 and the Green street primary schools will not be opened again this term. The teachers of these schools will receive pay to May 24th. Schools close June 14 and examinations for the Academy will be held at the Green street school the mornings of the 15th and 17th. The teachers are nearly all reappointed. Miss Goldthwaite, at the Butler district, has resigned, and Miss Cameron at East Hill will take her place; Miss Lulu R. Vaille will go to East Hill. The bids for furnishing coal for the school houses were very close, but as that of R. M. and T. Reynolds was a little below it was accepted.

Mrs. Ellen C. Sullivan, who recently purchased the Robert Murphy place on State street, is soon to build a house on the east side of the lot. It will contain eight rooms, and will be divided into two tenements.

Memorial Hall was filled on Sunday afternoon to hear the memorial sermon by Rev. Harry Blackford. About fifty soldiers and as many members of the relief corps were present. Charles F. Orcutt had charge of the singing, which was excellently rendered by a double male quartette. Mr. Blackford delivered a powerful sermon from the text, "And there is no discharge in that war." He spoke in substance as follows:

"In the beginning man was created in the image of God and placed in a world of conflict that he might be developed by his struggle against evil. Christ was sent to reveal to man all the powers and capabilities of his nature, to lead in the great struggle against wrong. God always works through the instrumentality of human life and hence the call of Christ is for volunteers in a continuous warfare against evil, in a warfare from which there is no discharge. Liberty in its largest sense is a fundamental requirement for the advancement of the kingdom of God. The Revolutionary war and the Civil war were both struggles in the name of liberty. But grand and important as they have been, they were but campaigns, as it were, in the greater warfare which the human soul has waged in quest of liberty in all ages. The warfare still rages and there is no discharge for those in its service. Men are still in bondage to appetite and passion, to vice and ignorance, to unjust institutions. And so long as such oppression exists there is no grander way of honoring the heroes of our "Late Unpleasantness," than by enlisting in that warfare from which there is no discharge and whose object is to right such wrong."

LUDLOW.

Over 250 acres of land were burned over last Saturday between the Athol station and the Red Bridge, necessitating aid from Springfield to quench the flames. The fire started Friday night and burned all day Saturday. About 75 cords of wood belonging to G. D. Green and 200 sleepers belonging to the road were burned. It is thought that the fire was caused by sparks from a locomotive.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Mrs. Nellie A. Waite, nee Perkins, of Holyoke, visited friends in town Tuesday.

The Thompsonvilles will play the home team Saturday on Grassy Hollow. Gabb will do the honors in the pitcher's box.

Services at Grace church next Sunday as follows: 10.45 a. m., preaching by the pastor; 12 m., Sunday school; 6 p. m., Y. P. S. C. E. prayer meeting.

WARREN.

Charles Hood has the contract for building an addition to the public school building.

Alfred A. Warriner is taking the census in place of N. D. Joyce, who was obliged to give it up on account of ill health.

A horse was stolen from Joseph Manning's livery stable last Saturday night, and driven to Ware by Edward McGee, a blacksmith. He returned the horse Sunday morning and settled at a rather high figure for his night's ride. It is said that he was under the influence of liquor when he took the horse.

BELCHERTOWN.

Mrs. G. D. Blackmer of North Hadley is visiting Mrs. Emily R. Bruce.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hopkins are making arrangements to go to Canada for the summer.

The death of Mrs. Jepson, widow of Orrin Jepson, which occurred last week, was very sudden to her family and friends. Mrs. Jepson was about the house all day, and suffered only a slight illness. Her death was due to heart trouble.

Richard Granfield, a farmer living about three miles south of town, started Monday morning with a calf for slaughter. His horse took fright at the cars and ran upon the track, and the calf was instantly killed. The wheels passed over Mr. Granfield's body and rendered him unconscious, but he was not seriously hurt.

BRIMFIELD.

Mrs. Emory Livermore has been visiting her daughter in Chicopee.

The ladies of the First church will hold a strawberry festival this evening.

Mrs. Rebekah Stoddard of West Springfield is a guest at George M. Hitchcock's.

The Ladies' Union of the Second church met with Mrs. George F. Chamberlain Tuesday of last week.

Rev. Thomas Bliss of Denver, Col., a former resident of this town, preached in the first church the evening of the 19th.

Dr. W. A. DeMerritt of Boston and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Garland of Worcester have been guests of Dr. and Mrs. Lawin the past week.

Rev. Mr. Kyle delivered a memorial address in the First church Sunday morning to the Grand Army post and Woman's Relief Corps of Fiskdale. The Second church was also invited and attended.

The trustees of the Hitchcock Free High school held their annual meeting Tuesday. Charles V. Corey of Sturbridge was elected to fill the vacancy caused by death of George N. Bacon. M. W. French of Newtonville and W. W. McClench of Chicopee were re-elected, and Salem D. Charles of Boston was elected in place of A. P. Stone, whose term of office expires July 1st, and who on account of ill health declines serving as candidate.

WALES.

Mrs. George W. Dimmick is quite severely afflicted with erysipelas on one ankle.

Auctioneer McFarland went to Monson Tuesday and sold the Charles H. Childs farm of 100 acres at auction. It was bought by M. A. Converse.

One of the rages just now is for young ladies to canvass for a penny from friends to purchase friendship rings.

The grammar school closed Tuesday forenoon to allow the teachers and school committee to take a ride to Palmer.

The May festival held at the Baptist church last week was largely attended and enjoyed by all. A handsome profit was made.

William Harris and Loren Clark are soon expected to contest for the mastery on their bicycles. The bets so far are on Harris.

Mrs. A. F. Pepper burned one arm very severely with steam last week. Fears were entertained that she might lose the use of it, but it is now getting better.

The little pet dog, "Joe," so highly prized by its owner, the late Charles C. Smith, has been killed. While no funeral services were held, he was buried in a casket and his grave marked, as a mark of respect to his master.

The funeral services of Harry Clark were held in the Baptist church Friday. The Boys' Brigade, of which he was a member, attended in a body; also his class from the Brimfield High School. Much grief was manifested by all.

The scholars of the center grammar and primary schools celebrated Memorial Day with exercises very fitting and entertaining. The boys marched like soldiers, while the girls followed, waving flags and banners. On the whole it was a grand affair.

If you get up about 4 o'clock in the morning the first thing you will observe is Mr. Jones practicing on his wheel. He is the man who drew the gold-headed cane at the May festival as the most popular young man in the Sunday school. He takes his cane on his rides to steady the wheel.

WILBRAHAM.

Charles S. Merrick of Worcester is at home for a few days.

The senior class of the Academy took a tally-ho ride to Forest Lake Monday.

Mr. Bullard has sold the store recently purchased of Charles Pease to Rev. Mr. Miller.

Miss Alice Farnham is spending a few weeks with Rev. Mr. Herrick of Waltham, formerly of Wilbraham.

Mrs. R. B. Wright, daughter and granddaughter of Denver, Col., are the guests of Mr. Wright's father, R. R. Wright, Sr.

Miss M. Gregg, teacher of No. 3 school, is spending Memorial Day at her home in Brattleboro, Vt., where she will remain over Sunday.

Rev. M. S. Howard preached the memorial sermen before the veterans of the G. A. R. last Sabbath morning, in the Congregational church.

A fire in the woods overran a part of Woodland Dell cemetery this week, spoiling shrubbery, flowers, and grass on many of the graves giving a somewhat desolate appearance for Memorial Day.

Memorial Day was observed by an address in the M. E. Memorial church by Rev. Nicholas Van der Pyl of North Wilberham, and the decoration of the graves of fallen comrades at the Dell and Adams cemeteries by veterans and citizens. The drum corps of Agawam furnished music.

The Chautauqua Club met with Miss Grace Atkins last Friday evening and discussed some chapters of "Walks and Talks in the Geological Field," illustrated by several specimens. Miss Atkins read "The Circlet," Mrs. Bisworth spoke of Alexander Winchell's life and works and W. H. Robbins of the charactor of Agassiz.

Last Friday was appointed as Arbor Day for the senior class of the Academy, and a very interesting ceremony was held on the campus in the evening, when the class tree was planted. The ceremony was made more interesting from the fact that the junior class had hidden the tree that was to have been planted. The seniors, however, were not to be outdone, and several of the young men went into the woods and cut another one, bringing it back in time for the ceremony. Speeches were made by Ben Russell, Miss F. E. Holden, Principal Newhall and H. E. Wright, the class president.

WARE.

The dry goods stores still keep open Wednesday evenings and report a good trade.

The Wares and North Brookfields play on the pumping station grounds to-morrow.

Lawrence Love and family have moved into the Sandford house on Clinton street.

P. J. Downey has concluded his smoke and water sale and is thoroughly renovating his store.

A. F. Richardson has secured the services of his brother's son, Myron, as clerk in his shoe store.

The subject of the sermon by Rev. A. M. Osgood Sunday morning will be "Heaven as a State and Place."

The Ware Christian Workers conducted the services at the Wednesday evening meeting in the Methodist church.

The members of the company No. 4 held a reception Monday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Dupre, who were married that day.

Charles Lovett, the popular clerk in Smith's dry goods store, who has been quite sick the week past with inflamation of the bowels, is recovering.

Quite a party from Ware went to Bondsville Monday evening to attend the 25th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Morgan, formerly of Ware.

There has been a handsome frame of nine large photographs of scenes at the trial of the water works at North Brookfield on exhibition in Henry M. Clark's window the past week. It is an unusually nice piece of workmanship. It was presented by the town of North Brookfield to the Ware fire department.

Rev. Albert C. White of Peperell preached in the Unitarian church last Sunday and is expected to preach next Sunday. At a recent meeting of the society an informal ballot was taken for a pastor and Mr. White was the choice. Another meeting is to be held, when it is expected there will be a vote to give him a call.

Several from Ware will attend the meeting of the Quaboag Historical Society at West Brookfield next Wednesday. The committee are doing everything possible to make the meeting a grand success. They have collected a large member of the ancient and curious things of our grandfather's days which will be on exhibition.

Edward Murphy, who a few weeks ago filled the Town Hall night after night as few men could fill it, will deliver his famous lecture "Johnnie Bull and Brother Johathan," in the Town Hall next Wednesday evening, under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Tickets are on sale at Mulvaney's, where reserved seats may be secured.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS MATTERS.

Justice Stephen J. Field has been for thirty-two years a member of the United States supreme court.

General James B. Swain, who was prominent in the Rebellion, also in newspaper work, died at Sing Sing, N. Y., Monday evening, aged 75.

General Michael T. Donohue, superintendent of the Boston city almshouse and a brave soldier of the late war, died Sunday at the age of 57.

Edward A. Griffin, cashier of the Park Bank, Albany, has confessed to the abstraction of the bank's funds, and has made the shortage good.

Lewis S. Hitchcock of Westhampton, an old war veteran, was found dead in his bed Sunday morning. Heart disease was the cause of death.

An act of the Legislature increasing the pay of deputy sheriffs for attending the sittings of supreme and superior courts from $4 to $5 day became a law May 9.

Mrs. Aubrey, the eldest daughter of Chief Justice Fuller of the United States supreme court, has been divorced from her husband, J. Matt Aubray, for drunkenness.

A recent earthquake in Turkey killed 50 people and injured 150 others. The Greek church, which was built 300 years ago, was moved several yards, but is standing.

Rumors are circulated around Adams that the Plunkett brothers are comtemplating building a $500,000, cotton mill in that city. It will be the largest cotton mill in the country.

Last Sunday was the anniverary of the surrender of the last considerable army of the rebellion. This was Gen. Kirby Smith's army of the Southwest, and numbered 20,000 men.

James Ward, 58, of Worcester met a horrible death near Chester Sunday morning by being run over on the Boston and Albany railroad. Twenty-five cars passed over his body.

Louis Kracman, who lived at 508 South Lincoln street, Chicago, shot and killed his three-years-old daughter Friday afternoon and then committed suicide with the same weapon.

The 76th birthday of Queen Victoria was observed last Friday at all the British naval and military stations. Her reign is up to the present time the longest but one of any of the sovereigns of England.

The jury in the case of Oscar Wilde at London, Eng., returned a verdict of guilty Saturday and Wilde was sentenced to two years at hard labor. Alfred Taylor, Wilde's associate, received a similar sentence.

Annie Gorman, a two-years-old Chicago tot, fell 30 feet recently and in two minutes was as chipper and bright as before. She had a good cry, as she was badly scared, but the doctors say she is absolutely uninjured.

Dr. Buchanan of New York, the convicted wife murderer, whose sentence of death has been put off from time to time, was re-sentenced Monday, and will be electrocuted during the week beginning July 1st.

Patrick Meyers, 60, was struck by a train on the New England road, near Forestville, Ct., Saturday night and so badly injured that he died early Sunday morning. It is thought that Meyers was walking on the track.

A distinct shock of earthquake was felt in parts of Vermont Tuesday forenoon. The vibrations, which lasted 10 or 12 seconds, caused people in Brattleboro to rush in great fright from their homes, and some were nauseated by the shock.

Chief of Police Thomas Byrnes of New York has resigned and been retired on a pension of $3000 a year. He was appointed superintendent or chief of police in 1892, and has the reputation of being one of the greatest detectives of the present day.

The Clinton-Lancaster Athletic Association will hold its first annual bicycle tournament at Clinton, Saturday afternoon, June 8. The club offers $1000 in prizes and the entry list includes Bald, McDonald, Sims, Coultler and all the leading class B riders of the country.

The Boston and Albany Railroad Co. has removed its repair works from Springfield to West Springfield, and the new shops are running to their full capacity. The engine, boilers and shafting have been left in the old Springfield shop, which may be leased for manufacturing purposes.

Secretary of State Walter Q. Gresham died at Washington early Monday morning, aged 53 years. He was formerly a Republican, but joined the Democrats after the last nomination of President Cleveland. He was also secretary of state for two years under President Arthur's administration.

James Kidney, night callman in the Boston and Albany freight yard in West Springfield, was seriously injured Monday evening while attempting to board a moving train. He was thrown violently to the ground, his left ear being cut and his head bruised. It is thought he may have received internal injuries.

The Catholic young women of Danbury, Ct., 400 in number, have formed a society and pledged themselves not to marry a man who drinks intoxicants. This may be a novel way of promoting the temperance cause, but if the young women stick to it they may work a splendid reform among the young men.

Mrs. Kate Cucal of Elizabeth, N. Y., who is thought to be insane, recently attempted to burn her three little children to death. She set fire to the bed and kindled a fire on the floor, after which she locked the children in and left the house. The noise of the little ones trying to break open the door attracted the attention of the neighbors, who rescued them.

A Brooklyn bicycle crank thinks Clarence Murphy, the crack New York bicyclist, can wheel a mile in one minute if paced by a locomotive. The idea is to lay a broad track within the two steel rails on which Murphy will propel his wheel, following in the wake of the locomotive. He will encounter no wind resistance, the suction from the engine being in reality an assistance.

A mob of farmers took two miscreants from the Vermilhorn county (Ill.) jail last Saturday morning and hung them, giving as their reason for not allowing justice to take its course that Governor Altgeld would pardon them if convicted. This was closely followed by a lynching in Maryland where the crowd made the same excuse as the Illinois mob did, that Governor Brown would not carry out the verdict of the jury.

Two suspicious characters, who were trying to dispose of some shoes, were arrested this week at Hartford, and a West Springfield officer has indentified the shoes as of the same lot as those in a car recently broken into on the Boston and Albany railroad. The men were discharged Boston and Albany freight brakemen. It is thought that with the capture of these men the systematic petty robberies on the trains for many months will be ended.

The will of Judge John Handley, by which he divided his estate of $3,000,000 between the town of Winchester, Va., and the house of the Good Shepherd and the St. Patrick's orphanage in Scranton, Pa., is to be contested by one of the surviving relatives. It is not known who the contestant is, but it is supposed to be a man in California whose mother was a sister of the deceased judge. All the relatives were ignored by the will.

Walter F. Harris, a colord butler of New York, was shot and instantly killed in the house where he was employed at 1.30 Monday afternoon by two unknown men. No solution of the motive for the crime can be determined, and the police are working on the theory that the crime was committed by desperate burglars who, expecting to find only women in the house, shot to kill when they encountered resistance. A rewared of $10,000 has been offered for the arrest of the murderers.

The road race of the Massasoit Cycle club of Springfield, to be held June 11th, at 5 o'clock p. m., promises to be one of the racing events of the season, the entries coming in at a rate which seems to assure them between 200 and 300 competitors. The distance is 22 miles and the race starts and finishes on Hampden Park, thereby giving spectators the unusual opportunity of witnessing from their seats a mile and a half of the most exciting part of the contest. All entries must be in by June 4th at 10 o'clock p. m., and blanks and information may be had of C. M. Bugbee, 245 Bay street, Springfield. The first prize is a magnificent Jacob Doll upright piano, presented by Otto Baab, the local agent. This beautiful instrument, listed at $1200, is now on exhibition in Hersey's Main street window and is attracting a great deal of attention. The first time prize is a $175 diamond. The audience at the park will be entertained while the racers are absent by a fat man's race, an old man's race and a two-mile race for boys, who must saw a log a wood at the end of the first mile. When the riders have completed half the distance, their positions will be telephoned to the park and announced to the audience. The 2d Regiment Band will furnish music.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

Every Cause But The Right One.

Your headache: You lay it to every cause but the true one—indigestion. So few people know what indigestion really is. Hardly know they have it. The cure is Ripans Tabules. A single one gives relief. Ask your druggist.

One thing Broadhursts Bros., the shoe dealers, Springfield, have set their heart on, namely—the country trade which they have got and are bound to keep if the biggest stock of the kinds that suit, and the lowest prices and the very best attention will do it.

For that tired feeling resulting from a sluggish system, drop coffee and use Ayer's Hygienic. Grocers sell it.

Dolls and Costumes for Everybody.

The Boston Sunday Globe, next Sunday, will give away four dolls and eight costumes of the very latest design and fashions to every reader of the Sunday Globe. The Globe never does things by halves, and they propose continuing to give away dolls for some time. The girls, boys and grown people will be pleased with them, as they are the best ever produced in colors, and will be on a separate sheet on the regular color pages. Order the Sunday Globe now.

Wouldn't a Salary Come Handy?

See advertisement of a "Chance to earn money," in another column, if you want a position.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 52-25

FORBES & WALLACE'S,
SPRINGFIELD.

Mattings.

We are enthusiastic over our new stocks of 10 and 12½ cent Mattings. In our judgment, they're the best qualities we've ever had at the prices, and our best qualities have never been beaten anywhere.

We've ten rolls of white matting that we shall sell at 12½ cents.

Second floor of Pynchon street building.

Scotch Ginghams, 19 cents.

We have just made a large purchase of Scotch ginghams—the real David and John Anderson's ginghams, and they come to us so low that we can sell them at 19 cents a yard—they're the usual 25 and 37½ cent qualities.

We cheerfully send samples.

Right aisle.

Plain China Pongee, 10 cents.

For seaside dresses, skirts and a variety of summer dress uses. Think of real Shantung pongee, natural color, at 10 cents a yard. But do the thinking quick, there's not enough to last the week out.

Left aisle.

Dress Stuffs
For Graduation Day.

Our assortment of stuffs—silks and dress goods—suitable for graduation day dresses is we suppose, by far the richest to be found in this region. By that we mean to have more acceptable goods for you to choose from, whatever you may want than any other house. We have in cream and white:

Plain India silk, 37½ cents to 75 cents a yard.
Figured India silk, 75 cents.
Figured white taffeta silk, $1, and $1.25.
White crepon silk, $1.
Wool cashmere, 19 to 50 cents.
Wool henrietta, 50 to 75 cents.
Wool crepon, 50 to 75 cents.
Bedford cord, 75 cents.
"Trilby"—a silk warp fabric, 75 cents.
"Lansdowne"—a silk warp fabric, $1.
"Damassin"—a silk warp fabric, 50 cents.
"Albatross"—a wool fabric, 50 cents.
Broadcloth, $1.50.

We shall be glad to send samples—to any address.

Left aisle.

FORBES & WALLACE.
Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets,
Springfield, Mass.

THE BATTLE of BULL RUN

Is a thing of the past, but the battle of life is ever present, and it is the duty of everyone to secure their family supplies where they will be certain to get satisfactory returns for their money. To be sure of this, when you want

FINE GROCERIES,

EGGS and BUTTER FRESH and PRIME, AND SWEET NUTS for SUNDAY TIME, FRUIT, FLOUR and GOODS, go directly to the store of

H. W. SMITH,
59 Main Street, Palmer.

They sell no adulterated trash, but give you the most and BEST for CASH.

SPRING CLOTHING!

NEW SPRING STYLES, Latest Colorings —AND— Novelties.

Extra large samples to select from. The most complete assortment, the finest, newest and most extensive in novelties and colorings. Fine Clay, English Wagners and Schnable's best makes, Hannuckburn Scotch goods in best patterns, fine French in newest makes and colors.

Prices $20, 22, 24, 26, 27, 28, 30, 32, 33, 35 to 40. All goods and trimmings the very best ever offered in town for the money, and warranted. Terms Strictly Cash.

D. MULVIHILL, - Eager's Block.

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS!

PAPER HANGINGS.

Browns, White Blanks, Flats, Satins, Bronzes, Gilts, Borders, Friezes, etc.

PLAIN AND DECORATIVE PAPER HANGING, PAINTING, ETC.

All orders filled in a thorough and workmanlike manner. F. S. MASON, Commercial Block.

.... J. M. BRUCE, ...
AGENT FOR THE
TROWBRIDGE UPRIGHT PIANOS.

Trowbridge Pianos for Tone.
Trowbridge Pianos for Action.
Trowbridge Pianos for Fine Cases.

PIANOS TUNED, REGULATED and REPAIRED.
Office, Room 25, Main St. P. O. Box 166.
SPRINGFIELD, - MASS.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,

VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.

Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.

Residence, Nassowanno House.
Office and stable, Central street.

PALMER, MASS.

DENTAL

Operations are usually painful; but at my office we excavate and Fill all Cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN.
Also, we do Crown and Bridge Work and make Artificial Teeth that are Satisfactory.
First Class Work at Reasonable Prices is our motto. Lady Attendant. Take Elevator.
DR. WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.
Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield, Mass.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO.,
106 Wall Street, New York.

OXFORDS.

NEVER was there such a call for Ladies' Oxfords as there has been this season.

WILL YOU HAVE A PAIR?

You can have your pick from about fifty different kinds at Fuller's, ranging in price from 80 cents to $2.50.

The demand is great, our stock is large. The prices are right. Just examine our stock of

OXFORDS.

GEO. L. FULLER,
Distributer of Fine Fitting Shoes.

MONSON, - - MASS.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

CHAMBER SETS.

Of interest to furnishers of summer homes and hotels.

Two car loads of Chamber-Sets open this morning.

One car of Antique Ash and Maple Sets, thoroughly constructed—the best patterns ever on our floors at the prices.

$12.50, $13.90, $15, $18 and $19.

The other of Solid Oak Sets—excellent styles. You'll wonder how we can sell them at $21 and 25.

You'll need to come early. Such prices make quick work of them.

Fourth floor.

CARPETS.

No better time than the present to supply all carpet wants. Look where you will, you'll find our stock comes nearer to your ideas of genuine values than any others.

There's a wonderful variety of styles—to please all tastes in the lines offered:

85-cent Tapestries at 62½ cents.
$1.10 Axministers at 85 cents.
$1.65 Axministers at $1.00 and $1.25.
Best Brussels, Lowell, Hartford, and Bigelow, at 75 cents, 85 cents and $1.00 a yard.

First floor.

JAPANESE RUGS.

A great assortment of these popular summer rugs—quality and styles better than any shown in former seasons. All sizes in stock.

A few leaders:

9 feet x 12 feet, $9.
7 feet 6 inches x 10 feet 6 inches, $6.50.
6 feet x 9 feet, $4.50.
36 inches x 72 inches, $1.50.

First floor.

Meekins, Packard & Co.
Springfield, Mass.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS IN THIS VICINITY FOR

TRUSSES.

WE CARRY A LARGE ASSORTMENT IN ALL THE SIZES OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF

Steel Spring Trusses,
Hard Rubber Trusses,
New York Elastic Trusses.

WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.

AT LEGRO & LYNDE'S.

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

The People of
Palmer and Vicinity

Will find it no longer necessary to go to the surrounding cities for the latest styles in fine footwear. Here you will find the "up-to-date" novelties as well as staple goods.

Ladies and children with slender feet will find a good assortment in all styles of SHOES and OXFORDS, in narrow widths, at medium prices.

I am showing a nice line of MISSES' TAN LACE SHOES, SPRING HEEL.

Nothing daintier for Commencement Exercises than those WHITE KID SLIPPERS and WHITE CANVAS OXFORDS AT $1.50.

TAN BOYS' and YOUTHS' BAL. just the thing for the summer vacation.

Gent's fancy PATENT LEATHER DRESS SHOES are the proper thing this season. I have some beauties.

A. B. COWAN,
Successor to Chas. N. Blake & Co.
Holden's New Block, Main Street,
PALMER, MASS.

CARRIAGES!!!

I have in stock a complete line of fine and medium grade Carriages.

Leather Top Carriages, for $60, 75, 100, 150, 300.
Open Buggies, for $40, 60, 75, 125, 150.
Second-Hand Carriages, $5, 10, 20, 40, 75.
Harnesses, $7.50, 9, 12, 15, 20.

DELIVERY WAGONS OF ALL KINDS.

W. H. SMITH,
2 PARK STREET, SPRINGFIELD.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

BICYCLES FOR 1895.

STEARNS "Yellow Fellow." Ladies' and Gents' $100.

WARWICK "Crimson Rims." $80, $85, $100.

CRESCENTS $90, $75, $50, $40.

WINNEWOOD & TEMPLES $60.

We have full size in Ladies' and Gents' Wheels for $50, fully warranted.

BICYCLE REPAIRING.

We have secured the services of Alfred H. Stokes to take charge of this department. Mr. Stokes comes to us from the KEATING WHEEL CO. where he has had entire charge of their Repair Department.

He can save you money in repairs and suit you. Any kind of wheel repaired.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

SEEDS.

Garden Seeds, Grass Seeds, Flower Seeds, Seed Potatoes. We take great pains to suit you on this line. We think poor seeds are worthless at any price. See us before you buy.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Belcher & Taylor's Plows and Cultivators. Rough and Ready Wrought Iron Beam Plows. Planet, Jr. Horse Hoes and Cultivators. John Doud Wheel Harrows. Steel Road Scrapers. Spring Tooth Harrows. Lawn Mowers.

We shall carry a good line and solicit your trade.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

FISHING TACKLE.

TROUT FISHING SEASON is here, and we are prepared for it. Rods, Lines, Reels, Baskets, etc. Nice assortment. Fair prices.

E. A. Buck & Co., Palmer.

J. B. SHAW,
DRY GOODS,
PALMER, - MASS.

We are all through house cleaning, and with a store bright with paint and varnish, and filled with goods suited to the season, we respectfully ask for inspection and comparison of goods and prices.

It is almost marvelous what pretty Dress Goods a little money will purchase. In Wash Goods the the assortment is much the largest ever shown by us.

In Groceries we have a full line of Staple and Fancy Articles, with specialties each week.

J. B. SHAW,
GROCERIES,
PALMER, - MASS.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO SEPT. 30, 1894.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58, p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook —6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Pansy Park, South Amherst and Hadley—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
FOR Belchertown, Amherst and Northampton—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39, p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY, Gen'l Mgr.

Charles Beach has entered the employ of the Cutler Co.

TO COLT OWNERS.

I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.

3-tf Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

FISH BAIT FOR SALE,

CHARLES S. RUGGLES,

Three Rivers, - Mass.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.

CORRECTED TO NOVEMBER 11, 1894.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a m and 4.25 p m for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R R, at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R R, and at Palmer with B & A R R for Worcester, Boston, Springfield.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a m, 12.13 and 5.57 p m.
Leave Palmer, 8.40 a m, 1.55 and 7.15 p m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.25, 10.17 a m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.25 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.27 p m.
The 5.25 and 7.40 a m and 2.30 p m run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a m and 5.27 p m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.22, 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m, the 11.00 a m and 7.15 p m connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.22 and 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m.

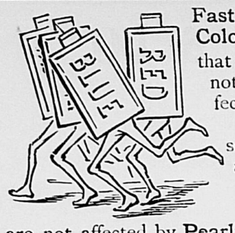
D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.
S. W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A., St. Albans.

WAGONS!

Having a new lot of

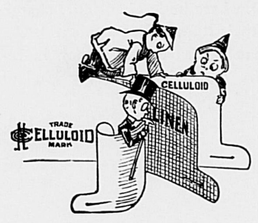
TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY, CALL AND SEE US.

ALL



Fast Colors, that are not affected by soap and water, are not affected by Pearline. They will seem brighter and fresher, of course, but that is the way they looked when new. Washing with Pearline has simply taken out the dirt, and restored them. Use nothing but Pearline, and everything will "look like new" longer.

There's no rub, rub, rub in keeping your things fresh and clean with Pearline. Take away this ruinous rubbing, and what is left there to make them look old? 339 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.



"CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS are made by covering a linen collar or cuff with "celluloid," thus making them strong, durable and waterproof. When soiled they can be cleaned by simply wiping off with a wet cloth. No other waterproof goods are made with this interlining, consequently no other goods can possibly give satisfaction. Do not forget that every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

Insist upon goods so marked and refuse anything else if offered. If your dealer does not keep them you can procure a sample from us direct by enclosing amount and stating size and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair.

The Celluloid Company,
427-429 Broadway, New York.

The sympathetic neighbor, learning that the doctor was going to "diagnose" Mrs. Dolan's case, advised her not to risk it; to put on a mustard plaster instead, and trust to luck.—Washington Star.

Mr. D. Wiley, ex-postmaster, Black Creek, N. Y., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism that he was only able to hobble around with canes, and even then it caused him great pain. After using Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was so much improved that he threw away his canes. He says this liniment did him more good than all other medicines and treatment put together. For sale at 50 cents per bottle.

Agreeably Surprised.

"I had a very severe cold on my lungs that caused much soreness and gave me considerable uneasiness in regard to the result," says Mr. T. E. Smith, of Billerica, Mass. "A local druggist called my attention to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and on his recommendation I gave the remedy a careful trial. The result surprised me; I recovered entirely in three days." 25 and 50 cent bottles.

It Did The Business.

Mr. J. H. Cobb, publisher of the Mirror, at Brockton, N. Y., says: "For nearly two years the Mirror has been publishing the advertisements of Chamberlain's Remedies. A few days ago the writer was suffering from a bowel trouble and resorted to an old remedy which did not prove efficacious; finally he tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Pemedy and two doses did the business, checking it completely.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.
From the Groton, Connecticut, Review.

David Lewis, who has been afflicted all winter by rheumatism, is out again and all due to one of the medicines advertised in our columns. After trying everything possible, he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which has relieved him of all pain, from which he was a constant sufferer and promises to make him fit for duty soon. We know David has been a great sufferer and are glad to see him around again.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

FOR SPRING DEBILITY

there is no better remedy than Blood Wine. Nature and this great French Hospital remedy work together and cleanses the system of all the impurities which have been stored in the sluggish blood of winter. Starts one right at this season of the year and is absolute insurance against the many diseases which attacks the weakened constitution in the Spring of the year. Letters from over 2000 grateful New England people have been received at our office in one week. We know no other medicine has accomplished so much good in so short a time as this remedy.

TAKE BLOOD WINE.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.
Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

AMONG THE PARAGRAPHERS.

"To Congress I will go," said he;
"My friends 'twill surely please
To see me resting gracefully
Upon a bed of ease."
But when his term was out, quoth he:
I'm happy to retire.
That bed of ease has proved to be
A mattress of barbed wire."
—Washington Star.

Subscriber—"Why is my paper so damp every issue?" Editor—"Because there is so much due on it."—Christian Register.

Edna—"What do you suppose makes Tom write such awfully gushing letters?" Kate—Oh, I suppose he uses a fountain pen."—Pearson's Weekly.

"Waiter," said the guest," I wish you'd ask the proprietor to turn on a little more light. It's so dark in here I can't tell whether I'm eating plank shad or a paper of pins."

Napoleon (bracing himself to keep his place on the pedestal of fame)—"Stop that! Who is pushing me!" The Goddess of Fame—"Shut up and move over. It's Bismark."—Chicago Record.

Caller—"W—what is the matter with Fido that you are watching him so closely?" Charlie—"Mamma said your hat was enough to make a dog laugh, and I wanted to see him do it."—Tit Bit.

She—"Mr. Spooner, I have told you for the last time that I will not be your wife!" He—"Thank you; I'm going to propose once more, so of course your answer will then be 'Yes,"—Harper's Bazar.

Visiting Englishman—"Why don't you Americans pronounce the middle c in Connecticut?" Mr. Manhattan—"There isn't any sea in Connecticut, you konw. There's only the sound."—New York World.

Sweet Girl—"Papa says you can't afford to marry." Ardent Youth—"Nonsense! I can get a preacher to perform the ceremony for two dollars" Sweet Girl—"Can you? How foolish papa is."—New York Weekly.

Bingo—"Bobby, did you eat that little pie your mother made for you yesterday?" Bobby—"No, sir. I gave it to my teacher." Bingo—"Did she eat it?" Bobby—"I guess so. There wasn't any school to-day."—Puck.

Fond of Literature. Apprentice (to butcher)—"Master wants threepenny-worth of ham, sliced, and would you please wrap it in the continuation of the story as you sent him the first chapter of with the sausage yesterday."—Lustige Blaetter.

Teacher—"Do you know why Robbie Jones is not at school?" Tommy—"He's sick." Teacher—"Are you sure?" Tommy—"Yes'm; I saw him sittin' at the window with his face clean and his hair combed."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

"I am going home to mother," said the young wife, "and what is more, I am not coming back till I hear you have eaten that pie I took so much trouble and pains to make for you." "I am glad to hear," meekly said the young husband, "that you think enough of me to attend my funeral."—Indianapolis Journal.

"Now, Jedge," said the sworn colored witness, "I'm a-gwine ter tell you de truth now!" "And what have you been testifying to for the last hour and a half?" asked the judge. "Oh, I des been talkin' up ter it. Hit takes you some time ter git ter de truth, jedge. You has ter skirmish lots 'fore you ketch de rabbit."—Atlanta Constitution.

History Repeating Itself in Advance.—"Hark!" exclaimed the consul as a tremendous shout rushed up the street and reverberated through the forum; "what noise is that, Lucullus? Methinks the Volscians must be coming o'er the wall." "Nay," respondit Lucullus, "it is only John L. Spartacus addressing the gladiators in the arena and offering to wager ten thousand sesterces against all comers." "Sed et tuum," mused the consul, softly, while the sun, which had been going down the Appian Way, with a low shudder, vanished from sight.—Rockland Tribune.

DOMESTIC DUTIES.—"A communication from the sultan," announced the chamberlain.

"Three hundred and twenty-three letters posted."

"Check."

"One hundred and seventy-seven ribbons matched."

"Check."

"Five hundred and thirteen samples of bargains."

"Check."

"Correct."

"Correct."

When the oriental potentate who had meanwhile waited upon his throne, was informed that he had forgotten nothing, the look of care that had corrugated his brow melted away, and was succeeded by a sweet smile of repose.—Detroit Tribune.

FOREORDINATION.—Years ago an old hard shell preacher, who lived on the border in the days when the Indians were at war with the whites, was making preparations one morning to go to his church, miles away, through a country infested with savages. He was carefully loading his old flint-lock rifle to take along when a friend present remarked:

"What are you going to take that gun along for old man? Don't you know that if it is foreordained for the Indians to kill you the gun won't save you?"

"That's very true," said the old man as he deliberately rammed the ball home, "but suppose it's foreordained that the Indians should be killed? Now, how would the good Lord carry out his purpose if I didn't have my gun along?" That closed the debate.—Somerville News.

A DIFFERENCE OF FEELING.—"I kin almost make out this feller's poem," said Uncle Si, laying down the magazine his niece had brought to the farm, "but not quite."

"Read it, uncle", said the niece.

"It goes this way:

"'Low in the west there sullen lies
A cloud portentous, black, with tongues of flame;
A strange thrill brings the teardrops to my eyes,
A subtle feeling permeates my frame.'"

"Well, what is there you do not understand? It seems a clear exposition of moods produced by a coming storm."

"I understand the storm part of it all right, but what I can't git at from his verses is whether he feels it comin' in his rheumatics er his corns. Some folks feels it one way and some the other, you know."—Cincinnati Tribune.

A SALE MANIAC.—They met at the handkerchief counter—the widow whose somber robes were beginning to brighten and her friend. The widow, with nervous fingers and the excited air of one who is a sale maniac, pulled and tugged at various handkerchiefs to test their quality. Finally she said to the clerk:

"I'll take a dozen of these," and pointed to some black bordered squares of linen.

"Why, Bess," exclaimed her friend, "why do you buy those mourning handkerchiefs when you'er just going out of mourning?"

"I know' my dear," sighed the widow, "but they were such bargains! And besides," she added hopefully, "you never can tell how soon you may need them."—New York World.

SLIGHTLY FORGETFUL.—"My, my!" exclaimed Mr. Shadmind, bemoaning the loss, through rash investment, of all his ready capital. "All that my industry had saved for a time of need swept away in an instant! If I was to be taken away what would become of our dear children?"

"Why, my love," returned his wife, "we have no children."

"Ah, true; I had forgotten that. They are to be congratulated on their narrow escape."—Richmond Dispatch.

Mr. Thomas Bennett
Roslindale, Boston.

He Could Not Live

Was what friends said, but

Hood's Perfectly Cured

Dreadful Case of Chronic Eczema.

Such a testimonial as we give below few medicines can produce. It is one of thousands possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and proves the merit of this medicine.

Reliable, honest, industrious, is what all say of Mr. Bennett. He has been engaged as gas-fitter in Boston for 35 years, with Tarbell, 111 Washington street, and McKinney, Washington st., opp. Boylston.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—I am only doing what is just when I tell voluntarily what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done forme. I know it

Saved My Life.

"A year ago last winter, after exposure to storms, I caught a severe cold, after which chronic eczema appeared on the calf of my left leg and spread all over my lower limb from knee to ankle, and the itching and burning was something awful. Added to this was a severe pain, seemingly in the bone. At last it became so that I had to give up work and was unable to walk. I had to have my leg bandaged all the time and frequent changes of the cloths. For nine months I sat with my leg resting in a chair.

Oh, It Was Dreadful!

Friends said I could not live long. In all I had seven different physicians, all to no purpose whatever. I knew the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla as I had, some years before, taken it with benefit, and decided to try it for my apparently hopeless case. In two or three days after I began my appetite was better and my courage revived. To make a long story short, the eruption entirely disappeared, and the flesh on my leg resumed perfectly healthy appearance. I was soon able to walk about. I cannot tell how amazed my neighbors and friends were. I can now walk without any lame-

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

ness, as well as ever. Have not the slightest eruption or itching or burning, or any sort of trouble whatever with my leg. The gratitude I owe Hood's Sarsaparilla is simply unspeakable." THOS. BENNETT, 172 Sycamore St., Roslindale, Boston, Mass. Try HOOD'S.

Hood's Pills are tasteless, mild, effective. All druggists. 25c.

Maude—"Wot are yer a sniffin' o' that turkey for when here's wenison wot you kin smell of?"

Tom—"Turkey's good enough for me. I ain't no Vanderbilk or Astors!"—Life.

Heart Disease 30 Yrs!

Short Breath, Palpitation.

Mr. G. W. McKinsey, postmaster of Kokomo, Ind., and a brave ex-soldier, says: "I had been severely troubled with heart disease ever since leaving the army at the close of the late war. I was troubled with palpitation and shortness of breath. I could not sleep on my left side, and had pain around my heart. I became so ill that I was much alarmed, and fortunately my attention was called to

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

I decided to try it. The first bottle made a decided improvement in my condition, and five bottles have completely cured me."

G. W. McKINSEY, P. M., Kokomo, Ind

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

To the World of Women.

Weak, nervous, delicate, overworked women need a strength builder, a tonic for their nerves, and a cure for that awful internal trouble that is wearing out their lives. Thousands of women have found such in Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Mrs. Christiana Beal, of Jonesport, Me., writes that her daughter has been a great sufferer from female trouble, and after repeated trials of doctor's prescriptions and other so-called cures, all of which gave no relief, she used Favorite Remedy and it permanently cured her.

If you have headache, uterine catarrh, irregular menstruation, leucorrhœa or irregular monthly periods, sickness incidental to change of life, or any of the attending evils that are present in female complaints, use Favorite Remedy; it will build up quickly the run down constitution, dispel those tired looks and feelings, restore the nervous system and permanently cure you. Our daughters grow up weak and delicate; mothers can avoid such conditions by giving them Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONEAT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER. PALMER.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed. The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office. WEDDING CARDS.

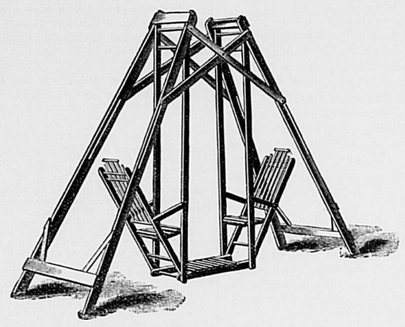
W. E. STONE.

HOT WAVE MERCHANDISE.



THE BRUNSWICK SWING, FOR LAWN OR PIAZZA, $6.75.
Croquet Sets, $1.00. Mexican Hammocks, $1.00.

Large palm leaf fans,.....3c, two for 5c.
Tanglefoot (sticky) fly paper, 3c, double sheet, two for 5c.
Williams' Root Beer Extract, 19c
Hires' " " " "
Knapp's " " " "
Bryant's " " " 10c, makes 5 gallons
Hops, malt, yeast, and cheap molasses for making beer.
Men's wide straw hats.
Children's " " "
Summer corsets, "O, so cool," "Lakesike,".....50c
Summer underwear for men, women and children.
Ladies' chamois gloves,...90c and $1.00, will wash.
Ladies' kid gloves, Foster lace, black, colors, $1.00
Mosquito netting, white, black, blue, pink, green.
New line of dainty dimities, challies, prints, India lawns, nainsooks, shirt waists, and calico wrappers, Windsor ties all colors, 5c to 25c each.
See our straw mattings at 12½c per yard.
Window screens,.....25c and 39c
Oil stoves, three sizes.
Lace curtains,..... .....50c apair and up.
Scrims, ...5c a yard and up.
Silkolines, dot muslin, fish net for draperies.
Extension rods for draperies,.....15c each.

All the best varieties of garden seeds.
Bradley's fertilizers. Coe's fertilizers.
Potatoes, Bermuda onions, California oranges, lemons, bananas, evaporated apricots, prunes, and evaporated apples.
6 pounds raisins, ...25c
6 boxes American sardines,.....25c
Northfield creamery butter.

Bargains in every department. Each and every article warranted to your satisfaction. Goods delivered promptly.

W. E. STONE.

GENERAL STORES.

Lawrence Block, Palmer. Hollister's Block, North Wilbraham.

W. N. FLYNT & SONS'

SPRING STYLES IN MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING

HAVE ARRIVED. GIVE THEM A CALL AND RECEIVE BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY THAN EVER BEFORE. BE SURE YOU GET A TRILBY HAT.

LATEST IN HATS AND CAPS FOR MEN AND BOYS AT

W. N. FLYNT & SONS,
MONSON, MASS.

Argument is Unnecessary.

With a good stock, right prices and right business methods, business won't lag. Who ever found our stock short, immense as is our variety. No one can underbuy us and they shan't undersell us. In methods we cannot be excelled. Cash buys low. If you ain't fixed so cash is convenient, we help you out by giving you credit.

Five Floors and a Basement Filled with Furniture, Carpets, . . . Crockery, Glass Ware, and Kitchen Ware. . . .

Each stock so large and varied in their line as to astonish all.

THIS SPRING

Is the time above all others for buying CARPETS. The tariff assists us in offering you the LOWEST PRICES ever known in these goods. Don't let this opportunity go by, but come at once and inspect our stock.

JUST RECEIVED A CARLOAD OF REFRIGERATORS AND LOW PPICES SHALL MOVE THEM.

BABY CARRIAGES.

Hundreds of styles at rock bottom prices. Visit this great house furnishing establishment.

CREDIT GIVEN IF DESIRED.

E. LUTHER & CO.,
Main Street. SPRINGFIELD. Opp. Court Sq.

AYER'S Hygienic Coffee.

A Health Drink, Nerve and Brain Food.

A vegetable and cereal compound; contains all the elements one's system requires.

Prepared by M. S. AYER, of Boston. A vegetarian of many years.

PRICE, 20 CENTS PER POUND.

Directions: Prepare the same as Coffee, using not more than two-thirds as much for the same amount of water, or one tablespoonful to a pint.

For sale by principal wholesale and retail grocers. Send 2c stamp for book on "Diet Reform."

M. S. AYER. 211 STATE ST., BOSTON.

If my store was on fire, the perfumes would be the first article saved because they are so fine. If you don't believe it come and try them; they are making the flowers jealous, they are so delicious.

Are your TOILET REQUISITES running low? Call and replenish your stock.

You will find my CENTENNIAL TOOTH POWDER the finest you ever used. For the above and anything else you need in my line, call at

ALLEN'S CORNER DRUG STORE.
Holden's Block, Palmer.

Lessons on the Violin or Piano.

Given by—
MISSES JULIA and LILY ALLEN.
Cor. Church and Pleasant Sts., Palmer.
3-42ks

A Georgia Folk Song.

Oh, de rooster roos' on de henroos' high;
(Chillun, cl'ar de way!)
De preacher stop in de passin' by,
En' he never crow fer day!

He never crow fer day—
He never crow fer day;
De preacher stop,
En' his game bag drop,
En' de rooster gone his way!

Oh, de turkey roos' in de tall pine tree,
(Chillun, bar the de do'!)
De preacher rise like a bumble bee,
En' he never roos' no mo'!

He never roos' no mo'—
He never roos' no mo';
He hear de word,
En' de turkey bird—
He gone whar de preacher go!

Oh, de 'possum ketch in de fowlhouse trap,
An' he squeal 'twell his mouth is so';
But he fell in de preacher bag, ker-flop!
En' he never squeal no mo'!

He never squeal no mo'—
He never squeal no mo';
He heard de word
Like de turkey bird,
En' de preacher got him sho'!
—Atlanta Constitution.

ROMANCE IN VIENNA.

Fraulein Louise sits in her rolling chair. She is a cripple and the heroine of the story. For six or seven years she has occupied that chair, when not upon her bed, but she is the brightest, sweetest creature. Her face always serene, her gay little bodices worn with decided grace from the waist up. You would never dream that her lower limbs were incased in plaster of paris, or that she could not get up and walk, if you didn't see the telltale rollers on the chair.

She has far more animation than the typical German women, and a finer outline of feature. She looks as if the vitalizing gayety of Vienna had incorporated itself into her brain and body, giving her the slender waist and piquancy of expression belonging by right to the French-woman.

This is her story as her mother quaintly told it:

"She was never so strong as she might have been. She suffered always, yes, always more or less, and her intended one fell in love with her while she was on crutches. We were at — Springs for the baths when he came out from Triest with a friend, who also had rheumatism. The very day my daughter met him she felt so unhappy, so sad! She said:

"'Mamma, I cost you so much money, I am so helpless, I suffer so. I don't know why God lets me live. Oh, if I could only throw myself into the sea and forget all this wretchedness!'

"That day at dinner we saw the stranger. He sat near us. Louise was gay and bright, for she never will be', unhappy long at a time, and he said that he was almost paralyzed with astonishment to see two of the serving men take her up in her chair and carry her out of the dining-room. But that afternoon we walked in the garden, Louise on crutches, and the young man came and talked again with us.

"After that he came more and more, until he had to go away to Triest. Then he returned on Sunday, and I saw that he liked Louise, and that she liked him, and I thought that I must make some inquires about him, for my husband was alive then, and I knew he would never consent to her marrying him if not of a good family. So I asked a lady at the springs about him.

"'Do you know Louis Brynet?' I said

"'Oh, yes; his father is very wealthy. He is the first butcher in Triest.'

"'A butcher?'

"'Yes, but very rich—very rich. Oh, they have a great deal of money!' Then I was greatly troubled, for I knew that her father would never consent to her marriage with the son of a butcher, even if ever so rich, so I said to Louise: 'You will please me very much if you never speak to this young man again. His father is a butcher.' But it was very sad for her, and he seemed so gentle and well educated that I could not think him the descendant of a family of butchers.

"I went to another lady and told her about it, and she told me that it was all a mistake about his being the butcher's son; that he was of a noble family. That settled the matter, and when he came to me I told him he must come to see her father. But my husband was taken ill and died before the young man could see him. Louise seemed to improve wonderfully in health, and the banns had been published, and the wedding was at hand, when this last attack came on. The wedding presents are now all stored, and the trousseau packed away. Herr Bryant had bought a house in Triest and had furnished it. He lives in it now alone, waiting for her—has waited all these years. Is it not sad? Over and over again he has urged to marry her and take her away to a warmer climate, but how can I consent to that? She is so ill, so ill! If she could only be cured, how happy it would make us!"

"She must be cured," we declared unanimously when the pathetic little story ended.

"But how?,

Oh, yes; how?

* * * * * * *

Fraulein Louise has gone to a hospital to have an operation on her knees. A great physician and surgeon declares that he can cure her. We are almost as excited and anxious as her family. Her lover wanted to come on from Triest and be with her through the ordeal, but it has been considered best for him to remain away. She must have no excitement. The poor tender hearted mother weeps.

The operation is over. When the poor little fraulein came out from under the influence of the anæsthetic, her first thought was to sweetly thank the doctor for not hurting her.

"I felt no pain at all."

Her voice was so childlike, her delicate face so white against the pillow, that he stopped and kissed her forhead.

"My poor child, my dear child."

That was two days ago, and this morning he lifted her up and made her stand on her feet.

"When I have a patient so well in six days, I am happy," he said. "Now I know what you want to do, where you want to write, so I will hold you while you stand for a moment, that you can have something to say to him, some good news to tell. I know, oh, yes, I know. I have been a lover myself."

The story has not yet ended. The lover still waits in his lonely house in Triest, and Fraulein Louise sits in her rolling chair, but she is better. The operation straightened her limbs, and she may after awhile lean once more on her crutches.

"Even that will make me happy," she says with a patient smile. "I have been sitting a long time, a long time. To walk would be a delightful change."

The dust of years lies upon the wedding presents, but they may yet be brought out and used. Who knows?—New York Tribune.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

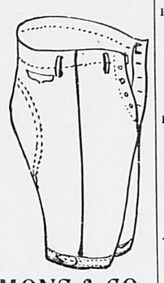
Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

{SEAL} A. W. GLEASON
Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.

L. A. W. Bicycle Club Uniform.



Have you seen our '95 catalogue with prices and samples. Send 2-cent stamp.

G. W. SIMMONS & CO.,
OAK HALL, BOSTON.
Sporting Goods, Firemen's Uniforms, Military Outfitters.

POSTAL
Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

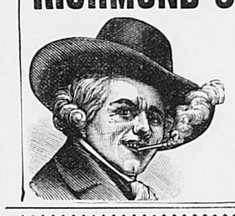
REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads—west of Depot.

RICHMOND STRAIGHT CUT No. 1 CIGARETTES



MADE FROM THE BRIGHTEST, MOST DELICATELY FLAVORED AND HIGHEST COST GOLD LEAF GROWN IN VIRGINIA.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Who are willing to pay a little more than the price charged for ordinary trade cigarettes, will find this brand superior to all others.

ALLEN & GINTER, RICHMOND, VA.
THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., Successor.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

PURE

ARM AND HAMMER

BEWARE of imitation trade marks and labels. is the whole story about in packages. Costs no more than other package soda—never spoils flour—universally acknowledged purest in the world.

ARM AND HAMMER SODA

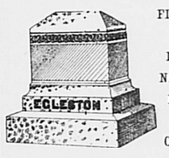
Made only by CHURCH & CO., New York. Sold by grocers everywhere.
Write for Arm and Hammer Book of valuable Recipes—FREE.

Salary and expenses paid weekly from start. Permanent position. Good chance for advancement. Exclusive territory. Largest growers of Nursery stock. Clean, hardy stock, true to name. Fair treatment guaranteed. No substitution in our orders. Liberal commission to local part-time agents. We can interest any one not earning $75 per month and expenses. Don't hesitate because of previous failures in this or other lines. Outfit free. Address, BROWN BROS. CO., Continental Nurseries, Rochester, N. Y. (This house is reliable. Name this paper.—Ed.)

CANVASSER

Granite and Marble Monuments.



FINEST WORKMANSHIP AND LOWEST PRICES. NEW DESIGNS ARE BEING ADDED TO MY STOCK CONSTANTLY.

WILLIAM F. COOK,
182 and 184 State St., Springfield, Mass.

No Default of Principal or Interest

has ever occurred in a security sold by this company

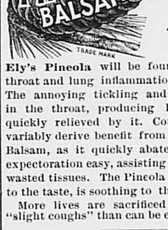
MUNICIPAL BONDS.

The securities offered by this Company are selected with great care, and are first class investments for individual buyers, legatees, trustees, banks and savings banks. More than

FIFTY CLASSES OF BONDS

have been sold by us in the last three years. Send for our list of bonds and make use of our experience.

German-American Investment Co.,
52 Wall Street, New York.



For Coughs, Colds, Asthma and Pulmonary Diseases.

A True Balsam.

Ely's Pineola will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. The annoying tickling and nervous irritation in the throat, producing hacking coughs is quickly relieved by it. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from the use of Pineola Balsam, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. The Pincola Balsam is pleasant to the taste, is soothing to the inflamed surface.

More lives are sacrificed by the neglect of "slight coughs" than can be estimated.

Price of Pineola Balsam, 25c per bottle. All druggists. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., New York.

A CHANCE TO EARN MONEY! Salary and Expenses paid, or Commission if preferred. Salesmen wanted everywhere. No experience needed. Address, stating age, The G. L. Van Dusen Nursery Co., Box D, Geneva, N. Y.

USE BARNES' INK A. S. BARNES & CO., 56 E. 10th St., N. Y.

THE HARDWARE DEALER. A MAGAZINE brim full of practical ideas from hardware men. The cream of 1000 brains. 116 pages. Only $1.00 a year. Sample copy free. D. T. MALLET, Pub., 78 Reade St., New York.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

CURES CONSUMPTIVE

Use Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cures the worst Cough, Weak Lungs, Debility, Indigestion, Pain, Take in time. 50 cts.

KINDERCORNS. The only sure cure for Corns. Cures all pain. 15c. at Druggists, or HISCOX & Co., N. Y.

CALIFORNIA, OREGON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO,
AND ALL WESTERN POINTS.
Select Excursions from Chicago Every Day.
Via Chicago, Union Pacific, and Northwestern Line.
SHORTEST ROUTE. LOWEST RATES
For handsome illustrated folder and detailed information address W. MASSEY, N. E. Pass. Agt., or J. S. SMITH, Trav. Pass. Agt., Union Pacific Ry., 250 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.
Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

Get a Glass! Quick!

There's lots of snap and vim in this HIRES' ROOTBEER. There's lots of pleasure and good health in it, too. A delicious drink, a temperance drink, a home-made drink, a drink that delights the old and young. Be sure and get the genuine

HIRES' Rootbeer

A 25 cent package makes 5 gallons. Sold everywhere.
THE CHAS. E. HIRES COMPANY,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

S. & W. Wind Engines

For Pumping and Power.

Do not be deceived by misleading advertisements. If you or your friends are in need of anything in the following lines, send for our new and handsome catalogue of 175 pages now ready for mailing.

Hot Air Engines, Steam Engines and Boilers, Tanks, Pumps, Pipe-fittings, Steam or Hot Water House Heating Boilers, &c.
SMITH & WINCHESTER CO.,
19 to 27 Wendell St., BOSTON - 141 Centre St., NEW YORK.

"A HANDFUL OF DIRT MAY BE A HOUSEFUL OF SHAME." KEEP YOUR HOUSE CLEAN WITH

SAPOLIO

9-4

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 7, 1895. NUMBER 10.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one-half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 50 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counselior at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R. R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BOND, A. M., Manufacturer and Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, Tinware, Hardware, etc.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's.

WARE.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N., Clothier, Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

PALMER LODGE, No. 190, I. O. O. F. Meets every Wednesday evening in Commercial Block, Main street.
M. M. THOMAS, N. G. G. H. BRAY, Rec. Sec.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in Grange Hall, Day's Block, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.
Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOOERS, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. MCGREGORY.
Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Moores, E. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory
Board of Investment,
Geo. Moores, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach. A. L. Hills.

FINEST GROWN

FINE STATIONERY.

Many ladies are troubled to find just the size, shade or weight of correspondence paper which they would like. With something like

200 VARIETIES

To select from we ought to be able to please you. Any style of paper in any size or shape, and you may have 100 sheets or 1000, as you prefer. We'd be pleased to show you samples at the JOURNAL Office. Your monogram or initials embossed in color if desired.

THE LIGHT.....OF FASHION

Has been our guide in selecting SPRING GOODS. Every article that was presented to us was held up for examination under the light of style. If it stood the test it was approved and is here for you. In the same light of FASHION we ask you to see our offering of fine

LINEN LAWN AT 12½c.

This is the correct thing for this season's use.

The June Sale of SHIRT WAISTS---50c, 75c, 89c, $1.10 upwards.

The June Sale of EMBROIDERY. There is money saving in it for you.

The June Sale of BELTS and STUD SETS. Endless variety.

You are foolish if you don't save.

T. H. TODD.

Boston Store, Monson, Mass.

Below find our prices for COAL for the coming season, to be delivered about June 1st. Prices are subject to advance at any time. Coal to be delivered from either station within a reasonable distance from same. Good men furnished to house and bin same at actual cost for their time.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

We would advise every one to put in EARLY ORDERS as coal will advance in price SURE.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

PRICES FOR LACKAWANNA:		PRICES FOR LEHIGH:
Stove size,	$4.80 per ton.	Stove size,	$4.95 per ton.
Chestnut,	4.80 " "	Chestnut,	4.95 " "
Furnace,	4.60 " "	Furnace,	4.80 " "

R. M. & THEO. REYNOLDS,

MONSON, - - MASS.

If you are going to use any

WALL PAPER

this spring it will

PAY YOU

to look at our line and get

OUR PRICES.

We have our NEW STOCK all in and know we are very bottom on prices.

WE WILL UNDERSELL

any city in the state of Massachusetts.

LeGRO & LYNDE,

DRUGGISTS,

Next Door to Post Office, Palmer.

The People of Palmer and Vicinity

Will find it no longer necessary to go to the surrounding cities for the latest styles in fine footwear. Here you will find the "up-to-date" novelties as well as staple goods.

Ladies and children with slender feet will find a good assortment in all styles of SHOES and OXFORDS, in narrow widths, at medium prices.

I am showing a nice line of MISSES' TAN LACE SHOES, SPRING HEEL.

Nothing daintier for Commencement Exercises than those WHITE KID SLIPPERS and WHITE CANVAS OXFORDS AT $1.50.

TAN BOYS' and YOUTHS' BAL. just the thing for the summer vacation.

Gent's fancy PATENT LEATHER DRESS SHOES are the proper thing this season. I have some beauties.

A. B. COWAN,

Successor to Chas. N. Blake & Co.

Holden's New Block, Main Street,

PALMER, MASS.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Bigger selling than ever we knew the first week of June.

Don't miss reading our store news these days.

Another Silk Bargain To-Day.

Twelve hundred yards of Printed India Silks, 21 inches wide. Usual value 50 cents.

Sale price 19 cents a yard.
Court Square entrance.

A Glove Bargain.

Manufacturer's sample line of Women's Lisle Thread, Taffeta and Silk Gloves. They would retail for from 37½c to $1 a pair.

Sale price for choice, 19 cents a pair.

Also a lot of Men's Lisle Thread Gloves that bring 50 cents usually.

Sale price 15 cents a pair.
Center store.

Trimmed Hats in Our Millinery Dep't.

You know the class of Millinery we sell—the best of course. Well, we've about a hundred Trimmed Hats that we sell for from $3 to $6.

Sale price $1 to $2.50.
Third floor, take elevator.

Muslin Underwear.

Merit has won. All Springfield and vicinity are this way; and the selling of Muslin Underwear has passed all records. It isn't easy to win over careful, painstaking people, but they are our valued friends. A store does not grow by what it sells to careless folks, who think that anything will do. We plan for careful people, who will appreciate these better-than-home-made garments at less than home-made cost.

Skirts

Of fine Muslin with deep Hamburg ruffle and cluster of tucks, very full. Usual price 50 cents.

Sale price 25 cents.

An umbrella-shaped skirt, extra full Hamburg ruffle, usual price $1.25.

Sale price 75 cents.

Corset Covers.

A good one, made of Fruit of Loom Cotton and high neck, trimmed with Hamburg, 10 cents.
Sizes 36, 38, 40, 42.

Very fine Corset Covers with Torchon edges, usual price 75c.

Sale price 29 cents.

Drawers.

Made of good quality Cambric with Hamburg and Torchon Lace edge. Usual price $1.

Sale price 59 cents.

Corsets.

Summer Corsets, extra long waist, 29 cents. Our regular 50c Corsets.

Prima Donna Corset in Drab and White. Imported Corset.

Sale price 75c, value $1.

C. P. Corset. A line. Every lady knows what this corset it.

Sale price $1.29. Worth $1.75.
Main store, center.

SMITH & MURRAY.

TO COLT OWNERS.

I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.

3-tf Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS.

A FULL LINE OF

STABLE AND . . .

STREET BLANKETS

—AT—

WHOLESALE PRICES.

D. W. FOSKETT,

FOSKET'S MILLS.

FRESH

Milk and Cream.

MAPLE
LAWN
MILK
FARM.

O. D. WELLS, Proprietor.

TRADE SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

OF THE

Springfield Industrial Institute,

Springfield, Mass.

DAY INSTRUCTION in Pattern Making, Cabinet Making, Plumbing, Brick Laying and Plastering, Stone Cutting, Sign and Carriage Painting, Machine Shop Practice.

COURSES 4 months to 1 year in length. Finely equipped shops. Skilled mechanics for instructors.

FOUR OTHER DEPARTMENTS: Industrial High School, Engineering, Normal Manual Training, Normal Kindergarten.

For particulars address
4-26 L. P. STRONG, Director.

E. S. BRYANT, D. M. D.

DENTIST.

LYNDE'S BLOCK. - - PALMER.

Office Hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

CHARLES E. LYNCH.

June, lovely June, the month of perfect days is here. It'll be the busiest of busy months in all the year. We have the goods with which to make it so. You know it. We know it. LYNCH'S Clothes are not equalled anywhere. Here are some of LYNCH'S Specialties for the month of June.

FINE CASSIMERE SUITS FOR $10.

The demand for low-priced suits is unprecedented. Everybody wants fine Clothing. They can't afford to pay for them. Hard times, little work and low wages have made even the most extravagant frugal and careful We expected as much. We anticipated it.

When manufacturers were pinched for money, when they would pay almost anything for it, we stood in the breach and shook some "cold cash" at one of the finest manufacturers in the country. What's the result? Just this. We start the month of June with 1000 elegant and splendidly made suits. The fabrics are the finest of fine cassimeres. The workmanship is excellent. The styles are perfect. The price is $10. Not what they're worth by any means. We leave you to decide their worth. All we know is this: We have sold similar suits for $15, $18, even $20. More—we have even ourselves paid more than we're asking for suits that were no better. They're surely the handsomest, best made suits for $10 ever known.

SPLENDID SERGE SUITS.

Nothing can equal a serge suit for comfort and ease in Summer time. A "good" SERGE SUIT is the most serviceable of suits for Summer wear. We are selling a "Good," an absolutely "good" serge suit for $10. "Good" means all wool, well made, correct style and guaranteed not to change color. It looks like a $20 suit. It is certainly worth $15. It's equal for the money isn't to be seen anywhere.

Fine STEIN-BLOCH Serges with all the kinks of Custom Suit, $15, $18, $20.

TAILOR MADE SUITS.

Why pay $35 or $40 for a suit when a fine STEIN-BLOCH Suit can be had for $15, $18 or $20? The STEIN-BLOCH goods are in every respect equal to the finest custom goods. Ask any tailor. They'll tell you so. STEIN-BLOCH Suits sell for $15, $18 and $20. Better clothing cannot be "made to order" for twice the money.

CHARLES E. LYNCH,

Promoter of Fashionable Clothing.

367 Main. SPRINGFIELD. 369 Main.

Your money refunded in case of any dissatisfaction whatever.

Evening at the Farm.

The soft and amber light of sunset's glow
Lies over hill and valley
In sweet calm:
And quiet peace that comes when labor's done,
Is bringing with the dying day
A hush upon the farm.

The open barn, with wealth of cattle life,
Is welcoming its lowing herd
With outstretched arms:
While tinkling bell and calls from far and near,
Bring home the weary wanderers
At the farm.

The birds are twittering their evening hymn,
With softened chirp that sounds
Like chanted psalm;
And myriad insects of the hastening night
Begin their hum and music
At the farm.

The purple shadows deepen round the place,
The sweetness of the evening air
Brings balm
For tired nature; and one by one
The stars begin to glow, and seem to breathe a benediction
At the farm.

A glimpse from open door reveals a scene
That in serene content and happiness
Breathes perfect calm;
And pausing on the way till next day's toil,
All human life and nature are at rest
Upon the farm.

—George Lamson, in Home and Country.

A CONFIDENCE.

Oh, the bumblebee in the pumpkin blow,
Pumpkin blow—bumblybee, tam-te-be—"

"Clarisse, what are you singing? What is the rest of it?"

Clarisse laughed aloud. "There isn't any rest to it or for me either. I heard a little child singing that as we came out through the streets, and it's been haunting me ever since. I think a touch of premature summer weather goes to my head like champagne. I can't be very serious on a day like this."

Louise, for this was the name of the other speaker, twitched with a disconted move the boa at her throat. "I hate such uncertain weather myself," she said; "one never knows what to wear. Here am I with a spring gown on and winter furs."

"I don't think this uncertain," Clarisse returned. "When it rains one moment and the sun shines the next, I call that a day which doesn't know it's own mind, and I have the same contempt for its morate as for a vacillating mortal."

"Do you always know your own mind?" asked Louise, lifting a pair of large mournful eyes.

"Of course. For instance, I knew your spring gown was lovely the moment I saw you this afternoon. I like those ribbon bands so much."

Louise turned the same doleful glance upon her costume.

"Do you? I thought I looked like a peppermint stick when I saw myself in the glass. There's just another instance of my miserable indecision of character. I hesitated for days over those ribbon bands for fear I shouldn't like them, and now they are irretrievable. I hate them."

"What is the matter, dear" said Clarisse with compassion and comparative irrelevance.

As answer two large tears rolled down the cheeks of Louise. "Oh, Clarisse!" she sobbed, "they are turning back, and they'll find me crying."

The two girls were sitting side by side on a rustic bench under a gnarled old oak-tree whose soft spring leaves seemed to deny the rude strength of the twisted boughs. It was one of the quietest corners of a park which had not been despoiled of its natural beauty. Where hills rose and rolled they still found lovely wild ravines between and sharp steeps. Though the lawn was clear shaven about the rustic bench, the rising slope behind was crowned by a tangled brake, a trysting-place for noisy birds and squirrels. A beaten park road, already white and dry as if summer had indeed come, swept past the bench, and rounding the curve of the hill some distance beyond, was lost to view.

Just at this vanishing-point two men were standing, half turning in the road, as if to retrace their steps to the bench. Clarisse, darting a look at them, rose quickly to her feet, waving her two hands dismissingly.

"Go on," she called, her hands hollowed about her mouth. "Finish your walk and come back for us; we want to rest here,".

The men seemed to hesitate and consult together.

"But they have invited us for a walk," said Louise. "They will think this so odd."

"It's their own fault. They walked on talking together and quite forgot us."

"We left them first to gather wild flowers."

"Well, if you want to be caught crying—"

"Oh, no, no; send them away, Clarisse."

Clarisse advanced into the center of the road, her lifted hand imperiously pointing over the hills. The fresh spring breeze carried to her the sound of the two men's laughter as they turned obediently away with exaggerated courtesy of sweeping hats. Until the little hills screened them they kept looking back over their shoulders. Clarisse watched their departure smiling. The smile was yet on her lips as she turned back to Louise.

"Well, dear," she said mischievously, "what is it?"

And Louise, her eyes still on the road where the two figures had been, cried with misery too deep for blushes, "Oh, Clarisse, I can't decide which of them I love."

"What!" Clarisse sat very upright on the bench.

"You can't be more disgusted with me than I am with myself. I told you I had no decision in me. Until this winter I always thought it would be Laurence in the end, and I'm afraid he had some little reason to agree with me, but now—"

Clarisse waited. No more came. "Now is it to be Richard Manter?" she asked at length.

"I don't know. Do you think it should end so?"

"That depends," said Clarisse slowly, "on the beginning. To tell the truth, I have agreed with you in thinking that Laurence would be your end. But of course if you find that you honestly love another man—and he loves you—"

The last words were not exactly a question, yet they had the inflection of interrogation. Louise so accepted them.

"Yes, he loves me. Sometimes I almost wish he didn't, for then I could have settled down quietly with Laurence and not be racked as I am now.

"Clarisse, if you had to decide between them which would you choose?"

Clarisse shook her head. "I shall never be so embarrassed. This is an unequal world. If I can be sure of one good man's love, I shall thank heaven fasting, and here are you with the love of two so equally good that you can't choose between them. Which is the most eloquent in pleading his cause, Louise?"

"I think," said Louise, reflectively, "that Mr. Manter is."

"Dick Manter! If you can say that, you must be in love with him. Why, he stammers horriblp whenever he is at all excited. If he didn't tammer when he told you he loved you, Louise, I should question his sincerity. Did he?',

"How can you be so trifling, Clarisse? Mr. Manter has never said he loved me. I suppose he will do all that is proper, including stammering, when the time comes. I like his little stammer. It sounds so eager."

Clarisse sat looking at her friend with wide eyes and parted lips. "Louise!" she exclaimed, "do you mean that you are setting here on this bench quietly disposing of a man who hasn't even stammered love to you?"

"That's just what he has done in everything but words. He's not like Lawrence. I think that's his charm to me. For years Lawrence has never been alone with me for a moment without saying a downright 'I love you.' It's almost gross. Mr. Manter doesn't need to do that."

"I'm afraid," said Clarisse, dryly, "that I like grossness in such matters. It saves trouble. For instance, you might be thinking it was yourself Mr. Manter cared for when it really was someone else. Your pretty sister, Rose, for example, or it might even be I."

Louise turned swiftly. "Rose!" she cried. "It strikes me," said Clarisse, laughing, "that you dismiss with a most unflattering ease of mind the possibility of Mr. Manter's nursing a secret passion in my direction. Now, I think of it, I believe his manner to me has been rather devoted of late. My question is—is Mr. Manter attentive to me for your sake, or to you for my sake, or to both of us for Rose's sake. I'm sure to an impartial observer it might seem any of the three."

"You are talking nonsense, Louise, and you know it. He likes Rose well enough, but—Oh, I know he doesn't love her."

"Then if you know, that ends speculation. It seems a reasonable conclusion to me, for while I also like Rose well enough, it's you I love, Louise."

She held out her hand affectionately to Louise, who caught and pressed it between hers.

"Now, Rose is disposed of, what of me?" asked Clarisse, merrily.

Louise laughed with her. "You! How could it be you and I not know it?"

"I don't quite see myself," said Clarisse, candidly. "I was only trying to prove to you that you ought to be careful. Men do sometimes confuse matters by paying more attention to those near the rose than to the rose herself. It's often hard, particularly with a shy man, to distinguish between a vicarious affection and the real passion. All things considered, I must confess again that I prefer what you call grossness in these affairs. I suppose I shall shock you horribly, Louise, but I carry my preference so far that I really wouldn't trust any man on earth, not even Dick Manter, except tied with the string of clearly spoken words. But of course if you can understand Mr. Manter fully without speech—"

Louise interrupted impatiently. "Oh, a girl always understands if she chooses to. When I hear them declare they were 'so surprised,' I never believe it. No, the only thing that troubles me is having no answer ready. Mr. Manter is not like Laurence. It will have to be yes or no wlth him, and I can't decide."

Clarisse drew her hand from her friend's clinging grasp, and deliberately opened her pocket-book, from which she selected a small coin.

"Do you see this?" she said, holding up the silver between her thumb and fore-finger. Her lips were twitching with a smile. "This is my luck penny, a silver threepenny piece. Now, do you pray that it may be your luck penny. Heads, Dick—tails, Laurence."

Louise caught the lifted hand, her face glowing. "Clarisse, how can you? When I asked you to help me decide, I never thought you could do anything so—so"

"Vulgar," supplied Carisse. "Flipping for a husband doesn't sound particularly delicate, I'll admit. But I have a good motive back of it. I can't advise you, dear; you ought to know I can't and if you will just trust me a litte, this won't be indelicate, and it will help you. Now, come. I promise you that when it's over you'll say it was the most delicate policy. Will you try?" She held up the coin and smiled winningly. "Trust me!" she repeated.

With Louise's "yes," the coin snapped by Clarisse's thumb-nail rose in the air and fell upon her knee. Louise bent forward, half unwilling, half eager; but Clarisse had her hand pressed tightly over the bit of silver biding it.

"Wait one moment," she said; "we must fully realize the solemnity of the moment. If you expect this chance as final it has ceased to be skirmishing for you, Louise, and it means a close engagement. Tails will give you Laurence, heads, Dick. I choose it so because I really think Dick has the better head of the two, inside. On the other hand, Laurence's head is of infinitely better finish outside. Dick's hair is red, and he has a Roman nose. Comparing further, Laurence's temper is the sweetest in the world, but Dick's is more scintillating. I should say Laurence would be the easier to live with, but then think of dying with Dick! There seems hardly a pin to choose between them except in one point; that's in Dick's favor. He has known you but one year, and Laurence is an old, old tale of devotion. Which do you think this coin is, Louise, heads or tails?"

"Oh, let me see it, Clarisse."

"Do you mean to abide by it?"

"I—I think I do,"

Clarisse raised her hand and peeped under it. "Heads!" she cried, sweeping the coin into her palm. "Poor Laurence!"

Louise with an involuntary gesture, lifted her finger to her lower lip, pressing it between her teeth. Clarisse looked up quickly.

"It's to be Dick," she said, briskly, snapping the clasp of her purse on the coin. "Now, that's decided, and you can be at peace, Louise, unless you'd like to 'flip' once more. Some people prefer to take the best two out of three."

Louise's finger dropped from her lip, which curved instantly into a smile "I would feel it surer," she said.

"Would you?" answered Clarisse. She thrust her pocket-book deep into her pocket as she spoke, and settled herself judicially upon the bench. "Louise," she said, severely "look me in the face. I forgot to mention to you that people only prefer the best two flips out of three when the first flip does not suit them at all. Now answer me one question. Why did you suffer a distinct shock, and show it plainly, when Dick was suddenly decided upon?"

"It wasn't that exactly," began Louise.

"Then of what were you thinking that made your face fall inches as I called heads."

"I was only thinking," faltered Louise, "that I could never break it to Laurence, and that if I felt it so for him, perhaps—"

"Perhaps what?"

"That I loved him best after all."

Clarisse bent towards her friend affectionately, almost gratefully, grasping her two hands. "Of course you love Laurence best after all, and before all, too. I knew you did. One can't always decide what one wants, but you can find out what you don't want by simply "flipping." Don't you see my delicate policy now, Louise? If the wrong man came I knew you'd feel disappointed, and so you did. But are you perfectly convinced, dear? Is it really and with no mistake to be Laurence in the end?"

Louise was gazing down the road toward the hill behind which the two figures had disappeared. "It couldn't ever have been any one else," she said, absently. "I know now it was to be Laurence from the beginning."

Clarisse lowered her eyes. "Louise," she said, softly, "as you are so sure, I must confess a little fib to you. That coin really fell tails, for Laurence, but I had to say it was heads to convince you that you didn't want Dick. Will you forgive me?"

Louise did not answer. Following her absorbed gaze, Clarisse also looked down the road to discover why. Two figures were approaching them from about the base of the green hill.

"Louise," Clarisse whispered, "what a funny world this is! Here comes the man you threw for and thought you lost, and found you must have, and the man—Oh, dear me, I have so much to confess to you! You can't guess what I've been going through this half hour, dear. Since yesterday I've been engaged to Dick myself—and he stammered horribly."—Margaret Sutton Briscoe in Harper's Bazar.

PALMER HISTORY GLEANINGS.

BY O. P. ALLEN.

III.

Dr. Shearer's Record of Marriages.

Dr. Jonathan Shearer of Palmer was born in this town March 29, 1762; died September 1, 1828. He was for many years a justice of the peace and kept a private record of the marriage rites which he performed. I have in my possession this record, which extends from March 11, 1811, to January 12, 1828, and as it may be of value to the future searchers after olden dates I transcribe it. The account is headed, "This is a Book of Records of Marriages by me, Jonathan Shearer, Justice of the Peace."

Palmer, March 11, 1811. Mr. Jonathan Bass was married to Miss Sally Shearer, and they were published according to the laws of this state and obtained the town clerk's certificate.

Monson, April 25, 1811. Mr. Thomas Butler was married to Miss Betsey Butler, both of Monson.

Monson, May 9, 1811. Jack Jackson was married to Jenny Homes of Monson.

Monson, May 27, 1812. John Williams of Palmer was married to Hannah Storey of Monson.

Monson, August 10, 1813. James Wicks of Farmington was married to Betsy Storey of Monson.

Palmer, February 15, 1814. James Niles was married to Clarissa Hues, both of Willington, Ct.

Palmer, February 15, 1815. Christopher Beebe of Monson was married to Clarissa Graves of Palmer.

Monson, May 21, 1815. Nathan Warriner, Jr., was married to Abigail S. Cleveland, both of Monson.

Monson, November 19, 1815. John Butler was married to Theodora Warriner, both of Monson.

Monson, March 7, 1816. Harvey Wright of Ludlow was married to Rebecca Thayer of Monson.

Monson, August 22, 1816. John Trumble 2d was married to Harriet Hatch.

Palmer, June 8, 1817. Paniel Hamilton was married to Prisca Weaver.

Ludlow, June 25, 1818. Joel Wright was married to Polly Smith, both of Ludlow.

Palmer, August 27, 1818. Cyrus Knox of Monson was married to Peggy Shaw of Palmer.

Palmer, September 15, 1819. Aaron Trumble was married to Lucinda Hatch.

Palmer, September 11, 1819. Abel Wright, Jr., was married to Polly Trumble of Monson.

Palmer, February 20, 1820. John Short was married to Lucretia Turtelotte, both of Palmer.

Palmer, March 2, 1820. Joseph Palmer was married to Lydia Warriner, both of Monson.

Palmer, May 7, 1820. John H. Butler was married to Sally Hatch, both of Monson.

April 26, 1821. Eber Shaw of Monson was married to Tirzah Shaw of Palmer.

Palmer, November 22, 1821. Enoch Shaw of Enfield was married to Mary Upham of Palmer.

Palmer, August 15, 1822. George Waid was married to Mary Brewer, both of Ludlow.

Palmer, May 22, 1823. Nathaniel Roberts, Jr., was married to Ruby Shearer, both of Palmer.

Palmer, September 4, 1823. Zachariah M. Thayer of Monson was married to Saphronia Cadwell of Wilbraham.

Palmer, November 7, 1823. Abel Wright was married to Isabell Waid, both of Ludlow.

Palmer, October 4, 1824. Joel Gibbins of Wilbraham was married to Mary Thayer of Monson.

Palmer, December 20, 1824. John S. Greene was married to Amanda Jenks, both of Palmer.

Palmer, April 5, 1825. Henry Hatch was married to Ruth Shaw, both of Monson.

Palmer, February 4, 1826. Cyrus Cleveland was married to Eleanor Plumly, both of Wilbraham.

Palmer, December 19, 1826. James Colton was married to Priscilla Walbridge, both of Wilbraham.

Palmer, January 3, 1827. John Maxwell of Monson was married to Mariah Cleveland of Palmer.

Palmer, January 12, 1828. John Butler was married to Nancy Butler, both of Wilbraham.

NOTE.—Since the publication of my article on the "Methodist chapel at Blanchardville" in the JOURNAL last week, a friend has kindly given these additional items. After leaving Palmer, John Dadmun went to New Haven, Ct., where he married again. In his old age he removed to North Amherst, where he lived with his son Charles, and died some twenty years ago. His son, William, alluded to in the article, became a noted and efficient preacher in the Methodist church, and a successful composer of hymns; he was also for many years a chaplain on Deer Island.

A MAN OF PRUDENCE.

The cowboy was sitting in a chair tilted back against the shady side of the saloon taking it easy when one of his friends came by.

"Hello, Dick!" he said. "What's this story about the barkeeper over the way callin' you a liar yisterday and bullyraggin you around fer an hour or more?"

"That's what he done," admitted Dick boldly.

"What did you let him do it fer?"

"I had my reasons."

"'Fraid of him?"

Dick jumped up.

"Hold on there, pard," he said. "You ain't in the same fix that the barkeeper was, and it ain't safe."

"Don't worry about me. What about the barkeeper?"

"Well, it was this way," explained Dick. "The barkeeper was negotiatin, fer a policy on his life fer $10,000 in favor of his widder. The business wasn't settled till this mornin. Now it's in workin order, an I'm going over after awhile and give him a chance to bullyrag me some more. Then I'll go round and have a little talk with the widder. You must think I'm a chump that can't see past the end of my nose."—Detroit Free Press.

Ethel—"You remember that absurd-looking monkey we saw on the street? "Yes." "Well, Tom bought and sent him to me." "Well, it's just like him."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 7, 1895.

LOCAL NOTICES.

For Sale.—A good second-hand phaeton at low price. Inquire at Milligan's shoe store.

W. R. Milligan, auctioneer. Terms reasonable and satisfaction guaranteed.

PALMER NEWS.

A NEW SCHOOL HOUSE

Recommended for Thorndike by the School Committee.

The sub-committee recently appointed by the school committee to examine and report as to the condition of the school building in Thorndike has made its report, which is of such a nature that the school committee has unanimously approved and adopted its recommendation that a new building be erected in place of the present structure. In order that the voters of the town may see just what is the condition of the present building, and the necessity for some radical action, we append the report in full:

Acting under the imperative command of the Board of District Police that the Thorndike school building must be ventilated in a manner acceptable to them, your sub-committee, appointed to consider the condition of said school building, submits the following report:

The building is old; it was built in 1846. While the outside presents a fair appearance, the inside bears the signs of age. In every room the ceilings have been replaced by sheathing, and in two rooms the walls have been similarly renewed. Partitions have been changed, until the rooms are unsuitable in size and shape for school purposes. Room 1 is 27 ft. by 27 ft. 6 in. and is 9 ft. 4 in. high. The average number of pupils is 50 At present there are 55 and 48 seats. The minimum cubic air space recommended by the state board is 200 cubic feet per pupil. Each pupil in this room, based on the average number 50, has only 138 6 cubic feet, about two-thirds the minimum allowance. There are five windows in this room 5 ft. by 2 ft. 9 in., but only four send any light upon the pupils' desks. The window surface should be one-sixth the floor surface. The floor surface of this room is 742½ square feet; the surface of the four useful windows is 55 square feet, only 7.4 per cent of the floor surface, less than one-half what it should be. The pupils of this room hang their wraps in the cold entrance hall.

Room 2 is 35 ft. 4 in. on one side, 32 ft. 9 in. on the other, and is 31 ft. 6 in. wide; it is 9 ft. 4 in. high. It contains an average of 50 pupils, each having about 200 cubic feet of air space. There are eight windows, two of which are in front of the pupils and worse than useless. Of the remaining six, five send light upon the pupils' desks. The floor space of the room is 1071 square feet; the available window surface is 68⅞ square feet; 6 4 per cent, about two-fifths of what it should be. These pupils also use a cold hall for a coat room. On this floor is a small room 11 ft. by 6 in. by 9 ft., of no practical use. The height of these rooms, 9 ft. 4 in., is at least 3 feet less than it should be.

On the second floor, rooms 3 and 4 are the same size, 36 ft. 9 in. by 24 ft. 4 in. and are of sufficient height, 14 feet. They furnish abundant cubic air space for pupils. Between the two rooms is a waste passage 35 ft. by 10 ft. Each room is lighted by several windows 6 ft. by 2 ft. 9 in., only five of which light the pupils' desks. The floor space is 857½ square feet; the available window surface is 82.5 square feet, 9.6 per cent, about three-fifths what it should be. The boys hang their wraps on hooks in the school rooms, and the girls hang theirs in small unlighted and unventilated closets, built over the stairways. The desks in all the rooms are of the double-seat pattern, and very old. No room has sufficient black board surface.

The floors are in poor condition, especially in room 2, where the floor is very irregular, owing to the condition of the floor timbers. Rooms 1, 2 and 4 are heated by a furnace, room 3 by a stove. None of the rooms have any means of ventilation. The requirement is 2000 cubic feet of fresh air per hour for each pupil. The pupils of this building get none except from open doors and windows. From October to June, this is a dangerous expedient. Your committee visited the building at 9.45 o'clock on Tuesday, May 28th. The air in all the rooms was thoroughly vitiated. The four rooms are reached by three separate entrances, making it impossible for a principal to exercise proper supervision. The stairs leading to the upper rooms are very steep and taxing upon the pupils. There is no basement, only a pit large enough to hold the furnace.

Such are the conditions. To obtain suitable school accommodations as demanded by the state board, we require one of two things.

First, changes in the present building: To furnish space for a ventilating system, a cellar must be dug and walled up. The floor timbers must be strengthened and some new ones put in. To give the required cubic air space, the lower rooms must be raised at least 3 feet. The entire window system must be changed and enlarged. The partitions must be torn down and re-arranged to give a central entrance to all rooms, to give coat rooms heated and lighted, and to give school-rooms of suitable size and convenience. This practically means the complete tearing out of the interior of the present structure, leaving only the outer walls. The cost will be not less than $5000.

The second is to build a new, modern building.

We have shown the present condition of the Thorndike school house. We have referred to the two ways by which proper school facilities can be furnished the children of Thorndike. It is the duty of the school board to say which of the plans they will recommend, but your sub-committe, after a full investigation, unhesitatingly reports to your board in favor of a new building.

A special town meeting will probably be called in the near future to take action on this matter.

THE NEW OPERA HOUSE.

To be Opened With the Operatic Spectacle of "Zephra."

The long looked for and eagerly awaited day when the beautiful new opera house will be opened to the gaze of an admiring public has at last been fixed, and the dedicatory committee of Palmer Lodge, I. O. O. F., is actively hustling to get all in readiness for this truly gala day in the history of this village. The attraction that has been selected by the committee for the opening night is the operatic spectacle of "Zephra," a legend of Norseland, special arrangements having been completed with the Averill & Foster Co., proprietors of the piece, for a production here, although the company had practically closed its season at Springfield.

The play of "Zephra" made its debut in New England at the Grand Opera House in Boston, March 19, 1894, where it was played under the auspices of the 1st Regiment Patriarchs Militant to the second largest business ever done in that opera house, and since that time the Odd Fellows of nearly every New England city of 30,000 inhabitants or upwards have produced it with success little less than phenomenal. In the production of "Zephra" in this town, aside from the talent from abroad, nearly or quite one hundred of the young people of the town will participate, who will be drilled from now until the presentation under the direction of the author, R. W. Averill, who has taken up his quarters at the Converse House and will remain here throughout. The costumes and scenic effects of "Zephra" are said to be among the most elaborate ever carried outside of New York, it requiring upwards of a carload of special scenery and mechanical effects, including four complete sets of calcium lights, to produce effectively the play. The story of the spectacle is bright and witty, the music sparkling and of the kind usually denominated as "catchy." The specialties are strong and throughout all a strong vein of fun predominates. The opening will take place the last week in this month, just what nights have not been determined as yet, but will be announced as soon as the Grand Master of this state is heard from, who will probably formally open the house.

The Bicycle Road Race.

The annual road race of the Palmer Bicycle Club came off last evening. There was great interest in the event, a large number of people who were anxious to see the race blocking the street at the starting point for more than an hour. The first men started about 6.45, having a lead of 5 minutes over the scratch man. The other men were given handicaps of 4½, 4, 3½, 3, 2½ and 2 minutes. The course to Monson and return measured 10½ miles, and considering the nature of the road, very good time was made. In spite of his heavy handicap, Coleman was favorite, but although he made the best time, he was beaten by three men, the winner having 3½ minutes and the others 2½ minutes start. The following are the names of the prize winners in their order, their actual riding time, and the prizes won by them: Wallace Knowlton, time 29 minutes, 26 seconds, prize, suit of clothes; E. D. Tufts, 29 min. 8⅝ sec., prize, fish pole; Eugene Shaw, 29 min. 15 sec., prize, patent leather shoes; Watson Coleman, 28 min. 13¼ sec., prize, sweater; Walter Russell, 31 min. 30 sec., prize, Victor saddle; Fred Walker, 33 min. 34½ sec., prize, travelling bag; Frank Marrengo, 31 min., 50 sec., prize, cyclometer; Clifford Wheeler, 33 min. 25½ sec., prize, slippers; Fred Royce, 33 min. 25½ sec., prize, pumps; Ernest Marsh, 31 min. 51⅝ sec., prize, bell; Frank Thayer, 35 min. 38½ sec., prize, shirt; William Millen, 36 min. 12½ sec., prize, hose; J. H. Thayer, 37 min., 15 sec., prize, cup and saucer. The special time prize, a gold ring, was won by Coleman. The racing suit offered by the Palmer Bicycle Club for the member making the best time was won by E. D. Tufts.

Relaxation of Fasting Rules.

The following letter, sent by Bishop Beaven to the priests in the Springfield diocese, was read in St. Thomas's church last Sunday by the rector. Rev. W. H. Hart. It allows the use of meat at one meal on certain church days on which it had been prohibited by the previous rules:

The holy see, in response to a request of the most reverend archbishops of the United States, has graciously accorded, in favor of our laboring people, an indult, whereby the respective bishops of the different dioceses may dispense, during a limited time, from the obligation of abstinence.

The edifying fidelity of our Catholic people, even amid great difficulties, in observing the laws of abstinence, has been at all times the strongest assurance of their lively faith, as well as a pledge, cheerfully given, of their obedience to the laws of the church.

Mindful of the loyalty of our faithful people to all her laws, the church, with a deep solicitude for their welfare, spiritual and physical, has kindly relaxed the severity of her discipline by releasing the laborer from all obligations of abstinence on certain days, so that with a full protection of conscience, he may use such food as the exhausting nature of his employment demands.

Wherefore, with a desire of being in full accord with the beneficent and thoughtful spirit of the holy see, we, by the powers granted in an indult to that effect, declare that the laboring people of your parish are released from any conscientious obligation of abstaining from the use of flesh meat at any time, excepting on the Fridays of the year, Ash Wednesday, holy week and the vigil of Christmas.

Those who are bound to the obligation of fasting and are permitted on certain days of Lent to use flesh meat at one meal only, are, during Lent, even under the present indult, not allowed the use of flesh meat oftener than once during the day. Any privilege enjoyed under this indult does not permit the use of flesh and fish at the same meal. All the privileges enjoyed under this indult by any of your parishioners are extended to every member of the family.

In conclusion, we, with eagerness, desire to fix your attention upon a practical recommendation which the holy see suggests as a penitential work, and most befitting to replace the abstinence from flesh meat. The indult urges pastors of souls to impress upon the faithful the necessity of practicing some other form of abstinence, and expressly states that no form of abstinence could be more appropriate than abstinence from intoxicating liquors on the days whereon they are, by the indult, dispensed from all abstinence from flesh meat.

This touching evidence of the affectionate thoughtfulness of the church, and the eagerness with which she seeks to alleviate the evils of the drink habit, should stir the solicitude of every pastor of souls to urge upon his people the blessings that must result from an honest and earnest adoption of such a practice. It is another of her repeated sanctions of every effect made by her pastors to lead the faithful into a practical knowledge of the blessings of Christian sobriety and temperance.

Robinson & Taylor have a new awning, put up yesterday.

The King's Daughters will meet this afternoon with Mrs. D. L. Bodfish.

The steamer company was called out Tuesday evening and given an hour's practice.

Mrs. C. W. Robinson is visiting friends in Westfield, Williamsburg and Northampton.

W. A. Fitzpatrick, John B. Dawson and John Manning spent Sunday at Crystal Lake.

The ice-cream rooms at the Palmer bakery on Church street have been opened for the season.

Work has been begun on the new railroad bridge to be built over the river west of the station.

Children's day exercises will be held at the Baptist and Congregational churches Sunday evening.

Next Sunday being Trinity Sunday, masses will be celebrated in St. Thomas' church at 8 and 10.30 a. m.

Hampden Chapter will confer the Royal Arch degree upon three candidates next Monday evening.

Dr. E. E. Hill of Red Wing, Minn., is visiting his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Chilson.

Elder Enoch Phelps of Westfield is expected to occupy the pulpit of the Advent chapel next Sunday.

The civil suit of Smith vs. Guilder was settled Tuesday by agreeing to a verdict in favor of the plaintiff of $25.

Frank Trumble, receiver of the U. P. D. & G. Railroad at Denver, Colorado, visited Henry G. Trumble this week.

Mrs. James Rohan and daughter Flossie of Springfield spent a portion of the week with Mrs. J. L. Wilder on Pine street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Young and daughter Miss Nina left Palmer Tuesday for Lake Sunapee, where they will spend the summer.

A number of the Women's Relief Corps attended the exemplification of the work of the order in Springfield Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. L. E. Williams of Goodluck, N. J., spent Sunday with Rev. H. F. Moulton and occupied the pulpit at St. Paul's church Sunday forenoon.

Rev. H. D. Bently of Northboro preached at the Baptist church last Sabbath, and is expected to occupy the pulpit for the next two Sundays.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Marian, daughter of Mrs. P. P. Kellogg of Springfield, a former resident of Palmer, to George Dwight Pratte, to take place June 19th.

W. R. Milligan is the happy owner of Edith Wilkes, a beautiful four-years-old Morgan mare, purchased this week of Dr. G. P. Bell of Three Rivers, and said to be fast.

Miss Fannie Stebbins, supervisor of science in the Springfield schools, and Miss Marjory Abell, of the training school in the same city, spent Sunday with Miss Elizabeth Wassum.

A special meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held in the Congregational church Monday afternoon. The next regular meeting will be held in the parlors of the church Tuesday afternoon.

J. W. Brainerd and Henry McGilp have been drawn as jurymen for the next term of the superior court. Mr. Brainerd's name has been in the box for 20 years, but has never been drawn before.

President Merrill E. Gates of Amherst College will deliver the address at the graduation exercises of the high school. The graduation will be held in the opera house, Friday evening, June 28th.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will preach Sunday morning in St. Paul's church on the theme, "If God desires that all men should be saved, but has not the power to save all, shall we say that this inability limits Him?"

These civil entries were made in the district court Saturday: James Pendergast vs. A. D. Rood and trustee, all of Monson; G. A. Bills vs. C. L. Alexander, and Jane Hubert vs. Daniel Grady and trustee, all of Palmer.

The second edition of the Palmer Citizen appeared this week, and was attentively read. Apparently something sensational was looked for, a great deal of interest being manifested as well as considerable comment.

The school teachers had a very pleasant gathering in the club rooms Saturday afternoon, a good number being present. Ice cream and other refreshments were served, and the afternoon was voted an entire success.

Miss Jennie Law of 104 Spring street, Springfield, would be glad to be advised of anybody in the country who would be willing to take children to board during the summer months at a reasonable rate. Country farm-houses are wanted.

The pastor and officers of the Ladies' Social Union of the Universalist church, in appreciation of the services which the young men have rendered as waiters during the past year, will give them a reception at the Universalist parsonage next Tuesday evening.

James Fenton and Mrs. L. M. Shaw left Monday for a two-weeks' sojourn at Saratoga Springs. Mr. Fenton has been in ill health for some time, and hopes to return greatly benefited. His position as manager of the Converse House will be filled during his absence by John Manning.

W. F. Waite has resigned his position as railway postal clerk on the Boston and Albany railway post office, having decided to go into business. Mr. Waite has been in the service 14 years, receiving his first appointment in June, 1881, as weigher of mails on the Rutland and Bennington division.

Rev. H. F. Moulton, George Robinson, Mrs. William Merriam, Mrs. Charles Keith, Mrs. Lizzie Keith and Mrs. F. J. Wassum attended the annual meeting of the Union Association of Universalists in Spencer Wednesday. George Robinson was reëlected president and Rev. H. F. Moulton secretary.

The ladies' of St. Paul's church gave their annual strawberry festival in the church Tuesday evening. The supper was well patronized, and was up to the usual high standard. Later in the evening an entertainment was given, which was well received by a large audience. The festival was a decided success, and netted about $50. This festival closed the socials until fall.

Three young men from Springfield drove out to Forest Lake Memorial Day. They brought along enough tanglefoot to tangle things considerably, and made things decidedly unpleasant for many patrons of the resort. They came before the district court Saturday morning, and paid fines for drunkenness aggregating $15. The management of Forest Lake proposes to run the resort this season in such a manner that reputable people need not fear to go there, and drunkenness and rowdyism will not be tolerated.

H. P. Holden and C. E. Fuller have become stockholders in the Agawam Manufacturing Co. of Springfield. Mr. Holden has been elected a director of the company, and Mr. Fuller has been made manager. This will occupy much of Mr. Fuller's time, making it impossible to attend closely to his Palmer business. To guard against any neglect of the Palmer business, George S. Holden has been made assistant superintendent. Mr. Holden has spent several years in learning the details of the business, and there is likely to be no lack of careful management.

H. T. Huntington has decided not to purchase the watering cart, and dust is likely to be the portion of Palmer citizens for the remainder of the season. There are plenty of men in the village who are always on the lookout for a paying investment, but none of them show a desire to embark in this enterprise. It would seem that the business is one which does not pay as well as has been supposed, or else there is some unseen hitch which prevents the level headed business man from investing. Whatever the cause may be, the effect is very unpleasant, and every resident of the village is in a fair way to eat his peck of dust before the season is over.

At the monthly session of the probate court in Springfield Wednesday the following business of interest to Eastern Hampden was transacted: Administration granted in the estates of—Joseph W. Adams, late of Wales, William H. Kelley administrator; Harriet Brainard, late of Ludlow, Alfred M. Copeland administrator. Wills approved of —Samuel W. Brown, late of Brimfield, Harriet S. Brown executrix; Caroline M. Lyman, late of Wilbraham, Ira G. Potter executor; Lorin Phelps, late of Wilbraham, Albert A. Phelps executor; Charles Greenhalgh, late of Ludlow, George T. Greenhalgh executor. Guardians appointed — Edwin Cooley of Alice M., Annie B. and Sidney Cooley of Ludlow; Orus E. Barker of George Parker of Brimfield, insane. Accounts rendered in the estates of—Thomas Welch, late of Wilbraham, Catherine Welch administratrix; Albert Bliss, late of Wilbraham, Elizabeth Bliss administratrix; Hiram Stacy, late of Monson, George H. Newton administrator; Lucy Pease, late of Monson, Edwin S. Pease administrator. Affidavit of notice of appointment filed in the estate of Jonathan C. Eaton, late of Monson. License to sell real estate granted in the estate of Elijah G. Murdock, late of Thorndike. Benjamin F. Burr was appointed agent in the estate of Charles Greenhalgh, late of Ludlow.

State Primary School Notes.

E. G. Buss is away on a ten days' vacation, and his place is being filled by J. M. Sisk.

Mr. S. L. Writington, superintendent of indoor poor, made a visit to the school Wednesday.

Mrs. M. M. Lee, formerly an officer at the school, spent part of the week with her friend, Miss Harriet LaSalle.

Base Ball.

The Palmer base ball nine will play at Bondsville to-morrow, and a week from to-morrow at Gilbertville.

PALMER 19. EAST BROOKFIELD 5.

The Palmers and East Brookfields played a game on the Palmer park Saturday afternoon, and the home team played in a way which demonstrated that it is capable of putting up an unusually strong game. Lynch of Wilbraham pitched, and received support which made him smile from the opening of the game to its close. The visitors were outplayed at every point, but worked hard, and were gentlemen from start to finish. As a whole the game was a very pleasant one to witness. The score:

PALMER.	R	B	PO	A	E	E.BROOKF'D.	R	B	PO	A	E
Murphy, cf,	2	2	1	0	0	Coady, ss,	0	1	1	5	2
Nelson, 3b,	4	2	2	4	0	T. Mack, 2b,	1	0	4	6	3
Rooney, rf,	4	2	0	0	1	G.Brad'y,1b,	0	0	11	0	2
Roche, 2b,	2	1	4	1	0	Moulton, 3b,	1	2	2	2	1
Doyle, 1b,	1	0	9	0	0	Collins, c,	1	1	1	1	2
Dart, c,	3	2	9	0	2	W. Mack, p,	1	0	1	4	3
Taylor, ss,	2	0	2	3	2	Burke, lf,	1	2	3	0	1
Gaffney, lf,	1	1	0	1	0	E.B'dley, cf,	0	1	1	0	0
Lynch, p,	0	2	0	10	0	D. Mack, rf,	0	0	0	0	0
Total,	19	12	27	19	5	Total,	5	7	24	18	14

Palmer,	5	6	3	0	1	2	2	0	—19
E. Brookfield,	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	3	0— 5

Times at bat, Palmer 44, East Brookfield 35. Earned run, Palmer. Total bases, Palmer 14, East Brookfield 9. Sacrifice hit, Roach. Stolen bases, Murphy 3, Nelson 4, Roach, Dart, Taylor 2, Gaffney, Lynch, Moulton, Collins. Two base hits, Dart, Lynch, Moulton, Burke. First base on balls, Murphy, Nelson, Rooney 2, Doyle, Gaffney, Moulton, E. Bradley 2. First base on errors, Palmer 7, East Brookfield 2. Left on bases, Palmer 7, East Brookfield 7. Struck out, Coady, G. Bradley 5, Collins, D. Mack. Batters hit, Murphy, W. Mack. Passed balls, Dart 2, Collins 3. Wild pitch, W. Mack 3. Time, 2h 20m. Umpires, Tryon and Brady.

PALMER CENTER.

Pearl Bacon has moved his family to Warren, where he is at work.

William Smith, Jr., has moved his family from Thorndike into the Naylor house here.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Trumble are rejoicing in the birth of a daughter, who came Thursday.

Mrs. Samuel Brown and daughter left Monday for Pleasure Beach, where they expect to stay two weeks.

Mrs. Michael St. John and Cora Sampson were called to their home in Quebec, Canada, by the death of their mother, Monday.

BONDSVILLE.

Mrs. John Hayes, who has been very sick, is slowly recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have taken rooms in the house of George Lee.

One new case of scarlet fever is reported in the family of Edward Marsten.

Mrs. Robertson of Springfield was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Fred Moore, last week.

Harry Dupont, who has been employed by the Duck Co. in their carpenter shop, has resigned.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ryther spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Albert Squier, at Amherst.

Master Harold Hale was made happy last Monday, his fourth birthday, by being presented with a bicycle.

Mr. Johnson of Lewiston, Me., has taken a position as overseer in the spinning room of the Boston Duck Co.

Miss Annie O'Regan and Mrs. Richard Russell attended the W. C. T. U. quarterly convention in Willimansett Tuesday.

Miss Abbie Moynahan spent the first of the week in Boston with her brother, who is under treatment at the Massachusetts hospital.

John Ricketts, who has been employed for many years by the Boston Duck Co., has resigned his position and will soon leave the village with his family.

Thomas Carmody, who has been overseer in the spinning room of the Boston Duck Co. for a number of years, has severed his connection with that company, and will take a vacation.

THORNDIKE.

Miss Nellie Flynn of Holyoke is home on a visit.

W. H. Smith, Jr., has moved with his family to Palmer Center to live.

The King's Daughters will meet with M. M. Thomas next Friday evening.

Roy Allen of Belchertown was the guest of Deacon Foster during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kendall have returned home from their stay at Forest Lake.

G. A. Moody returned Wednesday from a few days' visit at his home in Sandwich.

Miss Agnes McFarlane is the guest of Mrs. W. P. Bishop at Millbury for a few weeks.

Mrs. E. B. Williams and family are soon to leave for a vacation of several weeks at their cottage in Maine.

A number from this place went to Palmer Thursday to witness the bicycle club road race.

James Armstrong of Somerville was in town this week visiting friends for a few days.

Four new cases of scarlet fever have made their appearance in the village during the week.

Mrs. S. E. Stevens returned this week from a few weeks' vacation with friends in Lowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Fountain and family of Springfield visited friends in town during the week.

Tickets for the benefit concert, June 14th, can be had of any member of the band and at the post office.

A number from this place went to Ware Tuesday evening to attend the annual festival at All Saints' church.

Mr. Davis of Lewiston, Me., succeeds Mr. Bedford, deceased, as overseer in the weaving department at No. 2 mill.

Mrs. J. L. Scott and family of Springfield are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Whiting, for a few weeks.

Mrs. George Nichols and children of Worcester are in town, visiting Mrs. Nichols's parents on Harvey avenue.

Mrs. John Cotter and Miss Annie Dooley of Middletown, Ct., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. Murphy and family of Church street.

The band has been compelled to find new quarters, for the present at least, in the old Murdock store building, and held their first practice there this week.

Michael Dailey and daughter, Mary Ellen, of Worcester, have returned home after spending a vacation of several days with his brother, John J. Dailey, on the farm.

A benefit concert will be given in Union Hall next Friday evening by local and out-of-town talent, the proceeds to go to the family of John Bedford, lately deceased.

A conversation party was held in the Congregational church Tuesday evening by the members of the Christian Endeavor Society, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

P. D. Sexton, 49, a former resident of this place, died at his home in Worcester Tuesday of pneumonia. His funeral was held at the latter place Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, and was attended by many from this place.

The friends of Richard Chabbott to the number of 50 or more called upon him at his home on Main street Tuesday evening. He was presented with a handsome easy chair as a mark of their esteem, and the evening was spent in dancing.

The musicale and dance given by M. J. Sullivan and pupils recently was not attended as well as it should have been, although those who were present enjoyed the fourteen numbers on the programme, which were well rendered and speak well for the pupils and their instructor.

Archam Bashaw and Miss Rosie Come, both well known in town, were united in marriage Monday morning at Three Rivers by Rev. Fr. Marchand. A wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride on the Dutton farm, which was largely attended by relatives and friends.

Base Ball Notes.

The Thorndikes go to Southbridge June 15, to play the team there.

The juniors of this place defeated a club at Palmer last Saturday in a 13-inning game, by a score of 14 to 10.

Another victory added to the list, this time from the Gilbertville club on Saturday at Gilbertville. Score 14 to 10.

Manager Farrill has been notified that a claim has been placed against the base ball club for $15 by the Bondsville management.

Three Rivers and Thorndike will meet for the first time to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, on the church ground. Thorndike's batteries, Longtine and Blanchfield and King and Fitzgerald. The visitors have a strong team, and a good game is looked for.

THREE RIVERS.

C. Bernard is sojourning in Canada.

Charles Ruggles is sporting a new wheel.

Mrs. F. L. White is very ill with a gastric fever.

Frank Connor is driving a new milk wagon.

Miss Alice Sikes was home from Springfield Sunday.

One of Dr. Bell's little daughters is suffering with bronchitis.

William Bell has gone to Holyoke, where he is visiting friends.

Mr. Crane of Hanover is spending a few days with his daughter.

William Kuss is having a new fence built in front of his residence.

Miss Carrie Johnson spent a part of last week with friends in Warren.

Mrs. Chatham of Collinsville, Ct., is the guest of Mrs. Franklin Barker.

Mrs. Rutter of Worcester is stopping with her sister, Miss Anna Coleman.

Miss Alice Barton has returned from a three-weeks' visit in Belchertown.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hillman spent Sunday visiting relatives in Northampton.

J. F. Hartnett has raised his saloon a foot, and is having a cellar dug under it.

Mrs. S. A. Green is at home again after a week spent with friends in Springfield.

L. B. Hendrick spent a part of the week in East Chatham, N. Y., the guest of his son.

Mr. and Mrs. West of Concord, N. H., are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Page.

Miss Annie Collier of Holyoke is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Blades.

Charles Skerry is again able to attend to his duties in the millinery shop, after a long illness.

J. B. Brown will in the future claim the McKnight district, Springfield, as his place of residence.

After a short absence, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Smith have returned to make their home here again.

Mrs. Ruby Burlingame of Baptist Hill is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Strickland, at Lauriana, N. Y.

Mr. Needham's Sunday school class is to have an ice cream festival at his home next Tuesday evening.

Louis Hodgerny, who has been living in Mr. Fillmore's house, is soon to get into his summer quarters at Jean Sikes's.

The officers of Palmer Lodge, A. O. U. W., attended the dedication of the new lodge hall at Monson Tuesday evening.

These sudden changes in the temperature have compelled Dr. Boulay to put a red silk handkerchief about his swollen neck.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Johnson entertained about twenty of their friends last Saturday evening in their rooms at the boarding house.

Peter Roberts went on a pleasure trip this week to Canada, where he is to join Mrs. Roberts, who has already been there six weeks.

There are two new cases of scarlet fever in this village this week, J. Barbaril and Joseph Garithier's families being afflicted with it.

Theodore Gravel and Willie Freak have come home from the French Protestant college at Springfield to spend their summer vacation.

A forest fire at "red bridge" burned over a six-acre piece of ground last Friday afternoon, destroying about 200 cords of wood and 400 sleepers.

Charles Ruggles began making repairs on a large scale in Captain Potter's tenements this week. At present he is treating them to a liberal coat of paint.

Prosper Howard's friends are glad to see that he is again able to be out. Although Mr. Howard is 95 years old he seems to be in as good health as he was before his shock.

Miss Florence Purlingame of Brattleboro, Vt., is the new stenographer in the Palmer Mill office. Miss Burlingame takes the place of Miss Clara Greene, who left a few months ago.

The Baptist Sunday School has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Superintendent, Walter Tricket; assistant superintendent, N. K. Story; secretary, Frank Brown; treasurer, Louis Calkins; librarian Miss Lucy Graves.

Mason, Page & Co. received from Webster this week a beautiful Shetland pony and an equally good looking little cart. They intend to use this attractive little turn-out as an advertisement for their drug store and as a quick means of disposing of a new line of teas and coffee.

Dr. Bell has purchased of Charles Ruggles the little triangular piece of land on which the photographer's establishment now stands, and on which he is to have Mr. Ruggles build an ice-cream parlor. As this is to be the only place of its kind in the village it will surely have many visitors during the warm months.

A base ball nine was organized Monday evening with William King and J. Fitzgerald as battery, and Samuel Murray as manager. For the present they will wear the old suits and play two or three games before they decide on a definite course of action. The nine will play the Thorndikes on their own field to-morrow afternoon.

The pedestrians who happened to stroll down the Springfield road last Sunday afternoon no doubt noticed the reckless way in which several out-of-town Poles raced their teams along the road. If we wish to walk in that direction without fear of losing our lives, we must either petition the town fathers for wider roads, or keep that class of people from imbibing too much fire-water.

One of our lady bicyclists, who sent for a wheel two months ago, has at last succeeded in getting one. After an agent in a neighboring town had kept her waiting in vain for a month, she decided to see what could be done in Springfield. But her indignation knew no bounds when she received a gentleman's wheel, which she immediately sent back, only getting what she wanted last Saturday morning.

W. Alden's wagon and Dr. Bell's carriage met on the Chicopee river bridge Monday morning to the great misfortune of both. While Mr. Alden was in a neighboring house two boys climbed into his team, which was in front of John Wilson's store, and with a warm application of the switch had got the horse into a lively gallop when they met Dr. Bell's carriage. As the boys either did not know enough or were not able to turn out, two badly smashed vehicles are the result.

BORN.

At Palmer Center, 6th, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Will Trumble.

At Ware, 30th ult., a son to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tucker.

MARRIED.

At Three Rivers, 3d, by Rev. Fr. Marchand, Archam Bashaw and Rosie Come.

At Belchertown, 5th, Harold Eugene Barton and Mabel Evelyn Kendall.

At Ware, 5th, by Rev. A. B. Bassett, Hugh H. Scott and Minnie J. Newell.

At Wales, 5th, William H. Loyd and Miss Cora Dimmick.

At Enfield, 1st, by W. F. Howe, Esq., William H. Miller of Hardwick and Eliza Moriarty of Ware.

DIED.

At Wilbraham, 31st ult., infant son of Arthur W. and Julia G. Lyman.

At Worcester, 4th, P. D. Sexton, 49, formerly of Thorndike.

At Worcester, 1st, Henry L. Bliss, 63, formerly of Brimfield.

TO RENT.—Tenement on Pleasant street. 7-tf G. H. WILKINS, Palmer.

GOOD pasturage for cows. CHAS. B. FISKE, Palmer, Mass.

TO RENT.—Pleasant up-stairs tenement on Fox Avenue. 9-tf Apply to L. A. CONANT, Palmer.

WANTED.—Girl for light housework, also to assist in care of children. 10-3 MRS. L. C. FLYNT, Monson, Mass.

CAME into my enclosure June 6th, one bay mare about 5 years old, which the owner can have by proving property and paying charges. 10-tf C. G. THOMPSON, Wales, Mass.

ALL persons having bills against the State Primary School are requested to present the same before June 15th. 8-2 WALTER A. WHEELER, Supt.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. 4-tf

FOR SALE.—One Beebe speeding cart, has only been used a few times. Also one road cart, one good Phaeton, and one good cook stove. GEORGE P. BELL, M. D., 3-tf Three Rivers, Mass.

NOTICE.—I forbid all persons trusting or harboring on my account my son James, as he has left home and I will pay no bills contracted by him from this date. MRS. JAMES DUNN. Thorndike, May 24, 1895. 10-2

COTTAGE AT BLOCK ISLAND TO RENT—for the months of July and September, all furnished. Nine rooms, good spring and cistern water, with barn. Apply to ISAAC KENERSON, Engineer Ware River Road, Palmer. 7t5

E. W. French, agent for the New Singer Mfg. Co., has opened an office in Palmer, with headquarters at the Weeks House, and is showing their latest productions for 1895 sewing machines, with three different machines for family use. 52-tf THE SINGER MFG. CO.

J. P. SCHNEIDER, M. D. No. 4 Thorndike Street. Office hours till 9 a. m., 12 to 2 p. m. and 6 to 8 p. m.

FOR SALE.—The store of the late E. G. Murdock in Thorndike, Mass., also dwelling corner of Commercial and High streets, and one on School street in said Thorndike. Must be sold to close estate. C. L. GARDNER, Adm. Jan. 21st, 1895. 43-tf

MR. J. B. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty. 7-tf SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.

BE SURE YOU SEE THE
MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS
BEFORE PURCHASING ANY OTHER.
Illustrated Catalog Sent on Application.
J. M. Bruce, Agent for Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties.
394 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS. Wholesale and Retail Dealer in ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L.N. Railroads—west of Depot.

A 19 CENT SALE
At Hellyar's
Bargain Store,
Caryl's Block, - On the Corner.

4 yards of Lining Cambric.
1¼ yards of best Silicia.
2 yards of imitation Hair Cloth.
2 yards of Crinoline.
1½ yards of Canvas.
3 yards of Cross Bar Cambric.
5 yards of Apron Check Gingham.
2 yards of Dress Goods.
3 yards of Outing Flannel.
1½ yards Colored Canton Flannel.
1¼ yards best Feather Ticking.
4 yards Lace Scrim.
¼ yard Silk Plush (all colors.)
4 doz. Dress Buttons.
8 doz. Hooks and Eyes (Kant Open.)
7 spools Black Silk.
4 spools Best Thread.
5 spools, 500 yards, Basting Thread.
1 bottle 25c Perfumery.
1 bottle Mitchell's Rose Cutilave.
13 yards Tom Thumb Ribbon.
4 yards Morai, Picot Edge Ribbon.
2 yards Wide Lace.
3 pair Dress Shields (warranted.)
2 pair Hose, ladies or children.
2 fine Huckabuck Towels.
4 yards Toweling, bleached or unbleached.
4 bunches of Envelopes, all sizes.
4 quires best Writing Paper.
1 White Apron.
1 black Shopping Bag.
2 Shoulder Shawls.
3 pair Gent's Hose.
10 yards Narrow Hamburg.
1½ skeins Germantown.
1 earthen Tea Pot.
1 large Yellow Bowl.
1 Drapery Pole and Trimmings.
10 papers of Pins.
4 doz. Lead Pencils.
2 Rope Halters.
1 Curry Comb and Brush.
2 Cuspidores.
5 bunches of Tacks.
4 bunches Toilet Paper.
1 Bean Pot.
2 yards Rug Fringe.
1 Wire Rat Trap.
4 yards Carpet Lining.

Any of the above ONLY 19 CENTS. This is the store for the economical buyers.

Best live Geese Feathers only 55c per lb.
White Bed Spreads 67 cents.
Laundered White or Colored Shirts, 47 cents.
Floor Oils Cloths, 23 cents per yard.
Slop Pails 25 cents.
Lanterns, 42 cents.
Curtains 23c, 31c, 36c, 37c, 50c each.
2 pair Men's Suspenders, 25c.
Custom Suits from $11 to $25.

REMEMBER THE PLACE,
HELLYAR'S BARGAIN STORE,
Caryl's Block, on the Corner,
PALMER, - MASS.

Did you know the law is off on Trout Monday, April 1st, and that you can buy

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 7, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

THE ACADEMY TEAM

And What it Expects at the Meet at Amherst To-morrow.

The athletic interest in the academy is at fever heat, owing to the nearness of the annual meet of the Western Mass. Interscholastic Association, which occurs at Amherst to-morrow at 2 p. m. with preliminaries in the morning. The home association has a somewhat smaller team than usual, but at the same time a remarkably strong one. The school wishes to extend its most heartfelt thanks to the townspeople who so kindly and generously aided the team with funds, and sincerely hope to return with trophies which will in part repay them for their gifts. The team this year is comprised of ten men including a mascot, Chism, '95. Glover, '97, who has broken the records of both the mile and half-mile races on the training track, will enter the bicycle races, and great things are expected from him. Prouty, '96, and Blair, '95, have been running the dashes with excellent speed, both equaling the records of James of Holyoke, and these points are practically sure for Monson. Phillips, '96, will easily capture the 120 and 220 yards hurdle races, with Chism, '95, close second. Chism will hold all the jumps with no trouble at all, with the exception of the standing high jump, and in this he will probably tie Scott of Westfield. He will also carry the hammer throw with an easy throw of 105 ft. Austin, 79, will follow him with over 100 ft., and Stephanoff, 95, with third with over 90ft. Austin, 79, will carry the shot put with 34 ft., and Stephanoff will be a close second. Austin will also easily win the pole vault by a leap exceeding 10 ft. Thacker, 98, will make a hard fight for first place in the quarter-mile, and will undoubtedly win second. Bennett, 96, win the laurels in the half and mile runs, capturing either first or second place. One of the team on account of lameness will not be able to participate. Round trip tickets may be had at the depot, with a return trip on a special train, for 85 cents, provided 100 can be sold. People from Palmer are requested to purchase these tickets as they are cheaper than mileage or regular fair. All friends of the Academy are requested to go and those going will take the 7.42 and 10 20 trains, returning at the close of the games.

A Small Fire.

At about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening fire was discovered in the tower of Rev. Thomas J. O'Keefe's residence. It was probably first seen by Albert M. Guilford, who was on Main street and gave the alarm. Men living in the vicinity were soon on hand, and it was found that the trouble lay with the electric wires. Several men at once commenced pouring water on the flames, the water being stored in a tank in the upper story. Soon the hose company with their apparatus were on the scene, and a stream of water which made the shingles fly was playing on the roof, and the fire was out in short order. Probably more damage was done by water than by fire. The billiard room, which is in the third story, where the fire caught, suffered most Miss Minnie Gilligan has a Stearns bicycle.

Solomon Squier is building an addition to his house.

Miss Myrtis Perrin is visiting friends in Worcester.

Mrs. Charles F. Orcutt spent Sunday at Stafford Springs.

Miss Grace S. Cushman gave a spider party last Friday evening.

Marcus Keep Woman's Relief corps meets next Wednesday evening.

Hon. W. N. Flynt and wife are at Saratoga Springs for a ten days' stay.

The W. N. Flynt Granite company has wired its office and barn for electric lights.

Mrs. Wilfred Noble and child of Pittsfield are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Miner Noble.

Principal Arthur N. Burke of the Academy spent Memorial Day at his home in Norwich, Ct.

There will be a meeting of the Park Avenue Association to-night at 8 o'clock at Memorial hall.

Miss Mary Peck, who has been visiting her aunt in Denver, Col., the past eight months, returned home yesterday.

Miss Sophia Wilson and Frank Shugrue of Springfield were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Johnson last week.

Fisk G. Rogers, employed at West Dummerston, Vt., was at home Tuesday to attend the dedication of the A. O. U. W. hall.

Mrs. Lillian Chapin, widow of Harlow Chapin, and Mrs. Hattie Flynt, widow of John Flynt, have been granted pensions.

Rev. F. S. Hatch attended the anniversary and trustees' meeting of the Hartford Theological Seminary Wednesday and Thursday.

Children's day next Sunday at the Congregational chuch. Sermon to the children in the morning; Sunday school concert at six in the afternoon.

Edwin Pease, of the firm of Howe & Pease, has bought the Washington street property of Mrs. Abdell Calkins of Willimantic, Ct., and intends to occupy it later.

There is on exhibition at Norcross's store a specimen of rye which has seventy-two stalks from one kernel. This was raised by A. J. Robbins. Can any one beat it?

Miss Mabelle K. Flynt attended the commencement exercises at Mt. Holyoke College this week, and was the guest of Miss Anna M. Converse, a graduate of Monson Academy.

Mt. Ella lodge dedicated their hall in Heimann & Lichen's new block Tuesday evening. Officers and pominent members of several other lodges were present. Refreshments were served and candidates initiated.

Monson Lodge of Odd Fellows will observe Sunday, June 16, as Memorial Day. Members are requested to be at Odd Fellows' hall at half-past two. All members of the order in town are cordially invited to take part in the service.

It is said that No. 1 cemetery is a thoroughfare by day and a lounging place by night; that business teams are driven through there at will, and bottles which have not been used as receptacles for flowers are not infrequently found there.

True to prophesy, a stream of water from our system of water works has been sent over the spire of the Congregational church. When the system was a thing of the future it was claimed by the projectors that this could be done, but there were doubters.

T. E. Sawyer, of the East Hampton Rubber company, has presented to Flynt Park specimens of rubber, from the time the rubber comes from the tree until it is manufactured into the finest threads. There are some fine separate pieces and which well worth seeing.

Rev. William H. Marble will preach Sunday morning upon "Educational Work of Methodism." There will be a Sunday school convention in the evening, the programme for which is one prepared by the Methodist Board of Education. The exercise is entitled "The Golden Gate."

Children's Sunday will be observed in the Methodist church with a sermon in the morning by the pastor, W. H. Marble, upon "Educational Work of Methodism." There will be a concert in the evening, beginning at 7 o'clock, for which the exercise is entitled "The Golden Gate."

The Green street grammar school will have its public exercises next Friday morning, from 9 to 11.45. During the first hour the Band of Mercy will hold a public meeting, after which there will be papers and quotations bearing on the nature work during the term; and the regular recitations will be heard as far as time will allow—in brief there will be a short review of the term's work.

LEATHER IS GOING

UP, UP, UP.

The time is coming when Shoes must advance from 50c to $1.00 a pair, at least.

NOW IS YOUR CHANCE

To buy a year's supply and make the biggest interest you ever did on your money.

We have an unusual large stock of all kinds of Shoes. We propose to give you the advantage of our LOW PRICES.

SHOES COST US MORE EACH WEEK.

A WORD TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT.

CAN'T SELL GOODS LESS THAN COST.

GEO. L. FULLER,

Distributer of Fine Fitting Shoes.

MONSON. - - MASS.

Public Lino one week from to-night in Academy chapel. Program: Essay, James Chism; news of the week ending June 14, Horace C. Broughton; music, Messrs. Phillips and Cristy and Manchester; debate, "Resolved, That the constitution of the United States should be so amended as to include the income tax, affirmative, C. P. Dow; negative, J. E Closson; declamations, R. O. Watkins, D. E. Stephanoff.

Carlos L. Peck, for thirty years connected with the straw works now owned by Heimann & Lichten, has resigned his position. Mr. Peck entered the employ of Merrick and Fay, who then owned the works, when a boy of seventeen, and held the position of bookkeeper until about 1888, when he became one of the partners under the firm name of Fay, Peck & Co. Heimann & Lichen purchased the property some five yearsago, since which time Mr. Peck has been superintendent. His uniform courtsey and kindness has made him popular with the employees, who feel very sorry to have him go.

The commencement exercises at Monson Academy will begin with the baccalaureate sermon by Prof. John F. Genung in the Congregational church, Sunday evening, June 16th, at 8 o'clock; Monday, 17th, examinations from 9 to 12 m., and 1.30 to 4 p. m., and class day exercises in Academy hall at 7.30 p. m.; Tuesday, 18th, graduating exercises in Memorial Hall at 10 a. m., alumni dinner at 12 30 p. m. at Flynt's Park, and senior reception at 8 p. m. in Academy hall. Music for the graduation exercises will be furnished by the Philharmonic orchestra. The alumni dinner will be on Flynt Park and Barr will cater. Tickets must be purchased before next Friday, and may be obtained of Thadeus L. Cushman. Barges will convey the people to the park at no extra cost. 75 cents will be the price of the dinner, and friends of the Academy are invited.

Last Friday night about 11 o'clock, Timothy Donohue caused considerable excitement in his neighborhood by attempting to commit suicide by hanging. Mr. Donohue and family live in a tenement house on the corner of Fountain and North Main streets. The young people of the Tanner family, who live in the same house, saw Mr. Donohue in the yard south of the house acting suspiciously, and watching, saw him jump from a box under a tree, but could not see plainly enough to tell what he was doing. It seems that he attempted to hang himself there, but the rope broke. The Tanners aroused the Donohue family, who threatened him with arrest if he did not keep quiet. He then went around to the west side of the house, and was soon seen hanging from the cross beam of a clothes post. Hugh Tanner rushed out and cut him down, and although unconscious he was soon restored. Officer Osborn took him in charge for the night.

HAMPDEN.

The Misses Stockton's dancing glass gave a very enjoyable reception to a select party of invited gents Wednesday evening. The three Misses Stockton received under an arch of green leaves. Cake, ice-cream and lemonade were furnished by the class. The most notable feature of the evening was the fancy dance, Highland Schottishe, given by Gillert Beebe and Annie Crocker.

WARREN.

The schools of the town closed this afternoon.

Mr. Johnson has purchased the house of the late Mr. Goodhue on Quaboag street.

Charles Keyes and sister have gone to New Mexico, where they will spend a few months with their brother.

Mrs. Sherwin and daughter and Mrs. Sadler of Springfield have been spending a few days with Mrs. A. Fairbanks.

Joseph Kingman and family are visiting friends in town for a few days before their departure for Minneapolis. Mrs. Kingman and daughter will sail for Europe this week.

WILBRAHAM.

The annual concert of the athletic association of the Academy was given Tuesday night, and was one of the most successful ever given. Several selections were rendered by the glee and mandolin clubs, which were heartily applauded. Miss Lillian T. Howe was the reader, and all her selections were finely rendered. Cornet and violin solos were given by Messrs. Armstrong and Hubbard. The duet by Misses Lang and Crosby, and the solos of Miss L. S. Rose and Miss Grace E. Davies were also encored. James Davies sang "Let Me Like a Soldier Die" from "Maritana," which was enthusiastically encored.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Rev. and Mrs. N. Van der Pyl attended the graduation exercises at Hartford Theological Seminary this week.

Mrs. John Hitchcock was stricken with paralysis Tuesday at her home on the mountain, and although conscious is not yet able to speak.

Thomas Lyons, who in a fit of mental aberration attempted suicide a short time since by cutting his throat, is steadily gaining, although yet very weak.

Miss Eunice E. Bell went to East Providence, R. I., Monday, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Charles E. Fletcher, for a short time. She will then go to Boston and visit friends, remaining until after the International Christian Endeavor convention in July.

WEST WARREN.

A barge load spent last Thursday at Allum Pond fishing.

Mrs. David Milliken of Lowell is visiting her niece, Mrs. E. M. Johnson.

Miss Lula A. Pierce of Boston spent last week with Miss. J. A. Johnson.

Miss Jennie M. Barton of Millbury spent last week with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Davis are spending their vacation at Lake Quinsigamond.

Mrs. Thomas McRea of Milltown, N. B., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis.

Misses Alice and Clara Gilbert, of the French American College, are home for the summer vacation.

Next Sunday will be observed as children's day in the M. E. church. A concert will be given in the evening.

Mrs. Henry Beaman and Miss Marjorie Cooley of Springfield have been visiting Mrs. Amory Crossman recently.

BRIMFIELD.

J. P. Webber is in Boston for a few days.

Michael Eagan of Providence is visiting in town.

Miss Phebe Upham is home from West Upton, where she spent the winter.

Mrs. Anderson and Miss Julia Warren of New York have arrived to spend the summer with their sister, Mrs. S. W. Brown.

Mrs. Warren Tarbell and Miss Tarbell are in Natick to celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Tarbell and her twin sister, Mrs. Calvin Ward.

About 40 public spirited citizens gave a day's work last Friday for the laying of the water pipe for the Converse memorial fountain. Dinner was served by the ladies in the hall. The pipe is now laid to within about five rods of the proposed location of the fountain, at the east end of the park.

Henry L. Bliss, 63, died at Worcester Saturday night. He was the son of the late Levi Bliss and brother of Edward Bliss of this town. He was graduated from Williams College, and in consequence of a fall received while there became hopelessly insane. The last forty years of his life have been passed in hospitals, for the most part in Worcester. The funeral, attended by Rev. W. K. Peirce, was held Tuesday at the home of Edward Bliss.

BELCHERTOWN.

Principal Babb and wife are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

Frank Hamilton and wife started their work at the Belcher House Monday. Mr. Hamilton is to be clerk, filling the position recently vacated by Edgar Carter.

The work of preparing biographical sketches of prominent people in this vicinity is being executed by Mr. Weeks, who has been in town quite a while for that purpose.

Mrs. Electa Blackmer celebrated her 81st birthday last Friday, and is apparently as well and happy as she ever was, living alone and attending to her household duties with great precision.

A Pleasant Home Wedding.

Miss Mabel E. Kendall and Harold E. Barton were married Wednesday morning at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alice L. Kendall. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. C. Harrington in the parlor of the house, which was tastefully decorated in pink and green. The Lohengrin wedding march was played by Miss Etta Fuller. The bride was handsomely attired in a fancy colored silk gown, trimmed with white lace and carried twenty-two bridal roses. After the ceremony the wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Barton left for a tour among the Berkshire hills. They will make their home for the present in Lowell, where Mr. Barton is assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A. The bride was a general favorite with all, who wish her happiness in her new life.

WALES.

Mrs. Chilson has gone to Boston to be treated by a specialist.

A special town meeting is called for tomorrow afternoon to see about a new school house.

Mrs. Kline will open her boarding rooms again and is prepared to take summer boarders.

Rosie and Sarah Lucy will start soon for some watering place, where they will spend a few weeks.

S. P. Smith is moving his goods to New Hampshire, where he will make his home with an uncle who lives there.

It is said that two young ladies of this place are to be married this month, and will take a trip to the sunny South.

J. M. Lyon of Sturbridge spent Tuesday with his son, W. A. Lyon, who has been confined to the house all winter with rheumatism.

Mr. Hall, the new meat market man, has moved his family here from Warren, and is occupying the house formerly occupied by Mrs. Soule.

The local ball team defeated the Hitchcock Free High School nine last Saturday by a score of 9 to 4. They will play in Brimfield to-morrow.

Mamie, the three-year-old daughter of W. Mitchell, fell down stairs last week and injured her head severely. She is not expected to recover.

Two young men came very near being arrested Sunday night for drunkenness and disturbing the peace. If the offense is repeated action will be taken.

Myron, the ten-year-old son of E. A. Clark, was taken sick with membraneous croup Monday, with symptoms similar to his brother Harry, who died last week. A council of doctors was held and hopes are entertained that he will recover.

A pleasant home wedding took place Wednesday at the home of Ezekiel Dimmick, when his daughter, Miss Cora Dimmick, was united in marriage to William H. Loyd. The ceremony was performed at noon by Rev. G. W. Davis, only relatives being invited. Refreshments were served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Loyd left for a ten days' trip in the west. They will board on their return with Mrs. Mandigo. Miss Dimmick was one of the most popular school teachers of the town, and will be much missed as an accomplished instructor.

LEGISLATIVE MATTERS.

BOSTON, June 5, 1895.

The Legislature of 1895 is apparently going into history with a very fair record. It is not the best which has been seen and is by no means the worst. It has had an excellent president in the Senate and the state will suffer by the retirement of President Butler to private life, as he says he shall do at the end of this term. He has been able, honest, and public spirited. He has preserved an excellent moral tone and dignity in the Senate and merits the commendation of the state. Of the several senators who are mentioned as successor, Senator Wellman of Middlesex would be the most desirable for the public, taking all qualifications into consideration. The Senate has averaged well in ability. Of course it has rejected many bills which have passed the House, but that is the usual course of events, while the House kills comparatively few Senate bills.

In the House there has been also a fully average grade of intelligence, while there has been a gratifying absence of scandal. The surroundings of the House have clearly not been conducive to the best legislation. The magnificence of the new hall does not compensate for its poor acoustic qualities, nor does the ease of the $45 chairs make amends for the indifference and propensity to conversation which they seem to foster in the members. Further than this, there is the luxury and convenience of the smoking and reading room, and of the great settees in the long corridor. They are well patronized by the members when they ought to be in their seats, giving attention to the pleas made for or against measures, and qualifying themselves to pass a righteous judgment. The attitude of the speaker has been altogether too much in favor of rushing business. Neither he nor the majority of the members seem to realize yet that the business of lawmaking is of great delicacy and importance both. These matters are not to be turned off thoughtlessly. We all know with what care we prepare a legal document in our private business, how we are sure that everything is exactly right, according to technicalities. Yet the members, who make the standard for these legal forms, are singularly careless, and the speaker has pressed them to their utmost speed, as if a bill were to be treated like a base ball, the further it can be hit so much the better is the work done. There is need of a reform in this respect.

The moral tone of the House has been good. It has been favorably disposed toward whatever tends for the uplifting of the community and has kept its good name unsullied. Very likely there have been things done which would not read well, but they have not come to public notice, and the legislation has been as much on its merits as usual which is only a part of the case, for other influences are always active.

The course of the Senate in refusing, by 9 to 20, to pass the Holyoke police bill over the veto was parallel with that of the House regarding the veto of the Woburn bill, while the Senate concurred with the House in passing over the veto the little salary raise of $200 for the clerk of the Brockton police court. The action of each branch upon the police-bill vetoes seems to be an indication that the Republican party hereafter, as well as the Democratic, is to be intrusted with the doctrine of self-government, and that a sharp halt has been called in the disposition of cities to run to the state house for help whenever the rough element in them becomes so strong that it requires hard work to put it down. But the course of the Legislature this year has been thorough and the state will be better for it

By a large majority, 37 to 82, the House has refused to order to a third reading the bill to require the state to buy 100 of the McTammany voting machines, provided the cities and towns could be persuaded to adopt them. The mandamus has been set up in the state house for several weeks for inspection of the members, but they found fatal objections to it, chief of which was the fact that the voter cannot see whether or not his vote has been cast.

The vote of the house against the bill to abolish the Boston city council and to substitute a single board of 27 councilors was almost unanimous. The debate in favor of the bill was poorly sustained, while the arguments against it were numerous and convincing. Surely it was well that this theoretical scheme was nipped in the bud.

The Legislature of 1895 came to the end of its labors on Wednesday, June 5, against prorogation last year on July 2. There has been nearly as much business done according to the number of matters, but the Blue Book will not be as large because several of the acts of last year were codifications of large bodies of statutes and did not represent the genuine original doings of the Legislature. This year there has been nothing of the sort, nor have there been as many contested matters as there were last year. In 1894 there were 1194 matters presented and in 1895 about 1200. There were killed in 1894 some 535 and in 1895 about 580. In 1894 there were passed 661 and in 1895, according to the final speech of the speaker, about 643. This is just about an equality.

The Legislature of 1895 goes out of existence in favorable circumstances. They did not permit themselves to be crowded by the rank and file of the House merit commendation at the expense of the leaders. The consequence was that the business was well done and the representatives need not be ashamed of the way in which they went out of office.

There has been no open scandal attaching to the members of either branch and if there is any in the legislation, it has not come to the surface yet. I do not know of but one matter in which there was a job, but it failed to have any support and met a speedy death in the House. Suspicions have attached to certain other measures, but they have had the warm opposition of the members and as far as is known now the acts of the session are as clean as those of any legislature. It is almost impossible for the Blue Book to be made without giving somebody advantages. That is what legislation is for, in a broad and right sense,—to make it easier for meritorious men and measures to advance and to make it harder for knaves to plunder the public and to use the machinery of the government for their special behoof. The closing days of the session have been marked by decorum and lack of confusion. As soon as the members found that they could not be prorogued Saturday, they settled down to a steady gait and did their work in a thoroughly creditable manner. They may face their constituents with the consciousness of work well done and without fear of censure.

Senate and House have both had some excellent members, though there have not been as many leading men in either branch as is frequently the case. The Senate has been composed largely of men who have served in the House, and naturally they have been able to transact business in a speedy and dignified manner, taking less time than in the more numerous House. But the more popular branch is the better place for a man to make a record, and the wise politician will prefer service in the House to that in the Senate.

The doings of the last few days were at times exciting. Tuesday the sending in of two vetoes at once has probably never been parallelled before in the history of the state. The bills were both salary bills and the House sustained the vetoes by a decidedly large vote. But the Legislature, in both branches, has acted with independence. It took the part of the veterans against the governor in passing over the veto, by very large majorities in each branch, the bill to give compulsory preference to veterans in appointments to the civil service. Personally, I cannot but express my conviction that the governor was right, though the Legislature went so strongly the other way. In the matter of salaries, the Legislature showed its sense of justice in passing a little $200 raise for a Brockton police court clerk but it refused by 77 yeas to 98 nays, far less than the necessary two-thirds, to pass over the veto the salary bill for the benefit of Insurance Commissioner Merrill. This bill for the commissioner was urged upon the Legislature by the insurance companies, and the whole affair was of a singular complexion. While it might have been all right, yet it did injure the bill with the members that there was so much interest for it on the part of insurance campanies.

The important acts of the session have been many. Speaker Meyer mentioned in his farewell, the Boston water supply, the revision of the Boston charter, the extension of the subway act, and a few others, but he might have added the bill for the observance of Sunday, that for the prevention of gaming, to regulate the use of tuberculin and for payment for condemned animals and others. The political legislation has been important, but not all the measures have passed. The vetoes of the Holyoke and Woburn police bills will probably be of as high historical importance as any acts of the session. The defeat of the bill to prevent bucket-shop gambling will probably be followed next year by another effort for its passage. The gypsy moth gets $150,000; the highway commission, $400,000; the Medfield asylum $300,000, and the total appropriations by the Legislature, regular and special, amount to $8,488,000. But the state tax will be only $1,500,000, which is as small as it has been in recent years, while it has been as high as $2,500,000. But the people do not feel this state tax, whether high or low, compared with their city and town taxes. The state calls for almost nothing in comparison with the local needs. When the work and expense of the session are reviewed by the thoughtful citizen, he will find that it has been mostly well spent for the good of the public.

LANDON.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

Fine Clothing at Panic Prices.

FINE CLOTHING never was so reasonable. CHARLES E. LYNCH of Springfield has filled his south window with some handsome Cassimere Suits. "Your choice for $10," is conspicuous among them. They are certainly extraordinary values even in these after panic times.

Dr. Lockhart of Boston, says he uses Ayer's Hygienic Coffee in his own family and recommends it to all as a healthful drink. Grocers sell it.

And Make Money At It.

If you only knew it, the trouble is with your digestion. If that was good you would sleep better, wake better, work better, and make more money at it. How can one "get on" when the whole system is sluggish? But people don't realize what is the trouble. A box of Ripans Tabules makes lives worth living. At druggists.

Wouldn't a Salary Come Handy?

See advertisement of a "Chance to earn money," in another column, if you want a position.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 52-25

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

FORBES & WALLACE'S, SPRINGFIELD.

Just What is Going on Here in Muslin Underwear.

The finest stock of Muslin Underwear ever brought to the city is going at what it'll fetch—fully a third less than ordinarily.

And this, too, at a time when everybody wants Muslin Underwear most; at a time when people who are going away on summer vacations—are laying in their summer supplies—there won't be a better time again this season.

The garments are made of the best sorts of materials, fashioned and sewed after the best manner of workmanship, made for our critical regular trade; and there's not a bit of skimpiness, not a bit of meanness anywhere.

We shall have the south store packed every day when women fully realize what is going on here.

South store.

Shirt Waists.

Sorts here to suit every manner of taste, every size of pocket book.

Percale waists with laundered collars and cuffs, at 30 cents—they're remarkable.

Main floor of Pynchon street building.

Wrappers.

We have another lot of those wonderful lace stripe gingham wrappers to sell at $1. Wasn't only enough of the last lot in for the people who came the first couple of days, and these will go as quickly, most likely.

Pretty styles in percale waists with laundered collars and cuffs at 30 cents; nobody else in town has such waists for so little money.

Main floor of Pynchon street building.

FORBES & WALLACE.

Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,

VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.

Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.

Residence, Nassowanno House. Office and stable, Central street.

PALMER, MASS.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

A JUNE CLEARANCE SALE OF FINE FURNITURE.

There's been a reckless cut in prices here. Profits have been thrown to the winds and for the next few weeks there'll be the greatest Furniture Selling in our store that has ever been known in Springfield.

Our finest goods are included—many sample pieces, all new, made exclusively for us for the present season's business, but patterns which we have decided to discontinue, hence the tremendous sacrifice on our part whereby our patrons will be benefitted.

It will be for your interest to make an early inspection of the many lines.

Furniture department.

CARPETS.

We venture to say there's not a carpet stock outside New York or Boston that can compare with ours in size, quality of goods or variety of patterns. We have bought generously, it would seem almost recklessly—bound to supply every conceivable carpet want, and as a result of our efforts our present carpet trade has been enormous, eclipsing all previous years.

The following carpet offers are proving attractive to no end of buyers who are fast culling out the choicest things:

Best Grade Tapestries, 85-cent goods at 62 1-2 cents.

$1.10 Axminsters at 35 cents.

$1.65 Axminsters at $1 and $1.25.

Best Brussels, Lowell, Hartford and Bigelow at 75 cents, 85 cents and $1.00.

First floor.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

Springfield, Mass.

SPRING CLOTHING!

NEW SPRING .:. .:. STYLES, Latest Colorings —AND— Novelties.

Extra large samples to select from. The most complete assortment, the finest, newest and most extensive in novelties and colorings. Fine Clay, English Wagners and Schnable's best makes, Bannuckburn Scotch goods in best patterns, fine French in newest makes and colors. Prices $20, 22, 24, 26, 27, 28, 30, 32, 33, 35 to 40. All goods and trimmings the very best ever offered in town for the money, and warranted. Terms Strictly Cash.

D. MULVIHILL, - Eager's Block.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN SS. PROBATE COURT.—To all persons interested in the estate of Joseph W. Fitton, late of Palmer, in said County, deceased:

Whereas Joseph W. Fitton, administrator with the will annexed of the estate of the said deceased, has presented for allowance the first and final account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Springfield, in said county, on the third day of July, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said administrator is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate, fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once a week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, post-paid, a copy of this citation to all persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said court, this fifth day of June in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four.

EDWARD B. GLASGOW, Attorney, 405 Main Street, Worcester, Mass.
SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register. 10-3

S. H. HELLYAR'S

Fire Insurance Agency,

CARYL'S BLOCK,

PALMER, - - MASS.

I represent some of the largest companies, both stock and mutual, doing business in this state, and should be pleased to reckon you as one of my customers.

Will guarantee you security, promptness, economy, and a correctly written policy.

Thanking you for past favors, I am

Yours respectfully,

S. H. HELLYAR.

GRANDMOTHER'S INDIAN BLOOD PURIFIER.

For this purpose no better or safer medicine can be selected to purify, enrich and warm the blood, and tone up the system generally. It will speedily restore the system to health and vigor. It is composed of leaves, barks and roots, being one of the mildest and safest tonics known. Also agent for the National Remedy Co., and their wonderful Japanese Oil, known all over the world. Fresh roots and herbs can be found at the house at any time. At home Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Hair work done to order.

H. S. MCCOMBER, AT PERFECT VIEW HOMESTEAD, STATE AVE., MONSON, MASS.
P. O. Box 174 Palmer. 6-10

DENTISTRY.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PALMER AND VICINITY:

Having thoroughly equipped my new office with the most modern inventions and methods pertaining to dentistry, I am now prepared to meet the demands of the public in all the branches of the art. I have associated with me DR. O. P. ROLLER, a graduate in

DENTAL SURGERY,

who has made a specialty of crown and bridge work, all gold, porcelain, combination crown, etc. Gold, aluminum and artificial dentures of every description. The best of workmanship guaranteed. 2-tf

DR. C. W. CROSS, PALMER, MASS.

FOR SALE.

Home, sweet home, there is no place like home, and the place to buy a home is in Monson, Mass. Have you seen those two new cottage houses on Park avenue opposite the park? They are ready for your inspection and will be sold right, as the owner has other business to attend to. Have had eleven applications to rent them. So the party having a little money this is a chance for a good investment. 10-1 T. J. HYNES, Monson.

WALL PAPERS, MOULDINGS, ETC., AT MASON'S, PALMER.

.... J. M. BRUCE, ...

AGENT FOR THE

TROWBRIDGE UPRIGHT PIANOS.

Trowbridge Pianos for Tone.
Trowbridge Pianos for Action.
Trowbridge Pianos for Fine Cases.

PIANOS TUNED, REGULATED and REPAIRED.

Office, Room 25, Main St. P. O. Box 166.

SPRINGFIELD, - MASS.

FISH BAIT FOR SALE,

CHARLES S. RUGGLES,

Three Rivers, - Mass.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS IN THIS VICINITY FOR

TRUSSES.

WE CARRY A LARGE ASSORTMENT IN ALL THE SIZES OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF

Steel Spring Trusses,
Hard Rubber Trusses,
New York Elastic Trusses.

WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.

AT LEGRO & LYNDE'S.

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

.... THE ....

Teachers' Convention

IN JULY.

CHEAPEST RATES OUT OF NEW ENGLAND TO ALL POINTS WEST, VIA. THE

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY,

Niagara Falls, and The Great St. Clair Tunnel,

Also via. MONTREAL, following the shores of the famous ST. LAWRENCE RIVER for three hundred miles.

FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATIONS, UNEQUALLED SERVICE.

Teachers returning will complete the enjoyment of their trip by taking a sail through the Thousand Islands and the Rapids of the St. Lawrence from Kingston to Montreal.

For further particulars as to this route, apply to

N. J. Grace, D. P. A., G. T. Ry., Boston, Mass.
G. T. Bell, A. G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal, P. Q.
N. J. Power, G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal, P. Q.

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

JUST ARRIVED.

A Full Line of

Grass Seed,
Seed Oats,
Seed Barley,
Seed Peas,
Ground Plaster.

BRADLEY'S X L Phosphate, Potato Manure and English Lawn Dressing.

Low Prices.

C. D. HOLBROOK.

=: Coal Notice. :=

After getting through a long hard winter and having a few dollars left, I bought early in the season some good coal of diffierent sizes which I will sell at the following low prices, for May delivery. All coal screened, and if desired put in bin:

Lackawanna Stove,	-	-	$4.80 per ton
" Nut,	-	-	$4.80 " "
" Egg,	-	-	$4.60 " "
Lehigh Stove,	-	-	$4.95 " "
" Nut,	-	-	$4.95 " "
" Egg,	-	-	$4.80 " "

These prices are for coal delivered a reasonable distance from station, if taken from cars on arrival. I shall be here twelve months in the year to look after the business and solicit a share of the trade. Special prices on large lots.

Yours Very Respectfully,

RALPH CLIFFORD,

Monson, Mass., May 15th, 1895.

BICYCLES

RAMBLERS, . .	$100.00
ENVOY, ...	75.00
FLEETWING (ladies) .	75 00
STORMER, . . .	60.00
CRAWFORD, . . .	50.00

All warranted fully. Sweaters and bicycle sundries for sale. Also have good wheels to rent.

ERNEST D. TUFTS,

Holden's Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

EXCURSIONS TO

DENVER

IN CONNECTION WITH THE

National Educational Convention,

LEAVING

Boston, Worcester and Springfield

JULY 1, 3, and 5,

TOGETHER WITH A

Series of Magnificent Special Tours through the Rocky Mountains, Utah, the Yellowstone National Park, the Puget Sound Country, Alaska, etc.

These trips may be availed of not only by Teachers but by the General Public.

Ask for Circular at the Ticket Office of the Boston and Albany Railroad.

J. B. SHAW,
DRY GOODS,
PALMER, - MASS.

We are all through house cleaning, and with a store bright with paint and varnish, and filled with goods suited to the season, we respectfully ask for inspection and comparison of goods and prices.

It is almost marvelous what pretty Dress Goods a little money will purchase. In Wash Goods the the assortment is much the largest ever shown by us.

In Groceries we have a full line of Staple and Fancy Articles, with specialties each week.

J. B. SHAW,
GROCERIES,
PALMER, - MASS.

W. N. FLYNT & SONS'

SPRING STYLES IN MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING

HAVE ARRIVED. GIVE THEM A CALL AND RECEIVE BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY THAN EVER BEFORE. BE SURE YOU GET A TRILBY HAT.

LATEST IN HATS AND CAPS FOR MEN AND BOYS AT

W. N. FLYNT & SONS,

MONSON, MASS.

ALTERATION SALE. =:-:=

Extensive changes are to be made on our building.

To make room for these changes we shall reduce stock. Many prices will be CUT ONE-HALF: all of them very heavy. Sale has just commenced; store is crowded with those ready to secure bargains.

SEE! SEE!

NIGHT GOWNS.

Night Gowns.

FIVE SPECIAL LOTS.

50 cents, former prices			75c and		87c
87	"	"	$1.00	"	$1.25
$1.12	"	"	1.50	"	1.75
1.38	"	"	1.75	"	2.00
1.85	"	"	2.50	"	3.00

Corset Covers.

19 cents, former price			25c
25	"	"	35c	"	37c
38	"	"	50c	"	62c
50	"	"	75c	"	87c
68	"	"	87c	"	$1.00
87	"	"	$1 20	"	1.38

Drawers.

38 cents, former price			50c
50	"	"	75c	"	87c
75	"	"	95c	"	$1.00
$1.00	"	"	$1.50

Chemises.

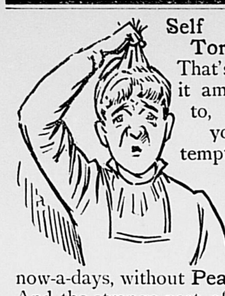
38 cents, former price			50c
50	"	"	75c

Short Skirts.

38 cents, former price			50c
62	"	"	95c
87	"	"	$1.25

Walking Skirts.

62 cents, former prices			75c and		87c
87	"	"	$1.00	"	$1.25
$1.00	"	"	1.25	"	1.50
1.25	"	"



Self Torture! That's what it amounts to, when you attempt to do washing and cleaning, now-a-days, without Pearline. And the strange part of it is, that you should be willing to suffer, when it's only for your loss—not gain.

That needless back-breaking rub, rub, rub isn't saving you anything. It's costing you money. It is simply wearing out the things that you're washing. Why would you rather do it? That is what the women who are saving their strength and their clothes with Pearline can't understand.

Beware of imitations 360 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

Did you ever see one of the famous waterproof Interlined Collars or Cuffs? It's very easy to tell, for they are all marked this way

TRADE ELLULOID MARK.

They are the only Interlined Collars and Cuffs, and are made of linen, covered with waterproof "CELLULOID." They'll stand right by you day in and day out, and they are all marked this way

TRADE ELLULOID MARK.

The first cost is the only cost, for they keep clean a long time, and when soiled you can clean them in a minute by simply wiping off with a wet cloth—that is the kind marked this way

TRADE ELLULOID MARK.

These collars and cuffs will outlast six linen ones. The wearer escapes laundry trials and laundry bills—no chafed neck and no wilting down if you get a collar marked this way

TRADE ELLULOID MARK.

Ask your dealer first, and take nothing that has not above trade mark, if you desire perfect satisfaction. All others are imitations absolutely.

If you can't find collars or cuffs marked this way, we will send you a sample postpaid on receipt of price. Collars, 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50 cts. pair. Give your size and say whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

THE CELLULOID COMPANY,
427-29 Broadway, NEW YORK.

First Office Boy.—"Weren't you surprised to hear your cashier had skipped?" Second Office Boy.—"Naw! You oughter see the horses he used to bet on!"—Puck.

I have two little grand children who are teething this summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of bed and doing my house work. Mrs. W. L. Duncan, Bonaqua, Hichman Ct., Tenn.

"Many of the citizens of Rainsville, Indiana, are never without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house," says Jacob Brown, the leading merchant of the place. This Remedy has proven of so much value for colds, croup and whooping cough in children that few mothers who know its worth are willing to be without it.

Sometime ago I was troubled with an attack of rheumatism. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was completely cured. I have since advised many of my friends and customers to try the remedy and all speak highly of it. SIMON GOLDBAUM, San Luis Rey, Cal.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

To be Well This Spring

Take the Great French Hospital Remedy, which, by its thousands of cures, has set the entire medical world to talking.

It cures all Spring Debility, quickens the laggard pulse, sends new, rich blood flowing through the veins, searches out all impurities and diseases, and quickly eradicates them from the system. Contains no wines or opiates, and is the only remedy in the world that will permanently cure you.

Take Blood Wine.

••••CARRIAGES••••

What one? I have one of the largest stocks in this city. Am overstocked now; have 3 car loads to come, and no room for them. I will give bargains in any kind of vehicles. It costs nothing to look over my stock and you will be used well even if you don't buy. I want to see you. Let's get acquainted. I will guarantee my prices with any dealer that pays for his goods.

HARNESSES,

heavy and light, all grades at lowest prices. You will buy if you look at them. I sell as low as the lowest. My expenses are not one-fourth that of other dealers who sell as much as I. That's your advantage in buying here.

D. W. BUTTERWORTH,
60 Dwight St., Springfield.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,
OFFICE A ND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.
Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Trilby, Trilby, Everywhere.

I came home late the other night, and as I paced the street,
A beggar-man came up to me and begged, but not for meat.
"I ask a dime from you," said he, "lest I shall very ill be;
Before the morn I must have funds to go and purchase Trilby.
'Tis Trilby, Trilby, everywhere;
'Tis Trilby here, 'tis Trilby there,
And if the book I cannot see,
I'll die of curiosity."

I got upon a cable-car last week to go to biz,
And 'midst the clanging of the bells and of the cable's whiz,
The guard who took my fare remarked, "What do you think, sir, will be
The estimate of future years of this new book called Trilby?"
'Tis Trilby here, 'tis Trilby there;
'Tis Trilby, Trilby everywhere;
Upon the cars, upon the street,
'Tis "Trilby, Trilby," all repeat.

Why, in election times I found the tendency the same,
It made no difference how great the stake, how great the game,
If I should ask, "Will Morton or the famous Mr. Hill be Our Governor?" the answer came: "I cannot say. Read Trilby."
'Twas Trilby, Trilby everywhere;
'Twas Trilby here, 'twas Trilby there,
I hardly knew where I was at
With Trilby this and Trilby that.

I went into a shop to buy a valume of Carlyle,
The clerk, who was my friend, gave me a truly pitying smile,
"Pray hush!" he said. "Pray whisper low, or teetotally still be!
We've orders to arrest all those who ask for aught but Trilby.
'Tis Trilby, Trilby everywhere;
'Tis Trilby here, 'tis Trilby there,
If you ask for Carlyle again,
They'll try to prove you've gone insane."

So here's to Little Billee, and to Taffy and the Laird!
Here's to that beauteous friendship to which naught can be compared!
And, oh, I pray the Powers, may Du Maurier's fine skill be Spared unto him for many a day to give us more like Trilby!
'Tis Trilby, Trilby, everywhere
On earth and on the Golden Stair,
Where'er you stay, where'er you go,
'Tis Trilby, Trilby, Trilby O!

—Harper's Weekly.

UNCLE SAM'S UNEARNED INCOME.

Recently the Assistant Treasurer of the United States at New York city has turned into the Post office Department fund the sum of $1,300,000, which has been accumulating in the Sub-Treasury during the last thirty years from the funds paid to the money-order post offices for remittance which have never been claimed. Old money-orders are presented at the post office department almost every day, but the amount of the unpaid money-order fund increases constantly, and there is no likelihood that any part of the $1,300,000 will be claimed by its owners. In fact, every year from $50,000 to $100,000 is added to the fund, which represents carelessness or neglect.

This is only one source of unearned income which the government has. The post office department furnishes another in the stamps which are destroyed from year to year without cancellation or are bought by collectors.

The value of a stamp is represented in the service which it will never be called upon to perform. So common a source of income is the sale of stamps to collectors that it is said that some small governments have issued stamps intended mainly as a source of income. Many Central American republics issue stamps of new design every year. The republic of Liberia, it is said, issues stamps more for an income to be derived from sales to stamp-collectors than for postal purposes.

The treasury department has a large source of income in the issue of bonds and bank-notes. There is no doubt that of the $50,000,000 worth of bonds just issued some proportion will never be presented. There is more than a million dollars in the treasury to-day due to holders of government bonds. There are millions of dollars of United States notes marked on the treasury's books as not redeemed which will never be presented. Most of this money has been destroyed. Occasionally some of it appears and is presented for redemption, but each year the fund grows larger.

As to the amount represented in unpaid claims or supplies that is something which could hardly be computed. It often takes the lifetime of not only the claimants, but the generation coming after him to reach a settlement with the dilatory Congress.—Harper's Weekly.

AN ELEPHANT'S SENSE.

In India domesticated elephants are usually given drink from large wooden troughs filled with well water by means of a pump, and it is commonly an elephant that fills his trough. Every morning he goes regularly to his task. While visiting a friend at his fine residence in India a correspondent of a paper saw a large elephant engaged in pumping such a trough full of water.

He continues: "In passing, I noticed that one of the two tree-trunks which supported the trough at either end, had rolled from its place, so that the trough, still elevated at one extremity, would begin to empty itself as soon as the water reached the level of the top at the other end, which lay on the ground.

I stopped to see if the elephant would discover anything wrong. Soon the water began to run off at the end which had lost its support. The animal showed signs of perplexity when he saw this; but, as the end nearest him lacked much of being full, he continued to pump. Finally, seeing that the water continued to pass off, he left the pump handle and began to consider the phenomenon. He seemed to find it difficult to explain. Three times he returned to his pumping, and three times he examined the trough.

"I was an absorbed looker-on, impatient to see what would be done. Soon a lively flapping of the ears indicated the dawning of light. He went and smelled of the tree trunk, which had rolled from under the trough. I thought for a moment that he was going to put it in its place again. But it was not, as I soon understood, the end which ran over that disturbed his mind, but the end which he found it impossible to fill. Raising the trough which he then allowed to rest for an instant on one of his huge feet, he rolled away the second supporting log with his trunk, and then set his trough down so that it rested both ends on the ground. He then returned to the pump, and completed his task."—Manchester Times.

STREET DEMOCRACY.

They were two ragged children standing on the curbstone watching the carriages as they drove up and stopped to let out their occupants.

The street waifs were dirty and ragged, and no doubt hungry, for the basket they carried between them was empty, and the face of the younger of the two was tear-stained.

"They must be awful rich," he said to the girl at his side.

"Jimmey," she answered, "d'ye know wot I'd do if I was rich as—as mud, like them? I'd jes set up straight in my carriage, an' if the folks didn't get out o' the way I'd run over 'em, so I wud."

"I wouldn't," said Jimmy, slowly, and solemnly. "If I was rich I wouldn't want no carriage, no horses, nor nothin'. I'd go jes as fast as ever I cud to heven an' bring me mudder back again."

He finished with a sob, and the girl looked at him with an air of superior disdain.

"You're a silly," she said, but her voice was soft, and she took his hand in hers and they moved away.—Detroit Free Press.

Ware, Mass.

He Had Hip Disease

Seven Running Sores—Three Months in the Hospital

Took Hood's Sarsaparilla—Gave Up His Crutches—Perfectly Well.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I gladly state what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for our boy. About six years ago he fell down the cellar stairs. He did not seem to be much hurt at the time, but two or three weeks after, he began to have pains in his right knee so badly that we called a doctor and he

Termed the Trouble Rheumatism,

but his treatment did not seem to do the boy any good. He kept complaining more and we had several doctors treat him, but they did him no good, and his trouble continued to grow worse. He became so lame that he could not walk. A prominent physician in Boston was consulted and he termed the affliction contraction of the muscles. His treatment also failed. As his leg began to cramp up besides paining him severely in his knee, we took the boy to New York where he was examined by two physicians, and they pronounced it

A Case of Hip Disease.

We had a brace made to keep the leg from cramping, and upon the doctor's advice we again took him to Boston, this time to the Children's Hospital. He was there three months during which time they made an operation on his leg and did all they could for him, but they did not effect a cure. When we brought him home had seven running sores on his leg. He could not put his foot on the ground. At last

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

we were advised to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. This was about a year ago. The boy seemed to gain after the first bottle and today he can walk, run and play as lively as any boy, the sores having all healed up, and he is

The Picture of Health.

He goes to school daily without the aid of crutches. I hope Hood's Sarsaparilla may be of as much benefit to others." JOHN C. BOYLE, 45 Water St., Ware, Mass.

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c.

"A fellow don't know what to do," complained Tommy. "The kids that maw wants me to play with, their mothers don't want 'em to play with me."—Indianapolis Journal.

Right Arm Paralyzed!

Saved from St. Vitus Dance.

"Our daughter, Blanche, now fifteen years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. We feared St. Vitus dance, and tried the best physicians, with no benefit. She has taken three bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine and has gained 31 pounds. Her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid."
MRS. R. R. BULLOCK, Brighton, N. Y.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cures.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1. 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

SAVED MRS. RENNIE'S LIFE.

Mrs. Jennie Rennie of Virgil, N. Y., had been sick for a year or more with overflow of the gall and ulcers of the stomach. Her physician told her she could not live. Mrs. Rennie's mother had found such benefit from the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, that she persuaded her daughter to use it, which she did, with the result that it cured her of these diseases, and she says she was never as well as now.

AYER'S Hygienic Coffee.

A Health Drink, Nerve and Brain Food.

A vegetable and cereal compound; contains all the elements one's system requires.

Prepared by M. S. AYER, of Boston. A vegetarian of many years.

PRICE, 20 CENTS PER POUND.

Directions: Prepare the same as Coffee, using not more than two-thirds as much for the same amount of water, or one tablespoonful to a pint.

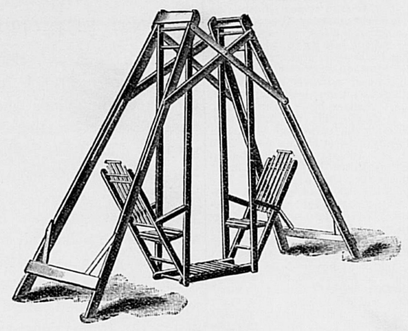
For sale by principal wholesale and retail grocers. Send 2c stamp for book on "Diet Reform."

M. S. AYER, 211 STATE ST., BOSTON.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed. The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office WEDDING CARDS.

W. E. STONE.

HOT WAVE MERCHANDISE.



THE BRUNSWICK SWING, FOR LAWN OR PIAZZA, $6.75.

Croquet Sets, $1.00. Mexican Hammocks, $1.00.

Large palm leaf fans,.....3c, two for 5c.
Tanglefoot (sticky) fly paper, 3c, double sheet, two for 5c.
Williams' Root Beer Extract, 19c
Hires' " " " "
Knapp's " " " "
Bryant's " " " 10c, makes 5 gallons
Hops, malt, yeast, and cheap molasses for making beer.
Men's wide straw hats.
Children's " " "
Summer corsets, "O, so cool," "Lakesike,".....50c
Summer underwear for men, women and children.
Ladies' chamois gloves,...39c and $1.00, will wash.
Ladies' kid gloves, Foster lace, black, colors, $1.00
Mosquito netting, white, black, blue, pink, green.
New line of dainty dimities, challies, prints, India lawns, nainsooks, shirt waists, and calico wrappers, Windsor ties all colors, 5c to 25c each.
See our straw mattings at 12½c per yard.
Window screens,.....25c and 39c
Oil stoves, three sizes.
Lace curtains,.....50c apair and up.
Scrims,.....5c a yard and up.
Silkolines, dot muslin, fish net for draperies.
Extension rods for draperies,.....1c each.

All the best varieties of garden seeds.
Bradley's fertilizers. Coe's fertilizers.
Potatoes, Bermuda onions, California oranges, lemons, bananas, evaporated apricots, prunes, and evaporated apples.
6 pounds raisins,.....25c
6 boxes American sardines,.....25c
Northfield creamery butter.

Bargains in every department. Each and every article warranted to your satisfaction. Goods delivered promptly.

W. E. STONE.

GENERAL STORES.

Lawrence Block, Palmer. Hollister's Block, North Wilbraham.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

BICYCLES FOR 1895.

STEARNS "Yellow Fellow." Ladies' and Gents' $100.

WARWICK "Crimson Rims." $80, $85, $100.

CRESCENTS $90, $75, $50, $40.

WINNEWOOD & TEMPLES $60.

We have full size in Ladies' and Gents' Wheels for $50, fully warranted.

BICYCLE REPAIRING.

We have secured the services of Alfred H. Stokes to take charge of this department. Mr. Stokes comes to us from the KEATING WHEEL CO. where he has had entire charge of their Repair Department.

He can save you money in repairs and suit you. Any kind of wheel repaired.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

SEEDS.

Garden Seeds, Grass Seeds, Flower Seeds, Seed Potatoes. We take great pains to suit you on this line. We think poor seeds are worthless at any price. See us before you buy.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Belcher & Taylor's Plows and Cultivators. Rough and Ready Wrought Iron Beam Plows. Planet, Jr. Horse Hoes and Cultivators. John Doud Wheel Harrows. Steel Road Scrapers. Spring Tooth Harrows. Lawn Mowers.

We shall carry a good line and solicit your trade.

E. A. BUCK & CO.

FISHING TACKLE.

TROUT FISHING SEASON is here, and we are prepared for it. Rods, Lines, Reels, Baskets, etc. Nice assortment. Fair prices.

E. A. Buck & Co., Palmer.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.
NEW LONDON DIVISION.
CORRECTED TO NOVEMBER 11, 1894.
TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a m and 4.25 p m for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R R, at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R R, and at Palmer with B & A R R for Worcester, Boston, Springfield.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a m, 12.13 and 5.57 p m.
Leave Palmer, 8.40 a m, 1.55 and 7.15 p m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.25, 10.17 a m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.25 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.27 p m.
The 5.25 and 7.40 a m and 2.30 p m run through to Brattleboro, and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a m and 5.27 p m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.22, 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m, the 11.00 a m and 7.15 p m connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.22 and 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m.
D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.
S W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A., St. Albans.

Lessons on the Violin or Piano.

Given by—

MISSES JULIA and LILY ALLEN.

3-42ks Cor. Church and Pleasant Sts., Palmer.

If my store was on fire, the perfumes would be the first article saved because they are so fine. If you don't believe it come and try them; they are making the flowers jealous, they are so delicious.

Are your TOILET REQUISITES running low? Call and replenish your stock.

You will find my CENTENNIAL TOOTH POWDER the finest you ever used. For the above and anything else you need in my line, call at

ALLEN'S CORNER DRUG STORE.
Holden's Block, Palmer.

GOV. CURTIN'S STORY.

A group of friends, according to Kate Field's Washington, were talking one day about the reformatory influence of kindness in prison discipline. "I've heard a good deal about kind prison keepers," said ex-Governor Curtin of Pennsylvania when the others had finished, "but I never met one myself who was the equal of an old fellow who kept the county jail in the village where I began practicing law. He fed the convicts so well and housed them so comfortably that they became greatly attached to him, and he could trust them to go out about at will. He used to hire them out to the farmers in the neighborhood during the harvest season and turn an honest penny for the tax-payers in that way. Early one morning, while I was sweeping out my office, I was approached by one of the convicts. 'Young man,' said he, 'are you a lawyer?' 'I am,' said I. 'I want you to get me out of jail on a writ of habeas corpus and I want it right away.' 'Well, hold on, my friend,' said I. 'We have got to have a reason to show to the court before we can ask for a writ.' 'I've reason enough,' he exclaimed. 'The cruelty of the keeper makes life there unbearable.' 'Oh, pshaw!' said I, 'dont tell me such nonsense as that. There never was a kinder keeper in charge of a jail.' 'Judge for yourself,' he insisted.' 'Yesterday I was working out at Mr. Walkinshaw's, and we had a big lot of hay to get in, for the sky was full of rain clouds. So when the jail horn blew for bedtime I stayed and helped get the hay under cover. It was after dark when I got back and—would you believe it?—that hard-hearted cuss of a keeper had locked me out! I had to sleep in the street and caught rheumatism in my bones. It settled things in my mind. I'll not stay another night under the roof of a man who'll treat me like that, says I to myself. So, Mr. Lawyer, I want you to get me out before sundown, do you hear?"

ROBSON ROBBED.

Lawrence Barrett and Stuart Robson had summer homes near together. So goes the latest yarn. One night Robson dined at Barrett's, and, remaining late around the festive board, a young man at the table offered to escort him home. Robson was effusive in expressions of gratitude on the way, and the young man, growing confidential, told him that it was the ambition of his life to marry Lawrence Barrett's daughter. "My dear fellow," said Robson, "your ambition is a very worthy one. I am sure you deserve to succeed. To show you what I think of you I will tell you now that on the day you marry Lawrence Barrett's daughter I will give you my check for $5000." The next day Robson went over to call on Barrett, and was met at the threshold by the daughter. She threw her arms around his neck and said in a voice full of tears of gratitude: "My dear Mr. Robson, you are the sweetest man in the world. How can I ever thank you enough? Papa was opposed to my fiance, but since you think so much of him he has relented and consented to the match. He says there must be a good deal in the young man to whom you would give $5000 as a wedding gift." The marriage came off, and Robson was as good as his word. He was too unwell to attend the ceremony in person, but sent his check. When his daughter came home she said to Robson: "Papa, dear, I wish you had been there. When Mr. Barrett saw your check he was so overcome with emotion that he burst into tears." "My dear Alicia," replied Robson, his own voice choking, "I assure you upon my word that if Lawrence Barrett shed a bucketful of tears on that occasion it was nothing to the tears that I shed when I signed that check. Let us change the subject."

WHAT HE WAS AFRAID OF.

He was from the back counties of Virginia, and he had made his first trip away from home with a lot of cattle to New York. The big city bewildered him and he got away as soon as he could, but in an evil hour he took the advice of an acquaintance who wanted him to see all the world possible, and had taken passage on a steamer down by the sea to Richmond. It was new to him and he got to bed before he fully realized where he was. During the night the wind rose and the ship was tossed about at such a lively rate that it awakened him. He was scared but stood it for a while because he didn't know what else to do. At last, though, he rolled out of his berth and found his way to the deck.

"Where's the boss of this boat?" he inquired of the first officer he saw.

"He's off watch. What do you want?"

"I want to see him."

"Well, I guess I'll do. What do you want?"

"Ain't the wind blowin' mighty hard?"

"Not very."

"Air we safe?"

"Perfectly."

"They ain't no danger of a tree blowin' down and mashin' in the roof is they?"

The officer laughed, but he saw the man was serious.

"That's all right," he said humoring him, "you go back to bed. We never go near the woods when the wind is blowing."

"Much obleeged, mister," responded the passenger, in the most grateful way. "You see, I wuzn't shore, and it makes me kind of squirmy not knowin' how it wuz in these parts. Good night," and he sought his berth once more.—Detroit Free Press.

DOOR KNOCKERS.

London is the only capital in the world where the door knocker still remains in existence. It is in no sense of the word diminishing or "going out," as an external article of household furniture. On the contrary, it is as numerous as ever. But it has ceased to be has artistic as in the days of yore. There no longer seems to be any rivalry between neighbors about knockers. They present a dead level of uniformity of shape, and are more frequently painted black than bright. The former is much easier to keep clean than the burnished article. In short, a door knocker is now kept for use only, and it is impossible any longer to obtain any impression of the character and condition of the inmates of a house by the aspect of the knocker, although there still, perforce, remains a deal of individuality and character in the way the knocker is used. You can almost tell who your visitor is and his frame of mind by the way he manipulates it.—Philadelphia Ledger.

WANTED IT OUT ANYWAY.—My friend, the major, tells me some good stories about the gallant men who inhabit the marine barracks at Charlestown. The latest incident involves a brave sergeant who was going the rounds one night to see that all the lights were out in the barrack rooms. Coming to a room where he thought he saw a lamp shining, he roared, "Put out that light there!"

"It's the moon, sergeant!" replied one of the soldiers.

Not hearing very well, the sergeant cried in return: "I don't care what it is! Put it out!"—Boston Globe.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

JUST A LITTLE TOO LATE.

"Madame," he said as she held the door open a little way and asked him what he wanted, "perhaps it so happened years ago that you had a son wander away from the family fireside?"

"Yes, it did," she replied as she opened the door a little further.

"He went out into the cold world and became a wanderer o'er the face of the earth?"

"Yes, he did."

"Days and weeks and months ran into years and you heard no word of him? You knew not whether he lived or died?"

"As you say, I knew nothing," replied the woman, as she stood in the door and looked fixedly at the tramp.

"Well, ma'am" he continued, "I don't want to raise any false hopes, but—but——"

"But you are just a little too late," she finished as he swallowed the lump in his throat, and tried to wipe away a tear. "My wandering son returned about two hours ago, and is now taking a soak in the bath tub. Had you called earlier this morning, you know——"

"Then the situation is filled?"

"It is."

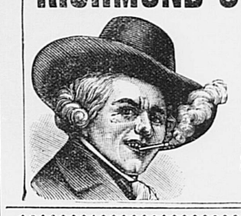
"Just my luck, ma'am, but of course you are not to blame for it. I congratulate you and your wandering son, and will bid you good-day and try the family next door."—Detroit Free Press.

L. A. W. Bicycle Club Uniform.

Have you seen our '95 catalogue with prices and samples. Send 2-cent stamp.

G. W. SIMMONS & CO.,
OAK HALL, BOSTON.
Sporting Goods, Firemen's Uniforms, Military Outfitters.

RICHMOND STRAIGHT CUT No. 1 CIGARETTES



MADE FROM THE BRIGHTEST, MOST DELICATELY FLAVORED AND HIGHEST COST GOLD LEAF GROWN IN VIRGINIA.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Who are willing to pay a little more than the price charged for ordinary trade cigarettes, will find this brand superior to all others.

ALLEN & GINTER, RICHMOND, VA.
THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., Successor.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONEAT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

Salary and expenses paid weekly from start. Permanent position. Good chance for advancement. Exclusive territory. Largest growers of nursery stock. Clean, hardy stock, true to name. Fair treatment guaranteed. No substitution in our orders. Liberal commission to local part-time agents.

CANVASSER

We can interest any one not earning $75 per month and expenses. Don't hesitate because of previous failures in this or other lines. Outfit free. Address, BROWN BROS. CO., Continental Nurseries, Rochester, N. Y. (This house is reliable. Name this paper.—Ed.)

No Default of Principal or Interest

has ever occurred in a security sold by this company

MUNICIPAL BONDS.

The securities offered by this Company are selected with great care, and are first class investments for individual buyers, legatees, trustees, banks and savings banks. More than

FIFTY CLASSES OF BONDS

have been sold by us in the last three years. Send for our list of bonds and make use of our experience.

German-American Investment Co.,
52 Wall Street, New York.

For Coughs, Colds, Asthma and Pulmonary Diseases.

A True Balsam.

Ely's Pineola will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. The annoying tickling and nervous irritation in the throat, producing hacking coughs is quickly relieved by it. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from the use of Pineola Balsam, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. The Pineola Balsam is pleasant to the taste, is soothing to the inflamed surface. More lives are sacrificed by the neglect of "slight coughs" than can be estimated.

Price of Pineola Balsam, 25c per bottle. All druggists. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., New York.

A CHANCE TO EARN MONEY! Salary and Expenses paid, or Commission if preferred. Salesmen wanted everywhere. No experience needed. Address, stating age, The C. L. Van Dusen Nursery Co., Box D, Geneva, N. Y.

USE BARNES' INK
A. S. BARNES & CO., 56 E. 10th St., N. Y.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE

Use Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cures the worst Cough, Weak Lungs, Debility, Indigestion, Pain, Take in time. 50 cts.

KIDNERCORNS. The only sure cure for Corns. 15c. at all pain. 15c. at Druggists, or HISCOX & Co., N. Y.

CALIFORNIA, OREGON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO, AND ALL WESTERN POINTS.

Select Excursions from Chicago Every Day,

Via Chicago, Union Pacific, and Northwestern Line.

SHORTEST ROUTE. LOWEST RATES

For handsome illustrated folder and detailed information address W. MASSEY, N. E. Pass. Agt., or J. S. SMITH, Pay. Pass. Agt., Union Pacific Ry., 250 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

DENTAL

Operations are usually painful; but at my office we excavate and Fill all Cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN.

Also, we do Crown and Bridge Work and make Artificial Teeth that are Satisfactory.

First Class Work at Reasonable Prices is our motto. Lady Attendant. Take Elevator.

DR. WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.
Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield, Mass.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.
SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO SEPT. 30, 1894.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58, p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

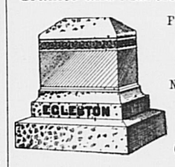
GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Pansy Park, South Amherst and Hadley—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
FOR Belchertown, Amherst and Northampton—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39, p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY, Gen'l Mgr.

Charles Beach has entered the employ of the Cutler Co.

Granite and Marble Monuments.



FINEST WORKMANSHIP AND LOWEST PRICES. NEW DESIGNS ARE BEING ADDED TO MY STOCK CONSTANTLY.

WILLIAM F. COOK,
182 and 184 State St., Springfield, Mass.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

Get a Glass! Quick!

There's lots of snap and vim in this HIRES' ROOTBEER. There's lots of pleasure and good health in it, too. A delicious drink, a temperance drink, a home-made drink, a drink that delights the old and young. Be sure and get the genuine

HIRES' Rootbeer

A 25 cent package makes 5 gallons. Sold everywhere.

THE CHAS. E. HIRES COMPANY,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

S. & W. Wind Engines

For Pumping and Power.

Do not be deceived by misleading advertisements. If you or your friends are in need of anything in the following lines, send for our new and handsome catalogue of 175 pages now ready for mailing.

Hot Air Engines, Steam Engines and Boilers, Tanks, Pumps, Pipe-fittings, Steam or Hot Water House Heating Boilers, &c.

SMITH & WINCHESTER CO.,
19 to 37 Wendell St., BOSTON 141 Centre St., NEW YORK.

"A HANDFUL OF DIRT MAY BE A HOUSEFUL OF SHAME." KEEP YOUR HOUSE CLEAN WITH

SAPOLIO

9-4

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 14, 1895. NUMBER 11.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one-half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 50 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut-streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R. R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BOND, A. M., Manufacturer and Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, Tinware, Hardware, etc.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's.

WARE.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

PALMER LODGE, No. 190, I. O. O. F.
Meets every Wednesday evening in Commercial Block, Main street.
M. M. THOMAS, N. G. G. H. BRAY, Rec. Sec.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W.
Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in Grange Hall, Day's Block, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.
Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. MCGREGORY.
Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Moores, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. E. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory
Board of Investment,
Geo. Moores, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

FINEST GROWN

FINE STATIONERY.

Many ladies are troubled to find just the size, shade or weight of correspondence paper which they would like. With something like

200 VARIETIES

To select from we ought to be able to please you. Any style of paper in any size or shape, and you may have 100 sheets or 1000, as you prefer. We'd be pleased to show you samples at the JOURNAL Office. Your monogram or initials embossed in color if desired.

THE LIGHT.....OF FASHION

Has been our guide in selecting SPRING GOODS. Every article that was presented to us was held up for examination under the light of style. If it stood the test it was approved and is here for you. In the same light of FASHION we ask you to see our offering of fine

LINEN LAWN AT 12-12c.

This is the correct thing for this season's use.

The June Sale of SHIRT WAISTS---50c, 75c, 89c, $1.10 upwards.

The June Sale of EMBROIDERY. There is money saving in it for you.

The June Sale of BELTS and STUD SETS. Endless variety.

You are foolish if you don't save.

T. H. TODD.

Boston Store, Monson, Mass.

2d WEEK ALTERATION SALE.

ARE YOU AWARE

Of the opportunity that will be yours? Dealers in this section are startled by it and venture all sorts of sales to turn aside the tide of trade that is pushing for our store. The people, however, have learned that 'tis no ordinary opportunity they have with us, through the city and country the story of our wonderful bargains has been heralded by those who have taken advantage of our sale. Superb goods at such prices were never known in this section before.

We are on the "sell low" plan and it has created a breeze most refreshing in trade for these summer days. Such bargains as we offer pays one for coming a great ways.

The reserve stock is being brought forward as rapidly as room can be made for it, and we propose to make this second week of the sale as profitable to those who visit this store as was the week preceding.

Thousands of dollars worth of Fine Reliable Goods are being disposed of regardless of cost. On many articles prices will be cut in the middle, while on others the discounts will range from 10 to 40 per cent.

It is seldom such an opportunity has been offered for securing High Class Fancy Dry Goods and Novelties at such saving prices.

The center of interest just now will be among the

LACES, RIBBONS, KID GLOVES, FINE COTTON UNDERWEAR, WHITE GOODS, LININGS, HOSIERY, ART DRAPERY SILKS, JAPANESE SILKS, JERSEY RIBBED UNDERWEAR, SUMMER CORSETS, PARASOLS, FANS AND UMBRELLAS.

Every Day in June a Bargain Day.

W. D. KINSMAN, CORNER OF MAIN AND BRIDGE STREETS,
SPRINGFIELD, - - - MASS.

HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS.

A FULL LINE OF

STABLE AND . . .
STREET BLANKETS

—AT—

WHOLESALE PRICES.

D. W. FOSKETT,
FOSKET'S MILLS.

=: Coal Notice. :=

After getting through a long hard winter and having a few dollars left, I bought early in the season some good coal of different sizes which I will sell at the following low prices, for May delivery. All coal screened, and if desired put in bin:

Lackawanna Stove,	- -	$4.80 per ton
" Nut,	- -	$4.80 " "
" Egg,	- -	$4.60 " "
Lehigh Stove,	- -	$4.95 " "
" Nut,	- -	$4.95 " "
" Egg,	- -	$4.80 " "

These prices are for coal delivered a reasonable distance from station, if taken from cars on arrival. I shall be here twelve months in the year to look after the business and solicit a share of the trade. Special prices on large lots.

Yours Very Respectfully,

RALPH CLIFFORD,

Monson, Mass., May 15th, 1895.

CARRIAGES!!!

I have in stock a complete line of fine and medium grade Carriages.

Leather Top Carriages, for $60, 75, 100, 150, 300.
Open Buggies, for $40, 60, 75, 125, 150.
Second-Hand Carriages, $5, 10, 20, 40, 75.
Harnesses, $7.50, 9, 12, 15, 20.
DELIVERY WAGONS OF ALL KINDS.

W. H. SMITH,
2 PARK STREET, SPRINGFIELD.

If you are going to use any

WALL PAPER

this spring it will

PAY YOU

to look at our line and get

OUR PRICES.

We have our NEW STOCK all in and know we are very bottom on prices.

WE WILL UNDERSELL

any city in the state of Massachusetts.

LeGRO & LYNDE,
DRUGGISTS,
Next Door to Post Office, Palmer.

. . . . THE . . . .

Teachers' Convention

IN JULY.

CHEAPEST RATES OUT OF NEW ENGLAND TO ALL POINTS WEST, VIA. THE

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY,

Niagara Falls, and The Great St. Clair Tunnel,

Also via. MONTREAL, following the shores of the famous ST. LAWRENCE RIVER for three hundred miles.

FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATIONS, UNEQUALLED SERVICE.

Teachers returning will complete the enjoyment of their trip by taking a sail through the Thousand Islands and the Rapids of the St. Lawrence from Kingston to Montreal.

For further particulars as to this route, apply to

N. J. Grace, D. P. A., G. T. Ry., Boston, Mass.
G. T. Bell, A. G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal, P. Q.
N. J. Power, G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal, P. Q.

TO COLT OWNERS.

I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.

3-tf Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

SMITH & MURRAY.

SILK SELLING.

There's great Silk Selling going on here now. Silks and lavish expenditure are no longer linked together—we've changed all that. Novelty and freshness vitalize the stock.

Quick-to-act women will find these upon the Bargain Counter to-day:

Lot 1 at 29 cents a yard.

Seventy-five pieces, containing four thousand five hundred yards of Printed India Silks, and always retailed at 75c a yard. These are choice goods; some are plain Indias, some are twilled, 22 inches wide, and printed in three and four colored designs.

Lot 2 at 25 cents a yard.

Fifty pieces Japanese Corded Kai Ki Wash Silks, similar to those that have been picked from our counter during the last week, at half-price. The best patterns are, as usual, selected by the early customers. This is merely a reminder.

Lot 3 at 37 1-2 cents a yard.

Two thousand five hundred yards Cheney Bros. Printed Pongees, 24 inches wide, regular 75c quality. You know what they are; details would be superfluous. Enough to say that they are all new designs, fresh from the mill, and just half-price.

Court Square Entrance.

Women's Duck Dresses. More than four hundred to hand to-day. We have no Print Dresses of the two-piece kind. They're too mean to sell mean in style and service.

We've Duck Dresses, 4 yards wide skirt, 25-inch Blazer, finished seams, a first-class dress in every particular. $1.59.

Better grades at $2.50, $3.95 and $5.

Second floor, take elevator,

Big purchase of Parasols below cost of production. New Goods—at small prices just when you want them.

White India Silk, $1.25, Surah Silk.
Slate Brown, Garnet Beige, $1.48. Regular price, $2.48.
Hair stripe India Silk, pink, blue, green. Same as above.
5-inch Black Ruffle Coaching. $1.59, good value, $2.50.
26-inch Blue Sun or Rain Umbrellas, fine natural and Dresden Handles. $1.95.
26-inch Black Silk Twill, with very choice handles. $1.59.
Another lot of these fine real Ostrich Collars at 98c.

Center store, rear.

SMITH & MURRAY.

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

CHARLES E. LYNCH.

FINE TEN DOLLAR SUITS!

Have you seen the elegant CASSIMERE and WORSTED SUITS now being sold by CHARLES E. LYNCH for Ten Dollars?

They are undoubtedly the handsomest Ten Dollar Suits ever seen. Every thread in them is of the purest wool Every fiber is fine natural stock. There isn't a suggestion of anything artificial in the fabrics or dyes. As to patterns they are exceedingly slick and sightly. They are made, too, as only LYNCH'S clothes are made—perfect in style, perfect in shape, perfect in fit, perfect in everything.

What are they worth? What are they worth! That we leave to you. We know this, though. We have sold thousands of similar suits for $15, $18, and $20. We have even ourselves paid more than we are asking for suits that were no better. We have marked them $10, and at $10 they are, we know, the greatest, grandest values ever seen or known.

Do we lose anything on them? Not a cent. We bought them when dollars were scarce, when manufacturers needed money. We got them at half their value. We know it. We give them to you when money is not plenty, and when you need them, too.

We have about a thousand. We wish we had twenty times as many. We could sell every one of them and quickly, too. At $10 they're going "like hot cakes," as the saying is.

CHARLES E. LYNCH,

Promoter of Fashionable Clothing.

367 Main. SPRINGFIELD. 369 Main.

Your money refunded in case of any dissatisfaction whatever.

WALL PAPERS,
MOULDINGS, ETC.,
AT MASON'S, PALMER.

. . . . J. M. BRUCE, ...
AGENT FOR THE
TROWBRIDGE UPRIGHT PIANOS.
Trowbridge Pianos for Tone.
Trowbridge Pianos for Action.
Trowbridge Pianos for Fine Cases.
PIANOS TUNED, REGULATED and REPAIRED.
Office, Room 25, Main St. P. O. Box 166.
SPRINGFIELD, - MASS.

E. S. BRYANT, D. M. D.
DENTIST.
LYNDE'S BLOCK, - - PALMER.
Office Hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

Mother's Pay.

When the babe lies on the heart
Cares depart;
Heavenly peace, heavenly rest
Fill the breast,
When the babe lies on the heart.

When I look on baby's face
In baby's place,
Vexing snarls to smoothness run,
Magic-spun,
When I see that peaceful face.

Than queen to people, more to thee
I joy to be;
Than people to their queen thou'rt more
Told o'er and o'er
In every breath of thine to me.

When thou liest on my h'art,
Hatred's smart
Turns to sweet; love's soft spell
The way knows well
Through baby's lips to mother's heart.

O'er responsive eyes and lips
Sleep's eclipse
Softly falls, breathing bliss
As I kiss
The tiny, rosy fingertips.

While with the sweet tryst I keep,
Half asleep,
In thy silver, dream-world boat
Softly I float
Over slumber's sacred deep.

All the wild world's maddening fray
Melts away;
Gladly all the world to lose
I would choose
Could I take this heavenly pay.

Lesser duty's strident scream
Drops its theme;
Joy and duty are one code,
Heaven bestowed,
While I watch my baby dream.

As I gaze on baby's face
Angel's grace
Falls around. Who from home
Cares to roam
While she sees the baby's face?

When my babe lies on my heart
Cares depart;
Heaven and home by Heaven's grace
Are one place,
When my babe lies on my heart.

—Martha F. Crow, in the Independent.

MRS. JEFFERSON'S PARTY.

"I want an invitation for a friend of mine, Lucia," said Grandma Jefferson, trotting into the room where her granddaughter-in-law, Mrs. Lucia Jefferson, sat at her desk directing envelopes.

"Certainly, grandma," said Mrs. Jefferson the younger. "Some old sweetheart who has just been heard of, I suppose."

"It's a young sweetheart," said grandma, "it's little Fanny Applebee."

"Gracious!" ejaculated Lucia. "Now, grandma, you don't really mean that?"

"I do," said grandma. "Here I've had the child making my dress and trimming my cap, and talked to her about the party; and, poor girl! I don't suppose she ever went to such a fine affair in all her life. She'll be delighted. She's very genteel looking and very pretty, and won't disgrace you."

Mrs. Jefferson considered a moment.

"Of course I can't refuse you, grandma," she said. "Give her this when you see her if you like;" and she handed one of the fashionable lithographed invitations in a blank envelope to the old lady, who smiled, nodded, put it in her pocket, and trotted away again to her own room.

An hour afterward, Fanny Applebee came in with a fluted collar for the old lady, and the latter, smiling benevolently, produced the delicate square envelope and laid it in the girl's little hand.

"There, Fanny," she said, "there's an invitation to my granddaughter's party."

"There'll be all sorts of fun, I've no doubt, and a splendid supper; and the young folks will enjoy themselves very much I expect. Grandpa and I will go in for once. Lucia insists on it, and though grandpa is ninety and I'm eighty-five, we mean to be as merry as the best of them. As for you, why, we'll have all the young men breaking their hearts for you, Fanny Applebee."

So spoke Grandma Jefferson, in the fullness of her good nature and the depth of her ignorance of Fifth Avenue evening parties. The two old folks had lived for forty years in a far-off country place, and though extremely rich, and the oldest members of a "good old family" extant, knew as little of the fashionable life of the granddaughter with whom they had at last come to reside, as any Arcadian might.

"A party" was, of course, a place where young folks enjoyed themselves—where there were plenty of beaux for the girls—where there were fiddling and dancing, and sparking and eating, and going home afterward. Oh, that jolly "going home!"

"The nicest part of it; wasn't it, Eben?" asked grandma, referring to old times, and slipping her blue-veined hand into the old man's, who patted it softly as he answered:

"One of 'em was, I know, my dear; especially under that big sycamore, when you said you'd have me.'

As for Fanny Applebee, she went home to her mother's second floor radiant with smiles.

"Mother," she said, bursting into the small back room, "I've got an invitation to young Mrs. Jefferson's party."

The widow Applebee put her iron down on the stand, set her arms akimbo, looked at her daughter, and said:

"Marcy sakes! law me! do tell!"

"I have, ma," said Fanny, producing the envelope. "Here it is! It's going to be perfectly splendid!"

"Yes, I suppose so," said the widow, examining the lithograph at arm's distance. "What a beautiful handwrite Mrs. Jefferson has, to be sure! Flourishes like a writin'-master! What a pity to be sure, that you can't go!"

"That I can't go, ma!" cried Fanny.

"Why, of course you can't," said Mrs. Applebee, who always spoke with exasperating slowness. "Not a thought of goin', have you?"

"You don't mean to say you'll forbid me?" asked Fanny.

"No," said Mrs. Applebee slower than ever—"No, I do not, Fanny Applebee. I ha'n't no rights to forbid a growed-up daughter to go out of an evenin', I don't calkerlate, though I might advise. But, fustly, where's your clothes? secondly, I shouldn't think you'd go where folks sot themselves so much above working folks as them Jeffersons do; and thirdly, Mrs. Simpson is goin' to hev a tea-drinkin' that very evenin', and you'd accepted to go."

"Oh, bother! Who cares for Mrs. Simpson?" said Fanny.

"John Scroggins will be there," said the old lady; "and a more deservin' young man I do not know. Settin' up to you too, Fanny."

"I don't mean to marry a carpenter," said Fanny, "if I die an old maid!"

"I never!" cried Mrs. Applebee.

"And I'm goin' to have a new dress," said Fanny. "I've got fifteen dollars."

"Yes," said Mrs. Applebee; "but you want a thick shawl and a pair of rubbers, and you ain't got but two pair of wool stockin's, and them's goin'. The shawl'll be eight, and the rubbers two, and the stockin's another dollar; and you'd orter—"

"I'll do with my water-proof," said Fanny. I'll mend my stockings. I hate rubbers. I'm going to buy a pale blue Japanese poplin, and flounce it, and I'm going to Mrs. Jefferson's party."

"Well," said Mrs. Applebee, taking up her iron again, and growing slower in her speech than ever. "Go, if you are set on it, Fanny Ann Applebee; and I hope and trust that you may not repent it. The winter is gettin' cold, and a shawl is a shawl in bitter weather, as you'll live to know."

But shawls and rubbers were as contemptible in Fanny's eyes, as Mrs. Simpson's tea party and John Scroggins the carpenter; and she answered by unlocking the little drawer in which she kept her hoard, and proceeding forthwith to purchase the Japanese poplin, sacrificing the overskirt, however, to the claims of a pair of white dancing shoes, which seemed indispensable.

At this dress Fanny worked, refusing an order from a customer, that she might finish it; and so offending, as she knew, her most valuable patroness.

Slow-spoken Mrs. Applebee hoped again that "Fanny Ann might not live to repent it," more than once during the interval between Mrs. Jefferson's party and the commencement of that dress; and when, on the eventful Thursday evening, the girl stood before her mother, pretty as a blush rose in her blue poplin, her white shoes and her crimped hair, the good old lady shook her head, and said—oh, so very slowly:

"Fanny Ann Applebee, I hope you'll enjoy yourself, and get treated with respect."

"Respect!" laughed Fanny to herself. "As if I were eighty!"

As she stepped into a street car which passed the corner of Mrs. Jefferson's residence, she felt, I venture to say, more certainty of enjoyment than any one of the rich women who were just thinking of beginning to dress for the occasion. They knew the program beforehand. But to Fanny the hours to come were hours of utter happiness—full of dancing, music and adoration.

The man who opened the door said mechanically, "Ladies, front room, second floor." And then, recognizing her face, cried, "Oh, beg pardon. I suppose you haven't come to the party."

Fanny only passed him with a look of scorn, and went up to the dressing-room. No one was there. After all it was best; she could make sure that she looked well. "I am pretty," she said softly, and she was surely—pretty enough to set Sohn Scroggins wild with love and jealousy, and keep him watching, at Mrs. Simpson's tea party, for her entrance with an anxiety which manifested itself in every feature of his countenance—and her poplin fitted beautifully, and her feet were small enough for the white shoes.

Fanny sat down upon a lounge with a sigh of content, and waited for the others to come. "Of course I'll not go down until the other ladies do," she said to herself. "How late they are, to be sure! It's eight o'clock."

It was half-past eight before the first carriage stopped at the door, but after that they came fast and thick. Figures robed in lace, glittering with diamonds, floated into the room, sailed up to the mirror, delivered themselves into the hands of the colored waiting-maid who had entered simultaneously with the first arrival, and had their train spread out and sashes adjusted. Then they gathered near the door, and one by one gentlemen appeared, gloved, dress-coated, with a subdued display of diamonds, with such mustaches as Fanny had never seen before, and took them away.

At last the awful truth that every other lady present had an escort, flashed upon Fanny Applebee. How could she ever go into the parlors alone? Why didn't Grandma Jefferson send some one to take her down? Then she remembered that no one might know she was there, and summoning up courage, glided down stairs, and followed a stout lady in white satin into the parlor.

Young Mrs. Jefferson stood near the door, and young Mr. Jefferson stood beside her; both shook hands with the lady in satin and with her escort, but all that Mrs. Jefferson accorded Fanny was a little condescending nod. As for Mr. Jefferson, he looked at her through his eye-glass. Fanny hardly knew whether to consider that act a courtesy or not.

She looked about for the beaux of whom Grandma Jefferson had spoken. There they were, all paired off, each attached to a lady, no odd ones among them; the company were walking listlessly about, in couples. Professor Splash was performing something horribly scientific on the piano. The "fun" evidently had not begun yet. Alas! for poor Fanny, it never did. After a while, as she set on her chair in the corner, the dancers began. It was very fine, doubtless, but no one asked her to dance; no one was even introduced to her. A few men looked at her admiringly, but Fanny did not know it. She did know that the women glanced scornfully at the blue poplin dress. A woman always looks first at another woman's dress—a man at her face. Fanny began to think of Mrs. Simpson's party, of John Scroggins, of all the fun going on there. She wanted to get away, but had not courage to rise from her seat. She feared that she should cry shortly. She felt insulted, injured, shabby—yes, shabby, in the blue Japanese poplin and white shoes. And there she remained, as unimportant as the chair she occupied, until supper time. Then a compassionate old lady, a matron who had come with her daughters, seeing her still seated, whispered:

"They're going in to supper now, my dear. Keep close to me, and I'll see you are helped."

And Fanny, thankful for one kind word, tried to follow the speaker, but the crowd was too great; she was soon separated from her guide, and—oh, shades of hospitality, whether have ye flown?—the little dressmaker in the blue poplin absolutely stood in the corner, supperless and hungry, while a fashionable man with a plate of oyster pate, looked at her between his mouthfuls, but never thought of helping one so entirely "out of his set". It was more than Fanny could bear. She edged her way out of the room, ran up stairs, got her water-proof cloak, and made her way to the street door. The same man opened it for her.

"Whose carriage shall I call?" he asked. Then, remembering himself, said: "Oh, excuse me! I didn't know you at first!" and let her out.

It was past midnight, and raining fast. The cars had stopped running, and in her white gaiters and blue poplin, which the short water-proof scarcely protected, Fanny walked home.

"Law! here you are!" said Mrs. Applebee, sitting up in bed as she entered. "Why, I never did see! You're all of a sop of wet! Fanny Ann, didn't nobody see you hum with an umbrella? Didn't come alone! Law! Your dress is spoilt, that's certain; and you'll be down sick to-morrow. How did you enjoy yourself, and what did you have for supper? And who waited on you most?"

Poor Fanny! She could only swallow her tears as best she could, as she undressed and slipped into bed beside her mother, where the old lady continued slowly and terribly, as she had begun.

"Well, I don't wonder you cry. Your frock is done for, after all you've give up for it. It's too bad!—It was real nice at Mrs. Simpson's. Such a splendid tea! Danced, the young folks did, till I thought the house would come down. Played games too. Every one seemed to know everybody—sociable like. And John Scroggins he went home with that pretty girl from Boston. Fanny Ann Applebee, I don't believe there is a nicer young man livin'. But he's taken in now. No use your thinkin' on him, that Boston gal has done it. Oh, that Mrs. Jones you couldn't make the dress for is real mad; says she'll never give you another stitch again. Go to sleep, Fanny."

Poor, poor Fanny! She thought her misery was complete, but more was to come. The soaking in the rain gave her a cold; the cold ended in inflammation of the lungs, and she laid at death's door for weeks. Old Grandma Jefferson came to see her and brought her currant jelly, and grieved that she had caught cold at "their party."

"But I suppose you had pleny of fun," said grandma kindly. "Grandpa and I meant to be there; but la, the folks came so late that we couldn't wait up; so we had some chicken salad and wine and things, in our room, and went to bed. And they made poor grandpa so ill; I was dreadfully worried about him. I suppose Lucia introduced you to everybody, and you got a nice beau—of course you did."

Fanny put Grandma Jefferon's blue-veined hand to her lips, but said nothing; that awful party was too bitter a memory.

But, getting well and sitting up again, something happened that drove the memory away.

Good John Scroggins brought his kind face and pleasant voice to comfort her. Told her how he had missed her from Mrs. Simpson's; answered that, "as to the Boston girl, she was pretty, to be sure, but not the style he liked and told her, going away, that when he heard that she was going to die, he wanted to die himself;" said that in a whisper, and bent his head down and touched the little pallid hand with his lips.

Fanny cried again when he was gone. Repenting tears were those she shed, but happy ones.

"Mother," she said, six months afterward, "I'm going to marry John Scroggins. I know the value of a good plain man better than I did once. And I think Mrs. Jefferson's party taught me a good lesson, and will keep me from longing to be fashionable, and to get into the company of people richer and finer than I am, all my life through!"—Mary Kyle Dallas.

THOMPSON STREET POKER.

The negroes take to poker like a duck to water, and some of the stories about them are rich to a degree. A few are appended;

Mr. Broadwater (the banker) — Dey's cheaten goin' on.

Mr. Knight—Cheaten?

Mr. Broadwater—Yas, sir, dat's what I said.

Mr. Knight—How's you gwine ter prove it?

Mr. Broadwater—Dem lozenger chips of mine am all peppermint, an' I jess smelt sassafrash. Da't haw I proves it.

* * *

Mr. Whitehead (who had just slapped stranger on the back)—O, I beg yo' pawdon, sah, thought it was my frien' Smithers. Yo' hab on de berry same clo's he gen'r'ly wars.

Stranger—Yes, Smithers attinded de same pokah pawty I did last ebening. He am at present confined to his room.

"Did you hab a 'citin' game las' night?"

"On'y played one hand."

"What break up de festivities?"

"Dar was seben dollars on de table, an' I had three kings."

"Berry good foh a stahter."

"An' Mr. Jinkins hel' up cyards."

"Promisin'."

"Shoh, an' I drew annudah king."

"An' won de pot?"

"No."

"What did Jinkins draw?"

"Er razer."

* * *

Uncle Rastus—I wuz playin' pokah las' night, an' hel' foh kings an' an ace.

Uncle Lige—What'er win?

Uncle Rastus—Nuffin. Peter Latherwell had foh aces an' a king.

* * *

The Western judge also knows a thing or two about the game, as is shown by the following:

"So you were playing cards for money?" said the magistrate, severely.

"No, sir, we were playing for chips."

"Well, sir, it's all the same thing. You got your chips cashed for money at the end of the game, I suppose?"

"No, sir."

"No! How's that?"

"At the end of the game I didn't have any chips, your honor."

"You're discharged," said the judge; and he snapped it out so quickly that the sheriff turned pale.—Washington Post.

A SHINING EXAMPLE.

Charity from a bootblack to a blind beggar.

"Have your shoes shined?" sang out a small boy, near the Union station, among the throng of rural passengers just from the train.

A young man who heard the cry stayed his steps, hesitating, for he had not much more money in his pocket than he had blacking on his shoes. But to hesitate was to fall into the shoeblack's hands, and the brushes were soon wrestling with splashes of rural clay.

When the shine was complete the young man handed the boy a dime, and felt that he had marked his way into the great city with an act of charity;—for at heart he did not care how his boots looked. But as he was pulling himself together for a new start he saw the boy who had cleaned his shoes approach a blind beggar who sits behind the railroad fence and drop a dime in his cup.

"What did you do that for?" asked the young man.

"Yer see," said the boy, "that wuz me tenth dime terday—an' me teacher at Sunday school, she told me I oughter give a tenth of all I makes ter the Lord—see? An' I guess that ol' blind man wants a dime more than the Lord, so I gave it to him—see?"—Pittsburg Dispatch.

DIDN'T WANT A HUSBAND.—Let me give you an instance of fitness and intelligence of one legislator from Colorado—happily they are not all like him. During the last session of the Legislature the women of that State were endeavoring to secure the franchise, and to that end three of them called upon this legislator and asked him what his views were on equal suffrage. He said:

"I hain't never thought nothing about it, and I don't believe in women's rights, no-how."

"But," they said, "don't you think it is time you did think about it? Won't you give us some assistance? Won't you help us?"

Now mark the beautiful relevancy of his reply. He leaned back, thrust one hand into his trousers' pocket, and with the other emphasized his intelligent response:

"I wouldn't marry you, nor you, nor you!"

They had asked his opinion on equal suffrage! But their answer was more to the point than his. They said very sweetly:

"Well, perhaps your wife couldn't do any better, but we can."—Woman's Journal.

Bobby—"Pop, what's a miracle?"

Fond Parent—"A miracle, Bobby, is that which cannot be accomplished by man alone."

Bobby—"Is getting married a miracle, Pop?"—New York World.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 14, 1895.

LOCAL NOTICES.

W. R. Milligan, licensed auctioneer. Terms reasonable.

Call at No. 60 Main street for the best polish to clean your silver with.

Attention, farmers! For sale—a business wagon, dirt cheap. Inquire at Milligan's shoe store.

E. S. Brooks is showing a fine line of silver goods for wedding presents. Call and see them. Finest of goods, and prices right.

If you want your watches repaired in first-class order by one of the best workmen in the state, call at E. S. Brooks' store. All work warranted to give satisfaction.

PALMER NEWS.

Walter Chilson is visiting his parents on Foster avenue.

Fred Munger is suffering from a severe boil on his neck.

Miss Lucy Naylor of Dalton visited friends in town this week.

A new sign adorns the front of Milligan and Barton's stores.

Mrs. Baker of Warren is visiting her daughter, Mrs. William Rhodes.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Chandler have returned from their western trip.

Mrs. E. G. Learned and mother have been visiting Monson friends this week.

Daniel Buskey has given up his position in Robinson & Taylor's grocery store.

L. W. Caryl has placed in his residence this week a new upright Miller piano.

Miss B. A. Murphy spent Sunday and the first of the week with friends in Springfield.

Commercial block is receiving a new coat of paint, H. T. Huntington doing the work.

Louis Aiken of Springfield is visiting his grandfather, N. Aiken, on Pleasant street.

Mrs. Esther Brown of Boston is a guest for the week in the Universalist church parsonage.

The West Warren Cornet Band will furnish music at Forest Lake the Fourth of July.

Miss Florence E. Holden of Wesleyan Academy spent Sunday with Miss Phebe Hastings.

Arthur Holbrook, who is attending Worcester Military school, is home for the summer vacation.

The Junior Christian Endeavor of the Congregational church will hold a picnic in the Glen to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chapin and two daughters of Holyoke are guests of Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Wilkins.

E. J. Wood expects to move to Springfield some time this month, and has rented his house to Horace Marsh.

Dr. L. H. Hendee has been appointed by the board of health to look after the cases of scarlet fever in the villages.

Mrs. L. M. Shaw has returned from her trip to Saratoga Springs. James F. Fenton is expected home to-morrow.

The Odd Fellows will get out a handsomely illustrated souvenir in connection with the opening of the opera house.

The second anniversary of the formation of Revere Chapter, O. E. S., will be celebrated in the lodge rooms this evening.

Rufus Flynt's donkey has a rival. A. E. Fitch has a parrot which is said to have a voice which rivals a steam calliope.

Native strawberries have appeared in the market, the first being picked last Saturday by Mrs. S. C. Rogers on Park street.

W. R. Milligan is contemplating the erection of a business building on Main street, but has not yet decided upon the location.

Walter Wallace, aged 20, died at his home on Dublin street Wednesday of consumption. The funeral was held in Monson this afternoon.

Overseer of the Poor Merriam attended the convention of the overseers of the poor of the state which was held at Lawrence this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Woolrich have returned from their trip to Halifax, where they were called by the death of Mrs. Woolrich's sister.

C. A. Royce spent a part of last week at Chesham, N. H. Reference to our birth column will throw more light on this subject.

Dr. G. H. Wilkins attended the quarterly meeting of the Western Massachusetts Homeopathic Medical Society at Springfield Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fish went to Montpelier, Vt., Wednesday to attend the graduation exercises in which their daughter, Annie B., took part.

Thomas Lodge F. and A. M. at its last communication voted to adjourn until September, thus doing away with the July and August communications.

The bridge on the Boston and Albany railroad, over the Quaboag river west of the village, known as "the tin bridge," is being widened and strengthened.

Mrs. E. G. Buss gave a party Tuesday to a number of the young friends of her grandson, Raymond Parkhurst, the occasion being the fourth anniversary of his birth.

About twenty acres of standing grass and five acres of rye, with hay, bedding and farming tools, will be sold at auction at Overlook Farm next week Saturday.

Good Cheer lodge, D. of R., entertained out-of-town friends Tuesday evening. Two candidates were initiated, there was a musical entertainment, and a collation was served.

Charles P. Quinn of this place was married Wednesday by Rev. Fr. Gavin, in Amherst, to Miss Mamie A. Murphy of that town. The young couple are taking a wedding tour in New York.

Mrs. C. C. Shaw was visited by her friends Saturday afternoon, who congratulated her upon her 82d birthday. Among the visitors were three old ladies, whose combined ages, added to Mrs. Shaw's make, a total of 324 years.

The following pupils have been perfect in attendance for the last month in the Wire Mill school:—Sarah Huggard, Delia Smart, Louisa Tracy, Nellie Hecox, Freddie Disley, George Dane, Martin Huggard, Rufus Crosby, Albert Jones.

Mrs. Bridget Donnelly, aged 85, died at her home on Water street yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Donnelly was an old resident, and had many Palmer friends. The funeral will be held in St. Thomas' church to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Commencing next Monday the milk train to Boston will leave Palmer about 6.30 in the morning instead of at night. Heretofore the train has been run from Boston to Palmer, but will hereafter be run from Palmer, returning in the afternoon, the train crew spending the night here.

The Y. P. C. U. of St. Paul's church held a business meeting last Sunday night, and the following delegates were chosen to attend the C. E. convention at Boston next month: Carrie J. Fish, Bessie M. Royce, Edwin C. Gould; alternates; Mrs. G. A. Moore, Ethel Ely, Edwin E. Brooks.

A blue mackintosh belonging to D. Eugene Marcy was taken from Marcy's stable between May 27 and 29. It was at first supposed that the coat had been borrowed by a customer, but as it has not been returned, it has been decided that it was stolen, and steps have been taken toward its recovery.

Entrance examinations for the high school will be held in the high school building next Thursday and Friday, beginning at 8.30 a.m. There will no session of the high school on those days. The pupils from the other villages who are to take the examinations will be brought down in the high school 'buses.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will preach his third annual pastoral sermon next Sunday morning in St. Paul's church. His theme will be: "Universalists in Hiding, with a Review of Our Work, Sorrows and Joys." He invites all of his friends in town to be present on this third anniversary occasion of his pastorate.

Thomas lodge, F. and A. M., will go to Boston Monday to attend the 100th anniversary of the dedication of Bunker Hill monument, which day is also the anniversary of the death of Gen. Warren. The Boston and Albany railroad will sell round trip tickets for the occasion, good to return Tuesday, for $2.55.

An accident occurred in the McGilvray block Wednesday night. Robinson & Taylor had about 200 barrels of flour stored on the first floor of the building, and the weight proved too much for the old structure. The floor caved in, and about 100 barrels fell into the cellar. Strange to say, not one barrel was broken open.

Children's Sunday will be observed in the Universalist church one week from next Sunday with a special morning service. The children will take part in a musical entertainment, and there will be recitations and a distribution of flowers among the members of the congregation. The address to the children will be made by W. H. Small, superintendent of the Sunday school.

To accommodate those who wish to attend the Christian Endeavor convention and the Knights Templar conclave in Boston the latter part of July and August, the Boston and Albany railroad will sell round-trip tickets at the following prices: Going from July 8 to 14 inclusive, good returning until July 31, $2.55. Going from Aug. 24 to 29 inclusive, good returning until Sept. 10, $2.55.

A. H. King, who recently sold the Overlook stock farm, has made two more important sales. He has disposed of A. S. Campbell's residence and carriage manufactory on South Main street to Charles Roblee of New York for $9100, and the Horatio Rice farm in Belchertown to Mrs. E. R. Spaulding of Amherst for $7500. Mr. Campbell has purchased a farm in Belchertown, where he will in future reside.

The wedding of John B. Dawson of Palmer and Miss Maria Shields of Monson will be held in St. Patrick's church, Monson, next Wednesday noon. A large number of Palmer people are planning to attend, as the young couple are well known here and very popular. A wedding tour of about two weeks will follow the reception at the bride's home in the afternoon, after which Mr. and Mrs. Dawson will return to Palmer, where they will make their future home.

Those who are to take part in "Zephra," the opening attraction at the new opera house, are busy rehearsing every night, and the event promises to be one of the greatest productions ever given in Palmer. "Zephra" will be staged with entire special scenery, and a chorus numbering 100 voices. The cast will include some of our best known local singers, and the balance of the principals will be imported. Seats go on sale at Allen's drug store one week from to-morrow.

The committee appointed to consider the advisability of enlarging the rooms of the Palmer Business and Social Club has been busy making estimates of the probable cost of the proposed changes. It is thought that the club will not need all the tenement which it will have to hire to get additional room, and the committee will see if arrangements can be made to sub-let a part of it. The committee will report at the adjourned meeting this evening, when definite action will probably be taken.

Timothy Danihy of Monson came before the court Friday evening for drunkenness and assaulting his wife. On the latter charge he was sent to the house of correction for three months, while the other charge was placed on file. Ezekiel Dimmick of Wales, who was complained against for providing insufficient schooling for his daughter, came before the court Saturday. His case was continued until the 22d. John Seloy of Springfield was up Saturday for drunkenness and paid a fine of $7.

W. H. Hitchcock, who has been in the plumbing and tin business in this village for some years, is soon to remove his business to Springfield, where he can have better facilities for doing work in his line. He will continue his residence here for the present, or until he can sell or exchange his Squier street property, and will also look after the wants of his customers in town as heretofore, as he will be at home every night. All goods in his store will be disposed of at cost until the 27th inst., when everything remaining unsold will be shipped to Springfield.

The agricultural reports show that farmers in Western Massachusetts are particularly unfortunate this year. The grass crop in dry fields and meadows is unusually light on account of the drouth of last year, and the first crop has suffered a severe blight from late frosts. The condition in this part of the state is worse than in other sections. In most parts of the state fruit blossoms were not abundant. In and about Palmer, however, the bloom was very heavy, so that the indications are that farmers in this immediate vicinity will be especially heavy losers.

A fire broke out in Daniel Mulvihill's tailor shop about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Mulvihill has a gasoline stove which he uses for heating irons. It was burning, and was blown out by the draft. This allowed the gasoline to run out, and noticing that the stove was not burning, Mr. Mulvihill started to light it. The oil on the floor immediately caught fire and blazed up fiercely. Mr. Mulvihill did not get excited, and instead of throwing water on the flames, thus causing them to spread, smothered them with wet cloths. The damage was principally to the wood-work around the stove, and was very slight.

The local W. C. T. U. held a public meeting in the vestry of the Congregational church Wednesday evening at 7.30. Rev. H. F. Moulton, pastor of the Universalist church, conducted the devotional exercises, after which he introduced Mrs. Esther T. Housh, state corresponding secretary of the Massachusetts W. C. T. U., and editor of Our Message, published in Boston. She spoke on "Our Battle." Her address showed careful and thoughtful preparation. It was logical and convincing in its arguments and appeals, and was worthy of a much larger hearing than it had. Mrs. Housh is visiting the unions in Hampden county, and has already visited the unions in fourteen towns.

The pastor and officers of the Ladies' Social Union of St. Paul's Universalist church gave a reception to the young men who have served as waiters during the past year at the church suppers, Thursday evening, in the parsonage. During the evening refreshments were served in the dining-room. After ample justice had been done to ice cream, cake, Russian tea, etc., Guy Stanchfield introduced E. C. Gould, who in behalf of the young men, in a well-made speech, thanked the Union and the pastor for their thoughtfulness and hospitality. He was responded to by Mrs. William Weld, president of the Union, and Rev. H. F. Moulton. This is the third annual reception given to the young men during the present pastorate. They are remembered by all as enjoyable and happy occasions.

Isaiah Hiscock and W. I. Whitlock of Wales came before the court Tuesday charged with an assault upon Mrs. Gunther, also of Wales. At Mrs. Gunther's house was a buckboard, which Hiscock and Gunther both claimed. Mr. Hiscock took Mr. Whitlock, who sold him the vehicle, and they went to the Gunther house to get the same. Mr. Gunther was away, and his wife requested that the buckboard be left on the premises until his return. She also claims that she forbade the men taking it away, and attempted to hold it, but that they took it by force. Both men deny that any unnecessary force was used, or that Mrs. Gunther attempted to prevent the removal of the vehicle. Hiscock and Whitlock were found guilty and fined $3 each. They appealed and Mr. Hiscock furnished bail to the amount of $100 each.

The Palmer Bicycle Club advertises $250 worth of prizes to be given at the tournament the Fourth of July. The prizes really amount to $285, however, and are as follows: First race, mile novice, first prize, gold medal, value $12; second, silver medal, $8; third, bronze medal, $5; second race, 3 minute class, first, diamond, $25; second, silver watch, $15; third, gold ring, $6; third race, mile open, first, diamond, $50; second, Morgan & Wright tires, $15; third, gold filled chain, $8; fourth race, mile special, for Waite prize cup; this race is open only to riders from Palmer, Ludlow, Monson, Belchertown, Warren, the Brookfields, Spencer and Ware; fifth race, half-mile handicap, first, gold watch, $30; second, diamond, $25; third, berry dish, $9; sixth race, mile open to riders from Monson, Ware, Warren, Ludlow and Palmer, first, tea set, $28; second, clock, $15; third, sweater, $4.

A special town meeting has been called to be held a week from Monday. Several important matters are to be decided and there should be a full attendance. The report of the committee which examined the school house in Thorndike will be acted upon, and if adopted a new building will be erected. Another article is to see if the town will replace 500 feet of hose owned by it, which has become worthless. The hand engine is wanted by the Henry Gray engine company in Springfield and it must be decided whether or not it may be donated or sold to them. The Walnut street sewer will also be brought before the meeting, and the cemetery matter will also come up. The latter is of interest to all, and there will probably be a difference of opinion, which will be interesting. Another clause is too see what can be done about a section of state road, and will of course interest nearly every citizen.

State Primary School Notes.

The present number at the school is 44.

Dr. S. Williams is spending a few days in Boston.

Rev. E. C. Weeks of Three Rivers spoke to the children last Sunday.

Mrs. George Royce of Brimfield spent Tuesday with Mrs. Mary Royce.

The many friends of Dr. Sarah J. Williams at the school will be glad to hear that Governor Greenhalge has appointed her head physician at the Woman's prison at Sherburne. During Dr. Williams's stay here she has made many friends, who will miss her kind deeds and pleasant smiles.

Base Ball.

The Palmers play the Gilbertvilles at Gilbertville to-morrow.

BONDSVILLE 15, PALMER 4.

The Palmers went to Bondsville last Saturday afternoon, where they played a game of ball with the Bondsville nine, suffering another humiliating defeat. Bondsville played a good game, but their victory was entirely due to poor playing on the part of the Palmers. Taylor and Doyle are principally blamed for the defeat, and the former will be placed on the reserve list for the present. None of the men played as well as usual, although Larkin and Dart did fairly well. The score:

BONDSVILLE.	R	PO	A	E	PALMER.	R	B	PO	A	E
Bruton, c,	1	4	12	1	Murphy, cf,	0	1	1	0	0
J. Mor'ty,2b,	0	2	2	2	Nelson, 3b,	1	2	3	1	1
Donovan,ss,	0	2	1	4	Rooney, rf,	1	2	0	0	1
Griffin, 1b,	1	2	7	0	Larkin, p,	0	1	1	13	0
P. Mor'ty,lf,	1	1	2	0	Doyle, 1b,	0	0	6	0	2
Key, cf,	3	2	0	0	Roach, 2b,	0	0	2	1	3
Connor, 3b,	3	1	1	1	Taylor, ss,lf,	0	0	1	1	4
Sullivan, rf,	4	2	0	0	Gaffney,lf,ss,	0	0	0	0	1
Fadgen, p,	2	3	1	13	1 Dart, c,	2	2	9	2	1
Total,	15	19	26	21	3 Total,	4	8	23	18	13

Bondsville,	0	2	0	3	1	1	4	4	—15
Palmer,	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	1	— 4

Times at bat, Bondsville 48, Palmer 35 Earned runs, Bondsville 2, Palmer 3. Total bases, Bondsville 25, Palmer 12. Sacrifice hit, Connor. Stolen bases, Bruton, P. Moriarty, Key, Nelson. Two base hits, Bruton, Donovan, Griffin, Connor, Nelson, Rooney 2, Dart. Three-base hit, Fadgen. First base on balls, Rooney, Roach 2, Gaffney. First base on errors, Bondsville 8. Left on bases, Bondsville 6, Palmer 7. Struck out, J. Moriarty 2, Donovan 2, P. Moriarty 3, Connor, Dart, Murphy, Nelson, Rooney, Doyle 3, Roach, Taylor 2, Gaffney. Passed balls, Bruton 2, Dart 2. Wild pitch, Fadgen. Time, 1h 45m. Umpire, W. Donovan. *Taylor out, hit by batted ball. *Donovan out, hit by batted ball.

BONDSVILLE.

Miss Abbie Moynahan visited her brother at the hospital in Boston last Friday.

Vincent O'Regan of Ware was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Celia W. Carroll, last week.

Thomas Waterhouse, second hand in the bleachery, is working his notice, and will buy a farm.

Harry Ryther has taken a position on the Boston and Albany road as baggage master at the depot here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis of West Warren are spending a week or two with Mr. and Mrs. James Fuller.

Three more cases of scarlet fever are reported here. Two in Mr. Richmond's family and one in Edward Marsden's.

John Grery, who has been baggage master at the depot a number of years, has severed his connection with the company, and is taking a vacation.

Mrs. Messure and two children of New Britain, who have been visiting Mrs. Messure's uncle, Robert Lusty, have returned to their home after a pleasant visit.

Mrs. Catherine McCarty and her two grandchildren of Washington, D. C., who have been visiting Mrs. McCarty's daughter, Mrs. Michael Collins, returned home last week.

John Richards, who for 15 years has been second hand in the spining room for the Boston Duck Co., has accepted a more lucrative position in Holyoke and will move his family there.

Simon Moynaham, who has been in the hospital at Boston to be treated for a lame ankle the last two months, had his foot amputated about four inches above his ankle last week and is doing nicely now.

Maurice J. Moriarty and Miss Mary A. Lyons were united in marriage Wednesday at the parochial residence, Rev. James Cruse, rector of St. Bartholomew's church, performing the ceremony. A reception and dance was given to the young people in Liberty Hall in the evening, while the older people were entertained at the home of the bride's parents, many from out of town being present. The contracting parties are very popular in town and have the best wishes of all their acquaintances in their new life.

THORNDIKE.

Rev. and Mrs. Blanchard are away on a vacation.

Mrs. John Fay of Wilkinsonville is visiting friends in town.

The King's Daughters will meet this evening with M. M. Thomas.

Mrs. William Smith, Sr., is at the Worcester Hospital undergoing an operation.

A new boot and shoe repair shop has been opened in Wilson's block on Church street.

Miss Alice Fallman, who has been clerking at W. J. McCormick's, has gone to Westfield.

Miss Lizzie Russell of Fitchburg is the guest of Misses Jennie and Nellie Hutchinson.

Mr. and Mrs. John King returned this week from a visit with relatives in Providence, R. I.

Victor Murdock and Fred P. Bishop went to Millbury on their wheels last Friday, returning on Sunday.

A movement is on foot towards getting up a procession of antiques and horribles for the morning of July 4th.

A club from Palmer defeated the Juniors on Saturday by a score of 19 to 18. The Juniors play the Three Rivers here Saturday

The Columbian Band has been secured to furnish music at Three Rivers for the picnic to be given by St. Anne's parish on July 4th.

The schools close here on Tuesday evening for the summer, a little sooner than the time appointed, on account of the contagious diseases in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Riley have the sympathy of the entire community in the death of their son, Frankie, who died Monday morning of diphtheria.

Johnnie, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Sullivan of School street, is very ill with diphtheria. At this writing he is some better and his recovery is said to be possible.

The Thorndikes were more than a match for the newly-organized Three Rivers club on Saturday, and defeated them by a score 17 to 8. The Thorndikes will go to Southbridge to-morrow to play the base ball team there.

In recommending a new school house for the village the committee hit the nail on the head, as there is much need of one, and the voters throughout the town should consent, for the health of the children will be endangered if they are compelled to continue in the old building, owing to the improper ventilation.

Invitations have been received in town during the past week announcing the marriage of Dr. M. W. Flynn of Pittsfield, formerly of this place, to one of Pittsfield's most popular young ladies, Miss Helen T. Buckley. The marriage will take place at St. Joseph's church next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Pupils perfect in attendance in the second primary school for month ending June 7: Ruth Bishop, Napoleon Bontot, Annie D. Brosnan, Rosanna Codorette, Emma St. Jacques, George Young, Margaret Fleming, Sadie O'Keefe, Harold M. Rich, Delia Smith, Annie M. Brosnan, John Crean, Kitty Holden, Mabel Keith, Kate McKenzie, Malcolm McKenzie, Florence O'Leary, Joseph Manny

The benefit concert under the auspices of the Columbian Band, for the benefit of the family of the late John Bedford, will take place this evening, when the following program will be given:

March. "Belle of Chicago."..... Sousa
Columbian Band.
"Gwine Back to Dixie?"..... White
Quartette.
Song. "Just About to Fall."..... Raymon Moore
Mr. Moody.
Song. "Little Lost Child."..... Marks
Miss Nellie Crowley.
"Pigtown Fling."..... Buffinghan
Hummer's Band of Bungtown.
Comic Song. "I Kissed Her Under the Parlor Stairs."..... J. Needham.
Piano Duet. "Dragon Fighters."..... Hoffman
Mrs. Auger and Miss Murdock.
Silence and Fun..... U. Paré
Song. "I Don't Want to Play in Your Yard." Petrie
Miss L. O'Connor.
Song. "Volunteer Organist."..... J. W. Molloy.
Piano Solo. "Tabasco March."..... Miss Fanny Needham.
Song. "I Can't Believe Her Faithless."..... Dresser
Mr. Moody.
Comic Song. "Knock, Knock, Knock."..... J. Needham.
Grand Finale..... Kebron Kalthumpian Klub.

THREE RIVERS.

Miss Terry of Ware is visiting Mrs. Darius Grey.

Harry Newell is spending a few days at home.

Nectaire Gravel has built a piazza on his house.

E. Poitra has moved his family to New Bedford.

Miss Clara Greene of Enfield is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Barnes of Springfield is visiting her son, S. B. Barnes.

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers are rejoicing in the birth of a daughter.

H. Putnam of Springfield was the guest of Miss Bertha Paine Sunday.

John Brown's two children and Willie Freak have the scarlet fever.

L. Sanderson of Worthington is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shaw.

Samuel Smitchel has accepted a position in Marcy's livery stable at Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Marland of Ware spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Needham.

Mrs. Cleland of Baptist Hill has been suffering from a nervous trouble this week.

William Eddy of Centerville, Ct., spent a part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lavine.

Miss Amy Graves, who teaches in Hinsdale, N. H., is at home, spending her summer vacation.

Mrs. Arthur Brown has gone to Amherst, where she is to spend a few weeks visiting relatives.

D. Bartrew of Victor Mills, N. Y., has set up a watch and jewelry repair shop over Page & Mason's drug store.

Lisle Percy, who has been spending a few months with Mr. and Mrs. Butler, has gone to his home in Peelmont, N. H.

William Bell, accompanied by his sister, has gone for a short visit to his home in East Chatham, N. Y. His sister will remain there all summer.

The new stairs and large piazza which have been added to Joseph Boulanger's block this week have greatly improved its appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Richmond, Va., are canvassing the town with a new kind of art needle. They also give lessons in art embroidery.

The children of the French parochial school will give the operetta which they gave here a few months ago, in Bondsville next week Saturday evening.

The second run in the annals of the bicycle club was taken Wednesday evening, when its members indulged in a spin through Thorndike and Bondsville.

Charles Brenard's barn has been undergoing thorough repairs lately. He intends to make ample room for the three new horses which are to arrive from Canada soon.

A soap vender, who has been selling his wares in this village for the last two weeks, had the misfortune to have his wheel stolen a few days ago, and has not yet been able to find it.

The Ludlows will play a game of ball with our nine on the old grounds to-morrow afternoon. As the Ludlows have a good team, and as our nine has profited by a little experience, a good game is expected.

Mrs. Lawson has good cause for complaint against some boys in this place. While her horse was standing hitched before an East Main street residence, they threw stones at him, causing him to break several parts of the harness.

F. E. Hillman is to take the place of the night operator at the depot in Palmer July 1st, while the latter is on his vacation. Mr. Hillman, nevertheless, will reside here during that time, as the trains make good connections for him.

Rev. Mr. Butler started yesterday morning to drive to Boston, where Mrs. Butler is now stopping. Mr. Butler intends to spend the summer around Boston and at his home in Vermont. Rev. Hills will occupy his pulpit during his absence.

Arthur Brown took out his advertising balloon Monday evening and gave the villagers a specimen of his skill as an aeronaut. As there was no wind it was sent up three times, always coming down within a few feet of the starting point.

One would think by the appearance of the half a dozen gardens behind the boarding house, that the planters had become impatient with the slow growth and were investigating. But on further inquiries we find that the mill company in locating their pipes had to dig up nearly the whole garden.

Mrs. Hamilton, who has to sit up nights on account of sickness, had quite a scare Monday night. At about 3 o'clock she heard some one trying to pry open a window, and thinking that it was her brother, she asked who was there. On getting no answer she immediately awoke the whole household. The prowler, finding it too warm, suddenly left.

Charles Ruggles is soon to commence building on his land a club house, 40 by 18 feet for the bicycle club, which will consist of three rooms, parlor, reading room, smoking and bathroom. On special occasions when the partitions, which are to be so constructed that they may be easily taken out, are removed, they will have at their disposal one large room.

While James Poveral was recently playing with a few associates on the river bank back of E. Tenney's house, he fell into the water. Mr. Tenney hearing the boys' yells hastened to the place, and although he cannot swim immediately jumped in and caught the boy as he was going down the last time. Charles White, happening to row by at the time, hastened to assist him in getting the unconscious boy into the boat and took him to the shore. After he had been rolled on a barrel for a few minutes he was all ready for another scrape.

After much reluctance the Baptist church accepted the resignation of Pastor Weeks on Sunday morning, at the close of communion service. Mr. Weeks has received and accepted a call from the Cliftondale church, Boston, and will begin his pastorate there July first. Mr. Weeks will move his family at an early date. He will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church Sunday morning as usual. The subject for the morning will be "Whatsoever a man soweth that also shall he reap." As Sunday is children's day at the Baptist church, the children will give a concert in the evening.

BORN.

At Chesham, N. H., 4th, a daughter to Charles A. and Hattie J. Royce.

DIED.

At Warren, 12th, John Moore, 66.

TO RENT.—Tenement on Pleasant street.
7-tf G. H. WILKINS, Palmer.

GOOD pasturage for cows.
CHAS. B. FISKE, Palmer, Mass.

TO RENT.—Pleasant up-stairs tenement on Fox Avenue.
9-tf Apply to L. A. CONANT, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH,
Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. 4-tf

FOR SALE CHEAP.—Marble top ash chamber set, good as new. Two black walnut, eight-foot extension tables.
A. S. CAMPBELL,
11-1 South Main street, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—One Beebe speeding cart, has only been used a few times. Also one road cart, one good Phaeton, and one good cook stove.
GEORGE P. BELL, M. D.,
3-tf Three Rivers, Mass.

NOTICE.—I forbid all persons trusting or harboring on my account my son James, as he has left home and I will pay no bills contracted by him from this date. MRS. JAMES DUNN.
Thorndike, May 24, 1895. 10-2

COTTAGE AT BLOCK ISLAND TO RENT—for the months of July and September, all furnished. Nine rooms, good spring and cistern water, with barn. Apply to ISAAC KENERSON, Engineer Ware River Road, Palmer. 7-5

E. W. French, agent for the New Singer Mfg. Co., has opened an office in Palmer, with headquarters at the Weeks House, and is showing their latest productions for 1895 sewing machines, with three different machines for family use.
52-tf THE SINGER MFG. CO.

J. P. SCHNEIDER, M. D.
No. 4 Thorndike Street.
Office hours till 9 a. m., 12 to 2 p. m. and 6 to 8 p. m. 9-tf

FOR SALE.—The store of the late E. G. Murdock in Thorndike, Mass., also dwelling corner of Commercial and High streets, and one on School street in said Thorndike. Must be sold to close estate. C. L. GARDNER, Adm.
Jan. 21st, 1895. 43-tf

FOR SMALL PROFIT I sell all kinds of the best Farm Implements made. Deering Mowers and Horse Rakes. Osborne All-Steel Hay Tedders, Disk and Spring Tooth Harrows, Sand Rollers, Cultivators, etc. I have also some second-hand Mowers, Horse Rakes, Harrows, Cultivators, etc., which I will sell low.
H. D. MOULTON,
11-4 Monson, Mass.

AUCTION.
Twenty acres standing grass, five acres standing rye, thirty tons of hay in barn, lot of bedding. Also hay rake, tedders. Lot of farming tools, Range, etc., etc. At Overlook Farm, Palmer, Saturday, June 22, at 1 o'clock p. m. Sale positive, rain or shine. Plenty of room under cover, and must sell, as I have sold the farm.
A. W. LINCOLN.
J. D. PIERCE, Auctioneer.
Palmer, June 13th, 1895. 11-2

MR. J. B. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty.
7-tf SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.

Goods at Cost for
The Next Two Weeks.
As I am about to move my business to Springfield, I offer all goods in my store at a sacrifice, rather than take them away. Everything will go at cost until the 27th inst., and anything that remains unsold at that time will be shipped to Springfield, where I shall continue the business of Plumbing, Heating and Tinning, and shall be pleased to furnish plans, specifications and figures for all work in this line as heretofore.
W. H. HITCHCOCK.
Palmer, June 13, 1895. 11-2

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.
By license of the probate court for the county of Hampden, the subscriber, administrator of the estate of Elijah G. Murdock, late of Palmer, in said county, deceased, will sell at public auction, at the store on the first tract hereinafter mentioned, on Monday, the first day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, the following property, belonging to the estate of said Elijah G. Murdock, viz.: The store, building and lot on Commercial street, Thorndike, in said Palmer. Dwelling house and lot, corner of Commercial street and High streets, in said Thorndike. Dwelling house and lot on School street in said Thorndike. Spring lot, so called, on High street in said Thorndike. Building lot on Main street in said Thorndike. Lot near Four Corners in said Palmer. Said property is centrally located and will make a good investment for any one.
CHARLES L. GARDNER, Administrator.
Palmer, Mass., 13th, 1895. 11-3

PALMER TEA STORE.
Customers are having the Best Tea and Coffee by trading at
THE PALMER TEA STORE.
COFFEE
Mixed to suit you. I have the green Coffee not roasted.
TEAS,
English Breakfast, Oolong, Formosa, Uncolored Japan, Hyson's and Gun Powder.
FRUIT and CONFECTIONERY.
R. J. HENRY,
Palmer, Mass.

BE SURE YOU SEE THE
MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS
BEFORE PURCHASING ANY OTHER.
Illustrated Catalog Sent on Application.
J. M. Bruce, Agent for Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties.
394 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads—west of Depot.

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY
AND MACHINE SHOP.
At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.
MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL JOBBING DONE
At short notice and reasonable prices.
52-35 R. B. FRANCIS.

NEW OPERA HOUSE!
Dedication Entertainment!
Wednesday & Thursday Evenings,
JUNE 26th and 27th.
Grand Production
OF THE OPERATIC SPECTACLE,
ZEPHRA.
Under the direction of R. W. Averill of Chicago.
125 People!
Entire Special Scenery!
Mechanical and Calcicum Effects!
Court Square Theatre Orchestra.
L. W. Hardy, Director.
PRICES: $1, 75 and 50 cents. Reserved seats at Allen's Drug Store June 22, at 9 o'clock a. m.

DON'T FORGET
THAT WE CAN SELL YOU AT BOTTOM PRICES
Walter A. Wood Mowing Machines.
Buckeye " "
Champion Horse Rakes.
Yankee " "
Tiger " "
Clipper " "
Hay Tedders, Hay Rakes, Scythes.
Also Mowing Machine Repairs.
E. A. BUCK & CO.,
Cross Block, Palmer.

A 19 CENT SALE
At Hellyar's
Bargain Store,
Caryl's Block, - On the Corner.
4 yards of Lining Cambric.
1¼ yards of best Silicia.
2 yards of imitation Hair Cloth.
2 yards of Crinoline.
1½ yards of Canvas.
3 yards of Cross Bar Cambric.
5 yards of Apron Check Gingham.
2 yards of Dress Goods.
3 yards of Outing Flannel.
1½ yards Colored Canton Flannel.
1¼ yards best Feather Ticking.
4 yards Lace Scrim.
¼ yard Silk Plush (all colors.)
4 doz. Dress Buttons.
8 doz. Hooks and Eyes (Kant Open.)
7 spools Black Silk.
4 spools Best Thread.
5 spools, 500 yards, Basting Thread.
1 bottle 25c Perfumery.
1 bottle Mitchell's Rose Cutilave.
13 yards Tom Thumb Ribbon.
4 yards Morai, Picot Edge Ribbon.
2 yards Wide Lace.
3 pair Dress Shields (warranted.)
2 pair Hose, ladies or children.
2 fine Huckabuck Towels.
4 yards Toweling, bleached or unbleached.
4 bunches of Envelopes, all sizes.
4 quires best Writing Paper.
1 White Apron.
1 black Shopping Bag.
2 Shoulder Shawls.
3 pair Gent's Hose.
10 yards Narrow Hamburg.
1½ skeins Germantown.
1 earthen Tea Pot.
1 large Yellow Bowl.
1 Drapery Pole and Trimmings.
10 papers of Pins.
4 doz. Lead Pencils.
2 Rope Halters.
1 Curry Comb and Brush.
2 Cuspidores.
5 bunches of Tacks.
4 bunches Toilet Paper.
1 Bean Pot.
2 yards Rug Fringe.
1 Wire Rat Trap.
4 yards Carpet Lining.
Any of the above ONLY 19 CENTS. This is the store for the economical buyers.

Best live Geese Feathers only 55c per lb.
White Bed Spreads 67 cents.
Laundered White or Colored Shirts, 47 cents.
Floor Oils Cloths, 23 cents per yard.
Slop Pails 25 cents.
Lanterns, 42 cents.
Curtains 23c, 31c, 36c, 37c, 50c each.
2 pair Men's Suspenders, 25c.
Custom Suits from $11 to $25.

REMEMBER THE PLACE,
HELLYAR'S BARGAIN STORE,
Caryl's Block, on the Corner,
PALMER, - MASS.

SOME NICE HEAVY
Wedding Rings
In Fine 18 KARAT Gold.
WEDDING PRESENTS IN GREAT VARIETY.
GEO. A. MOORE,
WATCH MAKER and JEWELER,
Holden's New Block, Palmer, Mass.
P. S. Still Have a Nice Selection of Shirt Waist Sets, Belt, Buckles, Etc.

COMMENCEMENT
.....DAY.....
Is fast approaching, when so many of our young people take upon themselves the duties and responsibilities of life. Then, if ever, they want to look their prettiest.
DAINTY FAYETTES and MUSLINS are made into daintier gowns, trimmed with laces and ribbons. With gloves and fan to complete the outfit, what can be prettier or more appropriate?
REMEMBER, we have a good supply of these goods with SUITS, NECKWEAR, and all that is necessary for a well dressed graduate to wear.
D. L. BODFISH,
CROSS BLOCK,
PALMER, - - - MASS.

SPRING SUITS
MOST PEOPLE, AND GAMWELL'S SPRING SUITS SUIT ALL WHO SEE THEM. IN VARIETY AND STYLE THEY SIMPLY ARE UNSURPASSED. CALL AND SEE THEM.
C. K. GAMWELL, CLOTHIER,
Main Street, - - - Palmer, Mass.

A line of Barred Cambrics for 5 cents a yard, worth 10 to 15 cents.
Dimities in the daintiest of shades.
Puritan Shirtings; a large assortment of patterns.
Musquito Netting.
Parasols and Fans.
Mitts and Summer Gloves.
Hot Weather Specialties.
Olives, Pickles, Oranges, Lemons, Pie Preparations

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 14, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

Monson Again Successful at the Amherst Athletic Meet.

Last Saturday, at Amherst, Monson Academy's athletic team won the pennant, as she has for three consecutive years, in the interscholastic contest. The score at the close of the games stood: Monson 53, Holyoke 33, Westfield 27, Chicopee 25, Amherst 6. The individual members of the team deserve the hearty commendation of all interested in the Academy and athletics. The team, as a whole, did splendid work, and there probably was not a better trained team on the grounds than the one Monson sent. All members of the athletic team are very thankful to their friends who have so generously assisted them, both financially and otherwise, in achieving their latest success.

The work of individuals is as follows: L. A. Prouty took third prize in the 100-yards dash, and in the 220-yards dash he was tied by Thacker for third place. E. B. Austin won first prize in putting the 16 lb. shot, second prize in the 12 lb. hammer throw, second prize in pole vault, pushing Scott of Westfield hard for first place in the last event. J. W. Chism easily took first in the hammer throw, second in running broad jump, second in standing high jump, and third in standing broad jump; having strained his back only a short time ago, he was prevented thereby from doing more. C. D. Stephanoff takes credit for winning third in the 12 lb. hammer throw, thus making one event in which Monson won all the points. G. W. Bennett received third prizes for half-mile run and pole vault. J. B. Glover pushed his bicycle hard for first place in the half-mile race, and made Ludwig of Chicopee work for his first prize. He took second in the half-mile and third in the mile race. Undoubtedly had Mr. Glover been able to obtain a lighter wheel he would have won one first prize, if not more. G. L. Phillips, who already has some medals, will add to his stock the following, as soon as they are distributed: first in 220-yards hurdle and first in 120-yards hurdle. Phillips won three firsts in these events. G. T. Thacker, despite the fact that he wore No. 13 on his back, took second prize in the quarter-mile run, and tied L. A. Prouty for third place in the 220-yards dash. C. M. Blair pushed Coit of Holyoke so hard that he got scared and only beat Blair a few inches in the 220-yards dash, Blair taking second place. G. W. Brown is still growling because the cramps did not let his calves alone long enough for him to compel the long-distance runners to make faster time than last year's record or give up first place.

Commencement at the Academy.

Next week will be commencement week at Monson Academy, the exercises beginning with the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening in the Congregational church and ending with the class reception Tuesday evening in Academy hall. The Philharmonic club of Springfield will furnish all the music for commencement day. The class numbers 23 members, and is the largest in recent years. Members of the class who do not take part in the exercises are: Frank Arthur Morris, Lena Grace Palmer, Annie Louise Rathbun, Carrie L. Chapin, Myrtie Avon Perrin, Bridget Julia Kennedy, Alice May King, Katherine Beecher Suteliffe, Frederick Lyon Moores, Willard Converse Nelson, George Edwin Tucker, William Chester Moulton of Monson, Willis Henry Reed, Albert Morse Walker, Stafford Springs, Robert Oliphant Walkins, Buffalo, N. Y. Following is the programme in full:

SUNDAY, 8 p. m., Baccalaureate sermon by Rev. John Genung, Ph. D., of Amherst college.

MONDAY, public examination at the Academy, 8.45 a. m. to 12 m., 1.30 to 4 p. m. 7 p. m., annual meeting of trustees. 7.30 p. m., class day exercises in Academy chapel.

TUESDAY, 10 a. m., Graduation exercises in Memorial Hall. 12.30 p. m., alumni reunion and dinner at Flynt Park. 8 p. m., senior reception in Academy chapel.

GRADUATION EXERCISES.

Invocation.....
Music.....
Salutatory, with essay.....“The Poet as Teacher.”
Mabel Florence Tucker, Monson.
Oration.....“Evolution.”
James Wilton Chism, Westford, Ct.
Essay.....“Three Unfortunate Queens”
Bridget Teresa McQuaid, Monson.
Music.....
Oration.....“Dangers That Threaten the Nation”
Carl Marble Blair, Warren.
Essay.....“Monson During the Glacial Ages”
Elsie Estelle Bradway, Monson.
Oration.....“Truth”
George William Brown, South Boston.
Music.....
Essay.....“The Reflex Influence of Education upon Character”
Annie Louise Rathbun, Monson.
Oration.....“The Ego, Its Possibilities”
Constantine Demeter Stephanoff Bansko, Macedonia
Essay with Valedictory Addresses.....
.....Dr. Schliemann the Archæologist”
Rosie Gardner Squier, Monson.
Music.....
Presentation of Diplomas.....

CLASS DAY EXERCISES.

Class History.....J.W. Chism, '95
Ivy Essay.....Katherine Smith, '96
Class Prophecy.....Gertrude B. Gage, '96
Class Will.....George W. Brown, '95
Class Ode, by W. C. Moulton.....Class

ORDER OF RECEPTION.

Receiving one half hour, 8 p. m.
Clock Presentation, 8.30 p. m.
Solo.
Receiving one-half hour, 9.15.
“Here's to '95.” Song by class.
Refreshments to Alumni.
During refreshments, six college songs by class.
March and Circles.
Virginia Reel.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Hutchinson spent Sunday in Ware.

Miss Candace B. Gates has taken a position in the post office.

Judge George H. Newton is to build a house on Park Avenue.

Eden Shaw and wife of Wales spent Monday with friends in town.

Edwin Cushman left Monday for his annual wool buying trip West.

There will be a meeting of the school committee next Wednesday evening.

Rev. James Tufts returned Tuesday from a ten-days, stay at Saratoga Springs,

Mrs. Luther B. Peck is to build a house on her lot east of Dr. N. W. Rand's office.

The curbing in front of the library is being relaid, preparatory for concrete walks.

Charles Nelson of New York has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Harriet Nelson.

DID YOU EVER THINK

How much a pair of shoes have to do with one's dress?

PATENT LEATHER

Shoes and Slippers are in great demand at present. Our Men's $3, $4, and $5 ones are Great takers.

There is hardly any end to the assortment of

Ladies' Low Shoes and Slippers,

in Black, White, and Russet. The great advance on shoes has not affected our prices for selling Shoes.

GEO. L. FULLER,

Distributor of Fine Fitting Shoes.

MONSON, - - MASS.

Mrs. G. C. Flynt spent a few days this week with her mother in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Willard Stacy, son of Charles Stacy, was kicked by a horse Thursday and badly hurt.

T. J. Hynes will sell his house on Park avenue at auction next Tuesday at 12.30 p. m.

Mrs. Stephen Knowlton, formerly of this place, now of Hoboken, is visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Bliss have moved into Mrs. Chandler Fenton's house on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Miller of Brewster, N. Y., are visiting their brother, Lyman Miller.

Miss Hattie Closson has moved from the Grady house to her brother's house on Granite Road.

The Woman's Relief corps of Stafford Springs will picnic on Flynt Park next Wednesday.

Miss Converse's school had public exercises Thursday morning, and Miss Collis's school this morning.

Examinations for the Academy will take place at Green street school to-morrow and Monday mornings.

Miss Edith L. Wood of Springfield has visited her sister, Miss Clara A. Wood, during the past week.

The C. L. S. C. held its last meeting for the year Wednesday at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Marble.

The subject of Rev. W. H. Marble's sermon at the Methodist church Sunday morning is “Embassadors for Christ.”

Dr. George E. Fuller has added an inch pipe to his reservoir east of the village to supply his increasing patrons.

Misses Gertrude B. Gage and Grace S. Cushman accompanied Miss Ada Wing to Wellesley College Wednesday.

Mrs. Maria Carter of Worcester, formerly of Monson, has been spending the past two weeks with her sister, Mrs. Rufus Gage.

Rev. F. S. Hatch and Deacon A. H. White attended the council which was called Wednesday to ordain Mr. Solley of Hampden.

Mr. Mason of Worcester and Mrs. Rufus Flynt of Palmer will be members of the quartette who will sing Sunday evening.

A number of Monson people attended the class day exercises at Tuft's College to-day. Charles L. Ricketts is one of the graduates.

At a meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E of the Methodist church Monday evening, it was voted to adopt a new constitution, and a meeting will soon be held to elect officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Alanson N. Chaffee, who for many years have been residents of this place, left Wednesday for Springfield, where they have purchased a house and will make their home.

Dr. N. W. Rand read a paper on “The Medical Plants” at the meeting of the Homeopathic Medical society in Springfield Wednesday.

Dr. Andrew Coleman leaves Monday night for Boston, where he will attend the meeting of the State Dental Association, remaining until Friday.

Miss Gertrude B. Gage, Messrs. Cristy and Broughton form the committee of the class of '96 who will decorate Memorial hall for commencement.

A. D. Norcross, L. C. Flynt and F. C. Nelson of New York leave next Monday for a two-weeks' fishing trip in the Northern part of Canada.

The public schools closed to-day. The schools at No. 1 had public exercises, to which the children sent out well written and well composed invitations to friends.

The W. N. Flynt Granite Company have the contract for putting in the cellar of the house which Mr. Sweet of Brimfield is to build on the corner of Gates and East State streets.

A six-inch pipe has been laid on Park avenue to connect with the town system. A hydrant has been set near the park. The Monson House has been connected with the water system.

The sermon Sunday morning by F. S. Hatch will relate to matters suggested by commencement week. The subject will be “The duty of parents to give their children a good education.”

The following letters are unclaimed at the post office: Clarence Bradway, Miss Ceillia Carpenter, Miss Katharine Evans, Elmer R. King, Mrs. Harriet McComby, Mrs. Catherine Maloney, John O'Brien.

Mr. M. and Mrs. Edward Rafftery of Mystic, Ct., have been spending several days with Mr. Rafftery's daughter, Mrs. John Leahy, returning to their home Wednesday. They made the trip by carriage, stopping at Stafford Springs on their way.

Carlos L. Peck, who recently resigned his position at Heimann & Lichten's straw works, has been presented a sum of money by his many friends in the shop, in token of their high esteem. Mr. Peck has entered the employ of William N. Flynt & Sons.

The Monson lodge of Odd Fellows invite all members of the order in town to join with them in observing Sunday as a memorial day and to meet with them at Odd Fellows hall at 2.30 p. m. and march to the cemetery, where the graves of all Odd Fellows will be decorated.

Invitations are out for the marriage at noon, next Wednesday, at St. Patrick's church, of Miss Maria J. Shields and John B. Dawson of Palmer. The wedding is to be a very large one, and will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Shields.

Superintendent Frank L. Fuller and insurance men were in town Monday inspecting the water works. The firemen gave exhibits at the Congregational church, Memorial Hall and the Reynolds north mill. At the last named place seven streams of water were sent over the buildings. The pressure was tested at all points and it was found to have reduced but very little.

Children's day was observed at the Methodist and Congregational churches Sunday with appropriate services morning and evening. Both churches were prettily decorated with potted plants and wild flowers. Children's day will be observed at the Universalist church one week from Sunday. On account of the scarlet fever there will be no concert.

Rev. John F. Genung, who is to preach the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the Congregational church, is professor of rhetoric in Amherst College. He is one of Amherst's brightest men and ablest preachers, and is the author of a standard text-book on rhetoric and other more literary works. The community is fortunate in the opportunity to hear him address the graduating class.

There was a small attendance at the meeting of the Park Avenue Association last Friday evening. The executive committee gave a statement of the condition of the association, showing that $4500 had been realized from the sale of lots, and that after paying for the laying out of roads, surveying etc., stock dividends of $7 were paid Jan. 1 and $3 June 7, which made full payment for stock The balance remaining on notes at 5 per cent when paid will give a profit of $4.50, and will be paid as money comes in.

The order of Public Examinations at the Academy next Monday will be as follows:

At 8.45 a. m., Chapel exercises. At 9, Mr. Morse, Junior Latin; Miss Pease, American Literature; Miss Battis, Review Geometry; Miss Strong, Geometry. At 10, Mr. Morse, Greek Lessons; Miss Pease, English Literature; Miss Tucker, English. At 11, Mr. Burke, Botany; Mr. Morse, Senior Greek; Miss Pease, Senior German; Miss Battis, Ancient History; Miss Strong, Cicero; Miss Tucker, Ancient History. At 1.30, Mr. Burke, Astronomy; Mr. Morse, Senior Latin; Miss Battis, Algebra; Miss Strong, Solid Geometry. At 2.20, Mr. Burke, Botany; Mr. Morse, Junior Latin; Miss Pease, Mental Science; Miss Battis, Algebra; Miss Strong, Virgil. At 3.10, Mr. Burke, Geology; Miss Pease, German; Miss Battis, Civil Government; Miss Strong, Greek; Miss Tucker, Rhetoric.

The graduating class is to leave with the Academy a clock similar to the one given by the class of '87. It will be placed in the girl's study room. The presentation will be made at their reception Tuesday evening. On the following day the class will picnic at Forest Lake.

HAMPDEN.

Dr. and Mrs. Ballard were pleasantly surprised last Saturday evening by a number of their friends, it being the 25th anniversary of their wedding. During the doctor's absense on professional duties their friends assembled, and when he arrived home the house was filled. The wedding march was played by Miss Anna Morris Stockton. Deacon A. B. Newell presented the gifts of solid silver and bric-a-brac, and speeches were also made by Rev. George W. Solley, pastor of the Congregational church, and C. C. Spellman of Springfield, to which the doctor responded. A bountiful collation was served, and a very pleasant evening passed. Friends were present from adjoining towns, also Springfield and Boston.

BRIMFIELD.

The graduating exercises of the Hitchcock Free High school will be held next week Friday in the Congregational church at 2.30 p. m. The following are the speakers and their subjects: “A Chapter in Early History of Brimfield,” Lola B. Andrews; “Yesterday and To-day,” Ernest G. Barnes; “A Story of a Useful Life,” Ruth W. Brown; “Attention and Energy,” Herbert M. Corbin; “American Patriotism,” Charles A. Edgerton; “The Advantages and Needs of Country Life,” Nellie M. Haley; “Medicine as a Profession for Women,” Addie S. Horton; “A New Republic,” Richard Macallister; “Development of Education of Children,” Winnifred B. Sawyer; “A Western Girl in the East,” Mabel E. Williams. The seniors will hold a reception at the town hall at 8 o'clock in the evening at which time the class history will be read by Nellie Haley and the class prophecy by Charles Edgerton.

BELCHERTOWN.

The Belchertown nine will play with the South Amherst team to-morrow.

Mrs. F. F. Thayer, who has been visiting in town, has returned to her home in Holyoke.

Preparations are being made for a Fourth of July celebration, to conclude with a dance.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gould have gone to Coventry to attend the wedding of a relative, Miss Grace Corbet.

Mr. Loveland, of the class of '97 Amherst College, was the guest of his classmate, W. R. Blackmer, last Sunday.

The public schools will close next Tuesday for the summer vacation. The high school will continue through the week.

Miss Mabel H. Clark of Prescott and Fred B. Purdy of Belchertown are to be married next Wednesday at the home of Miss Clark.

Mr. Roblee of New York, who bought the Rice place near the village some time ago, has exchanged the place for property in Palmer.

The concrete walks are progressing finely and Belchertown will soon take on its beautiful summer garb. The summer boarders are arriving daily, and the vacant houses will soon be filled.

A row of sheds back of the Congregational church and chapel caught fire last Friday night, and for some time the other buildings in the immediate vicinity were in danger of catching. Finally by the aid of the citizens the hook and ladder company succeeded in preventing the spread of the fire, although the side of the church was badly scorched.

WALES.

The public schools have closed.

A. Baldwin, superintendent of the Berkley mills, has resigned his position, and will take a similar position elsewhere.

At the meeting held last Saturday the town voted to adopt the suggestion of the committee and build a new school building in the center of the district; also to bond the town for the purpose, which involves an outlay of $5000.

The following is a list of the officers of the Baptist church as elected at the annual meeting: Clerk, F. S. Rogers; treasurer, H. E. Shaw; executive committee, G. H. Lamphear, H. E. Steele and W. H. Lloyd. The Sunday school officers are: Superintendent, H. E. Shaw; assistant superintendent, W. E. Needham; secretary, W. R. Lathrop; treasurer, Anna House.

Rev. B. P. Capshaw, pastor of the Methodist church, has been removed to Maine, where he will have charge of two churches. Mr. Capshaw's departure was a great surprise to all. He was serving the second year of his pastorate here and had recently been returned by the conference. He received notice a few days ago, however, from the presiding elder, and started at once. Mr. Capshaw and his wife were much loved by all who became acquainted with them, especially by his people. A purse of $80 was presented to them last Sunday as a token of the respect and esteem in which they were held.

The funeral of Mamie, the two-years-old daughter of William Mitchell, who died Sunday, took place Tuesday at the home of the parents, Rev. G. W. Davis, officiating. The little one fell down stairs about two weeks ago and injured her head. The injury caused spinal meningitis, and she remained in nearly an unconscious state for several days before she died. She was a very bright and beautiful child and a favorite with all who knew her. She was never very strong in body, but was unusually bright for her age. The parents have the sympathy of all in their bereavement. The casket and surroundings were strewn with flowers sent by the children and other friends.

WARREN.

Mr. Hinckley of Springfield spent last Sunday with friends in town.

The selectmen have appointed Geroge Bliss to fill the vacancy in the board of fire engineers.

A town meeting will be held to-morrow to act on a number of articles, among them the enlarging of the cemetery.

The William F. Wolfendale farm on the old road to West Brimfield has been sold to Henry K. Wilson of Springfield. The sale was made through W. H. Kelley.

Miss Mary C. Burbank will resume her position as principal of the high school in the fall. Miss Carrie M. Allen, assistant teacher, has resigned, as has also Mrs. E. B. Miller, teacher of music.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Ella Holman and D. L. K. Hathaway. Miss Holman is a teacher in the public school and Mr. Hathaway is employed as draughtsman at the Knowles steam pump works.

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Charlotte P. Russell of Lynn, formerly of this place, and Earnest H. Lewis of St. Albans, Vt. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride, June 20th. They will make their home in St. Albans, Vt.

Prof. Alfred S. Roe of Worcester has been engaged to deliver the address at the high school graduating exercises June 24th, and the Altra club of Springfield will furnish music. Daniel Sullivan, a member of the graduating class, will also give a declamation.

Martin Mullen's house on Reed street, about a mile from the village, was burned Tuesday morning, nothing being saved. The barn was saved by the work of neighbors. The loss was covered by an insurance of $1000 on the house and contents. It is thought that the fire caught from the chimney in the kitchen.

John Moore, 66, an old resident of this place, died Wednesday morning at his home on West Main street, of consumption. He had been ill several months. Mr. Moore was born in Warren and was the son of John Moore, the ink manufacturer. He was a machinist by trade and was the first foreman of the machine shop at the Knowles steam pump works. He severed his connection with that firm about eighteen years ago. A mother, sister and two brothers survive him. The funeral was held this afternoon at his late residence.

WILBRAHAM.

Miss Mary Warner of Springfield is at home for a few days.

The Grange celebrated children's night by a drama and literary exercises Wednesday evening.

The classes, students and teachers at the Academy during Dr. G. M. Steele's administration, from 1880 to 1892, will hold a reunion in Fisk Hall next Wednesday evening, when a portrait of Dr. Steele will be presented to the school. A large attendance is expected.

The following is the programme for the commencement exercises at Wesleyan Academy, which open to-day and last until next Thursday: To-day, June 14, 7.45 p. m., second and first year's prize declamations; Saturday, 15th, field day, 7.45 p. m., principal's reception to the graduating class; Sunday, 10.45 a. m., baccalaurate sermon by Rev. William Rice Newhall, 7.45 p. m., alumni sermon by Rev. Charles W. Holden; Monday, oral examinations throughout the day, 7.45 p. m., prize declamations of junior class; Tuesday, oral examinations throughout the day at 2 p. m., annual meeting of the board of trustees, 7.43 p. m., annual concert, Miss Bertha M. Cushing, soloist; Wednesday, 10 a. m., report of annual committee, with award of prizes, 2 p. m., annual alumni meeting, presentation of portraits from alumni; Thursday, 9.40 a. m., graduating exercises, 1 p. m., anniversary dinner, 6.45 p. m., annual interview.

To-morrow will be the annual “Field Day” of the Wesleyan Academy Athletic Association. The event promises to be one of unusual interest, and the contestants will strive to break a number of their previous records. The following is the programme:

Standing high jump—Clark, Hubbard, Barton, Jones, Fassett.
Running high jump—Clark, Hubbard, Hamlin, Jones, Fassett.
Half mile bicycle race.
Throwing hammer—Mallery, Clark, Swain, Barry, Stokien.
Putting shot—Barry, Hubbard, Stokien, Clark, Mallery, Davies.
One hundred yards dash—C. Clark, Hamlin, Paige, R. E. Clark, Tackaberry, Barry, Rockwood.
Two mile bicycle race—Buckley, Chaffee, Brewer, Hamilton, Tolles, Shears, Webber, Carpenter.
Standing broad jump—Clark, Mallery, Hubbard, Fassett, Martin, Hamlin, Jones.
Running broad jump—Clark, Mallery, Hubbard, Fassett, Nichols, Hamlin.
Half mile race—Stokien, Wright, Davies, Carpenter, Grant, Webber, Tackaberry, Paige, R. Buckley, A. Buckley, Barton, Davis, Taylor, E. Jones.
Pole vaulting—Weyant, Barry, Root, Fassett, Clark.
Three legged race—Jones and Taylor, Kendall and Nichols, Hubbard and Fassett.
Mile run—Berry, Monte, Webber, Taylor, A. Buckley, Stokien, R. Buckley.
Prizes for bicycles presented by C. W. Mowry.
First prizes for mile and half-mile runs presented by F. A. Gurney.
Prizes for 100-yard dash presented by F.M. Miller.
First prizes for tennis singles presented by H. P. Bullard.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS MATTERS.

Fifty-one savings banks of Maine have been assessed $197,471 by the state assessors.

A herd of about 50 cattle was drowned by a cloudburst in Kansas Monday, and several buildings were wrecked.

President Cleveland has accepted an invitation to go to Atlanta, Ga., on October 21, to attend the cotton states exposition.

Richard Olney of Massachusetts has been appointed secretary of state, and Judson Harmon of Ohio, attorney general in Cleveland's cabinet.

The barn of Edward Griffin at East Lee was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon, and Mr. Griffin's seven-years-old son perished in the flames.

Richard Onley has been appointed secretary of state to succeed Walter O. Gresham, the oath of office being administered Monday by chief Justice Fuller.

Earnest Miller, 20, was seized by a fit while walking on the bank of the Seekonk river at Providence Sunday and was drowned before assistance could reach him.

A fire in South Chicago early Tuesday morning destroyed several business houses and dwelling apartments, causing a loss of $200,000. Many lives were endangered.

Thomas Maloy, 39, of Bloomfield, Ct., was thrown from his wagon Monday while delivering meat. His head struck a stone, fracturing his skull, and he died in a few minutes.

F. T. Bowers, a clerk in the Baltimore post office, charged William Green Tuesday with the betrayal of his daughter. On Green refusing to marry the girl Bowers shot him dead.

A fire started at Geneva, Ind., late Tuesday night, destroying 30 business houses and dwellings. The loss is from $80,000 to $100,000, with less than half that amount of insurance.

Frank R. Seltzer, the famous march writer and soloist, who has traveled with Sousa, has been engaged to lead the 2d Regiment Band of Springfield. Mr. Seltzer is under a five years contract.

A five-months-old baby was killed at Pittsfield last week while being swung in a hammock. A post from which the hammock was suspended gave way and falling on the baby, fractured its skull.

The Leonard silk mill at Florence was burned to the ground Sunday evening, involving a loss of about $150,000, which is only partly covered by insurance. About 150 hands will be the thrown out of employment.

Burglars entered the store of J. A. Hutchins of Lovell, Me., last week and took $50,000 in cash, stocks, notes and bonds. The securities were kept in a small tin box in the safe, which was opened by some one who knew the combination.

Sarah Jane Lester, 40, of Woodstock, Ct., teacher in the Woman's Christian Association at Brooklyn, N. Y., was instantly killed Monday afternoon, her head being caught between the first and second floors while riding on an elevator.

The New Bedford Journal has passed from the hands of Frank N. Anthony into the control of George H. Brennan, who represents several Fall River parties. Mr. Brennan has been identified with several Boston and New York papers.

Mrs. Mary A. Kerregin of Roxbury is under arrest charged with the murder of Francis J. Sullivan. The parties had some dispute over a trade, and it is alleged that Mrs. Kerrigan, who is a powerful woman, pushed Sullivan down stairs. He fell 35 feet and died soon from the effects.

A staging gave away at a barn raising in New Passumpsic, Vt., Saturday, and eight men fell nearly 40 feet to the basement of the barn. One men was instantly killed, another injured so he cannot recover, while all the others were severley shaken up.

The biggest fire Middletown, Ct., has had for years occurred last Friday, when two livery stables and a large brick building were totally destroyed. The fire is supposed to have originated from a cigar stub, and the total loss has been estimated at $50,000.

William B. Isaacs, grand secretary of the grand lodge of Masons of Virginia, grand secretary of the Virginia grand commandery and grand recorder of the grand emcampment, Knights Templar of the United States, died at his residence in Richmond Sunday.

J. K. Emmet, the actor, while crazed by drink Sunday night at San Francisco, made an attempt to kill himself and wife, but was prevented by his eight-years-old daughter. Emmet was locked up, immediately took the pledge and says he will never drink another drop.

Lizzie Coleman, the fourteen-years-old daughter of William Coleman of Osterville, while on her way to school Monday morning, was shot and killed by Henry Ledtke, a German. Ledtke then shot himself through the head and died instantly. He had been paying attention to the girl, and it is supposed jealousy led to the crime.

William A. McKee, a West Springfield plumber, had a miraculous escape from instant death Wednesday. He was at work in a ditch eight feet deep, when suddenly the earth caved in upon him and buried him up to his face. It took 15 minutes to dig him out and he was unconscious for several hours. His collar bone was broken and his side hurt, but it is thought that his injuries will not prove fatal.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

One Gives Relief.

It is so easy to be mistaken about indigestion, and think there is some other trouble. The cure is Ripans Tabules. One tabule gives relief. Ask any druggist.

The great merit of Ayer's Hygienic Coffee is not due to advertising, but from its superiority over coffee. Principal grocers sell it.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of “Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup” for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. “Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup” for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for “MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.” 52-25

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

FORBES & WALLACE'S, SPRINGFIELD.

Demonstration of the Economical Egg Beater and Cream Whipper in the basement. Every cook and housekeeper in the city should see it.

Shirt Waists for everybody; such an abundance that it ought to be easy for everybody to find just the wanted sort. Percale waist with laundered collar and cuffs at 39 cents—to start the assortment simply. Others to as high as most anybody will want to pay.

Tailor-made Suits of Serges, Covert Cloth, Ladies Cloth, Duck, Lawn and Dimity, all as full of style as the master artists can make them. Have you seen a promenade of the fashionables in Fifth avenue? Was there a pretty style that we haven't here?

Duck Suits at $2.25 and $2.98. What an amount of material and worth they put into Duck Suits for so little money nowadays!

Main floor of Pynchon street building.

We marked the prices down on several lots of Linen Goods last week, and since then we've had brisk times at the counter. Everybody should know how these Linens are going:

At 15 cents a yard—27-inch Glass Toweling that we usually get 25 for.
At 39 cents a yard—Cream and Bleached Damask that usually retails at 50 cents.
At 49 cents a yard—Cream and Bleached Damask that usually retails at 55 cents.
At 59 cents a yard—Fine Damasks, 60 inches wide; such as you usually pay 69 cents for.
At $1 a yard—the $1.25 quality of 72-inch Double Damask—good pattern, very heavy.
Napkins to match, ⅝ size, $2.75 a dozen.
At $1.25 a yard—72-inch Damask that has always been $1.75.
At $1.95—23-inch Square Napkins—the $1.25 kind.

And we've a small lot of Fancy Colored Linen Sets, styles are a bit passe. Reason enough why they should be closed out quickly—the prices will do it:

At $3; were $6—8x10 size.
At $3 50; were $6.50—8x12 size.
Fine Huck Towels at 12½ cents that were 15—size 19x40.
Heavy Huck Fringed Towels at 19 cents; were 25; size 22x44. White, red and blue borders.

Main floor of Vernon street building.

FORBES & WALLACE.
Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

PARIS GREEN, HELLEBORE, LONDON PURPLE, INSECT POWDER, LEGGET'S POWDER GUNS, FOR DESTROYING INSECTS.

E. A. Buck & Co. Main St., Palmer.

S. H. HELLYAR'S

Fire Insurance Agency,

CARYL'S BLOCK,

PALMER, - - MASS.

I represent some of the largest companies, both stock and mutual, doing business in this state, and should be pleased to reckon you as one of my customers.

Will guarantee you security, promptness, economy, and a correctly written policy.

Thanking you for past favors, I am

Yours respectfully,

S. H. HELLYAR.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

I Am At The Top

Of the heap in style, fit and durability; at the bottom in price. The season for Low Shoes is here. I am showing the latest productions in these goods, comprising advanced ideas, newest shapes, and the latest shades. I have all styles (except past styles) in my stock of footwear. You may be sure to find anything you want in my stock, which embraces everything that anyone requires. To-morrow and all next week I offer special values in LADIES' TAN OXFORDS, BOYS', YOUTH'S and MEN'S RUSSET BALS.

Of course you want a pair of TAN SHOES this summer. This affords you a chance.

A. B. COWAN,

Holden's New Block, Main Street,

PALMER, - - MASS.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS IN THIS VICINITY FOR

TRUSSES.

WE CARRY A LARGE ASSORTMENT IN ALL THE SIZES OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF

Steel Spring Trusses, Hard Rubber Trusses, New York Elastic Trusses.

WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.

AT LeGRO & LYNDE'S.

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

Bicycle Repairing.

We have secured the services of Alfred H. Stokes to take charge of this department. Mr. Stokes comes to us from the KEATING WHEEL CO. where he has had entire charge of their Repair Department.

He can save you money in repairs and suit you. Any kind of wheel repaired.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,

Cross Block, Palmer.

THE DOCTOR PRESCRIBES. WE DO THE DISPENSING. BRING YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS TO US. WE USE ONLY THE BEST DRUGS, AND THE GREATEST CARE IN COMPOUNDING. WHILE WAITING GET A GLASS OF COLD SODA. IT IS THE BEST THAT CAN BE MADE.

At LeGRO & LYNDE'S,

Next to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

BICYCLES

RAMBLERS, . .	$100.00
ENVOY, ...	75.00
FLEETWING (ladies) .	75 00
STORMER, . . .	60.00
CRAWFORD, . . .	50.00

All warranted fully. Sweaters and bicycle sundries for sale. Also have good wheels to rent.

ERNEST D. TUFTS,

Holden's Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

DESCRIPTION published pursuant to the provisions of Section 1, Chapter 440, of the acts of 1893, entitled “An act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used on the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages.” Name of firm, L. W. Caryl & Co. Principal place of business, Commercial street, Palmer, Mass. Nature of business transacted, bottler of ale, lager beer, porter, soda water, ginger ale and the similar beverages. Kind of receptacle used, bottles, siphons, fountains and boxes. Description of name or names, mark or marks, device or devices used on bottles, the words “L. W. Caryl, Palmer, Mass.,” with the word “Registered,” and the words “This bottle not to be sold,” blown or etched in or on the bottle. On siphons the words “L. W. Caryl, Palmer, Mass.,” and the word “Registered,” blown or etched in or upon the glass. On fountains the words “Caryl Brothers,” and the words “L. W. Caryl, Palmer, Mass.,” and “Registered,” printed, stencilled, or otherwise produced. On boxes the words “L. W. Caryl,” and the words “Caryl Brothers,” and the word “Registered,” printed, branded, stenciled, or otherwised produced.

In witness, whereof we have hereunto signed our name this thirteenth day of June, A. D. 1895.

11-4 L. W. CARYL & CO.

MEEKINS, PACKARD & CO.

Carpets.

Another month of such Carpet selling as we have enjoyed thus far this season and you'll be unable to procure any of the bargains we tell of. There are good selections in all these lines.

85 cent Tapestries at 62 1-2 cents.
$1.10 Axminsters at 85 cents.
$1.65 Axminsters at $1 and $1.25.
Best Brussels, Lowell, Hartford and Bigelow makes at 75 cents, 85 cents and $1.

You'll appreciate the savings gained by these low prices.

First floor.

MATTRESSES and PILLOWS.

Hair Mattresses of the reliable sorts—thoroughly well made at the prices of the common makes.

45 lb. Mattress, two parts, at $7.50, the $11 kind.
40 lb. Mattress, pure hair, the $17 kind for $12.50.
3 1-2 lb. Feather Pillows at 62 1-2 cents each.

Basement.

Cotton Dress Goods.

Great drives in our Cotton Dress Goods department—there's a vast array of all the daintiest cotton fabrics for Summer wear. French Percales, 30 inches wide, at 12 1-2 cents a yard.

Jaconet Duchesse in beautiful patterns at 12 1-2 cents a yard.

Big line of fine India Dimities, white and colored grounds, at 15 cents, 17 cents and 25 cents a yard.

Swivel Silk Ginghams, the 58 cent quality, at 37 1-2 a yard.

Center Counter Dress Goods Dep't.

Women's Wrappers.

It's surprising what $1 will do in this line. Your choice of a big line of Cambric Wrappers at this price. Particularly good style at $1.25 and $1.50.

Basement.

MEEKINS, PACKARD & CO.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

You Cannot Find

Even in the city of Springfield, a fresher, prettier stock of SHIRT WAISTS and WRAPPERS than right here in Palmer, at the store of W. E. STONE.

We bought a lot of them this week direct from the manufacturers.

The sleeves are right.

The material is right.

The prices are right.

Call and see, whether you purchase or not.

W. E. STONE,

LAWRENCE BLOCK, - - PALMER, MASS.

Agricultural Implements.

BELCHER & TAYLOR PLOWS AND CULTIVATORS. ROUGH AND READY WROUGHT IRON BEAM PLOWS. PLANET, JR. HORSE HOES AND CULTIVATORS. JOHN DOUD WHEEL HARROWS. LAWN MOWERS. SPRING TOOTH HARROWS. STEEL ROAD SCRAPERS. MOWING MACHINES, TEDDERS AND HORSE RAKES.

WE SHALL CARRY A GOOD LINE AND SOLICIT YOUR TRADE.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,

Cross Block, Palmer.

Sweeter than music to the ear is the . . .

MILK and CREAM

...Produced at the...

MAPLE LAWN MILK FARM.

O. D. WELLS, Proprietor.

SPRING CLOTHING!

NEW SPRING .:. .:. STYLES, Latest Colorings —AND— Novelties.

Extra large samples to select from. The most complete assortment, the finest, newest and most extensive in novelties and colorings. Fine Clay, English Wagners and Scimable's best makes, Bannuckburn Scotch goods in best patterns, fine French in newest makes and colors.

Prices $20, 22, 24, 26, 27, 28, 30, 32, 33, 35 to 40. All goods and trimmings the very best ever offered in town for the money, and warranted.

Terms Strictly Cash.

D. MULVIHILL, - Eager's Block.

DENTISTRY.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PALMER AND VICINITY:

Having thoroughly equipped my new office with the most modern inventions and methods pertaining to dentistry, I am now prepared to meet the demands of the public in all the branches of the art. I have associated with me DR. O. P. ROLLER, a graduate in

DENTAL SURGERY,

who has made a specialty of crown and bridge work, all gold, porcelain, combination crown, etc. Gold, aluminum and artificial dentures of every description. The best of workmanship guaranteed. 2-tf

DR. C. W. CROSS, PALMER, MASS.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,

VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.

Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.

Residence, Nassowanno House.
Office and stable, Central street.

PALMER, MASS.

TOWN OF PALMER

A Restoration of the original colors, but no change in them, is all that happens with Pearl-ine. The dirt is taken out, and that brings the colors back—but they are never taken away. If they are not hurt by water, they won't be hurt by Pearline. For washing that has been proved to be absolutely safe, without any risk, nothing costs less than Pearl-ine. Any other kind of washing is likely to be dear, no matter what the price.

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearl-ine." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 361 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

It's Water-proof.

Interlined "Celluloid" Collars and Cuffs turn water like a duck's back and show neither spot nor soil. They are not effected by perspiration, and always look as if right out of the box. When they get soiled you can clean them in a minute by simply wiping off with a wet cloth. These are but a few of the advantages of wearing the "Celluloid" Collars and Cuffs. There are many others that you will readily discover the first time you wear one.

They are the only waterproof interlined collars and cuffs made. Be sure to get the genuine with this trade mark stamped inside, if you desire perfect satisfaction. Made in all sizes and all styles. If you can't get them at the dealers, we will send sample postpaid, on receipt of price: Collars, 25 cents each. Cuffs, 50 cents pair. State size, and whether you want a stand-up or turned-down collar.

TRADE ELLULOID MARK.

THE CELLULOID COMPANY,
427-429 Broadway, NEW YORK.

Mrs. Keyboard—"Why do you always sit at the hotel piano? You can't play a note." Old Stokes—"Neither can any one else while I'm here."—Munsey's Weekly.

I have two little grand children who are teething this summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third af a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of bed and doing my house work. Mrs. W. L. Duncan, Bonaqua, Hichman Ct., Tenn.

"Many of the citizens of Rainsville, Indiana, are never without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house," says Jacob Brown, the leading merchant of the place. This Remedy has proven of so much value for colds, croup and whooping cough in children that few mothers who know its worth are willing to be without it.

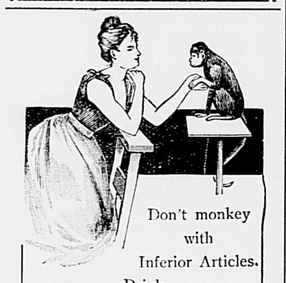
Sometime ago I was troubled with an attack of rheumatism. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was completely cured. I have since advised many of my friends and customers to try the remedy and all speak highly of it. SIMON GOLDBAUM, San Luis Rey, Cal.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

BLOOD WINE.

CURES This famous remedy has a cooling action on the Blood in warm weather, and, besides being the most pleasant medicine in the world, combines the most curative qualities. It is sold everywhere at 50 cents, large bottle. Try it.

The Diseases Summer Brings.



Don't monkey with Inferior Articles. Drink

WILLIAMS' ROOT BEER.

Send 2-cent stamp for pictures.
WILLIAMS & CARLETON, Hartford, Ct.

»»CARRIAGES.««

A REWARD OF $1000 offered if you will come here and truthfully say I am not OVERSTOCKED. Still they are coming by the carload and I have no place to store them.

Any kind of vehicle can be bought of me to-day at a great bargain. I am going to make a great break of 12 CANOPY TOPS, and will name a price on them that will astonish thin pocket-books. If you buy one you can laugh at the other fellow unless he buys here too. Every price is guaranteed against any dealer who pays for his goods.

——HARNESSES.——

All grades at lowest prices. Prices are so low as to look ridiculous in print. A little lower than any one else is our rule.

Our expenses are not one-quarter that of other Dealers. This saving is yours if you buy of me.

D. N. BUTTERWORTH,
60 Dwight Street, - - Springfield.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.
Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p.m.

The Lost Page.

Upon the kitchen table with her work unfinished yet,
Sat Sarah Ann, intent upon a thrilling novelette.
The baker and the grocer's man knocked loudly, but in vain;
Then kicked the paint all off the door and went away again.
The fire went out, the light grew dim, but Sarah Ann read on,
Intent upon the fortunes of Lord Algernon Fitzjohn,
Whose proud and wealthy father designed his son and heir
For the beauty of the season, the Lady Maud de Vere.
She loved him, but Lord Algernon, much to his pa's distress,
Disliked the Lady Maud, and loved a modest governess.
She came to where the beauty accidentally o'erhears
The wilful lord proposing to the governess, who fears
She's unworthy of the honor, but she loves him as her life,
And will do her very best to make a true and worthy wife.
She still reads on, and as she nears the bottom of the page,
She learns how Lady Maud became convulsed with jealous rage,
Forgot herself, and maddened by the sound of rapturous kissing,
Sprang upright—Sarah turned the leaf—the other page was missing!

—Tid-Bits.

PALMER HISTORY GLEANINGS.

BY O. P. ALLEN.

IV.

Notes from Mr. Ferrell's Day Book.

Recently the writer came across an old day book, commenced by Marble K. Ferrell of Palmer in 1824, in which are charged many of the leading articles used seventy years ago. He had an extensive farm and required considerable help, and as much of the pay came from the stores, etc, the charges entered give us quite an insight to the prices not only of wages but of farm produce, as well as articles of trade. It may be of interest to some to compare the prices of those days with the present, especially the item of wages.

Marble K. Ferrell was born in Palmer May 15, 1797, and died here Oct. 22, 1860. He was a well-to-do man in his day, and one who is still remembered by some of our older people as a generous dispenser of hospitality. His farm is now owned by O. B. Sikes. Mrs. Ferrell survived her husband many years, and died at Dr. Stowe's, where she had lived some 15 years, Oct. 11, 1892, aged 91 years.

Referring to the day book we find that in 1825 Joseph S. Blodgett worked for Mr. Ferrell for $12 per month from May till December, and for a portion of his pay received these articles at the following prices: Rye at 75 cents per bushel; vinegar at 2 cents per quart; corn meal at 2 cents per quart; potatoes at 25 cents per bushel; lard at 9 cents per pound; oats at 34 cents per bushel; one pint of gin for 6 cents; "cyder" at 8 cents per gallon; rye flour at 4 cents per pound; corn at 57 cents per bushel.

The same year Augustus Barrett was charged for cotton cloth at the rate of 14 cents per yard, and $1 per yard for sattines, for making a pair of pantaloons 50 cents; for a pair of cow hide boots $3. In Jan., 1825, Barrett was given an order on Bond's store for a hat and pair of suspenders at $3.70. This was the first store kept in Bondsville and probably had just been opened. This same winter Barrett was paid 25 cents per day for work. In March he threshed 89 bushels of rye and had every fifteenth bushel for the job; he also threshed 159½ bushels of oats and had every twelfth bushel for pay.

Harvey Nutting received $9 for a month's work in October, 1825.

Sally Abbott worked in Mr. Ferrell's household from April 18 to Aug. 20, 1825, and received $13.93 for her pay, or $3.48 per month. What would our damsels of the kitchen think of that for wages in these days? Even with her low wages Sally was charged with two and one-half days lost time when she went home to see her mother during the time of service. She was charged 37½ cents per yard for calico to make a dress, on an order at Bond's store. She also had cash to get goods at Knight's store at the Old Center. She paid 40 cents per pound for wool.

In 1825–6 Harvey Nutting paid Mr. Ferrell $1.50 per week for board "a going to school," and when Harvey paid for his board he was allowed $9 per month. Surely both board and wages were equally low.

In 1825 Pember Howard is credited 3½ cents each for shearing 17 sheep, and 20 cents per day for hoeing corn in June. Aaron Davis is charged one dollar for a year's sitting in Mr. Ferrell's pew. Aaron obtained the gospel at a very cheap rate in 1825 surely.

In 1825 Lemuel Owens paid 50 cents for four bushels of apples, and $7 for 12 barrels of "cyder." The same year John Pratt was credited 33 cents per day for chopping logs, and A. Blanchard is charged 3½ cents per pound for beef and 50 cents per barrel for "cyder."

In 1826 Joseph Blodgett paid 50 cents for a gallon of brandy and 11 cents per quart for rum. In 1828 Captain Jonathan Moores is credited with making "my wife a pair of shoes, 67 cents," and "a pair of shoes for John, 58 cents." The said John was then 8 years old. John had a pair of boots made in January for 92 cents."

In 1836 Stephen Converse is credited with chopping 21 cords of wood at 20 cents per cord, but then Stephen had his beef of Mr. Ferrell at 4½ cen's per pound and a load of oak wood at 95 cents.

In 1836 Jesse Smith came to live with Mr. Ferrell and after working 20 weeks at 75 cents per week "went away to stay," and Jesse could hardly be blamed for it in view of such wages. The same year "girl's" wages had advanced, for the account says, "Lucretia Dier came here to work at one dollar per week." September 23, 1836, this entry is made: "Nathan M. Cutler, you came here to board with your wife at $3.50 per week."

Mr. Cutler was a merchant at Three Rivers and among other items is a charge for a barrel of flour at $10.50.

In 1837, men's wages had advanced to $1 per day, which amount is credited to John Gould; at the same time he is charged with pork at 12 cents per pound and rye at $1.75 per bushel.

In 1826 Augustus Barrett is charged with lost time as follows:

May 5, "To one day to May training."

September 7, "To one day trooping up in town."

September 23, "To one day with a sore fais."

October 18, "To one day to Master."

November 22, "To ½ day to the turkey shute."

It seems that Barrett, for want of nobler game, went to the turkey "shute" to practice what he had learned of the full "master." Among other items we find these entries:

"August 15, 1831, we raised the new house."

"April 3, 1833, we moved into the new house."

"April 18, 1833, the cider mill was built."

In May 1, 1832, John Hamilton chopped 15 cords of wood and was paid 10 cents per cord. I am inclined to think this price beats the record for such work.

Many other interesting items might be added, but enough has been shown to give a good idea of prices of wages and commodities of the early part of the century in Palmer.

A little girl had sent back her plate for turkey two or three times, and had been helped bountifully to all the other good things that go to make a good dinner. Finally she was observed looking rather disconsolately at her unfinished plate of pudding.

"What's the matter, Dora?" asked Uncle John. "You look mournful."

"That's just the matter," said Dora. "I am more'n full."

Then she wondered why everybody laughed.

Mr. Thomas Bennett
Roslindale, Boston.

He Could Not Live

Was what friends said, but

Hood's Perfectly Cured

Dreadful Case of Chronic Eczema.

Such a testimonial as we give below few medicines can produce. It is one of thousands possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and proves the merit of this medicine.

Reliable, honest, industrious, is what all say of Mr. Bennett. He has been engaged as gas-fitter in Boston for 35 years, with Tarbell, 111 Washington street, and McKinney, Washington st., opp. Boylston.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—I am only doing what is just when I tell voluntarily what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done forme. I know it

Saved My Life.

"A year ago last winter, after exposure to storms, I caught a severe cold, after which chronic eczema appeared on the calf of my left leg and spread all over my lower limb from knee to ankle, and the itching and burning was something awful. Added to this was a severe pain, seemingly in the bone. At last it became so that I had to give up work and was unable to walk. I had to have my leg bandaged all the time and frequent changes of the cloths. For nine months I sat with my leg resting in a chair.

Oh, It Was Dreadful!

Friends said I could not live long. In all I had seven different physicians, all to no purpose whatever. I knew the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla as I had, some years before, taken it with benefit, and decided to try it for my apparently hopeless case. In two or three days after I began my appetite was better and my courage revived. To make a long story short, the eruption entirely disappeared, and the flesh on my leg resumed perfectly healthy appearance. I was soon able to walk about. I cannot tell how amazed my neighbors and friends were. I can now walk without any lameness, as well as ever. Have not the slightest eruption or itching or burning, or any sort of trouble whatever with my leg. The gratitude I owe Hood's Sarsaparilla is simply unspeakable." THOS. BENNETT, 172 Sycamore St., Roslindale, Boston, Mass. Try HOOD'S.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills are tasteless, mild, effective. All druggists. 25c.

He—"I may be poor, but there was a time in my life when I rode in a carriage." She—"Yes, and your mother pushed it, too."—New York Herald.

Heart Disease 30 Yrs!

Short Breath, Palpitation.

Mr. G. W. McKinsey, postmaster of Kokomo, Ind., and a brave ex-soldier, says: "I had been severely troubled with heart disease ever since leaving the army at the close of the late war. I was troubled with palpitation and shortness of breath. I could not sleep on my left side, and had pain around my heart. I became so ill that I was much alarmed, and fortunately my attention was called to

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

I decided to try it. The first bottle made a decided improvement in my condition, and five bottles have completely cured me."

G. W. McKINSEY, P. M., Kokomo, Ind

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co, Elkhart, Ind.

SAVED MRS. RENNIE'S LIFE.

Mrs. Jennie Rennie of Virgil, N. Y., had been sick for a year or more with overflow of the gall and ulcers of the stomach. Her physician told her she could not live. Mrs. Rennie's mother had found such benefit from the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, that she persuaded her daughter to use it, which she did, with the result that it cured her of these diseases, and she says she was never as well as now.

AYER'S Hygienic Coffee.

A Health Drink, Nerve and Brain Food.

A vegetable and cereal compound; contains all the elements one's system requires.

Prepared by M. S. AYER, of Boston. A vegetarian of many years.

PRICE, 20 CENTS PER POUND.

Directions: Prepare the same as Coffee, using not more than two-thirds as much for the same amount of water, or one tablespoonful to a pint.

For sale by principal wholesale and retail grocers. Send 2c stamp for book on "Diet Reform."

M. S. AYER, 211 STATE ST., BOSTON.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed. The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office. WEDDING CARDS.

JUST ARRIVED.

A Full Line of

Grass Seed,
Seed Oats,
Seed Barley,
Seed Peas,
Ground Plaster.

BRADLEY'S X L Phosphate, Potato Manure and English Lawn Dressing.

Low Prices.

C. D. HOLBROOK.

EXCURSIONS TO DENVER

IN CONNECTION WITH THE

National Educational Convention,

LEAVING

Boston, Worcester and Springfield

JULY 1, 3, and 5,

TOGETHER WITH A

Series of Magnificent Special Tours through the Rocky Mountains, Utah, the Yellowstone National Park, the Puget Sound Country, Alaska, etc.

These trips may be availed of not only by Teachers but by the General Public.

Ask for Circular at the Ticket Office of the Boston and Albany Railroad.

TRADE SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

OF THE

Springfield Industrial Institute,

Springfield, Mass.

DAY INSTRUCTION in Pattern Making, Cabinet Making, Plumbing, Brick Laying and Plastering, Stone Cutting, Sign and Carriage Painting, Machine Shop Practice.

COURSES 4 months to 1 year in length. Finely equipped shops. Skilled mechanics for instructors.

FOUR OTHER DEPARTMENTS: Industrial High School, Engineering, Normal Manual Training, Normal Kindergarten.

For particulars address
4-26 L. P. STRONG, Director.

WAGONS!

Having a new lot of

TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY. CALL AND SEE US.

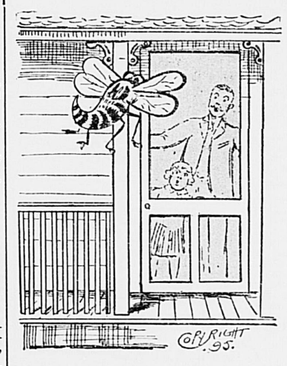
ALLEN AND ELLERY,

PALMER, 3-tf MASS

L. A. W. Bicycle Club Uniform.

Have you seen our '95 catalogue with prices and samples. Send 2-cent stamp.

G. W. SIMMONS & CO.,
OAK HALL, BOSTON.
Sporting Goods, Firemen's Uniforms, Military Outfitters.



NO FLY,

Or other insect will bother you if you have our SCREENS in your doors or windows. We are supplying a good Window Screen, according to size,

At 25 cents, 30 cents, and 35 cents.

Don't forget that we are selling a very fine line of

Refrigerators at Low Prices.

E. A. BUCK, Main Street, Palmer, Mass.

THAT JOB OF PRINTING. There's no better place at which to get it done than the JOURNAL Office. Experienced workmen, skilled in every branch of the art.

W. N. FLYNT & SONS'

SPRING STYLES IN MEN'S and BOYS' CLOTHING

HAVE ARRIVED. GIVE THEM A CALL AND RECEIVE BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY THAN EVER BEFORE. BE SURE YOU GET A TRILBY HAT.

LATEST IN HATS AND CAPS FOR MEN AND BOYS AT

W. N. FLYNT & SONS,
MONSON, MASS.

Below find our prices for COAL for the coming season, to be delivered about June 1st. Prices are subject to advance at any time. Coal to be delivered from either station within a reasonable distance from same. Good men furnished to house and bin same at actual cost for their time.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

We would advise every one to put in EARLY ORDERS as coal will advance in price SURE.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

PRICES FOR LACKAWANNA:		PRICES FOR LEHIGH:
Stove size, $4.80 per ton.		Stove size, $4.95 per ton.
Chestnut,	4.80 " "	Chestnut,	4.95 " "
Furnace,	4.60 " "	Furnace,	4.80 " "

R. M. & THEO. REYNOLDS,

MONSON, - - MASS.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.

CORRECTED TO NOVEMBER 11, 1894.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a m and 4.25 p m for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R R. at Bellertown with Central Massachusetts R R, and at Palmer with B & A R R for Worcester, Boston, Springfield.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a m, 12.13 and 5.57 p m.
Leave Palmer, 8.40 a m, 1.55 and 7.15 p m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.25, 10.17 a m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.25 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.27 p m.
The 5.25 and 7.40 a m and 2.30 p m run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a m and 5.27 p m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.22, 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m, the 11.00 a m and 7.15 p m connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.22 and 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.
S W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A., St. Albans.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,

OPTICIAN.

331 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial Eyes Furnished.
Oculists' Prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 51-26

♦S♦O♦D♦A.♦

There's more than one thing goes to make up rich SODA. Not real fruit-syrup alone, not cream of itself, not pure water, nor the drawing of it. ALL these are essential, and rich soda is impossible without all. Now, why do we tell you this? Because we want to post you on the constituents of rich, creamy, thirst-satisfying Soda, at only 5 cents per glass. For all of which call at

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

THE TALKING DOG.

There was once a ventriloquist so poor that he was obliged to travel on foot from town to town to save expenses, much after the manner of the gentleman of adventure in Grimm's tales. One day he was joined on the road by a dog as forsaken as himself, but who seemed desirous of becoming his companion. They journeyed together to the next town, and entered the tavern tired, hungry and penniless. Not being troubled with the inconvenient refinement which comes from a long line of gentle ancestors, the man had developed the quality known as cheek, so he and the dog sat down to eat a supper for which they could not pay.

The room was full of loungers, and the stranger took a conspicuous seat. "What will you have?" asked the only waiter the place employed; and the order embraced nearly everything on the bill of fare.

"But I want something for my dog, too," he added. "Ask him what he will have." The waiter muttered something about "whatcher giving us," so the stranger said, "what, don't you like to? Well, Bruno, will you have beef or fish?"

"Beef, every time," said Bruno, looking with mild brown eyes at the waiter.

"And what to drink?"

"Water, thank you," said Bruno.

By this time the landlord and every one in the place were eager with suppressed wonder, and gathered about to hear a dog talk. The ventriloquist feigned indifference by eating with avidity, while the landlord was evidently considering something. His cogitation resulted in his offering the stranger $300 for his wonderful talking dog. The ventriloquist appeared to hesitate a moment, then said abruptly, "Yes, you may have him for $300."

When the money was paid and the ventriloquist was about to leave, he turned to the dog, patted him affectionately, and said, "Good-by, old fellow, you've been a good friend to me."

"You are no friend of mine," returned the dog, "to sell me to another master. As you were mean enough to serve me such a trick, I'll have revenge. I'll never speak another word as long as I live."

The ventriloquist then made off with all possible haste.—Harper's Young People.

POOR, BUT RICH.

Once in New England, says a writer in the "Outlook," I was driving with an old farmer, and some of the men in the neighborhood came under criticism. Speaking of a prominent man in the village I asked:

"He is a man of means?"

"Well, sir," the farmer replied, "he ain't got much money but he's mighty rich."

"He has a great deal of land then?" I asked.

"No, sir, he ain't got much land neither, but still he is mighty rich."

The old farmer, with a pleased smile, observed my puzzled look for a moment, then explained:

"You see he ain't got much money, and he ain't got much land, but still he is rich, because he never went to bed owing any man a cent in all his life. He lives as well as he wants to live, and he pays as he goes; he doesn't owe anything; and he ain't afraid of anybody; he tells every man the truth, and does his duty by himself, his family, and his neighbors, his word is as good as a bond, and every man, woman and child in the town looks up to him and respects him. No, sir, he ain't got much money, and he ain't got much land, but still he is a mighty rich man, because he's got all he needs and all he wants."

I assented to the old farmer's deductions, for I thought them entirely correct. When a man has all he needs and all he wants he is certainly rich, and when he lacks these things he is certainly poor.

QUEER NAMES FOR TOWNS.

The maps of the United States show that the first settlers of many of the towns and cities must have been at a loss for names. Everybody has heard of Red Dog and Yon Bet in California, and Yuba Dam has been accorded a line in history, but when it comes to Dog Tooth of Illinois, Flea Hill of North Carolina, and Fly Mountain of Ulster county, New York, their existence would never be imagined unless noticed on a map or in a gazetteer.

But there are many other places with names just as striking: Bobtown, Pa.; Bug Hill, N. C.; Chewtown, Pa.; Cut Shin, Ky., and Fiddletown, Cal., for instance.

Or if these are not sufficient there are Fussville, Wis., Daddy's Creek, Tenn.; Calfkiller, in the same state, and Big Foot, in Indiana.

Ohio has a Belle Center, Iowa a Calliope, Indiana a Lilly Dale, West Virginia a Little Wild Cat, Maryland a Maiden's Choice, South Dakota a Minnehaha, Wyoming a Miser, Pennsylvania a Nazareth, and Illinois a Prettyman.

There are others, such as Young Blood, Ill.; Young Womanstown, Pa.; Whisky Town, Cal.; Ty Ty, Ga.; Big Neck, Ill.; and Black Jack flourishes in Mississippi, Kansas, Arkansas and Tennessee.

To reach Bliss one has to go to Wyoming county, New York, and the only state that has a Bird in Hand is Pennsylvania.—Chicago Times.

OFF-FISH-IAL.—The Railroad Gazzette tells a story about a general passenger agent in Philadelphia, or somewhere, who was wont to limit excursion tickets so closely that the passengers had to be on the alert in surrendering the return coupon as soon as they entered the car for the return journey lest they should turn to dust and ashes in their hand. One day she G. P. A.'s fish dealer got stuck with one of those tickets (the conditions being printed in very fine type,) and he determined to get even. So the next fish delivered was carefully selected for its very noticeable lack of freshness, and, of course, the cook reported to the G. P. A.; but on close inspection the wrapping paper was found to bear, in small letters, the following words:

In consideration of the reduced price at which this fish is sold, it will not be good after one hour from the time of delivery.

HAD FAITH IN HIS FATHER.—The faith which children have in their parents is not often better illustrated than by a story which was told recently by a fond relative of an almost precocious boy. He is about three years of age and his fond mamma thought that it was about time that she impressed upon his mind some one of the first lessons in Christianity. She took the form of a prayer, which she repeated while the boy lisped the words after her. It happened by chance that the head of the house was absent from home and among the petitions for special blessings was this: "Please God, bring papa safely home." With all the dignity which can be crowded into the being of a 3-year-old boy and a precociousness one at that, Master Robert stood up and said proudly. "My papa can come home hisself." There were no more prayers that night.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

☞Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

ORIGIN OF "VIZ."—The contraction "viz." is a curious instance of the universality of arbitrary signs. There are few writers who do not appreciate the fact that the little contraction may be used in "good form" writing of all kinds, but there are probably even fewer persons who have any idea of its origin. It is a corruption of the word videlicet, the terminal letter of which was formerly made in the shape of a "z," but was never intended to represent that letter, being simply used as a mark or sign of abbreviation. It is now always written and expressed as "z" and will doubtless continue to be used as long as written language exists. It is, however, as we have said, one of the many arbitrary modes of expression used by the masses, who never give a thought as to their origin.—St. Louis Republic.

FAILED TO LIVE UP TO IT.—One of the managers of a home for destitute colored children tells a funny story about the way Christmas was celebrated at the institution. She went out there in the afternoon to see how things were getting along, and found a youngster as black as the inside of a coal mine tied to a bedpost, with his hands behind him.

"What is that boy tied up there for?" she demanded of the attendant.

"For lying ma'am; he is the worstest, lyingest nigger I ever seen."

"What's his name?"

"George Washington, ma'am," was the paralyzing reply.—Chicago Record.

THE WAY HE LIKED HIS HAIR CUT.

"How will you have your hair cut, sir?" said the talkative hairdresser to the man in the chair.

"Minus conversational prolixity," replied the patient.

"How's that, sir?"

"With abbreviated or totally eliminated narrations."

"I—er—don't quite catch your meaning, sir."

"With quiescent mandibulars."

"Which?"

"Without effervescent verbosity."

"Sir?"

"Let diminutive colloquy be conspicuous by its absence."

The hairdresser scratched his head thoughtfully for a second and then went over to the proprietor of the shop with the whispered remark:

"I don't know whether that gentleman in my chair is mad or a foreigner, but I can't find out what he wants."

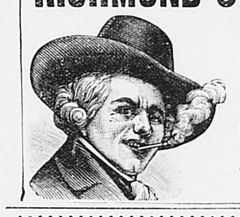
The proprietor went to the waiting customer and said politely:

"My man doesn't seem to understand you. How would you like your hair cut?"

"In silence."

The proprietor gave a withering look at his journeyman, while the latter began work and felt so utterly crushed that he never even asked his patient if he'd buy a bottle of hair-restorer.—London Tit-Bits.

RICHMOND STRAIGHT CUT No. 1 CIGARETTES



MADE FROM THE BRIGHTEST, MOST DELICATELY FLAVORED AND HIGHEST COST GOLD LEAF GROWN IN VIRGINIA.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Who are willing to pay a little more than the price charged for ordinary trade cigarettes, will find this brand superior to all others.

ALLEN & GINTER, RICHMOND, VA.
THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., Successor.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO SEPT. 30, 1894.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58, p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Pansy Park, South Amherst and Hadley—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
FOR Belchertown, Amherst and Northampton—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39, p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY, Gen'l Mgr.

Charles Beach has entered the employ of the Cutler Co.

Granite and Marble Monuments.

FINEST WORKMANSHIP AND LOWEST PRICES. NEW DESIGNS ARE BEING ADDED TO MY STOCK CONSTANTLY.

WILLIAM F. COOK,
182 and 184 State St., Springfield, Mass.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

Get a Glass! Quick!

There's lots of snap and vim in this HIRES Rootbeer. There's lots of pleasure and good health in it, too. A delicious drink, a temperance drink, a home-made drink, a drink that delights the old and young. Be sure and get the genuine

HIRES' Rootbeer

A 25 cent package makes 5 gallons. Sold everywhere.

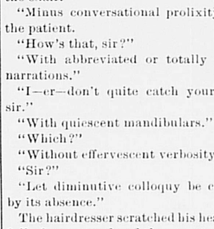
THE CHAS. E. HIRES COMPANY,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

S. & W. Wind Engines For Pumping and Power.

Do not be deceived by misleading advertisements. If you or your friends are in need of anything in the following lines, send for our new and handsome catalogue of 175 pages now ready for mailing.

Hot Air Engines, Steam Engines and Boilers, Tanks, Pumps, Pipe-fittings, Steam or Hot Water House Heating Boilers, &c.

SMITH & WINCHESTER CO.,
19 to 37 Wendell St., BOSTON - 141 Centre St., NEW YORK.



F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

Salary and expenses paid weekly from start. Permanent position. Good chance for advancement. Exclusive territory. Largest growers of Nursery stock. Clean, hardy stock, true to name. Fair treatment guaranteed. No substitution in our orders. Liberal commission to local part-time agents. We can interest any one not earning $75 per month and expenses. Don't hesitate because of previous failures in this or other lines. Outfit free. Address, BROWN BROS. CO., Continental Nurseries, Rochester, N. Y. (This house is reliable. Name this paper.—Ed.)

USE BARNES' INK

A. S. BARNES & CO., 56 E. 10th St., N. Y.

No Default of Principal or Interest

has ever occurred in a security sold by this company

MUNICIPAL BONDS.

The securities offered by this Company are selected with great care, and are first class investments for individual buyers, legatees, trustees, banks and savings banks. More than

FIFTY CLASSES OF BONDS

have been sold by us in the last three years. Send for our list of bonds and make use of our experience.

German-American Investment Co.,
52 Wall Street, New York.

CATARRH

Is strictly a LOCAL DISEASE and is the result of sudden climatic changes.

ELY'S CREAM BALM

is acknowledged to be the most thorough cure for Nasal Catarrh, Cold in the Head and Hay Fever of all remedies. It opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The Balm is applied directly into the nostrils, is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. The results that follow catarrh, due to the dropping of poisonous matter into the throat, are irritation of the bronchial tubes and soreness of the lungs accompanied by a cough. In all such cases we recommend Pineola Balsam to be used in connection with Cream Balm.

PINEOLA COUGH BALSAM will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 21, 1895. NUMBER 12.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one-half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 50 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counselor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. E., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R. R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BOND, A. M., Manufacturer and Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, Tinware, Hardware, etc.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's.

WARE.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counselor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

PALMER LODGE, No. 190, I. O. O. F.
Meets every Wednesday evening in Commercial Block, Main street.
M. M. THOMAS, N. G. G. H. BRAY, Rec. Sec.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W.
Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in Grange Hall, Day's Block, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.
Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents.
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. MCGREGORY.
Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Moores, E. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Wald, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory
Board of Investment,
Geo. Moores, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

FINEST GROWN

SEEDS.
FODDER SEED CORN,
HUNGARIAN GRASS SEED,
TIMOTHY, RED TOP,
LAWN GRASS SEED.
E. A. BUCK & CO.,
..Cross Block, Palmer..

Are You Troubled
With that Tired Feeling?

Then WHY don't you get one of our JAPANESE FANS. We have marked them very low.

5 CENTS will buy a very handsome FOLDING FAN, in all colors.

10 CENTS, wide FOLDING FAN with cord and tassel. A regular 15c Fan. Higher grades, 17c, 19c, 20c, 25c, 29c, 49c, and 75c.

50 CENTS Buys the best SUMMER CORSET at that price made.

25 CENT Special Values in SILK MITTS and GLOVES, Black and Colors.

12 1-2 CENTS—LADIES' FAST BLACK HOSE, Seamless. Regular value 15 cents a pair.

The Sun of Fashion Rises and Sets in Monson at THE BOSTON STORE.

See Our INDIA LINEN DRESS LAWNS AT 12 1-2 CENTS.

For radiancy and beauty they far outshine any line of Cool Dress Goods ever shown at that price this season.

T. H. TODD.
Boston Cash Store, Monson.

TO COLT OWNERS.

I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.

3-tf Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

.... J. M. BRUCE, ...
AGENT FOR THE
TROWBRIDGE UPRIGHT PIANOS.
Trowbridge Pianos for Tone.
Trowbridge Pianos for Action.
Trowbridge Pianos for Fine Cases.
PIANOS TUNED, REGULATED and REPAIRED.
Office, Room 25, Main St. P. O. Box 166.
SPRINGFIELD, - MASS.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.
Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

If you are going to use any
WALL PAPER
this spring it will
PAY YOU
to look at our line and get
OUR PRICES.
We have our NEW STOCK all in and know we are very bottom on prices.
WE WILL UNDERSELL
any city in the state of Massachusetts.
LeGRO & LYNDE,
DRUGGISTS,
Next Door to Post Office, Palmer.

=: Coal Notice. :=

After getting through a long hard winter and having a few dollars left, I bought early in the season some good coal of diffierent sizes which I will sell at the following low prices, for May delivery. All coal screened, and if desired put in bin:

Lackawanna Stove,	- -	$5.00 per ton
" Nut,	- -	$5.00 " "
" Egg,	- -	$4.80 " "
Lehigh Stove,	- -	$5.15 " "
" Nut,	- -	$5.15 " "
" Egg,	- -	$5.00 " "

These prices are for coal delivered a reasonable distance from station, if taken from cars on arrival. I shall be here twelve months in the year to look after the business and solicit a share of the trade. Special prices on large lots.

Yours Very Respectfully,
RALPH CLIFFORD,
Monson, Mass., May 15th, 1895.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed.
The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office WEDDING CARDS.

SMITH & MURRAY.

SILKS.

More Silks new this morning. We are daily receiving New Bargains in Silks; always on the lookout for special values.

We have got some "plums" and they are ready for your picking. These mentioned below are the latest additions in this line, and at the same time the best value ever offered. An examination of the goods will convince you of the truth of this statement.

White Brocade Indias in new figures and Pekin stripes; just the thing for White Waists and Dresses for street or evening wear. You naturally ask the price. No, they are not $1 a yard, though they are worth it; only 59c a yard.

On sale this morning.

Also ten pieces Black Brocaded Indias in this season's newest designs, manufactured to retail for sixty-nine cents a yard. Your choice this morning for 50c.

Those Lyons Printed Indias kept the clerks busy last week. The price—just one-half—is responsible for the rush.

29 Cents a Yard.

Court Square entrance.

White Goods.

We are showing a splendid line of pin dot Swiss Muslins at a reduction in price from what they they were at the first of the season.

Prices, according to quality, 22c, 25c, 29c, 33c and 37½c.

Cream and White Dimities, 20c, 25c, 29c, 33, Open Stripe Nainsook, 12½c, 15c, 18c. Check Nainsook, 6c, 4c, 8c, 10c, 12½c. Lawns, 8c, 10c, 12c, 15c, 25.

A great variety of India Mull, Silk Mull, Mull a la Swiss, French Nainsook, Organdies, and Figured and Striped Piques in all grades.

Main store right.

SMITH & MURRAY.

A 19 CENT SALE
At Hellyar's
Bargain Store,
Caryl's Block, - On the Corner.

4 yards of Lining Cambric.
1¼ yards of best Silicia.
2 yards of imitation Hair Cloth.
2 yards of Crinoline.
1¼ yards of Canvas.
3 yards of Cross Bar Cambric.
5 yards of Apron Check Gingham.
2 yards of Dress Goods.
3 yards of Outing Flannel.
1½ yards Colored Canton Flannel.
1¼ yards best Feather Ticking.
4 yards Lace Scrim.
½ yard Silk Plush (all colors.)
4 doz. Dress Buttons.
8 doz. Hooks and Eyes (Kant Open.)
7 spools Black Silk.
4 spools Best Thread.
5 spools, 500 yards, Basting Thread.
1 bottle 25c Perfumery.
1 bottle Mitchell's Rose Cutilave.
13 yards Tom Thumb Ribbon.
4 yards Morai, Picot Edge Ribbon.
2 yards Wide Lace.
3 pair Dress Shields (warranted.)
2 pair Hose, ladies or children.
2 fine Huckabuck Towels.
4 yards Toweling, bleached or unbleached.
4 bunches of Envelopes, all sizes.
4 quires best Writing Paper.
1 White Apron.
1 black Shopping Bag.
2 Shoulder Shawls.
3 pair Gent's Hose.
10 yards Narrow Hamburg.
1½ skeins Germantown.
1 earthen Tea Pot.
1 large Yellow Bowl.
1 Drapery Pole and Trimmings.
10 papers of Pins.
4 doz. Lead Pencils.
2 Rope Halters.
1 Curry Comb and Brush.
2 Cuspidores.
5 bunches of Tacks.
4 bunches Toilet Paper.
1 Bean Pot.
2 yards Rug Fringe.
1 Wire Rat Trap.
4 yards Carpet Lining.

Any of the above ONLY 19 CENTS. This is the store for the economical buyers.

Best live Geese Feathers only 55c per lb.
White Bed Spreads 67 cents.
Laundered White or Colored Shirts, 47 cents.
Floor Oils Cloths, 23 cents per yard.
Slop Pails 25 cents.
Lanterns, 42 cents.
Curtains 23c, 31c, 36c, 37c, 50c each.
2 pair Men's Suspenders, 25c.
Custom Suits from $11 to $25.

REMEMBER THE PLACE,
HELLYAR'S BARGAIN STORE,
Caryl's Block, on the Corner,
PALMER, - MASS.

WALL PAPERS,
MOULDINGS, ETC.,
AT MASON'S, PALMER.

E. S. BRYANT, D. M. D.
DENTIST.
LYNDE'S BLOCK, - PALMER.
Office Hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

CHARLES E. LYNCH.

LYNCH'S Store is full of life on these bright, warm days. There isn't any doubt about that. It's the place of places in Springfield to-day for sightly, stylish Clothing for Men, Youths and Boys. Stylish goods at reasonable prices make LYNCH'S the busiest of busy stores nowadays.

TEN DOLLAR SUITS.

LYNCH'S Ten Dollar Suits are selling like "hot cakes." They're selling freer and faster than ever was known. If you could only see the piles in LYNCH'S tailor shop just now. They tell the story. We cannot fix them fast enough. We're hiring every competent tailor we can. We adjust these $10 Suits to the figure just as carefully as $20 and $22 Suits. That's what they are in fact. We're selling them though for $10. Such Suits were never sold for such money before. No wonder they're selling. Gentlemen can't help buying them any more than they could refuse to pay fifty cents for a dollar in gold.

TAILOR-MADE SUITS.

"Ugh!" growled one of the leading manufacturers in the country the other day. "Ugh!" Why are you talking $10 Suits when you have such Suits as these?" That's true. We'll only say this:—If you have always worn Custom Clothing and want to save $10 or $15 this summer, try a fine STEIN BLOCH Suit. The prices range from $15 to $25. They're as good as the finest Custom Suits in the land. They'll fit and please you just as well. They cost much less.

DRESS TROUSERS.

A lot of elegant, dressy Trousers just received. They're the $6 kind. The price is $4. All wool. Very neat effects. Look like $10 Custom Pants.

WORKING PANTS.

AN ALL-WOOL PANT GUARANTEED not to rip nor tear. Wear them two months. For every suspender button that comes off we will pay you 10c. If they rip at the waistband, we will pay you 50c. If they rip in the seat or elsewhere we will pay you $1 or give you a new pair. That is the kind of Working Pant we sell. $2 to $2.50.

CHARLES E. LYNCH,
Promoter of Fashionable Clothing.
367 Main. SPRINGFIELD. 369 Main.
Your money refunded in case of any dissatisfaction whatever.

Lost, A Boy.

He went from the old home hearthstone
Only two years ago,
A laughing, rollicking fellow
It would do you good to know;
Since then we have not seen him,
And we say, with a nameless pain,
The boy that we knew and loved so
We shall never see again.

One bearing the name we gave him
Comes home to us to-day,
But this is not the dear fellow
We kissed and sent away.
Tall as the man he calls father,
With a man's look in his face,
Is he who takes by the hearthstone
The lost boy's olden place.

We miss the laugh that made music
Wherever the lost boy went,
This man has a smile most winsome,
His eyes have a grave intent;
We know he is thinking and planning
His way in this world of men,
And we cannot help but love him,
But we long for our boy again.

We are proud of this manly fellow
Who comes to take his place,
With hints of the vanishing boyhood
In his earnest, thoughtful face;
And yet comes back the longing
For the boy we must henceforth miss,
Whom we sent away from the hearthstone
Forever with a kiss.

—Connecticut Courant.

MONSON ACADEMY COMMENCEMENT.

Monson Academy commencement began with the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening in the Congregational church. The order of service was the one used for several years, with additional music by a quartette composed of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Norcross, Mrs. Rufus Flynt of Palmer, and Frank H. Mason of Worcester. The programme of the special music, which was very fine, was as follows:

Organ Voluntary.....
Te Deum.....Albert Berg
Response, "Prayer is the Soul's Sincere Desire".....Morrison
Anthem, "Sun of My Soul".....Wagner-Schnecker
Organ Postlude.....

The sermon, by Rev. John F. Genung, professor of rhetoric in Amherst College, was one of the most able given for some years: Matthew xxv: 23—"Faithful over a few things."

The men of the first Christian century seem to have been men of very moderate abilities; history at least has little to say of them. But they were good to stand in their place and witness for Christ; good to lay down their lives in martyrdom; good therefore to fill a position such as most of all needed filling in those early days, of faithful commonplace work and testimony to the power of truth.

The world is mostly made up of men who are commonplace, mediocre in talents, men who are not known beyond their own little neighborhood. Most of us are of that kind. And for such it is, I think, that our text was written. It is the commendation pronounced by our Lord on the man with two talents. He did not have so much as the man with five, yet being faithful he received the same commendation, a commendation that the man with one talent might also have received if he had not hid his Lord's money. This two-talented man was the most widely representative man of the three; he represented the great army of moderately endowed men whose destiny is not to do great things or shine in brilliant achievements, but to make a worthy use of the little they have.

To every young man there comes sooner or later a moment of disillusion, when he discovers that he has greater limitations than he thought himself to have, or when he has to content himself with a lower place or a humbler calling than he feels his talents warrant. For such a moment the comfort and lesson of our text is needed. We need to know that we are not forgotten of God, and that we have no excuse for taking shelter in our mediocrity. We need to know that we have a part to play, a talent to invest and use, a trust to guard, moderate though our gifts are. And indeed we can learn the same lesson from history, as well as from Scripture, if we will read human affairs rightly. The world's equable and steady working depends on its mediocre men, men of the rank and file, who are not men of genius or original thought, but practical men with able hands and faithful hearts; men like those obscure Christians of old, whose martyr blood became the seed of the church. The world's prosperity is in the hands of such; they are the running gears of history. The most of us, by the very fact of being common and mediocre, may so live as to belong to the most widely useful class in the world.

The great lesson that lies before us, then, is the prosaic lesson of faithfulness; faithfulness over a few things. Not that we are to be content with what is low and humble if we are fitted for what is higher; not that we are to put up with less than we were made for; that is not true human nature. But have the enthusiasm of your gift, small though it be; though it be only two talents, let it not fail to earn other two; nay, and be not ashamed of one, but use it for the best it may bring forth.

Two aspects of faithfulness it will be useful for us here to note. First, its steadiness, what we may call its staying-power. The really useful abilities of life are the abilities that are so inground within us that they are second nature, so trained that we can call on them at any time and get a response. It is not by fits and starts, not by sudden rocket-flights of excitement, that the great thing of life are done or the real tasks of a man judged, but by what is constant and uniform, what is translated so into character that it can be depended on in the routines and drudgeries of life. The work of the ages needs staying power. The second aspect of faithfulness is its trustworthiness. A faithful man is not only one who is full of faith himself but inspires faith in others. And here is perhaps the most practically important virtue in the world,—to be always where men may know just where to find you. It is a virtue that enters every departure of life; the whole framework of society and business is built on the simple trust and trustworthiness of men. It is that which the Scripture calls being "members one of another." To fulfil our part whether high or lowly, in an honest and earnest way; to be such a member as always fulfils its function, even if only a foot or a hand or a finger; to obey the impulse that comes flashing on our soul from that Lord who is the brain and heart of the universe; this it is to take care of the talents entrusted to us. To be faithful over a few things, to be trustworthy and to have staying power in works of good—a homely ideal, but shall we not do well in these our aspiring days to lend our hearts to it?

And the reward, the wages—what of that? Just as homely and matter-of-fact as the rest. "Thou hast been faithful over a few things; I will make thee ruler over many things." The reward of good doing is the ability and opportunity to do more good; the reward of faithfulness is being put into a position where more faithfulness is required and where more can be accomplished by it; and all of this not in weariness but in joy. "Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." Some time our work will be a joy; we shall see its significance, its use, its depth, its great mission in God's purposes; we shall rejoice in working, free from trammel and weakness and sin. The lowly endowment that has had its season of training and service shall some day rule.

This is a trust not only for the unseen stage of destiny beyond this life, but for the practical details of life and history here. The real reward and honors of the world, its substantial responsibilities, its positions of strenuous dependence and lofty trust, are open solely to those who show their fitness for greater things by faithfulness in lower. Let us be thankful therefore that we all have a right worthy place, however humble, a place appointed by our Master, a place overseen and guarded by His loving eye, as the sun of His great work; and so let it be our glory to be where we can always be counted on, and to remain in our place, never faltering, never giving up, making our work a loving service of God, until coming at last and calling for our talents He may receive His own again with usury.

Public examinations were held all day Monday, with a good attendance of visitors. Owing to illness Miss Battis, teacher of history and mathematics, was not in school. Aside from this the day was a successful one.

The meeting of the board of trustees was held in the afternoon and evening. President Lyman was absent, and vice president Rev. F. S. Hatch was chairman. Reports from all departments revealed a general excellence of the condition of the institution. Plans were made for keeping property in good shape. Some improvements in the administration were inaugurated, and the following officers chosen: President, Rev. P. W. Lyman, Fall River; vice president, Rev. F. S. Hatch; treasurer, W. M. Tucker; auditor, S. F. Cushman; prudential committee, E. F. Morris, Dr. F. W. Ellis, W. M. Tucker. The most interesting feature of the meeting was the presentation by W. N. Flynt of his report on the condition of the Flynt and Packard library. This was the fortieth annual report presented by Mr. Flynt as chairman of this committee, to which position he was reelected.

The class ivy was planted Monday evening at the northwest corner of the Academy building. The exercises were held in the chapel, with the following programme:

Class History.....James W. Chism, '95
Ivy Essay.....Katherine R. Smith, '96
Prophecy.....Gertrude B. Gage, '95
Class Will.....George W. Brown, '95
Class Ode, by.....William C. Moulton—Class

Commencement exercises were held in Memorial Hall Tuesday morning. Commencement weather, although not quite so much in evidence as usual, bore out its reputation. Long before ten o'clock the people began to gather from all parts of the town, and when that hour arrived the hall was filled to overflowing, with the exception of the seats reserved for the school. To the music of the Philharmonic Club of Springfield, the undergraduates marched up the center of the hall and separating at the stage formed an aisle through which the seniors, the faculty, the trustees and dignitaries passed to seats on the platform. The stage was artistically decorated for the occasion by the class of '95. From the arch above the stage were draped in graceful folds three large United States flags, and from the center were suspended the class motto and letters of the class secret, in the class color. The front of the platform was a solid bank of laurel, while below were festooned the class colors, violet and white. The "sweet girl graduates" were white muslin. Rev. Charles B. Sumner of Pomona, College, Cal., formerly a teacher in the Academy and afterward pastor of the Congregational church of this place, was present. At the close of the speaking, which was of unusual merit, Rev. F. S. Hatch, vice president of the trustees, presented the diplomas. His remarks were woven about the class motto, "Onward and Upward." The music was exceptionally fine.

As soon as the exercises at the hall were closed, one hundred or more persons were conveyed to Flynt Park for the alumni dinner and reunion. The dinner was of the picnic order, being put up in boxes, and was furnished by Barr of Springfield. The idea was a novel one for this town, and met with general approval. When dinner was finished the people congregated in the pavilion for the toasts. Prof. Stephen B. Knowlton of Hoboken was toastmaster, and presided in an efficient manner. He spoke first of happy memories of Flynt Park, and later of Prof. Cummings and Prof. Gove, principals of the Academy when he was a student there. He introduced Hon. Henry L. Barnard, L. L. D., of Hartford, who responded to the toast, "Fond Momories." Dr. Barnard spoke of the other venerable men who were present, and said that it was seventy-two years ago since he first saw Monson, and thought that the residents need go no farther to find that "beautiful home." He paid high tribute to the old Academy, and spoke in praise of the excellency of the speaking at the morning exercises.

Alanson Trask of Saratoga Springs, who was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Flynt, was present but could not be induced to speak. He is 88 years old, was in the Academy with Dr. Barnard, but has never visited the place since leaving it.

Mr. Hubbard of Brimfield, class of '73, spoke of the many changes which had taken place in the town since that time.

Rev. James Tufts, eighty-two years old, who has since seen forty-three classes go out of Monson Academy, spoke of the Monson influence which had benefitted sc many.

Mrs. Sophia Foster Churchill of Springfield, spoke upon "The Home."

Dr. Frank L. Smith of Stafford Springs, Ct., told of "Wednesday afternoons in Dr. Hammond's Days;" of the inclination to pull the bell-rope when passing through the hall to the chapel, of the numberless trips to Palmer for a hair-cut in order to skip rhetoricals, of the tendency many had to give the same declamation twice, and thrice, and he by request recited "Spartacus to the Romans," as he had done in the old days.

Dr. C. Oscar Thompson of Boston, who left the Academy fifteen years ago, said that through the study of botany he was led to take up the study of medicine. He spoke of the beauty of Monson and of the public spirit of the men who have done so much for the town.

George W. Brown, class of '95, spoke on the "Lino," and Miss Lena Grace Palmer, also of the graduating class, spoke on the "Philo."

Rev. C. B. Sumner recalled many pleasant incidents of his stay here, and said that he preferred small schools to large ones.

Robert O. Watkins was the last speaker.

The senior reception was held in the Academy hall in the evening. During the evening Robert O. Watkins, class president, presented to the Academy in behalf of the class a Columbian clock for the girls' study room. Dr. F. W. Ellis replied in behalf of the trustees. Later in the evening refreshments were served, consisting of small cakes, ice cream and lemonade. The graduating class numbered twenty-two. Of these ten completed the classical course, Carl Marble Blair, Warren; George William Brown, South Boston; Willis Henry Reed, Albert M. Walker, Stafford Springs; Constantine Demeter Stephanoff, Banks, Macedonia; Frank Arthur Morris and Mabel Florence Tucker, Monson; six the Latin scientific course, Elsie Estelle Bradway, Carrie Lillian Chapin, Frederick Lyon Moores, Willard Converse Nelson, George Edwin Tucker, Monson; Robert Oliphant Watkins, Buffalo, Wy.; seven the English course, James Whiton Chism, Westford, Ct., Bridget Julia Kennedy, Alice May Wing, Bridget Teresa McQuade, William Chester Moulton, Edward Martin Peck and Katherine Beecher Sutcliffe. Four others who were members of the class a year ago, have for various reasons dropped out, and one, a very bright girl, Catherine Helena Parker, has died. Messrs. Stephanoff and Reed joined the class at the beginning of the year. Mr. Stephanoff has taken the four-years' course in two years. Thirteen members of the class are prepared to enter higher institutions, but only the following will do so this year: Stephanoff and Brown go to Yale, Blair to Harvard, Walker to Amherst, Reed to Wesleyan, Moulton and Peck to Worcester School of Technology, Miss Squier to Wellesley, and Miss Carpenter, class of '90, who has been taking a post-graduate course, will go to Mt. Holyoke College. The class of '95 has prospered financially, several entertainments, including a drama which they presented two evenings in town and one at Stafford Springs, having netted them more than enough to pay the expenses of graduation. The succeeding class, that of '96, numbers twenty-one, all of whom hope to complete the course. The school has had 100 pupils the past term, and the average for the year has been 104. The prospects are bright for a large school another year. Arthur Newell Burke, who was elected principal last year, having been acting principal the year preceding, has fully sustained the confidence reposed in him by "the powers that be." He is much liked by the scholars, and is a faithful, earnest worker. Prof. Walter Everard Morse, Miss Harriet Russell Pease, Miss Maud Evelyn Strong, Miss Helen Bradley Tucker, Miss Annie Louise Battis and Miss Elizabeth N. Lee complete the corps of teachers. Miss Battis succeeded Miss Ada Geneva Wing, who resigned in April. All the teachers will return another year with the exception of Miss Battis, whose health will not permit her to do so. Bently L. Rice taught music the first part of the year. Considerable attention has been paid this year, as in former years, to athletics, and the "boys" are more than proud of their victory at Amherst the 8th of this month, when they won the banner by twenty points over their nearest competitor. The athletic association has $50 in the treasury. The Linophilian and Philomathean societies are prosperous. The latter society had a very successful public meeting at the close of the winter term. To the former, Radcliffe S. Hicks, who was a student some 30 years ago, has recently presented his picture, and to the athletic association the sum of $10. There are now 1850 volumes in the Flynt and Packard Library. Principal Burke leaves July 1st on a Raymond excursion for the National Teachers' Convention held at Denver, Col.; from there he will go by way of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Portland, Oregon, to Alaska, and returning by the Northern Pacific route will visit Yellowstone Park. Prof. and Mrs. Morse left yesterday for their home in Maine, Prof. Morse will attend the summer school at Portland, Me. Miss Strong leaves one week from to-morrow for a seven-weeks' trip through Ireland, England, Scotland, France, Germany and Switzerland. Miss Pease will be at her home in Somers, Ct., a part of the vacation, and with Miss Clara A. Wood, superintendent of schools, will attend the Clark University, Worcester. Miss Tapley will continue to serve as matron at Hammond Hall another year.

SOME ROMANTIC STORIES ABOUT BANK OF ENGLAND NOTES.

The number of notes coming into the bank of England daily is about 20,000, and 350,000 are destroyed weekly. The average life of a bank note is about 70 days, and they are never re-issued. The destruction of the documents takes place about once a week, and at 7 p. m. After the notes have been previously canceled by punching a hole through the amount (in figures) and tearing off the signature of the chief cashier, they are burned in a closed furnace containing merely shavings and bundles of wood. Once they used to be burnt in a cage, the result of which was that once a week the city was darkened with burnt fragments of bank of England notes.

Bank notes of the value of thousands of pounds are annually lost or destroyed by accident. In the 40 years between 1792 and 1832 there were outstanding notes of the bank of England, presumed to have been either lost or destroyed, amounting to £1,330,000 odd, every shilling of which was clear profit to the bank.

Very curious, occasionally, is the fate of bank notes. They have been found in extraordinary places, have been unlawfully manufactured, have been lost or mislaid under remarkable circumstances, have been destroyed by accident or of set purpose, and have in cases innumerable been the cause of crime, as well as led to the discovery of the criminal.

A few years ago a merchant of Limerick discovered a "pusher" of counterfeit bank notes in the following extraordinary manner: A stranger one day visited his shop, and in payment for what he received placed a new bank of Ireland "one pound note" on the counter, and, receiving his change, took his departure. On each bank of Ireland note is a list of the towns in which it has branches, amongst which is the town of Gorey, in Wexford, and as the merchant was putting the note into his safe this particular town caught his eye, and the idea entered his head that it was misspelt, it being down as "Gory." Ordering a clerk to follow his visitor, he took the note to the office of the bank, where after close scrutiny it was found to be a clever forgery. The "pusher" was tracked to a leading hotel, and in a trunk found in his apartments were discovered several thousand pounds of counterfeit bank notes.

A few years ago Mr. Munro, the sculptor, gave his sister a five-pound note to pay a bill. She put the "bit of paper" in her pocket, and for a time forgot all about it, even sending her white dress to the laundry without remembering it. When the dress came back from the wash, recollecting the occurrence, and never for a moment expecting to find any trace of the document, she nevertheless looked in the pocket in a hopeless sort of way, and to her surprise and astonishment she found a lump of something hard, which on being damped and carefully smoothed out, was seen to be the missing note, somewhat diminished in quantity, but none the less valuable for its practical acquaintance with the washing-tub. It was duly cashed at the bank on it being explained that the note had been washed, boiled, starched and ironed, which accounted for its dilapidated condition.

Some 60 odd years ago the cashier of a Liverpool merchant once received in tender for a business payment a bank of England note, which he held up to the scrutiny of the light so as to make sure of its genuineness. He observed some partially indistinct red marks of words traced out on the front of the note beside the lettering, and on the margin. Curiosity tempted him to try to decipher the words so strangely inscribed. With great difficulty, so faintly written were they, and so much obliterated, the words were found to form the following sentence: "If this note should fall into the hands of John Dean of Longhill, near Carlisle, he will learn hereby that his brother is languishing a prisoner in Algiers." Mr. Dean, on being shown the note, lost no time in asking the government of the day to make intercession for his brother's freedom. It appeared that for 11 long years the latter had been a slave to the Dey of Algiers, and that his family and relatives believed him to be dead. With a piece of wood he had traced in his own blood on the bank note the message which was eventually to secure his release. The government aided the efforts of his brother to set him free, this being accomplished on payment of a ransom to the Dey.

NEITHER ONE NOR THE OTHER.—An elderly Irish woman who was in a Madison avenue car wished to get out at Forty-second street. The conductor was on the front platform, so the woman, addressing a gentlemanly looking young man opposite her, said:

"Stop the car!"

The young man looked over her head.

"Stop the car, I say!" she repeated, glaring at him savagely.

Still no response.

"Didn't I tell ye to stop this car?" she shouted, gripping her umbrella.

"I am not the conductor," remarked the young man, with sarcasm, while the young women in the car tittered.

"Faix, and you're not," replied the Irish woman scornfully, "an' you're no gentleman nayther. Moreover, you're no blessin' to your mother, you're not. If you were, you wouldn't let a respectable woman get carried two blocks out of her way without any askin' from her eather."—New York Herald.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 21, 1895.

PALMER NEWS.

For the Opening of the New Opera House.

Rehearsals for the production of "Zephra," at the opening of the new opera house next Wednesday and Thursday nights, are being held every afternoon and evening, and the beautiful spectacle is rapidly assuring proper form for its first presentation in Palmer. The largest part of the principal talent for this production of "Zephra" Mr. Averill, the manager of the piece, has brought from Springfield, they assuming the same roles here as in that city. Mr. John Roberts will sing the part of "Decius," the king; Mrs. Nella Houghton-Johnson the part of "Neyera," the princess; Miss Julia Slatter the part of "Nadia;" Mr. Frank Hazelwood the part of "Alexis;" Mr. Frank Hosmer the part of "Thoras;" Mr. Jack Spencer of Manchester, N. H., the part of "Solon." The chorus will also be strengthened by members from Springfield, and also the dance specialties, "Love Among the Roses," by Herbert White and Marion Tanner; the "Newsboys," by Waldo Fisher and Charles Roshauser, and "De Coon Break," by the well-known little darkey duo, have been engaged for both performances. Three of the prettiest characters in the entire cast are the parts of "Unis," the fairy godmother, sung by Mrs. Flynt, who is one of the most pleasing and popular singers in Hampden County, "Zephra," the title role interpreted by Miss Abbie Wallace, who in looks and actions will certainly prove an ideal queen, and "Flora," the friend of "Neyera," in which Miss Ola Northrop has one of the cleverest pieces of acting in the entire production. Mr. H. W. McGregory, the popular Palmer tenor, will essay the part of "Juna," the prince, and the full Court Square Theatre orchestra, which played for "Zephra" in Springfield, will accompany the singers. Below we quote the cast as they will appear in their respective specialties:

ROYAL GUARDS.
Miss May Robinson, chaperone.

Mesdames	Annie Fish,
C. A. Brown,	Lottie Bray,
F. W. Harrison,	Hattie Paine,
G. W. Cross.	Helen Robinson,
Misses	Hattie Stebbins,
Lena Warriner,	May Wilder,
Georgia Packard,	Effie Moffatt,
Hattie Warriner,	Nellie Finnerty,
Adonna Graham,	Carrie Fish,
Ethel Ely,	Etha Turner,
Lela Fuller,	Bridget Dowd,
Lucretia Sisk,	Mabel Brown,
Blanche Lymar,	Susie Coleman.

NAIADS.
Mrs. F. A. Royce, chaperone.

Misses	Lulu Dillion,
Phoebe Hastings,	Bessie Royce,
Eloise Stone,	Bertha Royce,
Pearl Lawton,	Lillian Kempton,
Ola Northrop,	Hattie Flynt,
Blanche Hellyar,	Helen Converse.

BLACK BIRDS.
Mrs. A. E. Fitch, Chaperone.

Louisa Hitchcock,	Lulu Goodes,
Ella Bray,	Sarah Ball,
Clara French,	Lizzie Holden,
Rosa Holden,	Persis Downey,
Etta Boright,	Pearl Fish,
Marion Loomis,	Mabel Lyman.

LA CIGALE.
Mrs. H. C. Strong, chaperone.

Mary Webster.	Alice LeGro,
Mary Holden,	Marion Hellyar,
Mildred Brown,	Eudocia Flynt,
Grace Strong,	Olive Pope,
Hattie Prescott,	Maud Helliwell,
Ethel Caryl,	Myrtle Smith,
May Dillion,	Grace Thompson,
Jennie Bray,	Harriet Fitch.

BROWNIES.
Mrs. W. W. Leach and Miss Helen Robinson, chaperon.

Louis Pope,	Clifford Shaw,
Gustavus King,	Grover Goodes,
John Milligan,	Rufus Parkhurst,
Louis Brainerd,	John Matthews,
Newton Wing,	Robert Kenefick,
Francis Burdick,	Rodney Caryl,
Michael Dillon,	Francis Barton,
James Dawson,	Junior Flynt.

MALE CHORUS.

First Tenors.
H. W. McGregory,	G. A. Moore,
G. C. Stanchfield,	Jack Spencer.
W. H. Osgood,
Second Tenors.
Edwin E. Brooks,	Fred Rogers,
C. P. Carey,	J. B. Breckenridge,
Myron Coles,	Francis Hosmer.
First Bassos.
A. E. Fitch,	R. C. Studley,
L. H. Washburn,	H. J. Merriam,
F. U. Wetmore,	H. W. Hitchcock.
E. C. Gould,
Second Bassos.
W. R. Milligan,	H. E. Sisk,
H. N. Sager,	D. C. White,
W. H. Hayden,	J. C. Boden,
John W. Roberts,	F. M. Eager.
W. E. Breckenridge,

Reserved seats will go on sale to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock at Allen's drug store.

The Scarlet Fever Cases at Thorndike.

Thorndike is apparently recovering from the scarlet fever epidemic which has threatened that place for the last few weeks, as only four new cases have been reported in the past ten days, and none of these are in new families, all being in families which have had previous cases, the new cases being the result of contact with the first. All employes of the mill, in whose families the disease is at present are prohibited from working, and the board of health has ordered all families closely quarantined; two officers have been appointed whose duty it is to visit the quarantined families twice each day and supply all wants. Rumors that the overseers of the poor have denied assistance to needy families have been floating about, but it is needless to say they are untrue to the last degree. The report evidently started from the fact that one man in whose family the disease had made its appearance was bemoaning his ill-luck one day while at work in the stable of his employer, and regretting his inability to pay his bills. A bystander suggested that he apply to the overseers of the poor, and offered to speak to them for him, which he did. The man was requested to call on the overseers in person, and did so, but admitted that he was not in need of anything. He was told that when he was aid would be cheerfully furnished. It was also reported that one family which the town was helping had not tasted meat for several weeks. Investigation proved that the overseers of the poor had furnished everything the family had asked for, but they had not requested meat; a request was made later, and the butcher now has an order to give them a weekly supply up to a generous figure.

There is no doubt that this last outbreak of the disease, some three weeks ago, was the result of carelessness in the matter of observing quarantine orders, and to a lack of discretion on the part of some of the physicians in charge of the cases, in allowing patients to go out and go to school before they had reached a stage where they were incapable of communicating the disease. It is stated that patients have been allowed to go out and mingle with the public in two or three weeks after coming down, and before they had completed the skinning process which follows this disease, these particles of skin being extremely liable to carry the affliction to any with whom they may come in contact. There also seems to have been a lack of promptness in the matter of reporting the cases to the board of health. The law says that cases of contagious diseases shall be reported "immediately." In one case a notice was written Saturday and mailed Monday forenoon, reaching Palmer on the afternoon mail of that day. Other reports have been delayed in a similar manner. The board of health has appointed Dr. Hendee as its agent to look after all cases of contagious diseases, and he has instructed the other physicians to go to the nearest telephone and notify him at once on the discovery of new cases, yet the mails have been resorted to in the reporting of cases since that time. Unnecessary delay in matters of this kind is not only dangerous to the public health, but may cause the physician trouble, as the selectmen are determined to prosecute offenders if they are not prompt in their reports. The fine is not less than $50.

Clifford Wheeler, son of Superintendent Wheeler of the state primary school, fell from a tree in which he was climbing yesterday afternoon and broke his left wrist.

The Depot Village Cemetery Enlargment.

An attempt will be made at the special town meeting next Monday to rescind the vote of the town providing for the enlargement of the cemetery in the Depot village. The principal reasons given why the vote should be rescinded are that there is a great deal of land in the present cemetery at present unused, enough to last for several years; also that it be unwise to enlarge a cemetery so near the residence part of the village, the better plan being to start a new cemetery at some distance from the residence part. It is true that there is some land in the present cemetery which is not taken up; some of it is desirable and some is not; at best the present ground can be made to answer the demand upon it for only a few years before more ground must be provided. In that case would it not be better to enlarge the present cemetery, which will always remain where it is as long as the town exists, than to go away from the village and lay out a new and seventh cemetery in the town? The land needed can be acquired cheaper and better now than eight or ten years hence, when it is possible that a portion of that desired may be occupied by buildings. Though only a small part of that which it is proposed to add is suitable for building purposes, that part is nearest the present cemetery, and the balance would be worthless for the purposes of addition without it. The town does not need another cemetery within its borders; the one at the Depot village should be enlarged, and then at the next March meeting the town should vote to accept the statutes relating to cemeteries and cemetery commissioners, providing for the care of cemeteries by the latter, which are elected by the town. When this is done there are a number of persons who stand ready to leave money to the town for the care of the cemeteries, and in a few years the commissioners could, doubtless by the sale of lots, add enough to accumulate a fund which would provide for the perpetual care of the cemeteries without any expense to the town, and have them kept in a neat condition, instead of overrun with grass and weeds, or slightly cared for by private enterprise.

Illegal Liquor Seller Caught.

Deputy Sheriff Studley hasn't gone into the liquor business, although a stranger might have inferred as much if he had seen the load of "booze" which that officer escorted into the village last Friday night. He was given a search warrant for the vehicle of Immanuel Boubardier, a Holyoke man who was suspected of attempting to work up a route in Three Rivers. He had been in that place the day before taking orders, and Friday night was seen coming in with his load of stuff. The matter was kept very quiet, but some lively hustling was done. After a hot drive to Palmer Judge Robinson was called out of the Eastern Star meeting considerably after 9 o'clock, and there was another hunt for Selectman Atkins, who was wanted to sign the complaint. He was found at the Business club's rooms, and no time was lost in making out the papers. The officer drove rapidly to Three Rivers and soon located his man. With one of those child-like and bland smiles peculiar to himself Mr. Studley approached the fellow and asked him if he had carried "stuff" into the house he had just come from, and received an affirmative reply. He was asked if he received pay for it, and acknowledged that he did; he also agreed to sell the officer whatever he might want, and said he had plenty in his wagon. The officer suggested that he would like to see it, and found two quarts of gin, the same of whisky, 228 bottles and a keg of lager beer, which he brought to Palmer with him, as well as Boubardier. A hearing in the matter will be held the first of July, and it will be quite likely to go hard with the peddler, as he is not a common carrier, and was delivering his goods and taking the money for them. A charge of illegally keeping liquor with intent to sell will be heard next Tuesday morning.

High School Graduating Programme.

The graduating exercises of the Palmer high school, which are to be held in the new opera house next Friday evening at 8 o'clock, will follow the method adopted a few years ago, an address by some prominent educator being given the graduates and assembled friends instead of essays by the several members of the class. With the double attraction of the new opera house and the fact that President Gates of Amherst is to give the address, the house will no doubt be filled to its utmost capacity. The programme will be as follows:

Overture to Martha.....Flotow
Misses Elizabeth G. Clifford, Eva Sophia Forte.
Song of Welcome.....J. W. Tufts
High School.
Address.....
Merrill E. Gates, L. L. D., Pres. of Amherst College
Banjo Solo.....
Miss Carrie J. Fish, with piano accompaniment by Miss Bertha D. Royce.
Class Song.....
Presentation of Diplomas, Mr. W.E. Breckenridge.
Song. "America".....High School.

In the evening the class will give a reception to invited guests in the opera house. The class day exercises will be held next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock on Oak Knoll, with this programme:

President's Address.....Olive F. Parent
Class History.....Bertha D. Royce
Statistics.....John H. Sharratt
Quotations.....Miss Bertha A. Hastings
Sermon.....Miss Carrie J. Fish
Poem.....Miss Eva G. Forte
Prophecy.....
Misses Margery Bruce and Elizabeth Clifford
Class Will.....
John Crowley and Victor D. Murdock.

The Business Club's Adjourned Meeting.

The adjourned meeting of the Palmer Business and Social Club was held last Friday evening, and it was voted not to enlarge the club rooms. With the discontinuance of the state primary school next month it is probable that a large number of the employes will be dispensed with. Probably the oldest employe in point of years is M. J. Sisk, the messenger, who is well known by nearly every resident of this village, and deservedly popular, and a committee consisting of H. C. Strong, W. R. Milligan, D. L. Bodfish, A. L. Hills and E. P. Ball was appointed to confer with the state board of lunacy and charity and endeavor to have Mr. Sisk retained at the new institution in some capacity. A committee on village improvement, consisting of C. F. Grosvenor, W. R. Milligan and J. H. Woolrich, was appointed to consider the needs of the village and report to the next meeting of the club, when it will further the suggestions if found advisable. The matter of sprinkling the streets was thoroughly discussed, and as H. C. Strong thought the only reason for the failure of the sprinkler to run was a lack of subscriptions, he was appointed a committee of one to see what could be done in the matter of raising funds. He will report to the business committee.

School Matters.

At a meeting of the school committee last Saturday all the present teachers were re-elected for next year. The committee voted to employ drawing and music teachers for the schools next year, they to begin work in September. The four young lady graduates of this year's class in the high school who have the highest averages will, if they desire it, be given positions as pupil teachers in the schools of the town next year without pay, getting the experience for their time. This year the pupil teachers were paid a small amount, but as Palmer was about the only town in the state where this was done the committee decided to fall into line with the other towns in the matter next year. Bidds for transporting pupils to and from the high school from the other villages will be advertised for, and Messrs. Moore and Hobbs will present the views of the committee regarding the new school house at Thorndike to the voters at the special town meeting next Monday.

The farmers at the state primary school have commenced haying.

Ringling Bros.' circus will exhibit on the agricultural park on Tuesday, July 16th.

C. D. Holbrook is building an addition to his barn in the rear of his Knox street residence.

Forty-nine pupils took the examinations for admission to the high school, yesterday and to-day.

A. H. King has sold the Emulous Harvey farm east of Fosket's Mills to H. P. Gerald of Brookfield.

J. B. Shaw and W. A. Breckenridge are taking the annual inventory at the state primary school.

N. W. Chandler goes next week to New York to study law, where he expects to remain at least two years.

Thomas lodge of Masons was represented by 20 members at the celebration of Bunker Hill Day Monday at Charlstown.

Postmaster Royce has among his list of unclaimed letters one addressed to "Mrs. Rogers, back of the top of the hill."

There will be no preaching services in the Baptist church for the next two Sundays, but Sunday school will be held at the usual hour.

The hat shop will shut down to-morrow night until the latter part of August or the first of September, after a very successful season.

D. F. Holden will go next week to Brooklyn, N. Y., to engage in the real estate business. His family will remain here for the present.

The Block Island train over the New London road will probably make its first trip of the season on the 29th, one week from to-morrow.

Next Sunday will be the third after Pentecost at St. Thomas's Catholic church, with mass at 10.30 a. m., Sunday school at 3 p. m. and vespers at 7.30.

A. Trumble, a former resident of Palmer Center, fell between the cars of a freight train on the New London Northern road at Montville Tuesday morning, and was fatally injured.

Twenty acres of standing grass, five acres of rye, 30 tons of hay in barn, a quantity of bedding, farming tools, etc., will be sold at auction to-morrow at 1 o'clock p. m. at Overlook Farm.

The Sunday school of the Congregational church will have a picnic at Evergreen Park, State Line, July 24. The Sunday school of the Baptist church is also arranging for a picnic.

The express train which passes Palmer at 7.55 in the evening stopped long enough Wednesday evening for the train men to put off two "hobos" who were snugly ensconsed on the top of one of the coaches.

Humphrey Sullivan of Bondsville was before the district court Monday morning charged with drunkenness, and paid a fine of $5. He says that he sees where the drink habit is taking him, and shall drink on more.

The Boston and Albany road will sell round-trip tickets to the meeting of the American Institute of Homeopathy at Newport for $4.60, the tickets being good going June 19-20, and good for the return trip including the 30th.

The Congregational church voted last evening to extend an invitation to the members of the Baptist congregation to worship with it during the closing of the Baptist house of worship, so far as it may be agreeable to them to do so.

"A Phase of Our Wider Work" will be the subject at the Congregational church Sunday morning. In the evening the pastor will speak on "A Lost Bible." The Men's Sunday Evening Club has secured a male quartette to assist in the musical service in the evening.

A new time table went into effect on the Boston and Albany road last Sunday, but no changes were made in the schedule at Palmer for passenger trains. The milk train now leaves for Boston at 6.30 in the morning instead of at night, and the farmers bring their milk to the car in the morning.

Citizens who have suggestions to make regarding needed or desirable improvements about the village are requested to communicate with the committee appointed by the Buisness and Social Club to consider such matters, either in person or by letter. The members of the committee are C. F. Grosvenor, W. R. Milligan and J. H. Woolrich.

The trustees of the Palmer Savings Bank held their quarterly meeting Monday afternoon and declared a semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent, in addition to which $1500 was carried to the guarantee fund. It was voted that for the present at least the bank will not close Saturday afternoons, the hours remaining as heretofore, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

L. D. Talbert of Woodstock, Vt., who came to Palmer about two weeks ago to visit friends, was taken with a hemorrhage at Ware last Saturday afternoon just as he was boarding the train to return to Palmer after a visit to acquaintances in that town. On reaching Palmer the hemorrhage became quite severe, and he is now in a serious condition.

Triduum, or three-days' prayer, has been observed at St. Thomas's Catholic church Wednesday, yesterday and to-day, in honor of the Feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Wednesday and yesterday there were services at 7.30 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. There was mass at 5.30 this morning, and the observance will end with the service at 7.30 this evening.

W. H. Hitchcock has decided not to go to Springfield, and will continue his business in Palmer. Although the opportunity is a most excellent one, on looking over the ground he found that he would have more work to do there than here, and did not feel equal to the task. The low prices which he announced on his stock here will continue until the 27th, and possibly longer.

W. C. Dewey of Springfield, formerly of Palmer, was on the Sunday morning newspaper train from New York which was wrecked at New Haven last Sunday, but fortunately was not hurt. The train was running about 50 miles an hour, and the air brakes failed to work when the engineer applied them as he approached a sharp curve, the cars leaving the track at the curve and piling up promiscuously.

The Flynt Building & Construction Co. has completed plans for a large silk dyeing plant for the Alexander Dye Works at Lodi, N. J., and yesterday closed the contract for the erection of the buildings. They comprise a dye house, 120x300 feet; drug room, 40x50 feet; preparation rooms, 100x70 feet; engine house, 30x40 feet; boiler house for 1200-horse power of boilers, and a chimney 125 feet high. Work will be begun at once.

An excursion will be run over the New London Northern road and by steamer City of Boston to New York and Coney Island, a week from to-morrow night. The special train will leave Palmer at 9 p. m., and returning will reach Palmer at an early hour Monday morning, allowing patrons to leave home after business hours Saturday night and return in time for work Monday morning, giving all day Sunday at New York or Coney Island. The fare for the round trip is $2 25.

In selling the reserved seat tickets for the operatic spectacle of Zephra next week the following plan has been adopted: when Allen's drug store is opened to-morrow morning numbers will be given to any desiring them, then at 9 o'clock the tickets will be sold in numerical order to those holding the numbered cards, but not more than ten tickets to any one person. Persons holding cards must be on hand when their number is called, or their turn will be forfeited.

The Mt. Bunyan Granite Co. has the contract to erect a large tomb in St. Joseph's cemetery at Pittsfield, and the work will be in charge of P. H. Mullaney of Palmer. The structure will be of Mt. Bunyan granite, with a frontage of 22 feet, a depth of 24 feet, and a height to the apex of the roof of 23 feet, including the large stone cross with which the structure will be surmounted, which will weigh 1800 pounds. The tomb will have two corner pilasters 10 feet in height, a rock face front, and will be capable of receiving 28 caskets.

The JOURNAL has received an invitation to the golden wedding anniversary, the sixth of July, of Mr. and Mrs. Q. A. Washburn, at their home, 7 Burlington avenue, Boston. Mr. Washburn writes that he was born and reared in Palmer, but not knowing whether any of his old schoolmates are living or not, wishes the JOURNAL to invite any who may see this notice to write to him, or to call upon him on that day. The history of the town shows that Mr. Washburn was the son of Ira and Maria Washburn, and was born July 10th, 1827.

Children's Sunday will be observed at St. Paul's Universalist church next Sunday in a new and novel manner, the Sunday school giving a concert in the morning at 10.30, with the following programme:

Organ Voluntary.....
Anthem.....Quartette
Psalm 19. Lord's Prayer. Sup't., S. S. and people
Hymn 37. "Christian Life Songs." Quartette and S. S.....
Address, Sup't. W. H. Small. Topic: "The Significance of Children's Sunday."
Solo.....Member of Miss Ely's Class
Recitation.....Members of Miss Thompson's Class
Recitation.....Member of Mrs. Moulton's Class
Duet.....Member of Miss Ely's Class
.....Member of Mrs. Moulton's Class
Recitation.....Members of Miss Ely's Class
Recitation.....Members of Miss Wassum's Class
Reading.....
Hymn 121. "Christian Life Songs." Quartette and S. S.....
Baptism of Children.....The Pastor
Solo. "Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me".....Miss Sexton
(1). Distribution of Flowers. Members of Miss Ely's Class, Members of Miss Wassum's Class.....
(2). Offertory. Members of Mr. Moulton's Class.....
(3). Announcements.....The Pastor
Hymn 541. "Church Harmonies." Quartette and Congregation.....
Benediction.....The Pastor

A horse hitched to one of the posts supporting the wooden awning in front of W. A. Barnes's store last Saturday morning became frightened when the American Express Co's. wagon was backed up to the sidewalk in front of him, and with a persistency worthy of a better cause settled back to pull away from his fastening. The tie strap was a stout one, however, and did not give; the animal pulled once and then slacked up a little, took a good breath and started in with a shake of the head which seemed to say "Well, I guess I can;" but he couldn't; then after another good breath he settled down to a steady thing with all four feet braced and a full head of determination on. Something had to give, and it was the awning post, which was pulled from its fastenings at both top and bottom and came down all at once. Another horse which was hitched close by and which had until this time taken little interest in the matter, was struck on the head with the post and resented it by a sudden attempt to mix things up generally, but was controlled by its owner. Meanwhile the animal which had created all the excitement, having accomplished his purpose of getting a few feet further from the express delivery wagon, stopped still and looked on with an "I told you so" air. Total damage, about 25 cents, all to the awning post.

The pastors of the Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Universalist churches of the town addressed a letter some time since to the school board, petitioning that prayer be a part of the graduation exercises of the high school. The board replied that it would adhere to the plan of the past two years and exclude prayer. These pastors then asked to be allowed to present the reasons for having prayer in the exercises. This was allowed, and they appeared before the board last Saturday afternoon. They urged that a Godless education was not a true education; that sectarianism should not be taught in our schools, but that God should be recognized and a connecting link be thus allowed between the education in the schools and in the churches. They advocated the making of the Lord's Prayer official in our school system, to be used on public occasions and to be allowed in the opening exercises of the schools. They showed that the form of the Lord's Prayer was substantially the same in the Protestant and Roman Catholic versions of the Bible; that it was used by all the churches represented in the town; that it was recognized as a universal prayer at the Parliament of religions when Cardinal Gibbons led in its repetition; that its use in our school system would save our schools from utter Godlessness and offend no religious conviction or scruple. The board again decided not to permit prayer of any kind.

The high school scholars cleared about $120 from their entertainment course last winter, and have invested the money as originally intended, in books for the nucleus of a school library, 175 volumes being secured, a list of which is given:

Charles Dickens,	15 vols.
Waverley Novels,	15 "
George Eliot,	8 "
Thackeray,	10 "
Hawthorne,	10 "
Holmes,	13 "
Carlyle,	10 "
Irving,	8 "
English Men of Letters,	30 "
Darwin's—"Origin of Species,"
" "The Descent of Man,"	1 vol.
McCarthy's—"History of Our Own Times,"	20 vols.
Bacon's Essays,
Macaulay's Essays,	3 "
Emerson's Essays,	2 "
Thomas Hughes,—"Tom Brown's School Days."
"John Halifax, Gentleman,"—by Miss Mulock.
Thomas Hughes'—"Tom Brown at Oxford."
Walton's "Complete Angler."
Blackmore's "Lorna Doone."
The Student's Cicero.
Life of Daniel Webster.
Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progess."
Lamb's "Tales of Shakespeare."
Lew Wallace—"Ben-Hur."
" "Fair God."
Munger's "On the Threshold."
DeQuincey's "Confessions of an Opium Eater."
Writings of Jonathan Swift.
Gibbon's "History of Rome,"	3 vols.
Lythn's "Last Days of Pompeii."
Tale of Troy.
Writings of Daniel Defoe.
Pepy's Diary.
Plutarch's Lives,	3 vols.
Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad,"	2 "
" "Prince and Pauper."
Kingley's "Westward, Ho!"
Kingsley's "Hypatia."
Barrie's "Little Minister."
" "A Window in Thrums."
Sarah K. Bolton's "Girls who Became Famous."
Sarah K. Bowlton's "Boys who Became Famous."
Poems—
Spenser.
Milton.
Cowper.
Dryden.
Shelley.
Bryant.
Keats.
Whittier.
Longfellow.
Tennyson.
Wordsworth.
Gray-Collins, etc.
Burns.

Home From School for Summer Vacation.

J. E. Breckenridge from Yale.
Miss Blanche Hastings from Vassar.
Miss Carrie Tuthill from Brown University.
Henry W. Holbrook and David Dillon from Tufts.
Miss Bessie Moore from the Elms at Springfield.
H. H. Brown from a post-graduate course at Harvard.
Charles Atkins from the Worcester Military School.
J. Harold Shaw and Calvin Hastings from Worcester Academy.
Miss Annie Fish from Montpelier Seminary at Montpelier, Vt.
Miss Nellie Smith of Forest Lake and Miss Alice Brown from Mt. Holyoke.
Prof. W. E. Breckenridge from Haverford College grammar school, Haverford, Pa.
Miss Addie Rogers from her position as instructor in Albany Academy at Albany, N. Y.

Personal.

Miss Ida Barret spent Sunday in Springfield.
Mrs. Harry Tafft of Boston is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wing.
Mrs. N. Aiken is visiting her sister in Holyoke for a couple of weeks.
A. J. Northrop has been spending the week with his son in Boston.
Miss Blanche Hatch of Ware is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Moore.
Miss Jean Richmond of Springfield spent Sunday with Miss Addie Rogers.
Andrew Callahan of East Hartford, Ct., visited friends in town this week.
N. W. Chandler has been spending the week in Stamford and New York city.
Miss Nettie Coleman is spending a couple of weeks in the vicinity of New London.
Mrs. J. J. Rafter, sister of Mrs. Rufus Flynt, is to sail for Carlsbad, Germany, July 13th.
Misses Irene and Katharine Brown spent a part of the week with friends in Springfield.
Mrs. Baker of West Warren is quite ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Rhodes.
Miss Lizzie Wassum was graduated from the Springfield training school for teachers Monday.
E. H. Rollins, manager of the electric company, left this morning for a stay of ten days in Vermont.
Herbert Rhodes has been compelled to leave the store of E. A. Buck & Co. on account of ill health.
George W. Cross of Boston spent Sunday and Monday in town, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Eastman.
Mr. and Mrs. John Roche of Boston have been spending a part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roche.
Mrs. Carleton Stebbins has moved from Colton Hollow to one of L. H. Brigham's houses on Walnut street.
Misses Maria and Lizzie Maloney of Springfield were guests of their cousin, Miss B. A. Murphy, part of last week.
Dr. and Mrs. William Holbrook attended the annual reunion of the Army of the Potomac at New London Tuesday.
Dr. J. K. Warren of Worcester, formerly of Palmer, was married Wednesday evening to Miss Nettie Balch of Newburyport.
Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brewer of Mittineague, formerly of Palmer, sail from New York to-morrow for England, Mrs. Brewer's former home.
John Koster, a former resident of Bondsville, now of New York state, has been spending the week with Dr. Hendee and other friends in town.
A. S. Campbell has moved his family to a farm in Belchertown, and Mr. Rice of that town has moved to the Campbell house on South Main street.
Invitations are out for the wedding next Wednesday at Chatham, N. Y., of Miss Mabel McQuaid, formerly of Palmer, and Charles W. Allen of Chatham.
John Page, formerly of Palmer, graduated Wednesday from the Y. M. C. A. Training School at Springfield. He has accepted a position as assistant secretary of a Y. M. C. A.
Miss E. M. Pierce and Miss Gertrude Ball went last Friday to Smith College; Miss Pierce returned Monday, but Miss Ball remained to the commencement exercises this week.

Shall We Enlarge Our Cemetery?

In view of the fact that we shall have to expend some thousands of dollars for school purposes at Thorndike this year, is it wise just at present to add to our burden by buying more land adjacent to our cemetery, when in the judgment of many it is not considered a wise thing to do? There is still enough unoccupied space within the present enclosure to last for several years, if properly laid out. Let this be utilized, by all means, before buying more; then we may be better able to judge whether it would be best to go outside of the village precincts, as others are doing, or to continue to encroach upon the borders of our village dwellers. Let our voters think well of this matter before deciding. A VOTER.

BONDSVILLE.

Miss Ora Parent is home from Smith College for a vacation.

The French Catholic church is being treated to a fresh coat of paint.

Miss Edith Hobson is home from the Training School in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. William Riviere spent Sunday with his father at Three Rivers.

Charles Crouch of West Warren was the guest Friday of Mr. and Mrs. James Fuller.

Henry Hobson is at Boston this week, attending the reunion of the crew of the Keresage.

James Fuller has an apple tree on which are apples as large as robins' eggs, and also blossoms.

Mrs. Noble will spend a few days at Waltham, with Mr. and Mrs. Getchell, on her way home.

Miss Abbott of Windsor, Vt., was the guest of Miss Alice Wilson last week, at the Union House.

Daniel Lusty and Miss Hannah Sullivan were married at St. Bartholomew's church Tuesday aftrnoon.

John Gray, who was baggage master at the depot here, has taken the position as station master at Indian Orchard.

Mrs. N. A. Wood and child of Chicopee Falls are visiting Mrs. Wood's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Holden.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harrington of Boston are expected to-morrow to spend a week or two with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Russell.

Mrs. E. J. Fuller and son Phillip will start Saturday for Unionville, Ct., for a week's visit with her sister, Miss Ida Rust.

W. H. Noble, who has been engineer for the Boston Duck Co, the past four years, has severed his connection with the company.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis returned to their home in West Warren Saturday, after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Davis's grandparents.

Three or four more cases of scarlet fever are reported in the place, one in Mr. Donovan's family, two in the family of Jerry Carmody and one in Ed Marston's family.

Daniel Lusty and Miss Hannah Sullivan were married Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Rev. Mr. Cruise. The best man was John Lusty, a brother of the groom, and the bridesmaid was Miss Ellen Sullivan, a sister of the bride.

THORNDIKE.

A Polish dance will be held at Union Hall to-morrow.

Mrs. Charles McCarthy is visiting her daughter in Franklin.

Mrs. E. B. Williams and family are spending a vacation in Millbury.

Mrs. John Bedford and family have moved from this place to Westerly, R. I.

Victor Murdock has sold three wheels the past week to parties in Millbury.

T. J. Clifford attended the marriage of Dr. M. W. Flynn at Pittsfield on Wednesday.

Miss Emily Gross of Brimfield is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. J. Parker, for a few days.

Miss Maggie Hartnett will graduate from Childs' Business College on the 28th of this month.

Miss Mary Shea left this week for Popham Beach, where she will spend her vacation.

Mrs. Meader and children, Winnie and Earl, of Gardner, Me., are the guests of Mrs. G. W. Keith.

The Thorndikes will cross bats with Wares here to-morrow afternoon, and a good game may be looked for.

Mrs. George Mooers returned this week from Thompsonville, where she has been visiting her sister.

The Thorndikes won their second game from the Three Rivers club at the latter place on Saturday; score 32 to 7.

Mrs. Michael Sullivan has moved with her family to Putnam, Ct., where Mr. Sullivan is overseer in one of the mills.

Clara A. Hale gave a party to neighbors and a few friends one evening this week. Refreshments were served, and a good time prevailed.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Sullivan have the sympathy of many friends in the death of their oldest son, Johnie, of diphtheria on Saturday last.

Dennis, the three-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Sullivan, died on Thursday of scarlet fever, making ten children who have died within a week.

The attempt to organize a procession of horribles for the Fourth has been given up, as there was not enough interest shown to have the scheme go on.

Dennis Healy left here this week for Boston, where he sailed on the Majestic of the White Star line for Ireland, where he will remain about three months.

Rev. E. B. Blanchard left this week for New Hampshire, where he will remain three weeks, during which time there will be no service at the Congregational church.

R. W. Murch has been appointed a special police and will look after the scarlet fever cases on the Thorndike Co's. premises. Those outside the Company's limits will be looked after by J. F. Luman.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Mahoney gave a party on Tuesday evening in honor of their guests, Mrs. Edward O'Donnell and daughter, Miss Kate O'Donnell, of Holyoke, which was attended by several from this place.

Peter J. Cahill and Miss Mary Ahern were married at St. Mary's church on Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, by the pastor, Rev. F. J. Lynch. Ellen, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Patrick McIntire of Brimfield was best man.

The Thorndike Co. is making many alterations and improvements at its No. 2 mill, besides putting in new machinery. Agent Hobbs means to keep up to the time, and believes in having only the latest improved machinery.

The concert given on Friday evening last for the benefit of the family of the late John Bedford was largely attended and a success in every way. Each number on the program was liberally applauded, and those present enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Pupils perfect in attendance in the first primary school for the month ending June 7: Flora Adams, Mary E. Bean, Perley M. Emery, Breneaux Belaire, Anna Bouthillier, Celia Griffin, George Reilley, Frank Reilley, Sophie Laplante, Eva Laplante, Malvina Chandounais, Joseph Chabot, Cornelius Connors, Mary Grigware, Frank Lehoulier, Mollie Moran, W. Gordon Miller, George Richmond, Clara Robinson, Rosanna St. Jacque.

Flynn-Buckley.

Dr. M. W. Flynn, formerly of this place, now of Pittsfield, was united in marriage to Miss Helen T. Buckley of the same place on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, with a nuptial high mass. The church was beautifully decorated with roses and potted plants, and over 100 lighted candles were on the alter. The bridal procession was in the following order: Ushers, Edward W. Burns of Palmer, Edward J. Maloney of Great Barrington, Dr. W. J Mercer, Richard Fleming and John J. O'Toole of Springfield; flower girls, Miss Marguerite Flynn of Great Barrington and Miss Berandette Buckley of Pittsfield; bridesmaids, Miss Katherine F. Formonski of Vicksburg, Miss., Miss Mary McManus of Great Barrington, Miss Mary Kane of New York, Miss Mary Irene Sheriden and Miss Gertrude Buckley of Pittsfield; maid of honor, Miss Minnie Ahern of Hartford, Ct. The bride came last, dressed in a gown of ivory white duchesse satin en train, with point lace and pearl trimmings. She wore a veil caught with lilies of the valley and a handsome diamond pin, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses, and an ivory-bound prayer book. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, M. F. Moore of Monson. The maid of honor wore a white satin gown trimmed with spangled chiffon, and a picture hat trimmed with white ostrich tips. She carried a boquet of pink roses. Three of the bridesmaids wore nile green taffeta silk and white chiffon gowns, trimmed with point applique lace, and three were gowned in pink taffeta silk and chiffon with lace. They all wore large picture hats of white chiffon trimmed with ostrich tips, and carried bouquets of lily of the valley and pink rosebuds. The flower girls wore pink and green gowns. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, and there was a large reception at the home of the bride's parents on West Housatonic street in the evening. The bride's gifts to the bridesmaids were spangled gauze fans. The wedding gifts were numerous and handsome. The bridal pair will take a western trip, and on their return they will reside in Pittsfield. The Doctor's many friends here wish him and his bride many years of happy married life.

THREE RIVERS.

The scarlet fever is dying out!

R. Morse is driving a new horse.

R. C. Newell has returned from Clifton Springs, N. Y.

Arthur Brown spent the latter part of the week in Amherst.

John Wilson is making some repairs on one of his stores.

Homer Coto of Millbury is visiting Mr and Mrs. Horace Buskey.

L. B. Kendrick spent a part of the week in Worcester, visiting his son.

The iron bridge of the New London Northern railroad is being painted.

Miss Annis Ives of Manchester is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Senecal.

Peter Senecal was in Ware a few days last week visiting his brother Albeny.

Six from this place tried the examinations for entrance to the Palmer high school.

Rev. Mr. Hills is holding a series of revival meetings in Washington District.

Harry Newell and Richard Twiss are home from Amherst for their summer vacation.

Fred White and Philip Story have decided to spend their summer vacation at home this year.

Jules Cedilotte of Leverett stop

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 21, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

Dawson—Shields.

One of the largest weddings which has taken place in town for several years was that of Miss Maria J. Shields and John B. Dawson of Palmer at St. Patrick's church, at noon, Wednesday. The ushers were Will Hughes of Monson, Will Reilly and Miles F. Casey of Holyoke, and Charles Burns of Palmer. The altar was decorated with laurel, and large bouquets of the same were placed at the statue of Our Lady of the Sign of the Cross; roses were at the sanctuary railing and at the statue of St. Joseph. Just before the clock struck 12 the bridal party, escorted by the ushers, passed up the center aisle to the strains of the wedding march, played very softly upon the organ. The party, consisting of the bride and groom, Miss Isabel Curley and John F. Dawson, knelt at the rail while Miss Mary Cuddihy sang the Ave Maria. Fr. Thomas J. O'Keefe performed the marriage ceremony, after which about two hundred guests assembled at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Shields, where congratulations and a sumptuous dinner followed. The bride's and the bridesmaid's dresses were alike, of heavy brocaded cream silk, with trimmings of pearl passementerie.

The bride wore a veil fastened with white roses, and carried a bouquet of the same flowers. The groom's gift to the bride was diamond earrings; to the bridesmaid a ring of opals and diamonds. The gifts were many and costly; among them were: banquet lamp, Marcus Sullivan, Palmer; banquet lamp, James Murphy; banquet lamp, John Corcoran; onyx table and silver card receiver, Miss Isabel Curley; two steel engravings, Patrick Lyons, Millbury; water color, Richard Hughes; oil painting, Mary E. Dawson; oak table, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lyons; painted photograph frame, Miss Ella Hughes; Bible, Mr. and Mrs. Judge, Holyoke; pictures, "Too Late," Miss Josephine Leary; "St. Cecelia," Miss Margaret Dalton; "The Choristers," Mary Cuddihy; commode set, Mr. and Mrs. John Shields; picture, "Hope," Miss Annie Brennan; chamber set, Maggie and Patrick Shields; Turkish rug, J. T. Lyons; bedding, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Sault, Mrs. Shields, Mrs. O'Reilly, Mrs. Casey of Holyoke, Mrs. McKenna, Mrs. Kelly of Montville, Mr. and Mrs. John Lyons; commode set, Misses Sarah and Eliza and Carl Linnehan; mahogany chair, upholstered with blue plush, Mr. Hart and family; oak chairs, Misses Lizzie and Delia O'Reilly, N. J. and W. S. Hughes, Misses Jennie and Kate McCarthy, Stafford; Michael Dawson of Palmer; Miss Annie Cooney and P. A. Lyons; willow chair, Misses Delia and Maggie Gavin; onyx table, Miss Lizzie McManamy and brothers; silver service and silver water set, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fitzpatrick of Palmer; silver service and glass water set, John P. Manning; Saratoga vase, Dr. P. T. O'Reilly, Holyoke; Dresden china tray, and cut flowers, W. E. O'Reilly; oyster ladle, Mr. and Mr. Gallagher, Palmer; cake basket, Miss Maggie Lyons; sugar and berry spoons, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Pierce; gold-lined silver sugar spoon and bonbon basket, Misses Annie and Mary Hopkins of Palmer; butter knife and sugar spoon, Dan Healy; Dresden china clock, John Dawson and mother; sugar spoon and butter knife, Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy; butter dish, Miss Minnie Dunn; silver tea set, Mrs. William Murphy and son, Palmer; pickle jar, Jeremiah Bradley, Palmer; pickle jar, Mr. and Mrs. John Lyons; pickle jar, Miss Kate Haggerty; berry spoon, Miss Kate Coughlin; violet jar and cut flowers, Miss Annie Lyons; silver pudding dish, Misses Shea; syrup cup and clock, Miss Mary Cavan; fruit basket, Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy, Palmer; fruit knives, Miss Josie Hannafin; dessert spoon, Will Cuddihy; water set, water bottles and tray, Miss Agnes Dawson, Palmer; silver spoons, Hannah Danehy; souvenir spoon, Mrs. R. A. Cox, Toledo, O.; napkin rings, Misses Bernice Oaks and Nellie Murphy; gravy ladle, Miss Mary Bliss; tea spoons, Miss Mamie and Nellie Casey; coffee spoons, H Shaw, Nantasket; cake dish, John Casey, Holyoke; after dinner silver service, Charles Burns and E. S. Brooks, Palmer; ladle, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Casey; cake ornament, Mr. and Mrs. Bard, Palmer; side board, Mrs. Dawson; dining table and chairs, Miss Minnie Dawson, Worcester; silver set, Miss Norah Dawson, Palmer; butter knife, John Sault; table linen, Mrs. Patrick O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. John Lyons, Miss Katie Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Crowley, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Doyle, Mrs. John Curley; towels, Mrs. John Cuddihy, Mrs. Patrick Haggerty, Mrs. B. Donavon; knives and forks, Ed. Burns; knives and forks, Miss Delia Geavy, Montville; lemonade set, Palmer friend; broom, R. Clifford Millar; cut flowers, Mrs. Charles E. Stebbins; water set, Miss Mary E. Hughes; water set, Christopher Carroll; satchel from Nova Scotia, James Fenton, Palmer; slippers, Mr. Goodes, Palmer; sewing machine, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Shield; steel engraving, Misses Cantwell. Mr. and Mrs. Dawson left on the afternoon train for a two-weeks' trip, which will include New York, Philadelphia and Providence. They will reside in Palmer.

Joseph Wilkins of Washington, D. C., is a guest at Wilson M. Tucker's.

Miss Deborah Bailey of Little Crompton is the guest of Mrs. Lyman C. Flynt.

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Stebbins are guests of Mrs. Lucy Stebbins of East Hill.

Ephraim Flint of Lincoln, class of '94, Monson Academy, attended commencement.

The account of the Academy commencement exercises will be found on the first page.

Misses Clifford of Easthampton and Hale of Boston are guests of Miss Carrie L. Chapin.

Miss Florence Deverill of Dayville, Ct., class of '94, Monson Academy, is in town this week.

Rev. W. H. Marble will take for the subject of his Sabbath morning sermon: "Christ's Yoke."

William J. Dean has been granted a divorce nisi from his wife, Lizzie A. Dean, on the ground of desertion.

B. F. Dotney of Chicopee has the contract for laying the town concrete walks, and will begin work early in July.

W. N. Flynt & Sons have received another invoice of handsome souvenir china, decorated with views of Monson.

R. M. & T. Reynolds have made a slight advance in the price of coal, and the price is likely to advance again soon.

Mrs. Chism of Westford, Ct., and daughter, Miss Emily, class of '92, Monson Academy, were in town over Tuesday.

Fred W. King of Chicago, who is spending some weeks in Massachusetts, came from Boston to attend commencement.

Mrs. R. S. Hicks of Stafford Springs and Mrs. Smith of Waterbury were in town Monday in pursuit of Colonial furniture.

Rev. Mr. Hills, who has recently closed a series of evangelistic services in Palmer, will preach in Silver Street Sunday afternoon at 3.

Hon. Henry Barnard, L. L. D., of Hartford, and Alanson Trask of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Flynt this week.

The little son, aged one year and a half, of Mr. and Mrs. George Day, died Wednesday of meningitis. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. H. Marble officiating.

Five Springfield churches will unite in a picnic on Flynt Park to-morrow, and about 500 people are expected. The Memorial church of Springfield will picnic there next Saturday, and the St. Patrick's society of Monson on July Fourth.

DID YOU EVER THINK

How much a pair of shoes have to do with one's dress?

PATENT LEATHER

Shoes and Slippers are in great demand at present. Our Men's $3, $4, and $5 ones are Great takers.

There is hardly any end to the assortment of

Ladies' Low Shoes and Slippers,

in Black, White, and Russet. The great advance on shoes has not affected our prices for selling Shoes.

GEO. L. FULLER,

Distributor of Fine Fitting Shoes.

MONSON, - - MASS.

Rev. Henry D. Sleeper, now professor of music in one of the state universities, and formerly of Worcester, will give an organ recital in the Congregational church next Monday evening at eight o'clock. The recital is entitled "From Motor to Music," and is intended to illustrate the most interesting mechanism of a great organ. Admission free, and all are invited.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Methodist church has become a full-fledged Epworth League, with constitution and by-laws after the model of the general society. The following officers were chosen Wednesday evening at a special meeting: President, E. J. Osborne; first vice president, or department of spiritual work, Lena Eaton; second vice president, or department of mercy and help, Amy Eaton; third vice president, or department of literary work, A. N. Burke; fourth vice president, or department of social work, C. A. Bradway; department of finance, H. W. Shaw; department of correspondence, Alice M. King. The aims and methods of work are the same as those of the Christian Endeavor. A large list of subscribers for the Epworth Herald has been secured.

At a meeting of the school committee held Wednesday evening it was voted to admit to the Academy twenty-eight out of the thirty-three who were examined. Miss L. H. Walker, teacher at No. 15 primary, resigned and Miss Maguire of No. 8 primary was given her place, and Miss Stebbins of No. 6 will go to No. 8; Miss Clara Sutcliffe was transferred to No. 6 from No. 9; Miss Bennett was transferred from No. 1 to No. 12; Miss Keep from No. 12 to No. 2; Mrs. S. F. Fairfield was appointed to No. 13. Misses Bessie, Eva Sutcliffe, Miss Stebbins, Miss Bennett will go to Laurel Park to the summer school; Miss Corcoran is going to the Norwich summer school. Names of pupils who passed the Academy examination: Cecil Grant, John Murphy, George Adams, Florence Nelson, Anna Murphy, Howard Buffington, Sadie Locke, William Shannon, Ralph Morris, Marion Tucker, John Nelligan, Fred Bugbee, Walter Moulton, F. Blodgett, Geo. Ritter, Grace Rathbun, Nellie Bradway, Mary Sullivan, Maria Leahy, James Bowler, Annie Closson, Raymond Jewett, Clifford Bills, Alice Cantwell, Fannie Bradway, William Flynt, Frank Tanner, Lizzie Foley.

Children's Day will be observed at the Universalist church Sunday. There will probably be nine children baptized. The subject of Mr. Blackford's sermon will be "Christ and the Little Children."

WARREN.

John Gaffney, 43, an employe of the pump works, died last Saturday morning, having been sick only a short time. He leaves a wife and several small children.

Miss Effie L. Fairbanks of the McDuffie school in Springfield and Miss Mary E. Lincoln of Bradford Academy are home for the summer vacation.

A horse belonging to Melvin Underwood was struck by a train on the Boston and Albany track Saturday night and instantly killed. The horse had strayed from the field to the track.

The body of Perry Olds, who died in Springfield last week, was brought here for burial last Saturday. The funeral services were held in the Universalist church under the charge of Quaboag lodge of Masons, of which he was a member.

BRIMFIELD.

J. T. Brown and Mrs. Brown of Maynard are guests of Mrs. Henry E. Brown.

Miss Lilly Durant entertained a party of friends at her home Monday evening.

Rev. Roger Sherman, a former resident of this place, preached for Rev. Mr. Kyle last Sunday.

The public schools finished for the summer vacation last Friday. Entrance examinations for the high school will be given at the school building to-morrow.

Walter S. Newell is visiting his aunt, Mrs. N. S. Hubbard, having been recently graduated from Columbia College. F. Lincoln Pierce is also home from Tufts College.

A vacant house on Little Rest, belonging to Mrs. Mary Tarbell, was burned Sunday night. The origin of the fire is not known but is supposed to have been incendiary, as the house had been unoccupied for two or three months. The loss is total, and is estimated at $1200, insured for $1000.

HAMPDEN.

Hoeing is the order of the day with farmers, and we need rain sadly, yet things seem to be growing well.

Mrs. H. M. Tupper, with her sister, Miss Emma Leonard, have this week gone to Cottage City to spend the summer.

The Hampden Brass Band will hold a picnic July 4th. They practice three nights in a week, and are making good progress.

Mr. Aviel Spaulding, formerly of Monson but for many years a resident of this town, is sick, and his eighty-one years give little hope of recovery.

Last Saturday a goodly company of the friends of Alvin Bennet gathered at his home to celebrate his 75th birthday, and after prayer, singing, and speech-making by Rev. Mr. Bennet, pastor of the Methodist church, and most of the older gentlemen and ladies present, the company adjourned to the lawn, where the tables were spread and a bountiful collation served. There were present five men whose united ages were 380 years, four of whom have known Mr. Bennet from childhood, and three of them living within a mile of him. The day was perfect, and all enjoyed the occasion, none more so than the genial host of seventy-five, who lives all alone.

There seems to be a good deal of feeling among the Congregationalists that the council called last week Wednesday did not ordain their candidate, Mr. Solley. The council evidently intended to let the young man, who is much liked, down as easily as possible, and so gave only part of their reasons for refusal to ordain, namely—lack of preparation, he having taken no theological course of study; but the disappointment of some in the society led them to criticise the council so severely that according to a Springfield paper "they have given the whole to the public," and that is that his theology was not sound and so they could not, according to Congregational usage, ordain him. There is much sympathy felt for Mr. Solley, as he was encouraged to ask for ordination after taking a training only for lay work.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

CARD OF THANKS.—To the kind friends who have sympathized with me in my deep sorrow, I thank you for your kindness in all that you have done for me. I greatly and deeply appreciate and shall ever remember it with loving affection.

Thorndike, Mass. Mrs. MARY E. BEDFORD.

They Call It Overwork.

Business requires a clear head; yet how few business men—with all their sense—realize what is the trouble with their heads. They call it overwork, worry, anything but what it really is—indigestion. This stealthiest of ailments usually comes disguised as something else. Wouldn't you be convinced if a box of Ripans Tabules cleared your head and brightened up the business outlook?

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 52-25

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

FISH BAIT FOR SALE,

CHARLES S. RUGGLES,

Three Rivers, - Mass.

BICYCLES FOR '95.

Stearns "Yellow Fellow," Ladies' and Gent's, $100.

Warwick, "Crimson Rims," $80, $85, $100.

Crescents, $90, $75, $50, $40.

Lovell Diamond, $25 to $100.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,

Cross Block, Palmer.

TOWN OF PALMER.
TOWN WARRANT.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN ss. To Herbert A. Northrop, constable of the town of Palmer. Greeting:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, you are hereby directed to notify and warn all the inhabitants of the town of Palmer qualified to vote in elections and town affairs, to meet at the Town House in said Palmer on Monday, the twenty-fourth day of June, current, at two o'clock p. m., to act on the following articles, viz.:

ARTICLE 1. To choose a moderator to preside at said meeting.

ART. 2. To see if the town will vote to buy 500 feet of hose to replace same amount now owned by the town which has become worthless, and appropriate money for the same.

ART. 3. To see if the town will to donate or sell the hand engine now stored in the old Boston and Albany freight house, to the Henry Gray Engine company of Springfield, Mass.

ART. 4. To see if the town will vote to construct a sewer in Walnut street to connect with the sewer in Main street, and appropriate money for same.

ART. 5. To see if the town will vote to build a new school house in Thorndike village in place of one condemned by the State Inspector of Public Buildings, and appropriate money for the same.

ART. 6. To see if the town will appoint a committee to secure plans and estimates for the same, and report at a future meeting.

ART. 7. To see if the town will authorize its treasurer to borrow money to defray the expense of erecting, heating, ventilating and furnishing said building, and for such other purposes as money may be appropriated for at said meeting.

ART. 8. To see if the town will vote to rescind the vote taken at the annual town meeting authorizing the selectmen to procure land to enlarge the cemetery at the depot village, or to take land by right of eminent domain.

ART. 9. To see what action the town will take in regard to buying land for a new cemetery.

ART. 10. To see if the town will authorize the selectmen to contract with the Massachusetts Highway Commission, and authorize its treasurer to borrow money, to construct a section of state highway, provided said highway commission shall lay out such highway within the town.

And you are hereby directed to serve this warrant by posting up attested copies thereof at the different public places designated by the vote of the town, seven days at least before the holding of said meeting, and cause this warrant to be printed in the Palmer Journal at least two issues before the holding of said meeting.

Hereof fail not and make due return of this warrant, with your doings thereon, to the Town Clerk, on or before the holding of said meeting.

Given under our hands this thirteenth day of June, A. D. 1895.

JOHN F. TWISS,
CHAS. T. BRAINERD,
GEO. M. ATKINS,
Selectmen of Palmer.

A true copy—Attest:
H. A. NORTHROP, Constable. 2-11

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of a power of sale in a certain mortgage deed given by Charles F. Crawford to John B. Hatch of Stafford, Tolland County, Conn., dated February 3d, 1888, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Hampden, libro 442, folio 86, will be sold at public auction at the dwelling house on the premises, on Saturday, the thirteenth day of July, 1895, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:—The following described lot of land, together with the buildings thereon standing, situated partly in Brimfield and partly in Holland in said County of Hampden, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a ditch side of the road leading from Holland to Brimfield, about 15 rods south of the town line, running northerly on said ditch and road to land of Warren Agard, thence westerly, thence northerly on said Warren Agard to land of Lucy Corbin; thence westerly on said Corbin to the old county road; thence southerly on said road to land of H. A. McFarland; thence easterly; thence southerly on said McFarland to the highway leading from Wales to East Brimfield; thence easterly on said road to land of Willie A. Webber; thence northerly, thence easterly, thence southerly, thence easterly, thence southerly on said Webber to land of Henry Switzer; thence easterly on said Switzer's land to place of beginning. Subject to the rights of the public in all highways passing through the same.

Which said mortgage deed has been duly assigned to Charles L. Gardner of Palmer, in said County of Hampden, by Jarvis B. Hatch, executor of the last will of said mortgagee. $200 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale.

CHARLES L. GARDNER, Assignee.
Palmer, Mass., June 21, 1895. 12-3

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN ss. PROBATE COURT.—To all persons interested in the estate of Joseph W. Fitton, late of Palmer, in said County, deceased:

Whereas Joseph W. Fitton, administrator with the will annexed of the estate of the said deceased, has presented for allowance the first and final account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Springfield, in said county, on the third day of July, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said administrator is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate, fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once a week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, post-paid, a copy of this citation to all persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said court, this fifth day of June in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.
EDWARD B. GLASGOW, Attorney, 405 Main Street, Worcester, Mass.
10-3

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

By license of the probate court for the county of Hampden, the subscriber, administrator of the estate of Elijah G. Murdock, late of Palmer, in said county, deceased, will sell at public auction, at the store on the first tract hereinafter mentioned, on Monday, the first day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, the following property, belonging to the estate of said Elijah G. Murdock, viz.: The store, building and lot on Commercial street, Thorndike, in said Palmer. Dwelling house and lot, corner of Commercial street and High streets, in said Thorndike. Dwelling house and lot on School street in said Thorndike. Spring lot, so called, on High street in said Thorndike. Building lot on Main street in said Thorndike. Lot near Four Corners in said Palmer. Said property is centrally located and will make a good investment for any one.

CHARLES L. GARDNER, Administrator.
Palmer, Mass., 13th, 1895. 11-3

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Charlotte C. Bourn, late of Palmer, in the county of Hampden, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

H. NEWTON SEDGWICK, Executor.
Palmer, Mass., June 11th, 1895. 11-48

DENTISTRY.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PALMER AND VICINITY:

Having thoroughly equipped my new office with the most modern inventions and methods pertaining to dentistry, I am now prepared to meet the demands of the public in all the branches of the art. I have associated with me DR. O. P. ROLLER, a graduate in

DENTAL SURGERY,

who has made a specialty of crown and bridge work, all gold, porcelain, combination crown, etc. Gold, aluminum and artificial dentures of every description. The best of workmanship guaranteed. 2-tf

DR. C. W. CROSS, PALMER, MASS.

AGENTS WANTED.

Salary or commission to good men. Fast selling Imported Specialties.

Stock Failing to Live Replaced Free.

We sell only High Grade Stock and true to name. Also Pure Seed Potato Stock our Specialty Leader.

Address R. D. LUTCHFORD & CO., NURSERYMEN, (Letters promptly answered.) Rochester, N.Y.

DENTAL

Operations are usually painful; but at my office we excavate and Fill all Cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN. Also, we do Crown and Bridge Work and make Artificial Teeth that are Satisfactory. First Class Work at Reasonable Prices is our motto. Lady Attendant. Take Elevator.

DR. WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.
Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield, Mass.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,

OPTICIAN.

331 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds. Artificial Eyes Furnished. Occulists' Prescriptions promptly and accurately filled. Mail orders solicited. 51-26

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY AND MACHINE SHOP.

At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.

MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL JOBBING DONE

At short notice and reasonable prices.

52-35 R. B. FRANCIS.

NEW OPERA HOUSE!

Dedication Entertainment!

Wednesday & Thursday Evenings,

JUNE 26th and 27th.

Grand Production

OF THE OPERATIC SPECTACLE,

ZEPHRA.

Under the direction of R. W. Averill of Chicago.

125 People!

Entire Special Scenery!

Mechanical and Calcicum Effects!

Court Square Theatre Orchestra.
L. W. Hardy, Director.

PRICES: $1, 75 and 50 cents. Reserved seats at Allen's Drug Store June 22, at 9 o'clock a. m.

DON'T FORGET

THAT WE CAN SELL YOU AT BOTTOM PRICES

Walter A. Wood Mowing Machines.
Buckeye " "
Champion Horse Rakes.
Yankee " "
Tiger " "
Clipper " "
Hay Tedders, Hay Rakes, Scythes.
Also Mowing Machine Repairs.

—AT—

E. A. BUCK & CO.,

Cross Block, Palmer.

EXCURSIONS TO DENVER

IN CONNECTION WITH THE

National Educational Convention,

LEAVING

Boston, Worcester and Springfield

JULY 1, 3, and 5,

TOGETHER WITH A

Series of Magnificent Special Tours through the Rocky Mountains, Utah, the Yellowstone National Park, the Puget Sound Country, Alaska, etc.

These trips may be availed of not only by Teachers but by the General Public.

Ask for Circular at the Ticket Office of the Boston and Albany Railroad.

Sweeter than music to the ear is the . . .

MILK and CREAM

...Produced at the...

MAPLE LAWN MILK FARM.

O. D. WELLS, Proprietor.

SPRING CLOTHING!

NEW SPRING .:. STYLES, Latest Colorings —AND— Novelties.

Extra large samples to select from. The most complete assortment, the finest, newest and most extensive in novelties and colorings. Fine Clay, English Wagners and Schmahle's best makes, Bannuckburn Scotch goods in best patterns, fine French in newest makes and colors.

Prices $20, 22, 24, 26, 27, 28, 30, 32, 33, 35 to 40. All goods and trimmings the very best ever offered in town for the money, and warranted. Terms Strictly Cash.

D. MULVIHILL, - Eager's Block.

S. H. HELLYAR'S Fire Insurance Agency,

CARYL'S BLOCK,

PALMER, - - MASS.

I represent some of the largest companies, both stock and mutual, doing business in this state, and should be pleased to reckon you as one of my customers.

Will guarantee you security, promptness, economy, and a correctly written policy.

Thanking you for past favors, I am

Yours respectfully,

S. H. HELLYAR.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,

VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.

Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.

Residence, Nassowanno House. Office and stable, Central street.

PALMER, MASS.

Agricultural Implements.

BELCHER & TAYLOR PLOWS AND CULTIVATORS. ROUGH AND READY WROUGHT IRON BEAM PLOWS. PLANET, JR. HORSE HOES AND CULTIVATORS. JOHN DOUD WHEEL HARROWS. LAWN MOWERS. SPRING TOOTH HARROWS. STEEL ROAD SCRAPERS. MOWING MACHINES, TEDDERS AND HORSE RAKES.

WE SHALL CARRY A GOOD LINE AND SOLICIT YOUR TRADE.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,

Cross Block, Palmer.

HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS.

A FULL LINE OF

STABLE AND . . . .
STREET BLANKETS

WHOLESALE PRICES.

D. W. FOSKETT,

FOSKET'S MILLS.

PALMER TEA STORE.

Customers are having the Best Tea and Coffee by trading at

THE PALMER TEA STORE.

COFFEE

Mixed to suit you. I have the green Coffee not roasted.

TEAS,

English Breakfast, Oolong, Formosa, Uncolored Japan, Hyson's and Gun Powder.

FRUIT and CONFECTIONERY.

R. J. HENRY,

Palmer, Mass.

SOME NICE HEAVY

Wedding Rings

In Fine 18 KARAT Gold.

WEDDING PRESENTS IN GREAT VARIETY.

GEO. A. MOORE,

WATCH MAKER and JEWELER,

Holden's New Block, Palmer, Mass.

P. S. Still Have a Nice Selection of Shirt Waist Sets, Belt, Buckles, Etc.

GRANDMOTHER'S INDIAN BLOOD PURIFIER.

For this purpose no better or safer medicine can be selected to purify, enrich and warm the blood, and tone up the system generally. It will speedily restore the system to health and vigor. It is composed of leaves, barks and roots, being one of the mildest and safest tonics known. Also agent for the National Remedy Co., and their wonderful Japanese Oil, known all over the world. Fresh roots and herbs can be found at the house at any time. At home Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Hair work done to order.

H. S. McCOMBER, AT PERFECT VIEW HOMESTEAD, STATE AVE., MONSON, MASS.
P. O. Box 174 Palmer. 6-10

I Am At The Top

Of the heap in style, fit and durability; at the bottom in price. The season for Low Shoes is here. I am showing the latest productions in these goods, comprising advanced ideas, newest shapes, and the latest shades. I have all styles (except past styles) in my stock of footwear. You may be sure to find anything you want in my stock, which embraces everything that anyone requires. To-morrow and all next week I offer special values in LADIES' TAN OXFORDS, BOYS', YOUTH'S and MEN'S RUSSET BALS.

Of course you want a pair of TAN SHOES this summer. This affords you a chance.

A. B. COWAN,

Holden's New Block, Main Street, PALMER, - - MASS.

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS IN THIS VICINITY FOR

TRUSSES.

WE CARRY A LARGE ASSORTMENT IN ALL THE SIZES OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF

Steel Spring Trusses, Hard Rubber Trusses, New York Elastic Trusses.

WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.

AT LeGRO & LYNDE'S.

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

PARIS GREEN, HELLEBORE, LONDON PURPLE, INSECT POWDER, LEGGET'S POWDER GUNS, FOR DESTROYING INSECTS.

E. A. Buck & Co. Main St., Palmer.

THE DOCTOR PRESCRIBES.
WE DO THE DISPENSING.
BRING YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS TO US. WE USE ONLY THE BEST DRUGS, AND THE GREATEST CARE IN COMPOUNDING.
WHILE WAITING GET A GLASS OF COLD SODA.
IT IS THE BEST THAT CAN BE MADE.

At LeGRO & LYNDE'S,

Next to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

BICYCLES

RAMBLERS, . .	$100.00
ENVOY, ...	75.00
FLEETWING (ladies) .	75 00
STORMER, . . .	60.00
CRAWFORD, . . .	50.00

All warranted fully. Sweaters and bicycle sundries for sale. Also have good wheels to rent.

ERNEST D. TUFTS,

Holden's Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

DESCRIPTION published pursuant to the provisions of Section 1, Chapter 440, of the acts of 1895, entitled "An act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages." Name of firm, L. W. Caryl & Co. Principal place of business, Commercial street, Palmer, Mass. Nature of business transacted, bottlers of ale, lager beer, porter, soda water, aerated waters, ginger ale and other similar beverages. Kind of receptacle used, bottles, siphons, fountains and boxes. Description of name or names, mark or marks, device or devices used: On bottles the words "L. W. Caryl, Palmer, Mass.," with the word "Registered," and the words "This bottle not to be sold," blown or etched in or upon the bottle; on siphons the words "L. W. Caryl, Palmer, Mass.," and the word "Registered," blown or etched in or upon the glass; on fountains the words "Caryl Brothers," and the words "L. W. Caryl, Palmer, Mass.," and "Registered," printed, stenciled, or otherwise produced; on boxes the words "L. W. Caryl," and the words "Caryl Brothers," and the word "Registered," printed, branded, stenciled, or otherwise produced.

In witness, whereof we have hereunto signed our name this thirteenth day of June, A. D. 1895

11-4 L. W. CARYL & CO.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES

Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.

Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.

Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L.N. Railroads—west of Depot.

Below find our prices for COAL to be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. Good men furnished to house and bin same at actual cost for their time. All coal screened.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

We would advise every one to put in EARLY ORDERS. Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

PRICES FOR LACKAWANNA:		PRICES FOR LEHIGH:
Stove size,	$5.00 per ton.	Stove size,	$5.15 per ton.
Chestnut,	5.00 " "	Chestnut,	5.15 " "
Furnace,	4.80 " "	Furnace,	5.00 " "

Less than one (1) ton 25 cents added for the load.

Delivered in bags 15 cents a ton additional, which will save expense housing in many cases.

JUNE 20, 1895.

R. M. & THEO. REYNOLDS,

MONSON, - - MASS.

You Cannot Find

Even in the city of Springfield, a fresher, prettier stock of SHIRT WAISTS and WRAPPERS than right here in Palmer, at the store of W. E. STONE.

We bought a lot of them this week direct from the manufacturers.

The sleeves are right.

The material is right.

The prices are right.

Call and see, whether you purchase or not.

W. E. STONE,

LAWRENCE BLOCK, - - PALMER, MASS.

W. N. FLYNT & SONS,

Monson, Mass.

NOW IS THE TIME TO INVEST A FEW DOLLARS IN CLOTHING.

CALL AND GET ONE OF THOSE NOBBY SACK SUITS FOR $9.75.

CLAY WORSTED SUITS IN ALL STYLES, $9, $10, $12, $15, $20.

A full line of White and Black Stripe Duck Pants and Caps always on hand.

Have just received a large invoice of SOUVENIR CHINA direct from Germany, giving views of some of Monson's beautiful buildings. Just the thing for a wedding present.

Clothing, Hats and Furnishings.

A line of Barred Cambrics for 5 cents a yard, worth 10 to 15 cents.
Dimities in the daintiest of shades.
Puritan Shirtings; a large assortment of patterns.
Musquito Netting.
Parasols and Fans.
Mitts and Summer Gloves.

Hot Weather Specialties.

Olives, Pickles, Oranges, Lemons, Pie Preparations, Cereals, Gelatine, Jams, Jellies, Grape Juice, Extract of Malt, Root Beer, Evaporated Raspberries, Peaches, Apricots and Apples.

Goods and prices always right.

Culinary Department.

J. B. SHAW,

FEENEY BLOCK, MAIN ST., PALMER, - MASS.

SPRING SUITS

MOST PEOPLE, AND GAMWELL'S SPRING SUITS SUIT ALL WHO SEE THEM. IN VARIETY AND STYLE THEY SIMPLY ARE UNSURPASSED. CALL AND SEE THEM.

C. K. GAMWELL, CLOTHIER,

Main Street, - - - Palmer, Mass.

Spring and Summer Shoes

Now in stock and receiving others daily.

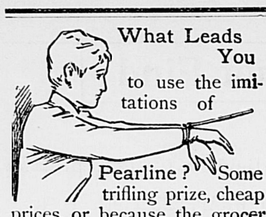
The largest and best selected stock of Boots and Shoes for the money that can be found in Western Massachusetts.

Tan Shoes, all shades, low and high, for Ladies and Boys and Youths, Misses and Children.

Can fit the smallest baby or the largest man.

FULL STOCK OF PATENT LEATHER SHOES.

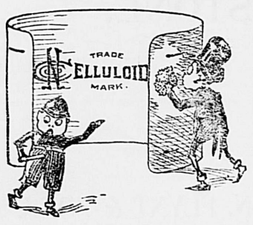
Hall's Shoe House, 294 Main St., next to P. O., Springfield, Mass. . . . . .



What Leads You to use the imitations of Pearline? Some trifling prize, cheap prices, or because the grocer or peddler says "same as" or "as good as?" What do these amount to, if your things are ruined in the washing?

They may be. And you can't see the damage that a dangerous washing compound is doing, until the damage is done; with the poorest, that takes some time. With these imitations that nobody knows about, you have to take your own risk. Be on the safe side, and use only the original—Pearline. Millions of women can tell about that. Ask some of them, and satisfy yourself. Get their experience.

Beware of imitations. 302 JAMES PYLE, N.Y.



Waterproof collars and cuffs that you can clean yourself by simply wiping off with a wet sponge. The genuine look exactly like linen and every piece is marked this way:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

They are made by covering a linen collar or cuff with "celluloid," and are the only waterproof goods made with an interlining, and the only goods that can stand the wear and give perfect satisfaction. Never wilt and not effected by moisture. Try them and you will never regret it. Ask for those with above trade mark and refuse any imitations. If your dealer does not have them we will mail you a sample direct on receipt of price. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair. State whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

The Celluloid Company,
427-429 Broadway, New York.

Decollete—"I'll bet," remarked Mr. Jason to his wife, as they sat in the family circle at the play, "I'll bet from the looks of it, that the dress that there woman in the box is wearin' is one of them elegant dresses one-half off we seed advertised yisterday in the papers."—Indianapolis Journal.

I have two little grand children who are teething this summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of bed and doing my house work. Mrs. W. L. Duncan, Bonaqua, Hichman Ct., Tenn.

"Many of the citizens of Rainsville, Indiana, are never without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house," says Jacob Brown, the leading merchant of the place. This Remedy has proven of so much value for colds, croup and whooping cough in children that few mothers who know its worth are willing to be without it.

Sometime ago I was troubled with an attack of rheumatism. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was completely cured. I have since advised many of my friends and customers to try the remedy and all speak highly of it. SIMON GOLDBAUM, San Luis Rey, Cal.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

THE GREAT AMERICAN DRINK
WILLIAMS' Delicious ROOT BEER

Send 2-cent stamp for pictures.

WILLIAMS & CARLETON, Hartford, Conn.

To Get Well

TAKE

Never mind if the doctor did say so—your case is not hopeless. Blood Wine, the Great French Hospital Remedy, has cured more so-called hopeless cases in the short time it has been in the N. E. market than all other remedies ever tried. Take it to get well of Cancer, and all the other Blood Diseases, etc.

BLOOD WINE.

BE SURE YOU SEE THE
MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS
BEFORE PURCHASING ANY OTHER.
Illustrated Catalog Sent on Application.
J. M. Bruce, Agent for Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties.
394 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.
Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Down On The Eight-Mile.

Talk about your shuckin' corn! Why, there's nary
A man on the whole bloomin' prairie
Could keep in shootin' distance of my son Jake.
Why, I've seen that there feller take
Six rows at a time when he was feelin'
Just right fer doin' a good day's peelin'
Of nubbins 'nd big ears—all corn in his way,
I've seen that feller do it many a day
Down on the Eight-Mile.

Ever been down on the Eight-Mile peraris?
Down where the Trough boys used to be very
Hi-fa-lutin,' and right in the middle
Of the dance to the music of Dutch Funk's fiddle
Down where the corn grows twenty foot tall,
'Nd it yields so plenty they don't get it all
Without rentin' a pasture to crib the crop in?
Stranger, you've missed it if you haven't been
Down on the Eight Mile.

Jake never weren't so tremendiously stout;
So when he heard fellers a-takin' about
A man up at Cissna shuckin' ten wagon loads
And haulin' it eight miles on the awfullest roads,
Why, that stumped Jake. He hasn't recovered;
He goes mopin' around just like some lover'd
Been give the mitten by one of our girls,
He doesn't go nowhere, and thinks all the world's
Down on the Eight-Mile.

It's just ruined that boy, that corn shuckin' lie.
He says he thinks every man that goes by
Is a lookin' at him with a look of scorn,
And he 'most wishes he'd never been born,
I've managed to get him to do part of the feedin,'
But what we're to do when we come to needin'
More hands on the farm is what bothers me,
Unless he marries the best girl he kin see
Down on the Eight-Mile.

—George R. Deatrich, in Hoopeston (Ill.) Herald.

PALMER HISTORY GLEANINGS.

BY O. P. ALLEN.

V.

The Passing of Burgoyne's Men.

During the summer of 1777 the brilliant Burgoyne had startled the country with his dashing display of military pomp, sweeping down from the north and threatening dire disaster to all who opposed him; but his troops had met signal defeat in Bennington at the hands of the sturdy Green Mountain Boys, and at Saratoga he had been out-generaled by Gates and his able officers. The decisive battle had been fought, the Continentals had won, and Burgoyne and his army were prisoners of war. The victorious Americans taught the fallen foe how enemies could be generous. The British soldiers were allowed to lay down their arms unseen by a foe, and when they marched bereft of their arms between the files of Continentals not a sign of exultation was to be seen, not even a whisper heard; considering the circumstances this was an exhibition of delicate sentiment not to be expected.

A few days after the surrender, which occurred October 17, 1777, Gen. Burgoyne and his staff were entertained in a most hospitable manner at the home of Gen. Schuyler at Albany, whose fine property at Saratoga had just before been wantonly destroyed by Burgoyne. Of the 5804 prisoners 2431 were Hessians, or more correctly Brunswickers, and by the articles of capitulation they were sent off at once for Boston, where they arrived November 7. At that time there were two routes from Albany to Boston; one led over Hoosac Mountain by way of Northampton, through the north part of Palmer to Brookfield, etc., and the other by way of Springfield and Palmer. The British soldiers with Burgoyne were sent by the first route under the command of Col. Elisha Porter of Hadley, with a small contingent of soldiers. They passed through the north of Palmer about the last of October, passing the present house of Charles R. Shaw, which was then a tavern, and doubtless sought refreshments there, and I have the impression that the tradition is that they encamped near there for a night, but of this I am not positive. That the reader may get some idea of the appearance of this body of prisoners, the following extract from Lossing's Field Book of the American Revolution is given:

"The whole view of the vanquished army, as it marched through the country from Saratoga to Boston, a distance of three hundred miles, escorted by two or three American officers and a handful of soldiers, was a spectacle of extraordinary interest. Generals of the first order of talent, young gentlemen of noble and wealthy families, aspiring to military renown, legislators of the British realm, and a vast concourse of other men lately confident of victory and of freedom to plunder and destroy, were led captive through the pleasant land they had coveted, to be gazed at with mingled pity and scorn by those whose homes they had come to make desolate. Their march was solemn, silent and sullen, but they were everywhere treated with such humanity and even delicacy that they were overwhelmed with astonishment and gratitude; not one insult was offered, not one approbrious reflection cast, and in their long captivity they experienced the generous kindness of a people warring only to be free."

The British prisoners numbered 3373, of whom 185 were English officers, including Burgoyne. They reached Cambridge November 7, during a severe northeast storm. Mrs. Winthrop, who was an eye-witness, says, as quoted in Mrs. Ellet's "Women of the Revolution:"

Then baggage wagons were drawn by poor, half-starved horses, but to bring up the rear was a noble looking guard of American brawny, victorious yeomanry, who assisted in bringing these sons of Britain to terms, some on wagons drawn by fat oxen, driven by joyous looking Yankees, closed the cavalcade."

Concerning the march of the German prisoners through our state and town we are indebted to the charming letters of Madam Riedsel and a German officer, which are seldom met with. Madam Riedsel was a beautiful women, heroic to a degree, and accompanied her husband, the general of the Brunswick company, during his service and imprisonment in this country. After giving a detailed account of her kind reception at Albany by General Schuyler's family, she says, on starting for Boston:

"Fortunately I had kept by me my little carriage which carried my baggage. As it was already very late in the season, and the weather raw, I had my calash covered with course linen, which in turn was varnished over with oil, and in this manner we set out on our journey to Boston, which was very tedious, besides being attended with considerable hardship. I know not whether it was my carriage that attracted the curiosity of the people to it,—for it certainly had the appearance of a wagon in which they carry around rare animals,—but often I was obliged to halt because the people insisted upon seeing the wife of the German general with her children. For fear that they would tear off the linen covering from the wagon in their eagerness to see me, I very often alighted, and by this means got away more quickly. However, I must say that the people were very friendly, and were particularly delighted at my being able to speak English, which was the language of the country."

The following extracts are from "Letters from Brunswick and Hessian Officers During the Revolution," published by Prof. Scholzer of Gottingen in 1782. One of the captive German officers kept a diary of the journey to Boston, and gives his impression of the women along the route through Massachusetts:

"The women of all this district as far as Boston and New York are slender and slight, and are plump without being stought. They have pretty little feet, good strong hands and arms, a very white skin, and a healthy color in their faces, without having to paint. Hardly any of those I have seen were pitted with small pox; but then, inoculation has been common here for years. Their teeth are very white, their lips beautiful, and their eyes lovely and laughing. Moreover, they have a natural unconstrained manner, a free and cheerful countenance, a natural assurance. They care much for cleanliness and for being well shod. They dress very becomingly, but all their clothes must fit them very closely. They curl their hair every day, make it up behind into a chignon, and in front over a cushion of moderate height. They generally go about bare-headed, and at most set a little heart-shaped thing, or some such trifle, on their heads; here and there a country nymph lets her hair fly and braids it with a ribbon. However poor may be the hut in which they live, they put on a silken mantle and gloves when they go out. They know how to wrap

[CONTINUED IN SIXTH COLUMN.]

Redding's Russia Salve cures all aches and pains from cuts, burns, scalds, sprains, bruises, boils, felons, sores, rheumatism, etc. Quick and sure. Only 25 cents. At druggists.

Ware, Mass.

He Had Hip Disease

Seven Running Sores—Three Months in the Hospital

Took Hood's Sarsaparilla—Gave Up His Crutches—Perfectly Well.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I gladly state what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for our boy. About six years ago he fell down the cellar stairs. He did not seem to be much hurt at the time, but two or three weeks after, he began to have pains in his right knee so badly that we called a doctor and he

Termed the Trouble Rheumatism,

but his treatment did not seem to do the boy any good. He kept complaining more and we had several doctors treat him, but they did him no good, and his trouble continued to grow worse. He became so lame that he could not walk. A prominent physician in Boston was consulted and he termed the affliction contraction of the muscles. His treatment also failed. As his leg began to cramp up besides paining him severely in his knee, we took the boy to New York where he was examined by two physicians, and they pronounced it

A Case of Hip Disease.

We had a brace made to keep the leg from cramping, and upon the doctor's advice we again took him to Boston, this time to the Children's Hospital. He was there three months during which time they made an operation on his leg and did all they could for him, but they did not effect a cure. When we brought him home had seven running sores on his leg. He could not put his foot on the ground. At last

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

we were advised to give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. This was about a year ago. The boy seemed to gain after the first bottle and today he can walk, run and play as lively as any boy, the sores having all healed up, and he is

The Picture of Health.

He goes to school daily without the aid of crutches. I hope Hood's Sarsaparilla may be of as much benefit to others." JOHN C. BOYLE, 45 Water St., Ware, Mass.

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c.

First Boy—"Your father must be an awful mean man. Him a shoemaker, and makin' you wear them old shoes!"

Second Boy—He's nothin' to what your father is. Him a dentist, and your baby only got one tooth!"—Tid Bits.

Chronic Nervousness

Could Not Sleep, Nervous Headaches.

Gentlemen:—I have been taking your Restorative Nervine for the past three months and I cannot say enough in its praise. It has

Saved My Life,

for I had almost given up hope of ever being well again. I was a chronic sufferer from nervousness and could not sleep. I was also troubled with nervous headache, and had tried doctors in vain, until I used your Nervine. MRS. M. WOOD, Ringwood, Ill.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cures.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles' Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

TEDIOUS SUFFERING FINDS RELIEF.

HAVERHILL, N. H.—Many physicians have pronounced as incurable, diseases of the skin and blood. Mrs. Hobsdon of this place abandoned the old method, used Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and was cured.

In October, 1890, Mrs. Hobsdon suffered from a diseased ankle bone. She had always been troubled with Salt Rheum which aggravated the diseased limb. Prescriptions of all sorts were used, but with no benefit. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was tried and it drove the poison out of her blood, healed the ulcerous sores, and restored Mrs. Hobsdon to health and strength.

Favorite Remedy cleanses the blood and strengthens the nerves. In cases of scrofula and salt rheum, it never fails.

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR A CHANGE IN LOCATION?

If you are not satisfied with your present site, or if you are not doing quite as well as you would like to, why not consider the advantages of a location on the Illinois Central R. R. or the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley R. R.? These roads run through South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, and possess

FINE SITES FOR NEW MILLS,
BEST OF FREIGHT FACILITIES,
CLOSE PROXIMITY TO
Coal Fields, Distributing Centers
AND
INTELLIGENT HELP OF ALL KINDS,
MANY KINDS OF RAW MATERIAL.

For full information write the undersigned for a copy of the pamphlet entitled

100 Cities and Towns WANTING INDUSTRIES.

This will give you the population, city and county debt, death rate, assessed valuation of property, tax rate, annual shipments, raw materials, industries desired, etc.

To sound industries, which will bear investigation, substantial inducements will be given by many of the places on the lines of the Illinois Central R. R., which is the only road under one management running through from the Northwestern States to the Gulf of Mexico. GEO. C. POWER, Industrial Commissioner I. C. R. R. Co., 506 Central Station, Chicago. 13-12

THAT JOB OF PRINTING. There's no better place at which to get it done than the JOURNAL Office. Experienced workmen, skilled in every branch of the art.

. . . . THE . . . .
Teachers' Convention
IN JULY.

CHEAPEST RATES OUT OF NEW ENGLAND TO ALL POINTS WEST, VIA. THE

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY,

Niagara Falls, and The Great St. Clair Tunnel,

Also via. MONTREAL, following the shores of the famous ST. LAWRENCE RIVER for three hundred miles.

FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATIONS, UNEQUALLED SERVICE.

Teachers returning will complete the enjoyment of their trip by taking a sail through the Thousand Islands and the Rapids of the St. Lawrence from Kingston to Montreal.

For further particulars as to this route, apply to

N. J. Grace, D. P. A., G. T. Ry., Boston, Mass.
G. T. Bell, A. G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal, P. Q.
N. J. Power, G. P. A., G. T. Ry., Montreal, P. Q.

JUST ARRIVED.

A Full Line of

Grass Seed,
Seed Oats,
Seed Barley,
Seed Peas,
Ground Plaster.

BRADLEY'S X L Phosphate, Potato Manure and English Lawn Dressing.

Low Prices.

C. D. HOLBROOK.

»»»CARRIAGES.«««

A REWARD OF $1000 offered if you will come here and truthfully say I am not OVERSTOCKED. Still they are coming by the carload and I have no place to store them.

Any kind of vehicle can be bought of me to-day at a great bargain. I am going to make a great break of 12 CANOPY TOPS, and will name a price on them that will astonish thin pocket-books. If you buy one you can laugh at the other fellow unless he buys here too. Every price is guaranteed against any dealer who pays for his goods.

——HARNESSES.——

All grades at lowest prices. Prices are so low as to look ridiculous in print. A little lower than any one else is our rule.

Our expenses are not one-quarter that of other Dealers. This saving is yours if you buy of me.

D. N. BUTTERWORTH,
60 Dwight Street, - - Springfield.

MEEKINS, PACKARD & CO.

CARPETS.

Fifty rolls of the new fall patterns in best all wool Ingrains open this morning. Better styles than ever before.

Excellent selections among the 37½c, 45c and 50c Ingrains. These two in best quality, but some of them last season's patterns. First floor.

SUMMER DRAPERIES.

Silk Cross Stripe Curtains in beautiful patterns and colorings from $2 a pair upward.

Denim Draperies for door or window, from $2.50 a pair upward. Dotted Muslin Curtains, 3 yards long with 5 inch ruffle at $2 a pair.

Muslins by the yard, dotted, striped and figured at 12½c, 15c, 17c, 18c and 20c.

Choice patterns in Embroidered Muslins at 22c, 25c and 33c a yard. Drapery Department.

DINING FURNITURE.

A few important items in regard to Dining Tables and Chairs that will interest you. Money savers every one of them.

Fine Quartered Oak Extension Tables, size 6 feet, $9.

Size 8 feet, $10.50. Regular $12 and $15 tables.

Solid Oak, Box Seat Dining Chairs. The $2.50 kind for $2. The $3.50 kind at $2.50. A special line at $1.25, were $1.50. Second Floor.

OFFICE DESKS.

Another invoice of these Solid Oak 50-inch Roll Top Desks at $15.

Such as some dealers call bargains at $22. Second floor.

MEEKINS, PACKARD & CO.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

TAKE OUR MEASURE.

It matters little whether you measure us by what you buy here or by comparing our prices and goods with our competetors' prices and goods. Its all the same with us. YOUR DOLLAR will go farther and buy better goods with us than elsewhere.

The THIRD WEEK ALTERATION SALE opens merrily. Here are samples—judge of them—It's to your advantage to come and see them.

Infants Wear.
Which you will find on tables in the rear part of the store.

Infants Short Dresses.
62 cents formerly $1.00.
$1.50 former prices $2.00 and $2.50.
$2.00 former prices $3.50 and $2.25.

Long Dresses.
50c, 68c, 75c, 87c, $1.25 and $1.50, former prices 62 cents and $2.25.

Infants Long Skirts.
75c former price 95c.

Childrens Reefers.
Cardinal, Navy and New Blue, Sizes 2, 3 and 4 years. They are all to be sold regardless of cost. At the seaside or mountains they will just fill the bill.

Misses and Childrens Cotton Underwear.

Drawers, Skirts, Night Gowns.
Reduction prices on them all. Every day in July a bargain day. Bring your wants to us and we will satisfy them.

Embroidered Flannel Skirts.
$1.25, $1.38, $1.50 and $1.87 former prices $1.50 to $2.50.

Embroi'd Flannel and Cashmere Robes.
One lot slightly soiled (only ten in the lot) $1.00 each, former price $3.00 to $4.50.

Embroidered Cashmere Sacks.
The daintest styles that are made all at reduced prices.
Knit worsted Jackets, Silks, and saxony shirts, and Bands, Kid Silk and worsted Boots, Muslin, Lawn, and Silk Caps. Each and every article in this department we offer at reduced prices to close them out before July 1st.

Children's Guimps.
One lot 62 cents, former price 95 cents.
One lot 87 cents former price $1.25.
One lot $1.25 former price $2.00.

W. D. KINSMAN, CORNER OF MAIN AND BRIDGE STREETS,
SPRINGFIELD, - - - MASS.

Bicycle Repairing.

We have secured the services of Alfred H. Stokes to take charge of this department. Mr. Stokes comes to us from the KEATING WHEEL CO. where he has had entire charge of their Repair Department.

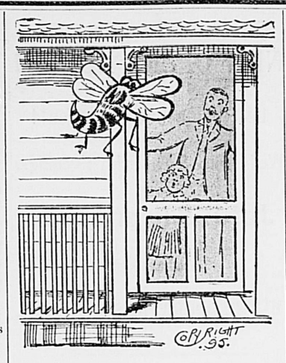
He can save you money in repairs and suit you. Any kind of wheel repaired.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,
Cross Block, Palmer.

◆S◆O◆D◆A.◆

There's more than one thing goes to make up rich SODA. Not real fruit syrup alone, not cream of itself, not pure water, nor the drawing of it. ALL these are essential, and rich soda is impossible without all. Now, why do we tell you this? Because we want to post you on the constituents of rich, creamy, thirst-satisfying Soda, at only 5 cents per glass. For all of which call at

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,
Holden's Block, Palmer.



NO FLY,

Or other insect will bother you if you have our SCREENS in your doors or windows. We are supplying a good Window Screen, according to size,

At 25 cents, 30 cents, and 35 cents.

Don't forget that we are selling a very fine line of Refrigerators at Low Prices.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

E. A. BUCK, Main Street, Palmer, Mass.

CARRIAGES!!!

I have in stock a complete line of fine and medium grade Carriages.

Leather Top Carriages, for $60, 75, 100, 150, 300.
Open Buggies, for $40, 60, 75, 125, 150.
Second-Hand Carriages, $5, 10, 20, 40, 75.
Harnesses, $7.50, 9, 12, 15, 20.
DELIVERY WAGONS OF ALL KINDS.

W. H. SMITH,
2 PARK STREET, SPRINGFIELD.

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physcians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

☞Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

themselves in the mantle very prettily, so that one little white elbow peeps out. Then they put on some kind of well-made shade hat, from under which they peep coquettishly with their roguish eyes. In the English colonies the fair ones have taken a fancy to mantles of red silk or wool. Dressed in this way a girl runs, jumps, and dances about, wishes you a pleasant good day, or gives, according to the question, a saucy answer. So they stood by dozens all along our road, passing us in review, laughing mockingly at us, or from time to time dropping us a mischievous courtesy and handed us an apple. We thought at first they were girls from the town, or, at least, from class number two, standing by the roadside, but, lo and behold! they were the daughters of poor peasants, whom you could recognize as poor peasants by their clothing."

It would seem that the officers were generally received into the homes of the people along the route, while the common soldiers camped out in the tents. The officer above quoted speaks very pleasantly of Springfield as a pretty village of kind people. Concerning our town I quote his own words:

"On the first of November we marched to Palmer, a miserable hamlet some 12 miles distant, (from Springfield) where from necessity we were obliged to encamp. From this place as far as Boston, mile stones are set up at the distance of every mile. On the 2nd our march led through Westtown, (Warren) a village containing good houses and wealthy inhabitants, to Brookfield, 15 miles farther."

This is from a private letter from Boston dated November 15, 1777. The place of encampment referred to above was in front of the Deacon Brainerd house, then a tavern, and it is probable that General Riedsel and family were entertained there. During the encampment there a child was born to a wife of one of the soldiers, and a soldier died; the next day his remains were removed to the old burying ground in this village. The place of his last resting place has been preserved in memory, and has been indicated by the writer with a piece of gas pipe, located about 17 feet south of the Benjamin Walker monument on the southwest border of the cemetery.

It seems that our German friend was not favorably impressed with the appearance of King's row in 1777. It is true there could not have been very many houses then along the way. There was the old Graves tavern on the French farm, the Scott tavern just this side of the Wire Mill bridge, an old house near the Point of Rocks, the King tavern where the Cross block now stands, probably the Watson house then standing near the Baptist church, the Deacon Thomas King house then standing, the old Merrick house standing then on the C. E. Fuller place, probably the old John King house at Tenneyville, the Merrick house now owned by L. E. Moore, the Ferry house now owned by Judge Robinson, and the Walker tavern, now the Brainerd house. There might have been a few others, but most of them were not pretentious.

News of the great victory had preceeded the prisoners, and there must have been many here besides the young women, whose curiosity would bring them out in force to see the wonderful procession. All King's Row was alert long before the head of the column made its appearance. Palmer had furnished nineteen men in Lieut. Joshua Shaw's company, who fought at Saratoga, and their many friends at home doubtless turned out to scan the prisoners whom they had assisted to capture. From the description left us by an eye-witness who saw these prisoners a few days later, we can draw a very correct picture of them as they passed along our old Bay Path that first day of November, one hundred and eighteen years ago. Mrs. Winthrop, who saw them enter Cambridge, says:

"On Friday we heard that the Hessians were to make a procession on the same route (as the British had just before.) The sight was truly astonishing. I never had the least idea that the creation even produced such sordid creatures in human figure, —poor, dirty, miserable men. Great numbers of women followed, who seemed to be the beasts of burden, having bushel baskets on their backs, by which they were bent double. The contents seemed to be pots and kettles, various sorts of furniture, children peeping through, gridirons and other utensils, some very young infants who were born on the road, and women barefoot and clothed in rags."

This motely crowd, with the little calash of Madame Riedsel and probably a few officers on horseback under the care of General Glover of Marblehead, presented a spectacle for Palmer residents as well as others, not soon to be forgotten; but probably the picture presented us by the Cambridge lady is somewhat overdrawn, as there were many among these prisoners possessed of culture and refinement. Of one thing, however, we may feel assured, that the passing of Burgoyne's men through Palmer no longer remain a simple tradition, but a historic fact.

NOTE—In my article of June 7, this correction should be made: Palmer, April 5, 1825, Henry Hatch was married to Ruth Hawes, instead of Ruth Shaw.

KEEP THE DELICATE BOYS ON THE FARM.

In the past year we have read many interesting articles, any one of which suggests the idea that boys are discontented with farm labor and are endeavoring to fit themselves for other pursuits in life. Is this assertion to be affirmed only of farmer's sons, or is it equally true of the sons of mechanics and other laborers? Is not this tendency to quit the occupation of the artisan for that of the professions—which are already overstocked—or for mercantile pursuits—in which, as provided by statistics, ninety-five in a hundred fail—due, in many instances, as much to the boy's early training as to his own inclination to forsake his father's vocation?

Alice Rupp, writing in the Industrialist, suggests that one need but study the "labor problem" as evolved by the strike of the past summer to become thoroughly convinced that Americans are annually becoming more and more averse to manual labor.

Fifty years ago a father was not ashamed to put his boy to the plow or mechanical trades. Times have changed since then, and they are "too feeble" for bodily labor; one has a pain in his side, another a "very delicate constitution," another is nervous, and so poor Tommy and Billy and Bobby are hustled off to the city to measure tape, weigh coffee or read law. The ministry, too, receives its quota of these delicate individuals not fit for farm or shop.

It never seems to occur to the foolish parents that moderate manual labor in the pure and bracing air is just what these puny, sickly lads need, and that to send them to the crowded city is to send them to their graves. Let them follow the plow, sling the sledge, or shove the plane, and their sunken cheeks will be plumped out, and their pinched chests expanded so that the lungs hitherto cribbed and cramped will have room to play. The nerves will be invigorated and strengthened and the muscles hardened; and when they shall have cast off their jackets, instead of being thin, pale, sickly individuals, they will have assumed the size and configuration of men.

"What did you get at your last place?" New Cook—"A box of gloves and several pieces of nice jewelry, but the lady went through my trunk and recovered them before I got away."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

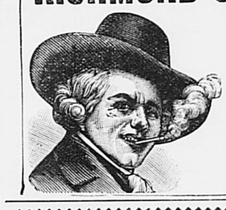
Two Facts!

PILLSBURY'S BEST FLOUR may not pay the retailer so great a profit as certain other brands, but it builds up a trade for him.

Families that get acquainted with Pillsbury's Best don't bother much about other kinds of flour.

If you insist on having Pillsbury's Best you will get the best there is.

RICHMOND STRAIGHT CUT No. 1 CIGARETTES



MADE FROM THE BRIGHTEST, MOST DELICATELY FLAVORED AND HIGHEST COST GOLD LEAF GROWN IN VIRGINIA.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Who are willing to pay a little more than the price charged for ordinary trade cigarettes, will find this brand superior to all others.

ALLEN & GINTER, RICHMOND, VA.
THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., Successor.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

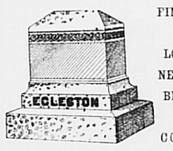
WAGONS!

Having a new lot of

TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY. CALL AND SEE US.

ALLEN AND ELLERY,
PALMER, 3-tf MASS

Granite and Marble Monuments.



FINEST WORKMANSHIP AND LOWEST PRICES. NEW DESIGNS ARE BEING ADDED TO MY STOCK CONSTANTLY.

WILLIAM F. COOK,
182 and 184 State St., Springfield, Mass.

PATENTS
CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS
COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY

Get a Glass! Quick!

There's lots of snap and vim in this Hires' Rootbeer. There's lots of pleasure and good health in it, too. A delicious drink, a temperance drink, a home-made drink, a drink that delights the old and young. Be sure and get the genuine

HIRES' Rootbeer

A 25 cent package makes 5 gallons. Sold everywhere.

THE CHAS. E. HIRES COMPANY,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

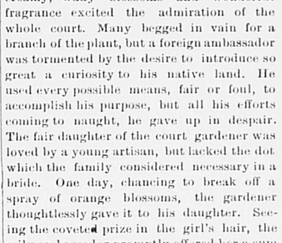
S. & W. Wind Engines

For Pumping and Power.

Do not be deceived by misleading advertisements. If you or your friends are in need of anything in the following lines, send for our new and handsome catalogue of 175 pages now ready for mailing.

Hot Air Engines, Steam Engines and Boilers, Tanks, Pumps, Pipe-fittings, Steam or Hot Water House Heating Boilers, &c.

SMITH & WINCHESTER CO.,
19 to 37 Wendell St., BOSTON · 141 Centre St., NEW YORK.



F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

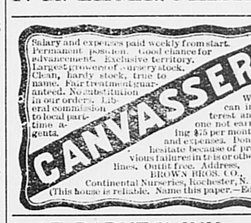
REPAIRING NEATLY DONEAT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

Salary and expenses paid weekly from start. Permanent position. Good chance for advancement. Exclusive territory. Largest, grandest set nursery stock. Clean, hardy stock, true to name. Fair treatment guaranteed. No substitution. We can interest any one not earning $75 per month and expenses. Don't hesitate because of previous failures in this or other lines. Outfit free. Address, BROWN BROS. CO., Continental Nurseries, Rochester, N. Y. (This house is reliable. Name this paper.—Ed.)



USE BARNES' INK
A. S. BARNES & CO., 56 E. 10th St., N. Y.

No Default of Principal or Interest

has ever occurred in a security sold by this company

MUNICIPAL BONDS.

The securities offered by this Company are selected with great care, and are first class investments for individual buyers, legatees, trustees, banks and savings banks. More than

FIFTY CLASSES OF BONDS

have been sold by us in the last three years. Send for our list of bonds and make use of our experience.

German-American Investment Co.,
52 Wall Street, New York.

CATARRH

Is strictly a LOCAL DISEASE and is the result of sudden climatic changes.

ELY'S CREAM BALM

is acknowledged to be the most thorough cure for Nasal Catarrh, Cold in the Head and Hay Fever of all remedies. It opens and cleanses the nassal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The Balm is applied directly into the nostrils, is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. The results that follow catarrh, due to the dropping of poisonous matter into the throat, are irritation of the bronchial tubes and soreness of the lungs accompanied by a cough. In all such cases we recommend Pineola Balsam to be used in connection with Cream Balm.

PINEOLA COUGH BALSAM will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Price of Cream Balm, 50c per bottle; Pineola Balsam, 25c. In quantities of $2.50 we will deliver free of express or postage on receipt of amount.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 28, 1895. NUMBER 13.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 30 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R.R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BOND, A. M., Manufacturer and Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, Tinware, Hardware, etc.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's.

WARE.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE R. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

PALMER LODGE, No. 120, I. O. O. F.
Meets every Wednesday evening in Commercial Block, Main street.
M. M. THOMAS, N. G. G. H. BRAY, Rec. Sec.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W.
Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in Grange Hall, Day's Block, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.
Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOOERS, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.
Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Mooers, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory
Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

FINEST GROWN

SEEDS.

FODDER SEED CORN,
HUNGARIAN GRASS SEED,
TIMOTHY, RED TOP,
LAWN GRASS SEED.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,
Cross Block, Palmer.

Are You Troubled With that Tired Feeling?

Then WHY don't you get one of our JAPANESE FANS. We have marked them very low.

5 CENTS will buy a very handsome FOLDING FAN, in all colors.

10 CENTS, wide FOLDING FAN with cord and tassel. A regular 15c Fan. Higher grades, 17c, 19c, 20c, 25c, 29c, 49c, and 75c.

50 CENTS Buys the best SUMMER CORSET at that price made.

25 CENT Special Values in SILK MITTS and GLOVES, Black and Colors.

12 1-2 CENTS—LADIES' FAST BLACK HOSE, Seamless. Regular value 15 cents a pair.

The Sun of Fashion Rises and Sets in Monson at THE BOSTON STORE.

See Our INDIA LINEN DRESS LAWNS AT 12 1-2 CENTS.

For radiancy and beauty they far outshine any line of Cool Dress Goods ever shown at that price this season.

T. H. TODD.
Boston Cash Store, Monson.

Below find our prices for COAL to be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. Good men furnished to house and bin same at actual cost for their time. All coal screened.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

We would advise every one to put in EARLY ORDERS. Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

PRICES FOR LACKAWANNA:		PRICES FOR LEHIGH:
Stove size, $5.00 per ton.		Stove size, $5.15 per ton.
Chestnut,	5.00 " "	Chestnut,	5.15 " "
Furnace,	4.80 " "	Furnace,	5.00 " "

Less than one (1) ton 25 cents added for the load.

Delivered in bags 15 cents a ton additional, which will save expense housing in many cases.

JUNE 20, 1895.

R. M. & THEO. REYNOLDS,
MONSON, - - MASS.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,
VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.
Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.
Residence, Nassowanno House.
Office and stable, Central street.
PALMER, MASS.

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY
AND MACHINE SHOP.
At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.
MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL JOBBING DONE
At short notice and reasonable prices.
52-35 R. B. FRANCIS.

If you are going to use any
WALL PAPER
this spring it will
PAY YOU
to look at our line and get
OUR PRICES.
We have our NEW STOCK all in and know we are very bottom on prices.
WE WILL UNDERSELL
any city in the state of Massachusetts.
LeGRO & LYNDE,
DRUGGISTS,
Next Door to Post Office, Palmer.

=: Coal Notice. :=

After getting through a long hard winter and having a few dollars left, I bought early in the season some good coal of different sizes which I will sell at the following low prices, for May delivery. All coal screened, and if desired put in bin:

Lackawanna Stove,	-	-	$5.00 per ton
" Nut,	-	-	$5.00 " "
" Egg,	-	-	$4.80 " "
Lehigh Stove,	-	-	$5.15 " "
" Nut,	-	-	$5.15 " "
" Egg,	-	-	$5.00 " "

These prices are for coal delivered a reasonable distance from station, if taken from cars on arrival. I shall be here twelve months in the year to look after the business and solicit a share of the trade. Special prices on large lots.

Yours Very Respectfully,
RALPH CLIFFORD,
Monson, Mass., May 15th, 1895.

»»CARRIAGES.««

A REWARD OF $1000 offered if you will come here and truthfully say I am not OVERSTOCKED. Still they are coming by the carload and I have no place to store them.

Any kind of vehicle can be bought of me to-day at a great bargain. I am going to make a great break of 12 CANOPY TOPS, and will name a price on them that will astonish thin pocket-books. If you buy one you can laugh at the other fellow unless he buys here too. Every price is guaranteed against any dealer who pays for his goods.

—HARNESSES.—

All grades at lowest prices. Prices are so low as to look ridiculous in print. A little lower than any one else is our rule.

Our expenses are not one quarter that of other Dealers. This saving is yours if you buy of me.

D. N. BUTTERWORTH,
60 Dwight Street, - - Springfield.

CARRIAGES!!!

I have in stock a complete line of fine and medium grade Carriages.

Leather Top Carriages, for $60, 75, 100, 150, 300.
Open Buggies, for $40, 60, 75, 125, 150.
Second-Hand Carriages, $5, 10, 20, 40, 75.
Harnesses, $7.50, 9, 12, 15, 20.
DELIVERY WAGONS OF ALL KINDS.

W. H. SMITH,
2 PARK STREET, SPRINGFIELD.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Silk Department.

Here is where business is always increasing in volume. The explanation is easy when you realize just how low we are retailing silks. In fact we are surprised ourselves at the values we are giving for so little money. No wonder those Pongee Silks sell so quickly. Cheney Bros' Printed Pongees, the 75c and $1.00 kinds, 24 inches wide, one price on the lot, 57½ cents a yard.

These are new and desirable designs and colorings, fresh from the loom.

Lyon's Printed Indias, twilled and plain, handsome enough to sell for 60c and 75c a yard, 29 cents a yard.

There is a fair assortment of those Japanese corded Kai-Ki Wash Silks left. You can get enough for a nice waist at half-price—25c a yard. It will pay you to secure any of the above goods even if you do not use them until next summer. Such values will not come in your way again.

Rear of Main store.

Ribbons.

We have broken the rules again—we mean the arbitrary high-priced rules—and if we lose by it our loss will be your gain.

On sale this morning:

All our Fancy Ribbons, in endless variety, at 25c a yard. You know what that means. Particulars would be superfluous.

Main store, center.

Cloak Department.

This is the time when we long for a dip in the ocean. If you are going to the sea-shore take your bathing suit with you.

We are showing a full line Ladies' Bathing Suits at prices within the reach of all. From $1.75 upward.

Second floor.

SMITH & MURRAY.

DON'T FORGET
THAT WE CAN SELL YOU AT BOTTOM PRICES
Walter A. Wood Mowing Machines.
Buckeye " "
Champion Horse Rakes.
Yankee " "
Tiger " "
Clipper " "
Hay Tedders, Hay Rakes, Scythes.
Also Mowing Machine Repairs.
E. A. BUCK & CO.,
Cross Block, Palmer.

Agricultural Implements.

BELCHER & TAYLOR PLOWS AND CULTIVATORS. ROUGH AND READY WROUGHT IRON BEAM PLOWS. PLANET, JR. HORSE HOES AND CULTIVATORS. JOHN DOUD WHEEL HARROWS. LAWN MOWERS. SPRING TOOTH HARROWS. STEEL ROAD SCRAPERS. MOWING MACHINES, TEDDERS AND HORSE RAKES.

WE SHALL CARRY A GOOD LINE AND SOLICIT YOUR TRADE.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,
Cross Block, Palmer.

Sweeter than music to the ear is the . . .
MILK
and CREAM
...Produced at the...
MAPLE LAWN MILK FARM.
O. D. WELLS, Proprietor.

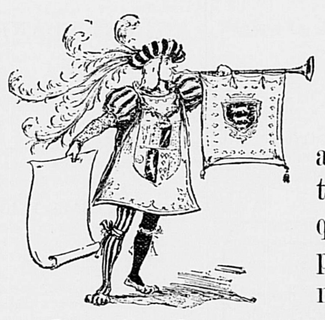
BICYCLES

RAMBLERS, . .	$100.00
ENVOY, ...	75.00
FLEETWING (ladies) .	75 00
STORMER, . . .	60.00
CRAWFORD, . . .	50.00

All warranted fully. Sweaters and bicycle sundries for sale. Also have good wheels to rent.

ERNEST D. TUFTS,
Holden's Block, - - Palmer, Mass.

CHARLES E. LYNCH.



IMPORTANT!

We need more room. Our large and growing business has entirely outgrown our present quarters. We have just completed the necessary arrangements.

In a few days more we shall be in the hands of carpenters, bricklayers, plasterers, and the like. Dirt, dust, and confusion will reign supreme. What's to be done? What's to be done to save our handsome goods from injury, from ruin?

We inaugurate at once a grand sale to get in shape for these alterations. We propose to dispose of every garment, every article possible. It will be economy in the long run. We make prices that mean business. It shall not be our fault if they are not low enough. We want to save our goods, we want to save our goods, we want the room. We are willing to pay for it, too. It will be the greatest, grandest clearing out sale of fine clothing for men, youths and boys ever heard of or known in Western Massachusetts. A grand opportunity to secure summer clothing at the least possible cost.

CHARLES E. LYNCH,
Promoter of Fashionable Clothing.
367 Main. SPRINGFIELD. 369 Main.
Your money refunded in case of any dissatisfaction whatever.

WALL PAPERS, MOULDINGS, ETC., AT MASON'S, PALMER.

E. S. BRYANT, D. M. D.
DENTIST.
LYNDE'S BLOCK, - PALMER.
Office Hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

BE SURE YOU SEE THE
MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS
BEFORE PURCHASING ANY OTHER.
Illustrated Catalog Sent on Application.
J. M. Bruce, Agent for Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties.
394 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

PALMER NEWS.

New Schoolhouse for Thorndike.

There was a generous attendance at the special town meeting Monday afternoon, when the most important article was that relating to a new schoolhouse at Thorndike. It was voted to build one, and $12,000 was appropriated for the purpose. Thomas J. Moran was chosen moderator. The first article taken up was that relating to the purchase of hose to take the place of that belonging to the town which had become worn out and useless, and it was voted to appropriate $325 for 500 feet. The article relating to the cemetery at the Depot village was then taken up, and a motion to rescind the former vote of the town providing for its enlargement was lost by a large vote. The schoolhouse matter was next in hand. L. E. Moore of the school committee read a communication from the state board of inspectors dated May 5th, 1891, ordering various changes in the school building at Thorndike or the erection of a new one, and related how the board had obtained a suspension of the order until the matter could be brought before the town at the annual meeting, giving as the reason why it had not been brought up at that time the neglect to attend to the matter by the member of the committee supposed to have it in charge. The matter had been recently brought to the attention of the school committe again, and a sub-committee had gone over the ground thoroughly, with the result that on account of the ancient condition of the present building a new one was unanimously recommended. Dr. Holbrook thought that if the committe would tend to business and put in a new heating and ventilating apparatus in the present building it would do a number of years yet, and the cost would not be over $2500. After the announcement that $12,000 was expected to provide the building ready for occupancy, a vote was taken and only two voices were heard against the construction of a new building. It was moved that a special committee of five be appointed to carry out the instructions of the town in the matter, and the chair appointed L. E. Moore, C. H. Hobbs, G. M. Atkins, Patrick Crowley and H. E. W. Clark. The question of disposing of the old "Morton" hand fire engine stored in the Ware River road's freight house to the Henry Gray engine company of Springfield, to be preserved as a relic, was disposed of by voting to give the engine if it was wanted. It was voted to build a sewer on Walnut street in the Depot village to connect with the Main street sewer and drain Converse avenue, Park and Pleasant streets, to be put in on the plan adopted by the town, the cost to be $1200. An attempt was made at this point to reconsider the action of the meeting on the cemetery matter, but it was unsuccessful. It was voted that the selectmen be empowered to contract with the state highway commission for the construction of a section of the state highway, provided said section be built within the town, and it was voted to borrow a sum not exceeding $6000 for this purpose, provided the contract was made. Should the town be fortunate enough to secure a section of the state highway within its limits the contract for its construction will give employment to a large number of Palmer workmen, and at the completion of the road the town will be paid back the money by the state. The treasurer and selectmen were authorized to borrow $13,525 to defray the expenses of the new school building, the sewer, and the new hose for the fire department. Dr. Holbrook wished the meeting to take some action toward compelling abutters to enter the sewers of the town, as provided for by the statutes, but there was no article in the warrant under which it could be done.

Ringling Bros.' Circus.

It is seldom that such an aggregation as Ringling Bros'. World's Greatest Show, which is to visit Palmer July 16th, stops at such small places, and it will doubtless be given a cordial welcome. Four railroad trains are required for its transportation, while the exhibitions are given in three rings, on two elevated stages and upon a quarter-mile track, under the largest canvas pavilions ever erected. The menagerie is said to be the most complete zoological collection in America, while the circus performance is a constant succession of wonders. The acrobats, gymnasts, aerialists, and riders number over one hundred of Europe and America's highest salaried artists, including the DaComas, famous aerialists; the great Eddy Family of acrobats; the Landader Troupe of nine flexible models; Orrin Hollis, Mike Rooney, Cecile Lowande, M'lle Elena, Julia Lowande and Marion Leslie, the celebrated bareback riders; the Ty-Bells, in their remarkable breakaway ladder act; William DeVan and Daniel Leon, the famous hurdle riders; the Miaco Family of clowns and acrobats, and scores of other notable features. One hour before the regular performance, Liberati's famous military band of sixty solists will give a musical festival, which will be free to all patrons of the show. Abundant time will also be given to examine the menagerie, which embraces the only giant giraffe in America, the largest and heaviest hippopotamus ever captured, two herds of performing elephants, and more other strange and curious wild beasts than any other exhibition in the world; a horse fair comprising 400 of the finest blooded stock that money could procure; a mammoth aquarium and musee of marvels; school of reason-endowed ponies in surprising drills and manœuvres; thrilling two and four-horse chariot races, gladiatorial contests and exciting Roman gala day sports; a gorgeous spectacular entry and the best all-round circus performance ever given under canvas.

Narrow Escape from Lightning.

The house of Thomas Roche, on Pond street, was struck by lightning about 7 o'clock last Sunday evening during the thunder shower, and while the damage will not exceed $20, Mr. Roche does not care to go through the experience again. He was sitting in the kitchen about two feet from a window when the electric current bored a hole about two inches in diameter in the boards directly over the window and loosened the plastering for some distance on each side, although none was thrown down. A guest from Ware was sitting beside Mr. Roche, and although the latter was somewhat dazed for a few minutes the former suffered no inconvenience. All the rest of the family were in another room. About 30 feet from the house was a clothes post, and the lightning evidently struck this first, the current splitting, part going down the post and into the ground and the other part branching off to the house.

Thrown From His Wagon.

B. Frank Coffin met with what might have been a serious accident last Friday afternoon. He drove east on Main street at a rapid rate and turned the corner of Commercial street all right, but in attempting to drive into the alley at the rear of the Commercial block he turned too short and was thrown out. He struck on his face and received a cut about an inch and a half by nearly two inches on his left cheek, the flesh being laid open almost to the bone, besides which he received a sprained shoulder. He was taken to his home on Commercial street and is recovering.

Testing the Education Law.

The case brought by the school committee of Wales against Ezekiel Dimmick of that town for failure to provide sufficient schooling for his daughter, was heard in the district court last Saturday. The evidence showed that the girl was absent one half day, and on coming the next day failed to bring an excuse from her parents, as required by the rules. She was allowed to remain that half day, but when she appeared at the next session without the excuse was sent home, and this course was continued for nine days, the girl being sent home twice each day. Mr. Dimmick then secured a governess for his daughter, who taught her for four weeks. This, Mr. Dimmick claims, in addition to the instruction received at school makes the number of weeks required by law. Dimmick thinks the trouble was caused by animus on the part of the school committee and superintendent, and they allege that the trouble lies with Mr. Dimmick, who for some time has wished to "get even" because another daughter was not re-engaged as a teacher in the schools. The case is important, as on the outcome hinges the right of the committee to make rules which the public must obey. The decision was reserved until next week, in order to allow the school register to be inspected by the court.

The State Board of Health Investigates The Scarlet Fever Cases.

Dr. S. W. Abbott of the state board of health was in Palmer last Friday to consult with the local board of health regarding the scarlet fever and diphtheria cases in Thorndike and Three Rivers. He gave his approval of the course adopted by the local board, and declined to advise more stringent measures, stating that those already employed were as rigid as is usual in any town or city of the state. He advised the careful exclusion from the schools of children in families where the diseases had appeared, but said that it was not necessary to quarantine the head of the family and prevent his earning the living, although the board has the power so to do if it seemed necessary. No new cases have been reported this week, and it is probable that with reasonable care and good disinfecting of the rooms occupied by the patients there will be no further spread of the disease. There may be further cases in families where the disease has previously appeared, but its outbreak in other families is unlooked for and unlikely.

Money and Watch Gone.

T. A. Harwood, proprietor of the Central street restaurant, is mourning the loss of his pocketbook containing some six or eight dollars, a watch and a plug of tobacco, abstracted from his clothing some time Tuesday night while he was closely wrapped in the arms of Morpheus. He did not miss the articles until late Wednesday morning when he felt the need of a chew of the weed, and on feeling in his pocket for the piece he knew he left there the night before, found it gone; a further search revealed the absence of the other articles. The window of Mr. Harwood's room is only about four feet from the ground, and Tuesday night a wagon was left standing close to the window; as Mr. Harwood deposited his clothes on the foot of the bed near the window when he retired it was an easy matter for a sneak-thief to remove them and abstract whatever he desired, then place the garments back again where he found them.

Fell From a Fourth Story Window.

James Brick of Stafford Springs fall from a fourth story window of the Nassowanno House Monday night, and strange to say not only still lives, but is apparently very little the worse for his experience. He went to the hotel in the evening and was given a room on the fourth floor. Near midnight occupants of the office thought they heard a sound as of some heavy body falling, but thought little of it and made no attempt to investigate. A little later they heard groans, and on going out of doors found Brick unconscious in the narrow alley between the hotel and Strong's block. He was taken into the hotel and Dr. Hendee summoned, who restored the victim to consciousness and found that no bones were broken. He was able to go to Stafford Springs Tuesday morining. Whether he jumped or fell from the window is not known.

Likely to Lose a Finger.

J. H. Woolrich, manufacturer of Ridge's Food, met with an accident last Friday afternoon which it is feared will result in the loss of a finger. He was tying a package near a window of the factory, and in endeavoring to draw the string tightly so as to secure the package the cord broke and his right hand smashed through the glass of the window, which was unusually heavy, cutting his hand severely. Besides several small gashes the cord of the second finger was severed, which it is feared will necessitate the amputation of that member, although an effort is being made to save it.

The exterior of the Universalist parsonage is receiving a coat of paint.

J. B. Shaw has a new sign over the enterance of his store on Main street.

W. E. Stone is making some alterations and improvements in the enterior of his store.

The Universalists of Palmer, Monson and Springfield will picnic at Forest Lake Garden next Tuesday.

The Sunday school of the Congregational church will picnic at Evergreen Park, State Line, next Tuesday.

Master Raymond Cowan gave a tea party to a number of his young friends Wednesday afternoon, to celebrate his fifth birthday.

Mrs. Susan Smith of Pearl street entertained a small birthday party of lady friends with a picnic at Forest Lake Wednesday.

Ida A. Wheeler of Palmer has been granted a divorce nisi from Willis Wheeler for desertion, with custody of minor children.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will preach next Sunday morning on "Some Religious Lessons from the flowers in the Homes, Fields and Gardens of Palmer."

The probate court at Springfield last Friday granted administration in the estate of Elisha W. Marcy, late of Holland, Nettie O. Simonds administratrix.

The school committee will hold a meeting to-morrow, at which time a report will be made regarding the recent examinations for admission to the high school.

The season at the hat shop did not close last Saturday night as was expected, and the works have been run a part of this week to finish up the orders, closing last night.

Rev. Dr. W. A. Duncan, field secretary of the Congregational Sunday School Union, gave an interesting talk in the Congregational church last Sunday morning on the work of the Union.

Children's Sunday was beautifully observed in St. Paul's Universalist church last Sunday morning. Five children were baptized, and each person was given a small bouquet. The attendance filled the audience room.

Immanuel Boubardier of Holyoke, accused of illegal liquor selling at Three Rivers, on Monday morning withdrew his plea of not guilty, acknowledged the error of his ways and paid $75 into the treasury of the district court.

A much-needed rain came Sunday evening just about church time, and there were small audiences in the various churches of the place in consequence. There was much thunder and lightning, and a large quantity of rain fell.

C. W. Robinson lost a roll of bills on the street Tuesday night, but when he discovered the loss thought he knew where he had dropped them, and on going there early Wednesday morning was fortunate enough to find them again.

The Palmers went to Thompsonville last Saturday to play ball with the St. Joseph's of that place, and held their own well, the score at the sixth inning, when the game was called to let the Palmers catch the train for home, being 9 to 9.

Next Sunday will be the fourth after Pentecost at St. Thomas's Catholic church, with mass at 9 a. m., Sunday school at 3 p. m. and vespers at 7.30. After next Sunday the usual order of services will prevail for the next two months, vespers being dispensed with.

The Baptist church is being thoroughly renovated during the two weeks it is to be closed. A new carpet is being laid on the floor of the audience room, and book racks are being put in all the seats, in which will be placed new singing books. Fresh paint is also playing no little part in the changes.

The administrator of the estate of the late Elijah Murdock of Thorndike will sell at auction next Monday at 10 o'clock a. m., at the store lately occupied by Mr. Murdock, the store building and lot on Commercial street in Thorndike, a dwelling house and lot on School street, a lot on High and Commercial streets, a building lot on Main street and a lot near Four Corners.

Persons who wish to spend Sunday at New York or Coney Island, leaving Palmer after business hours Saturday night and returning in time for business Monday morning, will do well to remember the excursion over the New London Northern road and down the sound to-morrow night. The special train leaves Palmer at 9 o'clock, and the fare for the round trip is $2. All day Sunday is given at either New York or Coney Island.

Occupants of the second floor of Commercial block are frequently annoyed by drunken men who crawl into the stairway and halls late at night to sleep off the "jag" they have taken on earlier in the evening, but the climax was reached Wednesday night, when ladies returning from the performance at the opera house found four scattered about the stairs and halls. An officer was sent for and the weary ones finished their nap on the soft side of an iron cot in the Hotel D'Allen.

One of Palmer's young lady school teachers went to the railroad station last Saturday morning to take the train for the north, and on arriving there met an acquaintance, with whom she began to visit. The conversation must have been an agreeable one, for although the train which the young lady wished to take was then at the station and it was nearly time for it to leave, she stood and conversed until it must have reached Barrett's Junction and been well on its way to Belchertown before she concluded she would get on board.

The Forest Lake Company is making preparations to entertain a large crowd on the Fourth, and will endeavor to provide enjoyment for all patrons of that popular resort. The West Warren Cornet band will furnish music, and there will be boating, bowling, etc. A turkey dinner will be served in the restaurant at 50 cents per plate. There will be dancing both afternoon and evening, with good music, and there will be a display of fireworks on the lake at 8 in the evening. Extra trains will leave the lake for Ware and Gilbertville at 11 p. m., and for Palmer at 12.15 a. m.

The thunder storm of Sunday night played havoc with the wires and lights of the electric company, proving the worst storm it has ever experienced. All the incandescent lights at Warren were put out, about half those at Palmer were rendered useless, and some at Monson. Three transformers in Palmer were burned out, and also two lightning arrestors at the station. The lines were all right again Monday night, although it took some lively work on the part of the employes of the company. The company suggests that when for any reason the lights in a house go out the company be notified the first thing the next day, instead of waiting until the lights are wanted.

A careless women driver came near causing serious trouble in front of the JOURNAL office Wednesday forenoon. In driving by a carriage which was standing at the side of the street she did not allow space enough and the wheel of her carriage caught in the rear wheel of the stationary one, upsetting it in a trice. Fortunately there was no one in the overturned carriage, and the horse was an exceedingly docile one, paying no attention whatever to the unusual state of affairs. Had it been a high-spirited animal serious trouble might have resulted, as other horses we hitched close beside it, and there was no one near enough to have prevented a general smashup. As it was there was no damage except a badly sprung wheel.

A large billboard for Ringling Bros. adorns (?) the south side of Main street opposite Holden's block, completely shutting off the view of the tenants to any portion of the country beyond the confines of the street, at which they are not particularly joyous, especially under the circumstances by which it was placed there. The advance agent saw some of the tenants and secured their permission, then told the selectmen that all had agreed to the erection of the structure, and they gave their permission. One of the tenants of the block was not approached in the matter, and another gave consent conditional on that of all the others being secured. It is safe to say that it will be a long time before another such structure will be erected there, within the limits of the highway at least.

The class day exercises of the graduating class of the high school were held on Oak Knoll at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and a large number of the friends of the class were in attendance. After an address of welcome by the class president, Olin Parent, came the class history, by Bertha D. Royce, in which was recounted many of the happenings through which the class had passed during its four years in the high school. The statistics, by John Sharratt, revealed many things which it would hardly do to print for fear of offending some of the feminine members of the class, judging by the blushes when certain items as to weight and age were read. The quotations, by Bertha A. Hastings, were well selected, the scholars of the school giving evidence of the fitness of the sentiments as applied. The poem by Eva G. Forte followed, and then came the prophecy by Margery Bruce, in which fame, wealth, and various other attributes were distributed among the different members of the class in all quarters of the globe. Victor D. Murdock read the class will, in which various belongings of the class of '95 were distributed among the following classes, not forgetting that which will enter next fall.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 23, 1895.

PALMER NEWS.

Death of Dr. C. W. Cross.

After a brave and unceasing struggle of three years with the encroachments of Bright's disease, Dr. Cyrus Wesley Cross passed away Tuesday evening at his home on West Main street, at the age of 53. A widow, two sons and two daughters survive him.

Dr. Cross was born in Monson April 10th, 1842, and when quite young moved with his parents to Worcester, from there to Boston and Charlestown, and at about the age of 15 to Wilbraham. There he was educated in Wesleyan Academy. Early in 1862 he enlisted in Co. D, 37th Massachusetts Volunteers, being then only about 19 years old, and served three years, being mustered out June 25th, 1865. He took part in a number of battles, among them being Cedar Creek, Fredericksburg and Gettysburg. At the close of the war he returned to Wilbraham, and soon began the study of dentistry in the office of Dr. Gould in Palmer, though retaining his residence in Wilbraham. On mastering his profession he opened an office in Wilbraham, where he remained until 1872, when he came to Palmer and opened an office, which he continued up to the time of his death. He married, in 1866, Miss Anna Cooley of Springfield, by whom he had two children, Alice S., who died at the age of 6 years, and Chester W., now employed in the Palmer National Bank. Mrs. Cross died in 1872, and some two years later he married Miss Charlotte E. Kent of Wilbraham, who survives him, with three children, Louis Kent, 18, Bertha May, 14, and Laura Blanche, 11.

Dr. Cross was one of the charter members of L. L. Merrick post of the Grand Army, and one of its most loyal supporters; he had held many offices in it, and at the time of his death was adjutant. He was a prominent Mason, being a member of Thomas Lodge,—of which he was secretary for 12 years,—Hampden chapter and Washington council of Palmer, and Springfield commandery, Knights Templar. He was also a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and the Golden Rule Alliance. In religion Dr. Cross was a Congregationalist, having joined that church in 1883, doing faithfully his part, both financially and otherwise, toward its support.

Dr. Cross never held public office, though he had many opportunities to do so had he wished. His was a quiet life, modest and unassuming, yet he was ever firm on the side of right and all that stood for good citizenship and the best interests of the town and those about him. Of a cheerful disposition, ready at all times to help those in trouble with whom he came in contact, he made many friends who will sincerely mourn his loss and grieve with the grief-stricken family, to whom the sympathy of the community goes out in large measure.

The funeral was at the house this afternoon at 2.30, Rev. F. E. Jenkins of the Congregational church officiating, the service consisted of reading of Scripture, remarks, prayer, and singing by a quartette composed of H. W. McGregory, W. R. Milligan, Miss Effie Moffatt and Mrs. F. W. Harrison. The body was escorted to the cemetery by the Masons and the G. A. R. post, where the latter took charge of the burial, the service being that of the order, usual in such cases. The places of business were closed during the funeral.

Palmer's New Opera House.

The new opera house in the Odd Fellows' building, which was opened with the spectacular opera of "Zephra" Wednesday evening, is a cozy little place, and will no doubt be much appreciated by the public, after the year and a half which they been without an amusement hall. At the right of the lobby, which is about 15 feet square, is a convenient ticket office, and at the left the entrance to the gallery. The audience room is 50 feet wide and 55 feet from doors to the stage. The latter is 50 feet wide and 32 feet deep, admitting of the staging of the largest plays and the use of all the special scenery which traveling companies carry. The proscenium arch is 30 feet wide and 16 high. The audience room is 22 feet from floor to ceiling, and 10 feet to the under side of the gallery; from the gallery floor to the ceiling is 8 feet. Under the stairs to the gallery is a commodious cloak room, and the dressing rooms, four in number, located under the stage, are large and conveniently reached. From the gallery stairs on either side lead down to doors near the stage, for use in case of fire. The house will seat 650 comfortably, or 700 if the seats are placed a little closer together. The seats are of the folding variety, and very comfortable. A handsome drop curtain and five sets of scenery—landscape, street, kitchen, parlor and prison—have been placed on the stage, and more will probably be added later. A Steinway square piano has also been purchased. The house is brilliantly lighted by 140 incandescent electric lamps. There are 11 under the gallery and the same number over it, while four five-light groups are arranged on the ceiling. There are 30 lamps in the footlights, and 26 over the stage.

A fair audience greeted the presentation of "Zephra" Wednesday evening, the majority of the cast being local. In spite of the short time for preparation and the difficult movements in the various marches, the performance passed off unusually well, and the second preformance last night was before a much larger audience. Great credit is due the younger members of the cast for their pretty marching and dancing, these being the principal features of the opera, which has just enough plot to keep the piece together and serve as the introduction to the various specialties. The performance was greatly heightened by the calcium light effects and the presence of an orchestra from Springfield. The stage settings were the most elaborate ever attempted in Palmer, and the performances were greatly enjoyed.

The Bicycle Races on the Fourth.

The Palmer Bicycle Club is anticipating great sport for those who attend their second annual race meet next Thursday, as the list of entries—30 in number—include a greater array of fast men than last year. The races will be called at 2 o'clock sharp, and the Ware Cornet Band will furnish music. In the various races there are following entries: Novice, 14; 3-minute class, 20; mile open, 17; Waite prize cup, 3; half-mile handicap, 27; mile local, 4. The names of the contestants are: G. H. Risk, F. T. Parsons, C. N. Mitchell, F. H. Kendall, G. E. Kingsbuy, H. W. Frye, A. Clark and E. C. Ferree of Springfield; F. H Pratt of Lawrence; E. D. Tufts and E. A. Marsh of Palmer; H. O. Converse, H. C. Adams and A. H. Meyers of Stafford; Edward Price of Warren; W. O. Knowlton and C. D. Holden of Bondsville; V. L. Arnold of Wales; A. W. Stacy of Belchertown; George Blythe, J. Vincelette, Sam Adams, T. J. Begley and J. F. Adams of Chicopee; H. D. Tower, A. F. Crowther and F. M. Sawin of Chicopee Falls; H. C. Sholes and W. G. Russell of Three Rivers. The track has been put in good condition, and some fast time is expected.

Mrs. Plietteplace of Leverett will preach in the Advent chapel next Sunday.

The Palmers will go to Thompsonville tomorrow forenoon to play the nine there.

M. C. Fenton, a former resident of Palmer, died at Rome, N. Y., Monday at the age of 69.

The committee on the Thorndike schoolhouse held a meeting Tuesday afternoon and decided to advertise for plans.

An effort is being made to have all the business places of the village close at 10 o'clock next Thursday morning, the Fourth.

Another shower came last night, doing much good to the gardens but not greatly benefitting hay which had been cut but not housed.

The Flynt Building and Construction Company has the contract to build a large addition to the works of the Dunnell Mfg. Co. at Pawtucket, R. I.

Chin Sing, proprietor of the Chinese laundry on Main street, has gone to China to spend the summer, and the laundry is in care of a new Celestial.

Mr. Averill requests that all books and costumes used by those who took part in "Zephra" be left at the Converse House or at the Odd Fellow's building immediately.

The Spiritualist camp meeting at Niantic, Ct., will open to-morrow, and the New London Northern road will sell round-trip tickets for $2.70, good until September 2d.

An excursion to Block Island will be run over the New London Northern road to-morrow, the train leaving Palmer at 7.35 a. m., and the round-trip fare being $2 25. Returning the train will leave New London at 5.27, reaching Palmer at 8.

The graduating exercises of the high school will be held in the opera house this evening, the address being delivered by President Gates of Amherst College. Immediately after the exercises the class will give a reception to invited guests. The Palmer Orchestra will furnish music for the reception.

Sunday morning at the Congregational church the pastor will preach on "Victorious Living," and give a short talk to the children on "The Happiest Person." In the evening the service will be appropriate to Independence Sunday, and the pastor will give a sermon on "Our National Elixir of Life."

The Block Island train will make its first trip of the season over the New London Northern road next Monday, leaving Palmer at 7.35 a. m. It will reach Palmer on the return trip at 8 p. m., and go on to Brattleboro. At the same time the morning train north will be changed from 8 22 to 8.20, and the afternoon train south from 1.55 to 1.50.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational church has elected these officers for the next six months: President, Louis K. Cross; vice president, Julia A. Allen; recording secretary, Mrs. G. H. Wilkins; corresponding secretary, Mrs. L. E. Chandler; treasurer, Mabel A. Sedgwick; chairman of lookout committee, Maude Burnham; prayer meeting, Anna L. Fisherdick; missionary and temperance, Mrs. A. H. Bogue; music and social, Lottie Bray.

Miss E. M. Peirce, assistant teacher in the high school, will not return to the school in the fall, having resigned her position to accept one in Providence, R. I., her home, a position which will be a great advance over the one she had here. Miss Peirce has proved a valuable and popular teacher in the school, and while both pupils and committee will rejoice over her good fortune in securing an advanced position, all will regret her departure from town.

The assessors have so far completed their labors as to announce the tax rate, which will be $16.10, with $2.20 additional for the fire district. This is a reduction of 60 cents on the town tax and 10 cents on the fire district tax from last year. The valuation is $2,706,992, the fire district valuation being $1,012,902. There are 1831 persons assessed a poll tax. The number of horses is 624; cows, 605; sheep, 101; neat cattle, 208; swine, 149; fowls, 619; dwelling houses, 932; land, 15,545 acres.

Antoni Baca of Ware, who attended a Polish dance at Thorndike last Saturday night, became so exhilarated by the refreshments provided on the occasion that he started in to paint Three Rivers a vermillion hue, in consequence of which he disgorged $20 to the district court Monday morning, assessed equally for drunkenness and disturbing the peace. Charles Peters of Palmer was assessed $5 Tuesday morning for drunkenness. Wednesday morning John O'Connell of Monson was adjudged an insane person and committed to the hospital at Northampton. Yesterday John Doyle and Timothy Daly of Palmer paid $5 each for drunkenness; Charles Doyle of Palmer, John Smith of Stony Creek, Ct. and Barnard L. Hooker of Syracuse, N. Y., were fined $5 each for the same offense and sent up in default of funds.

The following item regarding the marriage of Miss Mabel McQuaid, formerly of Palmer, at Chatham, N. Y., Wednesday, is from the Courier of that place:

One of the prettiest home weddings to occur in Chatham this season will take place this evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Royal A. McQuaid on Woodbridge avenue, when their elder daughter, Mabel Louise, will be joined by the bonds of wedlock to Charles William Allen, junior member of the firm of E. P. Allen & Son, proprietors of the steam laundry, Rev. T. S. Brown, pastor of the Reformed church, officiating. The bridesmaids will be Miss Myrtle McQuaid, sister of the bride, and Miss Laura L. Allen, sister of the groom. Dillon A. Cady and Henry M. Doty will act as groomsmen. The young couple will spend their honeymoon in Massachusetts among relatives and friends of the bride, and on their return will reside in the cosy appartments which they have had arranged on Hudson avenue. The bride and groom are both estimable young people whose excellent qualities and pleasing traits of character have gained for them a high social standing in the community, and The Courier joins with the vast circle of friends in extending most hearty and sincere congratulations and best wishes for future happiness and prosperity.

Personal.

Miss Maude Kenerson is home from New York.

Miss Carrie D. Hall of Willimantic is the guest of Miss May Fiske.

C. C. Gardner returned Monday evening from Clifton Springs, N. Y.

Mrs. J. E. Bird of Syracuse, N. Y., is visiting her mother, Mrs. S. Ellis.

H. H. Brown sailed Monday for Germany, to be gone about three months.

N. W. Chandler left Wednesday for New York, where he is to study law.

Welcome Betts of Syracuse, N. Y., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fish.

Mrs. H. B. May of Lee is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dewey.

Mrs. C. F. Grosvenor goes next Monday to Block Island for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. William Oare are spending a couple of weeks in Brooklyn, New York.

Miss Ada Wing has been attending the commencement exercises at Wellesley this week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Bailey of Clinton are being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Bodfish.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Randall have returned from an extended visit in the eastern part of the state.

Byron Shanks of St. Albans, Vt., formerly of Palmer, is spending the week with friends in town.

Mrs. J. Sedgwick goes next Wednesday to Denver, Col., to be gone until the first of September.

Miss Minnie A. Farnsworth of Amsterdam, N. Y., is the guest of Misses Ida and Mabel Smith.

Master Roger and Miss Mary Taylor of Grand View, Tenn., are visiting their uncle, E. B. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Buck and family spent Sunday and the first part of the week in Westford, Ct.

C. A. Brown has returned from the hospital at New York, having found some relief from his rheumatism.

J. T. Leonard of Willimantic, Ct., has been spending a part of the week with his daughter, Mrs. L. E. Chandler.

Mrs. J. Everett Haynes and son and Miss Belle Haynes of Springfield are boarding with Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Kendall.

Mrs. E. W. Leavitt and daughter of Boston have been spending part of the week with Dr. and Mrs. William Holbrook.

Mrs. L. A. Lawrence and Mrs. A. H. Stone of Worcester have been spending a part of the week with Mrs. William Merriam.

Principal Thayer of the high school, and wife leave next Monday for their summer vacation in Blackstone and other points in the eastern part of the state.

Miss C. A. Marsh of Amherst, a teacher in the schools of Somerville and a former teacher in the high school, is spending a few days with Miss Bessie Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Camp are taking a vacation, and Mr. Camp's train on the Boston and Albany road is being run by Conductor Emerson of Springfield.

John Page, who graduated from the School for Christian Workers in Springfield last week, goes to Galt, Ont., as secretary and director of the Y. M. C. A. there.

F. H. DeFour and sister of Worcester, and Mrs. F. S. Meady of Boston, who have been guests of H. N. Sager at the Nassowanno House, have returned to their homes.

Rev. C. H. Ricketts of Somers, Ct., well known in Palmer as a former pastor of the Congregational church in Thorndike, is to sail for Europe next Wednesday, to be gone about two months.

[FOR ADDITIONAL PALMER NEWS SEE FIRST PAGE.]

BONDSVILLE.

O. A. Parent is riding a new Keating wheel.

Miss Horton of Worcester is the guest of Mrs. Fred Collis.

Mrs. Childs spent a few days last week with friends in Lowell.

Leon Ryther is home from school in Maine for his summer vacation.

Charles Fuller was the guest over Sunday of Frank Towne of Ludlow.

Mr. Esten of Lowell was the guest of Mr. Charles Armstrong last Sunday.

The Bondsville team will play the Ware team at Ware to-morrow afternoon.

Mrs. O. A. Parent is the guest of her brother, Mr. Morse, of Belchertown.

Miss Russell of Lowell is visiting her father, Thomas Russell, for a few weeks.

Mrs. Stevens and children spent a few days last week at her father's home in Lowell.

Miss Ethel Gilbert of Amherst was the guest of Miss Margery Bruce a part of the week.

Miss Campbell, a former teacher in this place, is the guest of Mrs. Charles Armstrong.

Miss A. O'Regan spent part of the week with her sister, Mrs. J. B. Belcher, in Chicopee Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble left Monday for Waltham, where they will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Getchell before going to their home in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Richmond have the sympathy of many friends and neighbors in the death of their youngest child, who died Friday night with scarlet fever.

Rev. B. McKeany has returned from his tour abroad, and reports a very pleasant trip. He was gone about five months and visited Egypt, Italy, France, Germany, England and Ireland.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan have the sympathy of many friends in the loss of their little son, Timothy, a very bright and pretty child, who died from scarlet fever last Saturday. Two other children are sick with the disease.

THORNDIKE.

Michael Kennedy is home from his studies in New York state.

Mrs. W. J. McCormick paid a visit to her parents in Lawrence this week.

Miss Annie Hogan of Chicopee is visiting friends in town for a few days.

Miss Lucy Long of Pascoag, R. I., is the guest of Misses Mary and Bess McCarthy.

Miss Mary Labonte will leave Monday for a month's stay with her parents in Maine.

Howard Hanson of Rhode Island, a former resident, was visiting friends in town this week.

Miss Annie Snyder of Northampton has been the guest of Miss Nellie Foster, returning the last of the week.

Miss Rosie Chabbott was given a surprise by her young friends on Monday evening, and a general good time prevailed.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Moran are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a 12-pound baby girl, which was born on Friday.

Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Flynn of Pittsfield spent part of the week in town visiting friends, and left here on Monday for New London, where they expected to take the boat for New York.

Mrs. Luke Morse and Mrs. William O. Carpenter of Hartford, and Mrs. T. D. Potter and Mrs. Mary Tucker of Springfield have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bigsby during the past week.

The result of Monday's town meeting seems to please the citizens and taxpayers of this place in general. The school building which it was voted to erect here at a cost of $12,000 will fill a long-felt want.

The Foresters at their meeting Tuesday evening elected the following officers for a term of six months: C. R., M. E. Keefe; S. C. R., George A. Hutchinson; R. S., Thomas H. Longtine; S. W., Horace H. Messier; J. W., William Gerald; S. B., Maurice G. Roche; J. B., Leo Foster. The Foresters' rooms have been newly painted and papered, and a new carpet will be purchased at once.

Thorndikes 8—Wares 2.

The Thorndikes met their old opponents for the first time this season on Saturday last on the church ground before a fair audience, and "did them up" to the tune of 8 to 2. Sugrue pitched a splendid game for the home club and was given excellent support. The features were Chapman's fielding, Sullivan's playing at short for the visitors, Bordoro's fine running catch in the seventh inning, and the hitting of Gay, Longtine, Kelliher and Chapman. Connor pitched a good game also, but the home team played with snap and unusual brilliancy.

The Thorndikes go to Southbridge to-morrow. They play at Warren on the Fourth, and will play at Ware on the 6th.

THREE RIVERS.

J. Johnson is on the sick list.

Peter Roberts has returned from his visit to Canada.

One of Fred LeFebvre's little girls has the scarlet fever.

J. W. Cheney is to place a naphtha launch on the river.

Paige & Mason have put up a new sign over their pharmacy.

Darius Gray has been much troubled with rheumatism this week.

F. B. Loomis of Spencer Point spent Sunday with Herbert Baker.

J. Needham spent a few days visiting relatives in Waltham last week.

Joseph Boulanger is to have a large storehouse built back of A. Grise's bakery.

Byron Shanks of St. Albans, Vt., spent a part of the week with Harry Newell.

Miss Lucy Talmage of Boston is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Talmage.

Miss Allen of Belchertown was the guest of Miss Anna Murdock a few days this week.

Mrs. Sirois's two daughters are home from the convent in Webster for the summer vacation.

Mrs. E. C. Weeks will soon leave for New York, where she will visit her mother for a few weeks.

F. Fillmore has moved his office to a new location, about thirty feet away from J. F. Hartnett's saloon.

Misses Helen Sweet, Allcetta Mills and Crane returned to their homes Monday. Miss Cora Clark left Saturday.

The W. C. T. U. gave a lawn party at the home of Abel Calkins Tuesday afternoon. Many were present, and an enjoyable time was the result.

The children of the French parochial school gave the operetta which they presented a few months ago in Saint Anne's church, Tuesday evening. Among the visitors were several out of town priests.

At their meeting Tuesday evening the A. O. U. W. decided not to have a picnic the Fourth. Their reason for this is that there will be enough "picnic" in town that day without an additional one in the grove. Nevertheless they are to have one in the near future.

Through some mistake it was given in last week's JOURNAL that a lawn party would be given at W. Talmage's place last Saturday afternoon. To-morrow is the correct time. Busses will be on hand to carry all who wish to attend; round-trip ticket ten cents. Invitations have been extended to the members of the Union Evangelical church.

Rev. E. E. Weeks will close his pastorate with the Baptist church next Sunday. He will take for the subject of his morning sermon, "Christian union." The evening service will be a Union service of the churches, to be held in the Baptist church, when Mr. Weeks will preach his farewell sermon. A number of candidates will be baptized after the evening service.

Sunday night's storm did considerable damage in this section of the town. Stephen Sullivan lost two cows and several pigs by the lightning, and Mr. Manning has one cow less to take care of. Miss Chabotte and Miss Ouimette were somewhat stunned by the lightning. The hailstones, which fell during fifteen minutes, were as large as nutmegs.

MARRIED.

At Palmer, 26th, by Rev. James Donoghue, Thomas J. Boyle and Mary E. Norris.
At Hampden, 26th, by Rev. Calvin Stebbins, assisted by Rev. G. W. Solley, Lucius A. Burleigh and Miss Susie S. Beebe, both of Hampden.
At Clinton, 25th, by Rev. W. W. Jordan, Frank G. Fox of Ware and Nellie S. Putnam of Clinton.

DIED.

At Palmer, 25th, Dr. Cyrus W. Cross, 53.
At Monson, 26th, Gilbert W. Farrington, 53 y., 7 m.
At Rome, N. Y., 24th, M. C. Fenton, 69, formerly of Palmer.

Resolutions of L. L. Merrick Post, 107, G. A. R., Dept. of Mass.

WHEREAS, The Supreme Commander has ordered our beloved comrade, ex-commander and adjutant, Cyrus W. Cross, from this earthly to the Heavenly Department, therefore

Resolved, That we extend to his stricken widow and family our heartfelt sympathy, and to the members of this Post the unselfish life and spotless character of Comrade Cross shall be an incentive to nobler living.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records, and a copy transmitted to the family of our late comrade.

H. E. W. CLARK,
WILLIAM HOLBROOK,
E. G. HASTINGS,
} Committee on Resolutions.

Palmer, June 26, 1895.

FOUND.—A pair of gold-rimmed eye glasses. 13-1 H. R. HEATH.

TO RENT.—Tenement on Pleasant street. 7-tf G. H. WILKINS, Palmer.

GOOD pasturage for cows. CHAS. B. FISKE, Palmer, Mass.

LOST—Thursday evening in passenger station, a white gauze fan, hand-painted. Suitable reward. Please leave at JOURNAL office.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. 4-tf

FOR SALE.—One Beebe speeding cart, has only been used a few times. Also one road cart, one good Phaeton, and one good cook stove. GEORGE P. BELL, M. D., 3-tf Three Rivers, Mass.

E. W. French, agent for the New Singer Mfg. Co., has opened an office in Palmer, with headquarters at the Weeks House, and is showing their latest productions for 1895 sewing machines, with three different machines for family use. 52-tf THE SINGER MFG. CO.

J. P. SCHNEIDER, M. D.
No. 4 Thorndike Street.
Office hours till 9 a. m., 12 to 2 p. m. and 6 to 8 p. m. 9-tf

FOR SALE.—The store of the late E. G. Murdock in Thorndike, Mass., also dwelling corner of Commercial and High streets, and one on School street in said Thorndike. Must be sold to close estate. C. L. GARDNER, Adm. Jan. 21st, 1895. 43-tf

NOTICE.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Rogers-Osgood Hat Company will be held at the company's office on Wednesday, July 10, 1895, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the election of officers for the ensuing year, and the transaction of any other business that may legally come before the meeting. CHAS. B. FISKE, Clerk. Palmer, Mass., June 28th, 1895. 13-2

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of a power of sale in a certain mortgage deed given by Charles F. Crawford to John B. Hatch of Stafford, Tolland County, Conn., dated February 3d, 1888, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Hampden, libro 442, folio 86, will be sold at public auction at the dwelling house on the premises, on Saturday, the thirteenth day of July, 1895, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:—The following described lot of land, together with the buildings thereon standing, situated partly in Brimfield and partly in Holland in said County of Hampden, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a ditch side of the road leading from Holland to Brimfield, about 15 rods south of the town line, running northerly on said ditch and road to land of Warren Agard, thence westerly, thence northerly on said Warren Agard to land of Lucy Corbin; thence westerly on said Corbin to the old county road; thence southerly on said road to land of H. A. McFarland; thence easterly; thence southerly on said McFarland to the highway leading from Wales to East Brimfield; thence easterly on said road to land of Willie A. Webber; thence northerly, thence easterly, thence southerly, thence easterly, thence southerly on said Webber to land of Henry Switzer; thence easterly on said Switzer's land to place of beginning. Subject to the rights of the public in all highways passing through the same.

Which said mortgage deed has been duly assigned to Charles L. Gardner of Palmer, in said County of Hampden, by Jarvis B. Hatch, executor of the last will of said mortgagee. $200 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale.

CHARLES L. GARDNER, Assignee. Palmer, Mass., June 21, 1895. 12-3

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

By license of the probate court for the county of Hampden, the subscriber, administrator of the estate of Elijah G. Murdock, late of Palmer, in said county, deceased, will sell at public auction, at the store on the first tract hereinafter mentioned, on Monday, the first day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, the following property, belonging to the estate of said Elijah G. Murdock, viz.: The store, building and lot on Commercial street, Thorndike, in said Palmer. Dwelling house and lot, corner of Commercial street and High streets, in said Thorndike. Dwelling house and lot on School street in said Thorndike. Spring lot, so called, on High street in said Thorndike. Building lot on Main street in said Thorndike. Lot near Four Corners in said Palmer. Said property is centrally located and will make a good investment for any one.

CHARLES L. GARDNER, Administrator. Palmer, Mass., June 13th, 1895. 11-3

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Charlotte C. Bourn, late of Palmer, in the county of Hampden, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to H. NEWTON SEDGWICK, Executor. Palmer, Mass., June 11th, 1895. 11-48

DENTISTRY.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PALMER AND VICINITY:

Having thoroughly equipped my new office with the most modern inventions and methods pertaining to dentistry, I am now prepared to meet the demands of the public in all the branches of the art. I have associated with me DR. O. P. ROLLER, a graduate in

DENTAL SURGERY,

who has made a specialty of crown and bridge work, all gold, porcelain, combination crown, etc. Gold, aluminum and artificial dentures of every description. The best of workmanship guaranteed. 2-tf

DR. C. W. CROSS, PALMER, MASS.

AGENTS WANTED.

Salary or commission to good men. Fast selling Imported Specialties.

Stock Failing to Live Replaced Free.

We sell only High Grade Stock and true to name. Also Pure Seed Potato Stock our Specialty Leader.

Address R. D. LUTCHFORD & CO., NURSERYMEN, (Letters promptly answered.) Rochester, N.Y.

DENTAL

Operations are usually painful; but at my office we excavate and Fill all Cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN. Also, we do Crown and Bridge Work and make Artificial Teeth that are Satisfactory. First Class Work at Reasonable Prices is our motto. Lady Attendant. Take Elevator.

DR. WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, DENTIST. Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield, Mass.

.... J. M. BRUCE, ...
AGENT FOR THE
TROWBRIDGE UPRIGHT PIANOS.

Trowbridge Pianos for Tone.
Trowbridge Pianos for Action.
Trowbridge Pianos for Fine Cases.

PIANOS TUNED, REGULATED and REPAIRED.
Office, Room 25, Main St. P. O. Box 166.
SPRINGFIELD, - MASS.

ECONOMY

Steam, Water and Warm Air

HEATERS.

Place one in your house and you make

NO MISTAKE.

Model Grand and Crawford Ranges lead all others. Work every time.

NO GUESS WORK HERE.

Plumbing in all its Branches.

Tinning—Anything you want.

W. H. Hitchcock.

TIN WARE AT COST.

Central St., PALMER.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

ART SQUARES.

Prices cut throughout our entire line of All Wool Ingrain Art Squares, and an excellent line it is too.

They are selling like this:

Size
2	yds. x	2	yds. were	$5.10	now $3.75
3	"	2½	" "	6.48	" 4.69
3	"	3	" "	7.65	" 5.63
3	"	3½	" "	8.93	" 6.56
3	"	4	" "	10.20	" 7.50
3	"	4½	" "	11.48	" 8.44
3½	"	4	" "	11.90	" 8.75

First floor.

CARPET REMNANT ROOM.

All our short lengths of Carpets are here. In many cases enough for a small room, hall or bath-room.

Best all-wool Ingrains at 35 cents a yd.

Body Brussels at 62½ cents a yard.

Misfit Carpets in Body Brussels and best Tapestries at half price. Bring in the dimensions of your rooms. There are bargains here for you.

Basement.

STRAW MATTINGS.

The continued large business we are having in Straw Mattings shows that we are headquarters for them. We call particular attention to our line at 15c, 20c, and 25c a yard. Better qualities than you generally find at these prices. The largest line of Japanese Mattings you'll find hereabout.

Basement.

CHAMBER SETS.

Half price is making quick work of a number of samples Chamber Sets, designs not to be made again. All the desirable woods.

Fourth floor.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

Springfield, Mass.

BICYCLES FOR '95.

Stearns "Yellow Fellow," Ladies' and Gent's, $100.
Warwick, "Crimson Rims," $80, $85, $100.
Crescents, $90, $75, $50, $40.
Lovell Diamond, $25 to $100.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,
Cross Block, Palmer.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO SEPT. 30, 1894.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58, p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Pansy Park, South Amherst and Hadley—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
FOR Belchertown, Amherst and Northampton—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39, p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY, Gen'l Mgr.

Charles Beach has entered the employ of the Cutler Co.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,

OPTICIAN.

331 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds. Artificial Eyes Furnished. Oculists' Prescriptions promptly and accurately filled. Mail orders solicited. 51-26

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

Engraved Address Cards. Plate engraved and 100 cards printed, only $1.50. Styles change often—your old cards may be out of style, probably are—better have some new ones, with correct size of card and style of lettering. At the JOURNAL Office.

A 19 CENT SALE

At Hellyar's Bargain Store,

Caryl's Block, - On the Corner.

4 yards of Lining Cambric.
1¼ yards of best Silicia.
2 yards of imitation Hair Cloth.
2 yards of Crinoline.
1½ yards of Canvas.
3 yards of Cross Bar Cambric.
5 yards of Apron Check Gingham.
2 yards of Dress Goods.
3 yards of Outing Flannel.
1½ yards Colored Canton Flannel.
1¼ yards best Feather Ticking.
4 yards Lace Scrim.
¼ yard Silk Plush (all colors.)
4 doz. Dress Buttons.
8 doz. Hooks and Eyes (Kant Open.)
7 spools Black Silk.
4 spools Best Thread.
5 spools, 500 yards, Basting Thread.
1 bottle 25c Perfumery.
1 bottle Mitchell's Rose Cutilave.
13 yards Tom Thumb Ribbon.
4 yards Morai, Picot Edge Ribbon.
2 yards Wide Lace.
3 pair Dress Shields (warranted.)
2 pair Hose, ladies or children.
2 fine Huckabuck Towels.
4 yards Toweling, bleached or unbleached.
4 bunches of Envelopes, all sizes.
4 quires best Writing Paper.
1 White Apron.
1 black Shopping Bag.
2 Shoulder Shawls.
3 pair Gent's Hose.
10 yards Narrow Hamburg.
1½ skeins Germantown.
1 earthen Tea Pot.
1 large Yellow Bowl.
1 Drapery Pole and Trimmings.
10 papers of Pins.
4 doz. Lead Pencils.
2 Rope Halters.
1 Curry Comb and Brush.
2 Cuspidores.
5 bunches of Tacks.
4 bunches Toilet Paper.
1 Bean Pot.
2 yards Rug Fringe.
1 Wire Rat Trap.
4 yards Carpet Lining.

Any of the above ONLY 19 CENTS. This is the store for the economical buyers.

Best live Geese Feathers only 55c per lb.
White Bed Spreads 67 cents.
Laundered White or Colored Shirts, 47 cents.
Floor Oils Cloths, 23 cents per yard.
Slop Pails 25 cents.
Lanterns, 42 cents.
Curtains 23c, 31c, 36c, 37c, 50c each.
2 pair Men's Suspenders, 25c.
Custom Suits from $11 to $25.

REMEMBER THE PLACE,
HELLYAR'S BARGAIN STORE,
Caryl's Block, on the Corner,
PALMER, - MASS.

HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS,
HORSE BLANKETS.

A FULL LINE OF

STABLE AND . . .
STREET BLANKETS

—AT—

WHOLESALE PRICES.

D. W. FOSKETT,
FOSKET'S MILLS.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.

CORRECTED TO NOVEMBER 11, 1894.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a m and 4.25 p m for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R R, at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R R, and at Palmer with B & A R R for Worcester, Boston, Springfield.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a m, 12.13 and 5.57 p m.
Leave Palmer, 8.40 a m, 1.55 and 7.15 p m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.25, 10.17 a m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.25 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.27 p m.
The 5.25 and 7.40 a m and 2.30 p m run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a m and 5.27 p m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.22, 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m, the 11.00 a m and 7.15 p m connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.22 and 11.00 a m, and 7.15 p m.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.
S. W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A., St. Albans.

TRADE SCHOOL

DEPARTMENT OF THE
Springfield Industrial Institute,
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Finely equipped shops, skilled mechanics for instructors. For particulars address
4-26 L. P. STRONG, Director.

Kindergarten Normal Dept.

OF THE
Springfield Industrial Institute,
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

5th YEAR BEGINS OCTOBER, 1895.
For particulars address
4-26 MRS. A. J. WATERS.

MR. J. B. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty. 7-tf SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.

Silk Waist, Challie Dress, Parasol, Fan, New Suit, Sweater, Trunk or Bag, Suit of Underwear, Windsor Tie,

JULY 4th IS ALMOST HERE. YOU WILL WANT A

Silk Belt, Hammock, Straw Hat, 4-in-Hand Tie, Negligee Shirt, Thin Coat, Pair of Duck Pants, Pair of Gloves.

You may not care for all of these, but isn't there something here that you need? If so, go to

D. L. BODFISH,

CROSS BLOCK,
PALMER, - - - MASS.

Why do You Swelter?

IN HOT WEATHER CLOTHES WHEN YOU CAN GET SUCH COOL GARMENTS AT SUCH LOW PRICES AT

CHARLES K. GAMWELL'S.

IT

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 28, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

Death of Postmaster Farrington.

Postmaster Gilbert W. Farrington died Wednesday at 2.30 a. m., after an illness of seven weeks. Mr. Farrington's death was due to meningitis, caused by appendicitis, for which he underwent two operations. After the second he did not recover his reason, and his life slowly went out.

Mr. Farrington was the son of Caroline and Zeno Farrington, and was born in Wales November 17th, 1841. He was educated at Wilbraham and Monson Academies, and then came to Monson to enter the employ of Merrick, Fay and Co., straw goods manufacturers, where he remained twelve years. In September 1881 he was chosen librarian of the Monson Free Library, serving till July 1886, when he received an appointment as postmaster under President Cleveland. Although his commission expired during the term of President Harrison, he had made himself so popular with all classes that it was deemed advisable by prominent Republicans to retain him, although there were plenty of aspirants for the office among their own party. When Mr. Cleveland was a second time elected to the presidency Democrats were not wanting who would gladly have taken the position; still Mr. Farrington worked on from day to day without a commission until the 26th of last February, when his reappointment was sent to the senate and soon after confirmed. The second commission was very gratifying to Mr. Farrington, as he had been in an unsettled state for so long, not knowing how matters would turn. He was instrumental in procuring for the town better mail service than it had previously, had and was always pleasant and obliging. He served on the board of assessors for three years; was a member of the insurance agency of Morris & Farrington, the treasurer of the Universalist church and one of its most prominent members, and a member of Thomas lodge, F. and A. M. He married, November 7th, 1872, Miss Laura Randall of Belchertown, who survives him.

Mr. Farrington was a man of much strength of character, firm in his views of religion, politics and general affairs, and of thorough business principles. He was a kind neighbor and faithful friend, and will be greatly missed in town. The funeral was held this afternoon, Rev. Harry Blackford officiating.

Mr. Farrington's sureties on the post office appointment are A. D. Ellis, W. J. Ricketts and R. M. Reynolds. The postal laws provide that upon the death of a postmaster the sureties shall at once assume charge of the office and appoint an acting postmaster, and notify the department. After this has been done all the requisitions and the office remains in the appointee's hands until another is made. In accordance with this the sureties have chosen Herbert Watson Shaw as acting postmaster, and he was sworn in Wednesday night. Mr. Shaw is one of Monson's most popular young men, and the townspeople are much pleased with the appointment. He is 24 years of age, and was born at Broad Brook, Ct. With his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Watson E. Shaw, he came to Monson twelve years ago. He was a member of the class of '87, Monson Academy. Upon leaving school he entered the post office as Mr. Farrington's assistant, which position he held until last October, when he took up the study of dentisty in the Philadelphia Dental College. Returning home for the summer vacation he again entered the post office. He is assisted by Miss Candace B. Gates.

In the death of Gilbert W. Farrington Monson has suffered the loss of one of its most honored and respected citizens; and by it a shadow of sadness has been cast across the lives of all those who have known him, and especially of those who have enjoyed the privilege of intimate acquaintanceship. By his kindly bearing and sterling qualities of manhood he has won a place in the hearts of the entire community, and his memory will be cherished by all classes Of him it may be truly said that those who knew him best loved him most. Quiet and unobtrusive, yet his influence has been felt in many lines. He has always stood for principle and contended for what he thought to be true and right. It is this which has characterized his career in public as well as private life. His genial disposition and the faithful discharge of duty in the public library led to his appointment as postmaster under the Cleveland administration. So completely had he won the public confidence and esteem that he retained his position when Mr. Harrison became president. Even his political opponents admired him as a man who had the courage of his convictions; and while they may have thought that his opinions were not correct, yet they never doubted his honesty and sincerity. As a servant of the people he will be remembered as one who was thoughtful and kind even to the lowliest, and who held his office as a sacred trust. Those who were associated with him in business have only words of commendation. His integrity was never questioned and his honor never assailed. In 1872 he married Miss Laura Randall of Belchertown, who still survives him. He was devoted to his home, and only those who have been admitted to its sacred precincts can know the true depths of his real nature. His mother is still living in his native town, Wales. But next to his home he will be missed most by the church of which he was an honored member. No more faithful servant has ever labored in the vineyard of the Master. He has been the treasurer of the Universalist society since its organization, and has been devoted to its interests from the beginning. No service in its behalf was ever a hardship; he found no higher pleasure than in working for its success. The memory of his devotion will ever be an inspiration to those who shall take up the work where he left it. The strength of his faith will be a help to many who yet linger a little longer ere they are summoned to that higher and diviner life. As he came down to the dark valley of shadows he could say with Whittier:

"And so beside the silent sea
I wait the muffled oar;
No harm from Him can come to me
On ocean or on shore.
I know not where His islands lift
Their fronded palms in air;
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His love and care."

O'Leary—Leary.

The marriage of Miss Hannah Leary of Monson and Daniel O'Leary of Springfield took place in St. Patrick's church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. The sanctuary was prettily trimmed with laurel and roses for the occasion, and many friends witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Thomas J. O'Keefe. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Julia Leary, both wearing dresses of white mull, the bride carrying a prayer book. The best man was Patsey O'Leary of Albany, brother of the groom. Miss Mary Cuddihy played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party moved up the aisle and knelt at the rail. After the ceremony mass was celebrated, and later a reception was held at the bride's home, the house being profusely decorated with ferns and daisies; only relatives were present. Mr. and Mrs. O'Leary left after the dinner for a wedding journey, and will soon go to housekeeping in Springfield. The wedding presents included a silver service, two oak tables, chairs, banquetlamp, a sewing machine and many pieces of china, bric-a-brac, etc.

R. M. Reynolds's straw works are closed for the season.

Miss Letha Potter is spending the week in Willimantic, Ct.

Mrs. F. S. Hatch and children are visiting relatives in New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. William Carroll have been spending the week at Amherst.

Elliot Brown has returned from his Western trip, after a month's absence.

Miss Carrie L. Chapin has visited Miss Clifford at Easthampton this week.

Rev. Mr. Hills, the evangelist, will preach in the Silver Street chapel Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Congregational Sunday school picnicked at Forest Lake Tuesday. About 100 were present.

Prof. A. N. Burke leaves for his home in Norwich, Ct., to-morrow, and starts on his summer trip Monday.

The organ recital by Prof. Sleeper of Worcester at the Congregational church Monday evening was much enjoyed.

A considerable number of delegates from the Congregational church will attend the Boston convention of the Y. P. S. C. E.

Monson lodge of Odd Fellows elected Harrison Howe noble grand and Elbridge B. Potter vice grand at its meeting last night.

Rev. F. S. Hatch will preach in the Congregational church Sunday morning concerning "The Introduction of Public Water Supply into the Town of Monson."

The body of Mrs. Devereaux of Wales was brought here for burial yesterday. The funeral was held in St. Patrick's church, and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery.

The office of postmaster seems to be a peculiarly desirable one in the eyes of local politicians, and despite the fact that a permanent appointment cannot be made until Congress is again in session, as early as Wednesday petitions were in circulation for prominent Democrats. Carlos L. Peck and John P. Herlihy, Jr., are candidates, and others are mentioned who are likely to put forth claims.

Frank Cushman, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus P. Cushman, met with a severe accident last Friday afternoon. In climbing a tree in the yard he slipped in such a way that he was caught in the groin by a hammock hook and a wound four inches long was made. Dr. Rand was summoned and found it necessary to take four stitches. The little boy was very brave, not uttering a cry during the whole time. He is getting along well.

St. Patrick's society will have its annual Fourth of July picnic on Flynt Park, instead of Evergreen Park, as in former years, and a good time is expected. There are to be games of various kinds, running, jumping, tug-of-war between the married men and single men, girls' races, base ball, target shooting, cane-ringing, and dancing all day and evening. The ball game will begin at 10 a. m. and will be followed by a clam chowder dinner and sports. Those who wish to enter the latter may give their names to the committee: James Gough, George Stone, John Furgeson, Patrick Duggan and John Guyon. The Monson orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Owing to the prevalence of scarlet fever and diphtheria in town the schools have been closed and the afflicted families quarantined. Brien Mackelson has lost two children the past two weeks. The authorities are making every effort to stop the spread of the disease.

LUDLOW.

The assessors have finished their work and find the tax rate this year to be $11.50 a thousand, as against $12.40 last year. The total tax is $13,998, the number of polls is 659, the value of real estate $835,569 and of personal estate $278,169. The Ludlow Manufacturing Company pays about half of the tax.

WEST WARREN.

Will Rooney of Boston, formerly of this place, was knocked down by an electric car in Boston a few days and and seriously injured.

E. Desmarais, who opened a meat market about two months ago in Wood's block, has closed out his business and moved to Oakdale.

BELCHERTOWN.

Mrs. Annie Parker of Chicopee is visiting at Mrs. Howard West's.

Dwight Walker, who has been sick at the Belcher House for a few weeks, is able to be out.

Mrs. E. Hopkins, who is in very feeble health, starts for Canada next Wednesday morning, her summer home.

The thunder shower and hail of Sunday night damaged the crops considerably. Hail stones were picked up which measured one and five-eighths inches in circumference and nearly an inch thick.

Two cows owned by Stephen Sullivan were killed by lightning Sunday night, and Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan received a severe shock. Lightning struck E. Blackmer's carpenter shop the same night, with slight damage.

BRIMFIELD.

James Lincoln and Mr. and Mrs. Butler of Auburndale have been guests at F. D. Lincoln's.

Mrs. Gertrude Andrews of Buffalo, who is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Abbie Andrews, will give a reading in the Town Hall next Tuesday evening, assisted by Miss Lola Belle Andrews.

Mrs. G. M. Hitchcock, who has been spending the past few months in Chicago, has returned, accompanied by her sister from that city, Mrs. William Byron Smith.

The commencement exercises of the Hitchcock Free High School last Friday followed out the programme printed in the JOURNAL two weeks ago. The essays were given in a pleasing manner, and the afternoon was very entertaining. The exercises were held as usual in the First church, the stage of which was tastily decorated with a bank of ferns in the rear and potted plants around the front. Music was furnished by the Philharmonic Orchestra of Springfield, and the diplomas were presented by Deacon N. S. Hubbard, vice president of the trustees. The graduates greeted their friends in the Town Hall in the evening, when the class history and prophecy were given, also a reading by Mrs. Andrews of Buffalo, N. Y., a guest. Members of the alumni were present, among them Mr. J. M. Russell, a former principal of the school, Stanley L. Plimpton of Boston University, and John L. Bacon of Philadelphia Medical College. The present corps of teachers have been secured for the coming year.

WARREN.

The Foresters chose these officers at a recent meeting: C. R., Edward Stanton; S. C. R., John Ryan, Jr.; F. S., John Barry; R. S., Thomas Coakley; S. W., William Stanton; J. W., George Thyng; S. B. Thomas McGuinness; J. B., John Gauthier. The installation will take place Monday, July 1.

A heavy shower, accompanied by severe lightning and hail, passed over Warren between 6 and 7 o'clock Sunday evening and did serious damage to gardens and broke considerable glass. The most serious damage was done at South Warren, where hail stones fell measuring 2½x2½ inches. Cornelius Cronin had over 150 lights broken, and A. F. Darling and F. H. Jones nearly as many. The roads throughout the town were badly washed and will take considerable labor to repair them.

A Dirty Piece of Work.

The pool and billiard room of George W. Foster was broken into Tuesday night, and both pool tables and the billiard table ruined. The cloth on the tables and the cushions was slashed to pieces, and on two tables the letters "A. P. A." were cut in the cloth. About 50 cigars were also broken in two on top of the show-case. Mr. Foster does not know of any one whom he could have offended to that extent, and there is no clew to the marauder. Nothing was stolen, though there was some money in a drawer which was not locked. Entrance was gained through a window which opened into an alley next to the hotel building. It will cost $150 to repair the damage.

WALES.

Miss Anna Burly has just returned from a week's visit in Somers, Ct.

The Methodist pulpit is being supplied by various clergymen from abroad.

S. P. Smith has assigned to H. A. McFarland for the benefit of his creditors.

W. Lathrop comes out with a Rambler wheel; Mrs. Brown also appears with a new one.

George Steene has opened a barber shop in Shaw's block, and also has put in a soda fountain.

Mrs. Leeds of Mansfield, with her two children, are visiting Mrs. W. A. Lyon, Mrs. Leed's sister.

H. F. Kinsman, M. D., has decided, much to the gratification of his many friends, to remain in Wales. Dr. Kinsman has a large place in the hearts of many here, won by his genial nature and skillful practice.

While Mr. Lewis and family were coming from Monson a few days ago their horse attempted to pass a team which had been overtaken, and in doing so he collided with the other team, which capsized his carriage and threw the occupants to the ground. Mrs. Lewis was very badly injured, and the others were well shaken up but not seriously hurt. The horse freed himself from the carriage or the accident would have been vastly more serious.

Strange Freaks of Lightning.

Lightning entered the chimney of A. S. Hubbard's home Sunday night, going from top to bottom, tearing out every thimble in the chimney. It broke out at the pipe hole for the kitchen stove, going under the stove and tearing up the oil cloth, then jumped about ten feet into the pantry, tearing open a small drawer filled with nails, which were thrown about the floor. About eight feet from the stove hung a mirror, two large places on the back of which were cleared of the quicksilver, while the glass was unbroken. In the sitting room, where Mrs. Hubbard was a moment before the flash, considerable damage was done; fancy paper flowers were set on fire, which set fire to the carpet. Mrs. Hubbard had just stepped across the hall into the parlor, and on hearing the crash returned to find the room on fire. She seized the ice water tank and extinguished the flames. Mr. Hubbard was in the barn about twenty feet away, and received a severe shock, but Mrs. Hubbard felt none. Several neighbors living a few rods away were considerably shaken. The damage to the house will be about $100.

WARE.

Watermelons have appeared in market.

The Unitarian church is to be closed until Sept. 1st.

The Ware Cornet Band will play at Palmer July 4th.

The brick work on the new hotel block on North street is complete.

The Methodist Sunday school will have a basket picnic at Reservoir Grove July 4.

The St. Jean Baptiste society has voted not to go to Indian Orchard on July 4th.

Mrs. William Richardson paid a fine of $55 last Friday for keeping a liquor nuisance.

The ladies' gold watch in Howard's window is being reduced in price one dollar every day.

G. E. Tucker and family left to-day for their summer vacation, which they will spend in Pennsylvania.

The engagement of Dr. F. E. Spaulding, the new superintendent of schools, and Miss Mary E. Trow is announced.

The Ware Lumber Company is putting in new machinery for getting out house finish and making doors and blinds.

W. F. Godfrey has a handsome new sign from Eldredge, who is doing some of the best signs seen here for years.

Miss Minnie Murphy was presented a gold medal for proficiency in mathematics after the prize speaking contest on Wednesday evening.

Daimen Girard, appointed as policeman in May, has resigned and the selectmen have appointed John Bushman to fill the vacancy.

Henry F. Barnes has sold the house No. 81 West Main street to Asa Richardson, formerly of Kensington, Ct., for $2750 and taxes for this year.

Frank A. Spencer is putting in by far the most elegant soda fountain in this part of the country. It is of Mexican onyx, trimmed with silver.

John Hennessy lost a valuable hunting dog on Tuesday by the cars. He was a fine rabbit dog, having one in his mouth when he was run over.

Rev. A. C. White has been given a second call to become pastor of the Unitarian church, with an increase of salary above that offered in the first call.

The St. Jean Baptiste Society cleared nearly $150 from their strawberry festival last week. Emil Descoteau won the gold-headed cane for selling the most tickets.

The Gazette of last week gives the powers that are supposed to repair the highways a severe scoring, saying, among other things, in substance that the roads of Ware were never in a worse condition.

The Bondvilles will play the Wares on the pumping station grounds to-morrow. The Wares were defeated at Thorndike last Saturday, 8 to 2. In to-morrow's game there will be several new players.

The regular Thursday evening meeting at the Methodist vestry was not held this week on account of the graduating exercises of the high school, and will also be omitted next week on account of the 4th of July.

Louis Brunelle, driver of a bakery wagon, reports that near the head of Snow's Pond last Saturday he was robbed by two men of about $19, he being held by one while the other went through his pockets. No trace of the highwaymen has been found, although the alarm was immediately given.

The Blue Ribbon League elected officers as follows on Tuesday evening: President, W. G. Hamilton; vice presidents, Revs. A. B. Bassett, J. P. Harvey, E. L. Rivard, A. M. Osgood, and Mrs. Hinkley; secretary, Peter King; treasurer, Mr. Willard. The ladies served lemonade, and a social time was enjoyed.

The graduating exercises of the high school drew a large audience last evening in spite of the rain. The programme as was published in the STANDARD last week was carried out in a most satisfactory manner. The stage at the Town Hall was handsomely decorated with plants and flowers, and bunting in the class colors, red and white. The motto of the class, "Finis Coronat Opus," in white letters on a red panel 13 feet long, was suspended over the front of the stage.

The exhibition of writing and drawing at the high school building Tuesday and Wednesday attracted a large attendance. One room on the second floor was occupied by the specimens of writing from all the schools under the teaching of Prof. Moody, and another room with drawings from all the pupils in town, including the evening drawing school, under the art instructor, Mr. Judkins. In this department was also exhibited the modeling in clay by some of the smaller pupils. The careful training of the teachers was shown in the great progress made.

The Town Hall was packed at the prize speaking contest of the high school Wednesday evening, when ten took part. All the speaking was excellent, and the prizes were awarded on some fine points in elocution. The prizes were given by Hon. Charles E. Stevens, five, three and two dollars value for both boys and girls. The committee of award was Rev. James Boyle, Rev. A. M. Osgood and F. D. Gilmore, and the prizes were awarded to Albert Cheever, John A. Davis and Joseph Merrigan, and Misses Alice Collins, Elizabeth Clark and Elizabeth Gould, in the order named.

Frank G. Fox, of the firm of Andrew Byson & Co., and Miss Nellie S. Putman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Putman of Clinton, were married at the home of the bride in Clinton Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Jordan, pastor of the first Congregational church at Clinton, the service with ring being used. There were present only the relatives of the contracting parties. After the ceremony a banquet was served. The presents were numerous and costly. Mr. and Mrs. Fox took the evening train for New York, where they will be joined on Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Bryson, and will sail on the "Campania" for Europe, returning Sept., 1st after which Mr. and Mrs. Fox will be at home to their friends at 25 West Main street.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

Do You Know Its Cause.

Indigestion: Do you know when you have it? Do you know its cause and cure? Ask your druggist for Ripans Tabules. One gives relief.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 52-25

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS IN THIS VICINITY FOR

TRUSSES.

WE CARRY A LARGE ASSORTMENT IN ALL THE SIZES OF THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF

Steel Spring Trusses,
Hard Rubber Trusses,
New York Elastic Trusses.

WE GUARANTEE A PERFECT FIT OR MONEY REFUNDED.

AT LEGRO & LYNDE'S.

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

PARIS GREEN,
HELLEBORE,
LONDON PURPLE,
INSECT POWDER,
LEGGET'S POWDER
GUNS,
FOR DESTROYING INSECTS.

E. A. Buck & Co. Main St., Palmer.

DESCRIPTION published pursuant to the provisions of Section 1, Chapter 449, of the acts of 1893, entitled "An act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages." Name of firm, L. W. Caryl & Co. Principal place of business, Commercial street, Palmer, Mass. Nature of business transacted, bottlers of ale, lager beer, porter, soda water, aerated waters, ginger ale and other similar beverages. Kind of receptacle used, bottles, siphons, fountains and boxes. Description of name or names, mark or marks, device or devices used: On bottles the words "L. W. Caryl, Palmer, Mass.," with the word "Registered," and the words "This bottle not to be sold," blown or etched in or upon the bottle; on siphons the words "L. W. Caryl, Palmer, Mass.," and the word "Registered," blown or etched in or upon the glass; on fountains the words "Caryl Brothers," and the words "L. W. Caryl, Palmer, Mass.," and "Registered," printed, stencilled, or otherwise produced; on boxes the words "L. W. Caryl," and the words "Caryl Brothers," and the word "Registered," printed, branded, stencilled, or otherwise produced.

In witness, whereof we have hereunto signed our name this thirteenth day of June, A. D. 1895

11-4 L. W. CARYL & CO.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

FORBES & WALLACE'S,
SPRINGFIELD.

OXFORD TIES.

Oxford ties and low shoes. An array of the best things that the foremost manufacturers of the country have gotten out for this season's wear. And there's not a cent more to pay here now on anything than if the cost of the shoe leather hadn't advanced away up since the first of the year.

At $1—Women's tan goat oxford ties, goat tips, narrow toes and concave heels; regular elsewhere $1.25 value.
At $1—Women's dongola kid oxford ties, patent calf tips, medium toes and heels; usually $1.25.
At $1.50—Women's dongola kid oxford ties, hand turned soles, narrow toes, patent calf tip, medium heels, also wide toes and low heels; such a tie as will cost you $2 elsewhere.
At $2—Women's fine vici kid oxford tie, razor toe and narrow square toes, patent calf tips and concave heels; doubtful if it can be duplicated for $2.50 elsewhere.
At $2—Women's black cloth oxford tie, foxed with fine vici kid, razor toe and patent calf tips, medium heels.
Misses' tan goat oxford ties, spring heels and goat tips, sizes 11 to 2 at $1; cheap at $1.25.

More of the infant's tan goat button boots, plain and tipped toes at 45 cents; would be hard to beat at 65 cents. Sizes 2 to 4 only. Child's tan goat lace shoe with spring heels and goat tips at 85 cents. Sizes 8 to 10 —the kind that other stores get $1.25 for.

Main floor of Pynchon street building.

SUMMER CORSETS.

All the most wanted sorts for hot weather are here.
Kool Wave, 39 cents.
Vigilanti, 50 cents.
Loomer's, 50 cents.
Glove Fitting, three lengths, $1.
Loomer's Cutway Hip, $1.
W. B. $1 and $1.25.
Warner's Health Summer, $1.25.
P. D. Summer, $1.75.
I. C. Summer, $2.25.
Ferris Waists, all sizes, 40 cents to $1 25.

South store.

FORBES & WALLACE.

Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

WATCH THIS SPACE.

WE ARE GOING TO GIVE YOU SOME GOOD TRADES. WE CAN FURNISH YOUR HOUSE FROM TOP TO BOTTOM.

ALSO A FULL LINE OF

Groceries, Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Caps. . . . .

SHAW BROS., THREE RIVERS, MASS.

You Cannot Find

Even in the city of Springfield, a fresher, prettier stock of SHIRT WAISTS and WRAPPERS than right here in Palmer, at the store of W. E. STONE.

We bought a lot of them this week direct from the manufacturers.

The sleeves are right.

The material is right.

The prices are right.

Call and see, whether you purchase or not.

W. E. STONE,

LAWRENCE BLOCK, - - PALMER, MASS.

SPRING CLOTHING!

NEW SPRING .:. .:. STYLES, Latest Colorings —AND— Novelties.

Extra large samples to select from. The most complete assortment, the finest, newest and most extensive in novelties and colorings. Fine Clay, English Wagners and Schnable's best makes, Hamuckburn Scotch goods in best patterns, fine French in newest makes and colors.

Prices $20, 22, 24, 26, 27, 28, 30, 32, 33, 35 to 40. All goods and trimmings the very best ever offered in town for the money, and warranted.

Terms Strictly Cash.

D. MULVIHILL, - Eager's Block.

FOR SMALL PROFIT I sell all kinds of the best Farm Implements made. Deering Mowers and Horse Rakes. Osborne All-Steel Hay Tedders, Disk and Spring Tooth Harrows, Land Rollers, Cultivators, etc. I have also some second-hand Mowers, Horse Rakes, Harrows, Cultivators, etc., which I will sell low.

H. D. MOULTON,
11-4 Monson, Mass.

SOME NICE HEAVY

Wedding Rings

In Fine 18 KARAT Gold.

WEDDING PRESENTS IN GREAT VARIETY.

GEO. A. MOORE,

WATCH MAKER and JEWELER,

Holden's New Block, Palmer, Mass.

P. S. Still Have a Nice Selection of Shirt Waist Sets, Belt, Buckles, Etc.

A Tremendous Suit Value During Our June Sale.

You see it's this way; we've been forty years now building up a gigantic Clothing business; one unparalleled in Western New England, and this summer we determined to inaugurate a June Sale of Men's and Young Men's Sack Suits at ONE-HALF actual value; to outdo any previous attempt to give the public high-grade goods at popular prices. We went direct to the leading makers of America and at one mammoth spot cash purchase secured 1000 Sack Suits—the equal of which have never before been placed on our counters at one price—and told the public to choose any Suit at $9.75.

CLOTHIERS. TAILORS.

HAYNES & COMPANY,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

HATTERS. FURNISHERS.

Nothing like it was ever known in this part of the country. Not one Suit was intended to retail at less than $16, while any number are $18 and $20 goods. Blue and Black Serges, Blue and Black Cheviots, Gray Worsteds, Whipcords and Scotch Mixtures — forty distinct styles---handsome enough for dress; strong enough for labor; fit and finish, style and trimming perfect. Worth coming miles to see. Look at them---that's all; but if you don't like them bring them back. Just one-half actual value---$9.75. Can you save Ten Dollars easier.?

A Twenty Dollar Suit For $9.75.

Hot Weather Specialties.

A line of Barred Cambrics for 5 cents a yard, worth 10 to 15 cents.
Dimities in the daintiest of shades.
Puritan Shirtings; a large assortment of patterns.
Musquito Netting.
Parasols and Fans.
Mitts and Summer Gloves.

Olives, Pickles, Oranges, Lemons, Pie Preparations, Cereals, Gelatine, Jams, Jellies, Grape Juice, Extract of Malt, Root Beer, Evaporated Raspberries, Peaches, Apricots and Apples.

Goods and prices always right.

Culinary Department.

J. B. SHAW, FEENEY BLOCK, MAIN ST., PALMER, - MASS.

W. N. FLYNT & SONS,
Monson, Mass.

NOW IS THE TIME TO INVEST A FEW DOLLARS IN CLOTHING.

CALL AND GET ONE OF THOSE NOBBY SACK SUITS FOR $9.75.

CLAY WORSTED SUITS IN ALL STYLES, $9, $10, $12, $15, $20.

A full line of White and Black Stripe Duck Pants and Caps always on hand.

Have just received a large invoice of SOUVENIR CHINA direct from Germany, giving views of some of Monson's beautiful buildings. Just the thing for a wedding present.

Clothing, Hats and Furnishings.

S. H. HELLYAR'S
Fire Insurance Agency,
CARYL'S BLOCK,
PALMER, - - MASS.

I represent some of the largest companies, both stock and mutual, doing business in this state, and should be pleased to reckon you as one of my customers.

Will guarantee you security, promptness, economy, and a correctly written policy.

Thanking you for past favors, I am

Yours respectfully,

S. H. HELLYAR.

GRANDMOTHER'S INDIAN BLOOD PURIFIER.

For this purpose no better or safer medicine can be selected to purify, enrich and warm the blood, and tone up the system generally. It will speedily restore the system to health and vigor. It is composed of leaves, barks and roots, being one of the mildest and safest tonics known. Also agent for the National Remedy Co., and their wonderful Japanese Oil, known all over the world. Fresh roots and herbs can be found at the house at any time. At home Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Hair work done to order.

H. S. McCOMBER, AT PERFECT VIEW HOMESTEAD, STATE AVE., MONSON, MASS.

P. O. Box 174 Palmer. 6-10

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.

Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p.m.

ARE YOUR SHOES ALL RIGHT FOR THE 4TH?

IF NOT JUST GIVE FULLER A CALL. HIS STOCK OF SHOES ARE UP TO DATE, HIS PRICES THE LOWEST. ALL GOODS ARE GUARANTEED AS REPRESENTED

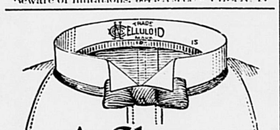
GEO. L. FULLER,

Distributor of Fine Fitting Shoes.

MONSON, - - MASS.

Count Up the number of times you have to rub a garment to get it clean; multiply it by the number of garments washed in a year. Then you'll see how many back-breaking rubs Pearline saves you. Don't do the washing yourself? You still need Pearline. Every one of these rubs is wearing the things washed. They suffer, if you don't. Millions now use Pearline. Think of the useless and harmful rubs that have been saved to the women of America.

Beware of imitations. 384 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.



A Clean Collar

One that you can keep clean all the time—a collar that does not wilt when you get over-heated; that does not fray on the edge, or tear out at the buttonholes, and can be cleaned by simply wiping off with a wet sponge or cloth. These collars and cuffs are made by covering linen collars or cuffs on both sides with waterproof "celluloid," thus giving strength and durability. They are the only waterproof goods so made, and every piece is stamped as follows:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

Ask for this, and refuse to take any imitation if you expect satisfaction. If your dealer does not keep them, send direct to us, enclosing amount, and we will mail you sample. Collars 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50 cts. pair. State size, and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

THE CELLULOID CO., 427-29 Broadway, New York.

Minister—"So you say that you saw some boys out fishing, Sunday, Bobbie. I hope you did something to discourage them." Bobbie—"Oh, yes sir. I stole their bait." Harlem Life.

I have two little grand children who are teething this summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third af a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of bed and doing my house work. Mrs. W. L. Duncan, Bonaqua, Hichman Ct., Tenn.

"Many of the citizens of Rainsville, Indiana, are never without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house," says Jacob Brown, the leading merchant of the place. This Remedy has proven of so much value for colds, croup and whooping cough in children that few mothers who know its worth are willing to be without it.

Sometime ago I was troubled with an attack of rheumatism. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was completely cured. I have since advised many of my friends and customers to try the remedy and all speak highly of it. SIMON GOLDBAUM, San Luis Rey, Cal.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

A Summer Medicine.

Unquestionably the only remedy that can be taken safely during the warm weather. Compounded without wine or alcohol and consequently does not heat the blood. Its action is cooling and curative. It will dispel the languid summer feeling and keep you strong and well. By all odds the only medicine that is strictly an all-the-year round remedy.

BLOOD-WINE.

WILLIAMS' ROOT BEER

Excels all others in Strength and Purity.

Send 2-cent stamp for pictures.

WILLIAMS & CARLETON, Hartford, Ct.

EXCURSIONS TO DENVER

IN CONNECTION WITH THE

National Educational Convention,

LEAVING

Boston, Worcester and Springfield

JULY 1, 3, and 5,

TOGETHER WITH A

Series of Magnificent Special Tours through the Rocky Mountains, Utah, the Yellowstone National Park, the Puget Sound Country, Alaska, etc.

These trips may be availed of not only by Teachers but by the General Public.

Ask for Circular at the Ticket Office of the Boston and Albany Railroad.

Ted's Invention.

Said little Ted, "When I'm a man—
It's very long to wait—
But then I'm going to buy a clock
Without a half-past eight.

"I'd have such good times right along
From breakfast until late,
If our big clock went on and on
And skipped that half-past eight.

"But almost every morning now
I hear mamma or Kate
Call, 'Ted! it's nearly time for school;
Make haste, it's half-past eight.'

"And in the evening it's the same,
Or worse. I know I hate
To have papa say, 'Bedtime, Ted.
Look there, it's half-past eight.'

"Now when I get to school to-day
First thing I'll take my slate
And make a picture of a clock
That has no half-past eight."

—New York World.

THE SIXTH RACE ABOUT TO APPEAR.

In her lecture in this country the Countess Wachtmeister, next to Annie Besant the most famous woman theosophist, and for many years the most intimate compainon of Mme. Blavatsky, has said constantly that the sixth race is preparing to appear and that it would make its appearance in America. It is not at all new among theosophists, this idea that the sixth race is about to appear, but it has not become generally known outside of the society. The lectures of the Countess Wachtmeister have called popular attention to it.

New York's foremost and learned theosphist, William Q. Judge, gives some suggestion of the personal appearances and characteristics of the sixth race, which will have men 33 feet tall, who will wear no clothes and will weigh a ton. Mr. Judge explains that theosophic philosophy divides life in its globe into seven races, or seven great families of people. This septenary division is an assertion based upon rules of nature which have been remarked by sages of all ages. Each race is marked by the development of a sense which the previous race had not at all or possessed only in a rudimentary degree.

The theosophists believe that America will see the first development of the sixth race, because here are gathered people from all nations of the globe. The amalgamation of different people is here more complete. It is held that preparations for the coming of the new race have been going on for some time. Mr. Judge thinks that the first of the new race will be looked upon as being eccentric, cranky and abnormal, but they will soon be in the majority. The theosophist says that the first race was not separated into sexes, and that the individuals had two spinal cords, and in the sixth age, when the race is approaching its perfection on this globe, individuals will again have two spinal cords. In the seventh race sex will disappear altogether.

With regard to the personal appearance of individuals of the sixth race, Mr. Judge says frankly his opinion can be taken for nothing more than a guess, but it is a guess based upon philosophic study and many hours' reflection. To begin with, Mr. Judge thinks that individuals of the sixth race will be 32 feet tall on an average. They will have a third eye just above the forehead, which will posess ever so much more power than eyes now have. They will live in a luminous atmosphere personal to themselves, discarding trousers, waistcoats, shoes, frocks, and bonnets. The men will have no beards. They will have fine noble features, and thin, silky, flowing hair. The individuals will live 1000 years.—New York Home Journal.

NOT AN EVEN THING.

In one of my parishes (writes a minister Harper's "Editor's Drawer"), some years since, I had a vestryman, an excellent man and a warm friend. He has now departed this life, and so this story may be told as an illustration of his official devotion to the interests of his constituency. In my neighborhood lived a clerical brother, a splendid preacher, and very popular with all who knew him, with whom I often exchanged pulpits. His salary was $1500 and a rectory, while mine was $2000 with a similar provision for my shelter.

One very hot summer, not being in good health and knowing that my people admired him very much, I exchanged quite frequently with him, so as to save preparing sermons.

One day I went into the large store of my vestryman to have a chat with him, which he opened as follows: "You have lately exchanged a good deal with Mr.——."

"Yes, sir," I replied. "He is a fine preacher, and every one in the parish admires him."

"I know that," said he. "I like him very much. But what is his salary?"

"Fifteen hundred dollars and a rectory."

"But what are we paying you?"

I told him.

"Well," he put in, "have you considered how much this parish loses by these exchanges?"

I told him I had not made that calculation.

"Nine dollars and sixty cents is the loss per Sunday," was the statement of this careful guardian of the financial interests of his parish.

SOMETHING FOR THE OLD MAN.

Major Bundy, member of the House of Representatives, father-in-law of ex-Gov. Foraker, and a millionaire, was treated to a slight indignity in one of the House corridors. It was warm inside, and the major had taken his hat in his left hand and was mopping his brow and bald head with a bandana, when along came a young college dude with a last year's chrysanthemum head of hair, and a long overcoat—a handsome boy, and as brimful of mischief as a playful colt. Seeing the major holding his hat in one hand, it seemed to occur to the young sophomore that here was a chance to display his sense of humor. He suddenly stopped in front of the old major plunged his hand into his pocket and pulled out a copper cent like a cart-wheel, which he dropped into the major's hat with the remark:—

"Here, old man, is something for you."

The major's wrath burst its vial at once. He stamped the marble floor with his feet, and his face grew red with excitment.

"What do you mean, sir? Do you know that I am a member of Congress?" he exclaimed.

"That's all right, old man," said the collegian, "you may keep it. I don't want your thanks."

The major started after him, but the boy was too fast.

SOME SINGULAR WAGERS.

The New York Advertiser has been digging up stories of strange wagers, and starts the list with that of Goldsmith's old lady, who, lying sick unto death, played cards with the curate to pass the time away, and after winning all his money had just proposed to play for her funeral charges, when she expired. There have been stranger stakes still. In 1735, when Henry and James Trotter sat down at the Salmon inn, Chesterle street, London, to play a game of cards against Robert Thoms and Thomas Elliston, the latter pair staked five shillings and the former a child, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leesh, who gave up their boy in all seriousness to the winners. Members of the fair sex have been parties to chance or skill in disposing of their destiny. Unable to decide between her two suitors, a girl agreed to keep the score while they played dominoes for her hand and heart, and at the finish of the game presented her rings to the beaten one as some solace for his defeat.

No smart, no pain, if you use Redding's Russia Salve. Quick. Sure. Only 25 cents. Worth $25. All druggists recommend it.

Mr. Thomas Bennett
Roslindale, Boston.

He Could Not Live

Was what friends said, but

Hood's Perfectly Cured

Dreadful Case of Chronic Eczema.

Such a testimonial as we give below few medicines can produce. It is one of thousands possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and proves the merit of this medicine.

Reliable, honest, industrious, is what all say of Mr. Bennett. He has been engaged as gas-fitter in Boston for 35 years, with Tarbell, 111 Washington street, and McKinney, Washington st., opp. Boylston.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—I am only doing what is just when I tell voluntarily what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done forme. I know it

Saved My Life.

"A year ago last winter, after exposure to storms, I caught a severe cold, after which chronic eczema appeared on the calf of my left leg and spread all over my lower limb from knee to ankle, and the itching and burning was something awful. Added to this was a severe pain, seemingly in the bone. At last it became so that I had to give up work and was unable to walk. I had to have my leg bandaged all the time and frequent changes of the cloths. For nine months I sat with my leg resting in a chair.

Oh, It Was Dreadful!

Friends said I could not live long. In all I had seven different physicians, all to no purpose whatever. I knew the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla as I had, some years before, taken it with benefit, and decided to try it for my apparently hopeless case. In two or three days after I began my appetite was better and my courage revived. To make a long story short, the eruption entirely disappeared, and the flesh on my leg resumed perfectly healthy appearance. I was soon able to walk about. I cannot tell how amazed my neighbors and friends were. I can now walk without any lame-

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

ness, as well as ever. Have not the slightest eruption or itching or burning, or any sort of trouble whatever with my leg. The gratitude I owe Hood's Sarsaparilla is simply unspeakable." THOS. BENNETT, 172 Sycamore St., Roslindale, Boston, Mass. Try HOOD'S.

Hood's Pills are tasteless, mild, effective. All druggists. 25c.

Young Man—"Look out! There's a mouse!" The advanced Young Woman (calmly—"Oh, how cunning! Can't you coax the little dear out this way?"—Chicago Record.

Palpitation of the Heart

Shortness of Breath, Swelling of Legs and Feet.

"For about four years I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath and swelling of the legs and feet. At times I would faint. I was treated by the best physicians in Savannah, Ga., with no relief. I then tried various Springs without benefit. Finally, I tried also his Nerve and Liver Pills. After beginning to take them I felt better! I continued taking them and I am now in better health than for many years. Since my recovery I have gained fifty pounds in weight. I hope this statement may be of value to some poor sufferer."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

E. B. SUTTON, Ways Station, Ga.

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

TEDIOUS SUFFERING FINDS RELIEF.

HAVERHILL, N. H.—Many physicians have pronounced as incurable, diseases of the skin and blood. Mrs. Hobsdon of this place abandoned the old method, used Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and was cured.

In October, 1890, Mrs. Hobsdon suffered from a diseased ankle bone. She had always been troubled with Salt Rheum which aggravated the diseased limb. Prescriptions of all sorts were used, but with no benefit. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was tried and it drove the poison out of her blood, healed the ulcerous sores, and restored Mrs. Hobsdon to health and strength.

Favorite Remedy cleanses the blood and strengthens the nerves. In cases of scrofula and salt rheum, it never fails.

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR A CHANGE IN LOCATION?

If you are not satisfied with your present site, or if you are not doing quite as well as you would like to, why not consider the advantages of a location on the Illinois Central R. R. or the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley R. R.? These roads run through South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, and possess

FINE SITES FOR NEW MILLS, BEST OF FREIGHT FACILITIES, CLOSE PROXIMITY TO

Coal Fields, Distributing Centers

AND

INTELLIGENT HELP OF ALL KINDS, MANY KINDS OF RAW MATERIAL.

For full information write the undersigned for a copy of the pamphlet entitled

100 Cities and Towns WANTING INDUSTRIES.

This will give you the population, city and county debt, death rate, assessed valuation of property, tax rate, annual shipments, raw materials, industries desired, etc.

To sound industries, which will bear investigation, substantial inducements will be given by many of the places on the lines of the Illinois Central R. R., which is the only road under one management running through from the Northwestern States to the Gulf of Mexico. GEO. C. POWER, Industrial Commissioner I. C. R. R. Co., 506 Central Station, Chicago. 13-12

FISH BAIT FOR SALE,

CHARLES S. RUGGLES,

Three Rivers, - Mass.

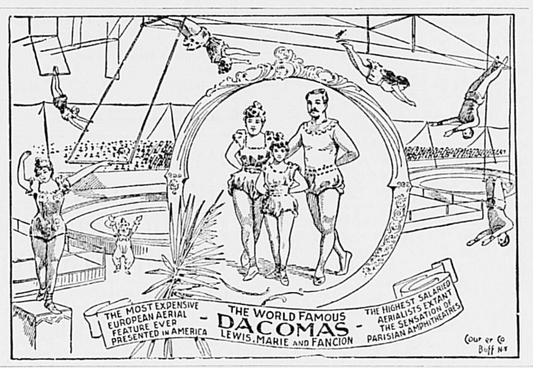
Positively the Only BIG SHOW Coming this Year.

☞ "The Circus performance is the best ever seen in this city."—Boston Herald, June 25.

RINGLING BROS'. WORLD'S GREATEST SHOWS.

Royal Roman Hippodrome, 3-Ring Circus, Elevated Stages, Millionaire Menagerie, Collossal Horse Fair, Oceanic Aquarium, Museum of Trained Animal Exhibition.

The Biggest Show in the World, Presented in the Largest Tents Ever Constructed. 4 Trains of Cars. 400 Horses. 1000 People. 300 Star Performers.



More High Class Features than all Other Shows Combined.

One Hour of Concert Numbers Prior to Each Performance by

LIBERTI'S BAND OF 60 SOLOISTS.

Under the Personal Direction of Sig. A. Liberti, the Popular Band Master and Virtuoso.

DACOMAS, Europe's Greatest Aerial Vaulters.

EDDY FAMILY, England's Celebrated Acrobatic Marvels.

LANDAUER TROUPE of Nine Flexible Models from Berlin.

MAYO FAMILY, Russian Skatorial Experts.

M'LLE ELENA, France's Equestrienne Queen, and a Half Score Other Celebrated Riders.

Hundreds of Unique Acts, Presented in Three Rings, in Mid Air, and Upon the Hippodrome Course.

Akimoto's Troupe of Imperial Japanese Equilibrists.
Most Complete Zoological Display on Earth.
Only Giant Giraffe. Monster Hippopotomus.
Racing Glories of Old Rome, Together with the Exciting Contests of the Modern Turf. Two and Four-Horse Chariot Races, Standing, Hurdle, Obstacle and Other Races.

GRANDEST FREE PAGEANT ever seen on the streets of any city, leaves the grounds at 10 o'clock on the morning of the exhibition. Ten kinds of music. Moscow's Silver Chimes. Steam Calliope. Royal Carriages from Kingly Courts. Don't miss it.

TWO COMPLETE PERFORMANCES DAILY AT 2 AND 8 O'CLOCK.

ONE 50-CENT TICKET ADMITS TO ALL THE COMBINED SHOWS.
CHILDREN UNDER 12, HALF PRICE.
EXCURSION RATES ON ALL RAILROADS.

COMING WITHOUT FAIL TO

PALMER, Tuesday, JULY 16.

LAST WEEK ALTERATION SALE.

Still we have a large stock of our Best Goods on hand and prices all in your favor. This ALTERATION SALE has been an honest one and our reputation back of it. In one week we shall be compelled to give place to the workmen. Until then take your pick!

Our Cotton Underwear Department continues to be a point about which great interest centers.

SPECIALS:

Night Gowns.
85 Gowns at 75 cents which were $1.00
One Lot at 87 " " " 1.25
" " $1.28 " " " 2.00

Corset Covers.
One Lot 38c which were 50c and 62c
" 50c " " 75c " 83c
" 68c " " 87c " $1.00

Long Skirts.
60 Skirts at 87c which were $1.25.

Children's Skirts.
Sizes 1 to 6. At 25 cents we offer all which were 38c to 50c.

Children's Guimpes.
At 58 cents all which were 95c
" 75 " " " " $1.25
" $1.00 " " " " 2.00
All must be sold this week—that is the reason for such a sacrifice.

Laces, Laces.
Our Lace Department has been a busy place during this June Sale. Not strange either, people have appreciated the bargains which have been offered.

Kid Gloves.
WHITE MOUSQUETAIRE SUEDE.
8-Button Length $1.00
12 " " 1.45
16 " " 1.85
20 " " 2.25

Black Silk Mitts.
Special Bargains at 23c, 35c, 45c.

Genuine Foster.
5-Hook Laced Kid Gloves 87 cents, Tans, Grays, Browns.

Kayser Pure Silk Gloves.
With patent finger tips—the tips outwear the gloves—a guaranty goes with every pair. Black, Tans, Modes and Grays at 50c, 75c and $1.

Infants' Wear.
EMBROIDERED CASHMERE SACQUES.
The daintest styles that are produced—all at greatly reduced prices. Knit Worsted Jackets, Silk and Saxony Shirts and Bands; Kid, Silk and Worsted Boots; Muslin, Lawn and Silk Capes. Each and every article in this department at reduced prices.

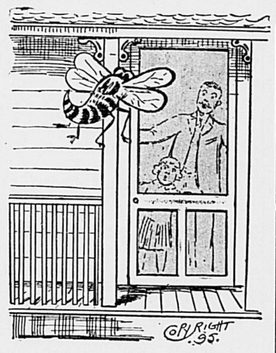
Hamburg Embroideries.
Cambric and Nainsook Edgings and Insertions in matched patterns—newest designs—all at reduced prices.

White Goods.
Dotted Swisses, Plain Swisses, Persian Lawn, Nainsooks, India Linens, Linen Cambrics, Silk Mulls, French Organdie, Chiffons, all at reduced prices.

Side Combs.
Celluloid Side Combs with Sterling Silver tops (diamond cut), only 48 cents a pair—former prices 62c to 75c.

Leather Goods.
Real Seal and Alligator Pocket-Books and Combination Card Cases.
One Lot 87 cents, former prices $1.25 to $1.50.
One Lot $1.00, " " $1.75 to $2.50.

W. D. KINSMAN, CORNER OF MAIN AND BRIDGE STREETS, SPRINGFIELD, - - - MASS.



NO FLY,

Or other insect will bother you if you have our SCREENS in your doors or windows. We are supplying a good Window Screen, according to size,

At 25 cents, 30 cents, and 35 cents.

Don't forget that we are selling a very fine line of

Refrigerators at Low Prices.

E. A. BUCK, Main Street, Palmer, Mass.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONEAT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

JUST ARRIVED.

A Full Line of

Grass Seed,
Seed Oats,
Seed Barley,
Seed Peas,
Ground Plaster.

BRADLEY'S X L Phosphate, Potato Manure and English Lawn Dressing.

Low Prices.

C. D. HOLBROOK.

POSTAL Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

Salary and expenses paid weekly from start. Permanent position. Good chance for advancement. Exclusive territory. Largest growers of nursery stock. Clean, hardy stock, true to name. Fair treatment guaranteed. No substitution in our orders. Liberal commission to local part-time agents. We can interest any one not earning $75 per month and expenses. Don't hesitate because of previous failures in this or other lines. Outfit free. Address, BROWN BROS. CO. Continental Nurseries, Rochester, N. Y. (This house is reliable. Name this paper.—Ed.)

CANVASSER

Bereaved.

Let me come in where you sit weeping—ay,
Let me, who have not any child to die,
Weep with you for the little one whose love
I have known nothing of.

The little arms that slowly, slowly loosed
Their pressure round your neck—the hands you used
To kiss. Such arms, such hands I never knew.
May I not weep with you?

Fain would I be of service—say some thing
Between the tears that would be comforting,
But ah! so sadder than yourselves am I,
Who have no child to die.

—James Whitcomb Riley in the Century.

THE WORLD'S HOLIDAYS.

Thanksgiving day is observed in all the states as a popular holiday, though in several states there is no statutory provision to that effect.

All Saints' day, November 1, is said to have been begun by Pope Boniface IV., about 607, and was established by Gregory IV., about 830.

January 8, the anniversary of the defeat of the British army under General Packenham before the city of New Orleans, is a legal holiday in Louisiana.

The reformers of the English church in 1549 struck out nearly 100 holidays, leaving only such as in their time were dear to the popular heart.

The carnival season is the most highly esteemed holiday in most Italian cities. In many respects it bears resemblance to the Roman Saturnalia.

At the beginning of this century there were so many church festivals and holidays in Rome that it was said not two days in the week were left for labor.

Good Friday is a legal holiday in the states of Alabama, Louisiana, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Tennessee. In many others it is informally observed.

The Jews were commanded to celebrate a jubilee feast or national holiday, every fifty years. All Jews in bondage to their brethren went free on this feast.

The Festum Herbarum was the day on which the Roman women carried bundles of herbs and fruit to the temples. It was afterwards made a Christian holiday.

The feast of Lanterns is a Chinese holiday. It is celebrated by an unusual and very splendid display of lanterns, fire-works, and illuminations of all kinds.

According to the old church canons, the Christmas festivals lasted from Christmas eve to February 1, by which date all the decorations must be removed from the churches.

The Hindoo maidens have a feast of lamps, very prettily alluded to by Moore in "Lallah Rookh." A lighted lamp is set adrift on the Ganges, and from its fate is foretold that of the owner.

February 22, the birthday of the Father of his Country, is a legal holiday in all the states save Arkansas, Iowa, Mississippi, though in these, also, it is generally observed.

Every seventh year among the ancient Jews was a Sabbatic year. No labor was done, and the inhabitants of Judea lived on the natural produce of the earth during this year.

The Feast of Reconciliation was a religious festival, established by Queen Mary, to be held January 25, 1555, to celebrate the return of the Church of England to the See of Rome.

A Left Handed Compliment.

"Is dat you, Chimmy?"

"Yes."

"D'yer know yer ain't so bad lookin' when yer made up!"—Life.

TOO POOR TO TAKE A PAPER.

Moore, of the Rural New Yorker, was sitting in his office one afternoon when a farmer friend of his came in.

"Mr. Moore, I like your paper, but the times are so hard I cannot pay for it."

"Is that so, friend Jones? I'm very sorry to learn that you are so hard run. I will give you my paper."

"Oh, no! I can't take it as a gift."

"Well, then, let me see how we can fix it. You raise chickens, I believe?"

"Yes, a few, but they don't bring anything hardly."

"Don't they! Neither does my paper cost anything hardly. Now I have a proposition to make to you. I will continue your paper, and then when you go home you may select one chicken and call her mine. Take good care of her and bring me the proceeds, whether in eggs or in chickens, and I will call it square."

"All right, Brother Moore," and the farmer chuckled as he went out at what he thought a clever bargain. He kept the contract strictly, and at the end of the year found that he had paid about four prices for his paper. He often tells the joke on himself, and says he has never had the cheek to say that he was too poor to take a paper since.

A VALUABLE EDITION.

The New Orleans Picayune has this interesting story of two literary celebrities in a recent issue: The late Prof. Aytoun was uncommonly diffident when making proposal of marriage to Miss Jane Emily Wilson, who afterward became his wife. The lady reminded him that before she should give her absolute consent it would be necessary to obtain her father's approval.

"You must speak for me," said the suitor, "for I could not summon courage to speak to the professor on the subject."

"Papa is in the library," said the lady.

"Then you had better go to him," said the suitor, "and I will wait your return."

The lady proceeded to the library, and taking her father affectionately by the hand mentioned that the professor had asked her hand in marriage. She added: "Shall I accept his offer, papa? He is so diffident that he won't speak to you about it himself."

"Then we must deal tenderly with his feelings," said the hearty old Christopher. "I'll write my reply on a slip of paper and pin it to your back."

"Papa's answer is on the back of my dress," said Miss Jane, as she entered the drawing-room. Turning around the delighted suitor read these words: "With the author's compliments."

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physcians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

☞ Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle.

You Smile

When you hear a dealer urge some other brand of flour in place of PILLSBURY'S BEST, because

You Know

That he simply "talking up" a brand that pays him a little better profit—that's all.

He will sell You Pillsbury's If You Insist.

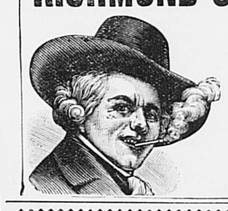
AFTER THE FOURTH

Some folks always feel blue. Its a natural sequence. Fourth—red, day before—white, day after—blue. If you're blue, its probably the result of experience. We know what that is, and our experience has shown that there is nothing better than FLORIDENA BALM for sun burns, freckles, etc. If you get burned by powder or anything else, then use it for an instant cure. Made and sold at

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L.N. Railroads—west of Depot.

RICHMOND STRAIGHT CUT No. 1 CIGARETTES



MADE FROM
THE BRIGHTEST, MOST DELICATELY FLAVORED AND HIGHEST COST GOLD LEAF GROWN IN VIRGINIA.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS

Who are willing to pay a little more than the price charged for ordinary trade cigarettes, will find this brand superior to all others.

ALLEN & GINTER, RICHMOND, VA.
THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO., SUCCESSOR.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

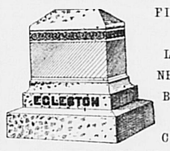
WAGONS!

Having a new lot of

TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY, CALL AND SEE US.

ALLEN AND ELLERY,
PALMER, 3-tf MASS.

Granite and Marble Monuments.



FINEST WORKMANSHIP AND LOWEST PRICES. NEW DESIGNS ARE BEING ADDED TO MY STOCK CONSTANTLY.

WILLIAM F. COOK,
182 and 184 State St., Springfield, Mass.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

There's lots of snap and vim in this HIRES Rootbeer. There's lots of pleasure and good health in it, too. A delicious drink, a temperance drink, a home-made drink, a drink that delights the old and young. Be sure and get the genuine

A 25 cent package makes 5 gallons. Sold everywhere.
THE CHAS. E. HIRES COMPANY,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

S. & W. Wind Engines

For Pumping and Power.

Do not be deceived by misleading advertisements. If you or your friends are in need of anything in the following lines, send for our new and handsome catalogue of 175 pages now ready for mailing.

Hot Air Engines, Steam Engines and Boilers, Tanks, Pumps, Pipe-fittings, Steam or Hot Water House Heating Boilers, &c.

SMITH & WINCHESTER CO.,
19 to 37 Wendell St., BOSTON - 141 Centre St., NEW YORK.

Bicycle Repairing.

We have secured the services of Alfred H. Stokes to take charge of this department. Mr. Stokes comes to us from the KEATING WHEEL CO. where he has had entire charge of their Repair Department.

He can save you money in repairs and suit you. Any kind of wheel repaired.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,

Cross Block, Palmer.

USE BARNES' INK
A. S. BARNES & CO., 56 E. 10th St., N. Y.

No Default of Principal or Interest

has ever occurred in a security sold by this company

MUNICIPAL BONDS.

The securities offered by this Company are selected with great care, and are first class investments for individual buyers, legatees, trustees, banks and savings banks. More than

FIFTY CLASSES OF BONDS

have been sold by us in the last three years. Send for our list of bonds and make use of our experience.

German-American Investment Co.,
52 Wall Street, New York.

CATARRH

Is strictly a LOCAL DISEASE and is the result of sudden climatic changes.

ELY'S CREAM BALM

is acknowledged to be the most thorough cure for Nasal Catarrh, Cold in the Head and Hay Fever of all remedies. It opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The Balm is applied directly into the nostrils, is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. The results that follow catarrh, due to the dropping of poisonous matter into the throat, are irritation of the bronchial tubes and soreness of the lungs accompanied by a cough. In all such cases we recommend Pineola Balsam to be used in connection with Cream Balm.

PINEOLA COUGH BALSAM will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Price of Cream Balm, 50c per bottle; Pineola Balsam, 25c. In quantities of $2.50 we will deliver free of express or postage on receipt of amount.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

CONSUMPTIVE

Use Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cures the worst Cough, Weak Lungs, Debility, Indigestion, Pain, Take in time. 50 cts.

HINDERCORNS. The only sure cure for Corns. 15c. at all Druggists, or HISCOX & Co., N. Y.

CALIFORNIA, OREGON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO,

AND ALL WESTERN POINTS.

Select Excursions from Chicago Every Day,

Via Chicago, Union Pacific, and Northwestern Line.

SHORTEST ROUTE. LOWEST RATES.

For handsome illustrated folder and detailed information address W. MASSEY, N. E. Pass. Agt., or J. S. SMITH, Trav. Pass. Agt., Union Pacific Ry., 290 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

WHAT BRINGS RELEASE FROM DIRT AND GREASE? WHY DON'T YOU KNOW?

SAPOLIO

13-4

COLTON'S SELECT FLAVORS

ABSOLUTELY PURE—MOST DELICIOUS EXTRACTS—THE BEST.
USE COLTON'S FLAVORS

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 5, 1895. NUMBER 14.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one-half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 30 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R.R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BOND, A. M., Manufacturer and Dealer in Stoves, Ranges, Tinware, Hardware, etc.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots, Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's.

WARE.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier, Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

PALMER LODGE, No. 190, I. O. O. F.
Meets every Wednesday evening in Commercial Block, Main street.
M. M. THOMAS, N. G. G. H. BRAY, Rec. Sec.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W.
Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in Grange Hall, Day's Block, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.
Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. MCGREGORY.
Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Moores, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory
Board of Investment,
Geo. Moores, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

FINEST GROWN

SEEDS.

FODDER SEED CORN,
HUNGARIAN GRASS SEED,
TIMOTHY, RED TOP,
LAWN GRASS SEED.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,
..Cross Block, Palmer..

SOME WONDERFUL SENSATIONS AT THE MONSON BARGAIN CENTER.

FOR WOMEN WHO APPRECIATE GOOD VALUES

Sold at Away-Under-Value Prices.

Ladies Fine Embroidered Handkerchief, worth 17c..	12 1-2c	Ladies' Fast Black Hose. Regular price 15c....	2 prs., 25c
Ladies' Bows, White, Lawn and Black Silk.....	10c	Ladies' Long Ties, latest style, the 33c quality, now	25c
Mexican Hammocks, Ropes and Stretchers complete....	98c, $1.10	Ladies' Silk Mitts in Tans, Black, Cream, new goods	25c a pr.
Gent's Balbriggan Shirts and Drawers, 34 to 42.....	25c	Gents' Heavy Balbriggan Shirts & Drawers, 50c kind	39c

Waists 50c, 73c, 89c, 98c, $1.29

WRAPPERS 79c, $1, $1.25, $1.50, $2.35.

GREATER BARGAINS THAN EVER ON OUR 5c and 10c Counter.

ALL REMNANTS at HALF PRICE.
SEE OUR EMBROIDERIES, 4c to 39c a yard.

T. H. TODD.
Boston Cash Store, Monson.

Below find our prices for COAL to be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. Good men furnished to house and bin same at actual cost for their time. All coal screened.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

We would advise every one to put in EARLY ORDERS. Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

PRICES FOR LACKAWANNA:		PRICES FOR LEHIGH:
Stove size, $5.00 per ton.		Stove size, $5.15 per ton.
Chestnut, 5.00	" "	Chestnut, 5.15	" "
Furnace, 4.80	" "	Furnace, 5.00	" "

Less than one (1) ton 25 cents added for the load.

Delivered in bags 15 cents a ton additional, which will save expense housing in many cases.

JUNE 20, 1895.

R. M. & THEO. REYNOLDS,
MONSON, - - MASS.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,
VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.
Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.
Residence, Nassowanno House.
Office and stable, Central street.
PALMER, MASS.

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY AND MACHINE SHOP.
At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.
MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL JOBBING DONE
At short notice and reasonable prices.
52-35 R. B. FRANCIS.

If you are going to use any WALL PAPER this spring it will PAY YOU to look at our line and get OUR PRICES.

We have our NEW STOCK all in and know we are very bottom on prices.

WE WILL UNDERSELL any city in the state of Massachusetts.

LeGRO & LYNDE,
DRUGGISTS,
Next Door to Post Office, Palmer.

COAL. COAL.

Lehigh Chestnut,	- -	$5 15 per ton.
" Stove,	- - -	5.15 " "
" Egg,	- - -	5.00 " "
Lackawanna Chestnut,	- -	5.00 " "
" Stove,	- -	5.00 " "
" Egg,	- -	4 80 " "

BUY NOW AND SAVE MONEY.

I HAVE FOR SALE:
1 One-horse Mowing Machine, - - $10
Second-hand Carriages and Harnesses.
Two or three Open Buggies. Will sell for little money to make room for new stock.
NOW is the time to buy what Old Hay you need for the season as it will cost more in August. Have two car loads on hand.

RALPH CLIFFORD,
Monson, Mass., July 1st, 1895.

TO COLT OWNERS.

I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.

3-tf Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

CARRIAGES!!!
I have in stock a complete line of fine and medium grade Carriages.
Leather Top Carriages, for $60, 75, 100, 150, 300.
Open Buggies, for $40, 60, 75, 125, 150.
Second-Hand Carriages, $5, 10, 20, 40, 75.
Harnesses, $7.50, 9, 12, 15, 20.
DELIVERY WAGONS OF ALL KINDS.
W. H. SMITH,
2 PARK STREET, SPRINGFIELD.

SMITH & MURRAY.

SILK DEPARTMENT.
Printed India Silks.

What warm weather dress stuff can compare with these? Is there anything comparable to them for durability and comfort at the price? No lady can afford to be without one or more waists or dresses from those silks. They are indispensable. No fussing and sweltering in doing up, but always ready, and good for any occasion. This is your opportunity.

Lyons Printed Indias at 29 cents a yard. A waist pattern, 6 yards, $1.74.

A dress pattern, 15 yards, $4.35. Worth exactly double.

Also at 37½ cents a yard, Cheney Bros.' Printed Pongees of which we have sold so many.

A waist pattern, 5 yards, $1.88.

A dress pattern, 15 yards, $5.63.

The assortment of these gets less every day now, and no more can be had this season at 37½ cents a yard

Court Square entrance.

COTTON DRESS GOODS, SCOTCH GINGHAMS.

Our announcement of a sale of Anderson's Scotch Ginghams last week at the marvelously low price of 19 cents a yard had the effect we anticipated. People who know how much the offer meant were not slow to take advantage of it, and induced those who did not know to do the same.

It is a great chance. If you miss it within the next few days you will miss it altogether.

Anderson's Scotch Ginghams at 19 cents a yard.

Rear of main store.

SMITH & MURRAY.

DON'T FORGET
THAT WE CAN SELL YOU AT BOTTOM PRICES
Walter A. Wood Mowing Machines.
Buckeye " "
Champion Horse Rakes.
Yankee " "
Tiger " "
Clipper " "
Hay Tedders, Hay Rakes, Scythes.
Also Mowing Machine Repairs.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,
Cross Block, Palmer.

Agricultural Implements.

BELCHER & TAYLOR PLOWS AND CULTIVATORS. ROUGH AND READY WROUGHT IRON BEAM PLOWS. PLANET, JR. HORSE HOES AND CULTIVATORS. JOHN DOUD WHEEL HARROWS. LAWN MOWERS. SPRING TOOTH HARROWS. STEEL ROAD SCRAPERS. MOWING MACHINES, TEDDERS AND HORSE RAKES.

WE SHALL CARRY A GOOD LINE AND SOLICIT YOUR TRADE.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,
Cross Block, Palmer.

ARE YOU LOOKING
FOR A CHANGE IN LOCATION?
If you are not satisfied with your present site, or if you are not doing quite as well as you would like to, why not consider the advantages of a location on the Illinois Central R. R. or the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley R. R.? These roads run through South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, and possess
FINE SITES FOR NEW MILLS,
BEST OF FREIGHT FACILITIES,
CLOSE PROXIMITY TO
Coal Fields, Distributing Centers
AND
INTELLIGENT HELP OF ALL KINDS,
MANY KINDS OF RAW MATERIAL.
For full information write the undersigned for a copy of the pamphlet entitled
100 Cities and Towns WANTING INDUSTRIES.
This will give you the population, city and county debt, death rate, assessed valuation of property, tax rate, annual shipments, raw materials, industries desired, etc.
